S. 5 of the Sonthal Parganas Regulation, 1872, as it stood in 1907 was a bar to the institution of any suit in the ordinary Civil Courts in regard to any land or any interest in or arising out of land in the Sonthal Parganas so long as the land had not been settled and the settlement declared by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette to have been completed and concluded. 42 Cal. 116 (148) P.C Foll. (Chapman and Atkinson, JJ.) SHAHDEO NARAYANDEO v. KUSUM KUMARI. 46 I. C. 929.

——S. 6—Contract evading provisions of, if enforceable.

A contract between a borrower and a lender for the repayment of the interest of the principal sum borrowed, though in effect a subtle device for the purpose of evading S. 6 of Regn. III of 1872 is not invalid. The Court must enforce the contract in accordance with the provisions of the Regulation regulating the rate at which interest is to be allowed. (Sanderson, C. J. and Chatterjee, J.) ATIKULLA MUNSHI v. AZIMUDDIN HAJI. 40 I. C. 415.

——S. 6—Decree passed outside against person residing within parganas—Interest—Rule of Damdupat.

S. 6 of the Regulation is not applicable to a money decree made by a Court outside the Sonthal Parganas against a person resident within the Sonthal Parganas. The Court making the decree is not bound in such a case to regard the rule of Damdupat. Cl. (b) of S 6 does not prohibit a Court in Sonthal Parganas to which a decree is sent for execution from realising the full interest decreed even though it offends against the rule of Damdupat. 42 Cal. 116, dist. (Mullick and Imam, JJ.) KUNJA BEHARI SINGH v. TARPADA MITRA. 49 I. C. 374 : 4 Pat. L. J. 49.

——S. 6—Interest—Compound—Decree.

S. 6 is a bar to a decree for interest upon interest. Interest subsequent to the decree must be limited to the interest upon the principal advanced and the costs of the suit. Under that section the total interest decreed on any debt or loan should not in any case exceed the principal. The decree must set forth an amount due on the latest date of payment. (Roe and Coutts, JJ.) RANI KISHOBATI KUMARI v. KUMAR SATYA NIRANJAN CHAKRABARTI. 47 I. C. 179 : 1918 Pat. 305.

——S. 6—Debt—Mortgage—Usufructuary.

A usufructuary mortgage is a debt or liability within the meaning of S. 6 of the Regulation. (Sharfuddin and Roe, JJ.) CHIRONJI LAL CHOWBEY v. DOULTRA. 41 I. C. 677 : 2 P. L. W. 20.

——Ss 9, 11, 25—Settlement Officer's decision—Effect.

SONTHAL PARGANAS SETTLEMENT REGULATION (III OF 1872), S. 10.

S. 11 of the Regulation only means that the Settlement Officer's decision shall have the force of a decree of Court only as between the parties in existence at the time of the order and S. 9 only contemplates the ascertainment and record of existing interests and rights. Therefore a suit by the plaintiff who was only a possible reversioner to a Hindu widow at the time of the order for a declaration of title and for possession, on the ground that the widow of the defendant colluded and the latter got himself recorded as proprietor, is not barred under S. 25 of the Regulation. (Stephen and Mookerjee, JJ.) KANGAL CHANDRA MANDAL v. MADHU SUDAN MANDAL.
20 I. C 417 : 17 C. L. J. 587.

——— Ss. 10 and 11—R. 27 framed under S. 10 —Applicability.

Rule 27 framed under S. 10 of the Regn. was made to meet the peculiar customs of the Sonthal and does not apply to all persons settled and resident in the Sonthal Parganas. Rule 27 applies only to suits before Settlement Officers. (Holmwood and Chapman, JJ.) MAHARAJI MAMRICK v. SUFAL MANJHI.
18 I. C. 115 : 18 C. W. N. 333.

——— Ss. 11, 25—Question of tenancy—Civil Courts jurisdiction.

The Civil Courts in Sonthal Parganas have no jurisdiction to determine the question whether the defendant is, or is not, a tenant of the land in dispute 18 C. 146, Rel. on. (Holmwood and Sharfuddin, JJ.) RAM NARAIN OR (RANJAN) v. SATISH CHANDRA SINGH. 20 I. C. 503 : 17 C. L. J. 599.

——— Ss. 11 and 25-A-Suit to determine whether plff. or deft is tenant.

In a suit for declaration of title to immoveable property and for correction of an entry in the record of rights prepared under the Regulation the question in dispute is whether the plff. or the deft. is the tenant of the land. This matter should be settled by the Settlement Courts under S. 11 and a Civil suit does not lie except under S 25-A and as the suit does not fall within the scope of the section, the suit is not maintainable. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) DIGAMBARDAS v. JATINDRA BALA DASI.
19 I. C. 874 : 19 C. L J. 232.

——— Ss. 11 and 25 A—Decision of Settlement Court—Civil Suit disputing when will lie.

Per Bucknill, J—S. 11 gives the decision of a Settlement Court the force of a Civil Court's decree and as such it is void if obtained by fraud. Where fraud is alleged S. 11 does not bar a civil suit which would have the effect of disputing the accuracy of the Record-of Rights. Per Mullick, J.—The plain meaning of S 11 is that except as provided by S 25-A no jurisdiction is left in the civil Court. The only way out is an application to the Revenue authorities within the time prescribed by the Regulation for a revision of the entry either on the ground of fraud or any other ground. The decision of a Settlement Officer under Regn. III of 1872 is a decree and is not a nullity though it is obtained by fraud. It should be formally set aside by a separate suit for the purpose. (Miller,

SONTHAL PARGANAS SETTLEMENT REGULATION (III OF 1872), S. 25.

C. J., Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) HARE KRISHNA SEN v. UMESH CHANDRA DUTT.
6 Pat. L. J. 373 : 2 Pat L T. 528 : 3 U. P. L. R. (Pat) 57 : 62 I. C. 962 : (1921) Pat. 209 (F. B)

——— Ss. 11 and 25 A—Publication of record of rights—Certificate of—Suit in Civil Court—Jurisdiction of Settlement Court.

S. 11 of the Regn. bars every suit regarding any matter decided by any Settlement Court, except such suits as are brought to contest the finding or record of the Settlement Officers where only the right of Zemindars or other proprietors as between themselves are concerned, provided they are brought within 3 years from the date of the publication of the Record of Rights. When the question in controversy between the parties does not involve the determination of the rights of the Zemindars or other proprietors between themselves, the decree under S. 11 cannot be avoided by a suit under S. 25 A. But where the question in controversy does not involve the determination of such rights the decree under S. 11 can be avoided by a suit. S. 11 operates in every case to give every decision and order of the Settlement Courts the force of a decree and S. 25-A enables a party affected by such decisions and orders to sue for setting aside such decisions and orders provided the rights decided fall within the class of rights mentioned in S. 25-A. The publication of the Record of Rights in accordance with law is immaterial. (Das and Adami, JJ.) DWARKA PRASAD v. JAI VARHAM. 1922 P. 322.

——— S. 14—Notice under—Minors.

The notice provided by S. 14 is to the people of the village irrespective of age or intelligence and, as the law makes the Record-of-Rights conclusive proof of the rights and interests therein recorded, the defts. could not be called upon to prove the service of the required notices. (D. Chatterjee and Walmsley, JJ.) SHANKER PERSHAD JHA v. BABU LAL JHA. 28 I C 241 : 19 C. W. N. 499.

——— Ss. 25 and 11—Record of Rights—Entry in—Suit to set aside—Fraud.

A suit lies to set aside an entry in the record of rights under the Regulation on the ground of fraud. (Das and Adami, JJ.) SHIB SARAN SHAH v. RAMESWAR DE (1920 Pat. 363.

——— Ss 25 and 25-A—Record of Rights—Suit challenging record—Special limitation—Lim. Act S. 29—Minors.

The policy of Regulation III of 1872 was to have a complete record of rights and interests in land in the Sonthal Parganas and to exclude the jurisdiction of Civil Courts except in certain matters provided for in the regulation. A suit for partition more than 3 years after the entry in the Record of-Rights so far as it regarded the proprietary rights in the land was barred by limitation under S. 25-A of the Regulation. The Limitation Act is applicable to the Sonthal Parganas, but S. 29 of the Lim. Act saves all provisions of local laws as to limitation and does not therefore affect the three years rule under S. 25.A of the Regulation. The Regulation does not make any exception in favour of minors and the minority provisions of the general Limitation Act have reference to the periods of limitation prescribed in that Act. The notice provided by S. 14 is to the people of the village irrespective of age or intelligence, and as the law makes the Record-of-rights Rconclusive proof of the rights and interests therein recorded the defts. could not be called upon to prove the service of the required notices. (Chatterjee and Walmsley, JJ.) SHANKER PERSHAD JHA v. BABU LAL JHA. 28 I. C. 241 : 19 C. W. N. 499.

SONTHAL PARGANAS SETTLEMENT REGULATION (III OF 1872), S. 25.

——— S. 25, 25-A—Patniaar, suit by—Patnidar if proprietor.

A suit by a patnidar who is not a Zemindar for a declaration that the deft. patnidar had fraudulently caused some land to be recorded as his own in the Record-of-Rights is barred by sections 25 and 25 A. A patnidar is not a proprietor within the meaning of S 25. (Coxe and Chatterjee, JJ.) DIGAMBARDAS v. HARENDRA NARAYAN. 26 I. C. 992 . 20 C. L. J. 112.

——— Ss. 25 and 25A—Proprietor Decision of Settlement Court—Finality of.

S. 25 A of Reg. III of 1872 is limited to suits where only the rights of Zemindars and other proprietors as between themselves are in controversy. A person who holds a derivative title under a Zemindar is not a proprietor The decision of a Settlement Court under S. 25, sub. S (1) is conclusive, till it has been set aside by some method known to law at the instance of any person prejudicially affected thereby. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) SHIB NARAIN MOOKERJEE v. S. P CHATTERJEE. 27 I. C. 84 : 20 C. L. J 220

——— Ss. 25 and 25 A—Record-of-Rights—Suit for declaration of title in share of Shikmi Ghatwali kharposh grant—Forum

Where the plaintiff sues for declaration of title and registration of his name in the settlement records in a share of Shikmi Ghatwali kharposh grant and it is found that rent is payable to the Ghatwalis and not directly to the Government the suit is not cognisable by a Civil Court. (Fletcher and Richardson, JJ.) MEMO DEO v. PARBATI KUMARI. 20 C. L. J. 103 : 27 I. C. 5 : 19 C. W. N. 549.

SOVEREIGN.

See (1) ACT OF STATE.
(2) CROWN

SPECIAL DAMAGE.

See (1) DAMAGE.
(2) HIGHWAY.
(3) TORT.

SPECIAL MARRIAGE ACT (III OF 1872).

——— Ss. 10, 16 and 17—Brahmo does not cease to be a Hindu.

A Hindu, within the meaning of the Probate and Administration Act, by becoming a Brahmo does not cease be a Hindu. (Greaves, J.) JNANENDRA NATH ROY, In the Goods of. 26 C. W. N. 799 : 49 C. 1069 : 1923 C. 265.

SPECIAL OR SECOND APPEAL.

See C. P. CODE., S 100.

SPECIFIC MOVEABLE.

See LIM. ACT, ART. 49.

SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE.

See also SP. REL. ACT, SS. 12 TO 30.

——— Condition precedent.

If the happening of a certain event is a condition precedent to the specific performance of a contract it must be fulfilled before the person under obligation is compelled to perform his part of the contract. (Lord Atkinson.) GIRIBALLA DASI v. KALIDAS BHANJA. 33 C. L. J. 57 : 39 M. L. J 329 : (1920) M. W. N. 653 . 2 U. P. L. R. (P. C.) 146 · 29 M. L. T. 1 : 25 C. W. N. 320 : 57 I. C. 626 : 22 Bom. L R. 1332. (P. C.)

——— Equity—Vendor and vendee—Agreement to sell—Payment by instalments—Default—Forfeiture on default—Penalty.

Even where time is essence of the contract and a party has failed to perform his part of the contract, a Court of Equity may decree specific performance if justice so demands ; but where the parties have expressly provided that the rule was not to apply to them the court will refuse relief except where they have expressly or by necessary implication waived the previous provisions. An agreement to sell provided that payment be made by instalments and on default the contract be forfeited and determined at the option of the vendor, time being agreed to be the essence of the contract. On default being made the vendor by notice cancelled the contract. The purchaser sued thereupon for specific performance and relief from forfeiture. It was held that specific performance cannot be decreed but the stipulation for forfeiture being penalty, the vendee should be relieved against it. (Viscount Haldane.) STEEDMAN v. DRINKLE. 33 I. C. 323 : 8 L J. (P. C) 79.

——— Contract for the sale of land—Time not of the essence.

In the case of a contract for the sale of land time is not of the essence unless expressly so stipulated at the time of the contract. Failure to keep to the dates assigned will not disentitle a party to a relief unless the delay has been gross. Cases examined. (Viscount Haldane.) JAMSHED KHOODARAM IRANI v. BURJORJI DHUNJIBHAI. 40 Bom. 289 : 43 I A. 26 : 30 M. L. J. 186 : 3 L. W. 239 : 19 M. L. T. 184 · 14 A. L. J. 225 : 18 Bom. L. R 163 : 23 C. L. J 358 : 20 C W. N 744 : 32 I. C. 246 : (1916) 1 M. W. N. 229 (P. C.).

——— Delay.

An unexplained delay for one year or even less is sufficient to negative the rights of a party to obtain specific performance. (Marten and Fawcett, JJ.) SHANKAR SAKHARAM v. RANTANJI PREMJI. 47 B. 607 : 25 Bom. L R 328 : 1923 Bom. 441.

——— Decree—Execution.

Decree for specific performance is capable of execution by defendant as well as plaintiff. (Macleod, C.J. and Coyajee, J.) KARIMABIBI DAUDBHAI v. ABDEREHMAN SAYAD BANN. 24 Bom. L. R 496 · 48 B. 990 : 1923 Bom. 26.

SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE.

——— Contract for sale of land—Time made the essence of the contract by notice—Notice unreasonable.

Vendee is entitled to reasonable notice for completing the contract within a definite time. If the state of circumstances do not justify the period of the notice for the performance the notice is unreasonable. The vendee is entitled to specific performance of the contract in such case. (Macleod, C.J. and Shah, J.) MUSSA MAHOMED v. MOTILAL. 24 Bom L. R. 203 : 1922 B. 14 ——— Part-performance—Contract to sell.

Deft. agreed to sell to plft. a house and some land and an agreement was written on an unstamped paper ; the paper was lost. The plaintiff was put in possession of the land and an unregistered deed of sale was executed in his favour in respect of the house. Held, that there was part performance and the Court must decree specific performance. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) HIRALAL v. SHANKAR. 23 Bom L. R. 506 : 62 I. C. 637 : 45 Bom. 1170 ——— Time when essence of the contract.

Where under the terms of an agreement to sell, the vendor was to submit the title deeds within certain time and the vendee to give a final reply within another fixed period of time, while the purchase itself was to be completed within a certain time, and delay was caused by the vendor himself. Held, in a suit for specific performance that time was not of the essence of the contract. (Ghose and Panton, JJ.) KRISHNA CHANDRA DEY v. GRAHAM. 50 Cal. 700 : 27 C W. N 693 : 1923 Cal. 694.

——— Suit for—Right of either party to contract.

A suit for specific performance lies when the lease essential for the completion of the contract has not been executed and if there is a valid enforceable contract either party is entitled to call upon the other to complete the transaction by the execution and the registration of the document of title. (Mookerjee and Cholmer, JJ.) BIJOY CHANDRA SINGH v. HOWRAH AMTA LIGHT RY. 38 C. L. J 177 : 1923 Cal. 524.

——— Decree for—Date of operation—Intermediate transfer—Effect.

Where a suit for specific performance of a transfer of property is decreed, title to the property relates back to the date of the agreement and no intermediate conveyance will affect the title of the decree-holder. (Mookerjee and Buckland, JJ.) JOHAR MULL v. BHUPENDRA NATH BASU. 34 C. L. J. 79 : 49 Cal. 495 : 1922 Cal. 412.

——— Agreement to grant lease "hereafter"—Whether putting off execution of the deed is refusal to perform contract.

After the conclusion of an agreement to grant a permanent lease 'hereafter' the prospective lessor asked for postponement of the grant of lease which was agreed to. held that the postponement did not amount to a refusal to perform, nor a recission of the contract. (Fletcher and Chatterjee, JJ.) KALIDAS BHANGA v. GIRIBALA DASI. 23 I. C. 360.

SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE.

——— Suit for—Prayer for possession.

A suit for specific performance may also ask for possession to be given to the plaintiff. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) FATEH CHAND v. NARSINGDAS. 16 I. C. 988 : 22 C. L. J. 383.

——— Suit for dismissal—Decree for refund of deposit though not asked for.

A suit for specific performance may be dismissed, without attacking any necessary implication that the refund of purchase money should also be refused. (Carnduff and Chapman, JJ.) RAGHUNATH SAHAY v. CHANDRA PROTAP SINGH. 15 I. C. 268 : 17 C. W. N. 100.

——— Contract to re-sell to the vendor—Rule of construction of Indian contracts.

Where the purchaser of a piece of land enters into an agreement to re-sell that plot of land to the vendor in case the vendor builds a house on it within a stipulated period and afterwards refuses to abide by it, the vendor is entitled to a decree for specific performance of the contract. The contracts of the people of India ought to be liberally construed. 18 W. R. 81 P. C. Foll. (Jenkins, C. J. and N. R. Chatterjee, J.) NARAIN CHANDRA MUKHERJEE v. MOHENDRA NATH MUKHERJEE. 14 I. C. 820 : 15 C. L. J. 332.

——— Minor—Benefit—Complete contract.

Specific performance which is not beneficial to a minor will not be decreed. Where there is no consensus as to the terms of a contract a suit for specific performance of such a contract will not lie. (Abdul Raoof and Lumsden, JJ.) BAHADUR CHAND v. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL. 4 Lah. 408 : 1924 Lah. 181.

——— Time—If essence of contract.

In a contract for the sale of land even where a time is fixed for the performance of the contract, the substance of the agreement should be considered to find whether time was to be of the essence of the contract. (Martineau and Moti Sagar, JJ.) SADIQ HUSAIN v ARUP SINGH. 4 Lah. 327 : 5. L. L. J. 462 : 1924 Lah. 151.

——— Unregistered contract of sale.

A decree of specific performance cannot be obtained in the case of unregistered contract of sale which is compulsorily registrable (Chevis and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) PARMESHRI DEVI v. AUTAR SIN. 67 I. C. 144 : 3 Lah. L. J. 173.

——— Decree for—Form of—Contract for sale—Decree fixing time for payment by vendee and directing execution of registered conveyance on such payment—Propriety of—Extension of time—Powers of original and appellate Court.

A decree for specific performance of a contract for sale provided (a) that upon payment by the plaintiffs of a sum named within 2 months from the date of the decree, the first defendant do execute and register a proper deed of conveyance of the properties in the schedule and (b) that upon payment the first defendant do put the plaintiffs in possession of the said properties together with all the title deeds. Held that the decree was in the nature of a preliminary decree, the original Court keeping control over the action and having full power to make any just and necessary orders therein including in appropriate cases, extension of the time fixed for payment of the amount fixed by the decree. Equally has the appellate Court in an appeal from the decree power to extend the time. Observations on the appropriate form of decree in a suit for specific performance of a contract for sale, and upon the rights of and remedies open to the vendor or vendee in case of default by the opposite party. (Schwabe, C. J and Wallace, J.) ABDUL SHAKER SAHIB v. ABDUL RAHIMAN SAHIB.

SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE.

46 Mad. 148 : 44 M.L.J 107 : 17 L.W. 216 : (1923) M W.N. 1 : 1923 Mad. 284.

———Conveyance executed but not registered —Suit for fresh conveyance not maintainable.

When once a conveyance is duly executed and delivered to the purchaser but it is not registered owing to the latter's neglect or omission a suit for specific performance does not lie and a fresh conveyance cannot be enforced. (Ayling, O.C J and Odgers, J.) SUBBARAYA PILLAI v. DEVASAHAYAM PILLAI. (1922) M.W.N. 70.

———Jurisdiction to grant is independent of the Sp. Rel. Act.

In localities where the Specific Relief Act is not in force, the cases of specific performance are governed by rules of justice, equity and good conscience. The jurisdiction to grant specific performance is independent of the Specific Relief Act (Spencer and Srinivasa Aiyangar, JJ.) JAGANNADA v. DEENABHANDHU.
63 I. C. 114: 13 L W. 591.

———Contract Act, S. 25—Contract for sale of land—Time for performance — Extension of—Subsequent fixing of time limit—Default.

On the 7th February 1914, an agreement for the sale of certain lands was entered into and the purchase money was to be paid and the sale completed about the end of April. The vendee being unable to find the money the time for completing the sale was from time to time extended until on 14th December 1916 the vendor gave a notice calling upon him to pay the purchase money within a week. The vendee failing to comply therewith the vendor cancelled the contract The vendee brought a suit for specific performance and contended that reasonable time was not given to him in making time the essence of the contract and that his previous conduct was not relevant in judging the reasonableness of the time Held, that the contention failed. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Burn, JJ.) ABDUL RAZAK v MESSRS BROWN & CO. 27 M. L T. 131 : 11 L.W 473 : 57 I. C. 485 : (1920) M. W. N. 290 ———Contract to sell—Pleading and proof—Variation—Effect.

The mere fact that the contract prayed is different from that set up in the plaint will not entail a dismissal of a suit for specific performance thereof. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) SHUNMUGAM CHETTY v. SUBBA REDDY. 31 I.C. 1.

———Son of a Hindu party raising questions of his liability for father's obligations—Whether Court can go into.

SPECIFIC RELEIF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 9.

If in a suit against a Hindu for specific performance of an agreement, his son raises any question as to his liability to fulfil his father's obligations the Court will go into and decide such questions. Sadasiva Aiyar and Tyobji, JJ.) TIRUVENKATACHARIAR v. VENKATACHARIAR.
23 I.C. 621 : 26 M.L.J. 218.

———Decree, form of.

A decree for specific performance of a contract to sell should direct the person in whom the property vests to execute a conveyance. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) CHAMARTI SURYAPRAGASA RAYADU v. ARABDHI LAXMINARASIMHA CHARYALU. 23 I. C. 560 : 26 M L J. 518.

———Central Provinces Court of Wards Act (XXIV of 1899), S. 16 (2) (b)—Contract by guardian—No benefit to minor.

The words "for the preservation and benefit of such property" in S. 16 (2) of the Court of Wards Act should be interpreted in the light of the usual powers of guardians to bind the estates of minors.

A decree for specific performance of a contract for sale made by a guardian should not be passed against a minor unless the Court is certain that the agreement and its enforcement are both for the benefit of the minor (Batten, A.J.C.) PURANLAL v. VENKATRAO GUJAR.
45 I. C. 192.

———Contract of sale—Suit for—Possession—Whether can be prayed for.

In a suit for specific performance of contract of sale, a claim for delivery of possession may be made unless it is contrary to the contract. (Mullick and Sultan Ahmed, JJ.) LEKHANDAN v. JANKI SINGH. 5 Pat. L J 314 : 56 I C. 322 : 1 Pat.L.T. 325 : 2 U P.L.R (Pat) 108 : 1920 Pat. 266.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877).

———Applicability—Scheduled Districts Act (XIV of 1874).

The Sonthal Parganas, being a scheduled district within the meaning of Act XIV of 1874, Specific Relief Act, does not 'proprio vigore' extend to that area, but a prayer for the specific performance of a contract can be granted on principles of justice, equity and good conscience 30 I C. 365. Foll. (Mullick and Atkinson, JJ.) SATYA NARAYAN CHAKRAVARTI v. DWARAKA NATH SADHU. . . 40 I.C. 174 : 2 Pat. L.J. 379 : 1 Pat. L. W. 738.

———S. 9.

Appeal
Applicability and scope of
Claim for mesne profits
Constructive possession.
Co owners.
Dispossession in due course of law.
Regular suit.
Review.
Scope of inquiry.
Miscellaneous.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 9—Appeal.

Appeal.

——— S. 9—Appeal—Decree under—Execution proceedings—Order not appealable.

No appeal lies against an order passed in execution of a decree made under S. 9 of the Sp. Rel. Act, as the term suit in the section includes an execution proceeding on the basis of the decree. (Mookerjee and Walmsley JJ.) KANAILAL GHOSE v. JATINDRA NATH CHANDRA. 45 Cal. 519 : 42 I. C. 711 : 26 C.L.J. 325 : 22 C.W.N. 446.

——— S. 9—Appeal—Decree under—Execution—Order not appealable.

An order passed in execution of a decree under S. 9, Specific Relief Act is not appealable. (Scott-Smith, J.) WARIS v. FATEH DIN.

1923 L. 105.

——— S. 9—Appeal—Order in execution of decree under, is not appealable.

An order passed in execution of a decree under S. 9 of the Specific Relief Act, is final and no appeal lies Held, that in the present case the decision, dealt with the title of the house, and had no bearing upon the question of possession, which was the only matter to be determined in the suit under S. 9. Hence the order of the District Judge was set aside. (Shadi Lal, J.) JAHANGIR SINGH v. HIRA SINGH.

5 P.W.R 1917 : 39 I.C. 379 : 18 P.L.R. 1917.

——— S. 9—Appeal—Order in execution of decree under S. 9.

No appeal lies against an order made in execution of a decree passed under S. 9 as such decree is not itself appealable. 28 I C. 282, Ref. (Shadi Lal, J.) JAHANGIR SINGH v. HIRA. 39 I.C. 375: 4 P.W.R. 1917 : 21 P.L R. 1917.

——— S. 9—Appeal—Execution—Order in—Limitation.

No appeal lies from an order made in execution of a decree under S. 9 having regard to the provisions of S 9 of the Sp. Rel. Act nor any review shall be allowed. (Rossignol, J.) MOFUZALI v. BIRJINAND KIRAT.

45 P.L.R. 1915 : 28 I. C. 282 : 201 P.W.R. 1915.

Applicability and scope of.

——— S. 9—Applicability and scope of—Order under nature of—suit for—Injunction.

The object of S. 9 of the Sp. Rel. Act is to discourage people from taking the law into their own hands however good their title may be. 8 B. 371 Ref. It provides a summary and speedy remedy for the restoration of possession to a party dispossessed by another, leaving them to fight out the question of their respective titles if so advised. 13 A 527 Ref. A person against whom an order is made under S. 9 of the Act can sue for a declaration of title and for an injunction restraining the opposite party from interfering with his possession 4 Cal. 580 Dist. (Coyajee, J.) MAHI DODDATAMMA MARKUNDI v. SANLAYA RAM KRISHNA PAI. 24 Bom. L.R. 768 1922 Bom 216.

——— S. 9—Applicability and scope of—Dispossession—Order under S. 144, Cr. P Code—Effect of.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 9—Applicability and scope of.

The effect of an order under S 144, Cr. P. C., is not to disturb either title or possession though it may prevent the exercise of rights which a person in possession would otherwise be entitled to exercise during the continuance of the said order. If a person so prevented by an order under S. 144, Cr. P C. is dispossessed he can sue under S. 9 of the Sp. Rel. Act. (Teunon, J.) NASIRAN BIBI v. SALIM AKANDA. 64 I C. 572.

——— S. 9—Applicability and scope of—Suit under—Cr. P. Code, S. 145 (4)—Order of attachment.

Prior to a suit under S. 9 of the Specfic Relief Act in proceedings under S. 145 of the Cr. P. Code, the properties were attached and an order had been made adverse to the plff. Held, that the suit was not maintainable. Per Huda, J But for an intervening attachment under S. 145 (4) of the Cr. P. Code, a mere order under S. 145 is not sufficient to deprive the plff. of his right to relief in a suit under S 9 of the Sp. Rel. Act (Teunon and Huda, JJ.) AZIMUDDIN AHMED v ALAUDDIN.

43 I. C. 153 : 22 C. W. N. 931.

——— S. 9—Applicability and scope of—Incorporeal rights.

S. 9 takes out of the operation of the Act rights classed as "incorporeal rights" though they are 'immovable property' 19 Cal. 544 ref. to. (Chatterjee and Richardson, JJ.) SITAL CHANDRA CHAUDHURY v. ALLEN J. DELANNEY. 34 I. C. 450 : 20 C. W. N. 1158.

——— S. 9—Applicability and scope of—Possession of adhiar—If protected.

An adhiar is very largely a tenant for the purpose of the Sp. Relief Act. (Woodroffe and Newbould, JJ.) DEB NATH DAS v RAM SUNDER BARMAN. 31 I. C. 579: 19 C. W. N. 1205.

——— S. 9—Applicability and scope of—Suit for possession—House built on land, if can be removed.

An order allowing the plff. to remove the house built on land by deft. is beyond the jurisdiction of the Court under S. 9 of the Sp Rel. Act, and the Court cannot do more than make an order with respect to possession of land. (Stephen and Chatterjee, JJ.) RAHMATULLA v. MOFIZULLA.

28 I. C. 473.

——— S. 9—Applicability and scope—Suit by tenant against landlord.

A suit under S. 9 by a tenant to recover possession of land from which he has been unlawfully ejected is not barred by the provisions of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act, S 139. (Woodroffe and Carnduff, JJ.) KHETRA NATH v. PERUBAURI.

13 C. L J. 2.0. 9 I. C. 478: 15 C W. N 387.

——— S. 9—Applicability and scope of—Suit by licensee—Maintainability.

A licensee of land if dispossessed by a trespasser is entitled to maintain a suit under S. 9 of Sp. Rel Act. (Stuart, J. C.) SITARAM v. JAGAN NATH.

17 I. C. 469· 15 O. C. 317.

——— S. 9—Applicability and scope of—Tenant's suit

S 9 of the Sp. Rel. Act is not applicable to a suit by a tenant against the landlord for recovery of possession. (Chamier, J. C. and Evans, A. J. C.) FATEH MUHAMMAD v. BHAVANI SHIKH.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877). S. 9—Applicability and scope of.

9 I. C. 751: 14 O. C. 60.

——S 9—Applicability and scope of.

S. 9 does not apply to a suit wherein plffs. claim as mortgagees in possession and defts. plead redemption and Court finds on evidence in favour of plff. (Parlett, J.) MG LU MG v. MAUNG MAUNG PU.
7 Bur. L. T. 10: 23 I. C. 367: 7 L. B. R. 86.

Claim for mesne profits.

——S. 9—Claim for mesne profits, if can be made in a suit under.

A claim for mesne profits ought not to be made in a suit under S. 9 of the Sp. Rel. Act, because the question of title (considered apart from possession) could not be directly decided in that suit and a relief which depends on title (such as a claim for mesne profit) could not be given therein. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Hannay, JJ.) THAVASI v. ARUMUGAM. 2 L. W. 157 : 28 I. C. 1 : (1915) M. W. N. 170 : 30 M. L. J. 326.

——S. 9—Claim for mesne profits.

The mere fact that mesne profits cannot be recovered in a suit under S. 9 does not prevent the Court from granting restoration of possession. (Oldfield, J.) YALA MANCHIL PURNAYYA v. PAMU RAMASWAMY. 25 I. C. 802. 16 M L T. 190.

Constructive possession.

——S. 9—Constructive possession—Possession of Thakur Bari of a temple—What is.

Plaintiff appointed a pujari of a Thakur Bari, defrayed the expenses of worship, repaired the building and had the key of the door of the Thakurghar with him. Held, that the possession of the plff. was such physical possession as to attract the operation of S. 9 of the Sp Rel. Act, notwithstanding that the Thakur Bari, as a residence of deity, was open to the public (Teunon and Newbould, JJ.) NARENDRA NATH LAHIRI v. CHARU CHANDRA BOSE. 44 I. C. 497.

——S. 9—Constructive possession—Symbolical possession.

Where the plff. in a possessory suit is not able to prove his title and alleges that symbolical possession only was with him, the suit must be dismissed and the deft.'s title should not be investigated by the Court. (Coxe and Ray, JJ.) SATYANDRA NATH MISRA v. SHEIKH LATIF KHAN.
21 I. C 118.

——S 9—Constructive possession—Landlord and tenant.

The point raised is whether dispossession of a tenant is an ouster of a landlord, and the landlord can bring a possessory suit under S. 9 of the Sp. Rel. Act. (Chitty and N. R. Chatterjee, JJ.) AKHIL CHANDRA DEY v. AKHIL CHANDRA BISWAS.
10 I. C, 455: 15 C. W. N. 715.

——S. 9—Constructive possession—Possession of servant, not protected.

S. 9 of the Sp. Rel. Act is intended to provide a summary remedy for cases of dispossession within 6 months where the Court will direct the restoration of possession irrespective of the title of the parties. The possession of a servant is that of his master and a Court has no jurisdiction to decree possession in a suit by a servant against his master. The position of archaka in a Hindu temple is that of a servant of the trustee 35 M. 631 Ref. (Devadoss, J.) SRI VANAMAMALAI JEER SWAMIGAL v. PERIA VENKATARAMANA CHARIAR.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 9—Co-owners.

(1922) M W. N. 422: 16 L. W 931: 1922 Mad. 183.

——S. 9—Constructive possession—Suit for possession—Scope of—Enquiry.

Not only physical but constructive possession is sufficient to sustain a suit for possession under S. 9 of the Sp. Relt Act. Constructive possession goes with title. (Drake Brockman, J. C.) GULAM v. SHEODIN RAM 48 I. C. 415.

——S. 9—Constructive possession—Dispossession of tenant if dispossession of landlord—Attornment by tenants to stranger.

Though a mere attornment by a tenant in actual possession to another person coupled with a refusal to pay rent to the proprietor does not amount to the dispossession of the proprietor under S. 9, yet actual dispossession of tenant by a trespasser is the dispossession of his landlord and entitles the landlord to a relief under S. 9. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs.) NIHAL SINGH v. RAGHURAJ BAHADUR SINGH. 18 O C. 353: 32 I. C 202: 3 O. L. J. 588.

Co-owners.

——S. 9—Co-owners—Joint possession—Suit for.

A man in joint possession in immoveable property is as much in physical possession of his share as the entire body of co-sharers are in physical possession of the whole. Such joint possession can be restored by the procedure under the section if the plff. had been dispossessed in the manner and within the time mentioned in the section. 19 P. W R. 120. dist. (Chatterjea and Chapman, JJ.) MT. AJIMAN BIBI. v. REASAT SHAIKH. 28 I. C 670 : 19 C. W N 1117.

——S. 9—Co-owners—Possession—Explained Dispossession as to whole whether co-sharer entitled to sue for possession of his share.

S. 9 of the Sp. Rel Act refers to exclusive possession and a Court cannot grant joint possession, so that a party entitled to half a share cannot sue for possession, thereof when the dispossession is as to the whole (Stephen and Chatterjee, JJ.) HARI NARAIN DAS v. ELEMJAN BIBI.
19 C. L. J. 117 : 23 I. C 618 : 19 C. W. N. 120.

——S. 9—Co-owners—Dispossession—Suit on the strength of possessory title.

Where one co-sharer has been cultivating one field and another co-sharer other fields, one sharer cannot dispossess the other against his will from the field of which he has possession. 108 P. R. 1889 (1) and 13 P. R. 1910 (2) referred to. Though the dispossessed co-sharer might have sued under S. 9 of the Sp. Rel. Act he is not bound to do so and he can rely upon his possessory title even after the period of 6 months has expired. (Scott-Smith, J.) GANESA MAL v. IBRAHIM.
53 I. C. 569 : 104 P. R. 1919.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 9—Co-owners.

——— —S. 9—Co-owners—Joint possession.

Joint possession cannot be decreed under S. 9. 19 C. L. J. 117, Foll. 3 M. 250 Dist (Oldfield and Tyabji, JJ.) KUTHAN v. KULLA VANDU
31 I. C 720 : 29 M. L. J. 760.

———S 9—Co-owners—Suit by trespasser in possession—Other co owners not parties, effect of.

S 9 of the Sp. Rel. Act is wide enough to include the case of a co-owner of property seeking to be restored to the possession jointly with a trespasser of property from which the latter has ousted his co-owners along with him even though those other co-owners do not claim possession of their shares. Nor are such co-owners necessary parties to the suit. 19 C. L. J. 117 diss. 19 C. W. N. 1007 Foll. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) RAMACHANDRA FATE v. SHRIDAR. 5 N. L. J. 161 : 18 N. L. R. 71 : 1922 Nag. 115.

———S. 9—Co owners—Possession.

S. 9 of the Sp. Rel. Act applies to cases where a co-owner in possession of property jointly with other co-owners is dispossessed by the latter. (Batten, A. J. C.) GHOORI v. SITHU.
44 I. C. 557.

———S. 9—Co-owner—Possession of defined parcels—Possession through tenant.

A suit under S. 9 is maintainable by one co-owner in possession of specific portions of survey numbers. A landlord whose tenant has been dispossessed can bring a suit against a third party, S. 9 being applicable to constructive possession 28 M. 288, Foll. (Pratt, J. C. and Hayward, A.J. C) SAHIBRA KHYO v. JUMRAOMAL.
12 I. C. 190 : 5 S. L. R. 42.

Dispossession in due Course of Law.

——— S. 9—Dispossession in due course of law.

A dispossession by a legal process or under provision of law which ought not to have been applied is not a dispossession in due course of law within S. 9 of the Act. (Stephen and Chatterjee, JJ.) ROSHAMULLAH v. HAZIR MAHMUD
18 I. C. 727.

———S. 9—Dispossession in due course of law.

Plaintiffs Nos. 1 and 2 were in possession of the property in suit through there burgadars the plaintiffs Nos. 3 and 4. But in a suit brought by the deft. against the plffs. Nos. 1 and 2 the latter falsely stated that they were not in possession, that suit was decreed and in execution the plaintiffs Nos. 3 and 4 were dispossessed The plaintiffs then brought this suit for possession under S. 9. Held that the dispossession of the plaintiff was in due course of law was as contemplated by S 9. (Chitty and N. Chatterjea, JJ.) HARAN CHANDRA PAL v. MADAN MOHAN.
11 I. C. 740 : 15 C. W. N. 956.

———S. 9—Dispossession in due course of law—Ejectment by landlord.

A third person who dispossesses the landlord between one tenant's quitting and another tenant's coming in can be ejected under S. 9 of the Act. (Parlett, J.) SAN HLA BAW v. HLA PAW.
37 I. C. 20 : 9 Bur. L. T. 172.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 9—Regular Suit.

Regular Suit.

———S. 9—Regular suit—Revision.

A High Court will not interfere in revision when there is another remedy open to the applicant and therefore no application for revision of an order of dismissal of a suit under S. 9 will lie inasmuch as the plaintiff has a remedy by a regular suit on title. (Tudball, J.) RAMANAND v. SHEO BALA. 63 I. C. 809.

———S. 9—Regular suit—Wrongly dealt with as under S. 9—Appeal Procedure.

Where a suit based upon title is wrongly dealt with by the trial Court as a suit under S. 9 of Sp. Rel. Act the decision is appealable and the Appellate Court should send it back to the trial Court to be dealt with as a suit upon title, and not dismiss the suit in toto, (Tudball, and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) NARAIN DAS v. HET SINGH.
40 All 637 : 46 I. C 923 : 16 A. L. J 611.

———S. 9—Regular suit—Plffs. failure to prove title—Relief under S. 9 if can be granted.

A person who sues for possession on the basis of his title cannot get a decree for possession under the first paragraph of S. 9. (Richards, J.) PAL AHIR v. ASGHAR HUSAIN. 10 I. C. 145 : 8 A L. J. 404.

———S. 9—Regular suit—Suit on possessory title—Defences to.

"In a suit based upon possessory title the deft. may have grounds for opposing the claim not open to him in suit brought by the real owner". (Kumaraswami Sastri and Phillips, JJ.) VENKATASAMI NAICK v. KALI SAMTAN.
33 I. C. 167 : (1916) 1 M. W. N. 110.

———S. 9—Regular suit—No bar to—Suit for mesne profits.

A suit for possession under S. 9 of the Sp Rel. Act is no bar to a subsequent suit for mesne profits as the causes of action are different. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) JANARDHAN GANESH v. RAMCHANDRA.
46 I. C. 885.

———S. 9—Regular suit—No bar of.

S. 9 of the Sp. Rel. Act is no bar to a suit for possession against a trespasser instituted beyond 6 months after dispossession by a person who has been in peaceful possession of his land even for a period short of the statutory period of 12 years. (Chamier, C. J. and Sharfuddin, J.) SAHODRA KUER v. GOBERDHAN TIWARI.
1 Pat. L. W 327 · 2 Pat. L. J. 280 : 39 I. C. 458 : (1917) Pat. 164.

———S. 9—Regular suit—No bar to.

A person not suing under the section when first dispossessed, can after the summary relief under the section is barred by time to file a regular suit for ejectment under S. 110, Evidence Act. As soon as he proves dispossession, the deft. must prove his title. (Mullick and Atkinson, JJ.) HARADHAN MANDAL MODAK v. ISWAR DAS MARWARI: 2 Pat. L. J. 61 : 38 I. C 797 : 3 Pat L. W. 258.

———S. 9—Regular suit—No bar to.

No one though entitled to sue under S. 9 of the Sp. Rel. Act is bound to do so and he can always bring a regular suit founded on title either in addition to or instead of the suit under that section (Parlett, J.) MG LU MG v. MAUNG MAUNG PU. 7 Bur. L. T. 10 : 23 I. C. 367 : 7 L. B. R. 88.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 9—Review.

Review.

——— S. 9—Review.

A decision passed forthwith in a suit under S. 9 is not open to review by S 9 itself (Sadasiva Aiyar, J.) CHIDAPATRI SOMAYYA In re. 31 I. C. 307 : 2 L. W. 1067.

Scope of Inquiry.

———S. 9—Scope of inquiry—Deft.'s right to set up title.

In a suit under S. 9, the deft. will not be allowed to plead or to prove title in himself as he would be entitled to do in suits apart from S. 9 of this Act. In the latter class of cases, the deft. will be allowed to plead and prove title but if he fails to do so plff. can get a decree even though he is able to prove nothing more than possession by himself of the property in suit up-to-date or ejectment by the deft. (Piggott, J.) MAKHDOOM BAKSH SHAH v. HASHIM ALI. 29 I. C. 210.

——— S 9—Scope of inquiry—Suit for possession and for damages if lies Appeal against decree in such suit whether allowed.

A claim for damages ought not to be joined with a claim for recovery of possession under S. 9 of the Sp. Rel Act. Where such a claim is joined and a decree is passed in the suit an appeal lies from such a decree. (Piggott, J.) NAZIR AHMAD v. ABID ALI. 11 I. C 38 : 8 A. L. J. 910

———S. 9—Scope of inquiry.

Prior peaceable possession furnishes a good title as against a mere trespasser. If a true title may be defeated by twelve years' adverse possession by a trespasser, there is nothing shocking to sense of justice in a legislative rule that the period of limitation for a suit by a mere trespasser or squatter to recover possession should be six months from the date of his dispossession. 15 C. W. N. 163; 41 Cal. 394 Dist. (Richardson and Suhrawardy, JJ.) NABA KISHORE TILAKDAS v. PORA BEWA. 50 Cal 23 : 1922 Cal. 198.

———S. 9—Scope of inquiry.

Only possession and dispossession is to be proved by plaintiff under S. 9, Sp. Rel. Act and not title. (Fletcher and Walmsley, JJ.) HARI MOHAN ROY v. KHALIL BEHARY. 48 I. C. 433.

———S. 9—Scope of inquiry—Suit for possession.

Mere previous possession is sufficient in a suit under the section. (Sanderson, C. J., Woodroffe and Mookerji, JJ.) RAMACHANDRA SIL v. RAMAN MANI DASI. 38 I. C. 890: 20 C. W. N. 773.

———S 9—Scope of inquiry— Jurisdiction—Enquiry into title, C. P. C., S. 115

The Court has no jurisdiction to go into the question of title in a possessory suit under S 9 of the Sp. Rel. Act and an order against the plff. found to be in possession within six months on the ground of want of title is without jurisdiction and is revisable under S. 115 of C. P. C. (Chitty and Teunon, JJ.) RANI DOYAL SAMONTA v. UPENDRA NATH SAMONTA. 18 I. C. 298: 17 C. W. N. 501.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S 9—Scope of Inquiry.

——— S. 9—Scope of inquiry—Limitation Act, (XV of 1877) Art 3

The only point to be determined in a suit under S. 9 of the Act is whether the plaintiff was dispossessed and whether the suit is brought within six months from the date of dispossession but if there was no possession of the plaintiff's and therefore no dispossession, the suit must be dismissed (Jenkins, C. J. and Chatterjee, J.) JENAN CHANDRA NAG DAS v. LOCH MOHAN. 13 I. C. 541.

———S. 9—Scope of inquiry—Suit against trespasser.

Plaintiff sued for possession describing defendants as trespassers. The defendants replied that they were not trespassers but had acquired a good title by sale. This sale on which they relied was then impugned, by the plaintiff and shown not to be binding on him inasmuch as it was not for his benefit. Held, that the defendants were shown to have no title and the plaintiff was entitled as a matter of right without having to prove his own title. 78 P. R. 1902, Foll. 17 P. R 1912 Ref. Abdul Raoof and Harrison, JJ. AMAR CHAND v. RAM RAKH. 67 I.C 941 (2) : 3 Lah. L. J. 402.

——— S. 9—Scope of inquiry.

In a suit under S 9 the Court can only enquire whether the plaintiff was in actual peaceable occupation and was forcibly dispossessed within six months before suit. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) RAMAMURTHI v. KUNCHUNVARTHY VENKATA SITARAM CHANDRA ROW GARU. 22 I. C. 279: (1914) M W. N. 95.

——— S. 9—Scope of inquiry—Illegal possession—Evidence Act, S. 110— Nature of possession—Presumption.

Section 9 of the Specific Relief Act in no way controls the operation of S. 110 of the Indian Evidence Act. It has no concern whatever with title but is merely a law for restoring a possession which has been disturbed otherwise than in due accordance with law and it can properly be used to eject even a true owner who has disturbed a peaceful possession. The possession which attracts the presumption of ownership is juridical possession obtained nec vis nec clam, nec precario, ab adversario and it stands valid against all the world except the person legally entitled. (Stanyon, A.J.C.) SAMBHASHEO v. MAHADEO. 27 I. C. 506 : 10 N. L. R. 188.

——— S. 9—Scope of inquiry—Decision in a suit under section.

In a suit expressly brought under the section, neither the Court nor the defendant has any power to enlarge the scope of that suit or to treat it as if it were an ordinary suit resting on ground of title (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) MUHAMMAD HAIDAR v WAZIR ALI. 41 I. C. 974: 20 O. C. 237.

——— S. 9—Scope of inquiry—Plaintiff entitled to decree on admission of defence—Cause of action.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 9—Scope of Inquiry.

The question whether there is a cause of action or not does not depend upon the admission of the defendant. Where the plaint discloses a cause of action, the plaintiff is entitled to get a decree on the admission of the defence. (Ross, J.) BAUL DAS MISRA v. DIGAMBAR KURI.
65 I. C. 644 : 1921 Pat. 297

——S. 9—Scope of inquiry—Suit for possession—Occupancy right.

In a suit on possessory title the Court decrees the suit only when it finds the plaintiff in peaceful possession before dispossession, the plaintiff's previous possession being in law sufficient proof of title. In a suit under S. 9 of the Sp. Rel. Act, the Court is empowered to go only into the question of dispossession within six months before and not into the deft.'s title. 20 C. 834; 26 M. 514 Foll. (Pratt, J.) MA SAW v. MAUNG SAWE GAN.
1 Bur. L. J 165: 11 L B. R. 415: 1923 R. 54.

Miscellaneous.

——S. 9—Possession—Suit on invalid title—Mortgage of occupancy holding.

A person who has taken a usufructuary mortgage over an occupancy holding, in contravention of the provisions of the law, will not receive the assistance of the Courts in a suit for recovery of possession based on title, such title being exhypothesi invalid. The mortgagee could however sue to be put back into possession under S.9 of the Sp. Rl. Act without pleading her title at all. (Piggot and Walsh, JJ.) SHEO ZOORKOERI v. MT. KAUSILLA. 20 A.L.J. 972 : 1923 A. 81 (1).

——S. 9—Suit for possession of land and crops—Decree—Removal of crops before execution—Subsequent suit for damages.

Plaintiff obtained a decree under S 9 of the Sp. Rel. Act, for possession of certain lands with crops. The crops had been removed in the meantime before execution. The plaintiff brought a suit for recovery of the price of the crops Held, that the defendants could not by cutting and removing the crops annul the effect of the possessory decree, and that they were liable though they denied plaintiff's title. (Richards, C. J. and Tudball, J.) MUNNA SINGH v. AUSAN SINGH.
41 All 108: 48 I. C. 422: 16 A L. J. 924.

——S. 9—Persons dispossessed if should be co-plffs.

It is not necessary that all dispossessed persons must be co-plaintiff's in a suit in ejectment against a trespasser. It is enough if they are parties either as plaintiffs or as defts. (Mookerjee and Carnduff, JJ.) DEBENDRA NATH v. BINDHUBALA DASI. 13 I. C. 125.

——S. 9—Possession of adhiar—If protected.

An adhiar is very largely a tenant for the purpose of the Sp. Relief Act. (Woodroffe and Newbould, JJ.) DEB NATH DAS v. RAM SUNDER BARMAN. 31 I. C. 579. 19 C. W. N. 1205.

——S. 9—Suit under— Material irregularity—Retrial.

Where in a suit for possession under S. 9 the Court misunderstood the plaintiff's position and ignored material evidence, and did not distinguish between possession and use or occupation.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S 12.

Held, that all these constituted material irregularity so as to necessitate a retrial (Reid, C J. and Rattigan, J.) O'BRIEN v. ABDUL RAHMAN.
28 P W. R. 1912: 13 I. C 6: 14 P. L. R. 1912.

——S. 9—Joint possession—Decree for, not to be given.

In a suit under S 9 of the Sp. Rel. Act it is not open to the Court to decree joint possession. 29 M.L.J. 760 F B, 19 C W.N. 1117, Rel. (Devadoss, J.) SRI VANAMAMALAI JEER SWAMIGAL v. PERIA VENKATARAMANA CHARIAR.
(1922) M. W. N. 422 16 L. W. 931: 1922 M. 183.

——S. 9—Cause of action.

Seeking remedy by regular suit within 6 months does not alter nature of suit and does not turn suit into one under S. 9. (Parlett, J.) MG. LU. MG v MAUNG MAUNG PU.
7 Bur. L. T. 10: 23 I. C. 367: 7 L. B. R 88.

——S. 11—Suit for delivery of specific moveables.

In order to enable a person to obtain delivery of specific moveable property by suit and enforce the decree obtained by the stringent methods provided in O 21 r. 31 of the C. P Code, he should allege and prove facts which give him a right to compel the delivery of the specific moveables under the provision of S. 11 of the Sp. Rel. Act. (Wallis, C. J., Ayling and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) VENKATASUBBA ROW v. THE ASIATIC STEAM NAVIGATION CO. OF CALCUTTA 39 Mad 1. 29 M L. J. 342: (1915) M W N. 644: 2 L. W 805: 30 I C. 840: 18 M. L. T 236 (F.B.).
[On appeal from 24 I. C. 676.]

——S. 12—Contract for sale of land—Time—Relief against stipulation.

Courts of equity look at the substance as distinguished from letters of agreements and administer justice accordingly ; but they would not exercise their jurisdiction where the parties have expressed their agreements in clear terms unless the parties have subsequently waived them. (Viscount Haldane) STEEDMAN v. DRINKLE.
33 I. C 323 : 85 L. J. P. C. 79 (P.C.).

——Ss 12 and 17—Suit for balance of mortgage money.

A suit to recover the unpaid consideration for a mortgage is a suit for specific performance of an agreement to lend money on a mortgage and has been held not to lie 2 M. 79 ; 43 C. 59 Foll. (Abdur Rahim and Bakewell, JJ.) RAJAGOPALA AIYAR v. DAWOOD ROWTHER. 37 P. R. 1918 : 66 P W R. 1918 : 45 I. C. 161: 124 P L. R. 1918.

——Ss 12, 18 and 35—Purchaser's right.

A purchaser may sue for specific performance and ask for an enquiry into the title, by the result of which he will be bound (Wallis, C. J. and Ayling, J.) MADURAI CHETTY v. BABU SAHEB.
52 I. C 971.

——S. 12—Contract of loan—Specific performance—Form of decree.

Ordinarily a suit cannot be brought for specific performance of a contract to pay money. But the case of a vendor is an exception to the general rule and the Court will grant a decree for specific performance of his contract against the purchaser. The form of the decree is that the plff. be at liberty to prepare and execute a conveyance to the deft. as an escrow to be delivered to the deft. on payment of the purchase money within the time limited and the deft. should pay the purchase money after the conveyance is ready. If the contract is that the purchase money is to be paid before execution of the conveyance then the decree must be made accordingly. (Wallis, C.J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) BHASHYA KARLU NAIDU v. NUNGAMBAKKAM ANDALAMMAL

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 12.

(1918) M. W. N. 896 : 9 L. W. 1 : 49 I. C. 385 : 35 M. L. J. 89.

——Ss. 12 and 19—Agreement to give land.

Where a defendant agreed to give land to plaintiff who was to help him in recovering it, held, the agreement should be specifically enforced because the breach of it could not be adequately compensated for. by money (Prideaux, A. J. C.) SHRIRAM v. BABAJI. 1923 Nag. 47.

——S. 12—Report of Jury—If can form basis of suit.

A report of a jury constituted under S 139, Cr. P. Code, does not amount to a contract between the parties and cannot be made a basis for a suit for specific performance. (Jwala Prasad, J.) SHEONARAIN TEWARI v. SAKHI CHAND SAHU.

38 I C. 417 : 18 Cr. L. J. 305.

——S. 12—Explanation—Scope of.

If a man promises to deliver land for an agreed price and fails to fulfil his promise, the Court can decree specific performance of the contract (Twomey, J.) MA GAUK KYAW v. MAGANG.

27 I. C. 732 : 8 Bur. L. T. 101.

——Ss. 12 (c) and 54—Injunction where pecuniary compensation is adequate—Sale of shares.

Injunction should not, as a rule, be granted where pecuniary compensation would give adequate relief. The sale of shares held as security by the deft. Co. to which plff. owed large sums, could not be restrained by an injunction (Paul, J.) SOLIAPPA CHETTY v. SOLIAPPA CHETTY.

11 I. C 807 : 4 Bur. L. T. 165.

——Ss. 14 and 15—Contract—Vendor and purchaser—Specific performance—Deficiency in property to be purchased—Compensation

In exercising its jurisdiction over specific performance a Court of Equity looks at the substance and not merely at the letter of the contract.

If a vendor sues, and is in a position to convey substantially what the purchaser has contracted to get, the Court will decree specific performance with compensation for any small and immaterial deficiency, provided that the vendor has not, by misrepresentation or otherwise, disentitled himself to his remedy. If the purchaser is suing, he may elect subject to conditions of hardship to take all that he can get, and to have a proportionate abatement from the purchase-money. This right applies only to a deficiency in the subject-matter described in the contract, but not to a claim to make good a representation about that subject-matter made not in the contract but collaterally to it, in which case the remedy is recission, or a claim for damages for deceit where there has been fraud or for breach of a collateral contract if there has been such a contract. (Viscount Haldane.) RUTHERFORD v. ACTON ADAMS.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 14.

32 I. C 47 : 84 L. J. P. C. 238 (P.C.).

——S. 14—Agreement to sell immoveable property—Property charged before sale—Purchaser entitled to compensation

In a suit for specific performance of a contract to sell even if the plff knows that there was a claim against the defendant for maintenance, there would be nothing in that fact to put the plff on notice that there was an incumbrance on the suit property, and even if the defendant sold the property he would still be liable to provide maintenance out of the sale proceeds which would in spite of the sale retain the character of the ancestral property. The case comes within S. 14 of the Specific Relief Act and the plaintiff is entitled to compensation for the burden which is imposed upon the property he contracted to buy owing to the decree passed for maintenance. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) CHHOTABHAI HIRACHAND v. MAGANABHAI NAGINBHAI.

1923 Bom 271.

——Ss 14 and 15—Description by boundaries.

Where the property agreed to be sold was clearly described by boundaries, numbers and area, but was found on measurement to be incorrect in area the purchaser cannot claim specific performance with compensation for the area by which the property was found to be less. (Scott, C J and Hayward, J.) TATA INDUSTRIALS BANK, LTD v. RUSTOMJI BYRAMJI JEEJEEBHOY.

57 I. C. 957 : 22 Bom. L. R. 849.

——S. 14—Contract to sell portion of joint family property—Specific performance.

Where the vendee of a share of joint family property bought it on the assurance of the vendor that he was competent to sell the property held by himself and his co-sharers. Held, that though the vendor was not competent to bind his co-sharers specific performance should be decreed against his own share of the property and he could not escape the obligation because he had acted in excess of authority 11 C. L J. 346 Rel. (Mookerjee and Walmsley, JJ.) SHAMA CHARAN KOTAL v. KUMAD DASI.

42 I. C. 378 : 27 C. L. J. 611.

——S. 14, C.P.C., O. 26—Agreement to sell—Price not fixed.

In cases where there is an agreement to sell but the agreement is silent as to the price, it is the duty of the Court while ordering specific performance to determine by itself or through a commissioner the price which should in reason be paid. An agreement for the sale of a whole house may be enforced specifically to the extent of the vendor's share therein when it is found that he is only part owner of it. Rattigan and Beadon, JJ. SAI AMAT RAI v. TULSI DAS.

71 P. L. R. 1914 : 22 I. C 517 : 109 P.W.R. 1914.

——S. 14—Applicability of—Deficiency in extent—Execution of conveyance.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 14.

The rule enunciated in S. 14 holds good even where the deficiency in area is discovered after the execution of the conveyance and the vendee is entitled to compensation. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) GANGA VENKATAREDDY v. JAMAL AHMED SAHIB.

29 M. L. J. 122 : 18 M. L. T. 364 : 29 I. C. 394 : (1916) M. W. N. 422.

——— S. 14—Covenant of title—Compensation not assessable in money—Enforceability of contract.

The vendor under a contract to sell lands undertook to give security against any claim set up by the reversioners in future Held that the contract could not be specifically enforced as the portion of it relating to security cannot be compensated for in money under S. 14 of the Act. (Ayling and Hannay, JJ.) NARAYANA PILLAI v. ALAMELU ACHI. 27 I. C. 449.

——— S. 14—Alienation of property contracted to be sold before performance.

A contracted to sell land mentioned in a sale proclamation but before he could sell it, a portion of it had been alienated, Held, that specific performance of the contract cannot be granted under S. 14, Specific Relief Act. (Wallis and Sankaran Nair, JJ.) KOTA KRISHNAYYA v MATHERI SUBBAYA. 10 I. C. 678 : 9 M. L. T. 318.

——— Ss. 14 and 15—Application.

Sections 14 and 15 of the Sp. Rel. Act refer to cases where the inability to perform the whole contract was not contemplated by the contracting parties ; they do not apply to the case where the obstacle to the full performance is known to the parties and no provision is made to meet it Where the performance of a contract is dependant on the consent of a third person and such consent cannot be obtained specific performance will not be decreed even of so much of the contract as is possible on abatement of consideration or even the full stipulated consideration. (Batten, A. J. C.) SARDA PERSHAD v. SIKANDAR.

34 I. C. 461 : 12 N. L. R. 69.

——— Ss. 14, 17 and 21—Minor—Contract to sell property by de facto guardian—Specific performance- Transferee for value Right of pre-emption if a defence to suit for specific performance.

When a de facto guardian contracts with a third party for the sale of a minor's property the Court will not, in the absence of sanction, direct the fulfilment of the contract as against the minors as this will amount to sanctioning a plain breach of trust on the part of the de facto guardian. No distinction can be drawn between a contract for purchase and a contract for sale. The decision of the Judicial Committee in 39 C. 232 (P. C.) rests on the broader ground that it is quite impossible for the Court to decree specific performance against a minor. The operation of S. 27 b) of the Specific Relief Act is confined to cases where the contracts are in the first instance enforceable as against the parties to the contract. The liability of a person claiming under a party to the contract rests upon that antecedent liability of a party to the contract, and arises by reason of the fact that as such transferee he takes the subject to the transferor's pre-existing contractual obligation ; and in the absence of a pre-existing contractual obligation, it seems that the case entirely fails as against the transferee. It is quite clear that no contract can be enforced as against a transferee unless the transferee has notice of the original contract. Notice of the original contract must mean notice of an existing obligation under the contract; and where the contract is itself unenforceable it is impossible to maintain the view that the contract can be enforced as against a subsequent transferee. As a rule the Court will not compel specific performance of a contract unless it can execute the whole contract. Where, however, the contract is in substance divisible, there is nothing to prevent the Court from carrying into effect that part of it which is capable of being fulfilled. Where the subsequent purchaser of property is one who has a right of pre-emption the Court will not decree specific performance against him. (Das and Foster, JJ.) SHIEKH ABDUL HUQ v. MD. YEHIA KHAN.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 15.

4 Pat. L. T. 553 : 1924 P. 81.

——— S 15—Incomplete contract —Specific performance not to be granted.

Where there is no completed contract between the parties, a Court cannot decree specific performance. When plff sued to enforce specific performance of a contract for sale of certain land by the first and second defendant and it was found that the second defendant had never agreed to sell, the contract cannot be specifically enforced. (Chatterjea and Panton, JJ.) RAM SARAN ROY v. SHOSHI BHUSAN GHOSE. 65 I. C. 594.

——— S. 15—Agreement to sell by manager of joint family—Contract not binding—Specific performance.

Specific performance of a contract to sell land by a manager of a joint Hindu family which is not binding on the other members cannot be granted under S. 15 of the Act, as against the whole property but can be granted only against the share of the alienor and that too, on payment of the whole consideration agreed upon. (Wallis, C.J., Oldfield and Kumarasami Sastri, JJ.) BALUSAMI AIYAR v LAKSHMANA AIYAR

44 Mad 605 : 13 L. W. 562: 29 M L T. 306 : (1921) M. W. N. 316 : 63 I C 374 : 41 M L. .. 129 (F. B.).

——— Ss. 15 and 16—Contract to sell whole house—Vendor possessing only a half—Specific performance.

Where a person on behalf of himself and as agent for another agreed to sell a house in which each of them had one half-share and it was found he had no authority to sell the half-share of the other. Held, that the plaintiff was only entitled to a decree for specific performance for half of the house on condition of paying the full price agreed upon for the entire house. (Richards, C. J. and Banerji, J.) MAHMUD ALI v. YAWAR BEG 29 I. C. 628 : 13 A. L. J. 739.

——— Ss. 15 and 16—Co-parcener's agreement to sell—Specific performance.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877). S. 15.

One member of a joint Hindu family cannot agree to sell joint property without the consent of the others and such an agreement, if made, cannot be specifically enforced. (Griffin, J.) SEETLA SAHAI v. THAKUR DIN
20 I. C. 247 : 11 A. L. J. 456.

——Ss. 15 and 18—Contract for sale by manager—Specific performance—Damages.

Where a person is jointly interested in an estate with another person and deals with the entire property, specific performance will not be granted against him as to his share, the plff.'s remedy being only by way of damages. (Jenkins, C. J. and Mukerjee, J.) SHEIKH ABUL RAHMAN v. JADUNANDAN SINGH JHA. 21 I. C. 528 : 18 C. L. J. 344.

——S. 15—Contract to sell—Pardanashin-woman—No independent advice—Consideration inadequate—Straitened circumstances—If can be enforced.

Where a contract for sale was entered into with a semi-illiterate pardanashin woman and it is found that she had no independent advice in the matter, that the consideration was entirely inadequate and it is also found that the allegation by the vendee that he had paid consideration was false. Held, that the contract cannot be specifically enforced. Where a contract to sell was entered into by a widow and her executor in pursuance of a power given to her by her husband's will but later on the probate was revoked, it was held that if the contract was one which could otherwise be specifically enforced, it can be enforced against the widow's interest in the property provided there is nothing in the plff.'s conduct amounting to abandonment, waiver or acquiescence and the deft.'s position has not been altered by the plff.'s delay in bringing the suit. (Coxe and Teunon, JJ.) KEDAR NATH v. MANU BIBI. 13 I. C. 879 ; 16 C. W. N. 247.

——Ss. 15 and 16—Joint Hindu family—Agreement to sell by members—If can be specifically enforced against share of same.

Specific performance of an agreement to sell cannot be enforced against the share of an undivided member of a Mittakshara joint Hindu family. Before partition the members have no share to convey. The remedy of the aggrieved party lies in damages against the said co-sharer. (1895) 12 B. 683 Rel. on. (D. Chatterjee, J.) JADU NANDAN SINGH v. ABDUL RAHAMAN.
11 I. C. 892 : 16 C. W. N. 93.

——S. 15—Contract to sell by member of joint family—Part performance.

A person is entitled to a specific performance of a contract by a member of Hindu family to sell his share of the property but not to a decree for part performance. Conveyance of a portion is not such a part of the contract as he can perform within the meaning of S. 15 of the Act. 26 M. 74 ; 32 M. 320 ; 37 M. 387, dis. 33 M. 359 ; 26 M. L. J. 576 ; 27 M. L. J. 409, foll. (Sankaran Nair and Spencer, JJ.) DUVVUR SUBBA v. KAKUTURU VENKATASAMI. 38 Mad. 1187 : 26 I. C. 983 : 16 M. L. T. 370.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877). S. 16.

——Ss. 15, 16 and 18—Contract for sale by manager—Suit for specific performance.

In a suit for specific performance of a contract for the sale of joint family property by the father, it is open to the Court to grant a decree as regards the share of the father alone. Obiter the liability of the sons might be determined in the suit if the plff. asks for it. (Ayling and Tyabji, JJ.) KONDAPANENI KOTAYYA v. GANGARAM SESHAYYA (1913) M. W. N. 995 : 21 I. C. 778 : 14 M. L. T. 495.

——S. 15—Contract by manager—Not binding on others—Right to specific performance.

Where the manager of a joint Hindu family contracted to sell family lands and the contract was not binding on the other members. Specific performance could not be decreed even against the manager. 26 M. 74 ; 32 M. 320. not foll. 33 M. 359 ref. (Wallis and Ayling, JJ.) NAJIAH v. VENKATARAMA SASTRULU 37 Mad. 387 : 16 I. C. 623 : 14 M. L. T. 199.

——Ss. 15 and 17—Part performance of contract.

Specific performance of a part of the contract affecting some of the properties in an undivided Hindu family cannot be ordered under S. 17 but in a case falling under S. 15 the Court can grant part performance as the word "may" in that section confers a discretion upon the Court. 33 M. 359; 32 M. 320; 26 M. 74 dist. (Sundara Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) GOVINDA NAICKEN v. APTHASAHAY AIYAR. 37 Mad. 403 : (1912) M. W. N. 87 : 11 M. L. T. 87 : 13 I. C. 471 : 22 M. L. J. 257.

——S. 15—Right to specific performance—Act does not apply after performance of contract.

A right to specific performance lies at the discretion of the Court, and can only be claimed subject to the conditions laid down in S. 15 of the Sp. Rel. Act. But after the parties perform the contract by executing a sale-deed and delivering possession, the rights of the parties are not subject to the Specific Relief Act but by the Transfer of Property Act which clearly entitles the plaintiff to damages for breach of agreement. (Mitra, A. J. C.) SHALIGRAM v. NARAYAN
4 N. L. J. 221.

——S. 15—Scope of—Conveyance, executed—Effect of.

S. 15 of the Sp. Relief Act applies only before the contract has been executed, but if it has been performed by the execution of a sale-deed and delivery of possession the rights of the parties are governed by S. 55 of the T. P. Act. (Mitra, A.J. C.) SHALIGRAM SADASHEO PANDE v. NARAIN.
45 I. C. 669.

——S. 16—Contract divisible—Specific performance as to part can be given.

Where after an agreement to sell two plots of lands, it was discovered that one of them belonged to the vendor's wife, the vendee can under S. 16 Specific Relief Act claim performance of so much of the contract as related to the vendee's own plot with a proportionate abatement in the price settled upon. The question whether a contract is divisible or not is one of construction depending on the facts of each case. (Ghose and Panton, JJ.) KRISHNA CHANDRA DEY v GRAHAM. 50 Cal 700 : 27 C. W. N 693 : 1923 Cal. 694.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 16.

——S 16—Contract for sale of land—Co-owners—Specific performance of portion.

When some persons combine to sell property, which some of them own in part with other persons individually, the vendee can claim enforcement of the contract as against some portions only of the property, if the portions claimed can reasonably be enjoyed independently of the remainder. (Abdur Rahim and Oldfield, JJ.) SUBRAHMANIA AIYAR v. KALYANASUNDARAM AIYAR. 53 I.C. 283.

——S. 17—Specific performance—Variation of agreement.

Where the plff. called upon the deft. to perform a contract different from the real agreement between them, he cannot claim performance thereof. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) RAJA BAIKUNTH NATH v. BENODE BEHARI 51 I. C 13 : 29 C. L J. 256.

——Ss 17 and 18—Void transaction—Sanction—Driving third party to suit.

A Court cannot sanction a transaction devoid of any legal effect, nor can it compel a party to do an act the effect of which would be to compel a third party to bring a suit. (Sundara Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) GOVIND NAICKEN v. APATHSAHAYA AIYAR. 37 Mad. 403 . (1912) M. W. N. 87 : 11 M. L. T. 87 : 13 I. C. 471 : 22 M. L. J. 257.

——S 18—Contract of sale—Compensation for misrepresentation as to subject-matter.

If a vendor sues and can convey substantially what the purchaser has contracted to get the Court will decree specific performance with compensation for any small and immaterial deficiency if the vendor has not, by misrepresentation or otherwise disentitled himself to his remedy. If the purchaser is suing, he may elect subject to conditions of hardship to take all that he can get and to have a proportionate abatement from the purchase-money. The right does not apply to a claim to make good representation about that subject-matter made, not in the contract, but collaterally, in which case the remedy is rescission, or a claim for damages for deceit where there has been fraud. In cases of specific performance a Court of Equity looks at the substance and not merely at the letter of the contract. (Viscount Haldane.) RUTHERFORD v. ACTON ADAMS. 32 I. C. 47 : 84 L. J. (P. C.) 238 (P. C.)

——S. 18—Contract for sale by disqualified person—Subsequent removal of disqualification—Effect of.

A judgment-debtor selling the property while the Collector is exercising powers under S. 325-A., C. P. C., must convey the property to the purchaser after the Collector's management ceases and his incompetence to sell it is removed 34 B. 175, Dist (Scott, C. J and Russell, J.) MAGNIRAM v. BAKUBAI RAKHAMA LOHAR. 36 Bom. 510 : 16 I. C. 570 : 14 Bom. L. R. 598.

——S. 18—Contract of lease—Specific performance—Possession outstanding.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 19.

Possession of property by the mortgagee after the mortgage term is over does not render the mortgagor's title to the property defective and he can compel a lessee to accept specific performance of a contract of lease. (Sanders n, C J. and Panton, J.) KUNJ BEHARI GHOSE v. LALIT MOHAN SINGH ROY. 50 I. C. 154.

——S. 18—Specific performance — Concurrence of other persons.

Plff. contracted with deft. and his landlord that plff. would give a plot of land to the landlord in exchange for that held by deft. under the landlord, that plff. was to be given actual possession of the plot held by deft. and that deft. was to get an equal plot from the landlord out of the lands got by him in exchange from plff., deft. received the money but refused to vacate. Held, that on the deft's. landlord giving him a plot out of the lands given by plff. in exchange, deft. was bound to vacate and give possession to plff. (Chatterjee and Newbould, JJ.) KANGALI DEBI v. ICHAMOYI DEBI. 35 I. C. 840.

——S. 18—Agreement to purchase property in shares—No steps taken to pay purchase money—Right to specific performance

Where an agreement to purchase is, through the inability of one of the parties to find the purchase-money, practically abandoned, he cannot turn round and claim specific performance though he may be entitled to recover any advance that he might have paid (Mookerjee and Caspersz, JJ.) MADAN MOHAN SINGH v. GAJA PROSAD SINGH. 11 I. C. 228 : 14 C. L. J. 159.

——S. 18 (a)—Contract Act, S. 56, para. (2)—Agreement to re convey land purchased at Court auction.

Where the deft and purchaser at Court auction agreed to convey the property purchased to plff. after applying for cancellation of the sale, on condition of the plff. depositing Rs. 100 before a certain date, and failed to get the sale cancelled according to the agreement in spite of the plff.'s depositing the sum, held in a suit for specific performance of the contract, that the deft.'s failure to apply for cancellation of the sale did not make the contract impossible of performance, that the deft. was still liable to perform the contract and that money would not afford adequate relief in the case. (Spencer and Phillips, JJ.) NATARAJA PADAYACHI v. NAGAMUTHU PADAYACHI. 37 I. C. 761.

——Ss 19 and 21 (b)—Contract to file Jama Wasil papers—If enforceable.

A contract by a lessee to prepare and file a set of Jama Wasil baki papers with the lessor every year falls under S. 21 (b) of the Sp. Rel. Act and cannot be specifically enforced. In the absence of proof of actual loss suffered, the plff. cannot get any relief in the alternative for damages in the suit for specific performance of the contract. (Fletcher and Newbould, JJ.) BHAGWANDAS v. SURENDRA NARAIN SINGH. 42 I. C. 521.

——Ss. 19 and 21 (a) - Contract for purchase of a money claim—Claim becoming barred—Compensation.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 20.

Plff. sued for specific performance on a contract by the defts. to purchase from them a money claim which the plff. had against another. The defts. had made default and on the date of the suit the claim had become barred Held, that though the contract was not specifically enforceable by virtue of S. 21 (a) of the Sp. Rel Act, the plffs. were entitled to compensation under S. 19, though there was no specific prayer to it in the plaint. 43 I. C. 990 (P.C.) Dist. (Wallis, C. J. and Spencer, J.) OOKRJEE COWASJEE OOMRIGAR v. SABAPATHY MUDALIAR 9 L. W. 471: 51 I. C. 908 : (1919) M. W. N. 714.

——S 20—Agreement to pay damages—Not a bar for specific performance.

Agreement to return the earnest money and pay damages if a contract of a sale is broken does not preclude a suit for specific performance being instituted by the vendee. (Martineau and Moti Sagar, JJ.) SADIQ HUSAIN v. ANUP SINGH 4 Lah 327 : 5 L L. J. 462 : 1924 Lah. 151.

——S. 21—Agreement to lease—Failure to mention the date from which the lease is to run.

Specific performance of an agreement to lease cannot be decreed if the date from which the term is to run is not fixed either expressly or impliedly. (Lord Atkinson.) GIRUBALA DASI v. KALIDAS BHAIYA, 29 M L. J. 1 : 33 C. L J. 57 : 39 M. L. J. 325 : (1920) M. W. N. 653 : 57 I. C 626 : 2 U. P. L. R. (P C.) 146 : 22 Bom. L R. 1332 : 25 C W. N 320 (P. C.).

——S. 21—C. P. Code, Sch. II Para 18—Party to an agreement to refer to arbitration, if can sue independently on title.

A party to an agreement to refer a dispute to arbitration is not debarred from bringing an independent suit on title. (Piggott, J.) SHEOBAHU v. UDIT NARAIN. 24 I. C. 490 : 12 A. L. J. 757.

——S 21—Arbitration—Refusal to perform contract to refer to arbitration.

Refusal to perform contract to refer to arbitration on the part of a person is a bar to a suit by him only when the other party has not acquiesced therein and thus annulled the contract by mutual consent. The proper procedure for the other party to observe is to file the award under C.P.C. Sch. II, Para 18. Inaction on his part for a length of time amounts to lapse of the contract. 18 A. 577; 11 B. 199 ; 12 M. I. A 112 Cons. (Stanley, C. J., Banerji and Griffin, JJ.) RAM KUMAR SINGH v. JAGAN MOHAN SINGH. 33 All 315 : 9 I. C. 80 : 8 A. L. J. 66 :

——S. 21—Agreement to enter into contract.

A document which is merely an agreement to enter into a contract cannot be specifically enforced. (Marten, J.) GOVIND v. HARICHAND. 50 I. C. 403 : 21 Bom. L. R. 302.

——S. 21—Scope of—C. P. Code Sch. II Para. 22

S. 21 of the Specific Relief Act is limited by paragraph 22 of Schedule II of C. P Code and does not apply to any agreement to refer to arbitration or to any award governed by Sch II, C.P.C. (Mookerjee and Fletcher, JJ.) ABDULLAH v. SAFIULLAH. 64 I. C. 204

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 21.

——S 21—Contract—Specific performance.

Formal document not executed where the parties agree to the execution of a formal lease the draft of which is to be approved by them, specific performance can be decreed though the draft is not drawn up. (Richardson and Huda, JJ.) BIJOYA KANTA LAHIRY CHOWDHRY v. KAILASH CHANDRA BHOWMIK. 46 Cal. 771 : 52 I. C. 575 : 23 C. W. N. 563.

——S. 21—Reference—C. P. C., Sch. II.

S. 89 (1) C. P. C. renders the concluding provision of S 21 of the Sp. Rel Act inapplicable to arbitration agreements and awards governed by Sch. II. C. P. C. (Mookerjee, Chitty and Walmsley, JJ.) DINABANDHU v. DURGA PRASAD. 46 Cal 1041 : 23 C. W N. 716 : 51 I. C. 80: 29 C. L. J. 399.

——S. 21—Arbitration—Refusal—Filing of suit.

Where two days after concluding an agreement to refer their disputes to arbitration, one of the parties instituted the suit. Held per Fletcher, J. That the filing of a suit was not a refusal within the meaning of S. 21 of the Sp. Rel Act, Per Shamsul Huda, J.—Neither demand nor refusal need be expressed and both may be implied. The institution of the suit in circumstances which showed that plff. was determined not to go to arbitration amounted to a refusal to perform the contract to arbitrate. 8 All. 57, Cons. (Fletcher and Huda, JJ.) DURGA PRASAD JANA v. DINABANDHU JANA 44 I. C 279 : 22 C. W. N. 362.

——S. 21, Proviso—Arbitration—Revocability—Good and sufficient cause—Delay in commencing arbitration proceedings.

When a person has agreed with another that all matters in controversy between them should be referred to arbitration, it is not open to him to resile from the agreement unless for good and sufficient cause. Delay of six months in commencing the arbitration proceedings, in the absence of proof that a party made any effort at all to push forward the proceedings before the arbitrators and that he was not himself responsible for the delay, is not good and sufficient cause to withdraw from arbitration Therefore, under S. 21 of the Sp. Rel. Act, the party cannot sue in respect of a debt which he had contracted to refer. (Brett and Richardson, JJ.) RAMACHANDRA PAL v. KRISHNA LAL PAL. 17 I. C. 600 : 17 C. W. N. 351.

——Ss. 21, 56 and 57—Contract of service, if can be specifically enforced—Injunction if can be granted restraining company from dispensing with services.

A servant cannot enforce a positive contract of service and he cannot obtain an injunction restraining the master from dispensing with service except in a given manner or until after a particular period; his only remedy if he is wrongfully dismissed is to sue for damages. (Chitty, J.) N. C. SIRCAR v. BARABHONI COAL CO., LTD. 13 I. C. 868 : 16 C. W. N. 289.

——S. 21—Arbitration—Agreement to refer bar of suit—C. P. C., Sch. II, para. 18.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 21.

The Arbitration Act applies to a case where a suit could be instituted in a presidency town if the matter submitted to arbitration were the subject of a suit. Consequently the last 37 words of the saving clause of S. 21 of the Sp. Rel. Act do not apply to an agreement to refer to arbitration in such a case. When no application for stay of suit under S. 19 of the Arbitration Act under para. 18 of Sch. II, C. P. C., is made, the existence of the agreement to refer to arbitration does not bar the suit under S. 21 of the Sp. Rel. Act. (Shah Din and Chevis, JJ.) TAPESSIER AND COMPANY v. NASIRUDDIN. 37 P. R. 1912 : 15 I. C. 402: 130 P. W. R. 1912.

——S 21—Agreement to refer to arbitration —Burden of proof

Where the plea to a suit for recovery of money under an agreement is that the agreement provided that disputes should be referred to the arbitration of a person named therein and that his decision should be binding and that the plffs. had refused to so refer the dispute, the burden of proof rests with the deft. (Shah Din and Chevis, JJ.) UDHA SINGH v. BESHEN SINGH. 35 P. L. R. 1911 : 25 P. R 1911 : 9 I. C. 736 : 55 P. W. R. 1911.

——S 21—Arbitration—Suit pending reference to C P. C., Sch. II, para. 22.

A contract to refer a dispute to arbitration confers on the parties a right to have the question decided by arbitrators and not by suit It is a substantive right and section 21 bars a suit pending disposal of the reference. 33 A 315 Ref. Per Richards, J.—The repeal of section 21 by para. 22 Sch. II of the C. P. C. does not effect a right which had accrued under the former Act, when the contract to refer was made before the new Code came into force. The death of an arbitrator without disposing of the reference removes the bar created by S. 21 and restores the right of suit to the parties and the time runs from the date of the arbitrator's death under Art. 120, Sch. I, Limitation Act. (Wallis, C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) DORAISAMI PADAYACHI v VAITHILINGA PADAYACHI. 41 I. C. 581 : 33 M. L J. 46.

——S. 21—C. P. Code, Sch. II, para 22.

After the enactment of para. 22, Sch. II, C. P. Code, S. 21 of the Sp. Rel. Act has no application to any agreement to refer to arbitration or to any award to which the schedule applies. (Twomey, J.) MA YON v. MAUNG KIYA GAING 35 I. C. 710 : 9 Bur. L. T. 98

——S. 21—Arbitration—Scope of section.

The proviso to S. 21 refers only to incohate and abortive arbitration and not to a contract which has been admittedly carried out. (Twomey, J.) SAN NYEIN v. MA KYAW. 33 I. C. 554 : 8 L. B. R. 157.

——S. 21—Suit on bond or contract—Nature of.

Suit to recover money payable under a bond or contract is not one for specific performance ; it is one for compensation for breach of contract. (Pratt, J. C.) SOMJI MAL v. TODO MAL. 19 I. C. 376 : 6 S. L. R. 148.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 21.

——S. 21 (a)—Contract to pay money.

An agreement to pay money by instalments cannot be specifically enforced and compensation in money for non-performance of the agreement is an adequate relief. (Karamat Husain and Chamier, JJ.) 12 I. C. 952 : 8 A. L. J. 1282.

——S. 21 (a)—Contract of loan—Specific performance.

A contract to lend or borrow money on a mortgage will not be specifically enforced at the instance of the lender or borrower. (Mookerjee and Richardson, JJ.) SHAIK GALIM v. SADARIJAN BIBI. 43 Cal. 59 : 19 C W. N. 1332 : 29 I C. 621 : 21 C. L. J. 532.

——S. 21 (a)—Contract to pay money—Specific performance.

A suit will not generally lie for specific performance of a contract to pay money. But the case of a vendor is an exception and the Court will grant the vendor specific performance of the contract against the purchaser. The suit would be a suit for specific performance and not a suit for damages if the contract between the parties stipulated for payment by the vendee first and execution of the conveyance by the vendor afterwards. (Wallis, C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) BASHYA NAIDU v. ANDALAMMAL. 9 L. W. 19 : 49 I. C. 385 : (1918) M. W. N. 896 : 35 M. L. J. 89.

——S. 21 (a)—Suit for payment of balance of mortgage money.

Where a person had advanced part of the consideration agreed upon for executing a mortgage and sued for specific performance on payment of the balance. Held, that no specific performance should be decreed and that the lender was only entitled to damages for breach of contract if the borrower was ready to pay off the advance at once. If not, specific performance should be decreed on payment of the balance. (Abdur Rahim and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) MEENAKSHI SUNDARAM MUDALIAR v. RATHNASWAMI PILLAI. 41 Mad. 959 : 8 L. W. 438 : 24 M L T. 315 : 49 I. C. 291 : (1918) M W. N. 811 : 35 M. L J. 489.

——S. 21 (c)—Incomplete contract cannot be enforced.

A contract of letting by defendants to plaintiff was in these terms : " We (defts.) agree to rent to H. (plff.) our building under construction at Plot No. 3 Ballard Estate for a period of 5 years and 5 years' option at a monthly rent of Rs. 1,500 from the completion of the same subject to the conditions and entering into a regular lease. A deposit of 3 months' rent is paid on signing of this contract. " In a suit by plaintiff for specific performance held, that the writing did not evidence a concluded agreement as it was impossible for the parties to draw up a formal lease on its basis The words "subject to the conditions and entering into a regular lease" made "the entering into a lease " a condition precedent to the parties coming to a complete agreement. The documents could not possibly be specifically enforced It was merely the result of preliminary negotiations which defined a portion of the terms to appear in the lease as eventually settled, while it left a great many of the terms to be agreed upon thereafter, so that the final agreement between the parties depended on a regular lease which was to be executed. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) SIMON REUBEN v. HAJI SHAIKH MAHOMED.

24 Bom. L. R. 466 : 1922 Bom. 404.

——S. 21 (c)—Contract uncertain—Question of fact.

Per Woodroffe, J.—The Court will not enforce a contract the terms of which are uncertain. Uncertainty is a question of fact arising on the document and on the oral evidence adduced. (Jenkins, C. J., Woodroffe and Mookerjee, JJ.) J. I. J. HYAM v. ME GUBBAY. 32 I. C. 53 : 20 C. W. N. 66 (F. B.)

——S. 21 (c)—Vague claim—Original claim unsustainable—Relief on amended claim—Discretion of Court—Meaning of.

Where the plaintiff has asked for specific performance of an agreement and it is found that the claim was excessive he may be allowed to succeed on the basis of an alternative claim for a more limited right. But if he gives evidence in support of the original claim which is found unsustainable he cannot succeed on a different claim contrary to his own evidence. (Mookerjee and Caspersz, JJ.) GAJ KUMAR CHAND v. LACHMAN RAM. 10 I. C. 503 : 14 C. L. J. 627

——Ss. 21 (c) and 24-A — Contract — Essential terms not agreed on—Party, guilty of breach.

In the absence of complete agreement between the parties as to the essential terms of the contract of lease, the latter cannot be specifically enforced. The party breaking a contract is not entitled to specific performance thereof and the other party can refuse to perform his part of the contract. (Robertson and Shah Din, JJ.) SRI-KRISHNA DAS v. THE PUNJAB NATIONAL BANK, LTD. 87 P. W. R. 1913 : 18 I. C. 911 : 149 P. L. R. 1913.

——S. 21 (c)—Contract—Vague—Unenforceable

An agreement in a lease to pay a particular rate of rent which is so vague as not to make it clear what the intention of the parties was, cannot be enforced. (Ferrard, S. M. and Harrison, J. M.) RAM BARAN SINGH v. PUJA SINGH 55 I. C. 923 : 2 U. P. L. R. (B. R.) 29.

——S. 21 (e)—Contract of lease in excess of trustee's powers will not be enforced.

A Court of equity will not grant specific performance when a trustee has entered into a contract for a lease which is in excess of his powers or has entered into a contract for renewal which is ultra vires. (Mookerjee and Cuming, JJ.) GAJENDRA NATH DEY v. MOULVI ASARAF HOSSAIN.
36 C. L. J. 48 : 27 C. W. N. 159 : 1923 C. 130.

——S. 21 (e)—Lease by trustee.

In a suit for specific performance of a contract its terms can be proved even from the unregistered amalnamah and by oral evidence. The registration of an amalnamah is optional when from its condition the parties' intention of executing a properly registered document to perfect the lessee's title is clear. A Court in decreeing specific performance must ascertain beforehand whether the contract is enforceable specifically and does not involve any breach of trust. The Equity Courts would refuse specific performance of a lease entered into by a trustee lessor of a trust property beyond his authority. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) MAHAMAD ISMAL KHAN v. NUNDA DULAL CHAKRABURTI. 16 I. C. 390.

——S. 21 (g)—Workman's Breach of Contract Act (XIII of 1859)

A contract binding the debtor to work for the creditor for more than 3 years and for no other person cannot be enforced under Act XIII of 1859. 22 I. C. 742, Foll. (Chevis, J.) EMPEROR v. AMIR BAKSH. 61 P. L. R. 1914 : 24 I. C. 159 : 15 Cr. L. J. 423 : 22 P. W. R. 1914 (Cr.)

——S. 21 (h)—Contract embodied in document—Document set aside by Court—Specific performance.

Where a suit for specific performance of a contract to grant a lease was brought on the basis of an agreement embodied in a solenamah filed in the Court which was subsequently set aside by the Court, Held, that there was no contract subsisting, which the plaintiff could put before the Court for enforcement. The plaintiff could not fall back upon some verbal agreement to grant the lease. (Chitty and Smither, JJ.) JIBAN KRISHNA CHAKRAVARTHI v. RAMESH CHANDRA DAS.
44 I. C. 225.

——S. 22—Delay—Discretion of Court to refuse

A lapse of nine years is fatal to an action for specific performance unless the plaintiff can show that the defendant is entirely to blame for the delay or that the real right of action had accrued only a short time before the proceedings were instituted. (Lord Buckmaster.) MA SHWE MYA v. MAUNG MO. (1921) M. W. N. 396. 48 I. A. 214 : 63 I. C. 914 : 4 U. B. R. (1921) 30 : 30 M. L. T. 28 (P. C.).

——S. 22—Contract for sale of land—Delay.

Time is not of the essence of a contract to sell immoveable property unless expressly so stipulated at the time of the contract. Failure to keep to the dates assigned will not prevent a party from claiming specific performance unless the delay has been very gross. Case-law considered. (Viscount Haldane.) JAMSHED KHODARAM IRANI v. BURJORJI DHUNJIBHAI.
40 Bom. 289 : 43 I. A. 26 : 30 M. L. J. 186 : 3 L. W. 239 : 19 M. L. T. 184 : 14 A. L. J. 225 : (1916) 1 M. W. N. 229 : 18 Bom. L. R. 163 : 23 C. L. J. 358 : 32 I. C. 246 : 20 C. W. N. 744 (P. C.).

——S. 22—Contract for sale of equity of redemption to mortgagee—Onerous terms—No fraud or misrepresentation—Grant of relief.

Although an agreement for sale of the equity of the redemption by the defendant mortgagor to the plaintiff mortgagee contained onerous terms, yet, as neither fraud nor misrepresentation by the plaintiff was proved and the terms of the sale were not unconscionable, and as the plaintiff was not shown to have taken improper advantage of his position or of the defendant's difficulties, the Court below exercised a right discretion in granting a decree for specific performance. (Mr Ameer Ali.) G. W. DAVIS v. MAUNG SHWE GO. 38 Cal. 805 : 38 I. A. 155 : 15 C W. N. 934 : 13 Bom. L. R. 704 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 79 : 14 C. L J. 200 : 4 Bur. L. T. 229 : 8 A. L J. 1193: 10 M L. T. 455 : 11 I. C. 801 : 21 M. L. J. 1127 (P C.)

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 22.

——S. 22—Minor—Specific performance

No Court would be justified in enforcing specific performance against a minor when such enforcemen would be to his detriment. (Banerjee and Piggott, JJ.) IMAMI v. KALLU. 38 All 433 : 34 I C. 298 : 14 A. L. J. 645.

——S. 22—Delay—Refusal of specific performance.

A plaintiff guilty of continuous delay is not entitled to a decree for specific performance. (Banerji, J.) ABDUL AZIZ v. NARAIN DAS TEWARI. 21 I. C. 35.

——S 22—Specific performance of contract—Undue advantage to plff.—Hardship to defts.—Discretion of Court.

The Court can refuse specific performance of the contract conferring an undue advantage on the plff. and causing a hardship to the deft. not anticipated at the time of the contract (Banerji, J.) GULLA MAL v. CHUNI LAL. 17 I. C 732 : 10 A. L. J. 498.

——S. 22 Suit for specific performance or return of deposit—First claim given up—Effect.

An agreement to sell being not fulfilled plaintiff filed a suit for specific performance and in the alternative for return of deposit money and damages. During the course of the suit he gave up the first claim. On account of depreciation of value, the vendor who had throughout refused to convey and thus committed a breach of contract, expressed his willingness to execute the conveyance. Held under the circumstances, the contract which was not performed within the reasonable time fixed there was a breach ; and though the suit was filed on the basis of a subsisting agreement, plaintiff could withdraw his claim to specific performance and confine its claim to damages, etc. and that such withdrawal was not a repudiation entitling the defendant to refuse the return of the deposit money. (Fawcett and Coyajee, JJ.) KARSANDAS KALIDAS v. CHHOTALAL MOTICHAND. 25 Bom L. R 1037 : 1924 Bom. 119.

——S 22—Specific performance—Tender—Necessity for—Agreement to reconvey.

In a suit for specific performance of an agreement to reconvey it would be proper for the plff. to tender the money or bring it into Court with his plaint. But having regard to the facts that the negotiations went on for several months, that the suit was filed before the 3 years had expired, and also the fact that the defts. had been in possession of a portion of the villages when they undertook to reconvey to the plff. the Court refused to apply the strict law as to tenders and directed defts. to reconvey on payment of the consideration money. (Macleod, C.J. and Coyajee, J.) TRIBHOVANDAS VANJIVANDAS v. BALMUKUND DAS. 24 Bom. L R 434 : 1923 Bom 15.

——S. 22—Delay in completing sale—Right to make time essence of contract—Earnest money—Return of.

In a contract to purchase land, the defendant on receipt of earnest money agreed to complete the sale in two months. This not being fulfilled and after a waiting of 6 months, plaintiff called upon defendant to complete the sale within 3 months, failing which he brought his suit for return of earnest money, etc. Held, he was entitled to make time the essence of the contract at that stage and was not bound to wait till deft. could place himself in a legal position to do his part of the contract. Also, the defendant could not after the suit being filed demand specific performance, but was liable to return the earnest money with interest. (Shah, A. C. J. and Crump, J.) KARSANDAS PURSHOTTAMDAS v. GOPALDAS. 25 Bom. L. R. 1144 : 1924 B. 282.

——S. 22—Specific performance—Discretion of Courts.

In every suit for specific performance Courts of Equity have a free discretion limited by those general principles which require all Courts of Justice to act in accordance with sound judicial principles and not upon mere caprice and sentiment. What the Court has to look to is whether in the exercise of its discretion the agreement is one which ought to be specifically enforced having regard to the fact whether the enforcing of the contract would not inflict more injury upon the deft. than confer benefit on the plff. (Beaman, J.) GANGABAI v. SONABAI. 40 Bom. 69 : 28 I. C. 544 : 17 Bom. L. R. 303.

——S 22—Delay—Alteration in value of property Discretion of Court.

Where plff.'s delay in filing a suit for specific performance of contract to grant a patni lease to him has caused a material alteration in the value of the property, the cause led the tenants to hope that the lease would never be given and to agree to pay enhanced rent in order to prevent it from being given, the matter is not status quo at the time of the suit and specific performance will not be granted. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) MAHARAJ BAHADUR SINGH v. SURESH CHANDRA ROY. 34 C. L. J. 364.

——S. 22—Discretion of Court—Grounds for refusal of specific performance.

A suit for specific performance of a contract of sale cannot fail merely by incomplete description of the properties contracted to be sold especially when the property is identified and reasons for incomplete description are explained (Walmsley and Greaves, JJ.) JANKI NATH SARKAR v. INNA TENNESSA BIBI. 57 I. C. 763.

——S 22—Delay—Bar to relief.

If the plff. causes such a long delay as to the evidence of abandonment he cannot ask for specific performance. Nor can he do so where time was originally or has subsequently been made the essence of the contract between the parties, in other cases specific performance can be granted. (Mookerjee and Roe, JJ.) KAILAS CHANDRA BAHUMICK v. BEHJOY KAULA LAHIRI. 50 I. C. 177 : 22 C. W. N. 190.

——— S. 22—Non-disclosure by grantee of default.

Specific performance of a contract to grant a lease cannot be refused on the ground that the grantee did not disclose before the contract, that he had defaulted in previous transactions with the grantor. (Fletcher and Smither, JJ.) BIRENDRA KISHORE v. HASHMAT ALI. 46 I. C. 508

———S. 22—Discretion of Court—Contract—What plffs. must prove—Piff.'s omission to tender balance of consideration, a suit for specific performance of.

The requisites for the plff.'s success in a suit for specific performance of a contract being (1) his performance or his readiness and willingness all along to perform the terms of the contract and (2) his readiness and willingness to do all matters to be thereafter done, a failure of the plff. in any of these respects will afford a good defence to the suit to the opposite side. Failure of the plff. to tender the balance of the consideration for the contract on or before due date goes against him in a suit for specific performance of the contract, in spite of proof that the deft. would not have accepted such tender even if actually made. (Mookerjee and Roe, JJ.) MANIK CHANDRA v. ABHOYCHARAN GOPE. 37 I. C. 257 : 24 C. L. J. 90.

——— S. 22—Contract alleged different from contract proved—Damages

When a plaintiff has alleged a contract of which he seeks specific performance and fails to establish it, the Court will not make a decree for specific performance of a different contract (Mookerjee and Roe, JJ.) NILAKANTA ROY v. LALIT MOHAN. 29 I. C. 989 : 19 C. W. N. 933.

——— S. 22—Completed contract—Sale of immoveable property—Honest mistakes of transferee—Delay—Hardship

Where a contract for sale of immoveable property was completed and subsequently the property was sold to a third party who under an honest mistake that the original transaction had fallen through purchased it, held, that his honest mistake is no ground for his resisting a suit for specific performance by the 1st purchaser, unless the bargain is so unconscionable that its performance would be inequitable. A delay of one month in the institution of suit does not justify a refusal of relief by way of specific performance (Cases cited.) Clause (ii) of S. 22 of the Act contemplates a case where the vendor has entered into a contract without full knowledge of the circumstances. Mere improvidence or inadequacy is no hardship unless the bargain is so hard as to be unconscionable and its peformance inequitable; but if the hardship were brought upon by himself the Court will not give him relief. Where under a contract for sale of immoveable property the transaction was to be completed in three months, within which the vendor was to produce the will under which she claimed and which however, she failed to produce, the vendee could enforce specific performance from the end of the three months, not only against the vendor but also against the subsequent transferee (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) HARADHONE DEB NATH v. BHAGABATI DASI. 41 Cal. 852 : 19 C. L. J. 420 : 23 I. C. 214 : 19 C. W. N. 89.

——— S. 22—Specific performance—Granting of—Discretionary.

The granting of specific performance is purely discretionary with the Court and in so doing the Courts generally apply equitable consideration and not merely look at the terms of the contract. A contract therefore may be perfectly valid in land, yet there may be a want of equality and fairness about it, which would justify a refusal to specifically enforce it. (Carnduff and Richardson, JJ.) GOVINDA CHANDRA CHAKRAVARTI v. NANDA KUMAR DAS. 22 I. C. 910 : 18 C. W. N 689.

———S. 22—Power of attorney given to husband by pardanashin lady—Purchase money.

Where a contract for sale was entered into by the husband of a pardanashin lady who had given a power of attorney and it is shown that the purchase money was far less than that given by a subsequent purchaser and that the variation of time of performance of the contract was not assented to by the lady, held, that the Court could refuse to enforce such a contract. (Mookerjee and Carnduff, JJ.) JANKI PERSHAD SINGH v. YAHIA HASSAIN, 13 I. C. 637 : 16 C. L. J. 119.

——— S 22 – Scope.

The circumstances stated in S. 22 of the Sp. Rel. Act are illustrative and not exhaustive. The relief under Sp. Rel. Act lies in the discretion of the Court only in so far as it must necessarily judge, whether under the circumstances of the case, the contract is or is not an equitable one; but if it is determined that the contract is fair and reasonable and the conduct of the plff. has not been unconscious there is no room for such discretion. An agreement in order to be executed must be certain and definite; but that is sufficiently certain which can be made certain A contract which although not illegal, is detrimental to the public welfare, should not be enforced in equity. (Mookerjee and Casperszz, JJ.) GAJ KUMAR CHAND v. LACHMAN RAM. 10 I. C. 503 : 14 C. L. J. 627.

——— S 22—Laches—Mere delay not evidence of abandonment.

Mere delay, which is short by the period prescribed by the Limitation Act and which is not of such a character as to give rise to an inference of abandonment of right, is no bar to a suit for specific performance unless it is shown to have prejudiced the defendant. (1922 Lah. 461, Foll.) (Moti Sagar, J.) GOPALI RAM v. CHAUDHURI DEWAK RAM. 1923 Lah. 694.

———S. 22 – Discretion of court.

Courts have an absolute discretion to decree specific performance or not and where a decree would be a source of constant trouble and friction between the parties and might even become nugatory, Courts ought not to grant it. (Moti Sagar. J.) GENDA RAM v. RAM CHANDER. 1924 Lah 163.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 22.

——S. 22—Specific performance— Discretion to refuse when plff. may get unfair advantage

Under section 22 of the Specific Relief Act the Court may properly exercise its discretion where the circumstances under which the contract is made are such as to give the plaintiff an unfair advantage over the defendant though there may be no fraud or misrepresentation on the plaintiff's part. Where the plaintiff, at the time when the contract was made, held an unfair advantage owing to the fact that the defendant's faculties were enfeebled, the Court might refuse specific performance. (Broadway and Brasher, JJ.) SHER SINGH v. UDHAM SINGH.
72 I. C. 586 : 5 Lah. L. J. 307.

——S. 22—Delay—Effect of— Abandonment of contract—Intention.

In cases of specific performance delay may, in certain cases, be evidence of abandonment or acquiescence, but on the other hand, delay which does not amount to waiver, abandonment or acquiescence and in no way alters the position of defendants does not disentitle the plff. to sue for specific performance. 33 C 683 foll. (Abdul Raoof and Campbell, JJ.) JAUGAL SINGH v. GULAM MAHOMED. 3 Lah. 376 : 4 U. P. L. R. (Lah.) 100 : 1922 Lah. 461.

——S. 22—Discretion—Long delay.

A delay of nearly three years in bringing a suit for specific performance of a contract of sale coupled with the fact that the plffs. accepted payment of a debt due to them by the vendor from the subsequent vendee is a waiver of their claim to sue for specific performance. 27 All. 678 : 29 Bom 234 ref. (Scott-Smith and Martineau, JJ.) LACHHMAN DAS v. KHARKH SINGH. 51 I. C. 704 : 57 P. R. 1919.

——S. 22—Delay—Contract to sell—Vendee's delay.

The grant of a relief by way of specific performance of contract of sale is discretionary and such relief will not be granted to plaintiff who has been guilty of gross carelessness and delay (Kensington, C. J. and Chevis, J.) MAHARAJ DAS v. GIAN SINGH. 52 P. W. R. 1915 : 27 I. C. 481 : 128 P. L. R. 1915

——Ss. 22 and 35—Specific performance—Grounds for refusing—Discretion of Court—Some of the interested persons not joining as plaintiffs but made defendants—Delay in suing—Tender of price—Waiver.

Where on the vendor being asked to take the amount required to be paid to him by the vendee under the contract, the former said he would not do so. Held, that the vendor must be deemed to have waived and dispensed with any actual tender. The mere fact that some of the persons entitled to the benefit of a contract of sale refuse to join as plaintiffs in a suit for specific performance thereof by the others and are therefore added as defendants, is not a ground for not granting specific performance. Delay when a ground for refusing specific performance. (Schwabe, C. J. and Wallace, J.) ABDUL SHANKER SAHIB v. ABDUL RAHIMAN SAHIB. 44 M. L. J. 107 : 46 Mad. 148 : 17 L. W. 216 : 1923 M. W. N. 1 : 1923 Mad. 284.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 22.

——S. 22—Contract Act, S. 55—Contract to sell—Delay.

Considerable lapse of time after the agreed date is a good ground for refusing specific performance of a contract. 40 B. 289 (P. C.) Ref. to. (Spencer and Phillips, JJ.) MARUDANAYAGAM PILLAI v. MUNISAMY PILLAI. 37 I. C. 776.

——S. 22—Discretion.

Though properties are sold for a sum considerably less than their value, but there is no evidence of any fact unknown to or concealed fraudulently from the vendor of which the vendee was aware or of the use of undue influence, specific relief should be granted. (Oldfield and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) NARASINGA RAO v. RANGASWAMI.
(1916) 2 M. W. N. 191 : 35 I. C. 871 : 4 L. W. 397.

——S. 22—Delay—Waiver.

A suit for specific performance instituted 20 months after the date of the contract cannot be decreed the ground of waiver. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) MULPURI VEERAYA v. SANAGAVARAPU SIVAYYA. 26 I. C. 121 : 27 M. L. J. 482.

——S. 22—Contract to sell — Discretion of Court to refuse—Exception

A Court can refuse specific performance of a contract to sell, when plff fails to prove in full the agreement set up by him ; this rule does not apply where plff. does not deliberately put forward a false claim. (Sankaran Nair and Bakewell, JJ.) NAZARETH v. JAFFER MEGHJI SHET.
23 I. C. 623 : (1914) M. W. N. 339.

——S. 22—Sale deed executed but not registered owing to vendee's fault.

Where a sale deed duly executed was not registered owing to the vendee's default in allowing the time for registration to expire (by not presenting it for registration in view of the vendee's inconveniences) he is not entitled to a decree for the execution and registration by the vendor or another sale-deed. (Sankaran Nair and Ayling, JJ.) SUBBA REDDI v. VISWANATHA REDDIAR.
22 I. C. 941.

——S. 22—Discretion — Beneficiary not a party—Effect of.

The jurisdiction to decree specific performance is discretionary and the failure of a beneficiary under the contract to join in a suit to enforce the contract is an important factor in deciding how that discretion is to be exercised. (Ayling and Tyabji, JJ.) KONDAPPANINI KOLAYYA v. GANGARAU SESHAYYA. (1913) M. W. N. 995 : 21 I. C. 778 : 14 M. L. T. 495.

——S. 22—Delay in instituting suit.

Delay in instituting a suit for specific performance is not fatal to the suit unless it can be shown that the delay has prejudicially affected the deft. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) ABDULKHADIR v. NAGASARUPU.
17 I. C. 399 : (1912) M. W. N. 1004.

——S. 22—Contract of sale—Title doubtful—Specific performance cannot be granted.

Where the plff.'s title is not free from doubt and there is a great probability of litigation ensuing against him, or when the title appears to have been conveyed on behalf of minors who might possibly repudiate the deed relating to the property, specific performance cannot be granted to him against the defendant. The Court's unwillingness to allow such a claim is increased where the title depends upon a question of fact to be proved by oral testimony of witnesses whom it may be difficult to find or who may be dead or out of jurisdiction. (Halliax and Macnair, A. J. Cs.) BALLABHDAS v KANHAIYA LAL.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 24.

64 I. C. 97 : 4 N. L. J. 10.

——S. 22—Discretion of Court.

Plaintiff is not entitled to specific performance if he delays till the end of the limitation period unnecessarily. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) MUNIR MOHAMMAD v. RAMA. 58 I. C. 23 (N).

——S. 22—Specific performance—Delay—Damages—Mere delay in instituting a suit for specific performance, is not sufficient to defeat the plff.'s suit.

It must be of such a character as to give rise to an inference of the abandonment of the right or should disclose any prejudice to the deft. In a suit for specific performance of a contract in the first instance and for damages in case the Court found any difficulty in granting the relief. Held that in the absence of any special damages the relief sought in the first instance, viz., specific performance should be granted (Imam, J.) MUSAMMAT BATULAN v NIRMAL DAS.
44 I. C. 244 : 4 Pat. L. W. 192

——S. 22—Delay no bar unless defendant prejudiced.

In the absence of anything to show an abandonment of a sleeping over of rights to the detriment of third parties, delay short of the period of limitation does not matter in suits for specific performance. To operate as a bar to relief, delay must be of such a character as either to prejudice the defendant or lead him to the belief that plaintiff has waived his rights. Kennedy, J. C. and Raymond, A. J. C.) BEGRAJ v. ALISHER
16 S. L. R. 278 : 1923 Sind 50.

——S. 22—Delay—Two years—Contract for the sale of land.

In the case of a sale of land if plff. fails to sue for specific performance within 2 years after the expiry of the period fixed for the completion of the sale, this delay debars the plff. from suing for the same. To give him his relief would enable him to take advantage of the rise and fall of the market. (Kemp, A. J. C.) NAROO SHANKAR v. RAJUMAL 15 S. L. R. 21.

——S. 22 (2)—Laches in instituting suit—Contract to sell—Failure by vendor to perform his part of contract.

Mere laches or delay, even where it is up to the hilt of the limitation period is not always evidence of waiver or abandonment and is no ground for refusing specific performance. (2 A. L.J. 405, dist). A vendor bound under the terms of an agreement to sell, to execute and register a proper conveyance, before he can demand balances of purchase-money commits a breach of contract, if he demands such payment, before executing a conveyance (Sadasiva Aiyar and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) CHAMARTI SURYAPRAKASARAYADU v. AKABDHILKASH MINABASINCHARYALY.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 22

23 I. C. 560 : 26 M. L. T. 518.

——S. 23—Contract—Specific performance—Stranger.

The question whether a person deriving a benefit under a contract to which he is no party can sue to enforce it, is one to be decided on rules of justice, equity and good conscience Held, that a creditor was entitled to sue for the debt from an alienee of the debtor who had undertaken to pay off the debt. 32 A 410 P. C. rel. English cases cited. (Jenkins, C. J. and Mockerjee, J.) DEB NARAIN DUTT v. RAM SADHAN MANDAL
41 Cal. 137 : 17 C. W. N 1143 : 20 I. C. 630 : 18 C. L. J. 603.

——S. 23—Contract by guardian for—Enforceability by minor—T. P. Act, S. 55 (1) (d)

It is not within the competence of a guardian of a minor to bind the minor or his estate by a contract for the purchase of immoveable property. The minor in such a case is not bound by the contract. The minor, on attaining majority, cannot obtain and enforce specific performance of the contract. 39 C. 252 (P. C.) Fol. 40 M 308, F.B. and 42 M 185, Ref. 23 M L. J. 610 Not foll. (Spencer and Bakewell, JJ.) CHIDAVARAPU NARAYANA ROW v. VENKATASUBBA ROW.
(1920) M. W. N 159 : 27 M. L. T. 264 : 55 I. C. 377 : 38 M L. J. 77.

——S. 23—Assignment—What contracts are assignable.

All contracts capable of specific performance excepting those of the class prohibited by S 25 of the Specific Rel. Act are assignable. In S. 23 of the Specific Rel. Act the words "representative in interest" include an assignee of an interest. (Coutts Trotter and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) NOCHAT KISHAKKE MADATHIL VENKATESWARA AIYAR v. KALLOOR ILLATH RAMAN NAMBUDRI.
3 L. W. 435 : 33 I. C. 656 : 19 M. L. T. 329.

——S. 23 Benamidar—Contract by—Specific performance.

In a suit for specific performance it is not a valid defence that the person who entered into contract has no beneficial interest but is a benamidar. (White, C. J. and Sankaran Nair, J.) CHITIBABU ADENNA v. GARIMALLA JAGGARAYADU.
29 I. C. 12 : 28 M. L. J 617.

——S. 23—Contract by manager—Minor members can enforce.

Contract for sale by manager of a joint Hindu family can be enforced by the minor members. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) THAKUR HARGOVIND v. MEHTAB SINGH. 18 N. L. R. 67 : 1922 Nag. 193.

——S. 23 (a)—Third party—If can enforce.

A hypothecation bond executed by A to B for a consideration including the amount due by A to C a third party, cannot be enforced by C, he being no party to the bond. (Ayling and Tyabji, JJ.) ISWARAM v. TARAGAN 38 Mad. 703 : 23 I. C. 951 : 26 M. L. T. 127.

——S. 24—Specific performance—Party in default—Liability.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 24

If time is essential in a contract for sale of land, the defaulting party cannot claim specific performance ; on the contrary the other party can make the claim though the default is slight. (Lord Atkinson). BRICKLES v. SNELL.
38 I. C 123 : 86 L. J. P C. 22 (P.C.).

——S. 24—Sale of decree—Specific performance—Decree barred before execution of assignment in writing—C P. Code (1882), S. 232, O 21, R. 16.

Where a decree-holder contracts to sell his decree to another, it is his duty to keep the decree alive pending the completion of an assignment in writing in favour of the purchaser. If he allows the decree to become barred, he is no entitled to specific performance of the contract of sale as against the purchaser. L. R. 16 Eq 433, 439 Ref. A Court will not decree specific performance of an agreement if it finds that at the date of suit the plff. cannot complete the agreement by doing what remained to be done under it by him. (Sir John Eage) JATINDRA NATH v. PEYER DEYE DEBI. 43 Cal. 990 : 43 I A. 108 : 14 A L J. 527 : 20 C. W. N 866 : (1916) 1 M. W. N. 403 : 18 Bom L. R. 509 : 24 C. L. J 67 : 20 M L. T 25 : 3 L. W. 553 : 34 I. C. 69 : 31 M L. J. 248 (P C.).

——S 24 (b)—Bilateral contract—Party repudiating cannot enforce.

In a bilateral contract, the party repudiating his part of the contract cannot enforce it. (Rafique and Piggott, JJ.) SHAMSHUL v. W. K. PORTER. 24 I. C. 53

——S. 24 (b)—Suit—Burden of proof.

The onus lies on the plff. to prove that he was ready to perform his part of the contract. (Lindsay, A. J. C) GAJADHAR SINGH v. KANDHYA BAKSH. 9 I. C. 243.

——S. 25—Part performance of award.

S. 25 does not apply to a case where an award has been part performed. (Teunon and Richards, JJ.) T. C. TWEEDIE v. JOGESH CHANDRA.
51 I. C. 999

——S 25 (b) Marketable title—Vendor and purchaser Contract of sale—Proof of title.

In the case of a contract for the sale of immoveable property means a title free from reasonable doubt. Whether the doubt under the facts and circumstances of a particular case is reasonable or not must necessarily depend on the nature of the objections and the facts of the case. (Shah, A C. J. and Pratt, J.) HAJI OOSMAN HAJI ISMAIL v. HAROON SALLEH MAHOMED. 24 Bom. L R. 978 : 1923 B. 148

——S. 26—Contract to sell--Subsequent variation of terms—Effect.

Two Hindu ladies agreed to sell land to plff. and to execute a deed on receipt of the price. At the suggestion of plaintiff they also applied for Letters of Admn. and sanction to sell under S. 90 of Prob. and Admn Act. The Dt. Judge granted the Letters but refused to sanction sale to plaintiff. but he sanctioned sale to defendant as he offered a higher price. In a suit for Sp performance or damages, held, that the original contract was impliedly varied by mutual consent, and thus became a contingent contract. As the contingency did not happen the plaintiffs could not get Specific performance. No damages can be awarded as there was no breach of the modified contract.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 27.

Per Mookerjee, J.—The plaintiff in a suit for specific performance must show that he does not require the other party todo an act which he cannot lawfully do. (Sanderson, C.J., Woodroffe and Mookerjee, JJ.) KALI DASEE v. NOBOKUMARI DASSEE. 20 C. W. 929 : 36 I. C. 655 : 23 C. L J. 606.

——S. 26—Ill. (b)—Variation as a defence—Proof.

Where specific performance is asked for, the law provides that plaintiff must do equity and extends the provisions of the Evidence Act by giving the defendant opportunity to prove the variation set up. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J) SUNDAR BAI v. DWARKADAS PARHIA.
1922 Bom. 336 (1).

——S. 27—Contract for sale—Subsequent sale to defts.—Onus on defts.

Under S. 27 the onus of proving that subsequent vendee was a bona fide purchaser without notice lies on the defendant and his subsequently registered sale-deed has no priority over even an oral contract for sale in favour of the plaintiff. (Richards, C.J. and Rafique J.) NAUBAT RAI v DHAUNKAL SINGH. 38 All 184 : 14 A. L. J. 111 · 32 I. C 953 :
See also 137 P. W. R. 1918 : 46 I. C. 659 :
Also 26 M L. J. 218 : 23 I. C. 621 :
Also 14 N. L. R. 27 : 43 I C. 940 :
Also 44 I. C. 470 : 4 Pat. L W. 152.

——S. 27—Notice of contract—Burden of proof.

Where the defendant is in possession of property under a registered sale-deed, the plaintiff who sets up that the defendant purchased with notice of a contract to sell in plaintiff's favour must prove that there was a prior agreement to sell and that the defendant purchased with notice of the prior agreement. The burden of proof is on the plaintiff to prove notice. The defendant is not bound to prove a negative namely that he had no notice. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) PERKHA LALKHA v BAPU KASHIBA.
25 Bom. L. R. 375 : 1923 Bom. 410.

——S. 27—Constructive notice—Oral agreement followed by delivery of possession.

Defendant No 1 agreed orally to sell his land to plaintiff who was in possession of it as a tenant, received part payment of the price the balance of which was payable in 5 years, and accepted a rent-note at a rate which represented interest on the unpaid balance. Shortly afterwards defendant No. 1 sold the land to defendant No. 3 who made no inquiry into the nature of the plaintiff's possession. The plaintiff having sued for specific performance of the oral agreement.

Held, decreeing the claim, that as defendant No. 3 made no inquiries of the plaintiff as to the nature of his possession, he must be taken to have had constructive notice of the oral agreement. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) VINAYAK MORESHWAR NATH v. GVNOBA HARIBA NAVALE.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 27.

1923 Bom. 13.

——S 27—Agreement to sell property devised can be enforced against devisee.

Where a testator agrees to sell a house which he has already specifically devised but dies before he completes the sale, it is the devisee, and not the heir, who can be asked by the purchaser to complete the sale by passing a conveyance on receipt of the purchase money. 5 Beav. 1 Dist. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J.) GANGARAMA BHILARE v. SAKHARAM BABAJI VANI.
59 I. C. 796 : 22 Bom L. R. 1396.

——S. 27—Contract of sale—Sp. performance—Suit by purchaser claiming under anterior agreement—Proper party.

In a suit to enforce specific performance of a contract for sale of land by the execution of a registered conveyance any person in possession of land claiming under an anterior agreement of sale is a proper party to the suit and the decree should be against both of them. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) NASIRUDDIN MIDDA v. SIDHU MIA.
44 I. C. 361 : 27 C. L. J. 538.

——S 27—Evidence Act, S. 115—Estoppel—Rule of equity—Occupancy holding.

Where the plaintiff mortgagee of an occupancy holding obtained a decree on his mortgage and after taking a Hukumnamah from a co-sharer landlord purchased the holding in execution of his decree and became the owner of the land with the landlord's consent and could not be ousted by any subsequent action of landlord. Held, S. 27 did not embody the only rule of equity applicable to this case and that S. 115 of the Evidence Act was particularly applicable to this case. (D. Chatterjea and N. R Chatterjea, JJ.) HARIMOHUN v. RAM NARAIN.
14 I. C. 28

——S. 27—Agreement to sell—Subsequent sale to a third party with notice.

When A and B agreed to sell to the plaintiff on receiving earnest money but subsequently sold it to another who had notice of the prior agreement to sell it was held that plaintiff was entitled to possession and to registration of the sale deed. (Shah Din and Scott-Smith, JJ.) CHARAGH DIN v. AHMAD DIN.
88 P. W. R 1915 : 26 I. C. 497 : 106 P. L. R. 1915.

——S. 27—Equitable relief—Assignor entitled to such relief—If assignee stands on the same footing.

The foundation for equitable relief is that a man, owing to the circumstances in which he finds himself was more or less compelled to enter into the onerous bargain from the unconscionable conditions of which he seeks relief. But the position of a voluntary assignee by purchase is different in as much as he has taken over the bargain under no such stress or compulsion. (Robertson and Chevis, JJ.) KISHEN SINGH v. NARINDER SINGH.
14 I. C. 516 : 250 P. W. R. 1912.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 27.

——S. 27—Option to purchase—Sale to third person before acceptance of offer—Effect of.

An agreement for the sale of certain lands by the 2nd defendant in favour of the plaintiff was as follows :—"In respect of the land which you and others had sold to my mother on 2-10-1902 you executed a cultivation muchillika to me on 10-10-1913 specifying the lands with particulars. The amount mentioned in the said sale is Rs 600 and the amount of loans taken from time to time is over Rs. 200 on payment being made of the total amount of Rs 800 within the 30th Vaigasi of any year. I shall execute a sale-deed to you in respect of the said lands I shall not execute a sale-deed to any other person." Before any offer of payment was made by the plaintiff the first defendant purchased from the 2nd defendant the suit lands and the plaintiff sued to enforce specific performance. Held, that as against the first defendant, there was no agreement the specific performance of which could be enforced by the plaintiff. The agreement was merely an offer by the 2nd defendant to sell to the plaintiffs on certain terms, if they choose to avail themselves of the offer which could be withdrawn and did not constitute an agreement to buy. Where the agreement is executory on both sides, with an option to one of the parties to do as he likes, there is nothing more than a standing offer, and when the offer is at an end, e. g., by the promisor selling the subject matter of the offer to a third party, the sale being known to the promisee before there is nothing to accept (Ayling and Ramesam, JJ.) EAGALA NAGAPPA NAIDU v. MUNUSWAMI IYER.
15 L. W. 409 : 30 M. L. T. 175 : (1922) M W. N. 201 : 1922 Mad. 16 : 42 M. L. J. 432.

——S 27—Contract for sale—Suit for Sp. performance—Decree of possession.

It is competent for a Court in a suit for specific performance of an agreement for sale of land to give a decree for possession also where the parties sued, are in possession of the land. (Abdur Rahim and Spencer, JJ.) VELAYUDA v. KUMARASWAMI.
10 L. W. 201 : 52 I. C. 700 : (1919) M. W. N. 572.

——S. 27—Enforceability of contract—Day of agreement.

The enforceability of a contract must be traced back to the day of the agreement and not to the date on which the decree is to be passed. There is nothing in the Hindu law to warrant a departure from this rule. S. 27 embodied a general principle applicable to all persons in this country. (Coutts Trotter and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) VENKATESWARA v. RAMAN.
19 M. L. T. 329 : 33 I. C. 696 : 3 L. W. 435.

——S. 27—"Paid his money in good faith"—Purchaser having notice of a prior contract to sell before registration—Decree, form of.

The phrase "Paid his money in good faith" in S 27 does not apply to a person having notice of a prior contract to sell after execution of his sale and before its registration, who does not pay any cash for his sale but takes the sale in adjustment of money due. 36 B 446 Foll. The correct decree is to direct both the vendor and the subsequent purchaser to execute a sale deed to the plaintiff. (Ayling and Hannay, JJ.) GUDUR RANGA REDDY v. GUNDALA PITCHI REDDI.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 27

25 I. C. 973: 1 L. W. 879.

——S. 27—Possession of lessees is sufficient notice of their rights.

The possession of a lessee is sufficient notice in law of his right and a purchaser is bound to inquire of him regarding the nature of his right (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) NANDI REDDY FAKEER REDDY v. THIMMAKKA.
22 I. C. 250 (1): 14 M. L. T. 477.

——S 27—Specific performance—Possession.

In a suit for specific performance of a contract of sale, the plff. can ask for delivery of possession of the properties. But the Court will decree a claim for a conveyance only in cases where it embodies the substantial part of the agreement and where the Court can direct its execution without regard to the question whether or not its provisions can be specifically enforced. (Mullick and Sultan Ahmed, JJ.) DEONANADAN PRASAD v. JANKI SING.
5 Pat. L J. 314: 1 Pat. L. T 325:
56 I. C. 322 : 2 U. P. L. R. (Pat.) 108 :
1920 Pat. 266.

——S. 27—Agreement to sell—Subsequent—Registered sale to third party.

Where an unregistered sale deed was executed by defendant No. 1 in favour of the plaintiff and where defts. subsequently sold the same property to deft. No. 2 under a registered sale deed and the plff. thereupon sued both the defts., praying for a decree directing deft. No. 1 to register the unregistered deed or to execute and register a fresh sale deed and also for possession of the property in dispute on declaration of the nullity of the transaction between both the defts. Held, that the plff.'s suit was under S. 27 a suit for specific performance. (Sharfuddin and Roe, JJ.) MADHUR SAH v SHAQ SAH. 1 Pat. L. J. 450:
37 I. C. 994: 2 Pat. L W. 441.

——S. 27 (a)—Contract to sell—Subsequent Registered sale.

Where sale is disguised as a mortgage, it nevertheless is a good and bona fide transfer as against a person who claims specific performance of an earlier contract of sale made with the mortgagor. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J C.) RAM BHAJAN v. SHEO DARSHAN. 34 I. C. 386: 3 O. L. J. 162.

——S. 27 (1) (b)—Suit for specific performance— Inadequacy of consideration and ignorance of pardanashin vendor—Consideration.

The widow of a deceased Hindu and his executor entered into a contract with the pltf. for the sale to him of certain lands but subsequently sold the lands to another. Plaintiff brought a suit for specific performance, in which the defendants failed to plead inadequacy of consideration and ignorance of the pardanashin vendor. Held, that the vendors could not raise the pleas for the first time in appeal. Where under the contract of sale the pltf. was bound to pay the sum recited therein; the question "whether he would be willing to advance such a large sum" is out of place. (Lord Wrenbury) NAROTTAM DAS v. KEDAR NATH SAMANTA. 6 L W. 68: 41 I C. 957:
21 C. W. N. 665 (P. C.).

——S. 27 (b)—Notice of prior contract.

A deft. who has notice of the sale to the plff. before the registration of his contract is completed must fail under S. 27 cl. (b). (Walsh and Stuart, JJ.) NAHAL SINGH v. SEWA RAM.
40 I. C. 128.

——S 27 (b)—Registered deed—Notice of prior oral agreement.

An oral agreement will be protected against a subsequent registered sale deed if the claimant under the latter deed has notice of the oral agreement. (Knox, J.) BALDEO PRASAD v. PRAGDAS. 18 I. C. 533. 11 A L J. 137.

——S. 27 (b) (Iln. 3)—Agreement to sell to mortgagee—Sale to third person—Mortgagee's rights.

The mortgagor agreed to sell the property to the mortgagee but sold it to some third person who made no enquiries as to the mortgagee's interest though the mortgagee was in possession. Held the mortgagee could enforce specific performance of the agreement to sell as against the third person. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, JJ.) FAKI IBRAHIM v. FAKI GHULAM MOHIDDIN
45 Bom. 910: 60 I. C. 956: 23 Bom. L. R. 335.

——S. 27 (b)—Agreement to sell—Subsequent sale to a different person—Equity— Onus—Registration of possession—Non-payment of consideration—Notice after part-payment.

Defts. 3 and 4 having contracted to purchase the property from defts. 1 and 2 who had contracted previously to sell it to the plff. were bound to show three things: (1) They were purchasers for value and (2) bona fide and (3) without notice. One who owns property subject to a charge can in general, convey no title higher or more free than his own and it lies always on a succeeding owner to make out a case to defeat such a prior charge. Notice before the actual payment of the whole of the purchase money, though it may have been secured or before the conveyance is actually executed is binding in the same manner as notice had before contract. A purchaser with notice fails in spite of registration. The purchaser may get notice either before or during the act of purchase. (Scott, C. J. and Russell, J.) NIRMAT LAL v. VASUDEO
36 Bom. 446 16 I. C. 680 . 14 Bom. L. R. 634.

——S. 27 (b)—Applicability—Action for possession.

S. 27 applies only to suits to enforce specific performance of contract and not to actions for possession of land between landlord and tenant or lessor and lessee. (Newbould, J.) DEBENDRABALA DASI v. LALIT MOHAN GHOSE. 33 I C. 593.

——S. 27 (b)—Notice—Tenant in possession.

A person who takes a transfer without inquiry as to the terms on which a tenant is in possession cannot enforce his transfer against the tenant though he has paid consideration therefor (Jenkins, C. J. and Mullick, J.) BABURAM BAG v MADHAB CHANDRA PILLAY.

40 Cal 565 : 19 I C 9: 18 C. W. N. 341.
See also 22 I C. 250: 14 M. L. T. 477.

——— S. 27 (b)—Want of notice prior contract — Onus of proof.

From the time a contract for the sale of land is entered into the vendor, as to the land, becomes a trustee for the vendee, and the vendee, as to the purchase money a trustee for the vendor, who has a lien upon the land therefor. And every one coming in by subsequent representative title and every subsequent purchaser from him either with notice, becomes subject to the same equities as the party would be to whom he succeeds or from whom he purchased. The onus of proving a bona fide purchase for value without notice of the prior contract for sale is on the person setting up. Proof of payment of full consideration for the sale in ignorance of the original contract of sale raises a presumption of good faith. (Abdul Raoof and Harrison, JJ.) KANSHI RAM v. ISHWAR DAS. 5 L. L J. 150 : 1923 Lah. 108.

——— S. 27 (b)—Subsequent transferee—Onus of proof bona fides

In a suit for specific performance of a contract relating to land where the property has been transferred to a third party, the onus is on such transferee under S 27 (b) to show he is a bona fide transferee for value without notice of the prior contract. (Abdul Raoof, J.) BINDRABAN v. BODH 69 I. C. 470.

——— Ss. 27 (b), and 56 (f)— Relief against party claiming under subsequent title—Notice.

Where S and J sold one of two shops to plff. on certain conditions and subsequently J sold the other shop to the deft. by a sale deed containing the same conditions, and on the deft.'s threatening to break the conditions, plff. sued for an injunction, held that it was not necessary that the deft. should have had notice of the conditions in the plff.'s deed inasmuch as the plff. was not suing for the Sp. performance of a contract. (Jones, J.) RAM SINGH v. RAM SINGH.
39 I C 778: 48 P. W. R. 1917.

——— S. 27 (b)—Contract to sell—Subsequent conveyance in favour of a third person—Notice of prior contract—Occupation of superstructure.

In the case of contracts for purchase of immoveable property the general principle of constructive notice is that notice of occupation (of the property purchased) by a person other than the vendor, which indicates that the vendor is not entitled to present possession at once puts the purchaser on enquiry as to the interest that the occupier holds in the property. The usual case is where the property is physically occupied by tenants, and then the purchaser, is by that occupation itself which put him on enquiry, in law affected with notice of the interest which these tenants have in the property. He is by their occupation not affected with notice of more than the term on which they held including any agreement collateral to their leases but is not bound to enquire, nor are they bound to answer to him. They pay rent, so that the purchaser is not in such a case affected with notice of the tenant's or lessor's title or rights. This is the general principle laid down in the English cases and has been embodied in India in S. 27 of the Specific Relief Act. So that where nothing more is known to the purchaser or would be known to him on reasonable enquiry than the fact that certain tenants are in occupation under a tenant right he is not affected with notice of more than the fact as to those tenants rights. But when beyond this the purchaser is directly informed and therefore knows of the occupation of the property by another whether by himself or by his sub-tenants he is equally put upon notice to enter into the interests of that other. This is not extension of the principle above mentioned, but a mere application of it. It makes no difference whether the occupation by another is brought to his notice by physical occupation or by information Where the purchaser is definitely informed that another so in occupation of the property whether by himself directly or through subtenants, he is at once put on enquiry as to the nature of the interest of that other in the property. The absence of such enquiry will fasten the purchaser with all the equities which the occupier holds against the purchaser's vendor. (Schwabe, C. J. and Wallace, J.) BABA SAH v. HAJEE MAHOMED AKBAR SAHIB. 17 L. W. 541 : (1923) M. W. N. 280 : 32 M. L T. (H C.) 301 : 45 M. L. J 157 : 1923 Mad 563.

——— S. 27 (b) and (c)—Contract for purchase of land by manager of joint Hindu family—Enforceability against other coparceners—Minors.

A Hindu father, being the head of a joint Hindu family consisting of himself and his sons one of whom was a minor, contracted to purchase immoveable property, it was not proved that the contract was either necessary or beneficial to the family. In a suit by the vendor for specific performance of the contract against the sons, after the death of their father. Held, that specific performance could not be granted because the case did not fall under S. 27 (b) or (c) of the Specific Relief Act and the contract had not been proved positively beneficial to the minor defendant. 31 I. C. 1 ; 4 M. L. J. 9 ; 23 M. L. J. 610, distinguished ; 22 Bom. L. R., 997 followed. (Phillips and Devadoss, JJ.) BAPPU v. ANNAMALAI CHETTIAR. 17 L. W. 364 : (1923) M. W. N. 218 : 32 M. L. T. (H. C) 203 : 44 M. L. J. 226 : 1923 Mad. 313.

——— S. 27 (b)—Prior purchaser—Subsequent purchaser under a registered deed—Onus of proving bona fides.

Where a prior purchaser under an unregistered deed of sale sues the vendor for specific performance and makes the subsequent purchaser under a registered deed, a party to the suit, the onus of proving that he had no notice of the prior transfer and that he purchased bona fides, lies on the subsequent purchaser. In such a case S. 27 of the Specific Relief Act and not S. 50 of the Registration Act applies. (Batten, A. J. C.) GANGA PRASAD v. KHUSHAL CHAND. 43 I. C. 940 : 14 N. L. R. 27.

——— S. 27 (b)—Prior transfer — Subsequent bona fide transferee for value—Burden of proof.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 27.

An exception must be proved by the party who pleads it. Where a purchaser sues for specific performance of a contract, the person claiming to be a bona fide transferee for value, without notice must discharge the burden which lies on him of proving his bona fides and purchase for value without notice. (Roe and Jwala Prasad, JJ.) DARAMDEO SINGH v. RAM PRASAD SAH 44 I. C. 470 : 4 P. L. W. 152.

——S. 27 (c)—Contract by other—Enforcement against sons.

A contract by a father to sell his share in the family property can be enforced against the sons of the vendor. (Macleod, C. J. and Heaton, J.) BHAGWAN v. KRISHNAJI GANOJI.
22 Bom.L R. 997 : 58 I. C. 335 : 44 Bom 967

——S. 27 (c)—Notice to some members of joint family—If notice to others.

Notice to some only of the transferees who are members of a joint Hindu family where it is not shown that they are entitled to represent the others also, is not sufficient notice within the meaning of S. 27 of the Act. (Mookerjee and Carnduff, JJ.) JANKI PERSHAD SINGH v. YAHIA HOSSAIN. 13 I. C. 637 : 16 C. L. J. 119.

——S 27 (d) and (e)—Specific performance against company—Discretion.

Where the Managing Director of a company had no authority to enter into an agreement to grant a permanent lease on behalf of the company and the company repudiated it at the earliest possible opportunity, specific performance cannot be granted against the company, 11 C L J. 346 Relied on. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) KHULNA LOAN CO., LTD. v. JAHIR GOLDAR.
24 I. C. 209.

——S. 29—Specific performance—Suit for—Further or other relief—Damages.

A prayer for such further relief as the nature of the case may require, in a suit by the buyer for specific performance of a contract for the sale of land does not include a claim for damages or a refund of the deposit money in the alternative in case specific performance is refused but means only such further relief as is ancillary to the main specific relief claimed. (Lord Atkinson.) BRICKLES v. SNELL. 38 I. C. 123 : 86 L. J. P. C. 22 (P.C.).

——S. 30—Scope of.

S. 30 merely applies to awards the provisions of Ch V of the Act as to contracts, and does not convert an award into a contract. A suit for specific performance of an award is not a suit for specific performance of a contract. (Saunders, J. C.) MAUNG PE TEK v. MA SWEMI. 49 I. C. 62 : 3 U. B. R. (1918) 109.

——S. 31—Mistake in mortgage—Court can give effect to real agreement—Suit for rectification not necessary.

Where it is proved that what was intended by the mortgagor and the mortgagee alike to be included in the security has been so misdescribed by reason of a manifest clerical error that nothing would pass by the deed and the intention of the parties would be defeated, the Court can give effect to the indisputably real agreement between the parties without driving them to a suit for rectification. 34 C. L J, 256 Rel. (Mookerjee and Cuming, JJ.) NANDA LAL AGRANI v. JOGENDRA CHANDRA DATTAR

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 31.

36 C L. J 421 : 1923 Cal. 53.

——S. 31—Rectification, mistake must be mutual.

A plaintiff seeking to rectify a deed under S 31 of the Act must prove that there was a prior complete agreement which according to the common intention was embodied in writing but by reason of mistake, the writing did not give effect to the agreement. The mistake must be mutual that is a mistake reciprocal and common to both parties. Where there is a unilateral mistake, no rectification can be granted. Where a mistake in a mortgage deed is embodied in a decree on both sides which has not yet been executed, equity will go back to the original transaction and rectify both the mortgage and the decree so as to conform them with the intention of the parties. (Mookerjee and Buckland, JJ.) BEPIN KRISHNA v. JAGESHWAR. 26 C. W N. 36 : 34 C. L. J. 256.

——S. 31—Fraud—Name omitted from conveyance—Suit for possession of share Limitation.

A plff. who was co vendee of land with defts. but whose name was omitted from the conveyance by the fraud of the defts. can recover possession of his share, even though the limitation period for rectification of the conveyance under S. 31 has expired. (Mookerjee and Walmsley, JJ.) ASITULLAH v. SADATULLAH.
41 I. C. 747 : 28 C. L. J. 197.
[Affirming 26 I. C. 368. (Cal.)]

——S. 31—Rectification of contract.

Where there is no allegation of fraud or mutual mistake or any finding to that effect, the suit is not one for rectification of contract and cannot come under S. 31. (Mullick, J.) ASIATULLAH v. SADATULLAH. 26 I. C. 368.

——S. 31—Rectification—Wrong description of property it can be pleaded as a defence.

S. 31 is only an enabling section. It is open to a transferee to seek relief by rectification under this section, but that is not his only remedy. He can protect his title as deft. without rectification. He can sue for a declaration that the property belongs to him without seeking rectification, in which case he can avail himself of the provisions of Ss 95 to 97 of the Evidence Act. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Phillips, JJ.) PALANI VELLAPPA v. NACHAPPA. 53 I. C. 379.

——S. 31—Construction of deed—Mutual mistake rectified by Court after it is established under S. 92, Evidence Act.

When mutual mistake in the description of mortgaged lands is established by letting in parol evidence under S. 92, proviso (1), the Court will construe the deed as rectified without rectification made under an order passed in a suit brought under S. 3 and give relief provided the rights acquired by third persons bona fide and for value, are not interfered with. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) KOTA CHINA MELLAYYA v. KANNEKANTI VEERIAH. 31 I. C. 671 : 3 L. W. 551.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 31.

——— S. 31—Rectification—Plea in defence—Evidence Act, S. 92.

The combined effect of S. 92 (a) of the Evidence Act and S. 31 is that the defendant can resist a suit for possession by pleading his right to rectification of the sale deed (Seshagiri Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) RANGASWAMI v. SOWRI.
39 Mad. 792 : (1915) M. W. N. 443 : 18 M. L. T 75 : 29 I. C. 588 : 29 M. L. J. 229.

——— S. 31—C. P. Code, Ss. 152 and 153—Suit for rectification—Wrong survey number.

Where by mutual mistake of parties a wrong survey number was entered in a mortgage deed and the mistake was continued in the plaint and in the decree thereon, Held, that a suit for rectification of the instrument and of the decree would lie and not a motion for amendment under S. 152 or S. 153 of the C. P. C. 15 C. P. L. R. 167; 10 C. W. N 1024; 27 A. 174 Dist ; 8 C. W. N. 473 Rel, upon. (Batten, A. J. C.) BALA PRASAD v. KANOO.
14 I. C. 407: 8 N. L. R. 13

——— S. 31—Instrument of unilateral character—Rectification.

In the absence of proof of mutual mistake the previous rectification of an unilateral instrument like a mortgage deed is not obligatory under S. 31. Oral evidence is admissible to show that the description of the property is a mistake. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) RADHE LAL v. ANGNE. 21 I. C. 429: 16 O. C. 213.

——— S. 31—Subsequent incumbrancer, when protected.

A Court will not exercise its equitable jurisdiction to rectify an instrument if it is likely to prejudice a subsequent bona fide incumbrancer. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) MADAN MOHAN PRASAD v. LALA SITAL PRASAD. 2 Pat. L. T 64.

——— S. 31—Decree based on award—Setting aside—Suit, if maintainable.

A suit lies to rectify a decree based on an award which has been fraudulently altered after publication and before decree. S. 31 permits the rectification of such an award and of the decree which is based on it and which is the formal expression of it. (Kemp and Raymond, A. J. Cs.) BHAI CHARINRAI v. DEVI BAI. 52 I. C. 9 6: 13 S. L. R. 144.

——— S. 35—Rescission of contract—Fraud.

Fraud in the performance and not in making of a contract is no ground for rescission of contract, and restoration of parties to status quo ante. (Scott, C. J. and Chandavarkar, J.) JAMESETJI v. HIRJI BHOJ NAVROJI. 37 Bom. 158: 19 I C 406 : 15 Bom. L. R. 192 ——— Ss. 35 and 38—Contracts—Meaning of.

The word "contract" in the sections is used in the sense of both executed and executory contracts, i.e., transfers and promises. (Wallis, C.J., Abdur, Rahim and Srinivasa Aiyangar, JJ.) RAGHAVA v. SRINIVASA RAGHAVA. 40 Mad. 308: 20 M L. T 407 : 36 I. C. 921 : (1916) 2 M. W. N. 363 : 31 M. L. J. 575 (F. B.).

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 38.

——— S. 35—Grounds for rescission.

Failure to pay part of the consideration is no ground for rescission of contract, though subsequent conduct of the parties is a ground sometimes. (Mullick and Jwala Prasad, JJ.) MAKHANLAL v. HANUMAN BAKSH. 1 Pat. L. W. 250: 38 I. C. 877: 2 Pat. L. J 168.

——— S. 35 (b)—Document stifling prosecution—Setting aside

A document under which one person agrees to stifle a pending prosecution a non-compoundable offence can be set aside by him The parties in such a case are not in pari delicto. (C. C Ghose and Panton, JJ.) RAM KUMAR DAS v. NANDA KUMAR SHAHA. 75 I. C. 27 : 50 Cal 639.

——— S. 35 (c)—Decree for specific performance—Delay in paying decree amount—Rescission.

There are two kinds of relief after judgment for specific performance of which either party to the contract may in a proper case avail himself. He may obtain (on motion in the action) an order appointing a definite time and place for the completion of the contract by payment of the unpaid purchase money and delivery over of the executed conveyance and title deeds, or a period within which the judgment is to be obeyed, and if the other party fails to obey the order, may thereupon at once issue a writ of sequestration against the defaulting party's estate and effects. He may apply to the Court (by motion in the action) for an order rescinding the contract. On an application of this kind, if it appears that the party moved against has positively refused to complete the contract its immediate rescission may be ordered; otherwise, the order will be for rescission in default of completion within a limited time. It is not necessary in such cases to drive the parties to a fresh suit or rescission of the contract. The words "in the same case" in the last para of S. 35 of the Specific Relief Act refer to clause (c) and the Court has power to make an order in the suit in which the decree was made. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) KURPAL HEMRAJ v. SHAM RAO.
47 Bom. 589 : 25 Bom L R. 234: 1923 Bom. 211.

——— S. 36—Applicability to a suit for refund of money advanced on a contract found later on to be void

S. 36 applies only to suits for rescission of contracts and not to a suit for refund of money advanced under a contract discovered subsequently to be void. (Teunon and Sheepshanks, JJ.) RAM CHANDRA v. GANESH CHANDRA 21 C. W. N. 404.
39 I. C. 78 : 25 C. L. J. 459.

——— S 38—Provisions of, if can be invoked in the case of undue influence.

The provisions of S. 38 can be invoked where a transaction is sought to be set aside on the ground of undue influence as it is only a species of fraud in equity. (Scott, C. J. and Shah, J.) NARAIN BHAT v. AKKUBAI, 33 I. C. 576: 18 Bom. L R. 27.

——— Ss 38 and 41—Vendor lunatic—Purchaser, right of, to refund of consideration money paid—Equitable relief.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 38.

Where a person by payment of consideration money entered into an unenforceable contract for the purchase of property with another who was of unsound mind at the time of the contract. Held he cannot get a refund of the money paid, either under the provisions of S. 65 of the Contract Act or Ss. 38 and 41 or on principles of equity. 30 C. 539 (P. C.) Dist. (D. Chatterjee and Beachroft, JJ.) DOULAT UD-DIN v. DHAMIRAM CHHUTIA.
32 I. C. 804.

——— Ss 38 and 41—Sale by person as guardian not entitled as such—Rights of vendee.

Although the sale was void ab initio as being effected by persons not entitled to act on behalf of the vendor, the vendee is entitled having regard to Ss. 38 and 41 to claim to be restored to their former position. (Beven Petman, J.) FATEH KHAN v. LANGRA. 68 I. C. 15: 2 Lah. L. J. 184.

——— Ss. 38 and 41—Minor repudiating transaction—Duty to restore benefit.

Where a plff. sues to undo a transaction entered into by a guardian in his name during his minority, if the other party has acted in good faith and the plff. or his estate has actually received benefit, the plff. must, as a condition precedent to the setting aside of that transaction, restore the said benefit. If, however, the minor or the quondam minor is the beatus possidens and is being sued by the other party a claim against the minor for refund of benefit would fail (Johnstone, C. J. and Rattigan, J.) SULTAN SINGH v. HASAMAT ULLAH 119 P. W. R. 1915: 109 P. R 1915: 29 I. C. 804: 38 P. L. R. 1916.

——— S. 38—Minor—He who seeks equity must do equity.

The rule that a person seeking equity must do equity and restore any benefit derived by him does not apply when the deft. is a minor so as to enable the plff. in whose favour the transaction was effected to claim restoration from the minor. (Reid, C. J.) ZUMARUDDIN v. PRABHU DIAL 128 P. W. R. 1913: 215 P. L R. 1913: 19 I. C 755. Also 53 I. C. 65 : 15 N L. R. 149

——— S. 38—Minor—Mortgage by—Void—Duty to refund.

Where a mortgage is found to be void on account of the minority of the executant the minor is not liable to refund the mortgage money even if he misrepresented his age. 39 I. C. 404, P. C; 43 I. C. 908 Foll. (Wallis, C. J and Sadasiva Aiyar, J.) GURUSWAWY v. BUDHAKARAN LAL. 10 L. W. 225: 53 I. C. 14 : 26 M L. T. 245.

——— Ss. 39 and 42—Suit for declaring document to be a forgery.

A suit for declaring an endorsement on a mortgage deed to be a forgery being in fact a suit for its cancellation is one of the kind under S. 39 of the above Act and S 42 does not apply to it. (Walsh and Sundar Lal, JJ.) RAM CHANDRA v. GANGA SARAN. 39 All. 103 : 37 I. C. 89 : 14 A. L. J. 980.

——— Ss. 39 and 42—Suit for declaration—No further relief asked—Effect.

A brought a suit for declaration that she was owner of a half-share in certain house and that

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 39.

B's sale to C to that extent was not binding on her. It was found that she was not in possession of the house. Held, that A's suit was for a declaration only and as she did not pray for the consequential relief i. e. possession, her suit must fail. The suit could not be regarded as one for cancellation of a document under S. 39. (Bannerjee, J.) KEDAR SAHU v. BHAGWANTI. 10 I. C. 1000 : 8 A. L. J. 462.

——— S. 39—Cancellation—Suit for possession.

A person suing for recovery of property which he has transferred to another under a deed of exchange which is not binding on him, need not have the deed cancelled. (Scott, C. J. and Roe, J.) ANANDAPPA v. TOTAPPA.
33 I.C. 441 : 17 Bom. L. R. 1137 (Note.)

——— S. 39—Void document—Need not be cancelled.

Where a person is induced to execute a document other than that he had undertaken to execute, the document is void and need not be cancelled. If an illiterate man have a deed falsely read over to him and he then seals and delivers the parchment, that parchment is nevertheless not his deed. This doctrine was not confined to the condition of an illiterate grantor and it made no difference whether the grantors were fettered or unfettered. The essential position is that if a grantor or a covenantor be deceived or misled as to the actual contents of the deed, the deed does not bind him. Nor is this principle limited in its application to deeds but the doctrine is equally applicable to other written contracts. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) UMARANNESSA BIBI v. JAMIRANNESSA BIBI. 37 C. L. J 499 : 1923 Cal 362.

——— S. 39—Suit for cancellation of sale—Fraud—Discovery—Limitation.

A plff. seeking to avoid the statute of limitation on the ground of fraud must, besides setting forth the facts constituting the fraud, state the time when it was discovered to enable the deft. to meet the fraud and the alleged time of its discovery so that the Court may see whether by the exercise of ordinary diligence the discovery might not have been made earlier. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) SECY OF STATE v. RANSIRAM. 35 I. C. 284 : 20 C. W. N. 638.

——— S. 39—Cause of action.

Where the plff. has some interest in the land covered by kobalah has clearly a cause of action. (Coxe and Richardson, JJ.) BADRI NARAIN v. KODO SAH. 28 I. C. 138.

——— S. 39—Contract Act, Ss. 18 and 19—Rescission of contract.

A party to a contract can rescind it if it has been based on misrepresentation. (Holmwood and Chapman, JJ.) JOGENDRA NATH v. CHANDRA KUMAR. 24 I. C. 193 : 42 Cal. 28.

——— Ss 39, and 42—Suit for declaration that the plaintiff was not liable to pay any sums on the basis of entries in the defendant's bahi not maintainable without seeking consequential relief.

Where S. 39 of the Specific Relief Act expressly permitted the plaintiff to ask for further relief and the document should be adjudged void and ordered by the Court, to be delivered up and cancelled, a suit for mere declaration that the plaintiff was not liable to pay on the basis of the entries in defendant's bahi did not lie. 87 P. R. 1910 Referred to. (Campbell, J.) SOHAN SINGH v. SANTA SINGH. 1923 Lah. 491.

——S. 39—Cancellation of transfer—Fraud not carried out.

Where nothing had been done to carry the fraud into effect at the time when a suit for cancellation of a fraudulent transfer was brought, the plff is not debarred from asking for the relief he claims. 35 Cal. 551 (P. C.) Referred to. (Rattigan, C. J.) NABI BAKSH v. MAULA. 53 I. C. 454 : 126 P. R. 1919.

——S. 39—Scope of.

The test for granting the plff. a relief under S. 39 is whether he has a reasonable apprehension of serious injury. Where the plff was made to affix her thumb impression to an agreement to refer to arbitration of the contents of which she had no knowledge and the award therein deprived her of her title to certain properties held by her in mortgage. Held, there was no valid agreement to refer to arbitration so far as she was concerned and that the award did not bind her, and that there was reasonable apprehension of serious injury so as to entitle her to invoke the aid of s. 39. (Scott-Smith and Broadway, JJ.) BABU GHULAM FATIMA v. GHULAM MUHAMMAD KHAN. 77 P. W. R. 1917 : 39 I. C. 912 : 125 P. R. 1917.

——S. 39—Decree against Waqf property—Suit for declaration of invalidity of.

A person who alleges a property to be waqf for the sale of which a decree is passed need not get it set aside if he is no party to it but may ask for a declaration that it should not affect the property. (Shah Din and Scott Smith, JJ.) AMIN CHAND v. SANT MURLIDHAR. 18 P. R. 1913 : 211 P. L. R. 1913 : 19 I. C. 219 : 161 P. W. R. 1913.

——S. 39—Cancellation of an instrument—Suit for possession of property.

The cancellation of an instrument is not compulsory in a suit for possession of property conveyed by the instrument. Reid, C. J. and Kensington, J.) MUHAMMAD UMAR ALI v. AMAN ALI. 170 P. W. R. 1911 : 12 I. C. 140 : 201 P. L. R. 1911.

——Ss. 39 and 49—Mortgage—Non-payment of consideration—Effect.

A mortgage deed was executed and registered and possession also given to the mortgagee under the deed. The consideration was not paid. Held when the deed was registered and possession of the secured properties given, the transaction was complete under S. 58 of the T. P. Act and non-payment of consideration in such a case will not render the transaction void or voidable. The remedy of the mortgagor is to sue for the consideration money. A suit for cancellation of the mortgage would not lie—The lower Court having found that there was no danger of an injury to the mortgagor, a declaration that the consideration had not been paid by the mortgagee was refused. (Phillips and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) ABDUL HASHIM SAHIB v. KADER BATCHA SAHIB. 42 Ma. 20 : 24 M. L. T. 478 : (1918) M. W. N. 769 : 8 L. W. 543 : 48 I. C. 370 : 35 M. L. J. 740.

——Ss. 39 and 41—Minor—Sale—Suit to set aside—False representation as to the age—Estoppel—Refund of consideration.

A minor is entitled to have a sale executed by him during his minority set aside. Quære: Whether even false representation as to his age would disentitle the minor from claiming the relief. Mere silence or conduct in not disputing that he was a major does not deprive the minor of the advantage secured to him by the law. An assertion of an untrue fact must have been made by him. Under S. 41 Court can call upon the minor to refund the consideration he has received before his prayer for cancellation of sale is granted. Apart from the discretion which the statute confers, there is no general rule of equity under which a minor can be compelled to pay compensation to the transferee on avoidance of the transfer. (Coutts-Trotter and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) MALLACHERUVU RAGAVAYYA v. MALLACHERUVU SUBBAYYA. 43 I. C. 908 : 7 L. W. 124.

——S. 39—Transfer—No consideration.

In a suit for cancellation of a sale deed for consideration which was found really not to have passed if the intention of the executant was to transfer the property the failure of consideration will not make the deed void or voidable but will only give the right to its payment with a lien on property until it is paid. 25 B. 10 at p. 18 Foll. (Ayling and Tyabji, JJ.) GOVINDASWAMY RAJA v. KUPPAMMAL. 31 I. C. 77.

——S. 39—Consideration not paid or adequate.

Non-payment of and inadequacy of consideration are not sufficient to justify the cancellation of a deed of sale. (Abdur Rahim and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) KELARU KOTAYYA v. POLAVARAPPU MULLAYYA. 13 M. L. T. 521 : 19 I. C. 746 : (1913) M. W. N. 637.

——S. 39—Suit to cancel an instrument—Limitation Act, Art. 91.

For a suit to cancel a registered instrument, which cannot take effect till after it is registered under S. 39 limitation commences from date of registration and not from date of execution under Art. 91 of the Limitation Act. (Stuart, J. C.) ALI MIRZA BEG v. HASAN RAZAKKAN. 39 I. C. 456 : 4 O. L. J. 108.

——S. 39—Declaratory decree—Principle to be followed—Cancellation of instrument.

Though the man for the time being in full and peaceable possession of certain property knows that some other person is setting up an adverse claim to the same and has asserted that claim in transactions to which the person in possession was no party and which are on the face of them not binding on him, he would not be entitled to sue for cancellation of the instrument under S. 39 of the Act. (Piggott, J.C.) NARENDRA BAHADUR v. BASUDEO MISRA. 14 I. C. 81.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 39.

——S. 39 Cancellation—Void document—Both parties to blame—Refusal to cancel.

As under S. 39, the relief by way of cancellation of a void document is entirely discretionary, the Court of Equity may well refuse to cancel a void document where both the parties to the instrument are guilty of fraud (Chapman and Atkinson, JJ.) BINDESHRI PRASAD v. LEKRAJ SAHU. 20 C. W. N. 760 : 1 Pat. L. J. 48 : 33 I. C. 71 : 3 Pat. L. W. 405.

——Ss. 39 and 42—Plaintiff got a money decree, the Court holding that a valid mortgage existed.

The property was in possession of the vendee from the alleged mortgagor. Plaintiff therefore sued for a declaration that the sale was fraudulent and inoperative. Held, plaintiff's proper relief would have been to attach the property and wait till that attachment had been removed and then to have sued to have his right to attach it declared within the statutory period of one year. However he elected to sue before making an attachment and never prayed for a declaration of his right to attach. In this way he failed to have any tangible cause of action whatever. In view of the fact that he had a proper remedy, the declaration sought for should not be made. (Pratt and Duckworth, JJ.) MI SAN MA KHAING v. SHWE BA. 1 Bur. L. J. 106 : 1923 R. 82 (2).

——S. 39—Suit for cancellation of deed—No prayer for possession—Subsequent suit for

Where in a suit for cancellation of a deed, there is no prayer for possession and no leave is taken for filing a separate suit therefor, a subsequent suit for possession is barred by O. II. R. 2 (3) of the C. P. C. (Maung Kin, J.) MAUNG OK GAING v. MA ON SIN. 33 I. C. 135 : 9 Bur. L. T. 93.

——S. 39—Who should sue.

A suit under S. 39 is maintainable only by the person against whom the instrument is void or voidable or to whom it causes injury. (Parlett, J.) VASA NARAYANASWAMY v. ANTHAYE 26 I. C. 272.

——S. 40—Endorsement on document, if a document

The endorsement on a document is itself a document like the several parts of documents under S. 40 of the Sp. Rel. Act (Walsh and Sundar Lal, JJ.) RAM CHANDRA v. GANGA SAHAN. 39 All. 103 : 37 I. C. 89 : 14 A. L. J. 980.

——S. 41—Mortgage during minority—Suit for cancellation—Refund.

The discretion conferred on the Court by S. 41 must be so interpreted and exercised as only to impose upon a plff. seeking relief by way of cancellation of an instrument such conditions as the law would impose upon him if the position of the parties were reversed and he were the defendant in a suit brought to enforce the instrument according to its terms. In a suit for setting aside a mortgage-deed executed by plaintiff during his minority by his guardian and himself, the Courts below passed a decree conditional on his paying the full consideration of the deed in suit. Held, that the minor's contract being void, the plaintiff's suit should have been decreed as brought. (Piggott, J.) GAYA PRASAD v. SASARAN CHAUDHRI. 29 I. C. 972.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 41.

——S. 41—Minor—Suit to set aside conveyance by—Refund—Discretion.

Though the Court had a discretion to direct plff. to restore the consideration money under S. 41 of the Sp. Rel. Act, yet it would not do so unless there were very strong circumstances in the case to enable the Court to find that there was an equity in favour of the defendant. Where the defendant took a sale from the minor plaintiff knowing she was a minor, the defendant has no equity in his favour to claim a refund. (Macleod and Heaton, JJ.) GURUSHIDDSWAMI v. PARAWA DUNDAYA NARENDRA. 44 Bom. 175 : 55 I. C. 271 : 22 Bom. L. R. 49.

——S. 41—Minor—Sale—Refund of purchase money.

A minor, who seeks to recover the property sold is bound in equity to refund the purchase money under S. 41 of the Specific Relief Act as a condition precedent to obtaining a decree for possession (Moti Sagar, J.) KAPURA v. HARDIT SINGH. 1923 Lah. 510.

——S. 41—Cancellation of a document—Liability for benefits received.

Where a minor vendor afterwards claims equitable relief the Courts will not grant it unless and until the plaintiff is willing and agrees to restore an benefit he might have received thereunder. But such power will not be used by the Court if the defendant has already received compensation by being in possession and enjoying the produce (Reid, C. J. and Rattigan, J.) CHOGHATTA v. ASOMAL. 30 P. R. 1913 : 17 I. C. 371 : 270 P. L. R. 1914.

——Ss. 41 and 3—Suit for possession by true owner—Right to re-imbursement of alienee.

Where a person having no title to property sells it and the true owner sues to recover possession, the purchaser is not entitled to be reimbursed for the simple debts of the true owner which the vendee has paid out of the sale consideration, before surrendering the property. The right cannot be supported either on general principles of equity or under S. 41. (Sadasiva Aivar and Napier, JJ.) AMMANI AMMAL v. RAMASWAMI. 10 L. W. 75 : 37 M. L. J. 113 : 51 I. C. 57 : (1919) M. W. N. 866.

——S. 41—Minor—Alienation by guardian.

No transaction can be avoided by a minor under the general principles of equity recognised by S. 41 except on the condition that the person benefited by the transaction restores the benefit he has received or makes such compensation as the justice of the case requires (Kanhaiya Lal and Lyle, A. J. Cs.) LALA PURSHOTAM DAS v. NAZIR HUSAIN. 54 I. C. 846 : 6 O. L. J. 669.

——S. 41—Minor's contract—Restoration of benefit.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42.

A minor plaintiff praying relief must perform equity. He seeks equity and the Court may therefore under S. 41, Specific Relief Act, require him to restore any property, in his possession which he has obtained, by his misrepresentation. Such compensation does not extend to moneys received and spent by the minor (Kennedy, J. Cs. Raymond and Kemp, A. J. Cs.) MT HURI v. ROSHAN KHUDABUX. 16 S. L. R. 112 : 1923 Sind 5 (F. B.)

——— S. 42.

Applicability.
Cause of action.
Construction.
Discretion of Court.
Duty of Court.
Further relief.
Interested to deny.
Jurisdiction.
Legal character.
Object of.
Right to property.
Miscellaneous.

Applicability.

——— S. 42—Applicability of—Suit to set aside compromise decree as being void against minor.

S. 42 does not apply to a suit instituted by the plfts. seeking a declaration that a decree made in a previous suit where they were minor defts. was not binding on them and claiming to be restored to the position they held prior to the date of the decree. The Court has no discretion to refuse relief to the plaintiff if it finds that the previous decree was obtained without securing a proper representation of the minor defendants. (Sir John Edge.) PARTAB SINGH v. BHABUL SINGH.
35 All 487 : 40 I. A. 182 : 16 O. C. 247 : 17 C. W. N 1165 : 14 M. L. T. 299 : 25 M. L. J. 492 : 11 A. L. J. 901 : 18 C. L. J. 384 : (1913) M. W. N. 785 : 21 I. C. 288 : 15 Bom. L. R. 1001 (P. C.).

——— S. 42 — Applicability — Tenants not entitled to declaration against landlords.

Entries in revenue records as tenants for a long time raise a presumption of correctness which has to be rebutted ; but tenants are not entitled to a declaration under S. 42 against their landlords. (Leslie Jones, J.) MT JAI KAUR v. LABHU. 4 Lah. L. J. 207 : 1922 Lah. 163.

——— S. 42—Applicability.

To entitle the plff. to succeed it must be shown that his legal character or his right to any property has been denied by the deft. or that the deft. is at least interested in denying it. (Smyth, Elsime Barkley and Rattigan, JJ.) BARKAT RAM v. JAGAT RAM. 17 I. C. 379 : 249 P. W. R. 1912.

——— S. 42—Applicability.

No suit lies for a declaration of what is not in accordance with facts. (Abdur Rahim and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) DRONAN RAJU RAMAYYA v. CHUNDARI PEDAYYA. 10 M. L. T. 118 : 12 I. C. 119 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 174 :

——— S. 42—Applicability—Question of Law.

No declaration can be grantad on a mere question of law. 30 C 788; 14 I. C. 81 Ref. (Lindsay, J.C., and Kanhaiya Lal, A.J.C.) PRAG v. MAHAMMAD ABDUL HUSAIN. 25 I. C. 603 : 1 O. L. J. 344.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Applicability.

——— S. 42—Applicability—Claim suits.

O 21, R. 63 gives a special right of suit to party whose claim is rejected under O 21, R. 58 and in such a case the proviso to S. 42, Sp. Rel. Act does not apply. (Miller, C. J and Foster, J.) BHAGWAN LAL v. RAJENDRA PRASAD SAHI.
4 Pat. L. T. 409 : 1923 P. 564.

——— S. 42—Applicability—Sonthal Parganas.

As the Specific Relief Act does not apply to the Sonthal Parganas there is nothing in the law apart from that Act which would entitle the court to grant a declaratory decree. Before 1877 the power of the courts in such cases were governed by the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code of 1859 subject to a condition precedent that there were circumstances which might justify the grant of consequential relief. 2 P.L.J. 379 ; 19 W. R. 171 and 23 W. R. 314 followed. (Dawson Miller, C. J. and Bucknill, J.) ISWARI PRASAD SINGH v. MT. SAHORA KUMARI.
1922 P. 42.

——— S. 42—Applicability—Recovery of money if and when necessary.

A suit for a declaration that the defts. were liable to pay a certain amount and that plff. should recover the same if and when the plff. is compelled to pay the same is one for a declaratory decree without a consequent relief for the purposes of the Court Fees Act but the suit not being one contemplated by S. 42 is not maintainable. (Das and Adami, JJ.) SHAIKH RAFIQ-UD-DIN v. SHAIK ASHGAR ALI. 63 I C 38.

——— S. 42—Applicability—Suit to declare a Municipal election invalid.

It is not in the discretion of the Court to declare or refuse to declare a municipal election invalid. If the case is proved, the Court must pass a decree in favour of the person seeking the invalidity of the election. Evidently a suit for the purpose is maintainable. (Ross, J.) AVUDH BEHARI LAL v. KESRI PRASAD SINGH. 63 I. C. 6.

——— S. 42—Applicability— Injunction—Declaration suit.

A suit for declaration and injunction is maintainable in the Sonthal Parganas. (Coutts and Adami, JJ.) TEKAIT DEO NARAYAN SING v. BHUK LAL RAUT. 1 Pat. L. T. 699 : 57 I. C. 196 : 2 U. P. L. R. (Pat) 150: (1921) Pat. 38.

——— S. 42—Applicability—Claim suits—C. P. Code, O. 21, R 63.

In a suit for a declaration under O. 21, R. 63, C. P. C., that a sum of money deposited in Court in execution of a decree in favour of A and attached by deft. in execution of a decree against A was the property of plaintiff. Held, that the suit was not barred by the proviso to S. 42. The plff. was not bound to sue for the payment of money to him and the consequential relief which it was possible for him to claim, viz., that the decree was really the plff's., had in fact been claimed. (Mullick and Atkinson, JJ.) HARI LAL SAHU v. RANCHI MINISTERIAL OFFICERS' URBAN CO-OPERATIVE CREDIT SOCIETY. 3 Pat L. J. 189 : 4 Pat. L. W. 138 : 43 I. C 396 : (1918) Pat. 141.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Applicability

——S. 42—Applicability—Claim suit—Claim in execution of decree—Objection—Suit.

A decree-holder may independently of O. 21, R. 63 institute a suit for a declaration that certain property attached by him is the property of the judgment-debtor. It does not come within the proviso to S. 42 of the Sp. Rel. Act. (Maung Kin, J.) MAUNG BA KYAW v. LAN. 45 I. C. 972 :
Also 9 Bur. L. T. 199 : 34 I. C. 125
Also 10 P. R. 1912 : 74 P. L. R. 1912 : 14 I. C 510 : 267 P. W. R. 1912

Cause of Action.

——S 42—Cause of action—Maintenance—Grant of village—Payment of revenue.

A taluqdar granted a village for the maintenance of a junior member of the family on the understanding that the talukdar himself would pa the Govt. revenue Subsequently he alienated a lot of other villages out of the Taluqdari estate. In a suit by the maintenance holders for a declaration of charge, held that under the arrangement the grantor undertook a personal liability to pay the revenue of the villages granted and it was not intended to charge the remainder of the taluk with such obligation. Where there is no allegation in the plaint that the grantor had not ample property to carry out his undertaking there was no cause of action for the suit. (Mr. Ameer Ali.) SUNDERLAL v RAMJILAL
24 C. W. N. 929 : 16 N. L. R. 114 : 28 M. L. T. 319 : 47 I. A. 149 : (1920, M. W. N. 447 (P. C.)

——S. 42—Cause of action—Decree for profits by Revenue Court in favour of recorded co-sharer—Suit for declaration of illegality of decree.

H mortgaged certain property to four persons, one of whom was the predecessor of defendant B. B transferred a part of his share to his wife and both B and his wife afterwards sold their share to S and another. Possession was, however, not given as the whole of the purchase money was not paid. B and his wife sued S and another for the unpaid purchase money obtained a decree which was discharged in 1913. Their names were on the revenue papers before that date and they sued lambardar, who was a representative of the mortgagor, for their share of profits, for those years obtained decree in 1913 and 1915 and realised the amounts decreed In 1911 the representatives of H had deposited the mortgage money in court for payment to Mr. and Mrs. B but on the court refusing to order payment, as there was a dispute between B and S. had withdrawn. The mortgagors then redeemed their property from S. and another and sued B and his wife for refund of the profits paid to them under decrees of 1913 and 1915 on the ground that the decrees were unlawful Held, that B and another being recorded co-sharers on the dates in respect of which decrees for profits were made, the decrees were good and the suit was not maintainable. (Banerji and Wallace, JJ.) MAHABIR PRASAD v. BASANT LAL.
70 I. C. 444 : 17 A. L. J. 1028.

——S. 42—Cause of action—Fraud by minor.

Where a minor induces another to advance money by mortgage of his property, on a fraudulent misrepresentation as to his age, he can sue for a declaration that the mortgage is void provided he returns the exact sum received at the time of contract. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) GIRADHAR v. PIAREY LAL 19 A. L. J. 578 : 62 I. C. 258 : 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 51.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Cause of action.

——S. 42—Cause of action—Denial of title.

The denial of title referred to in S. 42 must be communicated to the plff. in order to give him a cause of action. A claim or statement denying title not communicated to the owner cannot save the statute of limitation running against him. (Walsh, J.) MAHABIR RAI v. SARJU PRASAD RAI. 43 I. C. 175.

——S. 42—Cause of action—Denial of right—Suit for declaration by plff—When no creditor has claimed title in the property.

A suit for a declaration that the property seized in insolvency proceedings is the plff's, is misconceived, as no such declaration can be granted against a creditor who has not claimed or the debtor who has become insolvent or even against the Receiver. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) PITA RAM v. JHUJAR SINGH. 33 I. C. 798 : 15 A. L. J. 861.

——S. 42—Cause of action—Declaratory suit—Hindu widow—Will—Suit by reversioner.

It is not competent to a reversioner to sue for a declaration that a will executed by a Hindu widow is void, because there is no alienation. 27 A. 14 ; 26 A. 238, Ref. (Chamier and Piggott, JJ.) UM RAO KUNWAR v. BADRI. 37 All. 422 : 29 I. C. 302 : 13 A. L. J. 551.

—— Ss. 42 and 52—Cause of action—Declaration—Rights and liabilities of mortgagor and mortgagee.

The suit was by a mortgagor against his usufructuary mortgagee of his shop and the tenants occupying the shop under the usufructuary mortgagee for an injunction to raise the rental or to deduct the excess he would get by an increased rental from the mortgagors. The agreement was that if the mortgagee got less rent, the mortgagor would make up and pay him but if he got more rent, he (the mortgagor) should be given the excess. In the circumstances of the case it was held that the suit as brought was not maintainable as there was no allegation that over a specified period of time the mortgagee had been persistently and without reasonable cause been letting the shops mortgaged for less than their fair letting value. (Chamier and Piggott, JJ.) RUSHAN LAL v. MOOL CHAND.
27 I. C. 697 : 13 A. L. J. 85.

——S. 42—Cause of action—Denial of right—Stipulation not to redeem.

Where there are two mortgages in favour of the same person and there is a stipulation to the later mortgage that the mortgagor would not redeem the earlier without redeeming the later, and the mortgagor denies the right of the mortgagee under the later mortgage, the mortgagee can sue for a declaration of his right. (Piggott, J.) RAMCHARAN v. JAGAN BEHARI LAL.
24 I. C. 737.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Cause of action.

——S. 42—Cause of action—Limitation—Plff. in possession.

Where plfs. who had been wrongly recorded as ex-proprietary tenants in 1888 applied in 1905 for correction of the village papers and it was dismissed in 1904 and the defts. in 1912 applied under S. 36 of the Land Revenue Act for assessment of rent on the land held by the plffs. Held that the deft.'s application to the Revenue Court gave a fresh cause of action to the plffs. and that a suit for declaration of their proprietary title was not barred. 20 A. 35 (F.B.); 31 A. 9 Dist. (Chamier and Rafique, JJ.) ALLAH JILAI v. UMRAO HUSSAIN. 36 All. 492 : 24 I. C. 535 : 12 A. L. J. 810.

——S. 42—Cause of action—Mortgagee to pay off prior mortgage—No proper attestation—Suit for declaration of charge will lie.

Where A lent a sum of money to B to pay off a mortgage on B's property and B executed a mortgage in favour of A but it was invalid for want of due attestation, A is entitled to a declaration that he has a charge on the property to the extent of the money advanced (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J.) CHOTALAL KARSANDAS v. VISHNU GANESH. 45 Bom. 597 : 60 I. C. 903 : 23 Bom. L. R. 84.

——S. 42—Cause of action—Person not a party to litigation and not affected thereby—Suit to declare decree fraudulent—Parties Injunction—Consequential relief.

A landlord obtained an ex parte decree against a person alleged to be tenant and put the holding to sale in execution. The tenancy was purchased by a stranger. The plaintiff who was not a party to those proceedings instituted a suit for declaration that the decree and sale were fraudulent and did not affect him who held the tenancy under certain persons holding under the landlord. It was found that the decree and sale were fraudulent. Held, that the plaintiff's suit was maintainable and a prayer for an injunction to protect the plaintiff's possession was unnecessary. 13 B. 34, 38 M. 1102 Ref. To such a suit the representatives of the alleged tenant against whom the ex parte decree which was obtained were not necessary parties. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) MOHESH CHANDRA MISRA v. NISTARINI DASSYA 27 C. W. N. 449 : 1923 Cal. 382.

——S. 42—Cause of action—Dismissal of suit on ground of no cause of action—Propriety.

A suit for a declaration of title to and confirmation of possession in a certain plot of land on the allegation that deft. had threatened to take possession thereof with a prayer for a temporary injunction in which the defence is that the title is with the deft. cannot be dismissed on the ground that the plaint discloses no cause of action. (Teunon and Richardson, JJ.) ADYANATH RAY v. BISESWAR DASS. 46 I. C. 503

——S. 42—Cause of action—Plff.'s title and previous possession—Suit to establish.

A suit for a declaration to establish title to a village and to a streamlet which lies within it owing to disturbance in the plff.'s possession by deft.'s people catching fishin it, is maintainable; even a temporary disturbance is a sufficient ground for such a suit (Chamier, C. J. and Sharfuddin, J.) SHAHDEO LAL BHAGAT v. KESHO MOHAN THAKUR. 35 I. C. 916 : 20 C. W. N. 1274.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Cause of action.

S. 42—Cause of action.

A mere attachment is a sufficient invasion of a right to confer a cause of action. (Coxe, J.) AKHOY KUMAR v. NARAIN DEY. 9 I. C. 663.

——S. 42—Cause of action—Attachment of property is not.

There can be no doubt that an attachment infringes the right of the judgment debtor and has the effect of placing the property in custodia legis, but it does not by itself amount to an infringement of the rights of the reversioners to the property. It is possible, nay it is probable, that the attachment will lead to an alienation, and if the alienation is not confined to the period of judgment-debtor's life-time, the plaintiffs (reversioners) will then be entitled to impeach the alienation. It is, however, clear that where no alienation has so far been made, the mere attachment does not give the plaintiffs (reversioners) a cause of action for a declaration that their rights will not be affected. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Lumsden, J.) CHET RAM v. SPEDDING & CO., LTD. 5 Lah. L. J. 234 : 1924 Lah. 52.

——S. 42—Cause of action—Compromise by proprietor—Suit by sons for declaration of invalidity—Customary law.

In cases governed by customary law it is open to the sons of a proprietor to maintain a suit for a declaration that a compromise entered into by their father should not affect their reversionary rights after their father's death. Although a compromise entered in good faith binds a man's heirs but they are entitled to challenge the compromise on the ground that it was not entered into in good faith. 97 P. R. 1906 Ref. (Scott-Smith and Brasher, JJ.) UJAGAR SINGH v. SUCHA SINGH. 5 Lah. L. J. 266 : 1924 Lah. 35.

——S. 42—Cause of action—Attachment of ancestral property—Declaratory suit—Custom.

A suit for a declaration at the instance of reversioners does not lie when ancestral property has been merely attached in execution of a decree with a view to a sale but has not been sold. 18 P. R. 1908, Dist. (Sevan Petman, J.) WARYAM SINGH v. NARAIN DAS. 52 I. C. 157.

——S. 42—Cause of action.

In a suit for declaration a plff. has no cause of action if the plaint only alleges that the defts. claimed as co-sharers, denying the plff.'s exclusive proprietary right without there being any actual invasion of plff.'s right. (Johnstone and Shah Din, JJ.) BUDHA KHAN v. MOHAMMAD. 31 I. C. 287 : 133 P. W. R. 1915.

——S. 42—Cause of action—Suit for setting aside will during lifetime of testator.

A suit will not lie for a declaratory decree setting aside a will during the lifetime of the testator. (Shah Din and Scott-Smith, JJ.) NURKHAN v. BHAKTAWAR. 30 P.L.R. 1915 : 27 I. C. 574 : 200 P. W. R. 1915.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Cause of action.

— S. 42 Cause of action—Some tenants acknowledging pltf.'s title and some deft.'s.

Pltfs. were in possession of some of the lands and defts in possession of others; some tenants acknowledged pltfs. and some defts; held, that a suit lies for a declaration that mutation of the land in deft.'s name was null and void. 15 M. 307 ; 5 P. R 1908 ; 99 P. L. R. 1908; 29 P. W. R. 1908; 100 P. R. 1913 Ref. (Rattigan and Shadi Lal, JJ.) MOHAMMED UMAR v. NAWAB DIN. 217 P. L. R. 1914 : 24 I C 678 : 127 P. W. R. 1914

——— S. 42—Cause of action—No cloud on title.

As long as there is no cloud thrown on title, the plaintiff is not entitled to any declaration. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) SOUNDARATHAMMAL v. NARAYANASWAMI AIYAR. 42 M. L J. 567 : 31 M L. T. 50 : 15 L. W. 639 : 1922 M. 306.

——— S. 42—Cause of action—Declaration of right to appear in village Courts.

An order passed by an officer debarring a person holding vakalatnama to practice in village Courts is illegal and a suit to declare such a right lies at common law if not covered by S. 42. (Ayling and Tyabji, JJ.) RAMCHANDRA ROW v. SECRETARY OF STATE. 31 I. C. 310 : 39 Mad. 808.

— S. 42—Cause of action.

A pltff. whose title is threatened by evidence being created against him will have a cause of action under S. 42. (Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) GANDLA PEDDA NAGANNA v. SIVANAPPA. 38 Mad 1162 : 16 M. L. T. 310 : 26 I C. 232 : 27 M L. J. 520.

——— S. 42—Cause of action in—Denial of title—Subsequent acts if constitute different causes of action.

In a declaratory suit based on the ground of deft.'s denial of title of the pltff. there is only one cause of action namely denial of title; and acts done subsequently by the deft. in consequence of such denial do not create or give a fresh cause of action under S. 42. 10 A. L. J. 413, 36 M. 383, Dist (Ayling and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) THIRUMALA RAO v. KADEKAR DURGI SHETTEHI. (1914, M. W. N. 197 : 22 I. C. 883 : 1 L. W. 134.

——— S. 42—Cause of action—Petition by widow to revenue authorities for transfer of patta.

A petition to the revenue authorities by a Hindu widow for transfer of patta in respect of the husband's lands to another person's name would not by itself furnish a cause of action for a declaratory suit by the reversioner as such petition does not amount to the assertion of a right to the property sought to be affected. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) BAGGU SINNAVANNA v. ITRAGULU CHINNAYA. 17 I. C. 375.

——— S. 42—Cause of action—Authority to adopt.

No suit by a reversioner will lie for a declaration that an authority to adopt given by the husband is fabricated as it is only a preparation and does not of itself affect the reversionary right. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) SREEPADA v. SREEPADA. 35 Mad 592 : 12 I. C 176 : (1911) 2 M W. N. 194.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Cause of action.

——— S. 42—Cause of action—Female—Mutation of names—Suit by reversioner.

Where a Hindu female who had succeeded to her father's property had a portion of it mutated the name of the defts. and the predecessor in title of one of the defts. had retained a portion of it to herself. Held that though there was a transfer of possession, the mutation order had not the effect of transferring the property nor could the words accompanying the transfer, throw a cloud upon the reversioner's title, and so there was no cause of action for the suit. (Mitra, A J. C.) UJARIA v. ROSHANLAL. 60 I. C. 343 : 16 N. L. R. 209.

——— S. 42—Cause of action—Denial of title—Entry in revenue register.

A man is not bound to sue for a declaration of his title merely because some casual denial of his title is made, e. g., by an entry unfavourable to him and favourable to the taluqdar in the revenue registers which in no way affects him in the enjoyment of his rights of property. The refusal of the Revenue Courts to disturb the entry in the revenue registers casts a cloud on the pltff.'s title and gives him a cause of action to bring a suit to have the cloud cleared (Lindsay, J C) SRI RAJ KUNWAR v GANGA PRASAD. 23 O C. 46. 7 O. L. J. 74 : 55 I. C. 893 : 2 U. P. L. R. (J. C.) 91.

——— S. 42—Cause of action—Finding of Revenue Court

In ejectment proceedings before a Revenue Court reject the contention of the person sought to be ejected that he was an under proprietor and not tenant, the landlord has no cause to sue in a Civil Court for a declaration that the said person was not an under-proprietor. (Lindsay, J. C.) MUHAMMAD ABDUL HASAN KHAN v. SANGAM LAL. 42 I. C. 194 : 4 O. L. J 502.

——— S. 42—Cause of action— Entry in Revenue Records—Limitation

Where pltff.'s title is made doubtful by reason of an entry in the Revenue registers and he seeks relief by a declaratory suit, limitation for such a suit runs from the date on which the entry was made. (Lindsay, J. C.) ALI HUSSAIN KHAN v. BAINDI. 34 I. C. 775 : 3 O. L. J. 226.

——— S. 42—Cause of action — Ejectment—Cancellation of notice by Revenue Court—Jurisdiction of Civil Court.

In a suit to contest a notice of ejectment, defts. claimed to be under-proprietors of the land and the notice was cancelled by the Revenue Court on the ground that they were not mere tenants, held that the landlord had a good cause of action to go to the Civil Court for a declaration that the defts, do not possess any under-proprietary rights. (Lindsay, J. C. and Kanhaiya Lal A. J. C.) RAM ASRE v. RAJA MUHAMMAD ABDUL HASAN KHAN. 30 I. C 218 : 2 O. L. J. 241.

See also 34 I. C. 304 : 3 O. L. J. 191.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Cause of action.

——S. 42—Cause of action -Declaration that deft is not proprietor—Limitation.

The cause of action for a suit for a declaration that deft. is not the proprietor or under proprietor and that he is liable to ejectment accrues only when the contrary is put forward by the tenant as a substantial defence in ejectment proceedings in Revenue Court. A Civil Court is entitled to declare that a person is or is not an agricultural tenant, though the Revenue Court has exclusive jurisdiction to determine the nature of the tenancy. A decree for a declaration by the owner of half of a village that deft. is neither a superior nor an inferior proprietor in the village can lie if the mortgagee in possession of the other half is impleaded as deft. (Lindsay J. C. and Stuart, A. J. C.) RAM AUTAR v. ATUL HASSAN KHAN.
28 I C. 307 : 2 O. L. J. 131.

——S. 42 -Cause of action — Transfer of portion of holding—Declaration that transfer is invalid by landlord.

A landlord is not bound to recognise a division of a tenure of holding or a distribution of the rent payable in respect thereof. A transfer of a portion of an occupancy holding without the landlord's consent is an attempt to violate those rights or to throw a cloud upon them so that a landlord is entitled to sue for a declaration that such a transfer is not binding upon him 24 I. C. 152, 1 C. W. N. 162. Rel. (Jwala Prasad J.) BAPU RAMA VIJA SINGH v. BIBI WAZERUNNISA.
49 I C. 439.

Construction.

——S. 42—Construction.

The powers given by S. 42 ought not to be extended beyond what the law absolutely requires. (Smyth, Elsmie, Barkeley and Rattigan, JJ.) BARKAT RAM v. JAGAT RAM.
17 I. C. 379: 249 P W. R. 1912 (F. B)

——S. 42—Construction—Discretion of Court.

S. 42 is not exhaustive of the declaratory suits entertainable by Courts. A person owning properties and residing within the area of local body has a substantial interest in its proper constitution and can bring a suit for declaration of the invalidity of the election of a member of the Board The Court however has a discretion to grant or refuse the declaration sought for, and may refuse it in a proper case even though the election is invalid. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) LAKSHMINARASIMHA SOMAYAJI IYAR v. RAMALINGAM PILLAI. 39 M. L J. 319 : 12 L. W 202 : (1920) M. W. N. 519 : 59 I. C. 245 : 28 M. L. T. 205.

——S 42—Construction—Not exchaustive—Suit to set aside alienation of trust property.

S. 48 is not exhaustive of a case in which declaratory decree can be made. A suit by the worshippers of a temple for a declaration that an alienation by the trustee is invalid is maintainable (Abdu Rahim and Ayling JJ.) VEERAMACHANENI RAMASWAMI v. SOMA PICHAYYA. 45 Mad. 410 : 1920 M. W. N. 393 : 58 I C. 585 : 38 M L. J 226

——S. 42—Construction.

The section must be construed liberally and illustrations (e) and (f) show that it includes suits by a presumptive reversioner for a declaration that alienations by a Hindu widow are not binding on them and also suits to declare that an adoption is invalid. (Wallis, C. J. and Coutts Trotter, J.) BAPPAYYA v. AKAMMA. 36 I. C. 255.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Discretion of Court.

——S. 42—Construction—Section if exhaustive.

S. 42 is not intended to be exhaustive as regards the circumstances under which declaratory suits can be maintained. 42 M. 270 P. C Ref. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) RAMAKRISHNA v. NARAYAN PATTAR. 39 Mad. 80 : 27 M. L. J. 634 : 26 I. C. 883 : 1914 M. W. N. 912.

Discretion of Court.

——S. 42—Discretion of Court— Settlement on long standing dispute

The discretionary power which Courts possess to grant a declaratory decree should be exercised to put an end to disputes which have lasted a considerable time. (Mr Ameer Ali.) RANI INDAR KUAR v. THAKUR BALDEO BAKSH SINGH.
39 M. L. J. 115 : 28 M. L T. 334 : 25 C. W. N. 170 : 7 O. L. J 439 : 23 O. C 291 : 57 I. C 397 : 18 A. L. J. 1057 (P. C.).

——S. 42—Discretion of Court—Declaratory relief—Jurisdiction to grant—Statutory remedy Bengal Act, III of 1899, Ss. 341 and 617 — Demolition of buildings.

Under the provisions of the Calcutta Municipal Act (III of 1899) the Corporation of Calcutta has power to remove a building encroaching on public land subject to a liability to pay compensation for the building if it is proved to have been erected before 1863. The Court of Small Causes has exclusive jurisdiction to assess the compensation, as a special tribunal. The Corporation declined to admit the owner's right to compensation on the grouud that the building was erected after 1863 and proceeded to demolish it. The owner brought a suit in the ordinary Civil Court, Held that the Court had a discretion to make a declaration that the building was erected before 1863 and that the owner was entitled to compensation. (Lord Chancellor.) JOSEPH v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA 44 Cal. 87 : 20 M. L. T. 383 : 18 Bom L. R. 878 : 24 C. L. J. 498 : (1916) 2 M. W. N. 544 : 21 C. W N. 194 : 5 L. W 199 : 36 I C. 912 : 43 I. A. 243 : 32 M. L. J. 631 (P. C.).

——S. 42—Discretion of Court.

To grant a declaration decree which is nothing more than a stepping-stone for further litigation and is of no practical effect is not a proper exercise of the discretion of Court. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) ALI JAFAR v. FAZAL HUSAIN KHAN.
20 A. L. J. 557 : 44 A. 622 : 4 U. P. L R. (A) 131 : 1922 A. 349.

——S 42—Discretion of Court.

It is always in the discretion of the Court to grant or refuse a declaratory decree. (Rafique and Piggott, JJ.) LALA RAM RAGHUBIR LAL v DIP NARAIN SINGH. 45 A. 311 : L. R. 4 A 380 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 349 : 21 A. L. J. 168 . 1923 A. 287.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Discretion of Court.

——S 42—Discretion of Court.

The Court has a discretion to grant or refuse declaratory relief An Appellate Court will not interfere unless the discretion has been exercised arbitrarily or wrongly. (Rafique and Lindsay, JJ.) BALBHANDER PRASAD v. PRAG DATT.
42 All. 492 : 50 I. C. 938 : 17 A. L. J. 765.

——S. 42—Discretion of Court—Declaration sought by auction-purchaser—When cannot be granted.

A purchaser at an auction sale of immoveable property cannot sue for a declaration if in addition to his refusing to accept the draft sale-deed presented by the vendor he keeps quiet for a long time till the property is sold to another person. (Banerjee and Piggott, JJ.) IMAM v. KALLU.
38 All. 433 : 34 I C. 298 : 14 A. L. J, 645.

——S. 42—Discretion of Court—Decree for relief different from that claimed in plaint—Landlord and tenant—Adverse possession.

When a plaintiff seeks a declaration of a specific character and fails to establish the fact whereon such declaration can be founded he is ordinarily not entitled to a different declaration but the Court may, if the defendant is not taken by surprise, grant the plaintiff a declaration different from the relief sought in the prayer clause of the plaint. 5 C. 949, Ref. A purchaser of a holding after having been in possession for upwards of 12 years and having acquired title thereto by adverse possession cannot, when it is found that the interest acquired by him was not a permanent tenancy but a non-transferable occupancy right only, obtain a declaration that he has become the holder of a non-transferable occupancy right in respect of that holding. 35 C. 570; 43 C. 748, Ref. (Sanderson, C. J. and Mookerjee, J.) NABIN CHANDRA v. NILKAMAL.
36 I. C. 11 : 25 C. L. J. 537.

——S. 42—Discretion of Court.

Per Mookerjee, J.—The Court is not concerned with the object or motive of the party who comes into Court in assertion of his alleged right and he is not to be refused a declaration merely because he seeks it with a view to influence the opinions of the executive authorities. But the position is different when the declaration sought can be based only on the investigation of a question which is by statute or otherwise expressly excluded from the cognizance of the Civil Court. (Jenkins, C J., Mookerjee and Holmwood, JJ.) HEMENDRA NATH v. UPENDRA NARAIN.
43 Cal. 473 : 20 C. W. N. 446 : 32 I. C. 437 . 22 C. L. J: 419.

——S. 42—Discretion of Court.

Where the plaintiff the assignee of a lease by A to B sued for a declaration that the lease was a permanent, heritable and transferable one, that the rent was fixed in perpetuity and that A was bound to recognise the plaintiff as tenant. Held, that a declaratory decree may be properly granted in this case so that the point in dispute between the parties may finally be set at rest. (Newbould and Ray, JJ.) NAN MOHUN GHOSE v. EQUITABLE COAL CO., LD. 24 I. C. 144 : 18 C. W. N. 596.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Discretion of Court.

——S. 42—Discretion of Court—How exercised.

A decree under S. 42 is only discretionary and would depend on the circumstances of each case; so that while a declaration that a widow's alienation is not binding may be granted at the instance of a remote reversioner, even if the immediate reversioner, viz., the daughter of the widow is alive, it will not be granted if the remote reversioner is an old man of 50 with no chance of succeeding to the estate. (Coxe and Chatterjee, JJ.) BALDEO v. SHAMDHURE. 23 I. C. 809.

——S. 42—Discretion of Court.

The Court has a discretion to grant or refuse to grant a declaration under S. 42 of the Act according to the circumstances of the case, e.g., that an election is invalid on account of irregularity. (Fletcher, J.) BHUPENDRA NATH v RAMAJIT SINGH. 20 I. C. 676 : 41 Cal. 384.

——S. 42—Discretion of Court—Decree declaratory—Decree always depends on discretion.

If a declaratory suit challenging an alienation of ancestral holding is barred, so far as near collaterals are concerned, distant collaterals who are minors cannot be put forward to bring the suit within the time. (Chitty and Chatterjee, JJ.) ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL OF BENGAL v. BHAGWAN CHANDRA ROY. 10 I C. 531 : 15 C. W N. 758.

——S. 42—Discretion of Court—Chance of succession—Remote—Effect.

When the chance of succession of the plaintiff is very remote, Court may refuse a declaration. (Shah Din J.) LASHKAR KHAN v. SHAH DIN.
33 I. C. 997 : 26 P. W. R 1916.

——S. 42—Discretion of Court—Futility of relief.

A declaratory decree which may be futile or cannot ensure the rights of the plaintiff to succeed to the suit property should not be granted. (Rattigan and Chevis, JJ.) TAWAKAL SHAH v. JIWA SHAH. 56 P. W. R. 1913 : 18 I. C. 511: 129 P. L R. 1913.

——S. 42—Discretion of Court.

A declaration which is of no practical use to plaintiff ought not to be granted. (Rattigan and Shah Din, JJ.) RAM NARAIN v. RAM KISHEN.
46 P R. 1911 : 108 P. W. R. 1911 : 10 I. C. 515 : 179 P. L. R. 1911.

——S. 42—Discretion of Court—Persons not parties to suit in which declaration is sought——Declaration in favour of.

Plaintiffs (representatives of the pattadars and the mirasidars of a village) sued for a declaration that the sale of the plaint land (alleged to be blacksmith's unenfranchised inam) to the third defendant by defendants 1 and 2 inamdars (until shortly before suit, when they were removed from service by the plaintiffs) was void and to recover possession of the land from the third defendant. The decree for possession was refused because defendants were found to own the kudivaram of the land. Held, that the grant of a declaration under S. 42 of the Specific Relief Act being discretionary, the Court ought not, in view of the fact that plaintiffs had not appointed others in the place of defendants 1 and 2 and might in fact never appoint anybody else to use its discretion to make the declaration. (Oldfield and Odgers, JJ.) ELLAPPA NAIDU v. BOOLOGACHARY.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Discretion of Court.

(1922) M. W. N. 180 : 16 L. W 531 : 42 M. L. J. 359 : 1922 Mad. 97.

——S. 42—Discretion of Court—Declaration that plff. is the next reversioner and not the deft

The grant of declaratory relief is discretionary with the Court. There is a settled rule of practice against the grant of such relief when the only question for decision is which of two persons is entitled to the character of next reversioner at the date of the institution of the suit, a decision which may serve no useful purpose as both the claimants may be dead and a different person may be entitled to succeed when the succession actually opens. Where the plaintiffs sued for a bare declaration that they were the next reversioners of a deceased Hindu and that the defendant was not entitled to usurp the character of the next reversioner, held, that the suit was not maintainable. 45 Cal. 510, Ref. (Wallis, C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) RAMA RAO v. SURYA RAO.
42 Mad 219 : 25 M. L. T. 184 : 49 I. C. 835 : 9 L W. 329 : 36 M L. J. 169.

——S. 42—Discretion of Court.

While indicating the character of right which may be declared by the Court of law, s. 42 leaves it to the discretion of the Court to grant or refuse the relief claimed. (Ayling and Seshagiri Aiyar JJ.) BOBBA PADMANABHUDU v. BOBBA BUCHAMMA.
47 I C. 702 : 8 L. W. 335 : 35 M. L. J. 144.

——S. 42—Discretion of Court—Exercise of

The Court has discretion in granting declarations in declaratory suits The discretion should be exercised on a consideration of the facts (Abdur Rahim, Offg. C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) VENKAT ROW v. TULJARAM ROW
5 L. W. 482 : 38 I C 270 : (1917) M W N 30

——S. 42—Discretion of Court—Suit for declaration—Decree.

A declaratory decree is a matter for discretion for the Court. (Spencer and Phillips, JJ.) THENIRKULAM MUTHUSAMI IYER v. KALYANIAMMAL.
40 Mad. 818 : 21 M L T. 93 : 38 I. C. 223 : 5 L. W. 284: Also 1 O. L. J. 496. 25 I. C. 908. 15 O. C. 354.
See also 38 Mad. 1162 : 16 M. L. T. 310. 26 I. C. 232 27 M L. J. 520.

——S. 42—Discretion of Court Claim of arrears of rent improperly added.

If a prayer for a declaration of title is added to the substantial claim for arrears of rent with the improper object of ousting the jurisdiction of the Revenue Court and the suit is filed in a Civil Court, the Court will not allow the plaint to be amended so as to be in a position to grant the declaration, but will dismiss the suit 12 I. C. 430, Foll. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Moore, JJ.) SUBBANA ACHARIAR v. GOPALA KRISHNA ACHARI
34 I. C. 354.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S 42—Duty of Court.

S 42—Discretion of Court.

The Court will not go to help a plaintiff, who produced a number of fraudulent deeds to cheat creditors, to obtain a declaration that some portion of the alleged consideration passed between the parties to the fraud. (Benson, Offg C. J and Abdur Rahim, J.) LAKSHMINARAYANA NAIDU v. SOMASUNDARAM PILLAI.
17 I. C. 602 : 12 M L. T. 534.

—— S. 42—Discretion of Court—Declaratory decree—Grant of.

When substantial relief cannot be granted, a declaratory decree ought not to be granted. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) BASAVESWARASWAMI v. HAVALIJI HUSSAIN.
38 Mad 6 : 12 M L T. 405 : 17 I. C. 158 : (1912) M.W. N. 1080 : 23 M. L. J. 479.

—— S. 42—Discretion of Court—Merits of the case to be heard.

The question of discretion possessed by the Court in the matter of granting declaration could not be considered until the case had been heard on its merits. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal A J Cs.) AMARCHAND PAL v. SECRETARY OF STATE.
27 I. C. 354 : 17 O. C 369.

——S. 42—Discretion of Court—Declaration as to proposition of law

The granting of a declaratory decree under S. 42 is a matter of discretion and the Court cannot be asked to give a declaration which merely affirms a proposition of law. (Piggott, J. C.) NARENDRA BAHADUR v. BASUDEO MISRA.
14 I. C 81.

—— S. 42—Discretion of Court—Substantial injury.

The granting of relief is discretionary under the section and the Court is not to grant it unless there is substantial injury. (Coutts and Das, JJ.) CHHAKOWRI v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA.
52 I. C 990 : (1920) Pat. 1.

Duty of Court

——S. 42—Duty of Court—Title to land—Nature of right to be ascertained

A Court ought not to declare the title of any party to a piece of land without ascertaining what the nature of that title is. (Fletcher and Teunon, JJ.) HARI KRISHNA DAS v. DINOR KINLA.
29 I. C. 355

—— S. 42—Duty of Court—First Court's duty

It is the duty of the first Court to decide whether the suit is barred by the proviso to S 42. (Shah Din and Chevis, JJ.) GANESH LAL v. BENI PERSHAD.
1 P. R. 1911 : 47 P. L. R. 1911 : 9 I. C 673 : 22 P. W. R. 1911.

——S. 42—Duty of Court Denial of title not averred in plaint.

The plff. should not be allowed to prosecute the claim on the ground of the denial of his alleged title by the deft which was not in the plaint. (Ayling and Napier, JJ.) SUBBAYA NADAN v. AIYAVOO REDDI.
(1917) M. W. N 70 : 37 I C. 977 : 5 L. W. 752.

——S. 42—Duty of Court — Failure to prove damage—Dismissal of suit.

When there is sufficient cause of action for a declaratory relief, the Court must declare the plffs

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Duty of Court.

right and not dismiss the suit for declaration because the plff. failed to prove the additional plea of damage. (Lindsay, J. C.) BAKHTAWAR SINGH v. DHARAM SINGH 34 I. C. 9 : 3 O. L. J. 40

——— S. 42—Duty of Court—Subsequent events—Consideration of.

The plff. in a declaratory suit must establish his title though the deft. may not pretend to be able to establish any title in himself. The appellate Court in such suit has only to consider the question whether the decision of the Lower Court is correct with reference to the state of affairs at the time the suit was instituted and cannot take into consideration the bearing, on the title of the contending parties of the facts which came into existence, after its institution 21 Mad 136 Rel. (Evans and Lindsay, A. J. Cs.) INDRA BIKRAM SINGH v. CHANDIKA BAKHSH SINGH. 11 I. C. 676 : 14 O. C. 170.

——— S. 42—Duty of Court—Declaratory relief.

A declaration likely to be infructuous should not be made. (Mullick and Jwala Prasad, JJ.) HILL v. SATAN SINGH. 50 I. C. 857 : 4 Pat. L. J. 312.

Further relief.
Amendment of Plaint.
Cancellation of document.
Injunction.
Joint possession.
Meaning of.
Partition.
Possession with deft.
Possession with plff.
Possession with third party.
Redemption
Suit to set aside decree.
Miscellaneous.

Further relief—Amendment of Plaint.

——— S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Amendment of plaint.

A suit only for declaration of right to property sought to be partitioned without asking for possession would be amended afterwards and could not be dismissed at once. (Teunon and Skeepshanks, JJ.) JAGATTARINNI DASI v. PRAFULLA CHANDRA GHOSE. 35 I. C. 792.

——— S. 42—Further relief—Amendment of plaint—Suit for declaration that decree passed against plaintiff shall not affect him.

The plaintiff appealed Held (a), that a declaration suit that a certain decree being based on fraud shall not affect the plaintiff's rights and for any other relief which the Court might deem fit to grant was one for a declaration only. 20 Bom 736 and 30 Cal. 788 Ref.; (b) that a suit for mere declaration was not competent in this case unless followed up by a prayer for consequential relief by injunction or otherwise. 38 Mad. 522 and 29 I. C. 132 Ref; (c) that the Court ought to have allowed the plff. an opportunity to amend his plaint so as to include the necessary prayer for consequential relief by injunction or otherwise; and (d) that the mere prayer for general relief is not necessarily a prayer for consequential relief so as to make the suit out of the class of suits for a declaration only. (Shadi Lal and Dundas, JJ.) BUA DITTA v. LADHA MAL. 65 P. W. R. 1921.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Further Relief—Cancellation of Document.

——— S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Amendment of plaint—Suit for a declaration that decree against plff. is void—Court Fees Act, S. 7 IV (c).

Plff. sued for a declaration that a certain decree was fraudulently obtained and should not affect his rights and for other relief which the Court might grant Held, that the suit was one for a declaration only, and it was not competent in this case unless followed up by a prayer for consequential relief by injunction or otherwise. The Court ought to have allowed the plff. an opportunity to amend his plaint so as to include the necessary prayer for consequential relief by injunction or otherwise. (Shadi Lal and Dundas, JJ.) BUA DITTA v. LADHA MAL. 54 I.C. 833 : 2 U. P. L. R. (Lah.) 37.

——— S. 42—Further relief—Amendment of plaint.

Where a plff. has a right to a declaration against one person and a right to consequential relief against another he is not bound to join the latter as deft. in the declaratory suit but can sue for a declaration without asking for further reliefs. S. 42 does not require a plff. to include persons against whom he may have a right to consequential relief. Where an objection to a declaratory suit on the ground that he does not ask for consequential relief is taken on appeal for the first time the Court must remand the suit allowing the plff. to amend the plaint The Court should not dismiss a suit without allowing an opportunity for amendment. (Robinson, J.) S. T. K CHETTY v. BALASUNDARAM. 13 Bur. L. T. 100 : 59 I. C. 809 : 10 L.B. R. 198.

——— S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Amendment of plaint in appeal.

Where the maintainability of a suit for declaration without consequential relief is in issue in the first Court and the plff does not amend the plaint, he does so subject to the risk of an adverse decision, and cannot ask for the amendment in appeal 15 M. 255 : 26 C. 845 Ref ; 15 M. 15 Dist. (Ormond and Twomey, JJ.) MAUNG SOK KYUN v. MA SHWE YU. 36 I. C. 611 : 10 Bur L. T. 241.

——— S 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Amendment of plaint—Failure to ask possession.

If the relief of possession is not asked and the plaint is not amended before the issues and if it is found that plff was not in possession the suit is liable to be dismissed. 1 M. 40 Foll. (Twomey and Ormond, JJ.) FLEMING SHAW & CO. v. SADIRAM JAMNADAS. 32 I. C. 564 9 Bur. L. T. 90.

Further Relief—Cancellation of Document.

——— Ss. 42 (Proviso) and 39—Further relief—Cancellation of document.

The question whether a plff. must sue for cancellation of a document, under which the deft. in possession claims, depends upon whether the onus of proving circumstances establishing its invalidity lies upon him or whether it lies upon the deft. to prove circumstances establishing its validity. (Scott C. J. and Rae, J.) ANDAPPA v. TOTAPPA. 33 I.C. 441 : 17 Bom. L. R. 1137 (Note).

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Further Relief—Cancellation of Document.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Cancellation of document—Suit to declare a will, void

A person left a will in favour of a woman describing her as his wife. His brother's sons brought a suit for a declaration that the will is null and void and that the woman is not widow of the deceased. Held, that the will had become operative after the testator's death and that the plaintiff could not ask for a mere declaration but must ask for cancellation of the will. 109 P. R. 1893 Ref. (Shadi Lal and Leslie Jones, JJ.) HUKAM SINGH v. MT GAYAN DEVI.

87 P. R. 1916 : 127 P. W. R. 1916 : 36 I. C. 95 : 31 P. L. R. 1917.

Further Relief—Injunction.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Injunction.

In a suit for declaration of title to land a prayer for injunction upon the defendant is a prayer for consequential relief quite as well as a prayer for confirmation of possession. (Mookerjee and Chatterjee, JJ.) DINA NATH DAS v. RAMNATH DAS. 34 I. C. 702 : 23 C. L. J. 561.

——S. 42—Further relief—Injunction.

An injunction is a discretionary relief and cannot be claimed by a plaintiff out of possession when he does not ask for possession against defendants who are actually in possession. 33 M. 452 : 36 M. 62 Foll. 14 S. L. R. 137 ; 36 M. 364 Dist. (Kincaid, J. C. and Raymond, A. J. C.) MANOHERDAS v. RAMDAS. 1923 Sind 17.

——S. 42—Further relief—Injunction—Court-fee.

Where plaintiff not only sued for a declaration but asked for a temporary injunction restraining defendant from executing the ex parte decree against plaintiff, held, that the real relief is perpetual injunction and Court-fee must be paid on it. (Madgaonker, A. J. C.) SHRIRAM v. FIRM OF DATARAM MUNSHIRAM. 16 S. L. R. 169 : 1922 Sind 20.

Further Relief—Joint Possession.

——S. 42—Further relief—Joint possession—Larger portion of land in suit in joint possession of plff. and deft.

The fact that the land in dispute is in joint possession of the plaintiff and defendant in no way entitles the plaintiff to bring a declaratory suit. The plaintiff who is in joint possession of a greater portion of the land in suit could and should sue for exclusive possession. 101 P. R. 1909 Ref. (Broadway and Wilberforce, JJ.) MUSAMMAT SHANKARI v. JODHA. 68 I. C. 576 : 3 Lah. L. J. 437.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Joint possession—Co-sharer—Suit for declaration of his right to the property.

A co-sharer in possession of the land can maintain a suit for a declaration of his proprietary rights in it. (Scott-Smith and Leslie Jones, JJ.) BALRAM SINGH v. BAL DEO SINGH. 42 I. C. 443 : 168 P. W. R. 1917.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Joint possession—Suit for declaration.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Further Relief—Meaning of.

To get a declaration under S. 42 the plaintiff need not show that he has exclusive possession of the suit property, joint possession is sufficient. But if any portion of the property is seperable from the rest and the plaintiff can prove no sort of possession over that part, he cannot sue for a mere declaration as regards that portion. 15 M. 307 : 21 I. C. 716 Rel. (Scott-Smith and Shadi Lal, JJ.) HAKIM v. GHULAM JANNAT. 27 P. R. 1917 : 39 I. C. 355 : 52 P. W. R. 1917.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Joint possession—Declaratory suit by persons in joint possession.

Where persons are jointly in possession of the land in dispute, either of them may bring a declaratory suit for title. (Shah-Din and Smith, JJ.) LACHMI BAI v. HONDI BAI. 100 P. R. 1913 : 7 P. L. R. 1914 : 21 I. C. 719 : 14 P. W. R. 1914.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Joint possession—Scramble for possession.

Where it is not proved in a joint holding that the defendant had collected more than his share of the rents of the village, there is no effective ouster of the plaintiff though the former had taken muchilikas from persons who are admitted by the tenants of both parties. There is only a scramble for possession, therefore the plaintiff's suit for a mere declaration would lie. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) BOYANAPALLI VENUGOPAL v. POTHAPALLI VENKATA. 12 I. C. 548 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 384.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Joint possession.

Where the plaintiff is in joint possession of the disputed property through the lambardar, a claim for partition by him is not barred by S. 42 of the Act. (Lindsay and Kanhaivalal, A. J. Cs.) BHARATH SINGH v. BALBHADHAR SINGH. 20 I. C. 429.

——S. 42—Further relief—Joint possession—Suit by some members of a Mitakshara joint family for declaration of their shares in joint family property.

A suit by some members of a Mitakshara joint Hindu family for a declaration of their share in the joint family property without a prayer for partition by metes and bounds is maintainable and not barred by S. 42. 43 I. A. 15 Ref. (Chamier, C. J. and Sharfuddin, J.) ASMAN SINGH v. TULSI SINGH. 1 Pat. L. W. 335 : 2 Pat. L. J. 221 : 39 I. C. 173 : 1917 Pat. 131.

Further Relief—Meaning of.

——S. 42—Further relief—Meaning of—Additional and alternative reliefs.

The expression means additional relief and not a relief in the alternative. In a suit for specific performance for the contract of sale of land the expression does not include a claim for damages or refund of the advance money in the alternative. (Lord Atkinson.) BRICKLES v. SNELL. 38 I. C. 123 : 86 L. J. P. C. 22 (P. C.).

——S. 42—Further relief—Meaning of—Right to joint enjoyment and right to partition are distinct incidents of joint property.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Further Relief—Meaning of.

"Further relief" in the proviso to S. 42 of the Act means relief to the legal character or rights as to property which the plaintiff is entitled to and whose title or right the defendant denies. It must also be relief appropriate to and necessarily consequent on the right or title asserted. Joint enjoyment and liability to partition are distinct incidents of joint property and therefore a suit for mere declaration of title to a joint enjoyment is enough and relief by way of partition need not be asked for. The proviso to S. 42 does not compel a plaintiff to sue for all the relief that could possibly be granted or debar him from obtaining a relief which he wants unless at the same time he asks for a relief which he does not want. (Mookerjee and Buckland, JJ.) JOYNARAIN v. SUCHITRA. 65 I. C. 8 : 33 C. L. J. 592.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Meaning of—Jurisdiction.

Injunction is a consequential relief. The reasonable construction of the proviso to S. 42 is that the further relief which the plaintiff is bound to claim in such relief as he is in a position to claim in an ordinary suit by virtue of the title sought to be established or declared and whether he is in such a position depends upon the circumstances of the case. A suit will not be barred under the proviso unless the Court is satisfied beyond all doubt that the plff. ought to seek further relief and though he has claimed only a mere declaration. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) AISA SIDDIKA v. BIDHU SEKHAR. 18 I. C. 633 : 17 C. L. J. 30.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief, meaning of—Confirmation of possession, Cr.P.Code, S. 145, order under.

Confirmation of possession is consequential relief within S. 42 of the Sp. Rel. Act, and can be sought even though the plff. was not in possession on the date of suit. 15 W. R. 95 : 16 W. R. 213; 19 W. R. 18: 22 W. R. 438 Foll. An order under S. 145, Cr. P. Code, has not necessarily the effect of actual dispossession of the unsuccessful party and in a suit by him it is not necessary to ask for recovery of possession. Where a person sues for confirmation of possession, the mere fact that he should have asked for recovery of possession, does not involve the dismissal of his suit. 16 W. R. 27: 24 W. R. 301 : 25 W. R. 168 : 11 C. L. R. 443 and 451 Ref. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) JHUMAN KARTI v. DEBU LAL SINGH. 16 I. C. 898 : 22 C. L. J. 415.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief, meaning of—Suit for declaration that deft. is not mutawalli.

Plff. asked for a declaration that a certain wakfnamah was invalid and that defts. had not acquired any valid title as mutawalli, under that document that if the wakfnamah be valid, then the deft. had not been legally appointed as mutawalli. The plff. did not ask for recovery of possession or for the removal of the deft. and the appointment of trustee Held, that the suit was incompetent as the plff. being able to seek further relief had not done so. 13 C. 147 ; 1 M. 40 ; 2 B. 230 Rel. The further relief referred to in the proviso to S. 42 is further relief in relation to the legal character or right to any property to which the plff. is entitled and whose title to such character or right the deft. denies or is interested in denying and it must be a relief appropriate to and consequent on the right or title asserted. (Mookerjee and Carnduff, JJ.) ERFAN MANDAL v. SAMIRUDDIN MANDAL. 15 I. C. 552.

——S. 42—Further relief—Meaning of.

A prayer for general relief is not necessarily a prayer for consequential relief so as to take the suit out of the class of suits for declaration only. (Shadi Lal and Dundas, JJ.) BUR DITTA v. LADHA MAL. 54 I.C. 833 : 2 U.P.L.R. (Lah.) 37.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Meaning of—Suit for declaration that mortgage decree is not binding on plff. and for injunction.

A minor sued for declaration that a decree passed against her was not binding on the ground that she was sued and the decree obtained against her as a major and for an injunction restraining the deft from executing the decree against her interest in the mortgaged property. Held, that the suit as framed was maintainable and that the plff. was not bound to ask for redemption.

Per Oldfield, J.—The further relief contemplated by proviso to S. 42 means further relief arising from the cause of action on which the plff's suit for declaration is based. (Wallis, C. J. and Oldfield, J.) KANNIAMMAL v. SANKA KRISHNA MURTHI. 33 M. L. J. 676 : 43 I. C. 25 : (1917) M. W. N. 790.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Meaning of.

Consequential relief means a substantial remedy in accordance with the title of which declaration is prayed for. A prayer for possession being unwarranted by plaint averments is not a relief consequential upon a declaratory decree. (Bakewell, J.) MURZA HYDER ALI SAHIB v. HUSSAIN RAZA SAHIB. 24 I. C. 316 : 1 L. W. 398.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Meaning of—Suit for declaration that plff's. share is not liable for debt by sons.

Proviso to S. 42 of the Act refers to the legal character or right to property which is set up in the plaint. Further relief in the proviso is a relief appropriate to and consequent on, the right asserted. A suit by the son of a Hindu father, for a declaration that their shares in the family property are not liable to attachment and sale in execution of a money decree against their father is maintainable even though the deft. is in possession of it as mortgagee from the father. (Kanhaiya Lal and Kendall, A. J. Cs.) NARINDRA BAHADUR SINGH v. RAM SINGH. 45 I. C. 859 : 5 O. L. J. 133.

Further relief—Partition.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Partition—Revenue paying estates—Suit for declaration of share.

All that Civil Courts could do in respect of a suit for partition of joint family property subject to payment of land revenue is to ascertain the share of plaintiffs and to give them a decree declaring the amount of that share as against the defts. leaving to plffs. to take any steps they might think proper for the actual partition of their share in the Revenue Court under S. 54 of the C. P. Code. A suit for declaration of the plff.'s share in such property without asking for partition is not barred by the proviso to S. 42. (Rafique and Piggott, JJ.) RUPAN RAI v. SUBKARAN RAI.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Further Relief—Possession with deft.

41 All. 207 : 49 I. C. 367 : 17 A. L. J. 112.

Further relief—Possession with deft.

——S. 42—Further relief—Possession with deft.—Entry in revenue records—Effect of Possession.

An entry made by the Revenue Court in the Revenue records changing the property into the name of the minor who had just attained majority, whereas the property stood all along in the name of the guardian, amounts in law to dispossession. S. 42 bars suit by the guardian for declaration of title alone. (Rafique and Piggott, JJ.) KUMAR UDIT NARAYAN SINGH v. DIWAR RANDHIR SINGH. L. R. 3 A 642.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Possession with deft.

A declaratory suit is barred by the proviso to S. 42 where plff. being out of possession, still does not sue for recovery thereof. (Rafique and Piggott, JJ.) ISHWARI SINGH v. NARAIN DAT.
36 All. 312 : 23 I. C. 555 : 12 A. L. J. 408.

——S. 42—Further relief— Possession with defendant.

A person suing for a declaration that a decree and a sale thereunder is fraudulent and who is not in possession of the same, cannot proceed with the suit, without asking for recovery of possession. (N. R. Chatterji and Panton, JJ.) JOGENDRA NATH SEN v. TOLIANTNESSA BIBI.
62 I. C. 685

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Possession with deft.—Declaration of title.

Though disturbance of the title of the plaintiff by the defts. is not proved, a decree for possession in favour of plff. ought to follow a declaratory decree, when the deft. is in possession. (Beachcroft and Walmsley, JJ.) LAL MEAH v. RAJANI KANTA. 50 I. C. 311.

——S. 42—Further relief— Possession with deft.—Suit for mere declaration does not lie.

When a suit was filed for a declaration of title as regards a number of properties, and the plaint itself showed a right to present possession with respect to some, held in the absence of claiming possession also, a suit for a mere declaration was not maintainable. (Leslie Jones, J.) MT. JAIKAUR v. LABHU 4 L. L. J. 207 : 1922 L. 163.

——S. 42—Further relief— Possession with deft.—Mortgagee without possession—Suit for declaration.

A mortgagee cannot sue for declaration that he is a mortgagee in possession, if he is not in actual possession and if the entry in revenue papers show that he is a mortgagee without possession. (Rooof and Martineau, JJ.) NARAIN DAS v. JANAT BIBI. 67 I. C. 152.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Possession with deft.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Further Relief—Possession with plff.

A suit for a mere declaration is bad where possession is with deft and can be claimed by plff. (Chevis and Broadway, JJ.) SHIV RAM DAS v. BHAG DEVI. 48 I. C. 838 : 118 P.R 1918.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Possession with deft.—Suit for declaration of right to manage—Alternative turns—Possession.

Plaintiff who is out of possession of charity properties cannot confine his suit to a declaratory decree but should ask for possession though he is entitled to the right of management in alternate years only and the Court may not be able to place him in possession by reason of the fact that the opposite party was admittedly rightly in possession during the trial of the suit 33 M. 452; 21 M. L. J. 952 Foll (Abdur Rahim and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) APPU PILLAI v. PERUMAL PILLAI.
23 M L. J. 118 : 16 I. C. 630 : 12 M. L. T. 168.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Possession with deft

A suit for declaration and possession in which declaration is merely introductory to a claim for possession is not a suit under S. 42 of the Sp. Rel. Act. Declaration in such a suit cannot be claimed against a person who does not put forward any claim to the property in suits but who might advance his claims to some other property later on. (Miller, C. J. and Jwala Prasad, J.) ASHARFI SINGH v. MADHABESHEOAR INDRA NARAIN SAHI. 45 I. C. 665 : 4 Pat. L. W 412.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Possession with deft.—Declaratory decree when possession is also required.

If the plaintiff fails to ask actual or symbolical possession, he being entitled to it, cannot get a declaratory decree. 32 M. 452 Foll; 5 Bom. L. R. 195 Diss. (Fratt, J. C. and Crouch, A. J. C.) MIR HUSSAIN BUX v. KAUDO. 32 I. C. 689 : 9 S. L. R. 174.

Further Relief—Possession with plff.

——S. 42—Further relief—Possession with plaintiff.

Where some of the members of a joint Hindu family sued for a declaration that an alienation of the joint family properties made by the other members were not binding on them and it was found that the alienees were not in possession, held that the plaintiffs being in physical possession with other members of the family of the properties, were not bound to sue for possession and that S. 42 of the Sp. Rel. Act was no bar to the suit. 36 A. 126 Rel. (Banerjee and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) KANHAI LAL v. JAI LAL.
L. R. 3 A. 632 : 20 All. L. J. 990 : 45 A. 164 : 1923 A. 54.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Possession with plff.—Rival claimants—Court of Wards in possession on behalf of rightful owner—Suit for declaration.

Several persons laid claim to Mahantship. The Court of Wards took possession of the estate, and declined to hand it over to any one till he had established his right to the Mahantship Held, that the possession of the Court of Wards being possession for the rightful owner the suit for a mere declaration of the rights of the plffs. without asking for possession was not barred by S. 42 of the Sp. Rel. Act. The Court of Wards was not a necessary party to the suit in such a a case. (Richards, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) JAGANNATH GIR v. TIRGUNA NAND. 28 I. C. 139 : 13 A. L. J. 252.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Further Relief—Possession with plff.

——S. 42—Further relief—Possession with plff.

In a suit for declaration of title where plaintiffs are in possession it is for the defendants to prove adverse possession. (Macleod and Crump, JJ.) GAVARAWA KOM v. MALLANGOWDA. 1923 Bom. 382.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Possession with plff.

A suit under S. 42 for a declaration of plff.'s right to the property left by Hindu widow in the hands of a receiver without a prayer for possession is maintainable as the receiver's possession is to be considered as plff.'s possession. (Teunon and Sheepshanks, JJ.) CHINTOMONI PATNI v. TARAK CHANDRA. 35 I. C. 17.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Possession with plff.—Declaratory suit—Possession partly with plff.

Plaintiff sued for a declaration that he was the owner of a share of the holding of one N. The possession of the land in dispute had been for sometime in a state of flux and deft. and plff. were in possession of certain portions and plff. was co-sharer with N in those portions which were in the actual possession of N. Held, that the suit was maintainable. (Broadway and Martineau, JJ.) LABHURAM v NATHU. 55 I.C. 32 . 2 U. P. L. R. (Lah) 52.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Possession with plff.—Suit by mortgagor for declaration that mortgage is fully paid.

A suit by a mortgagor in actual possession of the mortgaged property, for a declaration that the mortgage has been paid in full, is maintainable. (Kensington, Offg. C. J. and Rattigan, J.) SHER SINGH v. DEVI DAYAL. 302 P. L. R. 1913 : 20 I. C. 761: 210 P. W. R. 1913.

——S 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Possession with plff.

Where plff. holds possession under an order of the Magistrate under S. 146, Cr. P. Code, but possession has been ordered by the High Court to be delivered to deft. and possession is not yet delivered, the plff. can sue for declaration of title without joining the relief for possession 26 C. 8845; 28 M 338 Dist. (Abdur Rahim and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) MALAIYA PILLAI v. TIRUMALAI PERUMAL. 36 Mad 62 : 10 M L. T. 277 : 12 I. C. 170: (1912) M. W. N. 161 : 21 M. L. J. 1022.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Possession with plff.—Suit for mere declaration.

In the case of gift by a pardhanashin lady where possession has not been delivered, a suit for a mere declaration that the gift is invalid is not barred by S. 42. (Kanhaiya Lal and Kendall, A. J. Cs.) NIRAR HUSAIN v. ASHRAF-UN-NISSA. 35 I. C. 395.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Further Relief—Possession with third party.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Possession with plaintiff.

A person in possession of land can sue for declaration of his title thereto as against a person who has neither title nor possession, and such a suit is not liable to dismissal because a third person alleged to be interested in the land is not made a party thereto. (Jwala Prasad, J.) GAJINDRA SINGH v. AKAL KOER. 59 I. C. 292.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Possession with plff.—What plaint should contain.

A plaint in a mere declaratory suit must allege that the plff is in possession of the property at the time. (Fox C. J. and Twomey, J.) MAUNG BA THAUNG v. MA SHIN MIN. 9 L. B. R. 37 : 37 I. C. 15: 10 Bur. L. T. 189.

Further Relief—Possession with Third Party.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Possession with third party.

A plff. who is out of possession can sue for a declaratory decree against persons not in possession if the person in possession had not denied plff.'s right. It is open to a landlord to sue for a declaration of title as against a rival claimant in respect of lands in the possession of tenants. (Banerji and Ryves, JJ.) RATAN MOTI v. TILAK CHAND. 47 I. C. 856: 16 A. L. J. 666.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Possession with third party—Property with receiver.

A Magistrate attached the property in suit under S. 146, Cr. P C., and appointed the Collector as receiver. One of the parties to the proceedings under S. 145, Cr P.C., brought a declaratory suit and it was held that the suit was properly framed as the plffs. could not demand possession from the defts. (Chitty and Chatterjee, JJ.) ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL OF BENGAL v. BHAGWAN CHANDRA ROY. 10 I. C 531 : 15 C. W. N. 758.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further Relief—Possession with third party—Suit by vendee for declaration—Prayer for possession not necessary.

It is not necessary to sue also for possession when a purchaser from an absent co-sharer brings a suit for declaration of his title. (Shadi Lal and Martineau, JJ.) GOKUL DAS v. RANGILAL. 4 Lah. L. J. 462.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Possession with third party—Property partly in possession of the Court and of tenants.

Where the property in suit is partly in the possession of the Court and the remaining portions were occupied by tenants who had not attorned to either party. Held, that under the circumstances the declaratory suit was maintainable. 15 Mad. 307 ; 100 P. R. 1913 Ref. (Shadi Lal and Beman-Petman, JJ.) KALU RAM PIARILAL. 1 Lah. 92 : 92 P. L. R. 1920 : 55 I. C. 953.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Possession with third party.

S. 42 does not bar a suit for declaration and injunction without any other consequential relief where physical possession is with the third parties, i.e., tenants willing to pay rent to whosoever is the lawful Dharmakarta and not in the

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S 42—Further Relief—Possession with Third Party.

deft. claiming adversely to the plff. (White, C. J. and Phillips, J.) V. RAMADOSS v. HANUMANTHA ROW. 36 Mad. 364 : 10 M.L. T 356 : 12 I. C. 449 : (1911) 2 M.W.N. 387 : 21 M L J. 952

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Possession with third party—Property in possession of tenants and lessees.

The proviso to S. 42 of the Act is no bar to a suit for a declaration of title to lands in the possession of tenants and lessees. (Fawcett and Raymond, A. J. Cs.) RAMDAS v. AJUDHIADAS. 63 I. C. 685 : 14 S L.R. 137.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Possession with third party—Land in possession of tenants.

A suit for a bare declaration is not barred by the proviso to S. 42 of the Act where at the time of the suit, the plff. had let out the plaint lands to tenants and the deft. was not in possession of them. (Twomey, J.) MUDIN v. ASHA BI. 20 I.C. 660 : 6 Bur. L. T. 135.

Further relief—Redemption.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Redemption.

A mere declaratory suit will not lie where the plff. is entitled to claim consequential relief. A suit therefore by a mortgagor for a declaration that a condition in a mortgage is unenforceable does not lie where he can claim possession by redemption. (Broadway, J.) SAIDU SHAH v. MALAWA RAM. 37 I C. 374 : 115 P. L. R. 1916.

——S. 42—Further relief Redemption—Consequential relief - Amendment of plaint.

Where a mortgage and a lease form part of the same transaction and the lease is invalid but the mortgage is binding, it is not open to the mortgagor to sue for a declaration of the invalidity of the lease. He can however be allowed to amend the plaint and convert his suit into one for redemption. (Krishnan and Ramesam, JJ.) PUPPOOTH v. RAMAN SOMAYAJIPAD. 17 L. W. 558: (1923) M. W. N. 301 : 32 M. L. T. (H. C.) 107 : 44 M. L. J. 515 : 1923 Mad. 553.

——S. 42 (Proviso) - Further relief—Redemption suit for declaration that mortgage is only binding as to a part.

A suit by a mortgagor for a declaration that a mortgage is good only to the extent of the part consideration actually paid is not barred by the proviso to S. 42 of the Sp. Rel. Act where the term fixed for redemption has not expired at the date of suit. (Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) NAVUNNI v. RAMASWAMI PATTAR 52 I. C. 738: 10 L. W, 169.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Redemption—Declaration of right of—Suit for declaration that a mortgagee is a tenant.

A suit for a declaration that a mortgagee is not a tenant is maintainable but a mortgagor is not entitled to a declaration as to his right of redemption inasmuch as he can bring a suit for redemption. (Chamier, C.J. and Sharfuddin, J.) RAM DURAI v. HARNAM DAS. 2 Pat. L. W. 223 : 42 I. C. 473 : 3 Pat. L. J. 71.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Further Relief—Miscellaneous.

Further relief—Suit to set aside decree.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Suit to set aside decree.

A suit for a mere declaration without a prayer for consequential relief is maintainable when the suit is to set aside a former declaratory decree on the ground of fraud. (Fletcher and Teunon, JJ.) BAGALA SUNDARI DEBI v. PROSANNA NATH MUKERJEE. 35 I. C. 797 : 21 C. W. N. 375.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Suit to set aside decree.

A suit to declare that a decree is fraudulent and void will not lie unless the consequential relief is also prayed for. (Spencer and Coutts-Trotter, JJ.) RAMANADHAN v. ANNAMALAI. 29 I. C. 132

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further rilief—Suit to set aside decree.

A suit for a declaration that a decree is a nullity and that it should be set aside is one for a declaration with consequential relief and is governed by S. 7 (iv) (c). (Kotval, A.J.C.) GOVIND v. DHEKLU. 56 I. C 550.

Further Relief—Miscellaneous.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Pre-emption.

The right way of asserting a right of pre-emption is not a claim for bare declaration of a right to pre-empt. A mere claim to such a right is not a claim to any right to property within S. 42 of the Act and the right of pre-emption cannot be enforced by a mere declaratory decree as the claim for a declaration must be followed by further relief in order that the order should be effectual. (Lord Buckmaster.) CHARAN DAS v. AMIR KHAN. 28 M L. T 149 : 18 A. L. J. 1095 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1370 : 47 I. A. 255 : 57 I. C. 606 : 48 Cal 110 : 25 C. W N. 289 : 13 L. W. 49 : 2 U P L. R. (P C.) 124 : 39 M L. J. 195. (P. C.)

——S. 42—Further relief—Whether necessary in each case.

Whether it is incumbent upon the plaintiff to ask for consequential relief must depend upon the circumstances of each case. It is plain that there may be cases in which a declaration may be sufficient for his protection. In such an event the plaintiff cannot be compelled to seek a consequential relief. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) UMARANNESA BIBI v. JAMIRANNESA BIBI. 37 C. L. J. 499 : 1923 Cal. 362.

——S. 42—Further relief—Scope of proviso.

A suit for a declaratory decree should not be dismissed on the ground that it is barred by the proviso to S 42, Specific Relief Act, unless it is quite clear that the plaintiff should seek further relief which he has failed to claim, although such relief flows directly and necessarily from the declaration sought for. The proviso to S. 42 does not compel a plff. to sue for all the reliefs which could possibly be granted or debar him from obtaining a relief which he wants, unless at the same time he asks for a relief which he does not want. (Mookerjee and Cholzner, JJ.) RAMKAMAL BANIK SAHA v. SYAM SUNDAR BANIK SAHA.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Further Relief—Miscellaneous.

37 C. L. J. 482 : 1924 C. 411.

——S. 42—Further relief.

A suit for a declaration that the defts. have no such tenancy right as is recorded in the Settlement Records by order of the Collector is not bad in the absence of a prayer to set aside the order. (Woodroffe and Walmsley, JJ.) MIDNAPUR ZAMINDARY v. NARESH NARAIN.
63 I. C. 161 : 33 C. L. J. 317.

——S 42—Further relief—Suit for declaration of invalidity of mortgage—Scope of section.

A suit brought for having a mortgage declared to be collusive and ineffective and a decree on such mortgage a nullity and in the alternative for a declaration that a certain part of the property cannot be sold in satisfaction of the charge and concluding with a prayer for granting other reliefs to which the plff. may be found entitled, cannot be said to be a suit under S. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, for obtaining a declaration without praying for any consequential relief. Devices for avoiding Court fees by shaping suits into a declaratory shape cannot be encouraged. S. 42 of the Specific Relief Act sanctions only such declarations which declare a plff.'s title or right to any legal character or property. (Jenkins, C. J. and Chatterjea, J.) DEO KALI KOER v. KEDAR NATH. 16 C. W. N. 838 : 15 I. C 427 : 39 C. 704.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief.

Where it is not necessary for the plffs. to ask for any consequential relief the proviso to S. 42 of the Act will not operate as a bar. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) BAKTAWAR SINGH v. BHUBANO SINGH. 20 I. C. 322 : 17 C. L. J. 468.

——S. 42—Further relief—Declaration by a non-party to a decree.

A person who is not a party to a decree may sue to have it declared void without claiming any consequential relief. (Broadway and Zafar Ali, JJ.) MT. NIHAL DEVI v. RAI CHUNI LAL 5 Lah. L. J. 357 : 1923 Lah 373.

——S. 42—Further relief—Shifting possession—Suit for declaration will lie.

A co-sharer in possession of certain portions of the common land either individually or exclusively can sue for declaration of title against another co-sharer and it was found that possession of the land in dispute had been in a state of flux. 100 P. R. 1913 ; 15 M. 307 ; 21 M. L J. 952; 26 C. 11 ; 118 P. R. 1918, Rel. (Broadway and Martineau, JJ.) LABHU RAM v. NATHU. 4 Lah L. J. 504.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Decree allowing redemption—If mortgagee entitled to sue for declaration of a further charge on land.

A mortgagee aggrieved by an order of redemption passed by the Collector under the Punjab Redemption of the Mortgagee's Act, 1913, may sue for a declaration that there is a further charge on the mortgaged land and is not bound to sue for recovery of the additional mortgage money to which he claims to be entitled and S. 42 of Sp. Relief Act is no bar. 51 P. R. 1897 ; 14 I. C. 510, Ref (Shah Din, C J.) BALVANT RAI v. GHERU.
85 P. R. 1917 : 157 P. W. R. 1917 : 39 I. C 451 : 5 P. L. R 1918.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief.

A suit for a declaration by the proprietors of a patti that they have a right to collect village dues and that certain other persons, already settled in the patti, have no such right is not barred by the proviso to S. 42. (Robertson and Rattigan, JJ.) KAMIRA v. LALU. 110 P. R. 1912 : 17 I. C. 907 : 30 P. L. R. 1913.

——S. 42—Further relief—No applicability to claim—Suit.

Proviso to S. 42 of the Specific Relief Act has no application to suits instituted under the provisions of S. 283, Civil Procedure Code, 1882. (Rattigan, J.) SAHIB DIAL v. LAJPAT RAI
10 P. R. 1912 : 74 P. L. R. 1912 : 14 I. C. 510 : 267 P. W. R. 1912.

——S. 42—Further relief—Suit for mere declaration of validity of adoption and of reversionary right.

Where in a suit by reversioners to declare an adoption valid, to declare their reversionay rights and to declare that an alienation was invalid it was held by the Court below that the alienation was valid but that the plffs. were entitled to the other declarations. held, the Court below was right (Phillips and Odgers, JJ.) L TCHAMMA v. APPANNA. 14 L. W. 302 : 41 M L. J. 386 : 70 I. C. 190 : (1921) M W. N. 771.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Omission to ask.

A Court should not throw out a suit on the ground that it is barred by the proviso to S, 42 unless it is quite clear that the plff. ought to seek further relief which he has failed to claim. 17 C. L. J. 30, ref. The further relief contemplated in S. 42 is such relief as flows directly from the declaration sought for and such as a plff. will be able to claim in an ordinary suit by virtue of the title sought to be declared. A dismissed trustee and priest of a temple having a fresh worship is not bound to sue for the joint possession of the temple and its properties, he not being entitled to their possession at the date of the suit. The persons in possession of the temple and its properties on the date of the suit must be held to be holding the properties on behalf of all the trustees and his exclusion was improper and therefore the declaration will be sufficient relief as to the plff's right of possession when his turn comes (Ayling and Krishnan, JJ.) SIVARAMALINGA v. SABHARATNA. 25 M. L. T. 361 : (1919) M W. N. 216 : 9 L. W. 357 : 51 I. C. 822 : 36 M. L. J. 624.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Prior mortgagee's suit for declaration that sale under decree or subsequent mortgage must be subject to his right.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Further Relief—Miscellaneous.

A mortgagee sued for declaration that the mortgaged property should be sold under a decree for sale obtained by a subsequent mortgagee, subject to his own prior mortgage. Held, that the suit was not competent. Since a prior mortgagee can institute a suit for sale against the subsequent mortgagee, the suit for a mere declaration by the prior mortgagee would be opposed to the proviso to S 42 of Sp. Rel. Act. (Sundara Aiyar and pencer, JJ) NARNA BALAYYA v. RUDRAVARAM VENKATAPPA. 11 M. L T. 190 : 15 I. C. 221 : (1912) M. W. N. 414.

——S. 42—Further relief—Not asked effect—Declaratory relief—Power of Courts to grant.

It is now well settled that the power of the Courts in India to entertain suits of a civil nature does not carry with it the general power of making declarations, except in so far as such power is expressly covered by the statute. The plaintiff cannot sue for a mere declaration when a consequential relief is open to him. 49 I.C. 355; 2 I. A. 169, Ref. (Mullick and Ross, JJ.) MAULAVI MAHOMED FAHIMUL HUQ v. JAGAT BALLAV GHOSH. 2 Pat. 391 : 4 Pat. L. T. 675 : 1923 P. 475.

——S. 42 (Proviso)—Further relief.

A Court will not grant a declaration if the real object of the suit is to get a declaration which will enable the plff. hereafter to seek further relief to which plff. is at present entitled. (Mullick and Atkinson, JJ.) SHEO ROTAN RAI v BHIRGOON RAI.

2 Pat. L. J. 481 : 41 I. C. 375 : 1 Pat. L. W. 784.

——S 42 (Proviso)—Further relief—Declaratory suit by real owner—Invalidity of mortgage

A declaratory suit by a real owner that a mortgage by a person in possession does not affect the property, is not repugnant to the proviso to S. 42 of the Sp. Rel. Act (Twomey, J.) MAUNG HMWE v. MA LUN AUNG.

11 I. C. 855 : 4 Bur. L. T. 186.

Interested to deny.

——S. 42—Interested to deny—Deft. denying plff.'s right after suit.

Where deft. denies the plff.'s right to property not before the suit but after its institution, the deft. is interested to deny within S. 42. (Scott, C. J, and Russell, J.) MURWANJI v. SECRETARY OF STATE. 16 I. C. 714 14 Bom. L. R. 654.

——S. 42—Interested to deny—Right to kill ones own cattle.

Where deft has been interested in denying the plff. right to kill his cattle a suit under S. 42. Sp. Rel. Act will lie. (Coxe and Mullick, JJ.) MAHADEO PRASAD v. NABI BAKSH. 25 I. C. 104.

——S. 42—Interested to deny.

In a suit for a declaration that defts. were plff.'s ryots and for an injunction against some of them restraining them from interfering with rights of the plaintiff it was found that some of the defendants had not made an overt denial of the plff.'s rights, yet they were acting in concert and sympathy with those who had, and all the defendants were acting in collusion. Held, that the whole body of the defendants were interested to deny plaintiff's title within S. 42. (Lindsay, J. C.) JANKI SARAN v. WIDOW OF MAHOMED SADIQ. 2 U P.L R. (J.C) 106. 56 I C, 720 : 7 O. L. J. 258.

Jurisdiction.

——S 42—Jurisdiction.

A suit for a declaration that a decree by a competent Court is null and void does not lie. (Banerji and Walsh, JJ.) MAHABIR PRASAD v. BASANT LAL. 17 A. L. J 1028.

——S. 42—Jurisdiction—Declaration that decree is ultra vires cannot be given.

A suit for a declaration that a decree is ultra vires cannot be maintained. (Lindsay and Wazir Hasan, A.J. Cs.) KISHEN DAYAL v. DY. COMMISSIONER PARTABGARH.

59 I. C. 566 : 23 O.C. 342.

——S. 42—Jurisdiction—Suit in Civil Court or cancellation or declaration of invalidity of lease held valid by Revenue Court.

A perpetual lease was upheld by the Revenue Courts. A suit was then brought for a cancellation of the lease or for a declaration of its invalidity on the ground that it was a forgery or that it was executed by a person who had no authority to execute the same. Held, that the decision of the Civil Court on either of those points could not affect the validity or otherwise of the decision of the Board of Revenue in regard to a matter with which it was competent to deal and that a declaratory decree conflicting with the decision of a competent Court having exclusive jurisdiction to decide the matter should not be granted (Kanhaiya Lal, A.J.C.) BADRI v KHURSHED ALI KHAN. 41 I. C. 15 : 20 O. C. 182.

——S. 42—Jurisdiction.

A sale-deed provided that the lands should remain in the proprietary possession of the vendor free from liability for the payment of rent (Bila Lagani). The vendee obtained, however, from the Rev. Court decrees against the vendor for arrears of rent. Subsequently the vendor sued in the Civil Court for a declaration that the land was not liable to pay the revenue, or any other demand and for damages as the words "Bila Lagani" implied that the land was to be liable to pay the revenue if any that might be assessed on the land. Held, that the declaration could not granted as it would trench on the jurisdiction of the Rev. Court 12 O. C. 164 dist., and damages could not be granted as it practically meant a refund of the amounts decreed by the Revenue Court. 7 A. L J. 1064. Ref. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) RAGHUNATHI v. RAM RATAN.

39 I. C. 133 : 4 O. L. J. 68.

Legal Character.

——S. 42—Legal character—Declaratory suit—Hindu reversioner—Alienation by Hindu widow.

When a Hindu widow in possession of her husband's estate executes a deed of gift purporting to convey an absolute interest in the property to one of the reversioners to the exclusion of the other presumptive heirs, those heirs though still reversionary and though they may never get any title (because events may preclude them from doing so) may have a declaration as to the effect of the deed. Such a declaration will necessarily involve a finding that the plffs. are the reversionary heirs. 39 Mad. 634 Dist. (Lord Parker.) SAUDAGAR SINGH v. PARDIP NARAYAN SINGH. 45 Cal. 510 : 4 Pat L. W. 52 : 23 M. L. T. 31 : 16 A. L. J. 61 : 7 L. W. 146 : 27 C. L. J. 186 : 22 C. W. N 436 : (1918) M. W. N. 323 · 20 Bom. L. R. 509 : 45 I. A 21 : 43 I. C. 484 : 34 M. L. J. 67 (P.C.).

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Leagl Character.

——S. 42—Legal character— Reversioner—Decree not to be granted—Brutem fulmen.

During the lifetime of a Hindu widow, a reversioner is not entitled to a declaration that he is the next reversioner to the estate, although he might, in such capacity, sue on behalf of the whole body of reversioners for prevention of waste, etc., by the widow and for protection of the estate.

Where the next reversioners sue the widow in possession alleging waste, mismanagement, etc., but failed to prove their allegations, it is not competent to the Court under cover of a prayer " for further relief " to grant a declaration that they are the next reversioners even though the widow disputed their title as such at the trial. 31 I. A. 67 Dist. 42 I A. 129 Ref. (Lord Shaw.) JANAKI AMMAL v. NARAYANASAMI AIYAR. 39 Mad. 634 : 43 I. A. 207 : 20 M. L. T. 168 : 14 A. L. J. 997 : (1916) 2 M. W. N. 188 : 20 C. W. N. 1323 : 16 Bom. L. R. 856 : 24 C. L. J. 309 : 4 L. W. 530 : 37 I. C. 161 : 31 M. L. J. 225 (P.C.).

——S. 42—Legal character—Suit for declaration by reversioners—Grant of probate—Effect of.

The Court's power to make a bare declaration of title is derived from S 42 of the Sp. Rel Act and regard must be had to its precise terms. Probate of a will granted to the widow of a testator under the Prob. and Admn. Act after hearing the objections of the next reversioners thereupon instituted suit for a declaration that they were the next reversioners to the estate of the testator and, as such, entitled to apply for revocation of the probate. Held, that the suit was not maintainable, as having regard to the decision that the will was genuine, the plaintiffs were not entitled to " a legal character or right to property " within S. 42 of the Sp. Rel. Act 2 I.A. 169, 191 Dist: I.A. Supp. Vol. 149, 162 Rel. The will having been affirmed in a Court exercising appropriate jurisdiction, the propriety of that decision could not in the circumstances be impugned by a Court exercising any other jurisdiction. (Sir Lawrence Jenkins.) SHEOPRASAN SINGH v. RAMNANDAN PRASHAD SINGH. 43 Cal. 694 43 I. A. 91: 14 A. L. J. 466 : 20 C. W. N. 738 : 18 Bom. L. R. 397 : 23 C. L. J. 621 : (1916) 1 M. W. N. 419 : 20 M. L. T. 1 : 3 L. W. 544 : 33 I. C. 914 : 31 M. L. J. 77 (P.C.).

——S. 42—Legal character—Suit by Hindu reversioner during life-time of limited owner.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Legal Character.

A Court will not grant a bare declaratory relief that the plaintiff is the nearest male reversioner during the life-time of the widow or other heiress. (Lindsay and Ryves, JJ.) MUNNU LAL v. RAJA RAM 20 A. L. J. 282 : L. R. 3 A. 247 : 1922 All. 100.

——Ss. 42 and 54—Legal character—Right to receive offerings.

The plffs who were Mahomedans claimed to receive alms given by a pious Hindu at a spot called 'Kubrighat' on the ground that they were interfered with in the enjoyment of that right by the defts. Held, that the plffs. had no legal status as they were mere beggars and had no legal character entitling them to the declaration and that their claim to receive the alms was not a right to property so as to justify a grant of an injunction. (Tudball and Sulaiman, JJ.) BANSI v. KANHAIYA 18 A. L. 983 : 59 I. C. 659 : 43 All 159.

——S. 42—Legal character—Honorary office—Secretary of Association—Dismissal.

A suit by the plaintiff who is the honorary Secretary of an Association rendering voluntary and gratuitous services, for a declaration that a resolution dismissing him is null and void, is not maintainable. 39 A. 527 Ref. (Chamier and Piggott, JJ.) MAHARAJ NARAIN SHEOPURI v. SHASHI SHEKHERESHWAR ROY. 37 All 313 : 29 I. C. 53 : 13 A. L. J. 455.

——S. 42—Legal character—Widow in possession—Suit for declaration as to the nature of her possession—Whether S. 42, a bar.

Where a widow's possession is admitted, a suit for a declaration that she held it as a widow of a deceased member of Hindu joint family and not as heir to a separated member is not barred by S 42 of the Sp. Rel. Act. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) RAM MANOHAR SINGH v. DIBRAJ KUNVARI. 36 All. 126 : 23 I. C. 252 : 12 A. L. J. 66.

——S. 42—Legal character—Agra Tenancy Act, S. 22.

Where during the life time of B. his daughter's son sued for a declaration that he was in joint possession with B of a certain fixed rate holding and a certain occupancy holding, held, that in view of S. 22 of the Agra Tenancy Act the plff. had a legal character within the meaning of S. 42 of the Sp. Rel. Act and his suit was therefore maintainable. (Chamier, J.) MAHENDRA MISRA v. KEDAR PANDE. 14 I. C. 746 : 9 A. L. J 788.

——S. 42—Legal character, includes right of franchise—Election—Suit to set aside—Maintainability.

The words "legal character" in S. 42 of the Act. do include the right of franchise and the right of being elected as a Municipal Commissioner. The plaintiff, who was unsuccessful as a candidate for election as a Municipal Commissioner, sued for a declaration that the election, being in contravention of the plaintiff's right and its franchise, right of election and right of being present at the polling place, was not according to law proper and valid and was ultra vires. and that the election of the defendants was illegal, and he further prayed that they should be restrained by injunction from forming the Municipal Board. Held, that although the words "legal character" in S. 42 of the Specific Relief Act have been held to be wide enough to include the right of franchise and also a right of being elected as a Municipal Commissioner, it was doubtful whether, regard being had to the form of the suit and the declarations asked for, the case came within the words of the section and as such triable by the Court. Assuming that the Court had inherent jurisdiction to entertain the suit, having regard to the circumstances of the case, there was no ground for setting aside the election. (Sanderson, C. J. and Cholzner, J.) THE CHAIRMAN OF THE MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS OF KOTRUNG v. BISSESWAR GHOSE. 68 I. C. 229 : 26 C. W. N. 91.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Legal Character.

——S. 42—Legal character—Suit by voter against Municipality.

A suit for injunction by a voter against the Chairman of a Municipality for his refusal to insert his name in the register of voters on technical grounds is maintainable under C. P. C, S. 9. (Teunon and Newbould, JJ.) MOLLA ATANOL-UQ v. CHAIRMAN OF MANIKOTTA MUNICIPALITY. 24 C. W. N. 969 : 57 I. C. 960 : 48 Cal. 378.

——S. 42—Legal character—Divorced wife.

Plff. sued her late husband for a declaration as to her marriage and the legitimacy of her children. Held, that the plff. who ceased to have the legal Character of a wife 20 years ago was not entitled to ask the Court to make a declaration as to her marriage, for there was no legal character in having been a wife and been divorced. The decree of the Court below as to the legitimacy of one of the children could not stand, for the mother of a child cannot be said to have a legal character as to whether her child who is not a party to the suit is or is not legitimate. (Fletcher and Huda, JJ.) LATIFAN MEAN v. MOORTI JANONA. 49 I. C. 366 : 23 C. W. N. 171.

——Ss 42 and 43—Legal character—Declaration—Mother—Marriage of minor girl by her uncle—Invalidity.

Under the Mahomedan Law the mother even when appointed certificated guardian of the person and property of her minor daughter, has no legal character entitling her to a declaration that the marriage of her daughter with a certain person effected by her uncle is not valid. Nor would it be a proper exercise of judicial discretion to make any such declaration when the minor is not a party to the suit inasmuch as under S. 43 of the Act, the decree would not be binding upon the minor. (Richardson and Beachcroft, JJ.) SONAULLA SARKAR v. TULA BIBI. 45 I. C. 203 : 27 C.L. J 603.

——S. 42—Legal character—Declaration of heirship—Whether may be made before succession opens out--Reversioner, if entitled to a declaration that certain deed is invalid.

A declaratory suit for the establishment of heirship does not ordinarily lie before the succession in regard to which it is claimed has opened out. But a reversioner of a limited estate is however entitled to a declaration that a certain deed is invalid, if the invalidity depends upon facts which may be obliterated by lapse of time (Stephen and Mullick, JJ.) JAGDEEP NARAIN v. JAIBASI KOER. 22 I. C. 928 : 19 C. W. N. 1191.

——S. 42—Legal character—Declaration—Form of.

S. 42 of the Sp. Rel. Act does not sanction every form of declaration but only a declaration that plff. is entitled to a special legal character or right to property. A plff. is not entitled to a declaration that his dismissal from Govt service was in contravention of the Govt. rules. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) RAM DAS HAZRA v. SECRETARY OF STATE. 18 C W. N. 106 : 16 I C. 922 : 17 C. L. J. 75.

——S. 42—Legal character—Exclusive right to officiate as priest, not to be given.

Parties who require religious ceremonies to be performed for their benefit are at liberty to choose the priest by whom those ceremonies should be performed. 14 C. W. N. 1057 Rel Therefore when pilgrims on their way to Gava perform the Sradh ceremony of their ancestors on the banks of the Pumphan the plaintiffs are not exclusively entitled to act as priests along with the defendants. But a declaration may be obtained by him that a person is entitled to officiate as priest for such pilgrims as may choose to employ him and that he cannot be prevented from exercising his calling. (Mookerjee and Teunon, JJ.) DWARKA MISSER v. RAM PROTAP MISSER. 16 C. W. N. 347 : 10 I. C. 41 : 13 C. L. J. 449.

——S. 42—Legal character—Reversioner of lunatic.

A suit by an immediate reversioner of a lunatic for a declaration that a mortgage acquired by the manager of the lunatic's estate in his own name belongs to the lunatic, and thus to safeguard his own interests, is maintainable. (Petman, J.) VIRSING v. HARMANSINGH. 56 I C. 191 : 1 Lah. 137.

——S. 42—Legal character—Reversioner.

Where a minor is the immediate reversioner a next reversioner cannot sue for a declaration on the ground of collusion. (Shah Din, J.) KANSHI RAM v. SARDANAND. 60 P. R 1916 : 33 I. C. 763 : 80 P. W. R. 1916.

——S. 42—Legal character—Right to any property.

A suit by a brother's son for a declaration that an adoption of a daughter's son is invalid when there are two widows and a daughter living, is not maintainable under S. 42 because (1) the plff. cannot be said to be entitled to any legal character or a right to the deceased's property, (2) the remoteness of plff's title in the life-time of the widow, the daughter and the daughter's son would make it incumbent on the Court to exercise its discretion and dismiss the suit. (Smyth, Elsmie, Barkley and Rattigan, JJ.) BARKAT RAM v JAGAT RAM. 17 I. C. 379 : 249 P. W. R. 1912. (F. B.).

——S. 42—Legal character—Consequential relief—Not asked—Suit by Hindu reversioner.

A suit by a reversioner for a mere declaration of his right to succeed as the nearest reversioner on the death of a Hindu widow is not maintainable. (Wallis, C. J. and Krishnan, J.) GURUSWAMI PANDIYAN v. CHINNATHAMBIAR.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42— Legal character.

(1920) M. W. N. 660 : 28 M. L. T. 365 : 39 M. L. J. 529.

———S. 42—Legal character—Joint right of management of charity—Decree form of.

Where the plff. brought a suit for a declaration of his right to participate in the management of a public trust jointly with the deft. who was in sole possession and management, the mere fact that there were others who were like the plff. entitled to the joint management but were not made parties to the suit, is not a reason for dismissing plff.'s suit. (Wallis, C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) MEENAKSHI ACHI v. SOMASUNDARAM PILLAI.
(1920) M. W. N. 507 : 12 L. W. 232 : 44 M. 205 : 59 I. C. 464 : 39 M. L. J. 403.

———S. 42—Legal character—Hindu reversioner—Declaratory suit—Will—Authority to adopt.

A reversioner although he only represents the whole body of possible reversioners and although their interest is possibly only a spes successionis has on their behalf a legal character within S. 42 of the Specific Relief Act and is in a proper case entitled to sue, for a declaration as to the limited nature of a widow's title to her husband's properties where there is a will giving absolute right to the widow. The settting up of a mere authority to adopt by the widow does not give a cause of action (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ), VELLAVAJULA SURAYYA v. SUBBAMMA. 43 Mad 4 : 26 M.L.T. 154 : (1919) M.W.N. 580 : 53 I.C. 498 : 37 M. L. J 405.

———S. 42—Legal character—Right of reversioners to get a declaration of their reversionary interest.

The reversioner to the estate of a male Hindu cannot sue for declaration that they are his next reversioners unless the decision of the question is incidental to the grant of some other relief which they may be claiming. 39 M, 634 Foll. (Wallis, C. J. and Burn, J.) KRISHNA THEVAR v. RAMASWAMY PANNA. 40 Mad. 871 : (1917) M. W. N. 201. 39 I. C. 263 : 33 M. L. J. 277.

———S. 42—Legal character—Reversioner—Alienation by Hindu widow—Declaration of plff's right to inherit.

A reversioner who disputes the validity of an alienation by a Hindu widow and seeks to have it declared invalid as against him, is not entitled to a declaration that he is entitled to inherit the property after the death of the widow. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) VEERAMMAL v. KAMU AMMAL. 30 I. C. 815 : 2 L. W. 850.

———S. 42—Legal character—Personal contract—No suit will lie for a declaration that a valid personal contract subsists.

A suit for a declaration that plff. is entitled to subscribe to a kuri fund does not lie under S. 42 of the Act, as it is not a right to declare a title to a legal character or a title to right to property. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) RAMAKRISHNA PATTAR v. NARAYANA PATTAR. 39 Mad. 80 : (1914) M. W. N. 912 : 26 I. C 883 : 27 M. L J. 634.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42— Legal character.

———S. 42—Legal character--Declaratory suit by reversioner

Suit for declaratory relief to avoid waste or alienation which might prejudice the reversioner will lie but not for declaration of his status as a reversioner. Case law discussed. (Batten and Stanyon, A. J. Cs.) PARWATI v. GOVIND PRASAD. 42 I. C. 737 : 13 N. L. R. 187.

———S. 42—Legal character--Declaratory suit—Maintainability.

A suit is maintainable for a declaration, that a deft. is not the illegitimate son of the plff and that he never had an illicit connection with the deft 's mother. (Kendall, A. J. C.) KAILASA v. RAGHUBIR. 17 O. C. 331 : 26 I C. 526 : 1 O. L. J. 735.

———S. 42—Legal character--Defeated candidate for election.

The words "entitled to a legal character" in S. 42 of the Sp. Rel. Act does not apply to a candidate defeated at an election (Stuart, J. C.) SUNDAR LAL v. MUHAMAD FAIQ. 18 I. C. 122 : 16 O. C. 36.

———S. 42—Legal character — Character or past right.

A suit for the declaration of past right or character is not maintainable. The right or character must be in existence. (Roe and Coutts, JJ.) RAMSUNDAR SAHU v RAMNARAYAN SAHU. 48. I. C. 936 : 1919 Pat. 404.

———S. 42—Legal character—Trespass.

S. 42 of Specific Relief Act does not contemplate suit by persons having no title at all. A suit by a trespasser for declaration that he is a trespasser is not maintainable. (Roe and Imam, JJ.) RUGHUBIR PRASAD v. MISRI KAHAR. 45. I. C. 305 (Pat.).

———S. 42—Legal character—Gayawal gaddi—Declaratory suit.

A person entitled to a gayawal gaddi which is an heriditary office or a business, can sue for a declaration that he is the lawful holder of the gaddi and for possession of the gaddi and its books. (Chamier and Mullick, JJ.) LACHMAN LAL PATHAK v. BALDEOLAL TATHWARI.
3 Pat. L W. 136 : 2 Pat. L. J. 705 : 42 I C. 478 : 1918 Pat. 50.

———S. 42—Legal character—Trespasser.

The essence of S. 42 is a title vesting in the plff. and no suit will lie by a trespasser for a declaration that he is a trespasser. (Sharfuddin and Roe, JJ.) SES LAL SINGH v. HALDHAR NARAIN. 3 Pat. L. W. 69 : 35 I C. 441 : 1 Pat. L. J. 95.

———S. 42—Legal character—Civil Procedure Code, S. 9—Right to office.

The right to hold a certain office in a certain place at a certain season of the year confers upon the holder of that right a legal character so as to enable him to bring a suit to maintain such a right under S. 9, C. P. C. But the right to enter a disciple's house when called by him or to enter it as of right though not called, does not create any legal character to maintain a suit for a declaration of such a right. (Roe and Jwala Prasad, JJ.) HERA PANDEY v. BACHU PANDEY.
1 Pat. L. J. 381 : 35 I. C. 345 : 2 Pat. L. W. 390.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT OF 1877), S. 42—Object of.

Object of.

——S. 42—Object of.

The object of the section is to perpetuate and strengthen testimony regarding title and protect it from adverse attacks. (Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) GANDLA PEDDA NAGANNA v. SIVANAPPA. 38 Mad. 1162 : 16 M. L. T. 310 : 26 I. C. 232 : 27 M. L. J. 520.

——S. 42—Object of—General law—Abstract right.

The policy of S. 42 is to enable Courts to grant relief where no relief is available at common law and not that declarations should be made of abstract rights exclusive of practical equity. A bare denial of a general right is not such an infringement of a right as to justify the granting of a declaration. 30 All. 181 Dist. A declaratory decree should not be passed when it confers practically no benefit on the plff. (Lindsay, J. C.) ORI LAL v. MAHOMMED YAKUB. 1 O. L. J. 496 : 25 I. C. 908 : 17 O. C. 354.

Right to Property.
Cloud on title.
Creditor of Insolvent.
Interest in subject-matter.
Public way.
Reversioner.
Temple property.
Miscellaneous.

Right to property—Cloud on title.

——S. 42—Right to property—Cloud on title—Covenant or pre-emption or reconveyance—Void as offending the rule against perpetuities.

It is open to a plff. to sue for a declaration that he is the absolute owner of lands under a sale deed unaffected by the covenants for pre-emption or reconveyance contained in the sale-deed, on the ground that such covenants offend the rule against prepetuities and are therefore void. (Macleod, C. J. and Kanga, J.) DINKARRAO GANPATRAO v. NARAYAN. 24 Bom. L. R. 449 : 1922 Bom. 84.

——S. 42—Right to property—Cloud on title—Mortgagee when can sue to declare title of mortgagor.

A mortgagee cannot maintain a suit for a declaration of his mortgagor's title to the mortgaged properties so long as his right as mortgagee is not established. (Chatterjee and Newbould, JJ.) SRISH CHANDRA CHATTERJEE v. BASANTA KUMAR SADUKHAN. 33 C. L. J. 380 : 63 I. C. 514 : 25 C. W. N. 552.

——S. 42—Right to property—Cloud on title—Suit for declaration that plff. is owner of properties under partition.

Where notwithstanding a prior private partition between the plff. and his co-sharers, under which the suit properties were allotted to the plff. the deft. applied to the Revenue authorities for partition, the plff. can sue for a declaration that the properties are his absolute properties not liable to partition any more. (Chevis and Leslie Jones, JJ.) ABDULLAH SHAH v. MUHAMMAD BAKAR SHAH. 43 I. C. 127 : 12 P. W. R. 1918.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Right to Property—Creditor of insolvent.

——S. 42—Right to property—Cloud on title—Punjab Land Revenue Act (XVII of 1887), Ss. 117 to 120—Parties directed by Revenue Court to establish their title.

Where in a partition proceedings before a Revenue Court the parties are directed to establish their right to certain land, a suit for mere declaration of title as co-sharer is maintainable. (Robertson and Shah Din, JJ.) PARSRAM v. MUHAMMAD YASIN KHAN. 14 P. W. R. 1912 : 13 I. C. 953 : 150 P. L. R. 1912.

——S. 42—Right to property—Cloud on title—Suit for declaration of title as owner.

A suit is maintainable for a mere declaration of title as owner by inheritance, when one party relies on mutation and the other on girdawari entries, while the land is in possession of mortgagees or tenants and nobody has received any rent from tenants (Lalchand, J.) ABDUL KARIM v. SAHIB JAN. 13 I. C. 947 : 13 P. W. R. 1912.

——S. 42—Right to property—Cloud on title—Female—Mutation of names—Suit by reversioner.

Where a Hindu female who had succeeded to her father's property had a portion of it mutated in the name of the defts. and the predecessor in title of one of the defts. had retained a portion of it to herself. Held, that though there was a transfer of possession, the mutation order had not the effect of transferring the property, nor could the words accompanying the transfer, throw a cloud upon the reversioner's title, and so there was no cause of action for the suit. (Mitra, A. J. C.) UJARIA v. ROSHANLAL. 60 I. C. 343 : 16 N. L. R. 209.

——S. 42—Right to property—Cloud on title—Plaint not showing cause of action—Defendants attitude—If can be considered.

Where plaintiff has a title to the property, any tendency on the part of the defendant to cast a doubt on his title is sufficient to entitle him to a declaration of title. Resistance to plaintiff's title, offered by deft. should be considered by the Court and plaintiff given relief. (Dalal, J. C. and Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) BISHU NATH SARAN SINGH v. SITLA BAKSH SINGH. 10 O. L. J. 315 : 1924 Oudh 69.

Right to Property—Creditor of insolvent.

——S. 42—Right to property—Creditor of Insolvent—Declaratory suit by creditor of insolvent—Leave of Court under S. 16 (2) of the Provincial Insolvency Act.

A suit by an insolvent's creditors with the leave of Court under S. 16 (2). Provincial Insolvency Act, consented to by other creditors for a declaration that a certain mortgage of his has priority over the other mortgages on the property, is not barred by S. 42 Specific Relief Act. (Richards, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) BALMUKUND v. BIRJ LAL. 36 I.C. 1004.

——S. 42—Right to property—Creditor of Insolvent.

A creditor of an insolvent can sue for a declaration that certain property belongs to the insolvent and should be brought in as part of the SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Right to Property—Interest in subject-matter.

insolvent's estate available for creditors. (Fawcett, A. J. C.) LOUIS DREYFUS & Co. v. IAN MOHAMED. 49 I. C. 421 : 12 S. L. R 61.

Right to Property--Interest in Subject-matter.

——— S 42—Right to property—Interest in subject-matter—Declaration suit of daughter for invalidity of adoption by mother—If maintainable.

A daughter merely entitled to maintenance from the property of the deceased, cannot maintin a suit for a declaration that an adoption by the mother is invalid. (Batchelor, C. J. and Kemp, J.) GANESH AMRIT v. RANGANATH MANOHAR. 46. I. C. 49 : 20 Bom. L. R. 413.

——— S. 42—Right to property--Interest in subject-matter—Contingent right.

A mere contingent right is not sufficient for the granting of a declaration. (Brett and Chapman, JJ.) KALIDAS v. PROBAT CHANDRA. 18 I. C. 394 : 17 C. W. N. 964.

——— S. 42--Right to property--Interest in subject-matter—Duty of Court.

In a case under S. 42 of the Act the Courts ought not to give the declarations prayed for, where the plaintiff's right is not established. The plaintiff cannot either be given a declaration upon a ground which is not part of and is not in fact consistent with the case. (Holmwood and Chapman, JJ.) RAMZAN MISTRI v. ZAHUR HUSSAIN. 18 I. C. 241.

——— S. 42—Right to property--Interest in subject-matter—Alienee of permanent tenure.

A person who has purchased a share in permanent transferable tenure is entitled to a declaration of his right to that share and for possession of the same after setting aside a sale held in execution of a decree to which he was not made a party. (Mookerjee and Teunon, JJ.) KALI KUMAR v. BIDHU BHUSHAN. 10 I. C. 382 : 16 C. L. J. 89.

——— S. 42—Right to property — Interest in subject-matter—Right to 'birt'.

A right of a purohit to birt or priestly offerings is in law no 'property' at all but at most a mere spes successionis which cannot form the basis of a declaratory decree. (Rattigan and Shah Din, JJ.) GUR DAS v. BHAG. 96 P. R. 1911 : 143 P. W. R 1911 : 11 I. C. 231 : 216 P L. R. 1911.

——— S. 42—Right to property—Interest in subject-matter—Possession less than 12 years

A person in possession for less than 12 years is entitled to a declaration that he is in lawful possession as against a wrong-doer interfering with the possession. (Miller and Abdur Rahim, JJ.) AYYAPPA RAJU v. SECRETARY OF STATE. 25 I. C. 894 : 37 Mad 298

——— S. 42— Right to property— Interest in subject matter—Purchaser from Hindu widow.

A purchaser from a Hindu widow of property inherited by her from her husband, is entitled to a declaration, that he has the rights possessed by the vendor at the date of sale. Such a sale is not wholly void so as to pass no right to the purchaser. 26 Mad. 334 Ref. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) MUTHU PILLAI v. CHAKRAPANI CHETTIAR. 16 I. C. 205 : (1913) M. W. N. 37

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Right to Property—Public Way.

——— S. 42—Right to property — Interest in subject-matter—Contract of sale— Subsequent execution of mortgage.

A vendee of property in whose favour the vendor has executed an agreement for sale is entitled to maintain a suit for a declaration that a mortgage of the same property, executed by the vendor to a third party subsequent to the said agreement, does not affect his rights. (Sundara Aiyar, J.) KINTADU DALAPADU, In re. 15 I. C. 457 : (1912) M W. N. 902.

——— S. 42—Right to property — Interest in subject-matter—Declaratory suit—When and by whom maintainable.

Where the plff. has no interest in the subject-matter of the suit, his suit under S. 42 is not maintainable, the only person competent to bring the suit being the proprietor to the subject-matter in dispute. (Mullick and Jwala Prasad, JJ.) MAHARAJ BAHADUR SINGH v. GAUDARI SINGH. 2 Pat. L J. 323 : 39 I. C. 868 : 2 Pat. L W. 282.

——— S. 42—Right to property — Interest in subject-matter—Possessory title.

Where neither party is able to prove its title to property in dispute it is open to the plff. in possession for some time short of the statutory period to obtain a declaration of his right to the property. (Maung Kin, Offg, C. J.) THA LIN v. P. K. P, L. PALANEAPPA FIRM. 10 L. B. R. 357 : 64 I. C. 400 : 13 Bur. L. T. 205.

——— S 42—Right to property — Interest in subject-matter.

Where a son lends his father's money with his consent and obtains a pro-note in his name, the father cannot sue for declaration that the pro-note is his. (Pratt, A. J. C) MA NYI MA v. MAUNG YAN SHIN. 57 I. C. 881 : (1920) 3 U. B. R. 204.

——— S. 42—Right to property — Interest in subject-matter—Attaching creditor.

An attaching creditor withdrawing the attachment cannot sue under O 21, R. 63, but he can sue under S. 42 of the Sp. Rel. Act for a declaration that the property sought to be attached belongs to his judgment-debtor. 1 Bur. L. T. 34 14 Bur. L. R. 135 Ref. (Maung Kin, J.) CHAN TAT THAI v. MA LAT. 33 I. C. 124 : 9 Bur. L. T. 89.

Right to Property—Public Way.

——— S. 42—Right to property—Public way—Playing music in public street—If can be declared as a right.

Playing music in a public street cannot be claimed or declared as a right. (Beaman and Heaton, JJ.) VENKATESH APPASHET v. ABDUL KADER. 42 Bom. 438 : 46 I. C. 740 : 20 Bom. L R. 667.

——— S. 42—Right to property — Public way —Highway procession — Obstruction — Special damage.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Right to Property—Reversioner.

Where a marriage procession passing along a public road is obstructed, an action lies on proof of special damage for a declaration of the right to pass along the road and for an injunction restraining the obstruction. Proof of actual obstruction or the use of violence is unnecessary. It is enough to show that owing to the hostile attitude of the obstructors the procession was not able to pass. (Oldfield and Phillips, JJ.) GANAPATHY MOOPPEN v. SUBBA NAYAKKAN 23 M. L. T. 258 : 44 I. C. 834 : (1918) M. W. N. 547.

Right to Property—Reversioner.

——— S. 42—Right to property—Reversioner—Suit against.

A transferee from a Hindu widow can get a decree against the reversioners declaring his right as owner of the property transferred so long as the widow is alive. (Tudball and Lindsay, JJ.) KANDHAI PANDE v. DAECHINA MISRAIN. 60 I. C. 784 : 19 A. L. J 275.

——— S. 42—Right to property—Reversioner—Right to declaration—Alienation by widow or alienee from her.

A Hindu reversioner can sue for a declaration of the invalidity of an alienation made by a transferee from or person holding under a Hindu widow. The nearest reversioner has a right "to the property of the last male owner." "Right" includes a future or contingent right and its denial furnishes him with a cause of action for a suit under S. 42, Sp. Rel. Act. (Rafique and Lindsay, JJ.) BALBHANDER PRASAD v. PRAG DUTT 41 All. 492 : 50 I. C. 938 : 17 A. L J. 765

——— S. 42—Right to property—Reversioner—Gift of husband's estate by widow—Suit by reversioner—Minor.

A suit for a declaration that a gift by a Hindu widow is not binding on the estate of the last male owner must ordinarily be brought by the presumptive reversionary heir. It may be brought by a distant heir if those nearer in the line of succession are in collusion with the widow or have precluded themselves from interfering. The minority of the nearest reversioner entitled to sue is not of itself sufficient to entitle a distant reversionary heir to maintain the suit (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) GUMARAM v. JEHANGIR. 40 All. 518 : 46 I. C. 186 : 16 A L. J. 465.

——— S 42—Right to property—Reversioner—Suit for declaration that gift by widow to daughter is invalid.

In a suit for a declaration by the nearest male reversioner of a Hindu that a gift of the properties by the widow to her daughter and daughter's son is invalid, a decree can be given declaring that the gift to the daughter's son will not bind plff. But no such decree can be given as against the daughter who would inherit on the death of the widow. (Richards, C. J. and Bannerjee, J.) JAINT SINGH v. GOSAIN. 46 I. C. 85 : 16 A. L. J. 493.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Right to Property—Reversioner.

——— S. 42—Right to property—Reversioner—Declaration suit maintainable.

A person died leaving a widow, a daughter and a son. The son died leaving a widow and a son of the latter left as his heir his mother. The mother-in-law of this woman who had no title to the property till then left a will transferring the property of her deceased husband in favour of her daughter. The next reversioners of the lady in possession brought a suit for declaration that the will was void and inoperative. Held, that under S. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, they were entitled to maintain the suit. (Richards and Tudball, JJ.) MUSAMMAT SHEORAJI v. RAMJAS PANDEY. 8 A. L. J. 454 : 9 I. C. 501 : 33 A. 430.

——— S. 42—Right to property — Reversioner—Hindu widow—Will.

Where a Hindu widow sets up a will giving her power to adopt, it is open to a reversioner to sue for a declaration of his reversionary rights and that the will was not genuine. 35 M. L. J. 144 Foll. : 35 Mad. 591 not Foll. (Wallis, C. J. and Ayling, J.) MALLAMPALLI SOMAYYA v. MALLAMPALLI ANNAPURNAMMA. 42 Mad. 699 : (1919) M. W. N. 794 : 26 M. L T. 139 : 52 I. C. 380 : 10 L. W. 25.

——— S. 42—Right to property—Reversioner—Suit for declaration that a will authorising widow to adopt was never executed.

A suit by a reversioner for a declaration that a will said to have been executed by the last male owner to his widow authorising her to adopt a boy was never executed, is maintainable under S. 42. 45 Cal. 510, P.C. Foll. : 35 Mad. 592 not Foll. (Ayling and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) BOBBA PADMANABJUDU v. BOBBA BUCHAMMA. 8 L. W. 335 : 47 I. C. 702 : 35 M. L. J. 144.

——— S. 42—Right to property—Reversioner.

The reversioners, in case of an alienation by a widow which jeopardises their right, can sue for a declaration of the reversionary right. 26 All. 606 Dist. (Sundara Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) SUNKARA RAMIAH v. SUNKARA SUBBAMMA. 13 I. C. 489 : (1912) M. W N. 70.

——— S 42—Right to property—Reversioner—Present interest or not.

There is nothing to prevent persons to sue as reversioners under S 42 of the Specific Relief Act. (Ayling, J.) GOVINDAMMAL In re. 12 I C. 80 : 10 M. L. T. 95.

——— S. 42—Right to property—Reversioner—Present interest or not.

A suit under S 42 lies by a reversioner irrespective of the fact whether he has a present interest in the reversion, when his reversionary rights are denied. (Stuart, A. J. C.) MANNU SINGH v. BACHCHU SINGH. 33 I. C. 183.

——— S. 42—Right to property—Reversioner—Mortgage of property by—Suit by widow.

If a Hindu reversioner mortgages property in the possession of the widow as heir to her husband describing himself as the owner of the property, the widow can maintain a suit for a declaration that the mortgage is void against her interest. (Lindsay, J. C. and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) CHANDRA KUAR v. RAGHUBAR SINGH. 30 I. C. 198 : 2 O. L. J. 195.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Right to Property—Temple Property.

Right to Property—Temple Property.

——— S. 42—Right to property—Temple property—Right to birt—Whether property.

The right of a purohit to birt is no right at all and is not property but a mere spes successionis or contingent right which depends on the pleasure of the judgment for its existence. (Martineau, J.) BISHIN DATT v. KISHEN DITTA. 67 I. C. 439 : 3 Lah L. J. 414.

———S. 42—Right to property—Temple property—Suit by worshippers for declaration that alienation of temple properties is invalid—C. P. C., O. 1, R 8.

Worshippers of a Hindu temple can sue under O. 1, R. 8 of the C. P. C. for a declaration that a permanent lease of the temple properties in favour of the defts, is invalid and not binding on the trust. (Abdur Rahim and Ayling, JJ.) VEERAMACHANANI RAMASWAMY v. SOMA PITCHAYYA. 43 Mad. 410 : 38 M. L. J. 226 : 58 I. C. 585 : (1920) M. W. N. 393.

Right to Property—Miscellaneous.

———S 42—Right to property—Declaration of title—Grant of—Appeal by deft. without title or possession - Improper reversal of decree,

Where the plff. obtains a decree against three defts. declaring his title to immoveable property of which he is in possession, the decree cannot be reversed or set aside on an appeal by one only of the defts. who on his own admission has no title to the property, and who after that admission becomes an impertinent intervener in another person's affairs. (Sir John Edge.) CHANDRAKA BAKSH SINGH v. BIKARAM SINGH. 38 All. 440: 20 C W. N. 1149 . 20 M. L. T. 164 : 4 L. W. 288 : (1916) 2 M W. N. 120 : 18 Bom. L R. 846 : 31 M L. J. 505 : 14 A. L. J. 1024 : 24 C. L. J. 291 : 19 O. C. 141 : 35 I C. 958 : 4 O. L. J. 4, (P. C.).

———S. 42—Right to property—Declaration of title—Shares purchased by firm—Maintainability of—Decree, form of.

A suit for declaration of plff.'s title to a half share in a number of shares in a Limited Company purchased out of a fund, belonging to a firm, which was carried on by the plffs. and the defts. but was subsequently dissolved, is maintainable without settling accounts of the partnership business. The Court cannot direct the Limited Company to register the plffs.' names as share-holders but it should instead, direct the defts. to transfer a half of the shares in suit in favour of the plffs and to lodge the transfer together with the share certificates with the company for registration. (Fletcher and Newbould, JJ.) BROJONDRA KUMAR SAHA v. KALI NATH SAHA. 41 I. C. 77.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Miscellaneous

———S. 42—Right to property—Adoption—Suit by presumptive heir for declaration of its invalidity.

It is competent to the presumptive heirs of a Hindu to maintain a suit for declaration of the invalidity of an adoption made by the widow of the last male owner. 28 Bom. 294 ; 29 Mad. 390 ; 45 Cal 510 Ref. (Broadway and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) RULYA RAM v. BADAMO. 4 Lah. L. J 37 : 1922 Lah. 68.

———S. 42—Right to property.

A suit for declaration of title to use property in respect of which an order under S. 144, Cr P. C. is passed, is not maintainable. (Ayling and Odgers, JJ.) P. BABA SHAH v. K. G. MAHOMED HUSSAIN SAHIB. 42 M. L. J. 179 : 15 L. W 68: 1922 M. 123.

———S. 42—Right to property — Madras Estates Land Act (1908).

The right of a person to be recognized as landholder, under Mad. Estates Land Act, is not a common law right but one created by statute, and if a person seeks to enforce it, the Courts need not impose all the restrictions to which a person seeking the ordinary relief is subjected. (Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) VENNISAMI THEWAR v. CHELLASAMI THEWAR. 13 L. W. 104 . 29 M. L. T. 145 : 62 I. C. 276 : (1921) M. W. N. 193.

———S. 42—Right to property—Mortgage by karnavan—Suit for declaration of invalidity—Declaration of charge—Equitable jurisdiction.

The junior members of a tarwad sued for a declaration that certain mortgages executed by the Karnavan were not binding on the tarwad and for possession. Held, that the result of the Munsif's finding was that the mortgages are not valid as such and that a portion of the money secured benefited the tarwad. The mortgagees would be entitled to a charge for that portion and by resorting to the equitable jurisdiction a Court, while declaring a mortgage to be invalid, can also declare a charge to a limited extent. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) ANGADIPEEDI KOYIL EROTH v. VALLANTUKALA IBRAYAM HAJI. 12 M. L. T. 264 : 16 I. C. 405 : (1912) M. W. N. 993.

——— S. 42—Right to property—Jus tertii not a valid defence.

Deft. in a suit for declaration of title to property can set up Jus tertii when they can show some right in themselves against the plff. or a right in third person through whom they derive such right. They cannot succeed merely by showing superior title in a third person who has absolutely no concern with the suit. (Jwala Prosad and Ross, JJ.) EDAL SINGH v. RAM BAHORI LAL. 62 I. C. 843 : 2 Pat. L. T. 743.

Miscellaneous.

———S. 42—Award—Suit for declaration of invalidity—Arbitration Act, S. 14.

Where an award of arbitrators has not been filed in court it is competent to the plaintiff to institute a suit for a declaration that the award is not binding on him. S. 14 of the Arbitration Act is no bar to the maintainability of the suit. (Le Rossignol and Campbell, JJ.) FIRM OF HIRA NAND MURLI DHAR v. FIRM OF FLEMING SHAW & CO. 4 Lah L. J. 12 : 1922 Lah. 26.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 42—Miscellaneous.

——— S. 42—Suit under—Nature—Limitation.

A suit for declaration of title and confirmation of possession is not a suit for a specific performance and the period of limitation is 12 years. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) AKHIL PRODHAN v. MANMATHA NATH KAR. 22 I C. 86 : 18 C. L. J. 616.

——— S 42—Declaratory suit for removal of nomination of mahant.

A suit lies for removing a mahant, and for declaring the plff.'s right of nominating a new mahant, without any other relief and in such cases removing the mahant would mean only the enabling of the incoming mahant to enforce his right to possession of property. 6 P. R 1895, Foll. 16 Mad. 31; 22 Mad. 117, not Foll. 15 Mad. 15 Dist (Shah Din and Chevis, JJ.) TILAK CHAND v. RAM CHAND. 37 I. C. 105 : 95 P. R. 1916.

——— S. 42—Declaratory decree—Act prohibited by criminal law, if can be permitted to be done—Penal Code. S 296.

A declaratory decree of a Civil Court should not be treated as authorizing an act which is per se a criminal offence, but where there is a dispute between two rival religionists and one of them is charged with an offence under S. 296. I. P. C., a decree declaring the rights of either party might be considered in deciding the guilt or innocence of the accused. (Ayling and Napier, JJ.) MAHOMED HANIF SAHIB v. ANGAPPA MUDALY. 35 I C. 106

——— S. 42—Nature of declaratory relief available.

The moment a declaratory suit can be shown to turn on a complicated question of law or fact, e. g., as to who are reversioners or heirs of the property in suit, the suit itself is entertainable under S. 42, Specific Relief Act. (Chapman and Roe. JJ.) SARIMAN v. SIHNARAIN. 39 I. C. 755 : 1 Pat. L. W. 375.

——— S. 45—Power of High Court.

Where the Legislature says that a public officer, even a Revenue officer, shall do a thing and he without cause or justification refuses to do that thing, the Specific Relief Act would be applicable and there would be power in the Court to compel him to give relief to the subject. S. 45 of the Specific Relief Act enables any of the three High Courts to "make an order requiring any specific act to be done or forborne by any person holding a public office whether of a permanent or a temporary nature, or by any corporation or by any Court of Judicature", provided that "such doing or forbearing is under any law for the time being in force, clearly incumbent on such person or Court in his or its public character or on such corporation in its corporate character" and subject to other certain conditions. The section is not to authorise the High Court " to make any order which is otherwise expressly excluded by any law for the time being in force." (Lord Phillimore.) ALCOCK ASHDOWN & CO. v. THE CHIEF REVENUE AUTHORITY, BOMBAY. 45 M L J. 592 : 47 Bom. 742 : 33 M. L. T. 267 : L. R. 4 P. C. 188 : 18 L.W. 918 : 25 Bom L. R 920 : 21 A. L. J. 689 : (1923 M. W. N. 557 : 50 I. A 227 : 1923 P. C. 138, (P. C.) [On appeal from 23 Bom. L. R. 1132.]

——— S. 45—Reference to High Court under S. 51. Income Tax Act—Application to compel, refused—Leave to appeal Letters Patent Bom. Cl. 39.

Where the petitioners applied to the High Court for an order under S. 45 of the Sp. Rel. Act directing the chief revenue authority to refer a case for the decision of the High Court under S 51 of the Income-tax Act, 1918, and the application was refused by a Division Bench of the High Court, leave to appeal to the Privy Council ought to be granted, where the Division Bench entertained an appeal from the judgment of the single Judge of the High Court. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) ALCOCK ASHDOWN AND CO. v. CHIEF REVENUE AUTHORITY. 64 I. C. 959 : 23 Bom. L. R. 1132.

——— S. 45—Validity of nomination paper—Order of Returning officer—Jurisdiction over—Completion of election.

The jurisdiction under S. 45, Specific Relief Act, is a discretionary one and is also limited by provisions (d) (e) and (h) to the same section. Where a Returning officer rejected a nomination paper and the aggrieved party moved the High Court under S 45, but meanwhile the election had been completed, no action should be taken as any relief awarded would be incomplete. Also in such cases election petition ought to have been made. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) J. N. HALDAR v. S N. MULLICK. 28 C. W. N. 127 : 1924 C. 454.

——— S 45—Change of election roll.

Application to have a nomination of a candidate declared invalid and for reversion of the election roll, cannot be maintained at a late stage. (Chaudhuri, J.) AMULADHAN ADDY In the matter of. 50 I. C. 307 : 46 Cal. 132.

——— S. 45—Mandamus—Calcutta Municipal Act—Sch. IV. Rule 7—Election roll—Application to expunge names—Decision of Chairman.

It is open to an objector under R. 7 (2) of Sch. IV of the Calcutta Municipal Act whose objection has been dismissed by the Chairman to apply to the High Court under S 45 of the Specific Relief Act for an order directing the Chairman to expunge certain names from the Municipal roll. The decision of the Chairman under the rule is not final as there is no provision expressly to that effect. (Greaves, J.) SURENDRA CHANDRA GHOSH In re. 49 I. C. 454 : 45 Cal. 950.

——— S 45—Power of interference by High Court.

Where a certain person purchases land at an execution sale be nami for the judgment-debtor which he himself cannot do legally, the Court will not give him equitable relief by directing the Collector to exercise his powers under S. 167 of the Bengal Tenancy Act nor will the High Court in such a case call upon the Collector under S. 45 of the Specific Relief Act to exercise his authority in any manner whatever. (Holmwood and Walmsley, JJ.) MUHAMMAD SADIQ v DURGA PRASAD 39 I. C. 189 : 21 C. W. N. 342.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 45.

——— S. 45—Suit to compel inclusion of name in an election roll.

The High Court has no jurisdiction in a matter in which by statute, viz. Bengal Medical Act, S. 27 no suit can lie for an act done in pursuance of the rules framed under S. 38 (Woodroffe and Coxe, JJ.) NARENDRA NATH v. STEPHENSON. 31 I. C. 618 : 19 C. W. N. 129.

——— S. 45—Principle underlying jurisdiction under the section.

The principle underlying jurisdiction under the section is that the proceedings can confer no title not already existing though it may consummate one already existing. The first condition required for proceeding under the section is that there must be a personal right and that an injury is threatened to such right. The five conditions laid down in the section are cumulative and all of them must be fulfilled. No order affecting the right, etc., of any parties concerned in the matter can be made unless they are parties thereto. S. 45 provides an exceptional remedy; being discretionary, it must be exercised with caution and the duty sought to be enforced must be clear and obligatory. "Personal right" is not a right in rem. 3 Bom. L. R, 653, Diss. The existence of a legal right is the foundation of every writ of mandamus. Where the duty is conditional on the approval of another person or body being obtained there is no right to the writ, until such approval is given. In all cases where the validity of an appointment is in question no writ can be granted before the validity is declared by suit. (Spelling on Injunctions 2nd ed. p. 1365, Ref.) The writ does not lie to try the title. The writ cannot be made the excuse for obtaining the opinion of the Court on a doubtful point of law. (Chaudhuri, J.) In the matter of A. RASUL. 41 Cal. 518 : 24 I. C. 404 : 18 C. W. N. 430

——— Ss. 45 and 46—Declaration—Nature of—Duty of applicants—Specific and legal right—Discretion of court.

Where an application was made for a declaration under S. 45 of the Specific Relief Act, that a certain order published in the Calcutta Gazette either by the Local Government or by the Board of Examiners of the Pleadership and Mukteardship Examination was ultra vires and that the rejection of the applicant's application and certificate of character at the ensuing examination in 1913 was illegal. Held, that such declaration could not be granted inasmuch as S. 45 required that the applicant should have a legal and specific right to enforce what he seeks to obtain by a declaration and that he should have tried to exercise that right and should have been refused what he was entitled to have. That it was necessary for the applicant to have stated in his application his endeavours to obtain what he was entitled to have and the refusal be met with. And as these provisions were disregarded not only in form but in substance the application could not be entertained. That the Court has to use discretion in case of such application which cannot be granted if the applicant himself has not done the duty which he ought to have discharged. (Jenkins, C.J., Richards, Harington and Mookerjee, JJ.) BOARD OF EXAMINERS v. PROBASH CHANDRA ROY. 17 C.L.J. 354 : 17 C. W. N. 1225 : 18 I. C. 527 : 40 C. 588.

——— Ss. 45 and 46—Mandamus—Declaration—nature of—Applicant to come with clean hands.

There is no justification in Chap. VIII of the Specific Relief Act for a declaration that the Board of Examiners had acted illegally in not entertaining the petitioner's application and his certificate of character at the ensuing examination for 1913 and that a certain order appearing in the Calcutta Gazette passed by the said Board was illegal. No order under S. 45 should be made unless the applicant shows clearly (1) that he has a specific legal right, (2) that he has claimed to exercise it, and (3) that his claim was refused. An application under that section must be founded on an affidavit setting out these three things and in its absence the application must be dismissed. The grant of declaration under S 45 is in the discretion of the Court and an affidavit with unclean hands will not be encouraged. (Jenkins, C. J., Richards, Harington and Mookerjee, JJ.) PROBASH CHANDRA ROY v. BOARD OF EXAMINERS. 40 Cal. 588 : 17 C. L. J. 354 : 18 I. C. 527 : 17 C. W. N 1225.

[Reversing on appeal from 18 I. C. 459.]

——— S. 45—Notes of Magistrate—Power of High Court to direct copy to be given to party.

The High Court has power to direct a Presidency Magistrate to give copies of his notes to a party applicant entitled to get it. (Stephen, J.) EMPEROR v. SAILENDRA NATH. 11 I. C. 499. 15 C. W. N. 770 :

——— Ss. 45 and 46—Mandamus—Enforcement of general law.

A mandamus will never be granted to enforce the general law of the land which may be enforced by action. A complicated title to property will not be tried in mandamus proceedings. (Mookerjee and Teunon, JJ.) KESHO PRASAD SINGH v. SLACKE. 38 Cal 553 : 13 C. L. J. 390 : 10 I. C 253 : 15 C. W. N. 503.

——— S. 45—Mandamus—Police Commissioner acting under Madras City Police Act, S. 41—Decision of a competent Civil Court—Derogation from.

Petitioner filed a motion in the High Court for the issue of a mandamus to compel the Commissioner of Police of Madras to issue a licence to conduct the procession of a Goddess with music along a certain route, the right having been declared by a competent Court. The Commissioner had under S. 41 of the Madras City Police Act (III of 1888) refused on the ground that the procession would cause a breach of the peace. Held, that the Court cannot interfere with the bona fide exercise of the discretion by the Commissioner in the particular circumstance, though it would not permit the refusal to continue indefinitely. But if under colour of exercising discretion the order of the police derogates from a lawful decision of a competent Civil Court, the High Court will compel the police to respect such decision by a writ of mandamus. (Coutts Trotter, J.) In re T. NAGALINGA MUDALIAR. 38 I. C. 927 : 31 M L. J. 426.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S 45.

——S. 45—"Public office," meaning of

'Public office' in the section means any office created by the legislative or any other lawful authority for the purpose of discharging functions which affect the public generally or any particular section thereof and the words "person holding a public office" in the section include incorporated or constituted body corporate. In the case of public duties to be performed by persons holding public offices, a writ of mandamus can be served upon the successor in office of the person who refused to perform his duties and where persons holding the office are a statutory body fluctuating from time to time and who bear an official designation given to them by statute, the proper course is to institute proceedings against the body in its official designation and against each of such persons individually. (Coutts Trotter and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) G. A. NATESAN In re 40 Mad. 125 : 33 I. C. 847 : 31 M. L. J. 634

——S. 45—Land acquisition case.

The proper remedy of a person who is aggrieved by the action of the Land Acquisition Officer in not referring his case to the judge, is to apply under the section. (Abdur Rahim, O. C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) MESSRS. BEST AND CO., LTD v. DEPUTY COLLECTOR OF MADRAS 20 M. L T. 388 : (1916) 2 M W. N. 348 : 36 I. C. 621 : 4 L. W 535.

——S. 45—Application for mandamus—contents.

An application for mandamus should state clearly the specific act or forbearance and the individual against whom it is directed. (Bakewell, J.) VIJIARAGHAVALU PILLAI In the matter of. 24 I. C. 134 : 26 M. L J. 310.

——S. 45 (a) and (c)—Mandamus—Powers of High Court—Limits of.

The High Court should exercise the powers given by S 45 of the Act subject to the conditions specified in the provisos to the section. The conditions specified in provisos (a) to (c) of the section are cumulative. The jurisdiction is discretionary and subject to considerations of the importance of the case or of the principle involved in it of the delay on the part of the applicant or of the merits of the case where remedy would be infructuous, mandamus will not issue. (Sanderson, C. J. and Woodroffe, J.) MANI LAL NAHAR v. MOWDAD. 48 I. C. 736 : 22 C. W. N. 951.

——S. 45 (d), (e)—"Specific and adequate remedy"—Meaning of—Remedy when complete.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 53.

"Specific and adequate remedy" in S. 45 (d) refers not to a general right of suit which must, unless expressly barred, always exist, but to some specific remedy expressly given by a particular act. If the High Court were to express judicial opinion in the course of injunction proceedings that certain land acquisition proceedings were illegal and ultra vires, it must be assumed that the Local Government as the Land Acquisition authorities will stay their hands in view of the decision. (Greaves, J.) In re MANICK CHAND MAHATAB v. THE CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA AND THE IMPROVEMENT TRUST. 66 I. C. 600 : 48 Cal. 916.

——S. 45 (h)—Income-tax Act, S. 51—Application to compel reference under, cannot lie—Government of India Act S. 106 (2).

S. 106 (2) of the Government of India Act and S 52 of the Income-tax Act prohibit the High Court from entertaining any application under S. 45 of the Specific Relief Act for compelling the Revenue Board to refer the matter to the High Court under S. 51 of the Income-tax Act. Issuing an order under S 45 of the Specific Relief Act is an exercise of riginal jurisdiction under S. 106 (2) of the Government of India Act. (Wallis, C. J. and Oldfield, J.) THE CHIEF COMMISSIONER OF INCOME-TAX, MADRAS v. THE NORTH ANANTAPORE GOLD MINES, CO. LTD. 44 Mad. 718 : 41 M L. J. 177 : (1921) M. W. N. 502 : 64 I. C. 682 : 14 L. W. 108.

——S. 46—Service of rule on party interested to show cause.

Obiter :—Every rule issued under S. 45 upon an application under S. 45 shall call not only on the public servant, corporation, or inferior Court but also on any other person who may be affected by the act to be done or foreborne to show cause. (Mookerjee and Teunon, JJ.) KESHO PRASAD SINGH v. SLACKE. 38 Cal. 553 : 13 C. L. J. 390 : 10 I. C 203 : 15 C. W. N. 503.

——Ss. 52 and 54—Person building on another's land in spite of protest—Compensation if adequate relief.

Where a person builds on another man's property against his will and in spite of his protest, pecuniary compensation is no adequate relief and the injured person is entitled to an injunction. 38 Bom. 298 Fol. 33 Cal. 203 : 3 N L R 114 Dist. (Batten, A. J. C.) BHAOSINGH v. HAZARI. 13 I. C. 862 : 7 N. L. R. 179.

——S. 53—Injunction—Suit for.

If there is any occasional disturbance in the enjoyment of the right of fishery an action is allowable for injunction. If there is exclusion, the proper way is to sue for ejectment. (Chamier, J.) SHARIF AHMED v. EMPEROR. 12 I. C. 305 : 12 Cr. L. J. 536 : 8 A. L J. 1097.

——S. 53—Temporary injunction—Arbitration—Reference under contract—Denial of contract.

Where a contract is impeached on equitable grounds such as fraud, mistake or surprise, the

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877). S. 53.

Court may restrain arbitration proceedings commenced under it by issuing an injunction ; but no such injunction should be granted when the contract is merely denied. The Court would not grant an interlocutory injunction restraining proceedings which are null and futile, although the same may be vexatious 31 W. R. 490 and 8 T. L. R. 281 Foll. L. R. (1895) 1 Q. B. 253 and 11 T. L R 409 Ref. (Rankin, J.) SARDARMULL v. AGAR CHAND MAHATA. 52 I. C. 588 : 23 C. W. N. 811.

———S 53—Temporary injunction—Substantial question in controversy.

Where a co-owner builds on the land to the prejudice of the other co owner and the latter sues for his only remedy, partition, a temporary injunction should be granted if there is a substantial question in issue to maintain the status quo to the necessary extent. 21 I. C 861, Ref. to. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) HEMANT KUMAR ROY v. BARANAGAR JUTE CO., LTD. 20 C. L. J. 441 : 24 I. C. 313 : 19 C. W. N. 442

———S. 53—Temporary injunction—Mandatory form.

The description of temporary injunctions in S. 53 does not exclude injunction of a mandatory nature. A temporary injunction may be issued to restrain a person from further erection of a building and at the same time direct that he should pull down as much of it as he has erected after he became aware of the institution of the suit. 41 Cal 436, Foll. (Spencer and Srinivasa Aiyengar, JJ.) KANDASWAMI CHETTY v SUBRAMANIA CHETTY. 41 Mad 203 : 6 L. W. 140 : (1917) M. W. N. 501 : 41 I.C. 384 : 33 M. L. J. 448.

———S 54.

Cause of action.
Co owners.
Easement.
Encroachment.
General right.
Nuisance.
Scope of.
Waste.
Miscellaneous.

Cause of action.

———S. 54—Cause of action—Trade mark—Injunction—Points of similarity and dissimilarity—Test.

The defendant began to sell a certain patent medicine encased in such a way that the ordinary customer might easily think it was another similar one of the plaintiff. In an action for injunction restraining the defendant from so doing, held the test to apply in such a case would be the points of similarity and not the points of dissimilarity. The fact that the plaintiff's medicine was not an efficacious one, was no reason for refusing him the legal protection he claimed. (Meares C J. and Banerjee, J.) CHETERPAL SHARMA v. JAGANNATH DAS. 44 A. 608 : L. R. 3 A. 344 : 20 A. L. J. 537 : 4 U. P. L R. A) 185 : 1922 All. 178

———S. 54—Cause of action—Infringement of right—Use of Trade name.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 54—Co-Owners.

A person shall not trade under a name, resembling that of the plaintiff where there is a similarity between two names it is an injury to the plaintiff's rights when the defendant assumes the name complained of. It is not necessary that an intelligent section of people should be deceived, but the public at large. An injunction is granted when there is fear of ordinary people being deceived. (Mulla, J.) THE NATIONAL BANK OF INDIA v. THE NATIONAL BANK OF INDORE. 24 Bom. L R 1181 : 1923 B. 119.

———S. 54—Cause of action.

Where the order of discharge of trying Magistrate is set aside by the District Magistrate, simply because of difference of opinion, the complainant may sue for injunction in Civil Court. (Scott-Smith, J.) NASIR-UD-DIN v. ABDUL AZIZ. 17 Cr. L. J. 161: 33 I C. 641: 20 P. W. R. 1916 (Cr).

———S. 54—Cause of action—Dismissal of Somudayi—Pleading and proof.

In a suit by the Uralans of a Malabar dewaswom for an injunction restraining the deft. a Samudayi from interfering with the dewaswom, the plffs. must allege and prove that the Samudayi had been validly dismissed before suit. An injunction cannot be asked for against a person whose employment, whatever its exact nature, entitles him to the exercise of the rights proposed to be restrained, without at first validly terminating the said employment 33. Mad. 162, Dist. (Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) DAMODARAN NAMBUDRI v. GOVINDAN NAIR. 53 I. C 229 : 37 M. L. J. 307.

Co-owners.

———S 54—Co-owner—Wrongful use by one co-sharer of joint property—Necessity of proving substantial injury.

In a suit for an injunction against a co-sharer for wrongful use of a joint land it is not necessary to prove that the plff. is suffering or is likely to suffer substantial injury by such user. 8 All. 115, foll. 9 All. 661, not foll. (Walsh, J.) GHASITU v. SODHAN SINGH. 32 I C. 690.

———S. 54—Co-owners.

Plff. mortgagees enjoyed the property for several years as tenant-in-common with defts. A suit for permanent injunction against the defts. to restrain them from obstruction is not a suit for partition but a suit for a declaration of the mortgagee's right. (Chandavarkar and Hayward, JJ.) BAI SAMARAT v. SARDAR SINGH. 12 I. C. 381 : 13 Bom. L. R. 905.

———S. 54—Co-owners—Joint Hindu family.

Injunction should not be granted to one member of joint family against others Where plaintiff is not entitled to sole possession and defendant has a right to part-enjoyment, the proper remedy is a suit for partition and not for injunction. (Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) SHRINIVASA v. NARAYAN. 11 L W. 606 : 56 I. C. 608 : (1920) M. W. N. 364.

———S. 54—Co-owners— Common lane—Construction of drain—Nuisance.

Where one of two co-owners of a lane constructs a drain in it, no injunction can be issued restraining him from doing so at the instance of another co-owner, unless the latter proves the construction of the drain to be a nuisance to him (Coutts Trotter and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) LOGAMBAL v. VAITHIANATHA IYER.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 54— Co-owners.

30 I. C. 768.

——— S. 54—Co-owners—Building.

A joint owner cannot prevent by injunction the carrying out of a necessary work by another co-owner, on property held in common. (Abdur Rahim and Ayling, JJ.) KUTTAYAN v. MAMMANNA RAVUTHAN. 18 I. C. 195 : 35 Mad. 681.

Easement.

——— Ss. 54 and 55—Easement—Disturbance—Substantial or trivial—Injunction—Damages—Construction complete pending suit.

In a case of disturbance of easement the plff. is entitled to an injunction rather than to damages. It is open to him to be content with damages. The law does not concern itself with a disturbance which is trivial or immaterial. Where the plff. comes into Court at once when the disturbance is threatened and the deft. completes his construction pending the suit he does so at his own peril. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) GAJADHAR v. KESHAV LAL. 28 I. C. 962 : 13 A. L. J. 385.

——— S. 54—Easement—Obstruction to light and air—Proposed building—Form of order

Where the plaintiff brings a suit to restrain the defendant from interfering with the access of light and air to his building by a construction proposed by the defendant, the form of decree is not always that contained in form 15 of Appendix B of C.P. Code. It is quite true that it is the form prescribed for a decree in a quia timet action asking for an injunction against a building higher than the old level. That form is the common form of injunction which has been used in England ever since the cases of Yates v Jack, (1866) L. R. 1 Ch. 295, but it is obvious, when reference is made to the Easements Act that this form is appropriate as expressing what the Court should direct if the plaintiff succeeds in a quia timet action. Though the plaintiff may have an easement of light and air for all the windows which obtained light over the defendant's old buildings he has no cause of action against the defendant unless he threatens to disturb his enjoyment of his easement. Therefore if he succeeds in proving that he is entitled to an injunction, restraining the defendant from disturbing the easement, to the enjoyment of which he has been held to be entitled. By S. 32 of the Easements Act, the owner of a dominant heritage is entitled to enjoy an easement without disturbance by any other person. What amounts to an actionable disturbance is defined in S. 33 of the Act. When the defendant is so enjoined it will depend upon the future character of his building whether he has disobeyed the injunction in such a way as to give rise to a right of action. An injunction was issued in the case by "perpetually restraining the defendants from disturbing the easements to which the plaintiff is entitled in respect of the windows of the south wall of the premises mentioned in the plaint which were held to be ancient windows save in so far as they were obstructed by the defendant's old building," (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) BAIKASHI BAI v. PURSHOTTAM KESHAVJI.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 54— Easement.

25 Bom. L. R. 239 : 1923 Bom. 196.

———S. 54—Easement—Imposition of additional burden - Effect of—Acquiescence.

A plff. can seek relief by means of an injunction within the period of Limitation against a party seeking to establish an easement against him. There may be cases where it would be inequitable on account of the plff's acquiescence over a period of less than 20 years to grant the relief. If on account of the acquiescence the cost of obeying the injunction would be very much greater than it otherwise would have been, or even prohibitive, then I agree that the court ought to penalise the plff. for his neglect to assert his right earlier. In other cases injunction might be issued. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) KASHIBHAI KALIDAS v. VALLABBHAI. 24 Bom. L. R. 305 : 1922 Bom. 63.

——— S. 54—Easement—Right to catch fish on one's own land--Extent of Injunction.

Every person possesses a natural right to catch fish, which are res nullius, while on his land. A man, who has exercised his natural right of catching fish on his own property for more than 20 years, does not thereby acquire the right to prevent everybody else holding land in the vicinity from exercising a similar right. (Beachcroft and Walmsley, JJ.) KALENDER MANDAL v. AJIMUDEE MANDAL. 40 I. C. 135 : 21 C. W. N 599.

———S. 54—Easement— Right to water of tank declared by decree—Interference.

When a decree by a competent court grants a right to the use of water in tank to a person, injunction should be granted to restrain the owner from interfering with such right by filling up the tank, on the ground that it was a breeding place of weeds and insects, especially when the party acquiring the easement is willing to clear the weeds. (Fletcher and Teunon, JJ.) AUT BEHARY GUDI v. RAMESWAR MITRA. 35 I. C. 40.

——— S 54—Easement—Light and air—Obstruction to—Erection of buildings—Damages—Discretion of court.

Where in consequence of the obstruction the plaintiff had less light and air than before to such an appreciable degree as to injure his property in point of value, comfort, convenience, or usefulness according to its character as a residence or a place of business or warehouse an injunction is the proper remedy where substantial and wrongful injury had been done to the plff's rights. 8 P. R. 1909; 308 P. L. R. 1913; 14 C. 839 : 1 L. W 166 Rel. Though it would be possible for the plaintiff to open another window on the opposite wall or one of the other wall and it might be a neighbourly act on his party to meet the defendant in this way, he is not legally bound to do so and is entitled to enjoy the light and air that he has been enjoying through the window for over 20 years. 2 P. R. 1893 Rel. In cases of this kind, injunction is the rule and damages the exception. (1911 1 M. W. N 251 : 8 B. 95 Rel. (Broadway, J.) THAKAR DAS v. ABDUL HAMID.

67 I. C. 288 : 2 L. L. J. 701.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 54—Easement.

——— S. 54—Easement—Wall closing skylight—Damages, whether adequate relief.

That a person would acquire easement over the property of another by prescription is no reason of preventing him from building up upon his lane provided he does not interfere with the right of another. Deft. built a wall and closed up a sky light in the plff.'s room which was the only aperture for ventilation into the latter's room, and thus rendered the room useless. Held. (1) that an injunction may be granted, as a pecuniary compensation would not afford adequate relief; (2) that the demolition of the wall would cause deft. considerable loss was no reason for refusing the plff. the due relief. 2 Bom. 133; 13 Bom. 674; 12 All. 436. (Shadi Lal, J.) NARBADA SAGAR v. MADAN LAL. 38 I. C. 148.

———S 54—Easement—Support—Right to—Actual damage.

Actual damage is not necessary to entitle a person having the right to support, to an injunction, and the rule requiring damage is applicable only to an action for damages. The rule is not applicable where the disturbance is of a right of easement to superficial support. Quaere:—Whether the right of support claimed depends upon whether the structure in respect of which it is claimed is permanent or temporary or upon how long the structure was on the lands. (Sundara Iyer and Ayling, JJ.) RAMAKRISHNA IYER v. SEETHARAMA IYER. 37 Mad. 527 : 15 I. C. 294 : (1912) M. W. N. 1117.

———Ss. 54 and 56—Easement—Obstruction to light and air.

Where there is substantial deprivation of light and air, the proper relief to grant is injunction and not damages. Even if it be possible for the plaintiff to neutralise the effect of the defendant's building by altering his own building, compensation in money is no adequate relief. (White, C. J. and Sankaran Nair, J.) RAMANJULU NAIDU v. APPAJRANJI AMMAL. (1911) 1 M. W. N. 251 : 9 M. L. T. 383 : 9 I. C. 417 : 21 M. L. J. 313.

———S. 54—Easement—Right to discharge rain water—Form of decree.

Where a person had enjoyed a right of easement as to the flow of rain water from his house for 40 years, he is entitled to an injunction restraining the opposite side from interfering with the exercise of the right. In granting relief to the holder of easement the Court ought not to place galling restrictions on the opposite side, provided the holder gets what he wants. (Stuart, J. C.) RAM LAL v. MAKHAN LAL. 55 I. C. 710 : 7 O. L. J. 308.

———S. 54—Easement—Right of privacy—Invasion of—Damages

A mere invasion of plaintiff's right of privacy is in sufficient to entitle him to an injunction. There must be a threat of disturbance sufficient to cause substantial damage to plff. or in other words, it must amount to a nuisance, which in law implies substantial damages. The damage must not be merely sentimental or trifling; but in considering whether the property of the plff. is in fact injured or his comfort or convenience in fact materially interfered with, by an alleged nuisance, regard is had to the character of the neighbourhood and the pre-existing circumstances. (Fawcett, J. C. and Kemp, A.J.C.) SHAH MAHOMED v. RAMZAN. 66 I. C. 833.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 54—Encroachment.

——— S. 54—Easement—Light and air—Proposed obstruction to—Injunction.

Where the defendant's proposed building would interfere with the plaintiff's right of easement and deprive the plff.'s rooms of light and air thus rendering them less substantially useful for residence than before and the defendant has not begun to build, an injunction should be granted as damages would not afford adequate relief. (Pratt, J. C. and Crouch, A J.C.) HARDAS MAL v. KANDABAI. 20 I. C. 544 : 7 S. L. R. 21.

———S. 54—Easement — Light and air—Remedy.

Where the blocking of an aperture for light and air leaves the house as substantially useful as before the case, is for damages and not for injunction. (Pratt, J. C. and Crouch, A.J.C.) MOLUMAL v. JAVHERMAL. 19 I. C. 908 : 6 S. L. R. 265.

Encroachment.

——— S. 54—Encroachment—Trees overhanging—Damage.

Where trees belonging to one person overhang another's land, the latter has a right to cut off the overhanging portion of the trees and also to maintain an action for an injunction. (Shah and Kemp, JJ.) JOSHI v. OKA. 43 Bom. 164 : 47 I. C. 629 : 20 Bom. L. R. 826.

———S. 54—Encroachment—Suit for mandatory injunction—Limitation Act, Sch. I, Art. 120.

In a suit for mandatory injunction directing the deft. to restore certain encroached lands to its original condition, it is for the plff. to prove that the encroachments were made within six years prior to suit. The Court cannot act merely on the surmise that the encroachments are recent. Where an encroachment of land has been acquiesced in and no action is taken within a reasonable time, a Court cannot interfere under S. 54 because the party cannot be deemed to have suffered injury. (Rattigan, J.) GANDA SINGH v. NATHU RAM. 77 P. W. R. 1912 : 13 I. C. 661 : 151 P. L. R. 1912.

———Ss. 54 and 55—Encroachment—Wall.

Where the deft. encroached on plff's wall but the plff. could not prove any particular damage, Held, per Phillips, J. that plff. was not entitled to a mandatory injunction, but only to some damages. Though a plff. is generally entitled to injunction along with damages in a case of trespass on his immoveable property, yet where he could not prove the extent of the encroachment or any material injury, an injunction should be refused. Per Abdur Rahim, J.—Though an injunction, is a remedy in equity and at the Court's discretion, in a case of continuing trespass on plff.'s immoveable property which amounts to an ouster of the plff. from the land encroached upon and plff. is not guilty of laches, the plff. would be entitled to ejectment of deft and mandatory injunction in addition to damages, even though he did not suffer material injury. The maxim de minimus non curat lex has no application to the law of trespass. (Abdur Rahim and Phillips, JJ.) SOMASUNDARAM CHETTY v. BAPPU. 10 M. L. T. 473 : 12 I. C. 635 : 22 M. L. J. 62.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877). S. 54—General right.

General right.

——S. 54 (c)—General right—Right of Pragwal to use flag—Injunction.

The right of Pragwals at the sacred, confluence of the rivers at Allahabad is a right both heritable and enforceable at law and a suit for injunction by one Pragwal to restrain another from using a similar flag in the exercise of the right, is maintainable (Piggott and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) BENI MADHO v. HIRA LAL.
18 A. L. J. 679: 59 I C 873: 2 U. P. L. R. (All) 227.

——S. 54—General right—Injunction—Opening door on public street—Objection—Special damage.

The opening by a person of a door on an old public street cannot be prevented by another unless the latter can show some special damage to himself, even if the soil was originally his property. (Johnstone, J.) MAM CHAND v. BUD RAM.
179 P. L. R 1914: 24 I. C. 902: 80 P. W. R. 1914.

——S. 54—General right—Highway procession—Obstruction.

Every citizen has a right to go in procession in a public street and an infringement of the right will be restrained by injunction. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Kumaraswamy Sastri, JJ.) ANDI MOOPAN v. MUTHUVIRAMMA REDDI.
29 M. L. J. 91: 29 I. C. 248: 17 M. L. T. 453.

——S. 54 (c)—General right—Rights to river water—Injunction.

Each owner through whose land the river flows has a right to use the same, but subject to similar rights of other owners. And therefore an injunction can be granted against an owner restricting him from erecting dams so as to cause material injury to other owners. (Chamier, J. C.) SHEO NARAIN SINGH v. CHANDRI BAI. 10 I. C. 181.

——S. 54—General right—Religious office—Suit to restrain persons from officiating.

An injunction will not be granted restraining a priest from officiating in private houses. Nor will a suit lie against any member of a family of priests for an account of their earnings as such 1 Pat. L. J. 381 and 20 All. 234, Ref. (Roe and Coutts, JJ.) LUTAN PANDEY v. PRAYAG PANDEY.
49 I. C. 383: 4 Pat L. J. 53.

Nuisance.

——S. 54—Nuisance—Noise—Discomfort.

Though it is correct to say that a person living in a manufacturing town cannot expect the same freedom from noise as a person living in the country, it does not justify a business which involves a violent hammering on iron in a room separated only by a partition wall from the house of the plaintiff. In the latter case, an injunction would be issued restraining the nuisance. (Daniels, J.) HULAS RAI v. SOHANLAL.
1923 All. 443 (1).

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 54—Nuisance.

——S. 54—Nuisance—Power of Court.

Where a nuisance only diminishes the comforts of human life, there is always the question whether the Courts will proceed against the defendant by an injunction or compensate the plff. in damages. (Beaman, J.) BAI BHICAIJI v. PEROJSHAW JIVANJI.
40 Bom. 401: 38 I. C. 192: 17 Bom. L. R 1040.

——S. 54 — Nuisance — Offensive smell — Principles on which injunction is granted set out.

The principles on which a Court acts in granting an injunction in preventing a nuisance likely to be committed, are these:—"The Court will not in general interfere until an actual nuisance has been committed; but it may, by virtue of its jurisdiction to restrain acts which, when complied with, will result in a ground of action, interfere before any actual nuisance have been committed where it is satisfied that the Act complained of will inevitably result in a nuisance. The plaintiff, however, must show a strong case of probability that the apprehended mischief will in fact arise in order to induce the Court to interfere". There are at least two necessary ingredients for a quia timet action. There must, if no actual damage is proved, be proof of imminent danger, and there must also be proof that the apprehended damage will, if it comes to be very substantial. Plaintiffs were the owners of certain houses and a temple frequented by orshippers on one side of the road. On the opposite side the defendants had a jute mill in which there were several sceptic tanks from which it was alleged that offensive smells emanated and complaints had been made from time to time by the plaintiff. In July 1919 the plaintiffs wrote to the defendants stating that they had been informed that the defendants were about to erect another tank opposite to the plaintiff's premises and alleging that nuisance and inconvenience were likely to arise therefrom and asking them to abstain from the erecting the sceptic tank at that particular place. The defendants did not reply to the latter with the result that in August 1919 the plaintiffs brought a suit for an injunction restraining the defendants from constructing the tank. An interim injunction was issued pending the trial and it was established by the evidence that the use of the sceptic tank had been approved by proper authority and by qualified scientific men as a proper system in the neighbourhood and that the new sceptic tank if properly kept would emit no smell and cause no nuisance, Held that no injunction could be granted, as it was quite possible by the use of due care to prevent offensive smell emanating from the new tank. The Court however declared that the dismissal of suit was without prejudice to the right of the plaintiff to take such further proceedings as might be necessary in case the new sceptic tank proved to be a nuisance in the future. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) AMARENDRA NATH DEY v. BARANAGORE JUTE FACTORY CO., LTD. 49 Cal. 1059: 1923 Cal. 271.

——S. 54—Nuisance—Working of factory—Restriction on.

In a suit for an injunction to restrain a nuisance caused by the working of a factory at night

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S, 54—Nuisance.

if the plaintiff succeeds, the decree should direct the defendant to refrain from carrying on the working of the factory in such a manner as to occasion a nuisance to the plaintiff. An absolute prohibition against the working of the factory during specified hours is unwarranted. (Broadway and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) CHIRAGH DIN v KARIM BAKHSH. 64 I. C 169.

——— Ss. 54 and 55 — Nuisance—Statutory body—Damages—Injunction.

A plff who has established that his common law right has been invaded is entitled to an injunction to prevent a recurrence of that violation The fact that the Legislature has provided for the payment of compensation for damages caused by the exercise of statutory powers is no bar to the grant of an injunction. (Twomey, C. J. and Young, J.) BURMA RAILWAYS CO., LTD. v. RANGOON MUNICIPALITY. 10 L. B. R 203 : 59 I. C. 823: 13 Bur. L. T. 62.

Scope of.

——— S. 54—Scope of—Injunction when to be granted.

Before an injunction can be granted, the applicant, must establish a legal right in himself, show an actual or threatened invasion of that right and must prove that the wrongful act complained of or apprehended will be repeated or done, if not restrained by the Court. (Mears, C.J. and Banerji, J.) MUHAMMED IBRAHIM v. CHANDAN SINGH. 63 I. C. 727: 3 U. P. L. R. (A.) 187.

——— S. 54—Scope of—General injunction—Mention of particular acts unnecessary.

It is always undesirable that an order should be made for bidding a party enjoined generally from doing particular acts If once the Court enjoins the defendant against particular acts there is no limit to the number of acts which might have to be mentioned. The general injunction is sufficient. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) KASHINATH HARI BONDALE v VISHWANATH BHIKO. 1923 Bom. 409.

——— S. 54—Scope of—Perpetual injunction.

The plff. in a suit for injunction must prove that the opposite party has done something towards infringing the plaintiff's rights or it is so clear that he is on the point of doing something which will infringe the plff's. right so that there is prospect of irremediable injury being suffered by the plff. unless he takes steps to stop the defendant's action. (Macleod, C.J and Heaton, J.) GOVINDLAL MANEKLAL v. ICHHA VAGHA. 57 I. C. 414 : 22 Bom. L. R. 723.

——— S 54—Scope of—Obligation—Sacred tree—Perpetual injunction.

'Obligation' under S. 54 of the Act, is a tie bond constraining a person to do or to suffer something ; it implies a right in another person to which it is correlated and it restricts the freedom of the obligee with reference to definite acts and forbearances, but it must be a legal obligation, not merely moral, social or religious to be enforced by a Court of law. Therefore, a perpetual injunction cannot be granted to restrain the execution of a decree for removal of a nim tree on the ground that it is a sacred one, for the reason that there is no breach of any obligation, i.e. of a duty enforceable by law within the meaning of S. 54 of the Act (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) BHUDEB MOOKERJEE v. KALACHAND. 66 I. C. 536 : 34 C. L. J. 315.

——— S. 54—Scope of—Suit in foreign Court about same subject-matter—Injunction not to prosecute not to be granted.

A defendant in a pending suit should not be restrained from commencing and prosecuting a suit in a foreign Court to enforce rights acquired within the jurisdiction of the foreign Court against the same plaintiff under the law of that foreign country. At any rate it is an essential condition that an injunction should be applied for very promptly and that it should not be applied for after a considerable amount of time and trouble has been expended in the foreign suit. (Rankin, J.) TIKAMCHAND SANTOK CHAND v. SANTOK CHAND SINGHI. 59 I C. 218 : 24 C. W. N. 735.

——— S. 54—Scope of—Temporary injunction—Specific performance of contract for sale—Concealment of facts.

A temporary injunction will be granted to a plaintiff restraining defts, from selling property to a third person owing to the pendency of a suit for specific performance of contract for sale, where the permission necessary to sell the property was obtained owing to certain facts being not brought to the notice of Court granting it. (Teunon and Beachcroft, JJ.) MANARANJAN SADHUKHAN v. BIRENDRANATH DUTT. 57 I. C. 847.

——— S. 54—Scope of.

In order to entitle plff. to a perpetual injunction he must establish that the injunction is required to prevent a breach of an obligation as defined in Specific Relief Act, S. 3. But an injunction cannot be granted when equally efficacious relief can certainly be obtained by any other usual mode of proceeding. (Mookerjee and Fletcher, JJ.) RAM KISEN JOYDOYAL v HOORAN MULL. 56 I. C. 571 : 31 C. L J. 259.

——— S. 54—Scope of—Perpetual injunction—Relief when granted—Injury—Mining rights.

To get an injunction , the plff. must show a strong case of probability that the apprehended mischief will in fact arise He must show that the act complained of, is in fact a violation of his right or at least is an act which if done will necessarily result in a violation of his right. The mere prospect or belief is not sufficient. There must be proof direct or indirect of the existence of an intention in the defendant to do the act complained of. Where a purchaser of the rights of a lessee of a coal mine claims the right to take away the entire coal, the Court is competent to grant an injunction if it is proved that what the purchaser contends he has a right to do, would constitute a breach of the contract between the lessor and the lessee. Where a lessee of a mine works a mine so as to cause subsidence of a surface. he will be restrained by an injunction. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) RAMDAS AGHARWALA v. BRAJOMOHAN SINGH. 20 C. L. J. 538 : 27 I. C. 244 : 19 C. W. N. 887.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 54—Scope of.

——S. 54—Scope of—Grounds for granting injunction—Discretion of Court.

On a claim for an injunction the Court has to consider not merely whether the plaintiff's legal right has been infringed or even materially infringed but also whether under all the circumstances of the case he ought to be granted an injunction as the proper and appropriate remedy for such infringement. Where the parties were relatives on bad terms and the suit for injunction was prompted by desire to cause injury to the defendant, the Court would not grant the relief. 18 B. 474 Ref. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Campbell, J.) RAM CHANDRA v. RAGHUBIR SINGH.

4 U. P. L. R. (Lah.) 69 : 1922 Lah. 443.

——S. 54—Scope of—When can be granted.

A breach whether actual or threatened, by the deft. of some legal right vested in the plffs. is necessary before an injunction can be granted. (Rattigan and Shah Din, JJ.) GUR DAS v. BHAG

96 P. R. 1911 : 143 P. W. R 1911 : 11 I. C. 231 . 216 P. L. R. 1911.

——S. 54—Scope of—Injunction—Nature.

Per Sadasiva Aiyar, J.—(1) An action for injunction is not a 'real action. The distinctions between 'real and personal' actions in the English Law should not be imported into India. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Bakewell, JJ.) SELAMBAYI v. SANGU PANDITHAN. 35 I. C. 147 : 3 L. W. 642.

——S. 54—Scope of—Injunction against community.

When a community is sued in a representative capacity an injunction against them is not illegal and such an injunction is clearly within S 54 of the Specific Relief Act. 30 Mad 185, Foll (Ayling and Napier, JJ.) MAHOMED HANIF SAHEB v. ANGAPPA MUDALI. 35 I. C. 106.

——S. 54—Scope of.

An injunction can be granted to prevent an invasion of the rights of any person resting on tort as well as to wrongs arising out of contract (Jwala Prasad, J.) RIT LAL v. RAGHBIR RAM.

58 I. C. 714.

Waste.

——S. 54—Waste—Building on land—Injunction Pleadings—Issues

Where an injunction is sought to restrain deft. from erecting buildings on land alleged to belong to plff. it is essential that the boundaries of the land should be given in order to assist the Court to find out what is actually in dispute and against what portion of the land one injunction is sought to be effected. A map ought to be attached to the plaint and vague descriptions of the boundary ought not to be accepted. Issues should be so framed that the Court may understand the actual points arising for determination and it ought not to be left open to the parties to raise equivocal, ambiguous and evasive issues. (Chaudhuri and Cuming, JJ.) RAMSASI ROY v. BOLAI LAL SINGH. 53 I. C. 890.

——S 54—Waste—Hindu widow—Whether can be restrained from alienating the estate.

Though ordinarily the reversioners of the last male owner are not entitled to obtain an injunction to restrain his widow in possession of her customary estate from alienating property, it is a proper form of relief when it is found that the widow is committing or is about to commit acts waste as contemplated by law. (Rattigan, J.) TAJO v. ALDAH DUN. 53 P. W. R. 1916 : 35 I. C. 229 : 124 P. L. R. 1916.

——S. 54—Waste—Ameliorating—Injunction suit—Punjab Tenancy Act, S. 77.

A suit for a perpetual injunction by a land lord against his occupancy tenants, prohibiting the latter from building houses on the tenancy land is cognisable by the Revenue Court only, under S. 77 of the Punjab Tenancy Act. (Johnstone, Chevis and Shadi Lal, JJ.) IBRAHIM v AKBAR.

104 P. W. R. 1916 34 I. C. 209 : 58 P. L. R. 1917

——S. 54—Waste — Injunction — Trial Courts' discretion—Power of Appellate Court—Landlord and tenant.

The relief by injunction under S. 54 is a matter of discretion and if the Court below has exercised its discretion judicially and not arbitrarily the Court of appeal will refuse to interfere. Where land is let to a tenant for agricultural purposes and he begins to erect a mosque or other permanent structure there is at once a case for injunction, as damages in a case like this will not be sufficient relief. Though a landlord in such case can take steps in a Rent Court for ejectment of the tenant from the entire holding, there is no obstacle in the way of his coming to the Civil Court and asking for injunction. (Lindsay, J.) KUDA BAKSH v. GAURI SHANKAR.

7 U. L. J. 301 : 57 I. C. 476 : 23 O. C. 163.

Miscellaneous.

——S. 54—Injunction — Interference with right—Acquiescence.

An owner of yajman vrithi is entitled to maintain a suit for injunction against the caste for undue interference with his right. But where the plaintiff has for several years acquiesced in the decision of the caste he is not entitled to seek the protection of the Court against the action of the caste. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J.) GIRJASHANKAR DAJI v. MURLIDHAR NARAYAN.

45 Bom. 234 : 59 I. C. 271 : 22 Bom. L. R 1202.

——S 54—Legal proceedings—Suit in foreign Court about same subject-matter.

A defendant in a pending suit here should not be restrained from commencing and prosecuting a suit in a foreign Court to enforce rights acquired within the jurisdiction of the foreign Court against the same plaintiff under the law of that foreign country. At any rate it is an essential condition that an injunction should be applied for very promptly and that it should not be applied for after a considerable amount of time and trouble has been expended in the foreign suit. (Rankin, J.) TICUMCHAND SANTOKE CHAND v. SAUTOKECHAND SINGHI 59 I. C 218 : 24 C. W. N. 735.

——S. 54—"No suit shall be instituted"—Meaning of—C. P. Code, S. 80.

"The words no suit shall be instituted" include suits of every kind Where there is serious and imminent injury requiring immediate injunction a Court can entertain the suit and issue the injunction without previous notice. (Chandavarkar and Heaton, JJ.) SECRETARY OF STATE v. GANAN KRISHNA MAVLANKAR. 13 Bom. L. R. 273 : 10 I. C. 639 : 35 Bom. 362.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (OF 1877), S. 54—Miscellaneous.

——S. 54—Arbitration—Contract for supply of goods—Breach—Reference to arbitrators pending—Injunction—Contract void as a wagering contract—Discretion.

Disputes having arisen under the contracts the defts. referred the same to arbitration under an arbitration clause. Plff. brought a suit for a declaration that the contracts were of a gambling and wagering nature and so void under the Contract Act and applied for a stay of the arbitration proceedings. Held, under the circumstances, the plff. had no equity which would entitle him to ask for an injunction restraining the arbitration proceedings. 22 C. W. N 535. (Sanderson, C. J. and Woodroffe, J.) BAIJNATH v. MANSUKARI PANNALAL. 49 I. C. 968 : 23 C.W N. 258.

——S. 54—Injunction, suit for—Possession by tenants—If maintainable.

A suit for an injunction restraining the defendant from collecting the rent of certain property, is not liable to be dismissed merely because, the possession is with tenants and is not sued for. (Broadway and Wilberforce, JJ.) KARAM SINGH v. VIR SINGH. 63 I. C 776 : 2 Lah 252.

——S. 54—Trade name—User by rival company—Pecuniary loss—Charitable companies.

A company is entitled to obtain an injunction to restrain a new company from carrying the same kind of business as the old company under the name identical with or similar to the plff's company as to be calculated to deceive the persons dealing with the plff. company. The fact that the new company has been registered and the Registrar took no objection to the registration does not preclude the old company from obtaining an injunction to restrain the new company from carrying on the same kind of business as that of the old company under a name calculated to deceive the public. (Shadi Lal and Dundas JJ.) GURKHA ASSOCIATION, SIMLA v. MAHUMED UMAR. 51 I. C 905.

——S. 54—Trespass—Crown—Right of entry in private property to regulate distribution of water—Injunction, grant of.

Where Government is not owner of water supplied to tanks in a mitta by an artificial channel passing through the village, the Revenue officers as agents of the Government cannot enter the mittadar's land without his consent to regulate the supply or distribution of water to his mitta and other Ayan villages or to execute repairs Such a right can only be exercised without violating the proprietary rights of others and by the use of lawful means. The Government can be restrained by an injunction from committing trespass on the properties of private owners for controlling the distribution of water for purposes of irrigation. (Abdur Rahim and Srinivasa Iyengar, JJ.) SECRETARY OF STATE v. PALANIAPPA PILLAI. 22 M. L. T. 345 : (1917) M. W. N. 571 : 41 I. C. 24 : 6 L W. 572

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 55.

——S. 54—Injunction—Raising of a tank bund and flooding of plff.'s land—Form of injunction.

Where a plaintiff's land is liable to be more submerged on account of the raising of the tank bund by the defts. and the consequent narrowing of the sluice, the proper form of injunction should be in general terms to use such means at deft's option as would prevent plff's. land from being flooded to a greater extent than before or failing that to direct the deft. to lower the bund of the tank and widen the sluice. Deft. cannot exempt himself from liability on the ground that he performed a statutory duty as that act of his was a source of danger to the neighbour. 28 Mad. 72, Dist. 1 I. A. 364. Expl. (Abdur Rahim and Sundara Iyer, JJ.) APPAYA PANTULU v. PUVVALA KANTAYYA. 14 I. C. 267.

——S. 54—Temple—Right of worship—Injunction.

Every person who has a right of worship in a temple can maintain a suit against those who interfere with or deny his right. Similarly a suit, by a person for an injunction restraining the defendant from entering a temple on the ground that his presence constitutes a discretion of the temple an interference with the plff's exclusive right of worship. (Robinson, O. C. J. and Mac Gregor, J.) SAKLAT v. BELLA, 63 I C 963 : 13 Bur. L. T. 188.

——S. 55—Injunction—Mandatory—Compliance—Habeas Corpus.

Where compliance with a mandatory injunction is likely to expose a person to Habeas Corpus proceedings in England an order for delivery of children residing in England to their father in India ought not to be passed. (Lord Parker.) MRS. ANNIE BASANT v. NARAYANIAH. 38 Mad. 807 : 41 I. A 314 : 27 M. L. J. 30 : 18 C W. N 1089 : 1 L. W. 520 : (1914 M. W. N. 585 : 16 M. L. T. 165 : 20 C. L. J 253 : 16 Bom. L. R. 625 : 24 I. C. 290 : 12 A. L. J. 1165 (P. C.).

——S. 55—Injunction, Mandatory—Building injuring plaintiff Erection of.

A mandatory injunction can properly be granted where the defendant erects a building over a public land to the injury of the plfs, interests and in the teeth of opposition. 32 Cal. 303 (P. C.) Dist. (Tudball, J.) LANTIRAM v. CHHAJU SINGH. 20 I. C. 368.

——S. 55—Mandatory injunction—Closing of privy door—Allegation and proof of.

To obtain an order for injunction for closing the door of a privy, the plff, must allege and prove by direct evidence that inconvenience had been experienced by plff, in a specific manner and on specific occasions. (Piggott, J.) PYARI v. RAJA RAM. 11 I. C. 45.

——Ss. 55 and 56—Easement—Privacy—Injunction.

In the province of Gujarat there is a customary usage which makes an invasion of privacy an actionable wrong and a man may not open new doors or windows in his house or make any new appertures or enlarge old ones in a way which will enable him to overlook those portions of his neighbour's premises which are ordinarily secluded from observation. (Macleod, C. J. and Heaton, J.) MANEK LAL MOTI LAL v. MOHAN LAL NAROTAMDAS. 55 I.C. 949 : 22 Bom. L.R 226.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, (I OF 1877), S. 55.

——— S. 55—Roots of tree penetrating neighbour's land—Mandatory injunction can be granted.

Every owner of land is under an obligation not to allow the roots and branches of his tree to extend so as to penetrate his neighbour's land, and in case of breach of such an obligation, it is open to the Court to grant a mandatory injunction for the removal of the nuisance under S 55 of the Act (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) BHUDEB v. KALA CHAND. 66 I. C. 536 : 34 C. L. J. 315.

——— Ss. 55 and 54—Infringement of right—Damage not essential.

A plff. though holding under a grant from a Hindu widow whose natural rights are in danger of being infringed or further encroached upon by a new enjoyment on the part of the deft. capable of being converted by user for the prescriptive period into a new right in the latter has a good cause of action, apart from any damage which he may have suffered or is likely to suffer (Richardson and Walmsley, JJ.) ERAIJOOL TEA CO, LTD. v NAGENDRA NATH. 41 I.C 47.

——— S. 55 - Temporary injunction—Substantial question in controversy.

Where a co-owner builds on the land to the prejudice of the other co-owner and the latter sues for his only remedy, partition, a temporary injunction should be granted if there is a substantial question in issue to maintain the status quo to the necessary extent. 21 I.C 861, Ref. to. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) HEMANT KUMAR ROY v. BARANAGAR JUTE CO., LTD. 24 I.C. 313 20 C.L.J. 441 : 19 C.W.N. 442.

——— S. 55—Mandatory injunction.

The deft. erected a wall quietly and promptly on the land covered by the footings of a wall belonging to the plff, who immediately brought a suit for a mandatory injunction for the demolition of the deft's wall. Held, that the plff was entitled to a decree. Jenkins, C. J. and Woodroffe. J.) ABDUL HUSSAIN v. RAM CHARAN LAW. 12 I. C. 459 : 38 Cal. 687 : 16 C.W N. 313

——— S. 55—Injunction to remove a dam—Enjoyment of the flow of water for 30 years proved.

Since 1888 the plff. irrigated his fields with water led by him through an artificial channel from the Baloti Nadi from a public stream. The defts. dammed the Baloti Nadi at a point higher up than the plaintiff's intake, and drew off almost the whole of the water into a channel made by them for their fields. The plaintiff sued for an injunction for the removal of the dam and the restoration to him of the normal supply of water. Held, that he must succeed because for over 30 years openly and without asking permission of anybody he has enjoyed the full flow of the Nadi and in the absence of evidence that he acted by arrangement or permission he must be held to have enjoyed the easement as of right. (Shadi Lal C. J and Le Rossignol, J.) BALI RAM v. BELA SINGH 1923 Lah. 594

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, (I OF 1877), S. 55.

——— S. 55—Mandatory injunction—Obstruction to plaintiff's moris.

The defendant built up a wall against the plaintiff's house by which he completely obstructed the plaintiff's four moris on each of his three stories. Held the injury to the plaintiff is of a serious character and that neither damages nor re-arrangement of his property would afford any adequate relief Held further that the whole of the building need not be demolished but the defendant be directed to open all the moris. (Shadi Lal, C.J. and Le Rossignol, J.) ATMA RAM v. NANAK SARAN DAS. 1923 Lah. 593.

——— S 55—Erection of building pending suit—Order for demolition.

A co-sharer has a right in every portion of the land and the other co-sharers are not entitled to build on the common land without the consent of the former. Where a co-sharer brings a suit for restraining the defendant by an injunction from building on the common land and the suit is dismissed and the defendant without waiting for the result of any appeal that might be preferred by the plaintiff built on the land held that if a plaintiff succeeded on appeal he was entitled to an injunction demolishing the structure erected by the deft. The deft. could not resist the claim by asking the plaintiff to sue for a partition. (Marlineau, J.) HAYAT ALI SHAH v. MT. TAJ-UL-NISSA. 1923 Lah. 205.

——— S. 55—Right of persons in possession to apply for mandatory injunction—Pecuniary relief, omission to sue for.

A person in enjoyment of a right may apply for an injunction when that enjoyment is interfered with by a person without title. If the injury suffered by the appellants is capable of being adequately healed by a pecuniary compensation, the Court is bound to assert the amount of that compensation and not refer the plaintiff to fresh litigation. (Le Rossignol, J) BUTA KHAN v. KAMMEE KHAN. 61 I. C. 870.

——— S. 55—Injunction—Nuisance—Disturbance by assembly of Hindus.

The Mahomedans have an inherent right to call out the azam from the Mosque. Noises made by defts. (Hindus) collectively and continuously at the time of calling out the azam for the sole purpose of frustrating the object of the call constituted a nuisance. It was no answer to the suit that the little noise made by each of the defendants personally did not amount to a nuisance. (1894) 3 Ch. 163, Ref. The Mahomedan plaintiffs were entitled to the injunction prayed for because the nuisance caused by the defendants was not a reasonable exercise of their rights. The acts of two or more persons may, taken together constitute such a nuisance that the Court will restrain all from doing acts constituting the nuisance although the annoyance occasioned by the acts of any one of them if taken alone, would not amount to a nuisance. A person has an inherent right to call out the azam from the mosque but not the unlimited right of blowing conches and making noise so as to cause nuisance to his neighbours. (Bevan Petman, J) JAWAND SINGH v. MAHOMEDDIN. 51 I.C. 728 : 1 Lah. 140.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 55.

——Ss 55 and 56 - Easement—Injunction—Light and air.

Where injunction is claimed for a threatened danger to property the plaintiff must, besides showing a violation of his rights, show that he would be inevitably injured in consequence A man is not necessarily entitled to the whole of the accustomed light and air and a neighbour may share in them without diminishing the plaintiff's amenities. (Agnew, J.) ARJAN DASS v. GANESH DASS. 172 P. W.R. 1913 : 21 I. C. 249 : 308 P. L. R. 1913.

——S. 55—Injunction — Mandatory —Co-owners—Obstruction.

Where a narrow lane is the common property of two co owners and one of them put up two pials and steps thereby encroaching upon the common lane and making it less convenient for the other to pass through, the aggrieved co-owner is entitled to a mandatory injunction directing the removal of the obstruction. 35 Mad. 648, Ref. 4 C. L. J. 198, Dist. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Moore, JJ.) VARANASI SUBBAYA v. VARANASI SOMA LINGAM. 27. M. L. T. 176 : 55. I. C. 643. 38 M. L. J. 491.

——S. 55—Trespass—Building on land.

In cases of mere trespass the Court may refuse a mandatory injunction but the owner can recover the property with damages including the cost of removal of any building erected. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) SIKKINDAR ROWTHAN v. MAHOMED ABBUBAKKER ROWTHEN, 21 I. C. 45 : (1913) M. W. N. 648.

——S. 55—Injunction— Mandatory — Trespass by building wall on plff's land- Want of deligence—Waiver—Relief by way of damages.

A Court can grant a mandatory injunction to a plff. who complains of the unlawful invasion of his rights by the deft. when the unlawful act does not only obstruct the proper enjoyment of plffs' rights of property, as by interference with light and air, but is likely to deprive him of the property itself. (1909) I Ch. 70, Rel. Even in case of delay in the institution of a suit for injunction, and where damages might be sufficient compensation, the Court has a discretion to grant the injunction if in all the circumstances of the case, it is of opinion that justice between the parties requires it. 22 M L. J. 62 Ref. The fact that plff. objected to the deft.'s improper act will not necessarily entitle him to a mandatory injunction. Where a waiver of his right for an injunction in substitution of a claim for damages might be inferred from plff.'s conduct, the Court may refuse to grant a mandatory injunction. The omission of the plffs to move the Court for a temporary injunction before the construction of the building is not sufficient to deprive the plff. of his right to a mandatory injunction. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) TUMUMLA PEDAYYA v. KOPPULA CHINNA APPANNA. 16 I. C. 412 · (1913) M. W. N. 188.

——S. 55—Alteration of mode of enjoyment.

When the eaves of a dominant tenement project over the servient tenement and the dominant owner acquired an easement to discharge eaves droppings, an injunction will be granted if the dominant owner by constructing an upper storey projected the eaves beyond the original extent, so as to throw an additional burden on the servient tenement. (Fawcett, A. J. C.) AYOOB ISMAL v. NAR MAHAMMAD SILEMAN. 28 I. C. 169.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 56.

——S. 56—Joint wall—Slight encroachment —Relief to be granted.

In the case of a joint wall where one of the parties encroached on the other's right by four inches, the proper remedy is not to direct the encroachment to be pulled down but to grant a declaration that the encroachment belonged to the other party. (Macleod, C, J. and Crump, J.) DAUDKHAN MUSEKHAN v. CHANDULAL KANHAYALAL. 1923 Bom. 370.

——S. 56—Implied negative agreemente—Breach.

In an agreement containing simple affirmative words a negative agreement not to do other things at the same time and place is presumed ; and its breach can be compensated for by damages. (Beaman, J.) ANDREW YULE AND CO. v. ARDESHIR BOMANDEYA. 20 I. C. 844 : 15 Bom. L. R 724.

——S. 56—Injunction sought—Damages if can be given.

Permanent injunction may be granted where an actual invasion of a legal right has taken place and is likely to continue further. It is not necessary that the plff. must bring a suit in damages every year. The Court has jurisdiction to give damages where relief by injunction alone is sought. In a suit for injunction no positive evidence, is necessary to show that the defendants intended to invade the right in future. It depends on the particular circumstances of the case. (Chandavarkar and Hayward, JJ.) BAI SAMARAT v. SARDAR SINGH. 12 I. C. 381 : 13 Bom. L. R. 905.

——S. 56—Injunction— Mandatory— Trespasser building upon land.

When a trespasser builds on the land in spite of objections, a mandatory injunction should be issued. 29 Mad. 497, Dist. (Seshagiri Iyer and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) ALLAGAPPAN v. KARRUPPA CHETTY. 25 I. C. 503.

——S. 56—Hindu Law—Purohits choice—Injunction.

A person who has been engaging the services a particular purohit cannot be restrained by injunction from engaging the services of others. 7 Mad. 424, foll. (Sadasiva Iyer and Seshagiri Iyer, JJ.) SARIPAKA CHINA MAHADEVA v. MUTHURA SURYA PARAKASAM. 1 L. W 389 : (1914) M. W N. 379: 24 I, C. 204 : 26 M. L. J 482.

——S. 56 (Ill. 1.)—Plaintiff out of possession —Injunction when granted.

An injunction cannot be granted when the plaintiff is out of possession, unless there is some privity between the parties (1849) 7 Hare Rep. 217 68 Eng. Rep. 89; 18 L. J. Ch 163; 13 Jur. 227 ; 82 R. R 76 Rel. A plaintiff who is out of possession cannot sue the trespasser for an injunction but can sue for the recovery of the land. (Coxe and Roy, JJ.) BHRAMAR LAL BANDURI v. NANDA LAL. 24 I. C. 199 : 18 C. W. N. 545.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877), S. 56.

——S. 56 (b)—Subordinate Court—Civil and Revenue Court.

Obiter :—When an appeal lies from a Revenue Court to a Civil Court the power is subordinate to the latter within S. 56 (b) Specific Relief Act. (Kanhaiya Lal and Daniels, A. J. Cs.) MAHADEI KUNWAR v. BAHI RANI. 50 I. C. 180 : 6 U. L. J. 55.

——S. 56 (c)—Order under S 9—Party affected can sue on title and for injunction.

Where an order under S. 9 of the Sp. Rel. Act is passed against a person in possession he can institute a suit to establish his title to the property and for an injunction restraining the opposite party from interfering with his possesion. 4 Cal. 380 dist. (Coyajee, J.) MARI UDDYTAMMA MARKEMDI v. SANTAYA RAMAKRISHNA PAI. 24 Bom. L. R. 766 : 1922 Bom. 216.

——S. 56 (e)—Injunction—Initiation of Criminal proceedings—Power of Civil Court to restrain.

The tendency of modern decisions is that even if the court has jurisdiction to restrain Criminal proceedings for the recovery of a penalty imposed by a statute for breach of its enactments, it will not interfere as a general rule. The principle is that though the extreme position cannot be maintained that there is absolutely no jurisdiction in the court to restrain proceedings before a Magistrate, the court will not interfere unless in very special circumstances by way of injunction on declaration of right where the Legislature has pointed out a mode of procedure before a magistrate. It has been maintained, however, that a court of equity may in a proper case interfere by injunction to restrain an act or proceeding, Criminal or Quasi Criminal in form which tends to the impairment of property rights and proceedings for the enforcement of Municipal ordinances. It is also a well-settled rule that it is not the practice of the court to interfere with corporate bodies, unless the powers are manifestly abused by them. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA v. BEJOY KUMAR ADDI. 50 Cal, 813 : 38 C. L. J. 360 ; 27 C. W. N. 787 : 1924 Cal. 334

——S. 56 (h)—Trade-mark—Infringement—Laches.

In a suit for injunction against infringement of a trade-mark, Held that as the plff, had done nothing beyond sending a notice to the deft. in March 1909 and then stood by and allowed deft. to invest a considerable sum of money in the business and only in June, 1914 brought the present suit he was not entitled to an injunction. (Scott Smith and Martineau, JJ.) VARCADOS v. MCLEOD. 45 P. R. 1919 : 51 I. C. 434 : 83 P. L. R. 1919.

——S. 56 (i) — Injunction, mandatory—Damages adequate remedy.

Where upon a balance of a convenience, damages will be an adequate remedy, mandatory injunction should not be granted. (Sankaran Nair and Bakewell, JJ.) SETHURAM NADIGAI RAO v. GOPAL RAO PEISHWA. 23 I. C. 785 : 1 L. W. 166.

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), S. 2.

——S. 57—Contract comprising an affirmative and a negative agreement—Condition subsequent—Injunction.

Where an agreement contains both an affirmative agreement and a negative, express or implied and there is a condition subsequent qualifying the negative, the negative is enforceable by injunction if the condition is not fulfilled. (Scott, C.J. and Batchelor, J.) ANDREW YULE & CO. v. ARDESHIR BOMENJI DUBASH. 24 I.C. 758 : 16 Bom. L. R. 178

——S. 57—Affirmative agreement implied negative agreement.

Where along with affirmative agreement there is an implied negative agreement not to do a certain thing, the doing of the latter may be stopped by injunction (Beaman, J.) ANDREW YULE & CO. v. ARDESHIR BOMANJI. 20 I. C. 844 : 15 Bom L. R. 724.

——S. 57—Contract not to serve elsewhere—Breach—Injunction.

Where there is a contract of personal service coupled with a stipulation that the servant is not to seek service elsewhere during the period of the contract the court can grant an injunction restraining the servant from seeking employment elsewhere in breach of contract, though it is unable to enforce specific performance of the affirmative covenant. (Robinson, C. J and Heald, J.) THE INDO-BURMA OIL FIELDS, LTD. v. BURMA OIL COMPANY, LTD. 64 I. C. 794 : 11 L. B. R. 26.

SPES SUCCESSIONIS.

See (1) HINDU LAW—REVERSIONER.
(2) T. P. ACT, S. 6.

STAGE CARRIAGES ACT (XVI OF 1891).

——S 7—Offence under—Second Class Magistrate can try.

Held, following 7 P. R. 1879 that a second class Magistrate has no jurisdiction to try an offence under S. 7 of the Stage Carriages Act. (Chevis, J) GOBIND RAM v. EMPEROR. 65 I. C. 439 : 23 Cr. L. J. 87.

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899).

——Construction of—Object of the enactment.

The Stamp Act being a fiscal statute whose primary object is to secure revenue to the state its object is attained by excluding the unstamped document from evidence and not acting on it. The parties need not be penalised beyond this extent. (Kennedy, J. C. and Kar, A. J. C.) NARAINDAS v. JASSOMAL. 65 I. C. 37 : 15 S. L. R. 135.

——S. 2 (1)—Execution of document—Unsigned instrument.

Unsigned Burmese instruments made since the Indian Stamp Act came into force, that is since the 1st July 1899 cannot be treated as "executed" for the purposes of the Stamp Law. 7 Bur. L. T. 48 foll. (Saunders, J. C.) MAUNG PO DIN v. MAUNG PO NYEIN. 66 I. C 360 : (1921) 4 U. B. R. 60.

——S. 2 (1) (a) and (b) (3) and S. 35—Adhesive stamp not cancelled—Document not admissible.

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), S. 2.

Where a document which must be stamped bears an adhesive stamp but the stamp is not cancelled the document is not admissible under S. 35 (Jwala Prasad, J.) BARHAM DEO RAI v. RAM KISHUN MAHTON. 60 I. C. 652. 2 Pat. L. T. 184

——— ——Ss. 2 (5) and 36—Written promise to pay barred debt need not be stamped.

A written promise to pay a barred debt is not required by any provision under the Stamp Act to be stamped; it is not a bond. Even if it be, when an instrument has been admitted in evidence such admission shall not be questioned at any subsequent stage of the same suit under S 36 of the Stamp Act (Abdul Raoof and Campbell, JJ.) DAVID SUTHERLAND CLARK v. ROSE GRIM SHAW. 1923 Lah. 481

———S. 2 (5)—"Bond"—Obligation, to pay money—Person becoming liable for another's act

Defendant took upon himself the liability of another person in respect of a debt of Rs. 1,000 and agreed to get certain land mortgaged to the creditors in lieu of that sum and on failure to do so, to pay the said sum of Rs 1,000 together with interest. Held, that the documents was not a bond under S. 2 (5) of the Act. But the definition was not exhaustive. The instrument was a bond with a condition inasmuch as it was attested by witnesses and by it the defendant obliged himself to pay certain sum of money to another, if he did not perform a specified act which he had undertaken. (Scott Smith, J.) NAND LAL v. KARM CHAND, SHAMIR MAL. 2 Lah. L J. 224.

———S. 2 (5) (vi)—Attestation—What amounts to—Writer of document—If an attesting witness.

The attestation referred to in S. 2 (5) (vi) of the Stamp Act means attestation on the face of the instrument. 48 Cal. 61 does not hold that the person who signs as writer of an instrument must be regarded as an attesting witness, but that a person who is present and witnesses execution of a bond and whose name appears in the document though he is therein described merely as a writer of the deed is a competent witness to prove execution. (Woodroffe, Greaves and Ghose, JJ.) BIDHA RANJAN MOJUMDAR v. MANGAN SARKAR. 49 Cal. 729 : 26 C. W N. 585 : 35 C. L. J 459 : 1922 Cal. 452.

———S 2 (5)—Security bond.

Where a Receiver executes a security bond to the Court binding himself and his heirs and as a security thereof pledges immoveable property worth Rs 200, the bond must be stamped as both under the Court Fees Act and under Art. 40 of Sch. I of the Stamp Act as it comes within the definition of a mortgage in S 2 (7) of the Stamp Act. (Wallis, C. J. Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) AMIRTHAMMALL v. RAMALINGA GOUNDEN. 43 Mad 363 : (1920) M. W. N. 245 : 57 I. C. 184 : 12 L. W. 537 : 38 M. L. J 503 ———Ss 2 (5) and 35 (a)—Bond or promissory note—Penalty and stamp duty.

A document attested by two witnesses and stamped with an adhesive stamp of one anna, was as follows :- "I promise to pay you or your heirs on demand the sum of Rs. 40, the amount I borrowed from you this day, with interest at 1 per cent per mensem." Held, that the document was a bond and not a promissory note, and was admissible in evidence on payment of penalty and stamp duty under S. 35 (a) of the Stamp Act. (Subrahmania Aiyar and Moore, JJ.) KARARAM RANGIAH v. MALA CHENGAMMA NAIDU 43 I. C. 55 . 33 M. L. J. 603.

——— ——S. 2 (5)—Bond promissory note—Attestation—Construction of document—Penalty.

A document under which a person has obliged himself to pay money to another which is neither payable to order or bearer nor attested by a witness is not a bond within S, 2 (5). In case of ambiguity as to attestation by a witness of a document, only the document itself must be looked to. (Chamier, C. J., Chapman and Jwala Prasad, JJ.) MAHOMAD SADDIK v. AMOYA NATH DUTT. 2 Pat. L. W. 525 : 2 Pat. L J. 686 : 41 I. C. 693: 1917 Pat. 345.

———S. 2 (5) (c)—Bond—Agreement to deliver produce for consideration or in default to compensate.

An agreement to deliver produce for consideration or in default to compensate the covenantee is not a bond even if it be attested by two witnesses. (Fox, C. J and Twomey, J.) COLLECTOR OF RANGOON v. MAUNG AUNG BA. 9 Bur. L. T 111 : 33 I. C. 920 : 8 L. B B. 382.

——— ——S. 2 (7)—Negotiable Instruments Act (XXVI of 1881) S. 5.

An instrument purporting to receive a sum of money of a depositor with a Bank and specifying the name of the messenger who is to receive payment is only a receipt and not liable to stamp duty. (Ried, C. J. and Kensington, J.) STAMP ACT In re. 35 P. L. R. 19 2 : 13 I. C. 330 : 184 P. W. R. 1912.

———S. 2, (10)—Conveyance — Letter reciting previous sale—Admission of consideration,

A conveyance is an instrument which transfers property from one person to another. A document in the form of a letter reciting an earlier sale and an earlier receipt of consideration therefor is at most a receipt for the consideration and an admission of the sale but is not in itself an instrument of sale or conveyance. The document is not liable to stamp duty (Rattigan, Le Rossignol and Leslie Jones, JJ.) RUSTOMJI v. EMPEROR. 115 P. R. 1915 : 1 P. W. R. 1918 : 44 I. C. 261 (S B.) 151 P L. R 1917.

——— ——S. 2 (12)—"Execution"—Unsigned document—If liable to stamp duty.

Under S. 2 (12) "executed" stands for "signature" and an instrument chargeable with stamp duty only on being executed is not liable to duty until it is signed. (Hartnoll, O. C J. and Ormond and Twomey,) THE APPLICATION OF CHET PO. In re. 7 L. B. R. 77 22 I. C. 75 : 7 Bur. L. T. 48

———S. 2 (14) Art. 5—Hiring sugar-cane machine—Agreement—Instrument—Stamp.

An entry in the plaintiff's register signed by the defendant is an instrument within S 2 (14) and being a memorandum of agreement fell within

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), S. 2.

t. 5 Sch. I of the Stamp Act and required a stamp of 8 annas. (Knox, Banerjee and Tudball, JJ.) MUTSADDI LAL v. HARKESH. 36 All. 11 : 21 I. C. 601 : 11 A. L. J. 966.

——S. 2 (15)—'Instrument of partition' includes—Award.

An "instrument of partition" includes in its definition award by an arbitrator directing a partition ; if it is not sufficiently stamped as an instrument of partition it is inadmissible in evidence. (Stuart, J.) SYED MOHAMMAD HAMEED v. SYED MANZUR HASAN. 1922 All. 283.

——S 2 (15), and Art. 45 (3).—"Final order" meaning of.

The words "final order" in S. 2 (15) and Art. 45 (3) in Sch I of the Stamp Act refer to the final order of the lowest Court of original jurisdiction empowered to give an order for partition. (Knox Tudball and Piggott, JJ.) STAMP REFERENCE BY THE BOARD OF REVENUE In re. 36 All. 137 : 23 I. C. 98 : 12 A. L. J. 113 (P. C.).

——S. 2 (15)—Partition—Award before Act II of 1899 came into force—Stamp-duty.

An award of arbitrators directing a partition executed before the present Stamp Act (II of 1899) came into force will be received in evidence even if it bears a stamp-duty of Rs. 5 only, if the Court is satisfied that it was not put in the form of an award simply to avoid stamp duty because under the Stamp Act of 1879, this was not included in the definition of "instrument of partition." (Rattigan and Scott-Smith, JJ.) SUKH DIAL v. MANI RAM. 29 P. R 1915. 27 I. C. 489 : 29 P. L. R. 1916.

—— S. 2 (15) and Art. 45—Partition instrument—Stamp.

A document termed a yadast was executed at Trivandrum in 1915 by two brothers, bearing a Travancore adhesive stamp of one anna. The brothers divided their properties both in British and Travancore territories. The partition was to take effect from the date of execution of the document the properties were to be enjoyed separately with effect from 14th January 1915 and separate partition deeds were to be executed for the properties in Travancore and British India. Held, that under the definition in S. 2 (15) the deed was chargeable as a contract of partition under Art. 45. (Wallis, C. J., and Krishnan, J.) KAJANGAM AIYAR v. RAJANGAM AIYAR. 11 L. W. 556 : 55 I. C. 965 : 38 M. L. J. 330.

—— Ss. 2 (15)—Partition, award directing—Court-fee.

S 2 (15) lays down that an award or decree directing partition is an instrument of partition and a party deft. executing the decree must pay proper Court-fee payable on his own share. 12 Bom. 98 Dist. (Abdur Rahim and Kumaraswamy Sastri, JJ.) PEDA NAGABUSHANAM v. PITCHAYYA. 42 I. C. 365 : 6 L. W. 448.

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), S 2.

——S. 2 (15)—Order, when chargeable—Final order.

To make an order chargeable under S. 2 (15) of the Stamp Act, it must effect an actual division. A decree passed on a razinamah which allots specific properties to the several parties, directs other parties to deliver up possession and provides for the execution of a sale-deed and a lease of certain property, is a "final order" in the suit effecting partition and is chargeable with duty as an instrument of partition. It can also be considered as an instrument whereby the co-owners have agreed to divide property in severalty. (Backewell, J.) THIRUVENGADATHAN AIYA v. MANGAYYA. 35 Mad 26 : 12 I. C 775 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 516.

——S. 2 (15)—'Final order'—Does not mean a final decree.

The expression "Final order" in S. 2 (15) of the Stamp Act applies to some order of the Civil Court passed in execution and does not mean a final decree. (Wallis, J.) SESHACHELLUM PILLAY v. ALWAR CHETTY. 12 I. C. 769 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 515.

——S. 2 (16)—Lease—Counterpart of mortgage—Marupat.

A marupat is a counterpart of a lease executed by a tenant promising certain rent and must be stamped both as a counterpart and as a mortgage (Wallis, C. J. Ayling and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) GOVINDAN NAMBUDRI v. OTTATHAYIL MOIDEEN. 41 Mad. 469 : 42 I C. 943 : 33 M. L. J. 693 (F.B.).

——S. 2 (22) and Sch. I, Art. 5—Undertaking to deliver grain on demand—Stamp.

A document where in a person gives an undertaking to give a certain quantity of grain on demand does not fall within S. 2 (22) of the Stamp Act, but falls under Sch. I Art. 5 of the Act. (Daniels, A. J. C.) ABHAIRAJ KUAR v. DATA DIN. 1924 Oudh 106.

——S. 2 (22)—Promissory Note—Letter of request for a loan is not a.

A document written by the defendant to the plaintiff in the form of a letter or ruqa ran as follows :—"According to our friendly agreement I would trouble you, as a friend, to get the execution file consigned to the record room at once. As agreed I will pay the remaining Rupees 1,400 by the middle of August without hesitation (talamal) if God wills (Insha Allah Ta' ala). You should rest assured." Held, that the document in question was not a promissory note and that it did not require to be stamped as such (Piper, J.C.) SAYAD SIKANDAR SHAW v. BHAI RAM CHAND SANT RAM. 71 I. C. 968 ——Ss 2 (22) and 35 and Sch. I, Arts. 13 and 49.—Promissory note—Payable otherwise than on demand—Stamp.

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), S. 2.

A document by which the executant undertakes to make certain specified payments towards the sum due under it, and agrees that his failure to do so shall render him liable to forfeit any payments already made is not a promissory note payable otherwise than on demand but only an agreement requiring 8 annas stamp. (Parlett, J.) KATCHI ROWTHER v. NAINA MOHAMED.
28 I. C. 300 : 8 L. B. R. 155

——— Ss. 2 (23) and 63—Sarkhat—Entries in, of receipts for over Rs. 20—Stamp.

Each of the entries of receipts of over Rs. 20 in a sarkhat left in the hands of the debtor must be stamped as a receipt. (Tudball, J.) TULSHI RAM v. EMPEROR. 11 A. L. J. 309 : 20 I. C. 216 : 14 Cr. L. J. 392 : 3 5 All. 290.

——— S. 2 (24) and Sch. 1, Art. 7—Settlement—Appointment.

Where an instrument was prepared for declaring trusts of certain funds for establishing a charitable institution and the trustee got the money from two sources, viz., (1) Public contributions and (2) donation in a will by certain person for charitable purpose, Held, as regards the 1st portion, the instrument was a settlement within S. 2 (24) and as regards the rest, the instrument was an appointment chargeable with a duty of Rs. 15 under Sch. I Art. 7. The provisions of the will amounted to a disposition for a charitable purpose of the money and the trustees in appropriating the money to the trusts declared by the instrument, were exercising the power of appointment conferred by will. (1876) 3 Ch D. 342 : 25 W. R. 277, Rel. (Scott, C. J., Russel and Rao, JJ.) ABDULLA HAJI DAWOOD BOWLA, In re. 35 Bom. 444 : 11 I. C. 982 : 13 Bom. L. R. 646

——— S. (3) (c)—Foreign Instruments—Property in British India.

An instrument executed outside British India and not relating to any property or to any matter or thing done or to be done in British India is not chargeable with stamp duty. (Thomson, F. C.) MAWCHI MINES, LTD. In re.
48 I. C. 187 : 11 Bur. L. T. 126

——— S. 4—Settlement—Stamp duty.

To settle disputes between two brothers, one of them executed a deed of gift conveying all his property to the other, while the other undertook to maintain him during his life by another deed. Held, the two documents should be regarded as one transaction within the meaning of the word settlement in S. 4, and should be stamped as under the section. (Knox Rafique and Piggott, JJ.) MHARAJ SOMESHAR DUTT In the matter of 37 All. 264 : 28 I. C. 348 : 13 A. L. J. 335. (F. B.)

——— S. 4—Second instrument of partition making minor alterations in the first—Stamp.

Where two persons entered into a family arrangement regarding their joint property and stamped the deed with the full duty payable for a deed of partition and subsequently they executed another instrument affirming the first with some minor alterations assuming that both the deeds were to remain equally binding on them, held, that the first and the main deed having been stamped with the proper stamp fee payable under the Act, the second deed was chargeable with a duty of one rupee only. (Knox, Rafique and Piggott, JJ.) SHAMBHU DIYAL. In the matter of, 37 All. 159 : 27 I. C. 731 : 13 A. L. J 96 (F. B.).

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), S. 5.

——— S. 5—Single instrument relating to distinct matters—Sale deed—Mortgage of other lands as security for due performance.

In a sale deed the vendor mortgaged the lands not included in the sale as security for due performance of his contract. Held, that the deed was not an instrument comprising or relating to distinct matters within S. 5 and need not be stamped both as a sale and as mortgage. (Wallis, C. J., Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) SECRETARY TO THE COMMISSIONER OF SALT AND ABKARI In re. 43 Mad. 365 : (1920) M. W. N. 247 : 56 I. C. 154 : 38 M. L. J 506.

——— Ss. 5 and 6 and Sch. I, Arts. 1 and 55—Acknowledgment of a debt — Release—Instrument falling under both heads.

The account books of an agent contained an entry "Due to me Rs. ... " It was followed by a statement of the principal in these words "The balance of the liability is made up of moneys advanced by my agent. . . . . on my behalf. The above dues not include interest due on them. I have examined the several items of account entered herein in detail and I find them to be correct. I hereby release my agent . . . from all claims to account against him by me or any one claiming under or in trust for me . . . I hereby acknowledge the correctness of every one of the items of expenditure". Held, that the entries constituted an acknowledgment of debt and should have been stamped with a one-anna stamp. Per Abdur Rahim. Offg. C.J. As the document deals with distinct matters, being a release falling under Art. 55 in the latter portion, and an acknowledgment in the former portion of it, should be stamped under S. 5 of the Act. Per Phillips, J. As the recital about release relates only to items in respect of which acknowledgment is given, the two matters are not distinct within S. 6, and regarding it as a whole, the document cannot be said to come within the definition of both "release" and acknowledgment.", (Abdul Rahim, Offg. C.J. and Phillips, J.) RAMASWAMY IYER v. GNANAMANI NACHIAR.
(1917) M. W. N. 121 : 5 L. W. 279 : 37 I. C. 984 : 31 M. L. J. 851.

——— Ss. 5, Sch 1, Art. 43—"Distinct — matters."

Agreement to refer a dispute arising out of contract to arbitration is a part of the contract itself. It is not a distinct matter. The whole contract is exempted under S. 5 (a) and the documents making the contract need not be charged except on broker's note under Art. 43: 13 C.W.N.

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), S. 6.

65. Diss from. (Chitty, J.) THE BOMBAY CO., LTD. v. THE NATIONAL JUTE MILLS CO. LTD.
16 I. C. 153 : 38 Cal. 669.

——— S. 6—Attested Shahjog Hundi.

An attested Shahjog hundi comes under S. 6 i. e. it is liable to stamp duty under two headings in the Schedule. (Fletcher, J.) ASSARAM v. KESRI CHAND.
33 I. C 247 : 22 C. L. J. 22.

——— S. 12—Cancellation of Stamp—Question of fact.—Diagonal lines across stamp.

The question whether a stamp has been duly cancelled within S. 12 of the Stamp Act is one of fact to be decided by an examination of the stamp itself. The cancellation of the stamp by drawing diagonal lines across it, their ends extending to the paper, is sufficient. 15. I. C. 202 and 108 P. R. 1908, Ref. (Broadway, J.) MELA RAM v. BRIJ LAL.
54 I. C. 976 : 148 P. R. 1919

——— Ss. 12 and 35—Hundi bearing adhesive stamps not cancelled—Admissibility.

A hundi, the adhesive stamps on which are not cancelled, is not admissible in evidence even though the omission to cancel it was due to a mere oversight. (Kensington, J.) ALLAHABAD BANK OF INDIA v. ABDUL KARIM.
18 P. R. 1912 : 65 P. W. R 1912 : 14 I. C. 512 : 75 P. L. R 1912.

——— S. 12—Adhesive stamp—Cancellation.

Where an adhesive stamp on a pro-note or a receipt is cancelled by drawing lines each line extending more or less beyond the edges of the stamp on to the paper on which the document was written, the cancellation is effected in a sufficiently effectual manner. The question is to be determined by looking at the instrument itself (Piggott, J. C, and Lindsay, A. J. C.) MOHAMMAD AMIR MIRZA BEG v. KEDAR NATH.
15 I. C. 202 : 15 O. C. 58 : See also 52 I. C. 974 : 4 All. 169.

——— S 12—Cancellation of stamp—What is.

The question whether a particular adhesive stamp has or has not been effectually cancelled so that it cannot be used again is a question that depends on the facts of each case. Drawing lines across the whole stamp extending beyond the edges was a sufficient cancellation within the meaning of S 12. (Kincaid, J. C, and Raymond, A. J. C.) PESSUMAL v. GAGANMAL
66 I. C. 5 : 15 S. L. R 34

——— S 12 (3)—Cancellation of adhesive stamp—Lines across the stamps.

Drawing of lines across an adhesive stamp is a good cancellation provided an intention to cancel is clear from what has been done. (Scott-Smith and Leslie Jones, JJ.) KISHORILAL BENARSI DAS v. RAM LAL TEK CHAND.
3 Lah. L. J. 170 : 60 I. C. 559 : 3 U. P. L. R. (Lah.) 19.

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), S. 26.

——— S. 13—Statutory rules—Rule 7—Promissory note on impressed stamp paper of insufficient value—Blank impressed sheet to make up deficiency—Whether duly stamped.

Where a promissory note was written on an impressed stamp paper of insufficient value and a blank impressed sheet was added to make up the deficiency, the promissory note was held not duly stamped. (Wallis, J.) MOHANLAL KUNIALAL v. KESARIMULL.
23 I. C. 110 : 15 M. L. T. 203.

——— Ss. 14 and 15—Material alteration of instrument—Stamp.

A material alteration of an instrument even with the consent of parties vacates the original instrument and makes it a new one and a fresh stamp duty must be paid, unless the alteration was made before issue or to correct a mistake, or supply an omission in reference to the original intention of the parties. (Rigg, J.) TRIBENI v. SAHU.
101 C. 517 : 11 Bur. L. T. 257.

——— S. 14—Arbitration—Second instrument.

Where before the acceptance of a reference by a sole arbitrator, the name of another arbitrator is added, it does not amount to a second instrument within S. 14. (Crouch A. J. C.) SHAMDAS TEUMAL v. KHIMANMAL CHANDUMAL.
29 I. C 602 : 8 S. L. R. 302.

——— S. 16—Rules under—Irregularity.

When the duty payable under an instrument is fully paid in the form of Government stamp whether judicial, postal or any other, the instrument should not be classed as unstamped and the irregularity about the stamps of improper description is cured by the Collector's certificate. (Stanyon and Skinner, A. J. Cs.) TUKARAM v. SONAJI.
10 I C. 702 : 7 N. L. R. 26.

——— S. 19—Promissory note executed outside British India—Admissibility.

A promissory note executed outside British India if valid according to the law of that place can be sued on in British India and is admissible in evidence, without any Indian stamp being affixed to the same. 8 M.L.J. 122 and 22 Mad. 267, Foll. (Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) KUNHI KOYA HAJI v. PANIKKA VITTIL ASSAN BAVA.
52 I.C. 477 : 36 M.L.J. 188 : 25 M L.T. 191.

——— Ss 26, 35, and 61, Art. 35—Scope of—Lease for ten years on condition of dividing profit of trees planted on the land.

Where a land was leased for 10 years for being planted with trees, on condition that at the end of the term the trees planted should be cut and sold and the profits of sale divided, deducting expenses of cutting, etc. Held, that as the value of the subject-matter was not one which could not be ascertained at date of the execution of the document, S. 26 did not apply to it and it was not liable to stamp duty. Per Srinivasa Aiyangar, J. The document was an assignment of the land for a term in consideration of recovering half the proceeds of the trees when they were fit for cutting and was therefore not liable to stamp duty. The document being admitted in evidence could not be called in question in appeal except under S. 61, Stamp Act. (Abdur Rahim and Srinivasa Aiyangar, JJ.) KONDAPE SESHAYYA v. GRANDHI VENKATA SUBBAYYA. 39 I.C. 448 : 31 M.L.J. 234.

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), S. 26.

—— Ss 26 and 35—Mining lease—Royalty in excess of amount covered by stamp—Penalty.

S. 26 of the Act is subject to and governed by S. 35, and a lessee under a mining lease is entitled upon payment of the penalty to recover the royalty provided for in the lease even though the amount claimed is in excess of the amount covered by the stamp used in the lease. 3 Mad. 342 ; 10 Bom. 239 : 9 Bom. L. R. 122, Ref. There is nothing in S. 35 which necessarily excludes its operation from cases covered by S. 26. It would be a strange result, if an instrument bearing no stamp and therefore not admissible in evidence under S. 35, could be validated by payment of penalty under the proviso of that section, whereas a similar instrument bearing a stamp and therefore admissible and enforceable to a limited extent could in no case be fully enforced even by paying the penalty, or admitted in evidence for proving the full extent of the contract entered into between the parties. The Stamp Act is not based on public policy, but it intends to protect the revenue by excluding proof of the bargain by an instrument unduly stamped. By denying the benefit of S. 35 in the case of mining leases requiring an ad valorem stamp, when the value can only be estimated, the State would gain nothing but would suffer loss. S. 35 provides the means by which, in the case of estimate proving deficient, the revenue can be amply protected and the terms of the bargain can be proved and given effect to. (Miller, C.J. and Mullick, J.) KUMAR BRAJA MOHAN SINGH v. LACHMI NARAIN AGARWALA. 58 I. C. 99 : 1920 Pat. 289 : 2 U. P. L. R. (Pat.) 215 : 5 Pat. L.J. 660 : 1 Pat. L.T. 719.

——— Ss. 26 and 35—Mortgage—Running account.

In mortgages creating a charge in respect of running accounts, the maximum fixed is the value of the subject-matter for the purposes of the Stamp Act. (Twomey, C. J. and Ormond J.) CHETTY FIRM v. MAUNG AUNG BA. 50 I.C. 303 : 9 L.B.R. 217 : 12 Bur. L. T. 1.

——— S. 26 and Sch I Art 6—Scope.

The section deals with the amount of interest allowable after a document is admitted, but does not refer to its admissibility. (Abdur Rahim O. C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) MUTHIAH CHETTY v. KOTHANDARAMASWAMI NAIDU. (1916) 2 M.W.N. 221 . 35 I. C 864 : 4 L. W. 472 : 31 M. L. J. 347

——— Ss. 30 and 65—Receipt of money by Money Order.

Mere refusal by the payee of a Money Order to give receipt for the sum sent by the remitter would not constitute an offence under S. 65 of the Stamp Act and S. 30 of the Act does not require a person receiving money to specify the particular purpose of payment. (Richards, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) BALMUKAND v. EMPEROR. 34 All. 192 : 13 Cr. L. J. 122 : 13 I. C. 778 : 9 A. L. J. 97.

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), S. 35.

—— —— Ss. 32, 37 and 57—Collector's certificate—Finality of Collector's certificate under S. 42 of the Stamp Act is final as to the admissibility in evidence of a document and the Court has no power to revise the Collector's action except as provided by S. 57 of the Stamp Act. (Stanyon and Skinner, A. J. Cs.) TUKARAM v. SONAJI. 10 I. C. 702 : 7 N. L. R. 26.

—— —— Ss. 33 and 40—Value not given in documents—Collector cannot investigate value for the purpose of improving.

The Collector cannot investigate with an intention of compromise of a deed which is silent as regards such a value and therefore does not require any stamp. Nor can he cause it to be stamped with reference to the value so ascertained (Piggott, Gokul Prasad and Lindsay, JJ.) MAHOMED MUZAFFAR ALI, In the matter of. 44 A 339 : L. R. 3 All. 89 : 20 A. L. J. 161 : 1922 A. 82.

—— —— S. 33—Jurisdiction of Court to impound document—Civil Procedure Code, O. 7, R. 14.

In a suit for recovery of money on a hat chitta which has to be produced along with the plaint under O. 7, R. 14, C. P. C., a bound volume containing this hat chitta along with others was to be produced in Court. The Court finding that the hat chitta on which the claim was founded and many other documents had not been properly stamped, impounded the whole volume under S. 33. Held, that the Court could not impound the hat chittas other than the one on which the plff.'s claim was based as they were not produced nor came before it in the performance of its duties. 25 Mad. 528, Dist. (Mookerjee and Cuming JJ.) SASHISHI MOHAN SHAH v. KUMUD KUMAR BISWAS 21 C.W.N. 246 : 35 I.C. 415 : 27 C.L.J. 525.

——— Ss. 33 and 35—Procedure under—Criminal Courts.

Under S. 33 it is optional to the Magistrate to examine or impound the instrument if it appears to be insufficiently stamped. But the prohibition contained in the first part of S. 35 that no instrument chargeable with any duty shall be admitted in evidence for any purpose or acted upon unless it is duly stamped, does not apply to proceedings in a Criminal Court. (Chitty and Beachcroft, JJ.) JAGANNATH RAHATGIR v. DEOKI NANDAN. 29 I. C. 671 : 16 Cr. L. J. 543.

—— —— S. 35.

See also PROMISSORY NOTE.

—— —— S. 35—Document acknowledging existence of debt—Not admissible without stamp.

The document in question was in the form of a letter on a printed form in a book kept by the plaintiff. A carbon copy was taken from it and given to the debtor (the defendant). It was addressed to the defendant and after mentioning certain credits and debits concluded with the statement that a sum of Rs. 6,001 was due to the plaintiff from the defendant. This was signed by the defendant. Held, that the document was an acknowledgment and was inadmissible in evidence without the stamp required by Art. 1 of the Stamp Act. (Ryves and Daniels, JJ.) RAM DAS v. INAYAT ULLAH.

45 A. 374 : 21 A. L. J. 263 : 9 O and A. L. R. 404 : L. R. 4 A. 174 : 1923 All. 297.

——S. 35—Private International Law.

A promissory note was executed in favour of the Nawab of Ranipur as such on an unstamped paper the laws in the state not requiring any stamp ; held, that the promissory note was admissible in evidence in a British Indian Court as valid instrument according to Indian Stamp Act. (Stanley, C. J. and Griffin, J.) AMINA BEGAM v. NAWAB OF RANIPUR. 33 All. 571 : 10 I. C. 247 : 8 A. L. J. 566.

——S. 35—Promissory note—Executed outside British, India—If can be sued upon.

If the law of a foreign country where a document was executed, simply provides that it shall not be admissible in evidence if not properly stamped, it can be sued upon in a British Court. But if the foreign law provides that the agreement embodied in the document is void for want of proper stamp then it cannot be sued upon in a British Court. (Batchelor, C. J. and Shah, J.) DHONDIRAM CHETEA BHUJ v. SADASUK SABATARAM. 20 Bom. L. R. 464 : 46 I. C. 174 : 42 Bom. 522.

——Ss. 35 and 37—Promissory note stamped with four quarter anna postal stamps—Stamps of improper description.

A demand promissory note stamped with four postal stamps of a quarter anna each, is not duly stamped and not admissible in evidence under S. 35 nor can the stamp be treated as a stamp of improper description within the meaning of S. 37 of the Act. (Scott, C. J. and Batchelor, J.) VENKATARAMAN GANPA HEDGE v. SHANKARA NARAYAN BHAT. 42 I. C. 947 : 19 Bom. L. R. 862.

——S. 35—Prohibition against documents chargeable with one anna.

The insertion of term for the payment of monthly interest on a document which is otherwise a promissory note, is altogether inconsistent with the local notion of a promissory note and so the document is not inadmissible under S. 35. (Beaman, J.) PRATAP CHAND GULABCHAND v. PURSHOTAM DAS MALJI.
33 I. C. 366 : 18 Bom L. R. 124.

——Ss. 35 and 36 and Sch I, cl. 5 (c)—Arbitration—Award — Submission not stamped — Effect of—Suit to set aside award—Objection.

The parties to a pending suit agreed in writing to submit their disputes to arbitration under the order of the Court. The arbitrators gave their award in favour of defendant. The plff. sued to set aside the award on the ground, inter alia that the document containing the submission to arbitration was not stamped. Held, that the submission having been once admitted by the arbitrators in evidence, its admissibility on the ground of want of stamp could not be questioned by any of the parties thereafter. The award was therefore valid on that ground. Once the instrument was admitted in evidence, it was for all legal purposes as good as it was stamped. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) RUNG LAL KALOO RAM v. KEDAR NATH KESWARLAL.
27 C. W. N. 513.

——S. 35—Unstamped Hundis.

Where certain hundis sued on were rejected as being insufficiently stamped, Held, that the plffs. were entitled to sue for the consideration. (Chitty and Beachcroft, JJ.) SUDHIR CHANDRA DAS v. GOBINDA CHANDRA ROY.
45 Cal. 538 : 41 I. C. 503 : 21 C. W. N. 1043.

——S. 35—Shohjog Hindi.

A Shohjog Hundi attested by a witness being a bond within the meaning of the Act, is admissible on compliance with the conditions laid down in S. 35 (a). (Mookerjee and Roe, JJ.) KESHARI CHAND v. ASHARAM.
22 C. L. J. 209 : 33 I. C. 250 : 19 C. W. N. 1326

——S. 35—Promissory note inadmissible in evidence—Suit on original consideration.

Where a promissory note is inadmissible in evidence under the law, a claim based on the original consideration may be enforced, provided it has not merged in the note. The loan itself implies a promise to repay. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) RAM BAHADUR v. DASURA RAM. 19 I. C. 840 : 17 C. L. J. 399.

——S. 35, Sch. I, Art. 5—Document stamped in accordance with practice.

Documents which have been stamped in accordance with practice which has been recognised by the High Court for long time, though not strictly legal, will be held to be duly stamped. (Jenkins and Woodroffe, JJ.) BAIJNATH v. AHMED MUSAJI SALEJI.
40 Cal 219 : 18 I. C. 978 : 17 C. W. N. 395.

——Ss. 35 and 36—Admission of document by trial Court—Penalty—Admission not to be questioned in appeal.

Where a document alleged to be a promissory note has been admitted in evidence by the trial Court on payment of a penalty, the admission cannot be questioned in the Court of Appeal however erroneous that addmission might have been. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Abdul Qadir, J.) MERA RAM v. MT. PREM KAUR. 1923 Lah. 143.

——S. 35—Insufficiently stamped document is not admissible.

Document not insufficiently stamped is not admissible in evidence for any purpose whatever. (Broadway, J.) JOTI PRASAD v. BRIJ RAJ.
52 P. L. R. 1922 :4 U. P. L. R. (L) 97 : 1923 Lah. 29.

——S. 35—Unstamped document—Secondary evidence of, not admissible.

S. 35 of the Stamp Act does not cover the case of a copy of a document. Where the primary evidence is inadmissible, secondary evidence of that primary evidence can be in no better position. 18 A. 205 Ref. A clerk of the Court cannot admit a document in evidence ; that is a duty reserved for that Court. (Le Rossignol, J.) RAHIM BAKHSH v. MAHOMED AYUB.
1922 Lah. 354.

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), S. 35.

——S 35—Unstamped bond—Secondary evidence of, not admissible.

A suit was filed on an unstamped bond. A copy of the same was compared with the original by the court clerk, certified to be correct, filed in court and then the original was allowed to be taken away. Subsequently it was lost. Held, production and presentation of a document are not identical with admission and secondary evidence of the contents of an unstamped document, which has been lost or destroyed, can under no circumstances be allowed. 23 Mad. 49 Foll. Where the primary evidence itself is inadmissible, secondary evidence of that primary evidence can be in no better position. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Harrison, J.) MUHAMMAD AYUB v. RAHIM BAKSH. 3 Lah. 282 : 5 L. L. J. 172 : 1922 Lah. 401. [On Appeal from 1922 Lah. 354]

——S. 35 — Insufficiently stamped Hundi—Secondary evidence not admissible.

Where a Hundi being insufficiently stamped becomes inadmissibile in evidence. No secondary evidence of the transaction can be given. (Chevis and Harrison, JJ.) CHANDA SINGH v. THE AMRITSAR BANK CO. 66 I. C. 201 : 2 Lah. 330.

——S. 35 — Evidence — Receipt for bricks supplied—Whether a pro-note—Evidence.

Under a contract to supply bricks, bricks were supplied and each time they were delivered, a receipt was signed by the deft. showing the amount of bricks supplied, rate to be charged and the sum chargeable. Held, that the document was not a pro-note but a mere receipt for bricks. Even in case of the paper being inadmissible for want of stamp, the plff. could prove the supply of bricks and the amount due aliunde. (Robertson, J.) LEHRIA v. AHAMED DIN. 103 P W. R. 1913 : 19 I. C. 436 : 174 P. L. R. 1913.

——S. 35—Unstamped original — Copy, not admissible on penalty.

A copy of an unstamped original cannot be admitted in evidence on payment of the penalties which can be recovered in respect of the original. 23 Mad. 49 : 30 Mad. 386 : 17 Mad. 473, Foll. (Reid, C. J. and Rattigan, J.) NANAK CHAND v. MUHAMMAD AFZAL. 33 P. R. 1913 : 11 P. L. R. 1913 : 16. I. C 950 : 279 P. W R. 1912.

——S. 35—Hundi—Admissibility—Objection to, when to be raised—Document exhibited.

Where a docment was marked as an exhibit without a note that it was admitted in evidence and it appeared that it was admitted in evidence tentalively, objection can be taken as to its admissibility at any later stage of the suit on the ground that it was not properly stamped. The presiding Judge was not precluded from considering the point at any time before giving judgment. 12 M. L. J. 351, Dist. A hundi, the stamp on which was not cancelled at the time of its execution, is not admissible in evidence. (Robertson and Rattigan, JJ.) SUNDARA DAS v. THE PEOPLE'S BANK OF INDIA. 169 P. L. R 1912 : 16 I. C. 834 : 272 P. W. R. 1912.

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), S. 35.

——S. 35—Promissory note unstamped — Suit on original consideration.

Where a promissory note executed in settlement of accounts between the parties is invalid for want of stamp, the plff. could get a decree on the previous settlement of accounts and the oral agreement to pay. (Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) SAMINATHA PATHAN v. RADHA KRISHNA PATHAN. 23 I. C. 85 : 15 M. L. T. 243.

——S. 35—Pronote unstamped —Decree on original consideration.

Where a promissory note is inadmissible in evidence for want of stamp, it is not permissible to grant a decree on the original consideration when there was no independent obligation to pay apart from the note. 10 Mad. 94 : 17 M. L. J. 126 Rel. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) MUTHU SASTRIGAL v. VISWANATHA PANDARA SANNADHI. 38 Mad. 660 : 14 M. L. T. 520 : (1914) M. W. N. 58 : 21 I. C. 864 : 26 M. L. J. 19.

——S. 35—Unstamped pro-note.

If a loan and the pro-note are contemporaneous and form part of one transaction, no suit passed on the original consideration is maintainable if the pro-note is inadmissible for insufficient stamp. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) CHINNAPPA v. MUTHURAMAN. 10 I. C. 669 : 9 M. L. T. 281.

——S. 35—Original instrument lost—Whether a copy of it can be validated by payment of penalty.

Under the Stamp Act, 1899, only the original unstamped instrument can be validated by the payment of the deficit stamp duty and penalty and then received in evidence. The section does not apply where the original is lost. (Mitra, A. J. C.) PENTAYYA v. KESHO RAO. 56 I. C. 249 : 16 N. L. R. 68.

——Ss. 35 and 36—Acknowledgment unstamped—Admitted in evidence—Limitation.

An unstamped acknowledgment is inadmissible in evidence even to save limitation. 18 Bom. 64, Diss. 21 Bom. 201, Foll, 'Admitted in evidence' means finally admitted after consideration, or after conscious application of the Court's mind to the question. 12 Bom. L. R. 466 Foll. (Batten, A. J. C.) SITA RAM v. THAKURDAS. 50 I. C. 781.

——S. 35—Adhesive stamp not cancelled—Admissibility.

Where a document which must be stamped bears an adhesive stamp but the stamp is not cancelled, the document is not admissible under S. 35. (Jwala Prasad, J.) BARHAM DEO RAI v. RAM KISHUN MAHTON. 60 I. C. 652 : 2 Pat L. T. 184.

——S. 35—Bond—Document stamped with one anna—If unstamped or insufficiently stamped.

Where a document was in reality a bond, but was apparently intended to be a promissory note and as such bore only a one anna stamp, in levying the penalty it should be treated only as insufficiently stamped and not unstamped. Merely because the stamp happens to be of the wrong kind, the document should not be treated as wholly unstamped. (Pratt, J.) THE COLLECTOR OF RANGOON v. ABDUL RAHMAN SIRCAR.

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), S. 35.

11 L. B. R. 316 : 1922 L. B. 27.

——— S. 35—Suit to set aside award not duly stamped. Plff. whether liable to pay deficiency and penalty.

Where a plff. sues to set aside an award on the ground of misconduct of the arbitrators ; the plff. cannot be called upon, if it is found that the award is not duly stamped, to make up the deficiency in the stamp and to pay the penalty under S. 35 of the Stamp Act In such a case the plff. is seeking not to act on the award but to prevent its being acted upon. It need not even be put in evidence if the allegations of misconduct can be proved without looking into it. (1838) 4 M. and W. 361, Rel. on. (McColl, J. C.) MA SHWE PU. v. MAUNG PO DAN.
2 U.B R. (1916) 146 : 39 I.C. 382 : 11 Bur. L. T. 17.

——— S. 35—Insufficiently stamped deed.

A plff. having no cause of action apart from an insufficiently stamped pro-note, cannot succeed at all, even though he does not sue on the note and the deft admits execution thereof. 2 L. B. R. 333, Rel. upon. (Twomey, J.) BALLY SINGH v. BHUGWAN DASS KALWAR. 7 L. B. R. 101 : 25 I. C. 975 : 7 Bur. L. T. 95.

——— S. 35—Document unstamped—Inadmissible in evidence—Decree or original consideration.

The question whether a loan was given and taken, can in certain cases, such as those of collateral security, be distinguished from the question of the terms of the loan and of its repayment and where it can be so distinguished, even if the document embodying the terms of the loan is inadmissible for want of stamp, the lender may fall back and sue upon the loan itself and prove it by other evidence. The basis of such an action is not the document, but the doctrine of equity that a person who has received a sum of money from another for a consideration which has wholly failed should return the money to the payer. 23 C 861; 24 B. 360; 34 A 158; 16 I. C. 33 Ref. (Kennedy, J. C. and Madgaonkar, A. J. C.) NARAINDAS v. JASSOMAL. 65 I. C. 37 : 15 S. L. R. 135

——— S. 35—Submission to arbitration—Stamp

A contract containing the submission to arbitration is not invalid in default of an eight-annas stamp under S 35 (Hayward, A. J. C.) FIRM OF TARACHAND GANSHAM DAS v. LOUIS DREYFUS & CO. 35 I. C. 449 : 10 S. L. R. 14.

——— S. 35—Unstamped promissory note—Executed outside British India.

A promissory note executed outside British India is admissible in evidence though unstamped, but is liable to duty before admission. (Pratt, J. C. and Boyd, A. J. C.) RAM SINGH v. PARUMAL. 32 I. C. 582 : 9 S. L. R. 150.

——— S. 36—Stamp—Presumption as to.

Where the original of a compromise petition creating a mortgage, on the strength of which a decree of Court is made, is lost, and a certified copy of the petition is filed, the presumption arises that the original petition was properly stamped. (Mr. Ameer Ali.) AHMED RAZA v. ABID HUSAIN 38 All 494 : 43 I A. 264 : 18 Bom. L. R. 504 : 14 A. L J. 1099 : 20 M. L. T. 441 : 24 C L. J. 504 : (1916) 2 M. W. N. 548 : 21 C. W. N. 265 : 5 L. W. 153 : 39 I. C. 11 : 1 Pat. L. W. 90 (P. C.).

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), S. 36.

[Affirming 19 I. C. 445 : 11 A. L. J. 506.]

——— S. 36—Document admitted--Admissibility whether can be questioned subsequently.

Once a document is admitted in evidence no further question can arise under the section as to its admissibility on the ground that it was not duly stamped. (Griffin and Ryves, JJ.) ABID HUSAIN v. ASHGAR HUSAIN. 11 A L. J. 506 : 19 I. C. 445 :

[Affirmed on appeal
39 I. C. 11 : 38 All. 494 (P. C.)

——— S. 36—Admission of document in evidence—Admissibility not to be questioned on appeal.

When a document has been admitted in evidence in the trial Court, it cannot be called in question in the same suit on the ground that the document was not duly stamped 13 B. 449; 18 B. 737 Ref. (Macleod, C. J, and Crump, J.) BALA RAGHU DHANWADR v. BHIKU GENU.
25 Bom. L. R. 450 : 1923 Bom. 412 (2)

——— S. 36—Applicability—Document executed before the Act.

S. 36 of the Act is applicable to documents executed before the Act and the admission of such a document in evidence cannot be subsequently objected to on the ground that it was insufficiently stamped. (Teunon and Newbould, JJ.) NILRATAN MITRA v. ABDUL GAFUR GAZI.
59 I. C. 3 : 32 C. L. J. 75.

——— S. 36—Admission of document—Question not to be raised.

Where the Court of first instance admits a letter of hypothecation in evidence, the High Court is precluded from taking exception to it as being insufficiently stamped. Held also, that it did not lie in the mouth of executant of the letter or his heirs who was responsible for the proper stamping of the document, to plead that the contract was not binding upon him because he had succeeded in defrauding the Revenue authorities. (Chitty and Panton, JJ.) BISWANATH BHATTACHARJEE v. GOBINDA CHANDRA DAS
23 C. W. N. 534 : 51 I. C. 88 : 29 C. L. J 305.

——— S. 36—Acknowledgment if should be stamped when signed—Admission—Objection.

An acknowledgment that a certain sum of money is due, should it signed by the party, be duly stamped under the provisions of the Indian Stamp Act. An unstamped acknowledgment once received in evidence cannot be rejected afterwards in view of the provisions of S 36 of the Stamp Act. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) SITARAM v. RAM PROSAD RAM. 18 C. W N. 697 22 I. C. 858 : 19 C. L. J. 87

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), S. 36.

——S. 36 — Document held admissible by single judge in High Court—Not open to question in Letters Patent appeal.

Where a Judge of the High Court sitting singly differed from the court below and held a document was admissible in evidence and on that basis remanded the suit, he in effect admitted the document in evidence and his decision cannot be questioned further. A Letters Patent Appeal is a stage in the suit within meaning of S. 36 Stamp Act. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Martineau, J.) BRIJ RAJ SARAN v. JOTI PRASHAD. 1923 Lah. 657.

——S. 36—Appellate Court—Powers.

Where the trying Court treats an unstamped document as agreement and collects penalty and duty thereon erroneously, the Appellate Court cannot correct the error by virtue of S. 36. (Oldfield and Hughes, JJ.) VENKATRAMA AYYAR v. CHELLA PILLAI. 62 I. C. 607 ; 40 M. L. J. 479.

——S. 36—Pro-note with stamp not duly cancelled—Admissibility.

A pro-note with a stamp not duly cancelled was admitted in evidence in an ex parte trial but the ex parte trial was set aside and the proceedings were commenced afresh. Held, that the admissibility of the pro-note in evidence could be attacked after the ex parte trial was set aside. S. 36 applies only where what is in evidence is sought to be expunged by a party objecting that the evidence is wrongly admitted. S. 36 really lays down a rule preventing only the exclusion of what already is in evidence in the proceedings. But where the document would not be regarded as being in evidence already, this section, it is deemed, has no application. (Sundara Aiyar, J.) SOLAMALAI MUDALIAR v. VADAMALAI MUTHIRAN 12 M. L. T. 122 : 16 I. C. 96 : 23 M. L. J. 273.

——S. 36—Document—Insufficiently stampea—Admission by trial Court—Not to be questioned in revision.

Where a deed of release alleged to be insufficiently stamped has been admitted in the case by the trial Court, the High Court cannot question its admissibility in revision. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) KRISHNAJI v. SUKHDEO. 1923 Nag 284.

——S. 36—Admission in evidence—Subsequent rejection not proper.

It is contrary to the express provisions of S. 36 of the Stamp Act to reject a document which has once been admitted in evidence on the ground that it ought to have been stamped. (Ross, J.) DASI CHAMAR v. RAM AUTAR SINGH. 1923 P. 404.

——S. 36—Admission—Meaning.

The word 'admission' in S. 36 includes the giving of a decree. The term "acting upon", is wider than the word "admission" (McColl, J. C.) MI MI v. SOHAN SINGH. 33 I. C. 595 : 8 Bur. L. T. 290.

——S. 36—Admission by first Court—Appellate Court, interference by.

An appellate Court should not dismiss a suit on the ground that a document which the first court has admitted in evidence was unstamped or insufficiently stamped ; all it could do would be to impound the document and send it to the Collector to levy duty and penalty. (McColl, J. C.) MI MI v. SOHAN SINGH. 33 I. C. 595 : 8 Bur. L. T. 290.

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), S. 62.

——S. 37—Certificate by Collector.

Endorsement on pro-note by a Sub Collector that the penalty has been levied, is not a certificate within S. 37 of the Stamp Act that the pro-note is duly stamped. 23 All. 233 : 19 Bom. L. R. 862 Cons. (Phillips, J.) KAMAKSHI AMMAL v. SUBBARAYA CHETTY. 52 I. C. 758.

——S. 44 —Scope of stamp duty and penalty—Joint executants—Contribution.

S. 44 is only intended to give a right to an innocent party, to recover the duty and penalty he is obliged to pay, from the person or persons guilty of default. A co-executant cannot, therefore, claim contribution from his co-executants. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Phillips, JJ.) RAMAN CHETTY v. NAGAPPA CHETTY. 31 I. C. 285 : 2 L. W. 1024.

——Ss. 56 and 57—Document not in existence—Reference.

Under S. 56 of the Stamp Act, 1899, the High Court can deal only with those instruments which are already in existence and which have been the subject of action by the Collector. (Knox, Chamier and Piggott, JJ.) STAMP REFERENCE, In re. 13 A. L. J. 47 : 27 I. C. 501 . 37 All. 125 (F.B.)

——Ss. 57, 38 and 40—Reference—Certificate by Collector after levy of deficit duty.

A Collector acting under S. 40 (1) of the Stamp Act, levied the deficit together with the penalty provided by law and endorsed the fact on the document. The Board of Revenue then referred to the High Court under S. 57 of the Act the question as to the stamp duty if any, payable on the document. Held, that the High Court had no jurisdiction to decide the question. 25 Mad. 752, Foll. (Knox, A. C. J Rafique and Piggott, JJ.) KUB CHAND, in the matter of. 40 All. 128 : 47 I. C. 299 : 16 A. L. J. 49 (F. B.)

——S. 57—Pro-note by Court of Wards in acknowledgment of previous debt.

When a Court of Wards, which has power to give an acknowledgment of an existing debt, authorises a promissory note to be executed, the note could in any event be used as an acknowledgment of the pre-existing debt. (Fletcher and Richardson, JJ.) RASHBEHARY LAL MANDAR v. ANAND RAM. 34 I. C. 205 : 43 Cal. 211.

——S. 61—Document not duly stamped—Admitted in evidence—If can be questioned later.

Where an instrument has been admitted in evidence, such admission should not, except as provided in S. 61 of the Stamp Act, be called in question at any stage of the same suit or proceeding on the ground that the instrument has not been duly stamped. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) RAJE UDAJIRAM v. RAJESHWAR. 1923 Nag. 109.

——S. 62—Offence—Intention.

For a conviction under S. 62 of the Stamp Act, proof of a dishonest intention to evade payment of stamp duty is essential. (Piggott, J.) KANHAIYALAL v. EMPEROR. 21 Cr. L. J. 54 : 54 I. C. 406 : 1 U. P. L. R. (H C.) 186.

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), S. 62.

——S. 62—Conviction under—Unstamped receipt.

A conviction under S. 62 of the Stamp Act for filing an unstamped receipt, when it was quite evident that the accused had no intention of evading the provisions of the Stamp Law, cannot be sustained. The Act itself provides for the levy of penalties in such cases, but not for a prosecution. (Bucknill, J.) NEMAI CHARAN SAHU v. EMPEROR. 1921 Pat. 173 : 22 Cr. L. J. 766 : 3 U.P.L.R. (P) 38 : .64 I. C. 286 : 2 P. L.T. 623

——S. 62—Granting of unstamped receipt—No criminal intent—No offence.

Under S. 62 there can be no prosecution of a person who has granted an unstamped receipt in the absence of any criminal intention to evade the provision of the Stamp Law which itself provides for the payment of the stamp duty and penalty. (Bucknill, J.) NEMAI CHARAN SAHU v. KING-EMPEROR. 1921 Pat. 173 : 3 U. P. L. R (Pat.) 38 : 64 I. C. 286 : 22 Cr. L. J. 766 : 2 Pat. L. T. 623.

——S. 62 (b), Sch. I, Art. 53—Voucher by one servant to another—Money received on behalf of master—If receipt.

Where a servant received money from a co-servant for paying it to his employee's creditor and gave a voucher therefor. Held, the amount was simply a memorandum not executed for consideration and not amounting to a receipt requiring stamp of one anna. (Lindsay, J. C.) SHADILAL v. EMPEROR. 18 Cr. L. J. 968 : 42 I. C. 328 : 4 O. L. J. 490.

——S. 62 (b) and Sch I, Art. 35—Amaldustak—No rent fixed—Conviction under S. 62 (b)—Schedule—Scope.

The schedule to the Stamp Act must be treated as exhaustive. An agreement for a lease whereby no rent is reserved and no premium paid or money advanced is not included in the schedule and therefore does not require a stamp. The executant of such a ducument cannot be convicted under S. 62 (b) of the Stamp Act (Roe and Jwala Prasad, JJ.) SUNDER KUER v. EMPEROR. 17 Cr. L. J. 495 : 20 C. W. N. 923 : 3 Pat. L.W. 72 : 36 I. C. 175 : 1 Pat L. J. 366.

——S. 62 (2)—Unstamped award—Arbitrator signing is liable to prosecution.

Not only persons who execute an instrument of partition but also those who sign it otherwise than as witnesses are liable to prosecution, if they append their signatures to an instrument which is not duly stamped. Where the arbitrators signed an instrument of partition otherwise than as witnesses, they are liable to prosecution because they put their signatures to a dutiable instrument which had not been duly stamped. (Dalal, A. J. C.) EMPEROR v. PUTTOO LAL. 24 Cr. L J. 592: 9 O. & A.L R. 378.

——S. 62, Sch. I, Art. 8—Petition to Court—Compromise of suit—Agreement—Court-fee label.

A document informing the Court of an agreement into which the parties had orally entered out of Court to compromise a suit, and praying for a decree in terms of agreement, requires ordinary Court-fee label, and not a general stamp. (Tudball and Piggott, JJ.) RAM SARAN LAL v. EMPEROR. 40 All. 19; 19 Cr. L. J. 48: 42 I.C. 1008 : 15 A.L.J. 846.

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), Art. 1.

——S. 64—Failure to stamp document—Fraudulent intent.

Mere non-payment of a full stamp duty is not enough to make a person liable for prosecution under S. 64 of the Act. Prosecution must establish a fraudulent intention on the part of the petitioner. (Chitty and Smither, JJ.) BROJENDRA BAKSHI v. EMPEROR. 45 I. C. 275 : 19 Cr. L J. 515.

——S. 64 (c)—"Any other act," Meaning—Document insufficiently stamped.

The words "any other act" in Cl. (c) of S. 64, mean an act of the type specified in Cls. (a) and (b) ; the mere fact that a person puts a stamp on the document, which he knows is not of proper value cannot bring the case within Cl. (c) of the section. 23 Mad. 155 Ref. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) CHAGMAL CHOPRA v. KING-EMPEROR. 44 Cal. 321: 24 C. L. J. 441 : 17 Cr. L. J. 466 : 36 I. C. 146 : 21 C. W. N. 248.

——S. 65—Collector's sanction necessary under S. 65.

Sanction of the Collector is essential before a Magistrate could try an accused under S. 65 of the Stamp Act. 9 Bom. 27, Foll. (Shah Din, J.) EMPEROR v. RAMJI LAL. 38 P. W. R. 1915 Cr.: 16 Cr. L. J. 787 : 31 I. C. 643 : 31 P. R. 1915 (Cr.)

——Ss. 68 (c) and 62 (b)—Essentials of offence.

The main question in a case under S. 68 (c) of the Stamp Act is whether the act complained of is a device intended to defraud the Government of duty payable in respect of a document. Where in an application for a loan the person recommending wrote "I guarantee payment" and the Bank Manager approved of the application and recommended grant of the loan. Held, that the words 'I guarantee payment' do not amount to a completely executed security bond and the manager could not be deemed to have accepted such security bond and hence he is not liable under S. 62 (b) of the Stamp Act, and that the Secretary of the Bank who advanced the loan was not guilty under S. 68 (c) as his duties were purely ministerial. (Teunon and Choudhury, JJ.) RAJESWAR BAGCHI v. EMPEROR. 18 Cr. L J. 725 : 40 I. C. 725 : 21 C. W. N. 758.

——Arts. 1 and 5—Memorandum of agreement.

A memorandum of agreement to pay interest appended to an acknowledgment of a debt over the debtor's signature is a stipulation to pay interest within the proviso to Art. 5. The question of the cancellation of adhesive stamp is to be considered with reference to the facts of each particular case. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) MANDEO KORI v. SHEORAJ RAM TELI. 17 A. L. J. 19 : 1 U. P. L. R. (H. C.) 29 : 52 I. C. 974 : 41 All. 169.

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), Art. 1.

——Art. 1—Balance sheet—One anna stamp necessary.

A balance sheet prepared and signed by a debtor showing the balance due from him is not valid unless stamped with one anna stamp, though it may be admissible in evidence. (Jenkins, C. J. and Woodroffe, J.) GULSTAUN v. HATICHISON. 16 C. W. N. 945 : 15 I. C. 279 : 39 Cal. 789

——Art. 1—Acknowledgment—Essential to be considered.

In deciding whether a given acknowledgment is one falling within Sch. I Art. 1 of the Stamp Act, the question to be considered is whether it is given with the dominant intent to supply evidence of the deft. Where a document contains other entries from which it can be deduced that the intention is to arrive at a statement of accounts or to put on record payment on either side, the document although it contains a balancing item at the end, is not an acknowledgment under the Stamp Act. 4 Cal. 885; 9 Cal. 127; 15 Cal. 162 and 30 Cal 687 Foll. 31 M. L. J. 851 Not foll. (Schwabe, C. J and Ramesam, J.) SURJIMULL MURLIDHAR CHANDICK v. ANANTA LAL DAMANI. 46 Mad. 948 : 45 M. L. J. 399 : 18 L. W. 485 : (1923) M. W. N. 743 : 1924 M. 352.

——Art. 2—Construction of unconditional acknowledgment.

Art. 2, Sch. I must be strictly construed. An unconditional acknowledgment does not imply a promise to pay a debt and if not duly stamped is inadmissible in evidence under S. 35 even to save limitation under S. 19. (Batten, A. J. C.) SITA RAM v. THAKUR DAS. 50 I. C. 781.

——Art. 5—Memorandum of agreement.

A memorandum of agreement to pay interest appended to an acknowledgment of a debt over the debtor's signature is a stipulation to pay interest within proviso to Art. 5. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) MAHDEO v. SHEORAJ. 41 All 169: 1 U. P. L. R. (H. C.) 29 : 52 I. C. 974 : 17 A. L. J. 19.

——Art. 5—Agreement to pay grain on demand is within the article.

An agreement to pay a certain quantity of grain on demand falls within Art. 5 of Schedule I of the Stamp Act. It is not a promissory note under S. 2 (22) but requires a stamp of 8 annas. (Daniels, J. C) THAKURAIN ABHAIRAJ KUAR v. DATA DIN. 9 O. & A. L. R. 163 : 1924 Oudh 106.

——Art. 5—Mortgage by deposit of title-deeds—Letter accompanying deposit.

A letter stating the terms on which an equitable mortgage is effected and written to the mortgagee by mortgagor at the time of depositing the title-deeds of the mortgaged property, does not require registration, and if it does not "secure any amount", it need only be stamped as agreement under Art. 5 (Abdur Rahim, Offg. C.J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) MUTHIA CHETTY v. KOTHANDARAMA SWAMI NAIDU. (1916) 2 M. W. N. 221 : 4 L. W. 472 : 35 I. C. 864 : 31 M. L. J. 347.

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), Art. 13.

——Art. 5—Agreement or memorandum of.

A written proposal is not an agreement or a memorandum of agreement and does not become subject to stamp duty by reason of subsequent acceptance not in writing. (White, C. J., Sankaran Nair and Tyabji, JJ.) SECRETARY TO THE COMMISSIONER OF SALT v. SOUTH INDIA BANK. 38 Mad. 349 : (1913) M. W. N. 1012 : 20 I. C. 865 : 25 M. L. J. 119.

——Art. 5 (i) (c) Exemption (a)—Agreement which is not a bond stamp.

An agreement, which is not a bond but only an instrument creating an obligation and which if broken would 'sound in damages', is one under Art. 5 (i) (c) of the Sch. relating to stamps and so no stamp is required. (Fox, C. J. and Twomey, J.) COLLECTOR OF RANGOON v. MAUNG AUNG BA. 8 B. L. R. 382 : 33 I. C. 920 : 9 Bur. L. T. 111.

——Art. 5, Cl. (c)—Agreement to hire machinery with option to purchase.

An agreement to hire machinery with an option to purchase falls under the above Article and so requires stamp duty of eight annas. (Sanderson, C. J.) LINOTYPE MACHINERY CO. AND WINDSON PRESS, In re. 44 Cal. 72 : 24 C. L. J. 93 : 37. I. C. 175 : 20 C. W. N. 1252.

——Art. 7—Panchanama—Will giving power to panch to enquire into and remove shebaits and appoint successors.

A will by the founder of an endowment providing for succession to the office of shebait and giving the panch the power to enquire into the misconduct of shebait and to remove him from the office and appoint a new shebait instead, falls within Art. 7 and requires a stamp of Rs. 15. (N. R. Chatterjee and Sheepshanks, JJ.) AMRIT LAL SHAH v. GOSSAIN GANPAT GIR. 51 I. C. 884 : 23 C. W. N. 401.

——Art. 13—Bill of Exchange on several pieces of stamp paper—Aggregate value.

A document which was in fact a Bill of Exchange, though it was loosely described as a hundi, was properly stamped under R. 6 of the Rules of the Governor-General in Council when a portion of it appeared to have been written on each of three sheets of stamp paper of the aggregate value required by law. (Chitty and Panton, JJ.) BISWANATH NATH v. GOBINDA. 23 C. W. N. 534 : 51 I. C. 88 : 29 C. L. J. 305.

——Art. 13—Order on firm to pay specified sum—Bill of Exchange.

An order on a firm to pay a specified sum of money to a certain person or bearer is a bill of exchange payable on demand and is chargeable with a duty of one anna. (Thompson, F. C.) M. A. RACHHURU & CO., In re. 47 I. C. 561 : 11 Bur. L. T. 87.

——Arts. 13 and 35—Agricultural lease—Hypothecation of immoveable property.

An agricultural lease is exempt from stamp duty under exemption (a) to Art. 35 of the Stamp Act. But where the landlord is given the sole right over the whole crop until the rent is paid and the tenants agree not to alienate or otherwise

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), Art. 15.

d away with the crops, it is an instrument evidencing a hypothecation of moveable property for a future debt and as such is liable to stamp duty. (Parlett, J.) MAUNG HTAT v. MAUNG SAN DUN. 44 I. C. 109.

——Art. 15—Security bond for stay of execution—Stamp.

A security bond taken on an order for stay of execution is not a bond within Sch. II, Art. 6 of the Court-Fees Act, but must be stamped in accordance with Sch. I, Art. 15 of the Stamp Act. It cannot be written on plain paper bearing Court-fee of eight annas. (Holmwood and Teunon, JJ.) DWARKANATH DEY v. SAILAJA KANTA 43 I. C. 376 : 21 C. W. N. 1150.

——Art. 30—High Court—Does not include Court of Judicial Commissioner—Enrolment fee.

The court of the Judicial Commissioner of Upper Burma is not a High Court within the meaning of Art. 30, Stamp Act. If an applicant wants to be enrolled in a High Court he must pay the fees mentioned therein. (Robinson, C. J. Heald and May Oung, JJ.) CERTAIN FIRST GRADE ADVOCATES, In the matter of. 1 Rang. 142 : 1924 Rang. 1.

——Art 33—Gift deed—Valuation not given—Power to ascertain—Value of property—Stamp duty payable.

Where a gift deed contains no statement as to the value of the property gifted, the instrument as it stood does not require any stamp under the Stamp Act and the Collector has no authority to investigate the value of the property with a view to impound the instrument and cause it to be stamped with reference to the value so ascertained. (Piggott Gokul Prosad and Lindsay, JJ.) MAHOMMED MUZZAFAR ALI. In the matter of. 44 A. 339 : L. R. 3 A. 89 : 20 A. L. J. 161 : 1922 A. 82.

——Art. 35—Lease—Rent reserved—Liability of lessee to pay Government assessment.

Under a lease of certain lands for a term of 5 years, the rent reserved was a moiety of the produce or Rs. 100 a year. The lessee also agreed to pay Rs 16-8-0 to the lessor for Government assessment. Held, that the value of the lease for stamp purposes was to be taken at Rs. 100 and not at Rs. 116-8-0. The only profit for the lands demised which the landlord could realise was half of the produce or Rs. 100. Rs. 16 8 0 was not a part of the profit but was a liability attaching to the thing itself in the hands of the lessor. A lease of this description falls within the exemption to Art. 35 as the rent reserved is only Rs. 100 (Batchelor and Beaman, JJ.) GANGARAM NARAYANDAS, In re. 39 Bom. 434 : 28 I. C. 584 : 17 Bom L. R. 320

——Art. 35 Cl. (a) (i) and (iv)—Lease—Agreement to pay rent daily.

An agreement to pay shop rent at Rs. 60 per month at Rs. 2 per day creates a monthly tenancy and not a tenancy for an indefinite term under sub-clause (iv). (Sanderson, C. J and Woodroffe, J.) A. M. AMOLIA v. IBRAHIM. 46 Cal. 804 : 51 I. C. 231 : 23 C. W. N. 398.

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), Art. 47.

——Art. 35, Ex. A.—Patta for one year—Stamp.

A patta for one year and reserving a rent of less than one hundred rupees requires neither stamp nor registration. (Gokul Prasad, J.) HARDIAL v. ALAM. L. R. 4 A. 233 Rev. : 1924 A. 459.

——Art. 40—Deed of trust.

A trust deed executed by the debtor who had already executed a pro-note to secure advances to be made by a Bank, is a mortgage deed for purposes of the Stamp Act and not a letter of hypothecation within exemption (2) to Art. 40 of Sch I of the Act. (White, C. J., Sankaran Nair and Oldfield, JJ.) SECRETARY TO THE COMMISSIONER OF SALT v. MRS. E. W. ORR. 38 Mad 646 : 14 M L. T. 499 : 21 I. C. 876 : 25 M. L. J. 613.

——Arts 45 and 62 (c)—Instrument of partition—Transfer by trustee to beneficiary.

Certain shares in a company belonged to a joint Hindu family consisting of three brothers. The brothers became divided in interest but the shares stood in the name of the eldest brother who received the dividends and paid two-thirds to his two brothers. Subsequently the eldest brother passed two deeds transferring some shares to each of the two brothers. Held, that the deeds were chargeable under Art. 45 of the Stamp Act. (Shah, A. C. J. and Crump, J.) THE SUPERINTENDENT OF STAMPS, BOMBAY v. CHIMANLAL. 47 Bom. 321 : 25 Bom. L. R. 112 : 1923 B. 237.

——Art. 45—Instrument of partition—Decree effecting partition in specie.

A final decree effecting a partition of moveable or immoveable property in specie should be treated as an instrument of partition liable to stamp duty under Art. 45 of the Act. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs.) SURAJIYA QUDR v. QUDSIA BEGAM. 24 I. C 643 : 1 O. L J 281.

——Art. 47—Policy of sea insurance—Protection note—Want of stamp—Admissible on payment of penalty.

A document alleged to be a sea-policy was given by defendants to plaintiffs and it was in these terms :—" Given in writing by the undersigned persons. To wit : that we accepted the liability on goods shipped from the port of Muscat in the boat J. for Bombay. That liability is to exist up to the time the said goods have been discharged on the Bombay bunder having passed any intermediate ports. The insurance is accepted in accordance with the usage of English policies without damage. The amount is to be paid within six months from the date of the loss deducting therefrom discount at the rate of 20 per cent. through broker The signatures are to be duly affixed to the stamped pakka (i. e.) formal policy." The document was not stamped. The cargo was lost on account of an accident. In a suit for damages, held, that the document in question was a policy of sea-insurance within art. 47 of the Stamp Act. The document rendered the executants liable for a fixed sum for the insurance of the goods shipped by a particular boat and fixed a definite period. Therefore it is open to the plaintiffs on payment of the necessary penalty, to tender the document in evidence. (Shah, A C J and Crump. J.) TRICAMJI DAMJI AND Co. v. VIRJI KANJI.

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899), Art. 48.

24 Bom. L. R. 820 : 1923 Bom. 142.

——Art. 48 —Power of attorney.

A power of attorney executed in favour of a person not a certified mukh ear or pleader should be stamped according to Art 48 of Sch. I. (Richards, Griffin and Tudball, JJ.) PERMANEND v. SAT PERSHAD. 33 All. 487 : 9 I. C. 617 : 8 A. L. J. 378

——Art. 48—Power of attorney—Person not a certified mukhtear or pleader—Stamp—Court-fees Act, Sch. II, Art. 10.

Where a Power of Attorney is executed in favour of a person who is not a certified mukh tear or pleader under the Legal Practitioners Act the document should be stamped not with the stamp provided for by Art 48 ; but with a Court-fee stamp as provided for by Art. 10 of Sch. II of the Court Fess Act. (Ried, C.J., Kensington and Chevis, JJ.) GANPAT v. PREM SINGH.
108 P. W. R. 1912 : 15 I. C. 122 : 202 P. L R. 1912.

——Art. 53 —Receipts for adjustments.

Receipts granted for amounts transferred in books by adjustments are exempt from stamp duty. (White. C. J., Munro and Sankaran Nair, JJ.) SECRETARY TO THE COMMISSIONER OF SALT, MADRAS In re. 9 M. L. T. 355 : 9 I. C. 342 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 293.

——Arts. 55 and 45—Release deed or partition deed.

Where each of two persons claims, as full and exclusive donor certain property and where each of them afterwards agrees to release a portion in favour of the other, such agreements and release deeds and not partition deeds as the case is not of co-owners agreeing to divide the property. 9 Bom. 417, Foll. (Knox, Rafique and Piggott, JJ.) JIBAN KUAR v. GOVIND DAS. 38 All 56 : 31 I. C. 401 : 13 A. L. J. 1109.

——Sch. I, Art. 1—Account-book entries—Stamp.

The account book entries are not liable to stamp duty and are admissible in evidence. 39 Cal. 789 ; 4 Cal. 885, Foll. (Twoney and Ormond, JJ.) RAMDAYAL v. KUMAR GANGADHARA BOGLA 29 I. C. 943 : 8 Bur. L. T. 238

——Sch. I, Art. 5 and S. 35 —Document—Stamped in accordance with practice.

Documents which have been stamped in accordance with practice which has been recognised by the High Court for a long time, though not strictly legal. will be held to be duly stamped. (Jenkins and Woodroffe, JJ.) BAIJNATH v. AHMED MUSAJI SALEJI. 40 Cal. 219 : 18 I. C. 978 : 17 C. W. N. 395.

STANDING COMMITTEE.
See CORPORATION.

STANDING CROPS OR TIMBER.
See (1) GENERAL CLAUSES ACT, S. 3 (25).
(2) REG ACT, S. 3.
(3) T. P. ACT, S. 3.

STRAITS SETTLEMENTS ORDINANCE (VI OF 1896), S. 10.

STARE DECISIS.
See PRACTICE—PRECEDENTS.

STATUTE—INTERPRETATION.
See INTERPRETATION OF STATUTES.

STATUTORY BODY.
See also (1) CORPORATION.
(2) JURISDICTION.

——Discretion— Colorable exercise— Civil Courts—Power to interfere.

Where a statutory body entrusted with the fixing of pensions of retired public servants passed an award on a maliciously low basis. Held, that the discretion was not to be arbitrarily exercised but reasonably fairly and justly ; that the award of the Board was unreal and unsubstantial, though made under the guise of exercising discretion and that the Court could decree the plff. his claim. (Lord Macnaghten.) LESLIE WILLIAMS v. HAINES THOMAS GIDDY.
10 M. L. T. 288: 15 C. W. N. 669 : 11 I. C. 509 : 21 M. L. J. 641 (P. C.).

——Part—Non-feasance—Liability for.

No action for damages lies against a public body unless it amounts to carelessness or negligence in the discharge of statutory duties. If, however. the acts done by a public body are only permissive the private rights of the parties must be respected and such body is liable to damages for injury caused to private individuals. 28 Mad. 72 ; 27 Bom. 344 ; (1902) A. C. 213, 226; 31 Mad. 117, Ref. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Phillips, JJ.) KRISHNAMURTHI AIYAR v. TALUK BOARD OF MAYAVARAM. 42 Mad. 331 : 9 L. W. 353 : 50 I. C. 809 : 36 M. L. J. 372.

STAY OF EXECUTION.
See (1) C. P. CODE., S. 151 ; O. 21, R. 19 , O. 41 RR 5 AND 6 ; O. 45.

STAY OF PROCEEDINGS.
See (1) C. P. CODE. S. 151.
(2) C. P. CODE O. 41, R 5.

STAY OF SALE.
See C. P. CODE O. 41, RR. 5 AND 6.

STAY OF SUIT.
See C. P CODE. S. 10.

STEP-IN-AID.
See LIM. ACT, ART. 182.

STEP-MOTHER.
See (1) HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION.
(2) MAHOMEDAN LAW.

STIFLING PROSECUTION.
See CONTRACT ACT, S. 23.

STIPEND.
See (1) C. P. CODE, S. 60.
(2) PENSIONS ACT.

STRAIT SETTLEMENTS ORDINANCE (VI OF 1896).

——S. 10—"Specific purpose," meaning of.

A "specific purpose" within the meaning of S. 10 of the Limitation) Ordinance No. 6 of 1896 of the Strait Settlement, corresponding with S. 10 of the Indian Limitation Act, must be a purpose that is either actually or specifically defined in the terms of the Will or Settlement, or a purpose which, from the specific terms can be certainly affirmed. The statement, in Balwant Rao v Puran Mal (1888) 6 All. 1 (P. C.) that the purpose of the following property in the hands of the trustees referred to at the end of the section must be the purpose of restoring it to the trust which is specified in the earlier part of the section provides a sound and critical test by which to consider whether or not any particular trust is within the provision of the section. (Lord Buckmaster). KHAW SIM TEK v. CHUAH HOOI GNOH NEOH.

STREET.

(1922) 1 A. C. 120 : 26 C. W. N. 495 : 49 I. A. 37 : 30 M. L. T. 160 : 25 Bom. L. R. 121 : 1922 P. C. 212 (P.C.).

STREET.
See HIGHWAY.

STREET DRAINS.
See LOCAL ACTS.

STREET, PRIVATE.
See HIGHWAY.

STRIDHANAM.
See HINDU LAW - STRIDHANAM.

SUB-AGENT.
See CONTRACT ACT, Ss. 190—195.

SUBMISSION—Arbitration.
See (1) ARBITRATION.
(2) C. P. CODE, SCH. II.

————Jurisdiction.
See (1) C P. CODE, Ss. 13, 20.
(2) JURISDICTION.

SUBORDINATE COURTS.
See PRACTICE.

SUBROGATION.
See T. P. ACT, Ss. 76 AND 101.

SUBSEQUENT EVENTS.
See (1) C. P. C., O. 6, R. 17 and O. 41, R. 33.
(2) PRACTICE.

SUBSTITUTED SECURITY.
See (1) PARTITION—EQUITIES.
(2) T. P. ACT, Ss. 71, 73.

SUBSTITUTED SERVICE.
See C. P. CODE, O. 5, R. 20.

SUBSTITUTION OF SECURITIES.
See (1) HINDU LAW—PARTITION.
(2) PARTITION.
(3) T. P. ACT, Ss. 71, 73.

SUB-TENANT.
See (1) LANDLORD AND TENANT.
(2) T. P. ACT, S. 109.

SUCCESSION.
See (1) BUDDHIST LAW.
(2) HINDU LAW.
(3) MAHOMEDAN LAW.

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865).

————S. 2—Will—Present devise— Management after death.

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865), S. 50.

Where by a dedication the grantor appointed himself as the manager and provided that upon his death, his disciple was to become the manager held it is not a "will" as the disposition does not take effect after his death but becomes operative during his lifetime. (Coutts and Das, JJ.) MAHANTH SURKHDEO DAS v. KESHWAR SINGH.
1 Pat. L. T. 457.

————Ss 7, 9 and 10—Domicile of origin—Domicile of choice—Burden of proof—Domicile of origin and domicile of choice explained.

The law is very strongly inclined to retain the domicile of origin. If a person alleges that a man had acquired a domicile of choice, he must prove that that man had that intention. (Beaman, J.) SANTOS v. PINTO. 41 Bom. 687 : 36 I. C. 227 : 18 Bom. L. R. 715.

————S. 7—Procedure—Nature.

To grant of a succession certificate no elaborate or lengthy enquiry is required a summary enquiry would do. (Shadi Lal, J.) RAMSARAN v. GAPPU RAM. 33 I. C 603 : 71 P. W. R. 1916.

————S. 27—Lineal descendant.

The phrase "lineal descendants" in the Indian Succession Act means descendants born in lawful wedlock. (Saunders, J. C.) SOPHIA BLIN v. MARIA DAVID. 12 Bur. L. T. 48 : 10 L. B R. 77 : 51 I. C. 542 : (1919) 3 U. B. R. 128.

————S. 50—Will—Proof of execution.

Where a Will is prepared under the direction of the testator with the intention of giving effect to it and the attestors attest it and the testator affixed his thumb mark in the presence of the attestors, the requirements under S. 50 of the Act must be held to have been complied with. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J.) THERESA v. MISQUITA. 45 Bom. 989 : 61 I. C. 587 : 23 Bom. L. R. 399.

————S. 50—Will—Attestation— Acknowledgment by testator.

It is sufficient if the testator makes the attesting witnesses understand that the paper which they attest is his will though they do not see him sign it. (Batchelor and Roe, JJ.) BALMUKUND KESURDAS v. BHAGWANDAS KESURDAS.
19 I. C. 401 : 15 Bom. L. R. 209.

————S. 50—Formalities—Execution and attestation of a will.

S. 53 of the Succession Act merely lays down the formalities required by law to be observed in the execution and attestation of a will, and must not be confused with the question of the proof of the fact whether those formalities have been properly observed. (Fletcher and N. R. Chatterjee, JJ.) RAMMAL DAS KOCH v. KAKAL KOLI COCHINI. 43 I. C. 208 : 22 C. W. N. 315.

————S. 50—Will—Execution—Validity.

Where a will is wholly in the handwriting of the deceased and bears his signature on the various pages thereof and alongside his signature on the top of the left-hand corner of the first page are the signatures of four witnesses and on each of the other three pages, the signatures of two out of those four persons, the signature of the testator on the first page is the operative signature by which he intends to make the document effective. The witnesses put their signatures animo attestandi and the will was properly executed by the deceased. (Fletcher and Richardson, JJ.) SABITRI THAKURAIN v. F. A. SAIN.

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865), S. 50.

29 I. C. 743 : 19 C. W. N. 1279.

——— S. 50—Person signing for testator himself attestor.

A will signed by a person for the testator and attested by himself and another is not duly attested and is inoperative. An unprivileged will is not duly executed under S. 50 where the testator who cannot sign his name simply touches the pen and hands it to some one to put his mark. He should affix the mark himself though he is allowed under S. 50 to get the will signed for him by a substitute. (Wallis, C. J. and Phillips, J.) RADHA KRISHNA MUDALIAR v. SUBBARAYA MUDALI. 40 Mad 550 : 34 I. C. 849 : 4 L. W. 255 : 31 M L. J. 357.

———S. 50—U. P. Court of Wards Act (IV of 1912), Ss. 17 and 18.

S. 50 of the Succession Act requires the attesting witness only to have a clear view of the testator when he signs. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs.) KETKI v. MANAGER, NAN PARA ESTATE. 7 O. L. J. 589 : 58 I. C. 945 : 291 P. L. R. (J. C.) 178.

———S. 50—Will—Attestation—Validity.

Under the section, it is sufficient if the attesting witnesses had a clear view of the testator at the time of signing. They may not see that his fingers moved at the time. Mere initials are proper signature if duly attested. Provisions in a will as to pious reflections and submission to creator do not invalidate will. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A.J.Cs.) SHER MUHAMMAD KHAN v. DEPUTY COMMISSIONER, BHARAICH.
58 I. C. 134 : 7 O. L. J. 406

———S. 50—Will—Invalidity of—Want of attestation.

A document which is put forward as a will but which is not attested at all, is not a duly executed will under S. 50 of the Succession Act. (Lindsay, J. C. and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) BURTON v. JACKOBSON. 30 I. C. 263 : 2 O. L. J. 193.

———S. 50—Will—Execution and attestation of.

A will executed without attesting witnesses and deposited in the Registrar's office but taken out at the Registrar's office ten years afterwards in the presence of witnesses who signed the same in the proper places, sufficiently satisfies the provisions of S. 50 of the Act and must be taken as having been executed and registered on the same day. (Piggott, J. C. and Lindsay, A. J. C.) MIR SYED HASAN v. TAIYABA BEGAM.
26 I. C. 547 : 1 O. L. J. 591.

———S. 50—Attestation—Endorsement of Sub-Registrar that execution was admitted—Effect.

Where the writer of a will affixed only a mark by the pen of the scribe, and there was only one attesting witness on the day of execution, but the next day the Sub-Registrar signed an endorsementstating that the testatrix admitted execution before him. Held the Sub-Registrar also can be considered to be an attestor for the purposes of S. 50 of the Indian Succession Act. Case-law referred to. (Das and Adami, JJ.) SARADA PRASAD TEJ v. TRIGUNA CHARAN RAY. 1 P. 300 : 1 Pat. L. R. 263 : 1922 P. 402.

———S 50 (3)—Scope of—Direction—Attestation by witnesses.

To constitute a direction it is not necessary that anything should be said. If a testator in making his mark is assisted by some other person and acquiesces and adopts it, it is just the same as if he had made it himself. 59 Eng. Rep. 1041, Ref. It is sufficient for purposes of S. 50 if each of the two or more witnesses to a will speaks either to the signature or to the affixing of the mark by another person or to the personal acknowledgment. The Indian Law unlike the English Law does not require that the witnesses to a will must be present at the same time. (D. Chatterjee and Chapman, JJ.) MUKTA NATH ROY v. JITENDRANATH ROY. 22 C. L. J. 262 : 27 I. C. 677 : 19 C. W. N. 1295.

———S. 57—Will—Codicil—Revocation—Conduct.

S.157 of the Succession Act is exhaustive. 30 M. 359, Ref. That section read with S. 3 of the Hindu Wills Act means that a Hindu will cannot be revoked except in the manner mentioned in S. 57 subject to the proviso contained in S. 3 of the Hindu Wills Act. A codicil will not be impliedly revoked merely by the destruction or mutilation of the will, and the codicil notwithstanding remains ineffectual, unless it appears that in revoking the will, the testator intended to revoke the codicil as well. No doubt a codicil is prima facie dependent on the will and before the passing of the Wills Act it was recognised that a codicil fell to the ground with the will when the Will was revoked. Where the will and the codicil are so independent of each other that either could stand alone, a revocation of the one does not operate as a revocation of the other. The conduct of the sons could not be accepted as evidence of the intention of the testator in the matter of revocation of the will though no doubt his own declaration might under certain circumstances be admissible. 8 P. D. 169, Foll. (Mookerjee and Cuming, JJ.) SURENDRA NATH CHATTERJEE v. SHADAS MOOKERJEE. 35 C. L. J. 488 : 1922 Cal 182.

———S. 57—Writing the word "cancelled"—Effect—Destruction.

The writing of the word "cancelled" on a will with the date and signature by the testator accompanied with a tearing of the will partially revokes the will completely under S. 57 of the Indian Succession Act. What acts of tearing, burning or cancelling are sufficient to constitute a total or partial revocation of will depends to a considerable extent upon the circumstances of each case. The slightest act of tearing with intent to revoke the whole thereby is sufficient to constitute valid revocation. The two elements that constitute revocation under S. 57 of the

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865), S. 58.

Indian Succession Act are (1) intention ; (2) some outward act or symbol of intention. A defacement, obliteration or destruction without the animo revocandi is not sufficient. Neither is the intention the animo revocandi sufficient unless some act of obliteration or destruction is done. (Sanderson, C. J., Woodroffe and Mookerjee JJ.) JOHUR LAL DEY v. DHIRENDRA NATH DEY.
20 C. W. N. 304 : 34 I. C. 707 : 23 C. L. J. 314.

——S. 58—Alterations in will unattested—Probate.

The execution of will long before the testator's death or the change in circumstances under which it was written are immaterial for a probate case. S 58 applies only to alterations made after the execution of the will. Where the alterations made are unattested and the intention of the will is clear even without them and is not affected by them, the will as it originally stood without the unattested alterations will be admitted to probate. (Miller and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) MALHUSAMIER v. SREESRAE MEETHANITHI SAWAMIYER AVERGAL.
38 Mad. 356 : 13 M. L. T. 498 : (1913) M. W. N. 581 : 19 I. C. 694 : 25 M. L. J. 393

——S. 62—Bequest to unnamed person—Secret instructions—Oral evidence.

A legatee who undertakes to carry out the wishes of a testator, will be treated as a trustee and compelled to carry out the secret instructions of the testator. Parol evidence is admissible to prove the trust. Where a testator leaves instructions to carry out a bequest which he had kept secret reposing confidence in a particular man to carry out the instructions and the intended beneficiary files a suit praying that that person might be ordered to disclose the secret trust and that Held, that parol evidence was admissible to prove the bequest might be declared for his benefit the trust and that the secret trust should be declared in favour of the beneficiary, the power given to the trustee not being a general one but a special one. (Macleod, J.) BAYABAI SAKALKAR v. HARIDAS RANCHHORDAS. 40 Bom. 1 : 27 I. C. 946 : 17 Bom. L. R. 115.

——S. 72—Construction of will.

No part of the will is to be rejected as of no meaning if it is capable of being reasonably construed. (Fawcett, A. J. C.) DINBAI v. NUSSERWANJI. 28 I. C. 481.

——S. 80—"Qualifying terms."

The words "qualifying terms" in S. 80 refer to the heirs and not to the bequest. (Fawcett, A. J. C.) DINBAI v. NUSSERANJI MEHTA.
28 I. C. 481.

——S. 82—Grant to Hindu female—Nature of estate.

Under Hindu Law a grant in favour of a female does not necessarily confer an absolute estate on her. S. 82 of the Succession Act does not apply to such a case. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) CHAURAS KUNWAR v. JAGANNATH SINGH.
7 O. L. J. 147 : 56 I. C. 287 : 2 U. P. L. R. J. C.) 89.

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865), S. 99.

——S. 82—Applicability of—Hindu wills.

By virtue of Hindu Wills Act, S. 82, applies to the will of a Hindu. In construing a will, the intention of the testator should be ascertained for which purpose the will should be read in the light of surrounding circumstances. (White and Tyabji, JJ.) DHANAPALA CHETTY v ANANTA CHETTY. 18 I.C. 973 : (1913) M W.N. 322 : 13 M.L T. 305 : 24 M.L.J. 418.

——Ss. 82 and 111—Will—Construction—Gift over—Death of the donee, during testator's life time—Effect.

A will directed the distribution of the deceased landed property among his heirs and gave one part to his wife and provided that if her son A, outlived his mother, her share should descend to him : Held, that the interest of the wife was only a life interest and not an absolute one. It is only where the testator speaks of death which is certain as if it were a mere contingency by using such expression as "if any of them die" or "in case of his decease" that such death, to render the divesting clause operative, must be seemed to be death within the testator's life. (Twomey, J.) MAUNG PU v. NAPEAN. 15 I.C 355 : 5 Bur. L. T. 87.

——S. 84—Will—Devise to eldest son and the lawful male sons of such son.

A devise to the eldest son and the lawful male sons of such son must be construed as conferring on the eldest son only a life estate. To a will of 1864 the provisions of the Succession Act are inapplicable and the rules of justice, equity and good conscience will govern the case (Lord Shaw.) RICHARD ROSS SKINNER v. MAUNILAL.
35 All. 211 : 19 I. C. 267 : 40 I A. 105 : (1913) M W. N. 500 : 13 M. L. T. 488 : 11 A.L.J. 494 : 17 C.L.J. 555 : 16 Bom L. R. 502 : 17 C. W. N. 853 . 25 M.L.J. 111 (P.C.

——S. 87—Gift to mistress and her sons.

In a gift by an unmarried person to his mistress and her sons, there must be an intimation that the illegitimate sons are meant. (Coxe and Chatterjee, JJ.) UDIT SINGH v. AMAR KUAR.
23 I. C. 348.

——S 91—Estate vested not full or absolute.

The estate vested is not full or absolute and until the executor's assent is given, the legatee's rights are only inchoate. A legacy, even if vested would be divested by the legatee's disclaimer. (White, C.J. and Oldfield, J.) LAKSHMAMMA v. RATNAMMA. 38 Mad. 474 : 21 I. C. 698. 25 M L.J. 556.

——S. 99, (Excep.)—Bequest to son's wife—Son not married at testator's death—Bequest, if valid—'Kindred.'

Where a bequest was made to a son's wife and the son married only after the testator's death but the wife was in existence at the testator's death the bequest is covered by the exception to S. 99 of the Succession Act and is valid. The word 'kindred' in the exception to S. 99 of the Succession Act when imported in a Hindu wil should not be limited to blood relations and therefore a wife stands equally well in the relation of a kindred to her husband. (Mookerjee and Caspersz, JJ.) DINESH CHANDRA ROY v. BIRAJ KAMANI DASI. 39 Cal. 87 : 11 I. C. 67 : 14 C.L.J. 20 : 15 C.W.N. 945.

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865), S. 100.

——— Ss. 100, 101 and 102—Applicability—Parsi will—Construction.

The rules in Ss. 100, 101 and 102 constitute the law of British India applicable to succession to the property of everyone except Hindus, Mahomedans or Buddhists. They are, therefore, applicable to those subject to a variety of systems of jurisprudence, and must therefore be construed according to the generally current meaning of the words used and apart from such technical considerations as are only appropriate in the law of England. Where the will was that of a Parsi in Bombay. Held though the principle of joint family may not apply to a Parsi with the rigidity with which it applies, for example, in the case of a Hindu, still the conception of joint family right which is common in oriental countries ought not to be left wholly out of sight in interpreting the words of a Parsi, when the executors are enjoined to permit occupation to the daughter until death or marriage and to all the sons and also all their respective families, during as well as after the respective lifetimes of the sons, including the widows of the testator's lineal male descendants, the testator ought to be contemplated as having before his mind the family arrangements which would be natural in the case of his own sons, and in the case of the sons the title conferred on them to occupy extends to occupation along with their wives and families. The question is one purely of intention as shown by the particular words used in this will. Servants must be included on more general grounds. Even the daughter must be entitled if she resides to have a cook and the servants necessary for a household. But, while in her case it is not natural in the same way that she should bring with her a family of which she is not the head, in the cases of the sons they may have such families and be bound by religion as well as law to have these residents with them. Where there is a direction implying a postponement of the division of the residue for ten years, or until the death of the last surviving son, the direction is inoperative, the interest to which it attaches being absolute. (Viscount Haldane.) PUTLIBAI v. SORABJI NAOROJI GAAMDIA, 45 M.L.J 780 : 25 Bom. L.R. 1099 : 33 M.L.T. (P. C) 401 : (1923) M.W.N. 626 · 1923 P. C. 122 (P. C.)

——— Ss. 101 and 102—Will—Construction—Dispositions to grandsons on attaining majority—Hindu Wills Act (XXI of 1870), Ss 2 and 3.

A Hindu testator directed his executor to divide his residuary estate into five shares, he having had 5 sons, and to give away the same to his grandsons, in the case of sons with male issue. (if sons were without male issues, to the sons themselves) when the grandsons would attain their age Held, that the disposition was invalid having regard to Ss. 101 and 102 of the Succession Act. (Lord Macnaghten). SUBRAMANIA PILLAI v. MURUGESA PILLAI. 21 I. C. 282 : 17 C. W. N. 488 (P. C.).

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865), S. 106.

——— S. 101—Applicability—Hindu will.

S. 101 of the Succession Act lays down a special rule which differs from the English Law on the subject and there is no reason why it should be invoked for the construction of Hindu Wills made before that section came into operation. (Chaudhuri and Cuming, JJ.) DAKSHAYANI DASI v. AMRITA LAL GHOSE. 53 I. C. 779 : 23 C. W. N. 826.

——— Ss. 101 and 105—Charitable bequests.

S. 101 of the Succession Act applies to all bequests, whether they are of a charitable nature or not. The question whether a bequest is invalid for remoteness, does not depend upon what did in fact happen but whether under the terms of the will the bequest might be delayed beyond the time specified in S. 101 of the Succession Act. The positive language of the Succession Act as contained in the provisions of S. 101 is sufficient to preclude the application of English Law. (Sanderson. C. J. and Woodroffe, J.) JOSEPH HENRY JONES v. THE ADMINISTRATOR GENERAL OF BENGAL. 47 I.C. 383 : 46 Cal. 485.

——— S. 101—Direction in will for repairs of grave of testator and of his wife and child.

A direction in a will that the trustee should look after and keep in repair the graves of himself, his wife and his child is not a charity but a perpetuity and therefore void. (Chaudhuri. J.) ADMINISTRATOR GENERAL OF BENGAL v. HUGHES. 21 I. C. 183 : 40 Cal. 192.

——— Ss. 103 and 250—Probate—Proceedings—Caveator cannot contest will.

A caveator has no locus standi to contest a will or agitate the matter of in probate proceedings. He may afterwards be able to establish his right to call in question the validity of some or all of the bequests made by the testator. (Ayling and Odgers, JJ.) RAJAMANIKAM v. FARRAR. 32 M. L. T. (H. C.) 20 : 1922 M. W. N 626 : 16 L. W. 456 : 1923 Mad. 131.

——— S. 105—Will—Codicil.

The re-publication of a will did not in the circumstances erase the old date and the will as modified upon the codicil is operative. (Chaudhuri, J.) ADMINISTRATOR GENERAL OF BENGAL v. HUGHES. 21 I. C. 183 : 40 Cal 192.

——— Ss. 106 and 107—Parsi Will—Construction—Gift of life-interest—Reversionary trusts.

Where a Parsi devised a house to his wife for life with remainder to trustees in trust for his son J, for life and if he dies, in trust for his widow and issue, and in default of issue, in trust for his son K and J died without leaving issue or widow during the lifetime of the testator's widow, held, that K because absolutely entitled to the house, subject to the life-interest of the testator's widow. (Lord Phillimore.) KAIKAHUSHRU BEZONJI CAPADIA v. SHIRUBAI BEZNAJI CAPADIA. 48 Bom. 88 : 21 Bom L. R. 130 : 23 C W. N 419 : 51 I. C. 481 : 9 L. W. 485 (P. C.)

——— Ss. 106 and 107—Parsi will—Construction—Bequest to son—Son dying a minor—Gift, over—English rules of construction.

Held on the construction of the will in the case the bequest in favour of the testator's son was vested in interest at the date of the testator's death and it was not divested by the son's death before attaining majority. Per Shah, A. C. J. The exception to S. 107 of the Succcession Act would apply even where a part of the income is directed to be applied for the benefit of the legatee. Per Pratt, J.:—The exception to S. 107 of the Succession Act goes beyond the English Law and it is sufficient to bring the case within the exception if the direction is to apply so much as may be necessary of the income to maintenance (Shah, A.C.J. and Pratt, J.) RATANBAI RUSTAMJI, DADACHANJI v. CAWASJI EDALI.

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865), S. 106.

24 Bom. L. R. 1124 : 1923 Bom. 96.

——S 106—" Shall become vested."

Where a provision in a will confers life-estate on a widow and a vested interest in the sons after her death in equal shares, the interest of a son dying before the widow passes to his heirs, but where an agreement between the brothers provides that they would take the property in equal shares. After their step-mother's death, the interest of a brother dying before the mother, passes to his full brother by inheritance. (Newbould, J.) MATHURA NATH BISWAS v. KOHHIODH'M DASYA. 57 I. C. 747.

——S. 107—Illustrations—Contingent estate.

An estate on a future contingency is within S. 107 of the Act. 9 M. I. A. 123, Ref. to. (Mr. Ameer Ali.) BHUPENDRA KRISHNA GHOSH. AMARENDRA NATH DEY. 43 Cal. 432 : 34 I C 892 : 43 I. A. 12 : 19 M. L. T. 97 : 20 C. W. N. 169 : 23 C. L. J. 169 : 14 A.L. J. 167 : 3 L. W. 252 : 30 M. L J. 110 (P. C.)

[Affirming 41 Cal. 642 : 18 C. W. N. 360 : 24 I. C. 458.]

——S. 111—Scope of—Strict construction.

S. 111 of Succession Act enacts the rule in Edwards v. Edwards, 15 Beav. 361, which has not been fully accepted in England, and has to be applied only to cases coming strictly within its scope (Mr. Ameer Ali) BHUPEHDRA KRISHNA GHOSE v. AMARENDRA NATH DEY. 43 Cal. 432 : 43 I. A. 12 : 19 M. L. T. 97 : 23 C. W. N. 169 : 30 M. L. J. 110 : 23 C. L. J. 169 : 14 A. L. J. 167 : 3 L. W. 252 : (1916) 1 M. W. N. 73 : 18 Bom L R 347 : 34 I. C. 892 (P C) :

[Affirming 24 I. C. 458 : 41 Cal. 642)

——S. 111—Will—Uncertain event, estate to be made over on—Vesting at death of testator.

A Parsi testator made a will in 1866 providing that his two sons "were to be proprietors half and half alike," of his whole estate, but the elder son P being of weak intellect the younger son was entrusted with the management of the estate. It was further provided that if the elder son who had only a daughter should get male issue, " half of the estate was to be made over to him on his attaining full age" and that his heirs should raise no objection to give him the share." P survived the testator and never had a son. Held, on the true construction of the will and having regard to S. 111 of the Succession Act, the will vested a moiety of the testator's estate in P absolutely on the testator's death. The gift over to a son of P who should take on attaining 21 years of age was appropriate to the event of the death of P during the life-time of the testator and of his having a son under 21 at that time. (Lord Shaw,) JEHANGIR DADABHOY v. KAIKUSHRU CAVASHA.

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865), S. 111.

39 Bom. 296 : 42 I. A. 71 : 28 M. L. J. 167 : 2 L. W. 208 : 13 A. L. J. 217 : 19 C. W. N. 426 : 21 C. L. J. 210 : 17 Bom. L. R. 197 : 17 M. L. T. 203 : 27 I C. 53 : 1915 M. W N. 633 (P. C.).

——S. 111—Will—Construction — Uncertain event— Marriage of daughter — Provisions for maintenance, etc.

A Hindu testator by his will made a gift for maintenance to each of his daughters of Rs. 600 a year coupled with a direction that "when they will be married", separate houses should be provided for them in the vicinity of the testator's house and that so long as the daughters lived in the separate houses so provided, " they would get the fixed allowances respectively but if the daughters do not live in the place they will get Rs. 10." The testator died in 1879 and the daughters married in 1888 and 1889 respectively and lived in separate houses. In suits by the daughters for their allowances, the defence was that the bequests to them were given in the " uncertain event" of their marriage and as that event did not happen until after the death of the testator, the bequests were void under S. 111 of the Succession Act. Held, that the payment of maintenance was not contingent on marriage or any other future event and therefore S. 111 of the Succession Act did not apply. (Lord Mercy). CHANDRA KISHORE ROY v. PRASANNA KUMARI DASI. 38 Cal. 327 : 38 I. A. 7 : 15 C. W. N. 121 : 9 M. L. T. 71 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 30 : 13 C. L. J. 58 : 8 A. L. J. 96 : 13 Bom. L. R. 67 : 21 M. L. J. 116 : 9 I. C. 122 : 4 Bur. L. T. 65 (P. C.).

——S. 111—Rule of construction.

S. 111 of the Act lays only rules of construction subject to be rebutted in its application by any provision in the will. Hence it cannot turn an estate into absolute one, where the intention of the testator in the will creates a gift followed by a contingent gift, which latter one is in substitution and not in remainder. The section applies only where the time of occurrence of the contingency is uncertain. A bequest by a Hindu in favour of his widow and on her death to his daughter for life and an alternative one in favour of the male issue of the daughter or to charity, fails as void in favour of the male issue but not in charity. A Hindu testator is competent enough to provide for the defeasance of an absolute of the happening of a conti gency in future. (Pratt, J.) ADVOCATE-GENERAL OF BOMBAY v. VITHAL DAS MEGHJI. 58 I. C. 996 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1005.

——S. 111—Will —Restriction on inheritance—Time not mentioned for occurrence of uncertain event.

A Parsi will provided (1) that the daughter of the testator when she attains majority and gets possession of her portion of the legacy was to be a sort of ex officio joint executor with the then existing executors, (2) that if the son of the testator comes and meets the testator there without marrying, or if married, without any lineal heir, his share would revert equally to his surviving sisters or their heirs. Held, that the daughter on attaining majority is entitled to her legacy and to be co-executrix and was so entitled without waiting for possession of the whole of the legacy. S.111 of the Act applied and the restriction placed on the son's inheritance by the testator was nugatory and ought not to be given effect to. (Davar, J.) SARDAR NAWROJI v. PUTLIBAI, 37 Bom. 644 : 19 I. C. 832 : 15 Bom. L. R. 352.

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865), S. 111.

——S. 111—Applicability of—Hindu will.

The applicability of S. 111 of the Succession Act depends on a natural meaning as opposed to a forced tnterpretation of the words used in a will. (Walmsley and Huda, JJ.) SHRIMATI GUNAMANI DASI v. DEVI PBASANNA ROY. 54 I. C. 897 : 23 C. W. N. 1038

——S. 111—Applicability of—Will.

Where a Hindu testator left a will providing "if my wife die before, my daughter shall get the said property," and died leaving him surviving the said persons, held, that the legacy to the daughter could not take effect under S. 111 of the Act, as the wife did not die in the lifetime of the testator. (Chatterjee and Newbould, JJ.) JAGAT BIJOY v. TOMIJUDDI HOWLADAR. 39 I. C. 228 : 44 Cal. 181.

——S. 111—Rule of construction—Absolute rule.

If property is given to a person with a power to sell or give it away, he takes an absolute interest in the property. The rule laid down in S. 111 of the Succession Act is a statutory rule of construction which the Courts are bound to follow. Where the testator has given an absolute gift to a legatee and a gift over simpliciter on a contingency of death, is that he was referring to death before the period of distribution. (Fletcher and Richardson, JJ.) NISTARINI DEBYA v. BEHARILAL. 27 I. C. 239 : 19 C. W. N. 52.

——S. 111—Gift over in the event of minor legatee not attaining age.

A gift over in the event of a minor legatee not attaining full age is valid. (Fletcher and Richardson, JJ.) DURGA PRASAD v. RAGHUNANDANLAL. 23 I. C. 597 : 19 C W. N. 439

——S. 111—No applicability to Punjab.

Section 111, Succession Act, has been made applicable to cases governed by the Hindu Wills Act. This Act however, is not applicable to Punjab. Therefore, section 111 cannot apply to Punjab. (Abdul Raoof and Lumsden, JJ.) PREM SINGH v. HARDIT SINGH. 1923 Lah. 649.

——S. 111—Gift over on death of legatee with full ownership is void.

A gift over of the remainder on the death of the legatee with full ownership is void and inoperative in law. (Broadway and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) MOHAN LAL v. NIRANJAN DAS. 60 I. C. 619 : 2 Lah. 175.

——S. 116—Failure of prior bequest not as contemplated—Validity of the gift over.

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865), S. 164.

A gift over shall take effect on the failure of a prior bequest although the failure may not have occurred in the manner contemplated by the testator. So, where a testator provided that if his son died, a minor and his widow survived him, she would acquire the property before the two daughters ; Held that if the widow predeceased the son still the two daughters would not be deprived of the legacy. (Fletcher and Richardson, JJ.) DURGA PRASAD v. RAGHAVANDAN LAL. 19 C. W. N. 439 : 23 I. C. 597.

——S. 118—Absolute estate—Gift to a third person on some condition.

A bequest of absolute estate, with a provision that it should go to the third person if the legatee would die without male issue is valid under S. 118 and is not opposed to Hindu Law. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J.) BAI DHANLAXMI v. HARIPRASAD. 45 Bom. 1038 : 62 I. C. 37 : 23 Bom. L. R. 433.

——S. 118 — Will — Gift over to charity whether valid.

An immediate gift to a charity for charitable purposes with a gift over, on an event which may occur beyond the limit of perpetuities, to another charity is not illegal. If the condition is neither impossible nor illegal the gift over would come into operation on the non-fulfilment of the conditions. (Chaudhuri, J.) ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL OF BENGAL v. HUGHES. 21 I. C. 183 : 40 Cal. 192.

——S. 137—Unprobater will—Defence.

A will executed in Madras though not probated may be used by the deft. to contest the plff.'s suit. 14 Mad. 454; 33 Mad. 91, Foll.; 38 Mad. 474, Not foll. ; 18 C. W. N. 1136 ; 21 C. L. J. 96, Ref. (Kumaraswami Sastri, J.) SADAGOPA NAIDU v. THIRUMALAISWAMI NAIDU. 30 I. C. 272. 18 M. L. T. 129.

——S. 159—Will—Gift of income—If gift of corpus.

A gift of income without more is a gift of the corpus though the gift is to the separate use or through the medium of trust. (Chaudhuri, J.) ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL OF BENGAL v. HUGHES 21 I. C. 183 : 40 Cal. 192.

——S. 160—Hindu Wills Act—Intention.

S. 160 is made applicable to Hindus by the Hindu Wills Act. It only requires that a contrary intention should appear sufficiently from the language of the Will read as a whole, and not that the intention should be indicated by express words. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) NILADRINATH MUKERJI v. SAROJNATH MUKERJI. 62 I. C. 681.

——S: 160—Applicability.

The principle in S. 160 does not apply when a contrary intention appears in the document. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) RAJLAKHI DEBYA v. SAROLA SANDARI DEBYA. 56 I. C. 808.

——S.164—Effect of—Hindus.

S 164 expressly abolishes the doctrine of satisfaction. Though the rule is not applicable to Hindus orMahomedans its principle is applicable. (Beaman, J.) HASSANALLI v. POPATLAL SARBHIS DAS. 37 Bom. 211 : 17 I. C. 17 : 14 Bom. L R. 782.

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865), S. 187.

——S 187—Grant of probate before decree and after suit—Sufficiency of.

So long as the compliance with S. 187 is prior to the decree, the fact that it was after the institution of the suit made no difference and the Court is fully competent to deal with the suit. (Lord Mersey). CHANDRA KISHORE ROY v PRASANNA KUMARI DASI. 38 Cal 327 : 38 I. A 7 : 15 C. W. N. 121 : 9 M. L. T. 71 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 30 : 13 C. L. J. 58 : 8 A. L. J. 96 : 13 Bom. L. R. 67 : 9 I. C. 122 : 4 Bur. L. T. 65 : 21 M. L. J. 116 (P.C). [On appeal from 10 C. W. N. 864]

——S. 187—Hindu Wills Act, S. 2—Compliance with after suit does not matter.

S. 187 of the Succession Act is made applicable to Hindus by S. 2 of the Hindu Wills Act and so long as compliance with the section is prior to the decree, the fact that it was after the institution of the suit makes no difference. The court is entitled to proceed with the suit. (Mookerjee and Cuming, JJ.) CHARU CHANDRA PRAMANICK v. NAHUSH CHANDRA KUNDU. 50 Cal. 49 : 1923 Cal. 1.

——S. 187—Admissibility in evidence of a will not proved in probate—Hindu Wills Act, S. 2.

A will not proved in the Probate Court may be cited in evidence if it is for a purpose other than to establish a right as executor or legatee, not withstanding S. 187 of the Succession Act, incorporated in the Hindu Wills Act (Mookerjee and Beachcroft JJ.) ACHYUTANANDA DAS v. JAGANNATH DAS. 21 C. L. J. 96 : 27 I. C. 739 : 20 C. W. N. 122.

——S. 187—Will—Probate not taken—Executor—Whether can pass possessory title.

The rule stated under S. 187 of the Succession Act is that a person who has to prove a title and has to divorce it from a will whether that person is plff. or deft., cannot do so without producing probate. Though in order to complete the title of an executor under a will, it is necessary to take out a probate at a later date, the will cannot be treated as non-existence nor can the property pass by intestacy merely because a probate has not been granted. A will is perfectly valid independently of the probate and the executor can deal with the property and give a good title. S. 187 is no bar to a transferee from an executor who has not taken out probate but who was in possession, and who has given possessory title deed suing on that title deed to eject a trespasser and the lack of probate is insufficient to bar the ejectment of such a trespasser. (Schwabe, C. J. and Wallace, J.) S PARTHASARATHY AIYAR v. M. SUBBAROYA GRAMONY (1923) M W. N. 763 : 45 M. L. J. 175 : 1924 Mad. 67.

——S. 187—Proof of execution title.

A party claiming an interest under a will as well as his successors-in-title must prove the execution of the document and its terms by the particular procedure laid down by the Legislature.

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865), S. 204.

38 Mad. 474, Foll.; 17 Cal. 347 (P.C.). Dist. (Bakewell, J.) ALAMELAMMAL v SURYAPRAKASAROYA. 38 Mad. 988 : 31 I. C. 491 : 29 M. L. J. 680.

——S. 187—Person debarred from establishing legatee's right as jus tertii.

S. 187 of the Succession Act affects not only the establishment of the legatee's right by himself but also debars a person from establishing legatee's right merely as a jus tertii for defence. (White, C. J. and Oldfield, J.) LAKSHMANA v. RATNAMA. 38 Mad. 474 : 21 I. C, 698 : 25 M. L. J. 556.

——S. 190—One of several heirs of deceased sued against as legal representative—Letters of Administration.

Where one of the heirs of a deceased Christian intestate was impleaded in a suit as his legal representative. Held, that unless Letters of Administration were granted by a competent Court no right to any part of the property of the deceased could be established. S. 190 of the Succession Act applies to the case. (Batchelor, A. C. J. and Shah, J.) TIMAJI KRISHNA PODDAR v. RAMA PIRAJI BHATKHANDE. 45 I. C. 862 : 20 Bom. L. R. 175.

——S 190—Parsis—Decree debt—Daughter's liability.

The amount under a decree against a family business, where the decree was passed after the father's death against the sons it does not affect the daughter's interest and S 190 has no application. (Scott, C. J. and Russell, J.) AHMEDABAD UNITED PRINTING CO. v. ARDESJUR KAVASJE 36 Bom. 5 5 : 16 I. C. 684 : 14 Bom. L. R. 644.

——Ss. 198, 183, 187 and 215—Application for Letters of Administration by minor legatee's mother—Power of Court.

A minor legatee cannot be granted Letters of Administration, and where there are other legatees also the mother of the minor cannot be granted the letters on behalf of the minor legatee. (Fox and Hartnoll, JJ.) MA SAW v. MA THIT. 5 Bur L. T. 235 : 18 I. C. 187 : 6 L. B. R. 118 ——Ss. 201, 227, 228 and 246—Letters of administration—Joint letters when granted—Co-heirs of equal degree—Rights of.

Special circumstances should be made out before granting joint letters of administration and even where the claimants are equal in degree of kindred to the deceased, only one should be appointed according to the established practice. The Court should prefer a sole to a joint administration and even where several persons stand in the same degree of kinship to the deceased it is the rule to select one only, the selection being made according to certain recognised principles. The interest of the estate which has to be administered and the interests of the parties entitled thereto must be primarily looked to and other things being equal a person with business capacity and experience will be preferred to one who has none. Where two persons are equally entitled by consanguity preference with frequently be given to the one chosen by the majority of those entitled to the distribution of the assets although other considerations may be sufficient to overrule the wishes of the majority of those interested. A son as a rule will be preferred to a daughter and where none of the usual tests can be applied the Court frequently appoints the applicant who is first in the field. The court never forces a joint administration upon unwilling parties. Where the applicants are quarrelling between themselves and are antagonistic to each other the administration of the estate is likely to suffer. As they must act jointly one of them if obstinate, could defeat the proper administration of the estate. 5 C. L. R. 38 Ref. S. 204 of the Succession Act does no more than state that those who are in equal degree of kindred to the deceased are all, from that point of view alone, equally entitled to be appointed administrator, but the section does not say that they are all entitled to be appointed jointly Under S. 225 of the Act the Court is given very wide powers where it considers necessary or convenient to appoint some person to administer the estate other than the person who in ordinary circumstances would be entitled to the grant. There is nothing in the Act which makes it obligatory upon the Court to grant Letters of Administration to all persons who may be entitled thereto merely by reason of their equal nearness of kin to the deceased. Separate Letters of Administration can be granted under Ss. 227 and 228 of the Succession Act where the deceased leaves a will in respect of a person of his properties and the rest has to be administered by a person other than the executor of the will. (Miller, C. J. and Foster, J.) STONEY v. STONEY. 2 Pat. 508 : 4 Pat. L. T. 251 : 1923 Pat. 130 : 1923 P. 348 (2).

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865), S. 239.

——— Ss. 239 and 264 B—Judge granting letters if can give directions as to property.

After granting Letters of Administration the District Judge cannot give any directions with reference to the property. (Shah and Crump, JJ.) WINSOR v. WINSOR. 44 B. 682 : 57 I. C. 116 : 22 Bom. L. R. 396.

——— S. 332—Notification under—Retrospective effect—Decision, meaning.

Notification dated 2nd May 1913, issued by the Government of India under S. 332 of the Succession Act at the appellate stage of a case did not apply where there had already been a decision of a competent Court regarding the rights of the parties. Decision includes a decision under appeal. (Mullick, J.) TUNI ORAON v. LEDA ORAON. 1 Pat. L. J. 225: 36 I. C. 206: 20 C. W. N. 1082.

——— S. 242—Jurisdiction of District Judge.

S. 242 gives jurisdiction under certain limitation to a District Judge to grant probate having effect throughout British India. (Kensington and Shah Din, JJ.) NAGINDRA NATH BANERJEE v. P. N. BANERJEE. 21 P. R. 1913: 19 I. C. 692: 221 P. L. R. 1913.

——— Ss. 261 and 263—Appeal against order refusing grant of Letters of Administration—Court-fee.

The Court fee payable in an appeal against an order refusing grant of Letters of Administration is Rs. 10 under Art. 17 (vi) of Sch. II of the Court Fees Act, as the subject matter in dispute cannot be estimated at a money value. An order of a District Judge refusing to grant Letters of Administration with a copy of the will annexed is a decree and is appealable from the order. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) MISS EVA MOUNT-STEPHENS v. MR. HUNTER GARNETT ORME. 22 I. C. 98 : 35 All. 448.

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865), S. 311.

——— Ss. 264, B and 239—Administrator—Direction to—Power to give.

When Letters of Administration to the estate have been granted a District Court cannot give directions to the administrator as regards the property (Shah and Crump, JJ.) MINA WINSOR v. E. WINSOR. 22 Bom. L. R. 396: 57 I. C. 116: 44 B. 682.

——— Ss. 268 to 273—Decree against estate represented by administrator.

A decree passed against an estate represented by an administrator acting on behalf of other administrator is perfectly valid and an auction sale held in execution of such a decree is binding until set aside though the administrator may be liable to the legatees for loss occasioned by gross negligence on his part. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) GRACE ROSAMUND RHODES v. PADMANABHA CHETTIAR. 1 L. W. 1033: 26 I. C. 369 : (1914) M. W N. 921 : 17 M. L. T. 18.

——— Ss. 269 and 293—Assent to legacy—Effect of—Power to dispose of property

After an executor has given his assent to the legacy he is not competent to deal further with the property. An executor, although, he has power to dispose of the property on the deceased in such manner as he thinks fit under S. 269 of the Act must be able to prove necessity for doing so. (Walmsley and Panton, JJ.) MARIE PENHIERO v. JOTINDRA MOHAN SEN. 47 I. C. 289 : 28 C. L. J. 141.

——— S. 269—Executor—Power to mortgage assets—Renewal of mortgage.

An executor who has obtained probate has absolute authority under S. 269 of the Succession Act to mortgage the testator's assets. The authority is in no away fettered by reason of his stipulation in the will that he is not to sell or mortgage the property. The executor would be acting within that authority if he renewed a mortgage effected by the testator to satisfy the debts created by that mortgage. (Stuart, J. C.) KUL HUSAIN v. AJODHYA BANK LTD. 54 I. C. 321 : 6 O. L. J. 526.

——— Ss. 291, 129 287, 288 and 290—Bequest of rent producing property on trust—Specific bequest.

A bequest of rent producing property on trust (there being no rent charge) the trustees being directed to apply the rents and profits for benefit of a legatee is not a specific bequest within the meaning of S. 291 of the Succession Act. (Beaman, J.) BAI BHIKAJI v. BAI DIN BAI. 11 I. C. 350: 13 Bom L. R. 319.

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865), S. 311.

——S. 311—Will—Payment of legacy—Applicability of section.

S. 311 of the Act applies to a case where no time is fixed for payment but the amount is payable out of a particular fund. (Chaudhury, J.) ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL OF BENGAL v. A. D. CHRISTIANA. 34 I. C. 157 : 43 Cal. 201.

——S. 311—Construction of will.

Held on the facts, the true construction of the will was that the legacies were intended to be given to the legatees as from the testatrix's death and to become due at once, but that it was recognised by the testatrix that they would not in fact be paid until the determination of the litigation as the funds would not be available for their payment, until then, there was no direction to be found that the legacies should not be paid until the determination of the litigation though, no doubt, it was recognised that they would not be, but as the funds were invested and bearing interest there was no reason for holding that the testatrix's intention as expressed in the will was that the legatees should not get interest but that the interest should accumulate for the sole benefit of the residuary legatee. (Schwabe, C. J. Coutts Trotter and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) ZAMINDAR OF BHADRACHELLAM v. SRI RAJA VENKATADRI APPA RAO.
16 L. W. 369 : (1922) M. W. N. 532 : 31 M. L. T. 221 (H. C.) : 46 M. 190 : 43 M. L. J. 486 : 1922 Mad. 457.

——S. 312—Legacies—Interest on—Document silent.

Interest on demonstrative legacies is payable from the time fixed for payment even at 4 per cent per annum, even though the document is silent about it. (Chaudhuri, J.) ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL OF BENGAL v. A. D. CHRISTIANA.
34 I. C. 157 : 43 Cal. 201.

——S. 331—Hindu convert to Christianity—Law governing succession.

Succession to the estate of a Hindu convert to Christianity who dies a christain and intestate, is governed by the Act. Since the passing of the Act, a person ceasing to be a Hindu cannot elect to continue to be governed by Hindu Law in matters of succession. Abrahim v. Abrahim, Dist. (Lord Shaw.) KAMAWAHTI v. DIGBIJAI SINGH.
43 All. 525 : 64 I. C. 559 : 48 I. A. 381 : 15 L. W. 1 (P.C.).

——S. 331—Brahmos, if Hindus—Declaration under Act III of 1872—Effect of.

A person by becoming a Brahmo does not necessarily cease to be a Hindu, that is to say, something further than mere becoming a Brahmo is necessary for a man to cut himself of from Hinduism. A declaration under Act III of 1872 can not be taken as an abjuration for all purposes of Hinduism but merely as a statement for the purposes of the Act itself. (Greaves, J.) JANANENDRA NATH ROY In the goods of.
26 C. W. N. 799 : 49 C. 1069 ; 1923 C. 265.

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889),

——Ss. 331 and 332—Intestate professing Hindu religion though of mixed parentage—Grant of Letters of Administration.

Where an intestate professed the Hindu religion though of a mixed parentage, the Probate and Administration Act applied and not the Succesion Act for the grant of Letters of Administration (Hartnoll, Offg. C. J. and Young, J.) MAUNG CHIT MAUNG v. MA YAIT.
7 Bur. L. T. 133 : 24 I. C. 638 : 7 L. B. R. 362.

——S. 331—Applicability — Chinese-Buddhists.

The Indian Succession Act does not apply to Chinese-Buddhist. 2 L. B R. 95 Foll. (Twomey and Parlett, JJ.) MA THIN SHEIN v. AH SHEIN.
8 L. B. R 222 : 24 I. C 367 : 7 Bur. L. T. 246.

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889).

——Proceeding under—Not to be availed of for deciding conflicting claims.

A proceeding under the Act cannot be availed of for the determination of conflicting claims or for the specification of the shares in a debt falling to different heirs or legal representatives. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) SUGHRA BEGUM v. MOHAMMED MIRKHAN.
43 All. 341 . 64 I. C. 6 : 19 A. L. J. 116.

——Scope.

An inquiry as to the validity of transfers made by a certificate holder is outside the scope and object of Act (Per Sundara Aiyar, J.) An assignee of a debt due to the estate of a deceased person can recover the debt without production of a certificate The act purports to facilitate the collection of debts to regulate the administration of succession as to protect persons who deal with alleged representatives of deceased persons against the contingency which so often occurs when disputes arise as to whether a claimant is or is not entitled as such personal representative. (Walsh and Sunderlal, JJ.) RAMAN LALJI MAHRAJ v. HARIDAS.
38 All. 474: 34 I. C. 364 : 14 A. L. J. 677.

——Proceedings under, are summary—No bar to subsequent trial.

The proceedings under the Act are of a summary nature and the Court has only to see that a prima facie right to collect the debts is made out and the Court's order does not bar the trial provided the question is the same and the parties are in same. (Shadi Lal, C. J.) RATTAN SINGH v. CHAUDHURI RAJ SINGH.
2 Lah. L. J. 578.

——Mortgage—Suit—Buddhist heir of mortgagee.

An heir of a Buddhist need not take out Letters of Administration in order to sue as representative of a deceased mortgagee. It is sufficient if a Succession Certificate has been obtained. (Pratt and Duckworth, JJ.) AH DOE v. MI AUNG TAH PRU AND ONE.
1 Bur. L. J. 110 : 1923 B. 74 (1).

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889). S. 1.

——S. 1 (iv)—Scope of—Issue of certificate.

Where a person died leaving a Will disposing thereby a portion of his property and gave a contingent interest to his widow and widowed daughters-in-law and a present interest to his daughter in some promissory notes and the natural heir who did not claim under the will applied for a Succession Certificate; Held, that there being no question of evading any fee or duty, S. 1 (iv) did not prevent before the contingency had arisen the issue of the certificate asked for, in respect of the promissory note in which a contingent interest was created in the Will, but that it did prevent the issue of a certificate in respect of the promissory note in which a present interest was granted by the will to the daughter. (Richardson and Walmsley, JJ.) ROMESH CHANDRA DAS v. KANNINISUDARY DASYA. 39 I. C. 525.

——S. 1 (iv)—"Such a will" meaning of.

The words "such a will" have a reference to a will to which either the Hindu Wills Act or the Succession Act applies. Succession Certificate cannot be refused on the ground that a probate which would have been applied for has not been upheld. (Shadi Lal, C. J.) RATTAN SINGH v. CHAUDHURI RAJ SINGH. 2 Lah. L. J. 578.

——S. 1 (iv)—Jurisdiction of Court.

An application for grant can be allowed in spite of S. 1 (iv) though the dispute between the parties could easily be settled in proceedings taken under the Probate and Administration Act (Shadi Lal, J.) RAMSARAN v. GAPPURAM. 33 I. C. 603 : 71 P. W. R. 1916.

——Ss. 1 (4) 7, and 25—Will — Application for certificate—Probate—Nature of proceedings under the Act—Decision on question of right.

The words "such a will" in the concluding clause of S. 1, sub-S. (4) of the Succession Certificate Act refer to a will to which either the Succession Act or the Hindu Wills Act applies, 18 Bom. 608 and 2A.L.J. 126, Foll. S.1 (4) of the Succession Certificate Act does not preclude a person under a will to which neither the Succession Act nor the Hindu Wills Act applies. The mere fact that he might have applied for a probate is not an adequate ground for refusing to entertain his application for a succession certificate. 16 Bom. 712. Foll. A Subordinate Judge of the second class invested with the functions of a District Court under S. 26 of the Succession Certificate Act, is competent to entertain an application for a succession certificate in respect of debts exceeding Rs. 5,000. Proceedings under the Succession Certificate, Act are of a summary nature, and the only thing which the court is required to decide is whether the applicant has a prima facie right to collect the debts, and the decision of the Court under the Act, upon a question of right does not bar the trial of the same question in any other proceeding between the same parties. (Shadi Lal, C. J.) RATTAN SINGH v. CHANDHRI RAJ SINGH. 68 I. C. 302 : 2 Lah. L. J. 578.

——S. 2—Debt—Dower debt.

Dower debt of a Mahomedan wife whether prompt or deferred is a debt within S 2 of Succession Certificate Act. 30 All. 315. Foll. (Knox, Karamat Hussain and Griffin, JJ.) GHAFOOR KHAN v. KALANDARI BEGAM. 8 A. L. J. 79 : 9 I. C. 127 . 33 All. 327.

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889), S. 4—Assignee from certificate holder.

——S. 3—Insurance money.

Under the Act money payable under a policy of life assurance after the death of an assured during an entirely undetermined sum during the life of the assured is not a debt due to the deceased. (Holmwood and Imam, JJJ.) CHAPUSILLA DASI v. JYOTISH CHANDRA SIRKAR. 33 I. C. 157

——S. 4

Assignee from certificate holder.
Claim for part.
Debt, meaning of.
Divided Hindu family.
Joint Hindu family.
Legatee under will.
Minor as applicant.
Partnership.
Scope of.
Time for producing certificate and effect of non-production.
Miscellaneous.

Assignee from certificate holder.

——Ss. 4 and 16—Assignment by heir of creditor—Suit by assignee—Succession Certificate

Where the heir of a deceased creditor has not obtained a succession certificate in respect of the debt and assigns the debt before so obtaining to another, the assignee is entitled to obtain a succession certificate and cannot be granted a decree for such debt until he has done so. (Tudball and Sulaiman, JJ.) GULSHAN ALI v. ZAKIR ALI. 18 A. L J. 666 : 2 U. P. L.R (All.) 223 : 57 I. C. 55 : 42 A. 549.

——S. 4—Assignee from Certificate holder—Assignment of debt right of assignee to sue.

Where a Succession Certificate was obtained in respect of a debt and subsequently the debt was assigned to a third person to whom the Succession Certificate was also handed over, the assignment of the debt is valid and the assignee is entitled to sue for the recovery of the debt. (Ryves and Piggott, JJ.) RANG LAL v. ANNU LAL. 11 A. L. J. 968 : 22 I. C. 349 : 36 All. 21.

——Ss. 4 and 16—Assignee from Certificate holder.

An assignee of the holder of a Succession Certificate cannot sue for the recovery of the debt assigned to him. (Griffin and Chamier, JJ.) ALLAHADAD KHAN v. SANT RAM. 10 A. L. J. 506 : 17. I. C 486 : 35 All. 74.

——Ss. 4 and 16—Assignee from certificate holder—Succession Certificate holder assigning his rights—Right of assignee.

An assignee from a person who has obtained a Succession Certificate is entitled to sue and obtain a decree for the recovery of a debt due to the estate of the deceased without producing a Succession Certificate in his own name. 35 All. 74. Diss. 36 All. 21 Foll. (Phillips and Kumara swami Sastri, JJ.) ARUNACHALA CHETTIAR MUTHU. 42 Mad. 130 : 48 I. C. 735 : 35 M.L.J. 666.

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889), S. 4—Claim for part.

Claim for Part.

——— S. 4—Clain for part—Certificate in respect of a portion of—Whether can be granted.

The Act does not contemplate the granting of a certificate for the collection of a part of the debt and a certificate ought not to be granted for a share only of a dower-debt which is a single debt. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) SUGRAH BEGUM v. MOHAMMAD MIR KHAN.

43 All 341 : 61 I. C. 6 : 19 A. L. J. 116.

——— S. 4—Claim for part—Certificate for portion of debt—If may be granted.

A succession Certificate for a portion of the debt due to the deceased may be granted. (33 All. 327 Dist. from) Woodroffe and Carnduff, JJ.) ANNAPURNA DASYA v. NALINI MOHAN DAS 42 Cal. 10 . 23 I. C. 556 : 18 C. W. N. 836

——— S. 4—Claim for part—Application by one of several heirs.

Any one of the heirs of the deceased may apply for a Succession Certificate for a debt recoverable by him : he can even apply for a certificate for a part only of his share of the debt. (Mookerji and Carnduff, JJ.) MOHAMED ABDUL HASSAN v. MUSAMMAT SHARIFAN.

16 C. W. N. 231 : 12 I. C. 593 : 15 C. L. J. 384.

——— S. 4—Claim for part—Certificate required for part of sum claimed.

Even where a part of the sum claimed requires a Succession Certificate, S. 4 is applicable. (Johnstone, J.) BASSA v. AMIR BIBI.

175 P. L. R. 1914 : 24 I. C. 893 : 73 P. W. R. 1914.

Debt, Meaning of.

——— S. 4—Debt, meaning of—Suit against a person who wrongfully collected debts.

A certificate is not necessary where a Hindu widow brings a suit against a person who wrongly collects the debt due to the deceased's estate and withholds them. A certificate is necessary only where the debtor is sued as such. (Tudball and Linsday, JJ.) SAHEB RAM v. GOBINDI.

43 All. 440 : 60 I. C. 774 : 19 A. L. J. 268 : 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 48.

——— S. 4—'Debt' —Meaning of —Construction.

The phrase 'his debt' in S. 4 is the whole of the debt due by the debtor to the deceased and cannot mean a portion of the debt because (1) such meaning is against the canons of interpretation, for the natural meaning of debt is not the share of some one in that debt. (2) it is opposed to the scheme of the Act which is intended for the protection of debtors (3) it will cause the splitting of an indivisible liability (4) it will lead to harassing of the debtor by multiplicity of suits on one and the same cause of action. (Knox, Karamat Hussain and Griffin, JJ.) GHAFFOOR KHAN v. KALANDARI BEGAM.

33 All 327 : 9 I. C. 127 : 8 A. L. J. 79.

——— S. 4—Debt—Meaning of-Suit for arrears of rent due to deceased landlord—Succession Certificate.

To recover arrears of rent in respect of homestead land by the heirs of legal representatives of a deceased landlord to whom the rent was due

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889), S. 4—"Debt", Meaning of.

a certificate is necessary. The words "land used for agricultural purposes", in S.4 govern the preceding words 'rent revenue or profits (Fletcher and Newbould, JJ.) SHEIKH SAHEBJAN KHANSAMA v. SHEIKH ABUL JALIL. 41 I. C. 84.

——— S. 4—Debt—Meaning of—Insurance policy.

An insurance policy unless it is an ascertained debt in the lifetime of the assured, is not within the Act. Undetermined insurance money is not a debt due to the deceased. Succession Certificate empowers only to collect debts, existing in the deceased's lifetime and accruing before his death and gives no general power. It is unnecessary to realize insurance money. (Holmwood and Imam, JJ.) CHARUSILA DASI v. JYOTISH CHANDRA SARKAR 33. I. C. 157.

——— S. 4, Cl. 2—Debt—Meaning of—Decree for rent.

The amount of a decree for rent deposited by the tenant judgment-debtor is rent even after the death of the decree holder and his heir is entitled io withdraw the money from Court without producing a Succession Certificate. (Brett and Richardson, JJ.) SURENDRA NATH MITRA v. UPENDRA NATH BHATTA. 18 I C 495.

——— S. 4, (1) (a)—Debt Meaning of—Insurance money—Succession Certificate whether necessary.

An application under the Act by the widow of the insured for recovering the insurance amount is misconceived as the company is not the debtor of the deceased in respect of the sum and the applicant was not entitled to this sum as part of the assets of the deceased within the meaning of S 4 (1) (a) of the Act. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) SRINIVASA CHARIAR v. RANGANAYAKI AMMAL. 32 I. C. 991 : 3 L. W. 466.

——— S. 4—Debt—Meaning of—Insurance money.

The insurance money falling due on the death of the insured is a part of the deceased's estate, and 'is a debt' due to him within the meaning of S. 4 (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) ORIENTAL GOVERNMENT SECURITY LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY, LTD v. VANTEDU AMMIRAJU.

(1911) 1 M. W. N. 276 : 9 M. L. T. 451 : 10 I. C 263 : 35 Mad. 162

——— S. 4—Debt—Meaning of—"Decree for debt"—Mortgage.

A decree for enforcement of a mortgage rights, as against the mortgaged property is not a decree for debt within S. 4 of the Succession Certificate Act. Hence the heirs of mortgagee need not produce Succession Certificate. (Tudball, A. J. C.) HANUMAN BAKSH SINGH v. DIL RAJ.

50 I. C. 271.

——— S. 4—Debt—Meaning of—Equity of redemption.

An equity of redemption is not a security or debt within S. 4 of the Succession Certificate Act and the respondents could file a suit for redemption without such a certificate or letters of administration. (Fox, C. J. and Hartnall,) J. MA THEIN MAY v. MA THAN MYA. 15 I. C. 425 5 Bur. L. T. 102.

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889), S. 4—"Debt", Meaning of.

——S. 4—Debt—Meaning of—Paddy rent due from tenant.

Where paddy rent remains due from a tenant of a deceased lessor it is not a debt within the meaning of S. 4 of the Succession Certificate Act and it is not necessary for the heir of the deceased lessor to take out a certificate for suing for recovery of the said rent. (Heald, J.) MA HLA KYA v. MAUNG NYUN. 2 Bur. L. J. 45 : 1924 R. 139.

Divided Hindu family.

——S. 4—Divided Hindu family—Certificate necessary.

Section 4 of the Act imperatively requires the production of a Succession Certificate in the case of a divided Hindu family. (Colvin, J. C.) GHISH v. RAMBALLAKH. 13 I. C. 363.

Joint Hindu Family.

——S. 4—Joint Hindu family—Survivorship.

A certificate is unnecessary where the succession is by survivorship. (Piggott, J.) MATHURA PRASAD v. DURGAWATI. 12 A L. J. 525 : 24 I C. 182 : 36 All. 380.

——S. 4—Joint Hindu family—Survivor—Joint family debt—Certificate.

In a suit by the survivor of a joint family to recover joint family debts, no Succession Certificate is necessary. (Banerji, J.) RAMRATAN v. SUBHAN. 24 I. C. 93 : 12 A. L. J. 672.

——S. 4—Joint Hindu family—Suit by son for recovery of debts due to his deceased father—No certificate necessary.

It is competent to a son in a Mitakshara family to sue for recovery of the debts due to his decesed undivided father without the production of a succession certificate. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) SITAL PROSHAD PODDAR v. KAIFUT SHEIKH. 26 C. W. N. 488 : 1922 Cal. 149.

——S. 4—Joint Hindu family—Pro-note in favour of manager of Dayabhaga family—Suit by heirs.

Where a promissory note executed in favour of A belonging to a Dhayabhaga Hindu family, was renewed after his death in favour of his brother B as Karta of the family and after B's death A's heirs and B's heirs sued upon the note, held, that A's heirs were not required to take out a Succession Certificate as they were suing on their own behalf in respect of their share of the debt and not as the heirs of A. (Richardson and Beachcroft, JJ.) NILMONI DE v. SOORENDRA NATH MITRA. 46 I. C. 648

——S. 4—Joint Hindu family—Surviving widow—Maintenance fixed by bond in favour of two ladies—Certificate if necessary—Survivorship.

Where a deed of maintenance was executed in favour of two ladies with rights of survivorship interse and one of them succeeded as survivor, on the death of the other, no Succession Certificate is necessary under S. 4 of the Act. (Mookerjee and Carnduff, JJ.) MATHURA PRASAD v. RUKMINI KOER. 13, I. C. 148 : 17 C.L.J. 87.

——Ss. 4 and 6—Joint Hindu family—Reversioner.

A reversioner can get a certificate under Ss. 4 and 6 in respect of the estate of the deceased male owner, even if his widow had intervened. The estate comes to the reversioner as if no widow had intervened. (Mookerjee and Caspersz, JJ.) ABINASH CHANDRA PAL v. PROBADH CHANDRA PAL. 10 I.C. 357 : 15 C.W.N. 1018.

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889), S. 4—Joint Hindu family.

——S. 4—Joint Hindu family—Survivorship.

Where one member of a joint Hindu family dies, the other members succeed to him by the right of survivorship and no succession certificate is necessary for the realisation of debts due to the family. (Johnstone, C.J.) GURDITTA MAL v. DHARI MAL 31 I.C. 904.

——S. 4—Joint Hindu family—Pro-note executed by father—Son's rights to recover money under.

The son must produce a succession certificate to enable him to recover a debt due under a promissory note in favour of his deceased father, the debt being the self-acquired property of the father. (Wallis, C. J., Oldfield and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) VAIRAVAN CHETTIAR v. SRINIVASA CHARIAR. 44 Mad. 499 : 13 L. W. 475 : 29 M. L. T. 294 : (1921) M. W. N. 290 : 62 I. C. 944 : 40 M. L. J. 481.

——S. 4—Joint Hindu family—Adopted son—Ancestral property—Adoption subsequent to death of adoptive father—Succession certificate.

Under the Hindu Law an adopted son takes the ancestral property of his adoptive father not as his heir but by survivorship. Therefore he is not bound to produce a succession certificate before he can obtain a decree for the recovery of the same. The fact that the son was adopted subsequent to the death of the adoptive father does not make any difference. (Sankaran Nair and Oldfield, JJ.) RAMANATHAM CHETTI v. SUBRAMANYAN CHETTI. 17 M. L. T. 266 : 28 I.C. 688 : 28 M. L. J. 372.

——S. 4—Joint Hindu family—Debt due to member of a joint family—Suit for recovery—Succession certificate.

A succession certificate is not necessary to recover a debt due to a member of a joint family. The fact that the document sued on is a promissory note could not make any difference. It is not necessary that on the face of the document it could appear that the debt belongs to the joint family. In all cases the question will be whether the moneys sought to be recovered were advanced from joint funds or were the individual earnings of the person in whose favour the document was executed 14 Mad. 377; 17 Mad. 108. 20 Mad. 232; 22 Mad. 380 Ref.(Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) PICHAI KUTTIA PILLAI v. RANGANATHAM. 17 M. L. T. 264 : 28 I. C. 490 . 28 M. L J. 323.

——S. 4—Joint Hindu family—Adopted son—Succession certificate.

An adopted son is entitled to get a decree in respect of a debt due to the deceased undivided adoptive father, without getting a succession certificate. But an adopted son cannot sue on a promissory note executed in favour of his deceased undivided adoptive father without production of a succession certificate. (1910) M. W. N. 211 Foll. (Wallis, J.) PERAYYA v. AHMAD ABDUL RAHIMAN SAIT. 1 L. W. 612 : 27 M. L. J. 236 : 25 I. C. 206 : (1914) M. W. N. 671.

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889), S. 4—Joint Hindu family.

——— S. 4—Joint Hindu family.

Illegitimate son of a sudra can recover debts due to his father without a succession Certificate. (Prideaux, J.) GAMLAL v. KASHIRAM. 68 I. C. 417.

——— S 4—Joint Hindu family—Sons—Mortgage in the name of manager—Suit by some of the members, other disclaiming interest.

A suit on a mortgage standing on the name of a manager of a joint Hindu family consisting of his sons and nephews was instituted by the sons of the mortgagee after his death. The nephew disclaimed all interest in the mortgage. Held, that it was competent to the sons to sue without production of a succession certificate. (Stuart and Kanhaiyalal, A. J. Cs.) RAM SEWAK v. BALDEO BAKSH SINGH. 47 I. C. 649 : 5 O. L. J. 442.

Legatee under will.

——— S. 4—Legatee under will.

A legatee claiming under the will of the deceased could obtain a succession certificate if he can show that it is self-acquired property of the testator. (Abdur Rahim and Spencer, JJ.) KOYYATHI HAJI v. KOYAMAN KUTTU HAJI. 31 I. C. 446.

Minor as applicant.

——— Ss. 4 and 9—Minor applying through natural guardian—Issue of certificate.

A succession certificate can be granted to a minor on application by him through his natural guardian. S. 4 of the Succession Certificate Act lays down that a person suing for the effects of his deceased father must obtain Succession Certificate before instituting the suit. But Sec. 9 precludes a minor from applying for succession certificate as he cannot execute the bond required by that section. 28 Bom. 344; 25 Bom. 323 Cons. 5 C. L. R. 570; 20 All. 363 Foll. The provision of S. 9 of the Act however can be satisfied by the guardian depositing the necessary security on behalf of the minor. (Abdur Rahim and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) SINGANAMALA KRISHNAMACHARLU v. SINGANAMALA VENKATAMMA. (1912) M.W. N. 411 : 15 I. C. 408 : 36 Mad. 214

Partnership.

——— S. 4—Partnership—Succession certificate—Heirs of deceased partner.

In a suit on a note executed in favour of a firm the full amount of the claim should be decreed even when one of the members of the firm dies during the pendency of suit. His legal representative who is added as plff. need not produce any succession certificate to the deceased partner. 17 C. L. J. 648 Foll. (Richardson and Beachcroft, JJ.) PULIN BEHARI ROY v. ABDUL MAJID 44 I. C. 911

——— S. 4 (a)—Partnership—Death of one partner—Claim by others—Succession certificate.

Where one partner dies, the other partners claiming the effects of the deceased as due to them alone, should produce a succession certificate to substantiate their claim. (Johnstone, C. J.) GURDITTA MAL v. DHARI MAL. 31 I. C. 904.

Scope of.

——— S. 4—Scope of—Application for certificate—Nature of enquiry—Decree in respect of debt—Effect of.

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889), S. 4—Time for producing certificate and effect of non production.

Three executors appointed under the will of a Hindu testator had propounded the will and obtained probate. The testator's great grand-daughter applied for a succession certificate for collection of three specified debts two of which were due and payable to her father on bonds and the third due to him and the testator jointly, Held that she was entitled to a Succession Certificate in respect of the first two debts. The question whether the debtors on being sued could prove that the debts had been satisfied could not be considered in those proceedings. The third debt having merged in a decree no Succession Certificate could be granted in respect of it (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) SAKAT MULL v. KATORI. 21 A. L. J. 122 : L. R. 4 A. 78 : 1923 A 265.

——— S. 4 (1)—Scope of.

It is indicated by S. 4 (1) of the Act that the claim contemplated by this section is a claim made by a person in the capacity of and as a personal representative of a deceased person. (Walsh and Sundar Lal, JJ.) RAIMAN LALJI MAHARAJ v. HARIDAS. 14 A. L. J. 677 : 34 I. C. 364 : 38 All. 474.

——— S. 4—Scope of—Applicability of to suit for sale on mortgage.

S. 4 of the Succession Certificate Act applies also to suits for sale under S. 88 of the Transfer of Property Act. 16 All. 259 Foll. (Karamat Hussain and Tudball, JJ.) RAM SARUP v. KALLA. 14 I. C. 570.

——— S. 4—Scope of—Position of Assignee from an undivided son—Time for production of certificate.

Where an assignment is from an undivided son or where the assignee sues on the ground that he is a holder in due course and not that a debt did really exist, no succession certificate is necessary. In either case the applicability of S. 4 does not arise. A Court should not dismiss a suit for non-production of a succession certificate but must give time for its production. (Spencer and Seshagiri Aiyar JJ.) AMMASI KUTTI GOUNDAN v. APPALU. 29 I. C. 234.

Time for producing Certificate and effect of non-production.

——— S. 4 (1)—Time for producing certificate—Probate—Production before decree.

A suit by an executor before obtaining probate is maintainable. The title of the executor is derived from the will of the testator and not from the probate. Production of probate before decree is sufficient compliance with S. 4. (Lord Parker). SOONA MAYNA KENA ROONA MEYAPPA CHETTY v. SOONA NAVENA S. M. P. RAMANIAN CHETTY. 20 C. W. N. 833 : (1916) 1 M. W. N. 455 : 18 Bom. L. R. 642 : 85 L. J. (P. C) 179 : (1916) 1 A. C. 603 : 114 L. T. 1002 : 35 I. C. 323 : 43 I. A. 113 (P. C.).

——— S. 4—Time for producing—Succession certificate—Production of, before decree.

The production of a succession certificate before decree is a sufficient compliance with the SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889), S. 4—Time for producing certificate and effect of non-production.

section though it was not produced at the time of the institution of the suit. (Lord Mersey.) CHANDRA KISHORE ROY v. PRASANNA KUMARI DASI. 38 Cal. 327 : 38 I. A. 7 : 15 C. W N. 121 : 9 M. L. T. 71 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 30 : 13 C L. J. 58 : 8 A. L. J. 96 : 13 Bom L. R. 67 : 4 Bur. L T. 65 : 9 I C. 122 : 21 M. L. J. 116 : (P. C.)

[On appeal from 10 C. W. N. 864.]

——S. 4—Time for producing certificate—Suit whether maintainable without Succession Certificate.

A suit filed without the production of a succession certificate should not be dismissed by the Court without giving the plff. an opportunity of obtaining and filing it. Where on an objection being taken by the defendants that no succession certificate had been filed by plaintiff the Court forthwith dismissed the suit without giving opportunity to the plaintiff of obtaining and producing the necessary certificate. Held, in revision that the Court should have given such an opportunity and the dismissal was set aside. (Tudball, J.) JAWADALI SHAH v. KAMLAPATRA. 56 I. C. 641 : 18 A. L. J. 514.

——S. 4—Effect of non-production—Succession certificate—Dismissal of appeal for non-production—Remand.

Where a party fails to produce the necessary succession certificate in the Court of first instance he should be given an opportunity to produce it by the Appellate Court on payment of costs. (Woodroffe and Coxe, JJ.) MURALIDHAR ROY CHOUDHURY v MOHINI MOHANKOR. 30 I. C. 510 : 19 C. W. N. 794. (Note).

——S. 4—Effect of non-production—Succession certificate—Non production of—Dismissal of suit—Appellate Court—Costs—Remand.

When a suit failed by reason of the non-production of the succession certificate in the first Court the succession certificate may be obtained and filed in the Appellate Court on the appellant paying the costs of the previous proceeding. (Holmwood and Mullick, JJ.) GHULHAN SINGH v. MADHO SINGH. 28 I. C. 383 : 19 C. W. N. 794.

——S. 4—Time for producing—Succession Certificate—Necessity of.

Where probate or Letters of Administration having been obtained with regard to the estate of the deceased a succession certificate is not necessary under S. 4 to entitle a person to sue. Where a succession certificate is necessary the suit should not be dismissed because the certificate had not been produced previously. It should be allowed to be produced before decree. (Holmwood and Mullick, JJ.) RAMANUGRAH NARAYAN SINGH v. CHUNNI LAL. 27 I. C. 822.

——S. 4—Effect of non-production—Dismissal of suit—Impropriety of.

The dismissal of a suit for non-production of a succession certificate is improper. All that S. 4 of the Succession Certificate Act provides is that the Court shall not pass a decree without the production of a Succession Certificate, 68 P. R. 1891 ; 10 P. R. 1901 : 19 C. W. N. 794 ; 27 I. C. 822 Ref. (Broadway, J.) NANHA v. SUNDA. 1923 Lah 597.

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889), S. 4—Miscellaneous.

——S. 4—Time for production—Pro-note in favour of deceased person—Suit by assignee of pro-note—Conditional decree—Proper order.

In a suit on a pro-note executed in favour of a deceased person, a Court has no jurisdiction to pass a conditional decree directing the production of a succession certificate before execution of the decree even though the suit be by an assignee of the widow of the deceased promisee. 15 Bom. 105; 15 Mad. 419 Foll. The proper order is to direct its production before decree and in default to dismiss the suit. 17 Mad 419 Foll. (Ayling. J.) ARAVAMUDA AIYANGAR v. KALIA PERUMAL. 24 I. C. 143.

——S. 4—Effect of non-production—Suit by heirs of mortgagee for sale.

A certificate under S. 4 is not essential before a decree can be passed directing the sale of mortgaged properties in a suit by the heirs of the mortgagee for the recovery of the mortgaged debt, especially when plffs. do not ask for a personal decree against deft. 29 Mad 77 ; 32 Cal. 418; 28 Bom. 630 Ref. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) KAMBAI NAIDU v. SANKARAMMAL. (1912) M. W. N. 1115 : 16 I. C. 224 : 12 M. L. T. 202.

——S. 4—Time for producing certificate—Decree postponed till the production of certificate—C. P. Code., S. 33.

The Court passed a judgment in a suit to recover a debt due to the estate of the deceased but the decree was postponed till the production of the succession certificate. Held, that the procedure though undesirable, was not illegal. S. 33, C.P. Code. read with S. 4 of Succession Certificate Act precludes the passing of the decree till a certificate is produced. (Mitra, A. J. C.) RAJARAM v. MALAN. 57. I. C. 650 (Nag.)

——S. 4—Time for producing—Suit by heir against debtor—Maintainability of.

S. 4 of the Act is no bar to the maintainability of a suit by the heir of a creditor against the debtor. That section only requires the production of a succession certificate before decree. (Roe and Sir Ali Imam, JJ.) ALICE THORP v. SHAMAT LAL. 44 I. C. 733 : 3 Pat L. J. 160.

——S. 4—Effect of non-production.

A suit ought not to be dismissed for failure to produce a succession certificate or other authority mentioned in S. 4 of the Act. Where they are necessary, the Court should give the plaintiff an opportunity to produce them within a time fixed by it. (Maung Kin, J.) CHAING NA v. SHWE OK. 63 I. C. 807 : 13 Bur. L. T. 233.

Miscellaneous.

——S. 4—Suit by creditor against heirs of deceased debtor.

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889), S. 4.—Miscellaneous.

A creditor need not take out a succession certificate in order to sue the heirs of the deceased debtor, for the recovery of his debt. (Walsh and Lindsay, JJ.) SHADI JAN v. WARIS ALI. 19 A. L. J. 423 : 64 I. C 1 : 43 All. 493.

——Ss. 4 and 16—Assignment by heir of creditor—Suit by assignee—Succession certificate.

Where the heir of a deceased creditor has not obtained a succession certificate in respect of the debt and assigns the debt before so obtaining to another, the assignee is entitled to obtain a succession certificate and cannot be granted a decree for such debt until he has done so (Tudball and Sulaiman, JJ.) GULSHAN ALI v. ZAKIR ALI. 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 223 : 57 I. C. 55 : 18 A. L. J. 666.

——S. 4—Question of title of the deceased person.

On a Government promissory note being assigned by registered deed the assignee applied for a succession certificate in respect of the note. The Court found that the applicant was the representative of his assignor but being of opinion that the assignor himself had not established a good and subsisting title to the note at the date of the assignment, the certificate was refused. Held, whether the assignor had a valid title or not, or whether the assignment conveyed any title to the applicant or whether the debt secured by the promissory note was recoverable or not, were not matters for determination on an application for a certificate. The only question to be decided was whether the applicant was the representative of the person who was to receive the debt. (Piggott and Banerji, JJ.) RADHIKA PRASAD BAPULI v. SECRETARY OF STATE. 14 A. L J. 650 : 35 I. C. 711 : 38 All. 438.

——S. 4—Succession Certificate—Execution proceedings—Legal representative.

If a decree holder dies during execution proceedings his representatives need not take out succession certificate for being substituted in his place. (Newbould, J.) KSHETRA MOHAN v. AZIZULLAH MEA. 57 I. C. 902.

——S. 4—Applicability of—Substituted plff.

In a suit for recovery of money due on a bond where the plff. dies and another plff. is substituted the Court should not pass a decree in favour of the plff. without the production of a succession certificate. Quaere:—Whether the same principle applies to execution proceedings. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) NEPASI BEWA v. NASIRUDDIN. 45 I. C. 730 : 27 C. L. J. 400.

——S. 4—Debtor—No obligation to pay debt to person without certificate or probate.

A debtor is not under any legal obligation to pay the debt to any representative of the deceased creditor who does not produce a certificate, or probate or Letters of Administration or some authority to collect the debts due to the deceased. (Broadway and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) THAKAR DAS v. THE FIRM OF BASHI MAL KISHEN CHAND. 64 I. C. 385.

——S. 4—Pendency of regular suit—Ground for refusal of certificate.

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889) S. 7.

That a regular suit involving the question of succession is pending is no ground for the refusal of succession certificate. (Johnstone, J.) BASSA v. AMIR BIBI. 175 P. L. R. 1914 : 24 I. C. 893 : 73 P. W. R. 1914.

——S. 5—Jurisdiction under.

The Court has sufficient authority under S. 5 of the Act to dispose of proceedings where the deceased at his death had his ordinary place of residence within its jurisdiction and did his business there. (Shadi Lal, J.) RAM SARAN v. GAPPU RAM. 33 I. C. 603 : 71 P. W. R. 1916.

——Ss. 5 and 6—Jurisdiction to grant certificate—District Court—Residence.

The jurisdiction to confer a succession certificate is given by S. 5 of the Succession Certificate Act and that jurisdiction is not enlarged by S. 6 (1) of the Act which relates merely to procedure. Prima facie a District Court has no jurisdiction to grant a succession certificate where the deceased has not ordinarily resided within the local limits of its jurisdiction. Where however the deceased at the time of his death had no fixed place of residence at all the certificate may be granted by the Court within whose jurisdiction any part of the deceased's property may be found. (Robinson, C. J. and Macgregor, J.) CHAN PYU v. CHAN CHOR KHINE. 2 Bur. L. J. 42 : 1923 Rang. 238.

——S. 6—Application for certificate—Question as to whether debt belongs to the deceased.

In an application for a succession certificate the question as to whether the debts, in respect of which the certificate is applied for, belong to the deceased or not is irrelevant. 25 Cal. 320, Dist. from. (Sankaran Nair and Ayling, JJ.) SRINIVASACHARIAR v. GOPALAN. (1914) M. W. N. 323 : 23 I. C. 424 : 26 M. L. J. 365.

——S. 6—Assignee of representative of deceased—If can apply.

A succession certificate can be granted to the assignee of the representative of a deceased person. (Chapman and Roe, JJ.) RAM CHARITER SAHU v. RAM NARAIN SAHU. 40 I. C. 96 : 2 Pat. L. J. 350.

——S. 6—Minor—Application through next friend.

A minor cannot apply for a certificate under Succession Certificate Act through a next friend. His legal guardian must apply for it, after the guardian is so appointed under the Guardian and Wards Act. (Pratt, J. C.) DAMBAI, In the matter of. 10 I. C. 981 : 4 S. L. R. 266.

——S. 6 (f)—Debt—Construction.

"Debt" in S. 6 (f) means the whole of the debt due from the debtor to the deceased. A succession certificate for the collection of a portion of the debt cannot be granted. (Knox, Karamat Hussain and Griffin, JJ.) GHAFFOOR KHAN v. KALANDARI BEGAM. 8 A. L. J. 79 : 9 I.C. 127 : 33 All. 327.

——S. 7—Succession Certificate—Rejection of—Review—Appeal.

An order rejecting an application for the grant of a Succession Certificate is appealable but an order rejecting an application for review of an order granting such application is not appealable (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) NARAIN DEI v. PARMESHARI. 40. I.C. 124.

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889), S. 7

——Ss. 7 and 9—Grounds for refusing application.

Though the conditions at the time of a previous grant of succession certificate were complied with a second application should not be refused (Walsh and Sunderlal, JJ.) PORNAKUER v. CHUNNILAL. 35. I C. 718 : 14 A.L.J. 654.

——S. 7—Proceedings—Nature.

Proceedings under the Succession Certificate Act are of a summary nature in which the Court merely decides the right of the applicant to the certificate and are in no way intended to determine the share of the applicant in the debt. (Knox, Karamat Hussain and Griffin, JJ.) GHAFFOOR KHAN v. KALANDARI BEGAM. 8 A.L.J. 79 : 9 I.C. 127 : 33 All. 327.

——S. 7—Facts admitted by both sides—Injury.

Barring exceptional cases the Court should hold some inquiry in succession certificate cases, even where many facts on both sides are admitted. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Ayling, JJ.) SARASVATHI AMMAL v. SUBBIER. 21 I.C. 867: (1914) M.W.N. 24.

——S. 7—Scope of enquiry.

It is not necessary that the Court must hold an enquiry before it can hold that the application for succession certificate raises a question too intricate and difficult for decision in a summary trial. The pleadings may be quite sufficient to show it. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) ANGAPPACHETTIAR v. MEENAKSHI AMMAL. (1913) M.W.N. 175 : 18. I.C. 733: 24 M.L.J. 198.

——S. 7—Application for certificate—Scope of enquiry.

The question of re-union is not an allegation which is suitable for enquiry in a summary proceeding under the Succession Certificate Act. (Chapman and Roe, JJ.) JAGGANNATH PRASAD SAHU v. MT. KUADARI SAHU. 43 I. C. 126 : 1917 Pat. 264.

——S. 7—Procedure—Nature.

To grant of a succession certificate no elaborate or lengthy enquiry is required ; a summary enquiry would do. (Shadi Lal, J.) RAMSARAN v. GAPPA RAM. 33 I. C. 603 : 71 P.W.R. 1916.

——Ss. 7 (3) and 9 (1)—Duty of applicant to give sureties.

In granting a succession certificate under S. 7 (3) a Court is bound to require the applicant to give a security bond with one or more sureties as a condition precedent to granting a certificate. The Court cannot grant a certificate unconditionally. (Abdur Rahim and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) RAJAM CHETTY v. EDALAPALLI ATHAMMAL. (1912) M.W.N. 535 : 14 I.C. 303 : 11 M.L.T. 384.

——S 7 (3)—Powers of Appellate Court—Interference by High Court in revision.

An Appellate Court has the same discretion under S. 7, cl. (3), as the Court of first instance and if it considers that there is no intricate question to decide, the High Court will not, in revision, interfere with the exercise of such discretion. 17 Mad. 477 Dist. (Sundara Aiyar, J.) RAMAKRISHNA AIYAR v. NAGAMMAL. 10 M.L.T. 164 : (1911) 2 M W.N. 142 : 11 I. C. 835 : 21 M.L.J. 824.

——S. 7 (3)—Order for security—Not appealable.

An order to the effect that succession certificate would be granted on the applicant furnishing security is not an order either granting or refusing to grant a certificate and is therefore not appealable. (Drake-Brockman, J. C.) JASODA BAI v. SUJAN MAL. 63 I.C. 846 : 4 N.L.J. 144.

——S. 9—Hindu widow—Security when to be demanded—Interest of reversioners.

In the ordinary way a Hindu widow ought not to be called upon to give security at all. There may be reversioners who are interested but it is not the business of the Court to go out of its way to look after the reversioners who have no vested interest and to assume everything against the widow. The fact that the widow is engaged in handing over the estate either to her brother or to religious institutions is not a reason for creating an obstacle to her recovering debts before they become time-barred. The object of a Court is to grant certificates to the persons lawfully entitled to them and not to go out of its way to make it difficult for them to obtain them. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) MT. KAUSILLA KUER v. MT. SUKHDEI. 21 A.L J. 452 : L.R. 4 A. 246 : 1923 A. 579.

——S. 9—Application by widow—Security.

In the absence of special circumstances, security should not be ordered as a condition precedent to the grant to the widow of a succession certificate for debts due to her husband. (Richards, C.J. and Banerjee, J.) NARAIN DEI v. PARAMESHWARI. 40 All. 81 : 42 I.C. 941 : 15 A.L.J. 881.

——Ss. 9 and 6—Certificate to realise interest—Ultra vires.

An order granting succession certificate to a Hindu widow on condition of her realising interest only is ultra vires. The Court can under the section demand security for rendering an account of the debts and securities received by her or for indemnifying persons who may be entitled to the whole or any part of the debt. The certificate should include both principal and interest. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) JAI DEI v. BONWARI LAL. 11 A.L.J. 248 : 19 I C. 447 : 35 All, 249.

——S. 9—Security—Hindu widow.

The Court in granting succession certificate to a limited owner can at most only require the limited owner to give a bond with one or more sureties for the correct keeping of accounts and that, only when it is proved to the satisfaction of the Court that there is reasonable apprehension of waste or other danger on the part of the applicant. The Court has no power to order that the money may be deposited in a Bank and interest thereon be paid to the applicant. (Knox and Karamat Hussain, JJ.) SHIB DEI v. AJUDHYA PERSHAD. 9 I. C. 571.

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889), S. 9

——S. 9—Hindu widow—Opposition by—Husband's divided brother—Security.

Under S. 9 the Court is not compelled to demand security whenever a Hindu widow applies for the grant of a certificate to her, especially in a case where the opponent is a divided brother of the deceased. 5 M. L. J. 36, Dist. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) CHINNASWAMI CHETTIAR v. PONNAMMAL 28 I. C. 638 : 2 L. W. 352.

——S. 9—Object of the Act—Surety bond.

The object of the Act is to appoint some one to give a legal discharge to debtor. Rights of the parties are to be decided prima facie and to ensure the safety of the debts received. A security bond may be taken under S. 9 of the Act. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) CHAMPALAL v. LACHERIBAI. 57 I. C. 641.

——S. 9 (1)—Scope of—Order for security is not appealable.

S. 9 (1) lays down that a certificate will not be granted unless security is furnished. Where no order actually granting or refusing a certificate has been made no appeal lies under sub-section 1 of section 9. (Drake-Brockman, J. C.) JASODA BAI v. SUJAN MAL. 63 I. C. 846 : 4 N. L. J. 144.

——Ss. 10, 19 and 26—Extension of certificate—Order refusing—Appeal lies.

The petitioner obtained a certificate of succession under Act VII of 1889 to collect certain debts of a deceased person. Subsequently, he applied for extension of the certificate under S. 10 of the Act to collect other debts. That application was refused by the Munsit who was empowered to deal with applications under this Act. An appeal against his order was preferred to the District Judge. Held, that an order refusing certificate as to some of the debts alleged to be due to the deceased came within the terms of S. 19 and that the order can be appealed. (Newbould and Suhrawardy, JJ.) RADHA RAMAN KUNDU v. GOPAL CHANDRA SINHA. 27 C. W. N. 947 (1) : 1924 Cal. 208.

——Ss. 10 and 3—Scope of certificate.

The grantee of a succession certificate does not thereby acquire a general power of administration of the estate of the deceased. It only empowers him to collect debts which were existing in the lifetime of the deceased and had accrued due to him prior to his death. (Holmwood and Imam, JJ.) CHARUSILA DASI v. JYOTISA CHANDRA SIRKAR. 33 I. C. 157.

——S. 10—Minor — Application by next friend.

A next friend can apply on behalf of a minor for a succession certificate. 25 Bom. 523 ; 28 Bom. 344, Dist. 20 All. 352, Appr. (Benson, Offg C. J. and Napier, J.) GODAVARTI PERAYYAH v. GODAVARTI LAXMIDEVI AMMAL. 16 I. C. 797.

——S. 14—Fresh certificate, application by daughter—Court-fee—Death of widow—Court-Fees Act, Sch. I, Art. 12.

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889), S. 16.

Whenever a fresh succession certificate is taken even though it is to collect debts for which a succession certificate was already been taken out by the applicant's deceased mother and the duty paid, the duty prescribed by the Court-fees Act must be paid, as it is an application for a certificate within the meaning of S. 14 of the Succession Certificate Act. One fiscal Act cannot be construed by another fiscal Act. (Fletcher and Teunon, JJ.) SARAJ BASHINI DEBI, In re. 36 I. C. 125 : 20 C. W. N. 1125.

——Ss. 16 and 18—Succession certificate—Suit to set aside—Whether lies.

No suit will lie to have a succession certificate and the decree based on it set aside, as the succession certificate is conclusive under S. 16 and can be revoked only under S. 18 and by the District Court alone. (Tudball and Chamier, JJ.) RUPAN BIBI v. BHAGELU LAL. 36 All. 423 : 20 I. C. 320 : 12 A. L. J. 524.

——S. 16—Mortgage.

The Act applies to a mortgage deed and a certificate obtained under S. 16 of the Act bars the representatives of the mortgagor from questioning the title of the plffs. to recover the mortgage debt. (Karamat Hussain and Tudball, JJ.) AJMAT ALI v. SITALA BUX PAL. 16 I. C 108 : 9 A. L. J. 766.

——S. 16—Judgment-debtor.

A judgment-debtor cannot go behind the terms of the succession certificate. (Fletcher and Huda, JJ.) GOLAM KHALIK v. TASADAK KHAN. 46 I. C. 890 : 28 C. L. J. 299.

——S. 16—Grant of—Position of grantee.

The grant of succession certificate does not make the grantee the heir of the deceased but only gives him an authority to collect the debts of the deceased and allows the debtors to make payment to him. (Shadi Lal, J.) RAM SARAN v. GAPPU RAM. 33 I. C. 603 : 71 P. W. R. 1916.

——S. 16—Succession certificate—Grant of—Right to recover debts.

The grant of a succession certificate gives the grantee a title to recover a debt due to the deceased and payment to the grantee is a good discharge of the debt. (Wallis, C. J. and Kumaraswamy Sastri, J.) MUTHIA CHETTIAR v. RAMANATHAM CHETTIAR. (1918) M. W. N. 242 : 43 I. C. 972 : 7 L. W. 330.

——S. 16—Conclusive.

Under S. 16 of the Succession Certificate Act, the certificate is a conclusive title to recover the Life Insurance money from an Insurance Company. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) ORIENTAL GOVERNMENT SECURITY LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY, LTD. v. VANTEDU AMMIRAJU. 35 Mad. 162 : (1911) 1 M. W. N. 276 : 10 I. C. 263 : 9 M. L. T. 451.

——S. 16—Payment of debt to holder of certificate—Discharge.

Payment of debt due to the deceased to the holder of the succession certificate is a valid and sufficient discharge of the debt under S. 16 and the title of the holder of the certificate to collect debts due to the deceased is not open to question. (Jwala Prasad and Imam, JJ.) SARAFET HUSSAIN v. SHEIKH KHURSHED ALI. 49 I. C. 958.

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889), S. 18.

——— Ss. 18 and 26—Revocation of certificate —Jurisdiction of Court.

Ordinarily the revocation of a succession certificate which has become final by reason of no appeal having been filed against it in time, must be made by the Court which granted it. This must be so only when the Court granting the certificate is still exercising the jurisdiction in the District. The District Judge's jurisdiction in intestate cases is more administrative than judicial. He can act then only when there is no claimant He cannot ignore the claim of one who has obtained a certificate. (D. Chatterjee and Mullick, JJ.) SUKHIA BEWA v. SECRETARY OF STATE. 21 C. L. J. 154 : 27 I. C. 821 : 19 C. W. N. 551.

——— S. 18—Failure to plead will in certificate proceedings if a bar to revocation of—Certificate—Res judicata.

Where no objection was taken to the grant of a succession certificate but subsequently a will made by the deceased was produced and admitted to probate and it is found that the executor was not aware of the existence of the will at the time of the certificate proceedings, held, that an application for revocation of the certificate is not barred by reason of any failure to plead the will before the grant of the same. The existence of a will is an impediment to the grant of a certificate under S. 1 (iv) of the Succession Certificate Act and the Court can of its own motion revoke a certificate if it appears that the application contained an untrue allegation of fact essential in law to justify a grant thereof. (Pratt, J. C.) ADIJA, In the matter of. 11 I. C. 261.

——— S. 18 (a), (d) and (e)—Revocation and grant of partial certificates to co-heirs.

If after the grant of a certificate in respect of the entire debt the circumstances change so as to bring into operation S. 18 (d) or (e), it is open to the Court to partially revoke the certificate orginally granted or to modify the terms of the grant. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) SHARIFUNNISSA BIBI v. MASSOOM ALI. 42 All. 347 : 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 57 : 56 I. C. 380 : 18 A. L. J. 314.

——— S. 19—Order granting certificate — Appeal.

Under S. 18 an appeal lies from an order granting a certificate and the appellant is not bound to move the Court granting the certificate to revoke it. (Piggott and Walmsley, JJ.) RADHE LAL v. MUSSAMMAT BINDO. 56 I. C. 181 : 18 A. L. J. 609 : 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 215.

——— S. 19—Appeal—Consent—Estoppel.

A person who has consented to a succession certificate being given to himself and two others jointly cannot challenge its validity by way of appeal. (Banerjee and Tudball, JJ.) RAM RAJ v. BRIJ NATH. 35 All. 470 : 20 I. C 889 : 11 A. L. J. 717.

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889), S. 35.

——— Ss. 19 and 26—Appeal—Forum—Munsif specially empowered to act under S. 26.

An appeal from an order passed by a Munsif specially empowered to act under S. 26 lies to the District Judge. The Court of Small Causes or any other Court subordinate to the District Court has no jurisdiction to hear such an appeal. (Tudball, J.) HUSAIN BIBI v. HINGHAN BIBI. 34 All. 148 : 12 I. C. 926 : 8 A. L. J. 1300.

——— S. 19—Order of District Judge declining to grant certificate—If final—Appeal.

In an application under the Succession Certificate Act, the District Judge declined to grant certificate but ordered that if another application in a different form was made, he would consider it ; it was held the order was final and an appeal lay therefrom. (Woodroffe and Carnduff, JJ.) ANNAPURNA DASYA v NABINI MOHAN DAS. 42 Cal. 10 : 23 I. C. 556 : 18 C. W. N. 836.

——— Ss. 19 and 26—Application—Powers of Subordinate Courts to receive—Appeal.

Where a Subordinate Judge is authorised to entertain applications under the Succession Certificate Act an appeal from an order of the Sub-Judge lies to the District Judge and not to the High Court. (Lindsay J. C. and Sabonadiere, A.J.C.) BASTI BEGAM v. SAULAT BAHADUR. 21 I. C. 388 : 16 O. C. 197.

——— Ss. 19 (1) and 26 (2)—Order of Sub-Judge —Appeal lies to Dt. Judge.

An appeal from an order of a Subordinate Judge passed under the Succession Certificate Act lies to the District Judge and not to the High Court. (Chevis, C. J.) MAHABIR v. JAIRAMDAS. 2 Lah L. J. 312.

——— S. 26—Power of Sub-Judge, 2nd class, to entertain applications for certificate.

The Sub-Judge of the second class invested with the powers of the District Court under S. 26 has powers to entertain an application for a succession certificate in respect of debts exceeding Rs. 5,000. (Shadi Lal, C. J.) RATTAN SINGH v. CHAUDHURI RAJ SINGH. 2 Lah. L. J. 578.

——— S. 26 (2)—Conditional order granting certificate—Appeal.

An order granting a certificate to one of several claimants on condition of furnishing security is appealable. (Scott, C. J. and Batchelor, J.) BAI NAND KOER v. MAGANLAL. 36 Bom. 272 : 12 I. C. 921 : 13 Bom. L. R. 1208.

——— S. 26 (2)—Proviso—Order rejecting application for certificate—Appeal.

Order of a senior Subordinate Judge rejecting an application for a succession certificate is appealable to the District Court and not to the High Court. (Chevis, J.) JAGRAM DAS v MANGAL DAS. 41 I. C. 640 : 121 P. W. R. 1917.

——— S. 35—Illegitimate children — English view.

The English view that a man is not the father of his illegitimate children applies also under the Succession Act. (Coxe and Chatterjee, JJ.) UDIT SINGH v. AMAR KUAR. 23 I. C. 348.

SUCCESSION (PROPERTY PROTECTION) ACT (XIX OF 1841).

———Object of—Succession to large estates—Disputes as to—Breach of peace.

The object of the Curator's Act (XIX of 1841) is to protect the property appertaining to large estates in case of a dispute as to succession. That Act in some respects stands in a similar position to S. 145, Cr. P. Code, with respect to certain specified properties whereas its scope is large inasmuch as it embraces all properties moveable and immoveable and once for all it settles the right to hold possession of the property summarily directing the other disputants to seek their remedy in a proper Court. (Jwala Prasad, J.) BISO RAM v. EMPEROR.

23 Cr. L. J. 236 : 1922 P. 372.

———Subordinate Judge—Jurisdiction.

A Subordinate Judge has no jurisdiction to deal with an application under the Act unless there was any general assignment of cases under the Act to him by the Dt. Judge. (Broadway, J.) GANGA SAHAI v. BABU LAL.

72 P. R. 1918 : 31 P. L. R. 1918 : 46 I. C. 589 : 148 P W. R. 1918.

———Lapse by survivorship—Applicability of Act.

The Act does not apply to cases where property lapses by survivorship as in the case of property held by a karnavan of a Tarwad Obiter. The Act presupposes a case of surrender. If there are directions as to the disposal of the property the Judge should give effect to them in the summary proceeding without considering their validity. Before issuing notice under the Act the Judge must be satisfied that there are strong reasons for believing that the party in possession has no lawful title. (Sankaran Nair, J.) ABDULLA v. MIRTHUR.

12 M. L. T. 497 : (1912) M. W. N. 1164 : 17 I. C. 429 : 23 M. L. J. 537.

———S. 3—Inquiry—Questions to be considered.

Before action can be taken under Act XIX of 1841, the provisions of S. 3 must be strictly fulfilled. It is necessary to consider (1) whether the opposite party has no title, (2) whether the person claiming is really entitled to property and (3) whether the person making the application is likely to be materially prejudiced, if left to the ordinary remedy by a regular suit. 6 I. C. 630; 34 Cal. 929, Rel. Where action was taken under the Act XIX of 1851 without considering those requisites, the High Court set aside the order. (Brett and Sharfuddin, JJ.) TARAK CHANDRA GOSWAMI v. SATYA CHARAN PATNI.

15 I. C. 504.

———Ss. 3 and 4—Non-compliance with provisions of—Revision.

Ss. 3 and 4 are imperative and failure to comply with the provisions thereof is a material irregularity giving a good ground for revision, but still will not be interfered with, if there is another remedy open for the aggrieved party. 15 P. R. 1901, Foll. (Broadway, J.) GANGA SAHAI v. BABULAL.

72 P. R 1918 : 31 P. L. R. 1918 : 46 I. C. 589 : 148 P. W. R. 1918.

SUITS VALUATION ACT (VII OF 1887).

———Ss. 3, 4 and 5—Protection of property—Deceased person—Procedure.

The necessary conditions subject to which a curator is to be appointed under S. 5 of Act XIX of 1841, are :—(1) There must be an application and an examination as directed in S. 3 ; (2) the Judge must be in a position to say upon such application and examination that danger is to be apprehended of misappropriation or waste of the property before the summary suit can be determined ; and (3) the delay in obtaining security from the party in possession or its insufficiency is likely to expose the party out of possession to considerable risk. 12 Mad. 341, Foll. 15 I. C. 505 ; 7 P. R. 1904, Ref. (Shah Din and Scott-Smith, JJ.) MADAN GOPAL v. MUSSAMAT NARBADA

11 P. R. 1915 : 28 I. C. 248 : 17 P. L. R. 1916.

———S. 3—Proceedings under—Revision.

A statement on solemn affirmation by the agent of a Pardanashin lady is a sufficient declaration within S. 3. Ordinarily the Chief Court should not interfere on revision in cases under Act XIX of 1841, but where plainly an erroneous order which is likely to seriously prejudice a party and to cause serious embarrassment and difficulty in the future is passed : intervention is right and proper. The deft in a very high-handed manner forcibly took possession of a furniture shop and there was every likelihood of his proceeding to greater lengths unless sharply checked. Held, that the District Court can rightly take action under the Act. (Johnstone, J.) GHURUKU MAL v. DURGA DEVI.

65 P. L. R 1911 : 10 I. C. 820 : 223 P. W. R. 1911.

———Ss. 3 and 5—Appointment of Curator—When justified.

To apply the Act XIX of 1841 to any particular case it is a condition precedent that the Judge should find or be satisfied that the applicant was likely to be materially prejudiced if left to the ordinary remedy of a regular suit and that the application was bona fide. Without that finding the Court has no jurisdiction to act under the Act and its order is revisable. 12 M. 341. Ref. (Krishnan, J.) KOTHANDARAMA REDDY v. JAGATHAMBAL AMMAL.

16 L. W. 924 : (1923) M. W. N. 74 : 1923 Mad. 229 (1).

———S. 18—No appeal from decision of Dt. Judge.

No appeal lies under the provisions of S. 18 of Act XIX of 1841 against the decision of a District Judge. (Walsh and Stuart, JJ.) GAJADHAR v. MEGHA.

44 All. 546 : 20 A. L J. 358 : L. R. 3 A 652 : 1922 A. 337.

SUITS VALUATION ACT (VII OF 1887).

———Forum—Suit to set aside award.

Suit to set aside an award must be brought in Court having pecuniary jurisdiction to the extent of liability which the plff. is trying to set aside. (Venkatasubba Rao, J). VENKATACHALAM PILLAY v. SRINIVASA AIYAR.

18 L. W. 399 : (1923) M. W N. 747 : 1924 Mad. 84.

———Overvaluation—Procedure.

Under the Act a suit which is overvalued and brought in the wrong court cannot be dismissed on that ground but it must be disposed of, as if it had been properly valued and brought in the proper Court. (Chamier, C. J. and Sharfuddin, J.) BADARI SINGH v. LOHI SINGH. 39 I. C. 551 : 1 Pat. L. W. 418.

SUITS VALUATION ACT (VII OF 1887), S. 3.

——— Ss 3 and 4—Declaratory suit by—Occupancy tenant—Jurisdictional value.

The jurisdictional value of a declaratory suit by an occupancy tenant against his landlord is 15 times the land revenue for the land. (Johnstone and Shah Din, JJ.) JAMAL v. QUADIR BAKHSH. 54 P. R. 1914 : 238 P. L. R. 1914 : 25 I. C. 437 : 153 P. W. R. 1914.

——— Ss. 3, 4, 8 and 9—Rules made under—Valuation.

Where the value of the subject-matter has been determined by rules under S. 9 its value for purposes of jurisdiction and Court-fee shall be as determined by such rules but the value for purposes of jurisdiction can never exceed the value of the land as determined by rules framed under S. 3. (Rattigan, Beadon and Agnew, JJ.) BARRU v. LACHMAN. 111 P. R. 1913 : 228 P. W. R. 1913 : 22 I. C. 503 : 23 P. L. R. 1914.

——— S. 3 (1)—Pre-emption—Suit for valuation—Court Fees Act, S. 7 (v).

The proper valuation of a suit to enforce a right of pre-emption is that fixed in S. 7 (v) of the Court Fees Act and the forum is determined accordingly. (Oldfield and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) NARAYAN NAIR v. CHERIA KATHIRI KUTTY. 41 Mad. 721 : 45 I. C. 89: 34 M. L. J. 397.

——— S. 4—Proper valuation—Court's duty.

A court cannot fix a valuation for the plff. even if plff.'s valuation is deliberately fictitious. It can compel plff. to put a reasonable valuation. (Tudball and Walsh, JJ.) ASHIG ALI v. IMTIAZ BEGAM. 39 All. 723 : 42 I. C. 891 : 15 A. L. J. 794.

——— S. 4—Valuation of suit—Jurisdiction.

The proper valuation for jurisdiction of a suit for declaration that certain property is the absolute property of the plff. is 30 times the jama. 35 P. R. 1901 Foll. 22 I. C. 503 Dist. (Le Rossignol and Wilberforce, JJ.) SOHAN SINGH v. DEVI SINGH. 81 P. R. 1918 : 115 P. W. R. 1918 : 46 I. C. 490 : 119 P. L. R. 1918.

——— S. 4—Partition suit — Valuation for jurisdiction.

In a suit for partition of joint family property the value of the suit for purposes of jurisdiction is the value of the share claimed and not of the whole estate. (Kensington, C.J and Shadi Lal, J.) KHILANDA RAM v. NANDA RAM. 108 P. L. R. 1915: 29 I. C. 766 : 68 P. W. R. 1915.

——— S. 4—Suit for declaration that mortgage is unaffected by attachment.

In a suit for a declaration that plaintiff's mortgage is not affected by the attachment in execution of the defendant's decree, there being no dispute between plff. and the mortgagors as to the validity of the mortgage, the proper valuation where the value of the property is in excess of the amount claimed in execution of the decree, is not the value of the mortgaged property but the amount for which the decree may be executed. 30 Mad. 335 ; 38 All. 72 ; 38 Mad. 602, Doubted. (Ayling and Krishnan, JJ.) MADDUKURI ANKAMMA v. MUYYALA SUBBAYYA. 54 I. C. 543 : 37 M. L. J. 611.

SUITS VALUATION ACT (VII OF 1887), S. 8.

——— S. 4—O. 21. R. 63, C. P. C.—Claim suit.

A suit under O. 21. R. 63, C. P. C. to cancel the attachment of the judgment-debtor's property in execution of the decree is valued for purposes of jurisdiction according to the market value of the property and not according to decretal amount. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) NARAIN SINGH v. AIYASWAMI REDDI. 39 Mad. 602 : 31 I. C. 188 : 29 M. L. J. 728.

——— S. 4—Declaration prayed for—Valuation for jurisdiction.

The value of a suit for a declaration is for the purpose of jurisdiction the value of the property for which the declaration is asked for. (Coutts and Adami, JJ.) MOHINI MOHAN v. GOUR CHANDRA PAI. 5 Pat. L. J. 397 : 1 Pat. L. T. 390 : 56 I. C. 762 : 2 U. P. L. R. (Pat) 123.

——— S. 8—Suit for declaration and consequential relief—Plaint—Valuation of—Appeal.

In a suit for a declaratory decree and consequential relief, the amount at which the plff., values the relief sought for purposes of Court-fees determines the jurisdiction of the suit, including that on appeal. (Sir John Edge.) SUNDERBAI v. COLLECTOR OF BELGAUM. 43 Bom. 376 : (1919 M. W. N. 254 : 23 C. W. N. 753 : 21 Bom. L. R. 1148: 46 I A. 15 : 52 I. C. 897 (P.C.)

[On appeal from 23 I. C. 221 : 38 Bom. 272.]

——— S. 8—Jurisdiction—Valuation of suit—Court-fees--Declaratory decree without consequential relief—Court-fees Act, Sch. II, para. 17 (iii).

Objections to jurisdiction on the ground of valuation should be taken at the earliest possible moment. Where a nominal value as distinct from the real value, is placed on property for the purposes of Sch. II of the Court Fees Act, the nominal value cannot displace the real value for purposes of jurisdiction. (Sir Lawrence Jenkins.) RACHAPPA v. SHIVAPPA.

43 Bom. 507: 17 A. L. J. 418: 25 M. L. T. 298: 29 C. L. J 452: 21 Bom. L. R. 489: 10 L. W. 274 : 50 I. C. 280 : 24 C. W N. 33 : 46 I. A. 24 : 36 M. L. J. 437 (P. C.).

[On appeal from 16 I. C. 1005 . 36 Bom. 628]

——— S. 8—Mortgage—Redemption—Suit for—Valuation.

The amount of the mortgage determines the amount of the court-fee to be paid and the valuation of a suit for redemption of a mortgage. It is an ancillary part of the claim that an account should be taken and any amount found due to or by one of the parties should be awarded to the party to whom it is due. The nature of the suit is not altered by it nor the value increased. 31 A. 44 Foll. (Banerjee and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) CAHIDDU SINGH v. JAHANJHAN RAI. L. R. 3 A. 630.

——— S. 8—Valuation for purposes of jurisdiction.

The value as placed by the plff. in the plaint must be looked at even though the plff. claims unnecessary relief. (Stanley, C J. and Banerjee, J.) PERTHI SINGH v. MARU SINGH. 9 I. C. 574 : 8 A. L. J. 266.

SUITS VALUATION ACT (VII OF 1887), S. 8.

——S. 8—Suit for declaration and injunction.

The plaintiff has the right to put his own valuation on his claim for the purpose of court-fees in a suit for a declaration and for an injunction by way of consequential relief; and the same is the value for the purpose or jurisdiction. (Shah and Hayward, JJ.) BALAKRISHNA NARAYAN SAWANT v. JANKIBAI SITARAM. 44 Bom. 331: 56 I. C. 340: 22 Bom. L. R. 289

—— S. 8—Suit for winding up partnership—Valuation for purposes of jurisdiction.

In a suit for winding up of a partnership and for accounts the value determinable for the computation of court-fee is the value for the purposes of jurisdiction. (Batchelor and Shah, JJ.) BAI HIRAGAVRI v. GULABDAS JAMNADAS. 22 I. C. 71 : 15 Bom. L. R. 1123.

——S. 8—Administration suit—Valuation.

An administration suit by a creditor is in fact a suit for an account within S. 7 (iv) (f) of the Court Fees Act, and the plff. can place his own valuation on the relief claimed in such suit, which valuation for purposes of jurisdiction is the same as the valuation for purposes of court fees. (Mookerjee and Cuming, JJ.) SASI BHUSHAN v. MAHARAJA SRIMAN INDRA CHANDRA 24 C.L.J. 448: 21 C. W. N. 310: 38 I. C. 835: 44 Cal. 890.

——S. 8—Suit for specific performance of lease—Jurisdiction—Valuation for.

A suit for specific performance of a contract of lease should first be valued for Court-fees under S. 7 (x) (c) of the Court Fees Act and the value should be adopted under S. 8 of the Suits Valuation Act for jurisdiction. (Mookerjee, J.) SAILENDRANATH v. RAM CHARAN. 25 C. W N. 768 : 66 I. C. 268 : 34 C. L. J. 94.

——S. 8—Suit for establishing occupancy right—Valuation.

The value of a suit is the value of the interest claimed by the plff., so that the value of a suit for establishing a right as an occupancy raiyat in a garden and for possession thereof is that of the interest claimed and not that of the entire interest in the land, including that of the superior landlord. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) UPENDRA CHANDRA MITRA v. SAT KOURIDHAR. 23 I. C. 964.

——S. 8—Suit for redemption—Jurisdiction.

In a suit for redemption the value of the subject-matter for the purpose of jurisdiction is the aggregate value of the two heads of relief. In questions of jurisdiction the presumption is in favour of giving jurisdiction to the highest Court. (Batten, A. J. C.) CHIMNA v. MOTILAL.

55 I. C. 75.

——S. 8—Value on reliefs—Duty of Court.

The court can question the value of the reliefs in a suit coming under S. 7 (iv) (c) of the Court Fees Act where the valuation appears on the face of the plaint to be too small, as it is its duty to see that the reliefs claimed are properly valued. (Carnduff, J.) HARIHAR PRASAD SINGH v. SHYAMLAL SINGH. 21 I. C. 404 : 40 Cal. 615.

SUITS VALUATION ACT (VII OF 1887), S. 8.

—— S. 8—Suit for declaration of sole shebaitship.

A suit for declaration that the plff. is the sole shebait and also for injunction restraining the deft. from intervening with his possession, falls within S. 8 and so the valuation for jurisdiction and Court-fees must be the same. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) RAJ KRISHNA DEY v. BEHARY DEY. 40 Cal. 245: 16 C. L. J. 194 : 17 I. C. 162 : 17 C. W. N. 591.

——S. 8—Suit falling under S. 7 (iv) (c) of the Court Fees Act—Same valuation for Court fees and jurisdiction.

Under S. 8 the valuation for purposes of court fees determines the valuation for purposes of jurisdiction also in a case falling under S. 7 (iv) (c) of the Court Fees Act. (Scott-Smith, J.) NANDAN MAL v. SALIG RAM. 1922 Lah. 236.

——S. 8—Suit for declaration that house is not liable to attachment and sale in execution of decree.

For the purpose of jurisdiction the value of a suit for a declaration that certain house is not liable to attachment and sale in execution of a decree against both the decree holder and the judgment-debtor, is the value of the property whether the judgment-debtor resists the claim or not. 41 P. R. 1913, Foll. Though the amount of decree is less than Rs. 5,000 the house in dispute having been found to be of the value of Rs. 10,000 or more, the case is beyond the jurisdiction of the Subordinate Judge, second class. (Shadi Lal and Martineau, JJ.) SHIV RAM v. KHURSHED AHMAD. 1 Lah. L. J. 87

——S. 8—Suit for specific performance—Prayer for possession—Effect—Nature of suit not altered.

Nature of suit is not altered where possession is prayed for in a suit for specific performance. (Krishnan and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) SUNDARA RAMANUJUM NAIDU v. SIVALINGAM PILLAI. 18 L. W. 333: 1924 M. 360

——S. 8—Suit for redemption—What determines jurisdiction.

In a redemption suit it is the amount of the principal debt that should be taken as determining the jurisdiction under the Act The High Court has power to fix a proper valuation even though the lower Court has properly valued. (Ballis, C.J. and Hannay, J.) MAHOMED JALALDEEN v. VIJAYASWAMI. 39 Mad. 447: (1915) M. W. N. 339: 28 I. C. 624: 29 M. L. J. 142.

——S. 8—Court Fees Act (1870), S. 7, Cl. (xi) (cc)— Suit for recovery of immoveable property from tenant.

In a suit for recovery of immoveable property from a tenant the valuation for court-fees is the same as that for jurisdiction. (Ayling, J.) VANNAVALLI SESHAGIRI ROW v. GOPISETTI NARAYANASAMI NAIDU. 38 Mad. 795: 24 I. C. 374: 26 M. L J. 573.

SUITS VALUATION ACT (VII OF 1887), S. 8.

——S. 8—Court-Fees Act (VII of 1870), S. 7 (iv) (b) and (v)—Partition suit.

In a suit for partition of lands of which the plff. is in joint possession he is entitled to value the suit at his own estimate for purposes of jurisdiction. 21 M. L. J. 21, 19 Mad. 6, 21 Mad. 234, 20 Mad. 289, Rel. on. 13 Mad. 56; 31 Mad. 89 Dist. (Miller and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) CHALASAMY RAMIAH v. CHALASAMY RAMASWAMY.
11 M. L. T. 155: 13 I. C. 903: (1912) M. W. N. 199.

——S. 8—Suit for foreclosure—Valuation.

The valuation of a suit for foreclosure for purposes of jurisdiction depends not on the principal but on the total amount claimed. (Mittra, Offg A. J. C.) NANA v. MULCHAND.
21 I. C. 918 : 9 N. L. R. 161.

——S. 8—Redemption—Valuation of suit.

In redemption suits the valuation for the determination of jurisdiction is that of the mortgage amount and not of the property. The fact that incidentally other questions such as an adjudication of rival claims to redeem incidentally arise for determination, is immaterial. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) MUNWAN SHANKAR BAKHSH SINGH v. RAM BAHADUR SINGH. 26 O. C. 297 : 1922 Oudh 45.

——S. 8—Suit for partition—Valuation of the subject-matter—Valuation of plaintiff's share of the whole of the subject-matter.

The value for purposes of jurisdiction of a suit for partition pure and simple where the plaintiff is in joint possession of his share and there is no dispute as to his title or share, is the value of the whole of the property sought to be partitioned. (Das, J.) RANJIT SAHI v. QASIM. 4 Pat. L. T. 257: 2 P. 432 : 1923 P. 342.

——S. 9—Rules under—Restitution of conjugal rights—Injunction—Valuation.

Where plff. sues for restitution of conjugal rights and for an injunction restraining two persons from preventing the alleged wife from living with the plff. the relief for injunction is merely ancillary and the value of the suit was Rs. 1,000 only. (Shadi Lal, J.) NATHU v. MUSAMMAT CHURI. 52 I. C. 101 : 20 P. L. R. 1919.

——S. 11—Undervaluation—Appellant, duty of.

In an appeal based on the ground that the first Court had no pecuniary jurisdiction to try the suit, the appellant must show the fact of incorrect valuation and also that the trial has been prejudicially affected thereby. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) NARSAT HUSAIN v. ADIA SARAN. 37 I. C. 851.

——S. 11—Undervaluation of suit—Parties not prejudicially affected—Powers and duty of Appellate Court.

If the Appellate Court finds that a suit has been undervalued and therefore beyond the jurisdiction of the first Court it should first consider whether the undervaluation had prejudicially affected the disposal of the case. If the parties have not been prejudicially affected and the materials necessary for the disposal of the suit are on record, it is the duty of the Appellate Court to dispose of the appeal as if the Court of first instance had jurisdiction. (Richards, C. J. and Tudball, J.) DALIP SINGH v. KUNDAN SINGH. 36 All. 58 : 22 I. C. 614 : 12 A. L. J. 21.

SUITS VALUATION ACT (VII OF 1887), S. 11.

——S. 11—Undervaluation—Inferior Court—Prejudice.

Where a suit is undervalued and tried by a Munsiff's Court, the defendant can reasonably say that he has been prejudiced by the case being tried by a Court which had no jurisdiction to try it. (Walmsley and Panton, JJ.) MAMRAJ AGARWALLA v. AHMAD ALI MUHAMMED. 47 I. C. 932.

——S. 11—Undervaluation—Objection in appeal.

Where the Lower Appellate Court directed the first Court to return the plaint for insufficient valuation and stamp, the point being raised by the Court itself in appeal : held, that the order was bad as the objection as to valuation applied as well to the appeal as to the suit and that it could not therefore decide the appeal. 22 W. R. 433, Foll. (Brett and Chapman, JJ.) SHAJAN BIBI v. DARSINDEWAN. 16 I. C. 46.

——S. 11—Undervaluation—Value fixed by rules.

S. 11 applies only where the valuation depends on the discretion of the parties or the Court and not when the valuation is fixed by rules having the force of law. Plaintiff sued for possession of a site and an injunction restraining defendants from building a house thereon. He valued his relief for possession at Rs. 50 and for injunction at Rs. 10. The Munsiff, second class, partly decreed the claim and both parties appealed to the senior Subordinate Judge, who modified the decree without any objection as to jurisdiction. Defendants preferred a second appeal to the High Court on the ground of undervaluation and of the want of jurisdiction in the Senior Subordinate Judge. Held, that S. 11 did not cure the defect as the valuation of the suit did not depend on the discretion of the defendants but was fixed by rules of the Court and the order of the lower Appellate Court was defective as being passed without jurisdiction. (Scott-Smith, J.) MAHOMAD SHAH v. ABDULLAH SHAH. 56 I. C. 918.

——S. 11—Rules—Jurisdiction — Valuation—Declaratory suit.

The valuation of a suit for a declaration that the plaintiff is the owner of a certain land assessed with land revenue for purposes of jurisdiction is governed by rules framed under the Act. The plaintiff cannot fix an arbitrary valuation and make the suit cognizable by a Court of a particular grade. Neither waiver nor consent of parties can give a Court jurisdiction to entertain a suit which is beyond its pecuniary limits. Non-objection by defendant does not validate the proceedings. (Shadi Lal, J.) GHULAM AKBAR KHAN v. MUSAMMAT BAKHAT BIBI.
116 P. L. R. 1915 : 29 I. C. 796 : 229 P. W. R. 1915.

——S. 11—Overvaluation—Undervaluation.

Erroneous valuation caused by wrong application of the sections of the Court Fees Act is included in the terms overvaluation and undervaluation in S. 11. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) AMMALU AMMAL v. KRISHNAN NAIR 62 I. C. 715.

SUITS VALUATION ACT (VII OF 1887), S. 11.

——S. 11—Object of—Overvaluation—Decision of Lower Court—Appellate Court not to interfere.

In cases of overvaluation or undervaluation the appellate Court should not interfere with the decision of the lower Court unless the disposal of the suit has been prejudicially affected. The very object of S. 11 of the Suits Valuation Act is to prevent the operation of the general rule that neither consent nor waiver can confer jurisdiction on Courts which have under law only a limited pecuniary jurisdiction in cases where there has been no prejudice on the merits. (Kumaraswami Sastri, J.) A. VEDAJI BASKARA TIRUMAL RAO SAHIB v SUBRAMANIA GURUKKAL.

10 L. W. 221 : 52 I.C. 992 (2): (1919) M. W. N. 707.

——S. 11—Objection to valuation when allowed in appeal.

An Appellate Court should not allow an objection based on undervaluation to the jurisdiction of the trial Court unless for reasons to be recorded by it in writing, it is satisfied that the undervaluation has prejudicially affected the disposal of the suit on its merits, and the mere change of Court due to the undervaluation cannot by itself be treated as prejudicially affecting it. The proper course is not to dismiss the suit but to return the plaint to be presented to the proper Court. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) NARAYANIAMMAL v. SECRETARY OF STATE. 41 I. C. 167.

——S. 11—Erroneous valuation—Mistake of law—Prejudice.

S. 11 of the Suits Valuation Act covers also an erroneous valuation under a mistake of law. Where it is not clear that the objection to jurisdiction was taken before final decree in a foreclosure suit and the objection though taken was not argued before the lower appellate Court the defect of want of jurisdiction is cured by S. 11, Suits Valuation Act. The mere change of forum consequent on an undervaluation cannot prejudice the disposal of the suit on the merits. (Mittra, A.J.C.) NANA v. MULCHAND.

21 I. C. 918 : 9 N. L. R. 161.

——S. 11—Wrong valuation put in plaint—Trial—Prejudice.

S. 11 applies even if the plaintiff designedly exaggerates or undervalues his claim to choose his own forum. In the absence of anything to show that the disposal of the suit on the merits prejudiced the defendants, the trial is good, especially, as the Court later on acquired pecuniary jurisdiction for the actual value on the property in dispute. (Piggott, J.C.) MUHAMMAD SHARAFAT ULLAH v. HIRALAL. 21 I. C. 52 : 16 O. C. 257.

——S. 11—Redemption suit.

The words "over-valuation" and "under-valuation" in S. 11 of the Act (1887), refer to cases in which the valuation is discretionary but not where plff. cannot at his discretion fix a value for the suit. The plff. mortgaged his house to deft. No 1 but himself remained in possession. Thereafter, an ex parte decree was obtained against him and in execution of that decree the house was sold and purchased by deft. No. 2 for Rs. 114 without the plff's. knowledge. Plff. sued for possession of the house. Held, that the suit should be valued at Rs. 114 as in suing for his right to redeem the plff. was also suing for cancellation of the sale. (Johnstone, J.) SANGA v. MALI.

8 I. C. 1043 : 214 P. L R. 1910.

——S. 11—Objection to valuation—When can be taken—Court to decide.

S. 11 of the Act is no bar to an objection being taken in second appeal though it was taken in both the Lower Courts. If the valuation of a suit put in the plaint for the purpose of jurisdiction is contested it is the duty of the Court to decide what the correct valuation is. 31 Bom. 73 Appr. In a suit for a declaration the value of the suit for the purposes of jurisdiction must be the value of the property in respect of which the declaration is sought. 12 Mad. 223. Foll. (Coutts, Misser and Adami, JJ.) MOHANI MOHAN v. GOUR CHANDRA RAI. 5 Pat. L. J. 397 : 1 Pat. L. T. 390 : 2 U. P. L. R (Pat.) 123 : 56 I. C. 762 : 1921 Pat. 390.

——S. 11—Pecuniary jurisdiction—Objection before High Court.

An objection to the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Lower Court based on the valuation cannot be raised for the first time before the High Court. (Mullick and Thornhill, JJ.) BAUKAI SAHU v. MOSAHEB ALI. 46 I. C. 892 (Pat.)

——S. 11—Scope of.

S. 11 of the Act applies to every case, where a Court has tried a suit which owing to over valuation or undervaluation it had no jurisdiction to try. It applies likewise to cases where the value of the subject-matter is not definitely set out in the plaint. 1 L. B. R. 85, Dist : 14 Mad. 183, Foll. ; U. B. R. (1887-1901) II, 443, Dist. (Shaw, J. C.) BAI JNATH SINGH v MI GAUK.

11 I. C. 742 : (1911) U. B. R 1, 82.

——S. 11 (a) and (b)—Scope of—Valuation reduced by plaintiff without objection by defendant—Appeal—Decree not a nullity.

The plaintiff reduced the valuation of the plaintiff from Rs. 5,300 to Rs. 2,300. The defendant raised no objection as to under-valuation. No issue was framed on the point, and in the appeal preferred to the District Judge no mention was made of undervaluation. On second appeal to the High Court, the Taxing Officer on the report of the Stamp Reporter held the correct valuation to be Rs 5, 300, which was accepted by both the parties The appellant thereupon contended that the decree passed by the District Judge was without jurisdiction and null and void. Held, that having regard to S. 11 of the Suits Valuation Act the decree of the District Judge could not be challenged as a nullity, there being no objection under clause (a) nor any prejudice under clause (b). (Kulwant Sahai and Foster, JJ.) MAHARAJA BAHADUR KESHO PD. SINGH v. LAKHU RAI. 4 Pat. L. T. 525 : 1923 Pat 258 : 1923 P. 581.

SUITS VALUATION ACT (VII OF 1887) S. 11.

——— S. 11 (2)--Undervaluation— Right of appeal affected—Prejudice

S. 11 of the Suits Valuation Act, when referring to "prejudicially affecting the disposal of a suit or appeal on its merits", is not considering at all the different rules of procedure that there may be an appeal from one Court to another Court. Where a suit has been undervalued and tried by a Munsif instead of a Subordinate Judge, the District Court has jurisdiction to hear an appeal from the Munsif's decree and must do so unless it is satisfied as required by S. 11 of the Suits Valuation Act, first that the point was taken, and secondly, that the decision on the merits was prejudicially affected. 20 M. L. J. 726 ; 41 I. C. 167, Approved: 5 Pat. L. J. 397, Dissented from. (Schwabe, C. J. Oldfield and Coutts-Trotter, JJ.) NADUVIL EDOM KARNAVAN AND MANAGER KELU ACHAN v CHERIYA PARVATHI NETHIYAR.

(1923) M. W. N. 489 : 46 Mad. 631 : 18 L. W. 1 : 45 M. L. J. 135 : 1924 Mad. 6 (F.B.).

SUNNI LAW.

See MAHOMEDAN LAW.

SUMMARY PROCEDURE (CIVIL).

See C. P. CODE, O. 37.

SUMMARY SETTLEMENT ACT (BOMBAY ACT II OF 1863).

——— Inam lands settled under, whether subject to Vatan Act of 1874.

Settlements effected under Act II of 1863, prevent inam lands from being subject to the provisions of the Vatan Act of 1874 because holders of those settlements are no longer hereditary officers holding for service. (Scott, C J. and Heaton, J.) BRENDON v. SHRIMANT SUNDARA BAI. 38 B. 272 : 23 I. C. 221 : 16 Bom. L. R. 164.

——— Application of to villages of Tatya Maharaj is valid.

The application of the summary settlement to the villages of Tatya Maharaj was valid and legal. (Macleod, C. J., Pratt and Fawcett, JJ.) VASUDEV HARIHAR PANDIT, In re. 45 Bom. 453 : 61 I. C. 146 : 23 Bom. L. R. 161.

SUMMONS.

See C. P. CODE, O. 5.

SUPER-TAX ACT (XIX OF 1920).

——— S. 3—Firm—What is— Husband and wife—Husband's option to take in fresh partners or determine her share—Partnership

Where a husband and wife formed a partnership and the husband took some extra rights in himself and the parties were entitled to admit new partners after the death of the other, held that the partnership was valid. (Sanderson, C.J., Mukerjee and Chatterjee, JJ.) RAGHUMALL KHAN DELWAL v. OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF CALCUTTA.

25 Bom. L. R. 1225 : 1924 B. 182.

SURETY.

See CONTRACT ACT, Ss. 128—147.

SURRENDER.

See (1) HINDU LAW—WIDOW.
(2) LANDLORD AND TENANT.
(3) T. P. ACT, S. 111.

TALUQDAR.

SURVEY AND BOUNDARY MARKS ACT (IV OF 1897).

——— S. 17 (a)—Resistance to Survey Officer—Good faith—Lawful authority—Colour of office—Meaning of.

A Surveyor put up boundary marks bona fide on land not included in notification. Accused removed the marks. Accused was convicted under S. 434. The section does not make distinction between marks fixed correctly and those fixed incorrectly and there is no reference to the propriety of the exercise of authority. An offence under S 186 is established if surveyor bona fide believed he was discharging public functions though he was acting illegally. 'Under colour of office' in S 99 simply mean that the public servant must be acting in good faith, that is, with due care and caution (Oldfield and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) PUBLIC PROSECUTOR v. MADHAVA BHONJO SANTS.

(1916) 2 M. W. N. 183 : 4 L. W. 377 : 17 Cr. L. J. 481 : 36 I. C. 61 : 31 M. L. J. 305.

——— S. 20, Cl. (3)—"Tenant" does not include holder of rent-free inam in a Zamindari.

The word 'tenant' in S. 20, Cl. (3) of the Act does not include the grantee of a rent free inam in a Zamindari. (Ayling, O. C. J., Kumarasami Sastri and Odgers, JJ.) RAJAH OF VENKATAGIRI v. TATTIKOLA SUBBIAH. 14 L. W 589 : (1921) M. W. N 783 : 45 M. 1 : 30 M. L. T. 532 : 41 M L. J. 530 : 1922 M. 137.

SURVEY MAPS

See EVIDENCE ACT, Ss. 35, 74 AND 83

SURVEY RECORDS.

See (1) EVIDENCE.
(2) EVIDENCE ACT, Ss. 34 AND 114.

SURVIVORSHIP.

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY.

SYMBOLICAL POSSESSION.

See (1) ADVERSE POSSESSION
(2) C. P. CODE, O. 21, RR. 35 AND 96.
(3) LIMITATION ACT, ARTS. 142 AND 144.
(4) POSSESSION.

TACKING.

See T. P. ACT, S. 80.

TALAB-I-ISTIHAD.

See (1) MAHOMEDAN LAW.
(2) PRE-EMPTION.

TALAB-I-MOWAZIBAT

See (1) MAHOMEDAN LAW.
(2) PRE-EMPTION.

TALAK.

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DIVORCE.

TALUQDAR.

——— Property of — Presumption — Succession.

Where it is not known as to how a property came into the hands of a Taluqdar, succession to such property is according to the personal law to which he was subject and it is more so if it was acquired after the British annexation. If it was ancestral property at the time of the second summary settlement and he treated it as Taluqdari property, it is Taluqdari property and the presumption is strengthened if the property happens to be the village where the Taluqdar himself resided. (Lindsay and Daniels, A.J.Cs.) IMTIAZI BEGAM v. HURMUZI KHANAM.

TALUQDAR.

8 O. L. J. 67 : 61 I. C. 196 : 3 U. P. L. R. (J. C.) 12.

TAX.

———Assessment—Principles applicable to—Salt works—Assessment of.

In assessing any property, the assessing authority must consider what a tenant from year to year with a reasonable prospect of the continuation of the lease would give for the premises. The then occupier must be regard as a likely tenant and the assessment is to be fixed, on the highest rent that such a tenant might be reasonably expected to give.The premises must be valued as they exist at the date of the valuation. So long as the assessing Court applies one of the recognised modes of valuation and in doing so does not consider evidence which it should not consider and does not exclude evidence which it should not exclude it is left to that Court to select its particular formula. (Batchelor, A C.J. and Kemp, J.) ABDULLA BHAI v. THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE, ADEN. 42 Bom. 692 : 46 I. C. 721 : 20 Bom. L. R. 639.

TAXATION OF COSTS.

See (1) COSTS.
(2) HIGH COURT RULES.
(3) PRACTICE.

TAYAZHI.

See MALABAR LAW.

TAZIAS.

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAQF.

TEJIMANDI TRANSACTION.

See (1) CONTRACT—TEJI MANDI.
(2) CONTRACT ACT, S. 30.

TEMPLE COMMITTEE.

See (1) HINDU LAW-RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT.
(2) RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS ACT.

TEMPORARY INJUNCTION.

See C. P. CODE, O. 32.

TENANCY.

See (1) LANDLORD AND TENANT.
(2) LEASE.
(3) LOCAL ACTS.
(4) T. P. ACT, SS. 105 TO 117.

TENANCY-AT-WILL.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT.

TENANCY FROM YEAR TO YEAR.

See T. P ACT, SS. 106 AND 107.

TENANCY IN COMMON.

See CO-SHARER.

TENANT.

See (1) LANDLORD AND TENANT.
(2) T. P. ACT, SS. 106 AND 107.

TENANT IN COMMON.

See CO-SHARER.

TORT.

TENDER.

See also (1) CONTRACT ACT, S. 38.
(2) T. P. ACT, S. 83.

———Validity of—Tender o f portion of debt—Acceptance by creditor—Effect of.

A creditor is not bound to accept less than his whole debt, and there can be no valid tender of part of an entire and indivisible debt. But there is nothing to prevent the creditor from accepting the amount tendered in part payment, and his doing so will not preclude him from afterwards claiming the residue of his account, provided that the debtor did not make it a condition of his tender that it be accepted in discharge of the whole. A tender must be unconditional or, at all events free from any condition to which the creditor may righfully object. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ) BEHARI LAL BISWAS v. NASMUNNISSA BIBI. 37 C. L. J. 222 : 1923 Cal. 527.

TENURE.

See LAND TENURE.

TESTAMENT.

See WILL.

TESTATOR.

See WILL.

THAKBUST MAP.

See EVIDENCE ACT, SS. 35, 36 AND 74.

THAK MAP.

See EVIDENCE ACT, SS. 35, 36 and 74.

THEKADAR.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT.

THIRD PARTY.

See (1) ASSIGNMENT.
(2) CONTRACT—STRANGER.

THUMB IMPRESSION.

See EVIDENCE ACT, S. 45.

TICCADAR.

See (1) LANDLORD AND TENANT.
(2) OUDH RENT ACT.

TIDAL NAVIGABLE RIVER.

See (1) FISHERY.
(2) JALKAR.
(3) RIPARIAN RIGHTS.

TIME.

See CONTRACT ACT, S. 55.

TITLE-DEEDS.

See (1) CONTRACT ACT, S 108.
(2) T. P. ACT, SS. 55 AND 59.

TODA GIRAS ALLOWANCE.

See C. P. CODE, S. 60.

TODA GIRAS ALLOWANCE ACT (LOCAL VII OF 1887).

TORT.

See also (1) LEGAL PRACTITIONER.
(2) LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT. S. 36.

Act of God.
Animals.
Breach of Contract.

Cause of action.
Conspiracy.
Conversion.
Defamation.
Easement.
False Imprisonment.
Joint tort-feasors.
Liability.
Malicious proceedings.
Negligence.
Nuisance.
Principal and Agent.
Public Officer.
Secretary of State.
Statutory body.
Trespass.
Wrongful dismissal.
Miscellaneous.

Act of God.

———Act of God—Locusts—Right to drive away—Liability of owner of land.

The principles of law laid down for preserving or regulating the settled course of a river, on which may depend so many of the rights and benefits of adjacent owners, do not properly apply to the course of an insect pest which it is the interest of every one concerned to repel or destroy. Visitations of locusts, though no doubt unpleasantly frequent, are in the nature of extraordinary and incalculable events rather than a normal incident like the rise of a river in a rainy season; and an owner of land is justified in driving away locusts from his own land without being liable to his neighbour for the consequences. Even as a formal incident of agricultural industry one will be entitled to drive the locusts away just as they are entitled to scare crows without regard to the direction they may take in leaving. (Lord Robson) SAMUEL JACOBUS v. DANIEL WILHELM.
15 C. W. N. 569 : 21 M. L. J. 674 : 10 I. C. 460 : 10 M. L. T. 311 (P. C.).

———Act of God—Closing of culvert.

Where in consequence of closing the culvert the water of the flood remained on the land for a long time, the plea of " Act of God" could not be pleaded by the defendant. (Coxe and Chatterjee, JJ.) BEHAR BUKHTIARPORE LIGHT RAILWAY COMPANY, LTD. v. JHANDOO MAHTON
21 I. C. 393.

———Act of God—When a good defence.

Before act of God can be pleaded, the party pleading it, must himself have done all that he was bound to do. The bursting of a tank after a heavy rain owing to failure to open the sluice is not an act of God. 6 Bom. L. R. 899 Rel. on. (Prideaux, A.J.C.) MURLIDHAR KURMI v. BHANGI KURMI.
50 I C. 615

———Act of God—Rain water.

A person who allows rain water to collect in the materials and the debris of his fallen house and thus to cause injury to an adjoining wall makes himself liable to compensate the owner of the wall for the damages sustained by him. The expression ' Act of God' is strictly confined to classes of inevitable accidents which are occasioned by the elementary forces of nature unconnected with the agency of man or other causes and does not cover damage which could have been prevented by reasonable foresight. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) LALLU v. FAZLHAQ
21 O. C. 295 : 49 I. C. 43 : 1 U. P. L. R. 15.

Animals.

———Animals—Damage, suit for.

In removing an animal, so as to prevent it from causing damages, no more injury should be inflicted than is reasonably necessary and the infliction of excessive injuries will render the person inflicting them liable in an action for damages. (Fletcher and Cuming, JJ.) MALIRAM KALITA v. PURUANANDA ADHICHAR. 54 I. C. 761.

———Animal—Keeping animal known to be vicious—Injury—Damages.

Where the defendant kept a horse knowing it to be a vicious animal and the horse injured the plaintiff, the defendant was held liable in damages though he was not guilty of negligence since negligence is not necessary to support a suit of this nature. (Fletcher and Teunon, JJ.) GANDA SINGH v. CHUNI LAL SHAHA. 29 I. C. 862 : 19 C. W. N. 916.

———Animal—Damage caused by.

An elephant belongs to a class of dangerous animals and the owner who keeps such an animal must take all the risk of the damage it may do. The test for determining whether the animal is vicious by nature is whether the progeny of such animal is found harmless, from years ago to the present age. 35 Cal. 418 Dist. (Sankaran Nair and Ayling, JJ.) MANKADA KOVILAGAM v. MALAN KATILL KOPPAN. 35 Mad. 708 : 10 I. C. 108 : 21 M. L. J. 434 : 9 M. L. T. 496.

———Animal—Trespass—Damages.

The owner of an animal is responsible for injury of damage committed by it by trespassing on the land of another ; whether the animal escapes by negligence of the owner or in spite of his diligent care is immaterial. Damages done by cattle passing along a highway to property near the highway is an exception to the general rule. In such cases the sufferer cannot recover damages unless negligence or want of skill is proved. (Drake-Brockman, J. C.) MADHO v. AKAJI.
17 I. C. 899 : 8 N. L. R. 190.

———Animal—Pursuit—Escape.

A complete capture and not a mere pursuit of an animal—ferae naturae—is necessary to make it one's property. If there is possibility of its escape from his possession, it is not considered a complete capture. So the overtaking by the person's dog of the animal does not amount to preclude the possibility of its escape. (Piggott, J. C. and Lindsay, A. J. C.) RAGHUNANDAN v. EMPEROR. 13 Cr. L. J. 556 : 15 I. C. 972 : 15 O. C. 183.

———Animals—Master and servant.

Where M made over a buffalo to N, an independent contractor, to tend on payment of paddy and both M and N knew it to be vicious and while in the charge of N's son it gored to death the plff.'s buffalo, held, that N alone was liable and not M. The test is to see whether the relation of master and servant existed between them. (Rigg, J.) MAN YANING v. MAUNG SHWE THE.

TORT—Animals.

10 Bur. L. T. 223 : 42 I. C. 52 : 9 L. B. R. 54.

——Animals—Negligence—Damages for injury by.

In order to determine defendant's negligence it is important to be proved by the plaintiff that the defendant owner know that his animal was vicious and through his negligence the damage was caused to the plaintiff. (Twomey, J.) MAUNG NGWE YA v. MAUNG SHWE YE.
4 Bur. L. T. 138 : 12 I. C. 910 : 8 L. B. R. 388.

Breach of Contract.

——Breach of contract.

If a person receives money which rightly belongs to a third person the third person has a right to sue him each time it occurs as it is not damages at all but money had and received and is in the nature of a breach of contract. (Walsh, J.) HARPAL v. RAM SARAP. 34 I. C. 173.

——Breach of contract.

An action lies against any one who wilfully and with notice procures breach of contract. 13 C.P.L. R. 23 Foll. (Hallifax. O. A. J. C.) PANDURANG v. NAGIJI. 17 I. C. 138 : 8 N. L. R. 133.

——Breach of contract — Procuring of—Actionable wrong—Continuing cause of action.

Where a third party procures a breach of contract of personal service by employing the servant himself with knowledge of the subsisting contract he commits an actionable wrong and the wrong continues so long as the breach continues. (Robinson, C. J. and Heald, J.) THE INDO BURMA OIL FIELDS v. BURMA OIL COMPANY, LTD.
64 I. C. 794 : 11 L. B. R. 26.

Cause of Action.

——Cause of action — Right of property in earth washed away by rain.

The owner of a field from which earth has been washed away by heavy rains and deposited in an adjoining field has got no right to dig and carry back the earth and a suit for a decree authorizing him so to dig or for damages cannot succeed. The fact that the neighbour lowered the level of his land will not give a cause of action. (Rafique and Ryves, JJ.) SAKAT MAL v. ABDUL.
19 A. L. J. 309.

——Cause of action—Injury—Death of wife.

Husband cannot sue the Railway Company for damages for the death of his wife during journey. In this case the husband is not the aggrieved party. (Richards, C. J. and Bannerji, J.) SHAM NARAIN TICKOO v. B. B. & C. I. RAILWAY.
41 All. 488 : 50 I. C. 130 : 17 A. L. J. 506.

——Cause of action— Continuing injury—Nature of—Gives a fresh cause of action.

An act which creates a source of continuing injury making the doer of it responsible for its continuance and in which no damage is necessary to an action as in trespass, arises a fresh cause of action. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) BROJENDRA KISHORE ROY v. BHARAT CHANDRA ROY. 22 C. L. J. 283 : 31 I. C. 242 : 20 C. W. N. 481.

TORT—Conspiracy.

——Cause of action—Death of injured person—Right of legal representatives.

Where a man dies by the tort of another, his heirs have a cause of action for damages and the principle embodied in the Fatal Accidents Act is applicable to cases arising in Berar as a rule of equity, justice and good conscience. (Kotval and Macnair, A. J. Cs.) RAKHMABAI v. DHANRAJ.
64 I. C. 311.

Conspiracy.

——Conspiracy—Betrothal contract—Damages for breach of

Per Beaman, J.—A person inducing a girl betrothed to another to break the engagements and marry him commits no tort as to give the aggrieved party a cause of action against him. The principle is the same when the father of the girl is induced by the father of the boy. The principle in Lumley v. Gose should be applied in India to contracts of every kind and the true principle governing cases of breach of promise of marriage is stated by Coleridge, J., in the case in 22 L. J. Q. B. 463. Per Heaton, J.—The taking of an active and effective part in the negotiations or proceedings which induce a party to a contract of marriage to break it, is actionable. (Per Beaman, J.) The proceeding or enticement may be actionable when it is the result of a conspiracy. Before a conspiracy can be actionable it should be shown to be a conspiracy to do a lawful thing by unlawful means or to do an unlawful thing even by lawful means. (Beaman and Heaton, JJ.) JEKISANDAS HARKISANDAS v. RANCHODDAS BHAGWANDAS.
41 Bom. 137 : 38 I. C. 588 : 19 Bom. L. R. 18.

——Conspiracy—Breach of contract of marriage—Damages.

Where a man merely knowing of the existence of an unperformed agreement for marriage without malice or the use of unlawful means obtains the benefit of the agreement for himself, no action can lie against him for the breach of the agreement or promising such breach at the instance of the first promisee. The formula of all conspiracy action is the same, that A, B, and C, maliciously conspired together to do a rightful act by wrongful means or to do a wrongful act by rightful means or to do a wrongful act by wrongful means. In an action of conspiracy allegation and proof of malice is essential to the cause of action. The mere fact that a stranger whether he was or was not aware of a contract, induced the promisee not to perform his contract with the promisor does not by itself, in the absence of the other elements give rise to a cause of action against. (Beaman, J.) KHIMJI VASANJI v. NARASI DHANJI. 39 Bom. 682 : 28 I. C. 403 : 17 Bom. L. R. 825.

——Conspiracy—When gives rise to civil liability—What must be proved in suit for damages—Suit for damages—Forum.

A criminal conspiracy gives rise to a civil liability if special damage has been suffered by plff. In a suit for damages resulting from criminal conspiracy, it must be shown by the plff. that he suffered special damage being the result of the conspiracy. Pecuniary loss must be proved though not limited to the extent of the precise sum so proved. There is no rule in the Evidence Act, requiring the standard of proof of a conspiracy in a suit for damages in consequence of injury resulting from conspiracy, to be the same as if the defts. were on a trial on a criminal charge. A suit for damages resulting from a conspiracy is maintainable in British India (Fletcher, J.) PEARY MOHAN DAS v. WESTON.

13 I. C. 721 : 13 Cr. L. J. 65 16 C. W. N. 145 :

Conversion

——— Conversion—Damages—Detention.

When boats are hired for a specific period and are not returned, even after demand after that period, the proper remedy is a suit for damages for wrongful conversion of the boats at that date, and not for hire accruing after such date. (Parlett, J.) MAUNG BA GYAW v. HENG SEN AND CO.
36 I. C. 276 : 10 Bur. L. T. 187.

——— Conversion—Damages—Measure of.

In an action for damages for conversion of goods, the damages are not limited to their value at the date of breach but can cover them subsequent value also. (Pratt, J. C. and Fawcett, A. J. C.) LOUIS DREYFUS AND CO. v. FIRM OF GHANDAMAL AND CO. 52 I. C 878 : 13 S. L. R 128.

Defamation.

——— Defamation.
Fair Comment.
Imputation of caste.
Justification.
Malice.
Privilege.
Publication.
Suit.
Miscellaneous.

Defamation—Fair Comment.

——— Defamation — Fair comment—Journalist—Facts forming the basis of comment to be truly stated—Trivial mis-statements—Privilege.

Whilst a journalist is bound to comment on public questions with care, reason and judgment, he is not necessarily deprived of his privilege merely because there are slight unimportant deviations from absolute accuracy where those deviations do not affect the general fairness of the comment. The articles must be considered rather in their entirety than by separate instances in isolated passages, and the Judge must decide what impression would be produced on the mind of an unprejudiced reader, who knowing nothing of the matter beforehand read the articles straight through. Facts upon which the comment is founded must be truly stated though later they may not turn out to be true at all. A fact may be truly stated and may yet be utterly untrue. Comment to be fair need not take the form of an inevitable inference. Fair comment impliedly permits of a much greater latitude than the drawing of inevitable inferences. All that is required is that inference from facts truly stated should be fair, that is, one possibly out of many equally or almost equally fair inferences. Cases discussed. (The nature of the defences available to a suit for libel as well as the distinction between privilege, fair comment, justification by truth, pointed out by Beman, J.) (Batchelor, A. C. J. Beaman and Marten, JJ.) SURAJMAL v. B. G. HORNIMAN. 47 I. C. 449 : 20 Bom. L. R 185.

——— Defamation—Fair comment—Public interest—Publication—Privilege.

It is a libel to write that the plaintiff used to get permission to move or second propositions in public meetings by sending threatening letters to the conveners. Discussion of affairs concerning the Parsis in papers circulated among all classes of readers is not privileged even where the plaintiff made the matter of public interest. Any member of the public can comment fairly on facts truly stated on a matter of public interest but the allegation of fact imputing any act of misconduct, takes the libel out of the sphere of fair comment. The allegation must then be proved to be true. (Scott, C. J. and Chandavarkar, J.) NADIRSAW HORMUSJI v. PIROJSAW RATANJI RATNAGAR. 19 I. C. 98 : 15 Bom. L. R 130.

——— Defamation—Fair comment—Comment by Pleader in suit.

In a suit for rent the defence pleader commenting on certain exhibits said "the plff. forged documents by fraud". In a previous rent suit by the plff.'s husband, the collection papers were held to have been manufactured. Held, that the pleader's comments were legitimate and without malice, that they were made in the professional discharge of his duty and in the interests of his client. (Woodroffe and Cuming, JJ.) SHIVA KUMARI v. BACHARAM. 66 I. C. 604 : 25 C. W. N. 835.

——— Defamation—Fair comment- Privilege—Malice—Right of each of several persons.

Nothing is a libel which is a fair comment : It must be a comment and not a statement and the comment must be based on facts in order to be availed of as a defence When privilege is set up, he claims a protection by standing in a special relation whereas, if he sets up fair comment, he asserts only what everyone has a right to do. Malice may be inferred from a needlessly extensive publication in a violent language, of statements contrary to the facts and such statements are not entitled to the defence of privilege. Where a statement is defamatory of several persons, each of such persons is entitled to sue separately. (Mookerjee, C. J. and Chaudhuri, J.) IRWIN v. REID. 48 Cal. 304 : 63 I. C. 467 : 25 C. W. N. 150.

——— Defamation—Fair comment.

It is a question for the jury to say whether an article complained of is a fair comment on matters of public interest and it is a question for the Judge to say whether on proof of certain facts, they would amount to justification. A Judge may stop the case only when the article is so fair that it cannot amount to libel on the admitted facts.

TORT—Defamation—Fair comment.

(Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) NAGANATHA SASTRI v SUBRAMANIA IYER 21 M. L T, 324 : 5 L W. 598 : 40 I. C. 126 : 32 M. L. J 392.

——Defamation — Fair comment—Newspaper article—Imputation of motives justification.

A statement of facts, may amount to no more than a comment. All the facts upon which the imputations are based need not set out to justify the imputation of motives to a person in a article published in a newspaper. In public discussions of matters of public interest proceeding in the Press from day to day where it will be too much to expect the writer in each article to set out all the facts which are within the knowledge of every one interested in the question, an accurate statement of the facts which form the subject of criticism or even a clear reference to them will be sufficient. Misstatement of facts and comment therein is not, however, fair comment. (Wallis, C. J. and Phillips, J.) THE MADRAS TIMES PRINTING AND PUBLISHING CO., LTD v C. J. ROGERS. 30 M. L. J. 294 : (1916) 1 M. W. N. 267 : 32 I. C. 408 : 3 L. W. 67.

——Defamation—Fair comment—Journalist—Privilege.

A journalist is entitled to comment on matters of public interest and no suit will lie against him for defamation unless he has exceeded the bounds of fair comment or is actuated by malice. Fair comment on a matter of public interest is protected in the absence of malice. If statements are derogatory of a person they must be stated as matter of comment and not as matter of fact in which case they will have to be justified, that is they will have to be proved to be founded on truth. (Wallis, J.) RAMAKRISHNA PILLAI v. KARUNAKARAMENON, 21 I. C. 625 : 25 M. L. J. 476.

Defamation—Imputation of caste.

——Defamation—Imputation of caste—Privilege—Resolution by caste—Panchayat.

The defendant the chaudri of a Hindu community of which plaintiff was a member in the performance of his duty as a chaudri published to the chaudries of other communities (of the same caste) a notice of resolution which had been passed by the Panchayat of his own community suspending social relations with the plaintiff for breach of caste rules. The plaintiff sued defendant for libel alleging that the notice was defamatory, imputing loss of caste to him. Held, that the occasion of the publication was privileged even if the resolution had been passed under circumstances which rendered it irregular and in the absence of proof of express malice, the suit failed. Toogood v. Spyring, 1 C. M. & R. 181. London Association, etc. v. Greenlands. (1916). 2 A. C. 15. Adam v. Ward, (1917) A. C. 309, Rel. (Mr. Ameer Ali,) GOVINDA DASS v. BISHAMBAR DAS. 39 All. 561 : 15 A. L. J. 629 : 33 M. L J 103 : 2 Pat. L. W. 125 : 21 C. W. N. 1113 : 19 Bom. L. R. 707 : 22 M. L T. 132 : 26 C. L. J 282 : 6 L. W. 494 : (1917) M W. N 817 : 40 I. C. 641 : 44 I. A. 192. (P. C.)
[Affirming on appeal 23 I. C. 301 : 12 A. L. J. 552.]

TORT—Defamation—Malice.

——Defamation— Imputation of caste—Panchayat—Whether amounts to.

Where a chaudri of the community in fulfilment of his duties as such and without ill-will or malice convened a Panchayat and communicated to the plaintiff its resolution excluding him for social intercourse with the caste, the Chaudhri is not liable for libel or defamation. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) BISHAMBAR DAS v. GOVIND DAS. 23 I. C. 301 : 12 A. L. J. 552.

[See on appeal 40 I. C. 641 : 39 All. 561 : (P. C.)]

——Defamation—Imputation of caste.

Where the deft. invited the plff. to a Sradh Ceremony and afterwards turned him out saying that as he had attended and taken meals at widow marriages, some Brahman refused to attend it was held, that the defandant had not standered the plaintiff. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Hannay, JJ.) VENGALA VENKAYYA v. THALLAM VENKATARAMAYYA, 17 M. L. T. 369 : 26 I. C. 460 : 2 L. W. 446 : 28 M. L. J. 58.

——Defamation— Imputation of caste—European called "native"—Journalistic communications "rubbish."

To call an European or Anglo-Indian a "native" may be insulting but it is certainly not defamatory. To describe a journalist's communication as a rubbish is defamatory because the imputation conveyed by the word affects prejudicially his capacity as a journalist. (Maung Kin, J.) CHRISTENSEN v CASTOR. 41 I. C. 696

Defamation—Justification.

——Defamation—Justification— Absence of intention—Defame immaterial—Evidence of witnesses as to person referred—Opinion based on rumour—Admissibility.

Absence of intention to defame is no defence in an action for libel. The question for decision in such cases is whether the article is libellous and whether it designates the complainant in such a way as to let those who know plff. understand that he is the person meant. Evidence giving the substance of rumours and suspicions is admissible. The existence of unproved rumours does not justify, slight damages. (Hartnoll, O. C. J. and Twomey, J.) PROVIDENCE v. CHRISTENSEN. 24 I. C. 749 : 7 Bur. L. T 155.

——Defamation — Justification — Truth of imputation—Special damage—Loss of caste—Malice means absence of just cause and excuse.

Proof of truth of a slanderous imputation is a complete answer to the standered person's claim for damages. Losing the general good opinion of one's neighbours is not a special damage. There must be loss of some material advantage Loss of caste is a loss of material advantage and the cost of the ceremonies necessary for expiation is a fair measure of damages. (Twomey, J.) CHANGARAM v. RAYA. 23 I. C. 3 : 7 L. B. R 86.

Defamation—Malice.

——Defamation—Malice—Suit for damages—Custom of society—Exemplor.

Defendant falsely writing that plaintiff instigated the breaking off, of marriage of a certain girl, out of ill-will, is liable to pay damages If defendant proves that he honestly believed the statement to be true and that he published it in order that the matter should be investigated by the society concerned, he is protected. (Richards, C. J. and Banerji, J.) NARSINGH DAS v. SADA RAM. 41 All. 329 : 50 I. C. 398 : 17 A. L J. 278.

TORT—Defamation—Malice.

——— Defamation— Malice—Burden of proof —Privilege.

The law applicable to a suit for damages for slander in India is the same as the English Law. If the occasion is privileged the burden is on the plff. to prove actual malice in the deft. and if the deft. makes the statement honestly he is not liable for the slander even though there is no reasonable ground for his belief. 3 Q. B. D. 237 ; 2 Q. B. 341 Ref. Refusal to apologies before suit may be evidence of malice but it may actually be consistent with the deft. honestly adhering to his opinion. The absence of any reasonable ground for the opinion would be evidence of malice. (Ormand and Twomey, JJ) ROBERTSON v. MURRAY. 30 I. C. 930 : 8 Bur L. T. 278.

Defamation—Privilege.

——— Defamation—Privilege—Press, not on a different footing from a subject.

It is a fallacy to suppose that some kind of privilege attaches to the profession of the Press as distinguished from the members of the public. The freedom of the journalist is the same as that of an ordinary citizen. The journalist can go to the same lengths as any other subject and no further save when he is shielded by any special statutory provision. (Lord Shaw.) CHANNING ARNOLD v. EMPEROR. 41 Cal. 1023 : 41 I.A. 149 : 18 C.W.N. 785 : 15 Cr. L.J. 309 : 1 L.W. 461 : 7 Bur. L T. 167 : (1914) M.W.N 506: 16 M.L.T. 79 : 12 A.L.J. 1042 : 20 C L.J. 161 : 16 Bom. L.R. 544 : 8 L.B.R. 16 : 23 I.C. 661 : 26 M.L.J. 621(P.C).

——— Defamation—Privilege—Witness compelled to answer question put by Judge.

Where the witness is compelled to answer the question put to him by the Judge under S. 132 of the Indian Evidence Act proceedings for defamation could not be taken against him. 16 All 88. Not foll. 40 All. 271 Ref. (Walsh, J.) GANGA SAHAI v. EMPEROR. 54 I. C. 890 : 18 A L.J 112.

——— Defamation—Privilege—Statements in complaint.

A suit for damages for defamation for having made certain statements in a complaint is not maintainable. Defamatory words used in a complaint are absolutely privileged. The law relating to defamation as an actionable wrong is the same in India as in England based on justice, equity and good conscience. In civil action the plea of mere truth is good defence but in a criminal case it is not so. If it must be a good defence it must be an absolute truth and made for the public good. (Knox, Bannerjee, Tudball, Rafique and Walsh, JJ.) CHUNNILAL v. NARSING DAS. 16 A.L. J. 360 : 45 I.C. 540 : 40 All. 341 (F.B.)

——— Defamation —Privilege —Relevancy of statement.

TORT—Defamation—Privilege.

Before deciding whether the statement by a witness amounts to a defamation it is necessary to find out if such statement was relevant to the enquiry. (Knox and Rafique, JJ.) BABU PARSHAD v. MUDA MAL. 18 I. C. 331 : 11 A. L. J. 193.

——— Defamation — Privilege — Qualified— Statement made to official superior.

The privilege in respect of a slanderous statement made to the official superior of the slandered person which is not intended to be made in a Court of Justice or at any step or stage of a judicial proceedings is qualified and not absolute. Watson v. M'Ewan, (1905) A. C. 480 Dist. (Batchelor and Rao, JJ.) JUSAL THARIA v. MORRISON. 19 I. C. 480 : 15 Bom. L. R. 249.

——— Defamation—Privilege—Extent of.

If a party to a judicial proceeding is sued in a Civil Court for damages for defamation in respect of a statement made therein on oath or otherwise, his liability in the absence of statutory rules applicable to the subject must be determined with reference to principles of justice, equity and good conscience. There is a large preponderance of judicial opinion in favour of the view that the principles of justice, equity and good conscience applicable in such circumstances should be identical with the corresponding relevant rules of the Common Law of England. A small minority favours the view that the principles of justice, equity and good conscience should be identical with the rules in the Penal Code. (Mookerji, C. J., Fletcher, Richardson, Walmsley and Buckland, JJ.) SATIS CHANDRA CHAKRAVARTI v. RAM DAYAL DE. 24 C W. N. 982 : 32 C. L. J. 94 : 22 Cr. L. J. 31 : 59 I. C 143 : 48 C. 388. (S. B.).

——— Defamation — Privilege — Judicial proceedings.

Per Mukerjee, J : — Neither party witness, counsel Jury nor Judge can be put to answer, civilly or criminally for words spoken in office, and no suit for damages is maintainable for such words. Per Beachcroft, J :—A defamatory statement in the pleadings in an action is not privileged and may form the foundation of a suit for damages for libel. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) C. H. CROWDY v. L. O'REILLY. 17 C. L. J.105 : 18 I. C. 737 : 17 C. W. N. 554.

——— Defamation —Privilege — Communication by deft. to his subordinate for enquiry—No malice—Liabilily—English Law.

An imputation of a crime made in good faith by an employee against his employer communicated to a co-employee with a view to their making enquiries in the matter, is privileged being a communication made in the interest of the communicator and no action for slander would lie in respect thereof. 1 C. M. and R. 181, Foll. Special damage is not necessary to support an action for slander in India. Statements made to protect the interests of the speaker and to protect a common interest form the distinct heads of privilege. Whether the publisher of a libel exceeds the privilege by repeating it depends on the circumstances of each case. (Wallis, C. J. and Sesha- giri Aiyar, J.) J. B. LESLIE ROGERS v. A. R. HAJEE PAKIR MAHOMED SAIT.

TORT—Defamation—Privilege.

42 Mad 132 :24 M. L. T. 461 : 9 L. W 104 : 49 I. C. 630 : (1918) M W N. 113: 35 M. L J 673.

——Defamation — Privilege — Words published in course of official duties.

Defamatory words published by the Governor-General in the course of official duties are not actionable unless they were used maliciously and without reasonable and probable cause (Sadasiva Aiyar and Bakewell, JJ.) ROSS v. SECRETARY OF STATE.
39 Mad. 781 : 31 I. C. 224 : 29 M. L. J 230.

——Defamation—Privilege—Cochin.

An enquiry was held under the authority of the Rajah of Cochin about an improper intimacy alledged to exist between the plff and a certain woman. As a result of this the plff was ordered to be ex-communicated This order was communicated by the Sarvadhikarigar or the general agent of the Rajah to the Superintendent of the Temple who communicated it to one deft. in his official capacity and the latter in his turn handed over a copy of the said letter to the Manager of the Temple. Held, that the act of the Rajah was absolutely privileged and that the defts. were not liable for the publication of the libel. (Ayling and Tyabji, JJ.) GOVINDAN NAIR v. ATCHUTHA MENON.
39 Mad. 433 : 28 M. L. J. 310 : 28 I. C. 394 : 2 L. W. 290.

——Defamation—Privilege—Judicial act.

A libellous statement made by Government in an order passed on appeal is absolutely privileged. The occasion is at least one of qualified privilege (Wallis, J.) A. M. ROSS v. SECRETARY OF STATE.
37 Mad. 55 : 19 I. C. 353 : (1913) M. W. N. 758 : 24 M. L. J. 429.

——Defamation—Privilege—Accused—Statement made in reply.

The deft. accused of rioting by the plff. s servant was being examined when questions were put to him implying that the charge was brought at the instigation of the plff. in reply to a notice given by the plff the deft. acknowledged the imputations held, that the deft. was not liable for imputations made in good faith in the questions put to the witness. The deft. had a right to reply to the notice sent to her and to state her reasons. The reply being privileged as it was confined to the matter in hand was relevant. (Benson and Sankaran Nair, JJ.) PATCHAPERUMAL CHETTY v. DASI THANGAM.
12 I. C. 954 : 10 M. L. T. 489.

——Defamation—Privilege—Report by sub-committee.

Defendants were members of the Water Works Committee of a municipality and were interested in the regulation of the water supply, and they submitted a report which was addressed to the Chairman of the Water Works Committee containing substantially one statement that the appellants used by threatening the municipal servants to get water at times other than those sanctioned by the municipality and this statement was found not to be true. Held that in the absence of proof of malice defendants were not liable in the damages (Kotwal, A. J. C.) SHRIRAM MOTI RAM v. SHAIKH AHMAD.
1923 Nag. 226.

——Defamation—Privilege—Plea of—Essentials.

An action lies for the malicious publication of statements which are false in fact and injurious to another, unless they are fairly made by a person in the discharge of some public or private duty or in the conduct of his own affairs In the latter class of cases the occasion prevents the inference of malice and a qualified privilege attaches to the statements made if fairly warranted by any reasonable occasion or exigency and honestly made or made in good faith. Three elements are necessary to make the defence of qualified privilege good, i. e the occasion must be fit, the matter must have reference to the occasion and it must be published from right motives. If a man comes to know of the commission of a crime, he owes a duty to society and the state to communicate it to the authorities and he cannot be liable if it turns out the person is not guilty. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) KISHORI LAL v. MOOSA RAJA
9 O. & A. L. R. 302 : 1923 Oudh 247.

——Defamation — Privilege — Pleading—Statements in.

A suit brought about by a compromise does not render the plaintiff incapable to maintain an action for compensation for the defamatory statements which are not protected in a civil suit when made during the course of pleadings (Lindsay, J.) DALPAT SINGH v. RAJ AMARAPAL SINGH.
21 O. C. 321 : 49 I. C 58 : 6 O. L. J. 26.

——Defamation—Privilege—Pleadings.

Defamatory statements in pleadings are not absolutely privileged. (Chatterjee and Suhrawardy, JJ.) DHIRO KOOR v. GOBINDA DEV MISHRA
65 I. C. 204.

——Defamation — Privilege—Suit for damages against vakil not maintainable—English and Indian law.

Where a vakil in the course of his argument described plaintiff as a liar and swindler, held a suit for damages against him was not maintainable in law. The rule of English law, laid down in Munster v. Lamb (1883) 11 Q B. D. 588 as regards immunity of Counsel for words uttered in the course of the administration of the law, is also applicable to India as a principle of justice, equity and good conscience. 24 C. W. N. 982 and 10 Mad 28 followed. (Das and Adami, JJ.) JAGAT MOHAN NATH SAHI DEO v. KALIPADA GHOSH.
1 Pat. 371 : 3 Pat. L. T. 276 : 1922 Pat. 85 : 1922 P. 104.

——Defamation — Privilege — Complaint to Police—Charges contained in.

Where a person charges another by preferring a complaint to the Police or to the Court, he is protected from an action for defamation in respect of allegations contained in the charge If the complaint is dismissed, the accused can get sanction for the prosecution of the complainant for bringing a false charge and if he has suffered loss or injury he can sue for damages for false and malicious prosecution. (Saunders, J. C.) MAUNG MYO v. MAUNG KWET. E. 47 I. C. 674 : 3 U. B. R. (1918) 88.

TORT—Defamation—Privilege.

——Defamation—Privilege—Onus—Slander.

Statements made to a Police Officer in the course of inquiries as to the names of bad characters are privileged But such statements are not absolutely privileged. In a suit for damages for slander, if the defendant proves that the occasion was privileged, the burden is upon the plff. to establish actual malice on the part of the defendant, and if he succeeds in doing so, it is open to the defendant to show that his statement was true or he believed it to be true. (Parlett, J.) LU GALE v. P. THEIN. 7 L B R. 64 : 22 I. C. 273 ——Defamation—Privilege—Statements to a Police Officer inquiries under the preventive sections of the Code of Criminal Procedure—Onus—Malice—Reasonable and probable cause.

Statements made to a Police Officer by witnesses examined by him in the course of his inquiries under the preventive sections of the Code of Criminal Procedure must be held to have been made on the occasion of qualified privliege. It is for the plff. to prove malice on the part of the defendants and if he is able to do so it is still open to the defendants to show the truth of their statements or their good faith or that they had reasonable and probable cause for making those statements. (Parlett, J.) MAUNG LUE GALE v. MAUNG PO THEIN. 20 I. C. 290 : 6 Bur. L. T. 100.

Defamation—Publication.

——Defamation— Publication— Communication.

Publication in regard to libel and slander does not require communication to more persons than one. There need be nothing like "publication" in the common acceptance of term. Pullaman v Hill & Co., (1891) 1 Q. B. 524 Foll. (Ayling and Tyabji, JJ.) GOVINDAN NAIR v ATCHUTA MENON. 39 Mad 433 : 28. I. C. 394 : 28 M. L. T. 310 : 2 L. W. 290.

——Defamation—Publication—Defence.

A letter from a client to his pleader regarding his fees ran thus. "The truth is that since you began conducting cases no rate has been fixed but at the time of filing the suit in question, you fixed the rate, wrote the receipt and filed it and how are you justified in asking for fees at the same rate for all cases" the letter was written by deft's clerk at the course of business. Held the letter contained accusations of professional misconduct and was defamatory but it was written on privileged occasion, that the burden of proving malice or falsehood was on plff. and the deft. is liable if it is untrue, that the writing by clerk amounted to publication and that plff. should get substantial but not exemplary damages. A libellous matter though privileged is not protected if untrue. (Miller and Abdar Rahim, JJ.) VAIDYA NATH SHASTRIAL v. KASIVASI SOMASUNDARA TAMBIRAN. 12 M. L. T. 377 : 16 I. C. 736 : 24 M. L. J. 8 ——Defamation—Publication—Repetition—Slander—Damages.

The repetition of slander heard from others is actionable unless privileged. In a civil suit for damages for slander, the principles applying to the Criminal Law of Defamation have no application. The suit must be decided according to justice, equity and good conscience. Proof of the truth of the slander is a complete defence in a civil suit for damages for slander or libel. (McColl, A. J. C.) MI NGWE HMON v. MI PWA SU. 27 I. C. 979 : 7 Bur. L. T. 253.

TORT—Defamation—Suit.

Defamation—Suit.

——Defamation—Suit—Secretary of State.

A suit cannot be brought against the Crown for libel (i. e.) for damages for defamation. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) RAMDAS HAZRA v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA.

18 C. W. N. 106 : 16 I. C. 922 : 17 C. L. J. 75.

Defamation—Miscellaneous.

——Defamation—"Most Insolvent Upstart"—If defamatory.

Where a respectable Indian gentleman decree-holder was called a most insolvent upstart by the deft. as a process was being issued against him. Held (per Chamier, J. and Karamat Hussain J. Contra) that the words were not defamatory because they could not be intended to throw reflection on the birth or reputation or general character. (Karamat Hussain and Chamier, JJ.) BRIJ NATH SARAIN v. BYRNE.

13 I. C. 506 : 9 A. L. J. 253

——Defamation—Newspaper article—Ambiguous—Interpretation.

If a newspaper article is ambiguous and capable of double interpretation (1) defamatory and (2) innocent, it should be interpreted in favour of the accused and the more sinister interpretation should not be put on it. (Sankaran Nair and Ayling, JJ.) KARUNAKARA MENON v. T. M. NAIR. 24 I. C. 974: 15 Cr. L. J. 566 :

——Defamation—Innuendo — Essentials—Malice

Plaintiff advertised in a newspaper that a picture painted by Ravi Varma was for sale. A correspondent styling himself "Ante Humbug', in the same paper expressed a doubt about the genuineness of the picture. Held, that there was no imputation of bad faith or dishonesty to the plaintiff. Proof of malice is admissible only when there is plea of fair comment and the words published are per se libellous. (White, C. J. and Sankaran Nair, J.) NARASINGA RAO v. KASTURI RANGA IYENGAR. 9 M. L. T. 230 : 9 I. C. 279 : (1911) 1 M. W. N. 226.

——Defamation—Slander — Words imputing unchastity to woman—No special damage to be proved—Common Law principle.

A suit for damages for slanderous words imputing unchastity to a woman is maintainable without proof of special damage; the old Common Law rule not being consonant with equity, justice and good conscience and even that having been modified by the Slander of Women's Act, 1891, should not be followed in this Court. (Saunders, A. J. C.) NGA NYO v. MITE.

33 I. C. 673: (1915) 2 U. B R. 98.

——Defamation—Entry in Surveillance Register does not amount to.

The entry of a person's name in the Surveillance Register without justification does not give rise to an action for defamation and there is no right to recover damages. (Das and Adami, JJ.) RAWLINS v. ANANTLAL SAHU. 2 Pat. L T. 176 : 59 I. C. 905: (1921) Pat. 40

TORT—Defamation—Suit.

———Defamation— Vulgar abuse—Calling a woman a prostitute.

To impute unchastity to a woman is defamatory of her and of her husband if she is married. The words cannot be justified on the ground of being mere verbal abuse. (Duckworth, J.) MA WIN v. MA NGON. 1 Bur. L. J. 148 : 1923 Rang. 77.

Easement.

———Easement—Privacy—Interference with.

In the United Provinces the custom of Pardah has for centuries been strictly observed by all Hindus and Mahomedans except the poorest. The intervention of a space between two houses cannot affect the right of privacy if as a matter of fact the right is involved by the new constructions complained of. (Rafique, J.) JAMILUDDIN v. ABDUL MAJID.

28 I. C. 674 : 13 A. L. J. 361.

———Easement—Fishery—Obstruction —Liability.

Where there is a right in one person and another deliberately infringes that right, the person injured can succeed without proof of special damage that is to say whether any damage has been proved to have accrued to him or not. Where the plaintiff and defendant were owners of adjoining fisheries and where owing to the obstruction of the free passage of fish to the plaintiff's waters caused by the defendant's the plaintiff's catch was materially lessened, held that the plaintiff was entitled to damages. (Duckworth, J.) MAUNG THIT SA v. MAUNG NAT.

1 Bur. L. J. 146 : 1923 Rang 76 (2)

———Easement—Light and air—Obstruction —Damage.

To constitute an actionable obstruction it must be shown that there has been such a diminution of light as to constitute a nuisance. It is not enough to show that the light is less than before. 42 Cal. 46. (P. C), Foll. (Maung Kin, J.) BALTHAZAR AND SONS v. M. A. PATAIL.

49 I. C. 458 : 11 Bur. L. T. 109.

False Imprisonment.

———False Imprisonment—Measure of damages.

For wrongful detention and insult of the plaintiff, and her servants by the Railway servants, vindictive damages cannot be awarded. However the sum awarded should be substantial. In the particular case a sum of Rs. 12,000 as against plaintiff's demand of Rs. 25,000, was awarded. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) KASTURIBAI v. G. I. P. RAILWAY COMPANY. 1923 Bom. 172.

Feasor.

See (1) TORT.
(2) CONTRIBUTION.

Joint tort-feasors.

———Joint tort-feasors—Contribution.

TORT—Liability.

The doctrine that there is "no contribution between joint tort-feasors" enunciated in Merry weather is Nixon (Z. Sm. L. C. 569) cannot safely be extended to India (Richards, C. J. and Rafique, J.) NIHAL SINGH v. COLLECTOR OF BALANDSHAHAR. 38 All. 237 : 33 I. C. 165 : 14 A L. J. 275.

———Joint tort-feasors—Contribution.

The general rule is that there is no contribution between joint tort-feasors but the right of contribution exists as an exception when parties become joint tort-feasors by inference of law only. (Fletcher and Richardson, JJ.) RASMAT ALI v. ASAB ALI. 38 I. C. 140.

———Joint tort-feasors—Liability.

Joint wrong doers are jointly and severally liable for the whole damage caused by a tort committed by them whatever their relations inter se may be. (Holmwood and Chapman, JJ.) ABHOY KUMAR DAM v. UPENDRA NATH GHOSH. 18 I. C. 599.

———Joint tort-feasors—Liability.

Two or more persons joining in the commission of a wrong are liable severally for the whole wrong, irrespective of the part taken by each of them in the commission of it. (Stanyon, A. J. C.) GOVARDHAN v. MARUTI. 31 I. C. 872 : 11 N. L. R. 183.

———Joint tort feasors—Death of one—Suit for contribution.

The plaintiffs brought a suit in the Court of the Munsif, for damages against several defendants on the allegation that they had stopped the working of a water-mill belonging to the plaintiffs for a considerable period. One of the defendants entered in the plaint was dead before the plaint was filed. On this account the munsif dismissed the suit in toto and the order was upheld by the learned District Judge. Held that it was a trite proposition that the liability of a wrong-doer in tort is joint and several and that it was open to the Court to strike his name out and allow the suit to proceed against the others. (Campbell, J.) MT. PHILLO v. GOPI. 72 I. C. 670 (2).

———Joint tort-feasors—Liability, if joint and several.

The liability of joint tort-feasors is, as a rule, joint and several. But the rule is not inflexible and where there is no combination in the deprivation of the plaintiffs by the defendants, which though wrongful has been caused in good faith in assertion of an imperfect title, the strict rule of joint and several liabilities cannot be enforced. (Sultan Ahmed, J.) RAM BILAS SINGH v. AMIR SINGH. 61 I. C. 425 : 1 P. L. T. 235.

Liability.

———Liability of wrong doer—Damages—Alternative courses open to injured party—Wrongful attachment—Payment under coercion.

A person interfered with in the lawful enjoyment of his own property is entitled to rid himself of that unlawful interference by any lawful means, and to hold the wrong-doer liable for damages. It is not open to the wrong-doer to prescribe by which of two alternatives the injured man shall put a stop to the wrong under which he is suffering. A payment made to prevent a wrongful attachment of property is one made under coercion and can be recovered back. The owner in such a case need not prefer a claim against the attachment under. O. 21, R. 58, C. P. C. (Lord Moulton.) KANHAIYALAL v. NATIONAL BANK OF INDIA, LTD. 40 Cal. 598 : 17 C. W. N. 541 : (1913) M. W. N. 406 : 13 M. L. T. 406 : 11 A. L. J. 413 : 17 C. L. J. 478 : 15 Bom L. R. 472 : 184 P. L. R. 1913 : 40 I. A. 56 : 18 I. C. 949 : 25 M. L. J. 104 (P. C.).

TORT—Liability.

———Liability of East India Company and Secretary of State.

The liability to be sued of Secretary of State now and that of old East India Company before 1858, in respect of torts is the same. The liability of East India Company is no less than that of Crown in England on a petition of right which extends to breach of contract also. The company was not liable for their servants' torts, unless their acts were authorised or ratified. The officer doing the act was liable, though in cases of acts done by the servants, apart from the exercise of Sovereign powers, the Company was liable for the servants' negligence, like a private employer. (Wallis, J.) A. M. ROSS v. SECRETARY OF STATE. 37 Mad. 55 : (1913) M. W. N. 758 : 19 I. C. 353 : 24 M. L. J. 429.

Malicious Proceeding.

See also MALICIOUS PROSECUTION.

——Malicious proceeding—Reasonable and probable cause—Burden of proof.

In execution of a decree, the officer of the Court went to judgment-debtor's house and attached some articles. The judgment-debtor thereupon filed a complaint of theft against decree-holder, which was found to be groundless. In a suit for malicious prosecution by decree-holder against judgment debtor, held where on the face of it, the charge brought by defendant against plaintiff is groundless, the plaintiff cannot be asked to give further evidence directly going to show that there was no reasonable and probable cause. (Rafique, J.) BISHUN SARUP v. BINDRABAN. 1923 All. 531.

——Malicious proceedings actions for—Elements to be proceeded.

The judgment of the Court which acquitted a person is not sufficient by itself to sustain an action for malicious prosecution but such person has to prove first that he was innocent and that his innocence was pronounced by the tribunal before which the accusation was made. (Lindsay and Stuart, JJ.) GOBERDHAN SINGH v. RAM BADAN SINGH. 67 I. C. 65 : 20 A. L. J. 284.

——Malicious proceeding—Illegal attachment—Damages.

Where goods are attached illegally and kept in the custody of a receiver the creditor at whose instance the attachment is made is liable for any injury or depreciation to the goods locked up rising from climatic conditions. (Knox, A. C. J.

TORT—Malicious proceeding.

and Banerji, J.) ABDUL RAHIM v. SITAL PRASAD. 41 All. 658 : 17 A. L. J. 856 : 54 I. C. 792 : 1 U P. L. R. (H. C.) 115.

——Malicious proceeding—Detinue—Damages.

Compensation for wrongful seizure is no more than damages for tort in detinue or trespass. Actual possession of the property and its deprivation must be proved. (Walsh and Sunder Lal, JJ.) NAIDER SINGH v GANGA DEI. 38 All. 676 : 35 I. C. 86 : 14 A. L. J. 729.

——Malicious proceeding—Wrongful attachment—Suit for damages.

In a suit for damages for wrongful attachment the plaintiff can claim both the value of the property and compensation for wrongful attachment. The plaintiff had a complete cause of action on wrongful attachment and his right to relief was not impaired by subsequent occurrences for which he was not responsible. 3 Bom. 74, Foll. (Stanley, C J. and Banerji, J.) BISHAMBAR NATH v GADDAR. 33 All. 306 : 9 I C. 317 : 8 A. L. J. 92.

——Malicious proceeding—Wrongful attachment.

A suit for damages for wrongful attachment of moveables is maintainable against a decree-holder where he pointed out that property is that of the judgment-debtor. (Mookerjee, A. C. J. and Fletcher, J.) BHUSAN CHANDRA PAL v. NORENDRA NATH KOER. 60 I. C. 280 : 32 C. L. J. 236.

——Malicious proceeding—Damages.

No suit lies for damages against a person who institutes a civil action against another maliciously and without reasonable and probable cause. (Asutosh Mookerjee, Fletcher, N. R. Chatterjea, Teunon and Chaudhury, JJ.) NORENDRA NATH KOER v. BHUSAN CHANDRA PAL. 57 I. C. 375 : 31 C. L. J. 495. (F B.)

——Malicious proceeding — Attachment—Malice—Proof of.

To sustain a claim for damages for wrongful attachment of property plff. must establish not only want of reasonable and probable cause but also malice in fact on the part of the person attaching the property. 35 Mad. 598, Foll. (Shadi Lal, J.) HUKAM CHAND v. UMAR DIN. 54 I. C. 827.

——Malicious proceeding—Illegal search—Person assisting.

A person who assists in the conduct of a search by a Police Officer entitled to make a search under the Cr. P. C. is not liable in damages if the search proves to be illegal. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Phillips, JJ.) ASAN ALLAR v. MASILAMANI NADAR. 42 Mad. 446 : 20 Cr. L. J. 422 : 51 I. C 198 : (1919) M. W. N. 452 : 25 M L. T. 274 : 36 M. L. J. 252.

——Malicious proceeding — Attachment — Notice issued on application.

A mere application for attachment before judgment does not give rise to a cause of action for a suit for damages for malicious attachment. An improper procuring of the process of the Court by the application of such process in an improper TORT—Malicious proceeding.

manner and for the improper purposes does not amount to an abuse of the process of the Court. 35 Mad. 598 ; 42 Cal. 550 Rel. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier JJ.) RAMA IYER v. GOVINDA PILLAI. 39 Mad. 952 : 32 I. C. 448 : 3 L. W. 82 : (1916) 1 M. W. N. 156 : 30 M. L. J. 180

——Malicious proceeding—Illegal distraint—Nature of suit.

An action for damages for distraint illegally levied by a person on certain moveables belonging to the plff. is not in the nature of a suit for recovery of specific moveables appropriated by the deft. or their value. The maxim applies to an action for damages for illegal distraint of certain moveables by the plff. (Benson, O. C. J. and Abdur Rahim J.) SUMMALA NAGABHUSHANA v. SRI RAJAH VENKATADRI. 23 M. L. J. 255 : 17 I. C. 226 : (1912) M. W. N. 899 : 12 M. L. T. 383.

——Malicious proceeding—Wrongful attachment—Damages.

In an action for damages for wrongful attachment of a person's property for revenue due from a stranger, no malice need be proved because the act itself is prima facie wrongful. (Sundara Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) RAMASWAMI IYENGAR v. MUTHUSWAMI AIYAR. 13 I. C. 799 : (1912) M. W. N. 42.

——Malicious proceeding—Wrongful attachment—Costs of proceedings for releasing.

Where in execution, a person objects to an attachment of property and has under an erroneous decision to pay the costs of the other side, he can recover the sum so paid as damages for having been compelled to pay costs. (Stuart, J. C.) MAIKU LAL v. NAZIR AHMAD. 55 I. C. 657 : 7 O. L. J. 310

——Malicious proceeding — Civil suit — Damages.

In general, the malicious institution of civil proceedings without reasonable and probable cause is not an actionable wrong. The aggrieved party is sufficiently indemnified by costs. 4 Cal. 583, Foll. An agreement to make a false defence in a civil suit is not a actionable wrong. (Mullick, J.) DHARBANGI THAKUR v. MAHABIR PRASAD. 41 I. C. 522.

——Malicious proceeding.

In the absence of proof of malice no suit will lie for damages for wrongfully obtaining the appointment of a Receiver (Maung Kin, J.) M. M.P.L.K. CHETTY v. SUPAYA MAISTRY. 56 I. C. 960 : 12 Bur. L. T. 239.

——Malicious proceeding — Execution — Claim petition.

It is a tort to wrongfully obtain process of execution or an interlocutory process in a suit, but not to wrongfully intervene with a claim petition, in execution proceedings. 1 Bom. 467, Rel. on. (Pratt, J. C. and Hayward, A. J. C.) HASSOMAL HEMANDAS v. CHIMANLAL. 24 I. C. 261 : 7 S. L. R. 104.

——Maxims.

See MAXIMS.

——Negligence.

——Negligence — Railway — Derailment — Removal of rails—Onus of proof.

TORT—Negligence.

The plaintiff a passenger in a railway was injured by reason of a train of the deft. Railway Company in which he was a passenger leaving the line and being wrecked. The immediate cause of the accident was the removal of a rail, which the Railway Co. pleaded had been effected maliciously by some unknown person who was not traceable. Held, that though the onus of proof that the plaintiff's injuries were not due to the negligence of the Ry. Co, was upon them that upon the evidence they had discharged that onus. Judgment of the High Court (Sanderson, C J, dissenting) reversed. (Viscount Finlay.) EAST INDIAN RAILWAY COMPANY v. KIRKWOOD. 48 Cal. 757 : 15 L. W. 248 : 1922 P. C. 195 (P. C.).

——Negligence — Contributory—Breach of warranty.

Vendor sold goods wrongly labelled ; the purchaser's servant acted upon the label and the instructions thereon and damage was caused to the purchaser. The vendor's plea of contributory negligence would fail as it was his duty to put on right labels. (Lord Sumner.) BRITISH SOUTH AFRICA CO. v. LENNON LIM. 34 I. C. 273.

——Negligence—Railway Company—Measure of care—Contract to the contrary—Personal injuries.

If a passenger has entered a train on a mere invitation or permission from a Railway Company without more, and he receives injury in an accident caused by the negligence of its servants, the Company is liable for damages for breach of a general duty to exercise care. Such a breach can be regarded as one either of an implied contract, or of a duty imposed by the general law and in the latter case as informa tort. But in either view, this general duty may, subject to such statutory restrictions as may be, be superseded by a specific contract, which may either enlarge, diminish or exclude it. If the law authorises it, such a contract cannot be pronounced to be unreasonable by a Court of justice. The specific contract, with its incidents, either expressed or attached by law, becomes in such a case the only measure of the duties between the parties and a party cannot by any device of form get more than the contract allows him. If the contract deprives the passenger of the duty of care which he is prima facie entitled to expect that the Railway Company has accepted, the latter must prove that the passenger has assented to the special terms imposed. Thus he may be shown to have done either in person or through the agency of another (Haldane, L. C.) GRAND TRUNK RY. CO. OF CANADA v. ROBINSON. 19 C. W. N. 905 : 31 I. C. 684 : 84 L. J. (P. C.) 194. (P. C.)

——Negligence — Contributory — Riparian owner.

An owner A of land through which a river flows is not bound to clear it up and if more water flows to B's land owing to the river being silted and the latter builds a dam the effect of which is to cause flood on A's land, B is liable to A and A is not guilty of contributory negligence.

TORT—Negligence.

(Karamat Hussain and Chamier, JJ.) BALDEO SINGH v. JUGAL KISHORE.
33 All. 619 : 10 I. C. 564 : 8 A. L. J 640.

——Negligence—Dog—Ferocious animal—Injury due to dogbite—Invitation.

Plaintiff had made bets on horse-races with the defendant on October 9, 1920. She went to the house of the latter at about 7-30 P. M. on October 11, to recover moneys she had won. She went up the steps of the house, and having crossed the verandah, looked into a window of the sitting room and was making for the door of the dining room with the object of entering it, when she was attacked by a dog which was chained to the door inside the room. The dog bit her on the left thigh and right knee. When she peeped into the window, the defendant noticed her and shouted out to prevent her from going towards the dining room door : but the shout was not heard by the plaintiff in time. The dog being not ferocious, but was habituated to bite when chained and on guard and in January 1920 it had attacked and bitten a customs peon. The plaintiff had, on a previous occasion been taken by the defendant's wife into the dining room ; and the sitting room was used as sort of club to play cards and billiards. In a suit for damages by the plff. against the defendant Held, that to put a dangerous dog behind the door in a room is just as much a trap to an innocent passer by as if there were a hole or man trap which might cause him injury and that the plaintiff who came on an implied invitation was entitled to damages. The liability of the occupier is only commensurate with the extent of the invitation. Where, therefore, the occupier of the premises has placed a notice warning persons of the existence of danger, and a person disregards the notice, or the circumstances show that the limits of the invitation have been otherwise exceeded the liability is limited in a corresponding degree and if the invitee wanders about in such a way as to be unable to see if there is danger or not, or if he knows the danger and undertakes the risk, the occupier of the premises is not liable. (Fawcett, J.) MARY LENNON v. PERCY FISHER.
25 Bom. L. R. 873 : 1924 Bom. 207.

——Negligence—Injury to passenger travelling by Railway—Negligence of fellow passenger.

The plaintiff was a second class passenger in the mail train of the defendant Railway. He made his journey in a compartment having seven berths, three of which were suspended from the roof and a ladder was kept to get into the upper birth. On the day the plaintiff travelled, he occupied the middle lower berth and stretched himself at full length and went to sleep. Some one among the passengers had folded the ladder and kept it in a rack near the roof of the compartment. While the train was running, the ladder fell on the plaintiff's head and caused him injuries In a suit by the plaintiff for damages caused by negligence against the defendant Railway. Held that there was no proof of negligence on the deft's part and the suit was not maintainable. (Crump, J.) VISHNU DIGAMBER v. B. B & C. I. RAILWAY.
25 Bom L. R. 881 : 1924 Bom. 278.

TORT—Negligence.

——Negligence—Liability—Damages.

In an action for damages for negligence the burden of proving that the injury was got by an act or omission of the defendant for which he was in law responsible lies on the plff. The maxim 'res ipsa-loquitor' applies to those cases only when the facts already established are such that the proper and natural inference therefrom is that the injury was the result of the deft.'s negligence. (Kajuji, J.) CATES B. E. v. MONGAINI BROS. 42 I. C. 82 : 19 Bom L. R. 778.

——Negligence—Railway Company—Level crossing—Engineer passing along the line—Damages.

Defts. were contractors working for a Railway Company, who had constructed two lines crossing a highway for which no gate or gateman was provided. The trucks and engines on the line were under the control of defts. whose duty was to safeguard the public by proper watching and lighting. The driver of the plff.'s motor car saw some trucks moving along the line crossing the road and in order to avoid collusion swerved and damaged the car by running into a heap of stones. Deft.'s agreement with the Railway Company to take proper precautions could not relieve the company of responsibility to the public, nor could it entitle persons using the highway to sue defts. for failure to perform the duty cast on the Company. Accordingly plff. had no cause of action against defts. so far as the omission to provide gates or lighting was concerned as there was no privity of contract between plaintiff and the defendants. But defendants were liable to the plaintiff for negligent act of their servants in the course of user of the Railway lines crossing the highway. (Kemp, J) ABDUL LATIFF SHAIK HUSSAIN v. PAULING & CO., LTD.
38 I. C. 773 : 19 Bom. L. R. 167.

——Negligence—Municipality--Non-feasance.

The exemption from liability of local bodies for non-feasance is confined to neglect of high ways and does not extend to drainage works which they are bound to repair so as not to be a nuisance to neighbouring owners. (Scott, C. J. and Batchelor, J.) DHOLKA TOWN MUNICIPALITY v. DESAI BHAI. 38 Bom. 116 : 21 I. C. 847 : 15 Bom. L. R. 1034.

——Negligence—Liability—Driving in motor—Skill, measure of.

Driving of motor car being a skilled occupation the defendant was bound to act to the best of his skill which must be such as others of that occupation may reasonably be expected to possess. Where the defendant while driving a friend in his motor car went on an excessive speed and met with an accident which injured his friend. Held, he was grossly and culpably negligent so as to be liable in damages. (Scott, C. J. and Batchelor, J.) SORABJI HORMUSJI v. JAMSHEDJI MERWANJI. 38 Bom. 552 : 21 I. C. 705 : 15 Bom. L. R. 959.

——Negligence — Contributory — Damages. against a Railway Company.

In order that a plea of contributory negligence may be successful, it must be shown either that there was negligence on the part of the plff. which contributed to the accident or that deft. could not by using ordinary care have avoided the accident or that notwithstanding deft's negligence the plff. could by exercising ordinariy care have avoided accident. If the proximate cause of the injury is the negligence of the plff. as well as that of the deft. the plff. cannot recover anything. A passenger in a train with his arm projecting four inches out of the window came in contract with the open door of one of the stationary carriages of a train and fractured his arm. Held, that he cannot recover damages being guilty of contributory negligence. (Dawar, J.) JAHANGIR MUNCHIRJI LALI v. B. B. & C. I. RY. Co.

37 Bom. 575 : 19 I. C. 485 : 15 Bom. L. R. 252.

———Negligence—Liability.

The doctrine that negligent misrepresentation affords no cause of action applies when law lays down no duty to be careful. (Scott, C. J. and Runnel, J.) MERWANJI v. SECRETARY OF STATE. 16 I. C. 714 : 14 Bom. L. R. 654.

———Negligence — Contributory — Damages for injury got in attempt to board a tram car in motion

A Tramway Company is not liable in damages for injuries sustained by a passenger in attempting to board a car in motion, the negligence being entirely on the part of the passenger. (Dawar, J.) TEMULJI JAMSETJI v. BOMBAY ELECTRIC SUPPLY AND TRAMWAY CO., LTD 35 Bom. 478 : 11 I. C. 362 : 13 Bom. L. R. 345.

———Negligence—Rule of the road

The rule of the road is not an invariable or inflexible rule and a deviation may be not only justifiable but actually necessary. (Russel and Batchelor, JJ.) JAHANGIR D. DAVER, In re. 13 Bom. L. R. 126 : 9 I. C. 945 : 12 Cr L. J. 167.

———Negligence—What is—Proximate and remote cause of injury.

Negligence is the effective cause of an injury when it has in fact brought about that injury as a direct and natural consequence. When negligence has been established, liability follows for all the consequences which are in fact the direct and natural outcome of it, whether the injury is a consequence that was foreseen or not. To determine responsibility the law will consider the proximate and not the remote cause of an injury. (Mookerjee and Fletcher, JJ.) INDIA GENERAL NAVIGATION AND RAILWAY CO., LTD. v EASTERN ASSAM CO., LTD. 47 Cal. 1027. 61 I. C. 14 : 33 C. L. J. 72.

———Negligenoe—Railway Company—Level crossing gate left open.

Where a gate at a level crossing is left open, it is an invitation to all comers to cross the line and an accident at that place points to negligence of the Railway Company. (Jenkins, C. J. and Mookerji, J.) BENGAL PROVINCIAL RAILWAY v. GOPI MOHAN SINGH. 23 I C 788 : 41 Cal. 308 : 18 C. W. N. 325.

———Negligence—Contributory.

Contributory negligence is proved either where plff. was negligent and the deft. could not by ordinary care have avoided the accident or where notwithstanding deft.'s negligence, plff. could by ordinary care, avoid the accident. Where both parties are negligent plff. cannot recover anything. (Shah Din and Scott Smith, JJ.) FATEHCHAND v. MENGHIBHAY. 109 P. R. 1913 : 108 P.W.R. 1913 : 19 I.C. 481 : 181 P. L. R. 1913.

———Negligence—Municipal body—Damage—Liability of Committee.

When the bursting of a water pipe is beyond the control of the Committee the latter will not be held to have been negligent in respect of the actual breaking of the pipe, but if damage results from the negligence of the servants of the Committee in failing to take proper action when the damage is brought to its notice, the Committee will be responsible. It is the duty of the Committee to employ servants who can be trusted to exercise due skill and care in cases when injury is caused to private property. (Kensington and Beadon, JJ.) MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE OF LAHORE v. NAND LAL. 18 I.C. 816 : 88 P.R. 1913 : 87 P.L.R. 1913 : 95 P.W R. 1913.

———Negligence—Railway accident—Trap—contributory negligence.

The plaintiff a child of seven sustained injuries by being run over by an engine when crossing a Railway line at a point where to the knowledge of Railway authorities villagers crossed the line as licensees. The driver and fireman did not keep a proper look out on the occasion though they knew of the special danger. Held the plaintiff was entitled to damages. If a Railway Company allows children to spring over its lines it has to take all the precautions which though unnecessary in the case of adult are necessary to protect children against their own thoughtlessness. In their case ordinary negligence is sufficient to maintain an action, while in the case of adults a trap alone would render them liable. It is not contrioutory negligence on the part of the children walking over the railway lines unaccompanied by the parents though it may be negligence of the parents. (Coutts Trotter, J.) JAYAMMAL v. M.S.M. RY. COMPANY. 46 Mad. 929 : 45 M.L.J. 545 : (1923) M.W.N. 878 : 18 L W 933 : 1924 Mad. 312.

———Negligence—Railway Company—Unprotected and unlighted pit on the platform—Injuries—Liability.

Where the plff. fell into an unprotected and unlighted pit on railway platform when he was waiting for a train and trying to get into a latrine, the company is liable in damages for not keeping the place lighted at the time. (Coutts Trotter, J.) MACK v. M. S. M. RY. COMPANY LTD. 45 M. L. J. 424 : 33 M. L. T. (H. C.) 66 : 1924 M. 154.

———Negligence—Measure of—Damages—Physical injuries.

In awarding damages for physical injuries caused to plaintiff by the negligence of the defendant the amount of compensation must be fair and reasonable, an absolute compensation is not the true measure of damages. The Court should not give the value of an annuity for the same amount as the pla ntiff s average income for the rest of his life. In a suit for damages the plaintiff can at any stage of the suit amend his plaint and enhance his claim for damages but the application for amendment should be before the commencement of the trial. An appellate Court can form its own opinions on the reason given by the lower Court for the award and measure of damages, but it cannot interfere with the amount unless it is considered to be excessive. (Wallis, C J. and Sadasiva Aiyar, J.) VINAYAGA MUDALIAR v. PARTHASARATHI AYYANGAR. 7 L.W. 415 : 45 I.C. 556 : 23 M.L.T. 312.

——Negligence—Municipal body—Statutory body—Liability—Contractor, employment of.

Where statutory bodies are entrusted with the performance of public duties, their liability cannot be shifted to a contractor employed by them for a particular purpose. They may bargain with the contractor for performance of the duty but are not thereby themselves relieved from liability to persons injured by their failure to perform it. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) MUNICIPAL COUNCIL OF VIZAGAPATAM v. WILLIAM FOSTER. 44 I.C. 308 : 41 Mad. 538.

——Negligence—Contributory—Damages.

The principle of contributory negligence has no application to a case simply because the plff. did not at the earliest possible opportunity removed the obstruction caused by the deft. to a water course. (Chapman and Mullick, JJ.) RAGHUNATH SINGH v. ACHUTANAND. 43 I.C. 374 : 3 Pat. L. W. 283.

Nuisance.

——Nuisance—Trees— Branches over-hanging.

A person has a right to remove the branches of a tree which overhung his house. 19 Bom 420, 31 Cal. 944, Foll. (Rafique, J.) DEO DUTT PANDEY v. KAULESHAR DUBE. 28 I. C. 843.

——Nuisance—Over-hanging trees—Injunction.

A person has a right to cut off those portions of trees which overhang his land. He cannot sue to obtain an injunction to remove his growth even if he is unable to prove actual damage. (Shah and Kemp, JJ.) VISHNU v. VASUDEO. 47 I. C. 629 : 43 Bom 164: 20 Bom. L.R. 826.

——Nuisance—Test of—When actionable.

In estimating a nuisance due regard should be paid to the station in life of the plaintiff and the locality and nature of the nuisance itself. The legal rights of the individuals cannot be allowed on penal considerations, to be encroached upon mere policy, or abstract public rights. In an action for nuisance it is no answer to say that the defenda t has done everything in his power to prevent its existence. (Beaman, J.) BAI BHICAIJI v. PERAJSHAW JIWANJI. 33 I.C. 192 : 40 Bom. 401 : 17 Bom. L. R. 1040.

——Nuisance—Overhanging branches and penetrating roots—Injunction.

Every owner of land is under an obligation not to allow the roots and branches of his trees to exceed so as to penetrate his neighbour's land and in case of breach of such an obligation, it is open to the Court to grant a mandatory injunction for the removal of the nuisance under S. 55 of the Specific Relief Act. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) BHUDEB v. KALA CHAND. 66 I.C. 536 : 34 C.L.J 315.

——Nuisance—Public way—Obstruction—Right of suit—Special damage.

The special damage which must be proved by a private person to give him a right to sue for obstruction of a public pathway must be one which is peculiar to that private person and different from that suffered in common with every one else who attempts to use the road. It does not mean serious damage but means damages of a special nature. (Newbould and Panton, JJ.) BATIRAM KOLITA v. SIBRAM DAS. 61 I.C. 405 : 25 C.W.N. 95.

——Nuisance—Public nuisance —Special. damage.

Where one member of the public has suffered special damage by the obstruction of a public pathway so that he loses convenient access to his house, he can maintain a suit for declaration and injunction for the removal of the said obstruction. (Mukerji, A. C. J. and Fletcher, J.) KALI NATH v. NAIMUDDI. 60 I. C. 711.

——Nuisance—Ancient lights—Interference with—Remedy—Points for consideration.

The remedy for interference with ancient lights is a suit for nuisance for which there should be sensible abridgment of the light so that occupation is rendered uncomfortable or to a sensible degree less fit for business purposes. The previous standard of affairs woule be a necessary standard for comparison, but light from other sources to which no right has been acquired by grant or prescription should not be taken into account. (Jenkins and Woodroffe. JJ.) P. C. PAUL v. WILLIAM RABSON. 12 I.C. 60 : 39 Cal. 59.

——Nuisance—Public thoroughfare of place set apart for a particular section of public—Distinction between.

There is a distinction between a public thoroughfare and a place set apart for the use of a particular section of the public. (Martineau, J.) POKHAR DAS v RAGHU RAM. 62 I. C. 888 (1).

——Nuisance—Noise.

Mere noise alone if produced by several persons might amount to a nuisance capable of being remedied by an injunction. (Bevan Petman, J.) JAWAND SINGH v. MUHAMADDIN. 51 I. C 728.

——Nuisance—Liability for—Act done in pursuance of statute—Effect—Permissive and obligatory duties—Madras District Municipalities Act, Ss. 207, 263 (a) and 278—Latrine.

A private owner in pursuance of an order of a Municipal Council and with its approval erected a latrine which became a nuisance to the neighbouring owner. Held, that the provisions of S. 278 of the District Municipalities Act was no bar to an action against the private owner, for damages for nuisance and for an injunction and that no decree can be passed for demolishing the TORT—Nuisance.

latrine but only for restraining the owner from using the building as a latrine. The permission given to the Municipality to supervise the erection by a private individual of a latrine is a permissive obligation which should be exercised without unnecessary detriment to private rights. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Phillips, JJ.) RAMA RAO v. MARTHA SEQUEIRA. 42 Mad. 796 : 26 M L T 122 : (1919) M.W N. 618 : 10 L.W. 147 : 52 I. C. 921 : 37 M.L.J. 224

——— Nuisance—Oil Mill—Noise—Cowdung and smell.

It is an actionable nuisance to erect an oil mill close to a dwelling house emitting foulsmelling gas and water and producing unbearable noise. Where the nuisance cannot be abated it can be prohibited. The locality in question, the long standing nature of the nuisance, existence of similar trade in the locality are some of the important points which should be considered in deciding whether a particular business carried on in a locality is an actionable nuisance (Wallis, C J. and Sadasiva Aiyar, J.) SADASIVA CHETTY v. RANGAPPA RAJOO.

(1918) M.W.N. 293 : 24 M L.T. 17 : 45 I C. 428 : 7 L.W. 505.

——— Nuisance—Elements of—Act offending susceptibilities of a person—If ipso facto a nuisance.

To constitute nuisance in law there must exist expressly or impliedly (1) injuria and (2) damnum. Damnum absque injuria gives no right of action; where an act or omission causing the alleged nuisance is per se unlawful; damage is presumed; but when the act is lawful, the circumstances of the particular case are to be considered, to see if it is an actionable nuisance. An act offending the susceptibilities of a person or the sentiments of a particular class is not ipso facto an actionable nuisance, but the locality has an important bearing, in deciding the actionable nature of a nuisance. Any one of the persons in the neighbourhood affected by the establishment and maintenance of a slaughter-house may sue for an injunction. The motive underlying a complaint of nuisance is relevant in a case of injunction. (Stanyon, A.J.C.) MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE OF SAUGOR v. NILKANTH.

41 I.C. 62 : 11 N.L.R. 132

——— Nuisance—Overhanging trees—Right to cut off.

It is established law that in the absence of any express stipulation to the contrary the owner or occupier of the land over which the offending branches hang is entitled as of right to remove them or to have them removed. The fact that the party complaining has merely a leasehold and not a freehold would not appear in any manner to alter the case. (Duckworth, J.) MAUNG PO THAUNG v. MA GYI AND ANOTHER.

1 R. 281 : 2 Bur. L. J. 136 : 1923 R. 205.

——— Nuisance—Tree overhanging—Right to cut off branches.

A man may lawfully cut off the branches of a tree belonging to another overhanging his property without even giving notice to the owner. (Maung Kin, J.) MAUNG SHWE LA v. MA KIN.

42. I C. 92.

TORT—Secretary of state.

Principal and Agent.

——— Principal and agent—Liability of master.

A person who employs an independent contractor cannot be convicted for an obstruction caused by the contractor or his men and not authorized by him. (Banerji, J.) LALTA PRASAD v. EMPEROR. 22 Cr. L.J. 331 : 61 I.C. 59 : 19 A.L.J. 125.

——— Principal and agent

Whenever any question as to the liability of a principal for the acts of his agent arises "the sole test is the scope of the agent's authority." (Per Roe, J.) (Mookerji and Roe, JJ.) SHER JAN KHAN v. ALI MUDDI. 43 Cal. 511 : 20 C. W. N. 268 : 34 I. C. 598 : 23 C. L. J. 225.

——— Principal and agent—Fraud.

A principal is liable for the fraud of his agent acting within his authority whether the fraud is committed for the benefit of the principal or for the benefit of the agent. Acts of fraud by the agent committed in the course and scope of his employment are not exceptions to the rule by which the principal is liable for the acts of his agent though he did not in fact authorize the fraudulent act. (Mookerjee and Roe, JJ.) SHER JAN KHAN v. ALI MUDDI. 43 Cal. 511 : 20 C. W. N. 268 : 34 I. C. 598 : 23 C. L. J. 225.

——— Principal and agent—Suppression of accounts—Presumption.

Where a trustee or agent by his tortious acts makes it impossible for the other party to discover the state of property, every presumption consistent with established facts ought to be made. (Das and Ross, JJ.) GOBIND DUBEY v. PARMESHWAR DUBEY. 62 I. C. 83 : 2 Pat. L. T. 365.

Public Officer.

——— Public officer.

Neither the Secretary of State nor the Collector is responsible in tort for acts or defaults of the Collector done in official capacity. If the Collector incurs liability by negligence, that liability cannot be said to have been incurred on behalf of Government of India. In a suit against the Secretary of State the plaint as drawn must disclose the relation between the Collector and the Secretary of State. (Scott, C. J. and Russel, J.) MERVANJI v. SECRETARY OF STATE.

16 I. C. 714 : 14 Bom. L. R. 654.

——— Public Officer—Liability—Exemption.

An officer acting honestly in discharge of his duty is not liable, though acting on false report. (Woodroffe, Coxe and Chatterji, JJ.) D. WESTON v. PEARY MOHANDAS. 40 Cal. 898 : 62 I. C. 25 : 18 C. W. N. 185.

Secretary of State.

——— Secretary of State—Jewels produced in Criminal Court—Court wrongly giving over to third party—Suit for damages against Secretary of State.

TORT—Secretary of State.

Where a jewel which had been pawned to the plaintiff was directed to be produced in a criminal court, but at the conclusion of the case was erroneously directed to be returned to its owner. Held, as the court was not a servant or agent of the Secretary of State, a suit for damages against him would not lie. (Rafiq and Piggott, JJ.) PANCHATI AKHARA MAHA NIRBANI v. THE SECY. OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL.
20 A. L. J. 420 : L. R. 3 A. 315 : 44 All. 573 : 4 U. P. L. R. (A) 203 : 1922 All. 276

——Secretary of State—Liability—Negligence of servants in keeping gravel on a military road—Maintenance of the road by P. W. Department—Injury to plaintiff—Government of India Act, 1833, S. 4.

Plaintiff's carriage was capsised by one of its wheels running over a heap of gravels stacked on a military road maintained by the Public Works Department by a contractor. In a suit by the plaintiff for damages against the Secretary of State, held, that the provision and maintenance of roads especially military roads is one of the functions of the Government though in India it is now largely delegated by statutes to Municipalities and Local Boards, that the Act complained of cannot be said to have been done in the conduct by Government of undertakings which might have been carried on by private persons and no claim for damages lay. Tests laid for ascertaining liability of the Government in tort. Cases reviewed. (Wallis and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) SECRETARY OF STATE v. A. COCKCROFT.
39 Mad. 351 : 27 I. C. 723 : (1915) M. W. N. 39.

Statutory body.

——Statutory body—Non-feasance—Liability for.

No action for damages lies against a public body unless it amounts to carelessness or negligence in the discharge of their statutory duties. If, however, the acts done by a public body are only permissive the piwak rights of parties must be respected and such body is liable in damages for injury caused to private individuals. 28 Mad. 72 ; 27 Bom. 344 ; (1902) A. C. 213, 226 ; 31 Mad. 117, Ref. (Seahagiri Aiyar and Phillips, JJ.) KRISHNA MURTHI IYER v. TALUK BOARD OF MAYAVARAM.
42 Mad. 331 : 9 L. W. 353 : 50 I. C. 809 : 36 M. L. J. 372.

Trade Mark.

See TRADE MARK.

Trespass.

——Trespass—Suit by mortgagee to recover rents received by mortgagor—Nature of.

Where a mortgagor having no shadow of right to take the rents of the mortgaged property realises such rents he is liable not only for a tort but also a breach of contract. (Walsh, J.) HARPAL v. RAMSARUP.
34 I. C. 173.

——Trespass—By a person upon himself.

It is a matter of grave doubt whether a man can be a trespasser on himself. (Beaman, J.) PEERBHOY v. EBRAHIM.
13 Bom. L. R. 717 : 12 I. C. 225 : 36 B. 214.

TORT—Trespass.

——Trespass—Essentials of—Use of force—Justification.

Unlawful entry is not an essential element to constitute trespass. The mere fact that there was a general notice forbidding trespass is not sufficient to dispense with a request to withdraw. Before force is used a trespasser must always be given an opportunity of withdrawing peacefully. (Newbould and Panton, JJ.) KUMUD KANTA CHAKRABURTHY v. BIGNOLD.
1923 Cal 306.

——Trespass—Wall built on underground foundations—Remedy

A person who superimposes a wall on footings or foundations belonging to another, commits trespass, and the proper remedy is a mandatory injunction to have the wall removed. (Mookerjee and Fletcher, JJ.) LEVY v. EZRA.
62 I. C 199 : 33 C. L. J. 26.

——Trespass—Interference with exercise of proprietary rights—Liability.

A person who interferes unlawfully with the exercise of the property of another commits trespass and is liable for damages in an action for trespass. (Mookerjee, O. C. J., Fletcher, Chatterjee, Teunon and Chaudhuri, JJ.) NORENDRA NATH KOER v. BHUSAN CHANDRA PAL.
57 I. C. 375 : 31 C. L. J. 495 (F. B.).

——Trespass—Ejectment—Tenant in possession under lease.

Per Sanderson, C. J. and Mookerjee, J.—If the land is in tenant's possession he should sue for trespass committed in respect of the land. The reversioner can sue only if the alleged trespass is injurious to the reversioner as in the case of nuisance or waste. Per Sanderson, C. J.—Though the trespass is accompanied by a claim as of right it need not always be injurious to the reversion. Boxtor v. Taylor, 4 B and Ad. 72, Ref. Case law discussed. (Sanderson, C.J. Woodroffe and Mookerjee, JJ.) RAMACHANDRA SIL v. RAMANMANI DASI.
36 I. C. 890 : 20 C. W. N. 773.

——Trespass—Arrest of ship—Action in rem.

An ordinary suit for trespass in the absence of proof of malice or its equivalent does not lie for the arrest of a ship. The arrest of a ship in view of a suit instituted in the High Court as a Colonial Court of Admiralty for the amount alleged to the due for maritime necessaries is a judicial act of the Court and an ordinary step in an action in rem. When the possession of the subject in suit is with the Court, the competing parties are simply preferring their claims in the ordinary course of law and any damages which the successful party may suffer from the continuance of the litigation are due to law's delay and not to any legal wrong done by the unsuccessful party. (Jenkins, C. J. and Stephen, J.) MADRAS STEAM NAVIGATION CO., v. SHALIMAR WORKS, LTD.
28 I. C. 463 : 42 Cal. 85.

——Trespass—Damages—Measure of.

The plaintiff's cutchey containing grain was threatened with diluvion and his men attempted to erect a new one on another side, which defendant claimed as his and resisted the erection. The cutchey along with the grain was washed away. In a suit for damages for loss of goods ; Held that the defendant's resistance to erecting a new cutchey was only a remote cause of the damage especially since the defendant did not resist the removal of the grain by the plaintiff or his men. (Jenkins, C. J. and Mookerjee, J.) TRIBENI PROSAD SINGH v. SHEIKH BASIRAL MEAH. 21 I. C. 513 : 18 C. L. J. 327.

TORT—Trespass.

———Trespass—Defence—Mistake.

It is no defence to action for trespass that the act was done intentionally but by mistake, though the mistake is honest and inevitable. The liability is established even in absence of malice or reasonable or probable cause. (Mookerjee and Carnduff, JJ.) BHUT NATH PAL v. CHANDRA BENODE PAL. 16 I. C. 443 : 16 C. L. J. 34.

———Trespass—Personal liability.

Where a notice under S. 167 B. T. Act was served on one A for giving up possession as the property was purchased by the person giving notice, but the possession was not given up and A was sued for possession but on the death of A during the pendency of suit her sons were made defts. held the retention of possession was a tortious act by A and therefore A was personally liable. Her sons are liable for mesne profits before her death to the extent of her estate come to their hands and as to mesne profits after her death, they were personally liable. (Brett and Sharfuddin, JJ.) NAFAR CHANDRA PAL v. KAMINI KUMAR LAHIRI. 16 I. C. 205 (2) : 18 C. W. N. 542.

———Trespass—Action for proper parties—Bengal Tenancy Act, (VII of 1885) S. 188.

In an action for damages for trespass and cutting of trees, all the persons aggrieved are not necesssry parties and so any one who has been damnified may maintain an action singly. S.188 of the Bengal Tenancy Act does not apply to such a case though the plff. be a co sharer landlord and the deft. an under raiyat. 25 Cal 285 ; 6 C. L. J. 383: 2 C L J 496 Foll. (Mookerjee and Teunon, JJ.) FATIK CHANDRA RAI v. ATLAS BIBI. 14 I. C. 478 : 15 C. L. J. 225.

———Trespass—Defence—Mistake.

An honest or inevitable mistake cannot be pleaded as a defence by a person who has intentionally interfered with the person or property of another and therefore, if a litigant executes any form of legal process which is invalid for want of jurisdiction, irregularity or any other reason and thus commits trespass he is liable in an action for trespass; it is not necessary to prove malice or want of reasonable or probable cause. Painter v. Liverpool Gas Light Co. 3 A and E 433. Brooks v. Hoderkinson 4 H and N. 712 Ref (Mookerjee and Carnduff, JJ.) BISHUN SINGH v. A.W.N. WYATT 16 C. W. N. 540 : 11 I.C. 729 : 14 C. L. J. 515.

———Trespass—Ejectment.

The plff. who is not bound by a sale can succeed in ejecting the deft as a trespasser. (Abdul Raoof and Harrison, JJ.) AMAR CHAND v. RAM RAKHA. 67 I. C, 941: 3 Lah. L. J. 402.

TORT—Miscellaenous.

———Trespass—Immoveable property—Standing crops.

Standing crop is immoveable property and an illegal attachment of the same is a trespass. (White, C. J. Miller and Oldfield, JJ.) KOTAGIRI VENKATARAMANUJAN v. PATIBANDA BASAVAYYA. 14 M.L.T 225 : 21 I.C. 213 : (1913) M. W N. 869 : 25 M. L. J 447.

———Trespass—Damages.

An owner of immoveable property not in possession of it can claim damages from any one trespassing on it. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) CHILLAMUTHU v. MUTHUDAYAR SERVAI. 17 I.C. 740.

———Trespass—Erection of projecting cornice.

Erection of chhajas cornice in a house so as to project over a neighbour's land constitutes a trespass on that land. (Lindsay. J. C.) KUNJ BEHARI PRASAD v. BASDEO PRASAD. 47 I. C 950 : 5 O. L. J. 464.

———Trespass—Overflood of water from reservoir—Damages.

Where by an ancient custom, defendant was entitled to accumulate water in reservoir and the water overflowed owing to the deposit of silt in the bed of the reservoir and due to no "non-natural" acts of the defendant and damaged the piff.'s crops held the plaintiff had no right of suit for damages for the damage caused to his land and crops. Rylands v. Fletcher (1868) 3 H L 330 Not foll : 22 W R 279 (PC) Fol. (Mullick and Jwala Prasad JJ.) SHAH YAD ALI v. SHYAM PARTAB DUBEY. 41 I C. 382 : 2 Pat. L. W. 8.

———Trespass—Ingredients—Proof.

Trespass is the doing of an illegal act forcibly and without legal authority against the property of another. The illegality and the wrongful nature of the act must be established before trespass can be declared. If the act is not illegal, no right is infringed. (Mullick and Atkinson, JJ.) DANAI DAS v. GOVINDA GEDI. 1 Pat. L. J. 533 : 38 I. C. 132 : 3 Pat. L W. 159.

Wrongful dismissal.

———Wrongful dismissal of trustee--Damages.

Where a Temple Committee dismisses a trustee in an irregular manner without convening a proper meeting but by circulation of papers the dismissed is wrongful and the individual members of the Committee are liable in damages to the dismissal trustee. In such a suit by sucha trustee for damages it is not open to the members to plead sufficiency of grounds for the dismissal. (Wallis, C. J. and Kumaraswami Sastri, J.) VENKATA NARAYANA PILLAI v. PONNUSAWMI NADAR. 41 Mad. 357 : 33 M L J. 660 : (1917) M. W. N.839 : 22 M. L. T. 454 : 43 I. C. 205 : 7 L. W: 85.

Miscellaneous

———Damages—Not necessary in suit for declaration of public right—Sanction of court.

Special damages need not be proved in suit for obstruction of public right of way (Panton, J.) HARISH CHANDRA SAHA v. PRAN NATH CHAKRABARTHY. 26 C. W. N. 587.

TORT—Miscellaneous.

———Tort committed by several persons acting in concert is same as one committed by single individual.

Per Chatterjee, J—Combination may be an element of aggravation in the assessment of damages but it is not sufficient to makeit a different tort, (Woodroffce, Coxe and Chatterjee, JJ.) WESTON v. PIYARE MOHAN DAS. 40 Cal. 898 : 23 I. C. 25 : 18 C. W. N. 185.

———Damages—Use of land—In ordinary manner—Damage—Lowering level of land to make land culturable—Tank water coming upon land and overflowing into neighbour's land.

Where an owner of land, without wilfulness or negligence, uses his land in the ordinary manner, though mischief thereby accrues to his neighbour, he is not liable for damages; but if, with a view to use the land in an unusual manner he brings upon his land water which would not naturally have come upon it he will be liable for damages for the escape of the water into the land of his neighbour. 28 L T 886; 7 H.L.C. 349, Rel; L R 3 H L 330 Ref. Defts lowered the level of their land so as to render it culturable and the water from an adjoining tank passed to the lands of the defts and subsequently overflowed into the lands of the plff. Held that as the defts had not used their lands in any artificial or unusual manner they were amply within their rights in what they did. 7 C W N 515; 18 L J C.P. 172: 13 Bur 862 Rel. The plffs. were not entitled to an injunction against the defts. to compel the latter to raise an embankment for their protection. L R 10 Ex 4, Ref. (Mookerjee and Carnduff, JJ.) KENARAM AKHULI v. SRISTIDHAR CHATTERJEE. 15 I. C: 543 : 16 C. W. N. 875.

———Assault—Compensation for—Costs incurred in prosecuting.

In a suit for damages for a criminal assault the plff. is not entitled to include in his claim costs incurred by him in successfully prosecuting the deft. for the hurt caused to the plff. by the deft. (Chevis and Shadi Lal, JJ.) JAGANNATH v. HAKIM. 17 P. R. 1916: 176 P. L. R. 1915 : 30 I. C. 485 : 117 P. W. R. 1915.

———Corporal punishment on pupil—Privilege.

Infliction of corporal punishment for enforcement of discipline is justifiable provided it is moderate. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) SANKUNNI v VENKATARAMANI. 42 M. L. J. 460 : 45 M. 548 : 15 L. W. 501 : 31 M. L. T. 26: (1922) M. W N. 246 : 1922 M. 200.

———Law of—Tort justified by lex loci—Liability of servant for tort of master.

The Law of Torts not having been codified in India there being no determinate law which has to be administered in adjudicating upon a personal tort committed outside the local limits of a Court jurisdiction, the Court ought to be guided by the rule of justice, equity and good conscience. Consequently a person should not be held liable in tort for an act which would be justifiable by the lex loci of the law of the place where the act was done; nor should he be held liable unless the act is wrongful by the lex loci or the law of the country where the Court is situated. Where an act is wrongful per se plea that the act was done under the directions of a superior officer, not subject to the jurisdiction of the Court, is of no avail though the result of the action will give rise to a moral claim of indemnity as against such a superior officer. (Ayling and Tyabji, JJ.) GOVINDAN NAIR v. ATCHUTA MENON. 39 Mad. 433 : 28 I. C. 394 : 2 L. W. 290 : 28 M. L. J. 310.

TRADE MARK—Assignment of.

———Tree falling on another's land—Removal—Rights of owners.

Where a tree on one land falls down partly on another land the owner can require it to be removed and on its not being removed, do it himself. If after falling it strikes fresh root in both the owner's lands, the owners are entitled to the fruits thereof jointly. (Bucknill and Kulwant Sahay, JJ) MAHABALI DASIN v. MANU MANDAL. 1924 P. 416.

———Damages—'Wilful neglect'—Meaning of.

A person is said to be guilty of wilful neglect, when he intentionally, and of set purpose, does something which ought either to be done in a different manner, or not at all, or omits to do something which ought to be done. A loss is said to be due to wilful neglect when such neglect is either the sole effective cause of the loss or is so connected with it as to be materially contributing to it. (Pratt, J. C. and Crouch, A. J. C.) FIRM OF DOULAT RAM v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE. 9 S. L. R. 177 : 32 I. C. 551.

TORT-FEASOR.

See (1) CONTRIBUTION.
(2) TORT

TRADE MARK.

Acquisition.
Assignment of.
Good Will.
Infringement of.
Law applicable.
Trade name, distinction between.
What is.

Acquisition.

———Acquisition—User for a long time.

A trade-mark may be acquired and abandoned in the same way. No length of time is required for either. (Imam, J.) JAGANNATH & Co. v. GRESSWELL. 22 I. C. 372 : 40 Cal. 814.

Assignment of.

———Assignment of—Good-will.

It is thus established that a trade-mark cannot be assigned in gross for it is a mode of representing the origin of goods to which it is attached or their trade association and the truth of the representation is essential. The representation of a trade-mark may perhaps be true only of its originator but usage has sanctioned a more liberal treatment based on the principle of identification by succession and therefore successors in business have been allowed to use their predecessor's trade-mark where the representation still continues to be substantially true. An originator of a trade-mark of a natural product who certifies to their good quality is entitled to it and has a right to alienate it. A trade-mark can be assigned together with the good-will of the business to which it relates (Jenkins, C. J. and Stephen, J.) G. S. HANNAH v. MESSRS JAGANNATH & CO. 27 I. C. 483 : 19 C. W. N. 1.

TRADE MARK—Assignment of.

———Assignment of—Personal skill involved—Validity.

A trade mark bearing the name of a person whose personal skill enters much into the value of the product, is impliedly a notice to the public that his personal supervision was employed in the manufacture and as such it would be unassignable. But on the other hand, the usage of trade may be such that no such inference would be drawn from the use of a trade mark which contains a person's name and what all the purchasers would reasonably suppose is that goods bearing a trade-mark belong to a certain standard or quality or are made in a certain manner or after a certain formula, by persons carrying on the same business, that formerly was conducted by the person whose name is in the trade-mark and in such cases the assignment of the trade-mark would not be invalid. (Imam, J.) JAGANNATH & CO. v. GRESSWELL. 22 I. C. 372 : 40 Cal. 814.

Good Will.

———Good-will—What is.

Good-will is the benefit and advantage of the good name, reputation and connection of a business. It is the attractive force which brings in custom. It is the one thing which distinguishes an old established business from a new business at its first start. A transferee of good-will is entitled to use the name in which the business was carried on and to represent himself as carrying on that business. (Jenkins, C. J. and Stephen, J.) G. S. HANNAH v. MESSRS JAGANNATH & CO. 27 I. C. 483 : 19 C. W. N. 1.

Infringement of.

———Infringement of—Test—Limitation.

When an injunction against limitation is asked for points of similarity and not the points of difference constitute the proper test. (Mears, Kt. C. J and Banerji, J.) CHETERPAL SHARMA v. JAGANNATHDAS. 20 A. L. J. 537 : 44 A. 608 : L.R 3 A. 344 : 4 U. P. L. R. (A.) 135 : 1922 A. 178.

———Infringement of—Cause af action—Jurisdiction.

A trade mark can be infringed by an advertisement. The cause of action for such infringement arises partly where the advertisement is published and distributed. (Chamier and Piggott, JJ.) KHESHTRAPAL SARMA v. PANCHAM SINGH VARMA. 37 All. 446 : 29 I C. 987 : 13 A. L. J. 697.

———Infringement of—Limitation of Trade name—Injunction.

The principle underlying the use of trade name is that a person shall not trade under a name so closely resembling that of the plaintiff as to be mistaken for it by the public. In other words a person shall not carry on his business in such a way as to represent that his business was the business of another person. The question to be determined in cases of this description is whether there is such a similarity between the two names as that the one is in the ordinary course of human affairs likely to be confounded with the other. It is not necessary to prove that the defts. in taking the name complained of by the plaintiffs had any fraudulent intent It is enough if the plaintiff prove that the act of the defendants in assuming the name complained of, does an injury to the plaintiffs' rights. There is no question in such cases of property or monpoly in the name. There is no property in the word but at the same time it is fraud on a person who has established a trade and carries it on under a given name that some other person assumes the same name with a slight alteration in such a way as to induce persons to deal with him in the belief that they are dealing with the person who has given a reputation to the name. (Mulla, J.) THE NATIONAL BANK OF INDIA v. THE NATIONAL BANK OF INDORE. 24 Bom. L. R. 1181. 1923 B. 119.

TRADE MARK—Infringement of.

———Infringement of—What amounts to.

When a combination of devices go to form a trade-mark of a particular article, the question as to what the dominant trade-mark is, is a question of evidence depending on, which device has caught the attention of the buyers and has come to be associated with the goods of the manufacturer. It is an infringement of a trade-mark to copy the number assigned by the manufacturer, to an article which is identified by that number in the market and it makes no difference that the infringer adopts a different drawing or picture along with the number. Where goods have acquired, by a fancy description, device, etc., a reputation in the market, it is immaterial that the customers do not know who the maker is. The questions for determination in a case of alleged infringement of a trade-mark are whether the defendant has adopted the dominant device of the plaintiff and whether the defendant's conduct is such as to deceive ultimate purchasers. Proof of actual deception is unnecessary. The Court may grant injunction and damages to the plff. in a suit on infringement. When an injunction is granted for infringement of a trade-mark it should be wide enough to cover all possible channels of approach to the ultimate buyers. When damages are awarded to the plaintiff in an action for infringement of a trade-mark, it should be on the result of an enquiry as to profits made by the deft. by the unlawful use of the trade-mark. (Scott, C.J. and Heaton, J.) MADHAVJI DHARAMSY MFG. CO., LTD v. CENTRAL INDIA SPINNING, WEAVING AND MFG. CO. LTD. 41 Bom. 49 : 34 I. C. 529 : 18 Bom. L. R. 206.

———Infringement of—Impostor's rights.

An impostor who by advertising and pushing the sale of goods under a particular mark secures a wide popularity for the mark, is protected by the Court for the mark unless he has abandoned it. (Scott, C. J.) WEST END WATCH CO. v. BURMA WATCH CO. 35 Bom. 425 : 10 I. C. 805 : 13 Bom. L. R. 242.

———Infringement of—Right of action—Claim to exclusive user.

Where the plaintiffs have the sole right to import and sell a certain kind of goods in India,

TRADE MARK—Infringement of.

that does not give them such a proprietary right as to enable them to maintain an action against the defendant who hold the same goods after obtaining it from elsewhere. In India provision is not made for registering exclusive rights to particular trade-mark. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) IMPERIAL TOBACCO COY. v. ALBERT BONNAN. 50 Cal. 762 : 1924 Cal 216.

———Infringement of—Similarity—Oriental Government Security Life Assurance Company—Oriental Assurance Company—Injunction.

The deft. company—Oriental Assurance Company could not be called "Oriental" without regard to the other older companies, merely because it was dealing with the Orient. The name of the deft. company was so similar to the name of plaintiff company as to mislead people and there was real danger of the plaintiff suffering irreparable loss. A temporary injunction should therefore be issued. (Fletcher, J.) ORIENTAL GOVERNMENT SECURITY LIFE ASSURANCE CO., LTD. v. ORIENTAL ASSURANCE CO., LTD. 21 I. C. 258 : 40 Cal. 570.

———Infringement of—Defendant using his own name in business—Injunction.

None can use a name if it leads the public to believe that the business carried on by him is the business of some other person with whom the name has been associated. The Court should not restrain a man from carrying on business in his own name simply because other people are doing the same and they will be injured by what he is doing. It must appear that the person who is carriyng on the business in his own name is doing it in such a way as to pass off his goods as the goods of somebody else. A person carrying on business in his own name which also happened to be the name of the plaintiff could not be restrained from using his own name. (Shadi Lal and Martineau, JJ.) UBEROI LIMITED v. KIRPAL SINGH. 56 I. C. 709.

———Infringement of—What is—Damages

In India a plff. can maintain a suit for infringement of a trade mark. Even if he has not proved registration of his trade-mark it is sufficient if it is proved that the deft. contemplates committing or has threatened to commit an infringement. In a suit for infringement of trade-mark, it is not necessary to prove that any one has been actually deceived. It is enough to prove that he is likely to be deceived. 34 Cal. 495; 24 Cal. 364, Rel ; 55 P. R. 1902, Dist. The Court has to see whether the device used by the dett. is such a colourable imitation of the plff'.s mark as would be calculated to deceive incautious, ignorant or unwary purchasers. 34 Cal. 495 : 7 Bom. 584, Foll. (Shah Din and Scott-Smith, JJ.) ABDUL SALAM v. HAMIDULLA. 97 P. R. 1913 5 P. L R. 1912 (Supp) : 15 I. C. 116 : 166 P. W R. 1912.

———Infringement of—Test.

The proper test for an injunction to restrain colourable imitation of trade-marks is whether an ordinary purchaser is likely to be misled, i.e., whether there is a reasonable probability of deception. (Fox, C. J. and Twomey, J.) BYRAMJEE COWASJEE v. VERA SOMABHAI MOTIBHAI. 10 Bur. L. T. 63 : 36 I C. 965 : 8 L. B. R. 561.

TRADE NAME.

———Infringement of — Proof of actual deception of any person—Misdescription of place.

In cases of infringement of trade-marks, the plff. need not show that deft's colourable imitation of plff's mark did actually deceive any person or persons. Where it is clear that traders in rose-water used the words 'Ghazipore rose-water." as descriptive merely of a good kind of such water, Held, that people buying such goods do not set any particular value upon their coming from the particular place to which they are ascribed and such misdescriptions not being calculated to deceive any one, does not disentitle the plff. to the relief which he might otherwise have obtained. (Fox, C. J. and Parlett, J.) BALLADIN AND ALLADIN FIRM v. PURANMAL BALBEHARI LALL 30 I. C. 633 : 8 Bur L. T. 113.

———Infringement of—Onus.

If the accused passes his own inferior goods as superior goods of another by affixing that other's trade-mark to his own goods, the latter must prove the reputation of his goods. But if the accused puts the name of the other on the goods of the accused, the other need not prove the reputation, Mere affixing of name to the goods can be a good trade-mark : a definite amount of time is not necessary to validate a trade-mark. (Pratt, J. C. and Fawcett, A. J C.) DUNBAR v. HOLLAND-BOMBAY TRADING CO. 12 S L. R. 129 : 50 I. C. 165 : 20 Cr. L. J. 277.

Law Applicable.

———Law applicable.

In India, the law of trade-marks is not governed by statute. There is no statutory system of registration and the rights and liabilities in connection with trade-marks are determined by reference to the principles of the Common Law of England. 38 Cal. 110 Ref. (Jenkins, C. J and Stephen, J.) G. S. HANNAH v. JAGANNATH & CO. 42 Cal. 262 : 27 I C. 483 : 19 C. W. N. 1.

Trade name, distinction between.

———Trade name—Distinction.

A trade-mark must be some visible concrete device or design affixed to indicate the manufacturer whose property the trade mark is. Distinction between trade and trade name pointed out. (Chitty and Richardson, JJ.) ANATH NATH DEY v. EMPEROR. 40 Cal. 281 : 17 C. W. N. 227 : 18 I. C. 404 : 14 Cr. L. J. 68.

What is.

———What is—A numerical figure.

A number may be a trade-mark as much as any other design. (Scott, C. J. and Heaton, J.) MADHAVSEE DHARAMSEY MFG. CO., LTD., v. CENTRAL INDA SPINNING AND WEAVING CO. LTD 41 Bom 49 : 34 I. C. 529 : 18 Bom. L R. 206.

———What is—Property—Nature of.

In a trade-mark there can be no property in gross, apart from goods of which it has become the symbol. (Scott, C. J.) WEST END WATCH CO. v. BERAN WATCH CO. 35 Bom. 425 : 10 I. C. 805 : 13 Bom L. R. 242.

TRADE NAME.

———Passing off right as sole importer and seller—Misrepresentation.

TRADE NAME.

Where an importer of cycles acquired a trade reputation by misrepresenting that they were manufactured by a particular company, (which was not at all in existence) he is not entitled to an injunction restraining others from passing off their cycles under the plff's. name. (Sanderson, C. J. Woodroffe and Chaudhuri, J.) SEN v. E. S. OAKES. 55 I. C. 560 : 24 C. W. N. 155.

TRADE USAGE

See EVIDENCE ACT, S. 92.

TRAMWAYS ACT (XI of 1886).

———Bye-laws—Break of journey -Fresh ticket.

A bye-law provided that a tram-car ticket was available only for the car and the journey for which it was issued. The accused got down at an intermediate place and then got into another car going to the same destination. Held, that the contract of carriage was determined by his own act, and that he was rightly convicted of travelling without a ticket (Parlett, J.) NGA BA THIN v. RANGOON ELECTRIC TRAMWAY CO.
6 Bur. L. T. 193 : 14 Cr. L. J. 564 : 21 I C. 164 : 7 L B. R. 53.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY.

TRANSFER OF CASE.
See C P. C., Ss. 22 TO 24.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY.
See also T. P. ACT, S. 54.

———Razinamah and kabuliyat do not always amount to.

Execution of a razinamah and kabuliyat do not necessarily amount to a transfer of a property. Evidence of the conduct of parties may prove that it was not intended to be a transfer.(Macleod, C. J. and Heaton, J.) CHANDANMAL v. BHASKAR WAMAN. 59 I. C. 114 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1079.

———Restrictions imposed by Legislature and those by contract or decree—Distinction between.

Restrictions are imposed by Legislature on the right of free alienation upon considerations of public interest but restrictions imposed by parties under a contract or by a decree affect none else but the parties themselves Inter se so that where a decree imposes a restriction upon alienation by one party it is a provision for the benefit of the other which he can waive by consenting to a transfer by the former. 2 O. C. 252, 11. I.C. 527; 6 O. C. 331. Rel. on. (Evans, J. C. and Lindsay A. J. C.) WAZIR MOHAMMAD v. HARPRASAD.
13 I. C. 613 : 15 O. C. 67.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882.)

STATUTE INDEX.

Acceptance of gift, S. 122
Acceptance, when to be made, S. 122
Accession, acquired in virtue of transferred ownership, S. 63
Accession, natural, S. 63
Accession, rights of mortgagor to, S. 63
Accession to mortgaged property, Ss. 63, 70
Accession, when separable, S. 63
Accumulation; direction for, S. 18
Acquirement of vested interest by unborn person, S. 20
"Actionable claim" defined, S. 3
Actionable claim, liability of transferee of, S. 132
Actionable claim, notice of transfer of, S. 131
Actionable claims, transfers of Ss. 130—137 (Ch. VIII)
Actionable claim, transfer of, S. 130
Acts, amended by the Act, S. 4
Agent, service or tender on or to, S. 102
Agricultural purposes, exemption for, S. 117
Alienation, condition making interest determinable on, S. 12
Alienation, condition restraining, S. 10
Anomalous mortgage, S. 58
Anomalous mortgages, Ss 98—99
Apportionment, Ss. 37—38
Apportionment, of benefit of obligation on severance, S. 37
Apportionment of periodical payments, S. 36
Apportionment of rent, S. 36
Assignment of rights under fire policy, S. 135
Assignment of rights under marine, S. 135
Assurance, mortgage when to be by, S. 59
Attachment of mortgaged property, S. 99
"Attached to the earth" defined, S. 3
Attempted alienation, condition making interest determinable on, S. 12
Benefit of public, transfer in perpetuity for, S. 17
Benefit of unborn person, transfer of, S. 13
Bona fide holders under defective title, S. 51
Bona fide paid rents, S. 50
Buddhist law, not affected by the Act, S. 2
Burden, of obligation annexed to ownership but not amounting to interest or easement, S. 40
Burden of obligation imposing restriction on use of land, S. 40
Burdensome gifts, S. 127
Buyer, rights, etc, of, S. 55
Cessation of interest, S. 84
Chance of heir-apparent may be transferred, S. 6
Charge by acts of parties, S. 100
Charge of one of several co-mortgagors who redeems, S. 95

Charge on proceeds of revenue-sale, S 73
Charges, Ss. 58—104 (Ch. IV.)
Charges by act of parties, S 100
Charges, extinction of, Ss. 100, 101
Charges of operation of law, S. 100
Circumstances, to transfer, S. 38
Claim, actionable, liability f t ansferee of, S, 132
Claim, actionable, notice of transfer of, S. 132
Claim, actionable, transfer of, S. 130
Claims, actionable, transfers of, Ss. 130—137 (Ch. VIII)
Common property, transfer of, by co-owner. S. 47
Co-mortgagors, redemption by; S. 95
Competent persons to transfer, S. 7
Conditional mortgage, S. 58
Conditional transfer, S, 25
Conditional transfer to one person coupled with transaction to another on failure of, prior disposition S. 27
Condition, invalid, S. 32
Condition, making interest determinable on insolvency etc. S. 12
Condition restraining alienation, S. 10
Conditions in restraint of alienation, S. 10
Conditions, in restraint of enjoyment, S, 11
Conditions precedent, fulfilment of, S. 26
Condition, subsequent fulfilment of, S. 29
Condition that transfer shall cease, S. 31
Consideration and transfer, S. 6
Consideration, joint transfer for, S. 45
Consideration, transfer by persons having distinct interest, S. 46
Contingent interest, S. 21
Contingent interest differs from, S. 21
Contingent interest, what is S, 21
Contract Act and Transfer of Property Act, S. 4
Contract Act, not affected by the Act, S. 3
Contract and transfer, difference between, S, 5
Contracts, enactments, relating to, S. 4
Contracts, implied, by mortgagor, S. 64
Contribution differs from marshalling. Ss. 81, 82
Contribution, how enforced, S. 82
Contribution and marshalling. S 81
Contribution to mortgage debt. S. 82
Contribution, when can be claimed. S. 82
Contribution, whether it creates a charge, S. 82
Contributory mortgage S. 58
Co-owner, right of, S. 44
Co-owner's share in common property, transfer of.
Co-owner, transfer by, S. 44
"Court" in S. 57 explained, S. 57 (expl).
Courts of justice, incapacity of. S. 136
Court to provide for incumbrances and sale free from, S 57
Debentures, saving of, S. 137
Debt. mortgaged, S 134
Debtor, warranty of solvency of, S. 133
Debt, transfer of, S. 8
Defective title, bona fide holders under, S. 51
Defective title, rents paid under, S, 50
Definitions, S. 3
Deposit in Court, Ss. 83—84
Deposit of money due on mortgage, S. 83
Determination of lease, S. 111
Direction for accumulation, S. 18
Discharge of incumbrances on sale, S. 57
Disposition ulterior, S 29
Disqualified person, gift to, S. 127
Distinct interests, S. 46
Donatio mortis causa and Mahommedan law, S. 129.
Donatio morits causa, not governed by the Act, S. 128
Donee, acceptance by, S. 128
Donee, universal S. 128
Duration of certain leases in absence of written contract. etc., S, 106
Duration of lease for a year, S. 110
Easement cannot be transferred, S. 6
Effect of holding over, S. 116
Effect of invalid direction. S. 18
Effect of surrender and forfeiture on under-lease, S. 115
Election, S. 35
Election. effect of, S. 35
Election in case of Hindu Wills, S. 35
Election in case of minor, S. 35
Election, period for, S. 35
Election, principle of, S. 35
Election, what is, S. 35
Election, when necessary, S. 35
Enactments relating to contracts, S. 4
Enactments, repealed, S. 2 & Sch. I
Endeavour, to transfer. S. 12
English mortgage, S. 58
Estoppel. in case of transfer by ostensible owner, S. 41
"Exchange" defined, S. 118
Exchange of money, S 121
Exchanges, Ss. 118—120 (Ch. VI)
Exchange, thing received in, S. 119
Exclusion of day on which term commences, S. 110
Exemption of leases for agricultural purposes, S. 117
Existing property, gift of. S. 124
Extent of the Act, S. 1
Extinction of charges, S. 101
Extinguishment of charges, S. 101
Failure of prior disposition, S. 27
Failure of prior transfer, transfer to take effect on, S. 16
Fetters on redemption, S. 60
Fire-policy of insurance, assignment, S. 135
Fire policy of insurance, transfer, of S. 130 (excep.)
Fore-closer and sale, Ss. 86 to 90
Fore-closer, right to, by mortgagee, S. 57
Foreclosure, suits for, Ss. 85—96
Forfeiture for non-payment of rent, S. 114
Forfeiture on under lease, S. 115
Forfeiture, waiver of, S. 112
Fraudulent transfer, S. 53
Fulfilment of conditions precedent, S. 26
Fulfilment of condition subsequent, S. 29
Future interest, Ss. 13, 14
Future property, gift of, S. 124
Gift, acceptance of, S. 122
Gift and failure of consideration, S. 126
"Gift" defined, S. 122
Gift of existing property, S. 124
Gift of future property, S. 124
Gift of immoveable property, S. 123
Gift of moveable property, S. 123
Gift, onerous, to disqualified person, S. 127
Gift, revocation of, S. 126
Gifts, Ss 122—129 (Ch. VII)
Gifts onerous, S. 127
Gift, suspension of, S 126

Gift to several of whom, one does not accept S. 125
Gift, transfer of, S. 123
Gift, when valid, S. 122
Gift, when void, S. 122
High Court, power to make rules, S. 104
Hindu law, not affected by the Act, S. 2
Holding over, S. 116
"Immoveable property," defined, S. 3
Immoveable property, gift, S. 123
Immoveable property, leases of, Ss. 105—117 (Ch. V)
Immoveable property, mortgages of, Ss. 58—104 (Ch. IV.)
Immoveable property, transfer of, Ss. 38—53
Implied contracts by mortgagor, S. 64
Imposing restriction, S. 40
Impossibility of performance, S. 26
Improvements made by bona fide holders under defective titles, S. 51
Incapacity of officers connected with courts of justice, S. 136
Incompetent person, notice to, S. 103
Incumbrances on sale, discharge of, S 56
Incumbrances, sale free from, S. 57
Insolvency, condition making interest determinable on, S. 12
"Instrument" defined, S. 3
Instruments, saving of, S. 137
"Insufficient security" in S. 66 explained, S. 66 (expl)
Insurance policy, transfer of, S. 130, (excep.)
Insurance policy of, assignment of, S. 135
Interest, cessation of, S. 84
Interest contingent, S 21
Interest in property, transfer of, S. 6
Interest vested, S 19
Invalid condition, S 32
Invalid direction, effect of, S. 18
Involuntary alienation, S. 12
Involuntary transfer, S. 10
Joint transfer for consideration, S. 45
"Lease" defined, S. 105
Lease, determination of, S. 111
Lease, duration of, S. 110
Lease, mortgaged renewal of, Ss. 64, 71
Lease, option to determine, S. 110
Leases duration of, S. 106
Leases for agricultural purposes, S. 117
Leases, how made, S. 107
Leases of immoveable property, Ss. 105—117 (Ch. V.)
"Lessee" defined, S. 105
Lessee, liabilities of, S 108 (B)
Lessee, rights of, S. 108 (B)
Lessee, rights, etc., of S. 108
"Lessor" defined, S 105
Lessor, rights, etc, of, Ss. 108, 108, (A)
Lessor's transferee, rights of, S. 109
Liabilities and rights of buyer and seller, S. 55, 108 (B)
Liabilites of lessee, S. 108
Liabilities of lessor, Ss. 108, 108 (A)
Liabilities of mortgagee, Ss 66—77
Liabilities of mortgagee in possession, S. 76
Liabilities of mortgagor, Ss 60—66
Liabilities of parties, S. 120
Liability of transferee of actionable claim, S. 132
Lis Pendens, S. 52
Lis Pendens, competent court on, S. 52
Lis Pendens, contentious suit, S. 52
Lis Pendens, effect of registration, S. 52
Lis Pendens, involuntary transfer, S. 52
Lis Pendens, principle, S. 52
Lis Pendens, rules as to, S. 52
Lis Pendens, subject matter, S. 52
Living persons, S. 5
Loss, occasioned by mortgagee's default, S. 77
Maintenance, right enforceable against, S. 39
Maintenance, right to, does not create charge, S. 39
Maintenance, transfer in defeasance of, right of, S. 39
Management of mortgaged property, S. 72
Marine, transfer of, S. 130, (excep.)
Marshalling and contribution, Ss. 81—82
Marshalling differs from contribution, Ss. 81, 82
Marshalling, principle, S 81
Marshalling securities, S. 81
Marshalling, rules as to, S. 81
Mercantile document of title to goods, S. 137
"Mercantile document of title to goods" in S. 137 explained, S. 137, (expl.)
Mere right to sue cannot be transferred, S. 6
Mesne mortgagee, rights of, against prior and subsequent mortgagee, S. 75
Minor and transfer, S. 7
Money deposited by mortgagor, S 83
Money deposited by mortgagor, right to, S. 83
Money due on mortgage, deposit of, S. 83
Money, exchange of, S. 121
Mortgage, anamalous, S. 58
Mortgage by conditional sale, S. 58
Mortgage contributory, S. 58
Mortgage debt, contribution to, S. 82
Mortgaged debt S, 134
"Mortgage debt" defined, S. 58
"Mortgagee" defined, S. 58
Mortgage, English, S, 58
Mortgagee, subsequent right to pay off, to prior mortgagee, S 74
"Mortgage money" defined, S. 58
Mortgage, what is, S. 58
"Mortgage" defined, S. 58
Mortgaged lease, renewal of, Ss. 64, 71
Mortgaged property, accession to, Ss. 63, 70
Mortgaged property, attachment of S 99
Mortgagee in possession, liabilities of, S. 76
Mortgagee in possession rights of, S 72
Mortgagee, prior postponement of, S. 78
Mortgagee, prior right against, S 75
Mortgagee, prior to be paid off by subsequent mortgagee, S. 74
Mortgagee, rights and liabilities of, Ss. 67-77
Mortgagee's default, loss occasioned by, S. 77
Mortgagee, subsequent rights against, S. 75
Mortgage, kinds of, S. 58
Mortgage, money due on, S. 83
Mortgage-money, right to sue for, S. 68
Mortgage not described in S 58, S. 98
Mortgages, anomalous, S. 98
Mortgage, simple, S. 58
Mortgages of immoveable property and charges, Ss 58-104 (Ch. IV.)
Mortgages, priority in, S. 77

Mortgage, sub mortgage, S. 58
Mortgage to secure uncertain amount, when maximum is expressed, S. 79
Mortgage, usufructuary, S. 58
Mortgage, when to be by assurance, S. 59
"Mortgagor", defined, S. 58
Mortgagor, right, deposited money, S. 83
Mortgagor's implied contracts, S. 64
Mortgagor's rights and liabilities, Ss. 60—66
Mortgagor, waste by, S. 66
Moveable property, gift of, S 123
Muhammadan law and donatio mortis causa, S. 129
Muhammadan law not affected by the Act, S. 2
Negotiable instruments, saving of, S. 137
Non-payment of rent, S. 114
Notice and tender, Ss 102, 104
Notice, etc., to or by person incompetent to contract, S. 103
"Notice of a fact" explained S 3
Notice of transfer of an actionable wrong, S. 131
Notice to be in writing, signed, S. 131
Notice to quit, S 113
Obligation on severance, apportionment of, S. 37
Officers connected with courts of justice, incapacity, S. 136
Onerous gift, law as to, S. 127
Onerous gifts, S. 127
Onerous gift to disqualified person, S. 127
Operation of Transfer, S. 8
Option to determine lease, S. 110
Oral Transfer, S. 9
Ostensible owner, transfer by, S. 41
Parties, rights, etc., of, S. 120
Party deprived of thing received in exchange, S. 119
Pensions, when not transferable, S. 6
Performance of act, time being specified, S. 34
Periodical payment, apportionment of, S. 36
Perpetuity, charities not affected by, S. 14
Perpetuity, covenant void for, S. 14
Perpetuity for benefit of public, transfer in, S. 17
Perpetuity, Hindu law as to, S. 14
Perpetuity, rule against, S. 14
Person, authorised, transfer by, S. 38
Persons as survive at some period not specified, transfer to, S. 24
Persons, competent to contract, S. 7
Persons, competent to transfer, S. 7
Persons having distinct interest, transfer by, S. 46
Person, incompetent to contract, notice, etc., to, S. 103
Persons, who subsequently acquire interest, transfer by, S. 43
Policy of insurance, assignment of, S. 135
Policy of insurance, transfer of, S. 130 (excep.)
Policy, transferee's right under, S. 49
Postponement of prior mortgagee, S. 78
Power of sale in mortgage, S. 69
Power of sale, when valid S. 69
Power to deposit in court money due on mortgage, S. 88
Power to make rules, S. 104
Precedent conditions, fulfilment of, S. 26
Preliminary, Ss. 1— 4(ch. I)
"Premium" defined, S. 105
Prior disposition, failure on, S. 27
Prior disposition, not affected by invalidity of ulterior disposition, S. 30
Priority, Ss. 78—80
Priority in mortgagees, S. 77
Priority of rights created by transfer, S. 48
Priority, rules as to, Ss. 77—80
Prior mortgagee, postponement of, S. 78
Prior mortgagee, rights against, S. 75
Prior mortgagee to be paid by subsequent mortgagee S. 74
Prior transfer, transfer to take effect on failure of, S. 16
Proceeds of revenue-sale, charge on S. 73
Properties, separately mortgaged, right to redeem, S. 61
Properties, subject to common charge, sale of, S. 56
"Property", S. 5.
Property pending suit thereto, transfer of, S. 52
Property, mortgaged, accession to, Ss. 63, 70
Property subject to prior mortgage sale of, Ss. 96 & 97.
Property, which can be transferred, S. 6
Property, which cannot be transferred, S. 6
Provision by Court for incumbrances and sale free from, S. 57
Public office cannot be transferred, S. 6
Recovery of possession by usufructuary mortgagor S. 62
Redemption, Ss. 60, 91—95.
Redemption, before date fixed, S. 60
Redemption by co-mortgagors, S. 95
Redemption by usufructury mortgagor, S. 62
Redemption, fetters on, S. 60
Redemption of portion of mortgaged property, S. 60
Redemption, reasonable time for, S. 60
Redemption, rights to, when extinguished, S. 60
Redemption, suit, S 60
Redemption, suit for, S. 91
Redemption, suits for, Ss. 85-96
Redemption, what is, S 60
Redemption, when, S. 60
Re-entry, right of, when transferable, S. 6
"Registered" defined, S. 3
Registration Act, affected by the Act, S. 1
Registration Act and Transfer of Property Act, S. 4
Registration is notice, S. 3
Relief against for forfeiture for non-payment of rent, S. 114
Renewal of mortgaged lease, Ss 64, 71
Rent, bona-fide paid to holder under defective title, S. 50
"Rent" defined, S. 105
Rent, non-payment of, S. 114
Repeal of enactments, S. 2 and Sch. I
Repeal of Sections 86 to 90 by C.P. Code, S. 86-90
Repeal of S. 92 to 94 by C.P. Code, Ss. 92—94
Restraint in a transfer, S. 11
Restraint in lease, S. 12
Restraint, involuntary alienation, S. 10
Restraint of alienation, conditions as to, S. 10
Restriction, on enjoyment of property, S. 11
Restrictions repugnant to interest created, S. 11
Restrictive conditions, Ss. 10, 11 and 12
Revenue-sale, charge on proceeds on, S. 73
Revocation of gift, S. 126
Right of mortgagor to redeem, S. 60
Right of party deprived of thing received in exchange, S. 119

Right of prior mortgagee, S. 74
Right of re-entry may be transferred, S. 6
Right of subsequent mortgagee to pay off prior mortgagee, S. 74
Right of transferee, policy under, S. 49
Right of usufructuary mortgagor to recover possession, S. 62
Rights and liabilities of buyer and seller, S. 55
Rights and liabilities of lessor, S. 108 (A)
Rights and liabilities of mortgagee. Ss. 67—77
Rights and liabilities of mortgagor, Ss. 60—66
Rights created by transfer, priority of. S. 48
Rights, etc., of lessor and lessee, S. 108
Rights of co-owner. S. 44
Rights of lessee, S. 108 (B)
Rights of lessor's transferee, S. 109
Rights of mesne mortgagee against prior and subsequent mortgagee, S. 75
Rights of mortgagee in possession, S. 72
Rights of parties, S. 120
Rights on redemption, S. 61
Rights under marine, assignment of S 135
Right to fore-closer or sale, S. 67
Right to money deposited by mortgagor S. 83
Right to redeem one of two properties separately mortgaged, S. 61
Right to sue for mortgage money, S. 68
Rule, against perpetuity, S. 14
Rules as to priority, Ss. 77—80
Sale and fore-closer, Ss. 86 to 90
"Sale", defined, S. 54
Sale, discharge of incumbrances on, S. 57
Sale free from incumbrances, S. 57
Sale how made, S. 54
Sale of one of two properties, subject to a common charge, S. 56
Sale of property subject to prior mortgage, Ss. 96 and 97
Sale, right to, by mortgagee, S. 67
Sales of immoveable Property, Ss. 54—57 (Ch. III)
Sale, suits for, Ss. 85—96
Saving of donatio mortis causa, S. 129
Saving of negotiable instruments, etc. S. 137
Securing uncertain amount when maximum is fixed, S. 79
Securities, marshalling, S. 80
Seller, rights etc., of, S. 55
Service on agent, S. 102
Service to agent, S. 102
Shares, saving of, S. 137
Simple mortgage, S. 58
Solvency debtor, warranty of, S. 133
Specified uncertain event, transfer contingent on happening of, S. 23
Stipends, cannot be transferred, S. 6
Stocks, saving of, S. 137
Sub mortgage, S. 58
Subsequent condition, fulfilment of, S. 29
Subsequent mortgagee, rights against, S. 75
Subsequent mortgagee to pay off prior mortgage, S. 74
Suit for redemption, S. 91
Suit, mere right of, S 6
Suits for foreclosure, Sale, etc. Ss 85—96
Surrender on under-lease, S. 115
Surviving, S. 24
Suspension of gift, S. 126
Tacking, abolished, S. 80
Tacking differs from consolidation, S. 80
Tacking, how far allowed, S. 80
Tacking, rules as to, S. 80
Tender and notice, Ss. 102—104
Tender on agent. S. 102
Tender to agent, S. 102
Thing received in exchange, S. 119
Title, defective, bona-fide holders under, S. 51
Title, defective, rents paid under, S. 50
Title of the Act, S 1
Transfer and consideration, S. 6
Transfer and unlawful object, S. 6
Transfer by co-owner of share in common property, S. 47
Transfer by ostensible owner, S. 41
Transfer by person authorised, S. 38
Transfer by person having authority to revoke former transfer, S. 42
Transfer by unauthorised persons, S. 43
Transfer, conditional, S. 25
Transfer conditional on performance of act, time being specified, S. 34
Transfer, conditional to one person, coupled with transfer to another on failure of prior disposition, S. 28
Transfer, contingent on happening of a specified uncertain event, S. 23
Transferee, lessor's, rights of, S. 109
Transferee of actionable claim, liability of, S. 132
Transferee's right under policy, S. 49
Transfer for consideration by persons having distinct interests, S. 46
Transfer for the benefit of woman, S. 10
Transfer, fraudulent, S. 53 (ch. III)
Transfer in perpetuity for benefit of public, S. 17
Transfer, joint, for consideration, S. 45
Transfer must be absolute, S. 12
Transfer of actionable claim S. 130
Transfer of actionable wrong, notice of, S. 131
Transfer of benefit of unborn person, S. 13
Transfer of debt, S 8
Transfer of fire-policy of insurance, S. 130 (excep.)
Transfer of gift, S. 123
Transfer of immoveable property. Ss. 38—53
Transfer of marine, S. 130 (excep.)
Transfer of one co-owner S. 44
Transfer of Property Act and Contract Act, S. 4
"Transfer of Property" defined, S. 5
Transfer of property, pending suit, relating thereto, S. 52
Transfer, of what, S. 6
Transfer, operation of, S. 8
Transfer, oral, S. 9
Transferred ownership, accession to, S. 63
Transfers of actionable claims, Ss. 130—137 (ch. VIII)
Transfer to class, some of whom come under Ss. 13, 14 and 15
Transfer to member of class, who attain a particular age, S. 22
Transfer to such of certain persons as survive at some period not specified S. 24
Transfer to take effect on failure of prior transfer, S. 16
Transfer, to unborn persons, S. 8
Transfer, to whom, S. 5
Transfer, ulterior, S. 28
Transfer, when third person is entitled to maintenance, S. 39
Transfer, who cannot, S. 7
Ulterior disposition, S. 29
Ulterior disposition, validity, S. 30

Ulterior transfer, S. 28
Unauthorised persons, transfer, S. 43
Unborn persons, transfer to, S. 8
Unborn person, transfer of benefit of, S. 13
Uncertain event, transfer, contingent on happening of, S. 23.
Under-lease, surrender &c on, S. 115
Universal donee, S. 128
Unlawful object and transfer, S. 6
Usufructuary mortgage S. 58
Usufructuary mortgagor's right to recover possession, S. 62
Valid gift, S. 122
Validity of ulterior disposition, S. 30
Vendor, rights, ect of, S. 55
Vested interest, S. 19
Vested interest differs from contingent, S. 20
Vested interest in possession, S. 20
Vested interest is transferable, S. 19
Vested interest on transfer, S. 20
Vested interest, what is, S 20
Vested interest, when defeated, S. 20
Void conditions in transfers, S. 25
Void gift, S. 122
Waiver of forfeiture, S. 112
Waiver of notice to quit, S. 113
Warranty of solvency debtor, S. 133
Waste by mortgagor in possession, S. 66
What may be transferred, S. 6
What may not be transferred, S. 6
When gift may be revoked, S. 126
When gift may be suspended, S. 126
When unborn person acquires vested interest, on benefit, S. 20
Who can transfer, S 7
Who may sue for redemption, S. 91
Writing expressly required, S. 9
Writing, when required on transferred, S. 9

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882.)

———Applicability—Sale before T. P. Act—Writing unnecessary—Oral sale valid.

No writing was necessary to validate a sale before the Transfer of Property Act (Lord Shaw) MAHOMED MUSA v. AGHORE KUMAR 42 Cal. 801 : 42 I.A. 1 : 17 Bom. L. R. 420 : 21 C L.J. 231 : 28 M.L.J. 548 : 19 C.W.N. 250 : 13 A.L.J. 229 : 17 M.L.T. 143 : 2 L.W. 258 : 28 I.C. 930 : (1915) M.W.N. 621 (P.C.)

———Retrospective effect.

Where a right to make an application for foreclosure under Regulation. (XVII of 1806) been extinguished by efflux of time, the T. P. Act does not revive it. (Banerjee, J.) SHYAM CHANDRA SINGH v. BALDEO. 17 I.C. 467 : 10 A L.J. 522.

———Applicability—Land with houses and fruit bearing trees.

The fact that a portion of a holding used for residential purposes is planted with fruit bearing trees does not alter the character of the holding and the case is governed by the T. P. Act and not the Bengal Tenancy Act. (Walmsley and Cuming, JJ.) SRIMATI SASIBALA DEBI v. SRIMATI AMALA DEBI. 66 I.C. 61 : 25 C.W.N. 378.

———Applicability—Easements.

The Act does not apply to easements. (Chatterjee and Richardson, JJ.) SITAL CHANDRA CHOUDHURY v. ALLEN J. DELANNEY. 34 I.C. 450 : 20 C. W. N. 1158.

———"Herein"—Construction.

"Herein" means in that section " and not " in the Transfer of Property Act. (Coxe, J.) NABA KRISHNA PAL v. MOHIT KALI DEBI. 9 I. C. 840.

———Applicability to the Punjab as regards principles.

The principles of the Transfer of Property Act certainly apply to the Punjab but in order to take advantage of the provisions of the Act it is necessary to show that a principle has been transgressed as opposed to the non-observances of prescribed formalities. (Harrison and Zafar Ali, JJ) JHUMAN v. DUBA 4 Lah. 439 : 1923 Lah. 646.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882).

———Applicability to the Punjab.

Such sections of the Act as lay down principles of law consonant with the principles of equity, justice and good conscience should be followed by the Courts of the Punjab. S 114 embodies such a principle (Fenton, F. C.) AZIZ-UD-DIN v. BHAGWAN DAS. 17 I.C. 991 : 6 P.R 1912 Rev : 36 P.L R. 1913.

———Mortgage—Redemption—Mortgagee becoming a part owner—Form of decree.

Although it is true that the appellants mortgagees have no right to retain possession after the tender and should be made accountable on that basis, having regard to practical convenience and the scheme of the Transfer of Property Act the proper course in a case where mortgagee has become an owner of some of the suit properties would be to determine the amount of the mortgage-debt for which the properties purchased by the appellants are liable and to finally settle the questions arising between the parties so as to obviate the necessity for a fresh suit. (Krishnan and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) TADEPALLE SUBBA RAO GARU v. SRI BALUSU BUCHI SARVARAYADU. 44 M.L.J. 534 : 18 L.W. 61 : (1923) M.W.N. 533 : 1923 M. 533.

———Applicability only to transfer inter vivos.

Per Kumaraswamy Sastry, J:—The T. P. Act applies only to alienation inter vivos and has no application to disposal of property by will. (Schwabe, C.J., Coutts Trotter and Kumaraswamy Sastri, JJ.) RAJA OF BADRACHALAM v VENKATDRI APPA RAO 43 M.L.J. 486 : (1922) M.W N 532 : 16 L. W. 369 : 31 M.L.T 221 : 46 M. 190 : 1922 Mad. 457 (H.C.)

———Sale by mortgagor—Title of purchaser.

A bona fide purchaser of hypothecated goods without notice of the encumbrance takes the goods free of the encumbrance. (Phillips and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) SREERAM v. VENKAT RAMIAH. 42 Mad. 59 : 35 M.L.J. 450 : 8 L.W. 517 : (1918) M.W.N. 718 : 47 I.C. 976 : 24 M. L T. 454.

———Not exhaustive—Transfer by award.

The T. P. Act is not exhaustive of all modes of transfer and does not deal with transfer by an award. If a transfer of property does not come within the special modes discussed in the Act, the conditions as to writing and registration prescribed therein have no application. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) AMIR BIBI v. AROKIAM.

45 I.C. 813 : 34 M L J. 184.

——Applicability of, to Berar.

Although the Transfer of Property Act did not apply to Berar in 1902 yet the principle embodied in that Act would be applicable as principles of equity, justice and good conscience. Consequently the Court could extend the time for payment under a mortgage in the exercise of its equitable jurisdiction. (Kotwal, A. J C.) KISHAN LAL v. ABDULLA. 1923 Nag. 88.

——Transfer by full owner—How effected.

A full owner only can transfer either by sale or gift and such transfer can only be effected by a registered instrument. (Mittra, A. J. C.) UDEBHAN v. RANGA RAO. 59 I. C. 451.

——Applicability.

Where foreclosure proceedings had been taken under Regn., (XVII of 1806), the Transfer of Property Act will not apply to such proceedings, though the year of grace expires only after the Transfer of Property Act comes into force. (Batten, A. J. C.) BAJIRAO v. GULAB SINGH.
17 I.C. 141 : 8 N.L.R. 136.

——Extinction of—Mortgage—Merger.

Where a prior mortgagee gets a pre emption decree against the subsequent mortgagee on the ground that the subsequent mortgage is really a sale, there is a merger, and he cannot sue for the balance. (Kanhaiya Lal A. J. C.) ARJUN PRASAD v. LAIQ SINGH. 35 I.C. 845 : 3 O.L.J. 276.

——Homestead land tenancy—Presumption as to transferability—Long-continued possession—Burden of proof.

The presumption in case of tenancies of homestead lands originating prior to the Act is that they are non-transferable, the burden of proof being on the tenant. The exception is where there has been an erection of pakka buildings on a standing by on the part of the landlord when the tenant spent large sums of money. Mere long continued possession cannot give rise to a presumption of transferability. (Mullick and Kingsford, JJ.) AMBICA PRASAD SINGH v. BALDEO LAL. 36 I C. 126 : 20 C.W N 1113 : 1 Pat. L J. 253 : 2 Pat. L.W. 417.

——S. 2—Not retrospective.

The provisions of the T. P. Act are not retrospective, but the principle of S. 111 (g) of the Act applies as a rule of justice, equity and good conscience to a lease transaction before the T. P. Act. (Lord Phillimore) MAHARAJA OF JEYPORE v. RUKHMINI PATTAMAHADEVI.
42 Mad. 589 : 7 A.L.J 552 : 29 C.L.J. 528: 50 I.C. 631: 21 Bom. L.R. 655 : (1919) M W.N. 271 : 23 C.W.N 889 : 26 M.L.T. 16: 10 L.W. 381 : 36 M.L.J. 543. (P.C.)

——Ss. 2 and 9—Writing—Usufructuary mortgage—Before the T. P. Act.

For a usufructuary mortgage in the mufassal executed before the T. P. Act, writing is not essential. The delivery of possession is sufficient. (Mr. Ameer Ali) AHMED RAZA v ABID HUSSAIN.

38 All. 494 : 43 I. A 264 :18 Bom. L. R. 904: 14 A. L. J. 1099 : 20 M L T. 447 : 24 C. L. J. 504 : 21 C. W. N. 265 : 5 L. W. 153 : 1 Pat. L. W. 90 : 39 I. C. 11 : (1916) 2 M.W.N. 548 (P.C.).

——Ss. 2, 89 and 90—Mortgage decree before the Act.

The T. P. Act is not applicable to a mortgage decree passed before that Act began to operate but the instalments payable under which were due after it came into force. (Heaton and Shah, JJ.) DINU YESU v. SHRIPAD BAJI GARWARE.
43 Bom. 703 : 52 I. C 466 : 21 Bom. L. R. 720.

——Ss. 2 and 123—Rajinama by Khatidar—Registration.

A rajinama by a Khatidar of unalienated lands, subject to S. 74, Bombay Land Revenue Code abandoning his rights to another, subject to the payment of revenue need not be registered under S. 90, Registration Act. (Scott, C. J. and Heaton, J.) MOTIBHAI JIJIBHAI v. DESAIBHAI GOKALBHAI. 41 Bom. 170 : 38 I. C. 838 : 18 Bom. L. R. 976.

——S. 2, Cl. (b)—Rights of mortgagee.

The T. P. Act is not a consolidating Act and the right of the mortgagee to a general account of the moneys due to him under the mortgage is saved by S. 2, Cl. (b). (Bakewell J.) VARADARAJULU CHETTY v. DHANALAKSHMI AMMAL.
26 I. C. 184 : 16 M L. T. 365.

——Ss. 2 (c) and 108 (j)—Lease from year to year in existence from before 1882—Transferability—Custom.

A lease of homestead land from year to year created before the passing of the T. P. Act is not governed by the Act and S. 108 (j) does not make it transferable absolutely or by sub-lease Such leases are transferable by custom. (N. R. Chatterjee and Mullick, JJ.) ANANDA MOHAN SAHA v. GOBINDA CHANDRA RAY CHOWDHURY.
33 I. C. 565 : 20 C. W. N. 322.

——S. 2 (c)—Legal relation before the Act—Right arising out of.

In order to be entitled to the benefit of S. 2 (c) it must be shown that the right, as it exists now arise out of a legal relation constituted before the Act. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) DURGI NIKARINI v. GOBERDHAN BOSE.
20 C. L. J. 448 : 24 I. C. 183 : 19 C. W. N. 525.

——S 2 (c) and 108 (j)—Homestead land—non-transferable.

Homestead which is non-transferable is not rendered transferable by the operation of S. 108 (j) of the T P. Act. (Holmwood and Sharfuddin, JJ.) UMAKANTA SAHA v. KASHIRAM BANIA.
23 I C. 246.

——Ss. 2, (c) and 111, (d)—Patni and Mokarari interests—Mokarari created before T. P. Act—Merger

Where two interests in a zemindari land Patni and Mokarari, are acquired by the same person piece-meal at different times and the interests both vest in him and are kept alive and separate there is a merger of the two under the terms of the Transfer of Property Act, S. 111, Cl. (d); there can, however, be no merger apart from the above provisions. (Fletcher and Chatterjee, JJ.) HIRENDRA NATH DUTT v HARI MOHAN GHOSE. 22 I. C. 966 : 18 C. W. N. 860.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 2.

——S. 2 (c) –Mortgage before 1882—Attestation.

No attestation is required for a mortgage deed executed before the T. P. Act. (D. Chatterjee and Teunon, JJ.) JATTO KAR v. MUKUND DEB. 39 Cal. 227 : 14 C. L. J. 369 : 11 I. C. 884 : 16 C. W. N. 129.

——Ss. 2 (c) and 67—Suit after the Act.

When a suit on a mortgage executed before the passing of the T. P. Act, is filed after the enactment of the T. P. Act, the remedy given by S. 67 of that Act could be availed of by the parties to the document and there is nothing in S 2, Cl. (c) to disentitle the parties from seeking the relief. 11 Cal. 582; 12 Cal. 583, 10 Mad. 129; 13 All. 432; 6 All. 262 ; 16 Cal. 693, Foll. The right to relief arising from a certain relation existing between parties is a matter of adjective law and consequently the parties are entitled, where a new remedy has been provided by a new Act at the time when the relation subsists to take advantage of that remedy in a Court of Law. 11 Cal. 582 and 12 Cal. 583, Foll. (Coutts Trotter and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) BIKKINA RAMAYYA v. ADABALA SESHAYYA 34 I. C 475 : 30 M. L. J 336.

——S. 2 (e)—Equitable mortgage effected before extension of the Act to Burma—Assignment of—Validity.

An equitable mortgage made prior to 1st Jan. 1905 can be assigned by deposit in the district after that date. 4 I. C. 288, Foll. The parties could make the mortgage into one bearing compound interest, by an oral agreement subsequent to 1st Jan, 1905. (Ormond and Parlett. JJ.) KO KYO v. A. K. CURPEN CHETTY. 24 I C. 700 : 7 Bur. L. T. 140.

——S. 3 –

Actionable Claim.
Immoveable property.
Notice.

Actionable Claim.

——S. 3— Actionable claim — Insurance money.

Assignment of moneys due under Life Insurance policy by way of charge must be in writing. (Lord Moulton). MULRAJ KHATAN v. VISHWANATH. 37 Bom. 198 : 40 I. A. 24 (1912) M. W N. 1247 : 12 M. L. T. 652 : 11 A. L. J 7 : 17 C. W. N. 209 : 15 Bom. L. R. 9 : 17 C. L. J. 162 : 17 I. C. 627 : 24 M L. J. 60. (P C.)

——Ss. 3 and 133—Actionable claim—Life Policy—Charge—Assignment—Effect.

In an ordinary life insurance policy, the Insurance Company is a debtor in respect of the policy moneys which is a debt within the meaning of S. 3 though conditional and contingent. (Scott, C. J. and Batchelor, J.) VISHVANATH v. MULRAJ. 11 I. C. 964 : 13 Bom. L. R. 590.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S, 3—Immoveable Property.

——Ss. 3 and 130—Actionable claim—Right to sue for damages for breach of contract.

A right to sue for damages for breach of contract is not an actionable claim and cannot be transferred. (Kensington, C. J. and Chevis, J.) JANGLI MAL v. PIONEER FLOUR MILLS. 106 P. R. 1914 : 27 I. C. 115 : 242 P. L. R. 1915.

——Ss. 3, and 130—Actionable claim—Book debt is an—Delivery is necessary.

A book debt is an actionable claim, and to render a gift thereof complete, delivery is not necessary. Where a deed purports to assign by way of gift a mortgage and book-debts and is unregistered it is inoperative as regards the mortgage but is effectual as to the book debts. (Wallis, C. J and Hughes, J.) PERUMAL AMMAL v. PERUMAL NAIKER. 44 Mad. 196 : 13 L. W. 69 : (1921) M. W. N. 5 : 61 I. C. 461 : 10 M. L. J. 25.

——S. 3—Actionable claim—Right to recover goods sent or to claim damages therefor does not amount to.

S. 3 of T. P. Act does not warrant a claim to recover goods lent or damages for to breach of contract for failure to return them. It is a mere right to sue within S. 6 (e) of the Act and is not transferable. (Batten, J. C.) MT. NAKHOLA v. KOKAYA. 1923 N. 61.

Immoveable property.

——S. 3—Immoveable property—Fruit trees.

Unless it is proved that the character of fruit trees is of growing timber, such trees are immoveable property. (Rafique, J.) KHATWAR CHAMAR v. RAM ADHIN UPADHIA. 17 I. C. 910 : 10 A. L. J. 516.

——Ss. 3 and 59— Immoveable property—Standing trees.

Standing trees are not immoveable property and therefore S. 59 has no application to the hypothecation of trees. (Karamat Husain, J.) MANGAL SEN v. NAULI 9 I. C 478.

——S. 3—Immoveable property—Trees.

Trees, other than fruit trees or other forest produce are standing timber and hence fall under moveable property ; so a contract to cut such trees is not a transfer of an interest in immoveable property (Scott, C. J. and Rao, J.) ALI SAHIB BABA DIWAKAR v. MOHIDIN SADIK PATIL. 12 I. C. 375 : 13 Bom. L. R. 874.

——S. 3—Immoveable property— Mortgage debt.

A mortgage debt is immoveable property for purposes of the T P. Act and for a transfer of such a debt where the right, title or interest transferred by an instrument in writing exceeds Rs. 100, registration is necessary. (Richardson and Beachcroft, JJ.) SAKHIUDDIN SAHA v. SONAULLA SARKAR. 27 C. L. J. 453 : 45 I. C 986 : 22 C. W. N. 641.

——S. 3—Immoveable property--Non-proprietary resident of house—Materials of standing house—Not moveables—Limitation.

A non-proprietary resident is the owner of the materials of his house and his rights in them are not temporary rights and the house is not moveable property, and the period of limitation for recovery is twelve years. (Martineau, J.) SHANCHI KHAN v KARAM CHAND.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 3—Immoveable Property.

1923 Lah. 150 (2).

——Ss. 3 and 54—Immoveable property—Mortgage debt.

A mortgage debt is not immoveable property and its transfer does not require registration. (Wallis, J.) DWARAKA DOSS v. DANAKOTI AMMAL.

23 I. C. 129: 15 M. L. T. 198.

——S. 3—Immoveable property—Doors and windows.

The doors and windows of a house are not moveable property. 11 Cal. 164 ; 13 Mad. 518 ; 14 Mad. 467. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) IBRAHIM SAHIB v. ARUMUGATHAYEE.

16 I. C. 877 : 38 Mad. 18.

——S. 3—Immoveable property—Mortgage debt—Attachment.

A simple mortgage has to be attached as a debt under O. 21, R. 46 and not as immoveable property under O. 21, R. 54, C. P. Code. 37 Mad. 51 ; 26 Bom. 305 , 20 Cal. 805 ; Rel (Kanhaiya Lal and Daniels, A.J.Cs.) SHAHA MOHAMMAD YUSUF v. LACHMI NARAIN.

6 O. L. J. 49 : 50 I. C. 157 : 21 O. C. 400.

——Ss. 3 and 58—Immoveable property—Royalty—Commission— Interest in immoveable property—Mortgage—Attestation.

Royalty is in reality the price paid for a portion of the soil, the payment whereof is distributed over a number of years. An interest in a royalty is not an interest in immoveable property and a mortgage of the interest does not require attestation. (Das and Adami, JJ.) KRISHNA KISHORE ADHIKARY v. THE KUSUNDA NYADI COLLIERIES, LTD.

1922 P. 36.

——S. 3—Immoveable property —Fishery right.

Exclusive fishery rights do not give occupancy right but where part of a holding is under water, occupancy right in the entire holding may be acquired. (B. K. Mullick and Ross, JJ.) MESSRS HENRY HILL & CO. v. SHEO RAJ RAY.

3 P. L. T. 53 : 1922 Pat 195 : 1922 P. 9.

——S. 3—Immoveable property—Trees.

A claim for possession of trees is a claim to an interest in immoveable property. (Coutts and Macpherson, JJ.) BENI PRASAD v. SURAJ SINGH

63 I. C. 264 : 2 Pat. L. T. 622.

Notice.

——Ss. 3 and 79—Notice—Absence of enquiry.

If a mortgagee taking a mortgage in a place where he knows that mortgages by deposit of title deeds are legal and usual does not ascertain whether the title deeds were already pledged, his failure so to ascertain is such abstention from an enquiry which he ought to have made or such negligence as to infer notice in terms of section 3. (Lord Dunedin) The IMPERIAL BANK OF INDIA v. U RAIBAYW THU & CO. LTD.

1 Rang. 637 : 21 A. L. J. 784 : 25 Bom. L. R. 1279 : 9 O. and A. L. R. 937 : 33 M. L. T. 395 : 2 Bur. L. J. 254 : 50 I. A. 283 : 45 M. L. J. 505 : (1923) M. W. N. 609 : 1923 P. C. 211 (P. C.).

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 3—Notice.

——S. 3—Notice—Registration.

A mortgagor effected certain alienations by registered instruments after a decree in 1898 but before a sale by him to another with the permission of the Court in 1905 : held, that the registration was sufficient notice against the purchaser of 1905. (Richards, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) ADAUKI TELI v. MOTIJAY.

16 I. C. 102 : 9 A. L. J. 759.

——S. 3—Notice—Attestation is not notice of contents.

An attesting witness need not as such be considered as being aware of the contents of the documents he attests. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) TALAK CHAND BHERAJI v. ATMARAM KESHAV VAIDYA.

25 Bom. L. R 818 : 1924 Bom. 58.

——S. 3—Notice—Registration.

Registration of a document is not invariably sufficient to fix a man with notice. If the property affected by the registration is referred to in the index register then a person affected by it may be said to have constructive notice of it. (Macleod, C. J. and Heaton, J.) GOVARDHANDAS v. MOHANLAL

22 Bom. L. R. 1158 : 59 I. C. 506 : 45 B. 170.

——S 3—Notice— Registration —Search in registry.

Registration by itself does not amount to notice in Bengal. The making of a search at the registry for a document does not raise an inferential presumption of notice in any case under S. 3 of the T. P. Act and it is open to a party making the search to show that in fact he had no notice. 16 I. C. 618 Expl. (Holmwood and Imam, JJ) NANDA LAL ROY v. ABDUL AZIZ.

34 I.C. 115 : 43 Cal. 1052.

——S. 3—Notice—Constructive—Involuntary sale—Doctrine, if applicable.

Where a purchaser should and could have ascertained before his purchase the true state of affairs as to the charge upon the property purchased by him, he is in the same position as if he had made such inquiry and the purchasers from him are in no higher position, if they could have, by enquiry, before they acquired title, ascertained the fact, but to a purchaser acquiring title under an involuntary alienation constructive notice cannot be imputed to the same extent as to a private purchaser. A purchaser without notice from a person who had notice is protected. A purchaser with notice may shelter himself under the title of the person from whom he purchased if the latter could successfully raise the defence of want of notice. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) AKSHOY KUMAR BANERJEE v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA.

42 Cal. 625 : 19 C. W. N. 37 : 27 I. C. 261 : 21 C. L. J. 177.

——S. 3—Notice—Terms of lease.

Notice of a lease is notice as to its terms. (Fletcher and Chatterjee, JJ.) BENGAL COAL CO., LTD v. RAJENDRA LAL MITRA.

21 I. C. 920 : 18 C. W. N. 420.

——S. 3—Notice—Registration.

Notice of a book amounts to notice of its contents. Search of a register amounts to a knowledge of all its contents, though the person making the search was unsuccessful in finding a particular document therein, if it was in the register. (Chatterjee and Richardson, JJ.) AKHOY KUMARI DEBI v. KANAI LAL KUNDU.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 3—Notice.

16 I. C. 618 : 17 C. W. N. 224.

——S. 3—Notice—Possession.

It may be conceded that whatever puts a party on inquiry amounts to notice in law. provided the inquiry becomes a duty and would lead to a knowledge of the facts by the exercise of ordinary intelligence and understanding. If a person is in possession it may be sufficient to put one dealing with the property on enquiry as to the nature and extent of his interest. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) RADHA MADHAB PAIKARA v. KALPATARU ROY.
16 I. C. 811 : 17 C. L. J. 209.

——S. 3—Notice—Registration is constructive notice.

The registration of an instrument is constructive notice of its contents. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Harrison, J.) MT. MALAN v. TARA SINGH.
4 L. L. J. 23 : 1922 Lah. 64.

——S. 3—Notice, possession is.

A subsequent purchaser alleging want of notice and basing his claim thereon must enquire into the title of a tenant in possession. (Wilberforce and Abdul Quadir, JJ.) ARURA v. GEHNA.
3 Lah L.J. 447.

——S. 3—Notice—Possession.

Pessession amounts to notice of such title as the person in possession may have and any other person who takes a mortgage on other charge upon or purchases immoveable property without ascertaining the nature of the claim of the person in possession does so at his own cost. 27 Bom. 452 ; 27 Bom 408 ; 35 Bom. 269 ; 56 P. R. 1900, Foll. (Scott Smith, J.) ABDULLA v. MOHOMED SHA.
2 Lah. L. J. 720.

——S. 3—Notice—Registration, if constructive notice.

In the circumstances of this case registration was held to be constructive notice and that but for the deft's wilful abstention from enquiry he must have known all the conditions regarding the prohibition to erect a balcony which were contained in the deed of sale to the plff. (Leslie Jones, J.) RAM SINGH v. RAM SINGH.
39 I. C. 778 : 48 P. W. R. 1917.

——S. 3—Notice—Registration.

The doctrine of constructive notice by registration does not arise in a case where a person sought to have had notice by it, is not obliged by law to make a search in the registry office (Scott Smith, J.) UMRAO SINGH v. LACHMI NARAYAN.
25 P. L R 1917 : 39 I. C. 762 : 19 P. W. R. 1917.

——S. 3—Notice—Registration.

Registration is notice to subsequent dealers with the property. 15 Mad. 268, Diss. (Johnstone and Rattigan, JJ.) ALLIANCE BANK v. KAHAN SINGH.
4 P. R. 1915 : 111 P. W. R. 1914 : 25 I. C. 856 : 216 P. L. R. 1914.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 3—Notice.

——S 3—Notice—Registration.

The residence of a person at the place where the deed was registered is insufficient to fix him with notice thereof (Scott Smith and Shadi Lal JJ.) HIRA LAL v. CHANAN KHAN.
98 P. W. R. 1914 : 25 I. C. 658 : 199 P. L. R. 1914.

——S. 3—Notice—Constructive notice—Occupation of portion of the property—Effect of.

A person who has acquired a property under a voidable title can himself give a good title to the property to a bona fide purchaser or mortgagee from him, who dealt with for value and has no notice of the defects in title. Under S. 3 of the T. P. Act constructive notice of all the rights of a person in possession of property sold or mortgaged is to be imputed to purchasers or mortgagees who made no enquiry of the persons in occupation. The rule is based on the principle that where another is in exclusive possession would prima facie be inconsistent with the full rights of ownership of the vendor or mortgagor and purchaser or mortgagor does not choose to ask what that possession is ; he must be taken to have got the information that he would have obtained if he had asked. But the unknown occupation of a part of the premises by a tenant or other person does not put the purchaser or mortgagee on enquiry as to the possible rights of the occupier of the portion over the remainder of the premises. Hunt v. Luck (1901) 1 Ch. 45 Hunter v. Wallers L. R. 7 Ch. 75: 35 B. 342 Ref (Schwabe C. J. and Wallace, J.) PARTHASARATHY IYER v. SUBBARAYA GRAMANY.
45 M. L J. 175 : 17 L. W. 763 : 1924 Mad. 67.

——S. 3—Notice—Constructive.

Constructive notice under S. 3 includes cases of gross negligence in making further enquiry about facts of which a person has actual notice and a wilful abstention from enquiry for the very purpose of avoiding notice. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Moore, JJ.) PUTHEN PURAYIL v. KANDIYAL.
(1916) 2 M. W. N. 31 : 34 I. C. 906 : 20 M. L. T. 127.

——S. 3—Notice—Registration is not.

Registration doses not operate as constructive notice and the purchaser from an ostensible owner whose title deeds are themselves complete is not bound to search the registration office to see if the original owner may not have given a title to somebody else. (Batten, J.C.) MT. KASTURI BIBI v. BALIRAM.
1923 Nag. 15.

——S. 3—Notice—Constructive.

Where a subsequent mortgagee had knowledge of the prior mortgage and also of the sale to the prior mortgagee, of the share belonging to the mortgagor's brother and terms of his own mortgage were such as to make that mortgage well nigh irredeemable, these circumstances could not be regarded as sufficient proof of notice that the subsequent mortgagee had notice of a contract of sale between the mortgagor and the prior mortgagee. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) RAM BHAJAH v. SHEO DARSHAN SINGH.
34 I. C. 396 : 3 O. L. J. 162.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882). S. 3—Notice.

——— S. 3—Notice—Registration— Erroneous description of the property.

In order to bind the subsequent transferees with a prior lien, the law of registration has been enacted so that the subsequent transferee may have an opportunity to ascertain whether the property transferred to them was subject to any prior encumbrance or not, and once that prior encumbrance is effected by means of a registered instrument, the subsequent transferees are presumed to have notice of the same and are in law bound by it. A mere misdescription of the property dealt with, will not take away the jurisdiction of the Registrar to register the same if he was otherwise empowered to do so under the Act. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.). MT WAJIHUNNISSA BEGAM v. VALMIKI SAHAY.
1 Pat. L. R. 80 : 1924 P. 359.

——— S. 3—Notice—Registration

Registration amounts to notice (Maung Kin, J.) AUNG KAING SAING v. MAUNG SAN 1 Bur. L. J. 204 : 1923 R. 41 (2).

——— S. 3—Notice—Possession of third person.

A person purchasing immoveable property in the possession of a person other than the vendor must be held to have constructive notice of the right of the possessor. (Maung Kin, J.) MAUNG KYI NYO v. MAUNG AUNG THA.
41 I. C. 628.

——— S. 3—Notice—Possession of stranger.

A purchaser of immoveable property in the possession of a third person is presumed to have notice of the title of such third person. (Maung Kin, J.) MAUNG BO v. MAUNG TUN BYU.
33 I. C. 121.

——— S. 4—Registration Act Ss. 17, 49—Construction—Unregistered sale deed for less than Rs. 100—Inadmissible in evidence.

Beaman, J.—Sec. 4 can properly be annexed to S. 17 Reg. Act the legal consequences become apparent, for then any unregistered deed of sale of immoveable property below the value of Rs 100 would not only not be effectual to transfer the property but would also fall within the comprehensive and stringent prohibition of S. 49. (Macleod, and Beaman, JJ.) DAWAL PIRAN SHAHA v. DHARMA RAJARAM. 19 Bom. L. R. 622 : 41 I. C. 273 : 41 B. 550.

——— Ss. 4 and 137—Contract Act.

Section 137 is to be taken as part of the Contract Act, (1872) (Scott, C. J. and Chandavarkar, J.) AMARCHANDA & CO. RAMDASS PURBAR.
38 Bom. 255 : 21 I. C. 343 : 15 Bom. L. R. 890.

——— Ss. 4 and 107—Registration Act, Ss. 17 and 49—Unregistered lease for less than a year —Admissibility.

S. 107 of the T. P. Act cannot be taken to have been inserted in S. 17 of the Registration Act and an unregistered lease deed for less than one year is not a document required to be registered under S. 17 and S. 49 of the Act can have no application to it. (Wallis, C. J. Ayling and Krishnan, JJ.) RAMA SAHU v. GOWRO RATHO.
44 Mad. 55 : (1920) M. W. N. 711 : 12 L. W 649 : 39 M. L. J 639 : 59 I. C. 350 : 29 M. L. T. 10 (F. B.)

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 5.

——— Ss. 4 and 107—Agreement to lease—Registration—Necessity for—Contract—Construction

The only effect of the provision in section 4 of the Transfer of Property Act that section 107 shall be read as supplemental to the Registration Act (i.e.) to section 17 of the Registration Act is that the provision (that leases of immoveable property from year to year or for any term exceeding one year or reserving a yearly rent shall be registered) contained in section 17 of the Registration Act shall be read as amplified by the proviso to section 107 of the Transfer of Property Act. It has not the effect of requiring the Court to construe the word "lease" in section 107 of the Transfer of Property Act in the wider sense in which it is defined in the Registration Act. The question whether a contract is to be construed as a lease or merely as an agreement to lease must be gathered from the terms of the whole document and where a contract operates as an actual demise it must be deemed to be a lease. (Ashworth, J. C.) MAHOMED ALI v. SYED HASAN JAFAR.
10 O. L. J. 109 : 1923 Oudh 237.

——— S. 5—"Transfer of property"—Definition not applicable to Pres. Town. Ins Act.

The definition of "transfer of property" in S. 5 of the Transfer of Property Act does not apply to transfers contemplated by the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act. (Marten, J.) MAHOMED HASHAM & CO. In re. 1923 Bom. 107.

——— Ss. 5, 54 and 118—Consideration—Exchange.

A purchaser of property paying mortgage charges in respect of the property purchased cannot be said to have paid purchase money by such payment. When the sale was for a definite account in exchange of properties payment of a small amount of money by one for adjusting values does not make the transaction a sale. (Rattigan, J.) FUAZI v. SHARFA.
100 P. W. R. 1913 : 19 I. C. 301 : 199 P. L. R. 1913.

——— S. 5—Mutual relinquishment admission of claim.

Where a transaction can only be regarded as a mutual relinquishment and admission of claim by all the parties, it cannot come within any of the class of transfers defaulted with by the Transfer of Property Act. 33 A 356 referred to. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) JAINNABI v. GHULAM MOHIUDDIN.
1923 Nag 55 (2).

——— S. 5—Transfer—Validity—Essentials.

A person acquiring another's rights by transfer must acquire it by a valid transfer from the original owner of the right or by operation of law. (Drake-Brockman, J. C.) GANPATA v. TRIMBAK. 19 I. C. 759 : 9 N. L. R. 54.

——— S. 5—Transfer by sale to minor if valid.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 6.

The definition of the expression "Transfer of property" contained in S 5 of the Transfer of Property Act does not import any disqualification on the part of a minor to acquire property by a transfer. (Lindsay, J. C. and Kanhaiya Lal. A.J. C.) RAGHUNATH BAKSH v. MUHAMMAD BAKSH.
2 O. L. J. 200 : 30 I. C. 200 : 18 O. C. 115.

——— ——S. 6—

Easement.
Mere Possibility.
Mere Rights to Sue.
Non-transferable Right.
Personal Right.
Public Officer.
Right of re entry.
Rights in future.
Scope of.
Unlawful object.

Easement.

——— ——S. 6 (c)—Easement—"Easements in gross".

S 6 of the T. P. Act merely expresses the rule that there cannot be an "easement in gross". (Chatterjee and Richardson, JJ.) SITAL CHANDRA CHAUDHURY v. ALLEN J DELANVEY.
34 I. C. 450 : 20 C. W. N. 1158.

——— ——S. 6 (c), (d)—Easement—Natural rights—Waiver—Release.

It is only a transfer to a stranger of natural rights which carry with them obligation to third parties that could not be assigned under the law, but a man is entitled to waive or release any rights in property belonging to himself. (Sadasiva Iyer and Napier, JJ.) THANGAVELU PILLAI v. DORAISWAMY PILLAI 26 I C. 211 : 16 M. L. T. 393 : 27 M L.J. 272.

———S. 6 (c)—Easement—Kumaki rights—Transfer of.

Kumaki lands are waste lands adjoining warg lands, and a kumaki privilege is the right which the ryot, holding the warg land has to collect leaves for manure, and to pasture his cattle as an assistance to the cultivation of the warg land. 28 Mad. 257. Ref. These kumaki privileges are extinguishable by Government which may assign the land over which they are exercised to another person than the holder. 12 Mad. 422 ; 28 Mad. 527, Ref. The kumaki right is essentially in the nature of a right by way of easement as defined in S 4 of the Easements Act and is governed by the principle of S. 6 (c) of the T. P. Act. The kumaki rights are not rights "in gross" but only rights "appendant" and cannot be transferred except with land for which they exist. 16 Mad. 304, Expl. (White, C. J. and Ayling, J.) MATILDA FERMANDEZ BAI v. ALEX PINTO. 15 I. C. 278.

Mere Possibility.

———Ss. 6 (a) and 43—Mere possibility—Hindu reversioner—Joint in conveyance by limited owner.

A Hindu reversioner's joining in a conveyance by a Hindu limited owner is wholly futile for he has a mere spes successionis. On the death of the limited owner the reversioner is not estopped from claiming properties as heir. (Mr. Ameer Ali.) GUAR NARAIN v. SHEO LAL SINGH.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 6—Mere possibility.

46 Cal. 566 : 17 A L. J 66 : 9 L. W 335 : 28 C. W. N. 521 : 49 I. C. 1 : 1 U. P. L. R. (P. C.) 1 : 36 M. L. J. 68 (P. C.)

——— ——S. 6 (a)—Mere pessibility—Hindu reversioner—Interest of.

The interest of a Hindu reversioner during the lifetime of the limited owner is a mere spes successionis and it is not open to him or to his guardian, if he is a minor, to bargain with it or bind himself by an agreement in respect thereto. Such a dealing with the estate is void and not be binding on him when the succession opens. (Mr. Ameer Ali.) AMRIT NARAYAN SINGH v. GAYA SINGH. 45 Cal. 590 : 45 I. A. 35 : 23 M. L. T. 142 : 22 C. W. N. 409 : 27 C. L. J. 296 : 4 Pat. L. W. 221 : 16 A L. J. 265 : (1918) M. W. N. 306 : 7 L. W. 581 : 44 I. C. 408 : 20 Bom. L R. 546 : 34 M. L. J. 298 (P. C.).

——— ——S. 6—Mere possibility — Reversioner's rights.

Hindu daughter cannot bargain among her son's right as a reversioner. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) NARAIN SINGH v. RAJ KUMAR SINGH.
20 A L. J. 251 : 44 A. 428 : L. R. 3 A. 229 : 1922 All. 217.

——— ——S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility—Family settlement—Spes successionis—Dispute as to.

S. 6 does not impose any statutory prohibition against the formation of contracts relating to specified subjects as though they were contrary to public policy and forbidden. S. 6 of the T. P. Act has no application to a bona fide settlement of a right to succeed to properties of a deceased person among the rival competitors. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) CHABLI v. PARMAL.
41 All. 611 : 1 U. P. L. R. (H. C.) 91 : 51 I. C. 919 : 17 A. L. J. 822.

——— S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility—Adoption by widow — Agreement postponing son's estate during widow's life-time—Transfer by adopted son.

Where under an agreement with a Hindu widow adopting a boy the latter's right to possession and enjoyment of the properties were postponed to the death of the widow, Held, that the interest of the adopted son was not a mere possibility of mere succession to the estate after the death of the widow but it was a vested right, the right of enjoyment and possession being only postponed, and that the sale was unaffected by the provisions of S. 6 (a) of the T. P. Act. (Tudball and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) BALWANT SINGH v. JOTI PRASAD. 40 All. 692 : 47 I. C. 599 : 16 A. L. J. 765.

——— S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility—Relinguishment—Settlement of disputed reversionary claim—Validity.

A settlement of disputed claim to a reversionary estate by two claimants by virtue of which one gives up his right on receipt of a sum of money is not void under S 6. (Banerji and Walsh, JJ.) BARATILAL v. SALIGRAM. 38 All. 107 : 31 I. C. 919 : 13 A. L. J. 1141.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 6 - Mere possibility.

——— S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility—Contract regarding.

If a person contracts for good consideration not to claim a share in a property in the event of his succeeding to it, on the death of a person then living, there is nothing illegal in it and it does not come within S. 6, T. P. Act. (Richards, C. J. and Banerji, J.) MOHAMMAD HASHMAT ALI v. KANIZ FATIMA. 27 I. C. 701 : 13 A. L. J. 110

——— S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility—Co-parcenary right.

Agreement between certain Hindu brothers that on the death of any one of them without issue his share should go to the other brothers is not obnoxious to S 6. (Stanley, C. J. and Banerji, J.) KANTEE CHANDRA v. ALI NABI. 33 All. 414 : 9 I. C. 935 : 8 A. L. J. 199.

——— S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility.

S. 6 does not prohibit an agreement by an heir expectant to divide property in a particular way on the happening of a contingency. 18 Cal. 138. Foll. (Stanley, C. J. and Banerji, J.) NASIRUL HAQ v. FYAZUL RAHMAN. 33 All. 457 : 9 I. C. 530 : 8 A. L. J. 275.

——— S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility—Hindu reversioner—Interest of—Not transferable.

It is not competent to a Hindu reversioner to relinquish or transfer his interest to any one during the lifetime of the widow. If he purports to relinquish his interest in favour of the widow, her interest is not in any way enlarged. (Macleod, C. J and Coyajee, J.) DAYARAM PREMJI v. BECHARDAS. 24 Bom. L. R. 351 : 1922 Bom. 437.

——— S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility—Mother's estate—Right of sons to share in, cannot be transferred.

Semble : The right of sons to get share in the mother's estate is only a spes successionis within the meaning of S. 6 (a) and as such cannot be relinquished. (Rankin, J.) SHASHI BUSAN SHAW v. HARI NARAIN SHAW 48 Cal 1059 : 66 I. C. 705 : 25 C. W. N. 990

——— S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility—Reversioner—Interest of—Spes successionis—Transferability.

The interest of a Hindu reversioner is a mere spes successionis or a chance of succession and it is inalienable under S. 6(a) of the Act, neither is it devisable or transmissible by inheritance as it lacks the fundamental characteristic of the juristic concept of ownership as understood by Hindu Law (Mookerjee, C. J and Fletcher, J.) ANNADA MOHAN v GOUR MOHAN. 48 Cal. 536 : 25 C. W. N. 496 : 65 I. C. 27 : 33 C. L. J. 457.

——— S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility—Reversioner.

A reversionary heir has under the Hindu Law a mere spes successionis which he cannot transfer validly. (Richardson and Walmsley, JJ.) SHYAMDAS ROY v. RADHIKAPROSAD. 22 C. W. N 486 : 47 I. C. 853 : 29 C L. J. 24.

——— S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility—Hindu temple—Offerings—Pujari's right—Res extra commercium.

The chance that future worshippers will give offerings to a temple is a mere possibility within S. 6 (a) of the T. P. Act, and cannot be transferred. Such a transfer being prohibited by statute, the transferor is not estopped from questioning its validity. Per Sharfuddin, J.—The right of the Pujari of a Hindu temple to take a share of the offerings is a res extra commercium. 26 Mad. 31, Foll. (Sharfuddin and Coxe, JJ.) PUNCHA THAKUR v. BINDESHRI THAKUR 43 Cal. 28 : 28 I. C. 675 : 19 C. W. N. 580.

——— S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility— Reversioner, interest of—If can be transferred.

The interest of a reversioner under the Punjab Customary Law is no more than a spes successionis and cannot form the subject-matter of a transfer. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Wilberforce, J.) BUTA SINGH v JHANDU. 3 Lah. L. J. 211 : 61 I. C. 375 : 3 U. P. L. R. (Lah.) 49.

——— Ss. 6 (a) and 43—Mere possibility--Transfer of.

An expectant heir who transfers a portion of the property included in the succession which he expects, does transfer only his chance of succession so far as that portion of the property is concerned. S. 6 of the Act does not prohibit the transfer of a spes successionis. It provides that such a transfer cannot be made for the reason that a spes successionis is not property and therefore the execution of a document purporting to transfer the spes successionis purports to transfer property which does not exist. If the transferor afterwards acquires an interest then the transferee would be entitled to the benefit thereof. (Rossignol and Broadway, JJ.) BHAGWATI v. CHAOLI. 55 I. C. 698 : 2 U P. L. R. (Lah.) 79.

——— Ss 6 (a) and 54—Mere possibility—Contract to sell by reversioner—Subsequent sale to third persons—Specific performance.

A Hindu reversioner agreed to sell his reversionary estate, but subsequently sold it to another person. The disappointed vendee brought a suit for possession. Held, that the contract did not create any interest in the property. The only right which the contract gave to the plff. was a right to obtain a conveyance of the land when the reversioner got possession. The plff may be entitled to sue for specific performance on the death of reversioner but he had no cause of action to bring the present suit. 23 Bom. 181, Foll. 13 P. R. 1899, Dist. (Shadi Lal and Martineau, JJ.) ARUR SINGH v. TODAR MAL. 42 I C. 501: 22 P. W. R. 1919.

——— S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility—Reversionary right.

The transfer of the reversionary interest by a reversioner is illegal. 67 P. R. 1909 ; 31 Cal. 433, Foll. (Le Rossignol, J.) DIWAN CHAND v. IMAM DIN. 74 P. W. R. 1917 : 41 I. C. 347: 135 P. L. R. 1917.

——— S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility—Reversionary rights, sale of.

A sale of reversionary rights, though, invalid, can be enforced as an agreement to sell when succession opens out. 66 P. R 1897; 13 P. R. 1899, Rel. (Beadon, J.) ATTARCHAND v UMAR HAYAT. 150 P. W. R. 1913 : 20 I. C. 556: 296 P. L. R. 1913.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 6—Mere possibility.

——S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility— Reversioner —Agreement to divide.

Where the reversioners to an estate in the possession of a Hindu widow agree to divide it in particular shares on her death the agreement is inoperative to confer any right to the property on any of the reversioners. (Wallis, C J. and Spencer, J.) SUBBARAYA GOUNDAN v. MUTHAYAMMAL. 49 I. C. 260: 35 M. L. J. 684.

——S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility—Succession—Right to—Mahomedan Law.

Under the Mahomedan Law, the right of inheritance cannot be renounced or transferred before it vests in the heir. Till then it is a mere expectancy. (Wallis, C. J., Bakewell and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ) ASHA BEEVI v. KARUPPAN CHETTY. 41 Mad 365 : 45 I. C. 35: 7 L. W. 215 : 34 M. L. J. 460.

——S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility under Mahomedan Law.

Per Sadasiva Aiyar, J, contra Spencer, J.—A spes successionis not a right of property under Mahomedan Law and a release of such a right is invalid. 24 M L.J. 258 ; 31 Bom. 165, Foll. 13 A. L. J. 110 ; 19 Mad 176. Expl and Dist. This rule is unaffected by S.6. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) ASA BEEVI v. KARUPPAN CHETTY. 41 I. C. 361.

——S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility— Partition—Agreement that on death of one member his share to pass to survivors—Legality.

A provision in partition deed among brothers that on death of any one of them without male heirs his share must pass to the survivors who should divide it rateably among themselves is not illegal, it is not a transfer of a spes successionis nor is it a restraint upon alienation (Wallis, C.J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) MUTHURAMAN CHETTIAR v. PONNUSWAMI UDAYAR. (1915) M W. N. 405 : 2 L. W. 533 : 18 M. L. T. 124 : 29 I. C. 549: 29 M. L, J. 214

——S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility—Agreement to sell by reversioner of an estate when it falls to him.

A contract by an expectant reversionary heir to an estate to sell the same if and when it devolves on him, is not specifically enforceable. It is void under S. 6 (a) of the T. P. Act as also under S. 23 of the Contract Act. Case-law considered. (Wallis, C. J. and Tyabji, J.) KAKARALAPUDI LAKSHMI NARAYANA v. KANDUKURI VEERA SARABHA. 39 Mad. 554 : 17 M L. T 419 : 28 M. L J. 650 : 29 I. C. 241. (1915) M. W. N. 626 :

——S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility— Hindu widow—Agreement with reversioner to convert expectant rights into vested rights.

A Hindu widow cannot legally enter into an agreement with the expectant reversionary heirs whereby the latter's expectant rights become converted into vested rights. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) PALLA KANAKAMMA v. CHELLA RAMASAMI. 23 I. C. 98 : 1 L W. 237.

——S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility—Relinquishment by Hindu female—Hindu Law—Vested life-interest.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 6—Mere possibility.

A vested life-interest under the Hindu Law is a present interest and is alienable. Where two Hindu female heirs inheirt a life interest in properties under a contract that each of the female heirs gives up in præsenti her lifeinterest in the property falling to the share of the other female heir, such a complete relinquishment is valid and destroys the right of succession by survivorship. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ) SUBBAMMAL v. KRISHNA AIYAR. 22 I. C. 399 : 26 M. L. J. 479.

——S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility—Reversionary right.

The interest of a riversioner is a spes successionis and is not transferable. (Batten and Stanyon, A. J. Cs.) PARVATI v. GOVID PRASAD. 42 I. C. 737. 13 N. L. R. 187.

——S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility — Transfer of property subject to life-interest.

The transfer by a donee of a property subject to a life-tinterest in favour of another is not forbidden by S. 6 (a) of the T. P. Act. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C. and Daniels, A. J. C.) LACHAMAN PRASAD v. BALDEO PRASAD. 5 O. L. J. 625 : 48 I.C. 396 : 21 O. C 312.

——S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility— Reversioner —Transfer of right—Void—Equity.

A transfer made by a Hindu reversioner of his expectant interest in an estate prior to the passing of the Act is void under the Hindu Law. No principle of equity can be invoked to enforce a void agreement. (Lindsay, J. C. and Stuart, A. J. C.) HAR NATH KUAR v. INDRA BAHADUR SINGH. 47 I. C. 214 : 5 O. L. J. 277.

——S. 6 (a)—and 43—Mere possibility—Transfer of expectancy—Validity of.

S. 6 (a) of the T. P. Act renders void a mortgage of a reversionary interest. This mortgage cannot be enforced even after the person who purported to effect the transfer has acquired an estate in possession. (Lindsay, J. C.) SHIAM SUNDAR v. DILGANJAN SINGH. 20 O. C. 155 : 39 I. C. 540 : 4 O. L. J. 380.

——S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility—Reversioner —Transfer by.

An agreement by a reversioner to give a share in the property on the estate falling into possession is not void under S. 6, as it is not a transfer in possession but only an agreement to convey the property in future. (Lindsay, A. J. C.) GAJADHAR SINGH v. KANDHUYA BAKSH. 9 I. C. 243.

——S. 6—Mere possibility — Reversioner—Conveyance of interest—Invalid.

A Hindu reversioner can under no circumstances convey or agree to convey or relinquish any future right or expectancy nor can his guardian, if he happens to be a minor, bargain with his possibility of succession or bind him by any contractual engagement in respect thereto (Das and Bucknill, JJ.) BHAGWATI KUAR v. JAGDAM SAHAY. 62 I. C. 933 : 2 Pat. L. T. 471.

——S 6 (a)—Mere possibility—Interest of co parcener.

S. 6, cl. (a) of the Act does not apply to the case of a member of a joint Hindu family whose interest is not in the nature of a mere spes successionis but a vested present interest which may be undefined, in the sense that it may vary from day to day but which is nevertheless something very different from the chance of an interest contemplated by the section. (Atkinson and Manuk, JJ.) PARMA DUBE v. MAHADEO SINGH. 49 I. C. 907.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S 6 Mere possibility.

——S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility—Reversionary right.

A reversioner has no right to deal with his expectant interests 33 All 356 (P. C.); 36 I A 103; 21 All. 71 (P. C), 29 Cal. 355: 31 Bom. 165 41 I C 631 Dist (Chamier, C.J. and Jwala Prasad, J.) DILTOR DOEE v. HARKU SINGH.

(1917) Pat. 225 : 2 Pat. L. J. 578: 41 I.C. 631 : 1 Pat. L. W. 760.

——S. 6—Mere possibility—Transfer of—Estopppel—Punjab and N. W. F. Province

The principles of the Transfer of Property Act are binding upon the Courts of the Punjab but the Act itself with its technicalities has no force as such in the province. In the Punjab and North-West Frontier Province a transferor of reversionary right is bound by his act when succession opens to him even if S. 6 of the Transfer of Property Act makes the transfer itself inoperative when made and even if S. 6 of the Transfer of Property Act is to be regarded As making such a transfer illegal and therefore, a nullity from which no equity can arise the Act itself is not in force in the Punjab and North West Frontier Province and, therefore, constitutes no statutory bar to a contract which would otherwise be enforceable in equity. (Pipon, J. C.) KABAL SHAH v. MAHOMED BAGA. 73 I. C. 120.

——S. 6 (a)—Mere possibility—Buddhist Law—Burmese.

The prohibition contained in S. 6 (a) of the T P. Act against the transfer of an heir apparent's chance of succeeding to the estate applied to estates governed by the Burmese-Buddhist Law. (Young, J.) W. DHAR v. HTOON MAY. 52 I.C. 927: 12 Bur. L T. 106.

Mere rights to sue.

——S. 6 (e)—Mere right to sue—Right to recover debt.

The purchaser at an execution of a mere right to sue for recovery of a debt due is not entitled to sue for the debt. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) NADAR MAL v MUKHTAR SINGH.

17 A. L. J 837.

——S. 6 (e) and 58—Mere right to sue--Right to funeral dues.

The right of Maha Brahmin to receive dues at funerals of Hindus is an existing right and a mortgage of such a right is not null and void. No right of suit for compelling one to employ Maha Brahmins and no right of suit between Maha Brahmins inter se for fees received. Obiter dictum : There being no obligation on any person to employ any Maha Brahmins at funerals, no suit to compel any such employment is maintainable, nor can there be a suit between two Maha Brahmins for fees received, in the absence of an express agreement. (Richard, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) SUKHLAL v. BISHAMBAR.

39 All. 196 : 37 I. C. 661 : 15 A. L. J. 41.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 6—Mere right to sue.

——S. 6 (e)—Mere right to sue—Mortgage—Consideration, equity of redemption—Clog on.

A, executed an usufructuary mortgage in B's favour Later on a fresh mortgage deed called the Mashrut-al-relm was executed on fresh advances by which it was agreed that the first mortgage would not be redeemed unless the other advances were repaid Held, that the 2nd mortgage was usufructuary mortgage and that there was no clog, the debts being consolidated by the parties. (Griffin, J.) HARGOBIND v. TULA RAM. 10 I. C. 222.

——S. 6 (e)—Mere right to sue—Right to sue for damages for breach of contract cannot be transferred.

A right to sue for damages for breach of a contract for sale or purchase of goods cannot be transferred (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) HIRA CHAND AMIRCHAND v. NEMCHAND.

47 Bom. 719 : 25 Bom. L. R. 445 : 1923 Bom. 403.

——S. 6 (e)—Mere right to sue—Assignment of—Claim for unascertained damages is only a mere right to sue—English and Indian Law.

A claim for unascertained damages for breach of contract is not assignable, as it is a mere right to sue. Glegg v. Bromley (1912) 3 K B. 474 Ref. Where under the terms of a contract, the defendants were to take delivery of certain goods from and as a result of their failure to do so the goods were after arbitration resold for a lower price brought a suit for the balance, pending the suit assigned it to the plaintiff. Held, that the suit was not maintainable as the assignment was not of property with an incidental right to sue, but of a mere right to sue within the meaning of S. 6 (e) of the T.P. Act. Held, also upon the facts, the resale was not justified under S. 107 of the Contract Act and the claim was one for unascertained damages. Per Richardson, J.—In England there is no definite statutory rule that a bare right of action cannot be assigned. There is a statutary provision making choses in action assignable which is subject to a limitation placed upon it by the courts that the assignment must not injure the law of maintenance. In India there is an imperative statutory rule that a mere right to sue cannot be transferred. Nevertheless the results may be in many respects similar. The Indian Legislature when it enacted S. 6 (e) of the Transfer of Property Act, no doubt had in mind the expressions used in the English cases "a bare right of action" or "a mere right to litigate." On the question of construction which arises in India the language of Parker, J., in Clegg v. Bromley (1912) 3 K. B. is at least a valuable guide. Even if it be assumed that the goods were properly resold and that the claim asserted in the plaint and transferred to the plaintiff is a claim to an ascertained sum, it would still be for consideration whether this claim is in the particular circumstances a mere right to sue or property with an incidental remedy for its recovery within the meaning of Parker, J in Clegg's case (1912) 3 K.B. 474 (Sanderson C. J. and Richardson, J.) JEWAN RAM v. RATAN CHAND KISSEN CHAND.

70 I. C. 498 : 26 C. W. N. 285.

——Ss. 6 (e) and 130—Mere right to sue—Actionable claim.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 6—Mere right to sue.

The right to recover moneys found due on taking accounts is not a mere right to sue but an actionable claim, and is transferable (Fletcher and Newbould, JJ.) CHURAMONI NANDAL v. RAJENDRA KUMAR SINGH. 42 I. C. 390.

——S 6 (e)—Mere right to sue—Decree for mesne profits.

A right to mesne profits under a decree is assignable though the right to sue for damages is not (Chatterjee and Walmsley, JJ.) PRASANNA KUMAR PANIJA v. ASUTOSH ROY. 20 I. C. 685 : 18 C. W. N. 450.

——Ss. 6 (e) and 130—Mere right to sue—Breach of contract—Damages.

A purchaser of the rights in an insolvent estate from the Receiver cannot enforce a claim for damages on an unfulfilled contract in favour of the insolvent ; a right to sue for damages for breach of contract is not an actionable claim and cannot be transferred. (Kensington, C.J. and Chevis, J.) JANGLI MAL v. PIONEER FLOUR MILLS. 106 P. R. 1914 : 27 I. C. 115 : 242 P. L. R. 1915.

——S. 6 (e)—Mere right to sue—Transfer of property—Mesne profits—Right to.

A transfer of arrears of rents with immoveable property is valid and would give a right to maintain a suit under S. 6 of the T. P. Act. (Krishnan, J.) KOWTHA SURYANARAYANA GARU v. YARUDALA VENKAYYA. 16 L. W. 837 : 1922 M. W. N. 822 : 1923 Mad. 177.

——S. 6 (e)—Mere right to sue—Contribuation—Right to—Assignment.

A right to contribution is not a mere right to sue for damages and is assignable. (Kumaraswami Sastri, J.) G. RAMASWAMI IYER v. DEIVASIGAMANI PILLAI. 43 M. L. J. 129 : (1922) M. W. N. 442 : 16 L. W. 282 : 31 M. L. T. 156 (H. C.) : 1922 Mad. 397.

——S. 6—Mere right to sue—Right to reconveyance.

A right to reconveyance of land is property and not a mere right to sue and it can be attached and sold. (Wallis, C. J. and Oldfield, J.) NARASINGHERJI v. PANNUGANTI PARTHASARATHY. (1921) M. W. N. 519.

——S. 6—Mere right to sue—Right to receive mesne profits is not.

Where the Court declares the right of the plff. to receive mesne profits but leaves the amount unascertained, the right to receive measne profits can be transferred so that the transferee, can have the amount ascertained in the ordinary procedure in the same suit in the ordinary course. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) VENKATARAMA AIYAR v. RAMASAMI AIYAR. 44 Mad. 539 : 13 L. W. 199 : (1921) M. W. N. 137 : 29 M. L. T. 92 : 62 I. C. 305: 40 M. L. J. 204.

——S. 6 (e)—Mere right to sue—Landlord's right—Tenant holding over.

The right accruing to the landlord to sue the tenant holding over after expiry of the term, is a mere right to sue and cannot be transferred. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Moore, JJ.) GOVINDASWAMI PILLAY v. RAMASWAMI AYYAR. 34 I. C. 6 : 3 L. W. 408 : (1916) 2 M. W.N 79: 30 M.L. J. 492.

——S. 6 (e)—Mere right to sue—Contract executary—Assignment of.

The terms 'mere right to sue is only' applicable to cases where there has been complete breach entitling a party to damages and where the specific performance of the contract cannot be obtained. An executory contract for the conveyance of land is not a mere right to sue and is transferable. A right to sue is no doubt involved in it on breach of its stipulations but before breach there is also the right to conveyance. (Coutts Trotter and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) VENKATESWARA IYER v. RAMAN. 33 I. C. 696 : 19 M. L. T. 329 : 3 L. W. 435.

——S. 6 (e)—Mere right to sue—"Occupation rent.

A person who becomes an owner of property by a sale-deed is entitled to sue for occupation rent that becomes due even before the sale-deed if the right to it is purported to be transferred. A right to claim occupation rent is not "a mere right to sue" and is capable of being transferred under S. 6 of the Transfer of Property Act (Tyabji, J.) GOVINDASWAMI PILLAI v. RAMASWAMI AIYAR. 31 I. C. 604 18 M. L. T. 483 : 2 L. W. 1186 :

——S. 6 (e)—Mere right to sue—Actionable claim—Rent due.

Assignment of rent due which is a debt is an assignment of a chose in action and unlike mesne profits which is a claim in tort is not obnoxious to S. 6 of the Transfer of Property Act. 38 Mad. 308, Dist. (Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI v. DORAISWAMI CHETTY. 31 I. C. 473.

——S. 6 (e)—Mere right to sue--Mesne profits

A claim for mesne profits cannot be validly transferred. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) KOCHARLA SEETAMMA v. PILLALA VENKATARAMAYYA. 38 Mad. 308 : 14 M. L. T. 319 : 21 I. C. 387 : 25 M. L. J. 410 : (1913) M. W. N. 918.

——S. 6 (e)—Mere right to sue—Transfer of—Tort.

The right of a vendee of a mukhasa inam with all the current dues and arrears and all the rights to sue the vendor's agent for damages for negligence, is a mere right to sue a transfer whereof is invalid under S. 6 (e) T. P. Act. If the claim is based on tort, the claim fails as such a claim is not assignable. (White and Tyabji, JJ.) PANSULARI VENKATASAWMI v. MENTANA RAMACHANDRA RAJU. 38 Mad. 138 : 13 M. L. T. 218: 18 I C. 520 : (1913) M. W. N. 285 : 24 M L. J. 298.

——S. 6 (e)—Mere right to sue—Actionable claim.

When a deed of transfer conferred on the transferee the right to recover from the transferor's agents moneys not brought to account fraudulently in a settlement between the transferor and his

TRASNFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 6—Mere right to sue.

..gents, held, it was a valid transfer and actionable claim and not of a mere right to sue. A suit therefor by the transferee is not one for damages nor is it one for the re-opening of a settled account. (Miller and Abdur Rahim, JJ.) RAMIAH CHETTIAR v. RUKMANI AMMAL. 18 I.C. 138 : 13 M. L T. 257 : 24 M. L J. 313.

——— S. 6 (e)—Mere right to sue—Damages for breach of contract.

A mere right to sue for damages for breach of contract is not assignable under the T. P. Act. S. 6 (e). 36 Cal. 345 Foll (White, C. J. and Sankaran Nair, J.) GOPALA AIYAR v. RAMASWAMY SASTRIGAL. 10 I. C. 320 : 10 M. L. T. 496 : 22 M. L. J. 207.

——— S. 6 (e)—Mere right to sue—Loan of articles—Right to recover them or in default damages—Nature of —If transferable.

A right to recover goods is a personal claim and cannot be transferred. Where the document evidencing the loan provides for damages in case the goods are not returned, a claim for damages is not an "actionable claim" within the meaning of the T. P. Act but a mere right to sue within S. 6 (e) and as such cannot be transferred. (Batten J. C.) MT. NAKHOLA v. KOKAYA. 1923 Nag. 61.

——— S. 6 (e)—Mere right to sue—Suit for past mesne profits.

A suit by an assignee of a village along with profits accrued due prior to the sale to recover such profits is not maintainable inasmuch as it is a mere right to sue within Cl. (e) of S. 6 of the T. P. Act. Future mesne profits may however be recovered. (Batten, A. J. C.) LAKHPAT SAHAI v. TIKARAM. 47 I. C. 158.

——— S. 6 (e)—Mere right to sue—Shade light—Transfer of—Custom.

The customary right of the owner of land to compensation for the damage done to his crops by the shade of adjacent trees runs with the land and cannot be independently transferred. (Skinner, A. J. C.) APPAJI v. KHUSHAL. 10 I. C. 689 : 7 N. L. R 1.

——— S. 6 (e)—Mere right to sue—Title in dispute—Effect.

Law does not prevent a man from transferring property of which he claims the ownership by reason of the fact his title to it may be in dispute S. 6 (e) T. P. Act, does not apply to such a case. (Daniels, A. J. C.) GULAB RAI v. MT. KHUDAIYA BIBI. 10 O. L. J. 295 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 141 : 1924 Oudh 62.

——— S. 6— Mere right to sue—Right to share of the profits.

The right to recover a share of the profits of an estate claimed by the assignor to be due to him, is not a mere right to sue, but the assigment of such a right, is one of the arrears of the profits claimed to be due and therefore is not void under S. 6. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs.) GIRDARILAL v. AHMED MIRZA BEY. 60 I. C. 690 : 23 O. C. 384.

——— S. 6 (e)—Mere right to sue—Profits—Transfer of right to receive.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 6—Non transferable right.

A transfer of a share of the profits of a village which have at the time actually accrued due is an assigment of a debt and not of a mere right to sue and not bad under S. 6 (e) of the Act although the transfer of a right to sue is a necessary incident of the transaction. (Stuart and Muhammad Ali, A. J. Cs.) BHARAT SINGH v. BINDHA CHARAN. 47 I. C 654 : 6 O L. J. 398.

——— S 6 (d)—Mere right to sue—Right to damages.

A mere right to sue for damages cannot be transferred under S. 6 (e). (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs.) SHAHRUKH RUQAIYA BEGAM v. SHEO PRASAD 41 I. C 435 : 4 O. L. J 425.

——— S. 6 (e)—Mere right to sue—Transfer of right to recover mesne profits.

When plaintiffs have under a decree a right to mesne profits which have yet to be ascertained, they can make a valid transfer of their right to recover the mesne profits ; such a transfer is not a transfer of a mere right to sue as under S. 6 (e). (Chamier, C.J. and Kingsford, J.) HARIPRASAD v. KODO MARYA. 1 Pat. L. J 427 : 3 Pat. L. W. 392 : 37 I. C. 998.

Non-transferable right.

——— S. 6 (i)—Non transferable right—Transfer of, along with other property.

The mere fact that a mortgagor mortgages in one deed his occupancy holding which he has no right to mortgage and his fixed rate tenancy which he can validly mortgage does not make the transfer of the fixed rate tenancy illegal. (Richards, C. J. and Walsh, J.) RAJENDRA PRASAD v. RAM RATAN RAI. 39 All. 539 : 39 I C. 785 : 15 A. L. J. 544.

——— S. 6—Non-transferable right—Religious office—Transfer of, to another member of the family—Validity of.

The transfer of a share in the emoluments as well as the duties of a religious hereditary office by one member of a Hindu family to an outsider or to the original grantor of the office is invalid, but such a transfer to another member of the family is not open to objection (Macleod, J.) RAGHUNATH VITHAL BHAT v PURNA NAND SARSWATI SWAMI. 47 B. 529 : 25 Bom. L. R. 207 : 1923 B. 358.

——— S. 6—Non-transferable right—Desaigiri Hak, are alienable.

Vatans of the kind of Desaigiri Hak in Gujerat are alienable. (Macleod, C J. and Fawcett, J.) KHUSALBHAI PARAGJI DEASI v. DULABHAI PARAGJI. 45 Bom. 948 : 61 I C. 411 : 23 Bom. L. R. 304.

——— S. 6—Non-transferable right — Lease from year to year—Transferable and heritable.

A lease from year to year is transferable under S. 6 and also heritable unless there is anything to the contrary in the contract of lease (D. Chatterjee and Newbould, JJ.) BHANDU LALL MUNSHI v. LAGIN. 36 I. C. 1006.

——— S. 6 (i)—Non-transferable right—Home stead land—Yearly tenancy.

The incident of non-transferability is common to tenancies from year to year of home-stead lands created before the passing of the T. P. Act, in the absence of the custom to the contrary 32 Cal 1023. Ref. (Richardson, and Mullick, JJ.) KALU RAM SRIMAL v. PURAN CHAND NAHAR.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 6—Non transferable right.

27 I. C. 500

——— S. 6—Non transferable right — Service inam—Swasthivachakam service in Hindu temple —Liability of inam to be attached and sold in execution.

An inam granted to do Swasthivachakam service in a Hindu temple is of a public nature and is not liable to be attached and sold in execution. The private alienation of inam is invalid. (Schwabe, C.J. Coutts-Trotter and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) NETI ANJANEYALU v. SRI VENUGOPAL RICE MILL.
42 M L. J. 477 : 15 L. W. 513 : 30 M L. T. 255 : (1922) M. W. N. 307 : 45 M 620 : 1922 M. 197.

——— S. 6 (i)—Non-transferable right.

The interests which are declared inalienable by S. 6 (i) are those created by statute to regulate the relationship of landlord and tenant and an interest conferred by a decree is not covered by S. 6 (i). (Evans, J.C. and Lindsay, A.J.C.) WAZIR MOHAMMAD v. HAR PRASAD.
15 O. C. 67 : 13 I. C. 613.

Personal Right.

——— S. 6—Personal right—Malikana—Right to—Transfer of—Proprietary right.

In a village there were two persons interested in the proprietary right in a village who were known as the Muafidars and Zemindars. The persons who corresponded to the proprietors in the ordinary sense, who collected the rent from the tenant, let out the land and paid the Government Revenue were the Muafidars. The settlement also had been done with them The only right which the zemindar had was a right to receive from the muafidars a cash payment of ten per cent. of the total rental and to hold sir land at a favourable rent which had been fixed by the Settlement officer. So long as they paid this rent they were not liable to ejectment. The interest of these Zemindars had been sold in execution of a mortgage decree. Held, that their right was of a proprietary nature and that it was transferable. (Lindsay and Daniels, JJ.) HANSRAJ v. BALDEO SINGH.
21 A.L.J. 289 : L. R. 4 A. 155 (Rev) : 1923 A. 304.

——— S. 6 (d)—Personal right—Sale.

The agreement by a vendee to pay revenue for land sold as well as for land reserved in the vendor's possession is void and being a personal contract, the next vendee of the reserved land is not entitled to sue for the breach of such a covenant. (Richards, C. J. and Rafique, J.) ALI HUSSAIN v. HAKIMULLAH.
38 All 230 : 33 I. C. 187 : 14 A. L. J. 266.

——— S. 6 (d)—Personal right—Lands given to Hindu widow

Hindu widow arrived at a compromise by which she was given a restricted life interest in lands under compromise This restriction on alienation prevented the widow from having disposing power over lands. Hence property not open to attachment in execution. (Marten and Fawcett, JJ.) BASAN GOWDA v. IRGOWDATI.
25 Bom. L. R. 293 ; 47 B. 597: 1923 B. 276.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 6—Personal Right.

——— S. 6—Personal right— Vritis—Alienation—Special custom.

Vritis are as a general rule inalienable. They can only be alienated in special cases and under special conditions provided such alienations are supported by local usage or custom. (Beaman and Heaton, JJ.) MANJUNATH v SHANKAR.
39 Bom. 26 : 28 I. C. 139 : 16 Bom. L. R. 593.

——— Ss. 6 (d) and 3 —Personal right—Pre-emption right.

The right of pre-emption is a purely personal right which cannot be transferred to any one. (Russell and Chandavarkar, JJ.) JASUDIN v. SAKHARAM.
36 Bom 139 : 12 I. C. 693 : 13 Bom. L. R. 1042.

——— S. 6—Personal right—Tankhas—Transferability of.

Tankhas are assignable as they are heritable allowances in the nature of property. (Richardson and Huda. JJ.) LALA MUKHI PROKESHE NANDE v. SRIMATI ISWARI DEI DEBI.
57 I. C. 858 : 24 C. W. N. 938.

——— S. 6 (d)—Personal right—Maintenance —Annuity charged on property—Assignment of right—Validity of.

Where under an arrangement with the brothers of her husband, a widow gets an annuity for which the estate was charged and subsequently the widow assigned her right to the annuity to the plff. who sued for its realisation. Held that his was not a personal right of the Hindu widow, and that the assignment conveyed the right to plff. (Fletcher and Cuming, JJ.) RAJAT KAMINI DEBI v. RAJA SATYA NIRANJAN CHAKRABARTHY.
53 I. C. 587.

——— S. 6 (d)—Personal right—Transferability of property allotted for.

Though a right to maintenance cannot be transferred, specified property given in lieu of maintenance can be transferred. (Sharfuddin and Coxe, JJ.) RAMCHANDRA MARWARI v. GOPINATH CHOWDHURI.
29 I.C. 251.

——— S. 6 (d)—Personal right—Broker—Right to exercise the calling of.

The right to exercise the profession of a broker is not a personal right and is assignable in law (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) LAKHAN JENA v. ARJUN NAIK.
18 C.W.N. 1194 : 24 I. C. 387 : 19 C. L. J. 313.

——— S. 6 (a), (d) and (h)—Personal right—Maintenance—Malabar Tarwad—Assignment.

The right of member of Malabar Tarwad or of an Aliyasanthana family to maintenance is property, and can be assigned. Per Seshagiri Aiyar, J.—Such an assignment is not invalid either under the Act or under the general Law. 34 Mad. 7, Ref. (Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) SESHAPPA HAGGADE v. CHANDAYYA HAGGADE.
53 I. C. 665 : 37 M.L.J. 402.

——— S. 6 — Personal rights—Future maintenance.

A right to receive future maintenance cannot be alienated in India though it may be otherwise under the law applied in Courts of equity in

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 6—Personal Right.

England, 34 Mad 7 Dist. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Moore, JJ.) PALAKANDI MAMMAD v. CHINGOAN KALOTH VALIA APPA. 40 Mad. 302 : 34 I C 381 : 30 M.L. J. 361.

——S 6—Personal rights—Service inam—Alienation.

Alienation of hereditary, fanning service (in a temple) Inam is invalid if it is not in favour of the person next in the line of succession. 15 M. L. J. 10, 14 M. L. J. 134; 15 Mad. 183, Foll. (Ayling and Napier, JJ.) VASU CHANDRA KANTHAM v VUSA SUBBARAYADU. 1 L. W. 827 : 16 M. L. T. 347 : 25 I. C. 685 : (1914) M. W. N. 745.

——S. 6 (d)—Personal right.

S. 6 does not prevent the transfer of moggu right which is an allowance received by a wargdar from walawargdars who hold lands within the warg for which he holds the patta. It is the concession paid to the wargdar for his trouble in collecting the revenue and paying it over to the Government. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) GANPATHI v MANI ANANTHA. 10 I. C. 665 : (1911) 1 M. W. N. 233.

——S. 6 (d)—Personal right—Annuity.

An annuity by way of maintenance is alienable, whether by voluntary or involuntary transfer. (Drake-Brockman, J.C.) MURLIDHAR v. MULCHAND. 52 I. C. 953.

——S. 6 (d)—Personal right—Contract of service.

A contract of service is a personal contract and is not assignable before breach as the transfer would be of a mere right to sue. (Mitra, A. J. C.) KARANKHAN v. DANGUSTI. 47 I. C. 902

——S. 6 (d)—Personal right—Service inam.

A rent free-grant made in lieu of service is not transferable and the purchaser of such grant from the grantee cannot acquire any valid title against the grantor. (Campbell, J. M.) GIRDHAR GOPAL v. GAIYA PRASAD. 34 I. C. 672 : 3 O. L. J. 235.

——S. 6 (d)—Personal right—Annuity — Right to.

When a person in enjoyment of an annuity dies and the annuity ceases, his assets (when valued) cannot include any sum due on account of the annuity. (Lindsay, J. C.) ALI MUHAMMAD KHAN v. SAJJADI BEGAM. 33 I. C. 516.

Public office.

——S. 6 (f) and (h)—Public office—Mahomedan Law—Office of Mutawalli.

A mortgage of the rights of Mutawalli is invalid and opposed to public policy. (Fletcher and Huda, JJ.) SHAHED BAKSH v. GULAM NABI KHONDOKAR. 47 I. C. 117 : 22 C. W. N. 996.

——S. 6 (d) and (f)—Public office—Right to receive gifts by worshippers—Transfer—Custom.

The transfer of a right to receive gifts made by the worshippers at a temple to one of the officiating priests is usually void as being against public policy except according to custom or usage, when their validity will be judged according to the conditions of such custom or usage. (Stuart, J. C.) PARAGI v. GAURI SHANKAR. 51 I. C. 86 : 6 O. L. J. 157.

——S. 6 (h)—Public office—Right to offerings in Temple—If can be transferred.

The right to offerings in a Hindu Temple cannot be transferred. (Shafiuddin and Roe, JJ.) PUNCHA v. BINDESWARI THAKUR. 37 I. C. 960

Right of re-entry.

——S. 6 (b), 109 and 111 (g)—Right of reentry—Breach of condition—Transfer by landlord subsequent to breach.

A transfer of a reversion of a lease carries with it the right to enforce forfeiture of the lease for breach of a condition, even where the breach had accrued prior to the transfer. (Beaman and Heaton, JJ.) VISHVESHWAR v. MAHABLESHWAR. 43 Bom. 28 : 47 I. C. 198 : 20 Bom. L. R. 767.

Rights in future.

——S. 6—Rights in future—Contract to transfer expectancies—Validity.

A contract for the future sale of future expectations cannot be enforced. (Lord Sumner.) ANNADA MOHAN ROY v. GOUR MOHAN MULLICK. 45 M. L. J. 617 : 21 A. L. J. 718 : 4 Pat. L. T 609 : 50 I. A 239 : 50 Cal. 929 : L. R. 4 P. C. 164 : (1923) M. W. N 803 : 25 Bom. L.R. 1269 : 33 M. L. T. 365 (P. C.) : 1923 P. C. 189 (P. C.).

——S. 6—Rights in future—Tankhas are heritable rights in property.

Tankhas are more than a mere right to receive future maintenance. They are heritable allowances in the nature of property and are, therefore, assignable. (Richardson and Huda, JJ.) MUKTI PRAKASH NANDE v. ISWARI DEI DEBI. 57 I. C 858 : 24 C. W. N. 938.

——S. 6 (d)—Rights in future—Right to future maintenance—If alienable.

The right under a contract to a fixed amount of maintenance is property within S. 6, T P. Act. Whether it is an interest in property restricted in its enjoyment personally must depend on the facts of each case, the question being whether the intention of the parties was that the right should be personal and inalienable. The language of the document and surrounding circumstances must be looked to in each case. The right to future maintenance properly so called is inalienable. (Schwabe, C.J., Oldfield and Coutts Trotter, JJ.) SUBRAYA SAMPIGETHAYA v. KRISHNA BAIPADITHAYA. 45 M. L J. 533 : 33 M. L. T. 57 (H. C.) : 46 Mad. 659 : 19 L. W. 6 : 1924 Mad. 22 (2) (F. B.).

——S. 6—Rights in future—Lease—Rent due under—Assignment—Renewal of lease—Right to rents.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 6 — Rights in future.

An assignment of rent cannot operate in respect of future possible lease that may come into existence as the result of a renewal. (Ramesam, J.) RAMA PATTAR v RAMAN KUTTY ACHAN.
44 M. L. J. 236 : 32 M L. T. (H. C.) 136 : (1923) M. W. N. 250 : 1923 Mad. 316.

——— Ss. 6 and 58 — Rights in future—Assignment of—Creation of charge on fund.

An assignment of future property is not invalid in India. S 6 of the Act does not contain a total prohibition against the assignment of all future property but must be constructed as an exception to the general rule in favour of transfers of property, present and future. The words "of a like nature" in Cl. (a), S. 6, indicate that the "possibility" referred to therein must belong to the same category as the chance of an heir apparent or the chance of a realisation obtaining a legacy. (Ayling and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) PASHUPATI VENKATAPATHIRAJU v. VENKATASUBHADRAYAMMA. 47 I. C. 563 :

——— S. 6—Rights in future—Conveyance—Mahomedan Law.

The conveyance of a remainder interest or interest in futuro is invalid according to the Sunni school of the Mahomedan Law. When life-estate is given with remainder to another person, and the latter is invalid, the donee of the life-estate takes the estate absolutely. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) MEERAGANI ROWTHAR v. KARUPATHI NAGUR MEERA.
(1913) M W.N. 371 : 24 M L. J. 258 : 18 I. C. 185 : 13 M. L. T. 91.

Scope of.

——— S. 6 (e)—Scope of—Amount in court deposit pending suit.

The income of an estate which is the subject matter of litigation held in a Bank to the credit of the successful litigant, is not property falling within S. 6 (e) of the T. P. Act. (Schwabe, C. J Coutts Trotter and Kumarswamy Sastry, JJ.) ZEMINDAR OF BHADRACHALAM v. VENKATADRI APPA RAO. 43 M L. J. 486 : 16 L.W. 369 : (1922) M. W. N. 532 : 31 M. L. T. 221 (H.C.) : 46 M. 190 : 1922 Mad. 457.

——— S. 6—Scope of.

The T. P. Act does not contain an exhaustive enumeration of what is assignable by the law of British India and an assignment is not invalid merely because it is not covered by the provisions of that Act. All contracts can be assigned which are capable of specific performance. (Coutts-Trotter and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) VENKATESWARA AIYAR v. RAMAN NUMBUDRI.
19 M. L. T. 329 · 33 I. C. 696 : 3 L. W. 435.

Unlawful object.

——— S. 6 (h)—Unlawful object — Future cohabitation.

Where a deed of settlement was made with the object and in consideration of the donee cohabiting with the settlor and the immoral purpose of the donor was acheived by the donee in fact remaining in his keeping and living with him as contemplated by the settlement deed, the settlor cannot recover back the property transferred for an immoral consideration which has already been achieved. S. 6, Cl. (h) of the T P. Act does not modify the well-established rules of equity that when a transaction is entered into for unfawful or immoral purpose and that purpose has been achieved, the Court would not interfere at the instance of a particeps criminis to relieve him from the legal effect of the transaction; it only lays down that the Court will not enforce a transfer which would have the effect of carrying out his unlawful object. (Abdur Rahim and Oldfield, JJ.) DEIVANAYAGA PADAYACHI v. MUTHU REDDI.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 8.

12 L. W. 291 : 28 M. L. T. 255 : 44 M. 329 : 59 I. C. 1003 : (1920) M. W. N. 547 : 39 M. L. J. 525.

——— S. 6 (h)—Unlawful object—Kabzadari without right of transfer—Mortgage of—Contract Act (IX of 1872), S. 23.

A mortgage of lands granted Kabzadari without the right of transfer, is not a transfer "for an illegal purpose" within the meaning of S. 6 of the T. P. Act or for an unlawful object or consideration within the meaning of S. 23 of the Contract Act. (Chamier, C. J.) HIRDAY BIHARI v PRAG TIWARI. 11 I. C. 527 : 14 O C 144.

——— S. 7—Sale of property not one's own.

A man has no right to deal with property which is not his own and unless he can show some right to deal with it, either as agent or guardian of the owner or trustee or the like, any transfer which he purports to make cannot bind the lawful owner. (Daniels, J.) CHITU v. CHARAN SINGH.
1923 A 563.

——— S. 7—Infant's contracts—Mortgage in favour of infant.

S. 7 does not in terms declare that a transfer by a person incapable of contracting is wholly void. Persons who are incapable of contracting are incapable of transferring. A mortgage in favour of a minor can be enforced by the minor. (Wallis, C. J., Abdur Rahim and Srinivasa Aiyangar, JJ.) RAGHAVA CHARIAR v. SRINIVASA RAGHAVA CHARIAR. 40 Mad. 308: 31 M. L. J. 575 : 20 M. L. T. 407 : 36 I. C. 921 : (1916) 2 M. W. N. 363 (F. B.).

——— Ss. 8 and 55 (2)—Conveyance by executor —What passes.

A conveyance by an executor having beneficial interest in the property along with other beneficiaries purported to sell "all estate, right and title" of the vendor. Held, that the whole property passed to the purchaser and not merely beneficiary interest of the executor. (Lord Moulton.) BIJRAJ NOPANI v. SREEMETTY PURA SUNDARY DASEE. 42 Cal. 56 : 41 I. A. 189 : 1 L. W. 555 : 18 C. W. N. 1313 : 16 M. L. T. 338 : 24 I. C. 296 : 12 A. L. J. 1185 : 16 Bom. L. R. 796 : 20 C. L. J. 368 : (1914) M. W. N. 679 : 27 M. L. J. 93 (P. C.).

——— S. 8—Proprietary rights — Alienation along with rights to buildings.

Where defendants conveyed to the plaintiff their proprietary rights in the lands and the buildings with the land on which they stood without expressly reserving a right of residence or of user in any of the buildings and there being no statutory qualification of the right, the defendants had no right to occupy the buildings or to treat them as appurtenances to their holding. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) UMRAJ SINGH v. CHEDA LAL.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 8.

35 I. C. 262.

——— S. 8—Trees on plot within zemindari whether pass with the zemindari.

Trees standing on a plot of land within a zemindari are appurtenant to the zemindari and, in the absence of evidence tothe contrary, the ownership thereof passes to the purchaser (Tudball, J.) ONKAR DAS v. CHOTELAL. 11 I. C. 192.

——— S. 8—Conveyance by executor having personal interest in a share of the property—Scope of.

Where a person has two estates, one larger and the other smaller and purports to convey the entire property without any words of limitation, he must always be taken to be conveying the highest interest in the estate he has, that is to say, if an executor having one-third personal beneficial interest in the estate purports to convey the whole of it without qualification or limitation, he must be taken to be conveying in his character as executor and not in that of one having a beneficial interest in a fraction of the whole estate purported to be conveyed. (1864) 2 Ch. 101, Foll. It does not make the least difference whether in such circumstances, the vendor is expressly designated as executor or administrator if, in fact, and to the knowledge of the purchaser, he be an executor or administrator and purports to convey without limitation the whole estate. (Beaman J.) GANGABAI v. SONABAI. 40 Bom 69 : 28 I C. 544 : 17 Bom. L. R. 303.

——— S. 8—Mortgage—Fixtures—Right to.

Where immoveable property is hypothecated the fixtures pass to the mortgagee. The rule as between landlord and tenant does not apply to the case of a mortgage. (Fletcher and Huda, JJ.) HARIPDA SHADHU KHAN v. ANATH NATH DEY.
44 I. C. 211 : 22 C. W. N. 758

——— S. 8—Reservation of rights in transfer.

A reservation of rights in a transfer cannot be inferred except from the terms of the document itself. But, if the document is ambiguous, an intention to reserve certain rights can be inferred from circumstances. (Fletcher and Richardson, JJ.) SURESH CHANDRA ROY v. SURENDRA CHANDRA ROY. 37 I. C. 870.

——— S. 8—Mortgage—Security.

As far as possible, a deed of grant ought to be construed strictly against the grantor. So a mortgage by a person of his rights in the mortgaged property would in the absence of express reservation include all interests of whatever kind possessed by him in the land. 19 C. W. N. 710. Foll. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) BHOJOHARI DAS ADHIKARI v. BHAGABATI DASI.
17 I. C. 494 : 18 C. L. J. 48.

——— S. 8—English law of fixtures—Applicability in India—Crops on the land.

The English law of fixtures cannot be applied in this country as based on equitable grounds. 37 Cal. 815, Foll. The purchaser at an auction sale is not entitled to sue for the crops standing on the lands at the date of sale and sown by a stranger before that date. 21 Cal 244, Ref. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, J.) PRIYA NATH PAL v. RAJANI KANTA PAL. 15 I. C. 619 : 16 C. W. N. 1101.

——— S. 8—Sale of house—Fixtures do not pass—English law if applicable.

The English law as to fixtures does not apply to India and when a house is sold in court auction, the fixtures therein do not pass to the purchaser. The test to determine whether articles claimed or fixtures under S. 8, T. P. Act is whether they are provided for the permanent use of the house and whether they are necessary for the beneficial enjoyment of the same. "Fixture" does not include machinery brought into a home for carrying on a business. (Kumaraswamy Sastry, J.) NARAYANA SA v. BALAGURUSWAMI NADAR.
45 M. L. J. 385 : 18 L. W. 928 : 33 M.L.T. 227 (H. C.) : (1924) M. W. N. 43 : 1924 Mad. 187.

——— S. 8—Transfer by person having full power to convey—Incorrect recitals as to extent of power—Effect of.

A purchaser of property for consideration from a person having full power to convey the title to the property, is entitled to rely on all the powers vested in his vendor which would enable that vendor to convey the complete title professed to be conveyed notwithstanding that the vendor mentions in the sale deed that he derives his right to convey title by reason of facts whose truth can be successfully attacked. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) SUBRAHMANIA PATTAR v. KRISHNA EMBRANDRI.
12 L. W 361 : 60 I. C. 77 : 39 M. L. J 590.

——— S. 8—Profits accrued prior to transfer.

A transferee cannot claim profits apart from the property prior to the transfer as the legal incidents of the transferor's interest under S. 8 of the Act include only rents and profits due after the transfer. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Oldfield, JJ.) MOTHU HENSU v. NETARVATHI NAIKSAVI.
58 I. C. 383 : 12 L. W. 44.

——— S. 8—Scope of.

S 8 of the T. P. Act is not a canon of construction but a rule concerning to the legal effect of a grant. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Phillips, JJ.) CHOKALINGA NAYAKAN v. ARUNACHALAM CHETTIAR.
26 M. L. T. 262 : 52 I. C. 239 : (1919) M. W. N. 353.

——— S. 8—Negotiable instruments.

S. 8 applies to negotiable instruments. (Ayling and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) NATARAJA NAICKEN v. AYYASWAMI PILLAI. 5 L. W. 410 : 21 M. L. T. 405 : 38 I. C. 339 : (1917) M. W. N. 230 : 32 M. L. J. 354 ——— Ss. 8 and 36—Execution sale.

The principles laid down in Ss. 8 and 36 of the T. P. Act have no application to transfer of right by execution sales. When the contract shows as here, that the whole rent accrues on a fixed date it is a contract to the contrary of what is enacted in S. 36 and the lessee is entitled to the year's crop. 21 Cal. 383, Foll. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) PENUMETA SUBBARAJU v. VEEGISENA SEETHARAMA RAJU.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) S 8.

39 Mad. 283 : 17 M. L. J. 57 : 28 I. C 232 :(1915) M. W. N. 174.

——S. 8—Transfer by person holding property under limitations—What passes

A person holding property under limitations cannot pass to a transferee a title free from those limitations. (Ayling and Tyabji, JJ.) MUTHU KRISHNA AIYANGAR v SANKARA NARAYANA AIYAR. 16 M. L. T. 196: 1 L. W. 699 : (1914) M. W. N. 708: 25 I. C. 573: 27 M. L. J 600.

——S. 8—Transfer of property—What passes.

Where a grant in perpetuity is made in favour of one person who transfers it to another no subsequent sanad can legally be issued so as to make a fresh grant unless the transfer is avoided. (Stanyon, A. J. C.) DAMADJI v. MARTAND. 48 I. C. 901.

——S. 8—Profits accrued due on the date of transfer.

Under S. 8 of the T P. Act only profits accruing after the transfer pass with the land. Profits already accrued are not beneficial interest in the land since the land cannot be transferred with retrospective effect. (Batten, A. J. C.) LAKHPAT SAHAI v. TIKARAM. 47 I. C. 158.

——S. 8—Applicability to mortgages.

Though a mortgage in India is not a transfer of property but only of an interest in property S. 8 is applicable to mortgages. A mortgage of an undivided share includes the sir right and all other rights which the mortgagor is capable of transferring in the absence of words showing an intention to retain or exclude them. 30 Cal. 556, Foll. (Stanyon and Hallifax, A. J. Cs.) SHIOLAL v. NANHELAL. 17 I. C. 129 : 8 N. L. R 123.

——S. 8—Foreclosure of same property twice.

A mortgagee is entitled to foreclose twice over, the same property. (Stanyon and Hallifax, A. J. Cs.) SHIOLAL v. NANELAL. 17 I. C. 129 : 8 N. L. R. 123.

——S. 8—Transfer of simple mortgage—Right to interest accrued.

A purchaser of a simple mortgage can claim the interest due from the period antecedent to his purchase. 6 Cal. 213 (P. C.), Dist. (Kanhaiya Lal and Daniels, A. J. Cs.) SHAH MOHAMMAD YUSUF v. LACHHMINARAIN. 6 O. L. J. 49 : 50 I. C. 157 : 21 O. C. 400

——S. 8—Covenant running with the land—Renewal.

A covenant for renewal being a covenant running with the land, where a grantee of land for a term of years transfers his interest the right of renewal goes with the transfer unless a contrary intention is expressed or implied in the document. (Twomey, C. J. and Ormond, J.) JOGENDRA LALL CHOWDHRY v. MIASHA. 12 Bur. L. T. 133: 51 I. C. 360: 9 L. B. R. 268.

——S. 8—Assignment of debt—Arrears of interest.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882). S. 10.

The arrears of interest of an assigned debt must be held to have been transferred with the debt. (Twomey, C. J.) MAUNG THA v. N. C. CHATERJEE. 27 I. C. 896 : 8 Bur. L. T. 121.

——Ss. 9 and 54—Sale before the Act—Writing unnecessary.

No written conveyance was necessary to validate a transfer of property before the T. P. Act. (Lord Shaw.) MAHOMED MUSA v. AGHORE KUMAR. 42 Cal 801 : 42 I. A. 1 : 19 C. W. N. 250 : 13 A. L. J. 229 : 17 M. L. T. 143 : 17 Bom, L. R. 420 : 21 C. L. J. 231 : 2 L. W. 258· 28 I. C. 930. (1915) M. W. N. 621 : 28 M. L. J. 548 (P. C)

——S. 9—Surrender of lease—Writing and registration.

A surrender of a lease need not be in writing nor need it be registered. (Fletcher and Huda, JJ.) BROJONATH SARMA v. MAHESWAR GAHANI. 46 I. C. 100 : 28 C L. J. 220.

——S. 9—Oral surrender—Consideration—Valid title—No registration.

Receipt of consideration and actual surrender of lands by a mokuraridar to the zemindar are quite sufficient to give a title to the person to whom the surrender was made and no registration is necessary. 14 Cal. 109, Foll. (Harrington and Carnduff, JJ.) JANGLI RAI v. GHURARAI. 19 I. C. 124.

——S. 9—Right to enjoy usufruct—Oral transfer.

A grant of immoveable property by way of guzara not being grant of the corpus but only of the right to enjoy the usufruct, does not require writing for its validity. (Kanhaiya Lal, J C. and Daniels, A. J. C.) GAJRAJ KUAR v. INDRA PAL KUAR. 21 O. C. 360 : 49 I C 406 : 6 O. L. J. 7.

——S. 9—Oral partition.

An oral partition is valid. (Fox and Hartnoll, JJ.) CHOCKALINGAM CHETTY v. MAUNG YAUNG NI. 5 Bur. L. T. 296 : 18 I. C. 524 : 6 L. B. R 170.

——S. 10—Mahomedan gift—Condition restraining transfer is invalid.

Where a gift is made subject to a condition restraining transfer the condition is invalid and the donee takes an absolute estate under the Mahomedan Law. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) BABULAL v. GHANASHAM DAS. 20 A. L. J. 466: 44 A 683 : 1922 A. 205

——S. 10—Restraint on alienation—Sale-deed.

A sale with an agreement that the vendee must not sell to any one but the vendor or his heirs, and that at a fixed price, amounted to an absolute restraint an alienation and was unenforceable. (Tudball and Lindsay, JJ.) DOL SINGH v. KHUB CHAND. 64 I. C. 408: 19 A. L J 848.

——S. 10—Transfer with reservation of life estate.

A father of joint Hindu family transferred to his sons his property obtained in a partition, reserving only a life-interest therein. Held, the creditors could attach the life-interest of the father and bring it to sale, as the transfer fell within the purview of S. 10 of the T. P. Act. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) KUNDAN SINGH v JADON PRASAD.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 10.

17 A. L. J 913: 58 I. C. 552: 2 U. P. L. R. (A) 439.

——S. 10—Gift—Restraint on alienation

Where a gift is made with a condition restraining alienation, the gift itself is valid but the condition is not. But a condition directing the enjoyment of the usufruct of the gifted property by a third person for life is valid. 10 W. R. 25 (P. C.) Ref to. (Chamier, J.) MUHAMMAD SHAFI KHAN v. LALIJIN. 11 I. C 702.

——S. 10—Gift—Restrictions on alienation and enjoyment.

Restrictions on alienation, enjoyment and disposal of the property by the legatees are void as being repugnant to the absolute gift. 5 Cal 438·21 Cal. 488 ; 24 Cal. 406; 16 Cal. 409 Full. (Batchelor and Rao, JJ.) JEHANGIR v. KAIKHUSRU.
9 I. C. 951: 13 Bom. L. R. 141.

——Ss. 10 and 12—Lease—Covenant running with the land—Liability of transferee.

The tenancy in suit was created on the 23rd March 1908, when a kabuliyat was executed by the second defendant in favour of the plaintiff The tenancy was described as an ilmam. Consequently on the authority of the decision in 47 C. 979 it may be assumed that the tenancy was a permanent, heritable and transferable tenure. The lease contained a covenant to the effect that the tenant would, if he transferred the property, pay to the landlord, out of the purchase money in his hands, one-fourth as nazar, and would obtain registration of the name of the transferee. The covenant further provided that if this step was not taken, the transfer would be invalid and the tenant would continue to be liable for the rent. Held, that the provisions of sections 10 and 12 of the Transfer of Property Act made it abundantly clear that restrictive covenant of this description was valid when inserted in a lease between a landlord and his tenant and that the covenant was one running with the land and binding on the transferee from the tenant. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) SARADAKRIPA LALA v. BEPIN CHANDRA PAL. 37 C. L. J. 538: 1923 Cal. 679.

——S. 10—Lease darpatni—Restraint on alienation.

A stipulation in a darpatni lease restraining the creation of subordinate rights by the darpatnidhar does not contravene S. 10 of the Act. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) MADHU SUDAN MAHATO v. MIDNAPORE ZEMINDARI CO.
45 Cal. 940: 46 I. C. 129: 27 C. L. J. 511.

——S. 10—Restraint upon alienation—Scope and effect.

Restraint upon alienation in mortgage bonds does not prevent alienation subject to mortgagee's rights. (Chatterjee and Newbould, JJ.) SYAM PEARY DASSYA v. EASTERN MORTGAGE AND AGENCY CO. 40 I. C. 865

——Ss. 10 and 12—Grant of property for maintenance—Restriction on alienation—Validity.

A life-interest is just as much property as an absolute interest and any condition absolutely restraining the transferee of property for life in lieu of maintenance from disposing of that property is void. (Sharfuddin and Coxe, JJ.) RAM CHANDRA v. GOPINATH. 29 I. C. 251.

——S. 10—Restraint on alienation.

A restraint on alienation even if validly imposed does not bar a compulsory sale at the instance of the creditors. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) PADMANAND SINGH v. RAMA PRASAD MALVI.
16 C. L. J. 354 : 17 I. C 284 : 17 C. W. N. 662.

——S. 10—Gift with condition—Effect of.

A gift with a condition precedent attached thereto fails when the condition is not fulfilled. (Chitty and Chatterjee, JJ.) SHYAMA CHARAN BHATTACHARYA v. NABACHANDRA CHAKRAVARTI.
11 I. C. 634.

——S. 10—Lease—Covenant against alienation.

A covenant in a lease against alienation is void unless coupled with the right of re entry under S. 10 of the T. P. Act as well as according to the law existing before (Mookerjee and Coxe, JJ.) AKRAM ALI v. DURGA PRASANNA ROY.
10 I. C. 489 : 14 C. L. J. 614.

——S. 10—Lessor's benefit.

A claim restricting a lessor's right, such as bringing to a sale the leasehold for the lessee's debts, is inoperative under S. 10 unless it is accompanied by a clause for re-entry. Unless there is the clause for re-entry it cannot be said that the restrictive clause is for the lessor's benefit. (Mookerjee and Casperse, JJ.) MAHANANDA ROY v. SARAT MONI DEBI 10 I. C 374 : 14 C. L. J. 585.

——Ss. 10 and 11—Agreement not to partition.

Agreements not to divide property are enforceable although they would not preclude a party entering into such an agreement from alienating it 7 Bom. 538 ; 6 Cal. 106. Dist. (Wallis, C J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) MUTHURAMAN CHETTIAR v. PONNUSWAMI UDAYAR 29 M. L. J. 214 : (1915) M W. N. 405 : 2 L. W 533 ; 29 I. C. 549 : 18 M. L T. 124.

——S. 10—Lease—Condition of inalienability—Whether valid.

A condition in a lease that the lessee has no right to transfer his lease, is one intended for the benefit of the lessor and therefore does not invalidate it. Plaintiff's title as assignee is invalid. 17 Cal 826 ; 26 Mad. 157 Foll: 10 C. L. J. 49; 36 Cal. 745 ; 18 C. W. N. 1138 Dist. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) JACKI MINEZES v. VENCATARAMANA KAMATHI. 28 I. C. 904.

——S. 10—Hindu Law—Grants for maintenance—Restriction in alienation—Validity.

There is no rule of Hindu Law that alienations may be prevented in the case of grants for maintenance and under S. 10 of the Act, a restraint on alienation in the case of such grants is void. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) MUTHUKUMARA CHETTY v. ANTHONY UDAYAN.
38 Mad 867 : 15 M. L. T. 361 : 24 I. C. 120 : 29 M. L J. 617.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882). S. 10.

——S. 10—Condition of pre-emption

A condition in a lease deed for pre-emption and pre-surrender is valid under S. 10 and can be enforced against transferees with notice. (Wallis and Munro, JJ) MANKOOTHIL CHITHUKUTTI v. KALYAMBATH KUNHANNI. 9 I. C. 171 : 9 M. L. T. 484.

——Ss. 10 and 11—Restraint on alienation —For uncertain time is invalid.

The word 'absolutely' in S. 10 of the T. P. Act must be read with some qualification. A restraint on alienation absolute in its terms but limited to last for a period of uncertain duration is invalid under S. 10 of the T. P. Act. 14 C. L. J. 303. 43 C. 165. Relied on. (Daniels and Lyle, A. J. Cs.) KUAR NAGESHAR SHAI v. KUAR MATA PRASAD. 25 O. C. 189 ; 9 O. L. J. 235 : 1922 Oudh 236.

——S. 10—Transfer of full proprietary title —Lettering of—Effect.

When a man having a right to make a transfer transfers full proprietary title the enjoyment of which is subject to the life of a certain person, and endeavours to fetter the succession to the estate, effect must be given to the transfer of full properietary title and the attempt to fetter the succession should be ignored. (Stuart, J. C. and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) NARAIN SINGH v. DEPUTY COMMISSIONER OF PARTABGARH. 55 I. C. 896 : 7 O. L. J. 93.

——S. 10—Restraint of alienation.

A condition in restraint of alienation of an absolute estate is null and void. 4 O. C 163 ; 106 Cal 136 Foll: 15 I. C. 244 Dist. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs.) LAL SRIPAT SINGH v. LAL BASANT SINGH. 25 I. C. 743 : 1 O. L. J. 421.

——S. 10—Alienation — Restrictions by—Settlement Court's decrees—Effect.

Restrictions put by Settlement Court's decrees regarding certain lands do not render the lands absolutely incapable of transfers. They are imposed simply for the benefit of the superior proprietor who alone can challenge the alienation of such lands. (Lindsay, J. C.) RAMA SHANKAR v NANIK PRASAD. 1 O. L. J. 187 : 24 I. C. 32 : 17 O. C. 150.

——S. 10—Applicability.

A sale-deed conveyed the entire share of the vendor with the exception of certain plots reserved for the vendor's maintenance without power of alienation and further provided " I have no interest and share of any kind left in the property sold except the guzara property mentioned above " Held, that S. 10 did not apply as there was no transfer of property with a condition restraining alienation. (Evans, J. C.) SHEO DARSHAN v. SHEO BHAJAN. 11 I. C. 685 : 14 O. C. 189.

——S. 10—Condition restraining alienation —When void.

A condition against alienation is for the benefit of lessor. If there is a condition of re-entry, the benefit is obvious, but if the condition of re-entry is absent the benefit which the lessor seeks to derive is not apparent. If in the latter case the benefit can be made out otherwise the condition would not be void. Per Chapman, J.—A condition against sub-letting for the benefit of the lessor must provide for re-entry or forfeiture on its breach or there must be something in the wording of the lease to infer that the provision was for the direct benefit of the lessor otherwise the condition is void under S. 10. (Chapman and Atkinson, JJ.) SITAL PRASAD v. DILDAR ALI KHAN. 1 Pat. L. J. 1 : 33 I. C. 408 : 3 Pat. L. W. 80.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 11.

——Ss. 11 and 54—Sale in favour of minor—Validity

A minor is not incapable of being a transferee and hence can sue for possession of a property under a sale-deed in his favour after the transaction is complete. 30 Cal. 539 (P. C.) ; 33 Mad. 312 Dist. (Richards, C.J. and Rafique, J) MUMI KOER v. MADAN GOPAL. 38 All 62 : 31 I. C. 792 : 13 A. L. J. 1084.

——S. 11—Absolute gift—Restraint on.

Certain property was given by way of Agrahar gift to a Brahmin priest and his descendants. It was provided that the donee should not abandon the house, and go to another place. If the donee acted in contravention of the above his acts should be considered an act of irreligiousness and another person should be substituted in his place, Held, that the Agrahar gift was a private gift to the donee and an absolute gift according to law ; that the further provision as regards residence was not valid and enforceable. (Shah and Hayward, JJ.) RUKMANI BAI KRISHNA RAO v. LAKSHIMI BAI NARAIN. 22 Bom. L. R. 254 : 56 I. C. 361 : 44 Bom. 304.

——S. 11—Mahomedan Law—Gift with invalid condition attached.

In Mahomedan Law a gift itself is valid though an invalid condition is attached to it. 2 C. W. N. 512. (Fletcher and Huda, JJ.) NUMAT-UN-NESSA BIBI v. GOLAM PANCHATON KAZI 22 C. W. N. 512 : 45 I. C. 601 : 27 C. L. J. 502.

——S. 11—Restraint of alienation.

A condition by a testator in restraint of alienation is void in law. (Shadi Lal, J.) NEK MUHAMMAD v. MAYARAM. 32 I. C. 605 : 35 P. W. R. 1916.

——S. 11—Restraint—Absolute gift.

A property delivered to a person absolutely with a right to enjoy from generation to generation is subject to no limitation whatever in the hands of alienee. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) NARASAMMA HAGADHTHI v. MILLA KESU. 31 I. C. 543 : 25 M. L. J. 637.

——S. 11—Partition—Clause for devolution of share on brother after death

A clause in a partition deed that in event of the death of any one of them without male issue his share after deducting alienations by him should be divided among the survivors, is valid and does not contravene the provisions of Hindu Law or the T. P. Act. (Wallis, C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) MUTHURAMAN CHETTIAR v. PONNUSWAMY UDAYAR 29 M. L. J. 214 : (1915) M. W. N. 405 : 2 L. W. 533 : 29 I. C. 549 : 18 M. L. T. 124.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 11.

——— S. 11—Joint property— Partition—Covenant against invalid.

A provision in a deed among the members of a joint family that they are only to enjoy the income of the family properties does not estop them from claiming a partition by metes and bounds as such an agreement is opposed to the ordinary incident of joint property. 25 Mad. 585 4 M. H. C R. 345, Foll. (Wallis and Seshagiri, Aiyar, JJ.) MUTHUSAMI NAICKER v. MUTHUSAMI NAICKER. 27 I. C. 3.

———S. 11—Transfer of property—Condition repugnant to interest created—Validity.

Where property is transferred absolutely any condition which derogates from the immediate completeness of the transfer is void. But where the condition may be given effect to without interfering with the immediate completeness of the transfer, the condition is valid as also the gift. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs.) FAKHER JAHAN BEGAM v. MAHAMMAD ABDUL GHANI KHAN. 45 I. C. 307 : 5 O. L. J. 49.

———S. 11—Widow's estate created by will—Restriction on alienation.

An absolute restriction on alienation by a widow with a limited estate is bad and the condition is void. (Chapman, Atkinson and Imam, JJ.) RAM BAHADUR v. JAGERNATH PRASAD. (1918) Pat. 181 : 3 Pat L. J. 199 : 45 I. C. 749 : 4 Pat. L. W. 377 (F. B.).

———S. 12—Alienation—Restraint on—Construction of document.

Where land is granted merely for use or occupation either free of rent or at a favourable rate of rent a condition restraining alienation would not be inconsistent with the rights conferred or necessarily void. Hereditary, rent-free, perpetual tenancies might exist without any power of alienation (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) KATESAR ESTATE v. MUHAMMAD AMIR. 46 I. C. 73 : 5 O. L. J. 149.

——— Ss. 13 and 14—Covenant for grant land at future uncertain date offends the rule.

A covenant to grant land free of cost for building purposes at some future uncertain date is not a covenant running with the land and offends the rule against perpetuities and is not enforceable against the covenantor or his assignees. (Lord Buckmaster.) MAHARAJ BAHADUR SINGH v. BALCHAND CHOWDHURY. 48 I. A. 376 : (1921) M. W. N. 157 : 2 Pat L. T. 131 : 14 L. W. 254 : 6 Pat. L. J. 163 : 3 U. P. L R (P. C.) 29 : 61 I. C. 702 : 25 C. W. N. 770 (P. C.).

———Ss. 13 and 14—Rule against perpetuities —Violation—Test.

To test whether a covenant violates the rule against perpetuities, one must look to all possible contingencies. (Mookerjee, A. C. J. and Fletcher, J.) NABIN CHANDAR v. RAJANI. 63 I C. 196 : 25 C. W. N. 901.

———S. 13—Actionable claim—Assignment to third party—Attachment—Effect

When the amount deposited by a person as security for the due performance of the office is assigned to a third person, the attachment by a creditor of the assignor, after the assignment, is not valid as under S. 13. The assignee's right was complete against the assignor on the date of the assignment. Though S 13 does not apply, the principle therein applies. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) VENKATACHALA AIYAR v. SUBRAMANIA AIYAR. 11 M L. T. 245 : 14 I. C. 144 : (1912) M. W. N. 461.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 14.

——— Ss. 13 and 14—Succession, rule of—Change.

A person cannot change the rule of succession under the colour of fictitious endowment. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A J Cs.) SITARAMJI v. JADUNATH SINGH. 24 I. C. 72 : 1 O. L. J. 204.

———Ss. 14 and 16—Gift over— Indefinite failure of issue.

A gift over on indefinite failure of male issue in the line of donor is void at its inception. (Mr. Amer Ali.) PURNA SASHI v. KALIDHAN RAI. 38 Cal. 603 : 15 C. W. N. 693 : 8 A. L. J 681 : 13 Bom. L. R. 451 ; 14 C. L J. 1 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 403 : 10 M L. T. 361 : 11 I. C. 412 : 21 M. L. J. 1119 (P. C.).

———Ss. 14 and 54—Contract for the sale of land—Contract for pre-emption—Rule against perpetuities.

Although contracts for the sale of land which can be specially enforced immediately or contract creating a right of pre-emption which cannot be specially enforced until the proper occasion arises in the future, do not according to the law in India create an interest in land either equitable or executory, they do create rights which are capable of being enforced with regard to the land in certain circumstances against third parties and to that extent they are not ordinarily personal contracts and stand in a category by themselves. The principle which underlies the rule of perpetuities applies to this class of contracts. The law in England and in India is substantially the same with regard to the enforcement of contracts in respect of lands. The only difference is that in England the owner of the equitable interest is considered as the owner of the property contracted to be conveyed. But no such result can follow from a contract creating an executory interest. If such a contract purports to do by indirect means what the law forbids to be done directly it is void and the principle is the same in India as in England. Under Hindu Law, neither equitable interests nor executory interests in immoveable property are recognised. Per Kanga, J.—A contract with regard to land which is calculated to defeat the rule against perpetuities which is one of public policy is void under S. 23 of the Contract Act. 41 B. 438; 38 M. 114 ; 24 M. 449; 25 C. W. N. 901 Ref. (Macleod, C. J. and Kanga, J.) DINKAR RAO GANPATRAO v. NARAYAN. 24 Bom. L. R. 449 : 1922 Bom. 84.

———S. 14—Permanent lease—Covenant for pre emption in case of sale by lessee is invalid.

Where on the creation of a permanent lease the lessee covenants that if he or his representatives intend to transfer the whole or a portion of the leasehold interest, the transfer would be made in favour of the lessors for proper price or to third parties only with the permission of the lessor and that any transfer in contravention of this covenant would be invalid. Held, that the covenant is void as offending the rule against perpetuities and therefore not binding on the lessee. (Woodroffe and Ghose, JJ.) SWARNA KUMAR GHOSH v. PRAHLAD CHANDRA SARKHEL.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 14.

26 C. W. N. 874 : 1922 Cal. 474.

——S. 14—Covenant for pre-emption—Unlimited in point of time is void.

A covenant for pre-emption unlimited in point of time is void as offending the rule against perpetuities. Therefore an agreement among the members of a family that in case one of them had to sell his portion of the family property he would offer it for sale in the first instance to the other members cannot be specifically enforced. 25 C. W. N 901 ; 38 M. 114 : 5 C. W. N. 343 ref. (N. R. Chatterjee and Cuming, JJ.) RASH BEHARI GANGULY v. SHABHARANJAN SAMADDAR.
64 I. C. 1001.

——S. 14—Redemption—Right to.

A mortgagor's right of redemption is exempt from the operation of the rule against perpetuities. (Jenkins, C. J. and Mookerjee, J.) ABDUL GAFFUR v. SHEIKH JAMAL.
17 C. W. N. 1053 : 21 I. C. 90 : 18 C L. J. 228.

——S. 14—Covenant for renewal—Renewal from time to time—Covenant running with the land.

A covenant to renew a lease from time to time at the lessee's option, is one running with the land and is not subject to any rule against perpetuity. (Abdur Rahim and Oldfield, JJ.) TELLICHERY PICHU NAIDU v. JAFARSON.
44 Mad. 230 : 12 L.W. 670 : (1921) M. W. N. 31 : 60 I C. 591 : 41 M. L. J. 94.

——S. 14—Gift to a joint Hindu family—Putravakasam property.

Per Sadasiva Aiyar, J.—The rule against perpetuities cannot be applied so as to invalidate gifts made to all the persons who can naturally form a joint Hindu family, the gifted property to be held as joint family property, or to the whole of the group of persons following the natural law of Marumakathayam forming a natural tavazhi group. Per Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.—A gift is made to the entity which is called Tarwad or Tavazhi and the law governing the parties regulates the mode of succession, and enjoyment. (Wallis, C. J., Sadasiva Aiyar and Srinivasa Aiyangar, JJ.) CHAKKARA KANAM v. KUNHI POKKAR.
39 Mad. 317 : 18 M. L. T. 255 : (1915) M. W. N. 740 : 30 I. C. 755 : 29 M. L. J. 481 (F. B.).

——S. 14—Rule against perpetuities—Contract to sell or reconvey—English and Indian Law.

The rule against perpetuites is applicable only in reference to an attempt to create an interest in land. Under the Law of India an agreement to sell or reconvey land is an agreement merely personal, not creating an interest in land though it has reference to land. Such an agreement is not within the rule against perpetuities. 24 M.L. J. 84 Diss. (Ayling and Tyabji, JJ.) CHARAMUDI v. MARRIBOYINA RAGHAVALU 39 Mad 462 : 18 M. L. T. 76 : (1915) M. W N. 596 : 28 I. C. 871 : 28 M. L. J. 471.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 16.

——S. 14—Pre-emption — If enforceable against covenantor's heirs—Rule against perpetuities.

When no time is fixed for the performance of an agreement to convey, a contract for pre-emption cannot be enforced against the heirs of the covenantor, as being obnoxious to the rule against perpetuities. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) KOLATHU AIYAR v. RANGAVADHYAR.
38 Mad. 114 : 13 M. L. T. 179 : (1913) M. W. N. 163 : 18 I. C. 203 : 24 M. L. J. 84.

——S. 14—Perpetuities, rule against.

A devolution of property in perpetuity is not recognised by the Hindu Law. 9 B. L. R. 37 (P. C), Ref (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs.) BHARATH SINGH v. BALBHADAR SINGH.
20 I. C. 429.

——S. 14—Perpetuities.

A covenant to grant land whenever it is required for the purpose of building a mandir or dharmasala and empowering the grantees to take the land if the grantor or his heirs should refuse to give it, is bad as offending the rule against perpetuities and as preventing the owner from alienating his estate before the happening of a condition which may never happen both under Hindu Law and under T. P. Act. (Chamier, C. J. and Jwala Prasad, J.) DAYA BHAI v. MAHARAJ BAHADUR SINGH.
1 Pat. L J. 238 : 34 I. C. 482 : 2 Pat. L. W. 333.

——S. 14—Rule against perpetuities—Applicability to Mahomedans.

The rule against perpetuities does not rest solely on the religious laws of Hindus or Muhammadans but on the general considerations of public policy. Consequently even under the Mahomedan Law one of the main features opposed to public policy is the attempt to restrict for all time the alienability of property by donees or legatees. (Pipon, J. C.) YUSAF KHAN v. MISAL KHAN.
73 I. C. 99.

——S. 15—Applicability on Hindu transfers.

S. 15 of the T. P Act which embodies the rule in Leake v. Robinson is applicable to Hindu transfers. (Lord Macnaughten.) BHAGBATI BARMAYYA v. KALU CHARAN SINGH.
38 Cal. 468 : 38 I. A. 54 : 15 C. W. N. 393 : 9 M. L. T. 411 : 13 C. L. J. 434 : 8 A. L. J. 433 : 13 Bom. L. R. 375 : (1911) 2 M. W. N 295 : 10 I. C. 641 : 21 M. L. J. 387 (P.C.).

——S. 16—Charitable trusts—Applicability to.

Though no statute governs charitable trusts in India the rule of conduct laid down in S. 15 of the Trusts Act applies also to a trustee of a charitable trust. (Abdur Rahim and Phillips, JJ.) SUBRAMANIA AIYAR v. PRAYAG DOSJI VARU.
33 I. C. 677.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 17.

——— S. 17—Dedication—Religious purposes.

A dedication for religious purposes will not be invalid merely by reason of its transgressing the rule against perpetuities. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs.) SITARAMJI v. JADUNATH SINGH.
24 I. C. 72 : 1 O. L. J. 204.

——— S. 18—Direction to accumulate—Gift of accumulation.

R, in his will devised the residue of his property to B. his widow and executrix for life and thereafter to his five sons in equal shares He further directed certain payments to be made the surplus income during the lifetime of the widow to be accumulated for the benefit of the sons. Held, that the provisions for accumulation of the surplus income is not invalid, as a direction to accumulate with a gift of the accumulation is not bad in itself; it fails only if it offends some independent rule of Hindu Law. (Greaves, J.) RAM LAL SEN v. BIDHUMUKHI DASI. 56 I. C. 373 : 47 Cal. 76.

——— S. 18—Will—Accumulation from surplus income.

Accumulations from bequests according to testator's directions, of surplus income from the debutter estate may create a religious and charitable trust. If a charitable gift is unconditional, a direction for accumulation is invalid and consequently such income is immediately distributable in charity excluding the heirs or next of kin. (Sanderson, C. J., Woodroffe and Mookerjee, JJ.) SAROJINI DASI v. GNANENDRA NATH DAS.
33 I. C. 102 : 23 C. L. J. 241.

——— S. 19—Explanation—"Take by right of inheritance"—Gift to nephews.

Where the nephews of testators are directed to take by right of inheritance after a life-estate they take a vested interest though possession and enjoyment is postponed after the death of the life-estate holders. (Lord Macnaughten.) BHAGBATI BARMANYA v. KALI CHARAN SINGH.
38 Cal. 468 : 38 I. A. 54 : 15 C. W. N. 393 : 9 M. L. T. 411 : 13 C. L. J. 484 : 8 A. L. J. 433 : 13 Bom. L. R. 375 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 295 : 10 I. C. 641 : 21 M. L. J. 387 (P.C.)

——— S. 19—Vested remainder.

To enable a remainder to be vested there must be a direct gift. (Macleod, C. J. and Heaton, J.) NATAVAR LAL GIRDHAREAL v. RANCHHOD BHAGWANDAS. 55 I. C. 313 : 22 Bom. L. R. 71.

——— Ss. 19, 28 and 31—Vested interest—Divesting on condition subsequent—Validity.

Under a partition deed between the sons of a Hindu it was provided that the mother should take a life-estate over certain properties, that the kist due on those properties should be paid by the two sons equally that after the mother's death the sons should take the properties and divide them equally, and if the sons defaulted in the payments of revenue the mother should take the properties absolutely. The sons defaulted in the payment of kist. Held, that the mother's life-estate was converted into an absolute estate, that the sons took a vested remainder under the partition deed subject to the same being divested by the happening of the conditions namely, default in the payment of kist, and that such divesting was not opposed to any principle of Hindu Law. 9 Cal. 952, 9. M. I. A. 123; 16 Cal. 383; 8 M. I. A 66, Foll. (Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) KRISHNASWAMI AIYAR v. APPAVIER.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 35.

12 L. W. 519 : (1920) M. W. N 691 : 28 M. L. T. 430 : 60 I. C. 802 : 39 M. L J. 498.

——— S. 19—Interest on death of a person—Contingent or vested—Suit by reversioners—Compromise.

Two persons claiming to be reversioners instituted a suit disputing the genuineness of a will where the properties of the last owner were bequeathed to his widow, mother, etc. A compromise was arrived at whereby some of the properties were to be taken by the plffs. on the death of the mother, the widow's rights having been already purchased by the mother in a compromise in a prior suit by her. Held, that the rights secured to two reversioners by the compromise was a vested interest and that it did not pass from one to the other by survivorship but was heritable and divisible between the two donees. 4 M. I A. 137 and 38 Cal. 468 Ref (Ayling and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) KRISHNA AIYAR v. SWAMINATHA AIYAR. 24 M. L. T. 101 : 8 L. W. 140 : 47 I. C. 723 : (1918) M. W. N. 503.

——— S. 19—Gift — Enjoyment —Postponed after donor's death—Vested interest.

Where a donor granted and conveyed to the donee property to hold the same as and from the date of the death of the donor, the vesting of the right in the donee takes place as soon as the gift was executed and registered. (Spencer and Krishnan, JJ.) RANGA RAO v. KITHORI AMMAL.
42 I. C. 265 : (1917) M. W. N. 634.

——— Ss. 21, 23 and 29—Gift to daughters—Uncertain event—Marriage.

A bequest to daughters of the testator "when they will be married" was held not to be contingent having regard to the other provisions in the will. (Lord Mersey.) CHANDRA KISHORE ROY v. PRASANNA KUMARI DASI. 38 Cal. 327 : 38 I. A 7 : 15 C. W. N. 121 : 9 M. L. T. 71 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 30 : 13 C L. J. 78 : 8 A. L. J. 96 : 13 Bom. L R. 67 : 4 Bur. L. T. 65 : 9 I C. 122 : 21 M L. J 116 (P.C.).

——— Ss. 25 and 29—Charitable gifts—Illegal conditions.

Per Imam, J :—If the trusts constitute a charitable gift and the conditions are illegal, the charity takes the gift without the conditions. (Imam and Greaves, JJ.) JITENDRA NATH PALIT v. LOKENDRA NATH PALIT. 34 I. C. 657 : 22 C L. J. 593.

——— S 35—Election—Full knowledge requisite—Effect of, on antecedent transactions.

An election to be binding must be with a full knowledge of the rights of the person entitled to elect. Where a person elects after creating substantial rights in favour of strangers in property which he would lose by the election the strangers who had already acquired title would not be affected by the election. (Lord Atkinson). SADIK HUSSAIN KHAN v HASHIMI ALI KHAN.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 35.

38 All. 627 : 43 I. A. 212 : 14 A. L. J. 1248 : 19 O. C. 192 : 18 Bom. L. R. 1037 : 21 C. W. N. 130 : (1916) 2 M. W. N. 577 : 21 M. L. T. 40 : 1 Pat. L. W. 157 : 4 O. L. J. 22 : 25 C. L. J. 363 : 6 L. W. 378 : 10 Bur. L. T. 140 : 36 I. C. 104 : 31 M. L. J. 607 (P.C.)

——— S. 35—Election—Hindu widow—Knowledge of facts necessary—Pardanashin lady.

Plaintiff the widow of a Hindu testator was a legatee under his will in respect of one house and an annuity of Rs. 100. In addition she was entitled to suitable residential quarters in the family house. There was a litigation in respect of the administration of the estate and in that the widow claimed maintenance from the husband's estate. But this question was left open. Subsequently the widow brought a suit for arrears of maintenance. Held that she was prima facie entitled to maintenance and she had done nothing to waive that right To constitute a waiver or election by a Hindu widow it must be shown that she was fully aware of her right under the law and with that knowledge made an election. A pardanashin lady is entitled to special protection in this respect. (Macleod, C. J., Harrington and Fletcher, JJ.) TRIGUNA SUNDARI DASI v. RADHA RANI DASI. 37 C. L. J. 30 : 1923 Cal. 97.

——— S. 35—Will reciting previous gift—Devisee if can contest gift.

A person accepting a benefit under a will is not precluded from disputing a gift by the testatrix long before her death and which is not the subject of the Will at all though it is recited therein. (Wallis and Oldfield, JJ.) RAMIYAR v. MAHALASHMI. 14 L. W. 33 : 64 I. C. 481 : (1922) M. W. N. 484.

——— S 35—Election—Doctrine of—Applicability to Hindus.

The doctrine of election is based on the principle of compensation and not of forfeiture. The quantum of compensation is not what the Court considers. It only sees that a party deprived of a right vesting in him is recompensed by the gift of another property whatever may be its nature or duration of enjoyment. He who accepts a benefit under a deed or a will must adopt the whole contents of the instrument conforming to all its provisions and renouncing every right inconsistent with it. The rule enunciated in S. 35. T.P. Act, applies to Hindus. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) AMMALU ACHI v. PONNAMMAL ACHI. 9 L. W. 202 : 49 I. C. 527 : (1919) M. W. N. 144 : 36 M. L. J. 507.

——— S. 35—Election of remedies—Mortgage—Rent due from mortgagor charged on property—Decree—Redemption.

In a suit for redemption the mortgagee cannot claim any arrears of rent with interest thereon in respect of the mortgage land leased to the mortgagor as tenant under the terms of the mortgage deed, when the mortgagee has already sued for and obtained a decree in respect of such rent and interest and allowed the decree to become barred by limitation. This is so even though the arrears of rent is made a charge on the property under the deed. (Phillips and Krishnan, JJ.) MANGESHWAR NARAINA RAO v. S. SHIVA RAO. 41 Mad. 1043 : 8 L. W. 405 : 24 M. L. T. 370 : 4 U. C. 123 : (1918) M. W. N. 917 : 35 M. L. J. 414.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882 S. 36.

——— S. 35—Election—Decree for money by instalments—Mortgage

Where a person takes a mortgage in consideration of consenting to a decree for payment by instalments in a suit on a pro-note, he can execute the decree and enforce the mortgage. The doctrine of election had no application to the case. (White, C. J. and Phillips, J.) KARUPPAN CHETTIAR v. PONNUSWAMI THEVAR. 11 I. C. 837 : 10 M. L. T. 187.

——— S 35—Election—Different capacities.

Where a person takes a benefit in one capacity and asserts his right in another no question of election arises though owing to circumstances the two capacities merge in him. A person benefiting indirectly under a transaction need not elect and a person taking in one capacity may dissent therefrom in another capacity. (Stuart, J. C. and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) DEPUTY COMMISSIONER OF PARTABGARH v. RAM SARUP. 42 I. C. 18 : 20 O. C. 243.

——— S. 35—Election—Remedies.

If two remedies which are co-existent and inconsistent are equally available to a party and he pursues one remedy and fails therein, equity will step in and prevent him from pursuing the other remedy, because he chooses one remedy at his own peril and cannot turn round and say, when he fails therein that he will now pursue the other remedy open to him. (Das, J.) BABU JAGDEEP-SAHAY v. SONU LAL. 52 I. C. 363.

——— S. 36—Mortgage--Deposit for redemption—Profits—Date from which claim begins.

From the day of the deposit to redeem a mortgage the property is transferred to the mortgagor and under S. 36 of the T. P. Act mortgagor is entitled to the collections made therefor. (Gokul Prasad, J.) LALA GANGA RAM v. MEWA RAM SINGH. 1922 All. 275.

——— S. 36—Contribution.

When contribution is ordered between different funds each of them is to be placed in the same position as it would have had, if it had paid its due proportion at the proper time. (Griffin and Chamier, JJ.) SHAH MUHAMMAD ABBAS v. MAHOMED HAMID. 14 I. C. 179 : 9 A. L. J. 499.

——— S. 36—Assignment of landlord's interest to tenant—Rent up to assignment is claimable by landlord.

Where an assignee from a tenant of his interest subsequently gets an assignment of the interest of the landlord, the assignor of the landlord's interest is entitled to the rents accrued up to the date of the assignment on the principle of S. 36 of the T. P. Act from the assignee. (N. R. Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) BIKRAM KUMAR BOSE v. MOHIT KRISHNA KUNDU. 64 I. C. 178.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S 36.

——S. 36—Applicability—Execution sale.

S 36 of the Act embodies a rule of justice, equity and good conscience which should be applied to execution sales. 26 Mad. 540 ; 38 Mad. 86, Foll. (Wallis, C. J., Bakewell and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) VEMA RANGIAH CHETTY v. VAJRAVELU MUDALIAR. 41 Mad. 370 : 43 I. C. 78 : 33 M. L. J. 618.

——S 36—Lease—Aissignment—Apportionment of rent.

An assignee from a lessee becomes the lessee from the date of assignment and he is liable only for the rent accruing after the assignment An assignee of a lease is entitled to claim as against the lessor an apportionment of the rent after the date of his assignment as the rent accrues from day to day as between him and the lessor. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) RANDIPURAYIL KUNHISOW v. ALUKANDIYIL PARKUM MULLOLI CHATHU. 38 Mad. 86 : 17 I. C. 933 : 12 M. L. T. 605 : 23 M. L. J. 695.

——Ss. 37, 50 and 109—Title of assignment when complete—Notice of assignment, whether necessary—Payment of rent by tenant in good faith.

Under the sections the title of the assignee is completed upon execution and, when necessary, registration of the deed of assignment The completion of the title is not postponed till notice has been given either by the assignor or by the assignee to the tenant. As soon as the title of the assignee is complete he is entitled to claim rent. The tenant can escape liability if he can establish that he has paid rent to the assignor in good faith before notice of the assignment. A tenant cannot plead successfully that he has paid rent in good faith to the assignor if he has received notice of the assignment either from the assignor or from the assignee. (Mookerji and Beachcroft, JJ.) PEARYLAL DAW v. MADHOJI JIBAN. 19 I. C. 865 : 17 C. L. J 372.

——S. 38—Evidence Act, S. 102—Alienee from guardian—Onus.

A purchaser deriving title to a minor's property by purchase from the minor's mother as guardian of the minor, must prove that the mother was authorised to effect the transfer. (Scott, C. J. and Shah, J.) RALAPPA DUNDAPPA v. CHAUNBASSAPPA. 33 I. C. 444 : 17 Bom. L. R. 1134.

——S. 38—Transfer by Karnavan.

Where the vendor has absolute power to convey certain property, the vendee gets full title provided the vendor recites in the sale deed that he intends to pass full title though the recitals be false (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) SUBRAMANIYA PATTAR v. KRISHNA EMBRANDRI. 12 L. W. 361 : 60 I. C. 77 : 39 M. L. J. 590.

——S. 38—'Any person,' meaning of.

A purchaser from a Muhammadan Zamindar who but for S. 28 of the Sind Encumbered Estates Act, would have been the absolute owner of the property need not inquire into the nature of the title of his transferor and therefore he gets a good title to the property purchased. (Fawcett, C. J. and Crump, A. J. C.) SHAHAB-UD-DIN v. VOHIDBUX. 56 I. C. 492 : 14 S. L. R. 12.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 40.

——S. 39—Maintenance—Charge—Bona fide purchaser.

The right of a Hindu widow to maintenance is not a charge upon the estate of her deceased husband, unless and until it is fixed and charged upon the estate by a decree or by agreement. If such estate has been alienated and is in the hands of a bona fide transferee the widow cannot follow the property even though the transferee had notice of the widow's claim for maintenance. 4 All. 296 ; 22 All. 326 ; 24 All. 160 Foll. (Scott-Smith, J.) DAULAT RAM v. CHAMPA 2 U. P. L. R. (Lah.) 50 : 55 I. C. 28 : 32 P. W. R. 1920.

——Ss. 39 and 40—Dasabandan Cess—Covenants running with land.

The objection to collect and pay the dasabandan cess annexed to the ownership of the property may be enforced against the transferee with notice of the obligation under S. 39. (Ayling and Tyabji, JJ.) BANGARU MUTHU VENKATAPPA NAYANIVARU v. GOLLA CHINNABBA NAIDU. 31 I. C. 565.

——S. 39—Impartible estates—Maintenance—Junior members.

Junior members in an impartible estate are not entitled to a charge for maintenance against a transferee of the estate in the absence of a special custom. (Roe and Coutts, JJ.) DEBENDRANATH SHAH DEO v. DEO NARAYAN SINGH. 48 I. C. 613 : 3 Pat. L. J. 648.

——S. 40—Judicial sales—Title—Vagueness in notice—Effect.

Judicial sales would be robbed of all their security if vague references to antecedent contracts could be held to invalidate the buyer's title. (Lord Dunedin, J.) NUR MAHOMED PERBHOY v. DINSHAW HORMASJI. 1922 P. C. 393.

——S. 40—Annuity—Payable by Zemindar—Charge.

A charge for the maintenance of the junior member and his family in a Zemindari, created by the Zimindar, for the time being, binds his heirs and legatees. (Lord Phillimore.) RAJA RAJESWARA DORAI v. SUNDARA PANDIYASAMI TEVAR. 42 Mad. 581 : 17 A. L. J. 153 : 23 C. W. N. 549 : 29 C. L J. 551 : 25 M. L. T. 400 : 21 Bom. L. R. 885 : (1919) M W. N. 511 : 49 I C. 704 : 10 L. W. 322 : 36 M. L. J. 164 (P. C.).

——S. 40—Redemption—Right to—Purchase of equity of redemption by mortgagee.

Where the equity of redemption has been held in execution of decree for mesne profits obtained by the usufructuary mortgagee for the period for which he was out of possession, the mortgagee's right of redemption is extinguished. (Mr. Ameer Ali) PRABHU DAYAL v. KALYAN DAS. 43 I. A 43 : 20 C. W. N. 425 : 19 M. L. T. 206 : (1916) 1 M. W. N. 234 : 3 L. W. 293 : 38 All 163: 23 C. L. J. 411 : 33 I. C. 505: 18 Bom. L. R. 382 (P. C.).

——S. 40—Vendor and purchaser—Covenant to pay a sum of money to vendor on alienation of structure by vendee.

Deft. was allowed by the owner of certain lands to build on the lands on condition that if deft. sold any of the houses so built he should pay one-fourth of the purchase money to the owner. Held, that the heirs of the deft. and their alienees were severally liable in respect of the one-fourth of the purchase money payable to the owner Per Walsh, J.—A purchaser having notice of any restrictive covenant binding upon his vendor as a condition of the interest or the grant which he enjoys in the land is affected in equity with notice of such restriction and is liable after he becomes a purchaser for any act done in breach of such restriction. S. 40 of the T. P. Act was intended to codify this principle (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) PRABHU NARAIN SINGH v. RAMZAN.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 40.

41 All. 417 : 49 I. C. 865 : 17 A. L. J. 469.

———S. 40—Land Revenue—Covenant running with the land—Liability to pay Land Revenue.

Where the owner of certain lands sold them, except a portion reserved by himself, stipulating that the transferee should pay land revenus on all the lands including the lands resumed, such an agreement cannot be enforced for all time against the person in possession. (Chamier, J.) RAM GOVIND v. SRI THAKURJI MAHARAJ.
19 I. C. 126: 11 A. L. J. 231.

———S. 40—Covenant running with the land—Liability to pay revenue.

An agreement that the transferor should retain a certain portion of the property transferred and that the transferee should pay the whole of the land revenue including that of the portion retained, is not a covenant running with the land, and the transferees of the vendee are not bound by it. (Chamier, J.) SRI THAKURJI MAHARAJ v. LACHMI NARAIN. 19 I. C. 67: 11 A. L. J. 212.

———S. 40—Covenant running with the land—Restricting user of property.

A covenant agreeing to restrict the use of property by the owner is not binding on the purchaser unless he has notice as it does not run with the land. (Macleod, C. J. and Heaton, J.) GORDHANDAS v. MOHANLAL. 22 Bom. J. R. 1158 : 59 I. C. 506 : 45 B. 170.

———Ss. 40 and 41—Invalid Revenue Sale—Doctrine of purchaser for value without notice does not apply.

A revenue sale held on the footing that the defendant was bound to pay assessment would be invalid if it is found that he was, in fact, entitled to hold the lands free of assessment. The purchaser in such a sale would not get a good title except by adverse possession. The doctrine of a purchaser for value without notice, does not apply to sale held by Revenue Courts. (Macleod, C.J. and Heaton, J.) MADHAV NARAYAN v. SADASHIV KESHAV. 45 Bom. 45 : 59 I. C. 118: 22 Bom. L. R. 1082.

———S. 40—Charge on land—Applicability to subsequent transfer.

Where property in the hands of a person is burdened with a charge, a transferee getting it with notice of the said charge takes it subject to the obligation attaching to the property. (Scott, C. J. and Heaton, J.) TAVAKAL BHAI v. IMTIYAJUEGANN. 41 Bom. 372 : 39 I. C. 96: 19 Bom. L. R. 97.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 40.

———S. 40—Covenant running with the land—Covenant to repurchase.

The covenant to reconvey in a sale-deed only creates a personal liability and it does not run with the land. Even heirs of the vendor are not bound by it. (Scott and Batchelor, JJ.) GURU NATH BALAJI v. YAMCHANA NALAROO.
35 Bom. 258 : 10 I. C. 814: 13 Bom. L. R. 240.

———S. 40—Covenant for preparation of jama papers.

A contract between lessor and lessee for the preparation of a set of Jama wasib vaki and Jama Mufassil papers is a covenant running with the land. (Fletcher and Newbould, JJ.) BHAGWAN DAS v. SURENDRA NARAIN SINGH.
42 I. C. 521.

———S. 40—Applicability—Creation of easement.

The principle of S. 40 of the Act is not applicable to a case where a deed of sale in favour of the plaintiff creates an easement. S 40 does not deal with rights of that character. (Leslie. Jones, J.) RAM SINGH v. RAM SINGH,
39 I. C. 778 : 48 P. W. R. 1917.

———S. 40—Covenant running with land—Condition.

A condition that if the property was sold by the mortgagor three-fourths of the sale money should be paid to the mortgagee does not destroy the mortgagee's right over the property and he can follow the property if he is not paid the three-fourths of the sale money. 30 Mad 67, Dist. (Johnstone and Rattigan, JJ.) ALLIANCE BANK v. KAHAN SINGH. 4 P. R. 1915 : 111 P. W.R. 1914 : 25 I. C. 856: 216 P. L. R. 1914.

———Ss. 40 and 100—Charge—Purchaser without notice.

Where there is a charge on immoveable property to secure payment of a sum of money supported by consideration, a purchaser of the immoveable property although without notice of the charge takes it only subject to the charge. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) SRINIVASA RAGHAVA IYENGAR v. RANGANATHA AIYANGAR.
25 M. L. T. 347 : 51 I. C. 963: 36 M. L. J. 618.

———S. 40—Contract of sale—Private sale pending attachment—Transferee—Meaning of—Execution of decree.

A contract of sale creates an obligation annexed to the ownership of property within the meaning of the section. A private sale of property pending attachment under a contract entered into prior to attachment, confers good title on the vendee. The term 'transferee' in the section includes not merely a transferee under a private alienation but also to a purchaser in execution of a decree. The principle of the section applies also to the proceeding in execution. (Abdur Rahim and Srinivasa Aiyangar, JJ.) RIBALA VENKATA REDDI v. MANGADU YELLAPPA CHETTY.
38 I. C. 107 : 5 L. W. 234.

———S. 40—Purchaser of encumbered estate with notice.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S 40.

A transferee who purchases property knowing that it is encumbered with a debt is liable under S. 40 of the said Act to discharge the debt. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A J. Cs.) MAHADEO BAKSH SINGH v. SANT BAKSH SINGH. 7 O L. J. 356 : 57 I. C. 513 : 23. O. C. 118.

——— S. 40—Covenant against alienation.

A covenant between the mortgagor and mortgagee restraining the former from alienating the mortgaged property creates only a personal liability between the parties and does not invalidate a lease by the mortgagor. The lessee can claim to redeem the mortgage. 6 Cal. 317; 30 Bom. 250; 17 C L J. 384, Dist. (Lindsay, J. C. and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) SYED HUSAIN v. BANK OF UPPER INDIA, LTD. 30 I. C. 289 : 2 O. L.J. 291.

——— S. 40—Covenant running with land—Assignee.

A covenant running with the land necessarily affects the nature, quality or value of the land independently of collateral circumstances affecting the mode of enjoyment. A covenant will bind the transferee though a portion of it does not relate to the thing demised. (Das and Foster, JJ.) THE LODNA COLLIERY CO., LTD v. BEPIN BEHARI BOSE. 55 I. C. 113 : 1 Pat. L. T. 84.

——— S. 40—Grant of land to build dharmasala—Not enforceable.

A covenant to grant land to the grantee for building a dharmasala or mandir thereon whenever he or his successors wished it, creating as it does, only a secular estate in the grantee, is unenforceable against the heir and assignees of the grantee. (Chamier and Jwala Prasad, JJ) DAYA BHAI v. MAHARAJ BAHADUR SINGH.
1 Pat L. J. 238 : 34 I. C. 482: 2 Pat. L. W. 333.

——— S. 41.

Attestation.
Disqualified person.
Enquiry
Husband and wife.
Involuntary sale.
Notice.
Ostensible owner.
Reasonable care.
Rival transferees.
Scope of.
Miscellaneous.

Attestation.

——— S 41—Attestation—Benamidar--Alienation by—Real owner, if can contest.

A real owner who allows the benamidar to pose as the real owner and attests an alienation by hi is estopped from asserting the benami nature of the transaction against the bona fide transferee for value; and a person claiming through the real owner will have no superior rights. (Rossignol and Wilberforce, JJ.) SANT SINGH v. LACHMI. 46 I. C. 102 : 126 P. W. R 1918.

——— S. 41—Attestation—Conveyance by mortgagee as absolute owner.

Where a person attests a registered mortgage document which expressly recited that the attestor has no objection to the mortgage and on the faith of such attestation a second mortgage is taken by third parties the attestator will be estopped from setting up rights to the property to the prejudice of the subsequent mortgagee. 20 Cal. 296, (P.C.) 18 W.R. 166 (P.C.); 22 Cal. 909, (P.C.) Ref. to. (Agnew and Shadilal, JJ.) BASSO v. MIR MUHAMMAD. 20 I. C 291. 278 P. L. R. 1913 :

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 41—Enquiry.

Disqualified Person.

——— S 41—Disqualified person—Purdanashin lady—Representations by co-heir—Estoppel.

In the absence of any proof or suggestion that purdanashin ladies of a family had misled by word or conduct any alienee from the male members the mere fact that the ladies left the management of the property in the hands of males is insufficient to show that the male members represented the females or that the latter are estopped. (Lord Macnaghten.) AZIMA BIBI v. SHAMALAVAND. 40 Cal. 378 : 17 I C. 758 : 17 C.W.N. 121 : 13 M.L.T. 159 : (1913) M. W. N. 125 : 11 A. L J. 169 : 17 C.L.J. 303:15 Bom. L.R. 423: 25 M.L.J. 55.(P.C.)

——— S. 41—Disqualified person—Minor—Purchase from an ostensible owner.

Where a person purchased in good faith from another who was allowed by the father of the plaintiff (a minor) to hold himself out as the ostensible owner and who after the death of the father was allowed by the minor's mother to be in possession of the property collecting rents (for her) the rule of law contained in S. 41 of the Transfer of Property Act is no bar to the plaintiff's suit as no estoppel against an infant can be created by the acts of his guardian Unless the purchaser makes a detailed inquiry into the title of his vendor for a period of more than 12 years and insists on the production and if possible possession of title deeds of the vendor, he cannot claim the protection offered by S. 41 of the Transfer of Property Act. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) RAM CHARAN DAS v. JOY RAM MAJHI. 16 C.L.J. 185 : 16 I.C. 825 : 17 C.W.N. 10.

Enquiry.

——— S 41—Enquiry—Absence of, as to real title—Effect of.

When it was proved that the plaintiff resided in the same locality and knew the family for a long time and advanced the money without making any enquiry as to the title of the reversioner, held, that he cannot claim as a bona fide transferee within S. 41 of the Transfer of Property Act (Viscount Haldane) NAGESHAR PRASAD PANDE v. RAJA NARAIN SINGH.
3 L.W. 454 : 34 I.C 673 : 20 C.W.N. 265 : (1916) 1 M.W.N. 142 (P.C.).

——— S. 41—Enquiry—Transfer by ostensible owner—Title.

A mortgagee from a sister's son of the last Hindu owner of the property ought to inquire if there are any collaterals of the last owner in existence, and if he does not so enquire, he is not entitled to the protection of S. 41 of the Act. (Banerji and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) BALLU MAL v. RAM KISHUN. 43 All. 263 : 64 I.C. 14: 19 A L J. 11.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S 41—Enquiry.

——S 41—Enquiry.

N, a mortgagee from R, did not make any inquiry as to R's title. He lived in the same locality as R and used to lend money to R's family. It was held in a suit by P. against R. and N that R had no title to the property. N. brought a suit for sale of the property It was held, that he could not take advantage of S. 41, T. P. Act, under the above circumstances. (Johnstone, C. J. and Banerji, J.) PATESHERI PARTAB NARAIN SINGH v. NAGESHAR PRASAD. 10 I.C. 961 : 8 A.L J. 358.

——S 41—Enquiry—Son acting for father—Transferee—Estoppel.

Where a father purchased a site in the name of his son, built on it, was in possession and received its rents and the son transferred it. Held, that as the vendee from the son had various indications which should have led him to make inquiries into his vendor's title and had received moreover direct notice of the father's claim at the time when the deed was presented for registration, he could not urge that the father was estopped by his conduct from setting up a title as against him, 22 Cal. 909, Rel. (Scott-Smith and Shadi Lal, JJ) GULAM DASTGIR v. TEJA SINGH. 73 P R. 1918 : 47 I.C. 367 : 159 P.W.R. 1918.

——S. 41—Enquiry—Scope of.

A purchaser is not bound to inquire whether the seller's wife is enciente and so the right of the son in the womb cannot prevail against the purchaser. (Wallis, Offg. C. J. and Hanney, J.) DATLA VENKATASUBBA RAJU GARU v. GATTEM VENKATARAYADU. 26 I.C. 61: 16 M.L T. 508: 27 M.L J. 580.

——S. 41—Enquiry—Protection.

Pyatbaings not signed by the transferors are no documents of title after the passing of the T. P. Act. So to claim the protection of S. 41, a purchaser must prove that he enquired as to who was in actual possession of the land for 12 years before purchase, and should not assume that the vendor is the true owner merely on the strength of the pyathaings. (Twomey, J.) MG PO NYEIN v. MAUNG MY. 27 I.C. 777 : 8 Bur. L.T. 85.

——S. 41—Enquiry—Purchaser put on inquiry as to defect of title

Where a purchaser from a son was aware of a mortgage which had been executed by him and his father held that the purchaser was put by the mortgage deed upon inquiry as to the interest of the father in the land and that he was therefore not a bona fide purchaser from an ostensible owner. (Ormond and Parlett, JJ) MOHAMED IBRAHIM SAIB KHATEH v MOUNG BA GYAN. 24 I.C. 482· 7 Bur. L.T. 69.

——S. 41—Enquiry.

S. 41 does not apply in a case, where the mortgagees could have easily ascertained that the property belonged to the mortgagor as well as to his other brothers. (Hartnoll, J.) MAUNG PO THEN v. MA ON BWIN. 12 I.C. 858 : 4 Bur L.T. 143.

——S. 41—Enquiry— Absence of—Bona fides.

S. 41 of the T. P. Act will not protect a transferee when the slightest enquiry would have sufficed to acquaint the mortgagee with the fact that the land stood in the real owner's name in the Revenue Maps and Registers. (Twomey, J.) MAUNG HMWE v. MA LUN AUNG. 11 I.C. 855: 4 Bur. L.T. 186.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 41—Notice.

Husband and Wife.

——S. 41—Husband and wife—Purchase of property benami by husband in the name of his wife—Rights of decree-holder against the husband purchasing such property—Mortgagee from widow—Bona fide transferee for value.

Where a husband purchased property in the name of his wife and held her out to be the true owner of the said property, a purchaser of the property in execution of a decree against the husband is estopped from denying the rights of a mortgagee from the wife who took the mortgage in good faith and without notice of the benami character of the wife's title. The purchaser in execution of the degree against the husband is his successor-in-interest and is affected by the same estoppel as would affect the husband under S. 41 of the T. P. Act. (Chatterjee and Cuming, JJ.) ANNODA MOHAN ROY CHOWDHURY v. NILPHAMARI LOAN OFFICE, LTD. 65 I.C. 245 : 26 C W.N. 436.

——S. 41—Husband and wife—Husband's property sold by wife—Husband's right to redeem and recover.

Where during the husband's absence on pilgrimage, the wife sold a peice of land, which before the husband's departure was mortgaged by her, the purchaser who paid off the mortgage having satisfied himself that the wife was the owner : Held, that the husband could not recover the land nor could be redeem the mortgage. (Chitty and Richardson, JJ) NIRAS PURBE v. TETRI PASIN. 32 I C. 82 : 20 C.W.N. 103.

Involuntary sale.

——S. 41—Involuntary sales--Execution sale.

Where title is obstensibly in a third person and the real owner acknowledges it as true, persons who seek to prove that the title is illusory will not be allowed to do so. This principle does not apply to execution creditors who are not estopped by consideration affecting the judgment-debtor. (Abdur Rahim, O. C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) VEERAPPA CHETTY v. RAMASAMI CHETTY. 43 Mad. 135 : 53 I C. 579: 26 M.L.T 271 : 11 L.W. 232 : 37 M.L.J. 442.

——S. 41—Involuntary sales.

S. 41 applies to the case of a Court auction purchase 16 I. C. 811, Foll. (Moore and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) NARAPRATH KUMALI v. PARAMBOLI KANDI. 34 I.C. 494.

Notice.

——S 41—Notice—Transfer by ostensible owner—Hindu widow—Consent of.

An assignee of an equity of redemption who also claims to be assignee of the mortgagee's rights but who has taken no re-transfer of the property from the mortgagee and whose assignor has also taken no retransfer of those rights, cannot set up a plea of bona fide purchase without notice. Quaere:—Whether the consent required by S. 41 of the T. P. Act can be said to be furnished where the only consent given is that of a Hindu widow as tenant for life remainder-man being no party to such consent. (Scott, C. J. and Batchelor, J.) BAI JAYAGAVRI v. PURSHOTAMDAS. 44 I.C. 926 : 20 Bom. L.R. 77.

——S. 41—Notice—Possession with stranger.

If a purchaser or mortgagee has notice that the vendor or mortgagor is not in possession of the property, he must make inquiries of the person in possession or else take the property subject to the rights of such person. (Mookerji and Beachcroft, JJ.) MAGU BRAHMA v. BHOLI DAS. 20 I.C. 195 : 19 C.L.J. 352 : 18 C.W.N. 657.

——S. 41—Notice—Real owner in possession

Where the real owner has all along been in possession and enjoyment of the property, that circumstances is constructive notice of the benami nature of the transaction. A person invoking the plea of estoppel must show that he made bona fide enquiries (Shadilal, J.) RAM SARUP v. MAYA SHANKER. 46 P. R. 1918 : 43 I. C. 556 : 33 P W R 1918 : 45 P.L.R. 1918.

——S. 41—Notice — Burden of proof—Real owner holding out of another.

Where a third person purchases an estate for value from the apparent owner the burden of proving that third person had actual or constructive notice of the real title is on the vendor and the burden is not shifted though the vendor was more than a mere benamidar and had a lien on the property for payments made by him. (Abdur Rahim and Phillips, JJ.) RAJA OF KARVETNAGAR v. SARAVANA PILLAI. 35 I. C. 893 : 4 L. W. 200.

——S. 41 — Notice—Bona fide mortgagee without notice.

A bona fide mortgagee without notice of defect of title in his mortgagor may be awarded a decree under S. 41 even though the sale of the property to the mortgagor was collusive. (Munro and Sankaran Nair, JJ.) BOMMADEVARA VENKATA NARASIMHA v. GUNDU SASTRULU. 9 I. C 504 : 9 M. L. T. 365.

——S. 41—Notice—Possession of stranger.

A purchaser of immoveable property in the possession of a third person is presumed to have the notice of the title of such third person. (Maung Kin, J.) MUNG BO v. MUNG TUN BYU. 33 I. C 121

——S. 41—Notice.

A person who knows about the infirmity of title of his transferor cannot claim the benefit of S. 41 (Robinson, J.) SAW LAN v. MAUNG LUN. 22 I. C. 673.

Ostensible owner.

——S. 41—Ostensible owner—Property in the possession of—Execution sale—Rights of purchaser.

The question whether, on the facts found, the principle of S. 41 of the T. P. Act applies, is one of law. 26 A. 490 ; 36 A. 303 Ref. The property in question originally belonged to a Mahomedan who died leaving a son and daughter. The son's name alone was entered in the revenue papers on the death of the lady in 1890 and he alone remained in physical possession of the property. In 1896 the son alone mortgaged the property and paid it off in due course subsequently. Again he mortgaged in 1908 and 1911. In a suit by the mortgagee the property was sold in execution and purchased by him. Subsequently in 1919 the daughter sued for a 1/3 share of the property. Held that the son having dealt with the property as his own with the consent of the daughter, the latter was estopped from claiming it as her own. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) MUL RAJ v. FAZL IMAM. 45 A. 520 : 21 A. L. J. 424 : L. R. 4 A 234 : 1923 A. 583.

——S. 41—Ostensible owner — Manager of property during owner's absence—Entry of manager in Municipal house tax register—Effect of—Dealings with property.

The possession of a manager cannot be treated as sufficient evidence of ostensible ownership with the consent, express or implied, of the real proprietor within the meaning of S. 41 of the T.P. Act. The entry of the name of the manager in the municipal house-tax register on his own application was only made for the purpose of assessment and collection of house-tax and was not intended for registering title. Such an entry is not always enough to induce a person to think that the person whose name was entered was the proprietor and a right to sell the property which was entered in his name. 12 A. L. J. 411 ; 19 C. W.N. 1055; 23 A 442, Ref. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) MAHOMED SULAIMAN v. SAKINA BIBI. 20 A L. J. 654 : 44 All. 674 : L R. 3 A. 509 : 1922 All. 392.

——S. 41—Ostensible owner—Mahomedan lady.

Where a Mah. Lady after the death of her husband represents herself to be the sole owner of the husband's property with the consent of the heirs, receives rent from tenants, and is entered as sole owner in public records, a transfer by her in good faith and for valuable consideration, is protected by S. 41. (Bannerji and Ryves, JJ.) MOHAMAD SHAKUR KHAN v. MUSSAMMAT SHAHAJAN BEGAM. 63 I. C. 125.

——S. 41—Ostensible owner.

A manager of a property on behalf of another cannot be the ostensible owner under S. 41 of the Act. (Richardson and Banerjea, JJ.) JAMNADAS v. UMA SHANKER. 36 All. 308 : 25 I. C. 158 : 12 A. L. J. 411.

——S. 41—Ostensible owner—Transfer by—Silence—Estoppel—Judgment.

Where one man allows another to hold himself out as the owner of an estate, and a third person purchases it for value from the apparent owner in the belief that he is the real owner the man who so allows the other to hold himself but shall not be permitted to recover upon his secret title, unless he can overthrow that of the purchaser by showing either that he had direct notice or something which amounts to constructive notice of the real title or that there existed circumstances which ought to have put him upon an enquiry that, if prosecuted would have led to discovery of it. The circumstances which would prompt enquiry might be infinitely varied but it might be said that they must be of such specific character that the court could place its finger on them and say that upon such facts some particular enquiry ought to have been made. It is not enough to assert generally that enquiries should be made or that a prudent man would make inquiries. Some specific circumstances should be pointed out as the starting point of an inquiry which might be expected to lead to some result. These principles apply to the case of sales as well as mortgages. 11 B. L. R. 46; 19 W. R. 292; 26 A. 490 Rel. One who culpably stands by and allows another to hold himself out to the world as the owner of property and thereby sell it to a bona fide purchaser cannot afterwards assert his title against the latter. It may be difficult on the concrete facts of a particular case to determine what standing by is culpable. It is the duty of a man who knows that another is relying on a document bearing a counterfeit of his signature to give notice of the forgery without delay. 6 A. C. 82; (1904) A. C 806; (1893) 1 Ch. 736 Rel. (Mookerjee and Cuming, JJ.) BAIDYA NATH DUTT v. ALEFJAN BIBI. 36 C. L. J. 9 : 1923 Cal. 240.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 41—Ostensile owner.

——— S. 41—Ostensible owner—transfer by—Notice of defect in title—Effect of.

In order to allow the real owner of property to recover from an alienee the property taken from a person allowed by the real owner to hold himself that as the owner, he must prove either direct or constructive notice of the title or the existence of circumstances which ought to have but the purchasers on an enquiry which if prosecuted would have led to a discovery of the real title. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) LAL SINGH v. PARAS RAM. 1922 Nag. 226.

——— S. 41—Ostensible owner— Bona fides—Purchase from an ostensible owner.

Plaintiff cannot set up his real title when the defendant has purchased the property bona fide from the ostensible owner. (Roe and Coutts, JJ.) RAMSUNDAR SAHU v. RAMNARAYAN SAHU. 48 I. C. 936 : (1919) Pat. 404.

Reasonable care.

——— S. 41—Reasonable care—Ostensible owner—Vendee—Due care and inquiry.

A vendee from an apparent owner must show that he had no actual or constructive notice of the real title and had not before him circumstances which would have put him on reasonable inquiry to find out the truth. Quaere:—Whether transfer of the patta makes the pattadar the ostensible owner? Quaere:—Whether S. 41 overrides S. 115 of the Evidence Act where immoveable property is claimed? (Ayling and Coutts Trotter, JJ.) VENKATARAMANA AIYAR v. E. VENKATARAMANA AIYAR. 9 L. W. 318 : 50 I. C. 969 : (1919) M. W. N. 180.

——— S. 41—Reasonable care—Purchase from ostensible owner.

S. 41 of the T. P. Act is applicable when the transferor is the ostensible owner and the transfer ismade with the consent of the real owner The purchaser has to prove that he took reasonable care to ascertain that the vendor has no title to convey. (White, C. J and Oldfield, J.) KUPPAMMAL v. GATTIPALLI GOPAUL CHETTY. 27 I. C. 14 : 1 L. W. 649.

——— S. 41—Reasonable care—Collector's certificate.

A man who acts on the Collector's certificate as evidence of title does so at his peril. Reasonable care and good faith are necessary to get the protection of S. 41 of the T. P. Act. (White, C. J. and Oldfield, J.) THANGAVELU CHETTY v. MANGATHAYE AMMAL. 21 I. C. 21 : (1913) M. W. N. 674.

——— S. 41—Reasonable care—Transferee from ostensible owner must prove title.

The transferee from an ostensible owner has to plead and prove that he took reasonable care to ascertain that his vendor had power to make the transfer and that he took the sale deed in good faith and for consideration. (Batten, J. C.) MT. KASTUR BAI v. BALIRAM. 1923 Nag. 15.

——— S. 41—Reasonable care.

S. 41 applies to a case where a transfer is made by a person whose name appears in the khewat and the real owner not only expressly consents to allow that person to become an ostensible owner of the property transferred but also takes an active part in settling the terms of the transfer as in such a case the transferee must be regarded as having taken reasonable care. (Kendall, A. J. C.) RAMA SAMAJH PANDE v. RAMJAS. 34 I. C. 773 : 3 O. L. J. 224.

——— S. 41—Reasonable care — What the transferee must show.

Under the proviso to S. 41 the transferee must show that he acted in good faith and that he took reasonable care to ascertain that the transferor had power to make the transfer. The care required to be taken under this proviso is one that is expected of an ordinary prudent man of business, but a transferee is not protected by a refusal to enquire into the possession of title deeds and to rest content with the entry in the Record of Rights. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) KANHU LAL MARWARI v. PALU SAHU. 5 Pat. L. J. 521 : 1 Pat. L. T. 546 : 57 I. C. 353 : 1920 Pat. 305 : 2 U. P. L. R. (Pat.) 171.

Rival Transferees.

——— S. 41—Rival transferees — Subsequent, bona fide transferee—Negligence.

If a prior transferee by his omission allows the transferor to sell it to some one else who buys it in good faith such a subsequent bona fide purchaser for value without notice of the property will have preference as against the first transferee the principle is that of two innocent transferees the one who renders it possible for the owner to deal with the property a second time, must suffer for his negligence. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Phillips, JJ.) PALANIAPPA GOUNDAN v. NACHIAPPA GOUNDAN. 53 I. C. 397.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 41—Rival transferees.

——S. 41—Rival transferees—Transfer of preliminary and final decrees to different persons—Preference.

The transferee of the preliminary decree is preferred to the transferee of the final decree when there is a conflict between the two for after a transfer of preliminary decree, the decree-holder has nothing left which he can transfer and the transferee cannot get more than the transferor's rights. (Ormond and Twomey, JJ.) MAHOMED v. MAO. 36 I. C. 426 : 9 Bur. L. T. 121.

Scope of.

——S. 41—Scope of.

Where a person purchases property at an auction sale under circumstances which do not lead him to an enquiry. S. 41, T. P. Act, does not apply. (Ryves and Daniels, JJ.) MATHURA PRASAD v. ANANDI KUNWAR. 21 A. L. J. 498 : L. R. 4 A. 555 : 1924 All 63.

——S. 41—Scope of—Registration Act, S. 47.

S. 41, T. P. Act must be read in such a way that it must not conflict with the Registration Act, S 47. (Chamier, J.) MATHURAKALWAR v AMBIKA DAT. 25 I. C. 725 : 12 A. L. J. 993.

——S. 41—Scope of—Intention to deceive—Acquiescence.

In order to invoke S 41 it is not necessary to show that the real owners intended to decieve by their acquiescence much less that they intended to deceive any particular person. The object of the section is to protect bona fide transferee for consideration who had made inquiries though the real owner may be innocent. (Lyle and Ashworth, A. J. Cs.) AZIZ-UN-NISA v AHSAN ASHRAF. 53 I C. 970 : 22 O. C. 243.

——S. 41—Scope of—Estoppel—Silence—No duty to speak.

S. 41 of the T. P. Act is based upon the doctrine of estoppel. The mere fact that the real owner kept silence and advanced no claim for a long time cannot be treated as evidence of an implied consent on his part to the continuance of a trespasser's possession during that time. The transferree from a trespasser cannot therefore avail himself of that plea. (Lindsay, J C.) SAIYED-UN-NISSA v. MAIKU LAL. 47 I. C. 687 : 5 O. L. J. 391.

——S. 41—Scope of.

S. 41 is an exception to the rule that a person cannot convey a better title than he himself has and therefore the conditions set forth in that section must be strictly complied with. (Miller and Mullick, JJ.) KANHU LAL MARWARI v. PALUSAHU. 5 Pat. L. J. 521 : 1 Pat. L. T. 546 : 57 I. C. 353 : 2 U. P. L. R (Pat.) 171 : 1920 Pat. 305

——S. 41—Scope of—Property vested in shrine—If applies to.

S. 41, T. P. Act, in protecting a transferee in good faith from an ostensible owner lays down the condition precedent that the persons interested in the property must have given their consent express or implied.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 43.

The section was intended primarily to apply to cases where an ostensible owner has acquired a title benami. Religious endowments are actually protected from its operation, as the idol is the shrine itself and no particular being can give consent, express or implied. (Pipon, J. C.) GHULAM HAIDAR v. MANAGER, COMMITTEE SAMADH BABA PHULA SINGH. 73 I C. 711.

Miscellaneous.

——S. 41—Mortgage—Bona fide purchaser—Rights of.

It is not open to the parties to a mortgage to impeach the genuineness of that transaction to the detriment of a bona fide purchaser for value without notice from a purchaser in a Court sale. A bona fide transferee for value from an ostensible owner is allowed to protect himself against his real owner. (Mookerjee and Richardson, JJ.) RAM SUMNUN PROSAD v. GENDA LAL RAI. 29 I. C. 841 : 22 C. L. J. 574.

——S. 41 — Representation under mistake —Effect of.

S. 44 of the T. P. Act, like S. 115 of the Evidence Act applies to a case where the person sought to be estopped has acted under a mistake of fact. 20 Cal 290 rel. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) RAM PRASAD v. IMARATBAI. 18 N. L. R. 27 : 1922 Nag. 79.

——S 41—Disclaimer by real owner—Effect on transferee from ostensible owner—Estoppel.

A person disclaiming title cannot afterwards set it up to the prejudice of third parties purchasing from the ostensible owner in good faith and value. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A J. Cs.) FAKIR JHAN BEGUM v. MUHAMMAD ABDUL GHANI KHAN. 45 I. C. 307 : 5 O. L. J. 49.

——S. 41—Agreement to repurchase.

Principle of S. 41 of T. P. Act is a stipulation for repurchase cannot be enforced against a bona fide transferee for consideration without notice. (Twomey, J.) MAUNG BYA v. MAUNG SAN THU. 10 I. C. 779 : 4 Bur. L T. 74.

——S. 43 — Limited owner—Conveyance by —Reversioner joining in transaction.

Where a reversioner joins in a conveyance by a limited owner, but the purchaser is misled on the death of the limited owner, the reversioner succeeding to estate is not estopped from claiming properties and challenging the alienation as being without necessity. The doctrine of title feeding the estoppel is inapplicable. (Mr. Ameer Ali.) GUR NARAYAN v. SHEO LAL SINGH. 46 Cal. 566 : 17 A. L. J. 66 : 9 L. W. 335 : 28 C. W. N. 521 : 49 I. C. 1: 1 U.P.L.R. (P. C) 1: 36 M. L. J. 68 (P. C.).

——S. 43—Joint vendors—Subsequent acquisition of title—Vendor and purchaser—Liability of joint vendors.

Where certain persons purport to sell property they are jointly liable to make good the property out of any property they had at the time of sale or which they had subsequently acquired. (Richards, C. J. and Bannerji, JJ.) RAUDHIRN SINGH v. BHAGWANDAS. 35 All. 541 : 21 I. C. 654 : 11 A. L. J. 746.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 43.

——S. 43—Applicability.

S. 43 applies to a case in which the contract of transfer subsists at the time when the property transferred without title is subsequently acquired by the transferor. (Banerjee, J.) JADU NANSUPADHIA v. SHEOJIT SINGH. 10 I. C. 443.

——S. 43—Mortgage by person having no right.

Where a person mortgages property when he has no right to mortgage representing that he has such authority the mortgage becomes effective as against the property subsequently acquired by him. (Stanley, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) SARJA PRASAD v. BINDESHARI BAKSH PAL.
33 All. 382 : 9 I. C. 298 : 8 A. L. J. 184.

——S. 43—Mortgage—Beneficial interest—Acquisition by mortgagor—Rights of mortgagee.

Where mortgagors acquire the beneficial interest in the mortgaged property they must hold it for the benefit of the mortgagee. (Scott, C. J. and Russel, J.) AHMEDABAD UNITED PRINTING CO. v. ARDESHIR KAVASJI. 36 Bom. 515 : 16 I. C. 684 : 14 Bom. L. R. 644.

——S. 43—Sale by judgment-debtor—Collector's management.

A judgment debtor selling the property while the Collector is exercising powers under S. 325 A, C P.C., must convey the property to the purchaser, after the Collector's management ceases and his incompetence to sell it, is removed, 34 Bom. 175, Dist. (Scott, C. J. and Russell. J.) MAGNIRAM v. BAKUBAI RAKHAMA LOHAR.
36 Bom. 510 : 16 I. C. 570 : 14 Bom. L. R. 598.

——S. 43—Subsequent title to the property—Executory contract.

The conveyance of a non-existent property though inoperative as a conveyance, is operative as an executory agreement which would attach to the property the moment it is acquired by the grantor and which in equity would transfer the beneficial interest to the vendee without any new act being done by the vendor to confirm the conveyance. Where there was consideration for the contract and the grantor having subsequently become possessed of the property not only referred to in the Hibanama but answering to the description of the property set out therein there cannot be any doubt that on those facts, a court of equity would compel the grantor to perform the contract and that the contract would in equity transfer the beneficial interest to the vendee at the moment of the subsequent acquisition of the property by the grantor. (Ghose and Panton, JJ.) RUSTAM ALI MIA v. ABDUL JABBAR. 1923 Cal. 535.

——S. 43—Applicability of—Person having no title executing sale—Estoppel.

S 43 of the Transfer of Property Act has no application to persons who merely sign a sale deed whereby another person who has no title professes to transfer the property as his own. (Walmsley and Ghose, JJ.) JAGEDALI SHEIKH v. PRASANNA KUMAR NAG.
27 C. W. N. 433 : 1923 Cal. 423.

——S. 43—There must be erroneous representation.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S 43.

Before advantage can be taken of S. 43 of the T. P Act it must be shown that there was an erroneous representation. Whether there was such representation or not is a question of fact (Newbould and Fanton, JJ.) SRIMATI SAHADAMOYI DASI v. ATUL CHANDRA ROY.
68 I. C. 208.

——S. 43—Estoppel—Transfer of a spes successionis.

The doctrine of estoppel enunciated under S 43, is inapplicable to a transfer of a spes successionis such as the interest of a reversioner. (Mookerjee, C. J. and Fletcher, J.) ANNANDA MOHAN v. GOUR MOHAN. 48 Cal. 536 : 25 C. W. N. 496 : 65 I. C. 27 : 33 C. L. J. 457.

——S. 43—Exchange—Defective title—Section will apply.

For the purposes of S. 43, an exchange stands on the same footing as a sale. Though an assignment is of a defective title yet when the title of assignor becomes good afterwards, the Court will make that good title available to make the assignment effectual. (Mookerjee, A. C. J and Fletcher, J.) BHAIRAB CHANDRA MANDAL v. JIBAN KRISHNA. 60 I. C. 819 : 33 C. L. J 184.

——S. 43—Mortgage—Subsequent acquisition of title—Purchase by attesting witness.

Where a mortgagor had lost title to a property at the time of the mortgage but had come back to the mortgagor subsequently, the mortgage is good as against an attesting witness, of the mortgage who subsequently purchases the equity of redemption. The attestor must be deemed to have had knowledge of the mortgage. (Chatterjee and Richardson, JJ.) NIBARAN CHANDRA SEN v. NAGENDRA CHANDRA SEN.
44 I. C. 984 : 22 C. W. N. 444.

——S. 43—Non-transferable right—Estoppel feeding title.

At the date of a mortgage the mortgagor had only a non-transferable interest in the property but subsequently acquired a transferable interest in it and conveyed a portion of the mortgaged property to a third party. Held, that the mortgage operated as a valid charge on the whole property (including the portion conveyed) enforceable immediately on the acquisition of transferable interest. The mortgagee has a charge not only for the original advance but also any money subsequently paid to save the property. 31 Cal. 667 : 10 All. 163: 29 All. 133, Rel. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) SURENDRA NATH DEY v. RAJENDRA CHANDRA. 43 I C. 740 : 27 C. L. J. 289.

——S. 43—Option—Exercise of—Mortgage of non-transferable right-subsequent acquisition of transferable rights.

Non-repudiation of the mortgage when the misrepresentation of the original transaction came to be known is an exercise of the option under S. 43. A father, a defendant, mortgaged to the plaintiff a property in which he had only non-transferable right His sons afterwards transferred their rights in the same property to defendants 2 and 3 who had no notice of the mortgage. Subsequently the father acquired the transferable rights. Under S. 43 of the T. P. Act the plaintiff was held to be entitled to sue on his mortgage subject however under the terms of the last clause of S 43 to the right of the defendants 2 and 3. (Sanderson. C. J. and Mookerjee. J.) BANI RAI v. NATABAR SIRKAR 33 I. C. 975

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 43.

——S. 43—Applicability.

The principle in 20 C. 708 (F. B.) is applicable only to cases where the lessor is in possession of land as defacto landlord in good faith and placed the lessee in possession of the land who also should have accepted it in good faith. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) KRISHNA NATH v. MOHAMMAD WAFIZ. 23 C. L. J. 563 : 31 I. C. 789 : 21 C. W. N. 93.

——S. 43—Scope of— Estoppel feeding the title.

If the transferor himself has once become entitled to a valid estate in the land, the transferee's equity would attach upon it in the hands of all persons claiming under the transferor otherwise than for a legal interest by purchase for value without notice. The section applies only where the transferor made an erroneous representation as to his right to transfer. (Asutosh Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) CHOTA BAHIRA SAHEBA v. PURNACHUNDER CHAUDHURI. 21 C. L. J. 144 : 27 I. C. 982 : 19 C. W. N. 1272.

——Ss. 43 and 115—Landlord and tenant—Parmanent sub-lease--Original lease merely temporary, but renewed from time to time.

Where lands held under Government under a temporary settlement were sub-leased to plaintiff permanently, who in turn sub-leased to defendant also permanently, and the settlement was renewed from time to time, the effect of the renewal was to keep alive the contractual obligations of the subordinate holders, arising out of their relationship as landlord and tenant. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft JJ.) MOHENDRA NATH v SHYAM LAL. 19 C. L. J. 308 : 23 I. C. 16 : 18 C W. N. 907.

——S. 43—Estoppel feeding title—Execution sale—Rent sale.

If a grantor who has no title or a defective title, or an estate less than what he purports to grant, conveys with warranty or covenant of like import and subsequently acquires the title, or estate which he assumes to convey or perfects his title, such after acquired or perfected title will enure to the grantee or to his benefit by way of estoppel. In the case of a voluntary private alienation, the deed, either expressly or by necessary implication, signifies that the grantor intended to convey and that the grantee expected to become vested with an estate of a particular kind ; the deed may consequently create an estoppel although it contains no technical covenants. The case of an execution sale, however, is on a different footing. The judgment-debtor's title is not guaranteed by the decree-holder. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) PROSANNA KUMAR v. SRIKANTA. 40 Cal. 173 : 17 C. W. N. 137 : 16 I. C. 365 : 16 C. L. J. 202

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 43.

——S. 43—Punjab Government Tenants Act, S. 8—Contract Act, Ss. 23 and 24 — Agreement by Government—Tenant to share whatever right may be acquired by him—If valid.

An agreement by a Government tenant with a plaintiff to the effect that if the plaintiff helped the former in bringing the land under cultivation the former would give to the plaintiff one-half of whatever rights he may acquire in the land is not opposed to public policy. (Abdul Raoof and Harrison. JJ.) NATHU v. ALLAN DITTA. 64 I. C. 18 : 1922 L 287.

——S. 43—Erroneous representation—Necessary — Applicability of—Estoppel — Subsequent acquisition of title.

To bring a transaction within S. 43 of the T. P. Act it is not necessary that the representation made by the transferor should be false; it is sufficient that the representation should be erroneous. When a person with a defective title (i. e., a spes successionis) purports to mortgage property any interest subsequently acquired by him in that property is available in equity to make the mortgage effectual, even though the defect in the titles is apparent on the face of the document. (Le Rossignol and Broadway, JJ.) BHAGWATI v. CHAOLI. 55 I. C. 698 : 2 U. P. L. R. (Lah) 79.

——S. 43—Transferee must have been misled by erroneous representation.

Section 43 of the Act does not apply to a transferee who is not proved to have been misled by erroneous representations of the transferor as to his power to transfer. 34 Mad. 159 : 28 M. L. J. 44 : 35 M. L. J 120, Ref. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) KRISHNAMACHARIAR v. TIRUVENKATACHARIAR. 59 I. C. 275 : 12 L. W. 149.

——S. 43—Limited owner—Purchaser with knowledge.

S. 43 of the Act does not apply to the case of a purchaser who knew, at the date of the sale, that the vendor had no right to convey to him the whole interest which the sale deed purported to convey. 34 Mad. 159, Foll. 40 Mad. 338, Ref. Where a Hindu widow sold certain properties belonging to her and her co widow and the purchaser knew of the co-widow's interest the purchase would not operate on the interest which the vendor subsequently acquired in her co-widow's share. (Bakewell and Phillips, JJ.) VENKATA LAKSHMI NARASAYYA v. MEENAKSHI AMMAL. 10 L. W 221 : 52 I. C. 992 : (1919) M W. N. 707.

——S. 43—Scope of — Law of estoppel—Erroneous representation essential.

S. 43 of the Act is only a branch of the law of estoppel and is inapplicable where there is no proof of any erroneous representation by the mortgagor at the time of the mortgage or of the mortgagee having acted on any such representation to their prejudice. (Oldfield and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) KEDI SANKARA BATTA v. MOIDIN. 35 M. L. J. 120 : 49 I. C. 147 : 8 L. W. 100.

——S. 43—Non-transferable right — Spes successionis—Transfer of.

Where a person having merely a spes successionis in respect of a particular property

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) S. 43.

purports to transfer it such transfer deed does not operate on the interest of the transferor if and where he actually succeeds to the property. 31 Mad. 255, Foll. (Wallis, C.J. and Spencer. J.) THE MIDNAPORE ZEMINDARI CO., LTD., v. MALAYANDI APPASWAMY NAYAKER. 41 Mad. 749 : 34 M. L. J. 563 : 24 M. L. T. 1 : 47 I. C. 733 : 8 L. W. 382.

——S. 43—Non-transferable right—Service Inam—Alienation—Subsequent enfranchisement.

A mortgage of village service inam lands in a proprietary estate executed after the grant of a title deed of enfranchisement but before the notification under S. 17 of Madras Act II of 1894 is invalid and inoperative. Even subsequent notification by Government is not effective to confer title on the alienee. (Wallis, C.J., Sadasiva Aiyar and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) VADDALI SANNAMMA v. KEDUGANTI RADHABHAYI. 41 Mad. 418 : 22 M. L. T. 532 : (1918) M. W. N. 23 : 43 I. C. 935 : 7 L. W. 234 : 34 M. L. J. 17 (F. B.)

——S. 43 — Applicability to grantees from Government.

Section 43 does not apply to cases where land really belongs to Government. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) SWAMINATHA MUDALI v. SARAVANA MUDALI. 40 I. C. 581 : 33 M. L. J. 370.

——S. 43 — Non-transferable right—Service inam—Alienation.

An alienation of service inam is wholly void and the enfranchisement of the inam at a later date does not entitle the alienee to invoke the aid of the provisions of S. 43 of the T. P. Act. 30 Mad. 255 : (1913) M. W. N. 415 : (1913) M. W. N. 99, Foll. (Spencer and Coutts Trotter, JJ.) KARRI RAMAYYA v. VILLORI JAGANNADHAM. 39 Mad 930 : 18 M. L. T. 360 : 2 L. W. 874 : 30 I C. 889 : (1915) M W. N. 838.

——S. 43—Scope of—Transferor becoming entitled by inheritance.

Where the transferor represents himself to be the absolute owner of the property transferred when he is really not so and on a subsequent date acquires that property by inheritance, the transfer is not void under S. 6 (a) as being a spes successionis but is one under S. 43 and is enforceable against the transferor. The principle of S. 43 applies equally both to the sales and to mortgages. 30 Mad. 255 · 20 Cal. 1; 2 C. L. J. 6 ; 34 Mad. 159, Dist. (Ayling and Tyabji, JJ.) ALAMANAYAKUNIGARI NABI SAB v. MURUKUTI PAPIAH. 29 I. C, 439 : 29 M. L J. 733.

——S. 43—Applicability—Privies— Landlord and tenant—Representation—Good faith—Estoppel.

S. 43 applies also to the privies of the original transferor and the original transferee. Where land belonging to Government was included in a lease by the lessor to the lessee and the Government subsequently declared that the land was at its disposal and then granted it to the lessor again, the tenancy is determined by the declaration and the lessee cannot claim the benefit of S. 43, T. P. Act, in the absence of any allegation of proof that in taking the lease, the lessee believed, in good faith and after due enquiry, the erroneous representation regarding the title to lands leased by the lessor. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Hannay, JJ.) HATTIKUDUR NARAIN RAO v. ANDER SAIYAD ABBAS SAHIB. 27 I. C. 785 : 28 M. L. J. 44.

——S. 43—Non-transferable right — Service inam—Subsequent enfranchisement.

The alienation of a service inam land is wholly void and S. 43 of the T.P. Act cannot be invoked in aid of such alienation, 3 M. L. T. 243 Dist. from · 24 M. L. J. 462 ; 30 Mad. 255, Foll. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) BATCHU RAMAYYA v. DARA SATCHI. 14 M.L.T. 430 : (1913) M.W.N. 999 : 21 I.C. 600 : 25 M L.J. 635.

——S. 43—Alienation of service inam land—Alienation forbidden by law—Title.

A purchaser of service inam land from the holder who is prohibited from alienating it cannot claim a valid title on the ground that the inam was subsequently enfranchised and a patta was granted to the alienor. The principle of S. 43 of the Transfer of Property Act has no operation when the alienation is forbidden by law on the ground of public policy. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) NARHARI SAHU v. KORITHAN NAIDU. (1913) M.W.N. 415 : 19 I.C. 881 : 24 M.L.J. 462.

——S. 43—C.P C., Sch. III. Para. 2—Transfer by judgment debtor.

S. 43 of the T.P. Act applies to the case of a judgment-debtor professing to transfer property without the permission of the Collector in contravention of Sch. III, Para. 2 of the Code. S. 43 does not embody any principle of equity but merely lays down a rule of estoppel by representation. (Brockman, J. C., Stanyon and Mittra, A.J.Cs). SALU BAI v. BAJAT KHAN. 42 I.C. 200 : 13 N.L.R. 130 (F.B.)

——S. 43—Mortgage by manager of Hindu joint family—Absence of necessity—Subsequent partition—Liability of share of manager.

A mortgage of the whole or a share of the joint family property of a Mitakshara family is void and inoperative as against the property hypothecated and gives the mortgagee no rights even against the mortgagor's undivided share. Where the mortgagor's interest has subsequently been separated from that of the other members of the family, it may become available as security for the mortgage debts. 5 Pat. L. J. 605 ; 2 Lah. L. J. 689, Foll. (Simpson and Dalal, A. J. C s) RAM RATAN v. GANGA BUKSH SINGH. 26 O C. 245 : 10 O.L.J. 193 : 9 O. & A L.R. 222 : 1923 Oudh 265.

——S. 43—Non-transferable right.

S. 43 of the T. P. Act presupposes an attempt to transfer property which is transferable by law and does not extend to cases of transfers of property which cannot be transferred under S. 6 (a) of the Act. 30 Mad. 255: 31 Bom. 165 ; (1913) M. W.N 415. Rel. (Lindsay. J. C.) SHIAM SUNDAR v. DILGANJAM SINGH. 20 O.C. 155 : 39 I.C. 540 : 4 O. L. J. 380.

——S. 43—Applicability.

It is not necessary for the application of the section that the transferee should have believed in and acted upon erroneous representation. It is also not necessary that the option under the section should be exercised immediately after the right to do so is attained. (Stuart, J.C.) JAG MOHAN SINGH v. SITA RAM SINGH.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) S. 43.

39 I. C. 186 : 20 O.C. 72.

——— S. 43—Mortgage of his interest an undivided co-parcener—Bona fide transferee without notice if affected.

Where an undivided co-parcener mortgages his interest in the property and his share afterwards passed by mortgage and sale to others who took without notice of the prior mortgage, the prior mortgagee is not entitled to have it declared that the separated share is subject to his mortgage. (Lindsay and Rafique, A J. Cs.) BHAGANATH v. CHANDI SINGH, 13 I. C. 466 : 14 O. C. 295.

——— S 43—Mortgage without lawful right—Subsequent acquisition of title—Estoppel.

Where a person mortgages property as having a right to do so but in fact without any title and subsequently acquires title as to a portion of the property he must make good his representation to the extent of the property which has come to his hands. (Coutts and Ross, JJ.) KAMLA PRASAD v. NATTUNI NARAYAN SINGH. 1922 Pat. 136 : 3 Pat. L.T. 401 : 1922 P. 347.

——— S. 43—Landlord—Grant of permanent lease—Property right.

The gaontia of a village granted a permanent and heritable lease of bhogra land. The gaontia was subsequently declared to have proprietary rights in that village, held, that S. 43 of the T.P. Act creates in the lessee a permanent transferable interest and that the descendants of the lessor were not entitled to eject the lessees. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) ADITYA PRASAD v. PARAMANANDA PATEL.
53 I. C. 96 : 4 Pat. L. J. 505.

——— S. 43—Subsequent acquisition of title.

A person selling property to which he has no title must convey it to the vendee even if he gets a title to it subsequently by purchase. 23 C. L J. 501, Ref. (Doss, J.) KALI SAHU v. GIRDHARI MISTRI. 50 I.C. 778.

——— S. 43—Applicability of—Erroneous representation.

Before S. 43 of the T. P. Act can be brought into operation there must in fact have been an inducement by erroneous representation. 26 Bom 379; 34 Bom. 175 and 34 Mad. 159 Ref. (Roe and Imam, JJ.) CHAKRAPANI MUNDI v. SRIMATI GAYAMONI DASSI. 1918 Pat 278 : 48 I. C. 228 : 5 Pat. L. W. 219.

——— S. 44—Co-parcener—Transfer by joint possession.

A stranger purchaser of the share of an undivided Hindu co-parcener cannot claim to be put in joint possession of the family dwelling-house He can either ask for delivery of possession of what he acquired by purchase by partition in execution proceedings or bring a separate suit for partition. (Mookerjee and Roe, JJ.) GIRIJA KANTA CHAKRABARTHY v. MOHAN CHANDRA ACHARJEE.
20 C.W.N. 675 : 35 I.C. 294 : 23 C.L.J. 587.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) S. 48.

——— S. 44—Transferee from co-sharer—Partition.

Where one of several owners who are in possession of different parcels of land by mutual arrangement transfers his share in a parcel which is in the possession of his co-sharers the transferee can sue for partition of that parcel as against them. (Mookerjee and Roe, JJ.) SRIS CHANDRA v. MAHIMA CHANDRA. 33 I C. 17 : 23 C. L. J 231.

——— S. 44—The section does not overide Hindu Law.

In cases coming under the Hindu Law S. 44 of the Transfer of Property Act does not override the Hindu Law. (Abdur Rahim, O.C.J, Seshagiri Aiyar and Phillips, JJ.) KOTA BALABHADRA v. KHETRA DASS. 4 L. W. 99 : (1917) M. W.N. 149: 37 I. C. 168 : 31 M. L. J. 275.

——— Ss 44 and 73—Substitution of properties.

This substitution of properties and securities in favour of a person, who through no fault of his own is deprived of the original properties and securities is well known in law. The principle is recognised by the Indian legislature in S. 44 and 73 of the T.P. Act. 33 Mad. 429. Ref. Where a lessee pendente lite cuts and carries away the crops planted by him, the auction purchaser is entitled to the rent due from the lessee to the judgment-debtor. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) PENUMETASUBBARAJU v. VEEGISENA SEETHARAMA RAJU. 39 Mad. 283 : 17 M.L T. 57 : 28 I. C. 232 : (1915) M. W. N. 174.

——— S. 44—Scope of—Mortgagee from co-sharer.

S. 44 of the Act provides for partition as a means of making the possessory right available to a transferee from a co-owner. Per Napier J.—(dissentient judgment) (Oldfield and Napier, JJ.) KOTA BALABHADRA PATRO v. KHETRA DOSS. 25 I.C. 401 : 26 M.L.T. 229.

——— S. 48—Priority—Purchaser of mortgaged property.

The auction purchaser for mortgaged property is bound by mortgage whether he has notice or not. But a purchaser from such purchaser is not affected by the mortgage if he purchased without notice. (Chamier, J.) RAM LAL v. BACHHA SINGH. 16 I. C. 625 : 10 A. L.J. 114.

——— S. 48—Sale of property—Prior mortgage—Intention of parties—Rights of purchasers.

A wrong description of property in a mortgage or sale certificate cannot be taken advantage of by the party if there is evidence to show the real intention of the parties as to what was intended to be conveyed. A subsequent purchaser cannot claim a better title than his vendor unless there is some special equity in his favour. (Sundara Aiyar, J) KANNAN NARAYANAPPA v. TANGATUR SUBBIAH. 14 I.C. 585.

——— S. 48—Right created in favour of different persons—Mode of exercise.

On the principle recognized by S. 48 of the T. P. Act separate rights created in favour of different persons which can all be exercised without encroaching upon each other must be treated as relating to different entities. (Kanhaiya Lal, A.J.C.) MAHABIR PRASAD v. CHOTE SINGH. 49 I.C. 39 : 21 O.C. 317.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT IV OF 1882), S. 48.

——— Ss 48 and 123—Sale by donee from mortgagor—Is subject to mortgage.

Where the vendee purchased the property from the donee of the mortgagor who had only a possessory title the property was held to be subject to the mortgage charge created by a registered deed. (Maung Kin, J.) AUNG KAING SAING AND ANOTHER v. MAUNG SAN AND OTHERS. 1 Bur. L. J 204 : 1923 R. 41 (2).

——— S. 49—Mill insured against fire—Mortgagee of—Rights.

A mortgagee as such has no right against the insurance company which insured the machinery of a mill against fire. (Robinson, C. J. and Maung Kin, J.) P V. CHETTY FIRM v. MOTOR UNION INSURANCE CO. 1 Bur. L.J. 28: 11 L B.R 294 : 1923 R. 6.

——— S. 50—Mortgage—Redemption—Clog.

A condition in a mortgage converting it into a sale if the money is not paid within a certain time is a clog in the equity of redemption. 38 Mad 167, Foll (Seshagiri Aiyar and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) PANDAYAN PILLAI v VELLAYAPPA ROWTHAR. 42 I. C. 438: 6 L. W. 588 : 33 M L. J. 316.

——— S. 50—Payment of rent in advance to landlord—Assignment by landlord—Discharge of tenant.

Where rent is paid to the landlord before it is due, it is merely an advance to him and is not in fulfilment of an obligation to pay rent. If, before the date the rent falls due, the landlord makes an assignment, his receipt of rent cannot be treated as a discharge by him. (Coutts and Macpherson, JJ.) RAM LAL MARWARI v. MAHADEO. 63 I. C. 587 : 1921 Pat. 352.

——— S. 50—Receiver's claim for rent paid in advance to owner.

Where the mortgagor of certain mortgaged premises let them to a tenant and received rent in advance as a condition precedent to letting, a receiver subsequently appointed in the mortgage suit cannot compel the lessee to pay rent over again. (Fox, C J.) TOON CHAN v. P. C. SEN. 7 Bur. L. T. 139 : 24 I. C. 693 : 7 L. B. R. 268

——— S. 50—Mesne profits—Decree for possession not executed—Tenants, liability.

Where the transferee of a decree for possession of land brought separate suits against the person who was in possession of the land and his tenants for mesne profits for three succeeding years, held, that the suits are maintainable though the decree for possession had not been executed and the tenants are also liable for the mesne profits as they also had notice of the claim of the transferee (Twomey, J.) SUBRAMANIAN CHETTY v. MAUNG PO THET. 14 I. C. 80 : 5 Bur. L T. 53.

——— S 51.

Alienee from limited owner.
Estoppel.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 51—Alienee from limited owner.

Good Faith.
Improvements by Mortgagee
Improvements by Stranger.
Improvements by Tenant
Improvements Pendente lite.
Invalid Transfer.
Knowledge of defective title.
Measure of Compensation.
Miscellaneous.

Alienee from limited Owner.

——— S. 51—Alienee from limited owner—Absence of necessity—Alienee's right to improvements.

An alienee from a Hindu widow has to make enquiries as to whether there was any necessity for the alienation and in the absence of same cannot be taken to have believed in good faith that he was absolutely entitled to the property in order to claim compensation for improvements under S. 51, T. P. Act. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) HANS RAJ v MT. SOMNI. 44 A. 665 : L. R. 3 A. 402 : 20 A L. J. 524 : 4 U. P. L. R (A) 118 : 1922 A. 194.

——— S. 51—Alienee from limited owner.

A partition between two co-widows operated only during their lives and on the death of one the whole property passes to the other. Where one of the widows sold her share in her husband's house and on her death her co-widow brought a suit for possession the purchaser was not entitled to the money expended by him for improvements. (Richards, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) NANDI v. SARUP LAL. 39 All. 463 : 40 I. C, 71 : 15 A. L. J. 509.

——— S. 51—Alienee from limited owner—Suit for possession by remainder-man—Transferee cannot claim compensation for improvements under S. 51.

Where the remainder-man sues the transferee of a legacy which has been enlarged by the transferor legatee, the transferee cannot claim compensation for improvements under S. 51 of the T. P. Act. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) RAJ KISHORE DAS v. JAINT SINGH. 36 All. 387 : 23 I.C. 364 : 12 A L. J. 717.

——— S. 51—Alienee from limited owner—Purchase from a widow—Improvements.

The principle of S. 51 of the T. P Act applies to a purchase from a Hindu widow where the purchaser in good faith believing himself to have acquired a good title to the property effects improvements on it. In such a case the person seeking to set aside the sale as not binding on the estate can claim the market value of the property excluding that of improvements made by the purchaser (Ayling and Seshagiri Aiyar JJ.) AMERICAN BAPTIST FOREIGN MISSION SOCIETY v. AMMALANADHUNI PATTABHIRAMAYYA. 48 I. C. 859.

——— S. 51—Alienee from limited owner—Improvements—Compensation, right to.

When a donee from a limited owner bona fide effects improvements on the property, he is entitled to claim compensation and he should not be ejected until the value of such improvements is paid. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) KALAVAGUNTA SINGARA CHARLU v. SREEMAN GUDIMALLA. 29 I. C. 269.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 51—Estoppel.

Es toppel.

——S. 51—Estoppel — Acquiescence by real owner.

A widow allowed an occupancy tenant to exchange one of the occupancy fields for a non-occupancy one. Plaintiff who was one of the collaterals of the last male holder and a lambardar, did not object to the exchange but affixed his seal to the patwari's report at the time of mutation Subsequently the occupancy tenant sank a well in the field obtained by him under the exchange but the plaintiff did not object. Six years after the exchange he sued for a declaration that the exchange would not effect his reversionary rights. Held, that the plaintiff having acquiesced in the exchange and having failed to object to the sinking of the well was estopped from objecting to the exchange. (Abdul Raoof, J.) ILLA-UD-DIN v. AMIR-UL-LAH. 56 I. C. 874 : 2 U. P. L. R (L.) 105.

——S. 51—Estoppel— Co-sharers—Sale of house—New house erected by vendee—Rights of minors on attaining majority—Delay

Where certain co-sharers who were minors sued to set aside a sale of a house by the adult co-sharers and it was found that the vendee had spent considerable sums in improving the house. Held, that in view of their delay in asserting title the plaintiffs were not entitled to demand that the building should be pulled down or that they should be given a share in the newly built house without reasonable compensation to the vendee for the improvements (Kensington, C.J.) CHATTAR SINGH v. RALIA SINGH. 54 P. L. R. 1915 : 28 I. C. 350 : 247 P. W. R. 1915.

Good Faith.

——S. 51—"Good faith"—Meaning.

"Good faith" means nothing more than an honest faith ; even negligent belief will amount to honest belief. If this is present, he is entitled to compensation. 36 Mad. 194, Foll. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) NARAYANA AIYAR v. SANKARANARAYANA AIYAR. 24 I. C. 940 : 1 L. W. 369.

——S. 51—Good faith—Meaning of.

What constitutes " good faith" within S. 51 is a question of fact. A person may act in good faith even if he acts under a mistake of law or is negligent in investigating title. Where a purchaser of immoveable property under the honest belief that the vendor was the absolute owner thereof makes permanent improvements on the property, he is entitled to compensation for the improvements made by him, on the sale being annulled on the ground that the vendor had only a limited interest in the property and could not convey an absolute title. He must then account for mesne profits from the date his possession became wrongful, i.e., the date of the vendor's death. (Fawcett and Crump, A. J. Cs.) SAHAH-UD-DIN v. VOHID BUX. 56 I. C. 492 : 14 S L. R. 12.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 51—Improvements by tenant.

Improvements by Mortgagee.

——Ss. 51, 63 and 72—Improvements by mortgagee—Compensation.

Where a mortgagee of a katcha one-storied house built a pacca room on the ground floor in place of a katcha room that had fallen down, and built also a second storey and put up a pacca staircase. Held, that the mortgagee was entitled to recover the cost of the new room on the ground floor as its construction was covered by S. 72 of the T. P. Act, but not the costs of the upper storey and staircase as they were constructed for his own convenience and without the mortgagor's consent. 16 I.C 635 : 21 W. R. 308, Dist. (Chamier and Piggott, JJ.) RUPAN SINGH v. CHAMPA LAL. 37 All. 81 : 26 I. C. 521 : 13 A. L. J. 14.

——S. 51— Improvements by mortgagee— Bona fides.

A mortgagee who bona fide believes that under the terms of the bond, he has become absolute owner of the property, and effects improvements is entitled to the value of improvements under S. 51 of the Act. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) PANDYAPPAN PILLAI v. VELLAYAPPA ROWTHER. 33 M L. J. 316 : 42 I. C, 438 . 6 L. W. 588.

Improvements by Stranger.

——S. 51—Improvements by stranger—Removal of material.

Deft. purchased the house from a person who had no title to transfer pulled it down and built a new one in its place, using the old materials : Held, deft. could not remove even the materials of the building. 6 B. H. C R. 80 ; 20 Bom 298, Dist. (Chamier, J.) FAKIR CHAND v. KEWAL RAM. 16 I C. 633 : 10 A. L J. 118.

——S. 51—Improvements by stranger--Knowledge that land belongs to another.

If a stranger builds on another person's land knowing it to belong to the latter there is no principle in equity which would prevent the real owner from claiming the land with all benefits. (Batchelor and Rao, JJ.) RANCHHODLAL v. SECRETARY OF STATE. 35 Bom. 182 : 9 I. C. 765 : 13 Bom. L. R. 92.

——S. 51—Improvements by stranger—Trespasser.

The section does not apply to improvements by a trespasser in law, though made in good faith especially where the owner did not know it. (Fletcher and Newbould, JJ.) BHUPENDRA KUMAR v. PYARI MOHAN ROY. 40 I. C. 464.

Improvements by tenant.

—— S 51—Improvements by tenant—Right to compensation.

Where there is no express contract, a tenant cannot ask compensation for permanent structures erected on the land without the solid permission of the land lord. (Wallis, C.J Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) THAVASI AMMAL v. SALAI AMMAL. 22 M. L. T. 530 : (1918) M. W. N. 46 . 7 L. W. 178 : 43 I. C. 643 ; 35 M. L. J. 281.

——S 51—Improvements by tenant.

A tenant who bona fide believed himself to be occupancy tenant is not entitled to compensation for improvements on ejectment by the landlord nor could the tenant ever believe in good faith that he was absolutely entitled to the land. 37 Mad. 1, Ref. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) NAINA PILLAI v. RAMANATHAN CHETTIAR. 41 I. C. 788 : 33 M. L. J. 84.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 51.—Improvements by tenant.

——S. 51—Improvements by tenant—Occupancy tenant.

The right to claim compensation is given by the T. P. Act only to a person who makes improvements believing in good faith that he is "absolutely entitled" to the land on which he effects improvements and not to a person who merely believes that he has got a permanent right of occupancy over a building site. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) PERUMAL GRAMANI v. MAHAMAD KASIM SAHIB. 28 I. C. 840.

——S. 51—Improvements by tenant.

A tenant is not entitled to compensation for improvements which he was bound to make under the terms of the lease. (Wallis, O. C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) MANGALASAWMI THEVAR v. THE RAJAH OF RAMNAD. 27 I.C. 361: 1 L.W. 1074.

——S 51—Improvements by tenant.

Under the common law of India, on the termination of a tenancy the option is with the lessor to take buildings erected by the tenant on payment of compensation or to allow the tenant to remove them before he quits the premises. Apart from contract orestoppel. the tenant has no right to demand compensation from the landlord for buildings though erected with his consent. (White, C J. and Miller and Sankaran Nair, JJ.) ANGAMMAL v. MALIE MAHOMED SYED ASLAMISAHITE. 38 Mad. 710 : 14 M. L. T. 418 : (1913) M. W. N. 974 : 21 I. C. 583 : 25 M. L. J. 625.

——Ss. 51 and 108 (h)—Improvements by tenant.

At common law the general rule as to compensation for improvement is that the landlord is entitled to the possession of everything in the nature of real property on the determination of the term of the tenancy. But this rule is controlled by S. 108 (h) of the T. P. Act, by which the lessees may remove improvements during the continuance of the lease. A claim by the tenant for compensation for the structures erected by him on the land let out to him cannot come with in the scope of S. 51 of the T. P. Act, because a tenant cannot possibly believe in good faith that he is absolutely entitled to the land. 27 Cal. 470 Foll. (Batten, A. J. C.) BHUNESWAR v. LAL BAHADUR SINGH. 51 I. C. 380.

——S. 51—Improvements by tenant.

A tenant is not entitled either under S. 51 of the T.P. Act or apart from it to compensation for any improvement made by him on the land during the tenancy. S. 51 of the T. P. Act, does not apply to tenants. (Batten, O. J.-C.) BANMALI v. NIHAL SINGH. 48 I. C. 354.

Improvements Pendente lite.

——S 51—Improvements pendente lite—Good faith.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 51.—Knowledge of defective title.

Where in a suit for possession it appeared that the property in dispute had been sold Pendente lite to the additional defendants who then believing in the soundness of their title effected certain improvements and then sold the property to another, the plaintiff cannot recover from that other or for that matter from the additional defendants without first paying compensation for the improvements. (Shadilal and Le Rossignol, JJ.) AMEERCHAND v. DURGA DAS. 70 P. L. R. 1916 : 34 I. C. 957 : 92 P. W. R. 1916.

——S. 51—Improvements pendente lite.

There is no right to compensation for improvements made "pendente lite" with full knowledge of the risks in doing so. (R. Benson and Sundara Aiyar JJ.) VELUSWAMY NAYAKER v. BOMMACHI NAYAKER. 14 M. L. T. 229 : 25 M. L. J. 324 : (1913) M. W. N. 776 : 21 I. C. 219 : 5 L. W. 299.

Invalid Transfer.

——S. 51—Invalid transfer—Lessee under invalid lease—Compensation for improvements.

A lessee holding under an invalid lease to claim compensation for improvements before eviction under S. 51 of the T. P. Act or under S. 2 of the Mesne Profits Improvements Act. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) VENKATAPPIER v. RAMASWAMI AIYAR. 10 L. W. 137 : 52 I. C. 517 : (1919) M. W. N. 548.

——S. 51—Invalid transfer—Buildings.

The word "transferee" in S. 51 of the T. P. Act includes a transferee under an invalid transfer and the words "the person causing the eviction" include a transferer under an invalid transfer. 40 Mad. 1134, Foll. Per Sadasiva Iyer J.—Where B believing that he is the absolute owner, erects buildings on land purported to be transferred to him by A under an invalid instrument, B has only one of two rights, viz., either to have the value of the improvements made by him estimated and paid by A the evictor or to require A to sell his interest in the property to him at the then market value irrespective of the building. The option however is with A, the person entitled to evict. (Abdur Rahim, Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier JJ.) RAMANATHAN CHETTY v. RANGANATHAN CHETTY. 40 Mad. 1134 : 33 M. L. J. 252 : 6 L. W. 300 : 22 M. L. T. 173 : 43 I. C. 138 : (1917) M. W. N. 757.

Knowledge of defective title.

——S. 51—Knowledge of defective title—Notice of prior contract.

Defts who had purchased immoveable property with notice of a prior valid contract, of sale when decreed against in a suit for specific performance are not entitled to be re-imbursed for improvements made on the property. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) HARADHAN DEB NATH v BHAGABATI DASI. 41 Cal. 852 : 19 C. L. J. 420 : 23 I. C. 214 : 19 C. W. N. 89.

——S. 51—Knowledge of defective title—Dharkhast land—Improvements.

A person who plants trees or clears the ground of trees planted on land before it was granted to him on dharkhast, i.e., at a time when he could not be said to have believed in good faith that he was entitled to the land cannot claim the benefit of the section, when the grant is revoked. (Ayling and Napier, JJ.) DEORAMANI BHOGAPPA v. PEDDABHIMAKA GOWD. 28 I. C. 51 : (1915) M W. N. 148

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) S. 51.—Knowledge of defective title.

——— S. 51—Knowledge of defective title

Ordinarily a purchaser for value can have a right to compensation only if it is found that he was under a mistaken impression that he had a permanent interest in the property. But when he knows or is presumed to know that his vendor had only a limited interest the mere fact that he paid consideration, will not entitle him to compensation. Apart from S 54 of the T. P. Act, however, an equitable right may arise in favour of a purchaser from the owner of a limited interest who makes improvements on the property in his possession in the belief that he had a permanent interest. This right can exist only if it can be shown that the true owner stood aside and abstained from asserting his rights (Lindsay, J. C.) ETIZAD HUSAIN v. BEMI BAHADUR. 45 I. C 242 : 5 O. L. J. 1.

——— S. 51—Knowledge of defective title—Bona fide.

A person is entitled to receive back moneys paid by him bona fide and in a mistaken belief of title, if the true owner seeks to recover the property. There is no such equity in favour of a person who spends money with knowledge of his defective title. (Lindsay, J. C.) SITLA BAKSH SINGH v. SAMI UDDIN HYDER. 42 I. C. 428:4 O L. J. 514 :

——— S. 51—Knowledge of defective title.

If a person with full knowledge of his limited interest in land constructs permanent structure upon the same, he is not entitled to any compensation upon eviction. (Sultan Ahmed, J.) ONKAR MAL MARWARI v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL. 56 I C. 813 : 2 U P. L. R. (Pat) 124.

Measure of Compensation

——— S. 51—Measure of compensation.

In making allowance for improvements by a person in possession the real question is not the amount of expenditure made but the rise in the value of the property as a marketable subject. (Lord Shaw.) KIDAR NATH v. MATHU MAL. 40 Cal. 555 : 77 P. R 1913 : 127 P L R. 1913 : 25 M L J. 176 : (1913) M. W. N. 403 : 13 M. L. T 434 17 C. W. N 787 : 18 I. C. 946 : 15 Bom. L. R. 467. (P. C)

——— S. 51—Measure of compensation.

In a suit by collaterals for possession of lands planted on defendants collaterals of the donees are not entitled to claim compensation for the land by the donees and the ordinary principle quicquid plantatur solo credit must prevail. (Rattigan, C. J.) HARNAMAN v. DASONDHI. 1 Lah. 210 : 56 I C. 733 : 112 P L. R. 1920.

——— S. 51—Measure of compensation—Evidence.

The evidence required to prove a claim for the value of improvements must be more precise evidence than such general evidence as that the sale-proceeds of certain jewels were devoted to the improvements of the property, etc. (White, C J. and Oldfield, J.) MEENATCHI AMMAL v. MANICKA CHETTY. 24 I. C. 918 : 1 L W 360.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, (IV OF 1882), S. 51—Miscellaneous.

——— S 51—Measure of compensation—"Improvements"—What are not Spending of a small sum of money every year in the usual manuring and levelling of the lands, etc., does not entitle a person to recover the same as the value of improvements. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) SUDALA MUTHU MOOPAN v. SANKARANARAYANA AIYAR 24 I. C. 879 : 1 L. W. 371.

Miscellaneous.

——— S. 51—Improvements—Compensation for—by person not acting bona fide.

A person is not entitled for compensation for improvements made by him when he does not bona fide believe that he is entitled to make it. (Richards, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) MAHOHARI v. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL. 33 All 752 : 11 I. C. 218 : 8 A. L. J. 896.

——— S. 51—Improvements — Compensation—When claimable.

Where a party in good faith believes that litigation in respect of a certain property is at an end and spends money on it, he is equitably entitled to compensation in respect of the improvements effected by him. (Shadi Lal and Le Rossignol, JJ.) NIKKI v. GUJAR MAL. 94 P W. R. 1917 : 42 I. C 54 : 114 P. L. R. 1917.

——— S. 51—Improvements—Who can claim.

No claim to the value of improvements can be upheld, unless the improvements have been effected by the transferee of immoveable property Quaere :- Whether an heir of a transferee can recover the value of the improvements, as against the party seeking to evict him. (White, C J. and Oldfield, J.) MEENATCHI AMMAL v. MANICKA CHETTY. 24 I C. 918 : 1 L. W. 360.

——— S. 51—Auction sale—Applicability of section.

The purchaser making the improvements, must have acted under the bona fide belief of a good title to the property to validate his title. 33 Cal. 1119. Full. He is not affected by irregularities before the sale Obiter dicta :- S 51 is not applicable to a purchaser at a Court-sale. There is no covenant for title implied in a Court-sale, but this means that the auction-purchaser takes only the interest in the property sold which his judgment-debtor had at the sale. (Sundara Aiyar and Ayling, JJ.) MATHUNSA ROWTHAN v. APSA BIN. 36 Mad. 194 : 10 M. L T 373 : 12 I. C 444 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 425 : 21 M. L. J. 969.

——— S. 52.

Active prosecution.
Appeal
Contentious suit.
Effect of.
Immoveable property.
Involuntary transfer.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 52 – Active Prosecution.

Lease Pendente Lite.
Nature and Scope of.
Partition Pendente Lite.
Pendency of Proceedings.
Pre-emption.
Miscellaneous.

Active Prosecution.

——S. 52—Active prosecution—Question of fact.

Whether a suit is contentious and actively prosecuted is a question of fact with which the High Court will not interfere in second appeal. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) RAM BHAROSE v. RAM PAL SINGH. 42 All. 319 : 18 A. L. J. 303 : 58 I. C. 484 : 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 111.

——S. 52—Active prosecution—Scope of the doctrine.

Per Oldfield, J. contra Phillips, J.— S. 52 of the T. P. Act though general and not restricted explicitly to the protection of those parties only who have been in active controversy with the transferor cannot be read as a general prohibition against the subsequent agitation of every question which arose in the litigation between whomsoever it was decided. That reading would refuse full effect to the words "the rights of any other party" for the right protected cannot be treated as existing like an obligation running with the property whoever may be party in whose favour it was decreed. (Oldfield and Phillips, JJ.) KRISHNAYYA v. VASUDEVA MALLYYA. 40 I. C. 826.

——S. 52—Active prosecution—Lis pendens—Applicability of.

In the final decree of 1912 a piece of property was not included by mistake. The decree was amended in 1914. The property not included in the decree was sold before amendment in auction sale. The plff. relying on the doctrine of Lis pendens brought a suit for a declaration that the property was not liable to be attached and sold. Held, that the doctrine was inapplicable as no suit was actively prosecuted when the auction sale took place. (Macnair, A. J. C.) RAMCHANDRA v. BHAGWAN. 57 I. C. 652.

——S. 52—Active prosecution.

Every Court is bound to decide cases in compliance to justice, equity and good conscience. So, as an equitable principle, a Court can adjudicate a case under a section even though it might not have been extended to a district. Where through oversight a wrong decree passed and afterwards amended after the subject of the decree is sold or disposed of, the sale may be set aside if the applicant is not guilty of laches. A person is held to be guilty of laches in not prosecuting his proceedings actively and without remission, when he could have applied for review or appealed against a decree as soon as it was passed. (Parlett, J.) NAGAPPA CHETTY v. MAUNG P. GWE. 12 I. C 849 : 4 Bur. L. T. 140

Appeal.

——S. 52—Appeal—Cross-appeal.

Though cross-objection is in practical effect a cross-appeal it cannot be treated as an appeal for the purpose of the doctrine of Lis pendens. (Shadi Lal and Le Rossignol, JJ.) NIKKI v. GUJAR MAL. 94 P. W. R. 1917 : 42 I. C. 54 : 114 P. L. R. 1917.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 52—Contentious Suit.

——S. 52—Appeal—Transfer pendente lite—Alienee brought on record in litigation—Compromise between alienee and opposite party—Right of alienee.

Pending an appeal deft. alienated his interest in the suit property and the alienee was brought on record under O. 22, R 10 of the C. P. Code. After the addition of the alienee as party the original parties entered into a compromise of the suit claim. The alienee objected to the passing of a compromise decree. Held, that the compromise cannot effect the rights of the alienee Pendente lite who was on record as a party and that he was entitled to contest the appeal on the merits, and claim a judicial decision on the question in appeal. Per Seshagiri Aiyar, J.— Courts should exercise great caution in permitting a purchaser pending suit to become a party and they should not do so unless they are satisfied that the transferor is likely to act in violation of the rights of the transferee. Per Kumaraswami Sastri, J.—Except under special circumstances the Court ought not to refuse to join an alienee pending suit as a party under the provision of O. 22 R. 10. 10 M. I. A. 476, Foll. (Oldfield, Seshagiri Aiyar and Kumarasuami Sastri, JJ.) VEERARAGHAVA REDDI v. SUBBA REDDI. 43 Mad 37: 26 M. L. T 339 : (1919) M. W. N. 699 : 53 I. C. 428 : 10 L. W. 281 : 37 M. L. J. 449.

——S. 52—Appeal--Intermediate assignment of decree—Applicability.

The doctrine of lis pendens applies to an intermediate assignment of the original decree. The fact that the assignment was made before the appeal was filed cannot make any difference in this respect nor the fact that the judgment-debtor had notice before the filing of the appeal of the assignment. (Abaur Rahim and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) GOVINDAPPA v. HANUMANTHAPPA 38 Mad 36 : 17 I. C. 420 : (1912) M. W. N. 1152 : 23 M. L. J. 513.

Contentious Suit.

——S. 52—Contentious suit—Ex parte decree—Fraudulent or collusive.

A suit in which an ex parte decree was passed, but which is not fraudulent or collusive, is a contentious suit from the date of its institution and there is no onus on the plaintiffs to prove against the transferee pendente lite any title independently of the ex parte decree. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) RAM BHAROSE v. RAMPAL SINGH. 42 All. 319 : 2 U. P L. R. (All.) 111 : 58 I. C. 484 : 18 A. L J. 303.

——S. 52—Contentious suit—Consent decree.

To determine whether a suit is contentious within the meaning of S. 52 of the Act, the Court must consider whether it is contentious in its origin and nature. A consent decree falls within the scope of S. 52 of the Act. (Mookerjee and Buckland, JJ.) BHARAT RAMANUJA v. SARAT KAMINI. 25 C. W. N. 806 : 66 I. C. 273 : 34 C. L. J. 96 (2).

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 52—Contentious Suit.

——S. 52—Contentious suit—Consent decree.

A purchaser pendente lite is bound by a consent decree in the absence of fraud or collusion. 29 Mad. 426. Rel. (Chatterjea and Richardson, JJ.) TINOODHAN CHATTERJEA v. TRILOKYA SARAN SANYAL. 18 I. C. 177 : 17 C. W. N. 413.

——S. 52—Contentious suit—Sale—Pendency of mortgage suit—Compromise—Effect.

The doctrine of lis pendens governs a sale of property pending a mortgage suit relating to the same and will be only subject to the decree passed in it. The fact that the suit was finally compromised does not make it non-contentious. (Krishnan and Coleridge, JJ.) PARVATI AMMAL v. GOVINDA RAJA. 45 M. L. J. 682 : (1923) M. W. N. 766 : 1924 Mad. 359.

——S. 52—Contentious suit or proceedings—Application for attachment.

A mere application for attachment and sale of judgment-debtor's interest in the property is not the commencement of a contentious proceeding within S. 52. (Wallis, C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) CHAMIYAPPA THARAKAN v. RAMA AIYAR. 44 Mad. 232 : 62 I. C. 121 : (1921) M. W. N. 53 : 40 M. L. J. 65.

——S. 52—Contentious suit—Parties ranged on the same side—If affected.

The doctrine of lis pendens does not apply to a case where the parties are ranged on the same side and between whom there is no issue for adjudication. The words "any other party" in S. 52 of the Act mean any other party between whom and the party alienating, there is an issue for adjudication which might be prejudiced by the alienation. The doctrine of lis pendens is an expansion of the doctrine of res judicata. (Wallis, C. J., Kumaraswami Sastri and Bakewell, JJ.) MANJESHWARA KRISHNAYYA v. VASUDEVA MALLAYA. 41 Mad. 458 : 23 M. L. T. 70 : 44 I. C. 471 : 7 L. W. 104; 34 M. L. J. 263.

——S. 52—Contentious suit.

"Contentious suit" in S. 52 of the Act are used as distinguished from a friendly suit brought by agreement of parties. Every suit other than a friendly suit, by origin and nature is a "contentious suit." (Sadasiva Aiyar and Tyabji, JJ.) PULLAKAL KATHUR v. CHENNAJADAM. 38 Mad. 450 : (1913) M. W. N. 672 : 20 I. C. 976 : 14 M. L. T. 185.

——S. 52—Contentious suit—Partition proceedings under C. P. Land Revenue Act of—Lease by lambardar.

The mere institution of partition proceedings under C. P. Land Revenue Act (1881) does not in itself put an end to the authority of the lambardar to give lease. A partition proceeding under the C. P. Land Revenue Act (1881) is not in its origin and nature necessarily a contentious proceeding. It is only when an objection on a question of title is raised and the Deputy Commissioner elects to exercise his powers as a Civil Court under S. 36 (g) of the C. P. Land Revenue Act that the proceedings become contentious within S. 52 of the T. P. Act. (Mittra, A. J. C.) FAKIRGIR v. MULCHAND. 43 I. C. 934 : 14 N. L. R. 18.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 52—Immoveable Property.

——S. 52—Contentious suit—Collusive and fraudulent proceeding.

The doctrine of lis pendens does not apply to a collusive or fraudulent proceeding and cannot affect prejudicially an auction-purchaser nor does it prejudice the rights of third persons who purchased at a sale held by the Court under its own decree. (Piggott, J. C. and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) NAWAB NUZHAT UD-DAULA ABBAS HUSSAIN KHAN v. NAWAB DILBAND BEGAM. 21 I. C. 570 : 16 O. C. 225.

——S. 52—Contentious suit — Compromise decree.

The doctrine of lis pendens applies to transfers during the pendency of a suit even when that suit is terminated by a compromise decree. But in such cases the Court should be satisfied that the compromise is not a collusive arrangement entered into with the object of defeating a purchaser. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) HUKUM CHAND v. RAJA RAM BAHADUR SINGH. 4 Pat. L. J. 580 : 53 I. C. 833 : 1919 Pat. 305.

Effect of.

——S. 52 — Effect of—Mortgage executed during pendency of a mortgage suit—Dismissal of suit on mortgagee—Res judicata.

A mortgage executed during the pendency of a mortgage suit in which the mortgagor's title is in question is subject to the result of the suit and if it goes against the mortgagor a subsequent suit by the mortgagee would be barred by res judicata. (Banerji, J.) KOLPATI KUAR v. RAJADHARI LAL. 13 I. C. 641.

——S. 52—Effect of.

A suit for specific performance of alienation of property would not affect the title of the holder of the decree in suit. (Teunon and Suhrawardy, JJ.) DULLA SINGH v. DY. INSPECTOR GENERAL OF POLICE, C.I.D. 34 C. L. J. 79 : 49 C. 495 : 1922 C. 412.

——S. 52—Effect of.

S. 52, T. P. Act, does not invalidate a sale pendente lite but only makes the property in the purchaser's hands, subject to the decree passed in the pending proceedings. (Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) VEYINDRA MUTHU PILLAI v. MAYA NADAN. 43 Mad. 696 : (1920) M. W. N. 299 : 58 I. C. 501 : 28 M. L. T. 312 : 39 M. L. J. 456.

——S. 52—Effect of—Transferee pendente lite—Bound by decision.

A Court can bind a transferee pendente lite by the result of litigation, even though his name be not on the record if the fact of the transfer is admitted before the Court during the course of the trial. (Lindsay, J. C. and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) SYED HUSSAIN v. BANK OF UPPER INDIA, LTD. 30 I. C. 289 : 2 O. L. J. 291.

Immoveable Property.

——S. 52—Immoveable property — Mortgage-debt.

A transfer of mortgage-debt during a partition suit is a transfer of immoveable property within the meaning of S. 52, T. P. Act. (Knox and Rafique, JJ.) TARA CHAND v. BACHANUM SINGH. 18 I. C. 492.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 52—Immoveable Property.

———S. 52—Immoveable property.

The doctrine of lis pendens does not apply to moveable property. (Scott, C. J. and Batchelor, J.) GOVIND v. JIJIBAI SAHEB. 36 Bom. 189 : 13 I. C. 849 : 14 Bom. L. R. 9.

———S. 52—Immoveable property—Hut.

A hut is immoveable property. (Caspersz, J.) ARJUN RAM PAL v. SADANANDA SARMA. 9 I. C. 1

———S. 52—Immoveable property—Applicability to moveables.

The principle of S. 52, T. P. Act, may be applied to cases where the alienee of moveables pendente lite has notice of the 'lis'. 36 Bom 189 ; 15 All. 108, Dist. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Tyabji, JJ.) TALARI KAVOLI NAGADU v. VISWANATHAM PEDDA GOVINDAPPA. 1 L. W. 587 : 25 I. C. 133 : 16 M L. T. 158.

———S. 52—Immoveable property—Applicability to moveable property.

It is more than doubtful whether the principle of lis pendens applies to moveable property, such as in the particular case, money. (Jwala Prasad, A. C. J. and Ross, J.) MAHARAJA BAHADUR SINGH v. ABDUL RAHIM. 62 I. C. 900.

Involuntary Transfer.

———S. 52—Involuntary transfer—Execution sale.

The doctrine of lis pendens rests on the principle that the law does not allow litigant parties to give to others, pending the litigation, right over the property in dispute,so as to prejudice the opposite party. The doctrine applies to sales in invitum also. 15 Cal. 755; 25 Cal. 179; 28 Cal. 28, Appl. (Chatterjee and Walmsley, JJ.) MAHARAJA BAHADUR SINGH v. SARDAR NARAYAN SINGH. 28 I. C. 898 : 19 C. W. N. 152.

———S. 52—Involuntary transfer—Suit on simple mortgage.

S. 52 applies to a purchase pending a suit upon a simple mortgage as it involves a question of right to immoveable property. It also applies to a purchase at an execution sale. (Chatterjee and Richardson, JJ.) TINOODHAN CHATTERJEE v. TRILOKYA SARAN SANYAL. 18 I. C. 177: 17 C. W. N. 413

———S. 52—Involuntary transfer—Mortgage-decree—Sale in execution—Purchase by mortgagee—Previous purchase in execution of money-decree.

A mortgagee purchasing the mortgaged property in execution of his mortgage-decree has priority over a prior purchaser in execution of a money-decree against the judgment-debtor obtained during the pendency of the mortgage suit ; the doctrine of lis pendens is applicable to ex parte mortgage suits and to purchases in execution. (Holmwood and N. Chatterjea, JJ.) RAM DOYAL v. RAM TANU. 11 I. C. 464: 15 C. L. J. 137.

———S. 52—Involuntary transfers and suits for specific performance are within the section.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882). S. 52—Involuntary transfer.

The doctrine of lis pendens applies to suits for the specific performance of agreements to sell immoveable properties. Court sales and private sales equally come under the doctrine of lis pendens. (Krishnan and Odgers, JJ.) VEDACHARI v. NARASIMHA MUDALI. 45 M L. J. 825: 19 L. W. 28: (1924) M. W. N. 14 (1). 1924 Mad. 307.

———Ss. 52 and 91—Involuntary transfer—Mortgage suit—Attaching decree-holder in execution of prior money decree—Omission to implead—Right to redeem.

Appellant was the purchaser at a Court-sale held in execution of a money decree. After his attachment but before the sale a suit was instituted on a mortgage of the properties attached to which the attaching creditor was not made a party. Later on a mortgage-decree for sale was passed and the respondent bought the properties. On his claiming delivery he found the appellants already in possession. Held, that S. 91 of the T. P. Act and O 34, R. 1 do not confer on the attaching creditor any interest in the mortgaged property. The doctrine of lis pendens applied to him. (Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) VEYINDRA MUTHU PILLAI v. MAYA NADAN 43 Mad 696: 58 I. C. 501 : (1920) M. W. N. 289. 28 M. L. T. 312 : 39 M. L. J. 456.

———S 52—Involuntary-transfer — Doctrine of, is applicable.

The doctrine of lis pendens applies to involuntary transfers also. 25 C. 179, 266, 966 ; 15 C. 94; 15 C. 756, Rel. (Hallifax, Kotval and Dhobley, A. J. Cs.) JOGESHWAR v. MOTI. 66 I. C. 631.

———S. 52—Involuntary transfer—If doctrine applies.

The principle in S. 52, T.P. Act applies to involuntary sales in execution proceedings during the pendency of a suit relating to the property sold. 15 Cal. 756 (P. C.), 25 Cal. 179 (P. C.), Foll. 14 Cal. 18 (P. C.) ; 10 All. 166 (P. C.) ; 29 Bom. 435 ; 21 I. C. 570, Expl. and Dist. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) SATGUR DAYAL v. NAND KUMAR. 40 I. C. 146: 4 O. L. J. 135.

———S. 52—Involuntary sales—Execution sale—Attachment—Sale of property in execution during pendency of suit.

The doctrine of lis pendens applies to execution sales also. An attachment of property does not confer title on any one. It only prevents alienation of the property during the continuation of execution proceedings. Execution proceedings taken against a property during the pendency of a suit in respect of the same property and resulting in a sale of that property sometimes after the suit is decreed are proceedings pendente lite and do not affect the rights of the decree-holder though the property may have been under attachment from before the institution of the suit. (Lindsay, J. C.) KUNJ BEHARI LAL v. RAM SAHAI. 30 I. C. 213 : 2 O. L. J. 327.

———S. 52—Involuntary transfer—Applicability to execution sales.

The doctrine of lis pendens applies to execution sales also and an auction purchaser pendente lite is bound by the decision in the pending liti gation. 15 Cal. 756 (P. C.), Ref. (Piggott, J. C. and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) SOHAN LAL v. JOT SINGH. 20 I. C. 458: 16 O. C. 148.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 52—Involuntary transfer.

——— S. 52—Involuntary transfer—Execution sale and Revenue sale.

The strong weight of authority, though not the express language of the section, is in favour of the view that the doctrine of lis pendens applies to execution sales as well as sales for non-payment of Government revenue. 26 Cal. 966, Foll. (Das and Adami, JJ.) MATHURA PRASAD SAHU v. DASAI SAHU. 3 Pat. L. T. 296: 1 Pat. 287: 1922 P. 542.

——— S. 52—Involuntary transfer—Sale under money-decree during pendency of mortgage suit.

A purchaser of property sold in Court auction under a money-decree during the pendency of a mortgage suit gets only the equity of redemption thereby. (Moore, J.) ABDUL MAJID v. ABDUL MAJID. 9 I. C. 772: 4 Bur. L. T. 44.

Lease pendente lite.

——— S. 52—Lease pendente lite—Settlement by ijardar with tenant during pendency of suit for ejectment if binding on landlord.

An ijardar made a settlement of the lands on the expiry of the ijara pending a suit by the proprietors for his ejectment. Held, that the raiyats with whom the ijardar had settled were liable to be ejected by the proprietors as the ijardar did not act in good faith in making the settlement (Walmsley and Panton, JJ.) FELU SARKAR v. HEMANTA KUMARI DEBYA. 47 I. C. 365.

——— S. 52—Lease pendente lite—*Mortgage suit—Mortgagor's leasing out his property—*Lis pendens—Applicability.

The grant of a lease by a mortgagor during the pendency of a suit on the mortgage is invalid as offending the provisions of S. 52 of T. P. Act as a lease is a transfer of an interest in immoveable property. Though the mortgagor has not anything like a general authority to deal with the property mortgaged, he may make a lease in the ordinary course of management such as granting a yearly lease in case of agricultural lands or a lease by the month in the case of house property, etc. The doctrine of Lis Pendens is not affected by the fact that the lessee has been let into the land under bona fide settlement. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) MADAN MOHAN SINGH v. RAJKISHORI KUNWARI. 39 I. C. 182: 21 C. W. N. 88.

——— S. 52—Lease pendente lite—Lease during pendency of mortgage proceedings.

A person who is settled on the land as permanent tenant by a mortgagor during the pendency of a mortgage suit is affected by lis pendens and may be ejected by the purchaser in execution of the decree. If the lease is one in the ordinary course of the management, i.e. from year to year or month to month it will bind the mortgagee. (Beachcroft and Mookerjee, JJ.) MADAN MOHAN SINGH v. RAJ KESHORI KUMARI. 17 I. C 1: 17 C. L. J. 384.

——— S. 52—Lease pendente lite—Lease by mortgagor.

A lease by the mortgagor during sale proceeding is covered by S. 52 and the sale is free from

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 52—Nature and Scope of the lease subsequently created by the mortgagor. (Abdur Rahim, Offg. C. J., Seshagiri Aiyar and Bakewell, JJ.) RAMASAMI AIYANGAR v GOVINDA AIYAR. 20 M. L. T. 512: 5 L. W. 443: 38 I. C. 1: 31 M. L. J. 839.

——— S. 52—Lease pendente lite—Yearly leases—Effect.

A lease for a year given by the judgment-debtor who was in possession pending the execution sale of his property, was the ordinary and reasonable incident of an interim beneficial enjoyment and was not affected by the doctrine of lis pendens and the lessee was entitled to the crops raised by him for the year. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) PENUMETA SUBBARAJU v. VERGISENA SEETHARAMA RAJU. 39 Mad. 283: 17 M. L. T. 57: 28 I. C. 232: (1915) M W. N. 174.

——— S. 52—Lease pendente lite—Agricultural lease—Not affected.

A lease whether for agricultural or for other purposes is a transfer within the meaning of S 52 of the Act and the burden lies on the party relying on the lease to show that it did not affect the rights of the other parties to the litigation. (Batten, A. J. C.) GANESH MAHARAJ SADHU v. PANDURANG. 46 I. C. 762: 14 N. L R 133.

——— S. 52—Lease pendente lite—Validity.

An agricultural lease granted during the pendency of a contentious partition proceeding is void even though summons had not been served upon the opposite party at the time when the lease was granted (Hallifax, A. J C.) CHANDAN SINGH v. FAKIRGIR. 27 I. C. 940: 11 N. L. R. 21

Nature and Scope of.

——— Ss. 52 (b) and 65 (a)—Nature and scope of—Mortgage before the Act—Covenant for title—Knowledge.

In a suit to redeem a usufructuary mortgage of 1880 and a further charge tacked on to it of the year 1882, the mortgagee claimed damages or compensation for the failure of mortgagor's title in respect of a portion of the mortgaged property. It was found that the mortgagee was aware of the defect in title. Held, that S 65 (a) of the T. P. Act had no application where the mortgage was executed before the date of the T. P. Act and that the mortgagee's claim was unsustainable. (Lord Macnaughten.) ABDULLAKHAN v. BASHARAT HUSSAIN. 35 All. 48: 40 I. A. 31: 17 C. W N. 233: 13 M. L. T. 182: (1913) M W. N. 131: 17 C. L. J. 312: 15 Bom. L R. 432: 17 I. C. 737: 25 M. L J. 91 (P. C.).

——— S. 52—Nature and scope of—Document executed before and registered after suit—If affected.

A second mortgage executed before but registered after the institution of a suit on the first mortgage is not affected by the doctrine of lis pendens (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) PINGALI VENKATARAMANA REDDI v. KOTIGARI RANGIAH CHETTI. (1922) M W N. 15: 41 M. L. J. 399: 1922 M. 249.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 52—Nature and Scope of.

——S 52—Nature and scope af—Lis pendens.

Two things are necessary in a case before the doctrine of lis pendens can be applied: (1) there must be a decree order of a Court and (2) it should have been made when the alienee was not a party. Lis pendens is an exception to the rule that a decree or order binds only the parties to the suit. Per Wallis, C. J. contra Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.—A decree embodying a compromise entered into after an alienation pendente lite binds the alienee though he has been made a party to the suit before the passing of the decree. (Wallis, C. J. and Srinivasa Aiyangar, J) CHERLO SUBBA REDDI v. AMPARAYANI VENKATASESHIAH. 43 I. C. 502.

——S. 52—Nature and scope of.

"Lis pendens" is not confined to cases where the doctrine of Res judicata would apply to a transferor, and it operates only in favour of a plaintiff and cannot be invoked by a defendant. (Oldfield and Phillips, JJ.) MUNJESHWARA BISHNAYYA v. VASUDEVA MALLYA. 40 I. C. 826.

——S. 52—Nature and scope of.

"Lis pendens" applies only to alienations inconsistent with the right which may be established by the decree in the suit. (Wallis, C. J. and Napier, J.) PETHU AIYAR v. SANKARA NARAYANA PILLAI. 40 Mad. 955 : (1917) M. W. N. 284 : 5 L. W. 519 : 21 M. L. T. 377 : 38 I. C. 778 : 32 M. L. J. 374

——S. 52—Nature and scope of—Transferee pendete lite—Right to impeach decree on ground of fraud.

S. 52 of the Transfer of Property Act does not debar a transferee from one party to a suit during the pendency of the suit from impeaching the decree on the ground of fraud subsequent to the transfer. (Ashworth, A. J. C.) RAGHUBAR DAYAL v. BINDA PRASAD. 22 O. C. 171 : 6 O. L. J. 646 : 53 I. C. 572 : 1 U. P. L. R. (J. C.) 77.

——S. 52—Nature and scope of.

The doctrine of "Lis pendens" is not applicable where the rights of the transferor alone are affected and not of the other parties to the suit. (Stuart, A.J.C.) ABDUL WAHAB v. BASANT LAL. 41 I. C. 413 : 4 O. L. J 386.

——S. 52—Nature and scope of—Subrogation.

The essence of S. 52 of the T. P. Act is that a transaction entered into during the pendency of a suit cannot prejudice the interests of a party to the suit and not a party to the transaction during subrogation. (Sharfuddin and Roe, JJ.) RAI BENODE BEHARI BOSE v. BABU HIRA SINGH. 44 I. C. 726 : 1918 Pat. 76.

——S 52—Nature and scope of—Transfer under compromise out of Court.

S. 52 of the T. P. Act only protects rights acquired under a decree or order of Court. The doctrine of lis pendens cannot be applied so as to protect a transfer of land made during the pendency of a suit when such transaction is not embodied in the final order or decree. A purchaser from a litigant pendente lite cannot go behind the final order in the suit in order to show that the order would not have been so but for the fact that the land in dispute had been transferred to him by another party to the suit in pursuance of compromise made out of Court. (Twomey, C. J. and Ormond, J.) SUBRAMANIAN CHETTY v. MAHABIR ALI.

10 L. B. R. 43 : 52 I. C. 624 : 12 Bur. L. T. 117.

——S. 52—Scope—Mortgage pending suit or specific performance of contract of sale.

A mortgagee has no lien on the sale price due to the vendor under decree where the mortgage is during the pendency of the suit for specific performance. (Fawcett, A. J. C.) BHAGWANJI v. GANGA. 36 I. C. 968 : 10 S. L. R. 72.

Partition Pendente lite.

——S. 52—Partition pendente lite—Partition among mortgagees—Pendente lite—Void as against plaintiff

A partition of joint Hindu family in the course of a suit for redemption falls within the mischief of S. 52 and could not be allowed to affect the plaintiff's right either under the redemption decree or in execution. No party during the conduct of a suit has any power by dealing with the property to change the person of incidence or inherence to the detriment of the other. (Beaman and Rao, JJ.) ISHIVAR LANGO DESAI v. DATTU GOPAL DESAI. 37 Bom. 427 : 19 I. C. 885 : 15 Bom. L. R. 366.

Pendency of Proceedings.

——S. 52—Pendency of proceedings--Amendment of plaint—No relation back.

For purposes of S. 52. T. P. Act, the amendment of a plaint by including property not originally included in specific terms does not relate back to the date of institution of suit. (Rafique and Lindsay, JJ.) WALI BANDI BIBI v. TABEYA BIBI. 50 I. C. 919 : 17 A. L. J. 569.

——S. 52—Pendency of proceedings— Purchase between preliminary and final decree.

The purchaser of property in execution of a simple money decree between the date of a preliminary decree under O. 34, R. 4 and a final decree under R. 5 is a purchaser pendente lite and his purchase cannot in any way affect the rights of the decree-holder under the preliminary decree. (Chamier and Piggott, JJ.) MAN SINGH v. AMANTAKA PRASAD. 26 I. C. 879.

——S. 52—Pendency of proceedings—Transfer after maintenance decree and before execution.

A decree awarding maintenance and creating a charge for it upon a particular property is final and an alienation after the decree and before its execution is not affected by the doctrine of Lis pendens. (Batchelor and Shaw, JJ.) BHOJE MAHADEV PARAB v. GANGABAI VITHAL NAIK. 37 Bom. 621 : 21 I. C. 54 : 15 Bom. L. R. 809.

——S. 52—Pendency of proceedings—Suit for specific performance of contract — Intermediate conveyance.

Where a suit for specific performance of a transfer of property is decreed, title to the property relates back to the date of the agreement and no intermediate conveyance will affect the title of the decree-holder. (Mukerjee and Buckland, JJ.) JOHAR MULL v. BHUPENDRA NATH BASU. 34 C. L. J. 79 : 49 Cal. 495 : 1922 Cal. 412.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, (IV OF 1882), S. 52—Pendency of proceedings.

——— S. 52—Pendency of proceedings—Mortgage suit.

A misdescription of property involved in a mortgage suit is sufficient to render the doctrine of lis pendens applicable to it in the case of a person having knowledge of the real facts. In a mortgage suit, lis pendens does not end until the security has been realized for the satisfaction of the judgment-debt. (Mookerjee and Buckland, JJ.) BEPIN KRISHNA v JOGESHWAR 34 C. L. J. 256 : 26 C. W. N. 36.

——— S. 52—Pendency of proceedings—Plaint returned to make up stamp duty—Transfer in the interval—Doctrine not applicable.

A transfer effected during the period when an insufficiently stamped plaint is returned for the stamp duty to be made up, and the date of its re-presentation is not affected by the doctrine of lis pendens as there was no suit pending on the date of transfer. (Walmsley and Buckland, JJ.) MOHENDRA NATH MAITI v. PARMESWAR SAMANTA. 60 I. C. 439.

——— S. 52—Pendency of proceedings—Dismissal for default—Restoration.

The subsequent restoration of a suit dismissed for default relates back to the date of application for restoration. The lis is pending during the period. (Teunon and Greaves, JJ.) ASHUTOSH ROY v. ANANT RAM. 50 I. C. 727.

——— S 52—Pendency of proceedings—Transfer after mortgage decree but before execution.

Purchase in execution of a money-decree, after the passing of a mortgage-decree, but before the sale of the property in execution thereof, is subject to the subsequent sale of the property in execution of the mortgage-decree. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) CHANDI CHARAN BANDOPADHYAYA v. KAZI JAWADAL. 42 I. C. 624.

——— S. 52—Pendency of proceedings.

A purchase of mortgaged property after mortgage decree and before the sale in execution is a purchase pendente lite. 26 Cal 965, Foll. (Coxe, J.) NABA KRISHNA PAL v. MOHIT KALI DEBI. 9 I. C. 840

——— S. 52—Pendency of proceedings—Execution sale before suit but confirmation after suit for maintenance—Validity of.

An auction-purchaser's title even as regards strangers arises on and becomes complete from the date of the confirmation of sale and a suit by a female for maintenance subsequent to the sale certificate does not make the sale void by the doctrine of Lis pendens and the purchaser takes the properties free from every charge of maintenance. Case-law discussed. 15 Cal. 546; 2 C W. N. 589 ; 17 Bom 375 ; 24 All. 475 ; (1902) A. W. N. 145 ; 33 All. 63, Dist ; 6 Bom. 139 ; 10 Bom. 453 ; 11 Bom. 588 ; 21 W R. 651 ; 17 Bom. 375, Foll. (Oldfield and Tyabji, JJ.) LANKA GOPALAM v, LANKA RATNAMMA. (1915) M W. N. 15 : 26 I. C. 353 : 28 M. L. J. 666.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 52—Pre-emption.

——— S. 52—Pendency of proceedings—Claim suit—Transferee after order and before suit.

A transferee after the date of the order allowing a claim and before the suit under O. 21, R. 63 is affected by Lis pendens. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) KRISHNAPPA CHETTY v. ABDUL KHADER SAHEB. 38 Mad. 535 : 25 I. C. 11 : 26 M. L. J. 449.

——— S. 52—Pendency of proceedings—Transfer pending execution of decree for specific performance.

The doctrine of Lis pendens applies to the transfer by the judgment-debtor of the property after the passing but before execution of a decree for specific performance of an agreement of lease. Action taken by the Court under O. 21, R. 34 in execution is a proceeding in the suit itself. (Drake-Brockman, J. C.) PANDU v. SITAL PRASAD. 48 I. C. 188 : 14 N. L. R. 176.

——— S. 52—Pendency of proceedings—Mortgage decree—Execution sale of property under money-decree—Effect of.

Where after a mortgage decree had been passed and before its execution, the mortgaged property was sold in execution of a money-decree and purchased by the decree-holder and subsequently the holder of the mortgage-decree executed it and purchased the property, held that the sale in execution of the mortgage-decree would prevail over the sale in execution of the money-decree. The purchaser of the property under the money-decree having purchased it while the mortgage-decree was in existence must be taken to have purchased it subject to the mortgage charge. (Miller, C. J. and Adami, J.) CHAMAN LAL v. KAMARUDDIN MIAN. 3 Pat. L. T. 757 : 1922 P. 655.

Pre-emption.

——— S. 52—Pre-emption—Re-sale to vendor after suit—Effect.

A suit for pre-emption is not affected by a re-sale of the property in question to the vendor after the institution of the suit. (Richards, C. J. and Tudball, J.) KEDAR NATH v. BANKEY BEHARI LAL. 11 I. C. 645.

——— S. 52—Pre-emption—Declaratory decree affecting sale—Effect on pre-emption suit.

During the pendency of a pre-emption suit, a reversioner filed a suit and obtained a consent decree recognising his rights to the property after the death of the vendor. Held, as a litigating party is exempted by the rule of lis pendens from taking notice of a title acquired during his litigation, the pre-emption suit is not in any way affected by the declaratory decree. (Scott-Smith, J.) HAZARA SINGH v. BUBE KHAN. 3 Lah. 264: 1922 Lah. 403 (2).

——— S. 52—Pre-emption—Exchange pending suit.

The doctrine of Lis pendens applies to an exchange effected during the pendency of a suit in favour of a person who has a superior right of pre-emption, but whose superior rights have been extinguished on the date by lapse of time. (Johnstone and Chevis, J.) KARAM ALI v. SULTAN. 10 I.C. 1007 : 30 P.R. 1911 : 187 P.L.R. 1911.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 52—Pre-emption.

——S. 52—Pre-emption—Person with equal or superior rights buying property during pendency of suit—Doctrine of Lis pendens, not applicable.

The doctrine of Lis pendens does not apply to a case where a person having an equal or superior right to a plff. pre-emptor, asserts that right out of Court while the plff.'s claim is pending in Court and the vendee deft. resells the property to the former by a private sale in recognition of that right. (Shah Din and Chevis, JJ.) SUNDER SINGH v. SAJJAN SINGH. 53 P. R. 1911 : 10 I. C. 367: 164 P.L.R. 1911 : 166 P.W.R. 1911.

——S. 52—Pre-emption—Agreement to sell during a pre-emption suit.

An agreement by a purchaser of property to sell the property to a superior pre-emptor during the pendency of a pre-emption suit by an inferior pre-emptor cannot be enforced. (Kanhaiya Lal, A.J.C.) KUBRA BIBI v. KHUDAJA BIBI. 38 I C. 582 : 20 O.C. 13

——S. 52—Pre-emption—Suit for—Applicability.

The doctrine of Lis pendens applies to pre-emption suits also. 30 All. 467; 36 All. 60 ; 10 I. C. 1007, Foll. (Lindsay, J. C.) RAMSHANKAR v. NANIK PRASAD. 1 O.L.J. 187 : 24 I.C 32 : 17 O. C. 150.

Miscellaneous.

——S. 52—Mortgage suit—Leases by mortgagor—Mortgagee bound.

A purchase of property against which a money decree for sale had been passed in 1898 and who purchases the property from the mortgagor, the mortgagor having obtained the Court's permission under S. 309, C P C. in 1905, takes the property subject to the bona fide alienations effected by the mortgagor in the course of management, after the decree but before the purchase. (Richards, C. J and Banerjee, J.) ADMATTI TELI v. MOHICHAND. 16 I. C. 102 : 9 A L.J. 759.

——S. 52—Mortgage suit--Creation of puisne mortgage.

The plff. in a suit on a mortgage has a right to bring a property to sale as it stood at the date of suit and it is not open to the mortgagor to affect the right by creating a puisne encumbrance during the pendency of the plff.'s suit on his mortgage. (Scott, C. J. and Shah, J.) MORU NARSU GUJAR v. HASAN FATTEKHAN JUMMAL. 43 Bom. 240 : 48 I.C. 135 : 20 Bom. L.R. 929.

——S. 52 (2) (d)—Party to suit—Whether affected by mortgage with sanction of another Court.

A second mortgagee who was party to a suit by the first mortgagee is not affected by any subsequent mortgage even though sanctioned by another Court in which the liquidation proceedings of the mortgagor company were going on. The mortgage by the liquidators though sanctioned by the Liquidating Court is not a transfer in execution of an order of a Court within S. 2 (d) of the T. P. Act as the sanction is not an order capable of execution. (Scott, C. J. and Heaton, J.) MOTILAL SHEO LAL v. POONA COTTON AND SILK MANUFACTURING CO., LTD. 42 Bom. 215 : 41 I C. 246 : 19 Bom. L.R. 602.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 52—Miscellaneous.

——S. 52—Lis Pendens—Plea of.

The plea of Lis pendens cannot be raised by a party who is himself guilty of laches. (Shadi Lal and Le Rossignol, JJ.) NIKKI v. GUJAR MAL 94 P.W.R. 1917 : 42 I C. 54 : 114 P.L.R. 1917.

——S. 52—Lis pendens—Sale by vendee to person having equal right with pre-emptor after institution of suit by latter.

Where during the continuance of a suit for pre-emption, the vendee sells the property to a person who possesses equal rights of pre-emption, the doctrine of Lis pendens does not apply, if the right of the subsequent vendee subsists at the date of sale and is not time-barred for no new right is created by the sale. (Johnstone, J.) KARAM ILAHI v. HIRA. 175 P.W.R. 1911 : 10 I. C. 842 : 74 P. L. R. 1911.

——Ss. 52 and 69—Suit for redemption—Sale under power reserved in the mortgage.

The doctrine embodied in S. 52 of the T. P. Act has no application whatever to a mortgagor who has given under that mortgage an express power of sale and he cannot by starting a suit for redemption derogate from that which he in express terms conferred on the mortgagee by the mortgage, viz., the power of sale (Coutts Trotter and Ramesam, JJ.) RAMAKRISHNA MUDALI v. THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS. 45 Mad 774 : 16 L.W. 133 : (1922) M,W.N. 447 : 43 M.L.J 566 : 1922 Mad. 390 (2).

——Ss 52 and 91 (f)—Purchaser at Court auction.

A pendente lite purchase is not sustainable and can be nullified. A purchaser at a Court sale in execution of a money-decree is liable to be ousted by another buying the same in execution of sale in a mortgage-decree passed in a mortgage suit instituted after the attachment but before the sale in execution of the money-decree. (Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) VEYINDARAMUTHU PILLAI v. MAYA NADAN. 43 Mad. 696 : (1920) M.W.N. 299 : 58 I.C. 501 :28 M.L.T. 312 : 39 M.L.J. 456.

——S. 52—Onus probandi—Institution of suit before execution of deed of transfer—Beginning of—Dealing with property.

A party relying on S. 52, T. P. Act, must establish that his suit was instituted before the execution of deed of transfer he is impeaching. The filing of a plaint is not a judicial proceeding considered as taking place at the earliest period of the day on which it is done. The admission of execution before a Sub-Registrar is not a dealing with property within the meaning of S. 52, T. P. Act. (Mitra, A. J. C.) RAFIUDDIN v. BRIJMOHAN. 21 I.C. 602: 9 N.L.R. 155.

——S. 52—Mortgage of share.

In 1880 one C mortgaged certain share to R and S with possession. Three deeds of further charges were also executed.One B became entitled to a one-fourth of the interest of the mortgage executed by C. In 1896 B sub-mortgaged that one-fourth share to the appellant undertaking that if the money were not paid off in one year, he would put the sub-mortgagee in possession. In 1905 the appellant sued for possession and summons was served upon C on 22nd January, 1905. On February 16, 1905, C mortgaged his share to the respondents who subsequently redeemed the four mortgages of C. The appellant got a decree for possession on 17th August 1905. In a suit by the respondents for possession of the said share against appellant, held, that the respondent could not take a valid mortgage and that he could get possession only by paying one fourth of the total mortgage share to appellant (Chamier, J. C. and Evans, A. J. C.) DEBI DIN v. MANNU SINGH. 10 I. C. 16.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S 52 Miscellaneous.

——S. 52—Notice—Necessity.

Notice is necessary to apply the doctrine of Lis pendens. (Jwala Prasad, A. C. J. and Ross, J.) MAHARAJA BAHADUR SINGH v. ABDUL RAHIM. 62 I. C 900.

——S 52—Mortgage decree—Mortgagee purchaser—Prior sale of mortgaged property for arrears of revenue.

In execution of a mortgage-decree, plff mortgagee himself purchased the mortgaged property and obtained formal possession but the defts. had purchased the property subject to the plff.'s mortgage at a sale for arrears of revenue even before the suit by the mortgagee. Plff. sued for possession. Held, that the plff. was not entitled to a decree for possession but the mortgaged property should be put up for sale if the defts. failed to redeem. (Chamier, C. J. and Jwala Prasad, J.) BALLI SINGH v. BINDESWARI TEWARI.
2 Pat. L.W. 432 : 35 I.C. 532 : 1 Pat. L.J. 133.

——S. 52—Second mortgage subsequent to decree on first mortgage—Rights of second mortgagee.

Where a second mortgage was executed after the decree for sale on the first mortgage, the second mortgagee has no rights other than those of his mortgagor and as the latter's right of redemption of the first mortgagee was determined by the decree for sale the second mortgagee has no remedy against the land but is only entitled to a personal decree against the mortgagor. What was sold at the sale in execution of the decree on the first mortgage was the right, title and interest of the mortgagor at the time of the first mortgage (Pratt, J. C. and Crouch, A. J. C.) KANAYA RAM v LIRITHSING. 31 I. C. 37 : 9 S. L. R. 86.

——S. 53.

Embarrassed circumstances of transferor.
Frame of suit.
Fraud carried out.
Fraud not carried out.
Future creditors.
Inadequate consideration.
Intention to defraud.
Partial consideration.
Plea in defence.
Preference
Sham Transaction.
Subsequent Transferee.
Miscellaneous.

Embarrassed Circumstances of Transferor.

——S. 53—Embarrassed circumstances of transferor—Decree —Assignment—Bona fides—Validity.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 53—Embarrassed circumstance of transferor.

A deed of assignment executed by a debtor is void against his creditors when the debtor is in a state of insolvency or when the effect of the deed is to leave the debtor without the means of paying his present debts. Even the existence of good consideration does not render such a deed valid unless it be bona fide also. Quaere—Whether any of the parties could establish rights based, not on the transactions, but on other grounds, such as the actual payment of debts. (Lord Moulton.) CHIDAMBARAM CHETTIAR v. SRINIVASA SASTRIAL. 37 Mad. 227 : 18 C W. N. 841 : 16 M. L. T. 286 : 20 C. L. J. 571 : 16 Bom. L. R. 783 : (L. W 963 : 23 I. C. 714 : (1914) M. W. N. 754 26 M. L. J. 473 : (P C.).

——S. 53 (2)—Embarrassed circumstances of transferor Likelihood of decrees against transferor—Presumption.

Held, that the lower Courts in coming to a conclusion on the question whether the transfer was fraudulent ought to have considered the fact that the transfer was executed at a time when the executant was well aware of the probability of a decree for a substantial sum being passed against him and should have applied the presumption laid down by S. 53 (2) of the T. P. Act. (Walmsley and Panton, JJ.) MAMRAJ AGARWALLA v. AHAMAD ALI MAHAMAD. 47 I. C. 932.

——S. 53—Embarrassed circumstances of transferor—Burden of proof—Consideration—Love and affection.

The provisions of S. 53 of the Act being in accordance with the principles of justice, equity and good conscience is applicable also to the Punjab. The fact that a transaction is not void under S. 25 of the Contract Act as being in consideration of mutual love and affection does not make it a non-gratuitous transaction for the purposes of S. 53 of the T. P. Act. Where it is found that the transferor was indebted, and that the transfer was gratuitous, the transferee must show that the transferor had undisposed of assets at the time of transfer sufficient to discharge his debts and if he fails to prove it the Court will assume that the transfer was with a view to defraud creditors and the fact that he had, subsequent to the transfer, paid some creditors would not be sufficient. 16 Bom. 1 ; 2 I. C. 813, Foll. (Robertson and Rattigan, JJ.) CHAMPO v. SHANKAR DAS
74 P. R. 1912 : 148 P. W. R 1912 : 14 I. C. 232 : 165 P. L. R. 1912.

——S. 53 (1)—Embarrassed circumstances of transferor—Fraud of creditors—Settlement on mother bona fide—Rights of mother.

Where a son made two purchases in his mother's name, one at a time when he was in a prosperous condition and the other when he was highly involved in debts, held, that the first transaction was a sound one as the son was not, at the time, seriously embarrassed. But that the second purchase was in fraud of creditors, having been made at a time, when the son was much involved in debts. (Kensington and Rattigan, JJ.) CHEMBELI v. NATIONAL BANK OF INDIA, LTD.
10 I. C. 647 : 62 P. L. R. 1911.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 53—Embarrassed circumstances of transferor.

——S. 53—Embarrassed circumstances of transferor.

Where a person transfers all his properties in favour of his children by his first wife at the time he is about to marry a second wife and in consideration of his being permitted to do so by the relations of his first wife, is not a transfer in fraud of creditors and is not voidable under S. 53 of the T. P. Act, even though the transfer was heavily indebted at the time. (Ayling and Napier, JJ.) KAPINI GOUNDAN v. SARANGAPANI.
3 L. W. 287 : 34 I. C. 744 : (1916) 1 M. W. N. 288.

——S. 53—Embarrassed circumstances of transferor—Presumption.

Where a person, in exercise of the power given to him by the grantor of land to transfer it with the consent of the grantor obtains that consent and transfers it to another without consideration at a time when he is in an embarrassed condition, the presumption under S. 53, Transfer of Property Act, is that the transfer is void as against the creditor of the transferor. (Ormond, J.) MAUNG MAUNG v. S. G. FIRM.
8 L. B. R. 233 : 35 I. C. 448 : 10 Bur. L. T. 67.

Frame of Suit.

——S. 53—Frame of suit—Judgment-creditor and ordinary creditor—Distinction.

The only distinction between a judgment-creditor and an ordinary creditor who seeks to set aside an alienation as fraudulent under S. 53, appears to be that, while the former is not bound to bring a representative suit on behalf of all the creditors of the debtor, the latter should bring an action on behalf of the general body of the creditors. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Fforde, J.) CHINA MAL v. GUL AHMAD. 1923 Lah. 478.

——S. 53—Frame of suit.

A suit to avoid a fraudulent transfer must be a representative suit on behalf of all the creditors and so one of them alone cannot maintain a suit for declaring the property liable to attachment especially after the judgment-debtor has instituted proceedings to be declared an insolvent. Where a suit to avoid a fraudulent transfer is brought by one of the creditors alone without objection to the frame of the suit and the judgment-debtor is adjudicated insolvent the proper decree to be passed is to declare the rights of creditors, to treat the transferred property as that of the transferor and the Receiver can then realise and distribute it rateably among the creditors. (Robertson and Rattigan, JJ.) CHAMPO v. SHANKAR DAS.
74 P. R. 1912 : 148 P. W. R. 1912 : 14 I. C. 232 : 165 P. L. R. 1912 :

——S. 53—Frame of suit—Fraudulent transfer—Suit to set aside by attaching decree-holder—O. 21, R. 63, C. P. Code—C. P. Code, App. D., Form 13.

An attaching decree-holder whose attachment has been set aside on a claim petition by a transferee from the judgment-debtor can without suing in a representative character maintain a suit for a declaration that the transfer is in fraud of creditors and void under S. 53 of the T. P. Act. Obiter :—Even in suits by creditors who have not obtained decrees or attached property, the suit ought not to be dismissed because it is no brought on behalf of all creditors but on objection on that score being taken, leave should be given to amend the plaint. The decree however will enure to the advantage of all the creditors. In any case an objection that the suit is defective in form must not be allowed to be taken in appeal for the first time. 41 Mad. 612, Dist.; 34 Cal. 994, Diss. (Ayling and Krishnan, JJ.) KOTTARATHIL PUTHIYAPURAYIL POKKER v. CHANDRANKANDI KUNHAMMAD. 42 Mad. 143 : 25 M. L. T. 47 : 9 L. W. 138 : 51 I. C. 714 : (1919) M. W. N. 39 : 36 M. L. J. 231.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 53—Frame of suit.

——S. 53—Frame of suit—Transfer of a decree in fraud of creditors.

One creditor has no right to sue for the cancellation of the assignment of a decree on the ground of his being in fraud of all creditors. 27 Bom. 146 : 31 Mad. 206, Foll. (Oldfield and Bakewell, JJ.) ARUMUGA MUDALIAR v. KRISHNASWAMI NAYAKEN. 42 I. C. 498.

——S. 53—Frame of suit—Need not be representative—C. P. Code, S. 11, expl. 6.

A suit under S. 53 though brought by only one creditor who has been defrauded will enure to the benefit of all such creditors as have been defrauded like himself in view of S. 11, Expl. 6, C.P.C. A suit to set aside sale as voidable under S. 53 of the T. P. Act need not be a representative one by all the creditors in a body. Any person defrauded, defeated or delayed may sue to impeach the transaction provided he alleges in his plaint that the sale was intended to defraud him and others similarly placed. A decree in such a suit will not confer any personal rights on the litigating plaintiff but would enure for the benefit of all creditors like himself. (Coutts Trotter and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) PALANIANDI CHETTIAR v. APPAVU CHETTIAR. 34 I. C. 778 : 19 M. L. T. 390 : 30 M. L. J. 565.

——S. 53—Frame of suit—Fraudulent transfer.

A suit under S. 53, T.P Act to avoid a transfer made with intent to defraud the creditors of the transferor need not necessarily be brought by a creditor in a representative capacity. (Drake Brockman, J.C.) DHANSUKHDAS v. ZANGOO.
54 I.C. 798 : 16 N.L.R. 3.

——S. 53—Frame of suit—Representative suit—Transfer by judgment-debtor subsequent to Court auction-sale—Suit to set aside.

The object of an auction under S. 53 is to make the assets of the transferor available to the general body of creditors. The test to apply in such a case is to see whether, if the plff. succeeded in the action, the property claimed would be available to the general body of creditors. A suit under S. 53 must be brought on behalf of all the creditors. A suit by a mortgagee decree-holder for a declaration that an alienation by the judgment-debtor subsequent to the Court sale is invalid, is not one under S. 53 of the Act inas much as the property is not available for the general body of creditors, and as such need not be brought on behalf of all the creditors. (Das and Adami, JJ.) THAKURJI v. NARSINGH NARAIN.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 53—Frame of suit.

1921 Pat. 47 : 63 I. C. 788 : 2 Pat. L. T. 217 : 6 Pat. L.J. 48.

——S. 53—Frame of suit.

It is open to a defeated creditor to bring a suit under O. 21, R. 63, C.P. Code on his own behalf without impleading all the other creditors of the transferor. 42 M. 143 relied upon. (Pipon, J. C.) LOKANATH v. THAKARDAS. 71 I.C. 20.

——S. 53—Frame of suit—Objections as to—Raised in appeal.

A suit under S. 53 of the T. P. Act must be framed on behalf of all creditors generally and an objection on this ground must be taken in the first Court, but if not so taken, cannot avail in the Appellate Court. (Robinson, J.) U. R. M.V. A. CHETTY FIRM v. MAUNG PO SIN. 23 I.C. 341 : 7 Bur. L T. 257.

Fraud carried out.

——S 53—Fraud carried out—Fraudulent admission by one creditor to defeat other creditors—Effect of.

In case of a fraudulent admission by one creditor taking part in a fraudulent conspiracy to defeat the rights of other creditors, the creditor making the fraudulent admission cannot bring any action at law for the amount to which such admission relates. (Ryves and Stuart, JJ.) MUHAMMAD SHAFI v. NANHE. 63 I.C. 921 : 19 A.L.J. 454.

——S. 53—Fraud carried out—Equity will not help participator.

Wherever two or more persons are engaged in a fraudulent purpose to injure another, neither law nor equity will interfere to relieve either of those persons as against the other from the consequence of their own misconduct. (Mukerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) RAGHUPATI CHATTERJEE v. NRISHINGHA HORI DAS.
36 C.L.J. 491 : 1923 Cal. 90.

——S. 53—Fraud carried out—Bona fide purchaser—Onus on purchaser.

The burden is on the auction-purchaser to prove that he is a bona fide purchaser for value without notice of the fraud in obtaining the decree. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) RADHA MADHAB PAIKARA v. KALPATARU ROY.
16 I.C. 811 : 17 C.L.J. 209

——S. 53—Fraud carried out—Sale not to be set aside.

Where a debtor with a view to defraud his creditors transfers his property to a third person and as a result thereof succeeds in compounding the claim of his creditors for much smaller amounts than they were entitled to be is thereafter precluded from putting forward his own title to the property by taking advantage of his own fraud. 35 C 551 referred to. (Gokul Prasad, J.) LACHMAN DAS v. MULCHAND.
1923 A. 411.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 53—Fraud carried out.

——S. 53—Fraud carried out—Whether plff. can succeed.

A plff. cannot allege his own fraud in the presence of partial carrying out of it. (Broadway and Wilberforce, JJ.) DINA NATH v. DUNI CHAND.
2 Lah. L.J. 439.

——S. 53—Fraud carried out—Suit not maintainable—In pari delicto potior est conditio possidentis.

Plff. sued to declare that a deed of release executed by him was a colourable transaction entered into to defraud creditors and for enforcing the rights which he possessed prior to the execution of the deed. Held, that he could do so only if the fraud had not been accomplished. 35 Cal. 551 Foll. When the object of fraud had been carried into effect no relief could be granted to the plff. 38 P.R. 1892, 25 P.R. 1905 Foll (Shadi Lal, J.) RAM LAL v. THE FIRM OF ARUR CHAND
115 P.W.R. 1915 : 30 I.C. 482 : 175 P.L.R. 1915.

——S. 53—Fraud carried out—Suit for possession—If maintainable.

A person who has conveyed property benami to another for the purpose of defrauding his creditor cannot, where the fraud has been effected, set up the benami character of the transaction by way of defence in a suit by the transferee for possession under the conveyance. The principle "let the estate lie where it is" will be applied to the case. In case like this that party fails who first has to allege the fraud in which he participated. (Wallis, C.J, and Coutts Trotter, J.) KAMAYYA v. MAMAYA. 43 I.C. 352 : 32 M.L.J. 484.

——S. 53 (1)—Fraud carried out—Effect.

Where a fraudulent transfer has been made and the fraud has been carried out, the parties to the transfer cannot either as plffs. or defts. plead fraud to vitiate the transaction and escape from its consequences. (Lindsay, J. C.) SARUP NARAIN v. MADHO SINGH. 18 O.C. 131 : 30 I.C. 253 : 2 O.L.J. 399.

——S. 53—Fraud carried out—Avoidance of document—Proof.

A transfer in fraud of creditors is voidable at their option. Where a creditor attaches in execution the property so transferred, that is a sufficient exercise of the option to avoid the transaction. (Coutts and Das, JJ.) NAURATAN LAL v. MRS. MARGARET ANNE STEPHEN.
3 Pat. L. T. 613 : 1923 Pat. 572.

——S. 53—Fraud carried out—Adverse possession.

Where the owner of property executed a fraudulent transfer with some ulterior motive but continued in possession of the property for more than twelve years, he is entitled not only to confirmation of possession but to recover possession

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 53—Fraud carried out.

if he subsequently loses it even though the fraud intended to be effected was effected. 35 Cal. 551; 27 Cal. 231; 33 Cal. 967; 13 C.L.J 625. Ref. (Jwala Prasad and Foster, JJ.) BADRI CHAUDHURI v. HARBANS JAH. 53 I.C. 114.

——S. 53— Fraud carried out — Benami transaction—Effect of.

Where a benami transaction is effected in order to defeat a creditor and the purpose having been achieved, the real owner cannot subsequently attack the benami transaction. (Das, J.) SHIVA NARAIN RAM v. MUSSAMMAT PHULJHARIA. 52 I.C. 402.

——S. 53—Fraud carried out—Right to recover the property.

Where a fraudulent transfer has been effected and the fraud has been carried out, the Court will not assist the party to a fraud to obtain possession of the property nor would they assist him to succeed by preventing the other party to the fraud from showing the true nature of the transaction. 18 Bom. 372; 5 Bur. L.T. 156; 35 Cal. 551; 31 Bom. 405 ; 38 Bom. 10 ref. (Robinson, C.J. and Heald, J.) MAUNG TIN v. MA MAI MYINT. 65 I C. 459: 11 L.B.R. 83.

——S. 53—Fraud carried out—Position of parties.

The law as to the rights and the duty of the Court to interfere between parties guilty of a fraud is clear. If a sale has been executed with the object of defeating creditors and that fraud has been carried into effect to any material extent the Courts will not aid either party to take advantage of his fraud but will let the estate lie where it falls. But where the fraud has not been carried out, when nothing has been done under it, the Courts will aid the vendor to retain possession of the property and will not allow the vendee to take it, that is to effectuate the fraud to which he is a party. (Robinson, C.J. and Duckworth, J. MAUNG PO ZU v MAUNG PO KWA. 65 I.C. 322 : 11 L. B. R. 89.

——S. 53—Fraud carried out—Benami transaction—Suit by real owner—Burden of proof.

Where the plaintiffs sued to recover lands transferred benami to defeat creditors, it lies on the plaintiffs to prove that no part of the intended fraud had in fact been carried out and in default of such proof the suit must fail. (Parlett, J.) SWEYDAL v. ESNATI. 23 I. C. 370 : 7 Bur. L. T. 12

Fraud not carried out.

——S. 53—Fraud not carried out—Avoidance of transfer.

It is only where the attempted fraud has been wholly or partially successful and has been carried into effect the Court will give effect to the fraudulent transaction as between the transferor and the transferee. On the facts it was found the fraud was not carried into effect. 23 B 406; 28 C. 370. followed. (Stuart, J.) MT. MUSTAFAI BIBI v. SHEIKH MD. SHABBIR. 1923 A. 164.

——S. 53—Fraud not carried out —Suit by a mortgagee.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 53—Fraud not carried out.

Where the fraud on the execution creditor was not actually effected, the mortgagor could plead that the mortgagee, was without consideration and hence void, if the mortgagee went to Court on his mortgage. 13 M. I. A. 551 ; 15 W. R 14 (P. C.) Foll. (Scott, C. J. and Beaman, J.) GIRDHARILAL PRAYAGDAT VAJPE v. MANIKAMMA NARAYANSAMI. 38 Bom. 10 : 21 I. C. 50 : 15 Bom L. R. 805.

——S. 53—Fraud not carried out.

Where a party admits that he has made a fictitious transfer of his property to another with a view to effect a fraud but asks to have his act undone, the Court would refuse relief and would leave the parties to the consequences of their misconduct, dismissing the claim when the suit was brought by the real owner to get back possession of his property and refusing to listen to the defence when he set it up in opposition to the person whom he had invested with the legal title. Upon this rule has been engrafted the distinction that although where the intended fraud has been carried into effect, the Court will not assist the true owner, yet if he has not defrauded any one, and the purpose for which the assignment was made has not been carried into execution, the mere intention to effect an illegal object does not deprive the assignor of his right to recover the property from the assignee who has given no consideration for it. 35 C. 551 : 33 C. 967 : 18 C. L. J. 616 : 22 C. L. J. 197 Rel. (Mookerjee and Cholzner, JJ.) DAKENDRA KUMAR BOSE v. CHANDRA KANTA ROY. 36 C. L. J. 82 : 1923 C. 154.

——S. 53—Fraud not carried out—Effect.

Although where the intended fraud has been carried into effect the Court will not allow the true owner to resume the individuality which he has once cast off in order to defraud others yet if he has not defrauded any one the court will not punish his intention by giving his estate away to another whose retention of it, is an act of gross fraud. (Mukerjee and Cholzner, JJ.) RAGHUPATI CHATTERJEE v. NRISHINGA HORIDAS. 36 C. L. J. 491 : 1923 C. 90.

——S. 53—Fraud not effected—Right to relief.

Where the contemplated fraud has not been effected a party to the fraudulent transaction does not lose his right to be relieved from the effect of such a transaction. 35 Cal. 551 : 18 C. L. J. 616, Foll. The principle is applicable to a case where a party suffers a decree to be passed against him in a fictitious collusive suit as part of a fraudulent scheme (N. Chetterjee and Mullick, J.) RAJAB ALI v. HEDAYATH ALI. 19 C. W. N. 1151 : 29 I. C. 699 : 22 C. L. J. 197.

——S. 53—Fraud not carried out—Fraudulent transfer—Right of transferor to claim properties.

To enable a fraudulent confederate to retain property transferred to him in order to effect a fraud, the contemplated fraud must be effected. Else the fraudulent grantor or giver does not lose his right to claim the aid of law to recover the property he has parted with. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) AKHIL PRODHAN v. MANMOTHANATH KAR. 27 I. C. 230 : 18 C. W. N. 1331. Also 22 I. C. 86 : 18 C. L. J. 616.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 53—Fraud not carried out.

——— S. 53—Fraud not carried out—Transferee, if can be protected by Court.

When a property is transferred to effect a fraud of which the transferee was aware the fraud should have been effected to debar the transferor from recovering the property. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) AKHAL MADHAN v. MANMATHA NATH KAR. 22 I. C. 86 : 18 C. L. J. 616.

——— S. 53—Fraud not carried out—Fraudulent benami transfer—Right of real owner.

Where a mortgage is taken by plaintiff benami in the name of another for a fraudulent purpose but the fraud is not effected the plaintiff could enforce the mortgage. (Wallis, C. J. and Oldfield J.) RAJAGOPALACHAR v. SUNDARAM CHETTY. 45 I. C. 333 : 33 M. L. J. 696.

——— S. 53—Fraud not carried out—Fraudulent transfer—Right to recover.

Where a transfer of property is made fraudulently but the object of the fraud is not wholly or partially accomplished, the person in whose hands the property is found is bound to return it to transferor. Where it is accomplished even partially plff. cannot succeed, even though the defrauded party has got his dues. (Abdur Rahim and Ayling, JJ.) SULUGU SURYANARAYANA NAYAKARAM v. GUNDABOLU BUTCHAIAH. 3 L. W. 111 : 32 I. C. 810 : (1916) 1 M. W. N. 107.

——— S. 53—Fraud not carried out — No estoppel.

In order to shield his property from his creditors a person executed a mortgage benami and set up the mortgagee to prefer claim petitions based on such mortgage. Those petitions were dismissed by the Court. Held, that he was not precluded from afterwards setting up the fraudulent nature of the mortgage and questioning it on the ground of want of consideration. 20 Mad. 333 ; 31 Mad 485, Ref. (Ayling and Tyabji, JJ.) APPAVADHANALU v. VENKIAH 2 L. W. 361 : 28 I. C. 702 : (1915) M. W. N. 273.

——— S. 53—Fraud not carried out—Whether transferor estopped from setting up title.

Property transferred benami to defraud creditors is still the transferor's, when no creditor is defrauded thereby and he is not estopped from proving that the transferee has no title. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) SOKKAPPA REDDI v. SINGANA REDDI. 23 I. C. 620 : 1 L. W 169

——— S. 53—Fraud not carried out—Assignment of decree—Part consideration intended to benefit creditors.

When the difference between the real value of the decree and the consideration for its assignment is by a secret agreement between the assignor and assignee intended to benefit the assignor and defeat his creditors, the assignment is invalid as against the creditors but neither the assignor nor the judgment-debtor can object to it on that ground. 30 Mad. 6 ; 24 Cal. 825, Ref. The assignee is entitled however to previous valid attachments. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) ARUMUGHA MUDALIAR v. YAGAMBA BAI AMMANI. 17 I. C 323 : 13 M. L. T. 227.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 53—Inadequate consideration.

——— S. 53—Fraud not carried out— Real-owner can recover property.

A transfer which is merely colourable and made with the intention of defrauding creditors can always be set aside by the transferor at any time before the fraud has actually taken place. But if the fraudulent intention has succeeded, the Court will not assist either party claiming under such a transaction. 20 Mad. 326, Rel.: 33 Cal. 967 Ref. (Miller, C. J. and Foster, J.) SHEIKH AHMED HUSSAIN v. GHULAM ASHGAR. 52 I. C. 866.

——— S. 53—Fraud not carried out—Effect.

A benami purchaser brought a suit for possession against the vendor who had sold the property to defraud creditors. Held, whether the object of fraud was or was not carried out, the purchaser could not recover possession. Obiter :- It is the grantor or vendor whose right to recover is lost if the object of fraud is carried out. (Twomey, J.) MANDAYA v. MA E. 17 I. C. 918 : 5 Bur. L. T. 166.

Future creditors.

——— S. 53—Future creditors— Intention — Onus.

Where a donor had no debts on date of the gift there is no presumption of intent to defraud future creditors and it is for the latter to prove such an intent. (Sundar Lal, J.) CHANDAR BHAN v. HAR GOPAL. 25 I. C. 183 : 12 A. L. J. 1098.

——— S. 53—Future creditors—Settlement on behalf of minor in fraud of creditors—Whether creditor's transferee can set it aside.

Where a settlement was effected on behalf of a minor of properties in fraud of creditors, the transferee of the latter cannot set the settlement aside against the minor, Holmes v. Penny, 3 K. and J. 90, Dist. But it is doubtful whether a future creditor can avoid a voidable but real transfer under this section. (Wallis and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) VAIKUNTARAMA PILLAI v. ATHIMOOLAM CHETTIAR. 38 Mad. 1071 : 23 I. C. 799 : 26 M. L. J. 612

Inadequate consideration

——— S. 53—Inadequate consideration—Transfer of whole property for inadequate consideration —Transaction not bona fide—Void in toto.

Where both the transferor and the transferee had the intention of defeating the creditors of the transferor, the document must at the option of the person defeated or delayed be treated as void in toto and not merely as void in so far as there was no consideration. (Scott, C. J. and Hayward, J.) BHIKHABHAI v. PANACHAND. 43 Bom. 707 . 52 I. C 682 : 21 Bom. L. R. 770

——— S. 53—Inadequate consideration—Good faith.

If property is sold at an undervalue on the understanding that the seller shall be entitled to occupy it at a low rent that is strong evidence but nothing more of bad faith. (Coxe, J.) JAGAT CHANDRA v. RADHA NATH.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 53—Inadequate consideration.

9 I. C. 623 : 21 C. L. J. 302.

——S. 53—Inadequate consideration.

S. 53 does not apply to a case when the mortgagee is a transferee in good faith and the mortgage is for consideration though inadequate. (Shah Din, J.) ISSHAR KUAR v. RAM SINGH.
114 P. L. R. 1911 : 9 I. C. 1018 : 172 P. W. R. 1911.

——S. 53—Inadequate consideration—Fraudulent transfer.

Where the consideration for a sale is not so inadequate as to raise a presumption against good faith, the transaction cannot be brought under S. 53, T. P. Act. (White and Oldfield, JJ.) KURUCHA GANGU NAIDU v. KOVVURI BASAVA REDDY.
13 M. L. T. 145 : 18 I. C. 691 : (1913) M. W. N. 821.

——S. 53—Inadequate consideration.

The circumstance that a judgment-debtor soon after the decree was passed, sold her land for an inadequate price to the employee of her advocate's father who lent the money, is sufficient to infer fraud under S. 53. (Moore, J.) MG. LU. GAIRE v. VENCATACHELLAM CHETTY.
10 I. C. 922 : 4 Bur. L. T. 118.

Intention to defraud.

——S. 53—Intention to defraud—Onus of proof

Where a transfer is attacked on the ground that it was collusive, fraudulent, and without consideration, and entered into to defeat or delay creditors the onus, which lies on the plff. to prove the facts, is not discharged by producing witnesses to prove signatures to certain documents necessary for deducing title and to topographical position of the property. (Lord Phillimore.) MANIKLAL MUNSUKHBHAI v. BEJOY SINGH.
(1921) M. W. N. 80 : 62 I. C. 356 : 25 C. W. N. 409 (P. C.).

——S. 53—Intent to defraud—Fraudulent transfer—Tests of—Facts to be weighed as a whole—Mere regularity of entries in books of account not of much value.

To find out whether a particular transaction is a fraud upon creditors the facts should be considered in relation to each other and weighed as a whole. It is erroneous to consider separately each fact which militates against the bona fides of the transaction and which by itself may be susceptible of explanation. The secrecy and haste with which the document was executed, the subsequent negotitaions for a composition with the creditors on a payment by them to get the mortgage effected by the document revoked, the non-production of material books, the unsatisfactory nature of the evidence as to the settlement of the accounts on which the mortgage was based, the relationship of the parties and the reservation of the entire usufruct of the immoveable properties for the wife and children of the debtor, led to the conclusion that the mortgage was in fraud of creditors. Mere formal regularity of entries in books of account is in such cases of little value. (Mr. Ameer Ali.) GHANSHAM DAS v UMA PERSHAD.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 53—Intention to defraud.

23 C. W. N. 817 : (1919) M. W. 518 : 10 L. W. 511 : 21 Bom. L. R. 472 : 17 A. L. J. 410 : 15 N.L. R. 68 : 50 I. C. 264 : 36 M. L. J. 483 (P. C.).

——S. 53—Intention to defraud—Proof.

Where a person creates a permanent lease at a low rent with the object of defrauding the creditors the lease is voidable even though the lessee did not equally share the intention to defraud: (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) AMINA BIBI v. SAIYID YUSUF.
20 A. L. J. 731. 4 U. P. L. R. (A.) 209 : 44 A. 748 : 1922 All. 449.

——S. 53—Intention to defraud—Transfer in favour of sons—No proof as to the non-existence of other properties.

A Lambardar against whom certain Revenue decrees were passed, transferred some properties in favour of his sons and grandsons The decree-holders sued to set aside the transfers. There was no proof that there were no other properties to the Lambardar to satisfy the Revenue decrees. Held, the suit must fail in absence of such proof. (Rafique and Ryves, JJ.) JWALA SINGH v. FATTA.
60 I. C. 825 : 19 A. L. J. 37.

——S. 53—Intent to defraud—Payment of consideration—Effect of.

The mere fact that a transfer of property which has the effect of defrauding or delaying the vendor's creditors was for good consideration is not enough. It must also be shown that the purchaser acted in good faith. But the mere fact of the indebtedness of the vendor or knowledge on the part of the purchaser that the sale may defeat or delay the creditors is not sufficient to negative the bona fides of the purchaser. If there was good consideration and intention to part with the whole interest is proved and it is not shown that the transfer was a mere cloak for retaining a benefit to the vendor it is valid against the creditors. But if the object of the transferor is to defeat or delay his creditors and that object is known to the transferee and he aids and assists in its execution then the transfer is not in good faith. (Richardson and Huda, JJ.) KAMINI KUMAR ROY v. HIRA LAL PAL CHOWDHURY.
51 I. C. 736 : 23 C. W. N. 769.

——S. 53—Intent to defraud — Transferee knowing fraudulent intention—Effect.

A transfer in fraud of creditors is void if the transferee takes it with knowledge of the fraudulent intention of the transferor, even though the transferee has paid full consideration for the transfer and even if a portion of the consideration goes to a creditor of the transferor. (Chatterjee and Richardson, JJ.) AFTAB-UD-DIN v. BASANTA KUMAR MUKOPADHYA. 45 I. C. 441 : 22 C. W. N. 427.

——S. 53—Intent to defraud—Absence of.

Where there is nothing to show that a transferor intended a sale of his immoveable property as a cloak or device for his own protection and where the bona fides of the transfer cannot be doubted the transfer cannot be impeached as fraudulent. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) KANCHAND MANDAR v KAMALA PROSAD. 29 I. C. 734 : 21 C.L. J. 441.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 53—Intention to defraud.

——S 53—Intention to defraud—Fraudulent decree—Execution sale—Estoppel

When as a result of A's design to keep the property from the reach of the creditors an alienation is made benami for A by B to C who mortgages it to D and when D gets a decree for sale on the basis of the mortgage without contest the purchaser in the Court auction E can invoke the principle against A " Where one of two innocent parties must suffer from the fraud of a third the loss should fall on him who enabled such third party to commit the fraud." If no such estoppel arises the purchaser acquires no title by purchase as the judgment-debtor's title whose right, interest and title he acquires is fictitious 31 All. 479 (P. C.), Appl. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) RADHA MADHAB PAIKARA v KALPATARU ROY. 16 I. C. 811 : 17 C. L. J. 209.

——S. 53—Intent to defraud—Debtor retaining some interest.

The mere fact that a debtor retains some interest in the property sold by him would not in all cases make the transaction fraudulent as matter of law. 34 Cal 999 Ref. (Coxe, J.) GANGA CHANDRA v. RADHA NATH. 9 I. C. 623 : 21 C. L. J. 302.

——S. 53—Intention to defraud - Fraudulent transfer of a substantial portion—Effect.

Where a substantial portion of the transfer is fraudulent the whole transfer must be treated as fraudulent. (Broadway and Harrison, JJ.) MULA RAM v. JAWINDA RAM. 4 Lah 211 : 5 Lah. L. J. 200 : 1923 Lah. 423

——S. 53—Intent to defraud—Knowledge of vendee.

A sale with intent to defraud a creditor is void, if the vendee is aware of the intent to defraud. (Chevis and Shadi Lal, JJ.) BHAGWAN DAS v KANSAI RANU. 253 P L. R 1914 : 25 I. C. 180 : 145 P. W. R. 1914.

——S. 53— Intent to defraud—Burden of proof—Claim suit.

Where in execution of a decree obtained by A against B. C preferred a claim on the basis of mortgage decree on an award in her favour and the claim was allowed in summary proceedings, and A brought a suit for a declaration that B's properties were liable to attachment and sale. Held, (1) that the burden was in the plff. to establish the fraudulent nature of the mortgage decree having regard to the decision against him in the summary proceedings ; (2) that neither the mere fact that B owed money to their people nor the fact that he consented to a decree for a time-barred debt will make the decree fraudulent; and (3) that neither the absence of contest between B and C in the arbitration proceedings nor the hurried way in which the award was drawn up and the decree obtained was sufficient proof of fraud. (Johnstone and Chevis, JJ.) MEHYANGI BAI v. FATEH CHAND. 246 P. L. R. 19 3 : 20 I. C. 355 : 197 P. W. R. 1913.

——S. 53—Intent to defraud—Proof.

An intention to defeat or delay the creditor cannot be inferred from the fact that the mortgagor and the mortgagee are related to each other specially when the creditor obtained his decree a year before the second mortgage took place. (Shah Din, J.) ISHAR KUAR v. RAM SINGH 114 P. L. R. 1911 : 9 I. C. 1018 : 172 P. W. R. 1911.

——S. 53—Intention to defraud—Bona fide transferee for value without notice from—Who is—Such transferee if protected by proviso.

The proviso to S. 53 of the Transfer of Property Act protects a bona fide purchaser for valuable consideration, whether he purchases from the fraudulent grantor himself or from a fraudulent transferee from him. A transferee who fails to make any inquiry of the person who could have given the best information as to the defects in the title is not a transferee in good faith with notice within the meaning of the proviso to S. 53 of the Transfer of Property Act. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) KUNHU POTHU NAIR v. KARU NAIR. 46 Mad. 478 : 44 M L. J. 527 : 17 L. W. 547 : 32 M. L. T. (H. C) 372 : 1923 Mad. 558.

——S. 53—Intent to defraud — Sale-deed—Presumption— Whether nominal or sham—Burden of proof—When recitals to be challenged.

If the consideration for sale consists of certain mortgage deeds which contained false recitals, the Court may presume its sham nature and enquire whether the fictitious documents were intended to give colour to the transaction which was never intended to be acted on. If there was substantial consideration for the sale but all items of the consideration cannot all be proved, this does not lead to the presumption that the deed was nominal. The burden of proof lies on the person alleging it to be sham. After proof of execution and registration by a competent person the presumption is that parties intend to give legal effect to the deed. To rebut this it must be shown that both the parties meant it to be sham and a purpose other than the ostensible one must be shown. Recitals in the deed should be challenged at the execution and lapse of time weakens this challenge. (Abdur Rahim and Spencer, JJ.) VYRICHERLA VEERABHADRARAJU v. DASIRAJU VENKATACHALAPATHI. 57 I.C. 689.

——S. 53— Intent to defraud — Transfer before attachment.

A judgment-creditor cannot avoid a transfer by the judgment-debtor prior in date to his attachment without showing that it was voidable under S. 53 of the T. P. Act. (Spencer and Krishnan, JJ.) MUTHUKUMARA CHETTIAR v. ALAGAPPA CHETTIAR. 42 I. C. 554 : 6 L. W 518.

——S. 53—Intent to defraud— Burden of proof.

Where the plaintiff had been for some time (5 years) in possession under a sale-deed and having lost possession the trespass of the vendor's son tries to recover back the possession of the property, he must show that the sale was a real one and that it was for antecedent debts when the trespasser sets up that the sale executed by his father was nominal and intended to defraud creditors. Per Phillips, J. dissenting. (Wallis, C. J. and Phillips, J.) RAGHUNATHA CHARI v. ARAVAMUTHAIYANGAR. 34 I. C. 617.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 53—Intention to defraud.

——S. 53—Intention to defraud— Presumed from a gratuitous transfer—Intention presumed from—Effect.

Where a transfer is made gratuitously and the effect of the transfer is to defeat or delay any creditor, the intention on the part of the transferor so to defeat or delay may be presumed. If the available assets left after the conveyance were not enough to pay the debts of the transferor, then the law would infer an intention to defeat and delay. The mere fact that the creditor had not at that time obtained a decree is immaterial. 27 Bom 146 Foll. (Baker, J. C) MULLA FAIZ ALI v. MT HARKUAR. 1923 Nag. 334.

——S. 53—Intention to defraud— Test—Evidence.

Even where consideration has been paid and possession delivered the transfer will not affect the rights of the creditor if the intention was to defeat or delay him ; but so far as the transferee is concerned it must be found that he participated in the intention to defeat or delay the creditor. 34 C. 999 referred to. In dealing with a question of this sort the court has to consider the facts and relation to each other and weigh as a whole. If the transferee has no notice of and did not share in the fraudulent intention the transfers will not be set aside. 43 B. 707 referred to. (Kotwal, A.J.C.) PANDURANG BAPUJI v. BAPUJI 1923 Nag. 103 (1).

——S. 53—Intention to defraud—Mortgage—Defeating of creditors.

Where the consideration of a mortgage by successor is practically all money due by the deceased, there is nothing to prevent the successor from satisfying the claims of certain of deceased's creditors to the exclusion of others. The auction sale in execution of a money decree in case of unrecovered debt really takes place subject to the mortgage. The fact of the mortgage having been executed does not itself imply that its execution was made to defeat creditors. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) SUBHANALI v. BODULAL. 1923 Nag. 17.

——S. 53—Intention to defraud—Creditor taking a transfer.

Where the transferee is himself the creditor of the transferor there is nothing contrary to good faith in his securing an advantage over other creditors by getting a mortgage security for the debt due to him under S.53 (Batten and Prideaux A. J. Cs.) GHANASAMDAS. v. BHAIRAOBAX. 4 N. L. J. 149.

——S. 53—Intent to defraud— Transfer to defeat an anticipated execution.

A transfer made to defeat an anticipated execution is not one made with intent to defraud, delay or defeat creditors within S. 53. (Wazir Hassan, A. J C.) KIAZAT HUSSAIN v. ALI BANDI. 60 I. C. 725 : 7 O. L. J 699.

——S. 53—Intent to defraud—Consideration of natural affection.

Transfers for consideration of natural affection being voluntary transfers are not protected as being in good faith if they mediate or have the effect of defrauding a third party. (Kanhaiya Lal and Lyle, A. J. Cs.) SUKHPAL KUAR v. DASU. 7 O. L. J. 429 : 58 I. C. 165: 2 U. P. L. R. (J. C.) 129.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 53—Intention to defraud.

——S. 53—Intent to defraud—Good faith proof.

In a case under S. 53 the plff. must prove that the transferee is a party to the fraud. Want of good faith cannot be presumed but it must be proved. (Lindsay, J. C.) KALU SINGH v. RANDHIR SINGH. 21 O. C. 97 ; 46 I. C. 330 : 5 O. L. J. 208.

——S. 53—Intent to defraud—Proof—Anticipated attachment—Bona fide transferee.

The fact that a transfer was made to defeat an anticipated attachment does not by itself evidence an intent to defeat or delay creditors of the vendor. 25 Bom. 202 Rel. Where a plff. sues for a declaration that a particular transfer in his favour is a good and a valid one it is incumbent upon him to make out in the first instance the validity of the sale in his favour. 5 C. W. N. 403 Rel. (Rafique, A. J. C.) BAKHT BALI SINGH v. LEKHRANI KUNWAR. 15 I. C. 509.

——S. 53—Intent to defraud—Alienee innocent—Effect.

The deed of alienation cannot be set aside as fraudulent where there is a fraudulent intention of the alienor but not of the alienee. (Evans, A. J. C.) HASSAN ABBAS ALI KHAN v. RAZIA BEGAM. 12 I. C. 401.

——S. 53—Intention to defraud—Mortgage to pay off creditors—Effect.

Where under a mortgage which is impeached as a fraud on creditors, the creditors of the mortgagor have been paid off out of the mortgage money, the mortgage is binding on the parties and enforceable. (Miller C. J. and Foster, J.) BHAGWAN LAL v. RAJENDRA PRASAD SAHAI. 4 Pat. L. T. 409: 1923 P. 564.

——S. 53—Intent to defraud—Absence of—Transfer pendente lite.

There is nothing in S. 53 of the T. P. Act or in any other law to prevent a deft. in a suit from transferring either, for consideration or voluntarily, his property to another, unless the effect is shown to be that his creditors are defeated or delayed. The fact that the transfer was made during the pendency of a suit concerning another property, is not a fraudulent transaction if the transferor had other property to pay off creditors. (Miller, C. J. and Foster, J.) SHEIK MAHOMED KABIR v. SHAHDEO SUKUL. 52 I C. 873.

——S. 53—Intent to defraud—Burden of proof—Discharge of—Consideration.

The onus of proof on the transferee is satisfied if the transferee shows the passing of consideration. He need not go further and show absence of fraudulent intent. If there is no consideration or if it is inadequate, it would raise a presumption or fraudulent intent. (Miller, C. J. and Coutts, J.) JNANENDRA NATH v. GADADHUR PRASAD. 50 I. C. 463 : 1919 Pat. 226.

——S. 53—Intent to defraud—Transfer to defraud single creditor—Not valid.

Section 53 is applicable even though a single creditor may have been defrauded and hindered in realising his debt. But a transfer to a bona fide purchaser for consideration is not affected. (Chapman and Atkinson, JJ.) FAKIRA SINGH v. MAGHO SINGH. 40 I. C. 685 : 2 Pat. L. J. 546.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S 53—Intention o defraud.

——— S 53—Intention to defraud—Evidence of—Intention to defeat particular creditor.

The position with regard to transfers made by a judgment debtor which have the effect of defeating a decree-holder is this; the transaction may defeat or delay. The transferor may intend that it should; the transferee may know that it will; the consideration may be inadequate; and yet unless the transferee himself has been wanting in good faith the presumption in S 53 Para (4) of the T. P. Act does not arise. The question really is one of fact and it is the intention of the parties. But the intention which the Court must consider is not so much the intention to defeat the decree-holder but the intention to create a valid transfer at all. The second clause of the T P. Act relates to a question of evidence. A certain presumption arises when the effect of the transfer is to defeat the creditor and where the transfer is gratuitous or without adequate consideration, But it is a presumption which can be rebutted. The question at issue really is whether the transfer ever actually occurred. The failure or absence of consideration and the omission to transfer possession are evidence of fraud. (Pipon, J. C.) LOKANATH v. THAKURDAS. 71 I. C. 20

———S. 53—Intent to defraud—Object to defeat one creditor.

A transfer for consideration is not voidable though it is made to defeat one creditor. (Ormond and Twomey, JJ.) MAUNG TUN v. MAUNG PO THAUNG 36 I. C. 395: 10 Bur. L. T. 111.

——— S. 53 (2)—Intent to defraud—When necessary—Burden of proof.

All that is necessary to prove is that the transfer had the effect of defeating or delaying the transferor's creditors. An intention of actual fraud need not be proved, and when this is proved, the burden of displacing the presumption that the transfer was fraudulent falls on the transferee. (Maung Kin, J.) MA NYUN v. MAUNG BATHA. 33 I. C. 945 : 9 Bur. L. T. 107.

———S. 53—Intent to defraud—Proof—Presumption—Intention to defeat generally.

Relationship between a transferor in fraud of creditors and the transferee is not alone sufficient to establish that the latter aided in the fraudulent intent, but it is a circumstance raising suspicion. In order that a transfer of immoveable property by a debtor may be set aside under S. 53, it must be proved that his intent was to defeat or delay his creditors generally and not any one particular creditor in which case, the transfer cannot be avoided provided there has been good consideration and the transaction is not a mere sham. A transfer with intent to defraud creditors generally made in favour of a creditor as security for the debt due to him cannot be set aside, even if he was aware of the vendor's intention to defeat other creditors, all that he is required to prove being valuable consideration, but not so in the case of a present purchaser who must prove not only valuable consideration but also that he was not aware of the vendor's fraudulent intent and that he did not aid such intent. (Robinson, J.) V. R. M. V. A. CHETTY FIRM v MAUNG KO SEN 23 I. C 341 : 7 Bur. L. T. 257

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 53—Partial consideration.

——— S. 53—Intent to defraud—Bona fides—Adequate consideration.

The burden of proving fraud lies on the person alleging the fraud and where fraud could be presumed, e. g., as per the relationship of parties, it lies on the person presumed to be defrauding to prove the bona fides and adequacy of consideration for the transaction, (Twomey, J.) MA KYIN v. RAM PERSHAD. 21 I. C. 333. 6 Bur. L. T. 185 :

———S. 53—Intent to defraud—Burden of proof—Sale before attachment.

An owner may sell and any one may purchase property before it is attached, provided that the transaction is bona fide and for good consideration. The creditor who impeaches the sale, must prove fraud. (Twomey, J.) SUBRAMANIAM CHETTY v. MAUNG SHWE THE. 11 I. C 781 : 4 Bur. L. T. 163.

Partial Consideration.

———S. 53—Partial consideration—Mortgage in fraud of creditors—Legality—Part consideration paid—Lien.

S. 53 does not render a transaction void but it is only voidable at the option of any person defrauded, defeated or delayed thereby. Fraudulent intention alone is not enough. There must be also evidence to show that there were other creditors at the time of the transaction who were intended to be defrauded or defeated. A mortgage can be enforced for so much of the consideration as is proved to have been paid by the mortgagee to the mortgagor and the mortgagee has a lien on that property to that extent (Mookerjee and Roe, JJ.) KRISHNA KUMAR NANDI v. JOY KRISHNA NANDI. 29 I. C. 680 : 21 C. W. N. 401.

——— S. 53—Partial consideration—Transfer in fraud of creditors—Prior mortgage—Subrogation.

The fact that an assignment is set aside as being in fraud of creditors under S. 53 does not prevent the Court from declaring a charge on the property assigned to the extent of the payment made by the assignee towards the redemption of the previous mortgage. 33 Mad. 334, Foll. In the absence of any conflicting equities, the mere fact that the consideration for the previous mortgage has not been paid in full does not prevent the assignee from claiming the right. (Mookerjee and Roe, JJ.) HARINATH v. HARA DAS ACHARYA. 29 I. C. 580 : 43 Cal. 269 : 20 C. W. N. 188 : 23 C. L. J. 163.

——— S. 53—Partial consideration—Fraud of creditors—Absence of benefit to transferor.

A transfer of immoveable property which is not bona fide and is effected so as to defraud creditors is void though the transferor is without any benefit. Where the transfer is fraudulent and is effected with a mala fide intent, the mere fact that a portion of the consideration is actually paid will not clothe the transaction with reality and take it out of the operation of S. 53, 24 M L.J. 266. Foll. 30 Mad. 6; 25 Bom. 202, Dist. (Spencer and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) SUBBAROYA GOUNDAN v. PERUMAL CHETTIAR. 43 I.C. 956.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882). S. 53 – Partial consideration.

——— S. 53—Partial consideration—Previous real mortgage.

An assignment in fraud of creditors can be the basis for a charge on the property to the extent of the amount spent for redemption of a prior real mortgage. (Oldfield and Tyabji, JJ.) UMMACHAKUTTI v. UMMERKUTTI HAJI. 29 I. C. 583.

———S. 53—Partial consideration—Fraud on creditors—Voidable as a whole.

Where the consideration for a mortgage was partly real and partly fictitious inserted to defend creditors of the mortgagor, is voidable as a whole by the creditors of the mortgagor, as the two parts of such a single transaction are not separable and ought not to be separated to favour a creditor guilty of fraud against his fellow creditor. (Miller and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) SAMA ROW v. DORASAWMY CHETTIAR. 18 I. C. 768 : 13 M. L. T. 206 : 24 M. L. J. 266.

———S. 53—Partial consideration—Fraudulent transfer.

A mortgage for the purpose of discharging a real debt, due by the mortgagor, does not, to the extent of the consideration applied therefor, come within S. 53 of the T. P. Act, and is therefore not a fraudulent transfer. 24 Cal. 825, Foll.; 30 Mad. 6 Dist. (Sundara Aiyar, J.) JALADANKI CHINNA PITCHIA, In re. 36 Mad. 29 : 11 I.C. 868 : 10 M. L. T. 183 : (1911) 2 M. W. N 152

Plea in defence.

———S. 53—Plea in defence—Attachment under decree—Objection on the ground that property is not of the judgment-debtor—Transfer by judgment-debtor fraudulent.

Per Stuart, J. :—Where a third party objects to the attachment on the ground that the property has been transferred by the judgment-debtor but the Court decides the deed of transfer to be fraudulent, the decree-holder may plead, in a suit by that third person for a declaration that the deed is valid, that it is fraudulent. The decree-holder need not sue again for that purpose. If a man fraudulently transfers property to avoid existing obligations, it can be impeached by creditors of later date. (Rafique and Stuart, JJ.) RAM CHAND v. MATHURA CHAND. 60 I. C. 896 : 19 A. L. J. 299.

———S. 53—Plea in defence.

A deft. can as a defendant avoid a transfer voidable only under S 53 of the T. P. Act. (D. Chatterjee and N. Chatterjee, JJ.) ABDUL KADER v. ALI MEAH. 14 I. C. 715 : 15 C. L. J. 649 : 16 C. W. N 717.

———S. 53—Plea in defence—Suit under O. 21, R. 63, C.P.C.

An attaching decree-holder can plead as defence to a suit by the alienee whose claim has been disallowed that the transfer was fraudulent and intended to defeat or delay the transferor's creditors. 41 Mad. 612 ; 30 M L.J. 565, Overruled. (Wallis, C. J., Oldfield, Sadasiva Aiyar, Spencer and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) RAMASWAMI CHETTIAR v. MALLAPPA REDDIAR. 43 Mad. 760 : 28 M L. T. 170 : 59 I. C. 947 : 12 L W 475 : (1920) M. W. N. 572 : 39 M. L J. 360 (F.B.)

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882). S. 53—Preference.

———S. 53—Plea in defence—Fraudulent transfer—Avoidance of suit—C P. Code, O. 21, R. 63.

A plea of fraudulent transfer under S. 53 of the T. P. Act cannot be pleaded as a defence. A suit has to be instituted by the creditor whose rights are affected by the transaction to have it set aside 41 Mad. 612, Foll. Per Seshagiri Aiyar, J.—All transactions sham or colourable, the effect of which is to defraud or defeat creditors are within the purview of S. 53 of the T. P. Act (Abdur Rahim and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) CHERUTHAZHATH ABDULLA HAJI v. CHERIYANDI IBRAYAN KUTTI. 50 I C 959.

This is no longer law. See 43 Mad. 760 (F.B.).

——— S. 53—Plea in defence—Fraudulent transfer—Suit by creditor.

The plea that a transfer is in fraud of creditors cannot be raised as a defence to a suit by the transferee to establish his title, if the creditor or creditors have not already sued for the cancellation of the transfer on that ground It is open to a single creditor to institute a suit for cancellation of a transfer on the ground that it is intended to defraud him and other creditors similarly placed. (Coutts-Trotter and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) PALANIANDI CHETTY v. APPAVU CHETTIAR 45 I. C. 52 : 22 M. L. T. 474.

[Overruled by 43 Mad. 760 (F. B.).]

———S. 53—Plea in defence—Remedy of creditors.

The plea of a fraudulent transfer is not available as a defence to a suit under O 21, R. 63, C. P. C. by an unsuccessful claimant. (Ayling, Seshagiri Aiyar and Bakewell, JJ.) SUBRAMANIA AIYAR v. MUTHIA CHETTIAR. 41 Mad. 612 : 6 L. W. 750 ; 43 I. C. 651 : 33 M L. J. 705.

[Overruled by 43 Mad. 760 (F.B.).]

——— S. 53—Plea in defence—Fradulent transfer—Suit under O. 21, R. 63, C.P.C.—Payment of portion of consideration—Effect.

A defendant may impeach a transaction voidable as against him such as a fraudulent transfer when it is sought to be enforced whether by a declaration or otherwise. 41 Mad. 612, Diss. from. The mere existence of a part of the consideration for a transfer does not prevent the transfer being a fraudulent transfer voidable at the instance of the person defrauded. (Mitra, A J. C) HAJI ABOO v. SOBHAGCHAND. 55 I. C. 752.

——— S. 53—Plea in defence.

The fraudulent character of the transfer can be pleaded as a defence to a suit under O 21, R. 63, C.P.C., 41 Mad. 612, Diss.: 42 Mad. 14[illegible], Rel. (Drake-Brockman, J.C.) DHANSUKHAS v. ZANGOO. 54 I. C. 798 : 16 N. L. R. 3.

Preference.

——— S. 53—Preference.

A debtor may pay his debts in any order he pleases and prefer any creditor he chooses and even though a debtor has preferred a creditor of set purpose and others might suffer thereby it would not stamp the transaction as fraudulent. (Sir Lawrence Jenkins.) MINA KUMARI BIBI v. BIJOY SINGH. 44 Cal. 662 : 44 I. A. 172 : 1 P. L. W 425 : 5 L. W. 711 : 40 I. C. 242 : 21 C. W. N. 585 : 21 M. L. T. 344 : 15 A.L.J. 382 : 25 C. L. J. 508 : 19 Bom. L. R. 424 : (1917) M. W. N. 473 : 32 M. L. J. 425 (P. C.).

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 53—Preference.

——S. 53—Preference—Test of—Preference of single creditor—Transfer, if voidable by others.

Where there is no question of bankruptcy law, there is nothing to prevent a debtor from paying one creditor in full although the result may be that the rest of his assets will be insufficient to provide for the payment of the rest of his debts. Moroney, In re. L.R. 21 Irish 27, and Middleton v. Pollock, (1876) 2 Ch. D. 104, Ref. to. A transfer of property by a debtor is not within the mischief of S. 53 of the T. P. Act, because its object or effect is to prefer one creditor to another even though it is made with the intention to defeat an anticipated execution by a creditor other than the transferee. What the section hits at is a transfer which removes the whole or a part of the debtor's property from the creditors as a body to the benefit of the debtor. (Lord Wrenbury.) MUSABAR SAHU v HAKIM LAL. 43 Cal. 521 : 32 I. C 343 : 43 I.A. 104 : 3 L.W. 207 : 20 C.W.N. 393 : 14 A.L J. 198 : (1916) 1 M.W.N. 198 : 19 M.L.T. 203 : 23 C. L. J. 406 : 18 Bom. L R 378 : 30 M. L. J. 116 (P. C.).

——S. 53—Preference—Insolvency proceedings.

The question of unduly preferring one creditor to another can only be raised in insolvency proceedings, and not under S. 53 of the T. P. Act, (Johnstone and Chevis, JJ.) MEHUGI BAI v. FATEHCHAND. 246 P. L. R. 1913: 20 I. C. 355 : 197 P. W. R. 1913

——S. 53—Preference—Prov. Ins. Act, S. 37.

In a case under S. 53 of the T. P. Act, actual fraud must be proved but in a case under S. 37 of the Insolvency Act, it is enough to show that there was a preference by the debtor of one creditor over another. (Robertson, J.) BALMUKUND v. AYA SINGH. 18 P. W. R. 1912: 13 I C. 68. 26 P. L. R. 1912.

——S. 53—Preference.

A transfer for valuable consideration to one creditor is not void merely because it would inevitably defeat or delay the claim of a less vigilant creditor. 81 P. R. 1908 ; 34 Cal. 999, Foll. (Reid, C. J. and Kensington, J.) MUKAND KUAR v. BULAKI MAL.
83 P. W. R. 1911 : 9 I. C. 1037 : 124 P. L. R. 1911.

——S. 53—Preference.

Where a debtor mortgaged his properties for payment of debts mostly due to relations including the mortgagee, held, that the bond though it preferred some creditors to others was not one removing propertyfrom the creditors for the benefit of the debtor especially when the debts were found to be actually due, and hence was not void under S. 53 of the Act. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) MUTHIAH CHETTIAR v. PALANIAPPA CHETTY. 41 M. L. J. 594: (1921) M. W N. 764: 15 L. W 190: 45 M. 90 : 1922 M. 447.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 53—Sham transaction.

——S. 53—Preference—No ground for avoidance.

A sale of land for consideration, even with a view to exclude one particular creditor in favour of the other creditors, is not bad as it does not defraud creditors generally (Sadasiva Aiyar and Moore, JJ.) PELLER MASTEN REDDI v. KUNAM REDDI MALAKONDA REDDI. 33 I C. 695.

——S. 53—Preference.

Preference to some creditors does not itself bring the transaction under S. 53 of the T. P Act 43 Cal. 521, Foll. (Mitra, A. J. C.) RAMSA HARANASA v. RATNASA. 48 I. C. 783.

——S. 53—Preference—Validity.

It is essential for the operation of S. 53 of the Act, that there should be proof that the transaction was intended to defeat all the creditors, a transaction made merely for preferring one creditor, over another is not void, neither is a fact that one has made an extremely good bargain a reason to conclude that the transaction is tainted with dishonesty. (Lindsay, J. C.) KALU SINGH v. RANDHIR SINGH. 21 O. C 97: 46 I C. 330: 5 O L. J. 208.

——S 53—Preference—Intention.

A preference given to one creditor is not voidable if the transferee is innocent of the fraud intended by the debtor. 34 Cal 909, 30 Mad. 6; 17 M. L J. 11. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) AHMADI BEGAM v. RAJA UDIT NARAIN SINGH.
25 I. C. 164 : 17 O. C. 173.

——S. 53—Preference—Transfer for good consideration.

A transfer for good consideration is not fraudulent within S. 53, though it amounts to preferring one creditor to another. (Coutts and Macpherson, JJ.) MUSAMMAT BIBI SAIRA v. BIBI SALIMAN 63 I. C. 111 : 2 Pat. L T. 577.

——S. 53—Preference.

In the absence of other circumstances, an intent to prefer a particular creditor in the case of a bona fide sale for value does not per se as a matter of law, render the conveyance fraudulent, (Fox, C J and Hartnoll, J.) MAUNG TUN THAN v. LEONG CHY. 20 I. C. 349: 6 Bur. L. T. 121.

Sham transaction.

——S. 53—Sham transaction—Setting aside sale at the instance of creditors—Not necessary

S. 53 of the T. P Act has no application to a sham sale deed not intended to pass title though intended to defeat creditors Such a deed does not require to be set aside 50 I. C. 959 Not. Foll. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) SWAMINATHA AIYAR v. RUKMANI AMMAL. 55 I. C 766 : 11 L. W 106.

——S. 53—Sham transaction.

A suit under S. 53 is not necessary where the transfer is void or has been found to be a sham transaction. (Coutts Trotter and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) PALANIANDI CHETTIAR v. APPAVU CHETTIAR.
30 M L. J 565: 34 I. C. 778: 19 M. L. T. 390.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 53—Sham transaction.

——S. 53—Sham transaction—Fraudulent intention—Colourable transaction—Surrounding circumstances.

The mere fact of payment of consideration is not enough to maintain the contention that a sale is not voidable under Section 53. Nor is it any the less voidable because money was paid to the creditors, mentioned in the sale-deed, if really what was paid to them, was not the consideration for the sale-deed and if the alienation by the vendor was part of a scheme of fraudulent alienations. A colourable transaction is inoperative between the parties to it and it is different from an alienation voidable on the ground of fraud. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) MUTHU K. R. V. ALAGAPPA CHETTY v. DASAPPA CHETTIAR.

(1913) M. W. N. 141: 13 M. L. T. 201: 18 I. C 332: 24 M. L. J. 293.

——S. 53—Sham transaction — Applicability of Section to.

S. 53 of the Act contemplates a transfer binding between the parties but voidable only at the option of the persons specified. The mere facts that the transaction was one which was carried out with intent to defeat or delay or defraud creditors does not of itself bring it within S. 53 when the deed itself is in fact void, and colourable and was never meant to be acted upon. (Miller, C. J. and Foster, J.) BIBI SIRAH v. MUSST. GOLAB KUER.

53 I. C. 892 : 1919 Pat. 409.

Subsequent Transferee.

——S. 53—"Subsequent transferee," who is—Fraudulent transfer—Auction-purchaser whether subsequent transferee.

A person who steps in by operation of law (e. g.) by purchase in execution sale and not by any act of the owner is not a subsequent transferee within the meaning of S. 53. He is not a person having an interest in the property within the meaning of the section which refers to interest which exists at the time of the transfer objected to. (Heaton and Shah, JJ.) VASUDEV RAGHUNATH OKA v. JANARDHAN SADASHIV APTE.

39 Bom. 507: 29 I. C. 497: 17 Bom. L. R. 522.

——S. 53—"Subsequent transferee"—Auction-purchaser in execution of decree—Right to impeach previous transfer.

An auction-purchaser at a sale in execution of a decree is not a "subsequent transferee" entitled to impeach a previous transfer under S. 53 of the T. P. Act. (Drake-Brockman, J. C.) AWADHUT v. PUNJAJI. 53 I. C. 205

Miscellaneous.

——S. 53—C. P. C. O. 39, R. 1.

Unless facts are established of the same kind as are necessary for a case under S. 53 of the T. P. Act, R. 1 (b) of O. 39, C. P. C. does not apply (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) ZARIHUSAIN KHAN v. KANIZ FATIMA BIBI. 39 I. C. 922.

——S. 53—Father's transfer to son.

The father transferred certain property to his son by a sale-deed, he himself acting for his son as the son was a minor. Held, that the transfer was prima facie a fraudulent and colourable transaction within the meaning of S. 53 of the Act.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 53—Miscellaneous.

(Knox and Piggott, JJ.) MAHOMED ABBAID ULLAH KHAN v. MAHOMED IBRAHIM ALI KHAN.

10 I. C. 906.

——S. 53—Practice—Fraud—Plaintiff and defendants parties to it—Rule applicable.

Where both the plaintiff and the defendant are parties to fraud upon innocent third parties the rule applicable is "let the estate lie where it falls." The old rule which was laid down more than a century ago. (Beaman and Hayward, JJ.) TANJI DAGDE v. SHANKAR SAKHARAM.

36 Bom. 116 : 12 I. C. 564 : 13 Bom. L. R. 1002.

——S. 53—Fraudulent mortgage—Tests of—Prior simple debts.

Where a debtor executed a mortgage to one of his creditors for a genuine debt, and the security is reasonable, just and sufficient, neither the fact of the relationship of the parties nor the fact of the mortgagee was aware of the pressure on the part of the other creditors will bring the transaction within S. 53 of T. P. Act. 44 Cal. 662 and 43 Cal. 521, Foll. (Teunon and Richardson, JJ.) RASH MOHAN SAHA v. KRISTODAS ROY.

47 I. C. 412 : 22 C. W. N. 982.

——S. 53—Vendor's duty to discharge encumbrances.

The vendor, however, is bound to discharge all encumbrances existing at the date of the sale. The vendor is therefore bound to discharge the mortgage and give a good title to the purchaser. (Stephen, J.) NABIN CHANDRA SAHA v. KRISHNA BAKONI DASEE.

38 Cal. 458 : 9 I. C. 525 : 15 C. W. N. 420.

——S. 53—Fraudulent transfers—Setting aside of—Creditors need not be judgment-creditors.

Section 53 of the Transfer of Property Act does not require that the persons complaining of a transfer coming within the purview of that section should obtain decrees proving their debts before they are entitled to set aside the conveyance. There is no warrant for the proposition that a creditor cannot maintain a suit to set aside a deed obnoxious to the provisions of the section until he establishes his debt by obtaining a decree from a Court of Law. As soon as the person who complains, proves his debt either by producing a decree in his favour or by any other evidence oral or documentary, he is entitled to sue and it is not necessary that he must be a judgment-creditor or should have obtained a lien or charging order on the property transferred by his debtor. 7 Equity Cases 347; 27 Bom. 146 Foll. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Fforde, J.) CHINAMAL v. GUL AHMAD. 1923 L. 478.

——S. 53—Transfer of property—Partition among member of a family is a.

A partition among the members of a joint Hindu family is a transfer to which the provision of S. 53 of the Transfer of Property Act would be applicable. Per Spencer, J. in Indoso Jithiajai v. Kothopalli Ramacharlu 10 L. W. 498, 507 not followed. (Oldfield and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) RASA GOUNDAN v. ARUNACHALA GOUNDAN.

44 M. L. J. 513 : 17 L. W. 613 : (1923) M. W. N. 320 : 32 M. L. T. (H. C.) 344 : 1923 Mad. 577.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 53—Miscellaneous.

——S. 53—Avoidance of fraudulent transfer—Unequivocal declaration—Conduct.

An unequivocal declaration of an intention to avoid a fraudulent transfer, expressed by a creditor is sufficient to enable him to treat it as void and such declaration can be made by open unequivocal conduct. Where a creditor got a subsequent fraudulent transfer by the debtor, a sale of the same properties and dispossessed the plaintiff held, that the prior sale was properly avoided and that the plaintiff had no title to the property. (Sadasiva Aiyer and Napier, JJ.) AYYA PERUMAL ASARI v. ADINAM ASHAGIYA PILLAI.
12 L. W. 718 : 61 I. C. 580 : (1921) M. W. N. 497.

——S. 53—Meaning of transfer—Release by member of joint family for consideration—Partition.

Per Abdur Rahim, J.—A partition among the members of a family under which a co-parcener is allotted a share which he relinquishes for a disproportionately less consideration in favour of others, operates as a severance of status and is voidable if in fraud of creditors. Per Spencer, J—The document was one of relinquishment of the executant's right to have a partition, and as such did not fall within S. 53 of the T. P. Act, and it was a bona fide family settlement not intended to defeat or to delay creditors. Partitions of co-parcenary property under the Hindu Law are not 'transfers' within S. 53. (Abdur Rahim and Spencer, JJ.) INDOJI JITHAJI v. KOTHAPALLI RAMA CHARLU.
54 I. C. 146 : 10 L. W. 498.

——S. 53—Foreign judgment—Title obtained under.

Per Coutts Trotter, J., Seshagiri Aiyar, J. Contra.—The mere obtaining of judgment (in India) creates no title but creates only an inchoate title in the judgment-creditor and he must therefore follow up his judgment by attaching the properties in order to enable him to utilise S. 53 of the T. P. Act in answer to a claim of a third party founded on a deed of transfer which is impeached as being in fraud of creditors. (Coutts Trotter and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) PALANIANDI CHETTY v. APPAVU CHETTIAR.
30 M. L. J. 565 : 34 I. C. 778 : 19 M. L. T. 390.

——S. 53—Creditor—Simple mortgagee—Right to sue.

A simple mortgagee who has obtained a decree for sale whose right to a personal decree is not barred, is a "creditor" within S. 53 T. P. Act and can bring a suit to set aside an alienation in fraud of creditors. Such a suit is governed by Art. 120 and not by Art. 91 or 95 of the Limitation Act (1908). 10 Mad. 213 : 30 Mad. 402. Foll. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) AUTHIKESAVALOO NAICKER v. SHAH ABDULLA HUSSAIN SAHIA.
2 L. W. 479 : 29 I. C. 62 : (1916) M. W. N. 337.

——S. 53—Applicability of—Remission of debt to defeat creditors—Effect of.

Under S. 53 gifts to third parties are as much voidable as other transfers and it is not necessary that transferor should reserve a benefit to himself. The principle of the section will apply in case of voluntary remissions of debts made with a view to defeat the creditors. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) NAMAGIRI LAKSHMI AMMAL v. SRINIVASA AIYANGAR.
27 I. C. 269.

——S. 53—Transfer of part of property to pay off genuine debt.

A mortgage by a debtor for a genuine debt of a part only of his property is not voidable under S. 53 of the T. P. Act. 23 Mad. 227 (P. C.) Foll. (Wallis, Offg. C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) PALANIAPPA CHETTI v. RAMANATHAN CHETTI.
26 I. C. 834 : 2 L. W. 64.

——S. 53—Fraudulent transfer—Acquisition.

There is no distinction between fraudulent alienation and fraudulent acquisition as each consists of a dishonest dealing with property. 13 Mad. 394 S. D. of 1858 ; 34 All. 579 (P. C.) Foll. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Tyabji, JJ.) RAMASUBBA IYER v. AVUDAI AMMAL.
26 I. C. 123 : (1914) M. W. N. 595.

——S. 53—Fraud of creditors—Assignment of debt—Right to impeach.

Although as between a transferor and his transferee, an assignment may be complete, the creditors of the assignor are not bound by it, if it be in fraud of creditors, and they are entitled to attach and sell the property assigned as being still the property of the assignor, so far as the debts are concerned. The purchaser also at auction of the debt is entitled to show that the assignment was in fraud of creditors. (Sundara Aiyar, J.) SUBRAMANIA PILLAI v. DAKSHINA MURTHI.
11 M. L. T. 262 : 15 I. C. 193 : (1912) M. W. N. 363.

——S. 53—Fraudulent transfer is only voidable and not void—Gift—When voidable by creditors—Delivery of possession.

Even a gratuitous transfer made for the sole purpose of defeating the creditors of the transferor is not void ; it is only voidable and that only at the instance of a creditor who has been actually defeated or delayed by it. Where the transferee offers the debt due to the creditor, he cannot complain that he is defeated or delayed by the transfer and so cannot avoid it. A question as regards delivery of possession to validate a gift under Hindu Law can arise only between the donor and the donee and cannot be raised by the third party. 1 C. P. L. R. 11 referred to. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) MT. KRISHNA BAI v. DEBI SINGH.
1923 Nag. 195.

——S. 53—Prov. Insol. Act, S. 36.

Considerations affecting S. 53 do not apply to S. 36, Provincial Insolvency Act. (Mullick and Atkinson, JJ.) HEMRAJ CHAMPALAL v. RAMKISHEN RAM.
2 Pat. L. J. 101 : 1 Pat. L. W. 752 : 38 I. C. 369 : (1917) Pat. 303.

——S. 53—Sale of hired animals.

B made over his buffaloes to S in settlement of a debt and then hired them from him. Later he sold or rather made them over in settlement of a debt due to K. Held that S was entitled to recover his buffaloes. (Duckworth, J.) SHAUNG NYAN v. KO MAUNG. 1 Bur L. J. 164 : 1923 R. 98 (1).

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S 54

——S. 54.

Admissibility of unregistered deed.
Applicability.
Consideration.
Contract to sell.
Easement.
Immoveable property.
Non payment of price.
Priority.
Registration.
Sale of equity of redemption.
Sale of reversion.
Sale when complete.
Title by delivery.
Title by estoppel.
Transfer for dower.
Vendee in possession.
Miscellaneous.

Admissibility of unregistered deed.

——S. 54— Admissibility of unregistered deed—Sale of immoveable property of less than Rs. 100 in value.

Where an immoveable property of less than Rs. 100 in value is sold by delivery of possession and an instrument of sale is also executed but not registered, the instrument is admissible as evidence under Sec. 91 of the Evidence Act to show the nature and terms of the transaction though it confers no title to the property. (Richardson and Walmsley, JJ.) JUMAN v. MAHOMED NADINEOAZ. 41 I. C. 779 : 21 C. W. N. 1149.

——S. 54—Admissibility of unregistered deed—Specific performance.

It is not necessary to register a document which is only an agreement to sell but when the document is a sale-deed registration is essential, and the vendee can place no reliance on an unregistered sale-deed even in a suit for specific performance. (Chevis and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) MUSSAMMAT PARMESHRI DEVI v. AUTAR SINGH. 4 U. P. L. R. (L) 59.

——S. 54—Admissibility of unregistered deed—Contract of sale.

An unregistered sale-deed of immoveable property, for less than Rs. 100, though inoperative under S. 54 where delivery of possession has not been made to the vendee, is admissible to prove the contract of sale. (Bakewell and Phillips, JJ.) POOMALAI v. KARUPPA. 34 I. C 921 : (1916) 2 M. W. N. 136.

——S. 54— Admissibility of unregistered deed—Oral sale with possession—Effect.

A transferee under an unregistered deed of sale of immoveable property of the value of less than Rs. 100 could rely on an oral sale followed by possession and the unregistered sale deed could be used as evidence of a contract to sell. 7 M.L.T 372: 25 I.C. 772: 27 M L J. 497, Ref. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) KATHARI NARASIMHA RAJU v. BHUPATI RAJU. 18 M. L. T. 371 : 2 L. W. 964 : (1915) M. W. N. 819 : 31 I. C. 52 : 29 M. L. J. 721.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) S. 54—Applicability.

——S. 54—Admissibility of unregistered deed—Agreement to sell—Intention—Want of registration.

In construing whether a document operates by way of a present conveyance of property or only as an agreement to create a future right, the intention of the parties as expressed in the instrument is the test. Even if a present right is created, the instrument, though unregistered, is admissible in evidence in a suit for specific performance. 14 Mad. 55 ; 15 C.W.N. 375. Foll. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) MANGAMMA v. RAMAMMA. 37 Mad. 480 : 12 M. L. T. 262 : 16 I. C. 587 : (1912) M. W. N. 917.

——S. 54—Admissibility of unregistered deed—Sale for less than Rs. 20—Nature of possession.

A sale-deed of immoveable property worth Rs. 20 does not require registration but it gives no title to the site under S. 54 of the Transfer of Property Act. It is admissible in evidence of an agreement to purchase the property. (Mittra, A. J.C.) HARSALSA v. BAPU. 56 I. C. 382.

——S. 54— Admissibility of unregistered deed—No sale deed—Remedy.

A transfer by pyatpaing cannot be proved to be a mortgage or sale where there is unregistered instrument evidencing it. Where the plaintiff wanted the property back by redemption and the defendants claimed the transaction to be a sale with the option of repurchase within three years and as that period was long since past they asked that the plaintiff may be ordered to give them a registered conveyance as agreed upon. Held that as the sale by the pyatpaing did not transfer any interest in the property to the defendants the point as to what amount if any was due from plaintiff to the defendant did not arise in this case and that plaintiff was entitled to recover the property without paying any amount. (Maung Kin, J.) MG. PO KIN v. MG OH. 1 Bur. L. J. 4 : 1923 R. 230.

Applicability.

——Ss. 54 and 55—Applicability—Contract entered into with father of minor—Effect—No obligation on minor's part.

The T. P. Act does not prevent a minor from purchasing property When a contract is entered into with the father and guardian of the minor no contractual obligations are undertaken by the minor. Any personal obligations arising as between the vendor and vendee, would have to be discharged by the party contracting with the vendor. Though consideration for sale is not paid, till to the property passes to the buyer but Courts will pass a decree in his favour conditional on his paying the purchaser money. (Banerjee and Walsh, JJ.) NARAIN DAS v. MUSSAMMAT DHANIA. 38 All. 154 : 35 I. C. 23 : 14 A. L. J. 65.

——S. 54—Applicability—Mahomedans.

Mahomedans can no more transfer immoveable property without complying with the provisions of the T. P. Act than any other community. To allow them to do so would in effect, be to repeal the provisions of the T. P. Act, so far as the Mahomedan community is concerned. (Richards, C. J. and Banerji, J.) GHAFUR-UD-DIN v. HAMID HUSSAIN. 16 I. C 679 : 10 A. L. J. 154.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S 54—Applicability.

——— S. 54—Applicability.

The section is not exhaustive on the law of relations by contract for sale of immoveable property. (Scott, C. J., Batchelor and Heaton JJ.) BAPU APPAJI POTDAR v KASHI-NATH SADOBA GULMIRE. 41 Bom. 438 : 39 I. C 103 : 19 Bom. L. R 100 (F. B.)

——— S. 54—Applicability—Receiver of insolvent estate—Conveyance.

Conveyance in writing and registered is necessary to pass title from the Receiver of an insolvent's estate to a purchaser from him. (Fletcher and Cuming, JJ.) ABDUL HASHIM v AMAR KRISHNA. 53 I. C. 121 : 46 Cal 887.

——— S. 54 — Applicability — Unregistered agreement—Defence—Suit for ejectment.

A suit for ejectment by a person having a legal title can be met by one in possession under an agreement not formally executed and registered though a suit for its specific performance is barred. 24 Mad 377; 39 Bom. 472 ; 44 Cal. 542; 40 Mad. 1134 : 20 C. W. N. 149. Ref Per Richardson, J.—The T. P. Act does not contain the whole law on the subject of transfer of property. (Teunon and Richardson, JJ.) MUHAMMAD SHAFIKUL HUQ CHOUDHURY v. KRISHNA GOVINDA DUTTA, 23 C W. N. 284 : 47 I. C. 428 : 28 C. L. J. 77.

— Ss. 54 and 58—Applicability—Punjab.

The definition of mortgagee as given in S. 58 of the Transfer of Property Act, should be adopted and recognised as good law, for the Punjab just as the definition of 'sale' in S 54 of the Act has been adopted in the Punjab. (Johnstone, C. J., Chevis, Smith, Rossignol and Shadi Lal, JJ.) ATTAH ALLAH DITTA v. NAZAR DIN. 53 P. R 1916 : 33 I. C 474 : 51 P. W. R 1916 (F.B.)

——— Ss. 54 and 55—Applicability—Transfer of mortgage—Implied covenant of title.

A transfer of a mortgage by a deed is a sale of immoveable property and where it turns out that the mortgage itself was invalid for want of consideration, the transferor will be liable in damages for the breach of the implied covenant as to the existence of the mortgage debt. (Phillips and Odgers, JJ.) BALAGURUMURTHY CHETTY v. V. R. NAGULU CHETTY. 14 L. W 191 : (1921) M. W. N. 602 : 69 I. C. 473 : 41 M L. J. 267.

——— S. 54—Applicability—Mortgage debt—Transfer of.

A mortgage debt, can be validly transferred only in accordance with S. 54 of the Act. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) OFFICIAL RECEIVER v. LAKSHMAN AIYAR. 68 I. C. 752 : 41 M. L J. 453.

——— S. 54—Applicability— Sale—Agreement to sell—Want of formalities—Part performance.

It is immaterial whether a transaction is described as sale by a parol or an agreement for sale

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 54—Consideration

If the sale cannot take effect as a sale for want of formality, it would have the effect of an agreement for sale with its consequences in equity. Where the question is whether as a result of the agreement for sale of the entire plot in consideration of an advance made, followed by possession the defendant obtained a good title in equity to the land in suit. Held that the equitable doctrine of part performance clearly applied to the case. To constitute part performance the act must be an act, unequivocally referring to, and resulting from the agreement, and such that the party would suffer an injury amounting to fraud, by the refusal to execute that agreement The principle of the cases is, that the act must be of such a nature, that, if stated it would of itself infer the existence of some agreement ; and then parol evidence is admitted, to show what the agreement is. (Ross, J.) RAM KISHUN MAHTO v. HARIHAR MAHTON. 1924 P. 433.

——— S. 54—Applicability—Sale of property over Rs. 100—Registration Burma.

S. 54 of the T. P. Act, requires that a sale of property worth Rs 100 or more should be by a registered instrument. (Twomey, J.) MANYSEN v. KADIRESAN CHETTY. 28 I. C. 264.

——— S. 54— Applicability — Extension to Burma—Sale contravening Act—Validity.

An unregistered sale transaction in respect of immoveable property worth more than Rs. 100 is invalid if it is executed after the extension of the Transfer of Property Act, to Burma: (Ormond, J.) MAUNG PO MAUNG v. MAUNG KAING. 7 Bur L T. 86 : 24 I. C. 57 : 7 L. B. R. 262.

——— S 54—Applicability—Burma.

The Transfer of Property Act was first extended to the local limits of the ordinary civil jurisdiction of the Recorder of Rangoon from the 1st January 1893. A verbal sale for Rs. 350 of immoveable property at Rangoon in 1890 after the T. P. Act was applied to Bengal from the 1st July 1882, though prior to the extension of the Act to Rangoon, is invalid, as it would have been invalid if it had taken place in Calcutta in that year. (Fox, C. J. and Hartnoll, J.) M. G. SAN U. v. MA HMYIM. 5 Bur. L. T. 169 : 17 I. C. 954 : 6 L. B R. 98.

Consideration.

——— S 54—Consideration—Conditional payment—Validity.

There is nothing contrary to the public policy in providing in a deed that the payment of consideration for a sale should be postponed in certain events and that it should not be paid at all in the event of the property being lost. It is not a gambling transaction. Richards, C. J. and Piggott, J.) KAULESHER PRASAD MISRA v. ABDI BIBI. 30 I. C. 512 : 37 All. 631.

——— Ss. 54 and 55—Consideration—Suit for possession by vendee—Conditional decree—Deposit of price.

In a suit for possession though the vendee's allegations that he has paid full consideration may be found to be false and that only a part of it was really paid, the Court may pass a conditional decree for possession to take effect on his depositing in Court whatever is due under the purchase with interest, costs, etc. (Chitty and Walmsley. JJ.) JOGENDRA NARAYAN ROY. v. MANMATHA NATH. 34 I. C. 106.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 54—Consideration.

—— S. 54—Consideration — Adequacy—If third parties can question.

If a purchaser of a share in the joint property institutes a suit for possession the vendor's co-sharers cannot successfully contest the bona fides or validity of the sale of want, or inadequacy of the consideration does not affect the purchaser's right so long as the vendor himself is satisfied. (Shah Din and Scott-Smith, JJ.) HUKAM KAUR v. BIHARI LAL, 110 P. L. R. 1912 : 15 I. C. 192 : 73 P W. R. 1912.

——S. 54—Consideration—If can be questioned by third party.

Where the vendor does not question the consideration for the sale it is not open to a third party to do so. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Tyabji, JJ.) ARTHO RAMA v. ARTHO PADHI. 14 M. L. T. 177 : (1913) M. W. N. 687 : 20 I. C 952 ; 25 M. L. J. 248.

——S. 54—Consideration—Failure of—Vendor's power to cancel sale

When a sale-deed is registered and possession given to the vendee, the title of the property passes to the vendee under S. 54 and in the absence of fraud coercion under influence or misrepresentation, the vendor is not entitled to have the deed of sale set aside. If there is failure of consideration he can sue for it. (White, C. J and Munro, J.) SUBBAIYER v MANIAM SUBRAMANI IYER. 36 Mad. 8 : 10 M. L. T 51 : (1911) 2 M. W. N 6 : 10 I. C. 546 : 21 M L. J. 800.

—— S. 54—Consideration—Provision for payment on the success of litigation.

Where the object in executing a sale deed is to confer upon the vendee the power of contesting a suit and the payment of consideration is made conditional on the success of the suit, the transaction cannot be called a nominal transaction (Mitra, A. J, C.) MANGLA GOURI v. SAMSON SHALOM. 51 I. C. 24

——S 54—Consideration—Connotation of.

Where the consideration for a sale is the amount of money to be spent later for purposes of a litigation, the fact that the latter amount is not ascertained and definite, does not vitiate the transaction, for it was certainly capable of being ascertained. Dr Gour's notes on "Price" referred to. (Daniels and Lyle, A. J. Cs.) BISHESHAR DUYAL v. MT. HAR RAJ KUAR. 66 I. C. 622.

——S. 54—Consideration— Inadequacy — Effect.

A sale cannot be said to be a fictitious transaction, if any consideration has passed though inadequate. (Lindsay, J. C.) KALA SINGH v. RANDHIR SINGH. 21 O C. 97 : 46 I. C. 330 : 5 O. L. J. 208.

——S. 54—Consideration—Failure of—Sale if can be treated as gift.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 54—Contract to sell.

The failure of a sale-deed for want of consideration will not make the transfer good as a gift, in the absence of intrinsic evidence in the document itself. The meaning of the document must be found within its four corners. (Mullick and Atkinson, JJ.) GHULBAI v. BALA BUKSH SETT. 3 Pat. L. W. 206 : 45 I. C. 330 : (1917) Pat. 369.

Contract to sell.

—— S. 54—Contract to sell— Right of parties —Right to interest and profits— English and Indian Law.

Under the English law a contract for sale of real property makes the purchaser the owner in equity of the estate, and where the rights as to payment of interest on the purchase money are not regulated by the terms of the contract, the purchaser is deemed to be entitled to the rents and profits of the property as from the time he could have safely taken possession : and interest on the purchase money runs in favour of the vendor from that time. The above rule would not have application to India since S. 54 of the T. P. Act provides that such a contract creates no charge on the land. (Lord Buckmaster.) MAUNG SHWE GOH v. MAUNG INN. 44 Cal. 542 : 44 I. A. 15 : 21 M. L. T. 18 : 15 A. L. J. 82 : (1917) M. W. N. 117 : 25 C. L. J. 106 : 19 Bom. L. R. 179 : 21 C. W. N. 500 : 5 L. W. 532 : 10 Bur. L. T. 69 : 38 I. C. 938 : 32 M. L. J. 6 (P. C.).

——Ss. 54 and 14—Contract to sell—Rule against perpetuities—Contract when repugnant to—Contract Act, S. 37.

A contract of sale creates no interest in immoveable property and consequently such a contract cannot be vitiated by the rule against perpetuities. Quaere— Whether S. 37 of the Contract Act enables an owner of immoveable property to enter into an agreement imposing a restrictive covenant for an indefinite period on the disposition of the said property so as to bind his heirs and representatives ? 39 M. 463 diss. (Rafique and Piggott, JJ.) GOPI RAM v. JEOT RAM. 45 A. 478 : 21 A. L. J. 480 : L. R. 5 A. 17 : 1923 A. 514.

—— S. 54—Contract to sell—Law before the T. P. Act.

Prior to the T. P. Act, 1882, a contract for the sale of immoveable property created an equitable interest in the land and made the purchaser the owner in equity. Consequently a contract or covenant for pre-emption in such a sale was void as infringing the rule against perpetuities. Obiter : The result would be the same under the T. P. Act though a contract for sale does not create an interest in immoveable property. (Macleod, C.J. and Kanga, J.) DINKARRAO GANPATRAO v. NARAYAN. 24 Bom. L. R. 449 : 1922 Bom. 84.

—— S. 54—Contract to sell—Vendee in possession of property—No registered sale deed—Payment of purchase money—Suit by vendor for possession—Defence.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 54—Contract to sell.

Where a person agrees to sell his property to another who is already in possession and who paid the purchase money but there is no registered deed of sale, the vendee can successfully resist a suit by the vendor to recover possession of the property, although the time has passed within which the vendee could have sued to get a sale-deed. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) VENKATESH DAMODAR MOKASH v. MALLAPPA BHIMAPPA CHIKKALKI. 46 Bom. 722 : 24 Bom. L. R. 242 : 1922 Bom. 9.

——S. 54—Contract to sell—Vendor's widow receiving purchase-money—Rights of adopted son.

A vendor died after a contract to sell was executed but before the sale was complete. His minor widow received purchase money and delivered possession to the vendee. The widow then adopted the plff. who then sued to eject the purchaser, held, the suit is not maintainable. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J.) LAKSHMAN MADHAO v. BHAGWAN SINGH. 45 Bom. 434: 60 I.C. 581: 23 Bom. L. R. 55.

——S. 54—Contract to sell—Vendee in possession.

A vendee in possession under a contract of sale capable of being enforced is not liable to be evicted on the ground of there being no registered document in his favour ; he cannot be deemed a trespasser (Scott, C. J. Batchelor, Heaton, Shah and Marten, JJ.) BAPU APAJI PATDAR v. KASHINATH SADOBA GULMISA. 41 Bom 438 : 39 I. C. 103 : 19 Bom. L. R. 100 (F B.).

——Ss. 54 and 55—Contract to sell—Promisee under contract to sell in possession, if can resist suit for possession by vendor

Quaere :—Whether a promisee under a contract to sell land who is in possession of the property and who has paid a portion of the purchase money, can resist a suit for possession by the vendor? 28 Bom. 466 ; 29 Mad. 336, (F. B.) Doubted. (Scott, C. J. and Heaton, J.) GANGARAM GANPATI v. LAXMAN GANOBA. 40 Bom. 498 : 37 I. C. 360 : 18 Bom. L. R 455.

——S. 54—Contract to sell— Delivery of possession—If defence to suit for possession by vendee.

S. 54 of the T. P Act did not permit an agreement to convey to be pleaded in bar of plff's. present right to recover possession of a house owned by him, though possession has been delivered. 29 Mad. 336. Ref. (Batchelor, J.) IMMANGOWDA v. BENEPGOWDA. 39 Bom. 472 : 28 I. C. 946 : 17 Bom. L. R. 335.

——S. 54—Contract to sell—Delivery of possession—Effect of.

When in pursuance of an agreement to transfer property the intended transferee has taken possession, though the requisite legal documents have not been executed and registered, the position is the same as if the documents had been executed, subject to the proviso that specific performance can be obtained between parties to the agreement in the same Court and at the same time as the subsequent legal question falls to be determined. 21 Ch. D. 9, (1892) 2 Q. B. 255: 31 C. L. J. 75 Rel.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 54—Contract to sell.

on. (Mookerjee and Cuming, JJ.) GAJENDRA NATH DEY v MOULVI ASHRAF HOSSAIN. 36 C. L. J. 48 : 27 C. W. N. 159 : 1923 C. 130.

——S. 54—Contract to sell—Conveyance not executed—Transferee in possession—Specific performance.

When in pursuance of an agreement to transfer property the intended transferee has taken possession though the requisite legal documents had not been executed the legal position is as if the document is executed provided specific performance can be obtained between the parties to the agreement in the same Court and at the time when the question has to be determined. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) SYAM KISHORE DE v. DINESH CHANDRA BHATTACHARYA. 31 C. L. J. 75 : 55 I. C. 154 : 24 C. W. N. 463.

——S. 54—Contract to sell—Saleable interest.

A vendee who has paid the consideration and is in possession under a contract of sale has, until the conveyance is registered a saleable interest which is transferable by sale. (Chatterjee and Newbould, JJ.) JNAN CHANDRA DAS v. RAJANI KANTA PAL. 41 I. C. 850 : 22 C. W. N. 522.

——S. 54—Contract to sell—Delivery of possession—Sale deed not executed and registered—Ejectment by vendor.

Where in pursuance of an agreement for a lease or sale the intended transferee has taken possession, though the requisite documents have not been executed the position is the same as if the documents had been executed provided that specific performance can be obtained in the same Court and at the same time as the subsequent legal question falls to be determined. 29 Mad. 336, Diss: 2 C. L. J. 343 ; 13 C. L. J. 271 ; 13 C L. J. 300 ; 16 C L. J. 317 ; 17 C. L. J. 167 Ref. (Mukerji and Roe, JJ.) AKBAR FAKIR v. INTAIL SAYAL. 29 I. C 707.

——S. 54—Contract to sell — Possession under—Purchase with notice of prior contract of sale.

Where a purchase of land was made by the plff. with notice of a prior contract for sale by the pld's. vendor in favour of the defendant. held, that the plff's title cannot prevail as against the rights of the defendant. (Jenkins, C.J. and Mookerjee, J.) PUCHHA LAL v. KUNJ BEHARY LAL. 18 C. W. N. 445 : 20 I. C. 803 : 19 C. L. J. 213.

——S. 54—Contract to sell—Possession, if any right passes.

A person in whose favour there is only an agreement to sell by the patnidar, cannot be regarded as the purchaser of the tenure and is not liable for rent. Mere possession will not render a man liable for rent if the lease has not been assigned to him. 29 Bom. 324, Foll. (Coxe and Ray, JJ.) ANANDA CHANDRA ROY v. SYED ABDULLA HUSSAIN CHOUDHURY. 20 I. C. 679 : 41 Cal. 148.

——S. 54—Contract to sell—Conveyance and contract—Distinction between—Absence of registered deed but possession given—Suit for possession—Defences open—Part performance.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 54—Contract to sell.

What S. 54, T. P. Act enacts is that a conveyance or a document of title to land can only acquire validity and be provable if it is registered. So far from forbidding unregistered contracts for sale, it expressly recognises their existence, denying to them only the creation of an interest in or charge on the land. The section prohibits only unregistered conveyances and not contracts. Where in pursuance of a contract of sale, possession has been given but no registered sale deed executed and thereafter a suit is brought for the recovery of the lands on the ground that there was no registered document, Held, a plea in defence that the defendants had a valid contract capable of specific performance is quite good. The defendant can retain possession as part performance of the contract. 29 Mad. 336 and 40 Mad. 1134 overruled. (Schwabe, C J. Coutts-Trotter and Krishnan, JJ.). VIZAGAPATAM SUGAR DEVELOPMENT COY v. MUTHURAMAREDDY.
33 M. L. T. 53 (H. C.) : 18 L. W. 953 : 46 Mad. 919 : (1924) M. W. N. 1 4(2) : 45 M. L. J. 528 : 1924 Mad. 271 (F. B.)

——— Ss. 54 and 55—Contract to sell—Decree for possession not to be given till title is completed by specific performance—Amendment.

In case of a contract for sale or exchange of land, decree for possession cannot be given if the title is not completed by specific performance of the contract. A prayer for specific performance of the contract by execution of a conveyance by the defendant can be added in a plaint in a suit for possession. (Abdur Rahim and Oldfield, JJ.) SUBRAMANIA IYER v. KALYANASUNDARAM IYER.
53 I. C. 283.

——— S. 54—Contract to sell—Attachment of property after the contract—Effect.

The section does not affect any equitable rights which may arise under a contract of sale. The person in whose favour the contract is made becomes the equitable owner and an attachment can only be subject to such obligation, if subsequent to the contract of sale. (Abdur Rahim and Srinivasa Aiyangar, JJ.) REBALA VENKATA REDDI v. MANGADU YELAPPA CHETTY.
38 I. C. 107 : 5 L. W. 234.

——— S. 54—Contract to sell—Creates obligation to get a conveyance executed—Enforcible against.

A contract for sale of immoveable property though it does not create a charge or interest in immoveable property, gives the obligee the benefit of an obligation to execute a conveyance under para. 2 of S. 40 which may be enforced against a transferee with notice of that obligation.(Sadasiva Aiyar and Moore, JJ.) PUTHENPURAYIL v. KANDIYAL. (1916) 2 M. W. N.31 : 34 I. C. 906 : 20 M. L T. 127.

——— Ss. 54 and 55—Contract to sell—Breach—Contractee entitled to compensation—Mesne profits.

Where there has been an agreement to convey properties and a breach of it takes place the contractee is not entitled to mesne profits but is only entitled to compensation for breach of the contract to convey, in addition to suing for specific performance for execution of the conveyance. And the compensation will be the value of the mesne profits which could have been obtained between the date when the breach took place and the date when conveyance was actually executed. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Moore, JJ.) SUBBARAYAR v. KOTTAYA GOUNDAN.
34 I. C. 737 : (1916) 1 M W. N. 284.

——— S. 54—Contract to sell—Sale of immoveable property—Not binding upon a purchaser—Contract — Joint undivided Hindu family.

Under S 54 of the T. P. Act a contract for sale of immoveable property does not by itself create any interest in the property. It does not run with the land and is not binding upon a purchaser without notice. Such a contract is outside the scope of Sec. 14, T.P. Act but can be enforceable against the surviving members of a joint undivided Hindu family. (Sankaran Nair and Oldfield, JJ.) VARDACHAIAR v. VELAYUDA REDDI.
29 I. C. 435 : 18 M. L. T. 83.

——— S. 54—Contract to sell—Delivery of possession—Ejectment suit by vendor—Rights of vendee.

A contract of sale followed by delivery of possession canot be pleaded in defence to an action in ejectment if the sale-deed is not registered, but the defendant can avoid the difficulty by suing for specific performance and getting the action in ejctment postponed pending the result of the suit. (Spencer and Coutts Trotter, JJ.) MANIYAM KUPPANNA v. KUPPANA GOUNDEN. 29 I. C. 195 : (1915) M. W. N. 319.

——— S. 54—Contract to sell—Rule against perpetuities.

The rule against perpetuities is applicable only in reference to an attempt to create an interest in land. Under the law of India an agreement to sell or reconvey land is an agreement merely personal not creating an interest in land though it has, reference to land. Such an agreement is not within the rule against perpetuities. The English and Indian law on the point distinguished. 24 M. L. J. 84 Diss. (Ayling and Tyabji, JJ.) AVULA CHARAMUDI v. MARRIBOYIANA RAGHAVALU.
39 Mad. 462 : 28 M. L. J. 471 : 18 M. L. T. 76 : (1915) M. W. N. 596 : 28 I. C. 871. Also [18 M. L. T. 83 : 29 I. C 435.]

——— Ss.54 and 55—Contract to sell -Purchaser if entitled to possession before campensation of conveyance.

Per Tyabji. J —Under Ss. 54 and 55 of the T.P. Act, taken together along with the Registration Act, a person agreeing to purchase a property is not entitled to possession until the completion of the conveyane but he may be so entitled where there is an express agreement to transfer possession independently of the registered conveyance. (Sankaran Nair and Tyabji, JJ.) KRISHNAMMAL v. M. SUNDERARAJA IYER. 38 Mad. 698 : 15 M. L. T. 103 : 1914 M W N. 200 : 22 I. C. 912 : 1 L. W. 147.

——— S. 54—Contract to sell—Possession given Rights of vendee.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 54 Contract to sell.

Where a person agrees to sell his property to another and receives the purchase money and puts him in possession of the property but there is no registered deed of sale, the vendee can successfully resist a suit by the vendor to recover possession of the property whether or not the time for filing a suit for specific performance has expired. 46 B. 722 ; 3 N. L. R. 72 ; 17 C. P. L. R. 19 Rel. on (Pridcaux, A. J. C.) SAMPAT v. MOTILAL.
1923 Nag. 177.

——— S. 54—Contract to sell—Land less than Rs. 100—Delivery of possession.

Where on a contract for sale of land, worth less than Rs. 100 possession is given in pursuance of an agreement to sell but not after the transfer, the title rests with the vendor. (Mittra A. J. C.) BATANAND v. MADHO RAO 42 I. C. 288.

——— S. 54—Contract to sell—Not effective to pass title.

Under S. 54 of the T. P. Act a contract of sale of immoveable property of the value of Rs. 100 and upwards unless followed by the registraton of the deed cannot completely transfer property. Admission of execution before a Regisrar not followed by actual registration of the document could pass no title. (Jwala Prasad, J.) SHEIK WAZIR ALI v. MUSSAMMAT MAHIMUNNISSA.
43 I. C. 777 : 4 Pat. L. W. 72.

——— S. 54—Contract to sell—If creates interest.

Obiter:—Under S. 54 a contract for the sale of property does not of itself create any interest or charge on the property. (Mullick and Jwala Prasad, JJ.) NAND LAL PAL v. NARESH CHANDRA DEB. 41 I. C. 468 : 2 Pat. L. W. 108.

——— S. 54—Contract to sell.

It would seem from the the terms of S. 54 of the T. P. Act that a contract to give immoveable property does not of itself give any interest in the property. The fact that a person takes possession of the land in pursuance of a contrat which could be specifically enforced does not on the principle of decision in Walsh v. Lonsaale, (21 Ch. D. 9) give him the same rights as if the land had actually been conveyed to him. (Chamier, C. J. and Jwala Prasad, J.) DAYA BHAI v. MAHARAJ BAHADUR SINGH. 1 Pat. L. J. 238 : 34 I. C. 482 : 2 Pat. L. W. 333.

——— S. 54—Contract to sell—Delivery of possession to vendee—Conveyance not executed—Rights of vendee.

A purchaser who has actually taken possession under an agreement to sell can retain such possession as against the sellor even though the agreement to sell has not been converted in the actual sale. But this principle is one of equity only It does not amount to the conversion of the agreement of sale, into an actual sale and the enforcement of this equity depends entirely upon the fact of the purchaser having taken actual possession. It is in fact a principle which prevents a fraudulent seller who has actually delivered possession of the thing which he had agreed to sell from taking advantage of the incompleteness of the sale and ousting a person who has obtained a bona fide possession. But the principle has no application as against a subsequent purchaser of the property without notice of the agreement. (Pipon, J. C.) SAID KHAN v. ZARIFKHAN. 71 I. C. 781.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 54—Easement.

——— Ss. 54 and 55—Contract to sell—Transfer of possession—Effect of.

Where a person enters into possession of immoveable property belonging to another under an agreement that he was to appropriate the rent, and profits of the property in lieu of interest on money advanced by him, such an agreement does not create any interest in immoveable property in favour of the person so entering into possession and he could not resist a claim for possession by the owner or his transferee. 29 M. 336 ; 8 I. C. 10; 8 L. B. R. 553 foll. (Robinson, C. J. and Macgregor, J.) MAUNG PO NGWE v. YACOOB ALLY.
11 L. B. R. 319 : 1 Bur. L. J. 33 : 1922 L. B. 25.

——— S. 54—Contract to sell—Delivery of possession—Ejectment—Defence.

A person in possession of property under a contract of sale but without a registered sale deed can resist a suit in ejectment by the owner or any person claiming under him under subsequent title. (Robinson, C. J. and Duckworth, J.) SANTHAYI AMMAL v. M. K. MAHOMED.
65 I. C. 405 : 11 L. B. R. 94.

——— Ss. 54, and 55 (6) (b)—Contract to sell—If passess interest.

Contract of sale followed by delivery possession without a registered sale-deed does not create any interest in property in favour of the vendee. Such delivery of possession does not like part-payment create a charge or interest on the land. (Maung Kin, J.) MAUNG BO v. MAUNG TUN BYU.
33 I. C. 121.

——— S. 54—Contract to sell—Unregisterd sale deed.

A sale of land over Rs. 100 without Registration is a mere contract to sell and creates no interest in the land sold. (Charles Fox, C. J.) SHAWE ON v. MAUNG KYWET. 32 I. C. 536 : 9 Bur. L. T. 45.

Easement.

——— Ss. 54 and 123—Easement—Right of way—Creation of.

The creation or imposition of a right of way whether as a gift or for consideration need not be in writing under Ss. 54 and 123 of the Act. Ss. 54 and 123 were not intended to change the pre-existing law so as to require a writing for their creation or imposition as no writing was previously necessary under English Law, a right of way is said to be in deed and not in livery. (Chatterji ana Richardson, JJ.) SITAL CHANDRA CHAUDHURY v. ALLEN J. DELANNY.
34 I. C. 450 : 20 C. W. N. 1158.

——— S. 54—Easement—Transfer of.

The creation by grant of a right of way over the grantor's land is not a transfer of ownership requiring writing and registration under S. 54, as instead of an existing right of easement being transferred a new easement is imposed on the property. (Maung Kin, J.) GUN SONE v. CASSIN DALLA. 9 Bur L. T. 222 : 34 I. C. 95 : 9 L. B. R. 24.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 54—Immoveable property.

Immoveable Property.

——S. 54—Immoveable property—Transfer of right to cut and appropriate plants—Registration.

The right of cutting and appropriating " plants now standing or that may here after form " on certain land being an interest in immoveable property can only be transferred bya regis'ered instrument. 20 Mad. 58, (F. B , Foll. 35 Mad 95, Dist. (Wallis and Sankaran Nair, JJ.) KUTTUVA LATCHUMANA BAGVATHAR v. THOPPAI VENKATARAMIER. 15 I. C. 234.

——S. 54—Immoveable property—"Tangible immoveable property"—Registration.

An nndivided share in immoveable property is " tangible immovable property " within S. 54, therefore a sale of such property, if worth less than Rs 100 is not compulsorily registrable.2 O. C. 9 Dist ; 18 Mad. 454, Ref. (Evans, J. C.) PEARE LAL v. LALA. 11 I. C. 673 : 14 O. C. 161.

Non-payment of Price.

——S. 54—Non-payment of price—Effect—Intention.

The mere fact of non payment of part or whole of the consideration will not make a sale fictitious, if the real intention is that property should pass, but it may often be very strong evidence that the deed was not intended to operate. (Richards, C. J. and Banerji, J.) ALAMDAR HUSSAIN v. MOTI RAM. 46 I. C. 382 : 16 A. L. J 454.

——S. 54—Non-payment of price—Title if passess—Intention of parties.

The failure to pay the consideration for a conveyance does not defeat the conveyance unless there is an agreement that itshould take effect only if the consideration is first paid. 13 C. W. N. 692. Ref. When the sale has passed to the purchasers the vendor or his representatives may sue for the recovery of the purchase money. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) NITAI CHANDRA NASKAR v. SRIMATI CHAMPAKLATA DEBI. 51 I.C. 104 : 29 C. L. J. 250.

——S. 54—Non payment of price—Effect of.

The mere non-payment of the consideration for a sale may be an important item to take into consideration to determine whether the conveyance is or is not a real transaction but it does not prevent the passing of title except where the conveyance is drawn in such a form that the transfer is conditional only upon the payment of the consideration money. (Fletcher and Richardson, JJ.) KUMUD KAMINI DASI v. KHUDUMANI DASI. 47 I. C 202

——S. 54—Non-payment of price—Right to possession of property by vendor—When exists.

The non-payment of consideration, in whole or in part will not affect the vendor's right to possession unless the parties had intended that ownership should not pass till the consideration was paid in full. (Chitty and Walmsley, JJ.) JOGENDRA NARAIN ROY v. MANMATHA NATH. 34 I. C. 106

——Ss. 54 and 55—Non-payment of price—Vesting af title in vendee.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) S. 54—Non-payment of price.

In the absence of any intention on the part of the parties to a conveyance that the operation thereof shall be postponed till the consideration had been actually paid, the title vests in the vendee as soon as the conveyance is executed and registered. The right of the vendee to possession under S. 55 (1) (f) of the Act, and the right of the vendor to the unpaid purchase money under S. 55 (4) (b) can be recognised and enforced in one action The provision of S. 55 do not exclude the application of the principles of equity to such cases. The court might compel the vendee to pay the unpaid money before giving decree possession to the vendee. 11 All. 244, 2 B. 547, 30 All. 125, 27 Mad 28 : Approved. 34 Mad 543 : Not foll. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) NIL MADHAB PARHI v. HAREN PRASAD PARHI. 17 C. W. N. 1161 : 20 I. C. 325 : 19 C L. J. 146.

——S. 54—Non-payment of price—If title passes.

A sale deed intended to be operative upon registration dose not become inoperative by non-payment of purchase money. But if the intention was that no title shall pass till consideration money has been paid, the law would give effect to such intention. Mere registration of a deed of transfer is not sufficient in itself to convey title but the court has to see what was the intention of the vendor if no consideration passed. The intention may be presumed from circumstances. (N. Chatterjee and Walmsley, JJ.) SERAMOT ALI v. SAMAD ALI. 19 I. C. 562.

——S. 54—Non-payment of price—If invalidates sale.

Mere non-payment of consideration does not invalidate a sale unless it was agreed that title should not pass until consideration was paid. The intention is to be gathered not only by what the parties say or do at the time of sale but also from their subsequent conduct. (Chevis,J.) TARACHAND v. NIRMAL DAS. 40 I. C. 489 : 46 P.W. R. 1917.

——S. 54—Non-payment of price—Sale—When complete.

When there is no contract to the contrary title by " Sale " passes to the vendee at the time the contract is made irrespective as to whether or when the price is actully paid. (Johnstone, C. J. Chevis, Smith, Shadilal and Le Rosssignol, JJ.) ALLAH DITTA v NAZAR DIN. 53 P R. 1916 : 33 I. C. 474 : 51 P. W. R. 1916 (F B.)

——S. 54—Non-payment of consideration—Passing of title.

The title in the property sold passes from the vendor to the vendee upon the due execution and registration of a sale deed unless it is proved that both the parties intended that the payment of price should be a condition precedent to the transfer of ownership. (Shadi Lal and Leslie, Jones, JJ.) ABDUL AZIZ KHAN v. KALA SHAH. 32 I. C 961 : 50 P. W. R. 1916.

——S. 54—Non-payment of price—Receipt for money containing incorrect entry of amount of Mortgage—Intention af parties.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 54—Non-payment of price.

In the case of a sale of land the receipt for the earnest money mentioned an out-and out sale as having been effected, and a sale-deed-which would be drawn up, held that the contract was not incomplete. Nor was an incorrect entry of the amount of a mortgage on that property an indication of the completeness of the sale. The fact that such a receipt is not followed by registration of a formal sale-deed is not sufficient to show that the intention of the parties was that title should not pass until the consideration money has been paid in full. (Shah Din and Chevis, JJ.) HARDIT SINGH v. BEHARI LAL. 104 P W. R. 1915 : 29 I. C. 305 : 9 P.L. R. 1916.

——— S. 54.—Non-payment of price.

Where the intention of the parties is that ownership should pass only on payment of the consideration money, the mere execution of the sale deed will not ipso facto convey the property to vendee 27 P. L. R. 1911, Foll. (Shah Din, J.) SALAMAT RAI v. RAMKRISHEN. 260 P. L. R. 1911: 12 I. C 534 : 249 P. W. R. 1911.

———S. 54—Non-payment of price—Passing of property.

To make a sale complete it is not necessary that the price should be paid, in the absence of proof of an intention in both parties that ownership should not pass till payment of consideration 62 P. R. 1879 ; 132 P. R 1879 ; 40 P. R. 1906 and 15 P. R. 1882 Com. (Johnstone and Chevis, JJ.) BHAGAN v. ALLAH DITTA. 27 P. L. R. 1911 : 41 P. W. R 1911 : 9 I. C. 547 : 55 P. R. 1911.

———Ss. 54 and 55—Non-payment of price—Suit by vendee for possession.

Deft. sold immoveable property to plff. under a registered deed. The plff. did not pay the purchase money but sued for recovery of possession on the property from the vendor. The Court below passed a decree for possession conditional on plff's paying the purchase money ; on appeal by plff., held that the plff. was entitled to an unconditional decree for possession. (Ayling and Coutts-Trotter, JJ.) YALKA KRISHNAMMA v. KOTTIPALLI MALI. 43 Mad. 712 : 11 L. W. 563 : (1920) M. W. N. 380 : 56 I. C. 530 : 28 M. L. T. 88 : 38 M. L. J. 467.

——— S. 54—Non-payment of price—Want of consideration.

(Per Kumarasami Sastri, J.)—In cases of sales and assignment mere non-payment of purchase money would not vitiate the transaction and in such cases so long as the deed stands a person who is not a party to the transaction cannot call in question, the non-payment of consideration ; but where the transaction is impeached on the ground of its being a colourable one or of its being otherwise invalid in law, differant considerations arise 22. I. C. 645 Ref (Spencer and Kumarasami Sastri, JJ.) KUMARAPPAN CHETTIAR v. NARAYAN CHETTIAR. 35 I. C. 455.

———S. 54—Non-payment of price.

Failure to pay the consideration for a conveyance would not defeat the conveyance unless there is an agreement that it should take effect only if the consideration is first paid. 17 M. 146,

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 54—Non-payment of price.

Foll. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) BUSI REDDI PEDDA CHINNAKKA v. BUSIREDDI CHINNA CHUMREKKA. 14 I. C. 120.

——— Ss. 54 and 55—Non-payment of price—Condition that title should pass only on payment of price—Effect of.

Where a sale-deed contains express stipulation that if the vendee omits to pay the balance of the purchase money within a particular time, the deed would be treated as null and void, the vendor can avoid the deed if the vendee fails to make the payment agreed upon. By the mere execution of sale deed after the parties had agreed about the price ownership does not pass necessarly in the property sold. It is open to the parties to contract that ownership shall not pass until certain conditions are fulfilled (Lindsay, J. C.) BAKHTAWAR RAM v. NAUSHAD ALI. 55 I. C. 659 : 7 O. L. J. 240.

——— Ss. 54 and 55 (4)—Non-payment of price—Sale—Title passes.

In a sale of immoveable property title to the property passess to the purchaser when the sale deed is executed although the seller is entitled to a charge on the property for the amount of the purchase money or any portion thereof unpaid to him with interest thereon. Unless there is a contract between the parties title to the property will not pass to the purchaser until the whole amount is paid. But such a contract must be alleged and proved by the party setting it up. (Das, J.) JAGDEEP SAHAY v. SONU LAL. 52 I. C. 363.

———S. 54—Non-payment of price—Burden of proof.

Where the execution of sale deed is admitted, it is for the vendor to prove that consideration did not pass in spite of the recital that it passed. But where the vendee, does not get possession under the deed, for a long time the burden of proving that consideration passed is shifted to him. (Maung Kin. J.) ACHAYA v. MAUNG PO SAING. 13 Bur. L T. 112 : 61 I C. 634 : 10 L. B. R. 264.

———Ss. 54 and 55 (4) (b)—Non payment of price—Right of vendor.

The mere fact of non-payment of the purchase money does not prevent the passing of the ownership to the purchaser, who can notwithstanding non-payment, maintain a suit for possession, the only remedy of the unpaid vendor in such case being to sue for the unpaid purchase money. (Maung Kin, J.) SOMASUNDARAM CHETTY v. SHWE BWA 13 Bur. L. T. 26 : 57 I. C. 948 : 10 L. B. R. 133.

———S. 54—Non-payment of price—Title of vendee—Remedy of seller.

Non-payment of the purchase money does not prevent title passing to the vendee and the only remedy of the vendor is a suit for recovery of the purchase money. (Maung Kin, J.) VENKATACHALLUM v. MG. TUN E. 45 I. C. 860 : 12 Bur. L. T. 98.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 54—Priority.

Priority.

——S. 54—Priority—Oral sale—Immoveable property of Rs. 100 in value—Transfer of possession subsequent registered sale.

The plff. purchased a piece of land worth more than Rs 100 under an oral sale, paid the price and took possession. Subsequently the owner sold the same property under a registered sale-deed to the deft. who had the notice of the first sale before the deed was registered In a suit by plff. Held, that the plff. was entitled to get a registered sale deed from the owner on the basis of the oral sale, and that the sale to the deft. was void (Macleod, C. J. and Heaton, JJ.) DESAI BHAI JORABAI v. ISHWAR JESHING.

22 Bom. L. R. 764 : 57 I. C. 447 : 44 Bom. 586.

——S. 54—Priority—Effect of possession.

When the usufructuary mortgagee of certain property purchased by an unregistered deed of sale, the equity of redemption, and subsequently another person purchased the same by a registered sale deed the latter could claim no priority over the former if he was aware of the possession of the former, and did not make enquiries as to the nature of his possession. (Holmwood and Chapman, JJ.) UMESH CHANDRA v. UMESH CHANDRA. 18 I. C. 46.

——S. 54—Priority — Unregistered sale—Vendee under—Position of.

A vendee claiming title under a deed of sale, which for want of registration cannot be received in evidence, is in the position of a trespasser and is liable to ejectment by a vendee under a subsequent deed of sale duly registered 34 Mad. 64 Ref. (Shah Din, J.) UTTAM CHAND v. JANJI RAM. 110 P. R. 1918 : 48 I. C. 390 : 24 P. L. R. 1919.

——S. 54—Priority—Equity of redemption—Oral sale—Subsequent purchaser under registered document.

The second purchaser who was aware of the fact of the oral sale of the same property can not claim the title to the same though he claims it through a registered deed. (Shah Din and Chevis, JJ.) HARDIT SINGH v. BEHARI LAL. 104 P. W. R. 1915 : 29 I. C. 305 : 9 P. L. R. 1916

——S. 54—Priority—Notice—Person other than vendor in possession.

The circumstance that a person other than the vendor is in possession is sufficient to put a purchaser on enquiry as to the nature and extent of his interest and if that enquiry is not pursued the purchaser will be affected with notice of the title if any under which the possession is enjoyed, or of any contract the person in possession might have entered into, for the purchase of the property. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Moore, JJ.) PUTHENPURAYIL v. KAUDIAL. (1916) 2 M. W. N. 31 : 34 I. C. 906 : 20 M. L. T. 127.

——S. 54—Priority — Unregistered sale—Delivery of possession.

To pass title to the vendee under a sale by an unregistered instrument, mere delivery of possession in pursuance of the sale is enough provided that such delivery of possession was effected with the consent, express or implied, of the vendor, and in connection with and to give effect to the contract of sale But such a sale has no priority over a vendee claiming under a registered instrument, if the latter, at the time of the sale to him, had no notice of the prior sale and the prior delivery of possession. (Oldfield and Tyabji, JJ.) AMMANI v. JAGANNATHA.

(1915) M. W. N. 442 : 30 I. C. 7 : 18 M. L. T. 103.

——S. 54—Priority—Registration Act, S. 50—Prior unregistered sale deed followed by delivery of possession—Subsequent registered sale deed.

In case of a conflict between a prior unregistered sale deed for less than Rs. 100 accompanied by delivery of possession and a subsequent registered deed of sale, under T. P. Act S. 54 and Registration Act S. 50, the latter registered instrument prevails over the prior unregistered one notwithstanding delivery of possession under the former. S. 54 of the T. P. Act, virtually abolished optional registration of sales in which a document was actually executed. (White, C. J. and Oldfield, J.) MOHAMED KASIM ALI v. MIR GULAM ALI. 22 I. C. 285 : 15 Cr. L. J. 29 : (1914) M. W. N. 55.

——S. 54—Priority—Unregistered purchaser—Subsequent registered purchaser.

An registered purchaser of land, where part of the consideration was paid in discharge of a mortgage, does not step into the shoes of the mortgagee as against a subsequent registered purchaser unless there was an intention on his part to keep the mortgage alive (Maung Kin, J.) MA KYAN v. MYANG SHIN.

34 I. C. 47 : 9 Bur. L. T. 234.

Registration.

——S. 54—Registration—Sale-deed registered—Agreement to reconvey not registered, if evidence.

Where a registered sale-deed is executed and almost the same day an agreement to reconvey is executed but not registered, held, that the agreement along with the sale-deed should be treated as a part of the same transaction and therefore can not be admitted in evidence without registration, if the value is not less than Rs. 100 (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) BALA KHANDAPPA v. SADASHIV. 64 I. C. 294 : 23 Bom. L. R. 1066.

——S. 54—Registration—Transfer of—Mortgage debt.

A mortgage debt is immoveable property for purposes of S. 54 of the T. P. Act and where such a debt is transferred by an instrument in writing and the value of the interest transferred is one hundred rupees or more, registration is necessary under the Registration Act (Richardson and Beachcroft, JJ.) SAKHIUDDIN SAHA v. SONAULLA SARKAR. 27 C. L. J. 453 : 45 I. C. 986 : 22 C. W. N. 641.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 54—Registration

——S. 54—Registration—Effect of.

When the deed has been executed and registered, the non payment of consideration does not affect the passing of property. (Chitty and Walmsley, JJ.) JOGENDRA NARAIN ROY v. MANMATH NATH. 34 I. C. 106.

——Ss. 54, 118 and 123—Registration—Transfer of immoveable property worth more than Rs. 100—Future maintenance—Provision for—Writing and registration.

A transfer of land worth more than Rs 100 by a husband to his wife to be enjoyed by the wife during her lifetime in lieu of her claim for future maintenance can be made without writing. The expression "price" in S. 54 of the T. P. Act means money. Such money need not necessarily be handed over in current coin at the time but includes money which might be already due or might be payable in future. (Schwabe, C. J. Coutts Trotter and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) MADAM PILLAI v. BADRAKALI AMMAL

45 Mad. 612 : 42 M. L. J. 410 : 15 L. W. 464 : 30 M. L. T. 274 : (1922) M. W. N. 345 : 1922 Mad. 311.

——S. 54—Registration.

A transfer by a Hindu widow of her life-interest to the reversioners for a price exceeding Rs. 100 requires an instrument in writing and registered. 37 Mad. 423, Foll. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Moore, JJ.) BETI REDDI SOMI REDDI v. BETI REDDI TATAYYA. 34 I. C. 748.

——S. 54—Registration—Sale by guardian not registered—Minor's suit 3 years after majority—Not barred.

Where a guardian of a minor sold property on behalf of the minor without registering the sale-deed, the minor sued to recover possession more than 3 years after attaining majority. Held, that no title passed under the sale, that the defendant was a mere trespasser and that the plaintiff can bring an action against the trespasser and his suit was not barred. (Coutts-Trotter and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) SANI KOMMU VELIGONDAREDDI v. ANDRA NARAYYA. 33 I. C. 436.

——S. 54—Registration — Transfer of—Mortgage debt.

A transfer of a mortgage is a transfer of the mortgage debt with all attendant securities and not a sale of immoveable property and therefore no registration is required under the Act therefor. (24 M. 449, Dist.) (Wallis, J.) DWARKA DAS v. DANAKOTI AMMAL.

23 I. C. 129 : 15 M. L. T. 198

——Ss. 54 and 129—Registration—Transfer of property in lieu of dower.

A transfer of immoveable property in lieu of dower amounts to a sale and can only be effected by a registered document under S. 54, T. P. Act. When it is not so effected, the transaction conveys no title to the transferee. (Kotwal, A. J. C.) FAHMID-UN-NISSA v. HIRALAL.

64 I. C. 126 : 17 N. L. R. 103.

——S. 54—Registration — Sale-deed — Time of operation—Time of execution or registration—Registration Act, S. 47.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 54—Sale of equity of redemption.

Though under S. 47 of the Registration Act a document when registered becomes operative as from the date of its execution, a transfer of ownership under S. 54 of the T. P. Act can be effected only by a registered conveyance and a suit in respect of the property after execution but before registration of the sale-deed will not be affected thereby. (Coutts and Sultan Ahmed, JJ.) TILAKDHARI SINGH v. GOUR NARAIN.

5 Pat. L. J. 715 : 2 Pat. L. T. 95 : 59 I C. 290 : 1921 Pat. 122.

Sale of equity of redemption.

——S. 54—Sale of equity of redemption—Assignment of mortgagor's right—Registration.

The interest of a simple mortgagee, is plainly an intangible thing within S. 54 of the T. P. Act and the transfer of such interest must be made by a registered instrument. 18 M. 454 ; 24 M. 449, Ref. (Chamier, J.) MUTSADDI LAL v. MUHAMMAD HANIF. 15 I. C. 853 : 10 A. L. J. 167.

——S. 54—Sale of equity of redemption—Unregistered document—Actings of the parties—Doctrine of part performance.

In 1906 plaintiffs conveyed certain property to the defendants under a registered sale for Rs. 1,200 subject to condition that if the plaintiffs repaid a sum of Rs. 125 per annum for 10 years the defendants were to reconvey the property to the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs were to lose all right to the property in case of default in payment. Subsequently in 1908 the parties arrived at an arrangement under which the defendants agreed to take possession of a portion of the property absolutely free from liability to redemption and the plaintiffs were to take possession of the remainder free from the mortgage debt. The arrangement was embodied in a document which was not registered. Defendants took possession of the property allotted to them under the arrangement and the plaintiffs continued in possession of the remainder as before. In 1919 the plaintiff sued to redeem the property in the possession of the defendants who set up the unregistered agreement as their defence. Held that the transaction of 1908 though embodied in an unregistered agreement had still been acted upon by the parties and under the equitable doctrine of part performance the plaintiffs were estopped from going behind the agreement and claiming redemption.

Per Marten, J. To establish the application of the principle of part performance it must be shown that the respective parties have so changed their respective positions that the change can only be referable to the contract alleged. A mere payment of the purchase money, for instance, is insufficient. 42 I. A. 1 ; 23 Bom. L. R. 506 : 40 A. 187 foll. 29 M. 336 : 40 M. 1134 not foll. (Marten and Fawcett, JJ.) SANDU VALJI v. BHIK CHAND. 47 Bom. 621 : 25 Bom. L. R. 381 : 1923 Bom. 473.

——S. 54—Sale of equity of redemption—Registration.

The transfer of an equity of redemption could be effected only by a registered instrument. (Scott, C. J. and Shah, J.) SAKHARAM KESHEO v. RAMCHANDRA GANESH.

38 I. C. 819 : 18 Bom. L. R. 980. (note.)

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 54—Sale of equity of redemption.

——— S. 54—Sale of equity of redemption—Razinama and complementary kabuliat—Effect.

Where a mortgagor executed a razinama relinquishing occupancy rights in the mortgaged land in favour of his mortgagee who executed a complementary kabuliat, the transaction amounts to a transfer of the equity of redemption by the mortgagor to the mortgagee. (Beaman and Hayward, JJ.) VENKAJI NARAYAN KULKARNI v. GOPAL RAMCHANDRA DESHPANDE.
39 B. 55 : 27 I. C. 613 : 16 Bom. L. R 718.

———S. 54—Sale of equity of redemption—Compromise.

A razinama by a mortgagor in favour of mortgagee relinquishing occupancy rights in the mortgaged land and a corresponding kabuliyat given by the mortgagee operate to transfer the equity of redemption from the mortgagor to the mortgagee. (Scott, C. J. and Batchelor, J.) DAGON v. SAKHARAM. 27 I. C. 594 : 16 Bom. L. R. 719 (Note.)

———S. 54— Sale of equity of redemption by unregistered sale— Discharge of mortgage —Registration Act, S. 49.

Per Chitty, J.—The property sold being in the possession of the mortgagee the sale was of the equity of redemption and being a sale of an intangible thing could under S. 54 of the T. P. Act only be effected by a registered document. The conveyance was therefore inadmissible to prove the sale or to show when and how the mortgage was satisfied. Per Walmsley, J.—The sale was nevertheless ineffective for want of delivery of possession. 24 Mad 449 Rel. (Chitty and Walmsley, JJ.) SHEIKH HUSTAMA v. SHEIKH JAMIR. 52 I. C. 558 : 23 C. W. N. 513.

———S. 54—Sale of equity of redemption—Registration.

A purchase of the right of redemption of a possessory mortgage cannot be effected except by a registered sale deed. (Walmsley and Panton, JJ.) RAMNARAYAN GOPE v. KULA CHANDRA CHAKRABURTY. 49 I. C. 426.

———S. 54—Sale of equity of redemption—Land worth less than Rs. 100—Mortgage over Rs. 200—Registration.

A deed recited that Rs. 200 was due on a previous mortgage and that the mortgagor had now received Rs. 55 more and had sold his rights, held that it was a sale deed of the equity of redemption for less than Rs 100 and hence registration was optional. (Chevis, J.) FEROZEUD-DIN v. MUSSAMAT MEHRAN. 194 P. W. R. 1913 : 21 I. C. 563 : 332 P. L. R. 1913.

———S. 54 (2)—Sale of equity of redemption.

The right to redeem a mortgage comes within the expression "other intangible thing" in cl. (2) of the section and as such cannot be transferred without registration. (Richards, C.J. and Tudball, J.) FATEHALI v. MAHOMED. 68 P.W.R. 1913 : 18 I. C. 818 : 197 P. L. R. 1913.

———Ss. 54 and 118—Sale of equity of redemption—Sale or exchange — Mortgagee — Adverse possession.

If two persons mutually exchange two things and fix the values of the exchanged things in current coin they must be held to have effected sales and paid prices and not merely to have effected an exchange or barter. A convevance of land in consideration of moneys already due to the vendee by the vendor is either a "sale" or an "exchange" 13 M L. J. 500, not appr. 34 B. 139 Ref. A purchase made orally by a mortgagee of the equity of redemption in a land other than that mortgaged to him, as consideration for forgoing a portion of the mortgage money, the transaction amounts to a sale and it is invalid for want of Registration. The mortgagee continues to remain in possession only as mortgagee after the said oral sale and that the mortgagor is entitled to redeem the property within the statutory period. The mortgagee could not assert a title by adverse possession as from the date of the oral sale. (Miller and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) TRIYA PUTHIRA PADAYACHI v. MUTHU KUMARASWAMI PADAYACHI. 37 Mad. 423 : 12 M.L.T. 425 : 15 I. C. 343 : (1912) M. W. N 854 : 23 M. L J. 339.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 54—Sale when complete.

———S. 54—Sale of equity of redemption —Unregistered deed.

A mere right of redemption, being intangible property, cannot pass by an unregistered deed. (Lindsay, J. C.) MAHENDRA v. CHANDRAPAL.
63 I. C. 284 : 24 O. C. 155.

Sale of reversion.

———S. 54— Sale of reversion—Meaning of—Registration.

Reversion is the undisposed interest in land which reverts to the grantor after a certain time. Where the property transferred is in the possession of tenants, the deed of transfer requires registration though the consideration be less than Rs. 100 as the interest conveyed is merely a reversion. (Batchelor and Hayward, JJ.) BHASKAR GOPAL v. PADMAN HIRA. 40 Bom. 313 : 33 I.C. 267 : 18 Bom. L.R. 8.

Sale when complete.

———S. 54—Sale when complete — Rajinama and kabuliyat if constitutes transfer.

A rajinama and kabuliyat do not by any means completely take the place of a sale deed. Before they really do evidence a transfer of ownership there must be either evidence or indications furnished by lapse of time and possession and so forth and that there was in fact an intention to transfer ownership. They only serve as documentary evidence of transfer if that transfer can properly be inferred from the totality of facts proved. (Macleod, C. J. and Heaton, J.) CHANDANIMAL HAMBIRMAL v. BHASKAR WAMAN.
59 I. C. 114 : 22 Bom. L. R 1079.

———S. 54—Sale when complete— Razinama by mortgagor.

A razinama by a mortgagor and a complementary kabuliat by a mortgagee transfers the equity of redemption from the one to the other. (Beaman and Hayward, JJ.) VENKAJI NARAYAN KULKARNI v. GOPAL RAMCHANDRA. 39 Bom. 55 : 27 I. C. 613 : 16 Bom. L. R. 718.

———S. 54—Sale when complete—Admission and release and whether title passes by—District Board governed by the Bengal Local Self Govt. Act.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 54—Sale when complete.

A sale certificate (not registered) was issued to the purchaser of land for a certain sum but the property not having been specifically described therein, the District Board Chairman executed in favour of the purchaser a registered release deed which did not purport to be a conveyance and was stamped as a release Held (1) the documents conferred no valid title to the purchaser since the unregistered sale certificate is not a valid conveyance and the registered release deed could not transfer title because title to land could not pass orally when the statute requires a deed; (2) Even construing the release deed as a conveyance, the sale was invalid inasmuch as these two documents though sealed and signed by the Chairman, did not fulfil the conditions laid down in S. 138 (d) of the Bengal Local Self-Govt. Act; (3) that these two documents did not constitute even a valid contract for sale as it was not sanctioned at a meeting of the Board or exempted in accordance with the provisions of Rule 103 of the Act; (4) that the purchaser, who came to Court as plaintiff for a declaration of title to and for recovery of possession of land must succeed on proof of a valid title thereto but is not entitled to ask for a postponement of the case to enable him to complete his title by bearing a valid and properly executed instrument of title from the District Board. (Mookerjee and Chatterjee, JJ.) MATHURA MOHAN SAHA v. RAMKUMAR SAHA.
43 Cal 790 : 23 C. L. J. 26 : 35 I. C. 305 : 20 C. W. N. 370.

——S. 54—Sale when complete—Sale less than Rs 100 does not pass title in the absence of either registration or delivery of possession.

An auction purchaser of a property worth less than hundred rupees, admitted the claim of the plff to the property purchased by him and by an unregistered deed agreed to hold it as a tenant for five years after which the entire rights were to vest in the plff In a suit to recover possession, Held, that as the property was worth less than Rs. 100 either the delivery of possession or registration of the deed was necessary and the document amounted to neither and therefore the plff had no title to the property. (Stephen and Richardson, JJ.) KONNORMAL OSWAL v. NABIN CHANDRA DAS. 12 I. C. 228.

——S 54—Sale when complete—Option to purchase land—Subject to sanction—Effect.

Where under a lease the lessee has the option of purchasing the proprietary rights of certain Govt. land on payment of the purchase money subject to sanction being obtained from the Commissioner the sale is not complete till the purchase money is paid, the Commissioner's sanction amounting only to a sanction to purchase (Shah Din and Chevis, JJ.) KISHAN CHAND v. GURDIT SINGH. 112 P. L. R. 1911 9 I. C. 833. 235 P. W. R. 1911

——S 54—Sale when complete—Sale—Possession not delivered — Consideration not paid—Registration alone does not pass title.

If neither the sale deed nor the property sold is delivered to the purchaser and no consideration has passed, mere registration of the deed of sale does not pass the title to the purchaser (Jwala Prasad, J.) RAJU MAHTON v. HOSSAINI MIAN. 59 I. C. 171.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 54 - Title by delivery.

——S. 54—Sale when complete—Registration—Effect of.

Where there has been a registered deed of sale, in the absence of fraud, the deed passes the title to the interest conveyed. (Maung Kin, J.) K. Y K. M. CHETTY FIRM v. S. N. V. R. CHETTY FIRM. 34 I. C. 125 : 9 Bur. L. T. 199.

——S. 54—Sale when complete.

Where the vendee has done his part by paying off the purchase money the vendor must do everything in his power to complete the title of vendee but under S. 54 of the Transfer of Property Act nothing but a registered deed will give a complete title. (Maung Kin, J.) MYA BWIN v. MAUNG KYA ZAN. 33 I. C. 761.

Title by delivery.

——S. 54—Title by delivery—Sale of property worth less than Rs. 100—Delivery.

Under S. 54 of the Act, in case of a sale of property under the value of Rs. 100, in the absence of a registered instrument there must be real delivery of the property. (Viscount Finlay.) BISWANATH PRASAD v. CHANDRA NARAYAN.
48 Cal. 509 : 63 I. C. 770. 48 I. A. 127. (P. C.)

——S. 54—Title by delivery—Mode of delivery—Actual delivery necessary — Constructive not sufficient.

Where immoveable property worth less than Rs. 100 is sold by unregistered instrument, real delivery is necessary. Constructive delivery resulting from the delivery of the instrument is not enough. (Viscount Finlay.) MATHURA PRASAD v. CHANDRA NARAYAN.
18 A. L. J. 385 : 33 C. L. J. 440 : 23 Bom. L. R. 629 : (1921) M. W. N 370 : 60 I. C. 833 : 14 L. W 1 : 2 Pat. L. T. 397 : 25 C. W N 985 : 29 M. L T 413 : 40 M L. J. 489. (P.C.)

——S. 54—Title by delivery— Land worth more than Rs. 100—Subsequent registered sale to another—Effect.

Under an oral sale of land for Rs. 150, the consideration being paid the possession was passed and mutation of names in the revenue record effected Ten years later the vendor sold the same under a registered document to the plaintiff who sued for possession Held, even though specific performance of the first agreement was barred, the possession obtained thereunder was a complete answer to plaintiff's claim. (Shah, A. C. J and Covajee, J.) LAXMAN MANKAR KASAR v. RAVJI DHANSINGH PATIL. 25 Bom L R 1027 : 1924 Bom. 150.

——S. 54—Title by delivery—Sale less than Rs. 100 in value

Section 54 still leaves it open to the parties desirous of doing so to make a valid sale of immoveable property of less than Rs 100 by oral contract and delivery of possession. (Beaman and Macleod, JJ.) DAWAL PIRANSHAHA v. DHARMA RAJARAM. 19 Bom. L. R. 622 : 41 I. C. 273 : 41 B. 550.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882).
S. 54—Title by delivery.

——S. 54—Title by delivery—Registration.

The mere registration of a sale deed is not sufficient to prove a transfer of property to the vendee, especially if it be not accompanied by delivery thereof. (Chitty and Walmsley, JJ.) JOGENDRA NARAYAN ROY v. MANMATHA NATH. 34 I. C. 106.

——S. 54—Title by delivery—Land worth less than Rs. 100.

Under S. 54 the sale of immoveable property of less than Rs. 100 in value may be made either by a registered instrument or by delivery of the property. (Sharfuddin and Coxe, JJ.) UDIT NARAIN CHOWDHURY v. MATHURA PRASAD. 29 I. C. 413.

——S. 54—Title by delivery—Land worth less than Rs. 100—Unregistered deed—Delivery of possession.

Where a transfer of immoveable property worth less than Rs. 100 is effected by an unregistered instrument and possession of the property is given to the vendee, the sale is valid. 22 Cal. 179 ; 20 O. C. 33, Foll. (Stuart, J. C.) GULAB v. LALTU SINGH. 51 I. C. 561 : 22 O. C. 58.

——S. 54—Title by delivery—Property worth less than Rs. 100.

Where a sale of immoveable property of less than Rs. 100 is effected by an unregistered instrument, delivery of possession affords a good title. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) HRIDAY BIHARI v. RAM RANI KUNWAR. 37 I. C. 20 : 8 O. L. J. 460.

——Ss. 54, 55 and 100—Title by delivery—Property worth more than Rs. 100.

A purchaser of immoveable property worth more than Rs. 100 without a registered deed but in possession after payment of purchase money acquires no interest in the property except a charge over it. (Young, J.) MAUNG PE GYI v. VELLIAN CHETTY. 33 I. C. 610 : 8 Bur. L. T. 268.

——Ss. 54 and 55 (6) (b) and 59—Title by delivery—Property worth more than Rs. 100—Mortgage or sale.

Plffs. put defts. in possession of two plots five or six years before suit on payment of Rs. 100 in respect of each plot. There was no registered instrument of sale or mortgage. The plffs. contended it to be an abortive mortgage ; the defts. contended it to be an abortive sale. Held, in either case, the plffs. were entitled to possession on payment of Rs. 200 as an oral transfer could effect neither a sale nor a mortgage. The defts. were entitled only to a charge on the land under S. 55 (6) (b) for the money paid by them. (Ormond J.) MAUNG YEIK v. MAUNG PE TO. 29 I. C. 886 : 8 Bur. L. T. 70.

——S. 54—Title by delivery— Unregistered sale deed—Effect.

Non-registration of a sale deed does not render the sale ineffectual if the vendee has paid the price and obtained possession ; for, thereby the vendee obtains an equitable right that the vendor should complete the title by a formal registered conveyance. (Twomey, J.) MAUNG PYA v. MAUNG O ZA. 9 I. C. 770 : 4 Bur. L. T. 40.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882),
S. 54—Title by estoppel.

Title by estoppel.

——S. 54—Title by estoppel—Actings of parties.

Even in the absence of a registered conveyance or mortgage the acts of the parties and the change of position resulting therefrom might estop the true owner from asserting title to the properties. (Lord Dunedin.) JAGANNATH PRASAD SINGH v. ABDULLAH. 45 Cal. 909 : 16 A. L. J. 576 : 5 Pat. L W 83 : (1918) M W. N.406 : 22 C. W. N. 891 : 8 L. W. 163 : 24 M. L. T. 62 : 28 C. L J. 192 : 45 I. C 770 : 20 Bom. L. R. 851 : 45 I. A 97 : 35 M. L. J. 46 (P. C.)

——S. 54—Title by estoppel — Estoppel by conduct—Sale — Unregistered — Informality of transaction—Part performance of contract not embodied in statutory form—Defects cured by equity—Acting of the parties—No locus penitentiae.

It is true that there is a locus penitentiae or a power of resiling from an incomplete agreement, from an unaccepted offer, from a mutual contract to which all have not assented, from an obligation to which writing is requisite and has not been adhibited in an authentic shape. But this is the situation when the parties stand on an engagement not final or complete. But where the acts and conduct of the parties are founded on, rai interventus raises a personal exception which excludes the plea of locus penitentiae. In certain proceedings in 1873, the parties, the mortgagor and mortgagee, entered into a compromise, whereby a part of the equity of the redemption was to be released in the mortgagee's favour who were to keep the property entirely and the remainder to be retained by mortgagor free from incumbrance. No conveyances were executed but the parties acted upon the agreement and enjoyed the properties separately. In a suit about 1908 for redemption of the mortgages of 1848 and 1871, Held, that because of the conduct of the parties, who had acted upon the compromise, the mortgages cannot be re-opened, though the mortgages being executed before the T. P. Act came into force, no writing was necessary for their execution. (Lord Shaw.) MOHAMED MUSYA v. AGHORE KUMAR. 42 Cal. 801 : 42 I. A. 1 : 17 Bom. L R. 420 : 21 C. L. J. 231 : 2 L. W. 258 : 28 I. C. 930 : 19 C. W. N 250 : 13 A. L. J. 229 : 17 M. L. T. 143 : (1915) M W N. 621 : 28 M. L. J. 548 (P. C.).

——S. 54—Title by estoppel—Acting of the parties—Defect cured.

An agreement for the sale of the equity of redemption was unregistered but effect was given to it by the parties and the mortgagees had dealt with the property as owners. Held, that under the circumstances the right of redemption had been actually extinguished by the agreement which, though unregistered, had been acted upon by the parties. (Richards, C.J. and Bannerjee, J.) LALMAN PANDE v. SHEO NARAIN PANDE. 1 U.P.L.R. (H.C.) 124 : 51 I.C. 865 : 17 A L.J. 737.

——Ss. 54 and 118—Title by estoppel—Actings of parties—Exchange of property—Unregistered.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 54—Title by estoppel.

Where a contract of exchange is unregistered but the parties have been for long acting upon its terms, the transaction becomes binding upon them in spite of non-compliance with the provisions of Ss. 54 and 118 of the T. P. Act. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) SALAMAT-UR-ZAMIN v. A. MASHA ALLAH KHAN.

40 All. 187 : 43 I. C. 645: 16 A. L J. 98.

——— Ss. 54 and 123—Title by estoppel.

Where the widow of a person jointly entitled with another to the possession of certain immoveable property, agreed to the other's name alone being entered in the khewat though she made a statement to the effect that that she was the heir of her husband, held, that a suit by her for possession of her husband's share was maintainable as the statement in the mutation proceedings could not be said to have complied with Ss. 54 and 123 of the T. P. Act. (Richards, C. J. and Bannerjee, J.) RAM PRASAD v. BEDO

13 I. C. 436.

——— S. 54—Title by estoppel—Part performance, doctrine of—Transferee put in possession—Title deeds not executed—Effect of.

A transferee, put in possession of the land, even if the title-deed is not executed, and registered, stands in the same position as if the document has been executed provided specific performance can be obtained by the parties. (Mookerjee, C.J. and Fletcher, J.) HARIPADA GHOSE v KRISHNA NIROD GHOSE, 61 I. C 687: 33 C. L. J. 437.

——— S. 54—Title by estoppel—Admission of ownership.

Where a sale can be effected only by a registered instrument mere admission of ownership cannot give any title. 29 Bom. 323, Foll. (Coxe and Ray, JJ.) ANANDA CHANDRA ROY v. SYED ABDULLA HOOSAIN, 20 I.C. 679: 41 Cal. 148.

——— Ss. 54 and 118—Title by estoppel—Unregistered exchange—Actings of parties—Part performance.

Plff. and deft. exchanged adjacent plots of land worth more than Rs. 100 each by an unregistered deed both bona fide believing they had effected a valid transfer. Possession was taken by each party and deft. had built considerable structures on the property exchanged. Plff. was aware of the progress of the building and even took an additional sum of money for the excess area found to have been given in exchange. In a suit by plff. to eject the deft., held, by a majority that the plff was not estopped from recovering his plot owing to the absence of a registered deed as required by Ss. 54 and 118 of the T. P. Act. But the plff. must pay compensation under S. 51 of the T. P. Act before recovery. 29 Mad. 336, Foll. 42 Cal. 801; 39 Mad. 509, Dist. Per Abdur Rahim, J.—Plff. was estopped by his conduct from recovering his plot in spite of the want of a registered deed of exchange. (Abdur Rahim, Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) RAMANATHAN CHETTY v. RAGUNATHAN CHETTY.

40 Mad. 1134: 6 L.W. 300: 22 M L T. 173: (1917) M. W. N. 757 : 43 I. C. 138 : 33 M. L. J. 252.

——— Ss. 54 and 118—Title by estoppel—Unregistered deed.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882). S. 54—Vendee in possession.

There is no estoppel contrary to Ss. 54 and 118, (Wallis, C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) RAMANATHAN CHETTY v. RAMASWAMI CHETTY.

(1915) M. W. N. 1043: 19 M. L. T. 114: 32 I. C. 5 : 30 M. L. J. 1.

——— S. 54—Title by estoppel—Registration—Transfer of rights.

In the absence of a registered instrument, no waiver or transfer of rights can be recognised in case of immoveable property after the passing of the T.P. Act. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) KANDASWAMI v RANGASWAMI.

36 Mad. 564: 12 M.L.T. 211: (1912) M.W.N. 882: 16 I.C. 30: 23 M.L J. 301.

Transfer for dower.

——— S. 54—Transfer for dower—Sale or gift—Gift in lieu of dower.

According to Mahomedan Law a gift by a husband of landed property to his wife in lieu of her dower is a sale. A deed of gift in lieu of dower below Rs. 100 does not require registration, although the real value of the property transferred may be more than Rs. 100. (Kensington, C.J. and Shah Din, J.) NUR MUHAMMAD v. ALLAH WASAI.

5 P.W.R. 1915 : 27 I.C 562: 35 P.L.R. 1915.

——— S. 54—Transfer for dower—Dower—Registration.

A transfer of immoveable property of the value of over Rs. 100 in lieu of dower is a sale and requires to be made by a registered instrument. (Evans, J.C.) ASALAT FATIMA v. SHAMBHU DAYAL

11 I C. 928: 14 O.C. 214.

Vendee in possession.

——— S. 54—Vendee in possession—Land valued at less than Rs. 100—Registered document.

The sale of land valued at less than Rs. 100 to a usufructuary mortgagee already in possession thereof without a registered instrument, is invalid. (Richardson and Walmsley, JJ.) TILAK BRITTIAL v. RUNDESWAR 41 I. C. 8.

——— S. 54—Vendee in possession—Delivery of property—Sale of immoveable property below Rs. 100 in value.

Where a sale of immoveable property of value less than Rs. 100 is made to a mortgagee in possession, the fact that the boundaries were pointed out, the mortgage document was handed to the mortgagee with the endorsement "I have not been able to pay you the debt, I make over the patta to you, You have your name registered". . . . . amount to sufficient delivery for the purpose of S. 54 of the T. P. Act, 3 O. C. 207, Ref. (Jenkins, C. J. and Woodroffe, J.) SONAI CHUTIA v. SONARAM CHUTIA. 34 I. C. 692 : 20 C.W.N. 195.

——— S. 54—Vendee in possession—Delivery of possession—Oral sale to mortgagee.

An oral sale of property below Rs. 100 in value to a person already in possession of the property is valid without actual delivery of possession. 34 Cal. 207, not Foll. The effect of Ss. 4 and 54,

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 54—Vendee in possession.

T. P. Act, is only to make all sale deeds of immoveable property compulsorily registrable, irrespective of the value of the property. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) MUTHUKARUPPAN SAMBAN v. MUTHU SAMBAN.
38 Mad. 1158: 1 L.W. 754: 16 M.L.T. 344: (1914) M.W.N. 768 : 25 I.C. 772 : 27 M.L.J. 497.

——S. 54—Vendee in possession—Delivery of possession.

Under S 54 a vendor can make an effectual delivery of the property sold to the purchaser though the latter may already have its physical possession in some other capacity. 12 N.L.R. 3. Foll. (Stanyon, A.J.C.) DINANATH v. MANBODHI.
36 I.C. 547: 12 N.L.R. 139

——S. 54—Vendee in possession—Delivery of possession.

Even where the vendee is already in possession as lessee there may be delivery of property to him within the meaning of the section if the vendor, by appropriate declaration and acts, converts the position of the tenant into one as purchaser. (Batten, A. J. C.) THAKUR DAS v. SOBHAGCHAND.
32 I.C. 233: 12 N.L.R. 3.

——S. 54—Vendee in possession—Suit for ejectment—Contract to sell, if a defence.

A purchaser in possession of a land, can plead, a contract to sell, in defence to a suit for ejectment, if he can prove the contract, and is ready to do his part of the contract. (Twomey, C.J., Young and Rigg, JJ.) KARAMATH KHAN v. LACHMI ACHI. 61 I.C. 675: 13 Bur. L.T. 119: 10 L.B.R. 241 (F.B.)

Miscellaneous.

——S. 54—Entry in—Revenue Papers—No title.

The mere fact that a man succeeds in getting his name recorded in the revenue papers confers no title on him. (Richards, C. J. and Bannerjee. J.) KUNWAR SEN v. DARBARI LAL.
34 I.C. 171: 38 All. 411.

——S. 54—Contract by guardian of minor—Voidable—Deposit—Suit for refund.

Where a guardian enters into a contract for the purchase of immoveable property, it is not void but only voidable. If such a contract falls through the default of the purchaser, the vendor need not return the earnest money, if he is willing to perform his part. In a suit for refund, the questions of mutuality and enforceability by specific performance do not arise. (Drake Brockman, J.C.) MANGULAL v. MT. NAHI.
67 I.C. 806: 19 N.L.R. 131.

——S. 54—Conveyance—Agreement.

One L was entitled to succeed to property which was in the hands of remote reversioners. A entered into an agreement with L that he should supply funds for litigation and that L should give half of the property to A. Pending the suit L died. Held, that A could not proceed with the suit as the agreement was neither a sale nor a conveyance. (Piggott, A.J.C.) INDAR SINGH v. KESHRI SINGH. 10 I. C. 179 : 14 O. C. 139.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 55—Contract to the contrary.

——S. 55.
Caveat Emptor.
Contract to the contrary.
Covenant for title.
Disclosure of defect.
Execution of conveyance.
Production of title deeds.
Purchase money left with vendee.
Relief against forfeiture.
Right to possession.
Sale subject to incumbrances.
Vendee's charge.
Vendor's lien.
Miscellaneous.

Caveat Emptor.

——S. 55 (2)—Caveat emptor—Applicability in the Punjab.

Though the T. P. Act does not extend to the Punjab, the provisions thereof are generally applied to decisions there. The rule of caveat emptor has became obsolete and where the sale has failed on account of defect in title, the sale price must be returned even in the absence of a covenant guaranteeing title. (Martineau and Zafar Ali, JJ.) KANSHI RAM v. JAIMAL SINGH.
1923 Lah. 590.

——S. 55 (1) (a) and (2)—Caveat emptor—Contract to the contrary—Auction sale—Notification of conditions of sale.

Where the conditions of an auction sale were duly printed and published and the would-be purchasers were distinctly told to satisfy themselves as to the nature of the property sold there is a "Contract to the contrary" and the principles of S. 55 of the T. P. Act regarding the existence of an implied covenant do not apply. If after the purchase it turns out that the property was subject to incumbrances, the doctrine of caveat emptor applies to the case. (Broadway and Abdul Quadir, JJ.) MT. JUGLO v. ABDUL SALAM.
65 I. C. 734.

——S. 55 (2)—Caveat emptor—Doctrine of—Applicability of, to India.

The rule of caveat emptor has no application in India to sales by private contract. (Piggott, J. C. and Lindsay, A. J. C.) BRIJ MOHAN LAL v. MUNNI BIBI. 13 I. C. 803 : 14 O. C. 343.

Contract to the contrary.

——S. 55, cl, (4) (b)—Contract to the contrary—Vendor's lien—Unregistered mortgage—Effect of.

The vendor of certain property took a mortgage for the balance of the purchase money but the mortgage deed was not registered. Held, there was only a simple money bond, that there was no contract to the contrary within S. 55 (4) of the T. P. Act and that the vendor's lien had not been lost. (Phillips and Krishnan. JJ.) RANGANAYAKI AMMAL v. PARTHASARATHY AIYANGAR. 54 I. C. 503 : 10 L. W. 550.

——S. 55 (2)—Contract to the contrary—Scope of.

Buyer having notice of facts indicating that the seller had no power to transfer the interest professed to be conveyed, does not imply a contract

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 55—Contract to the contrary. to the contrary. (Abdur Rahim, Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) ADIKESAVAN NAIDU v. GURUNATHA CHETTI. 40 Mad. 338 : (1917) M.W. N. 171 : 5 L. W. 425 : 22 M. L. T. 300 : 39 I. C. 358 : 32 M. L. J. 180. (F. B.)

——— S. 55 (4) (b)—Contract to the contrary—Vendor's lien—Lien for unpaid purchase money.

The recital by the vendor in the sale deed that he has received full consideration does not necessarily amount to evidence of a contract inconsistent with the existence of the statutory lien for unpaid purchase money. 25 I, C 208, Ref. (Lindsay, J. C.) MUKTA PERSHAD v. ABDUL RAZAQ. 33 I. C. 527.

Covenant for title.

Applicability.
Compromise of dispute as to title.
Continuing breach.
Cost of litigation.
Covenant for quiet enjoyment.
Deficiency in extent.
Eviction by paramount title-holder.
Notice of defect.
" Professes to transfer."
Refund of purchase money.
Registered conveyance.
Miscellaneous.

Covenant for title—Applicability.

——— S. 55 (2)—Covenant for title—Applicability—Sale by guardian—Minor if bound by covenant in sale—Liability in damages.

A guardian of a minor cannot personally bind the minor by covenants entered into on his behalf. The 2nd deft. as guardian sold properties alleged to belong to the minor, 1st deft. The vendee was subsequently dispossessed as the 1st deft. had no right to the property. In a suit by the vendee for damages held, that the minor was not liable but that the guardian must be deemed to have entered into the covenant personally and hence liable, 19 C. 507, Foll. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Moore, JJ.) SRINIVASA THATHACHARLU v. NOOLAMMA. 11 L. W. 246 : 55 I. C. 436 : (1920) M. W. N. 340.

——— S. 55 (2)—Covenant for title—Applicability—Contract of sale.

S. 55 (2) applies not only to cases of completed sales but also to agreements to sell. (Abdur Rahim, Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) ADIKESAVAN NAIDU v. GURUNATHA CHETTY. 40 Mad. 338 : (1917) M. W. N. 171 : 5 L. W. 425 : 22 M. L. T. 300 : 39 I. C. 358 : 32 M.L.J. 180. (F. B.).

——— S. 55 (2)—Covenant for title—Applicability—Transfer of mortgage debt.

There is no implied covenant for title on a transfer of a mortgage debt as it cannot be regarded as a transfer of immoveable property and no suit for damage for breach thereof will lie. (Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) SAMU PATHAN v. CHIDAMBARA ODAYAN. 2 L. W. 918 : (1916) M. W. N. 7 : 31 I. C. 179 : 29 M. L. J. 454.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 55—Covenant for title—Covenant for quiet enjoyment.

Covenant for title—Compromise of dispute as to title.

——— S. 55, Cl. (2)—Covenant for title—Compromise of dispute as to title—Suit for damages.

Where A, the vendor undertook to indemnify B, the vendee against any loss and on a claim by a third person B, gave notice to A who paid no attention to it and B subsequently compromised the suit with the claimant by payment of a certain amount and sued A for damages, held, that B was competent to settle the dispute and to sue A for damages. (Henry Richards and Bannerjee, JJ.) DURGA KUR v. KALI CHARAN. 35 All. 168 : 18 I. C. 521 : 11 A. L. J. 184.

Covenant for title—Continuing breach.

——— S. 55 (2)—Covenant for title—Continuing breach—Cause of action.

In the case of a continuing covenant for title, the cause of action for damages for breach of the covenant arises when the title is finally declared to be in some person other than the vendor. (Ayling and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) VENKATA RAMAYA v. LANKA RAMABRAHMAN. 24 M. L. T. 104 : 8 L. W. 142 : 47 I. C. 924 : 35 M. L. J. 124.

——— S. 55 (2)—Covenant for title—Continuing breach—Damages—Limitation.

The implied covenant for title under S. 55 (2) is broken on the date of the sale and does not admit of a continuing breach. 31 M. 542 ; 11 A. 27 : 25 B. 593 Rel. But a vendee who is subsequently dispossessed can sue as on a failure of consideration. (Miller and Bakewell, JJ.) RAMANATHA AIYAR v. OZHALOOR PATHIRISERRI RAMAN. 14 M. L. T. 524 : (1913) M. W. N. 1029 : 21 I. C. 740 : 1 L. W. 110.

Covenant for title—Costs of litigation.

——— S. 55 (2)—Covenant for title—Costs of litigation.

Where a vendor of land covenants to indemnify the purchaser against all losses that the latter might be put to in defending his title or enjoyment of the lands from adverse claims, the vendor is bound to pay the purchaser not merely taxed costs as between party and party of a suit in which he had to defend his title but the actual costs incurred by the purchaser in maintaining legal title provided they are not unreasonable. (Wallis, C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) VENKATARANGIAH APPA RAO v. VARAPRASADA RAO. 43 Mad. 898 : 28 M. L. T. 188 : 60 I. C. 164 : 39 M. L. J. 316.

Covenant for title—Covenant for quiet enjoyment.

——— S. 55 (2)—Covenant for title—Covenant for quiet enjoyment—Contract to the contrary to be clear and express—Formal recitals—Sale by widow.

The covenant for title implied under S. 55, Cl. (2) of the T. P. Act is not got rid of except by the use of clear and unambiguous expressions showing that the vendor did not mean to guarantee that he had a good title to the property conveyed. 1 L. W. 8 ; 15 C. W. N. 655, Rel. The recital in a sale-deed of the previous transactions forming the links in the vendor's chain of title disclosing a defect in title to the property conveyed has not the effect of a contract displacing the ordinary covenant for title and does not defeat the vendee's right on the basis of the covenants implied by law. (1914) M.W. N. 376: 2 L.W. 458: 29 I. C. 747, Ref. A deed of sale recited " you the (vendee) shall henceforward be enjoying the same hereditarily and with right of alienation by gift, sale or otherwise as you please removing the hindrances to this arising from my agnates or kings or neighbour. I shall see that the sale is given effect to in your favour without any obstruction". The usual covenant for title in the Telugu country was " free of obstruction arising from agnates, kings, or others," Held, that there was an express covenant for title in the deed, and that there was also a covenant for quiet enjoyment. (Abdur Rahim and Phillips, JJ.) MAHOMED ALI SHERIFF SAHIB v. VENKATAPATHI RAJU.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 55—Covenant for title—Covenant for quiet enjoyment.

11 L. W 537 : 39 M. L. J. 449 : 60 I. C. 235 : 27 M. L. T. 304.

——S. 55—Covenant for title—Covenant for quiet enjoyment—Dispossession—Suit for damages.

Where a vendee is dispossessed, limitation runs from the date of failure in a suit for damages. (1921) M. W. N. 634.

——S. 55—Covenant for title—Covenant for quiet enjoyment.

On a sale of land a covenant for quiet enjoyment and freedom from encumbrance should, in the absence of any express covenant on the point and independently of the T. P. Act, be held to be implied under English law it is always so. (Kotval, A. J. C.) KESHRIMAL v. KADHA.

55 I. C. 152.

Covenant for title—Deficiency in extent.

——S. 55 (2)—Covenant for title—Deficiency in extent.

No action can be maintained either at law or equity for damages on account of the quantity or quality of the subject-matter of the sale unless such error amounts to a breach of some contract or warranty or unless some fraud or deceit has been practised on the purchaser. It amounts to a clear case of a breach of contract of warranty if a vendor professes to sell under his sale deed land burdened only by a yearly tenancy, whereas it is burdened by a permanent tenancy. (Scott, C.J. and Beaman, J.) VISHVANATH v. BALA KALKU KAPADI. 34 I. C. 147 : 18 Bom. L. R. 292.

——S. 55 (2)—Covenant for title—Deficiency in extent.

Where in the case of a sale of house, there was a description of its boundary as well of the quantity of land conveyed ; the area of the house was found short and the buyer wanted to resile from the contract : held, the vendor plainly guaranteed everything set forth about the house and the guarantee was expressed in emphatic terms a defect of shortness is substantial and the plaintiff is justified in withdrawing from contract. (Campbell, J.) NARAIN DASS v. JAWAHIR SINGH.

69 I. C. 827 : 50 P. L. R. 1922.

——S. 55 (2)—Covenant for title—Deficiency in extent—Rights of purchaser.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 55—Covenant for title—Notice of defect.

A covenant for title is not a covenant that the land purported to be conveyed is of the extent stated in the sale-deed but a contract with the buyer that the interest which the seller professes to transfer to the buyer subsists and that he has power to transfer the same. A suit to recover compensation money for deficiency in the extent of the land conveyed is not a suit for damages for breach of a covenant for title but one for partial failure of consideration. A suit lies at the instance of the purchaser under S. 14 of the Specific Relief Act for specific performance of so much of the contract as can be performed with compensation in money for the deficiency. The passing of a regular conveyance does not bar this right of the purchaser. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) JANGA VENKATAREDDI v. JAMAL AHMED SAHEB.

18 M. L. T. 364 : 29 I. C. 394 : (1915) M. W. N. 422 : 29 M. L. J. 122.

Covenant for title—Eviction by paramount title holder.

——S. 55 (2)—Covenant for title—Eviction by paramount title holder—Contract Act (IX of 1872), S. 73.

A vendee evicted from a portion by a third person with a superior title can claim damages from a vendor of a specified area of land sold at a certain rate with reference to the area. The measure of damages is the price of the land at the date of the eviction. (Shadi Lal and Martineau, JJ.) JAI KISHAN DAS v. ARYA PRITI NIDHI SABHA.

58 I. C. 757 : I Lah. 380.

Covenant for title—Notice of defect.

——S. 55 — Covenant for title— Notice of defect—Right of vendee.

A sale deed cannot operate against a prior contract to sell by the vendor where the vendee has taken the sale with notice of the prior contract. The vendee can only stand in the shoes of the vendor and where the latter has received part of the purchase money the former will be entitled to receive only the balance on payment of which he will be bound to convey the property to the promisee under the contract. (Scott, C. J. and Heaton, J.) GANGARAM GANPATI v. LAXAMAN GANOBA.

40 Bom. 498 : 37 I. C. 360 : 18 Bom. L. R. 455.

——S. 55—Covenant for title—Notice of defect—Duties of purchaser—Inquiry of vendor's title.

Vendee should not rely upon the paper-title disclosed by the sale deed in favour of the vendor but also should make inquiries of the person in actual possession of the property sold. If he does not make any inquiry of the person in possession he would be bound by such title as the said person possesses. (N. G. Chandavarkar Kt. and Heaton, JJ.) VENKAPPACHARYA SRINIVASACHARIA v. YAMNASANI RADHA.

35 Bom. L. R. 269 : 10 I. C. 817 : 13 Bom 256.

——S. 55—Covenant for title—Notice of defect—Duty of vendor.

The purchaser is entitled to recover damages in spite of his knowledge as to the defects in the title of the vendor, and the manager of a joint Hindu family who has agreed to sell immoveable property belonging to himself and the minor members of the family, is personally liable for failure to perform the contract when it is found that it is not binding on the minors. The vendee has a right to get a refund of the earnest money paid by him. (Broadway and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) LACHHMAN DAS v. JOWAHIR SINGH.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 55—Covenant for title--Notice of defect.

44 P. L. R. 1922.

———S. 55—Covenant for title—Notice of defect--Vendee knowing the defective title--Effect.

Mere knowledge on the part of the vendee of the defective title of the vendor would not defeat the vendee's right, which can only be defeated if the vendor indicates by clear words that he does not guarantee his title to the property. The recital in a deed of previous transactions forming the links of the chain of the vendor's title does not amount to a warning to the vendee that his vendor's title is defective. (Abdur Rahim, O. C. J. and Phillips, J.) MAHAMMAD ALI SHERIFF v. BUHDHARAJU VENKATAPATHI RAJU.
11 L. W. 537 : 27 M. L. T. 304 : 60 I. C. 235 : 39 M. L. J. 449.

———S. 55 (2)—Covenant for title—Notice of defect—Damages.

A vendee's knowledge that the vendor's title was defective will not preclude him from suing for recovery of his purchase money if he is deprived of the property sold. (23 I. C. 570 ; 27 I.C. 989, F.) (Ayling and Tyabji, JJ.) VELLAYAPPA ROWTHEN v. BAVA ROWTHEN. 29 I. C 747.

———S. 55 (2)—Covenant for title—Notice of defect.

The rule that in spite of his knowledge of a defect in the title of the vendor, a vendee is in case of dispossession is entitled to sue his vendor onthe implied covenant for title under S 55 (2) of T.P. Act, applies only to cases of conveyance of absolute or full title. If, howevre what is conveyed is not full title (as for example a sale of Karamkari tenure which by its nature is inalienable) and the vendee is ejected by a person with a superior title, the vendor cannot be made liable on any implied covenant of title. (Ayling, J.) VATAKKA CHATHILINGATH TAVAZHI v. RAMASWAMI PATTER.
27 I. C. 889 : 2 L. W. 155.

———S. 55 (4)—Covenant for title—Notice of defect.

The vendee can rely upon the covenant contained in the deed, and is not bound to exercise due diligence in discovering the facts. Mere knowledge or suspicion regarding the defect in title does not prevent an express or implied contract from operating in the absence of a contract to the contrary. (Mittra, A.J.C.) SHALIGRAM v. NARAYAN. 4 N. L. J. 221.

———S. 55 (2)—Covenant for title—Notice of defect—Remedy of vendee.

Where a vendor sells land as belonging to him and his title turns out to be defective, he is liable in damages for breach of covenant for title, whether the vendee knows about the defect in title or not. It is only when there is a contract to the contrary that the implied covenant does not apply 40 M. 338 Ref. (Mittra, A. J. C.) SHALIGRAM SADASHEO PANDE v. NARAIN.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 55--Covenant for title--Refund of purchase-money.

45 I. C. 669.

Covenant for title—"Professes to transfer."

———S. 55 (2)—Covenant for title "Professes to transfer".

When the interest which a seller "professed" to transfer was not larger than what he actually possessed, he is not liable for any breach of covenant for title. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Moore JJ.) VATAKA CHATHILINGATH v. RAMASWAMI PATTER. 32 I.C. 984.

——— S. 55 (2)—Covenant for title—"Professes to transfer".

Where a person transfers immoveable property or makes a sale of goods, he thereby, though he may be a minor, represents to the purchaser that he has authority to transfer or sell ; the vendor is deemed to positively assert his power to transfer in the former case under S. 55 of the T. P. Act. (Crouch and Hayward, A. J. Cs.) SOBHANNA POHUMAL v. BACHAL.
34 I. C. 890 : 9 S. L. R. 214.

Covenant for title—Refund of purchase-money.

———Ss. 55 (1) (g) (2)—Covenant for title—Refund of purchase money—Sale of property free from incumbrances—Moneys paid to discharge mortgages or to avoid execution sale—Right to be repaid.

Where properties are sold free from incumbrances and the purchaser pays off mortgages on the property or pays off decrees obtained on those mortgages, he is entitled to a refund from the purchaser of those moneys spent by him to clear his title. (Lord Buckmaster.) NATHU KHAN v. THAKUR BURTONATH SINGH. 42 M. L. J. 444 : 23 C.W. N. 514: L. R. 3 P. C. 82 : 20 A. L. J. 301 : 24 Bom. L. R. 571 : 15 L. W. 635 : (1922) M. W. N. 323 : 35 C. L. J. 417 : 1922 P. C. 176.

——— ———S. 55 (1) (g)—Covenant for title—Refund of purchase money—Vendee paying off encumbrances—Effect.

Where the vendor intended to sell and the vendee intended to buy a thing different from what, as a matter of fact, was sold and bought under S. 55 (1) (g), it is the duty of the vendor to pay off all encumbrances unless the vendee had agreed to do so. If, as a matter of fact, an encumbrance which ought to have been paid off by the vendor under S. 55 of the Transfer of Property Act was paid off by the vendee, under the provisions of S. 69 of the Contract Act, the vendor would be liable to repay. (1922) P. C. 176: 6 Bom. L. R. 832 : 30 All. 172 followed. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) RAM GOPAL v. THAKUR BAKHTAWAR SINGH. 1922 All. 508.

———S 55—Covenant for title—Refund of purchase money—Suit for return of earnest money—Charge.

Where defendant having failed to perform his part of a contract to sell, the plaintiff is entitled for getting back his purchase money and to a charge on the property for the amount. (Shah, A. C. J. and Crump, J.) KARSANDAS PURUSHOTTAMDAS v. GOPALDAS. 25 Bom. L. R. 1144 : 1924 B. 282.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 55—Covenant for title—Refund of purchase-money.

——S. 55 (2)—Covenant for title—Refund of purchase money— Condition for return of earnest money on non-approval of title by purchaser's solicitor.

Where an agreement for purchase and sale contained a condition for the return of the earnest money on the vendor's title not being approved by the vendee'solicitor held, that the vendee was entitled to get back the earnest money and his solicitor's costs if the solicitor on reasonable grounds disapproved of the title. (Choudhuri, J.) W. P. ABRO v. PRAMOTHONATH. 24 I. C. 452 : 18 C. W. N. 568.

——S. 55 (2)—Covenant for title—Refund of purchase money— Attachment of property by third party—Claim by purchaser—Dismissal—Suit for purchase money.

A vendor agreed to refund the purchase-money with interest in case the vendee was dispossessed. A third party attached the property in execution of a money-decree obtained against the vendor. The purchaser laid a claim which was dismissed. Without suing to establish his title he sued the vendor to recover the purchase-money. Held, that the condition provided for in the deed did not arise and the suit should be dismissed. (Stephen and Richardson, JJ.) TASSADUK HOSSAIN KHAN v. ABTAB HOSSAIN KHAN. 15 I. C. 334.

——S. 55—Covenant for title— Refund of earnest money—No interest can be claimed on.

If a contract of sale cannot be carried out for want of defect in title of the vendor, the earnest money can be recovered but no interest can be allowed. The knowledge of the purchaser of such defect makes no difference. (Broadway and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) LACHHMAN DAS v. JOWAHIR SINGH. 70 I. C. 250 : 44 P. L. R. 1922.

——S. 55 (2)—Covenant for title—Refund of purchase money—Failure of consideration—Interest.

On failure of consideration, return of the purchase-money can be claimed with interest. If the plff. pays off an adverse claimant and retains the property even then he can sue for return of the purchase-money. (Wallis, C. J. and Ayling, J.) ARVANULACHARIAR v. ARAMANAI KRISHNA AIYAR. 50 I. C. 815.

——S. 55 (1) and (2)—Covenant for title—Refund of purchase money—Suit for.

If in a suit brought by a third party against a vendor and vendee of immoveable property the former admitted the claimant's title and the suit was decreed, he cannot in a subsequent suit for the recovery of the purchase money paid to him by the vendee, plead that the former suit was wrongly decided. In such a case there is a failure of consideration for the contract of sale without any fault on the part of the purchaser and the vendor is liable to refund. Per Imam, J. :—

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S 55—Covenant for title—Miscellaneous.

The expression of " pak saf " means a flawless title ; 15 C. W. N. 655 Ref. (Roe and Imam, JJ.) BHATTU RAM v. GANGA PRASAD GOPE. 47 I. C. 37 : 3 Pat. L. J. 358.

Covenant for title—Registered Conveyance.

——S. 55 (2)—Covenant for title—Registered conveyance.

Under S. 55 (2), T. P. Act, there is an implied covenant for title and possession in all registered conveyances, on a breach of which damages can be claimed under Art. 116, Lim. Act. (Chowdhury, J.) KANOK DASI v. SRIBARI GOSWAMI. 52 I. C. 269.

——S. 55 (2)—Covenant for title—Registered conveyance.

In all registered conveyances after the passing of the T. P. Act a covenant for title under S. 55 (2) is implied. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) ARUNACHALA AIYAR v. RAMASWAMI AIYAR. 38 Mad. 1171 : 1 L. W. 849 : 27 M. L. J. 517 : 25 I. C. 618 : 16 M. L. T. 397.

——S. 55 (2)—Covenant for title—Registered conveyance.

When there is no express covenant to the contrary the statutory guarantee for good title is always implied in every sale under S. 55 of the Act and discovery of defects in title does not extinguish the purchaser's right to be indemnified. (Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) SUBBARAYA REDDIAR v. RAJAGOPALA REDDIAR. 38 Mad. 887 : 15 M. L. T. 240 : 23 I. C. 570 : (1914) M. W. N. 376.

——S. 55 (2)—Covenant for title—Registered conveyance.

S. 55 (2) imports a covenant for title in every case of a transfer. (Sadasiva Aiyar, J.) RAGAVA AIYANGAR v. SAMACHARIAR. (1914) M. W. N. 57 : 22 I. C. 42 : 1 L. W. 8.

Covenant for title—Miscellaneous.

——S. 55 -Covenant for title—Contract of sale—Want of marketable title— Breach—Damages.

In an ordinary contract for the purchase and sale of land where the vendor contracts to make out a marketable title the Court may find an implied agreement that, without any fault on the part of the vendor, if he was not able to make out a marketable title, the bargain will be off and that the vendor would have only to pay the purchaser's cost of the agreement and the inspection of the title-deeds. However if the vendor is found to be guilty of default of a deliberate nature in breaking the contract the damages will be calculated on a higher scale the measure of which will be the difference between the contract price and the market price on the date of the breach. (Macleod, C.J. and Shah, J.) VALLABHDAS v. NAGARDAS. 23 Bom. L. R. 1213.

——S. 55—Covenant for title—Implication.

Even where there is no express covenant for title in a contract of sale, S. 55 (2), T. P. Act, implies one and can be based thereon a suit for damages. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) INJAD ALI v. MOHINI CHANDRA ADHIKARI. 27 C. W. N. 1025 : 1924 Cal. 148.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 55—Covenant for title—Miscellaneous

——— S. 55—Covenant for title—Vendee's title if affected by belief of vendor.

The title of the vendee cannot in any way be affected by the belief of his vendor as to the source of his title. The vendee's title is good if that of his vendor is good whatever be the source from which his title had been derived. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) BEPIN BEHARI v. PANCHANAN BHATTACHARYA. 24 I. C. 262.

——— S 55 (1) (b)—Covenant for title—Breach—Damages.

Where the 1st deft. purchased certain specific land from a co-parcener of a joint Hindu family and pending a suit by the other co-parceners for a partition, sold the same to the plff. and the plff. sued the deft. for the recovery of the property allotted to the latter's vendor in lieu of the land sold by him, or, in the alternative, for damages. Held, that though the 1st deft. may be entitled to whatever was substituted by the decree for partition of the land the plff. could not claim any such equity against the 1st deft but was only entitled for breach of warranty of title to damages assessed at the enhanced value of the land. (Abdur Rahim and Oldfield, JJ.) DHADA SAHIB v. MAHOMED SULTAN SAHIB. (1920) M. W. N. 710 : 12 L. W. 603 : 59 I. C. 311 : 44 M. 167: 39 M. L. J. 706.

——— S. 55 (4) (b)—Covenant for title—Vendor without title at the time of completing the agreement.

If the vendor of any particular property has no title to convey the land, on the date when the purchaser has agreed to pay the balance of the purchase money, the purchaser is not bound to tender the balance and he is also entitled to treat the contract as at an end. (Twomey, J.) COHEN v. MG BA CHIT. 14 I. C. 811 : 5 Bur. L. T. 45.

——— S. 55—Covenant for title—Title to property—Doubts of vendee.

In the case of a purchaser while he is not on the one hand at liberty to raise doubts which are not rational, he cannot be compelled on the other hand to take a title which will expose him to litigation or hazard. The question whether the doubt is reasonable must be determined on the facts of each case. (Madgavkar, A. J. C.) KHEMCHAND RATANCHAND v. DHALOMAL. 15 S. L. R. 180 : 1922 Sind 33.

Disclosure of Defect.

——— S. 55 (1) (a)—Disclosure of defect—Failure—Effect.

If a seller does not disclose to his buyer any material of which he is aware but of which the buyer is not aware, it amounts to fraud. But if he had no knowledge of it himself, the position is different. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) NURSING DASS KOTHARI v. CHITOO LALL MISSER. 50 Cal. 615 : 1923 Cal. 641.

——— S. 55 (1) (b)—Disclosure of defect—Proof of title—Abstract.

Where the conditions of sale mentioned an abstract of documents of title, and commenced with an indemnity bond and did not disclose a permanent lease, held that the document of title with which the abstract commenced must be one which is a proper root of title, that the indemnity bond was in no sense a root of the title that the permanent lease ought to have been expressed in the abstract and that the purchaser was not bound to accept such a title. (Fletcher, J.) JOGEMAYA DASEE v. AKHOY COOMAR DAS. 18 I. C. 954 : 40 Cal. 140.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 55—Execution of conveyance.

——— S. 55 (1)—Disclosure of defect—Knowledge of purchaser—If can be imputed.

Under Indian Statute Law, the question of knowledge of the purchaser does not affect his rights to be indemnified ; in the case of a conveyance, prima facie, unimpeachable, a knowledge of defects in title cannot be imputed to the purchaser because, he was aware of a release deed which, when legally construed, would throw a cloud on the vendor's title. (Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) SUBBARAYA REDDIAR v. RAJAGOPALA REDDIAR. 38 Mad. 887 : 15 M. L. T. 240 : 23 I. C. 570 : (1914) M. W. N. 376.

——— S. 55 (1) (a)—Disclosure of defect—Damages for failure to disclose defect.

The defect in the title is a material defect under S. 55 (1), and where such defect not apparent and very difficult to be discovered with ordinary care is not disclosed by the seller, he commits fraud and is liable to pay damages to the buyer, in the form of return of purchase money. (Jwala Prasad, J.) SHEO RAM MAHOTON v. THAKUR MAHTO. 58 I. C. 529.

——— S. 55 (a), (5) and (6)—Disclosure of defect—Effect of existence of defect—Remedy of purchaser.

A purchaser is not entitled, in case of existence of undisclosed encumbrances, to avoid the contract, but can retain purchase money. (Foxe, C. J. and Twomey, J.) MAUNG PO TE v. MAUNG SHWE KO. 35 I. C. 373 : 10 Bur. L. T, 35.

Execution of Conveyance.

——— S. 55 (1) (d)—Execution of conveyance—Duty of purchaser to tender conveyance before obtaining the title-deeds.

It is the duty of the purchaser to tender a conveyance to the vendor for execution as required by S. 55 (1) (d) of the T. P. Act, and until such tender is made or waived the purchaser has no right to obtain the title-deeds. (Viscount Haldane.) MA HNIT v. MAUNG PO PU. 31 C.L.J. 87 : 11 L. W. 253 : (1920) M. W. N. 176 : 27 M. L. T. 139 : 55 I. C. 791. 2 U. P. L. R. 43 (P. C.)

——— S. 55—Execution of conveyance—Agreement to sell—Co-sharer—Right to get a conveyance.

Where a co-sharer in certain property has agreed to sell certain property it is open to the vendee to insist on his executing a conveyance of such interest as he has in the property at least in cases where it is not proved that the co-sharer has no sort of a title to the property. (Stuart, J.) SAKTOO MAL v. GOPAL CHAND. 4 U. P. L. R. (A) 5 : 1922 All. 439.

——— S. 55—Execution of conveyance—Suit for—Alternative prayer for possession—Subsequent vendee necessary party.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882). S. 55—Execution of conveyance.

Plff. sued for possession on declaration of title with an alternative prayer for specific performance of a contract of sale. He impleaded the original owners of the property as well as a subsequent vendee of the same. Held, that the plff. could not compel registration of the sale deed without following the procedure prescribed by S. 77 of the Regn. Act. The execution of the conveyance not followed by registration could not be regarded as fulfilment of the contract. The plff. was therefore entitled to proceed against his vendors to compel them to fulfil the contract. The subsequent vendee from the owners of the property was also a proper and necessary party. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) NASIRUDDIN MIDDA v. SIDHOO MIA. 44 I. C. 361 : 27 C. L. J. 538.

——— S. 55 (1) (d)—Execution of conveyance—Non-registration owing to default of vendee—Right to demand subsequent conveyance.

Where a sale-deed is executed and delivered to the vendee but is not registered owing to his default in the payment of the purchase-money. Held. the vendee having failed to take advantage of the provisions of Ss. 32 and 36 of the Registration Act to enforce compulsory registration, it was not open to him to read into the sale an enforceable agreement to sell which was superseded by the conveyance itself. 16 Mad. 341 Foll.; 12 C. L. J. 464 not Foll. (Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) THAYARAMMAL v. LAKSHMI AMMAL. 39 M. L. J. 181 : 59 I. C. 417 : 12 L. W. 161 : (1920) M. W. N. 457 : 43 M. 822.

——— S. 55 (1) (d)—Execution of conveyance—Registration.

A vendor is under no obligation to register the document he has given. (Spencer and Coutts Trotter, JJ.) MANIYAM KUPPANNA v. KUPPANNA GOUNDEN. 29 I. C. 195 : (1915) M. W. N. 319.

——— S. 55 (1) (d)—Execution of conveyance—Default—Vendor and purchaser—Evidence of.

Failure on the part of the vendee to tender the expenses of sale and Registration having undertaken to do so is clear evidence of default. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) MULPURI VEERAYYA v. SANAGAVARAPU SIVAYYA. 26 I. C. 121 : 27 M. L. J. 482.

——— S. 55 (1) (d)—Execution of conveyance—Transfer of mortgage—Registration—Pronote in consideration of unregistered transferred mortgage.

A transfer of a mortgage to be effectual should be registered at the instance of the transferor, so that a pronote in consideration of the transfer of a mortgage not so registered, is without consideration. (Benson and Abdur Rahim, JJ.) MUTHIA CHETTY v. KASIVARI SOMASUNDARA. 10 M. L. T. 79 : 12 I. C. 78 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 47.

——— S 55 (1), cl. (d)—Execution of conveyance—Delivery of ineffectual conveyance—Effect of.

On a sale of land it is the duty of the seller to execute and deliver a valid conveyance to the property and if for any reason, he executes an ineffective or invalid conveyance he has no answer to a suit for specific performance for the agreement to sell and for the execution of a legal and binding sale-deed. 6 Mad. 641 Diss, 20 Mad. 19. 20 Mad, 250 ; 12 C L, J. 454 Ref, (Robinson, C. J. and Duckworth, J.) SANTHAYI AMMAL v. M. K. MAHOMED. 65 I. C. 405 : 11 L. B. R. 94.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882). S. 55—Production of title-deeds.

——— S. 55—Execution of conveyance—Duty of vendor—Sale of immoveable property—"Complete title"—Registered conveyance.

Once there is an agreement to sell immoveable property to which S. 54 applies and the vendee has done his part of paying the purchase-money, the vendor is bound to do everything necessary to complete the title of the vendee including a registered deed of conveyance. (Maung Kin, J.) MYA BEVIN v. MAUNG KYA ZAN. 33 I. C. 761.

——— S. 55—Execution of conveyance—Vendor's duty.

The vendor must do all things necessary to complete the vendee's title and registration if it is compulsory (Maung Kin, J.) MAUNG NE DUN v. MALE. 32 I. C. 573 : 9 Bur. L. T. 86.

Production of title-deeds.

——— S. 55 (1) (b), (2) and (3)—Production of title-deeds—Marketable title free from defects—Recitals in deeds—Discharge of mortgage—Refund of deposit.

Where a vendor agreed to deduce "a marketable title free from all reasonable doubts" it was found that the property was hypothecated more than 20 years before the contract by a registered deed in favour of two persons. The vendor produced a registered release executed by one only of the joint mortgagees but reciting that the other mortgagee was dead and that the executant was his heir and that the mortgage had been redeemed. The vendor did not produce one of the title-deeds deposited with the mortgagees. Held, that the agreement as to title had not been complied with and the purchaser was entitled to a refund of the deposit with interest thereon. The recitals in the release deed were not evidence against the joint mortgagee or his heir. The existence of a custom of conveyancers to provide in contracts of sale and purchase that recital in deeds of a certain age (the period in England being 20 years before the contract) shall be sufficient to satisfy a purchaser of the truth of the fact recited is material whenever a purchaser is bound to accept a marketable title; for, the insertion of a usual conditional clause in a contract of resale would not be depreciatory. The recitals in the release deed in question being only 10 years old, such a condition would be depreciatory. (Lord Parker.) SHRINIVASDAS BAUNI v. MEHESHAI. 41 Bom, 300 : 21 M, L. T. 236 : 32 M. L. J. 175 : 19 Bom. L. R. 151 : (1917) M. W. N. 258 : 21 C. W. N. 558 : 25 C. L, J. 311 : 39 I. C, 627 : 44 I. A. 36, (P. C.).

——— S. 55 (1) (b)—Production of title deeds—'On his request.'

The words 'on his request' in S. 55 (1) (b) make it, the duty of the seller to produce his documents of title for examination by the buyer only when the latter ask for them ; if the buyer does not ask for them within the time fixed for the completion of the contract, he is not excused from the consequences of his failure, though the plff. does not offer to show the title-deeds. (Fox C. J. and Twomey, J.) MAUNG PO TE v. MAUNG SWE KO. 35 I. C. 373 : 10 Bur. L. T. 35

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 55—Purchase-money left with vendee.

Purchase-money left with vendee.

——S. 55—Purchase-money left with vendee —Prior mortgage—Pre-emption—Charge against vendee and pre-emptor.

Where the vendor left a part of the consideration with the vendee to pay off a prior mortgage but the mortgage was not paid off and a third person pre-empted the property without paying the prior mortgage, the vendor can sue to recover the money to be paid by sale of the property. As the vendee and pre-emptor had notice of the mortgage, they got the property subject to the mortgagee's lien. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) RAMANAND BHARATI v. SHEO DAS. 43 All. 314: 60 I. C. 933 : 19 A. L. J. 58.

——S. 55 (1) (j) and (4)—Purchase-money left with vendee — Payment of debt—Remission—Vendor's right.

Where a portion of the purchase money for a sale is left with the vendee for payment to a creditor who, at the time of payment, remitted a portion of the debt, the vendor could recover it from the vendee. 31 A. 583 (P. C.) Dist. (Knox and Rafique, JJ.) RAM RATAN LAL v. ABDUL WAHID KHAN. 18 I. C. 503.

——S 55 (5) (b)—Purchase-money left with vendee—Payment to a prior mortgagee—Redemption.

Where the consideration for sale is left in the hands of a purchaser for payment to a prior mortgagee, the purchaser is not bound to redeem the mortgage if the amount due under it is in excess of that deposited with him. 21 A. 233 Foll. (Chamier and Rafique, JJ.) BADRI DAS v. JIWANLAL. 15 I. C. 854 : 10 A. L. J. 480.

——S. 55 (5) (b)—Purchase-money left with vendee—Vendee directed to pay a mortgagee of vendor—Suit and decree against vendor by mortgagee—Suit against vendee before payment of decretal amount.

Where on a sale of property the vendee was directed to pay a mortgagee of the vendor on some other properties and the latter, on default of the vendee to pay, had a decree passed against him on the mortgage, held, that the vendor could maintain a suit against the vendee for breach of covenant even before paying the decretal amount to the mortgagee. 23 M. 441; (1901) A. W N. 14 Rel. on. (Karamat Husain and Tudball, JJ.) RAGHUBAR RAI v. JAJI RAI. 14 I. C. 244 : 34 All. 429: 9 A. L. J. 534.

——S. 55 (4) (b)—Purchase-money left with vendee—Right of vendor to sue for.

Where a vendor merely directed the purchaser to pay the sale consideration to his creditors but there was no completed agreement between the purchaser and the vendor's creditor for substitution of the liability, the vendor does not lose his right to enforce the lien against the purchaser. (Spencer and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) THYAGARAJA MUDALIAR v. SESHAPPIER. 10 L. W. 518 : 54 I. C. 458 : 27 M. L. T. 94.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 55—Right to possession.

——S. 55 (5) (b)—Purchase-money left with vendee—Payment debts of vendor—Default—Damages.

Where on a sale of land a portion of the purchase-money is left with the vendee on the understanding that he was to pay certain debts of the vendor and the vendee also agreed to compensate the vendor in case of his default in paying the amounts, the vendor is entitled to sue the vendee on a breach of the covenant without proof of actual loss sustained by him (vendor) by such breach. (Abdur Rahim and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) KOMU KUTTI v. KUMAR MENON. 24 M. L. T. 260 : 49 I. C. 313 : 35 M. L. J. 692.

——S. 55 (5) (g)—Purchase-money left with vendee—Redemption of mortgage—Damages.

Where the vendor promised to pay off the mortgage on the property but failed and long afterwards the mortgagee recovered from the vendee a sum in excess of the promised amount held in a suit by the vendee for reimbursement, that he was entitled only to the money which might have been due in excess at the time of the sale, 21 A. 223 P. C.; 15 I. C. 854 Dist. (Lindsay, J.C.) MAZHAR ALI KHAN v. ALI ASHGAR. 40 I.C. 361 : 4 O. L. J. 321.

——Ss. 55 and 100—Purchase-money left with vendee.

Money left in the hands of a vendee to pay off an incumbrance on the property does not become a charge on the property. (Lindsay, J.C.) MUKTA PERSHAD v. ABDUL RAZAQ. 33 I. C. 527.

Relief against forfeiture.

——S. 55—Relief against forfeiture—Vendor and purchaser—Agreement to sell—Payment to seller—Payment by instalment—Forfeiture on default—Penalty—Specific performance, suit for, maintainability of.

An agreement to sell provided that payment be made by instalments and on default the contract be forfeited and determined at the option of the vendor, time being agreed to be the essence of the contract. On default being made, the vendor by notice cancelled the contract. The purchaser sued thereupon for specific performance and relief from forfeiture held that specific performance cannot be decreed but that the stipulation for forfeiture, being a penalty, should be relieved against. (Viscount Haldane.) STEEDMAN v. DRINKLE. 33 I. C. 323 : 85 L. J. P. C. 79 (P. C.)

Right to possession.

——S. 55 (1) (f)—Right to possession—Joint sale—Consideration paid by one—Right of other vendee.

Where immoveable property is purchased by two persons jointly but one of them alone pays the consideration and takes possession of the property and the vendee sues for possession, it was held that the suit for possession ought to be decreed on the consideration of the plff. paying his share of the consideration money as the ownership in the property vested in both the vendees as soon as the sale was completed. 30 A. 125; 11 A. 244 Foll. (Banerji, J.) PARAG v. JAGANNATH. 15 I. C. 173.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 55—Right to possession.

——S. 55 (1) (f)—Right to possession—Stipulation as to non-liability of vendor for failure to secure possession.

Where in a speculative purchase there is a stipulation that the vendor shall not be liable if the purchaser was dispossessed by third persons, and the purchaser is not able to get possession the stipulation holds good and the purchaser cannot get a refund of the purchase-money. (Walmsley and Panton, JJ.) INDRA NARAYAN DAS v. BADAN CHANDRA DAS. 47 I. C. 340.

——S. 55 (1) (f)—Right to possession.

As right to possession of property sold passes to the vendee even though a part of the consideration has not been paid, a vendor who sets up that the intention of the parties was that ownership should not pass till the entire consideration was paid, has himself to prove it. (Chitty and Walmsley, JJ.) JOGENDRA NARAIN ROY v. MANMATHA NATH. 34 I. C. 106.

——S. 55 (1) (f)—Right to possession—Vendor, if can transfer better title than he has.

A vendor cannot transfer a better title to the vendee than he himself has, and when the vendor is out of possession at the time of the sale the vendee must bring his suit for possession within the same period as would be allowed to his vendor, 3 W. R. 176 Rel. on. (Mookerji and Beachcroft, JJ.) ABBAS DHALI v. MASABDI KARIKAR. 24 I. C. 216.

——S. 55—Right to possession.

Per Venkatasubba Rao, J.—In every contract of sale unless the contrary appears, it is implied that the vendor agrees to give possession of the property to the purchaser, in addition to executing a conveyance in his favour. (Krishnan and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) SUNDARA RAMANUJAM NAIDU v. SIVALINGAM PILLAI. 45 M.L. J. 431. 18 L. W. 333 : 47 Mad. 150 : 1924 Mad. 360.

——S. 55 (1) (f)—Right to possession—Duty of vendor.

Spencer, J.—It is the duty of the seller to secure his purchaser in quiet and peaceful enjoyment of the property sold, the mere signing of the sale deed does not discharge this obligation which continues till the purchaser gets an indefeasible title to the property. (Spencer and Trotter, JJ.) MANIYAM KUPPANNA v. KUPPANNA GOUNDAN. 29 I.C. 195 : (1915) M. W. N. 319.

——Ss. 55 (1) (f) and 5 (b)—Right to possession—Suit for possession by vendee—Conditional decree.

In a suit by a vendee for possession of property purchased, it is competent to the Court to pass a decree conditional on his paying the balance of purchase-money. (Oldfield and Tyabji, JJ.) ABRAHAM SERVAI v. RAPTIAL MUTHIRIAN. 39 Mad. 288 : 27 I. C. 337 : 16 M. L. T 569 : 27 M. L. J. 746.

——S. 55 (1) (f)—Right to possession—Failure to give possession to vendee.

On the vendor's failure to give possession he is bound to return to the vendee the purchase-money paid. (Sadasiva Aiyar, J.) RAGAVA AYYANGAR v. SAMA CHARIAR. (1914) M. W. N. 57 : 22 I. C. 42. 1 L. W. 8.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 55—Vendee's charge.

——S. 55—Right to possession.

A purchaser suing for damages for failing to give possession of a part of the land sold to him, has to prove that he was not put in possession of such portion of the land, but he need not prove who was in possession of it. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) TAVALA NAGESWARA ROW v. SARIPALLI SAMBASIVA ROW. 11 I C. 337 : (1911) 1. M. W. N. 361.

——S. 55 (1) (f)—Right to possession.

It is the duty of the vendor, holding himself out as such to ascertain that the subject-matter exists. He must give physical possession to the buyer especially when the identification of the property is difficult. (Chapman and Atkinson, JJ.) DARPAN KOER v. KEDAR NATH. 1 Pat. L. J. 140: 35 I. C. 539 (2): 2 Pat. L. W. 389.

Sale subject to Incumbrances.

——S. 55 (5) (d)—Sale subject to incumbrance—Vendee's right to contest.

A vendee of mortgaged property subject to the mortgage can contest its legality when sued against upon the mortgage bond. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) ACHYUTANUNDA BHATTACHARYA v. RAM NATH BHATTACHARYA. 21 I. C. 79 : 18 C. L. J. 354.

——S. 55 (5) (d)—Sale subject to encumbrance—Notice to encumbrancer.

The law does not insist—that the purchaser of property which is subject to a mortgage to give notice of his purchase to the mortgagee. (Lindsay, J. C.) SHEO PERSHAD v. BISISHAN NATH. 19 O. C. 12 : 34 I. C. 266 : 3 O. L. J. 129.

——S. 55—Sale subject to encumbrance.

When the property sold is encumbered the purchaser must satisfy the encumbrance although the property is sold subject to no encumbrance. (Stuart, A. J. C.) GURCHARAN PRASAD v. BACHNI. 30 I. C. 238 : 2 O. L. J. 225.

Vendee's Charge.

——S. 55 (6) (b)—Vendee's charge when commences.

The purchaser's lien comes into existence as soon as the purchase-money or a part of it is paid. (1864) 10 H. L. 672 : 23 B. 56 Rel. (Mittra, Offg. A. J. C.) KESAR v. MUNNA. 39 I. C. 50 : 13 N. L. R. 19.

——S. 55 (6) (b)—Vendee's charge—Money paid by promisee under contract of sale—Subsequent registered conveyance to third party.

A purchaser of immoveable property in the possession of a third person is presumed to have notice of the title of such third person. If the possession to such third persons was given on condition that the vendors were to give them a registered deed of sale for money paid on their account before giving possession, the persons in possession would have charge under S. 55 (6) (b) on the amount paid and also on the interest there on at 6 per cent. 28 B. 466 Foll. (Maung Kin, J.) MAUNG BO v. MAUNG TUN BYU. 33 I. C. 121.

——S. 55 (5) (b)—Vendee's charge—Sale invalid.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S 55—Vendor's lien

Though a sale may be invalid for want of registration a vendee who has paid the purchase money and is in possessiou under the contract of sale has a charge on the property for the amount advanced by him as purchase money and for interest thereon. (Ormond, J.) MAUNG PO MAUNG v. MAUNG KAING. 7 Bur. L T. 86 : 24 I. C. 57 : 7 L. B. R. 262.

Vendor's lien.

——S. 55 (4) (b)—Vendor's lien—Interest on unpaid purchase-money.

In the absence ot an express or implied contract to the contrary, the date when one enters into possession of the property of another is the proper date from which interest on the unpaid price should run. On the one hand the new owner has possession, use and fruits , on the other, the former owner, parting with these has interest on the price 12 Ves, 25; 3 H. L. C. 565, 595. (Lord Shaw.) RATANLAL CHONILAL PANALAL MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONER, BOMBAY.
43 Bom. 181 : 17 A. L. J. 1 . 29 C. L. J. 138 : 9 L. W 171 : 25 M. L. T. 103 : 21 Bom. L. R. 114 : 23 C. W· N 441 : 1 U. P. L. R. (P. C) 31 : (1919) M. W. N. 321: 48 I. C. 404 : 36 M. L. J. 1. (P. C.)

——S. 55 (4) (b)—Vendor's lien—Assignment if valid.

An assignment of the vendor's lien is valid. 32 M. L. J. 347. (Sir Lawereace Jenkins.) DEONAND PRASAD v. JANKI SINGH. 44 Cal. 573 : 15 A. L. J. 154 : 21 C. W. N, 473 : (1917) M. W. N. 254 : 25 C. L. J. 259 : 21 M L. T. 240 : 5 L. W. 526 : 19 Bom. L. R. 410 : 1 Pat. L. W. 294 : 44 I. A. 30 : 39 I. C. 346 : 32 M. L, J. 206 (P. C.)

——S. 55 (4) (b)—Vendor's lien—Agreement to pay balance of purchase-money by instalments—Vendor's charge, if abandoned.

An agreement to pay the balance of purchase-money under a sale, in instalments, is by itself no evidence of abandonment of the vendor's charge granted by S. 55 (4) (b) of the Act. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) BASHIR AHMED v. NAZIR AHMED. 43 All. 544 : 19 A. L. J. 491 : 63 I. C. 495 : 3 U, P. L. R. (All) 106.

——S. 55 (4) (b)—Vendor's lien—Enforcement against transferee.

The vendor's charge mentioned in S. 55 (4) cannot be enforced against subsequent transferees for value without notice, (Richards, C, J. and Rafique, J.) GUR DAYAL SINGH v. KARAM SINGH. 38 All, 254 : 35 I, C. 289 : 14 A. L, J. 304.

——S. 55 (4) (b)—Vendor's lien—Enforceability against pre-emptor.

A lien under S. 55, Cl. (4) of the Act is not enforceable against a pre-emptor of the land sold by the vendee. If in such a suit brought by the vendor, the pre-emptor is a party and does not appear and a decree is passed against the property, the pre-emptor is bound by it. (Richards, C. J. and Tudball, J.) MAHADEO SAHU v, MAHIPAL RAI. 25 I. C. 939 : 12 A. L. J, 921,

——S. 55 (4) (b)—Vendor's lien—Whether enforceable against vendee's transferees.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 55—Vendor's lien.

A vendor is entitled to recover unpaid purchase money either by enforcement against the vendee personally or by enforcement of the charge on the property sold. The latter remedy will be available though the former is barred by limitation. A charge is enforceable against the transferees or heirs of the vendee but not a personal remedy. (30 A. 172; 7 I. C. 639 : 31 C. 57 : 7 A. 502 Foll. (Sunder Lal, J.) MEGH RAJ VAISH v. ABDULLA KHAN. 25 I C. 208 : 12 A. L J. 1034.

——S. 55—Vendor's lien—Unpaid purchase money—Delay in completing the sale—Interest—Liability for.

Delay caused merely by the defect of the vendor's title not known to him at the date of the contract especially where immediate steps are taken by the vendor for remedying the defect does not exempt the purchaser from paying interest. (Mulla, J.) SUBHADRABAI v. MAHOMED BHAI. 25 Bom. L. R. 931 : 1924 Bom. 187.

——S. 55 (4) (a) and (5) (b)—Vendor's lien—Unpaid purchase-money—Interest — Purchaser taking possession of property sold—Liability to pay interest.

It is a principle of equity, quite independent of the provisions of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, that where one party to a contract of sale enters into possessfon of the property before the whole price has been paid, he is ordinarily liable to pay interest on the unpaid purchase-money from the date when he enters into possession. (Macleod, C. J, and Shah, J,) PANDURANG BALAJI APTE v. MAHADEO GOPAL JOG. 64 I, C. 492 : 23 Bom L. R. 1000.

——S. 55 (1) (b)— Vendor's lien—Vendor's remedy when part of price is not paid.

The vendor's right for non-payment of any part of the consideration for a conveyance is to recover the unpaid balance of the purchase-money as such non-payment will not by itself invalidate the sale. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) SECRETARY OF STATE v. BANSI RAM. 35 I. C, 284 : 20 C. W. N. 638.

——S. 55 (4) (b)—Vendor's lien—Assignability of.

The charge mentioned in S. 55 (4) (b) is not a personal right of the seller himself and therefore can be transferred to an assignee. The debt itself cannot be transferred and also the security for it. (Coxe and Richardson, JJ.) SHEO NANDAN LAL v. JAINUL ABDIN. 42 Cal. 849 : 29 I. C. 869: 19 C. W. N. 899.

——S. 55 (4) (b)—Vendor's lien—Interest—Charge.

Though no interest is provided for in an agreement by a vendee of property to pay the purchase-money to the vendor, the latter is entitled to a charge upon the property in the hands of the former for the unpaid purchase-money and for interest thereon. (Rattigan, J.) ARJAN DAS v. HAKIM RAI, 39 P. R. 1913 : 20 I. C. 299 : 263 P. L, R. 1913.

——S. 55—Vendor's lien—Unpaid purchase money—Vendor failing to perform his part of the contract no interest can be claimed.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S, 55—Vendor's lien.

Where the vendor fails to perform his part of the contract and the circumstances are such as to require the purchaser to keep the money idle and unproductive the vendor will not be allowed to claim. (Wallis, C. J, and Oldfield, J.) NARASINGERJI v. PANUGANTI PARTHASARATHI.

(1921) M. W. N. 519.

——S. 55 (4) (b)—Vendor's lien—Intention.

Where a pro-note is executed by a vendee of immoveable property for part of the sale consideration, the question whether the vendor thereby intended to abandon his lien for unpaid purchase-money is a question of fact and depends on the facts of the case. The lien created by S. 55 (4) is different from the English equitable lien. (Ayling and Phillips, JJ.) KRISHNASWAMI v. SUBRAMANIA. 23 M. L. T 85 : 7 L. W. 210 : (1918) M. W. N. 231 : 44 I. C. 523 : 35 M. L. J. 304.

——S. 55 (4) (b)—Vendor's lien—Vendor when entitled to interest.

In the absence of an express contract to the contrary the purchaser is considered as in possession from the date of the completion and from that date he takes the rents and profits and pays interest. If the delay in payment of the purchase-money is due to the default of the vendor in showing a good title, he cannot claim interest. (Sadasiva Iyer and Spencer, JJ.) PULIYADI NAVANNA ELLARAYAN v. NAGENDRA IYER.

42 I. C. 509 : 6 L. W. 233.

——S. 55 (4) (b)—Vendor's lien—Alienation piecemeal.

Where the several vendees of a mortgaged property sold piecemeal, are directed to pay specific sums towards discharge on the encumbrance the vendor's lien under S. 55 (4) (b) for unpaid purchase money resides in him alone and does not in the absence of a specific conveyance of that lien pass to the purchaser of the other mortgaged properties. (Seshagiri Iyer and Napier, JJ.) KUNCHITHAPATHAM v. PALAMALAI.

(1917) M. W N. 166 : 39 I. C, 405: 32 M. L. J. 347.

——S. 55 (4) (b)—Vendor's lien—Paying purchase money to a third person.

A direction to pay the consideration money to the third person not being a "Contract to the contrary" under the above section, the vendor by giving such a direction does not lose his charge for the purchase money. 31 C. 57 Diss. Per Seshagiri Iyer, J.—A direction communicated to the third party may disable the vendor from claiming the money; but when the vendor has to pay the third person himself, and the third person is not shown to look to the vendee for payment, the lien attaches to the property. Instead of the three classes of charges under English Law, a simple rule of law is enacted in S. 55 of T. P. Act. 33 M. 446 and 21 M, L. J. 359 overruled. (Abdur Rahim, C. J., Seshagiri Aiyar and Phillips, JJ.) SIVASUBRAMANIA AIYAR v. SUBRAMANIA AIYAR.

39 Mad. 997: 31 M. L. J. 530 : (1916) 2 M. W. N. 306: 20 M. L. T. 375: 37 I. C. 429 : 4 L W. 415 (F. B.): [Overruling 21 M. L. J. 359 : 10 M. L. T. 71: 10 I, C. 98 and 33 Mad. 446: 7 M. L. T. 376 : 5 I. C. 87.]

See ALSO 10 L. W. 518 : 54 I. C, 458 : 27 M. L. T. 94

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 55—Vendor's lien.

——S. 55—Vendor's lien—Intention to transfer.

In a suit for cancellation of a sale deed for consideration which was found really not to have passed, if the intention of the executant was to transfer the property, the failure of consideration will not make the deed void or voidable but will only give the right to its payment with lien on property till it is paid. 25 B. 10 at p. 18, Foll. (Ayling and Tyabji, JJ.) GOVINDSWAMY RAJA v. KUPPAMMAL.

31 I. C. 77.

——Ss. 55 (4) (b), 81, 82, and 101—Vendor's lien—Sale by member of joint Hindu family—Mortgage to third party of property sold—Privity of vendor.

It is competent to a Hindu co-parcener to sell his share of the family properties to another co-parcener and the vendor has a lien on the property for unpaid consideration and the vendee has all the rights of a stranger purchaser. Where the vendee reserved a part of the purchase-money as consideration for a mortgage to be executed by the vendee to the vendor later on, and before its execution, the property was mortgaged to a third person, held that such mortgage has no priority over the mortgage subsequently executed for the unpaid purchase-money, of which the mortgagee must be deemed to have had notice. S. 101, T P. Act does not apply as the lien did not merge in the mortgage taken by the vendor. S. 81, T. P. Act does not apply as the 1st mortgagee had notice of the lien. (Miller and Abdur Rahim, JJ.) LAKSHMANA AIYAR v. SANKARANA MOORTHY PILLAYAN.

25 M. L. J. 245: 18 I. C. 199: 13 M. L. T, 364.

——S 55 (4) (b)—Vendor's lien—Taking of a pronote for price due—Effect.

A vendor has a charge on the land sold under S. 55 (4) (b), T.P. Act, for the amount due though a promissory note is executed for the unpaid purchase money. (Miller and Abdur Rahim, JJ.) VELLAYAPPA v. NARAYANAN. 18 I C 81: (1913) M. W. N. 826.

——S. 55 (4) (b)—Vendor's lien—Liability of vendee to pay interest on consideration money.

Where a contract of sale provided for payment of the purchase-money on a particular day and for execution of the conveyance on that day and also for interest in case of default of payment, the vendee's obligation to pay interest and the vendor's obligation to execute the conveyance are mutually dependent and interest is payable only from the date on which the vendor could give a clear title. (Sundara Iyer and Sadasiva Iyer, JJ.) ADUSUMILLAI SINGARAYADU v. SAYAMI NARAYANASAMI. 17 I. C. 273 : (1912) M. W. N. 915.

——S. 55 (4) (b)—Vendor's lien—If applicable to exchange—No charge on property exchanged for money due.

The principle of S. 55 (4) (b) does not apply regarding an exchange and there can, therefore, be no charge on the property exchanged, for the balance of any money due under such exchange. (Miller and Sankaran Nair, JJ.) KRISHNA NAIR v. KUNDU NAIR. 16 I. C. 109: (1912) M. W. N. 535.

——S. 55 (4) (b)—Vendor's lien—Acceptance of pronote from purchaser or stranger for part consideration—Lien if destroyed.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 55—Vendor's lien.

A vendor's lien for unpaid purchase-money as against property in the hands of the purchaser is not in the absence of an intention to the contrary lost by his acceptance of a pronote either from the purchaser himself or from a stranger on his behalf, for part of the consideration. 33 M. 496 dist. (Abdur Rahim and Sundara Iyer, JJ.) KAMPIAH v. HARI ROW. 21 M. L. J. 849: 11 I. C. 890: 10 M. L. T. 189.

——S. 55 (4) (b)—Vendor's lien—Interest on purchase money.

S. 55 (4) (b) gives the vendor an absolute right to interest on the purchase-money subject to the equities of the case. The clause only gives the vendor a lien on the property for unpaid purchase money which will also enure for the interest, if any, payable. It is certainly unjust that either party to the contract should at one and the same time have possession both of land and purchase-money. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) MUTHIA CHETTY v. CHINNA VEMIAM CHETTY. 35 M. 625: (1911) 1 M. W. N. 228: 9 M. L. T. 378: 10 I. C. 662: 21 M. L. J. 236.

——S. 55 (4) (b)—Vendor's lien—Contract to the contrary—Mortgage.

The statutory charge in favour of the vendor is excluded by an express mortgage taken in respect of the amount of the unpaid purchase-money. (Drake Brockman, J. C.) MOOLCHAND v. BISNOO. 51 I. C. 721: 15 N. L. R. 109.

——S. 55 (4) (b)—Vendor's lien—Interest on unpaid price.

Under S. 55 of the T. P. Act, a vendor can claim interest on unpaid purchase money unless he has disentitled himself to it by his own conduct. (Kanhaiya Lal and Daniels, A.J.Cs.) ADITYA PRASAD v. MOHAMMAD MUBARAK ALI SHAH. 48 I. C. 257: 263 P. L. R. 1913: 20 I. C. 299: 21 O. C. 234

——S. 55 (4) (b)—Vendor's lien—Purchase-money in hand of vendee.

Where part of the consideration money is left in the hands of the vendee of immoveable property, to pay off an incumbrance subsisting on the property, such money is not 'purchase-money and the vendor has no lien in respect of it. (Lindsay, J. C.) MUKTA PERSHAD v. ABDUL RAZAQ 33 I. C. 527 (Oudh).

——S. 55—Vendor's lien is non-possessory.

When the vendor does not get the full consideration money he has a lien for his unpaid purchase-money but that lien does not entitle him to retain possession of the property and he is therefore liable for mesne profits. (Coutts and Das, JJ.) HARI PRASAD CHOUDHURY v. HARIHAR PRASAD CHOWDHURY. (1923) Pat. 20: 1923 P. 205.

Miscellaneous.

——S. 55 (4) (b)—Vendor—Passing of ownership—Burden of proof.

The intention of the parties that the ownership should not pass till the full consideration is paid should be proved by the vendor. (Chitty and Walmsley, JJ.) JOGENDRA NARAIN v. MANMATH NATH. 34 I. C. 106.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 56.

——S. 55 (5) (b)—Purchases-money—Vendor's agreements.

A purchaser is not bound to pay the balance of the purchase-money till the vendor has put the property in the condition in which it was to be conveyed to him. (Mookerjee and Caspersz, JJ.) ADHAR CHANDRA v. RAM CHARAN. 10 I. C. 526.

——S. 55 (1) (b)—Property sold to different vendees by halves—Vendor entitled only to half—Suits for possession.

When A sold half of a certain shop to B alleging that the whole belonged to him and afterwards sold the other half to C who sued B for possession of that half and got a decree, and subsequently B sued for possession of his half and it was then found that A was only entitled to one half of the shop, held B was entitled to get a decree for the half claimed by him, and that the decreee obtained by C against B was no bar to it as C had in that suit admitted that B was the owner of the other half and he only claimed the half purchased by him from A. (Reid, C. J.) MANGHA RAM v. DITTA. 19 P. L. R. 1913: 18 I. C. 834: 77 P. W. R. 1913.

——S. 55 (d)—Sale—Interest on purchase-money—Vendee's duty to prepare draft.

When a purchaser is in actual possession or receipt of the rents and profits he must pay interest upon his purchase-money (unless lying idle with notice of the fact to the vendor) from the time fixed for completion of the transaction. It is the purchaser's business to propose a proper draft of the sale deed and submit it to the vendor. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) DINKAR RAO v. AYUB. 1923 Nag. 37.

——Ss. 56 and 82—Applicability—Contribution—Several villages mortgaged.

Sarju mortgaged his shares in eight villages to R. Four of these were already under three mortgages and they were discharged by the sale of 2 villages K and B, and a fourth share in D. Out of the mortgaged villages, the villages P, S, and one-eighth of D were purchased by deft. under a simple money decree, Sarju died and his son sued for contribution alleging that his village L had paid more than was due under the mortgage in favour of R, held, he was entitled to contribution and that S. 56 did not apply to the present case. (Mears, C. J. and Banerji, J.) RAMA SHANKAR PROSAD v. GHULAM HOSSAIN. 19 A. L. J. 584: 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 88: 63 I. C. 209: 43 A. 589.

——S. 56, 82—Applicability — Purchasers of different properties subject to same mortgage.

The rule of equity embodied in S. 56, T. P. Act is limited to a case in which the party claiming marshalling is a purchaser and the party against whom it is claimed is the original mortgagor and has no application as between purchasers of several properties subject to the same mortgage. As between such purchasers the several properties are liable to contribute to the mortgage debt in proportion to their values. 31 Cal. 95 Foll. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) DIN DAYAL v. GURSARAN LAL. 42 All. 336: 59 I. C. 67: 18 A. L. J. 287.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 56.

——Ss. 56, 81 and 88—Marshalling of securities—Scope of S. 58.

In 1896, deft. No 1 mortgaged ten lands to V. for Rs. 400 of which Rs. 200 was paid in cash and the rest was to be paid to N, a prior mortgagee. V having failed to pay N, 1st deft sold to 5th deft. items 6 to 10 of the lands mortgaged and other property and redeemed N's mortgage by paying Rs. 200 to 1st deft. Shortly afterwards the 1st deft. mortgaged 4 items to deft. No. 4 for Rs. 500. The deft. No. 4 sued on his mortgage and obtained a decree against 1st deft. In execution of the decree the 4 items were sold and purchased by deft. No. 4. V then sued on his mortgage treating it as one for Rs. 400. to recover the amount by sale of all the 10 numbers. Held, that V could not treat his mortgage as one for Rs.400, that as he failed to pay Rs.200 to N either at once or within a reasonable time, there was partial failure of consideration for the mortgage, that the subsequent payment of Rs. 200 to deft. No. 1 could not undo the effect of that failure, so as to prejudice the rights of deft. No. 5 and that the Court could under S. 88 pass in such a suit a decree for sale, ordering that, in default of 1st deft. in paying the mortgaged property or a sufficient part thereof be sold. Per Curiem :—S. 56 applies only as between a seller and his buyer. not as between a mortgagee of the seller and the buyer. (Chandavarkar and Heaton, JJ.) SUBRAYA VKNKATESH v. GANPA. 35 Bom. 395 : 11 I. C. 989 : 13 Bom. L. R. 678.

——Ss. 56 and 81—Mortgage—Purchaser of equity of redemption.

A mortgagee without notice of a previous mortgage or of the decree thereon has a right as against the mortgagor to have the first mortgage satisfied out of properties other than those mortgaged to him. (Richardson and Newbould, JJ.) TARA PRASANNA BOSE v. NILAMONI KHAN. 25 I. C. 118 : 41 Cal. 418.

——S. 56—Transfer of property subsequent to mortgage—Mortgage decree satisfied by mortgagor—Contribution.

Where a mortgagor makes a transfer subsequent to the mortgage, e. g., a lessee. the presumption is that the subsequent transferees are not burdened with a liability to discharge the original mortgage in whole or in part. If the mortgagor satisfies the original mortgage he cannot claim contribution from the subsequent transferees in respect of the money paid by him towards the satisfaction. If the mortgagor claims contribution a covenant to that effect must be proved. 38 All. 237: 12 M. L. J. 13 and 39 M. 795. Dist. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C. and Daniels, A. J. C.) GAJRAJ KUAR v. INDRAPAL KUAR. 21 O. C. 360 : 49 I. C. 406 : 6 O. L. J. 7.

——S. 56—Scope of—Prior mortgagee accquiring portion of equity of redemption—Puisne mortgagee's right.

S. 56 of the T. P. Act applies only to cases where the party claiming marshalling is a purchaser and the party against whom it is claimed is the original mortgagor. Where a prior mortgagee has acquired the equity of redemption in proceedings to which the puisne mortgagee is not a party, the puisne mortgagee is not thereby necessarily deprived of his ordinary right of bringing the mortgaged property to sale subject to the first mortgage. (Fawcett, J.C. and Crump, A, J. C.) HIROMAL v. THAILIOMAL. 28 I. C. 49 : 8 S. L. R. 257.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (a)—Mortgage, meaning of.

——S. 58

See also MORTGAGE.

S. 58 (a) MORTGAGE, MEANING OF.
S. 58 (b) SIMPLE MORTGAGE.
S. 58 (c) MORTGAGE BY CONDITIONAL SALE.
S. 58 (d) USUFRUCTUARY MORTGAGES.
S. 58 (e) ENGLISH MORTGAGE.

S. 58 (a)—[Mortgage, meaning of.]

——S. 58 (a)—Mortgage—Payment of prior mortgagee by partner does not create a mortgage.

Where a partner of a firm on entering into the partnership redeemed a mortgage and kept with him the title-deeds, but there was no entry in the account books as to the creation of a mortgage from that date, the transaction must be treated as merely an advance by one partner to another and not a mortgage. (Viscount Haldane,) HENG MOH AND Co. v. LIM SAW YEAN. 45 M. L.J. 776 : 18 L. W. 92 : (1923) M. W. N. 614 : 33 M. L. T. 430 : 1 Rang 545 : 1923 P. C. 87. (P. C.)

——S. 58 (a)—Mortgagee—If can insist that manager be appointed—Manager. agent of mortgagor—Liability for waste and mismanagement.

Before lending money, a mortgagee has a perfect right to insist upon the mortgagor appointing a manager of the estate mortgaged in whom the mortgagee has confidence and where such a manager is appointed is an agent of the mortgagor and the mortgagee is not liable for waste or mismanagement of the manager. The mere fact that very wide powers are given to the manager would not, in the absence of any thing suggest that the mortgagor was misled or was under undue influence, or pressure, render the mortgage unenforceable. (Sir John Edge.) MOTI LAL DAS v. THE EASTERN MORTGAGE AND AGENCY Co. (1920) M. W. N. 631 : 28 M. L. T. 351 : 47 I. A. 265 : 2 U. P. L. R. (P. C.) 166: 61 I C. 486 : 25 C. W. N. 265 (P.C.).

——Ss. 58 (a) and 100—Security bond—Mortgage or charge—No personal liability.

Where an Appellate Court directed a decree holder to furnish security for mesne profits on his taking possession of the properties decreed to him and two persons offered security in the following terms : "We, the declarants, furnish security for one lakh of rupees hypothecating the undermentioned properties therefor. and declare that the hypothecated properties shall serve as security and be liable to the extent of one lakh of rupees for carrying out the aforesaid purpose."

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (a)—Mortgage, meaning of.

Held, that there was no personal liability on the part of the sureties and that the document merely created a charge. (Lord Phillimore.) RAJ RAGHUBAR SINGH v. JAI INDRA BAHADUR SINGH. 42 All. 158 : 22 O.C. 212 : 6 O.L. J. 682 : 38 M. L J. 302 : 18 A. L. J. 263 : 22 Bom.L. R. 521 : 55 I. C. 550 : 13 L. W. 82 (P.C.).

———Ss. 58 (a) and 100—Equitable charge—Creation of—Writing.

Writing is essential to the creation of an equitable charge over moneys due under an Insurance Policy. The English decisions are inapplicable. (Lord Moulton.) MULRAJ KHATAU v. VISHWANATH. 37 Bom. 198 : 40 I. A. 24 : (1912) M. W. N. 1247 : 12 M. L. T. 652 : 11 A. L. J. 7 : 24 M. L. J. 60 : 17 C. W. N. 209 : 15 Bom. L. R. 9 : 17 I. C. 627 : 17 C. L. J. 162 (P. C.)

———S. 58 (a) and (b)—Simple mortgage—Provision for entering into possession on default of payment of interest—Effect of.

Under a simple mortgage, the mortgage money including interest was to be paid in two instalments failing the payment of any one instalment the mortgagee was entitled to take possession of the property and pay himself the principal and interest out of the usufruct. The mortgagee did take possession under that clause. Held that the relationship between the parties continued to be that of a mortgagor and mortgagee under a simple mortgage. The mortgagor did not lose his right of redemption by the fact that the mortgagee was given an additional security for his money by taking possession of the land, 21 M.L. J. 1147 (P. C.) Rel. (Batten. J. C.) PUNA v. LAXMAN PRASAD. 1923 A 232.

———Ss. 58 (a) and 57—Consideration—Partial—Suit for foreclosure by mortgagee i maintainable.

A decree for foreclosure may be passed in a suit by a mortgagee by conditional sale even if full consideration had not been paid by him. 59 P. R. 1907 Disappr. (Karamat Husain and Chamier. JJ.) RASHIKLAL v. RAMNARAIN. 34 All. 273 ; 13 I. C. 573 : 9 A. L. J. 198.

———S. 58 (a)—Consideration—Failure of consideration—Mortgage if enforceable.

A mortgage is unenforceable where there is a failure of consideration for the same ; where the consideration for a mortgage is an intended assignment by the mortgagee and such an assignment is not made, there is failure of consideration and the mortgage is unenforceable. (Karamat Husain and Chamier, JJ.) PARBHUN NARAIN SINGH v. DEO RAJ SINGH. 11 I. C. 4.

———Ss 58 (a) and 100—Mortgage—Charge—Construction.

Where in a certain document the plaintiff's property which was made security for a debt was described as 'hypothecated", the document creates a mortgage and not merely a charge. (Stanley. C. J. and Banerjee, J.) MOHOMAD HUSSAIN v. VINAYAK RAO. 9 I. C. 828.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (a)—Mortgage, meaning of.

———S. 58 (a)—Mortgage —Consideration—Partial payment—Effect of.

The validity of a bond is not effected by the fact that the consideration recited was not paid in full; the bond is operative to the extent of the sum actually advanced. 10 C. W. N. 932 Ref. (Mookerjee and Buckland, JJ.) KRISHNA v. NAGENDRABALA. 25 C. W. N. 942 : 66 I C. 694 : 34 C. L. J. 333.

———S. 58 (a)—Consideration—Proof of.

If the evidence shows that the payment of consideration in the mortgage bond is false, the mortgagee must prove it by some other cogent evidence. (Teunon and Greaves, JJ.) BHUT NATH v. KALI PRASAD. 50 I. C. 71.

———S. 58 (a)—Consideration—Enforcement.

At the time of the execution of a mortgage for Rs. 3,000 only Rs. 1,000 were advanced and the balance kept in deposit with the mortgagee. It was subsequently paid over to the mortgagor, on a registered receipt after the expiry of the due date of repayment stipulated in the mortgage bond. Held, for the balance of Rs. 2,000 subsequently advanced, the mortgagee could recover the whole amount of Rs. 3,000 by a suit on the mortgage security. (Fletcher and Huda, JJ.) KASINATH MITRA v. DHIKAN CHARAN MAITY. 45 I. C. 778.

———S. 58 (a)—Mortgage debt—Moveable.

Under Hindu as under English law, mortgage is treated as personal or moveable property, the land being merely security for the money lent. (Richardson and Fletcher, JJ.) SURESSUR v. MOHASH RANI. 31 I. C. 983 : 20 C. W. N. 142.

———Ss. 58 (a) and 67—Intangible property—Mortgagee's remedies.

A pala or turn of worship is intangible property and a mortgagee thereof is entitled to foreclose the mortgage like a pledgee or mortgagee of chattels or lands, (Mookerjee and Beachcroft. JJ.) MAHAMAYADEBI v. HARIDAS HOLDAR. 42 Cal. 455 : 20 C. L. J. 183 : 27 I. C. 400 : 19 C. W. N. 208.

———Ss. 58 (a) and 100—Mortgage and charge—Distinction between—Remedies.

A mortgage is a transfer of an interest in specific immoveable property. A charge only secures payment of money out of that property. The distinction is important in the determination of the question whether the property can be followed in the hands of a bona fide purchaser for value without notice. A charge cannot be enforced against the property in the hands of a bona fide purchaser for value without notice. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) AKSHOY KUMAR BANERJEE v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (a)—Mortgage, meaning of.

42 Cal. 625 : 19 C. W. N. 37 : 21 C. L. J. 177 : 27 I. C. 261 : 44 I. C. 734.

See also

——Ss. 58 (a) and 59—Immoveable property—Turn of worship if.

A turn of worship in a temple is not an interest in immoveable property and S. 59 of the T. P. Act does not apply to it. 4 C. 683 Rel. (D. Chatterjee and Teunon, JJ.) JATO KAR v. MUKUND DEB. 39 Cal. 227 : 14 C. L. J. 369 : 11 I. C. 884 : 16 C. W. N. 129.

——S. 58 (a)—Consideration — Failure—Effect.

As a mortgage is a mere security for a loan, if there is no consideration for the loan, the mortgage also fails. (Le Rossignol, J.) ARJAN SINGH v. BAKHTAWAR SINGH. 1924 L. 381.

——S. 58 (a)—Vendee from mortgagor—Position of.

A purchaser from a mortgagor is as much bound as the latter, as regards the liability of the property mortgaged, for the debt due to the mortgagee. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Harrison, J.) MALAN v. TARA SINGH. 63 I. C. 744.

——S. 58 (a)—Mortgage—Period for redemption fixed—Interest.

Where a shop was mortgaged three times to the same mortgagee and the third mortgage provided that the mortgagor will continue to pay interest, that he will redeem this mortgage as well as the previous mortgages in one year and that otherwise, after the expiration of the prescribed period the shop was to be considered as sold to the mortgagee, held, that the intention of the parties was that the relationship of mortgagor and mortgagee should cease after the expiry of the period fixed for payment and that therefore interest ceased to run after the expiry of the stipulated period. (Broadway and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) MUNSHI LAL v. TEJ RAM. 63 I. C. 533.

——S. 58 (a)—Specific immoveable property—Future crops—Transferee without notice—Liability of.

A hypothecation of future crop becomes complete when the crop is grown and the produce realised and is enforceable against a transferee of such produce with notice of the obligee's equitable interest but not against a transferee without notice. 10 A. 133 Foll. (Martineau, J.) SAWAY RAM v. FATTU RAM. 56 I. C. 489.

——S. 58 (a)—Consideration—Non-payment of consideration— Possession of mortgaged property.

A puisne mortgagee's failure to prove the payment of part of the consideration for the mortgage does not debar him from recovering possession on redemption of a prior mortgage. (Shadi Lal, J.) BUDHA v. MULRAJ.
48 I. C. 916 : 8 P. W. R. 1919.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (a)—Mortgage, meaning of.

——S. 58 (a)—Mortgage—If can be created by Court.

A mortgage can be created by a decree and it stands practically on the same footing as one created by contract inter partes. (Shah Din and Scott Smith, JJ.) DEBI SAHAI v. RAMJI LAL.
56 P. R. 1918: 46 I. C. 460 : 127 P.W.R. 1918.

See also 14 I. C. 213.

——S. 58 (a)—Transfer of interest—When complete.

In the absence of a contract to the contrary a mortgage is complete (i.e.) the transfer of interest is effected when the mortgage contract is entered into and not when the consideration therefor is paid or made good. (Johnstone, C.J., Chevis, Smith, Shadi Lal and Le Rossignol, JJ.) ALLAH DITTA v. NAZAR DIN. 51 P. W. B. 1916 : 33 I. C. 474 : 53 P. R. 1916 (F. B.).

——S. 58 (a)—Consideration—Suit by mortgagee—Mortgagor admitting payment prior to mortgage.

The Full Bench Ruling in 59 P. R. 1907 (F.B.) does not apply to a case where the mortgagor states that he has actually been paid prior to the mortgage whereas in fact such payment has not been made. (17 I. C. 235 Foll.) (Rattigan and Beadon, JJ.) MUNI LAL v. CHATTAR SINGH.
67 P. R. 1914 : 25 I. C. 595 : 232 P. L. R. 1914.

——S. 58 (a)—Consideration not actually paid—Plea of part failure whether can be raised—Estoppel.

Where a mortgage-deed recites payment of full consideration, the mortgagor is estopped from pleading failure of part consideration so as to render the mortgage unenforceable ; the rule that a mortgage is unenforceable when there is a partial failure of consideration does not apply to a case where the consideration relates to a payment made in the past. (Kensington and Rattigan, JJ.) KARAM CHAND v. BASANT KUAR.
192 P. L. R. 1911 : 31 P. R. 1911 : 11 I. C. 321 : 236 P. W. R. 1911.

——Ss. 58 (a), 59 and 100—Mortgage or—charge—Security for a debt without transfer of interest.

If a document purports to treat an immoveable property as a security for a debt but no interest in the property is transferred the whole thing amounts to a charge and not to a mortgage. (John Wallis, C. J. and Oldfield, J.) RAMASWAMI IYENGAR v. M. V. KUPPUSAMI AIYAR.
14 L. W. 99 : 56 I. C. 554 (2) : (1921) M. W. N. 472.

——S. 58 (a)—'Mortgage money' includes interest.

Per Wallis, C.J.—'Mortgage money' in S. 58 (a) includes interest and if it is in arrears, the mortgagee can realise the same by sale of sufficient portion of the security though the principle money has not become payable. Per Sadasiva Aiyar, J :—Mere failure to keep down the interest by punctual payments, would not put an end to the term provided for in the mortgage-deed for the re-payment of the principal amount. (Wallis, C. J. and Sadasiva Aiyar, J.) ARUNACHALA CHETTIAR v. RAJAH OF KALAHASTI.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (a)—Mortgage, meaning of.

13 L. W. 312 : 29 M. L. T. 176 : 32 I. C. 505 : (1921) M. W. N. 172.

——S. 58 (a) and 100—Mortgage—Charge—Future debt—Property specified—Deed, when becomes operative.

Where a document of indemnity before a specific date, contained a covenant to pay and also specified the property to be sold in case the debt was not paid, the deed creates a mortgage and not merely a charge. 23 M.L.J. 131, 29 I. C. 605 Foll. A mortgage takes effect on the date of its execution unless the parties contemplated the bringing into existence the mortgage on a future date even though the debt secured is a future date. The mortgagee will have a priority over any intermediate mortgage subsequently created though at the time when the future debt had not come into existence. (Spencer and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) NARAYANASWAMI RAO v. RAMASAWMI.
60 I.C. 611 : 12 L. W. 674.

——S. 58 (a) and (c)—Mortgage—Construction—Simple and usufructuary mortgage—Combination.

A mortgage-deed provided for repayment of the principal and interest at a certain rate within a fixed time until when the mortgagee was to be in possession and pay revenue. On default to pay on due date the mortgagee was to treat the land as sold to him for the amount due and the mortgagor was not then to exercise his right of redemption. Held (1) that the mortgage was combination of simple and usufructuary mortgages (2) that it is not necessary to state in a usufructuary mortgage deed that the mortgagee is to appropriate the profits in lieu of interest. If it is not stated that he is not to appropriate profits in satisfaction of the principal the inference from the deed is that they are to be applied towards advance; (3) that an appropriation in part-payment of interest alone can make the mortgage transaction a combination of simple and usufructuary mortgage; (4) that in ascertaining the nature of the mortgage deed if the essentials of any one of the four kinds of mortgages are present other recitals should be ignored but if they are not present the parties should be dealt with according to the terms of their contract. (Wallis, C. J., Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) KANDULAL VENKAIAH v. DONGA PILLAI. 43 Mad. 589 : (1920) M.W.N. 349 : 57 I. C. 724 : 28 M.L.J. 56 : 13 L. W. 123

——S. 58 (a) and 100—Charge—Mortgage—Distinction—Covenant to pay.

Per Sadasiva Aiyar, J.—Even if there is no personal covenant to pay, a document creating a charge on specific immoveable property is a mortgage and not a mere charge liable to be defeated by a plea of bona fide purchase for value without notice. Distinction between charge and mortgage considered. 33 Cal. 985 Not Foll. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) SRINIVASA RAGHAVA IYENGAR v. RANGANATHA.
25 M.L.T. 347 : 51 I.C. 963 : 36 M.L.J. 618.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S: 58 (a)—Mortgage, meaning of.

——S. 58 (a)—Consideration— Non-payment of.

When a contract of mortgage becomes an executed conveyance the deed could not be cancelled for mere non-payment of consideration. Consequently where a registered mortgage is made, it is not void or voidable because of non-payment of consideration. (Phillips and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) ABDUL HASHIM v. KADER BATCHA. 42 Mad. 20 : 8 L.W. 543 . 35 M.L.J. 740 : 48 I. C. 370 : (1918) M W.N. 769 : 24 M.L.T. 478.

——S. 58 (a)—Consideration—Partially paid up—Pro tanto charge.

A mere default on the part of the lender to pay the full amount of the charge would not deprive him of his lien in respect of the money actually advanced. A property can be specific so long as it is identifiable, though it may not be in existence on the date of the transfer. A transfer, therefore, if otherwise valid, is not rendered inefficacious by reason of the subject-matter not having been in existence on the date of the agreement. Where a loan is charged on a fund to come into existence in the future the charge attaches to the property on its coming into existence. Where moneys advanced for financing a litigation are charged on the properties to come into existence in a particular manner but a compromise is effected in a totally different manner the lien will not attach itself to the substituted property. (Ayling and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) FUSAPATHI VENKATAPATHI RAJU v. VENKATA SUBHADRAYAMMA.
47 I. C. 563.

——S. 58 (a)—Consideration—Partial failure of.

It is open to a mortgagor to show that there has been actual failure of consideration in respect of part of the debt. The mortgage is good for the balance. 2 M. 212, 36 M. 117 Ref. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Phillips, JJ.) ZAMINDAR OF KARVETINAGAR v. SUBBARAYA PILLAI.
(1918) M.W.N. 146 : 43 I.C. 871 : 7 L. W. 36.

——S. 58 (a), (b), (c), (d) and (e)—Scope and effect.

The definitions of the various classes of mortgages in S. 58 should not be read as amplifying the quantum of interest conferred on the mortgagee. Cls. (b), (c) and (d) prescribe only forms in which the mortgages are to be expressed ; and the legal effect is indicated in Cl. (a). When property is situated in the muffasil and one of the parties is a Hindu, a mortgage though styled English mortgage does not transfer an absolute interest to the mortgagee 7 C. 394 Dist. (Wallis, C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) ANSUR SUBBA v. SECRETARY OF STATE. 41 I.C. 770 : (1917) M. W. N. 794.

——S. 58 (a)—Consideration —Failure of—Right of mortgagor to prove.

Where the mortgagee stands in a fiduciary relation to the mortgagor, the latter can prove failure of consideration by proving circumstances which would entitle him to go behind the settled account comprised in the mortgage and showing that the whole or part of the amount was not really due. 35 Mad. 114; 2 Mad. 212 Foll. An attaching creditor can question the correctness of the whole account on which a mortgage of the attached property is founded. 35 Cal. 1051 Foll. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) RAJA KUMARA VENKATA PERUMAL RAJU v. UDDAGIRI PAPA NAIDU. 41 I.C. 208 : 21 M.L.T. 351.

——— ——Ss. 58 (a) and 100—Mortgage or charge—Implied covenant to pay.

Under the contract between the stake-holders and subscribers to a chit there was the usual provision that the prize-winner should execute a security bond before he receives the prize-money. Held, the document so executed amounted to a mortgage and not merely charge, though there was no express covenant to pay. (Oldfield and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) VENKATA RAMA CHETTY v. PANCHANATHA AIYAR. 38 I. C. 813 : (1916) 2 M. W. N. 263.

———S. 58 (a)—Immoveable property—Specific performance—Right to.

A mere right to specific performance cannot be the subject of a mortgage. (Coutts Trotter and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) NOCHAT KIZAKI MADATHI VENKATESHWARA v KALUR ILLATH RAMAN. 3 L. W. 435 . 33 I. C. 696 : 19 M. L. T. 329.

———S. 58 (a) and 100 — Security bond—Transfer of interest—Charge or mortgage.

A security bond, after reciting an order of the Court, stated that "we have for a sum not exceeding Rs. 300 made over properties mentioned below as security." Held, that the document did not transfer any interest in the property nor was there any existing or future debt or an agreement which might give rise to a pecuniary liability .It merely created a charge. (Sankaran Nair and Bakewell, JJ.) RAMACHARIAR v. DORASAMI. 29 I. C. 605.

———S. 58 (a)—Transfer of interest— If essential.

A formal transfer of interest or the express mention of a power of bringing the property to sale is not essential for a mortgage. 21 M. L. J. 562 ; 23 M. L. J. 131 ; 27 M. L. J. 58 Foll. A document styling itself Adamanakadan pathiram and giving sufficiently accurate description of the property and reciting the amount due thereunder is a mortgage within S. 31 of the Limitation Act even though words expressing a transfer of interest and giving a power of sale are absent. (Sankaran Nair and Spencer, JJ.) PONNURANGA v. THANDAVARAYA. 1 L. W. 1025 : 26 I. C. 274 : (1915) M. W. N. 21.

———S. 58 (a)—Transfer of interest—Implied—Mortgage.

Where a document recited among other things, the existence of another document executed by the father of the present executant, the loan of Rs. 55 to carry interest from the date of execution, and also the delivery of possession of land to be enjoyed in lieu of principal and interest for 13 years and also the rights to collect from the tenants and containing a clause for redelivery of possession at the end of the term, and styled as Diggu Bogam it was held that the document was a mortgage as there was a transfer of an interest in specific immoveable property and not merely an assignment of the income for a period. (Ayling and Hannay, JJ.) ANANTHA v. RAMASAMI. 16 M. L. T. 444 : 26 I.C. 71 : (1914) M. W. N. 891.

———S. 58 (a)—Consideration—Failure of.

A mortgage without consideration is a nullity; it creates no charge on property and is unenforceable against a subsequent purchaser. 21 Mad. 56 Dist. (Tyabji and Spencer, JJ.) RAMASWAMY v. SUNDARA. 23 I. C. 805.

———S. 58 (a)—'Specific property'—Scope of and construction of—' Tanakha'.

The terms 'Tanakha' used in Ganjam District means a mortgage and is used there in no other sense, so that where the word is used twice in the operative portion of a document a mortgage is created. For purposes of S. 58 the expression " my jiroyati and inam lands which I own at the village of my residence Bramma Tarla of Tarla Taluk" is sufficiently 'specific' to interpret as meaning a mortgage. (Ayling and Oldfield, JJ.) DAKKATA THOTAPALLI v. SASANAPURI DALI SETHI. 1 L. W. 96 : 22 I. C. 524 : (1914) M. W. N. 270.

———S. 58 (a)—Essentials of mortgage.

Formal transfer of interest and an express power of sale are not essential elements of a mortgage. A covenant to pay is an essential element of a simple mortgage. A charge which is created by act of parties on specific immoveable property, for a debt and containing a covenant to pay is a mortgage. It further entitles the mortgagee to such possession as the case admits of. (Wallis and Ayling, JJ.) RAMA BRAHMAN v. VENKATANARASU PANTULU. 23 M.L.J. 131: 16 I. C. 209 : (1912) M. W. N. 1124.

———S. 58 (a)—Consideration—Sale.

The suit on the mortgage is maintainable where through the vendee's default the sale-deed was not registered, though he was put into possession and the vendor has taken a mortgage for the sale price. (Ayling and Spencer, JJ.) RAMA AIYAR v. VENKATARAMA AIYAR. 12 I. C. 310 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 241.

———S. 58 (a)—Consideration —Instalment decree.

A consent decree for payment of money due in instalment is good consideration for a mortgage executed simultaneously by the deft. for decree amount. In such a case the enforcement of the decree does not bar the plff.'s rights under the mortgage, (White, C. J. and Phillips, J.) KARUPPAN v. PONNUSWAMI. 11 I. C. 837 : 10 M. L. T. 187.

———S. 58 (a)—Consideration—Partial—Full consideration not paid up.

A mortgage bond, the whole consideration of which has not been paid up is valid to the extent of the paid up consideration unless the mortgagor has expressly put an end to it. (Abdur Rahim and Ayling, JJ.) SUBBARAYA v. MANICKA. 9 M. L. T. 479 : 10 I. C. 258 : (1911) 1 M. W. N 265.

[See also 2 O. L. J. 488 : 8 O. C. 280 : 32 I. C. 341: and 29 I.C. 690 : 21 C. W. N. 401.]

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S 58 (a)—Mortgage, meaning of.

——S. 58 (a)—Consideration—Partial failure—Usufructuary mortgage.

Where part of the consideration is or becomes void, the mortgagees could not prescribe for a larger interest than that which actually passed and time did not run in their favour for the acquisition of a larger interest by the mere assertion of it to the knowledge of the mortgagor. (Krishnaswami Aiyar and Ayling, JJ.) TIRUMAL v. PANDLA MUTHIAL. 35 Mad. 114 : 9 M. L. T. 286 : 21 M. L. J. 169 : 9 I. C. 289 : (1917) 1 M. W. N. 113.

——S. 58 (a)—Mortgage—Implied covenant to pay.

There is an implied personal covenant to pay in the case of most mortgages, except where there is a right of sale under the mortgage itself 44 C. 388 Ref. (Hallifax and Dhobley, A. J. C.) JIWANDAS v. JANKI. 5 N. L. J. 49 : 18 N. L. R. 145 : 1922 Nag. 98.

——S. 58 (a) and 67—Immoveable property—Malikhana rights—Rights of mortgagee.

Where in lieu of a money-debt a superior proprietor gives possession of malikhana rights of a village and covenants not to claim the property till satisfaction of the debt, the agreement amounts to a hypothecation of the property The mortgagee is entitled to a decree for sale of his proprietary rights. (Mittra, O. A. J. C.) RAM GHULAM v. BALA PRASAD. 27 I. C. 498 : 10 N. L. R. 185.

——S. 58 (a)—Mortgage charge—Distinction between.

The distinction between the two kinds of deeds is that a mortgage imports while the charge does not import an agreement express or implied governing the disposal of property in some way on default being made. In other words in the case of a simple mortgage the right to sell the security on default of payment is created when the mortgage is effected where as in a charge the statutory right to have the security sold arises only when default is made and not till then. (Stanyon, A. J. C.) KHEM CHAND v. MALLO. 26 I. C. 601 : 10 N. L. R. 81.

——S. 58 (a)—Mortgage—Consideration—Portion of, with mortgagee to pay off—Prior mortgage—Failurs to pay—Effect of.

Where a portion of the consideration, for a mortgage is left with the mortgagee to pay off a prior mortgage and he fails so to pay, he is responsible for any additional sum payable to the prior mortgagee. (Wazir Hasan, A.J.C.) RAGHUBAR SINGH v. SANWAL SINGH. 8 O. L. J. 23 : 61 I. C. 125 : 3 U. P. L. R. (J. C.) 9.

——S. 58 (a)—Consideration— Partial payment—Usufructuary mortgage.

A mortgagor has no right to elect between delivery of possession or redemption when part of consideration was paid and part is being offered. The mortgagor must give up possession on receipt of the balance. Though part of consideration was paid and part is to be paid to creditors of the mortgagor, the mortgage is good if the unpaid part is paid. (Lyle, A. J. C.) GAJADHAR CHAUBEY v. SANT BAKSH SINGH. 58 I. C. 161 : 7 O. L. J. 425.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (a)—Mortgage, meaning of.

——S. 58 (a)—Consideration—Failure of.

The consideration for a mortgage may be money paid or promised to be paid afterwards. In the latter case, there is no failure of consideration unless the mortgagee expresses his unwillingness to keep his promise or has by his conduct disqualified himself from carrying out his part of the contract. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) NAROTAM PRASAD v. SHANKAR SINGH. 52 I. C. 91 : 22 O. C. 112.

——S. 58 (a) — Consideration — Partial failure—Effect of.

Though only a part of the consideration for a mortgage is proved, the mortgagee is entitled to possession of or a lien on the mortgaged property to the extent of the money advanced. (Kanhaiya Lal, Offg. A.J.C. and Daniels, A. J.C.) SANKATA DIN v. HAR BAKSH SINGH. 50 I. C. 952.

——S. 58 (a)—Consideration— Mortgagor and mortgagee — Accounts — Overstatement of consideration—Mistake.

Though a mortgagee is put in possession of the mortgaged property on condition of his appropriating the income of the properties towards interest still it is open to the mortgagor to show the mistake in the consideration stated in the mortgage. The mortgagor is entitled to interest on the amount by which the consideration stated exceeded the real amount paid. (Lindsay, J. C.) PARTAB SINGH v. BALWANT SINGH. 48 I. C. 550 : 5 O. L. J. 670.

——S. 58 (a)—Consideration—Deposit of the loans with mortgagee—Suit for the recovery of the deposit—Not a suit to enforce a contract—Small Cause Court

Where a mortgagor allows the whole or part of his loan to remain with the mortgagee on the understanding that it is to be taken by him from time to time, the transaction is to be regarded as a deposit of money with an agent or banker repayable on demand without interest. It is not a contract of loan, and so a suit lies for its recovery in the Small Cause Court. (Lindsay, J. C.) MUSSAMMAT RANJITA v. MUSSAMMAT RUKMIN. 34 I. C. 387.

——S. 58 (a)—Mortgage—Validity of unregistered deed of gifts—Rights under—Mortgage in consideration of.

The common ancestor of the defts. executed in 1891 a mortgage-deed in favour of one K. in consideration of a debt-due to the latter's deceased husband from the former. In 1897 the widow executed a deed of gift in favour of the plff., conveying all her rights under the mortgage-deed to him, but she died before the deed of gift could be registered. Subsequently the plff. obtained from the legal representative of the widow in 1899 under a Registered deed, all rights possessed by the legal representative under the deed of 1891. In consideration of the sum due under the deed of 1891, the defts. executed in 1898 a mortgage in favour of the plff. In a foreclosure suit by the plffs., the defts. pleaded that the deed of 1898 was obtained by fraud as the plff. had represented that all the rights under the deed of 1891 were lawfully transferred to him while in fact the transfer in his favour was void in law.—Held, that, (1) Under the circumstances the defts. could not plead undue influence and fraud. (2) The deed of 1897 could be admitted in evidence both as an evidence of circumstances under which the mortgage-deed of 1898 was executed and as regards the question of fraud and consideration. (3) The mortgage was one by conditional sale and the consideration for it was the discharge of the defts. from the liability under the deed of 1891 from which liability the plff. after obtaining the deed of 1899, could free the defts. and that was a good consideration. (Piggott, C. J. and Lindsay, A. J. C.) LALA ATAL BEHARI LAL v. NARPET SINGH. 20 I. C. 47 (2).

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (a.—Mortgage, meaning of.

——— Ss. 58 (a) and 100—Mortgage or charge —Distinction.

Every document must be interpreted on its own terms and not in the light of other cases. A mere agreement that no redemption of an earlier mortgage will be allowed before the amount borrowed later is paid, does not effect a charge on the property. (Lindsay, A. J. C.) GANESH PRASAD v. BISRAM SINGH. 18 I. C. 461.

——— Ss. 58 (a) and 105—Mortgage or lease—Zuripeshgi—Redemption—Existence of debt.

The test to find out whether a zuripeshgi is a mortgage or lease is to find out whether there is a secured debt and a right of redemption. In a zuripeshgi lease properly so called there is an advance to the lessor in consideration of which the lessee is given possession of the land for a term during which he recoups himself for the sum advanced and interest out of the profits of the land of which he is put in possession. There is no question of redemption upon paying off an advance. The lease terminates at the expiration of the term and the lessor may thereupon re-enter. The transaction is really one in which rent is paid in a lump sum in advance instead of by instalments during the term. Where however the interest created in the lease after the expiration of the term until the advance which is essentially loan not an advance of rent, is repaid, the transaction has the essential characteristics of a mortgage. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) MAHARAJAH KESHO PRASAD SINGH v. CHANDRIKA PRASAD SINGH. 2 P. 217 : 3 P. L. T. 797 : 1923 P. 122.

——— Ss. 58 (a) and 100—Mortgage or charge—Distinction—Lease—Security of property for rent.

Where a lease deed in addition to making the lessee personally liable for rent made certain property the security for the same and restrained the lessee from alienating such property so long as the rent remained unpaid. Held, the transaction did not amount to a mortgage. The broad distinction between a mortgage and a charge is that whereas the latter only gives a right to payment out of a particular fund or property without transferring that fund or property, a mortgage is in essence a transfer of an interest in specific immoveable property. The line of division is clear in England, but is not so well marked in

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (a)—Mortgage, meaning of.

India. (Das and Adami, JJ.) SHIVA PRASAD SINGH v. BENI MADHAB CHOWDHURY. 1 P. 387 : 4 P. L. T. 6 : 1922 P. 528.

——— S. 58 (a)—Mortgage—Consideration — Agreement not to prosecute—Validity of mortgage.

A decree-holder in attempting to execute his decree was resisted by a third party. The Court granted the decree-holder sanction to prosecute the obstructor. An agreement was arrived at to the effect, that on a mortgage bond being executed by the judgment-debtor and the obstructor, for the amount of the decree the latter would not be prosecuted. In a suit to enforce the mortgage, illegality of consideration was pleaded in defence. Held, the bond was enforceable against all the defendants. The distinction between the motive for coming to an agreement and the actual consideration for the same must always be kept in view. (Das and Adami, JJ.) ADHIKANDA SAHU v. JOGI SAHU. 1 P. 164 : 1922 P. 502.

——— Ss. 58 (a) and 59—Mortgage—Operation of—Non-payment of consideration—Execution of sale deed—Priority.

In the absence of a provision in a mortgage that it is not to become effective until payment of the consideration money the mortgage becomes operative from the date of its execution. Consequently, where after the execution and registration of a mortgage the mortgagor executes a sale deed of the property the vendee does not get priority over the mortgagee even though the consideration for the mortgage was paid after the execution of the sale. (Das and Adami, JJ.) RAGHUNATH BHAGAT v. AMIR BAKHSH. 1 Pat. 281 : 3 Pat. L. T 307 : 1922 P. 299.

——— S. 58 (a)—Mortgage—Test of—Interest—Provision for.

A very important test to apply, wherever the question is raised whether a transaction amounts to a mortgage or not, is to see whether any interest is to run upon the sum of money that may be due by one party to another in consideration of which the transaction is entered into. If no interest is payable by the debtor to the creditor and if document expressly states that the transaction is entered into for the purpose of paying off the sum due by the debtor to the creditor it is difficult to understand how the transaction can be regarded as a mortgage. (Das and Adami, JJ.) KRISHNA KISHORE ADHIKARY v. THE KUSUNDA NYADI COLLIERIES, LTD. 1922 P 36.

——— S. 58 (a)—Mortgage—Unregistered — Mortgagee cannot resist redemption—"Once a mortgage always a mortgage".

A mortgagee in possession, under a mortgage requiring registration but not registered, cannot resist a redemption suit on the ground that the deed is unregistered and that he holds adversely, on the principle, of the maxim 'once a mortgage always a mortgage.' (Jwala Prasad, C. J. and Adami, J.) RAJPATI RAI v. SUKWAROKUER. 63 I. C. 400.

——— S. 58 (a)—Zuripeshgi lease—Construction.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (a)—Mortgage, meaning of.

A security bond contained the following stipulation : Whereas I, the executant, have taken (in settlement) the entire 16 As. of mouza. A forming the milkiat property of X for a period of 7 years at an invariable annual rent of Rupees 407 with Road, Public Works, and Dak cesses, therefore, I, executant, on executing this bond stand as security for the sum of Rs. 407 fixed as above. As security for the aforesaid stipulated amount, I pledge and mortgage upto the term of the Thicca to the said malik the entire 16 As. of my mouza B." It was contended that the rental of only one year was secured held that inasmuch as the executant had taken a lease of the property for a period of seven years, and given security for the payment of the rent, it was only reasonable to suppose that he intended to give security for the due payment of the rent during the period of the lease and not merely to secure the payment of rent for one year only. (Chapman and Atkinson, JJ.) GADADHAR PRASAD v. UMESH CHANDRA CHAKRAVARTHY. 2 Pat. L. J. 195.

——S. 58 (a)—Mortgage money—Interest—Right to.

Unless the interest is expressly secured by the mortgage, it is not included in the mortgage money. (Das and Adami, JJ.) PAWAN KUMAR CHAND v. DULARI KUAR. 58 I. C. 216 : 1 Pat L. T. 544.

——S. 58 (a)—Shares in a company—Mortgage—Effect of such mortgage—Scope of the T. P. Act.

Shares in indigo concerns in Bihar are a definite and specific kind of property and are a valid subject of a mortgage or transfer in any way. There are many mortgages known to English Law which it would be difficult or impossible to bring within the terms of the T. P. Act and yet they would be enforeceable in India, e.g., mortgage of a share or shares in a partnership. Cavendeer v. Bullock (1873) 9 Ch. 79 Ref. If a share is mortgaged, parties must intend that when foreclosure or sale takes place, the share shall pass to the mortgagee as it stands at date of sale or foreclosure. This would include not only accessions but also changes in good will and the like. 5 Cal. 198 (P. C.) Ref. (Chapman and Roe, JJ.) BHUPENDRA NATH v. WAJIHUNNISSA BEGAM. 2 Pat. L. J. 293 : 39 I. C. 564 : 3 Pat. L.W. 20.

——S. 58 (a)—Consideration—Payment of—Registration.

Per Jwala Prasad, J.—A mortgage is not invalid merely by non-payment of part of consideration. Per Mullick, J.—Registration alone does not validate a mortgage if there is a condition that the mortgage should not operate till the whole consideration money is paid. The person setting up such condition must prove it. (Mullick and Jwala Prasad, JJ.) RAKHAULAL v. HANUMAN BAKSH. 1 Pat. L. W. 250 : 38 I. C. 877 : 2 Pat. L. J. 168.

——S. 58 (a)—Consideration — Partially proved.

In a suit for possession by a mortgagee, the defts. raised a plea of want of legal necessity but a fair portion of such necessity was proved.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (b)—Simple mortgage.

Held, that details of transaction thirty years old could not be expected to be proved by the plff. and the land can be a security, at any rate for the amount shown to be for necessity. (Mullick, J.) KESHO PRASAD SINHA BAHADUR v. LALJI RAY. 35 I. C. 535 : 1 Pat. L. J. 138.

——S. 58 (a)—Delivery of possession of land as security for money in absence of writing or registration is not mortgage.

Where a person delivers possession of land to secure the payment of a debt but there is no writing or registration in evidence on the transaction, it is not a mortgage. In a suit the proper decree to be passed would be one for recovery of possession on repayment of the debt. (Pratt, J.) MAUNG AUNG v. MAUNG SHWE LIN. 1923 Rang. 51.

——Ss. 58 (a) and 69—Mortgage money—Interest—Mortgage with power of sale—Default of payment of interest.

When the mortgagee is given a power of sale at any time on default of payment of principal or interest and the sale proceeds are to be applied towards the payment of the principal and interest the document as a whole is subject to S. 69 of the T. P. Act and the right of redemption should be taken as dependent on punctual payment of the monthly interest as it falls due in the mean time. The power of sale can be exercised under S. 69 of the T. P. Act even if there is no default in respect of payment of the principal money. The term "mortgage money" includes interest along with the principal. (Twomey, C. J. and Parlett, J.) THE FIRM OF A. C. KUNDU v. ROOKOCHAND. 11 Bur. L. T. 147 : 43 I. C. 921 : 9 L. B. R. 106.

——S. 58 (a) and (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale—Test—Relationship of debtor and creditor.

The true test for determining whether a transaction amounts to a mortgage is whether a relation of debtor and creditor exists between the parties; a sale with right of re-purchase does not amount to a mortgage by conditional sale, if such a relation does not exist between the parties. (Twomey, J.) MA HUIN v. OSMAN GANI. 15 I. C. 423 : 5 Bur. L. T. 99.

S. 58 (b)—[Simple Mortgage].

——Ss. 58 (b), 59 and 68 (b) and (c)—Mortgage—Unenforceable for want of attestation—Personal covenant to pay—Dispossession—Lender if may sue on.

A loan prima facie involves a personal liability to pay ; and such a liability is not displaced by the mere fact that security is given for the repayment of the loan with interest ; but the nature and the terms of such security may negative any personal liability on the part of the borrower. Even if the mortgagor be in the first instance under no personal liability, such liability may arise under S. 68 (b) or (c) of the T. P. Act. The right of a mortgage to sue the mortgagor personally for the mortgage money arising out of any of the circumstances specified in S 8 of the T. P. Act is unaffected by the fact that the mortgage being unattested is unenforceable as a mortgage

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (b)—Simple mortgage.

(Lord Parker.) RAM NARAYAN SINGH v. AUHINDRA NATH. 44 Cal. 388 : 21 M. L. T. 12 : 15 A. L. J. 107 : (1917) M. W. N. 94 : 25 C. L. J. 121 : 21 C. W. N 383 : 19 Bom. L. R. 194 : 44 I. A. 87 : 38 I. C. 932 : 32 M. L. J. 39 (P. C.)

——Ss. 58 (b) and 98—Simple mortgage—Condition that mortgagee shall take possession—Default of payment of interest by the mortgagor—Decree for sale.

In a suit brought by the mortgagee against the mortgagor who had failed to pay the principal and interest, to enforce his mortgage, the single instrument styled a simple mortgage, provided : "If the whole or portion of the interest remains unpaid by the due date, the mortgagee shall take possession of the mortgaged properties immediately thereafter and enjoy the said properties as under a usufructuary mortgage" Held, that the mortgagee retained the position of simple mortgagee, and the mortgagor had not fulfilled his obligations and the decree for sale of the mortgaged property is right. (Lord Macnaughten.) LINGAM KRISHNA v. MANYA SULTAN. 15 C. W. N. 441 : 9 M. L. T. 445 : 8 A. L. J. 594 : 13 C. L. J. 584 : 13 Bom. L. R. 447 : (1911) 1 M. W. N. 429 : 10 I. C. 272 : 21 M. L. J. 1147 (P. C.).

——S. 58 (b)—Right of mortgagee to enforce whole claim against a portion of the property.

Where portions of mortgaged property go, subsequent to the mortgage, into different hands, the mortgagee is entitled unless he is himself a party to the disintegration, to sue to enforce the whole of his claim against any portion of the property. (Gokul Prasad and Stuart, JJ.) SURAJ MAL v. THAN SINGH. 64 I. C. 451 : 19 A. L. J. 917

——S. 58 (b)—Enforcement of security—Cause of action.

A leased certain property to B who mortgaged two items to A as security for due payment of rent. The rent fell due and A obtained a decree against B for the arrears. B subsequently sold one of the items to C. A then sued to enforce the lien against both the items, without impleading C and got a decree and the properties were sold in execution. A then sold to D all the rights he had acquired in the properties who sued C for a proportionate share of the arrears. Held, that D was entitled to recover the proportionate amount from C. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) MAHADEO RAI v. BALDEO RAI. 19 A. L. J. 478 : 63 I. C. 504 : 3 U. P. L. R (All.) 96.

——S. 58 (b)—Rights of mortgagee—Law before T. P. Act—Sale of unhypothecated property—Validity.

Under the law which existed prior to the passing of the T. P. Act (1882), the mortgagee could proceed against either the hypothecated property or any other property of the mortgagor. In the present case, he proceeded against the latter, and all the properties were put to sale. Held it was impossible to hold that this sale was a nullity. 2 C. 213 : 28 A. 295 Rel. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) O. DUNDIYA v. GIYANI RAM. 39 I. C. 119.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (b)—Simple mortgage.

——S. 58 (b)—Simple mortgage—Covenant against alienation—Effect of.

Where a document provided "I have borrowed Rs. 1,000 from so and so and one-third of the entire 20 Biswa Zemindary property belonging to me. I therefore covenant and give it in writing that I shall repay the aforesaid amount with interest, etc. Until payment, I shall not transfer the aforesaid property. If I do so, then such transfer shall be invalid. I have therefore executed these presents by way of land (Tamassuk)." Held, that the document did not constitute a simple mortgage as there was no transfer of a specific interest in immoveable property nor any power of sale conferred on him. A covenant against alienation is merely an assurance to the person advancing the money that there will be property available for the realisation of a money-decree in the event of his being driven to obtain one. Something more than this is required to create a mortgage. (Tudball, Rafique and Piggott, JJ.) MOHAN LAL v. INDOMATI. 39 All. 244 : 39 I. C. 18 : 15 A. L. J. 174 (F. B.).

——S. 58 (b)—Mortgage or charge.

Where the executant of a deed of transfer hypothecates the properties and covenants to pay interest and not to transfer the property so-long as the debt remain unpaid, the deed constitutes a simple mortgage and not a charge. (Richards, C.J. and Banerji, J.) KALYAN SINGH v. DAMMAR SINGH. 26 I. C. 752

——S. 58 (b)—Simple mortgage-deed—Construction of—Word "hypothecation" not mentioned in deed—Mortgage, if results.

A document intended to secure repayment of amounts borrowed, but which does not mention any fact of hypothecation of immoveable property nor refers to a right to bring any immoveable property to sale or non-payment of the amounts due, cannot merely because it refers to specific immoveable property which the executant agrees not to transfer until repayment of the loan, be construed as amounting to a simple mortgage. Per Banerjee, J.—In construing a document one should consider the intention of the parties, and if that intention can be gathered from the document itself it should be given effect to. The mere omission of the word 'mortgage' or of a clause giving the mortgagee a right to sell the property secured for the debt does not remove the document out of the category of an hypothecation. (Richards, C.J. and Banerji, J.) JWAHIR MAL v. RANI INDOMATI. 36 All. 201 : 22 I. C. 973 : 12 A. L. J. 290.

——S 58 (b)—Essentials of a simple mortgage—"Makful" and 'Mustagharak'—Meaning of.

Right of redemption is the essential condition of a mortgage. The words, 'Makful' and 'Mustagharak' ordinarily imply a power of sale, except where the parties intended otherwise The deed was not a simple mortgage. Property secured for maintenance allowance is not a mortgage. (Ryves and Lyle, JJ.) MUSUMA KHATUM v. TAHIRA KHATUM. 19 I. C. 661 : 11 A. L. J. 580.

——S. 58 (b)—Simple mortgage—Sale.

In a simple mortgage, the deed should indicate when read as a whole that the intention was that property was to be sold on default. (Ryves and Lyle, JJ.) MOTI BEGAM v. HAR PRASAD.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (b)—Simple mortgage.

19 I. C. 658 : 11 A. L. J. 570.

——S. 58 (b)—Simple mortgage—'Muakhiza".

To constitute a simple mortgage, there must be a transfer of an interest in specific immoveable property, (b) a personal undertaking by the mortgagor to pay the mortgage-money, and (c) an agreement, express or implied, that in the event of the mortgagor failing to pay according to his contract, the mortgagee shall have a right to cause the mortgaged property to be sold. The word "muakhiza" is not commonly employed to denote a simple mortgage. The root meaning of muakhiza is taking and the word is generally used in the sense of taking satisfaction or calling to account. (Karamat Husain and Chamier, JJ.) DALIP SINGH v. BAHADUR RAM. 34 All. 446 : 15 I. C. 435 : 9 A. L. J. 550.

——S. 58 (b)—Simple mortgage—Right of mortgagee.

A simple mortgagee's right under the T. P. Act is only to hold the property as security for his loan while the mortgagor continues to possess the property, and so when a simple mortgagee sues for sale, such suit is not one for possession of an interest in immoveable property. 30 M. 426 Foll. (Sanderson, C.J. and Mookerjee, J.) PRIYA SAKHI DEVI v. BIRESHWAR SAMANTA.
44 Cal. 425 : 21 C. W. N. 177 : 37 I. C. 277 : 27 C.L. J. 212.

——S. 58 (b)—Lekha Mukhi—Essential features of.

A lekha mukhi mortgage is a usufructuary mortgage by which the land is made over to the mortgagee who has to look to its produce for the payment of the mortgage-debt, the mortgagor undertaking no personal liability and the mortgagee not having the right to sue for the debt. (Bevan Petman, J.) KHANDULAL v. FAZEL.
51 I. C. 956 : 1 Lah. 21.

——S. 58 (b) and (d)—Mortgage—Simple or usufructuary—Tests of—Interest—Charge on property.

Under a mortgage-deed the mortgagee was to be in possession of the mortgaged properties and to set off the rents and profits towards interest and if any portion of the interest was unpaid the mortgagee might recover the interest month after month from the mortgagor. The mortgagors were to redeem the property on payment of the principal money. Held that the mortgage was neither a simple nor usufructuary mortgage and that the interest was not a charge on the mortgaged property. 2 A. 537, 33 A 107 Ref. (Schwabe, C.J. and Wallace, J.) NAMMALWAR CHETTY v. KRISHNASWAMI CHETTY. 16 L. W. 743 : 1923 Mad. 71.

——S. 58 (b)—Personal covenant—Mortgage.

A mortgage-deed containing a stipulation to redeem in any Chittirai month at the end of ten years does not imply a personal covenant to pay at once at expiry of the period. (Phillips and Krishnan, JJ.) RANGA PILLAI v. NARASIMHA AYYANGAR. 47 I. C. 852 : (1918) M. W. N. 672.

——Ss. 58 (b) and 100—Simple mortgage—Charge — Transfer of interest—Covenant to pay.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (b)—Simple mortgage.

A formal transfer of interest is an element of a mortgage document. A stipulation for repayment of a certain amount within a specified time involves a personal covenant to pay and the document is a simple mortgage and not a charge. 10 M. 509 ; 29 I.C. 605 Dist. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) SAMANDAN KARAKAT ETATHIL v. MAINKOTT VELLUA VETTIL. 6 L.W. 296 : 42 I. C. 349 : 33 M. L. J. 679.

——S. 58 (b)—Rights of mortgagor—Default on payment.

Mortgage is a security for repayment of debt. In a simple mortgage the mortgagor is and continues to be owner of the property before and after default of payment. (Coutts Trotter and Srinivasa Aiyangar, JJ.) SURAPUDI MUNIAPPA v. NOOKALA SESHAYYA. 32 I. C. 901 : 3 L. W. 341.

——S. 58 (b) and (d)—Simple and usufructuary mortgages—Construction of deed.

Where long after a simple mortgage the mortgagor gave a lease to the mortgagee, by which the rent was to be applied towards interest on the mortgage. Held, the two transactions must be deemed to be independent of each other and the simple mortgage was not converted into a usufructuary mortgage on the execution of the lease. 14 C.W.N. 1001, Dist. (Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI v. M. S. M. DORAISWAMI CHETTY. 31 I. C. 473.

——S. 58 (b)—Mortgage—Adamanam—Simple mortgage.

A document styling itself Adamanakaanpathiram and giving sufficiently accurate description of the property and reciting the amount due thereunder is a mortgage within S. 31 of the Lim. Act, even though words expressing a transfer of interest and giving a power of sale are absent (Sankaran Nair and Spencer, JJ.) PONNURANGA MUDALIAR v. THANDAVARAYA MUDALIAR.
1 L. W. 1025 : 26 I. C. 274 : (1915) M. W. N. 21.

——S. 58 (b)—Simple mortgage—Covenant to pay, essential.

A covenant to pay is essential in a simple mortgage. Where the mortgage recited "Whenever we pay the same to you, you shall receive it and give back the deed". Held, per Sadasiva Aiyar, J. (Seshagiri Aiyar, J. contra.) that there was no covenant to pay and the document only created a charge. 15 M. 304 Cons. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) RAGAPPA v. THAMAYYAPPA. 24 I. C. 372 : 26 M. L. J. 514.

——Ss. 58 (b), 67 and 98—Kanom mortgage—Right to bring property to sale—Provision as to re-payment—Whether 'Covenant to pay" within S. 67.

Though a Malabar kanom is an anomalous mortgage within S. 98 of the Act the provision as to re-paymont is not a "Covenant to pay" within the meaning of S. 67 of the Act. (Wallis and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) CHUNDAM VEETTIL PAZHAYATTAYIL v. C. P. M, MUHAMMAD.
24 I. C. 127 : (1914) M.W.N. 618.

——S. 58 (b)—'Mortgage'—Whether includes instruments creating no transfer of interest or conferring power of sale.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (b)—Simple mortgage.

The term 'mortgage' includes instruments which create no actual transfer of interest or confer express power of sale. Such an instrument may be a simple mortgage. 16 I C. 209, Foll. 10 Mad. 509; 9 Mad. 218; 21 Mad 326, Dist. (Miller and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) VENKATARAM AIYAR v. SUPPA NADAN. (1914) M.W.N. 501 : 24 I. C. 24 : 27 M. L. J. 58.

——— Ss. 58 (b) and 100—Mortgage-charge —Simple bond—Thanaka.

A simple bond under which the obligee bound himself and his heirs "with all my property moveable and immoveable as thanaka" is not a mortgage or charge. No charge can be created by act of parties without an intention to do so. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) KAMAYYA v. YERAKOLA.
13 M. L. T 327 : (1913) M W. N. 335 : 19 I. C. 221 : 24 M. L. J. 479.

——— S. 58 (b)—Personal covenant—Suit on mortgage—Withdrawal of prayer for sale—If mortgagee entitled to a personal remedy.

Where in a suit upon a mortgage in which the mortgagee was given remedies from other propertiesand person of the mortgagor, the mortgagee withdrew his prayer for sale of the hypotheca, it was held that he is not entitled to the personal remedy. 35 Bom. 327 Dist. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) CHERIYONNI v. NHERA POYILE.
(1911) 2 M W. N. 527 : 10 M. L. T. 528 : 13 I. C. 174 . 22 M L. J. 47.

——— S. 58 (b)—Mortgage or charge—Simple mortgage, essentials of.

A deed recited:—"In default I shall on the security of the house site belonging to me pay and make good the principal and interest. Held, that the instrument created a simple mortgage. A covenant to pay is essential for a simple mortgage. There need not be a formal transfer of any interest in property. To constitute a simple mortgage the instrument need not state that the mortgagee shall recover his money by sale. (White, C. J. and Krishnaswami Aiyar, J.) BALASUBRAMANIA NADAR v. SIVA GURU ASARI.
11 I. C. 629 : 21 M L. J. 562.

——— S. 58 (b)—Power of sale—Hypothecation bond before T.P. Act.

Hypothecation bondexecuted prior to the passing of T.P. Act though not expressly containing a power of sale is a simple mortgagewithin S. 58. (Wallis and Munro, JJ.) PAMLING v. ARUKKANI.
9 I. C. 163 : 9 M. L.T. 309

——— S. 58 (b) and (c)—Personal covenant—Mortgage by conditional sale.

A mortgagee is not entitled to sue for simple money decree on a mortgage when there is no personal covenant to pay. (Mittra, A. J. C.) JETHAMAL v. SAROO. 58 I. C. 30.

——— S. 58 (b)—Personal covenant—Simple mortgage.

The chief feature of a simple mortgage as that defined in S. 58 T.P. Act is that the mortgagor binds himself personally to repay the mortgage money. (Drake Brockman, J.C.) GOVIND v. JAGANNATH. 33 I. C. 753 : 12 N. L. R. 19.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale.

——— S. 58 (b)—Simple mortgage—"Mustagharaq".

A power of sale in a simple mortgage may be given either expressly or impliedly by using words such as :'Mustagharaq,' 'rehen' Arh' which commonly import such power. (Lindsay, J. C.) GAUHAR KHAN v. AJUDHIA SINGH. 20 I. C. 870.

——— S. 58 (b)—Simple mortgage—Personal covenant.

In the case of a simple mortgage a personal covenant is always implied and a decree for sale could be granted. (Kanhaiya Lal, A J.C) LALTA PRASAD v. HORI LAL. 19 I. C. 748; 16 O. C. 90.

——— Ss. 58 (b) and 100—Simple mortgage—Essentials—Mortgage or charge.

Where as a security for payment of money certain property was mortgaged and hypothecated with a covenant that, until repayment, the mortgagor would not alienate the property in any way. Held, that the document was simple mortgage. 34 A. 446, 35 Cal. 837. Appr. (Atkinson and Kingsford, JJ) ANAND RAM MARWARI v. DHANPAT SINGH.
1 Pat. L. J: 563 : 38 I. C. 37 : 2 Pat. L. W. 341.

——— S. 58 (b) and (d) —Mortgage — Upper Burmah—Usual form—Onus.

In Upper Burmah, the usual form of mortgage is not simple but usufructuary and if an exception be set up to it, should be proved. (Mc Coll, A. J. C.) MI SAW MYIN v. MI SHWE THIN.
15 I. C. 919 : (1912) I. U. R. R. 125.

Mortgage by conditional sale.

——— S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale —Sale — Agreement to reconvey — Intention—Provision for deposit of purchase money in Court —Effect of.

A deed of absolute sale of immoveable property and a subsequent agreement for re-sale to the vendor on payment of the price, do not constitute a mortgage by conditional sale unless it appears from the documents themselves viewed in the light of surrounding circumstances that the parties so intended. Where a suit for redemption is instituted long after the date fixed for the re-purchase (in this case forty-four years) cogent evidence of such intention is necessary. If the deed of sale is earlier than the contract to reconvey, then the intention to treat it as a mortgage must be shown to have existed before the sale was executed. A provision in the agreement to reconvey and for deposit in Court of the repurchase price, similar to the provisions of Beng. Reg I of 1798 and XVII of 1806, does not necessarily show an intention to mortgage. 12 A. 387 Ref. 22 All. 149 Dist. (Lord Atkinson.) JHANDA SINGH v. WAHID-UD-DIN.
38 All. 570 : 21 C. W. N. 66 : 20 M. L. T. 529 : 14 A. L. J. 1189 : (1916) 2 M W. N. 570 : 19 Bom. L. R. 1 : 5 L. W. 189 : 25 C.L.J. 524 : 10 Bur. L. T. 131 : 36 I. C. 38 : 43 I. A. 284 : 31 M. L. J. 750. (P. C.)
[On appeal from 6. I. C. 183 : 7 A. L. J. 484]

——— S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale —Sale in lieu of prior debt with condition for reconveyance.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale.

Where in lieu of a portion of the amount due under a mortgage the mortgagor (co-sharer) purported to transfer his share in the village out and out in favour of the mortgagee and the deed also contained a covenant for reconveyance of the property by the vendee in case the money was repaid. Held, that the transaction was one of mortgage by conditional sale. (Kanhaiya Lal and Sulaiman, JJ.) MOHINDRA MAN SINGH v. MAHARAJ SINGH.

45 A. 72 : 20 A. L. J. 810 : 1923 A. 48.

——S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale —Sale and agreement to reconvey—Accounting for profits.

Two deeds were executed on the same day one an absolute sale, and the other an agreement by the vendees, reciting that the property had been purchased by them on the condition that whenever within five years the vendors should pay to them the amount of the consideration money together with interest deducting the actual profits realized by the vendees from the property, the vendors would be entitled to have the property reconveyed by the vendees, Held, that the provisions as to accounting at the time of the demand for reconveyance, showed clearly that the relation of creditor and debtor existed between the parties and that the transaction was a bai bil wafa or mortgage by conditional sale. 12 All. 287 (P.C.); 38 All. 337 (P. C.) Dist. (Mears, C. J. and Rafique, J.) MUHAMMAD HAMID-UD DIN v. LALA FAKIR CHAND.

42 All. 437 : 18 A. L. J. 478 : 58 I. C. 717 : 2 U. P. L. R. (All) 341.

——S. 58 (c)—Sale or mortgage—Stipulation for repurchase—Intention of security.

A mere stipulation for re-purchase does not convert a sale into a mortgage and if only a sale made with a contemporaneous agreement by the purchaser to restore the property back on a refund of the price appears to be made, the transaction must mean a sale. An intention to create a security for the payment of a debt is essential to a mortgage. (Lindsay, J. C.) KISHEN DAYAL PANDE v. CHANDER DEO PANDE.

36 I. C. 991.

——S. 58 (c) — Sale or mortgage — Surrounding circumstances.

Though the conditions on which a mortgage can be redeemed are onerous. Court is not justified in coming to the conclusion that the transaction which purports to be a mortgage is a sale. A Court has to look to the surrounding circumstances as well. (Bannerjee and Piggott, JJ.) MUHAMMAD KASIM v. SHEO LING SWAMI JANGAM

32 I. C. 192.

——S. 58 (c)—Conditional mortgage—Subsequent bond—Stipulation to pay money due under—Effect of.

A mortgage by conditional sale was made in 1869. The mortgagor executed another bond which provided that the money due on it would be paid on the last day of Baishak. If payment was not made, the obligee might recover the money from the obligor personally and from his moveable and immoveable property. After a reference to the earlier deed, the obligor contained " when we mean to pay the amount due on the deed of conditional sale, we will first pay the amount of the present deed with interest and then pay the amount of the deed of conditional sale. Therefore, we have written this bond in order that it may be of use." Held, that the later bond did not constitute a mortgage. 31 All. 482 : 6 I. C. 165, Dist. (Chamier, J.) BALDEO RAI v. MURLI RAI.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale.

16 I. C. 638 : 10 A. L. J. 120.

——S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale —Sale to be void on payment.

A sale deed providing that if within 6 years, the amount secured was paid back the sale would become void, creates a mortgage by conditional sale. (Richards, C. J. and Bannerjee, J.) BALBHADAR RAI v. BIRIYRAJ RAI.

10 I. C. 630.

——S. 58 (c)—Sale or mortgage by conditional sale—Distinction—Test.

When the sale deed and the agreement to reconvey are executed on the same date, an almost irresistible presumption arises that the transaction is a mortgage by conditional sale. But when the agreement to reconvey is executed some time afer this and when at the time of execution of the sale deed the parties had no intention of entering into the agreement ; the deeds read together would notmake the transaction a conditional mortgage. 22 All. 149 Dist. (Richards, Griffin and Tudball, JJ.) JHANDA SINGH v. WAHIB-UD-DIN.

33 All. 585 : 9 I. C. 1013 : 8 A. L. J. 389.

——S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale —Essentials.

A stipulation for repurchase will not by itself convert a sale into one of mortgage. There must be the right to repurchase. Whether it is a mortgage by conditional sale or sale with clause to reconvey, depends on the intention of the parties. 31 Bom. 528 Con. A sale-deed executed contemporaneously with an agreement to reconvey contained the clause " the sale has become absolute. The parties have no right to cancel the sale and to demand the consideration money. The vendor has no right to any share of the property sold." Held, the transaction was an out and out sale. (12 All. 387 Foll.) (Stanley and Tudball, JJ.) GHULAM NABI KHAN v. NIAZ-UN-NISSA.

33 All. 337 : 9 I. C. 140 : 8 A. L. J. 119.

——Ss. 58 (c) 67 and 68—Usufructuary mortgage—Possession not taken by mortgagee—Interest, if can be recovered.

If, in a usufructuary mortgage, the property is secured only for the amount borrowed and not for interest and if the mortgagee does not take steps to get possession, he loses his right to interest. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, JJ.) MANIK CHAND v. MAGANI CHAND RANGAPPA KONDAPPA.

45 Bom. 523 : 59 I. C. 765 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1435.

——S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional Sale—Essentials—Sale or mortgage.

A deed of transfer of lands under a sale in lieu of principal and interest due upon a pre-existing mortgage, reserving to the vendor the right to repurchase the same on payment of the sale consideration within twenty years even when read with a lease of the same lands by the vendee to the vendor at an annual rent which was liable to reduction in proportion to any fractional payment of the sale price amounts to a sale and not a mortgage. S. 58 of the T. P. Act defines what a mortgage is and cl. (c) of the section describes one method of effecting a mortgage, i. e., by conditional sale. But cl. (c) is not to be read in an isolated manner but in reference to the first paragraph of the section and when it is so read it is manifest that cl. (c) comes into play only when there is a mortgage as that term has been defined. (Batcholor and Shah, JJ.) NARAYAN v. VIGNESAWAR. 40 Bom. 378 : 34 I. C. 414 : 18 Bom. L. R. 250.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale.

——S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale—Provision for accounts—Rent.

Where a debtor transferred his property to the creditor for a debt of Rs. 2,500 with a stipulation for a reconveyance by the creditor of the sum due as well as all moneys spent in improvements by him, and there was also a rent note from the debtor to the creditor providing for payment to the deft. annually of a rental of a certain sum, it was treated as a mortgage by conditional sale and not an out and out sale. (Batchelor and Hayward, JJ.) KASTURCHAND LAKHMAJI v. PADIA PATIL. 40 Bom. 74 : 31 I. C. 388 : 17 Bom. L. R. 928.

——S. 58 (c) Sale or mortgage—Agreement to resell—Rent—Interest.

Where a vendor sold his house to the vendee and on the same day executed a lease deed to the vendee and the vendee contemporaneously agreed to reconvey the house on payment of the sale price and rent from month to month ; held, that these documents constituted a mortgage with the right of redemption within a period and an agreement to pay rent in lieu of interest. (Scott, C. J. and Hayward, J.) NAGINDAS JEKINSON DAS v. NANABHAI DULABHRAM. 26 I. C. 753 : 16 Bom. L. R. 774.

——S. 58 (c)—Sale of mortgage by conditional sale—Intention of parties.

Where the deft. sold his property to the plff. and the plff. on the same day agreed to resell the property and remained in possession paying a rent of Rs. 18 and it was found that the properties were worth from Rs. 750 to Rs. 1,500 and Rs, 75 was a fair rent, held that the real intention of the parties was to effect a mortgage by conditional sale. (Beaman and Hayward, JJ.) MADHAV RAO v. SAHEBAO. 26 I. C. 751 : 39 Bom. 119 : 16 Bom. L. R. 769.

——S. 58 (c)—Covenant to repurchase—Mortgage or sale.

If the document of sale with a condition of repurchase shows no relationship of a creditor and a debtor, the transaction is a sale with a covenant of repurchase and not a mortgage. (Scott, C. J. and Batchelor, J.) GURUNATH BALAJI v. YAMANEYA NALARAO. 35 Bom. 258 : 10 I. C. 814 : 13 Bom. L. R. 240.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale.

——S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale—Sale with intention to reconvey--Distinction—Surrounding circumstances.

The question whether a transaction is a mortgage by conditional sale or sale with an agreement to reconvey must be determined with reference to the intention of the parties as gathered from the document and surrounding circumstances 12 A. 387 ; 38 A 570 ; 22 A. 149 Rel. One of the tests is to see whether the relation of debtor and creditor subsists between the parties. (N. R. Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) CHANDI CHARAN CHOWDHURY v. NABIN CHANDRA DE. 67 I C. 113.

——S. 58 (c)—Sale and agreement to reconvey—Mortgage.

Two distinct but simultaneously documents, one of sale and the other of agreement to retransfer, jointly make the transaction a mortgage by conditional sale where among other circumstances vendor continues in possession under a Kabuliat executed by him. (Greaves and Panton, JJ.) ARJAD ALI v. HABIB. 50 I. C. 12.

——S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale—Option to re-purchase.

Where words indicating a mortgage by conditional sale are used and all the terms of the document are consistent with a mortgage, it cannot be contended that the intention of the parties was to make an out and out sale subject to a condition of re-purchase. (Fletcher and Panton, JJ.) CHANDRA MOYI CHOWDHURANI v. GREGSON. 48 I. C. 465.

——S. 58 (c)—Sale or mortgage—Reg. XVII of 1806—Lender.

Whether a transaction is a sale or mortgage depends upon the intention of the parties to be gathered from the surrounding circumstances. Time is the essence of the mortgage, by conditional sale both under Reg. XVII of 1806 and under S. 58 (c). The words 'on a certain date' in S. 58 (c) do not imply that a mortgagor cannot make a tender before that date. (Holmwood and Chapman, JJ.) MAHOMED MOZAFFER ALI v. ASRAF ALI. 25 I. C. 93.

——S. 58 (c)—Sale or mortgage—Deed of sale with power to repurchase.

The recitals in the deed were all pointing to a sale. No mention was made of any interest. The amount was described not as principal but as consideration. There was a clause for releasing the property on payment in one year. Held, that the document was an out and out sale with a condition of repurchase. (Sharfuddin and Richardson, JJ.) AZIZAR RAHMAN v. RABATANNESSA. 21 I. C. 19.

——S. 58 (c)—Sale and agreement to reconvey, if amounts to mortgage—Parties different.

A document which purports to be a deed of sale cannot, on the mere ground that it is accompanied by an agreement to reconvey the property to the vendor, be construed as a mortgage ; this is especially so when the parties to the sale-deed and the agreement are different. (Coxe, J.) RAMA KANTA SARMA v. KOLIJOY SARMA. 11 I. C. 124.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale.

——Ss. 58 (c) and 60—Stipulation for conditional sale and possession—Suit for possession—Consideration — Registered deed duly acted upon.

Where apart from the stipulation for a conditional sale a mortgage is with possession and the former remedy is barred by legislation the mortgagee can sue for possession as mortgagee (Kensington and Beadon, JJ) PUNNU MAL v. MAHOMED BAKSH. 189 P. L. R. 1918 : 18 I. C. 914 : 73 P. W. R. 1913.

——S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale—Sale or mortgage—What has to be proved.

In order to prove that a mortgage is in reality a sale, it has to be shown that there was an agreement between the mortgagor and the mortgagee that redemption would not be demanded and secondly that the terms are such that redemption is an impossibility. But mere onerous conditions in a mortgage would not make it a sale. A mortgage was effected of a building site in a flourishing town and it was proved that the market value was almost the same as mortgage money, that the term was for fifteen years, that no interest was chargeable and that the mortgagee could build upon it at will charging the expenditure with interest, held, that these were insufficient to prove that the transaction was a sale and not a mortgage. 100 P. R. 895 : 78 P. R. 1901, 19 P.R 1905 Rel. 145 P. R. 1906, 20 P. R. 1899 Dist. (Johnstone and Rattigan, JJ.) MAGHARAM v. MAKHANLAL. 126 P. L. R. 1912 : 67 P. R. 1912 : 13 I. C. 667 : 255 P. W. R. 1912.

——S. 58 (c)—Sale with condition to reconvey—No presumption of mortgage by conditional sale.

S 58 (c) does not raise a presumption that a sale with an agreement to reconvey is a mortgage by conditional sale. (Wallis, C.J. and Oldfield, J.) NARASINGERGI v. PANUGANTI PARTHASARATHY. (1921) M W. N. 519.

——S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale—Sale and agreement to reconvey.

Where in one and the same transaction land is sold absolutely, with a right of re-purchase to be exercised within a certain date, the transaction is not necessarily a mortgage by conditional sale, under S. 53 T. P. Act without reference to the intention of the parties. All the cases reviewed. (Wallis, C. J., Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) MUTHUVELU MUDALIAR v. VYTHILINGA MUDALIAR. 42 Mad. 407 : 9 L. W. 365 : 25 M. L. T. 332 : (1919) M W. N 393 : 50 I. C 205 : 36 M. L. J. 385.

——Ss. 58 (c) (a) and 59—Mortgage by conditional sale—Registered sale—Unregistered agreement to reconvey.

An unregistered agreement is not admissible as extrinsic evidence to show that the parties intended the sale-deed to be only a mortgage. 45 Cal. 320 (P. C.) Foll. A mortgage by conditional sale cannot be effected by a registered sale deed and an unregistered agreement to reconvey as the document relied on to derogate from the absolute conveyance must be of the same high character as the conveyance itself. 25 Mad, 7 and

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale

27 Mad. 848 Foll. (Wallis, C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) PUTTI SESHA AIYAR v. KUPU ACHAR. 26 M. L. T. 291 : (1919) M. W. N. 87 : 49 I. C. 699 : 10 L. W. 1.

——S 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale—Sale with agreement to reconvey—Distinction.

P sold his lands for their full market value to Q part of the consideration being the full discharge of a pre-existing mortgage debt due from P to Q. By another instrument of even date Q agreed to reconvey the lands to P or his heirs, on payment of the price "at the beginning of the cultivation season of any years within four years from this date." In 1912 P. sued to Q for redemption. Held, that the transaction was not a mortgage by conditional sale within S. 58 (c) and the relationship of debtor and creditor did not seem to exist between the parties nor did the lands seem to be security for a debt. (Bakewell and Napier, JJ.) MARUTHAI GOUNDAN v. DASAPPA. 31 M. L. J. 375 : 36 I. C. 393 : 5 L. W. 141.

——S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale.

Where a mortgage-deed executed in 1879 did not purport to sell the property but contained a provision that in default of payment of the mortgage-money in the prescribed manner the property should be relinquished by the mortgagor as if sold to the mortgagee ; it should be construed with reference to the law as stood before the T. P. Act and so construed it was a mortgage by conditional sale. 38 Mad. 667 : 29 M. L J. 525 : 13 M I. A. 560 : 2 I. A. 241 Foll. The mortgagee could however avail himself of the remedies under the T. P. Act. (Coutts-Trotter and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) BIKKINA RAMAYYA v. ADABALA SESHAYA. 34 I. C. 475 : 30 M. L. J. 338.

——S. 58 (c)—Sale or mortgage—Test.

The question whether a document in a mortgage by way of conditional sale or a sale with a provision for re-purchase depends ultimately on the intention of the parties to be gathered from the instrument and the surrounding circumstances. There are two tests to determine this, viz., (1) whether there was a debt subsisting at the time of the transaction (2) Whether value of land conveyed is so disproportionate to the amount mentioned in the document as the alleged consideration for the sale as to raise a reasonable presumption that the parties intended only a security. (Coutts-Trotter and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ) KALAPPA KAMTHI v. KACHUR SAKHARAMA RAO. 29 I. C. 898.

——S. 58 (c)—Sale and agreement to reconvey—Contemporaneous—Intention.

Where the parties execute two documents within an interval of a few days, one purporting to be a sale and another an agreement to reconvey, the intention is rather to create a mortgage than a sale. Case law considered (1914) M. W. N. 222 : 12 A. 387 : 14 M. 170 Dist. (1914) M. W. N. 735 Foll. (Ayling and Hannay, JJ.) MUTHUKARUPPA PILLAI v. MARUDHACHALAM CHETTI. 27 I. C. 436.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale.

——S. 58 (c)—Sale or mortgage—Sale-deed and agreement to reconvey—Effect of.

A mortgagor executed a deed of absolute sale in favour of his mortgagee who was about to sue on his mortgage. Some days later the mortgagee executed an agreement to reconvey the property within eighteen months if the mortgagor paid the money, held, that in the circumstances of the case the transaction amounted only to a sale with an agreement to reconvey and not to a mortgage by a conditional sale. (Wallis, O. C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) SWAMINATHA AIYAR v. APPASAMI AIYAR. 27 M. L. J. 686 : 27 I. C. 305 : (1914) M. W. N, 906

——S. 58 (c)—Sale or mortgage.

The intention of the parties is the test to determine whether a transaction is a sale or mortgage. (Wallis, O. C. J. and Hannay, J.) SINGARAM CHETTIAR v. KALYANASUNDARAM PILLAI. 1 L. W. 687 : 26 I. C. 1 : (1914) M. W N, 735

——S. 58 (c)—Hindu mortgages.

Hindu forms of mortgages by conditional sale are not affected by the Act. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) SRINIVASA AIYANGAR v. RADHAKRISHNA PILLAI. 38 Mad. 667 : 26 M L.J. 47 : 14 M. L. T. 547 : 22 I. C. 54 : (1914) M. W. N. 81.

——S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale—Absolute sale and counter-part to reconvey.

Where there is an absolute sale followed by the execution within 2 days by the vendee of a deed called the counter-part of a sale-deed by which he undertakes to reconvey the properties sold to him, both the instruments constitute a mortgage by conditional sale, the mortgagor having the right to redeem within the statutory period. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) PALANIAPPAN v. SUBBARAYA GOUNDEN. 14 M, L. T. 579 : (1914) M. W. N. 222 : 22 I. C. 4 : 1 L. W. 80.

——S, 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale—Personal covenant to pay.

There is no personal covenant to pay in the case of a pure mortgage by conditional sale. (Batten, A. J. C.) ANANDRAO v. TUKARAM. 46 I. C. 326.

——S, 58 (c) and 67—Mortgage by conditional sale—Title of mortgagor when and how lost.

In every mortgage by conditional sale, on default of payment on the due date, ownership will not vest in the mortgagee until after a decree absolute for foreclosure has been passed by the Court, (Mittra, A. J. C.) RAGHUNATH v. SHEOLAL. 39 I. C. 849 : 13 N. L. R. 69.

——S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale or out and out sale.

Where a sale deed provides that if the vendor pays back the consideration, the properties will be returned and the sale cancelled, the transaction is not a sale but a mortgage by conditional sale. This right to enforce payment is not a necessary corollary to a mortgage by conditional sale. 12 A. 387 P. C.; 22 A. 149 P. C., Ref, to 11 I. C. 124 : 33 A. 337 ; 21 B. 528. Dist. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) BALDEO PRASAD v. CHET RAM, 26 I. C. 706 : 1 O. L. J. 703.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale.

——S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale—Mortgage—Redemption—Rights of mortgagor.

The mere insertion of the following clause in a mortgage deed : "When five months have elapsed, if the principal and interest be not paid and the property redeemed, let the creditor go with the mortgage-bond to the Town Lots Office and effect a mutation of names and take the property as his absolutely " does not of itself convert the mortgage into a sale on failure of the mortgagor to pay the principal and interest within five months and the right to redeem continues in spite of such failure. (McColl, J. C.) NGA PO YIN v. MI YIN. (1916) 2 U. B. R, 141 : 39 I. C. 377 : 11 Bur. L, T. 36.

——S. 58 (c)—Mortgage and sale—Test applied to distinguish.

The relation of debtor and creditor between the parties after executing a document determines whether it is a mortgage or a sale. (Ormond and Twomey, JJ.) MA SHWE v. MAUNG PO LU. 37 I. C, 91 : 9 Bur. L. T. 177.

——S. 58 (c)—Sale or mortgage—Agreement to repurchase.

When a sale of property followed by an agreement to re-purchase within specified time, the transaction may be regarded a type of mortgage but the burden of proving that the transaction does amount to a mortgage is on the party asserting. 12 All 387 (P.C.) Ref. (Parlett, J.) MAUUG KYA HNIN v. MAUNG PO KYAW, 35 I. C. 336 : 10 Bur. L. T. 4.

——Ss. 58 (c) and 60—Mortgage by conditional sale—Redemption—Loss of right to, after specific period.

Where a mortgage-deed provided that it should be redeemed in two years and, if not, the mortgagee would be entitled to treat it as a sale and if the mortgagee did not wish to treat it as a sale, he might sue the mortgagor on the mortgage but if the mortgagor was unable to redeem, the right of redemption should be extended indefinitely, Held, that assoon as the two years had elapsed without the mortgagor redeeming it, the mortgage became a sale with effect from its inception, thus closing the transaction between the parties as if it were a mortgage by conditional sale. 1 M. 1 (P. C.) Rel (Parlett, J.) MA NGWE v. MA THA HLAY. 27 I. C. 868 : 8 Bur. L. T, 125.

——S. 58 (c)—Mortgage or sale—Redemption—Onus.

Where the transaction between the parties admittedly began by a simple mortgage and there was subsequently a transfer of possession to the mortgagee the onus is on the mortgagee to prove his right to resist redemption 1 L. B. R. 215 ; 3 L. B.R. 5 Foll. (Twomey, J.) MA SHWE HPE v. MAUNG SEIN 20 I. C. 666 : 6 Bur. L T. 131.

——S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale—Sale with condition of re-purchase.

A document purporting to be one of sale, though accompanied by a contract reserving to the vendor a right of re-purchase, is not on that account to be construed as if it were a mortgage. The test to apply is whether the relation of debtor and creditor subsists between the parties. If the relation does not exist then the transation does not fall within the general definition of a mortgage in S. 58 (a) of the T. P. Act and therefore, cannot be regarded as a mortgage by conditional sale within S. 58 (c), 12 All. 387. 17 I.A. 98. Foll. 2 L. B. R. 338 Foll. (Twomey, J.) MAHNINU v OSMAN GANI. 15 I. C. 423 : 5 Bur. L. T 99.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by conditional sale.

——S. 58 (c)—Mortgage by way of conditional sale—Time essence of contract.

In Sind in the case of a mortgage by conditional sale, time is the essence of the contract and on the expiry of the time fixed for redemption the mortgage becomes a sale. (Pratt, J. C. and Hayward J. C.) FRAMJI BAIRAMJI v. SULLMANJI IBRAHIMJI. 19 I. C 428: 6 S. L. R. 178.

58 (d)—[Usufructuary Mortgage.]

——S. 58 (d)—Usufructuary mortgage—Incidents.

In every contract of usufructuary mortgage there is an implied covenant for quiet possession which implies a contract to pay the Government revenue. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) RAM SEWAK RAI v. SHEO NAIK RAI. 45 A. 388 : L. R. 4 A 389 : 21 A. L. J. 294 : 1923 A. 433 (2)

——S. 58 (d)—Usufructuary mortgage—Further loan on same security-No specific transfer of interest—Covenant for redemption on payment of whole amount—Effect.

Where subsequent to a usufructuary mortgage by A to B, A took a further loan from B on a document stating that the loan would be paid along with the loan on the previous mortgage and that the mortgaged property was not to be redeemed without repayment of the loans due on both the documents, held, that the later document was a mortgage within S. 58 of the Act and that the mortgagee was entitled to remain in possession until both the loans were discharged. Per Stuart. J.—The absence of an explicit transfer of an interest in immoveable property will not show that the deed is not a mortgage for there may be an implied transfer of an interest (Bannerjee, Stuart and Wallace. JJ.) HAR PERSHAD v. RAM CHANDER. 19 A. L. J. 807 : 63 I. C. 750 : 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 139.

——S. 58 (d)—Mortgage—Enjoyment of usufruct—Deficiency.

A mortgagor executed a document stipulating the conditions that the mortgagee of the part of his property enjoying the mortgaged property in lieu of interest, will be paid deficiency in the interest every year ; on failure of which in any year he was entitled to recover the same from the rest of his moveable and immoveable property. Held, the document amounted to a mortgage for the deficiency of interest on the mortgage money. (Richards, C. J. and Bannerjee, J.) BHOLA DAS v. BISHNATH LAL. 16 I. C. 982 : 10 A. L. J. 162.

——Ss. 58 (d) and 105—Zuripeshgi Lease or mortgage—No provision for interest—Premium—Inference.

The term "Zuripeshgi" is an ambiguous one and the facts that no interest was provided for may give rise to an inference that there was a lease with a premium and not a usufructuary mortgage. (Holmwood and Mullick, JJ.) CHULHAN SINGH v MADHO SINGH. 28 I. C. 383 . 19 C. W. N. 794.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (d)—Usufructuary Mortgage.

——S. 58 (d)—Covenant to put mortgagee in possession—Compensation in case of breach—Liability of mortgagor.

Where a mortgagor stipulated that the mortgagee would take the produce of the property in lieu of interest and recover compensation for improvements and then failed to deliver possession, held in a suit for redemption, that the terms of the mortgage showed that the mortgagee was entitled to possession as soon as the transaction was entered into and that the mortgagor was liable to compensate the mortgagee (Shadi Lal and Broadway, JJ.) AKBAR HUSSAIN v. RAGUNANDAN DASS 57 I. C. 348 ; 2 U. P. L. R. (L.) 130.

——S. 58 (d)—Usufructuary mortgage—Refusal to deliver possession—Effect.

The refusal by a mortgagor to deliver possession gave the mortgagee the right to sue for the mortgage money and interest. (16 A. 318 Con.) (15 P. R. 1870, 57 P. R. 1873) (127 P. R. 1881, Dist.) (Reid. C. J.) SHER MUHAMMAD v. NIKKA MAL. 17 I. C. 362 : 21 P. L. R. 1913.

——Ss. 58 (d) and 98—Usufructuary mortgage—Anomalous or English mortgage—Construction.

Where a mortgage with possession provides that it is irredeemable before 5 years and should be treated as a sale if not redeemed within 20 years, held, it is neither an anomalous nor an English mortgage but is only a usufructuary mortgage with a clog on the equity of redemption. A usufructuary mortgage does not cease to be usufructuary merely because of a provision for irredeemability within 5 years. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) NARAYANA MURTI v APPALANARASIMHULU. 14 L. W. 536 : 68 I. C. 717 ; 41 M. L. J. 563.

——Ss. 58 (d) 67 and 68—Usufructuary mortgage—Failure of mortgagor to give possession—Mortgagee's right to sue for sale.

A usufructuary mortgagee is entitled to sue for the sale of the property mortgaged to him when the mortgagor fails to deliver possession of the said property to him and he has consequently to sue for the mortgage money. 21 M 476; 22 M.L.J. 39 Rel. (Wallis, C. J., Ayling and Kumaraswami Sastri. JJ.) MARTURU SUBBRAMMA v. GADDE NARAYYA. 41 Mad 259 : 33 M. L. J. 623 : 22 M. L. T. 429 : (1917) M.W.N. 828 : 43. I. C. 4 : 6 L. W. 738 (F. B.)

——S. 58 (d)—Usufructuary mortgage—Possession essential.

In usufructuary mortgages possession is an essential part of the security and what is kept alive is not the security only but the rights of the mortgagee on the property under the deed. (Abdur Rahim, O. C J. and Krishnan, J.) SREE MOHANT PRAYAG DOSS JEE VARU v. RAYU CHENGAMMA NAIDU. 20 M. L. T. 295 : (1916) 2 M. W. N. 288 : 37 I. C. 456: 4 L. W. 477.

——S. 58 (d)—Usufructuary mortgage—Lease—Document not giving right to sell property—Mortgage.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (d)—Usufructuary mortgage.

A document securing repayment of a debt out of the rent of the service inam lands taken with a deed of lease does not create an usufructuary mortgage, as no authority was given to bring the property to sale for recovery of the money advanced. The documents constitute a lease deed and a simple money bond. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) KAMESRA PEDA SUBBAYYA v. KAKERLA CHENNAPPA. 28 I. C. 842 : 28 M.L.J. 303.

———Ss. 58 (d) and 98—Mortgage—Construction—Anomalous mortgage.

A mortgage described in the deed as usufructuary provided that if the mortgage amount was not paid on the stipulated date the mortgage was to be changed into a sale for the principal amount of the mortgage and that the mortgagor should pay the costs of the construction of earthwork etc., effected on the land along with the mortgage money. The mortgagee was given possession. Held, (Per Sadasiva Aiyar, J.) that it was a combination of a simple and usufructuary mortgage with a covenant clogging the equity of redemption and not a conditional sale. Per Spencer, J.—That it was usufructuary mortgage with a covenant clogging the equity of redemption, Per Curiam.—The transaction is not an anomalous mortgage under S. 98 of T.P. Act and is redeemable under S. 60. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) SRINIVASA AIYANGAR v. RADHAKRISHNA PILLAI. 38 Mad. 667 : 26 M. L. J. 47 : 14 M. L. T.547: 22 I. C. 54 : (1914) M. W. N. 81.

———S. 58 (d)—Usufructuary mortgage—Elements.

For a usufructuary mortgage, a condition for the rendition of any accounts or an express or implied provision for redemption is not necessary. A mortgage can be so made that nothing remains to be paid at the end of the term. (Dhobley, A. J. C.) RAMPRASHAD v. CHANDULAL. 4 N. L. J. 262: 1922 Nag. 156.

———S. 58 (d)—Usufructuary mortgagee retaining money to pay prior mortgages—Default—Money paid by mortgagor—Mortgagee whether can sue for possession.

Where a usufructuary mortgagee with whom money is left for redemption of prior mortgages to enable him to obtain possession fails to do so and the mortgagor subsequently pays the amount and obtains possession, the usufructuary mortgagee cannot sue for possession. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J C.) HUSAINI v. RAMCHARAN. 18 O. C. 280 : 32 I. C. 341 : 2 O. L. J. 488.

———S. 58 (d)—Usufructuary mortgage—Period which it can be redeemed.

Even though the mortgage deed fixes a date within which it can be redeemed the deed may nevertheless be a usufructuary mortgage. (12 All. 233, 21 Mad. 1, 26 B. 252: 27 All. 313 Ref. 'Delever' in S. 58 means 'Deliver immediately' Therefore even though possession is to be delivered subsequent to date of mortgage it is nevertheless a usufructuary mortgage. 21 All. 521 Foll. (Stuart, A. J. C.) BISHESHAR BAKHSH SINGH v. DEBI BAKHSH SINGH. 17 I. C. 329 : 16 O. C. 56.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 58 (e)—English mortgage.

———S. 58 (d)—Mortgage—Suit for possession by the mortgagee.

A mortgaged his property to B with possession and gave him the possession. A. subsequently mortgaged the same property to C. with possession. Then A. assigned his interest to G. who redeemed B's mortgage and took possession. There upon C brought a suit for possession which was resisted by G. on the ground that A was not in possession when C's mortgage was effected. Held, that C got possession on his paying to G. the amount he had paid to B. (Chamier, A.J.C.) KANCHAN SINGH v. JAFRE BEGUM. 10 I. C. 190.

———S. 58 (d)—Usufructuary mortgage—Right of sale.

Where a due date has been fixed for payment of the mortgage-money, the mortgage is not a pure usufructuary motgage and the mortgagee is entitled to sell immediately after the due date has passed even though he still remained in possession of the property, 6 C.L.J. 143: 34 Bom. 462 foll. (Coutts and Ross, JJ.) JAG SAHU v. MUST RAM SAKHI KUER. 1 Pat. 350 : 1922 Pat. 58 : 3 Pat. L. T. 332 : 1922 P. 167.

———S. 58 (d)—Zarpeshgi ijara—Annual rent payable to executant—Mortgage or lease.

It is impossible to lay down any general rule as to effect of a Zarpeshgi transaction. Every case must depend upon its own facts. Held, that the transaction created the relationship of mortgagor and mortgagee and this was not a case in which the amount advanced to the owner of the land ought to be viewed as an advance of the rent fixed upon the land. 25 All, 115 ; 24 Cal. 272; 2 C. W.N. 758, Ref. The question to be decided in each case is whether the main object of the instrument was to create the relationship of mortgagor and mortgagee or of simple landlord and tenant. (Miller, C. J, and Mullick, J.) SHEK MUHAMMAD HANIF v. MOORAT MAHTON. 44 I. C. 153: 4 Pat. L. W. 146.

———S. 58 (d)—Usufructuary mortgage—Construction.

Where the mortgagee agreed by a deed to pay a fixed annual sum to the mortgagor as the balance after deducting the interest from the income of the property of the mortgagor of which he takes possession under the deed and allows the mortgagor by the same deed to redeem, in a particular year, the deed is a usufructuary mortgage. (Chapman and Atkinson, JJ.) BARHAMDEO NARAIN SINGH v. RAMANAND PRASAD SINGH. 1 Pat. L. W. 795 : 40 I. C. 594: 1918 Pat. 24.

S. 58 (e) [English Mortgage.]

———S. 58 (e)—English mortgage—Elements of—Principle of.

In an English mortgaget he mortgagee is the owner of the property subject to the ownership being divested by repayment on the appointed day. The mortgagee can enter into possession immediately after the mortgage. The morgtagor hasfonly the right to redeem. The ownership of the property passes to the first mortgagee in an English mortgage and not to the puisne mortgage. (Chaudhry, J.) BANK OF UPPER INDIA v. ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL OF BENGAL. 45 Cal. 653 : 47 I. C. 529: 22 C. W. N. 793.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882). S. 58 (e)—English mortgage.

———S. 58 (e)—English mortgages.

The T. P. Act, is not exhaustive. There are many mortgages known to English Law, which it is difficult or impossible to bring within the terms of the Act (Chapman and Roe, JJ.) BHUPENDRA NATH BASU v. WAJIUNNISSA BEGAM. 2 Pat L. J. 293 : 39 I. C. 564: 3 Pat. L. W. 20

———S. 59.

See also (1) ATTESTATION.
(2) EVIDENCE ACT, Ss, 68 AND 115,
(3) T. P. ACT, S. 123.

Delivery of possession
Equitable mortgage.
Invalid attestation.
Marksman as attestor.
Meaning of Attestation.
Modification of mortgage.
Mortgage before T. P. Act.
Oral mortgage.
Proof of attestation.
Proof of execution.
Registration.
Scribe as attestor.
Who can be attestor.

Delivery of possession.

———S. 59—Delivery of possession—Mortgage less than Rs. 100—Unregistered document.

As a mortgage below Rs. 100, is created by mere delivery of possession, the fact that an unstamped document is put forward to evidence the mortgage does not affect its validity. (Tudball, J.) HABIBUL RAHMAN v. RASUL BANDI. 62 I. C. 859 : 19 A. L. J. 376.

———S 59—Delivery of possession—Non-registration of the bond.

Where the plaintiff was put in possession of a plot of land under a bond containing a separate stipulation for interest in case the defendants failed to get the document registered. Held, that as the principal money secured was less than Rs. 100 a valid mortgage was created under S. 59 of the Transfer of Property Act and no registration was necessary. (Lyle, A. J. C.) JHAM SINGH v. GAURI SHUNDAR. 1922 Oudh 125.

———S. 59—Delivery of possession.

The delivery of possession under S. 59 is to be contemporaneous with the execution of the deed (Lindsay, J.) SURAJ BARAN SINGH v. PRATAB BALI SINGH. 41 I. C. 455: 4 O. L. J. 446.

———S. 59—Delivery of possession—Mortgage for less than 100 Rs.—Terms of mortgage—Unregistered instrument—Secondary.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882). S. 59—Equitable mortgage.

Delivery of possession of the property mortgaged would effectively create a mortgage for less than Rs. 100 Where there is a document unregistered evidencing the mortgage,its termscan only be proved by the document or by secondary evidence of its contents in case the original is not forthcoming. (Saunders, J. C.) MAUNG PO DIN v. MAUNG PO NYEIN. 66 I C. 360 : (1921) 4 U. B.R. 80.

Equitable Mortgage.

———S. 59—Mortgage—Equitable mortgage—Application of priority sections of the T. P. Act.

Equitable mortgage effected by deposit of title-deeds is a mortgage in the sense of the Act and consequently the priority sections do apply, for unless the deposit of title-deeds effects the transfer of an interest in a specific immoveable property for the purpose of securing the payment of money advanced or to be advanced, it is absolutely nothing at all. Further the concluding words of S. 59 actually use the word mortgage to denote the security effected by delivery of documents of title. (Lord Dunedin,) THE IMPERIAL BANK OF INDIA v. U. RAIGYAW THU & CO. LTD. 1 Rang. 637 : 21 A. L J. 784 : 25 Bom L. R. 1279: 9 0 & A. L. R. 937 : 33 M. L. T. 395 : 2 Bur. L. J. 254 : 50 I. A. 283 : 45 M. L. J. 505 : 51 Cal. 86 : 28 C. W. N. 470 : 39 C. L. J. 186 : (1923) M. W. N. 609 : 1923 P. C. 211 (P. C.)

———S. 59—Equitable mortgage—Extent of the security.

Where documents of title to immoveable property are handed over to the creditor with nothing said except that they are to be security, the law supposes that the scope of the security is the scope of the title. Where, however, titles are handed over accompanied by a bargain, that bargain must rule. If there is a written memorandum that part only of the property is to be security for the debt, the memorandum is conclusive evidence that the charge in favour of the creditor extends to that part of the property. (Lord Shaw.) PRANJIVANDAS JAGJIVANDAS MEHTA v. CHANMAH PHEE. 43 Cal. 895 : 43 I. A. 122 :(1916) 1 M. W. N. 443 : 4 L. W. 69 : 14 A.L. J. 638 : 20 C. W. N. 925 : 18 Bom. L. R. 664 : 20 M. L T. 242; 9 Bur. L. T. 125 : 24 C. L. J. 314 : 35 I. C. 190 : 8 L. B. R. 458 : 31 M. L. J. 155.

———S. 59—Equitable mortgage—Deposit of title deeds—Loan—Contract in writing—Registration, necessity for.

Defendant borrowed money from plff. in Bombay and deposited the title-deeds of his house, the transaction was recorded in a writing which ran as follows : "We have taken Rs. 1,000 from you. In security of that we have given our house in Godhra.....in mortgage for the above amount.And we have also given to you the copy of the record. We shall execute a pacca document in respect of the same whenever you may ask us,

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 59—Equitable Mortgage.

Its interest is settled at eight annas. It is agreed that you should return to us the copy of the record on paying the above amount." The above writing was not registered nor was the pacca document demanded or taken. In a suit to recover the advance by sale of the mortgaged property, the defendant admitted the advance.

Held, that the writing in question contained everything that was necessary for the purpose of proving an agreement creating a mortgage and that it required registration. Being unregistered it was inadmissible in evidence and plff. could not have a decree for the money by sale of the property sought to be mortgaged. The defendant having admitted the advance plff. was entitled to a decree personally against him. In the absence of a document accompanying the title deed, it would have been open to the plff. to prove orally what was the intention with which the document was deposited and whether it was meant to be considered as a security. But as the deft. executed a document in writing the Court must refer to it in order to ascertain what the contract was. The fact that the defendant agreed to execute another document in formal terms, if he was asked for one, does not affect the value of the document signed, provided it is evidence of a complete transaction which can be spelt out of its wording. The whole point is whether the document created a charge upon the property referred to therein, and once there is a writing with reference to the deposit of title deeds, then it is quite clear that the Court must refer to that writing, and can only refer to it, in order to determine what were the conditions, on which the title deeds were deposited. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) CHUNILAL SOMESHVAR BHATT v. VITHALDAS KARSANDAS. 24 Bom. L. R. 502 : 1922 Bom. 440

——S. 59—Equitable mortgage—Formalities of—Proof of intention—Contemporaneous or subsequent loan—Property outside Presidency Town.

The mere fact of a contemporaneous or subsequent loan, apart from other evidence, is not sufficient in law to warrant a presumption that the contemporaneous or antecedent deposit of title deeds was necessarily made as a security for the loan. No writing is necessary to create an equitable mortgage, the very essence of such mortgage being that it comes into being by mere conjunction of three sets of facts (1) a debt, (2) a deposit of title deeds, and (3) an intention that the latter should be security for the former. Per Macleod, J. (Beaman, J., dubitante.) Where title deeds are deposited in the towns mentioned in S.59 of the T.P. Act, a valid equitable mortgage is effected wherever the property may be situate (Beaman and Macleod, JJ.) BEHRAM RASHID IRANI v. SORABJI. 38 Bom 372 : 16 Bom. L. R. 35 : 23 I. C. 140 : 11 I. C. 721 : 4 Bur. L. T. 169 : 6 L. B. R. 23.

[See also

——S. 59—Equitable mortgage—Essentials.

Simple possession of title deeds coupled with debts at the same time does not create equitable mortgage. There must be intention to make the title deeds security for the debt. A time-barred debt is good consideration for an equitable mortgage created by deposit of title deeds. (Beaman, J.) JETHIBAI v. PUTLIBAI. 17 I. C. 722 : 14 Bom. L. R. 1020.

——S 59—Equitable mortgage—Deposit of title deeds.

Deposit of the title deeds by unregistered letter followed by advance of money does not create a valid equitable mortgage. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) BHAIRAB CHANDRA BOSE v. ANATH NATH DE. 57 I. C. 686 : 24 C. W. N 599 : 31 C L. J. 375.

——S. 59—Equitable mortgage—Mortgage by deposit of title deeds—Registration if and when necessary.

A memorandum creating a mortgage requires registration but when the deposit of title deeds is independent of it, the deposit creates the mortgage and the memorandum need not be registered. (Chaudhuri and Walmsley, JJ.) E. I. E. MORDECAI v. MORTHU MULL. 37 I. C. 117 : 25 C L. J. 160.

——S. 59—Equitable mortgage—Letters Patent, Cl. 12—Mortgage by deposit of title deeds by persons some of whom had no interest.

Where a suit was brought on a mortgage by deposit of title deeds by the persons, some of whom had no properties in the Presidency Town. Held, that that fact would not affect the jurisdiction of the High Court as all the mortgagors had concurred in creating a liability. (Harrington, J.) MATI GARA COAL CO., LTD. v. SHRAGERS, LTD. 13 I. C. 429 : 38 Cal. 824.

——S. 59—Equitable mortgage—Suit on—Parties—Record of deposit of title deed need not be registered.

A mortgagee by deposit of title deeds can proceed against properties mortgaged to the mortgagor though the original mortgagor is not impleaded. 27 All. 511, diss ; 29 All. 385 (F. B.) foll. A letter written by the mortgagor containing the deposit of the title deeds and execution of a pro-note for the amount due need not be registered since the letter was not the evidence of the contract, but only a writing which was the evidence of the fact from which the contract is to be inferred. 13 Cal 322; 33 Cal. 410; 7 B.L.R. 55; 23 I C. 129, dist. An equitable mortgage by deposit of title deeds is enforceable by law in Punjab. Where a pro-note was executed by the defendant in favour of the plaintiff and also possession of title-deeds some relating to their property and some relating to property mortgaged by them to the former was given to the latter and also delivered a letter opening with the following words " we render this writing deposit with you as security 12 deeds relating to the property of the value of Rs. 8,537 mentioned in the list in lieu of a pro-note for Rs. 8,000 in respect of which a separate pro-note has been executed to-day." In a suit on the pro-note. Held, that the equitable mortgage by the deposit of title-deeds was perfectly valid and enforceable in Punjab, and that there was no necessity of making the original mortgagors parties to the suit, and that the letter was not required to be registered inasmuch as it was written after the mortgage was effected and simply being used as an evidence of fact necessary to infer the contract and therefore was not covered by the provisions of S. 17 of the Registration Act. (Jones and Broadway, JJ.) MOTI RAM MOHANLAL v. BHARAT NATIONAL BANK LTD., DELHI. 67 I. C. 421 : 3 L. L. J. 373.

——— S. 59—Equitable mortgage—Record of deposit of title deeds is not a mortgage.

A memorandum recording deposit of title deed as an equitable mortgage and the purpose thereof does not create any interest in immoveable property and is not mortgage. 38 Bom. 372, dist. (Wilberforce, J.) UMRAO SINGH v. THE PUNJAB NATIONAL BANK, LTD. 3 L. L. J. 44 : 59 I. C. 578 : 3 U. P. L. R. (Lah.) 6.

——— S. 59—Equitable mortgage Mortgage by deposit of title deed—Copies.

A mortgage can be created by a deposit of copies of title deeds where the originals are not available. (Ratligan and Le Rossignol, JJ.) JESSIE MOGLE STEWART v. BANK OF UPPER INDIA, LTD. 31 P. R. 1916 : 34 I. C. 937 : 215 P. W. R. 1915.

——— S. 59—Equitable mortgage—No necessity for registration.

A memorandum merely evidencing a deposit of title deeds by way of equitable mortgage does not require registration. In any event the mortgage can be proved by other evidence. 4 L. W. 472 ; 16 L. W. 615 P. C. Ref., 24 Bom. L. R. 502 Diss. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) VADAMALAI PILLAI v. SUBRAMANIA CHETTIAR. 16 L. W. 936 : (1923) M. W. N. 57 (2) : 1923 Mad. 262.

——— Ss. 59 and 58—Equitable mortgage—Promissory note—Deposit of title deeds—Endorsement of note and handing over of title deeds.

Where a promissory note secured by a deposit of title deeds was endorsed even to the plaintiff and the title deeds were also delivered over to him. Held, that along with the transfer of the promissory note debt by endorsement, the equitable mortgage passed thereunder to the transferee under S. 8 of the Act. S. 54 of the Transfer of Property Act applies only to transfers by act of parties and does not cover a statutory transfer as that provided in S. 8 in respect of transfer of the securities as attendant on the transfer of the debt. (Wallis, C. J. and Napier, J.) CUNNIAH v. GOPAL CHETTIAR. 26 M. L. T. 242 : 52 I. C. 879 : (1919) M. W. N. 613.

——— S. 59—Equitable mortgage—Deposit of title deeds.

An equitable mortgage is not effected by the deposit of a deed which does not establish the title set up by the mortgagor when there are other documents not deposited, showing such title. (Krishnaswami Aiyar and Ayling, JJ.) VENKATARAMAYYA v. NARSINGA ROW. (1911) 1 M. W. N. 137 : 9 M. L. T. 292 : 9 I. C. 309 : 21 M. L. J. 454.

——— S. 59—Equitable mortgage—Scope and requirements of.

There is no technical rule that all the title deeds must be deposited to create an equitable mortgage ; it is merely a question of intention. (Chapman and Roe, JJ.) BHUPENDRA NATH BASU v. WAJIB UNNISSA BEGUM. 2 Pat. L. J. 293 : 39 I. C. 564 : 3 Pat. L. W. 20.

——— S. 59—Equitable mortgage—Mortgage by deposit of title deeds.

Where the T. P. Act has been applied a deposit of title deeds can create a valid mortgage securing a debt. (Ormond and Pratt, JJ.) SHU KYI v. HAJEE BEE BEE. 55 I. C. 248 : 12 Bur. L. T. 217.

——— S. 59—Equitable mortgage—Mortgage by a deposit of title deeds—Possession—Registration.

Where on a mortgage by deposit of title deeds the mortgagee was put into possession so as to appropriate the profits towards the interest due on the debt. Held, that no registered document was required for such a transfer of possession as was effected. The transaction was not one of sale or mortgage requiring such an instrument under Ss. 54 and 59. The mortgagees had a charge on the land and were entitled to retain possession thereof until the charge was paid off and in the meantime to take the rents and profits in lieu of interest as arranged at the time when they were put into possession. (Twomey, C. J. and Ormond, J.) SHWE LON v. HLA GYWE. 12 Bur. L. T. 46 : 47 I. C. 133 : 9 L. B. R. 172.

——— S. 59—Equitable mortgage—Document reciting delivery of securities to equitable mortgagee—Registration if necessary.

A document which merely recites, what securities are handed over to mortgagee is a memorandum and does not require registration. (Ormond and Pratt, JJ.) BADRI DAS v. O. A. M.K. CHETTY FIRM. 45 I. C. 918.

——— S. 59—Equitable mortgage—Deposit of title deeds—Effect of.

The Court treats the deposit of title-deeds as an agreement to execute a legal mortgage and therefore carrying with it all the remedies incident to such a mortgage; so in a suit based on such a mortgage the appropriate remedy is a decree for sale. 4 Ch. D. 605, 13 Cal. 322, 24 Cal. 349, Ref. (Fox, C. J.) BADIER RAHMAN CHOWDHURY v. M. A. R. R. M. R. M. CHETTY FIRM. 8 L. B. R. 450 : 35 I. C. 288 : 9 Bur. L. T. 245.

——— S. 59—Equitable mortgage—Assignment of—T. P. Act, S. 2 (e)—Burma.

An equitable mortgage made prior to 1st January 1905 can be assigned by an oral agreement in the Districts where after that date the parties could make the mortgage. (Ormond and Parlett, JJ.) KO KYO v. A. K. CURPEN CHETTY. 24 I. C. 700 : 7 Bur. L. T. 140.

——— S. 59—Equitable mortgage—Share certificate.

Deposit of share certificates without any transfer as security for a loan amounts to an equitable mortgage of the shares and gives a right to legal transfer of the shares carrying with it the remedies incident to a mortgage, including the right to foreclosure. Harold v. Plenby, (1901) 2 Ch. 314. Foll. (Fox, C. J. and Hartnoll, J.) M. L. R. M. A. FIRM v. ARIFF GOOLAM MEHATAR.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 59—Equitable Mortgage.

11 I. C. 783 : 4 Bur. L. T. 166.

——S. 59—Equitable mortgage — Property outside towns mentioned in S. 59.

S. 59 of the Transfer of Property Act contains no restrictions regarding the situation of the property to which the title-deeds relate. It contains restriction regarding the place where the equitable mortgage is effected. Therefore a loan secured in Moulmein by depositing title-deeds referring to lands outside that town, is perfectly valid and creates an equitable mortgage. (Hartnoll, O. C. J. and Ormond, J.) VALLIAPPA CHETTY v. KO THA HMYIN. 4 Bur. L. T. 169 : 11 I. C. 721 : 6 L. B. R. 23.

Invalid attestation.

——Ss. 59, 67 (a) and 100—Invalid attestation —Charge—Personal liability by implication.

A mortgaged his property to B by a deed which was not validly executed for want of proper attestation. The material portion of the deed was as follows:—"It is desired that the said Zarbharnadar (mortgagee) should realise in full his dues, principal with interest by remaining in possession of each of the said properties during the said years and by collecting the rents with cesses thereof " and there was a personal undertaking to pay certain specific sums in certain events. Though the mortgage was invalid, the mortgagee was put into possession in accordance with it. In a subsequent suit to realise the amount due, held, that the deed did not create a charge but was a usufructuary mortgage and upon the construction of the document no intention to assume a personal liability except in the events and to the extent specified could be inferred. (Sir John Edge.) RAM NARAYAN SINGH v. ADHINDHRA NATH MOOKERJEE.
20 C. W. N. 989 : (1916) 1 M. W. N. 428 : 4 L. W. 15 : 20 M. L. T. 216 : 14 A. L. J. 1017 : 18 Bom. L. R. 862 : 25 C. L. J. 115 : 34 I. C. 900 : 31 M. L J. 251. (P. C.)
[On appeal from 13 I. C. 440 ; 17 C. W. N. 369.]
[See on rehearing by the P C.38 I. C. 932 : 44 Cal. 388 (P. C.)]

——S. 59—Invalid attestation — Personal liability.

Where a mortgage deed is not properly attested it is not admissible in evidence as a mortgage-deed but it is admissible in evidence as a simple money-bond. (32 Mad. 410 ; 26 Cal. 78 ; 30 Mad. 251, Foll.) (Banerji, J.) MATHRA PERSHAD v. CHEDDI LAL. 29 I. C. 363 : 13 A. L. J. 553.
See also 34 I. C. 397 : 3 O. L. J. 164

——S. 59—Invalid attestation—Bond—Enforceability.

A mortgage deed is not validly attested unless the attestors had actually seen the executant sign the document. Where a mortgage is invalid for want of proper attestation it can be enforced as a bond against those who are personally liable under it. (Spencer and Devadoss, JJ.) KURU KONDI SAMA RAO v. FIRM OF MARWADI VANNAPI VAJIJI. (1922) M. W. N. 708 : 32 M.L.T. 9: 17 L. W. 661: 46 M. 64 : 43 M. L J. 745 : 1923 M. 36.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 59—Meaning of attestation.

——Ss. 59 and 91—Invalid attestation—Melcharth—Necessity for attestation.

Melcharth is a deed of mortgage and of lease and is invalid if not properly attested ; if invalid it cannot be relied upon as a lease. (Spencer and Krishnan, JJ.) KUPPIMI v. PARASA PATTAR.
39 I. C. 167 : (1917) M.W.N. 3.

——S. 59—Invalid attestation—Non-attestation—Plea of—Duty of Court to entertain.

Where in the course of a trial a deft. raises the plea that the mortgage is invalid as not being attested by two witnesses as required by S. 59, the Court should not dismiss the suit for that reason. It must give parties an opportunity to adduce fresh evidence on the issue and then decide the question. 39 I. A. 220, Foll. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) RATNA NAIDU v. AIYANACHARIAR. 29 I. C, 991 : (1915) M. W. N. 637.

——S. 59—Invalid attestation—Attestation by witness, not witnessing execution.

A document requiring attestation, must be attested by a witness who has witnessed the attestation otherwise it cannot be enforced. Attestation on an acknowledgment by the person executing is not sufficient. (Sankaran Nair and Napier, JJ.) CHIDAMBARAM CHETTYAR v. SUBBARAGAVA SASTRI. 16 I.C. 207.

Marksman as attestor.

——S. 59—Marksman as attestor.

A marksman is an attesting witness within the meaning of S. 59, T. P. Act and S. 68 of the Evidence Act. (Sundar Lal, J.) CHIRANJI LAL v. POORNA. 26 I. C. 84 : 12 A. L. J. 1114.

——S. 59—Marksman as attestor—Meaning of attestation.

If the executant is illiterate, his mark is his signature independently of any writing by which the mark may be explained. The attesting witness need not formally be described as such in the document. (Batchelor and Shah, JJ.) GOVIND BHIKAJI v. BHAOO GOPAL. 41 Bom. 384 : 19 Bom. L. R. 147 : 39 I. C. 61.
[See also 18 A. L. J. 105 : 55 I. C 230 : 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 58.

Meaning of attestation.

——S. 59—Meaning of Attestation — Requirements of S. 59.

S. 59 of the Transfer of Property Act requires that the attesting witness must be able to make a statement on oath regarding the identity of the person performing the transfer as well as execution of the deed of such transfer by him. Thus in case of a deed executed by a pardanashin lady, if she sits on one side of the parda and the witness is on the other side and the deed is taken to the lady and returned with a signature on it purporting to be her and given out to be by her, whereupon the witnesses signs, the attestation is not valid inasmuch as the requirements of

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 59—Meaning of attestation.

S 59, T.P. Act, are not complied with. (Haldane.) GANGA PRASAD SINGH BAHADUR v. ISHRI PARSHAD SINGH. 4 P L. W 349 : 16 A. L. J. 409 : 27 C L.J. 548: 22 C. W. N. 697 : 20 Bom. L. R 587, 23 M L. T. 388 : (1918) M W.N. 382 : 8 L.W. 176: 45 C. 748 : 45 I. A. 94 : 45 I. C. 1. 34 M. L.J. 545 (P.C.).

——S. 59—Meaning of attestation—Subsequent acknowledgment of signature—Insufficiency of—Evidence Act, S 68.

The word 'attest' in S. 59 means the witnessing of the actual execution of the mortgage-deed and not as in S. 50 of the Succession Act, the attestation of an acknowledgment of execution merely. An instrument not duly attested as aforesaid cannot operate either as a mortgage or as a charge. 26 All. 69, Overruled. (Mr. Ameer Ali.) SHAMU PATTAR v ABDUL KADIR ROWTHAN. 35 Mad. 607 : 39 I. A. 218 : 16 C. W. N. 1009 : 12 M. L. T. 338 : (1912) M W. N. 935 : 10 A. L. J. 259 : 14 Bom L. R. 1034: 16 C.L.J 596: 16 I. C. 250 : 23 M. L. J. 321 (P.C.).

——S. 59—Meaning of attestation.

'Attesting witness' in S, 68 of the Evidence Act means the same thing as 'attesting witness' in T.P. Act, S. 59, when the question is as to the proof of a mortgage. (Newbould and Panton, JJ.) JAGANNATH KHAN v. BAJRANG DAS. 62 I.C. 97 : 48 Cal. 61.

——S. 59—Meaning of attestation—Deed consisting of three sheets—Witness signing on the second—Third added subsequently.

A mortgage deed consisted of two sheets. The mortgagor signed at the foot of the second and the two witnesses also signed there as having witnessed the signing by the mortgagor, a third sheet was then added which included other properties of the mortgagor and it was signed by the mortgagor in presence of the witnesses who, however, did not sign the third sheet. Held, the attestation was valid. (Walmsley and Greaves, JJ.) JANKI NATH ROY v. ASWINI KUMARI DEVI. 60 I. C. 736.

——S. 59—Meaning of attestation—Pardanashin lady—Proof.

A mortgage was executed by a pardanashin lady and was attested by her husband and another witness. The husband actually saw the lady signing the deed and the other witness was outside the screen in the same room and he knew her voice and heard her say "yes" when the document was being explained to her. Held, that the document was duly attested. (Chatterjee and Chapman, JJ.) MT. RUKMANI KOERI v. NIMALI BANDOPADHYAYA. 32 I.C. 170 : 19 C. W. N. 1309.

——S. 59—Meaning of attestation—Inclusion of item after attestation—Effect of.

With the consent and knowledge of the mortgagor and in the presence of the attesting witnesses an item was put in the mortgage to avoid delay in registration and to get the document registered in an office near the place where the mortgagor was living. Held, there was a valid mortgage as regards the item and that the deed must be deemed to have been properly executed and attested with regard to that item. (Seshagiri, Aiyar and Moore, JJ.) SANKARAN NAMBIAR v. NARAYANAN TIRUMANPU. 43 Mad. 405 : 11 L. W. 192 : (1920) M. W. N. 205 : 55 I C. 86 : 38 M. L. J. 251.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 59—Meaning of attestation.

——S. 59—Meaning of attestation—Attestor signing before executant—Invalidity.

Attestation of a mortgage deed within the meaning of S 59 of the T. P. Act must be made by the witnesses signing their names after seeing the actual execution of the deed. Mere acknowledgment of his signature is not sufficient to show valid attestation. An attestation is an act done after execution and until the deed has been executed there can be no attestation. 35 M. 607 : 6 N. L. R. 152 Ref. (Prideaux, A.J.C.) MT. GODAWARIBAI v. SAMPAT. 68 I C. 198.

——S. 59—Meaning of attestation—Pardanashin lady—Execution.

A suit was brought on a mortgage bond purporting to have been executed by Deft. No. 1, a Mahomedan, and Defts. Nos. 2 and 3, his pardanashin wives. Defts Nos. 2 and 3 signed the documents sitting behind the parda They had admitted that they were the wives of Deft. No. 1 and had also been identified by Deft. No. 1 as his wives. The attesting witnesses who were present but did not see the ladies, then made their signatures. Held that it was not essential that the attesting witnesses should have actually seen the ladies sign the document and that the attestation was valid. 13 C.W.N. 40 : 14 C.W N. 165, 37 Cal. 526 Foll. (Kotval, A. J. C.) MUSSAMMAT KASIDANBI v. GANGULAL. 16 N. L. R. 196 : 56 I. C. 247.

[For a similar case. See 45 I. C. 691 : 4 Pat. L. W. 417.] [But See 45 I. C 1 : 45 Cal. 748 (P. C.)] and 16 I. C 250 : 35 Mad. 607 (P. C.)]

——S. 59—Meaning of attestation—Execution—Proof of.

The execution of a deed creating a charge can be proved by the witnesses who signed it upon the executant's acknowledgment of his signature thereon but such a witness is not an attesting witness within the meaning of S. 59. (Stanyon, A. J. C.) KHEM CHAND v. MALLOO. 26 I. C. 601 : 10 N. L. R. 81.

——S. 59—Meaning of attestation—Acknowledgment of execution—T. P. (Validating) Act S. 2.

Under S. 2 of the Transfer of Property (Validating) Act, 1917, it is sufficient if the witness before signing his name, received from the executant a personal acknowledgment of his signature to the same. Held, on the evidence the presumption under S, 69 of the Evidence Act, had not been rebutted. (Lyle and Ashworth, A. J. Cs.) CHANDIKA BAKHSH SINGH v. WIDOW OF JANGAN SINGH. 52 I. C. 449: 6 O. L. J. 331.

——S. 59—Meaning of attestation—Invalid mortgagee—Personal decree.

To satisfy the requirements of S. 59 of the T. P. Act the witnesses must sign their names after seeing the actual execution of the deed. Merely witnessing the execution is not sufficient compliance with law. 35 M. 607 P. C. Ref. A mortgage deed which is not enforceable as such by reason of non registration or want of attestation is admissible in evidence to prove a personal covenant to pay on the strength of which a simple money decree can be passed. 16 C. 540 : 10 C. 740 : 22 C 434 : 4 C.L.J. 510 dist. (Robinson, C. J. and Duckworth, J) QUAH CHENG GWAN v. MAUNG PO MYI.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 59—Modification of Mortgage.

66 I. C. 589: 11 L. B. R. 148.

Modification of Mortgage.

——S. 59—Modification of mortgage—Agreement modifying—Attestation.

Subsequent agreement providing for the discharge of a previous mortgage on receipt of a smaller sum than the mortgage amount, will not constitute a re-hypothecation of the properties mortgaged already, merely because it refers to the details of the properties mortgaged previously, and it does not require to be attested. (Lindsay, A. J. C.) BISHESHAR SINGH v. RAMBHAROSE. 20 I. C. 544.

Mortgage before T. P. Act.

——S 59 — Mortgage before the Act—Writing not necessary—Delivery of possession.

Before the T.P. Act came into force, a usufructuary mortgage could be created in the mufassal (outside the Presidency Towns) without any writing but by simple delivery of possession. (Mr. Ameer Ali.) AHMED RAZA v. ABID HUSAIN.
38 All. 494: 43 I. A. 264: 18 Bom. L. R. 904 : 14 A. L. J. 1099 : 20 M. L. T. 447: 24 C. L. J. 504 : (1916) 2 M W. N. 548: 21 C. W. N. 265 : 5 L. W. 153: 39 I. C. 11 1 Pat. L. W. 90 (P. C.).

Oral Mortgage.

——S. 59—Oral mortgage—Mortgage—Evidence of.

A verbal mortgage followed by possession completes the transaction and any document subsequently executed is no bar to the original transaction being orally proved. (Mc Coll, A. J. C.) NGA LU DAW v. MI MO YI. 31 I. C. 87 : 2 U. B. R. (1915) 66.

Proof of attestation.

——S. 59—Proof of attestation—Pardanashin ladies—Executants.

A mortgage deed was executed by two pardanashin ladies. The attesting witnesses saw the hand of each executant when she signed the deed seated behind the curtain, and though they could not see the faces of the executants they heard them speak and recognised their voices. Held, that the deed was duly attested under S. 56 of the T. P. Act. (Sir John Edge.) PADRATH HALAWAI v. RAM NARAIN UPADIYA.
37 All. 474: 42 I. A. 163: 13 A. L. J. 809 19 C. W. N 991: 17 Bom L. R. 617: 18 M. L. T. 85: 2 L. W. 639: 29 M. L. J. 159: 22 C. L. J. 165: 30 I. C. 366 : (1915) M. W. N. 709 (P. C.)

——S. 59—Proof of attestation—Further evidence.

Where the only attesting witness produced did not see the executant sign, the plaintiff ought to be given the further opportunity to produce evidence to prove the mortgage. (Griffin and Chamier, JJ.) RAM v. LILADHIR BAKHSHI. 35 All. 353: 21 I. C. 619: 11 A. L. J. 371.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S 59—Proof of attestation.

——S. 59—Proof of attestation—Execution of mortgage—Attestation.

When one out of two attesting witnesses is dead and the other denies all knowledge of it and there is no other evidence to show that the document was executed in the presence of any of the attesting witnesses, due execution and attestation are not proved. (Richards, C. J. and Lyle, J.) WAZIRKHAN v. RAMPHAL. 19 I. C. 643.

——S. 59—Proof of attestation—Want of proper attestation—Effect of.

A mortgage bond is not duly executed and cannot operate as a mortgage unless it is in fact signed by the mortgagor in the presence of at least two witnesses who sign the document as attesting witnesses. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) BENOY BHUSAN ROY v. DHIRENDRA NATH DEY.
38 C. L. J. 114 : 1924 C. 415.

——S. 59—Proof of attestation—Not given—Personal decree.

A mortgage bond properly attested, but not proved in conformity with S. 68 of the Evidence Act is not receivable in evidence to prove the personal obligation thereby created. 3 M. 337: 35 M. 607, Rel.; 26 C. 78 dist. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ) SUDHAYA KUMAR SINGH v. GOUR CHANDRAPAL. 35 C. L. J. 473: 27 C W. N. 134: 1922 C. 160.

——S. 59—Proof of attestation—Mixed question of law and fact.

The objection that a mortgage is not duly attested cannot be allowed to be taken for the first time in appeal as it is a mixed question of law and fact. (Teunon and Walmsley, JJ.) SRICHARAN BHANDARI v. MAKHAN LAL BHANDARI.
51 I. C. 378.

——S 59—Proof of attestation—Admission by party.

If the sole executant of a document required by law to be attested, admits of its execution by himself there is no necessity of calling an attesting witness under S. 68 of the Act for the purpose of proving its execution as against any person (Woodroffe, Chatterjee and Newbould, JJ.) SATISH CHANDRA MITTRA v. JOGENDRA NATH.
44 Cal. 345 : 20 C.W.N. 1044 : 34 I. C. 862 : 24 C. L. J. 175.

——S 59—Proof of attestation — Question if to be raised in appeal.

Where the validity of a mortgage deed has never been questioned, the question of attestation or of its proof does not arise Such a point cannot be raised for the first time in appeal, (Odgers and Hughes, JJ). RANGASWAMI AIYANGAR v VEERA RAGHAVACHARI 46 M. L. J. 56 : 18 L. W. 620 : (1923) M W. N. 789 : 33 M. L. T. 73 · (H. C.) 1924 M. 13.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S 59—Proof of attestation.

——S. 59—Proof of attestation—Malabar Law.

Kanom, Melkanom, and Melcharth deeds required attestation as mortgage deeds under Ss. 59. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) KANDIYAL PARKUR v. THOTTOLI KOTTARATHIL.
44 Mad. 314 : (1921) M. W. N. 229 : 14 L. W. 69 : 62 I. C. 386 : 40 M. L. J. 282.

——S 59—Proof of attestation.

To prove the creation of a valid charge by a mortgage deed the evidence of one of the attesting witnesses is sufficient to prove the execution o fthe mortgage ; but this proof may be rebutted by the proof on the other side that the other witness or witnesses did not really see his execution. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) VENKATA REDDI v. MUTHU PAMBULU NAIK.
60 I. C. 554 : 39 M. L. J. 463.

——S. 59—Proof of attestation.

An "attested" document means a document whose execution by the executant has been actually seen by the apparent attestor. 35 Mad. 607 (P. C.), Foll. To prove an attested document it is enough if one attestor is called. He need not depose that he saw the other attestor witness the execution. 39 All 109 : 39 All. 241, Rel. An allegation of proper attestation of a mortgage in a plaint not denied specifically or by necessary implication by the defendant, must be taken to have been admitted by him. Consequently it need be proved under S. 58, Evidence Act. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) VENKATA REDDI v. MUTHULU PAMBULU. 28 M. L. T. 213 : 58 I. C. 801 : (1920) M. W. N. 512.

——S. 59—Proof of attestation—Formalities—Admission of execution—Effect of.

An attestor of a mortgage must not merely see the execution of the document but must also subscribe his name on the document as having seen the execution A document without a proper attestation is ineffectual to create a mortgage. Even where the execution of a mortgage is admitted it is competent to the Court to require strict proof of valid attestation. 35 Mad. 607: 31 M. L. J. 240, Ref. (Abdur Rahim and Oldfield, JJ.) MUNIAPPA CHETTIAR v. VELLACHAMI MANNADI. 25 M. L. T. 19 : 9 L. W. 5 : 49 I. C. 278 : (1918) M. W. N. 853.

——S. 59—Proof of attestation—Execution admitted

A mortgage deed to be valid must have been duly attested by two witnesses who have seen the execution ; proof of due attestation is necessary though execution is admitted by the mortgagor. 35 Mad. 607, (P.C.), Foll. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) VADLA NAGIAH v. VALURU DIVAKARA MUDALIAR. 6 L. W. 147 : 41 I. C. 585 : (1917) M. W. N. 583.

——S. 59—Proof of attestation—Onus on mortgagee.

In a mortgage suit the onus of proving due attestation of the deed is upon the mortgagee notwithstanding the admission of execution by the mortgagor. If the validity of an attestation (which ex facie is regular) is not disputed, then the maxim "Omnia Praesumuntor rite esse actae" applies and the attestation is presumed to be valid. (Batten, A. J. C.) BALAKRISHNAN v. NARASIMHA. 42 I. C. 299 : 13 N. L. R. 121.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 59—Proof of attestation.

——S. 59—Proof of attestation—Nature of.

It is enough if one attesting witness proves execution and his attestation after seeing the executant sign, though he does not say whether he saw the other attesting witnesses sign it. (Daniels, A. J. C.) KESHEO v. SITLU. 39 I. C. 274 : 4 O. L. J. 65.

——S. 59—Proof of attestation—Evidence Act, S. 71.

When a mortgagor does not execute his deed in the presence of the witnesses there is no proper attestation as required by S. 59 of the T. P. Act. When there is no proper attestation of a mortgage deed by reason the execution of the deed not having taken place in their presence, evidence of the witnessing of the execution by some other person is not sufficient to prove the attestation as required by S 71 of the Evidence Act. 16 I C. 250 (P. C.), Foll. (Lindsay, J. C. and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) MAHADEO PRASAD v. GAJRAJ SINGH. 34 I. C. 397 : 3 O. L. J. 164.

——S. 59—Proof of attestation.

Where a witness states a mortgage bond was executed in the presence of himself and others and that he signed after seeing it executed, it is sufficient proof that he signed as attesting witness. (Das and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) ISHWAR-PRASAD NARAYAN DEO v. CHOTA NAGPUR BANKING ASSOCIATION, LTD. 1924 P. 317.

——S. 59—Proof of attestation—Mixed question of law and fact.

It is mixed question of law and fact whether or not the evidence led by a mortgagee suing on his mortgage on whom the onus rests is sufficient to show that the terms of S. 59 have been duly complied with. (Mullick and Adami, JJ.) DULHIN SUNDARI v. BEHARILAL. 51 I. C 328 : 1919 Pat. 279.

——S. 59—Proof of attestation.

Where A one of the attesting witnesses admitted that he signed the deed, but said that he did not see the executants sign the deed, but that he did accompany the executants to the Registration office to identify them. Another witness said that the deed was executed in the presence of A. It was found that A was speaking false. Held the deed was properly attested. (Robinson, C. J. and May Oung, J.) DAWSON'S BANK LTD. v. C. R. V. V. CHETTY FIRM AND ANOTHER.
1 Rang. 121 : 1923 R. 254.

——S. 59—Proof of attestation—Acknowledgment of signature—Mortgage invalid—Evidence Act, S. 68.

A mortgage deed purported to have been signed by two witnesses as required by S. 59. But it was admitted in evidence that one of them was not present at the time of the execution but signed it on being told by the executant that he had executed it. Held, that the document was not only inadmissible under S. 68 of the Evidence

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882). S. 59—Proof of execution.

Act but did not effect a mortgage at all. (Twomey, C. J. and Parlett, J.) PERIANNAN CHETTY v. MAUNG BA THAW. 11 Bur. L. T. 114 : 43 I. C. 916 : 9 L. B. R. 159.

Proof of execution.

——S. 59—Proof of execution— Illiterate mortgagor.

Where an executant is a marksman, it must be proved not merely that the mark is that of the executant but also that it was affixed to the deed in the presence of the witnesses. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) KASAIMDHAN v. MUKHDHUM BAKSH. 40 I. C. 191.

——S. 59—Proof of execution — Personal decree—Appellate Court.

Where a document is not executed in the manner prescribed by Sec. 59 of the Transfer of Property Act, it does not operate as a mortgage. If the appellant asks for a personal decree, the Court can grant it. (Richards, C.J. and Rafique, J.) RADHESHIAM v. CHUNNI, 35 I. C. 192 : 14 A. L. J. 361.

——S. 59—Proof of execution—Admission.

An admission by a person of the execution by himself of an attested document is sufficient proof of its execution against himself though the document is required by law to be attested and in the absence of any plea or evidence of want of due attestation it need not be proved (Schah, C. J. and Crump, J.) JAGANNATH v. RAOJI TULSIRAM. 24 Bom. L. R. 1296 : 47 B. 137: 1923 Bom. 90.

——S. 59—Proof of execution.

Formalities imposed by law against perjury and fraud must be strictly observed. A mortgage is not duly executed and cannot operate as a mortgage or create a charge unless it was in fact signed by the mortgagor in the presence at least of the attesting witnesses. 35 Mad. 607 ; 27 C. L. J. 548 Ref. (Richardson and Suhrawardy, JJ.) ARJUN CHANDRA BHADRA v. KAILAS CHANDRA DAS. 27 C. W. N. 263 : 36 C. L. J. 373 : 1923 C. 149.

——S. 59—Proof of execution—Admission of execution by defendant rendors proof unnecessary.

Admission by deft. of the execution of a mortgage-deed in a suit on it, renders it unnecessary for the plff. to prove that the document was executed and attested as required by S. 59. (Dass and Adami, JJ.) HIRA BIBI v. RAMDHAN LAL. 2 Pat. L. T. 752 : 62 I. C. 540 : 6 P. L. J. 465.

Registration.

——S. 59—Registration— Mortgage before T. P. Act—Title by estoppel.

Where in execution of a money decree a compromise was arrived at as a result of which the decree-holder took possession of certain properties of the judgment-debtor as usufructuary mortgagee but the document was not stamped or registered, held that the transaction having been entered into before the Transfer of Property Act did not require registration and that, even otherwise, the long course of conduct on the part of the mortgagor prevented him from disputing the validity of the mortgage. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) RAMSEWAK RAI v. SHEO NAIK RAI. 45 A. 388 : L. R. 4 A. 389 : 21 A. L. J. 294 : 1923 A. 433 (2).

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882). S. 59—Registration.

——S. 59—Registration—Rights of parties before registration—Attachment of debt in the hands of mortgagee.

Until the mortgage deed has been duly registered the mortgagee is not under any obligation to advance any mortgage money to the mortgagor consequently it is not open to a creditor of the mortgagor to attach the mortgage money in the hands of the mortgagee until registration of the mortgage. (Lindsay and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) TULSHI RAM v. HARAKH NARAIN BHAGAT. L. R. 3 A. 430 : 1922 A. 384.

——S. 59—Registration —Mortgage—Interest in a grove—Whether registration required.

Rights and interests of a grove-holder are rights and interests in immoveable property and registration is essential for a mortgage thereof. 9 I. C. 478, Dist. (Richards, C. J. and Banerji, J.) SHEO NAIK RAM v. SHEO RAM. 23 I. C. 963.

——S. 59—Registration— Mortgage deed—Construction—Registration.

A mortgage recited that a sum of Rs. 91 only was due at the date of its execution but provided for payment of Rs. 180 on default. Held, that it did not require registration, (Rafique, J.) JODH RAM v. SHAH LAJJA RAM. 21 I. C. 78 : 11 A. L. J. 729.

——S. 59—Registration—Inclusion of stranger's property in mortgage to resume registration—Effect.

If a property has been introduced in a mortgage bond, which has either no existence or does not belong to the mortgagor, with a view to registration of the document in a particular office, the registration must be deemed to be futile, with the result that there is no enforceable security under S. 59, T. P. Act. 41 I. A. 110 ; 48 I. A. 127 foll. (Mukerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) KEDARNATH DAS v. JYANTA KUMAR SHOME. 38 C. L. J. 355 : 1924 C. 348.

——S. 59—Registration —Moveables—Mortgage of—No writing, etc. required in the Punjab.

In the Punjab a hypotheca of moveable property is not required to be by deed in writing and if made orally is effectual for all purposes (except as provided for by S. 48, Registration Act) provided always it can be proved. 11 I. C. 869 Foll. (Rattigan and Rossignol, JJ.) MRS. STEWART v. BANK OF UPPER INDIA, LTD. 32 P. R. 1916 : 34 I. C. 932 : 214 P. W. R. 1915.

——Ss. 59 and 100—Registration—Charge—Unregistered—Admissibility as regards moveables.

Where an unregistered document creates a charge over moveables and immoveables the document though inadmissible as regards immoveable property can be admitted in evidence so as to affect rights in immoveable property. (Ayling and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) PASHUPATI VENKATAPATHIRAJU v. VENKATASUBHADRAYAMMA. 47 I. C 563.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 59—Registration.

——S. 59—Registration— Registered deed —Subsequent transferee if bound—Question of notice when arises.

A registered mortgage by a person entitled to dispose of immoveable property binds the property as against subsequent transferees with or without notice and question of notice arises only where there is conflict between a registered and an unregistered deed or oral sale or when the transferee is not entitled to dispose of the property. 13 C. P. L. R. 43 Dist. (Skinner, A. J. C.) SHRIKISON v. CHATAR SINGH.

13 I. C. 904 : 8 N. L. R. 18.

——S. 59—Registration--Want of—Enforceability as a bond.

Where owing to non-registration a mortgage is not enforceable as a mortgage, it is open to the creditor to obtain a simple money decree on the covenant to repay. 9 M. 441 : 12 O. C. 275 : 20 O. C. 155 Ref. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) RAM AUTAR v. RAM ASRE. 66 I. C. 680 : 8 O. L. J. 414.

——S. 59—Registration—Mortgage of royalty.

Interest in a royalty does not constitute an interest in immoveable property. Mortgage on royalty does not require registration or attestation. (Das and Adami, JJ.) KRISHNA KISHORE ADHIKARY v. KUSUNDA NYADI COLLIERIES.

1922 P. 36.

——S. 59—Registration—Necessity- Burma.

In a simple mortgage effected after 1st January 1905, a registered instrument is necessary in Burma whatever the amount may be. An unregistered instrument is invalid. (Twomey, J.) MG. SHAWE BYA v. CHAWARI MUTHU.

12 I. C. 25 : 4 Bur. L. T. 219.

Scribe as attestor.

——S. 59—Scribe as attestor—Attestation improper—Effect of.

A document though registered in which the scribe wrote the name of the second witness without proof of authorization creates no mortgage or charge. But a money decree may be given as it is a registered document. (Walsh and Sunderlal, JJ.) PARAM HANS v. RANDHIR SINGH.

38 All. 461 : 35 I. C. 748 : 14 A. L. J. 673.

——S. 59—Scribe as attestor—Evidence Act, S. 68—Attesting witness, who is.

A mortgage was signed in the presence of the writer of the deed and one of the attesting witnesses. The other attesting witness put his attestation on the deed later on. Held, tha the deed was not validly executed under S. 59 of the T. P Act. 41 Bom. 384, Ref. Per Macleod, C. J.— A Court will be loath to hold that in any case a scribe wherever he wrote his name, could be considered to sign the document as an attesting witness unless he actually said so in the document. There is a very great difference between an attesting witness and a scribe and it would lead to attempts to evade the plain words of S. 59 and would also lead to constant difficulties thereafter if the law was not strictly observed. (Macleod, C. J. and Heaton, J.) DALICHAND SHIVRAM MARWADI v. LOTU SAKHARYM. 22 Bom. L. R. 136 : 55 I. C. 616 : 44 Bom. 43.

See also 56 I. C. 945 : 12 Bur. L. T. 261.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 59—Scribe of attestor.

——S. 59—Scribe as attestor.

Where a scribe of a mortgage document has himself written the name of the executant and the document contains no mark, seal or thumb-impression of the mortgagor, the scribe is not competent to become an attesting witness to the signature he himself has written out and in the absence of two other attesting witnesses the document will not operate as a mortgage or a charge. (Mookerjee and Buckland, JJ.) SRISTIDHAR GHOSH v. RAKSHAKALY DASSI. 63 I. C. 507.

——S. 59—Scribe as attestor—Competency as witness.

A person who is present and witnesses the execution of deed and whose name is there on the deed, is a competent witness to prove the execution though he is described as merely a writer. (Newbould and Panton, JJ.) JAGANNATH KHAN v. BAJRANG DAS. 62 I. C 97 : 48 Cal. 61.

——S. 59—Scribe as attestor —T. P. Act, S. 60.

Where no mark or seal or thumb-impression of the mortgagor appears on a mortgage deed, the scribe who executes the document for and on behalf of the mortgagor is not competent to attest his own signature as an attesting witness. 34 Mad. 607, Ref. (Fletcher and Walmsley, JJ.) RAJANIKANTA BHADRA v. PANCHANAND.

46 Cal. 522 : 48 I. C. 720 : 23 C. W. N. 290.

——S. 59—Scribe as attestor—Scribe deposing to execution of deed—Proof.

The essence of attestation of a document is that the person attesting must have seen the document executed by the executant The fact that a person calls himself a scribe in a certain document does not necessarily debar him from being an attesting witness thereto and the question whether a scribe is also an attestor and was indebted to witness the execution of the document is a question of fact depending upon the facts of each case. 24 M L. J. 534 ; 20 C W. N. 699, and 5 C. W. N. 458 Ref. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) PARAMASIVA UDAYAN v. KRISHNA PADAYACHI.

41 Mad. 535 : 43 I. C. 983 : 7 L. W 241:
See also (1913) M. W. N. 400 : 24 M. L. J. 534 : 19 I. C. 589 : 13 M. L. T. 463.

——S. 59—Scribe as attestor.

A writer of a document can be an attestor for the purpose of S.59. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) KOTTAPALLI SUBBAMMA v. JATAVALLABHULA SUBRAHMANYAM. 39 Mad. 1035 : 32 I. C. 813 : 30 M. L. J. 260.

——S. 59—Scribe as attestor.

The writer of a document, who signs after an admitted attestor signs as an attestor though

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 59—Scribe as attestor.

he merely describes himself as the writer. 24 M L. J. 534 ; 35 Mad. 670 ; 39 I. A. 220, Foll. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) AYYASAMI IYENGAR v. KYLASAM PILLAI. 26 I. C. 409

——— S. 59—Scribe as attestor—Evidence Act (1872), Ss. 68 69 and 71—Attesting witness—Whether scribe an attesting witness.

Under S 59 of the T.P. Act and Ss. 68, 69 and 71 of the Evidence Act the scribe of the mortgage deed who writes it and signs it and in whose presence it is executed is not an attesting witness. A witness who has signed the document but who was not present at the time of its execution is not an attesting witness. 39 I.A 220. Ref. (Stuart, J. C.) RAM SAHU v. GOURI SHANKER. 39 I. C. 153 : 4 O. L. J. 101.

——— S. 59—Scribe as attestor — Proof of—Onus.

Where a person who has signed a deed as a scribe subsequently asserts that he signed as a witness the onus of proving this assertion lies heavily on him 1 Pat. L. J. 129, Foll. (Roe and Atkinson, JJ.) NAGESWAR PRASAD v. BACHU SINGH. 53 I.C. 79 : 4 Pat L. J. 511.

——— S. 59—Scribe as attestor— Meaning of attestation.

An attestor is said to 'attest' when he witnesses the execution of the deed and subscribes as an attesting witness. Chamier, C. J.—The scribe of a document who was present at its execution but who subscribes himself only as a scribe is not deemed as an attesting witness. There is no presumption that a scribe or a person describing himself as an attestor of a document witnesses its execution : the fact must be proved by evidence. (Chamier, C. J. and Jwala Prasad J.) RAM BAHADUR SINGH v. AJODHYA SINGH 1 Pat L. J. 129 : 20 C. W. N. 699 : 34 I. C. 370 : 3 Pat. L. W. 93.

——— S. 59—Scribe as attestor.

Where a mortgage is signed by the writer as well as the mortgagee without indicating that they signed as attestors, the mortgage is not validly attested. 35 A. 254 ; 4 Pat L. J. 511 Ref. (Saunders, J C.) MAUNG PO THAUNG v. P.L.N. R. M. MUTHIA CHETTY. (1921) 4 U B, R. 78.

——— S. 59—Scribe as attestor.

The writer of a document who does not subscribe as a witness but merely as a scribe, is not an attesting witness within the meaning of S, 59 although he witnesses the execution of a document. (Twomey, C J and Robinson, J.) S. V. S. T. CHETTY v. PO MYA. 56 I. C 945: 12 Bur. L. T. 261.

——— S. 59—Scribe as attestor—Attestation—Validity of.

For the validity of a mortgage deed it is essential that the attesting witnesses should have witnessed the execution by the executant.

Thus a mortgage attested by one and signed by the scribe as a writer cannot be said to be a valid mortgage as the other does not sign it as an attesting witness (Ormond and Partett, JJ.) MG. SO v. O. A R. RAMASWAMY CHETTY 24 I. C. 375 (1).

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882). S. 60—Clog on redemption.

Who can be attestor.

——— S. 59—Who can be attestor,

A person not a party but interested in the money advanced can validly attest a deed of mortgage. (Scott, C.J. and Rao. J.) BALU RAVJI v, GOPAL GANGADAR. 12 I. C. 531 : 13 Bom. L. R. 944

——— Ss. 59 (1) and 100—Who can be attestor—Executant—Mortgage invalid.

One of the two executants, signed as an executant, also as writer and as one of two attesting witnesses. The first Court held the document invalid as mortgage but gave a charge. Held a party to a document could not be allowed to sign it both as an attesting witness and as an executant 32 Cal. 729 ; 33 Cal. 985. Foll. Therefore the bond could not be held to be valid as against deft No. 1 as a mortgage ; as the document, if valid, amounted to a mortgage and no charge was created by it on the property. 33 Cal. 985 Rel. The plff could sue on the personal covenant, but that remedy having been barred, the suit should be wholly dismissed. (Brett and Sharfuddin, JJ.) DEBENDRA CHANDRA ROY v. BEHARI LAL MUKHERJI. 15 I. C. 666 : 16 C. W. N. 1075.

——— S. 59—Who can be attestor—A person giving his approval.

A person signing a mortgage-deed not as a witness but as a person who merely approves of the transaction is not an attesting witness. (Das and Adami, JJ.) BARKUARIN ALAK v. SIRCAR BARNARD & CO. 2 P. L. T. 761 : 62 I C. 668 : 6 P.L.J. 473.

——— S. 60.

Charge.
Clog on Redemption.
Duty of Mortgagee.
Mortgage money.
Partial Redemption.
Redemption out of Court.
Rights of Redemption.
Rights of Mortgage.
Splitting up to Security.

Charge.

——— S. 60—Charge, deed of, construction of—Redemption.

A mortgagor borrowed certain sum from his mortgagee with an agreement that the debt would be a charge over the mortgaged property and that he would pay it up at the time of redemption. Held, the deed was a mortgage of, or at least a charge over the mortgaged property and the mortgagor could not redeem without paying the debt borrowed. (Shadilal and Le Rossignol, JJ.) HUKAM CHAND v. KADAR BAKSH 37 I. C. 166 : 100 P. W. R. 1916.

Clog on Redemption.

——— S. 60—Clog on redemption—Provision against raising money by sale of further mortgage of property.

Semble.—A provision in a mortgage deed that the mortgagor should pay the mortgage money within the stipulated period out of his own pocket without selling or charging the mortgaged property, would be illegal as an encroachment on a mortgagor's right to redeem from whatever source he might procure the funds to do so. (Lord Atkinson.) JHANDA SINGH v. WAHID-UD-DIN.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 60—Clog on redemption.

38 All. 570 : 43 I. A. 284 : 31 M. L. J. 750 : 21 C. W. N. 66 : 20 M. L. T. 529 : 14 A. L. J. 1189 : (1916) 2 M. W. N. 570 : 19 Bom. L. R 1 : 5 L. W. 189 : 25 C. L. J. 524 : 36 I. C. 38 : 10 Bur. L. T. 131 (P. C.).

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Subsequent arrangement qualifying right to redeem.

Where a few years after the creation of a mortgage another agreement was entered into between the mortgagor and mortgagee whereby the right of redemption was subjected to the condition that it could not be exercised so long as small annuity was paid, held, that such an agreement was not bad in law, even though it operated to clog the equity of redemption. The law does not prevent the parties to a mortgage from coming to any arrangement afterwards qualifying the right to dedeem. It is not alleged that the action is brought upon a breach in the covenant contained in the deed of compromise. The suit therefore is rightly dismissed. (Mr. Ameer Ali,) SHANKAR DIN v. GOKUL PRASAD.

34 All. 620 : 14 Bom. L. R. 1098 : 23 M. L J. 621 : 15 O. C. 285 : 12 M. L. T. 419 : (1912) M. W. N. 1061 : 10 A. L. J. 344 : 17 C. W. N. 1 : 16 I. C. 78 : 17 C. L. J. 9 (P.C.).

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Mortgages prior and subsequent—Redemption.

A usufructuary mortgage was followed by another mortgage in favour of the same person over the same property which recited that if interest was not paid aunually the mortgagee could sue and also that the first mortgage could not be redeemed without redemption of the second also: Held, it was a clog and could not be enforced. (Gokul Prasad, J.) LALA MAKHAN LAL v. KISHUN LAL. 1923 All. 454

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Vendee from mortgagor cannot plead.

It is not open to the vendees from mortgagor to plead that the long term of the mortgage is excessive. (Ryves and Stuart, JJ.) RAM SAMUJH v. SHEORAJ TEWARI. 1923 All. 123.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption.

A mortgage deed stated : "I have taken Rs. 125 from J and K, and have discharged my necessities ; and so in lieu of Rs. 45 the balance with interest at Re. 1-8-0 per cent. per annum along with the mortgage money and will pay interest every year in the month of Jeith, and if anything remains unpaid out of principal and interest I will be entitled to redemption on payment of the same along with the mortgage money." Held, that the mortgage deed secured a sum of Rs. 125 and that the plff. could redeem on payment of the entire sum with interest. (Richards, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) JAGARDIP RAI v. NAUBAT RAI. 38 I. C. 149.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Long term of 59 years.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 60—Clog on redemption.

Under a mortgage deed possession was to be with the mortgagee for 59 years before the mortgagor was entitled to redeem ; held, the condition could not be set aside as being onerous, there being no evidence of fraud or undue influence. (Piggott, J.) MT. DULARI v. LAL BAHADUR SINGH. 28 I. C. 129.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Stipulation for redemption of prior mortgage.

A stipulation in a second mortgage not to redeem an earlier mortgage in favour of the same person, without redeeming the later also, is not a clog on the equity of redemption and can be enforced (Piggott, J.) RAM CHARAN v. JAGAN BEHARI LAL. 24 I. C. 737.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Provision allowing one day for redemption in 80 years—Redemption not with borrowed money—Validity.

Where an usufructuary mortgage was executed for forty years and only the day following the completion of term was fixed for redemption failing which the mortgagee was to continue for another forty years and it was also provided that redemption was not to be effected with borrowed money it was held that the provision was a clog on redemption. (Chamier and Rafique, JJ.) SARABDAWAN SINGH v. BIJAI SINGH.

36 All, 551 . 24 I. C. 705 : 12 A. L J. 927.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Agreement to redeem before prior usufructuary mortgage—Clog.

A simple mortgage provided that it should be redeemed before a prior usufructuary mortgage on the property. Held the provision is not a clog on the equity of redemption. (Banerji and Chamier, JJ.) GAYA DIN SINGH v. GAJADHAR. 24 I. C. 611.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Long period—Not to be redeemed before 35 years,

The provision in a usufructuary mortgage that it would not be redeemed for 35 years is not hard or unconscionable where there is no fraud or undue influence. (Rafique, J.) DALTHAVAN SINGH v. AMERDEO SINGH. 23 I. C. 926 : 12 A. L. J. 492.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption— Postponement for 58 years—Unconscionable.

If a mortgage deed provides that the mortgagor would have no right of redemption for 58 years, that stipulation is not, per se a hard and unconscionable bargain. 1 Ch. D, 620 ; 26 All. 479 ; 20 Bom. 677 Ref. (Karamat Husain and Tudball, JJ.) RAM PRASAD v. JAGRUP. 15 I. C. 880 : 10 A. L. J. 157.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Option to redeem.

The conditions in a mortgage-deed were that the mortgagor should redeem the mortgage after 13 years failing which it would hold good for 13 years more. The mortgagor brought a suit for redemption after 14 years, alleging that the term of 13 years was a penalty. Held, that it was not penal and the mortgagor could not redeem before the expiry of the next 13 years. (Griffin, J.) RAMABARAN SINGH v. RAMKER SINGH.

10 I. C. 243.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 60—Clog on redemption.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Permanent lease.

Contemporaneous agreement to lease the land on permanent tenure and a mortgage of the property make the agreement of lease void is a clog on redemption. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) BHIMRAO v. SAKHARAM. 64 I. C. 612 : 23 Bom. L. R. 1268.

——S. 60—Clog on Redemption — English Rule not applicable to India.

The English law regarding clog on the equity of redemption does not obtain in India. A provision that a mortgage shall not be redeemed so long as there are fruit trees planted by the mortgagee standing on the mortgaged land is not a clog, and a suit for redemption is premature if it is brought while such trees are standing on the land. (Heaton, A. C.J. and Crump, J.) GENU TUKARAM v. NARAYAN RAGHU, 45 Bom. 117 : 59 I. C. 258 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1147.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Equitable relief.

Equity relieves a mortgagor from the forfeiture of his right of redemption due to a clog on his equity after the lapse of the mortgage period. But he and the mortgagee can settle among themselves the arrangement of the payment of the mortgage money after its execution. Where a mortgage recites certain conditions of the disposal of the property in a certain manner if it is not paid within a certain period and the parties to it agree after the lapse of the prescribed period to the manner of its disposal, the transaction becomes independent of the original mortgage and is valid (Macleod, C. J. and Heaton, J.) SHANKER DHONDEO v. RAGHUNATH GAITANDE. 58 I. C. 384 : 22 Bom. L. R. 965.

——Ss. 60 and 986—Clog on redemption—Mortgage anomalous.

One of the elementary rules of equity is " once a mortgage always a mortgage " and a mortgagee should not be allowed to obtain any undue advantage by his mortgage except the amount of the principal, interest and costs due on his mortgage. S. 60 which embodies this principle applies to all mortgages including anomalous mortgages under S. 98 (Fletcher and Smither, JJ.) BADAL MOLLA v. CHEMAI MONDAL. 40 I. C. 894.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Long period fixed—Mortgagees at liberty to make any improvements and charge for same—Effect.

The mere fact that the mortgagors are prohibited from redeeming for a long period of 51 years does not render the clause unconscionable. But when in addition to this, the mortgagors are not entitled to rents and profits though they have to pay interest at 7½ per cent, and the mortgagees are entitled to spend any amount they take on improvements and charge the same on the property with interest at 6 per cent ; and that at the same time the mortgagors are not entitled to the increase in rents or profits, the whole transaction is unconscionable and courts can give relief. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Fforde, J.) FAUJDAR KHAN v. ABDUL SAMAD KHAN. 5 Lah. L. J. 394 : 1924 Lah. 129.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 60—Clog on redemption.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption.

Where after execution of a usufructuary mortgage a simple mortgage was executed with a stipulation that the money under the simple mortgage would be paid at the time of the redemption of the usufructuary mortgage the mortgagor must first pay the money due on the simple mortgage if he wants to redeem the usufructuary mortgage. 37 All. 634, disapproved (Broadway and Wilberforce, JJ.) NATHWA v. KANHAIYA. 65 I. C. 642 : 3 Lah. L. J. 432.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption —Conditions as to improvements and interest on the cost of improvements—If justifiable.

A condition in a mortgage of a house by a mother for her infant son, as to the liability of the minor for improvements, does not justify the demolition and reconstruction of the house and the condition for interest on the sum expended on improvements is most inequitable and unconscionable. (Le Rossignol and Wilberforce, JJ.) SURAPU v. DEWAN CHAND. 59 I. C. 764 : 43 P. W. R, 1921.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Hard terms —Dealing at arm's length.

The mere fact that the terms of a mortgage are hard is not sufficient to hold them to be so onerous as to be a clog on redemption, A man who enters into a transaction with his eyes open and without being subjected to undue influence cannot ask to be relieved from the natural consequences of his action. (Broadway, J.) NATHU RAM v. SHADI RAM. 49 I. C. 946 : 40 P. W. R. 1919.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Agreement giving power of sale—Punjab.

A provision in a mortgage giving the mortgagee a power of sale over the property for the discharge of his debt and of prior incumbrances, is not a clog on the equity of redemption. In Punjab the principles of the T. P. Act are generally respected. (Johnstone and Le Rossignol, JJ.) SATDAR ALI v. GHULAM MOHI-UD-DIN. 103 P. R. 1915 : 158 P. L. R. 1915 : 30 I.C. 526 : 145 P. W. R. 1915.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Postponement of redemption for fifty years—Interest at Rs. 1½ per cent per mensem.

A mortgage deed provided that the mortgagor should have no right to redeem until the expiry of fifty years. Held, that the provision was not inequitable and will not be set aside in the absence of fraud or undue influence nor will a provision for interest at Rs. 1½ per cent per mensem be set aside as inequitable. (Shah Din and Scott-Smith, JJ.) SUNDAR SINGH v. HUKAM SINGH. 24 I. C. 926 : 219 P. L. R. 1914.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Postponement for 150 years.

In a suit for redemption, in which the period of the mortgage was fixed at 150 years, the fixation of period is of the essence of the contract and the right to redeem does not mature before the expiry of the term fixed in the deed. (Barten, J. C.) ABDULLA v. SADULLA KHAN. 15 I. C. 917.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882). S. 60—Clog on redemption.

——— S. 60 Clog on redemption— Mortgage with possession – Condition of absolute transfer on non-payment within time.

A mortgage with possession provided among other things that the mortgage should not be redeemable for 5 years and that if the mortgage is not redeemed within a period of 20 years, the mortgagee should have the land absolutely as on a sale, held, the postponement of the date of redemption did not make the mortgage an anomalous one and that the mortgage being usufructuary, the latter clause was a clog on the equity of redemption and unenforceable and hence did not bar redemption even after 20 years. Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) NARAYANA MOORTHY v. APPALA NARASIMHALU. 14 L W. 536 : 68 I C. 717 : 41 M. L. J. 563.

——— S. 60 —Clog on redemption—Anomalous mortgage.

The recital in a mortgage-deed creating a combination of simple and usufructuary mortgages, that in default of payment of principal and interest on the due date, the mortgagee was to treat the land as sold to him and was not to exercise his right of redemption was held invalid under S. 60 of the T. P. Act, being a clog on the equity of redemption. (Wallis, C.J., Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) KANDULA VENKIAH v. DONGA PALLAI. 43 Mad. 589 : (1920) M. W. N. 349 : 57 I. C. 724 : 28 M. L. T. 56 : 13 L.W. 123 (F. B.).

——— Ss. 60 and 62—Clog on redemption—Usufructuary mortgage—Appropriation of the usufruct—Option to redeem on a particular date before expiry of the period Default—Redemption postponed for 37 years.

A usufructuary mortgage provided for the appropriation by the mortgagee of the rents and profits towards the principal and interest. The period necessary to wipe off the entire debt was 37 years. The mortgagor was given an option to redeem at the end of 10 years by paying the amount then due on the mortgage. Held, that if the mortgagor failed to pay the money at the end of 10 years he could not redeem at any other period before the expiry of the 37 years. The provision in the mortgage-deed that the mortgagee was to remain in possession until the mortgage money was paid off by the appropriation of the usufruct (a period of 37 years in this case) was not a clog on the equity of redemption. The validity of such a covenant is expressly recognised in S. 62 of the T. P. Act. (Phillips and Krishnan, JJ.) AGA MUHAMMADALLY BEG SAHIB v. VENKATAPAYA. 48 I. C. 379 : 35 M. L. J. 287.

——— Ss 60 and 98—Clog on redemption—Anomalous mortgage — Malabar Law—Kanom — Covenant for renewal.

Per Phillips, J—A kanom is an anomalous mortgage within the meaning of S. 98, T P. Act, as to which a condition for renewal even though they constitute a clog on redemption can be enforced. A provision for a perpetual renewal is therefore not invalid. 30 M 61 : 30 M. 300 R (Bakewell and Phillips, JJ.) KUTTIKATT v. KUNHIKAVAMMA. (1918) M. W. N. 235 : 23 M. L. T. 67 : 43 I. C. 989 : 7 L. W. 119.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882). S. 60—Clog on redemption.

——— S. 60—Clog on redemption—Agreement of parties to a mortgage as to character of possession—Effect of.

If no agreement of parties to a mortgage can operate, ipso facto, to clog or restrain the equity of redemption and that was the law which was applicable in Madras up to the passing of the Transfer of Property Act, agreement of parties to a mortgage cannot affect the character of the mortgagee's possession so as to convert it from that of a mortgagee, into that of a person prescribing for a full title. The effect of the Transfer of Property Act is to preserve the same equity of redemption unfettered, S. 60 providing that only an independent act of the parties or an order of Court could operate to extinguish it. (Ayling and Spencer, JJ.) ATHANKUTTI v. KUTTANAT ILLOTH NARAYAN NAMBUDRI'S WIFE. (1917) M W N. 9 : 5 L. W. 461 : 37 I. C. 756 : 32 M. L. J. 317.

——— S. 60—Clog on redemption—English Law and Indian Law.

Before the Transfer of Property Act, the law in India as to stipulations in a deed of mortgage restricting the right of redemption was not the same as that of the English Courts of Chancery. 15 M. 230 ; 30 M. 61 ; 1 M. 1, Foll. 1915 M. W. N. 793. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Phillips, JJ.) KOLANGORATH RAMAN NAIYAR v. KANNOTH. 2 L. W. 941 : 31 I. C. 184 : (1915) M. W. N. 793.

——— Ss. 60 and 98—Clog on redemption—Anomalous mortgage—English principles of equity.

Where a swadina tanaka meddalu sharatu putram (possessory mortgage deed containing a condition for a period fixed) provided for redemption within a fixed period on default of which the mortgagee was to be the owner. Held, in a suit for redemption brought 17 years after the time had expired, that the document was anomalous mortgage and the parties must be strictly bound by the term of their contract and neither the conditions of S 60 as to survival of the rights of redemption nor the English principles of equity could be applied. 37 M. 540 ; 1 M. 1 ; 4 M. 179; 29 M. 531 Dist. 27 C. 297; 21 M. 1 ; (1904) A. C. 326 : 11 M. 403 : 26 M. L. J. 47 : 30 M. 61 . 2 B. 234, Ref. (Spencer and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) HAKEEM PATTE MUHAMMED v. SHEIK DAVOOD. 39 Mad. 1010 : 29 M. L. J 525 : (1915) M. W. N. 852 : 30 I. C. 569 . 18 M.L.T. 209.

——— S. 60—Clog on redemption.

A provision, that the mortgage shall be redeemed only through the enjoyment of the net profits by the mortgagee, is not illegal according to Indian Law unless perhaps the terms of the mortgage are such that future redemption is made practically impossible. 34 M. 493 : 7 M. 434 : 36 A. 195 Foll. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) GUNNAM DORAYYA v. VADAPALLI AYYAMACHARYALU. 26 M. L. T. 226 : (1914) M. W. N. 648 : 25 I. C 797 : 27 M. L. J. 295.

——— S. 60—Clog on redemption—Mortgage to be given possession on failure to pay on certain date.

The provision in a mortgage dated 1871 that the mortgagee shall be put in possession on default of payment on a certain day is a clog on the equity of redemption. (1 M. 1 Foll.) (Wallis and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) RACHAMADUGU LAKSHMI NARAYANA v. SANNUTHI RAMA SUBBIAH CHETTY. 25 I. C. 108 : 1 L. W. 503.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S 60—Clog on redemption.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Permanent lease by mortgagor to mortgagee — Lease and mortgage forming part of the same transaction.

Where a mortgage and a permanent lease by the mortgagor to the mortgagee form part of the same transaction the lease is a clog on the equity of redemption and the court would not recognise or enforce it. 46 B. 409 Foll. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) VITHAL v BHOLU. 1923 Nag. 115 (1).

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Preliminary decree for foreclosure—Compromise for foreclosure of portion.

The only objection to any agreement for the purpose of clogging the equity of redemption agreed to by the mortgagee with the mortgagor arises if it constitutes part and parcel of the original loan or mortgage transaction. But there is nothing to prevent that being done if it is effected by an agreement which in substance and in fact is subsequent to and independent of the original bargain. (Mittra, A. J. C.) DHARAM SINGH v GANESHRAM. 43 I. C. 399.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption— Perpetual lessee.

A stipulation in a deed of usufructuary mortgage that after the mortgage-money is paid off, the mortgagee shall remain as perpetual lessee, on payment of a yearly rent, is a clog on the equity of redemption. (Batten. A.J.C.) DAOLAT RAI v. SHEIK CHAND. 31 I. C. 869 : 11 N L.R. 180.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption — Onerous terms—Long terms for redemption.

It is an essential ingredient of every mortgage, that it should be redeemable, until the right of redemption is extinguished or lost in the manner provided by Law; and any fetters intended to render redemption practically difficult or impossible cannot be recognised unless there are circumstances indicating that they were intended to compensate for the advantages allowed to the mortgagor and were not unreasonable or repressive. A mortgagee cannot be allowed to fetter redemption by terms which are unreasonable or oppressive. An agreement made at the time of the mortgage between a mortgagor and the mortgagee cannot operate to make that mortgage irredeemable. Incidental to every mortgage is the right of the mortgagor to redeem it, which is called his equity of redemption. The right to redeem is so inseparable an incident of a mortgage that it cannot be taken away by an express agreement of the parties that the mortgage shall not be redeemable or that the right shall not be exercised except in a particular manner or under certain onerous conditions. If the conditions are one sided and designed to thwart or defeat redemption, equity will interpose in favour of the mortgagor and relieve him of the oppressive conditions which unreasonably hinder redemption without interfering with what might really be due to the mortgagee on account of the principal and interest secured by the mortgage. There could have been no object in fixing such a long term for redemption and requiring the mortgagors to pay three times the principal sum secured by the mortgage in addition to any deficiency in the interest, which was to be paid out of the profits unless the intention was to hinder redemption by rendering the same extremely onerous to the mortgagors. A long term may not by itself operate as a clog on the equity of redemption, but where such a long term is accompanied by other conditions, such as exist in this case, rendering redemption extremely difficult and onerous without any corresponding benefit to the mortgagors, the mortgagee cannot be allowed to take advantage of those conditions to defeat the right of redemption. A mortgagor cannot compel the mortgagee to accept payment of the mortgage money before the date fixed for redemption where there is a covenant in the mortgage deed that redemption shall not take place before that date but where the effect of a covenant is to postpone redemption for an unduly long period without any corresponding advantage to the mortgagor, or there are circumstances indicating that the covenant postponing redemption is unreasonable and oppressive and intended to fetter the right to redeem, a Court may allow redemption irrespective of that term as it may deem fit. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) ABDUL HAKIM v. SAJJAD HUSAIN. 26 O. C. 209 : 9 O & A. L. R. 733 : 10 O L J 46 : 1923 Oudh 209.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Deed of further charge—Effect of.

The doctrine as to clog on redemption relates only to dealings which take place between the parties at the time when the original contract of mortgage is entered into and they are at liberty to deal subsequently with each other so as to vary the terms upon which redemption of the original mortgage can be had. 20 O C. 97 : 24 O. C. 240: 25 O. C. 134 Rel. (Ashworth and Simpson, A. J. Cs.) SANGAT BAKSH SINGH v. DIJDEO SINGH. 9 O. L. J. 511 : 1923 Oudh 143.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Long term for redemption—Effect of.

A covenant postponing redemption for a long term does not by itself amount to a clog on the equity of redemption but if the effect of all the conditions in the deed would be to make redemption very difficult, if not impossible, at the end of the term, the court may ignore the covenant postponing redemption and may allow redemption at any time on such terms as it thinks fit. 17 O. C. 313 : 12 A. L. I. 927 Rel. (Daniels and Lyle, A. J Cs.) KUNJ BEHARI LAL v. PANDIT PRAG NARAYAN. 9 O. L. J. 294 : 1922 Oudh 283.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Long term by itself not unenforceable—Usufructuary mortgage.

A long term in a mortgage does not necessarily amount to a clog on the equity of redemption. It only does so where it is such as to render redemption practically impossible or where the bargain is unconscionable and the long term is unaccompanied by any corresponding advantage to the mortgagor. It is obvious that a long term in a usufructuary mortgage is less likely to operate as a clog on redemption than in any other class of mortgage, because redemption is effected on payment of a fixed sum and there is no danger of arrears of interest amounting up to an extent which may far exceed the value of the property. (Daniels, A. J. C.) SAIYID ZULFIQAR ALI v. SURAJ PRASAD. 9 O. L. J. 365 : 1922 Oudh 221.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Long period.

A stipulation for a long period before which redemption is not allowed is not by itself a clog on the equity of redemption, but that, coupled with other collateral covenants, may show an intention to make redemption extremely difficult, if not impossible, so as to make it a clog. (Lindsay, J. C.) SOHAN LAL v. KUNWAR. 61 I. C. 962 O. L. J. 136.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—High rate of interest.

Mere high rate of interest is no clog on redemption. (Lindsay, J. C.) SAHEB BAKHSH SINGH v. MOHAMMAD ALI. 58 I. C. 115 : 7 O. L. J. 389.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Long period.

Postponement of redemption to fifty years from the date of mortgage does not amount to a clog on the equity of redemption. (Lindsay, J. C.) NAIKU LAL v. GAYADIN. 57 I. C. 603.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Long period.

Where in a possessory mortgage the redemption is postponed to 70 years and the principal sum secured being Rs. 90 the annual profits arising from the property are Rs. 90, the stipulations was held to be a clog on the equity of redemption. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) RAM DAS v. SWAMI DAYAL. 57 I. C 553 : 23 O. C. 108.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Covenant postponing redemption if and when a clog.

A covenant postponing the redemption of a mortgage till the lapse of a certain period is not by itself illegal but when along with other circumstances its effect is to create an unreasonable and oppressive fetter on the right to redeem, a Court may allow a redemption irrespective of that term on such condition as it may deem fit to impose. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) MATHURA PRASAD v. HARAKH NARAIN. 22 O. C. 191 : 6 O. L. J. 474 : 53 I. C. 770 : 1 U. P. L. R. (J. C.) 88.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Long term—Provision for payment.

Where a mortgage-deed provided that on default of the mortgagor to pay off the principal and interest due under the mortgage the mortgagee was to take possession and remain in possession for a particular period after which alone redemption was allowed, the provision is not a clog on the equity of redemption. (Lindsay, J. C. and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) MUHAMMAD SHER KHAN v. SWAMI DAYAL. 48 I. C. 32 : 5 O. L. J. 572.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Mortgagees authorised to claim principal with interest in case of loss of possession—Conduct of mortgagees—Excessive interest.

A mortgage-deed contained a provision that if for any reason the mortgagees lose possession, the mortgagors will make an effort to pay the mortgage-money at once ; and if they delay, the mortgagees will be entitled to recover their money with interest at 2 per cent per month by a suit. When the possession of the mortgagees was ousted for two years, they would have been entitled in equity to enforce the contract. Neither did the mortgagees resort to this measure nor the mortgagors paid up the money They made no complaint for 17 years, when the mortgagors brought a redemption suit, the mortgagees put in their claim to receive interest. Held, reading the deed and considering attendant circumstances, no doubt is felt that it provides that the mortgagees shall enjoy net profits in lieu of interest. No doubt they can claim, in an account upon the mortgage some allowance for the two years when their money lay unproductive but not at the rate of 2 per cent ; and they are not entitled to the excess revenue nor to any interest on the same. (Kendall, A. J. C.) MAHABIR SINGH v. MATA BADAL. 40 I. C. 402 : 40 O. L. J. 348.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Subsequent agreement.

An agreement between the parties to a mortgage subsequent to the mortgage extending the period for redemption is not a clog. Doctrine of clog applies only to dealings entered into at time of mortgage. Parties are at liberty to enter into any terms as to redemption. (Lindsay, J. C.) HARI HAR BAKSH SINGH v. BHAWANI SINGH. 39 I C. 593 : 20 O C. 97.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Interest in addition to usufruct.

A mortgage-deed executed by a pardanashin lady and her son provided "that after thirty years at the time of redemption we shall pay interest at 1 per cent per mensem along with principal, that we allow and give to the mortgagee whatever profits he may realise from the said property after paying the land revenue and that we shall have no claim for mesne profits." In a suit for redemption, held, that the intention of the mortgagee to levy interest from the date of the mortgage at the time of redemption irrespective of the usufruct was hard and oppressive and a clog and therefore invalid (Kanhaiya Lal. and Kendall, A. J. Cs.) MAHOMED ALI v. RAM ZAMALLI. 38 I. C. 454 : 3 O. L. J. 746.

——Ss. 60 and 61—Clog on redemption—Consolidation.

A covenant in a subsequent deed postponing the right of redemption of a previous mortgage, without creating any charge on the property previously mortgaged does not amount to a contract of consolidation of the two deeds and may operate as a clog on the equity of redemption. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J C.) RAJENDRA NARAIN v. DY. COMMISSIONER BAHRAICH. 37 I. C. 438 : O. L. J. 643.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Charge—Further advances—Provision for redemption of whole.

If subsequent advances are charged on the property covered by a previous mortgage, a covenant that the mortgagor shall not be permitted to redeem the latter without paying the former is not enforceable. Case-law discussed. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) CHAUHARAJA BAKSH v. RAM HARAK.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 60—Clog on redemption.

32 I. C. 740 : 2 O. L. J. 601.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Postponement of period for redemption.

As a general rule, the right of foreclosure and the right of redemption should be co-extensive. If the mortgage-deed is one-sided and provides that the mortgagee shall be at liberty to foreclose at any time but that the mortgagor should not redeem till after 60 years. from the date when the mortgage would be converted from simple into usufructuary, the contract postponing redemption is an unreasonable fetter on the equity of redemption and could not be enforced. The mortgagor is entitled to redeem irrespective of the fetter. 20 B 677: 22 B. 375 : 25 I. C. 912 Ref. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs.) LAL BAHDUR v. ZALIM SINGH. 27 I. C. 581 : 2 O. L. J. 1.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Redemption before period fixed—Postponement.

Where there is a covenant in the mortgage-deed that the mortgage is not redeemable before a certain date, a mortgagor is bound by it, but where the effect is to unduly postpone redemption without any corresponding advantage to the mortgagor and there are circumstances to show that the covenant is unreasonable and oppressive redemption may be allowed irrespective of the covenant for the postponement. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) DURGA SINGH v. MUHAMMAD RAZA HUSSAIN KHAN. 25 I. C. 912 : 17 O. C. 313.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Subsequent deed—Covenant—Effect of.

Where a mortgagor executes a subsequent deed agreeing not to redeem the earlier mortgage before the subsequent one, the covenant is a personal one not enforceable against a subsequent transferee of the mortgaged property. 9 B. 233: 11 O. C. 248. Dist. (Stuart, J. C.) RAM ADHIN MISRA v. SITLA BAKSH SINGH.
25 I. C. 905 : 17 O. C. 303.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption.

A condition in a usufructuary mortgage that on default of payment of mortgage money on a fixed date the mortgagor would lose his right to redeem, is invalid and inoperative. (Jwala Prasad, J.) GULAH CHAND v. PANCHAM.
59 I. C. 338.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Compromise—Arrangement between mortgagors inter se

Where under a compromise two of the mortgagors bind three other mortgagors to pay a fair amount for redemptton, the arrangement is a clog on the equity of redemption and invalid under S. 60 of the T. P. Act. 31 All 482 and 32 All. 631 Dist. (Coutts and Adami, JJ.) LALA RAM NARAIN v. LALA MURLIDHAR.
5 Pat. L. J. 644 : 58 I. C. 129 : 1 Pat. L. T. 616

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Mokurrari lease to mortgagee.

Once a mortgage transaction has been entered into it is not within the competency of the parties to clog the equity of redemption whereby even after redemption, the mortgagee would retain an interest in the property as lessee upon payment of a comparatively trifling rent. Such a transaction is invalid both as against the mortgagor and as against a purchaser from the mortgagor of his interest. Quaere.—Whether a lease by a mortgagor to the mortgagee subsequent to the mortgage transaction may correctly be called a clog on the equity of redemption ? (Miller, C. J. and Das, J.) RAM NARAIN v. SURATHNAH.
5 Pat. L. J. 423 : 1 Pat. L. T. 575 : 57 I. C 337 : 1920 Pat. 351.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption — Restrictions on right of mortgagor.

The mere length of the period fixed for a mortgage is not sufficient to constitute an undue restriction on the right to redeem.

Whatever authorities there are for the view that the terms of the mortgage, however, onerous, must be upheld if the parties entered into a contract with their eyes open, there is equally good authority for the view that those terms must not be such as to prevent redemption in all circumstances. (Pipon, J. C.) RAM CHAND v. GHULAM HASAN 72 I. C. 941.

——Ss. 60 and 98—Clog on redemption—Provisions of T. P. Act not extended—Effect.

In all mortgages except anomalous mortgages, clauses which take away the right of the mortgagor to redeem after stipulated period should be deemed to be clogs on the equity of redemption and as such not enforceable, even in those parts of India to which the T. P. Act has not been extended. The rule enunciated in S. 60, would be applicable as a rule of justice, equity and good conscience. (Robinson, C. J. and May Oung, J.) MA MIN BYU v. MAUNG CHIT PE.
1 Rang 419 : 1924 Rang. 83.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Mortgage converted into sale—Sale, whether questionable by mortgagor.

Plaintiff (mortgagor) sued to redeem a mortgage subsequently converted by him into sale questioning the validity of sale. It was beld that the plaintiff cannot impugn the validity of the sale. (Pratt, J. C.) MA YE BAU v. MAUNG SHWE HINAN. 56 I. C. 253 : 3 U. B. R. (1919) 192.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption.

The rule of English equity courts which forbids any clogging of the right of redemption does not apply in India and a clause for forfeiture in a mortgage should be given effect to in the absence of any specific law or of any established practice to the contrary. 13 M. I. A. 560; 1 M. 1, P. C., Foll. (Maung Kin, J.) MA LA v. MAUNG CHOT.
40 I. C. 863.

——Ss. 60 and 98—Clog on redemption—Anomalous mortgage— Applicability

S. 98 should be read subject to S. 60 which applies to all kinds of mortgages and the rule 'once a mortgage always a mortgage'' applies to anomal ous mortgages. The mere insertion of a forfeiture clause in a simple mortgage bond does not make the mortgage anamalous ; even if it, were so the mortgage would be subject to provisions of S. 60 of the T. P. Act. (McColl, J. C.)

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 60—Clog on redemption.

NGA PO NAGUN v. MI YIN.
2 U. B. R. (1916) 141 : 39 I. C. 377 : 11 Bur. L. T 36.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Loss of right.

Under a mortgage executed before the T.P. Act, the mortgagor agreed to redeem it on a certain date after seven years paying Rs. 50 more and in default the mortgagee was to take possession of the land. The mortgagor failed to redeem on the due date but sued to redeem a year later. Held, that it was in accordance with justice, equity and good conscience to keep the parties to their agreements made voluntarily and with full knowledge, especially when those agreements are themselves reasonable. (Young, J.) MA THIN HTON v. MA HNIN THET.
29 I. C. 709.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Not enforceable.

A stipulation restricting the period of redemption to one year is inoperative under S. 60 of the T. P. Act. Such a stipulation is a penalty which the courts would not enforce. (Twomey, J.) MA NYIN v. KADIRESAN CHETTY.
28 I. C. 264.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Agreement that property should be considered sold outright if interest was not paid—Failure of payment—suit for specific performance—Interest if allowable after specified date.

Where it was agreed at the time of mortgage that the properties should be deemed to be sold to the montgagee for certain amount if interest was not paid on a certain date, and that the mortgagor should be paid the difference between that amount and the amount due by the mortgagee for principal and interest and where the mortgagor committed default and the mortgagee sued for specific performance Held, that the mortgagee was the owner of the property on the date of the mortgagor's default but that he is not entitled to further interest on the mortgage amount and that he should pay back the difference in amount, between the purchase-money and the principal and interest due thereon up to the specified date. (Fox, C. J. and Parlett, J.) DINYAR DOHIRJI KHORASHED v. MAUNG.
26 I. C. 877 : 8 Bur. L. T, 63.

——S. 60—Clog on redemption—Provision for continuance of possession after redemption.

There was a condition in the mortgage that the mortgagee shoud be in possession until the expiry of 12 years even though satisfied before 12 years and the mortgagor himself discharged the debt within 12 years after which period the mortgagor was entitled to redeem and recover possession. A mortgage and a lease to the mortgagee executed on the same day must be read together, and the mortgagee may remain on the land till the mortgage is satisfied, but the continuance of such lease after the mortgage is a fetter on the equity of redemption and the Court ought not to enforce. (White, C. J. and Phillips, J.) PAMARLAPATI v. SAMARLAPATI.
35 Mad. 744 : 21 M. L. J. 1010 : 10 M. L. T. 256 : 12 I. C. 382 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 231.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 60—Mortgage money.

Duty of mortgagee.

——S. 60—Duty of mortgagee—Redemption—Notice to mortgagee—When necessary.

A mortgagee ordinarily has a right to six calendar months' notice of intention to pay off the mortgage or in default thereof is entitled to six months' interest in advance in lieu of notice ; but if the mortgagee has given notice calling in the mortgage debt the mortgagor even though he is a few days late in complying with the notice and tendering the money is not bound to give six months' notice before redeeming. (Fawcett, J.) NADERSHAW v. SHIRINBAI.
25 Bom L. R. 839 : 1924 Bom. 264.

——S. 60—Duty of mortgagee—Failure of consideration—Damages—Duty of mortgagee to restore possession—Non-delivery of portion.

Where there is only a partial failure of the consideration payable for a mortgage, the loss occasioned in consequence of that failure can only be recovered by a separate suit, and cannot be set off in a suit for redemption. Where possession of the property was not delivered to him at the time of the mortgage or at any time thereafter, the mortgagee need not restore possession on redemption, (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) ANGAD SINGH v. KASHI PRASAD.
54 I. C. 313 : 6 O. L. J. 519.

Mortgage Money.

——S. 60—Mortgage money—Tender before suit for redemption not necessary.

Tender of the mortgage money is not a condition precedent, under S. 60 of the Act, to the institution of a suit for redemption ; but in such a suit redemption will not be allowed unless the amount found due is paid or tendered within the time fixed by the Court. (Banerji, Tudball and Stuart, JJ.) RAGHUNANDAN RAI v. RAGHUNANDAN PANDE.
43 All. 638 : 61 I. C. 812 : 19 A. L. J. 573 (F.B.).

——S. 60—Mortgage money—Redemption suit—Tender of mortgage money before suit not necessary.

S. 60 of the Act does not necessarily mean that before a suit for redemption can be instituted the amount must be paid or tendered where the mortgage money is stated to have been satisfied out of the usufruct, a tender would obviously be out of the question. (Sulaiman and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) HAIT SINGH v. BEHARI LAL.
43 All. 95 : 59 I. C. 92 : 18 A L. J. 947.

——S. 60—Mortgage money—Mortgagor to redeem on paying principal sum only.

A mortgagee under a mortgage-deed remaining in possession of the property and receiving profits in lieu of interest, was in the absence of covenant by the mortgagor to add the deficiency in the profits to the principal or to pay it up at the time of redemption. held entitled to redeem on paying the princioal sum only. (Richards, C.J. and Rafique, J.) ALI AHMAD v. KALKA PRASAD.
37 I. C. 95 : 14 A. L. J. 986.

——S. 60—Mortgage money—Covenant by mortgagor not to take accounts.

Where there is an express agreement by mortgagor not to claim accounts, he is debarred from claiming an account at the time of redemption, 7 A. L. J. 787, Ref. (Knox and Kamamat Husain, JJ.) RAMPRASHAD v. KHAM KARAN. 9 I. C. 978.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 60—Mortgage-money.

——Ss. 60 and 72 (c)—Mortgage money—Costs of litigation incurred by mortgagee—Right to add to the mortgage-money.

The mortgagee has a right to tack on the costs of litigation relating to the security as part of the terms on which redemption is allowed. A mortgagee is allowed proper costs, charges and expenses incurred by him in relation to the mortgage debt or mortgage security including the costs of litigation properly undertaken by him. But all these items are allowed only as a condition of redeeming. There is no implied contract by the mortgagor to pay them, and they are not, in the absence of express agreement, recoverable against him personally.

The words "mortgage-money" in S. 60 must be taken as including all money which on taking account between the parties may be properly allowed to the mortgagee. S. 72 cannot be taken to imply that a mortgagee not in possession has no similar right to charge the mortgaged property for payments properly made by him in relation to the security and that the mortgagee is not entitled to have amounts so paid added to the amount of the original lien. The expression "mortgage money" as used in S 60, includes costs properly incurred by the mortgagee such as costs of litigation which are allowed under the law of mortgage in England. (Fawcett, J.) NADERSHAW v. SHIRINBAI. 25 Bom. L. R. 839 : 1924 B. 264.

——S. 60—Mortgage-money—Interest—Provision for redemption on payment—Vendee undertaking to pay mortgage-money—Interest whether charge on property.

The vendee of the equity of redemption who undertook to pay off a mortgage is not personally liable for interest. When according to the terms of a mortgage-deed the mortgagor himself could redeem the land on payment of the mortgage-money only, his vendee could not be in a worse position. 45 P. R. 1913. Foll. The interest was no charge on the land and plaintiff's mortgagees could not, therefore, follow the land (Chevis and Shadi Lal, JJ.) LOK CHAND v. HAZAR KHAN. 98 P. R. 1917 : 41 I. C. 59 : 107 P. W. R. 1917.

——S. 60 — Mortgage-money — Mortgagee making improvements as tenant—Jurisdiction—Civil or Revenue Court—Compensation in redemption suit.

Where in a redemption suit the mortgagee claimed compensation for improvements made by him during the term of his tenancy, prior to the mortgage, and the mortgage did not contain any clause for payment of compensation to the mortgagee prior to redemption Held, that the mortgagor should be given a decree for redemption of the property and be put in the same position as regards the mortgagee, qua the mortgage, as he was at the time of mortgage, and that the Civil Courts could not enter into a condition regarding the terms of tanancy. (Robertson and Shah Din, JJ.) DYAL SINGH v. RAM RAKHA. 54 P. R. 1912 : 14 I. C. 78 : 122 P. W. R. 1912.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) S. 60—Mortgage-money.

——S. 60—Mortgage money—Arrears of rent and interest—Mortgagees allowing decree for rent to be barred—Election of remedies.

In a suit for redemption the mortgagee cannot claim any arrear of rent with interest thereon in respect of the mortgaged land leased to the mortgagor as tenant under the terms of the mortgage deed, when the mortgagee has already sued for and obtained a decree in respect of such rent and interest and allowed the decree to become barred by limitation. This is so even though the arrear of rent is made a charge on the property under the deed. 25 M L.J. 561, 40 I.C. 358, Dist. (Phillips and Krishnan, JJ.) MANGESHWAR NARAINA RAO v. S. SHIVA RAO. 24 M. L. T. 370 : 8 L. W. 405 : 41 Mad. 1043 : (1918) M. W. N. 917 : 49 I. C. 123 . 35 M. L. J. 414.

——Ss. 60 and 72—Mortgage money—Usufructuary mortgage—Portion of consideration not paid—Unregistered letter—Accounts.

A part of the consideration of a usufructuary mortgage for 10 years was not paid at the time of registration but an unregistered letter was passed at the same time to the mortgagor that the money would be paid in ten days and in case of default interest would be paid at one per cent. per mensem and that interest on this sum would be given credit for till the mortgage bond was discharged. After the expiry of the term mortgagor brought a suit for redemption in which the mortgagee claimed the full amount without deduction of the amount of the letter. Held, that the letter was inadmissible though mortgagor was entitled to institute a suit to recover any amounts under it. The defendants (mortgagees) are not entitled on that ground to contend that they were entitled to the full amount of the mortgage-deed. When mortgagees have spent money for litigation connected with the property they should prove the exact amounts so spent and in default of such evidence, the Court will not make any presumption as to the expenses likely to have been incurred. (Sankaran Nair and Spencer JJ.) ALLAM SETTI APPALA SURYANARAYAN v. PEELEKHAVA VENKATVIRA RAO. 28 I. C. 186 : 2 L. W. 224.

——Ss. 60, 58 and 92—Mortgage-money.

The term "mortgage-money" in these sections includes all monies which may properly be allowed to the mortgagee on taking account. (Bakewell, J.) VARADARAJULU v. DHANALAKSHMI AMMAL. 26 I. C. 184 : 16 M. L. T. 365.

——Ss. 60 and 61—Mortgage-money—Rent—Payment of arrears.

Where a mortgage-deed provided that at the time of redemption all arrears of rent due from the tenants must be paid to the holder of the deed. Held, that the provision meant that only the arrears of rent, the recovery of which was not barred by limitation, were payable as a condition precedent to redemption. (Stuart, A.J.C.) JANG BAHADUR v. MATSDIN. 46 I. C. 80 : 5 O. L. J. 159.

——S. 60—Mortgage-money—Time-barred—Rent, deduction of.

Under a usufructuary mortgage the mortgagee was to pay the annual rent to the landlord but he failed to do so and the debt became time-barred. The mortgagor in a suit for redemption claimed to deduct the sums which should have been paid by the mortgagee. Held, that the mortgagor cannot deduct the amount claimed and that the mortgagee was entitled to the benefit of the non-payment. (Das, J.) TOKHAN PANDEY v. SIVAKANTA PROSAD SINGH. 56 I. C. 743.

——— S. 60—Mortgage—Splitting up—Right of redemption—Partial redemption.

Ordinarily a mortgagee is entitled to claim that his security should not be split up, but if he becomes by his own act the purchaser of a portion of the mortgage security, he has no longer any right to claim that the security should not be split-up and mortgagors or assignees from mortgagors become liable for only so much of the mortgage debt as is proportionate to the portion of the mortgage security that they have purchased. (Robinson, C.J. and Macgregor, J.) KO THINE v. ISMAIL CASSIM MORAD. 1923 Rang. 61.

Partial Redemption.

——— S. 60—Partial redemption—Mortgage—Purchaser of portion of property.

It is open to a transferee of a part of the mortgaged property to redeem the entire mortgage on the properties. But he cannot compel the mortgagee to allow him to redeem his part by itself unless something had happened which extinguished the mortgage in whole are in part such as an exercise of a power of sale originally conferred upon the mortgagee by his security or such conduct on the part of the transferees as would estop them from asserting what normally would have been their right. (Viscount Haldane.) MIRZA YADALLI BEG v. TUKARAM. 48 Cal. 22: (1920) M. W. N. 369 : 16 N.L. R. 154 : 25 C. W. N. 241 : 28 M. L. T. 95 : 18 L. W. 503: 47 I. A. 207 : 2 U. P. L. R. P. C. : 123 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1315 : 57 I. C. 535 : 39 M L. J. 147 (P.C.)

——— S. 60—Partial redemption—Splitting up of mortgage—Acquisition by mortgagee.

Where the mortgagee has acquired a portion of the equity of redemption and thereby split up the integrity of the mortgage, it is open to the mortgagor to redeem as much of the property as did not belong to the mortgagee on payment of a proportionate part of the mortgage debt. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) SHIAM SARAN v. BANARSI DAS. 20 A. L. J. 258 : 4 U. P. L. R A. 102: 1922 A. 192.

——— S. 60—Partial redemption—Redemption of proportionate share—Acquisition by mortgagee of equity of redemption.

When a mortgage is split up by the mortgagee who buys up the equity of redemption from some of the heirs of the original mortgagor, any one of the heirs of the mortgagor can redeem his share of the mortgaged property if a proportionate sum of money due on his share is paid. (Rafique and Walsh, JJ.) MEWA RAM SINGH v. GANGA RAM. 52 I. C. 229 : 17 A. L. J. 910.

——— S. 60—Partial redemption—Extent of share.

One of the mortgagors has the right only to redeem the share which he owns in the mortgaged property only where the integrity of a mortgagee has been broken. 2 A. 565; 29 A. 262, Foll. 10 B. 656. Not Fol. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) ZAIBUNNISA BIBI v. PARBHU NARAIN SINGH. 39 All. 618 . 40 I. C. 345 : 15 A. L. J. 625.

——— S. 60—Partial redemption—Proportionate amount payable.

H. executed mortgage-deeds dated March 27, 1864, April 3, 1864, and February 6, 1873, respectively. By the first he mortgaged 9½ biswas of village called Paniyala along with other property and in the second he mortgaged five more biswas of the same village. The third mortgage was for Rs. 15,000 but out of the consideration he declared Rs. 3,500 to be a further charge on the villages already mortgaged in the first deed. In the list of the properties mentioned Halla Nagla was entered instead of Paniyala. The plaintiffs acquired the rights of the mortgagors in Paniyala and the defendants representatives of the mortgagees purchased portions of the mortgaged property. Held, that the plaintiffs could redeem Paniyala on payment of the proportionate liability for the mortgages existing thereon and that evidence was admissible for the purpose of showing that Paniyala was liable for the proportionate part of the further charge of Rs. 3,500, the entry in the mortgage-deed of 1883 of Halla Nagla being a case of misdescription and due to mutual mistake. (Bannerjee and Walsh, JJ.) MAHABIR PRASAD v. MAHOMED MASHI YETTULLA. 38 All. 103 : 32 I. C. 174 : 14 A. L. J. 15.

——— S. 60—Partial redemption—Usufructuary mortgage— Mushrut-ul-rehan— Apportionment.

H. B, P. and K. mortgaged with possession in favour of M and H alone, executed a Mushrut-ul rehan in favour of the same mortgagee (promising to pay) the amount due under this mortgage together with the money due under the usufructuary mortgage. K instituted a pre-emption suit as regards H's share. Held, that he was not liable to pay the money under the Mushrut-ul-rehan, as it was a separate and independent transaction but he must pay in proportion to the consideration of the usufructuary mortgage on H's share. A.W.N, (1881) 80 Ref. to. (Karamat Husain and Tudball, JJ.) KALLA v. HARGIAN. 34 All. 416 : 15 I. C. 907 : 9 A. L. J. 661.

——— S. 60—Partial redemption—Portion of mortgaged property sold in another decree—Liability of mortgagor and mortgagee.

Where certain properties were usufructuarily mortgaged but a portion was sold in execution of a prior mortgage of the mortgagor and the mortgagee was thus deprived of possession but the mortgagee without taking any steps in respect of the property sold, remained in possession of the remaining property. Held, in a suit for redemption by the mortgagor, that the mortgagee was not entitled to claim loss of interest sustained by the deprivation of a portion of the properties and that the mortgagor was not entitled to a reduction of the principal money because the mortgagee failed to deliver the entire properties.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882). S. 60—Partial redemption.

24 A. 521 P. C. Ref to. (Bannerjee and Tudball, JJ.) BIHARI LAL v. DURGA DAS 13 I. C. 156.

——Ss. 60 and 95—Partial redemption—One of the mortgagors passing a razinamah in favour of the mortgagee.

One out of four brothers mortgagors, who was the registered occupant of the mortgaged land, passed a razinama of the land in favour of the mortgagee, who executed a kabuliyat for the same. The remaining three mortgagors sued to redeem the mortgage alleging that the razinama passed by their brother conveyed only his interest. Held, though the conveying brother was a co-mortgagor with the plaintiffs he had no right to sell their interest in the equity of redemption, and that so far as they were concerned he was in the same position as an outsider and the plaintiffs were entitled to redeem their shares in the mortgage. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J.) LALCHAND v. KHANDU. 59 I. C. 762 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1431.

——S. 60—Partial redemption — When allowed.

Partial redemption is allowed only in exceptional cases, e. g. where a severance has been effected at the instance or with the consent of mortgagee. (Mukerjee and Buckland, JJ.) DINANATH MAHISH v. NABAKUMAR HAJRA. 35 C. L. J. 332.

——S. 60—Partial redemption— Sub-mortgage by mortgagee—Mortgagor when entitled to redeem sub-mortgage.

A mortgagee is fully entitled in law to effect an assignment of his mortgagee rights either in whole or in part, and if he does so in part, this does not mean that he is destroying the indivisibility and integrity of the mortgage security qua the mortgagor 91 P. R. 1905 Dist. A mortgagor is not entitled to redeem a sub-mortgagee without effecting a complete redemption of the entire mortgaged property. (Moti Sagar and Adbul Raoof, JJ.) ANAND SINGH v. NIAMAT. 64 I. C. 211.

——S. 60—Partial redemption—Redemption by co-mortgagor, if can be allowed by mortgagee.

A mortgagee can allow redemption by a co-mortgagor of his share of the mortgaged property. (Johnstone and Ratligan, JJ.) AHMADKHAN v. RATAN CHAND. 53 P. W. R. 1912 : 50 P. R. 1912 : 13 I. C. 539 : 100 P. L. R. 1912.

——S. 60—Partial redemption—Partition of mortgaged properties—Consent of parties—Possession of undivided share.

The partition of the properties between several mortgagors of the mortgaged property cannot be allowed in a redemption suit without the consent of all the sharers. But a decree may be granted for redemption of plaintiff's undivided share and for being put in as a tenant in common with the other sharers where the mortgage has been split up by the action of the mortgagors or mortgagees or both. Where two of the mortgagors sold their interest in the equity of redemption and the purchasers executed a fresh mortgage deed in favour of the mortgagee, the mortgage is split up and the third mortgagor is entitled to redeem his undivided one-third share. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Hannay, JJ.) PLOTT CHANDU v. KOLATHUM KARAMMAL CHAPPILLA. 28 I. C. 248 : (1915) M. W. N. 189.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882). S. 60—Partial redemption.

——Ss. 60 and 82—Partial redemption — Rights of purchaser.

S. 60 of the T. P. Act cannot be read subject to S. 82 and the fact of the purchase of several items piecemeal by different persons will not give them a right to redeem the properties piecemeal. There must be a redemption of all the items at once. 21 B. 619, Dist. (Ayling and Hannay, JJ.) PANCHANADAM PILLAI v. SELLA PILLAI. 26 I. C. 194.

——S. 60—Partial redemption—Co parcener of his share—Sale.

Where a joint family becomes divided in status the co-parceners become tenants in common and any one of them can redeem his share of the family property mortgaged by the manager and seek ascertainment and possession thereof. (White and Oldfield, JJ.) KURUCHA GANGU NAIDU v. KOVVURI BASAVA REDDY. 13 M. L. T. 145 :18 I. C. 691 : (1913) M. W. N. 821.

——S. 60—Partial redemption—Consent of mortgagor and mortgagee.

The owner of share of property mortgaged cannot, in all circumstances, insist on redeeming the whole mortgage. One of the mortgagors and the mortgagee acting together can deal with the former's interest in the equity of redemption, and the mortgagee's right as against him, if the rights of the other owners in the equity of redemption are not affected. But a mortgagor or a mortgagee alone cannot affect the right of the other. Where the mortgagee has dealt with one of those entitled to the equity of redemption, persons entitled to the equity of redemption in the remainder may claim to redeem their share. Per Sadasiva Aiyar, J. :—A release of any portion of the mortgaged property by a mortgagee will not affect the rights and liabilities as between the owners of the different portions of the equity of redemption. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) RATHNA MUDALI v. PERUMAL REDDY 38 Mad. 310 : 12 M. L. T. 484 : (1912) M. W. N. 1168 : 17 I. C. 837 : 23 M. L. J. 576.

——S. 60—Partial redemption—Purchase of portions of equity of redemption by plaintiff and defendant—Right of plaintiff to redeem the whole mortgage.

S. 60 provides that a mortgage is one and indivisible and the exception only arises when the mortgagee or, if there be more of them, all such mortgagees have acquired, in whole or in part, the share of a mortgagor. Plaintiff, as the purchaser of a part of the equity of redemption sued for exemption of a mortgage. First defendant, who was one of the several mortgagees, was the purchaser of the other part. Held, that the plaintiff was both bound and entitled to redeem the whole mortgage and not only the part purchased by him. 22 M. 209 Ref. 28 A. 155 ; 6 M. 61 ; 20 M.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S 60—Partial redemption.

295, Diss. (Benson and Wallis, JJ) VELAYUDAN CHETTY v. NILABAGAM CHETTY.
15 I. C. 605 : 23 M. L. J. 475.

——S. 60—Partial redemption— Mortgagee becoming owner.

Where the equity of redemption in certain properties vests in several persons one of whom is the mortgagee, one of those persons cannot under S. 60 of the T. P. Act compel the mortgagee to allow him to redeem the entire property. He can only redeem his share in the property. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) MUHAMMAD ZAKI ALI KHAN v. AHMAD SHAH.
58 I. C. 983 : 7 O. L. J. 585

——S. 60—Partial redemption—Owner of a portion of the equity of redemption—Mortgagee acquiring the property.

Where a mortgagee acquiries a portion of the mortgaged property, the right of the owner of the other portion of the property to redeem the whole is not absolute. In such a case right of redemption depends on the will of the mortgagee. He can insist upon the mortgagor's seeking redemption of the entire mortgage ; but if he acquires any portion of the mortgaged estate he can in that case insist that the plaintiff shall not be allowed to redeem more than his own share of the mortgaged estate. (Lindsay, J.C.) RAMADHIN v. JOKHAN. 47 I. C. 115 : 5 O. L. J. 248.

——Ss. 60 and 82—Partial redemption—Part owner of equity of redemption.

A purchaser of a payment of the equity of redemption cannot claim to redeem the part purchased by him without paying the whole mortgage-money due to the mortgagee on the mortgage. 29 A. 471 : 3 M. 230 : Dist. (Kanhaiya Lal, A.J.C.) BASANT SINGH v. RAMESWAR BAKSH SINGH. 20 I. C 765 : 16 C. O. 159

——S. 60—Partial redemption—Indivisibility of mortgage security.

K and D mortgaged each a third share to P. D the third co-sharer died and his wife mortgaged his share to P except a certain village. K also mortgaged with possession his share again to the same person a part of the consideration being half the amount due on the first mortgage. In a suit by D's heirs for redemption they contended that K's share in the first mortgage was paid up and that his share was free. Held, that this was not sufficient to show that a part of the mortgage security had been released and therefore the mortgagee was entitled to retain the whole of the mortgagad property. (Sundar Lal, J. C.) KEDAR SINGH v. SUMER SINGH. 10 I. C 196.

——S. 60—Partial redemption—When allowed.

As a general rule no partial redemption is allowed unless the mortgagee becomes interested in the equity of redemption and a mortgagee (purchaser) impleaded as a defendant in a suit brought by the subsequent mortgagee can claim the right to redeem the latter. (Dass and Adami, JJ.) PAWAN KUMAR CHAND v. DULARI KUAR.
5 Pat. L. J. 544 : 58 I. C. 216: 1 Pat L. T. 544.

——S 60—Partial redemption—Purchaser of portion of equity of redemption—Rights of.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 60—Right of redemption.

A purchaser of a portion of the equity of redemption who has been left out of a mortgage action is entitled to claim partial redemption of the mortgaged property in which he may be interested. The general rule that a person who has any right to redeem has a right to redeem the whole of the mortgaged peoperty and not a part of it, unless a special bargain is, subject to the exception that he has a right to redeem his own share only, where a mortgagee has acquired in whole or in part the rights of the mortgagor. The rule where the integrity of the mortgage is broken up, as where the equity of redemption is with different persons. (Das, J.) SHEO NARAIN SAHU v. RAM NIREKHAN OJHA. 52 I. C. 512.

Redemption out of Court.

——S. 60—Redemption out of Court—Suit for surplus profits.

Redemption of a mortgage had taken place out of Court. There was nothing to show that any adjustment of accounts had been made or that the payment had been accepted in full discharge of mutual rights and liabilities. Held, that a suit for surplus profits was maintainable. (Kanhaiya Lal and Kendall. A. J. Cs.) RAJ RAGHUBAR SINGH v. BIKRAM JIT SINGH. 28 I.C. 171: 18 O. C. 3

Right of Redemption.

——Ss 60 and 98—Right of redemption put off under certain circumstances—Effect of clause.

Where under the terms of a mortgage deed if the amount was not paid at a certain time, the right of the mortgagor to redeem was to be suspended for a further period. Held, the provision was of no effect as it offended against the statutory right of redemption conferred by S 60 (Sir Lawrence Jenkins.) MUHAMMAD SHER KHAN v. RAJA SETH SWAMI DAYAL.
44 A. 185: 20 A. L. J. 476: 9 O. L J. 81: 30 M. L. T 220: 49 I. A 60: 42 M. L J 584: 25 O. C. 8: 24 Bom. L R. 695 (P. C.) 35 C. L. J 468: 4 U. P. L. R (P. C) 50 : L. R. 3 P. C. 119: (1922) M. W. N. 378: 1922 P. C. 17.

——S. 60—Right of redemption—Partial owner.

Subject to the proper safeguarding of the equal right to redeem which any other person may possess, one of several mortgagors can redeem the whole of the mortgaged property. (Viscount Haldane. (YADALLI BEG v. TUKARAM.
48 Cal. 22: (1920) M. W. N. 369: 47 I. A. 207: 12 L. W. 503: 16 N. L. R. 154: 2 U. P. L R (P C.) 123: 22 Bom L R. 1315: 28 M. L. T. 95: 25 C. W. N 241. 57 I. C. 535 : 39 M. L J. 147. (P. C.)

——S 60—Right of redemption—Right before expiry of term—Agreement between parties—Limitation.

In the absence of a special condition entitling the mortgagor to redeem during the term for which the mortgage is created, the right of redemption can only arise on the expiration of the specified period. But the parties may agree that the mortgagor may discharge the debt within the specified period and take back the property, in which case limitation for a suit for redemption commences on the date when the mortgage is discharged and is not postponed till the expiry of the term prescribed. (Mr. Ameer Ali.) BAKHTAWAR BEGAM v. HUSAINI KHANAM.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 60—Right of redemption.

36 All. 195: 41 I A. 84: 18 C. W. N. 586: 12 A.L.J. 473 : 19 C. L. J 477 : (1914) M.W.N. 411: 15 M. L. T. 389 : 16 Bom. L. R 344 : 23 I. C 355 : 1 L. W. 813 : 26 M. L. J. 474. (P. C.)

——S. 60—Right of redemption

The defendants, successors of the mortgagee, who had somehow obtained possession of the mortgaged plot under a usufructuary mortgage, got their names entered in the revenue papers, as if they were occupancy tenants of the disputed land and set up their title by adverse possession. Held, no such possession, short of the statutory period of sixty years, would be a bar or defence to a suit for redemption, if the parties were otherwise entitled to redeem. If the defendants obtain unlawful possession by ousting the mortgagees at any time within last twelve years or before, still their possession cannot be treated as adverse to the owner (mortgagor) so as to defeat his lawful title, because the right of the successors of the mortgagor to get possession could only arise on redemption and not earlier. 32 Cal. 296; 38 A. 411 foll. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.) MT. DURGA DEVI v GIRWAR SINGH. 1923 A. 11 (2).

——S. 60—Right of redemption—Mortgage money advanced by several mortgagees in specific shares.

Where mortgagees advanced money in specific shares on the security of specific portions of the mortgaged property but there was a provision that the money should be paid in a lump sum on redemption, Held, that the mortgage could be redeemed in a single suit. (Rafique and Lindsay, JJ.) LACHMI PRASAD v. GOKUL. 20 A. L J. 157: L. R. 3 A. 109. 1922 A. 80.

——S. 60—Right of redemption—Extinguishment by act of parties.

An admission by a mortgagor or an undertaking between him and the mortgagee that the mortgagee has become the owner of the mortgaged property cannot extinguish the mortgage or destroy the right of redemption of the mortgagor. A mortgagor and mortgagee may enter into a contract subsequent to the mortgage for the sale of the mortgaged property to the mortgagee. But it must not be part and parcel of the original loan mortgage bargain In other words, the act of the parties that is referred to in S. 60 of the T. P. Act as extinguishing a mortgage transaction is not a part and parcel of it 14 B. 75: 27 B. 297, Rel (Rafique and Piggott, JJ) RAM SINGH v. BAIJ-NATH. 49 I. C. 353: 17 A. L. J. 117.

——S. 60—Right of redemption—Partial owner.

The owner of a part of the equity of redemption has a right to redeem the entire mortgage. 23 M. L. J 375; 21 I.C. 251 Rel) 3 C. 397 (P.C.) Fol. 22 M. 209, Rel. Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) FAKIR CHAND v. BABULAL. 39 All. 719 42 I C. 879: 15 A. L. J. 791.

——S. 60—Right of redemption—Mortgage—Construction.

Where a mortgage-deed provided "If within period of ten years we have paid the whole of the mortgage-money in one lump sum, the mortgaged property specified below will be redeemed. If we do not pay the whole of the mortgage money the property will be sold out-right and the aforesaid creditor will be considered as in proprietary possession of the mortgaged property." Held, that under the terms the mortgaged property could be redeemed within ten years. To hold that the mortgagor cannot, under the above terms, redeem within the period of ten years is to hold that he could never redeem it at all. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ) AMIR MUHAMMED v. WAZIR. 39 I C. 643.

——S. 60—Right of redemption—Proof of—Suit.

No suit is maintainable for the redemption of a mortgage unless the plaintiff produces prima facie evidence of that right (Knox and Lindsay, JJ.) SAHDEO OJHA v. LACHMINA KUAR. 34 I. C. 207.

——S. 60—Right of redemption—No offer of payment—Tender of mortgage money.

Where the mortgagor failed to pay or to tender the debt due to the mortgage, no suit is maintainable by him for redemption as there is no cause of action. Tender of mortgage-money or what the mortgagee considers as the debt due, is a condition precedent to the institution of a suit for redemption of the mortgaged property, Foll. (1894) A. W. N. 143 Ref. (Tudball and Walsh, JJ.) MOHAMMAD ALI v. BALDEO PANDEY 38 All. 148: 34 I. C. 183: 14 A. L. J. 55.

——Ss. 60 and 91—Right of redemption—Nature of—Equity of redemption—Nature of.

The equity of redemption where possession is with mortgagor, is different from equity of redemption where possession is with the mortgagee. Adverse possession against a mortgagee does not bar the mortgagor's right of redemption. (Richards, C. J. and Bannerjee, J.) KUNWAR SEN v. DARBARI LAL. 34 I. C. 171 : 38 All. 411.

——S. 60—Right of redemption—Purchaser of a portion of the equity of redemption.

The purchaser of a share of the equity of redemption can sue to redeem the prior mortgage without being compelled to set up or to exercise against his will his right in respect of another and distinct mortgage (Piggott, J.) RAN PIYARI v. RAGHUNATH SINGH. 29 I C 794.

——S. 60—Right of redemption—Proof of title—Onus on plaintiff.

In a suit for redemption, the mortgagor must prove that at the commencement of the suit, he had a subsisting title to the possession of the property and that it continues. He must make such allegation in the plaint. (Knox, J.) RAM LAL v. SRI MAKURJI KISHORI RAVAN MAHARAJ 22 I. C. 574 : 12 A. L. J. 102.

——Ss. 60 and 61—Right of redemption—Tender—Usufructuary mortgagee purchasing a portion of mortgaged property—Stranger purchasing equity of redemption in the other portion · Tender of mortgage amount—Suit for redemption by purchaser — Mortgagee claiming tacking other mortgages—Conditional decree for redemption, if can be passed.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 60—Right of redemption.

Where a usufructuary mortgagee purchased a portion of the mortgaged property and a stranger purchased the equity of redemption in the remaining portion and tendered the mortgage amount into Court and the mortgagee ignored the tender and when the purchaser sued to redeem the mortgage, the mortgagee claimed amounts due in respect of other mortgages, tacked on to the mortgage in suit, a conditional decree may be passed directing the purchaser to obtain possession on payment to the mortgagee of the remaining sums due. (Richards, C. J. and Bannerjee, J.) NARSINGHA SINGH v. ACHHAIBAR SINGH. 36 All 36 : 22 I. C. 539 : 11 A. L. J. 1004.

——S. 60—Right of redemption— Mortgage by a conditional sale—Extinguishment of right of redemption by act af parties.

If after the date of the mortgage the mortgagor consented to the mortgagee being recorded owner under a clause to that effect in the deed the right of redemption was extinguished by act of parties. (P. C. Bannerjee, J.) IBRAHIM v. MUNSHI. 21 I. C. 87.

——S. 60—Right of redemption—Failure of mortgagee to perform essential part of contract—Right of redemptin before expiry of period.

Where the mortgagee has failed to perform the covenant he has entered into to redeem prior encumbrances the mortgagor has the right to redeem before expiry of the period of mortgage. (Richards. C. J. and Bannerjee. J.) CHHATKU RAI v. BALDEO SHUKUL. 34 All. 659 : 17 I. C. 340 : 10 A. L. J. 330.

——S. 60—Right of redemption—Tender or deposit—Suit for redemption—Cause of action—Right when lost.

The cause of action in a suit for redemption is the mortgagor's title plus a valid tender or the deposit of the mortgage debt; the right to redeem continues until it is expressly taken away by some decree of a competent Court which has the effect of extinguishing the right. 24 All. 45 Ref. (Piggott, J.) GANPAT SINGH v. TOHFA. 15 I. C. 15 : 10 A. L. J. 36.

——S. 60—Right of redemption.

Where the mortgagee sells the property to a stranger and then repurchases it his possession is not as representative of the purchaser, but only as a mortgagee and is liable to be redeemed within 60 years. (Macleod, C. J. and Heaton, J.) KALU DEOBA v. RUPCHAND KISHANDAS. 22 Bom L. R. 933 · 58 I. C. 39 : 44 B. 848

——S. 60—Right of redemption—Sale of portion of hypotheca.

Where a mortgagor mortgaged two properties to the plaintiff and subsequently sold one of them, a house site, to defendants and later on sold the other, a field, to the mortgagee himself who set off the sale price towards his mortgage-debt. Held, in a suit by the mortgagee to enforce the payment of balance due under his mortgage, against the house-site in the hands of the defendants, that as the sale to the plaintiff was subsequent to the sale of the house-site to the defendants and without their privity or consent, the defendants had not been deprived of their right of redemption. (Scott, C.J. and Beaman, J.) MAHMADALI KAMRUDDIN v. ABDULALI KARIMBHAI. 27 I. C. 38 : 16 Bom. L. R. 645.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 60—Right of redemption.

——Ss 60 and 62—Right of Redemption—Period fixed for—Redemption before that date.

The general principle as to redemption and foreclosure is that in the absence of any stipulation, express or implied, the right to redeem and the right to forceclose are co-existence and this principle is embodied in Ss. 60 and 62 of T. P. Act but there is nothing in law to prevent the parties from making a provision that the mortgagor may discharge the debt within the period specified for the redemption and take back the property. Such a provision is usually for the advantage of the mortgagor. There is nothing illegal or unusual for a debtor to come to an agreement with the creditor that he will have the right to repay the money before a certain date although the mortgagee would not be entitled to foreclose him before that date. 5 Bom. 22 ; 8 All. 95; 29 All. 471; 36 All. 195 ref. (Chatterjee and Newbould, JJ.) JAMIR HOWLADAR v. ARABIAN-BIBI. 65 I. C. 273.

——S. 60—Right of redemption— Partial owner of equity—Right to redeem.

A partial owner of the equity of redemption is entitled to redeem the whole of the mortgaged property in opposition to the wishes of the mortgagee. The general rule is that a person having any right at all to redeem has a right to redeem the whole of the mortgaged properties. (Richardson and Walmsley, JJ.) PROTAP CHANDRA DHAR v. PEARY MOHUN DHAR. 48 I. C. 669 : 22 C. W. N. 800.

——S. 60—Right of redemption— Partial owner of equity of redemption.

A partial owner of the equity of redemption is entitled to redeem the whole mortgage. (Fletcher and Newbould, JJ.) BAIKANTHA NATH DEY v. MOHESH CHANDRA DEY. 44 I. C. 77 : 22 C. W. N. 128.

——S. 60—Right of redemption—Conditional decree—Hindu widow—Mortgage by husband.

In a case where the wife wants to recover the property which is found to have been mortgaged by her husband for debts for which her husband's property in her hands would beljustly liable, to allow her, therefore, to recover her property without any condition would not be equitable. (Chatterjee and Chapman, JJ.) SANATAN CHAKRAVARTI v. KAURI MANI DASI. 29 I. C. 925.

——S. 60—Right of redemption—Due date—Demand for payment—Interest.

A mortgagor is not entitled to redeem before the debt becomes due even though he may offer to pay interest for the whole period. If the mortgagee makes the demand for payment before time, and the mortgagor complies he cannot demand interest for the whole of the term. When once the mortgagee has given notice demanding payment before term, he cannot withdraw without the consent of mortgagor. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) PROKSH CHANDRA GHOSE v. HASAN BABOO BIBI. 42 Cal. 1146 : 28 I. C. 450 : 19 C. W. N. 389.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT IV OF 1882), S. 60—Right of redemption.

——— S. 60—Right of redemption--Mortg age—Usufructuary—Suit for redemption.

A suit for redemption of a usufructuary mortgage is in substance a suit for possession of land and if the plaintiff proves title and the defence is simply that the mortgage is void, the plaintiff would be entitled to a decree. (Jenkins, C. J. and Mookerjee, J.) ANANDA HAIT v. KHUDI RAM HAIT.
25 I. C. 558 : 19 C. L. J. 532.

——— S. 60—Right of redemption.

The owner of only half of the property mortgaged can reedeem the whole on payment of the sum due. (Scott-Smith and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) KABUL SINGH v. KALA SINGH.
67 I. C. 737 : 3 Lah. L. J. 259.

——— S. 60—Right of redemption—Suit for redemption by mortgagors vendee—Plea of undue influence and fraud by the mortgagor.

The transferee of the equity of redemption from a mortgagor is at least a trustee and thus can redeem by impleading the mortgagor as a party who pleaded that the transfer to the plaintiff was obtained by undue influence and fraud. (Chevis and Dundas, JJ.) MOKANDI v. HARNAM DAS. 2 Lah. L. J. 446.

——— S. 60—Right of redemption—Term of 40 years—Mortgage with possession—Interest at 2 per cent per mensem.

In the absence of proof that the mortgage was entered into under undue influence the Court could not decree redemption before expiry of the period of 40 years agreed upon, even if the terms of the mortgage were unconscionable. 35 M. L. J. 614, Foll, (Rattigan, C, J. and Martineau, J.) NIHAL v. SHIB SANT KUMAR. 52 I. C. 542 : 94 P. R. 1919.

——— S. 60—Right of redemption—Hindu reversioner.

Where a Hindu widow, surrenders her property to the next reversioner, on condition of her receiving a fixed annual grant for maintenance, the reversioner can sue to redeem a mortgage of that property created by her. (Le Rossignal, J.) JUMMA RAM v. SONI BAI. 50 I. C. 868 : 178 P. W. R. 1918.

——— S 60—Right of redemption—Construction of mortgage for fixed term with a clause abridgement of the term on certain conditions.

A mortgage deed stipulated that the mortgagor could redeem before the time fixed by selling the property, but that in that case it was incumbent on him to give the mortgagees notice of his intention to sell and the actual price at which a definite purchaser was willing to buy on which the mortgagee could either purchase at the settled price or allow the sale to be effected Held, that notice ofthe actual price at which the mortgagees were entitled to the property not having been given to them, they were entitled to retain possession to the term of the mortgage. (Shadi Lal and Broadway, JJ.) ABDUL AZIZ v. NAIDAR MAL 41 I. C. 397 : 123 P. W. R, 1917.

——— S. 60—Right of redemption—Interested in a portion of the equity of redemption.

A person having an interest in a portion of the mortgaged property is entitled to redeem the whole unless his claim is opposed by a part owner of the equity of redemption (who may be the mortgagee himself) and in that case he can redeem only the part to which he is entitled. 14 W R. P. C. 17 ; 5 C. W. N. 83, (Chevis and Shadi Lal, JJ.) FAZLUDDIN v. KHARAK SINGH. 83 P. R. 1915 : 31 I. C. 230 : 141 P. W. R. 1915.

——— S. 60—Right of redemption— Prior mortgagee assignee of equity of redemption—If, can redeem puisne mortgagee.

A prior mortgagee, who is also the purchaser of the equity of redemption can redeem the puisne mortgagee even without his consent. The redemption by a puisne mortgagee of a prior mortgage is not a condition precedent to the exercise of the right of redemption of the puisne mortgage itself by an assignee of the mortgagor's equity of redemption. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) SARVOTHAMA RAO. v. RAJA RAO.
14 L. W. 355 : 69 I C. 942 : (1921) M. W. N. 603.

——— S. 60—Right of redemption—Moveables—Contract to the contrary.

In the case of mortgage of moveables the right of redemption subsists notwithstanding a contract to the contrary. The pinciple of S. 60 of the T. P. Act applies to moveables also. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Phillips, JJ.) SUJIR RAGHUNATHAYYA v. SALDHANA. 36 M. L. J. 161 : 25 M. L. T. 331 : 49 I. C. 722: (1919) M. W. N. 369.

——— S. 60—Right of redemption—Right to redeem on or before certain date—Intention.

Ordinarily and in the absence of a special stipulation to that effect,the mortgagor is not entitled to redeem before the close of the priod for which the mortgage was executed; but a provision in a mortgage deed providing for payment by the mortgagor on or before a certain date is sufficient indication of an intention to allow him to redeem before that date, especially where a stipulation is made applicable only to the balance of the mortgage debt. (Wallis, C. J, and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) CHANDU v. KOAJA POOJARI.
30 I. C. 370: 29 M. L. J. 86.

——— S. 60—Right of redemption--Extinguishment of—Mortgagee purchasing equity of redemption—Effect.

Where the equity of redemption in a usufructuary mortgage was sold in a court auction but the auction purchaser did not get symbolical delivery of the right purchased and the mortgagee subsequently purchased the equity of redemption from the heir of the auction purchaser. Held, that the mortgagee became full owner by reason of such purchase, that the non-delivery of the right purchaser to the auction purchaser did not revest that right in the mortgagor (judgment-debtor), and that a purchaser from the heir of the mortgagor had no right to claim redemption of the mortgage. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Hannay, JJ.) LAKSHMINARAYAN AIYAR v. ULAYAMMAL.
26 I. C. 528: 28 M. L. J. 256.

——— S. 60—Right of redemption—Time for.

Ordinarily the right of redemption will arise only at the expiry of the specified period in the mortgage document. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) GUNNAM DORAYYA v. VADAPALLI AYYAMACHARYALU. 16 M. L. T, 226 : (1914) M. W. N. 648 : 25 I. C. 797. 27 M. L. J. 295.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1832), S. 60—Right of redemption.

——— S. 60—Right of redemption—Period for redemption.

A mortgage for a definite term cannot be redeemed before the expiry of the term unless a contract to the contrary exists. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) BIR MAHAMAD ROWTHER v. NAGOOR ROWTHER. 16 M. L. T. 163 : 25 I. C. 576 : 27 M. L. J. 483.

——— S. 60—Right of redemption—Redemption suit, when can be commenced.

A suit for redemption can be filed any time after the mortgage-money becomes payable even if there is a stipulation for payment only within certain dates. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) CHAKKANGAL GOVINDA MENON v. CHAKKANGAL CHATTIN MENON. 22 I. C. 907.

——— Ss. 60 and 61—Right of redemption—Two mortgages on the same property in favour of some mortgagee.

If there are two mortgages on the same property in favour of the same mortgagee, the mortgagor cannot redeem the one before the other, (Ayling and Spencer, JJ.) MELOTH KANNAN NAIR v. CODATH KAMMARAN NAIR. (1914 M. W. N. 231 : 22 I. C. 609: 1 L. W. 102.

——— S. 60—Right of redemption—Proof of mortgage—Nature of evidence.

Where in a redemption suit a plaintiff relies for his title on a sale for arrears of rent, he must prove the validity of the sale. But it is not necessary that he should do so in a particular way. It is sufficient if he offers general evidence of the sale, and of the subsequent conduct of parties. (Ayling and Oldfield, JJ.) RASA GOWNDEN v. SINNAPPAYYAN 22 I. C. 17 : 1 L. W. 55.

——— S. 60—Right of redemption—Mortgagee a Hindu widow in possession.

It is not the duty of mortgagor to see that the money paid to a Hindu widow to redeem his lands is applied by her for the benefit of the estate nor should he associate the reversioners in the transaction. (Chevis, J.) DAL SINGH v. BAKHSHISH SINGH. 19 I. C. 8 : 36 Mad. 7.

——— S. 60—Right of redemption—Extinction of—Agreement to surrender possession to mortgagee as full owner on expiry of term.

It is open to the parties to a mortgage, the mortgagor and the mortgagee, to agree at any time that the mortgagee shall be in possession of the mortgaged property as owner thereof and possession so held by the mortgagee for over twelve years will extinguish the mortgagor's title to redeem. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) USUMAN KHAN v. NAGALIA DASANNA. 37 Mad. 545 : (1912) M. W. N. 995 : 16 I. C. 694 : 12 M. L. T. 330 : 23 M.L.J. 360 : Also (1921) M.W.N. 1 : 40 M. L. J. 105.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 60—Right of redemption.

——— S. 60—Right of redemption—Kanom—Mortgage to third person—Redemption decree—Ineffective—Assigment of Kanom rights.

A grant was made to a person on kanom, the property was subsequently mortgaged to another and a decree for redemption was passed thereon but it had become inoperative; afterwards the interest of the mortgagor and mortgagee was assigned to the plaintiff. Held, that though as the assignee of the inoperative decree from the mortgagee he was not entitled to redeem yet as the assignee of the mortgagor he could redeem the kanom even after the decree in favour of mortgagee had become incapable of execution. (Subramania Aiyar and Boddam, JJ.) KUTTISSERI ILLATH v. ACHUTA PISHARODI. 14 I. C. 415. 35 Mad. 42 :

——— S. 60—Right of redemption—When arises—Expiry of period fixed—Contract to the contrary.

Ordinarily and in the absence of a special condition entitling the mortgagor to redeem during the term for which the mortgage is created, the right of redemption can only arise on the expiry of the specified period, though there is nothing to prevent the parties from making a special condition. 36 A. 195 (P. C.) : 39 C. 828 f. ll. 16 C. P. L.R. 59 not foll. Unless there is an agreement to the contrary, the right of foreclosure and the right of redemption must be regarded as co-existent. (Halijax, A. J. C.) BALA v. GHASI. 64 I. C. 730 : 17 N. L. R. 202.

——— S. 60—Right of redemption—Partial owner of equity.

A person holding equity of redemption in certain property with others including the mortgagee himself, cannot under S. 60 compel the mortgagee to allow him to redeem entire property. At the most he can redeem his share only. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs.) MUHAMMAD ZAKI ALI KHAN v. AHMED SHAH. 58 I. C. 983 : 7 O. L. J. 585.

——— S. 60—Right of redemption—Time for redemption.

A mortgagor creating subsequent mortgage on the same property together with other properties in favour of the same mortgagee with intermediate mortgages on all these properties in favour of the third person, cannot redeem the first mortgage without redeeming all the subsequent ones as, before such redemption of the subsequent mortgages, his right of redemption which he has parted with by the subsequent mortgages does not become vested in him. (Lindsay, J. C.) SURAJ BAKSH SINGH v. BISHSHAR SINGH. 23 O. C. 113 : 7 O. L. J. 470 : 57 I. C. 559 : 2 U. P. L. R (J. C.) 144.

——— S. 60—Right of redemption—Fallow season—Where there is no stipulation restraining redemption, but only a period is fixed for payment it is fixed as a a protection for the debtor till the contrary intention is shewn.

Where a mortgage-deed in respect of houses of groves provides for redemption in the fallow season such limitation is without any significance and it is not necessary that a suit for redemption of such mortgage should be filed in the fallow season. 40 I.C. 381 and 4 O.L.J. 334 Dist. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) ANANT RAM v. KALAW. 51 I. C. 880

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 60—Right of redemption.

——S. 60—Right of redemption—Tender of money after suit.

Tender of mortgage-money by mortgagor after a suit for possession had been filed by the mortgagee under the terms of the mortgage was held good and a redemption was allowed. (Stuart, J. C.) RAM DAYAL v. ARJUN SINGH. 50 I. C. 332.

——S. 60—Right of redemption—Second suit.

There can be no second suit for redemption when once a decree has been passed, though it does not fix time for payment and the consequences of non-payment. (Lindsay, J. C. and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) SHEORAJ BAHADUR SINGH v. GAJADHAR SINGH. 48 I. C. 922 : 5 O. L. J. 698.

——Ss. 60 and 77—Right of redemption—Redemption before date fixed—Right of mortgagee to remain in possession after mortgage satisfied by the usufruct.

A usufructuary mortgagee has no right to remain in possession of the mortgaged property after the money is satisfied from the usufruct, though the parties may have miscalculated that the liquidation of the mortgage money from the usufruct shall take a longer period. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs.) PRAG v. MOHAN LAL. 47 I. C. 161 : 5 O. L. J. 263.

——S. 60—Right of redemption—Redemption at a particular season.

Where in cases of mortgage with possession in respect of agricultural land, redemption is agreed to be allowed only at a particular season of the year known as ' Khali fasl jeth '. Held, time is of the essence of the contract and the mortgagor must make an offer to redeem in 'Khali fasl jeth ' before he can sue for redemption. (Lindsay, J. C.) KARIM BAKSH v. IDU SHAH. 40 I. C. 381 : 4 O. L. J. 334.

——S. 60—Right of redemption—Right of mortgagor before delivery of possession to mortgagee.

It is not open to the mortgagor to obtain a right of redemption which would have the effect of defeating the mortgagee's claim for possession. There is nothing in the provisions of the T. P. Act, which would give the mortgagor a right to redeem, other than the right which he agreed to accept under the terms of the deed. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs.) MUHAMMAD SHER KHAN v. RAJA SETHUSWAMI DAYAL. 18 O. C. 105 : 30 I. C. 377 : 2 O. L. J. 372.

——S. 60—Right of redemption—Money payable by a fixed date.

A mortgagor may redeem at or before the time fixed for redemption in the absence of a contract to the contrary. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J C.) GOPAL SINGH v. KARAN SINGH. 25 I. C. 302 : 17 O. C. 218.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 60—Right of redemption.

——S. 60—Right of redemption—Deed—Construction—Mortgage.

If the parties agree that the mortgage money should be paid in Jeth in a year and the property redeemed, payment in any other month is not a good and valid tender and does not stop interest thereafter. When the mortgage was one with possession, but the mortgagee did not obtain possession and claimed interest. Held that the mortgagee ought to have sued for possession and must appropriate the net profits of the property towards his interest but he could not charge the mortgagor with interest. (Lindsay, J. C.) MATA DIN v. AHMAD ALI. 24 I. C. 874 : 1 O. L. J. 263.

——S. 60—Right of redemption—Person inheriting part of mortgaged property—Redemption of more than his share, if possible.

A person inheriting part of mortgaged property cannot redeem more than his share against the will of the mortgagee where he has acquired part of the mortgaged property. (Lindsay, J.C.) RAJ BAHADUR SINGH v. MAHABIR PRASAD. 21 I. C. 251.

——Ss. 60 and 58 (d)—Right of redemption—Proof of terms.

In a suit for redemption on a usufructuary mortgage for Rs. 50 the plaintiff proved the fact of mortgage by the evidence of a witness. The witness did not prove the terms of the mortgage. The defendant denied the mortgage. Held, that in the absence of evidence, a mortgage for a greater period than the plaintiff alleged could not be presumed and that in the absence of evidence to the contrary, it could not be assumed that the interest exceeded the usufruct. (Chamier, J. C.) PANCHAM TIWARI v. RAM UDID UPADHAYA. 10 I. C. 7.

——S. 60—Right of redemption—Extinguishment of.

The right to redeem is not extinguished when no steps to foreclose the same according to the provisions of law have been made merely on the ground that the settlement officer had expunged the name of the mortgagor. 32 C. 296, Foll. (Sunder Lal, A. J. C.) ANGNE LAL v. JAGDISH SINGH. 9 I. C. 431.

——S. 60—Right of redemption—Sale of equity of redemption—Mortgagor's right to redeem first mortgage.

The mortgagor cannot redeem the first mortgage after his equity of redemption has been sold away in execution of a decree on a second mortgage. 39 Ch. D 630. Dis. (Mullick and Kingsford, JJ.) JAHMANI PRASAD SINGH v. GHARBARAN DUBEY. 35 I. C. 404.

——S. 60—Right of redemption—Period fixed by deed—Expiration of—Rights of parties.

When a period for a mortgage is specified, the right of redemption can only arise on the expiration of that period in the absence of a special condition entitling the mortgagor to redeem during the term for which mortgage was created. Where nothing more than a period is specified the onus lies on the mortgagor to prove that he can redeem before that period and not upon the mortgagee to show that the mortgagor cannot do so. The view that the simple expression "ba mayad" or "ta mayad" without qualification means that the time is the essence of the contract and that the mortgagor cannot redeem before the expiry of that term is one which must be taken as settled law for the North-Western Frontier Province (Pipon, J. C.) DHANNA RAM v. CHHABIL DAS. 72 I. C. 931

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 60—Right of redemption.

——S. 60—Right of redemption—Time fixed by compromise not to be extended.

A Court cannot without the parties consent extend the time fixed by a compromise between the parties for redemption. (Ormond, J.) MAUNG SEN LIN v. MAUNG SHWE THEIN.
37 I. C. 672 : 10 Bur. L. T. 240.

——S. 60—Right of redemption—Effect of.

When a mortgage is redeemed by mortgagor or even a person not entitled to do so and against the mortgagor's will the mortgage as well as mortgagee's rights cease to exist. (Mc Coll, A. J. C.) MA HUA YIN v. MI HUAN. 32 I. C. 506 : II U. B. R. (1915) 89.

Rights of Mortgagor.

——S. 60—Rights of mortgagor—Tacking—Simple and usufructuary mortgage on the same day—Option to sue for interest at the end of each year—Redemption.

Where a simple mortgage and a usufructuary mortgage were executed on the same day, over the same property and in favour of the same person, with a condition that the money under the simple mortgage was to be paid along with that due under the usufructuary mortgage and that the mortgagee might sue for the deficiency in interest, if any, in a particular year. Held, that there was a clear case of tacking and the usufructuary mortgage could not be redeemed without payment of the simple mortgage and the fact that the mortgagee was given an option of realising the deficiency in interest by a suit against the mortgagor personally, did not make the interest cease to be part of the mortgage money and recoverable as such before redemption. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) ULFAT RAI v. KANHAIYA LAL.
20 A. L. J. 86 : L R. 3 A. 125 : 1922 A. 41.

——S. 60—Rights of mortgagor—Usufructuary mortgage—Redemption suit—Mortgagee not producing accounts—Amount due, how to calculate.

In a redemption suit under a usufructuary mortgage, if the mortgagee fails to produce proper accounts, the Court can calculate the amount due on the basis that all the tenants have paid their rents. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) HARDEO PRASAD v. GANGA SAHAI. 61 I. C. 48 : 19 A. L. J. 155.

——S. 60—Rights of mortgagor—Preliminary decree for foreclosure—Expiry of time allowed—Right of mortgagor to redeem at any time before the passing of the final decree.

The mortgagor has a right to redeem at any time before the passing of the final decree. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) YSAF ALI v. KASIM ALI.
26 C. W. N. 532.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 60—Rights of Mortgagor.

——S. 60—Rights of mortgagor—Re-transfer of the mortgaged property.

After a decree for redemption the executing Court should see that all the rights acquired by the mortgagee under the mortgage are retransferred to the mortgagor and that the latter is placed in his original position. (Shadi Lal, C. J.) MAHMAN SINGH v. NIHAL. 57 I. C. 763.

——S. 60—Rights of mortgagor— Mortgagee purchasing mortgage properties in auction—Sale afterwards set aside in part—Effect.

When the mortgagee in court auction purchases the equity of redemption, and afterwards the sale is held partly invalid, the security is discharged only to the extent to which the sale is valid. 43 Mad. 372 F. B. Foll. (Odgers and Hughes, JJ) RAMASWAMI REDDIAR v. PERIA VEERAKUDU.
45 M L. J. 719 : 18 L. W. 692 : (1923) M. W. N. 781 : 1924 Mad. 364.

——S. 60—Rights of mortgagor—Title-deed—Loss of—Compensation.

In India, as in England, a mortgagor is entitled to compensation from his mortgagee for the loss of title-deeds. He will have his remedy by way of a separate suit for damages, or even under the mortgage decree where the latter contains provision for it. (Ayling, A. J. C. and Ryves, J.) MARATH SIVARAMAN NAIR v. SESHU PATTAR.
42 M. L. J. 356 : 16 L. W. 589 : 1922 Mad. 299.

——Ss. 60 and 91—Rights of mortgagor—Kanom of temple property—One of two Uralans—Right to redeem—Costs—Uralan, right of, to claim, often renewal of kanom.

One of two Uralans of a temple can redeem a kanom of the temple property without consulting the other Uralan. An Uralan who incurs costs in defending the plaint Devaswom's jenmi title to the property is not entitled upon a renewal of the kanom to claim the costs so incurred. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) KAYARAT KIZHAKKETHIL RARU NAIR v. THIRUNARAYANAPURAM URALAN KARUTHEDATH. 13 L. W. 425 : 61 I. C. 510 : (1920) M. W. N. 646.

——Ss 60 and 95—Rights of mortgagor—Co-mortgagors—Redemption—Purchase of a portion of mortgaged property by mortgagee.

Co-mortgagors entitled to a portion of the mortgaged property could redeem against the will of the mortgagee who has himself purchased a portion of the hypotheca only their own village. (Dalal and Simpson, A. J.Cs.) JAI GOVIND SINGH v. ABHAI RAJ SINGH. 26 O. C. 308 : 10 O. L. J. 216 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 651 : 1924 Oudh 40.

——Ss. 60 and 61—Rights of mortgagor—Deed of further charge—Redemption—Consolidation.

Where a deed of further charge expressly stipulates that the mortgagor would not be entitled to redeem the earlier mortgage without paying the money due under the further charge there is a covenant for consolidation and the earlier mortgage cannot be redeemed without payment of the money due under the latter. 17 O. C. 301 Dist. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) NAUNIDH LAL v. MAHADEO SINGH. 25 O. C. 134 : 8 O. L. J. 640 : 1922 Oudh 58.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 60—Splitting up of security.

Splitting up of security.

——S. 60—Splitting up of security—Suit by mortgagee for his share of the mortgage money—Decree—Form of—Merger — Acquisition of interest.

In order to effect a merger, the two rights must be co-extensive in same share however small, though one be higher than the other. Ordinarily the acquisition of a share in the equity of redemption by only one of several mortgagees does not necessarily break up the integrity of the mortgage so as to entitle a mortgagor, interested in only a fractional part of the property, to redeem his share on payment on a proportionate amount: Held, that the plaintiff's co-mortgagees by suing for their share of the mortgage money must be deemed to have admitted that the balance of the mortgage money had been satisfied by the acquisition of a proportionate share of the mortgaged property and that the plffs. should be given a decree for their share of the mortgage money as against a proportionate share of the mortgaged property. (Stuart and Sulaiman, JJ.) MOHAN LAL v. PARSHADI LAL. L. R. 3 A. 472 : 45 All. 46 : 1924 All. 11.

——S. 60—Splitting up of security—Partial redemption—Decree on prior mortgage— Sale—Right of auction-purchaser.

There was a first mortgage and subsequent thereto all the rights which the original mortgagor had, were mortgaged to the second mortgagee. In execution of a decree on the prior mortgage, the whole of these rights (that is the whole of the equity of redemption of the prior mortgage) vested in the auction-purchaser. No part of the equity of redemption vested in the successor to original mortgagor. Held that the integrity of the prior mortgage was not broken up and the mortgage would not be redeemed piecemeal. (Mears, C.J. and Banerjee, J.) ABDUL GHAFOOR v. QAMAR UDDIN. 21 A. L. J. 279 : L. R. 4 A. 360 : 1923 A. 397.

——S. 60—Splitting up of security — Effect on redemption.

On splitting up of the integrity of a mortgage, acquisition of interest of mortgagor by prior and subsequent mortgagees does not necessitate the redemption of the whole by the former or renunciation of interest by the latter. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) AMBA PRASAD v. WAHID ULLAH. 20 A. L. J. 583 : 44 A. 708 : 1922 A. 405.

——S. 60—Splitting up of security—Acquisition of part of equity of redemption by mortgagee decree-holder—Merger.

The principle that when a mortgagee acquires a part of the mortgaged property, the integrity of his mortgage is broken up and the mortgage is extinguished, pro tanto, the balance only being recoverable from the residue, applies equally where after the decree for sale the mortgagee (decree-holder) acquires a part of the mortgaged property. (Tudball and Sulaiman, JJ.) SARJU KUMAR MUKERJI v. THAKUR PRASAD. 42 All. 544 : 18 A. L. J. 690 : 58 I. C. 743 : 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 174.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 60—Splitting up of security.

——S. 60—Splitting up of security—Integrity of mortgage broken with consent of mortgagee—Piecemeal redemption.

Where the integrity of a mortgage is broken up with the consent of a mortgagee and a moiety is redeemed, neither he nor those who claim through him can afterwards invoke in their aid the rule prohibiting the breaking up of a mortgage so as to entitle a mortgagor to redeem any portion thereof which he feels disposed to redeem. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) SARADANAND RAI v. SOHAWAN KHAN. 51 I. C. 815.

——S. 60—Splitting of security—Mortgage of two properties—Money left with the mortgagee to pay off a prior mortgage on one—Default—Sale in consequence—Purchase by the mortgagee in the name of a stranger—Suit for partial redemption.

One of two properties comprised in a mortgage was subject to a prior mortgage and was brought to sale for default of payment of the mortgage amount and was purchased by the second mortgagee in the name of a third person. A suit for redemption as regards the other property was allowed the integrity of the mortgage being broken and the money was calculated as if there was no prior mortgage on that property. (Banerjee and Piggott, JJ.) WAJAHAT HUSAIN v. RATAM LAL. 12 I. C. 182 : 8 A. L. J. 1092.

——S. 60—Splitting up of security—By mortgagee.

In 1881 A mortgaged his Sir to B and in 1888 at a sale in execution of a simple money-decree B purchased the proprietary right in the Sir leaving A owner of the ex-proprietary, rights only; B could not place the whole burden on the ex-proprietary rights as he by his own act had broken up the integrity of his security. (Stanley, C. J. and Griffin, J.) CHUNNI LAL v. SIKISHAN SINGH. 33 All. 434 : 10 I. C. 729 : 8 A. L. J. 227.

——S. 60—Splitting of security—Co-mortgagee purchasing the equity of redemption.

The purchase of the equity of redemption by one of several co-mortgagees does not extinguish the right of the others. (Stanley, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) RAMJAS DAS v. SHEO LAL. 9 I. C. 1026.

——S. 60—Splitting up of security—Partial failure of consideration.— Omission to include item in redemption suit.

On 12-2-1903 Bapat mortgaged his Kelghar property to Ganesh Joshi and his brother (plaintiffs) for Rs. 2,000 which consideration included a mortgage charge of Rs. 1,200 under a prior mortgage created by Bapat. In April 1900, the plaintiffs mortgaged their own properties together with their mortgagee interest in the Kelghar property for Rs. 4,000 to Narayan Paranjpe. The consideration here also included the mortgage claim of Rs. 1,186 1-6 under the mortgage of 1890. This mortgage was renewed on 28-5-1906. In the meanwhile one Rodes who had obtained a money-decree against Bapat in 1899 applied in

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 60—Splitting up of security.

1901 to execute his money decree against Bapat and attached the Kelghar property. The plaintiffs intervened and put forward the mortgage of 1900. On 15-11-1902 the court ordered that the property should be sold subject to the mortgage lien of the plaintiffs and the property was accordingly sold and purchased by Rodes. Rodes sued in 1904 and obtained a declaration that the mortgage of February 1900 was fraudulent and not binding on him subject to a lien for Rs. 1,186-1-6 on the Kelghar property. In 1909 Rodes filed another suit against plff. and Narhar Paranjpe to recover possession of the property and the suit was decreed. The Kelghar property however remained in possession of the plaintiffs all along. In 1917 the plaintiffs sued to redeem the mortgage of 1906 excluding the Kelghar property. Held, that the omission to include the Kelghar property was no transgression of the rule against partial redemption enunciated in S. 60 of the T. P. Act. (Shah, A. J. C. and Crump, J.) GANESH MORESHWAR JOSHI v. VASU DEO VITHAL PARANJPE. 24 Bom. L. R. 911 : 1922 Bom. 424.

——— Ss. 60 and 100—Splitting up of security—Maintenance—Annuity—Suit by assignee—Assignee purchasing a portion of property charged——Abatement.

A Hindu widow's maintenance was charged on certain properties. The plaintiff, the assignee of this right of the widow, subsequently purchased a portion of the properties subject to the charge created by the deed of maintenance. Held, that the case was covered by the last few words, of the final clause of S. 60 of the T. P. Act. In a suit by plaintiff for arrears of maintenance charged. Held that he was bound to apportion the money as between the properties acquired by him subject to the charge and the rest of the mortgaged properties. (Fletcher and Cuming, JJ.) RAJAT KAMINI DEBI v. RAJA SATYA NIRANJAN. 53 I. C. 587.

——— S. 60—Splitting up of security—Rights of Mortgagee—Purchase of share of equity by mortgagee—Mortgagee's rights.

The purchaser of the rights of some joint mortgagors is entitled to joint possession with remaining mortgagors though he was a mortgagee himself from all of them. (Beachcroft, J.) KORLIAN ALI v. MAKBUL ALI. 50 I. C. 743.

——— S. 60—Splitting up of security—Acquisition of the interest of one of the mortgagees by one of the mortgagors—Effect.

A purchase by some mortgagors of the interest of a mortgagee does not entitle the other co-mortgagors to claim apportionment of their debt for redemption of their share of the property. (Beachcroft and Walmsley, JJ.) JAGABANDHU PAL v. HALADHAR PAL. 41 I. C. 269 : 27 C. L. J. 110.

——— S. 60—Splitting up of security.

Where the plaintiff himself purchased the whole of the equity of redemption, without consulting the other landlords, and then by virtue of litigation between himself and the other landlords he was allowed to retain ¼ share of the equity of redemption of the occupancy rights, Held, he himself was responsible for dividing up the equity of redemption and cannot now take advantage of its being originally indivisible. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Abdul Qadir, J.) KARIM BAKHSH v. KARIM BAKHSH. 1923 Lah. 22.

——— S. 60—Splitting up of security—Mortgagee acquiring part of equity of redemption—Right of other part owner to redeem whole mortgage—Partition if necessary.

Where a mortgagee has acquired a share in the equity of redemption either by purchase or inheritance, a part owner of the equity can only redeem his own share and not the shares of his co-owners because the security has been broken up; in such cases no partition is necessary before redemption can be made. (Reid, C. J. and Johnstone, J.) SHANKAR DAS v. GOBIND RAM. 62 P. R. 1911 : 206 P. W. R. 1911 : 11 I. C 100 : 197 P. L. R. 1911.

——— Ss. 60 and 82—Splitting up of secuirty—Purchase by mortgagee of equity of redemption in part of the mortgaged property—Discharge of mortgage.

When a mortgagee buys at auction the equity of redemption in part of the mortgaged property, such purchase has, in the absence of fraud, the effect of discharging and extinguishing only that portion of the mortgage debt which was chargeable on the property purchased by him even though the value of the property purchased be equal to the amount due on the mortgage. (Wallis, C. J., Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) PONNAMBALA PILLAI v. ANNAMALAI CHETTIAR. 43 Mad. 372 : 38 M. L J 239 : (1920) M. W. N. 235 : 55 I. C. 666 : 11 L. W. 429 (F. B.): [Overruling 10 M. L. T. 240 : 12 I. C. 130 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 342.]

——— Ss. 60 and 82—Splitting up of security—Purchase by mortgagee of portion of the equity of redemption—Right of mortgagee how far affected.

A mortgagee who bought a part of the mortgaged property at a low price, because it was sold under the burden of his debt, must be considered to have paid to himself towards satisfaction of the mortgage the difference between the full price of what he bought and the price he paid for it. There is no reason why only so much should be considered as having been paid as bears the same proportion to the whole debt as the value of the property bought bears to the whole property. 24 W. R. 83 foll. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) ADKU v. RAJARAM. 64 I. C. 453.

——— S. 60—Splitting up of security—Purchase of portion of mortgaged property by mortgagee—Effect of.

Where a mortgagee purchases a portion of the mortgaged property at an auction sale, held in execution of his decree for money at which his prior lien was notified, the effect is to extinguish the mortgage only to an amount proportioned to the extent of the property purchased. The question of the price paid at the sale is quite immaterial. (Kanhaiya Lal and Daniels, A. J. Cs.). SHAMSHAD ALI KHAN v. MUHAMMAD ALI KHAN. 47 I. C. 200 : 21 O. C. 172.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 60—Splitting up of security.

——S. 60—Splitting up of security—Redemption.

In 1878 A mortgaged certain property to R. In 1881 he usufructuarily mortgaged the same property with some other property of the same nature to plaintiff and one S. In 1885 R and S brought a suit and obtained a decree for sale. Plaintiff and S were parties to this suit. In 1893, the heirs of the mortgogors redeemed half of the property mortgaged in 1881 from S. In 1906 R put into execution his decree and got the other half sold. Plaintiff brought a suit to recover half the mortgaged property. Held, that irrespective of the mortgage of 1881 the mortgage security had with the consent of all the parties been split up in 1893 and so the portion redeemed in 1893 was not liable to plaintiff's claim ; and his rights in the other half were lost in the execution of the prior mortgage decree. (Evans, A. J. C.) BALJIT SINGH v. BAHADUR SINGH. 10 I. C. 15.

——S. 60—Splitting up of security—Rights of mortgagee—Part payment—Effect of.

A mortgagee is entitled to bring a suit for sale of the entire mortgaged property for the balance due upon his mortgage, although he received half the mortgage debt from one in whom one half of the equity of redemption became vested subsequent to the mortgage, unless it was proved that he had consented to the integrity of the mortgage being broken up. (Das and Adami, JJ.) PANDE SATDEO NARAIN v. RAMAYAN TEWARI.
4 Pat. L. T. 147 : 2 Pat. 335 : 1923 P. 242 (2).

——S. 60—Splitting up of security—Right of redemption—Partial redemption.

Ordinarily a mortgagee is entitled to claim that his security should not be split up, but if he becomes by his own act the purchaser of a portion of the mortgage security, he has no longer any right to claim that the security should not be split up and mortgagors or assignees from mortgagors become liable for only so much of the mortgage debt as is proportionate to the portion of the mortgage security that they have purchased. (Robinson, C. J. and Macgregor, J.) CO THINE v. ISMAIL CASSIM MORAD. 1 Bur. L. J. 117 : 1923 R. 61.

——S. 61—Contract to the contrary—Consolidation.

Where by each of two mortgages a separate property was mortgaged with possession and the second mortgage contained this clause "and when the whole of the mortgaged money due under this deed together with the amount due under the previous deed shall be paid then the mortgage shall be redeemable and the deed shall be taken back." Held, the mortgagee was entitled to consolidate the two mortgages by the "contract to the contrary". (Stuart, J.) JADU RAI v. RAM BIRICH RAJ. 1922 All. 403 (1).

——S. 61—Further charge—Mortgage, usufructuary—Second mortgage—Covenant to pay second mortgage first—Suit on second mortgage barred—Effect of.

A second mortgage was created in favour of a person in whose favour a usufructuary mortgage had been previously executed on the same property

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 61.

The covenant in the second bond provided that the money due under that bond should be paid first and then the money due under the previous bond. In a suit for redemption of the first mortgage only, it appeared that at the date of the suit for redemption if the second bond (simple mortgage) had been sued upon the suit would be barred by limitation. Held, that the mortgagors were entitled to get possession of the property mortgaged by paying the money due on the first mortgage only. (Richards, C. J. and Piggott, J.) KESAR KUNWAR v. KASHI RAM. 37 All. 634 : 30 I. C 777 : 13 A. L. J. 889.
Also 40 I. C. 404.

——S. 61—Further charge—Agreement in subsequent mortgage to redeem prior mortgage at time of redemption of subsequent mortgage—Effect.

Where an agreement in a later usufructuary mortgage to repay a prior simple mortgage before redeeming the former is part and parcel of the contract of usufructuary mortgage, the parties will be held bound by it. (Griffin and Rafique, JJ.) IMAM BAKSH v. ANWARI BEGAM.
18 I. C. 718.

——S. 61—Consolidation—Contract to that effect.

R and B mortgaged certain fields with possession. R alone mortgaged another property by way of simple mortgage to the same mortgagee containing the clause 'Frist I shall pay this money and then the money borrowed on the security of the fields.' Held, this did not amount to consolidation but merely fixed the time for payment of the amount of the second mortgage. (Stanley, C.J. and Banerjee, J.) GANGAI RAM v. KIRTARTH RAI. 33 All. 393 : 9 I. C. 319 : 8 A. L. J. 158.

——S. 61—Tacking mortgage—Redemption.

Where two of the members of a joint family mortgaged certain joint property and where one of them along with another co-parcener created a further charge on the same property in favour of the same mortgagee, with a covenant that the earlier mortgage could not be redeemed unless the subsequent mortgage also was at the same time redeemed, such covenant is no clog and binds the joint family in the absence of repudiation by the member who was a party to the first but not to second mortgage. (Banerjee and Griffin, JJ.) SHEO KUMAR UPADHYA v. JITHU SINGH,
9 I. C. 52.

——S. 61—Consolidation—No right to.

As consolidation has the effect of interfering with the right of a mortgagor to redeem a mortgage on one property without being required to redeem another mortgage relating to a different property, a Court of Justice will always struggle against an interference with mortgagor's right, unless the covenant is shown to be express and unequivocal. 33 All, 393 ; 22 I.C. 132 ; 26 All. 559 Ref.; 2 P. R. 1890, Dist.; 4 All. 85, Diss. (Shadi Lal and Dundas, JJ.) JIWAN DAS v. THARAJ.
1 Lah. 105 : 14 P. L. R. 1920 : 55 I. C. 509 : 5 P. W. R. 1920.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 61.

——S. 61—Several mortgages—Suit to redeem one particular mortgage.

In a suit upon a mortgage the plaintiff should state clearly, especially in cases where there are more mortgages than one which mortgage he is seeking to redeem. (Chevis, J.) KARAN CHAND v. SULTAN. 72 P. W. R. 1912 : 13 I. C. 650 : 92 P. L. R. 1912.

——S. 61—Scope—Rule of Vint v. Padget —No applicability in India.

Per the Chief Justice.—The right of separate redemption does not arise under S. 61 where the property sought to be redeemed is also included in another mortgage. Quaere.—Whether any right of consolidation is recognized in S. 61 Per Seshagiri Aiyar, J.—The rule of Vint v. Padget that where the equity of redemption has passed to a stranger he is bound by the same equities as the mortgagor ought not to be imported into India. The rule as to consolidation of mortgages against the mortgagor is not applicable against purchasers of the equity of redemption. (Wallis, C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) PANAGANTI RAMARAYANINGAR v. MAHARAJAH OF VENKATAGIRI. 44 Mad. 301 : 12 L. W. 685 : 28 M. L. T. 234 : 61 I. C. 612 : 40 M. L. J. 236.

——S. 61—Consolidation—Prior time barred mortgage.

Where a person has executed several mortgages in favour of one party, some of which are barred, he can sue for redemption of such of the mortgage-deeds only as are not barred. He is under no obligation to redeem those which are time barred. 43 I. C. 286, Foll. (Spencer and Krishnan, JJ.) ANIKADEN MANAPATTIKANARI KARNAVAN v. THAYYAN KALLIANI. 52 I. C. 622.

——S. 61—Consolidation—Time-barred debt —Mortgagor not bound to pay—Usufructuary mortgage—Mortgagee taking mortgage for arrears of rent due from mortgagor—Effect of.

Assuming that all the mortgages over the same property and in favour of one and the same person ought to be simultaneously redeemed the rule should be confined to the cases where the mortgages insisted on being redeemed, are enforceable and are not such as are barred by limitation or any other cause from being enforced by suit. 32 M. L. J. 317; 19 A. 496 Rel. Per Spencer, J.—Where a mortgagee gets simple mortgages executed in respect of the arrears of rent due from the mortgagor on the property usufructuarily mortgaged he (the mortgagee) could not fall back on the security of the earlier usufructuary bond which contained a stipulation for payment of arrears of rent or redemption as the later mortgages constituted a novation of the original contract. (Per Krishnan, J.) There being merely a personal covenant to pay arrears of rent in the original usufructuary mortgage bond the lease to the mortgagor could not be said to be part of the mortgage transaction or the rent payable on the mortgage money, and therefore charged on the property equally with the principal sum. 37 A. 634, 26 M. 62, Ref. The mortgagee's claim for arrears of rent was a simple money debt and became merged in the judgment debt and the secured mortgage debts obtained by the mortgagee could no longer be enforced as such. 32 M. L. J. 263 ; 4 L. W. 477, Dist. (Spencer and Krishnan, JJ.) RAMA KRISHNA KUKKILAYA v. NEKKAR KUPPANNA. 22 M. L. T. 422 : (1918) M. W. N. 75 : 43 I. C. 286 : 6 L. W. 621 : 33 M. L. J. 581. Also 52 I. C. 622.

——S. 61—Consolidation—Mortgages—When allowed.

Both under S. 61 of the T. P. Act and the law prior to its enactment, it was necessary for the consolidation of mortgages, that the two mortgages to be consolidated should have become united in title or come into the same hand. 79 L. T. 244, Ref. (Benson and Wallis, JJ.) VELAYUDAN CHETTY v. NILABAGAM CHETTY, 15 I. C. 605 : 23 M. L. J. 475.

——S. 61—Consolidation—When allowed.

Per White, C. J.—S. 61 implies as is shown by the illustration, that when there are different mortgages in favour of one and the same person not in respect of different properties but the same property, the mortgagor cannot seek to redeem any one mortgage without redeeming the others also. The same principle will be equally applicable to a mortgagee having several mortgages over the same property seeking to obtain order for sale on one mortgage. (White, C. J. and Krishnaswami Aiyar, J.) BALASUBRAMANIA NADAR v. SIVAGURU ASARI. 11 I. C. 629 : 21 M. L. J. 562.

——S. 61—Consolidation—Rule of—Redemption—Contract — Validity— Central Provinces Laws Act, 1875—Mortgage by conditional sale—Right of redemption.

The rule of consolidation does not apply in India. Even before the T. P. Act it was open to a mortgagor to redeem a subsequent mortgage without redeeming a prior mortgage of the same property, in the absence of a contract to the contrary. A contract curtailing the sixty years period of redemption allowed by law would be void. A document executed before the Central Provinces Laws Act which provided that the mortgagees will be the owners if the debt is not repaid within two years would in effect be a mortgage by conditional sale and the mortgagor would still have sixty years within which to redeem. (Mittra, Offg. A.J.C.) DEOCHAND v. BINJRAJ. 48 I. C. 368 : 14 N. L. R. 184.

——S. 61—Contract to the contrary—Consolidation of mortgages.

A covenant that the mortgagor shall not redem a later mortgage without redeeming the earlier one is valid and enforceable even against a subsequent mortgagee or a transferee of the equity of redemption. (Daniels, J. C.) ABHAI NARAIN TIWARI v. MATA PRASAD. 24 O. C. 240 : 64 I. C. 83 : 8 O. L. J. 489.

——S. 61—Further charge—Transferee from mortgagor.

Where a deed of further charge provides for redemption of an earlier mortgage before itself, the fact that there is a further covenant allowing redemption of the second independently of the first mortgage, if the money is paid within a certain period, does not detract from the effect of the first clause. The covenant is not merely personal but can be enforced against a transferee from the mortgagor. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) SURAJ BALI LAL v. RAM DULAR SINGH.

50 I. C. 897 : 6 O. L. J. 147.

——S. 61—Consolidation—Prior mortgage—Subsequent deed in favour of mortgagee providing for consolidation— Transferee of mortgaged property if liable to pay both.

A personal covenant in a subsequent simple deed not to redeem a prior mortgage until the subsequent deed is satisfied will not affect a subsequent transferee of the mortgaged property. 25 I. C. 905 Dist. But where the subsequent deed pledges as security the property already mortgaged, the transferee is bound to satisfy the amount due on both as a condition precedent to redemption. (Stuart, A.J.C.) JANG BAHADUR v. MATADIN.
46 I. C. 80 : 5 O. L. J. 159.

——S. 61—Further charge—By one of several mortgagors—If enforceable against other mortgagors seeking redemption of original mortgage.

Where a deed of further charge was executed by one of several co-mortgagors, subsequent to the original mortgage and the other co-mortgagors sued for redemption of the original mortgage, the mortgagee cannot in that suit claim that the plaintiffs should pay off the deed of further charge also. (Lindsay, A. J. C.) SANT SAHAI v. CHIHUTAE KURMI. 20 I. C 667.

——S. 61—Consolidation—Right of—Severance of equity of redemption—Mortgagors different.

The right of consolidation can be exercised against successors in-title to the mortgagors only so long as the equity of redemption is not severed. There cannot be a consolidation of mortgages where the first mortgage is executed by the sole owner of the land mortgaged and the subsequent mortgage is executed by some one of the successors of the original owner. There cannot be two different usufructuary mortgages on the same land at the same time. (Coutts and Adami, JJ.) LALA RAM NARAIN LAL v. LALA MURLIDHAS.
1 Pat. L. T. 616 : 58 I. C. 129 : 5 Pat. L. J. 644.

——S. 62—Mortgage— Usufructuary—Automatically determined—Ejectment of mortgagee.

A mortgagee whose right to possession is automatically determined by the terms of the contract cannot claim to remain in possession thereafter and the mortgagor can maintain a suit for ejectment against him. 5 C.P.L.R. 103 Doubted. (Mittra, A. J. C.) PARAMSUKH v. YADOJI.
46 I. C. 743 : 15 N. L. R 101.

——S. 62—Scope of.

S. 62 is a special section supplementary to the general provisions of S. 60 and provides a summary remedy to the mortgagor in two special cases of usufructuary mortgage: (a) Where the mortgagee is authorized to pay himself the mortgage-money from the rents and profits of the mortgaged property ; (b) Where the mortgagee is authorised to pay himself from such rents and profits the interest on the principal money. It cannot apply to cases where from the conditions of the mortgage, accounts have to be made up between the parties. It contemplates the existence of only one transaction and does not apply to a case where a usufructuary mortgage having been executed, other mortgages by way of further charge have been executed by the same mortgagor. (Lindsay, J. C.) ZAHID ALI v. KEDAR NATH. 27 I. C. 427 : 17 O. C. 388.

——S. 62 (b)—Right to redeem usufructuary mortgage without redeeming prior simple mortgage.

A mortgagor has a right to redeem a usufructuary mortgage and get possession of the mortgaged property without paying of a prior simple mortgage. (Wallis, C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) PANAGANTI RAMARAYANINGAR v. MAHARAJAH OF VENKATAGIRI. 44 Mad. 301 : 12 L. W. 685 : 28 M. L. T, 234 : 61 I. C. 612 : 40 M. L. J. 236.

——S. 63—Improvements—Compensation.

A mortgagee in possession has a right to the value of any additions made to the mortgaged premises irrespective of as to whether the additions were accessions within S. 63 of the T. P, Act, or were necessary for the preservation of the property, or were lasting improvements, reasonably made for the benefit of the property which added to selling value of it. 17 A, 282, Foll. 19 M. 927, Dist. (Banerjee, J.) RAHAMATULLAH BEG v. YUSUF ALI.
16 I. C. 635 : 10 A. L. J. 124.

——S. 63—Accession— Substitution of property through mistake.

The mortgagee had been in possession of extra land not as if it were an accretion to the property in the original mortgagee but as a substitution through mistake.

Held, obviously the mortgagor in a suit for possession would be entitled to recover that property. (Macleod, C. J.) NANCHI KOM KHATAL v. CHITITI KULSAMBI KOM. 1923 Bom. 42 (1).

——S. 63—Mortgage of share in Joint Stock Company.

The mortgagor of certain shares in original capital of a Joint Stock Company has the right to the new shares purchased out of dividends on the old shares where the new shares were issued for increase of capital. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) MOTILAL HIRALAL v. BAI MANI.
23 Bom. L. R. 1279.

——S. 63—Accession— Acquisition of sub-tenure—Expenses of acquisition.

A mortgagor's right to the accession under S. 63 of the T. P. Act does not depend upon whether the mortgagee had any special advantage by reason of his position as mortgagee in making the acquisition. Every acquisition by mortgagee of the sub-tenure does not enure to the benefit of the mortgagor. Raiyati lands purchased by a mortgagee in possession of the mortgagor's share of the mahal are accessions to the extent of the mortgagor's share in the mahal. The mortgagor can redeem the accession on payment of his proportionate share of expenses incurred in the acquisition. (Coxe and Chatterjee, JJ.) RAM BRICK NARAYAN SINGH v. AMBIKA PRASAD SINGH.
19 I. C. 90 : 17 C. W. N. 586.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 63.

——— S. 63—Acquisitions by mortgage—Redemption.

The mortgagee who has acquired what any stranger or even the mortgagor himself could have acquired equally well despite the mortgage, cannot be compelled to hand over his rights to the mortgagor. It is, therefore, competent to a mortgagee during the continuance of the mortgage to purchase an absolute occupancy tenure and to treat it as his separate property after the mortgage comes to an end. 5 Cal 198, Foll. 17 C W. N. 586 Dist. (Leslie Jones, J.) GIRDHARI RAM v. MUHAMMAD KARIM DAD KHAN.

63 P R. 1918 : 26 P. L. R. 1918 : 44 I. C. 266 : 53 P. W. R. 1918.

——— S. 63—Accession—Mortgagor's right to.

Upon redemption a mortgagor is entitled to take over the accession to the mortgaged property on payment of the cost of the acquisition. The mortgagor is not obliged to take them. (Chevis, J.) KHUDA DAD KHAN v. GIRDHARI RAM.

42 I. C. 468 : 163 P. W. R. 1917.

——— Ss. 63 and 70—Accretions—Acquisitions after decree for sale.

Ss. 63 and 70 must be read together and the accession must be received during the continuance of mortgage. Accessions after the decree for sale does not pass to the auction-purchaser but belongs to the mortgagor as the mortgage interest had ceased to exist at the time of accession. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) KAPNIAH SIVANANJIAH v. SITHAY GOUDAR.

4 L. W. 449 : 70 I. C. 367 : (1921) M. W N. 510 : 41 M. L. J. 490.

——— S. 63—Accretions to mortgaged property.

Where a mortgagee in possession availing of his position as such, presents a single Dharkast for the accretion adjoining the mortgaged land as well as for accretion adjoining his land and the Dharkast is granted to him he holds the whole property in trust for the mortgagor. (Ayling and Spencer, JJ.) MELOTH KAMAN NAIR v. KODATH KUMARAN NAIR.

(1914) M. W. N. 231 : 22 I. C. 609. 1 L. W 102.

——— S. 63—Improvements by mortgagee.

Agreement by mortgagor to pay sums expended on repairs and improvements by mortgagee is not compulsorily registrable. (Hallifax, J.) RAMBILAS v. LAXMI NARAYAN. 1922 Nag. 262.

——— S. 63—Accession—Acquisition of subsisting tenancy.

Where one of several mortgagees acquires tenancies while in possession and claims the cost of such acquisitions upon redemption, no merger under S. 63 takes place. The section does not require the accession to have been made by the mortgagee by availing himself of his position as such, nor can it be urged that the acquisitions might have been made even if the mortgage had not been taken. (Drake Brockman, J C.) PYARELAL v. PANNA LAL. 56 I. C 193.

——— Ss. 63 and 72 (b)—Accession—Wells—Improvements.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 63.

A well constructed by the mortgagee in possession without the express or implied consent of the mortgagor, the separate possession of which apart from the land is not possible and which is not necessary for the preservation of the property from destruction or deterioration, must be delivered to the mortgagor along with the land on redemption. 20 M. 120 ; 20 M. 124, Dist. 19 M. 327, Foll. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) RAJARAM v. VITHAL RAO. 26 I. C. 712 : 10 N. L. R. 166.

——— S. 63—Mortgage of Sir—Rights of mortgagee.

Mortgagee is entitled to proceed against what is left of Sir rights of the mortgagor, viz., the ex-properietary cultivating rights though the proprietary right may have passed to another person. (Stanyon and Hallifax, A. J. Cs.) SHEOLAL v. NANHELAL. 17 I. C. 129 : 8 N. L. R. 123.

——— Ss. 63, 72 and 76—Improvements by mortgagee—Rights to costs—Whether can be awarded under circumstances.

The Transfer of Property Act contains no express provisions regarding the rights of a mortgagee making lasting improvements in respect of the property mortgaged, to reasonable costs for the same. But this does not signify that the silence amounts to an intention of the legistature that such rights should not be exercised. Therefore, proper costs will be allowed to mortgagees making lasting improvements which have the effect of increasing the value of the property. (Per Marten, J.).—While awarding such costs the Court should pay particular attention to the question whether the costs are extravagant and should take an inquiry regarding the bona fides of the claim under the circumtances of each particular case. (Batchelor A. C. J. and Marten, J.) HALAGATHI v. SATAVIRAPPA. 47 I. C. 751 : 5 O. L. J. 513.

——— S. 63—Accretion to mortgaged property—General rule.

Though the general rule is that accretions to the mortgaged properties are subject to redemption, mortgagee may, if he chooes, keep them for his benefit and distinct from the mortgaged property. (Das and Adami, JJ.) MAHESWAR PRASAD SINGH v. BABU RAM RAI.

1921 Pat. 93 : 2 Pat. L T. 225 : 60 I. C. 308 : 3 U. P. L. R. (Pat.) 22.

——— S. 63—Accession—Waste-land.

S. 63 does not contemplate Government waste land adjoining a mortgage holding as coming within the category as an accession. (Pratt, J.) MAUNG SHWE ON v. PONNIAH MUDALIAR (A) KAU-LAH. 1 Bur. L. J. 262 : 1923 R. 127 (1)

——— Ss. 63 and 76—Growing crops—Right of mortgagee—Usufructuary mortgage.

An ordinary usufructuary mortgagee or his tenant is entitled to all the crops sown or planted by him on the land which were growing there on at the time of redemption and to free ingress and egress to gather and carry them provided that such crops were grown or planted before the person who grew them had notice of the intended redemption. 2 B. 670; 13 M. 15; 8 A. 502, Ref. (Heald, A. J. C.) MAUNG GAW YA v. MAUNG TALOK. 53 I. C. 444 : (1919) 3 U. B. R. 141.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 63.

——Ss. 63 and 70—'Accession'—Meaning.

A mortgagee in possession of ten acres of land and bringing under cultivation eight adjacent acres of land cannot be said to form an accession of eight acres to the ten acres mortgaged. (Saunders, J. C.) NGA CHO v. MI SE MI. 10 Bur. L. T. 245 : 36 I. C. 7. 2 U. B. R. (1916) 110 :

——S. 63—Accession—Addition of new ar ea—Possession by mortgagee of such area if on behalf of mortgagor.

An addition to the mortgaged property of new area covered up by extensions is not an accession within S. 63 of the T.P. Act and the possession of such area by the mortgagee is not one on behalf of the mortgagor. (Twomey, J.) THA DUN v. THE ZAN. 11 I. C. 808 : 4 Bur. L. T. 167.

——S. 65—Mortgagor in possession— Duty of—Notice.

A mortgagor in possession of the mortgagee's property must give notice to the mortgagee to enable him to defend his rights if he is threatened or obstructed by any person claiming as the true owner. (Russell and Chandavarkar, JJ.) HILLAYYA v. NARAYANAPPA TIMAYYA. 36 Bom. 185 : 12 I. C. 913 : 13 Bom. L. R. 1200.

——S. 65—Lease—Mortgage—By two persons—Lease to one of them—Agreement without consideration as regards the other.

Where two persons mortgaged the properties to another with possession and one of them took the mortgaged properties on lease which stipulated that rent should be a charge upon the properties, held, that the agreement in the mortgage document by the other mortgagor to pay rent was without consideration and that he could not be held liable for rent though he is liable only for the mortgage money. (Rattigan and Scott-Smith, JJ.) KISHEN CHAND v. SOHAN LAL. 20 P. L. R. 1915 : 26 I. C. 913 : 245 P. W. R. 1915.

——Ss. 65 and 66—Mortgage by manager or guardian.

A mortgage-deed executed by a manager appointed under the Guardians and Wards Act limits the ordinary rights of a mortgagor in possession. (Atkinson and Kingsford, JJ.) ANAND RAM v. DHANPAT SINGH. 1 Pat. L. J. 563 : 38 I.C. 37: 2 Pat. L. W. 341.

——S. 65 (a)—Knowledge of—Defect of title.

To a mortgage before the T. P. Act the provisions of S. 65 (a) are not applicable. If there is a defect of title regarding a portion of the mortgaged property and the mortgagee is aware of the fact he has no right to get compensation. (Lord Macnaughten.) ABDULLA KHAN BARRAT v. HUSSAIN. 35 All. 48 : 40 I. A. 31 : 17 C. W. N. 233 : 13 M. L. T. 182 : (1913) M. W. N. 131: 17 C.L. J. 312 : 15 Bom. L. R. 432 : 17 I. C. 737 : 25 M. L. J. 91 (P. C.).

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 65.

——S. 65 (a)—Mortgage deed including lands not belonging to the mortgagor.

A mortgagee can sue on his mortgage to enforce his charge on lands belonging to mortgagor who had by mistake included in the deed some lands which he had no power to charge. 33 C. 613; 1 C. L. J. 337, Dist. (Harrington and Carnduff, JJ.) HARKU SINGH v. MAUN LAL. 19 I. C. 423.

——S. 65 (a)—Mortgage—Covenant for title—Breach—Waiver.

The statutory right given on the breach of covenant for title could not be taken away except by an express release of such rights by him or by acquiescence of such a very long duration that a release could be safely presumed. 24 A. 521, (P. C.), Dist, 35 A. 48, Rel. The damages should be ascertained on the basis of the present income minus all reasonable charges or expenses. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Hannoy, JJ.) THEKKEMAUNENGATH RAMAN v. KAKKESSARI POZHIYOT MANAKKAL. 28 M. L. J. 184 : 27 I. C. 989 : 2 L. W. 433.

——S. 65 (c)—Public charges—Duty to pay.

The duty to pay public charges cast on the mortgagor in possession is in the nature of a personal covenant, not running with the land. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) PUNUGU SUBBIAH v. NUKALAPATI RAMI REDDI, 39 Mad. 959: 19 M. L. T. 210 : 33 I. C. 326 : (1916) 1 M. W. N. 239 : 30 M. L. J. 331.

——Ss. 65 (c) and 72—Mortgage—Prior and subsequent—Sale of equity of redemption to prior mortgagee—Taxes—Repairs.

Where after a sale of the equity of redemption to a first mortgagee he pays off the taxes covenanted to be paid by the mortgagor he cannot charge the same as against the second mortgagee on redemption. But he can add the necessary expenses of repairs to the amount of his mortgage as against second mortgagee. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) IBRAHIM SAHIB v. ARUMUGATHAYEE. 16 I. C. 877 : 38 Mad. 18.

——S. 65 (c)—Public charges on the land—Sale or resumption by Government on default of payment—Re-acquisition by original mortgagor.

It is the duty of the mortgagor under S. 65 (c) of T. P. Act to pay the public charges due on the property in his possession. If he commits default, and the land is sold or resumed by the Government for arrears of revenue and the mortgagor subsequently reacquires his original interest in the land, the original mortgage is not extinguished. 26 Mad. 385 Foll. (Pratt, J.) PO DWE v. K. M. T. S. CHETTY. 51 I. C. 574 : 12 Bur. L. T. 41.

——S. 65 (c)—Implied covenant—Liability to pay land revenue.

The implied covenant under S. 65 for the mortgagor to pay land revenue, extends to the purchaser of the mortgaged property. Where the land has been sold for default to pay revenue and purchased by the defaulter free of mortgage, the property is not freed from the mortgage, but continues subject to it, as the omission to pay revenue is in fraud of the mortgagee. (Parlett, J.) VEERAPPA CHETTY v. KANNAPPA CHETTY. 17 I. C. 878 : 5 Bur. L. T. 268.

——S. 66—Mortgage of ship—Right of mortgagee of ship to interfere with contracts for its employment — Prejudice to security—Onus of proof.

Mortgagees of ships can interfere with the contracts for the employment of the ships if they prejudiced the security. If no such prejudice is shown they will be restrained from interfering with the performance of the charter parties. The onus of proof of prejudice lies on the mortgagee. (Scott, C. J. and Batchelor, J.) ANDREW YULE & CO. v. ARDESHIR BOMENJI DUBASH.
24 I. C. 758 : 16 Bom. L. R. 178.

——S. 66—Power of leasing—Mortgagor's power.

A simple mortgage in India, unlike the legal mortgage in England, does not prevent the mortgagor from leasing in the ordinary course of management but not so as to impair the value or impede the operation of the mortgage. 10 W. R. 325, Foll. (Jenkins, C. J. and Holmwood, J.) BAL MAKUND RAUYIA v. MOTILAL BARMAN.
32 I. C. 195 : 20 C. W. N. 350.

——S. 66—Mortgagor in possession—Right and liabilities of.

A mortgagor in possession may take a lease which is usual in the ordinary course of management, i.e., a lease from year to year or month to month, but he cannot grant a lease on unusual terms so as to alter the character of the land or so as to authorise its use in a manner different from that in which he was using it. (Beachcroft and Mookerjee, JJ.) MADAN MOHAN SINGH v. RAJ KISHORI KUMARI. 17 I. C. 1 : 17 C. L. J. 384.

——Ss. 66 and 65—Lease by mortgagor — Power to make leases.

A mortgagor in possession may make a lease conformable to usage in the ordinary course of management; but it is not competent to him to grant a lease on unusual terms to alter the character of the land or to autherise its use in a manner or for a purpose different from the mode in which he himself had used it before creating the mortgage. (Mittra, Offg. A. J. C.) SHANKER SINGH v. HUKUMCHAND. 47 I. C 99 : 14 N. L. R. 117.

——S. 66—Rights of mortgagee.

A mortgagee cannot have his rights, created on the date of mortgage, impaired by any subsequent act of the mortgagor to which he was not a party (Stanyon, A.J.C.) JAINAM v. DELEDAYAL SURAJ PRASAD. 46 I. C. 789.

——S. 66—Long lease—Covenant against alienation—Suit for declaration.

A mortgagor cannot by any dealings with the mortgaged property subsequent to the date of mortgage affect the rights of the mortgagee. The assignee of the mortgagor's rights takes them subject to the mortgage and if the property is sold or foreclosed by the mortgagee in proper proceedings, the interest which the mortgagor might have created subsequent to the mortgage may be destroyed. A grant of a long lease, viz., for 20 years by the mortgagors, is prejudicial to the saleable value of the mortgage security and injurious to the interest of the mortgagee. The lease is not void on that ground, but holds good in every respect except as to the long period. Where the mortgagee sues for a declaration that the lease for a long term is void as against him. Held, that there was a good cause of action and that the court could grant a declaration in a modified form to the effect that the lease is not absolutely void and inoperative but only in so far as the long term is concerned. (Lindsay, J.C. and Kanhaiya Lal, A.J.C.) SYED HUSAIN v. BANK OF UPPER INDIA, LTD. 30 I. C. 289 : 2 O. L. J. 291.

——Ss. 66 and 65—Permanent lease—Mortgagee, if bound.

A mortgagor in possession may make a lease conformable to usage in the ordinary course of management but he cannot make a perpetual lease so as to bind the mortgagee in case it is prejudicial to his rights. 17 C. L. J. 384 ; 2 A. L. J. 294 ; 36 A. 248, Ref. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) RAM SARUP v. SURAJ DIN. 30 I. C. 258 : 2 O. L. J. 276.

——S. 66—Lease by mortgagor—Right of mortgagee to take possession.

A mortgagor cannot, by any dealings with the mortgaged property subsequent to the date of the mortgage, affect the mortgagee's rights under the contract. Lessees claiming through the mortgagor under leases granted to them subsequent to the date of mortgage could not, on the ground of the leases, defeat the mortgagee's right to take possession under the mortgage. 30 B. 250 ; 2 A. L. J. 294, Foll. 6 C. 317, Dist. (Lindsay and Rafique, JJ.) QURABAN ALI v. RAGHUBAR DAYAL. 16 I. C. 476 : 15 O. C. 239.

——Ss. 66 and 65—Settlement of tenants.

Where a person gets a contractual benefit from the mortgagor in possession after the mortgage, the onus is on such person to prove that it was a benefit which he retains in usual course of the management of the property. Rents settled by the mortgagor in possession with his tenants are not binding on the mortgagee. Where in proceedings under S. 109 (c) of the B.T. Act there were agreements between the mortgagor in possession and the tenants by which the Bhoali rents were converted into Nakdi and at low rentals the former taking large Nazranas as the property was going to be sold in execution of the mortgage-decree. Held, that the mortgagee was not bound by the said agreements which no prudent manager would have entered into in the usual course of management. 1 Pat. L. J. 563; 17 C. L. J. 384, Foll. (Coutts and Sultan Ahmad, JJ.) MATHURA RAI v. MANDIL DAS. 56 I. C. 805 : 1 Pat. L. T. 392.

——S. 66—Right of mortgagor — When in possession.

A manager under Guardians and Wards Act acknowledged the title of the tenants to a Mokurari right at nominal rent and agreed to their being entered in the record of rights as such. Held, that the mortgagor in possession can deal with the property in the usual and customary way, without prejudicially affecting the property as security for the debt. Where a person gets a contractual benefit from the mortgagor in possession after the mortgage, the onus is upon such person to prove that it was a benefit which he might derive and retain in the usual course of management of the property. (Atkinson and Kingsford, JJ.) ANAND RAM MARWARI v. DHANPAT SINGH. 1 Pat. L. J. 563 : 38 I. C. 37 : 2 Pat. L. W. 341.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 66.

——S. 66—Rights of mortgagor— English mortgage.

Under S. 58 of the T. P. Act an English mortgage does not transfer the property absolutely to the mortgagee but the mortgagor remains owner subject to the mortgagee. He can therefore exercise the ordinary rights of an owner in possession such as leasing out the property, etc., except committing such acts as are contemplated in S. 66. In an English mortgage where the mortgagor is in possession he can lease the property and his receipt of rent in advance for a certain period will not render the lease invalid unless the security is thereby rendered insufficient. (Fox, C. J. and Twomey, J.) TANA PEENA CHUNA v. MAMAKKANTAKATH. 8 L. B. R. 413 : 34 I. C. 24 : 9 Bur. L. T. 243.

——S. 67—Surety—Mortgage of immeveable property as security for due performance--Failure of judgment-debtor—Decree-holder whether can proceed against the property of surety.

Where a surety has failed to perform his contract in default of the judgment-debtor, the decree holder can proceed against the property of the surety mortgaged by him as security for due performance of his suretyship. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) MUKTA PRASAD v. MAHADEO PRASAD. 38 All. 327 : 33 I. C. 982 : 14 A. L. J. 385.

——S 67—Right to sell—Security.

When money is secured on property whether by usufructuary or other mortgage the mortgagee can sell the property to realise the amount of his mortgage subject to the limitation imposed by T. P. Act. (Richards, C.J. and Tudball, J.) BHARI LAL v. DEOKI NANDAN LAL. 24 I. C 867 : 12 A. L. J. 897.

——S. 67—Decree for sale — English mortgage.

In view of the provisions of S. 67 of the Act a decree for sale may be made in favour of the mortgagee when the mortgage is an English mortgage. (Mookerjee and Buckland, JJ.) ASKARAN BAID v. GOBORDHAN KOBRA. 26 C. W. N. 318 : 1922 Cal. 52.

——S. 67—Right of mortgagee to sell—Adverse possession against mortgagor—Mortgagee's right of suit not lost by title by adverse possession being enforced.

The mortgagee's right of suit for his debt and realisation of his security within the time allowed by law is not lost by a person enforcing a title by adverse possession against the mortgagor. (Sanderson, C. J. and Mookerjee, J.) PRIYA SAKHI DEBI v. BIRESHWAR SAMANTA. 44 Cal. 425. 21 C. W. N. 177 : 37 I. C. 277 : 27 C. L. J. 212.

——S. 67—Rights o mortgagee—Release of one mortgagor—Maintainability of suit against others—Execution of a fresh mortgage by release, effect of, on mortgagee's right) suit.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 67.

A mortgagee may apart from S. 60 abandon part of his claim releasing one of the mortgagors and sue others on the mortgage bond to recover their proportionate share of the mortgage money. The release may be gratuitous. But the released mortgagor must be joined as a party so that the owners of the equity of redemption may be fully represented. 30 C 755 : 2 C. L. J. 202 : 33 C. 613 : 11 C. W. N. 408 : 12 C. W. N. 911, Foll. 2 A. 903, Dist. The execution of a fresh mortgage by the released mortgagor on the same security does not effect the plaintiff's right of suit against the other mortgagors on the original mortgage. The fresh mortgage is a separate transaction and does not allow the mortgagee to release so as to increase the burden on the mortgagors. 6 C.L.J. 46. Ref. (Newbould, J.) BASANTA KUMAR SARVAGYA v. JOGENDRA NATH DUTTA. 36 I. C. 530.

——S. 67—Duty of mortgagee — Payments made—Appropriation—Mortgagee holding several mortgages from the same person.

Where a mortgagee holds several mortgages from the same person and is paid out of the sale proceeds of one security, must apply the amount in reduction of the amount under that security and cannot apply it to unsecured debt or debts secured on other securities so as to effect other mortgagees. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Burn, JJ.) LAKSHMANAN CHETTY v. MUTHAYA CHETTY. 40 M. L. J. 126 : 62 I. C. 833 : 29 M.L.T. 189.

——S. 67--Trustee mortgaging his own properties to temple—Suit on.

A trustee took a loan from temple funds and executed mortgage of his property for the purpose. In a suit under S. 92, C. P. Code, the transaction was declared a breach of trust and the trustee was directed to immediately pay the money. In a suit by the successor of the trustee to enforce the mortgage before the mortgage term, held, that the money had become payable under S. 67 and the suit was not premature. (Wallis, C. J. and Sadasiva Aiyar, J.) ARUNACHALA CHETTIAR v. RAJAH OF KALAHASTI. 13 L. W. 312 : 29 M. L. T. 176 : 62 I. C. 505 : (1921) M. W. N. 172.

——S. 67—'Contract to the contrary'—Suit for interest only.

A mortgage-deed provided for the payment of interest every month and for enhanced interest on default. Held, that there was a 'contract to the contrary' within S. 67 of the T. P. Act, and that a suit for interest would lie even before the principal money became due 14 Mad. 477 Dist. But if there is an absolute covenant in the deed, prohibiting the mortgagee from suing for interest alone, he cannot sue for interest before the principal amount becomes payable. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) SUBBIAH CHETTY v. KUPPAMMAL. 31 M. L. J. 437 : (1916) 2 M. W. N. 86 : 35 I. C. 104. 3 L. W. 587.

——S. 67—Foreclosure against mortgagor—Redemption by zuripeshgi lessee— Mortgagor's right of redemption not revived.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 67.

Where after a mortgage had been foreclosed a zurpeshgi lessee, who was not a party to the foreclosure suit, redeems the mortgage for his own benefit, a representative on the mortgagor is not entitled to redeem the lessee in turn. (Mittra, A. J. C.) GULAM NABI v. KANHAISINGH.
59 I. C. 511 : 16 N. L. R. 180.

——S. 67—Mortgage — Foreclosure —Money due for an instalment.

It is open to a mortgagee to bring a suit for foreclosure for an instalment consisting of a part of the principal and interest secured by a mortgage by conditional sale. There is nothing to prevent the parties agreeing to allow a foreclosure for interest only or for part of the mortgage money. 1906 1 Ch. 804 : 31 C. 922 : 14 M. 477, Ref. (Batten, A. J. C.) KARNIDAN v. MEGHRAJ.
30 I. C. 981 : 11 N. L. R. 153.

——S. 67—Mortgage — Date for payment fixed—Usufructuary mortgage—Sale.

Where a due date is fixed for payment of the mortgage money in a mortgage deed, the mortgage is not a pure usufructuary mortgage and the mortgagee is entitled to sell immediately after the due date has passed even though he still remains in possession of the property. (Coutts and Ross, JJ.) JAG SAHU v. MUST. RAM SAKHI KUER.
1 P. 350 : 3 P. L. T. 332 : 1922 Pat. 58 : 1922 P. 167.

——S. 67—Usufructuary mortgage—Remedies.

A usufructuary mortgagee cannot sell or foreclose but he can protect himself by adding the personal covenant and charge. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) JAINANDAN v. BAIJ NATH.
63 I.C. 297 : 2 Pat. L.T. 229.

——S. 67—Decree creating charge—Execution of suit.

A decree-holder who was to get a particular allowance from the judgment-debtor which was charged on a certain property is not bound to file a suit to enforce the decree for the purpose of realising the money. The property can be sold in execution of the decree and no receiver is necessary. S. 67 does not apply to this case. (Jwala Prasad and Adami, JJ.) RAJA BRAJA SUNDAR DEB v. SIVARANJAN DEI.
59 I.C. 282 : 1 Pat. L. T. 647.

——S. 67—Right of first mortgagee.

The first mortgagee is entitled to bring the mortgaged property to sale in exscution of his decree irrespective of whatever other claims there may be that are subsequent to his and irrespective of litigation likely to prejudice the interests of a subsequent mortgagee. (Hartnoll, Offg. C.J. and Twomey, J.) MAUNG MAUNG v. WIGHTMAN.
24 I. C. 468 : 7 Bur. L. T. 64.

——S. 67 (a)—Simple mortgagee—Right to sell.

A simple mortgagee is entitled to a decree for a sale as a matter of course though under the terms of the mortgage bond he could on the mortgagor's default in payment of interest take possession of mortgaged properties and enjoy the same as under a usufructuary mortgage. (Lord Macnaghten.) LINGAM KRISHNA v. MANYA SULTAN OF VIZIANAGRAM.
15 C. W.N. 441 : 9 M. L. T. 445 : 8 A. L. J. 594 : 13 C. L J. 584 : 13 Bom. L. R. 447 : (1911) 1 M. W. N. 429 : 10 I. C. 272 : 21 M. L. J. 1147 (P. C.).

——S. 67 (a)—Foreclosure—Suit for sale—Defendant not prejudiced—Decree for foreclosure.

Where the plaintiff sued for sale on a usufructuary mortgage containing a provision for foreclosure and the defendants bought the property but failed to pay the price on account of the plaintiff's mortgage, a foreclosure decree could be passed in plaintiff's favour. (Griffin and Ryves, JJ.) MANOHAR SINGH v. LACHMAN SINGH.
21 I. C. 457 : 11 A. L.J. 793.

——S. 67 (a)—Usufructuary mortgage—Mortgagee's right of sale.

In a usufructuary mortgage the mortgagee has no right to recover the money by sale of the mortgaged property unless there is a covenant to pay the money. The terms of the mortgage-deed in suit in this case were construed not to indicate any covenant to pay the money. (Cox and Richardson, JJ.) BASWAN SINGH v. MAHAMED FARIZ.
27 I. C. 800.

——Ss. 67 (a) and 68—Personal remedy.

According to English Law, mortgagee has always a personal remedy open to him against the mortgagor. The principle applies here in India, when the relations of the parties are not covered by any Act or enactment. (Hayward, J. C. and Walley-Cohen, A. J. C.) TOTA DAS v. UTUMAL.
10 I. C. 975 : 4 S. L. R. 244.

——Ss. 67 (d) and 68—Co-mortgagees—Tenants in common—Suit by one, the other refusing to join—Addition of, as defendant—Form of decree, etc., to be passed.

Where a property is mortgaged to two persons as tenants in common and there is no covenant to repay each separately a moiety of the amount, the right of either mortgagee who desires to realise, failing the consent of the co-mortgagee, is to sue for a mortgage decree in respect of the whole sum secured, joining his co-mortgagee as a defendant. In such a case the decree should provide for all necessary accounts and payment, except that there can be no judgment for a sum of money entered as between the mortgagee (defendant) and the mortgagor. (Lord Buckmaster.) SUNIT ABALA v. DHARASUNDARI.
46 I. A. 272 : 37 M. L. J. 483 : 17 A. L. J. 997 : (1919) M. W. N. 821 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1 : 24 C. W. N. 297 : 53 I. C. 131 : 11 L. W. 227 (P. C.).

——S. 67 (d)—Applicability of—Severance of interests of mortgagees.

One of two mortgagees, each having a half share in two simple mortgages, took a usufructuary mortgage of the whole of the property mortgaged from the mortgagors, the consideration being the amount of the two simple mortgages. Held, that the discharge operated only in respect of the share of the usufructuary mortgagee and that the other mortgagee could recover his share. (Knox, A. J. C. and Bannerjee, J.) JAUHARI SINGH v. GANGA SAHAI. 41 All. 631 : 17 A. L. J. 731 : 51 I. C. 107 : 1 U. P. L. R. (H.C) 71.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 67.

——S. 67 (d)—Decree in suit by one co-mortgagee for his share—Severance.

A decree for sale in a suit by one co-mortgagee to which the mortgagor was a party for his share of the debt can be said to effect a severance with the consent of the mortgagor within S. 67 (d) and another co-mortgagee can maintain a suit to recover his share. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Tyabji, JJ.) VIJAYA BHUSHANAMMAL v. EVALAPPA MUDALIAR. 25 I. C. 91 : 39 Mad. 17.

——S. 68.

S. 68 (a) Personal Liability.
S. 68 (b) Loss of Secuirity.
S. 68 (c) Failure to Secure Possession.
S. 68 (a) [Waste Personal Liability.]

——S 68 (a)—Usufructuary mortgage—Occupancy holding—Mortgage void—Suit to enforce personal covenant.

Where a usufructuary mortgage is void as effecting a transfer of an occupancy holding, the personal covenant in the mortgage is also void and unenforceable, 16 I. C. 42; 22 A. 205 : 18 A, 121 Rel. (Lindsay and Stuart, JJ.) HAR PRASAD TEWARI v. SHEO GOVIND TEWARI. 44 A. 486 : 20 A. L. J. 318 : 1922 A. 134.

——S. 68 (a)—Personal liability—Occupancy holdings mortgaged—Indemnity clause, not enforceable.

The defendants mortgaged with possession their occupancy holdings to the plaintiffs for seven years. The amount was agreed to be paid by instalments from the usufruct. In case the holdings went out of the possession of the mortgagees they were entitled to recover their money by sale of certain other property of the mortgagors The mortgagees were dispossessed from the occupancy holding and sued for sale of the property as promised. Held, that the deed embodied one single transaction. The right to recover the amount by sale of other property was not enforceable. (Sulaiman and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) TULSI RAM v. SAT NARAIN. 18 A. L. J. 703 : 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 229 : 57 I. C. 445 : 43 All. 81.

——S. 68 (a)—Money-decree against mortgagor—Sale.

A sale of the mortgaged property can be held in execution of a decree for money obtained under S 68 if the claim under the mortgage-deed is unenforceable. (Walsh and Sundar Lal, JJ.) CHEDI LAL v SADAT-UN-NISSA BIBI. 39 All. 36 : 36 I. C. 907 : 14 A. L. J. 902.

——S. 68 (a)—Suit on mortgage—Money-decree.

In a suit to recover mortgage-money a simple money-decree can be given only as a matter of grace. Even then the Court should have the plaint amended by adding that claim. (Richards, C. J and Rafique, J.) MOHAN LAL v. LEKHRAJ SINGH. 33 I. C. 111.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 68 (a)—Personal liability.

——S. 68 (a)—Mortgagor in possession—Mortgagee, if can sue for profits alone.

A mortgagee who, though entered in the revenue papers as such, is not in possession cannot sue for profits especially when the mortgagor is himself in possession. His remedy is to sue for possession. (Bannerjee, J.) HANUMAN DIN v. RAM BISHAL. 14 I. C. 260.

——S. 68 (a)—Agreement to pay within fixed period—Default—Rights of mortgagor.

Where under a mortgage with a condition for foreclosure, the mortgagor agrees to pay the mortgage money within a fixed period, the only remedy mentioned in the deed as available to the mortgagees is foreclosure. The agreement for payment cannot be construed into a personal covenant on the part of the mortgagor. Where there is no personal liability created under the terms of a mortgage, a subsequent acknowledgment cannot extend the time for meeting a non-existent liability. (Kotwal and Prideaux, A.J.Cs.) HARLAL SA v. SHAIKH RAHIM. 1924 Nag. 53.

——S. 68 (a)—Application by mortgagee for personal decree—Unregistered mortgage deed—Contract Act, S. 65—Meaning of 'becoming void.'

In the absence of an express contract in the mortgage deed to pay personally, no such contract can be implied and the mortgagee cannot get a personal decree against mortgagor in such cases. The fact that the mortgage deed is ineffectual in law cannot be presumed to alter the intention of the parties, that the advanced money was to be realised from the mortgaged property. (Kotwal, A. J. C.) BHOJRAJ v. DUKALA. 57 I. C. 680.

——S. 68 (a)—Personal liability—Intention of the Legislature.

The language of S 58 (a) of the T.P. Act indicates an intention on the part of the legislature to exclude the personal liability of the mortgagor in all cases where it is not expressly provided for. The mere fact that mortgagor undertakes to pay the mortgage-money by a fixed date does not amount to a stipulation to repay the same within the meaning of S. 68 (a) when the only remedy mentioned in the mortgage deed is foreclosure. (Drake Brockman, J. C) GOVIND v. JAGANATH. 33 I. C. 753 : 12 N. L. R. 19.

——S. 68 (a)—Usufructuary mortgage—Mortgagor retaining possession after abandonment by the mortgagee — Personal covenant becomes operative.

In a usufructuary mortgage, upon the mortgagee's abandonment of possession and the mortgagor's taking back the same, the personal covenant to pay with interest comes into force from such date. (Mittra, Offg. A. J. C.) HARI v. SHRIDHAR. 23 I. C 131 : 10 N. L R. 9.

——S. 68 (a)—Mortgage by widow—Death of widow before expiry of term—Possession taken by reversioners—Rights of mortgagee.

Where a Hindu widow mortgages her husband's estate and dies before the expiry of the term whereupon possession is taken by the reversioners of her husband, it is open to the mortgagee to obtain a decree against the assets of the widow in the hands of the reversioners. (Dalal, A. J. C.) CHHANNU LAL v. MT. RAJ KUAR.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 68 (a)—Personal liability.

9 O. L. J. 24 : 1922 Oudh 48.

——S. 68 (a)—Personal liability — Money decree.

After an application for personal decree is disallowed under O. 31, R. 5, no separate suit to enforce the personal remedy provided by S. 68 of the T. P. Act is maintainable. R. 6 covers cases where mortgaged property cannot be sold at all for any reason other than the wrongful act of the mortgagor. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) BRIJ BIHARI LAL v. INDAR PAL SINGH.
23 O. C. 145 : 57 I. C. 967 : 2 U. P. L. R. (J. C.) 139.

——S. 68 (a)—Right to sue for mortgage-money—Deeds of further charge—Agreement that whole amount should be paid on redemption.

Where the mortgagors executed a deed of further charge to a mortgagee under which the amount thereunder was to be paid at the time of redemption or if the debt due on the deed was not repaid within a certain time, the mortgagor should repay it at the time of the redemption of the mortgage and redemption was not to be allowed until the debt was discharged. Held, that the amount due under the said deeds could not be recovered either at any time after their execution or even at the time when redemption of the mortgage first became possible, but only at the time when the mortgagors or their successors-in-interest attempted to redeem the mortgage. (Lindsay, J.C. and Stuart, A. J. C.) MEHARBAN SINGH v. RAGHUNATH SINGH. 49 I.C. 115: 5 O. L. J. 768.

——S. 68 (a)—Personal covenant—Mortgage.

In a mortgage a mere promise to pay the mortgage-money within a certain period does not import a personal liability. The remedy provided in the deed for the satisfaction of the morgage-debt is the real criterion. (Lindsay, J. C.) SHIAM SUNDAR v. DILGANJAN SINGH. 20 O. C. 155 : 39 I. C. 540 : 4 C. L. J. 380.

——S. 68 (a)—Personal covenant—Zurpeshgi mortgage.

In a zurpeshgi lease, where the mortgagor authorises the mortgagee to remain in possession till realisation and to proceed against other properties of the mortgagor, if necessary, but where the mortgagee sued for money-decree. Held, that the zurpeshgi mortgagee was entitled to get a personal decree against his mortgagor, he having already surrendered the mortgaged property in connection with the execution of another mortgage-decree and there being nothing in the deed to show that the personal liability was extinguished. (Chapman and Roe, JJ.) HARIHAR PRASAD v. MUNNI LAL. 39 I. C. 852 : 1 Pat. L. W. 612.

——S. 68 (a)—Interest—Personal covenant—Suit for interest lies though personal remedy for principal barred.

A mortgage-deed contained a personal covenant to pay interest independently of the principal, held, that a suit for interest will lie although the personal remedy for the principal is time-

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 68 (b)—Loss of security.

barred. 21 B. 267, 7 A. 502, 27 B. 330, Dist. (Maung Kin, J.) THAIR MAISTRY v. K. N. L. A. CHETTY FIRM. 41 I. C. 72.

——S. 68 (a)—Mortgage invalid—Money-decree.

When a mortgage cannot be enforced against the property owing to the Revenue Laws retatin g to the property, a money-decree can be granted. (Twomey, J.) ARUNACHALLAM CHETTY v. VEERAPPA CHETTY. 10 I. C. 864 : 4 Bur. L. T. 117.

S. 68 (b) [Loss of security.]

——S. 68 (b) and (c)—Invalid mortgage—Right to sue for mortgage-money.

Where in a mortgage there is no personal covenant to pay, yet, if the mortgagee is dispossessed, a suit for money is maintainable, though the mortgage was unattested and invalid as such. (Lord Parker.) RAM NARAYAN SINGH v. ADHINDRA NATH. 44 Cal. 388 : 21 M. L. T. 12 : 15 A. L. J. 107: (1917) M. W. N. 94 : 25 C. L. J. 121 : 21 C. W. N. 383 : 19 Bom L. R. 194 : 38 I. C. 932 : 44 I. A. 87 : 32 M. L. J. 39 (P.C.).

——S. 68 (b)—Diminution in rent is diminution in security—Inclusion of plots not belonging to mortgagor—Rright to sue for money.

The value of a property depends largely on the income derivable from it and where it falls, the mortgage security is diminished and the mortgagee is entitled to sue for his mortgage money. The inclusion of plots not belonging to the mortgagor and the failure to give possession of the same entitles the mortgagee to sue for his money. (Lindsay and Daniels, JJ.) FATEH DIN v. KISHEN LAL. L. R. 5 A. 29 : 1923 A. 584.

——S. 68 (b)—Diminution in value of security—Effect.

Both under the Hindu Law and under S. 68 of the Transfer of Property Act, a mortgagee could, if the property mortgaged is diminished, insist on the mortgagor giving another security. 40 A. 187 referred to. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) RAM SEWAK RAI v. SHEO NAIK RAI. 45 A. 388 : L. R. 4 A. 389: 21 A. L. J 294 : 1923 A. 433 (2).

——Ss. 68 (b) and 66 — Mortgage — Misdescription—Action in deceit.

In a mortgage-deed certain property was misdescribed as belonging to the mortgagor ; as it was not security for the mortgage debt because it belonged to a third party, it must be considered as non-existent for the purpose of mortgage and the only remedy the mortgagee would have against the mortgagor, for having inserted in the details of the mortgaged property which did not belong to him, would be an action in deceit. Misdescription of property forming security is not "insufficient" as defined in S. 66 which deals with waste by the mortgagor in possession and accordingly has nothing whatever to do with regard to the land which the plaintiff thought he got in mortgage. (Macleod, C. J. and Kanga, J.) RAGUNATH SADASHIV THAKUR v. DADAJI SHAMRAO THAKUR. 1922 Bom. 217.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 68 (b)—Loss of security.

——S. 68 (b)—Mortgagee deprived of part of security—Right to sue for mortgage-money.

Where a mortgagee is deprived of a part of the mortgaged property by the act of the mortgagor he is entitled to recover the mortgage-money from the mortgagor. (Fletcher and Cuming, JJ.) HARIS CHANDRA NANDI v. KESHAB CHANDRA. 54 I. C. 785.

——S. 68 (b)—Fault of mortgagee—Section does not apply.

It is clear from the wordings of S. 68, T. P. Act, that it is applicable only to cases where the security is lost to the mortgagee otherwise than by his own fault, and that a suit for the mortgage money is not maintainable where the property is lost owing to the default on the part of the usufructuary mortgagee himself. The help of section 68 can be invoked only in cases where the mortgage is not void. To hold otherwise would be tantamount to enforcing an agreement part of the consideration of which was unlawful. In such cases under section 24 of the Contract Act the whole contract must be considered to be void. 16 I. C. 42 ; 20 A. L. J. 318, Foll. (Abdul Raoof and Moti Sagar, JJ.) HAMAD YAR KHAN v SHANKAR DAS.

——S. 68 (b) and (c)—Usufructuary mortgagee—Deprivation of possession—Mortga unattested.

A usufructuary mortgagee dispossessed by a third person cannot sue the mortgagor for the money if the mortgage was not attested especially if there is no collusion between the mortgagor and the third person and the mortgagor was not guilty of any default prior to the deprivation of possession. S. 68 (c) T. P. Act had no application as the mortgagor was not called upon to furnish other security before suit. 44 C. 388, Dist. (Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) ANGIAKUPPIER v. PERIAKARUPPA KAVUNDAN. 42 Mad. 578 : 50 I. C. 758 : 26 M. L. T. 43 : 36 M. L J. 286.

——Ss. 68 (b) and (c) and 67—Usufructuary mortgage—Remedy of mortgagee when possession not delivered.

A usufructuary mortgagee can sue for the sale of the property mortgaged when the mortgagor fails to deliver possession to him of same. 39 M. 1010, Not Appr. (Wallis, C.J., Ayling and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) MARTURUSUBBAMMA v. GADDA NARAYYA. 41 Mad. 259 : 22 M. L T. 429 : 6 L. W. 738 : 43 I. C. 4 : (1917) M W. N. 8 28 : 33 M.L.J. 623 (F. B.).

——S. 68 (b)—Mortgagee unable to restore property—Redemption.

If the mortgagee cannot for any reason restore to the mortgagor possession of the whole of the mortgaged property it does not follow that he cannot recover the mortgage debt. The proper course in such a case is to debit the mortgagor with the value of the land not restored, in taking accounts under S. 76, T. P. Act. (Wallis, C. J. and Kumaraswami Sastri, J.) KATTAYAT GOPALA MENON v. KOLAT NARAYANA KURUP. 5 L. W. 339 : 40 I. C. 70 : (1917) M. W. N. 289.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 68 (b)—Loss of security.

——S. 68 (b)—Mortgage security—Waste o —General Law—Liability under.

A person who commits waste on the security, whether he be mortgagor or stranger, is liable to the mortgagee under the general law to the extent of the damage caused, and S. 68 merely extends the rights of the mortgagee if the wrong doer is the mortgagor, by enabling the mortgagee to sue for the whole of the mortgage-money. The representative of or a purchaser from the mortgagor who is directly responsible for the waste committed, is liable under S. 68 (b). (Sadasiva Aiya r and Napier, JJ.) RAMAKRISHNAMA CHETTY v. VUWATI CHANGU AIYAR. 33 I. C. 321 : 27 M. L. J. 494.

——S. 68 (b)—'Security'—Meaning of.

The security referred to in S. 68 (b) must be one effected by a mortgage under the Act. (Drake Brockman, J. C.) GOVIND v. JAGANNATH. 33 I. C. 753 : 12 N. L. R. 19.

——S. 68 (b)—Destruction of security—Sale of mortgaged property under Land Acquisition Act—Mortgagee's remedy--Charge on purchase-money.

The mortgaged property is destroyed within the meaning of S. 68 where mortgaged property is sold under the Land Acquisition Act, and the mortgagee has no charge on the purchase-money when property is acquired under the Land Acquisition Act. 13 M. 321 ; 6 M. 344 ; 36 C. 415 ; 33 M. 429 Diss. (Stuart, A. J. C.) SAJJADA BEGAM v. MUSSAMMAT JANKI BIBI. 42 I. C. 793 : 20 O. C. 256.

——S. 68 (b)—Mortgage invalid—Suit to recover money—Limitation Act, Art. 97.

Where a mortgage is declared invalid the mortgagee is entitled under S. 68 (b) of the T. P. Act to recover the mortgage-money from the mortgagor personally and Art. 97 of the Lim. Act, applies. (Lindsay, A. J. C.) DEBI PRASAD v. SHEO NARAIN. 21 I. C. 581.

——S. 68 (b)—Loss of security—Compensation.

Under a mortgage-deed providing that if on partition any portion of the mortgaged land is taken from the mortgagee, other land of the same value will be given to him or the annual loss of the mortgagee will be compensated, the mortgagee is entitled to compensation for the loss suffered by him by the substitution of inferior land in partition. In a redemption suit, the mortgagee cannot claim the deficiency of mesne profits already paid by him to one of the mortgagors unless there is a condition to that effect. (Chamier, J. C.) AJUDHIA SINGH v. KUNWAR BAHADUR. 12 I. C. 407.

——S. 68 (b) and (c)—Mortgage usufructuary —Dispossession—Remedy when he is at fault.

A usufructuary mortgagee, who fails to take a defence to a suit by a subsequent mortgagee which would have preserved the security, is not entitled to sue for the mortgage-money under S. 68. (Sharfuddin and Roe, JJ.) DUNIA LAL v. NOWRATAN KOER. 41 I. C. 806 : 2 Pat. L. J. 490.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 68 (b)—Loss of security.

——S. 68 (b)—Loss of security—Mortgage—Mortgagee dispossessed by stranger—Suit for recovery of mortgage money is maintainable.

When a mortgagee is dispossessed through adverse possession shown against the mortgagor, the latter must repay the former the money or else defend him against possessing adversely. (Heald, J.) MAUNG PO KIN v. MAUNG KYAUK YE. 2 Bur. L. J. 47 : 1924 R. 143.

[S. 68 (c). Failure to secure possession.]

——S. 68 (c)—Mortgage dispossessed by person holding better title than mortgagor—Section applies.

Where a mortgagee is dispossessed by a person holding a better title than the mortgagor, S. 68 (c) will apply and the mortgagee is entitled to recover the mortgage money from the mortgagor. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) RAM SURAT MISRA v. GUR PRASAD. 43 All. 484 : 19 A. L. J. 357 : 63 I. C. 998 : 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 64.

——S. 68 (c)—Defective title of mortgagor—Remedy of mortgagee.

A mortgagee should not take secret mortgages from persons supposed to be owners when he suspects the title of mortgagor He must demand a fresh security from the mortgagors. (Richards, C. J. and Rafique, J.) AMIRULLAH v. RASUL BAKSH. 50 I. C. 744 : 17 A. L. J. 474

——S. 68 (c)—Usufructuary mortgagee—Possession not secured to mortgagee—Right to sue for mortgage money.

In 1910, the defendants mortgaged their land with possession to the plaintiff for one year. The profits were to be enjoyed in lieu of interest if the mortgage amount was not paid on the due date, the plaintiff was at liberty to sell the property and the mortgagor was personally liable for the deficit. The plaintiff never went into possession of the property. In 1918 he sued to recover the mortgage amount with interest at 12 per cent Held, that the plaintiff was only entitled to the mortgage amount and not to any interest, since the terms of the deed clearly showed that the mortgaged property was a security only for the amount borrowed and not for interest and it was the fault of the plaintiff himself if he took no steps to recover possession of the mortgaged property. 17 Bom. 425 Ref. (Macleod, C. J. and Fawcett, J.) MANIKCHAND v. KANGAPPA. 22 Bom L. R. 1435 : 59 I. C. 765 : 45 Bom. 523.

——Ss. 68 (c) and 72—Mortgagee wrongfully kept out of possession—Money paid to avert rent sale—Interest—Charge.

The mortgagee was to be in possession of the mortgaged property in lieu of interest and if the mortgagors failed to pay the amount of the debt at the end of the period specified, the mortgagee should be at liberty to foreclose according to law. The mortgagee in spite of his efforts was wrongly kept out of possession by the mortgagors for the greater part of the period. Held, that the mortgagee was clearly entitled to add the interest as a charge on the property and the interest claimed was not excessive Where a mortgagee though out of possession pays rent so as to avert a rent sale by the superior proprietor he can add the money to the principal and claim reasonable interest thereon. (Tennon and Richardson, JJ.) SITA NATH GHOSE v. THAKURDAS CHAKRAVARTY 52 I. C. 433 : 46 Cal. 448.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 68 (c)—Failure to secure possession.

——Ss. 68 (c) and 67—Usufructuary mortgagee dispossessed—Remedy.

A usufructuary mortgagee who has been dispossessed of the mortgaged property, has no remedy by way of foreclosure or sale but he can only get a money-decree if he sued the mortgagor only for that relief. (Fletcher and Newbould, JJ.) AGHORE NATH SAHA v. NATABAR BAIRAGI. 41 I. C. 406.

——Ss. 68 (c) and 67—Usufructuary mortgagee—Remedies of.

A usufructuary mortgagee who has not been given possession can sue either for possession or for recovery of the mortgage-money under S. 68 but not for sale of the properties as a simple mortgagee. 24 C. 677, Rel. upon. (Carnduff, J.) LAZARANNESSA BIBI v. MOHAMED JAFER. 13 I. C. 336.

——S. 68 (c)—Dispossession gives the usufructuary mortgagee a right to sue for money.

Where in a usufructuary mortgage there is no covenant to pay by the mortgagor, the right of the mortgagee to sue under S. 68 (c) arises when the mortgagor fails to deliver possession to the mortgagee. (Abdur Rahim and Oldfield, JJ.) KUNHIMAI KUTTY BEARI v. HALECOTE AISABI. 62 I. C. 723 : 13 L. W. 434.

——S. 68 (c)—Interest—Mortgagee entitled to possession.

A mortgagee entitled to the possession of the mortgaged property but omitting to take any steps to obtain possession under his mortgage, is not entitled to recover damages for the period he is out of possession. (Drake-Brockman, J.C.) BALWANT RAO DOWLAT RAO v. NARHAR GANGARAM. 54 I. C. 814.

——S. 68 (c)—Mortgage—Substituted security.

A mortgagee claiming property not mortgaged to him in substitution of the destroyed mortgaged property must establish circumstances so as to raise an equity in his favour. (Stanyon, A. J. C.) DEORAO v. BANAMI. 10 I. C. 689: 7 N. L. R. 2.

——S. 68 (c)—Usufructuary mortgage—Dispossession from a portion of the mortgaged property—Acquiescence—Right to claim interest.

Where a usufructuary mortgagee who is dispossessed by a portion of the mortgaged property keeps quiet without claiming compensation or possession, he is not entitled to claim interest in a subsequent suit for redemption. (Lindsay, J. C.) MAHADEO TEWARI v. SITLA BAKHSH SINGH. 8 O. L. J. 660 : 1922 Oudh 102.

——S. 68 (c)—Simple mortgage—Possession on default of payment within the stipulated period—Right to money-decree.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 68 (c)—Failure to secure possession.

Even if there is a provision in a simple mortgage that the mortgagee would be entitled to take possession on non-payment within the period fixed and to appropriate the profits thereof in lieu of interest, the mortgagee is entitled to a money decree. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs.) MANGAL v. INDAR KUAR.
49 I. C. 77: 5 O. L. J. 752.

——— S. 68 (c)—Usufructuary mortgage—Dispossession.

The dispossession of a usufructuary mortgagee, is a failure on the part of the mortgagor, to secure him an undisturbed possession and S. 68 (c) applies to such a case. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) JAINANDAN v. BAIJNATH.
63 I. C. 297: 2 Pat. L. T. 229.

——— S. 68 (c)—Usufructuary mortgage—Prior mortgagee selling property and taking of possession by auction purchaser—Effect.

Where a usufructuary mortgagee does not redeem a prior simple mortgage and the property is sold in execution of a decree on the simple mortgage, and he is dispossessed, by the auction-purchaser, he is not disentitled thereby to recover the debt, from the mortgagor, on the personal covenant, if any. (Adami and Bucknill, JJ.) RAM JANAM SINGH v. KUNJ BEHARI. 63 I. C. 252.

——— S. 68 (c)—Usufructuary mortgage—Dispossession from portion of mortgaged property—Acquiescence.

A usufructuary mortgagee stipulated that, if the mortgagee was dispossessed, he would be entitled to damages or to interest at a specified rate. Held, that the plaintiff (mortgagee) having been dispossessed for twelve years and not having done anything during that time either to obtain compensation from the mortgagor, or to realise from the mortgagor or from the property his mortgage-debt or to claim additional security or to enforce the payment of interest, must be deemed to have acquiesced in the changed state of affairs and was consequently estopped from claiming interest. (Miller, C. J. and Adami, J.) UCHIT MANDAR v. GOSAIN SINGH RAID. 51 I. C. 816.

——— S. 68 (c)—Usufructuary mortgage—Dispossession—Remedy of mortgagee—Suit against trespasser.

S. 68 of the T. P. Act contains provisions of an enacting nature and they do not preclude any mortgagee who has been disturbed by a person claiming without title from suing the trespasser according to the general law, claiming as against him a declaration of title and recovery of possession. There is nothing in law to debar the mortgagee from asserting his rights against the trespasser alone without claiming the indemnity which S. 68 of the T. P. Act empowers him to claim from his mortgagor. (Mullick and Atkinson, JJ.) BECHU SAHU v. ARJUN. 43 I. C. 917: 3 Pat. L. J. 162.

——— S. 68 (c)—Usufructuary mortgagee—Dispossession—Acquiescence—Interest.

A usufructuary mortgagee dispossessed of a portion of the mortgaged property but continuing in possession of the remainder for a considerable time, must be deemed to have acquiesced in the dispossession and cannot claim interest from the date of dispossession, though stipulated for in the mortgage-deed. (Mullick, J.) UCHAIT MANDAR v. GOSAIN SINGH BAIT, 41 I. C. 55.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 69.

S. 68—[Waste].

——— Ss. 68 and 100—Charge—Enforcement of.

Having regard to S. 100, the provisions of S. 68 as to the liability of a mortgagor who commits waste, apply equally to persons creating a charge. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) RAMAKRISHNAMA CHETTY v. VUOVATI CHENGU AIYAR.
33 I. C 321: 27 M. L. J. 494

——— S. 69—Power of sale outside Court—Validity—Where the Act does not apply.

It is possible in India to put a clause into a mortgage deed allowing of sale except through the medium of the Court, at least there is no positive enactment prohibiting such a stipulation being annexed to a mortgage where S. 69 of the T. P. Act does not apply. To say that a limited company, a creature of statute requires protection or that the trustees for the debenture holders are the persons who might take advantage of the scanty knowledge of the mortgaging company is really to consider the situation in a light almost absurd. (Lord Dunedin.) KANHAIYA LAL v. NATIONAL BANK OF INDIA, LTD.
45 M. L. J. 497: 33 M. L. T. 349 (P. C.) 25 Bom. L. R. 1248 : 50 I. A. 162: 4 Lah. 284: 1923 P. C. 114 (P. C.).

——— S. 69—Mortgage—Power of sale—Bona fide exercise of—Mortgagor when entitled to avoid.

A mortgagee is not a trustee of the power of sale. It is a power given to him for his own benefit, to enable him the better to realize his mortgage-debt. If he exercises it bona fide for that purpose, without corruption or collusion with the purchaser, the Court will not interfere even thoughthe sale be very disadvantageous; unless, in deed, the price is so low as in itself to be evidence of fraud. (Lord De Villier.) HADDINGTON ISLAND QUARRY CO., LTD. v. ALDEN WESLEY.
13 I. C. 261 10 M. L. T. 554 (P. C.).

——— S. 69—Default in payment of interest—Power to sell.

Default in payment of interest alone does not justify the exercise of the power of sale where that power was to be exercised on default in payment of even a part of the principal sum on the terms of the deed it was held that the principal did not become payable as soon as interest for three months fell into arrears. Parties however could contract specifically that if interest remained unpaid for three months the whole of the principal would become payable and that the mortgagee could exercise his power of sale. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) JERUP TEJA AND CO. v. PEERBHOY. 64 I. C. 634: 23 Bom. L. R. 1241.

——— S. 69—Surplus sale-proceeds—Attachment under S. 386, C. P. Code (1882).

If a mortgagee sells the property under a power of sale reserved to him in the deed of mortgage, he is a trustee of the surplus sale-proceeds for the mortgagor. This character of trust attaching to the proceeds is not lost though the mortgagee retains them for over a month and mixes them with his private moneys. Such sale-proceeds are moveable property and are liable to distress under S. 386 of the C. P. Code, 1882. 6 I. A. 145; 16 B. 141, Ref. (Ayling and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) PICHU VADHIAR v. SECRETARY OF STATE.

40 Mad. 767: 21 M. L T. 71: (1917) M. W. N. 20: 18 Cr. L. J. 426 : 5 L. W. 664: 38 I. C. 986.

———S. 69—Mortgage with power of sale—Default of payment of prinoipal or interest—Right to sell.

Where the mortgage deed provides a right of sale at any time on default of payment of principal or interest, the right of redemption is dependent on punctual payment of monthly interest as it falls due, and a power of sale can be exercised even though there is no default in payment of principal money. (Twomey, C. J. and Parlett, J.) THE FIRM OF A. C. KUNDU v. BABU ROOKONAND.
11 Bur. L. T. 147 : 43 I. C. 921: 9 L, B. R. 106.

———Ss. 70 and 71—Good will and stock-in-trade—Mortgage of—Stock acquired after mortgage—Effect on such stock.

A certain person mortgaged the goodwill and the stock in-trade including therein a list of the stock-in-trade as a schedule thereof; he also inserted a clause that the stock-in-trade would not be transferred. This was however sold subsequently, but was replaced by another. Held, that the stock-in-trade acquired after the mortgage was not affected by the mortgage. (Richards, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) ANDERSON v. BANK OF UPPER INDIA, LTD. 37 All. 390: 29 I.C. 984: 13 A.L.J. 489.

———S. 70—Mortgage—Fixtures on land—Accession.

Unless a contrary intention is shown, a mortgage of land or buildings passes the right to the fixtures then upon the premises, and fixtures attached by the mortgagor to the property after the date of the mortgage will also, except under an agreement to the contrary, pass to the mortgagee. (Chaudhuri, J.) THE BANK OF UPPER INDIA v. THE ADMINISTRATIOR-GENERAL OF BENGAL.
45 Cal. 653: 47 I. C. 529: 22 C. W. N. 793.

———S. 70—Mortgage—Accession—Wargland—Kumaki—Assignment under Dharghast.

Where after a mortgagee of certain wargland and the kumaki land adjoining it, the Government assigns the kumaki lands on Dharghast to the wargdar, the lands so assigned do not form an accession to the mortgaged property, as they were at the absolute disposal of the Government at the time of mortgage. (Oldfield and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) KODI SANKARA BHATTA v. MOIDIN.
35 M. L. J. 120: 49 I. C. 147: 8 L. W. 100.

———S. 70—Accession after decree on mortgage—Section does not apply.

S. 70 of the Act does not apply to an accession to the mortgaged property after a decree on the mortgage. Where, after a decree on a mortgage of a mokarari right in a property the judgment-debtor acquired the Brahmottar right therein, held, that the latter right cannot enure to the benefit of the mortgage under S. 70 of the Act. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) HARADHAN CHAKRAVARTY v. HARGOBIND.

6 Pat. L. J. 347 : 63 I. C. 552 : 2 Pat L. T. 665.

———S. 72—Improvements to suit the tenant—Increased rent—Mortgagor not to pay as for repairs.

Where a mortgagee incurs expenses in making improvements to suit his tenant and receives increased rent in consequence, the mortgagor cannot in redemption be asked to pay the money spent on the same. (Ryves and Daniels, JJ.) CHHAMMU LAL v. BHAJAN LAL.
1924 A. 47.

———S. 72—Unreasonable and excessive improvement.

A mortgagor must not be deprived out of his right to redeem by an unreasonable improvement. Where a usufructuary mortgagee for Rs. 100 claimed to have improved the property at a cost of Rs. 3,000, the Court, in view of the fact that the mortgagee had the advantage of his improvements for a long time, awarded a sum of Rs. 1,200, as, after paying the sum the mortgagor would have the benefit of the increased value of his property. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) DNYANU LAXMAN GAIKWAD v. FAKIRA EBRAM LOHAI.
45 Bom. 1301 : 64 I. C. 16 : 23 Bom. L. R. 567.

———S. 72—Puisne mortgagee—Redemption—Right to be paid moneys paid for prior mortgage.

Though the Transfer of Property Act does not in terms apply to the Punjab, the general principles contained in the Act govern the rights of parties. Consequently where a puisne mortgagee has paid off a decree on a prior mortgage he is entitled to be paid that decree amount as well as the amount of his own mortgage in a suit for redemption by the mortgagor. (Shadi Lal, C. J. and Abdul Qadir, J.) HENRY ALFRED v. KARIM BAKHSH.
1924 Lah. 154.

———S. 72—Expenses of repair—Interest on moneys spent.

Both according to general principles and the terms of the mortgage deed in question the mortgagee is entitled to reconstruct and repair the shops which had been mortgaged in order to keep his security in act. 55 P. R. 1890 ref. The mortgagee is not entitled to interest on amount of expenses incurred. (Broadway and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) TOHLU MAL v. BUTA.
67 I. C. 132 : 3 Lah. L. J. 184.

———S. 72—Chattels—Accession.

Hypothecation is a mode of creating a security whereby not merely the ownership but also the possession of the thing remains with the owner but in a pledge possession is transferred. The rights of the person in whose favour the hypothec is made are limited strictly to the actual chattel hypothecated and not to the offspring of the hypothecated animal. The former cannot be treated as accessories. (Rattigan, J.) JOT SINGH. v. AMIR CHAND.
10 P. R. 1915 : 28 I. C. 230 : 16 P. L. R. 1916.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882). S. 72.

——S. 72—Interest.

The mortgagee is entitled to interest on the sums which he as tenant lent to his landlord (mortgagor) owner of the house, for repairs which did not enhance the letting value but merely kept that value at its former level. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) RAMBILAS v. LAXMINARAYAN.

1922 Nag. 262.

——S. 72—Powers of leasing—Lease granted after institution of suit—If binding on mortgagee.

A mortgagor is not entitled after making the mortgage to grant leases which may have the effect of materially diminishing the value of the security for the remedies of the mortgagee under the mortgage. Where a suit has been filed to enforce the mortgage the rights of the lessee are subject to the result of that suit and no effect can be given to them over the rights which another person may acquire in enforcement of the mortgage. 15 O. C. 239 Ref. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) MUSSAMMAT BIBI SAIDUNISSA v. FAIYAZ HASSAN.

4 U. P. L. R. (O.) 76 : 9 O. L. J. 319 : 1923 Oudh 1.

——S. 72—Zamindar's rent paid by mortgagee is payable by mortgagor.

A usufructuary mortgage contained the following stipulation, "Then payment of Zemindari rent shall rest with the Bharnadar. I, the executant, neither have, nor shall have any concern therewith. The Bharnadar shall himself obtain receipt on my behalf. At the time of payment of the said principal amount I shall pay the rent with interest at Rs. 2 per cent per mensem." Held that both under the law and under the contract the mortgagee was bound to pay the rent due to the Zemindar and entitled to add it to the mortgage money. (Ross, J.) HIRA RAUT v. FAKIR CHAND.

1 Pat L. R. 167 : 1924 P. 372.

——S. 72—Improvements—Right of mortgagee to value of improvements.

A mortgagee who makes improvement on the mortgaged property is entitled to compensation for improvements on established principles of equity and not on the principle embodied in S. 51 of the Transfer of Property Act. In valuing the improvements regard must be had to the actual moneys spent by the mortgagee and not to the appreciated value of the property at the date of redemption. (Pipon, J. C.) JIT SINGH v. GURDIT SINGH.

70 I. C. 1.

——S. 72 (a)—Usufructuary mortgage—Lease to mortgagor—Suit for accounts not merged.

Where a usufructuary mortgagee leases the property to the mortgagor for specified rent, his right to file a suit for accounts based on his right to interest on his mortgage is not merged, in or substituted for his rights to rent arising from the relation of landlord and tenant. (Sheppard and Subramania Aiyar JJ.) VEPA KASEMAM v. VARIGONDA NARSINGHAM.

34 I. C. 701.

——S. 72 (a)—Usufructuary mortgagee—Repairs—Rent—Right to enhanced rent.

Where a usufructuary mortgagee of a house carries out repairs and improvements with the object of realising enhanced rent, he ought to have the benefits of the enhancement. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) NAWAB SAIYAD WILAYAT HUSSAIN v. ZAMANI BEGAM.

54 I. C. 112 : 6 O. L. J. 608.

——S 72 (a)—Mortgagee in possession—Expenses of suits to recover arrears of rent—Whether an act of management.

Filing of suit to recover arrears of rent by a mortgagee in possession is in the absence of bad faith, an act of management and expenses incurred on that account are recoverable under S. 72 of the T. P. Act. 21 Mad. 32, Not Foll. (Lindsay, J. C.) BASANT SINGH v. MATA BAKSH SINGH.

23 I. C. 456 : 17 O. C. 47.

——S. 72 (b) — Improvements —Interest on costs of improvement.

A mortgagee in possession is entitled to interest on the amount spent for repairs effected with the object of preserving the property in pursuance of the terms of the mortgage, and also on the rates and cesses paid by him therefor. The mere circumstance that in the mortgage-deed, it is not specifically mentioned that interest would be paid on costs of repairs, is not to be deemed to be a contract to the contrary in respect of interest. (Banerjee, J.) RAHAMATULLAH BEG v. YUSUF ALI.

16 I. C. 635 : 10 A. L. J. 124.

——S. 72 (b)—Forced payment of a call.

Forced payment of the call by the registered holder of shares who held them as security is not an expenditure for the preservation of the security. (Scott, C. J. and Heaton, J.) BIRDICHAND JIVRAJ v. STANDARD BANK, LTD.

42 Bom. 159 : 40 I. C. 167 : 19 Bom. L. R. 341.

——S. 72 (b)and 73—Execution sale—Payment by mortgagee to set aside sale in rent-decree—Lien on property—S. 73—C. P. C., O. 21, R. 89.

The decree in which are merged the rights of the mortgagor under the deed does not put an end to the relationship of mortgagor and mortgagee. A mortgagee is entitled to add the amount deposited by him to set aside a sale in execution of a rent-decree under O. 21, R. 89, and acquires a lien for that deposit on the mortgaged property which is not discharged by the payment of the sum due under the preliminary decree. That payment satisfies the decree but leaves the lien (acquired subsequent to the decree) outstanding. The inclusion in a mortgage-deed of a remedy which the mortgagee has already by law (S. 73 of T. P. Act) cannot debar the mortgagee from pursuing any other remedy which may be open to him. (Jenkins, C. J. and Mookerjee, J.) AMBICA CHARAN DUTT v. RANGATI GUHA.

28 I. C. 571 : 21 C. L. J. 284.

——S. 72 (b)—Rent-decree — Payment by mortgagee to satisfy rent-decree obtained by mortgagor's landlord—Lien on mortgaged property.

A got a perliminary decree on his mortgage and afterwards the mortgagor's land was sold by his landlord in execution of a rent-decree against him and A paid the decretal amount to set aside the sale. Subsequently the mortgagor sold the land to C who paid into Court only the amount of the preliminary decree. A then sued to establish his lien for the amount paid by him to have the sale set aside, Held, that he was entitled to a decree. (Richardson, J.) AMBIKA CHARAN DATTA v. RAM GATI GUHA. 14 I. C. 718.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 72.

——S. 72 (b)—Extension of buildings—Compensation for.

Where a mortgagee in addition to repairing the house which had become uninhabitable, extended the same and it was found the amount of money spent was not unreasonable he is on equitable grounds entitled to be paid for the improvements. (Martineau and Zafar Ali, JJ.) LABHU RAM v. ABDULLA. 1923 Lah. 587.

——S. 72 (b)—Reconstructing and repairing shop.

A mortgagee in possession of shops can repair and reconstruct them to keep his security in tact but cannot claim interest on the expenses incurred. (Broadway and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) TOHLU MAL v. BUTA. 67 I. C. 132 : 3 Lah. L. J. 184.

——S. 72 (b) — Mortgagee in possession—Compensation for improvements.

If a mortgagee in possession spends money on permanent works in the property which enhances its value it would be inequitable to allow the mortgagor to redeem without making him pay at least the actual expenses incurred by the mortgagee. (Scott-Smith, J.) REKHI KESH v. JWALA SAHAI. 52 I. C. 862 : 78 P. R. 1919.

——S. 72 (b)—Repairs and preservation of property—Mortgagor—Right to claim.

Where there is condition in a mortgage deed that the mortgagor is to be responsible for repairs, the mortgagee is not entitled to do them himself without notice to the mortgagor and make the costs an additional charge on the property. (Martineau, J.) MOTI RAM v. SANT RAM. 51 I. C. 979.

——S. 72 (b)—Conditional sale—Improvement by mortgagee—Right to value of.

After the period for redemption in a mortgage by conditional sale, the mortgagee might reasonably claim to have had bona fide belief that there was no intention on the part of the mortgagor to redeem and as the improvement to the house was of a permanent nature and had undoubtedly increased its value it was equitable that the mortgagor should pay its cost though he did not give his consent to it. 119 P. R. 1876, Ref. 33 P. L. R. 1903 Dist. (Broadway, J.) MUSSAMAT RAMKAN v. PARTAB SINGH. 51 I.C. 689 : 58 P. R. 1919.

——S. 72 (b)—Right to compensation for improvements.

A mortgagee is entitled to compensation for improving the mortgaged property it allowed to do so by the mortgagor and the money due to the former is a charge on the latter's interest. A mortgagee accepting a mortgage with knowledge that a third person had interest in the property cannot claim from the mortgagor costs incurred by him in litigation for opposing such person's claim. (Ratligan, J.) RAM DITTA MAL v. KARAM DEVI. 167 P. W. R. 1912 : 17 I. C. 243 : 190 P. L. R. 1912.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 72.

——S. 72 (b)—'Sale'—Meaning.

Per Spencer, J.—The word 'sale' in S. 72 (b) covers a sale in execution of a simple money decree, which does not affect or extinguish the security. Per Ramesam, J.—The word 'sale' should be construed 'ejusdem generis' : with the words 'destruction' 'forfeiture' that precede it, and so it applies only to sales endangering the mortgagee's security and not to sales merely of the equity of redemption. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) VENKATA NARASIMHU RAJUGARU v. KUPPU CHETTY. 40 M. L. J. 524 : 63. I. C. 24 : (1921) M. W. N. 479

——Ss. 72 (b) and 76 (c)—Enhanced revenue—Usufructuary mortgage—Right to add to the mortgage money.

S. 76 (c) of the T. P. Act merely imposes on a mortgagee an obligation to pay the revenue and Government charges if they can be paid out of the income. If they can be so paid, he cannot recover them under S. 72 (b). If they cannot be so paid, in the absence of a contract to the contrary, a mortgagee who has paid them out of his own pocket can recover them under S. 72 (b). (Lyle and Ashworth, A. J. Cs.) FARZAND ALI v. SADIQ HUSSAIN KHAN. 54 I. C. 264: 22 O. C. 270.

——S. 72 (b)—Subsequent mortgagee—Purchase in execution—Payment of prior simple mortgage—Right to possession.

S. 72 of the T. P. Act is wide enough to cover the case of a subsequent mortgagee who has obtained an order for possession in execution of his decree and who pays up the money due to a prior mortgagee. If a prior mortgagee neglects to make a puisne mortgagee a party to his suit, the puisne mortgagee cannot be affected by the decree passed in such suit. A payment of money made which was not immediately necessary to have the security cannot be brought within the provisions of S. 72. (Daniels, A. J. C.) GAYA PRASAD v. GUR DAYAL. 22 O. C. 32 : 51 I. C. 549 : 6 O. L. J. 270.

——S. 72 (b)—Improvements— Mortgagee—Mortgage money.

S. 72 of the T. P. Act does not allow a mortgagee to make improvements at the expense of the mortgagor with the object of deriving greater benefit during the period of his enjoyment from his mortgaged property and to add the costs of the same to the mortgage money. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs.) JANGI RAM v. SHEORAJ SINGH. 30 I. C. 234 : 2 O. L. J. 338.

——S. 72 (b)—Sale of equity of redemption—Usufructuary mortgagee paying amount to avoid sale.

Money paid by usufructuary mortgagee to avert sale in execution of money-decree is not money charged on the property and the mortgagee is entitled to a personal decree. S. 72 is intended to apply to cases where forfeiture or sale is likely to imperil the mortgage security. (Kanhaiya Lal, A.J.C.) SHEO DULARI v. MUSSAMMAT BALASHA. 19 I. C. 744 : 16 O. C. 48.

——Ss. 72 (b) and 100—Arrears of Government revenue—Mortgagee paying off arrears of Government revenue to prevent sale—Charge.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 72.

Where a mortgagee pays off arrears of Government revenue to prevent the sale of the property he can add on the amount to the mortgage debt under S. 9 of the Bengal Revenue Sales Act. The amount will at least be a charge upon immoveable property within S. 100 of the T. P. Act, and could only be enforced by a suit under. O. 34, C. P. C. (Jwala Prasad, J.) RAJ KUMARLAL v. JAIKARAN DAS. 5 Pat. L. J 248 : 57 I C. 653 : 1 Pat. L. T. 225.

——S. 72 (b)—Scope of—Sale of equity of redemption.

S. 72 does not cover a case in which the right, title and interest only of the mortgagor may be put up for sale, but covers only payments made to save the security itself. (Roe and Jwala Prasad, JJ.) RAJENDRA PRASAD v. BAHURIA RATAN JOVE KUER. 1 Pat. L. J. 589 : 38 I. C. 232 : 3 Pat. L. W. 37.

——S. 72 (b)—Payment of arrears of revenue by mortgagee after preliminary decree—Right to charge—Burma Land Revenue Code, S. 48.

A mortgagee who after a preliminary decree, to save the mortgaged property from being sold under S. 48 of the Lower Burma Land Revenue Act, pays the arrears of revenue due, gets a charge and lien over the mortgaged property for the amount so paid. 30 C. 794 ; 14 C. 809 ; 14 A. 273 ; 26 B. 437 ; 26 M. 686 ; 11 M. 452 ; 31 C. 975 ; 13 A. 195, Rel. (Maung Kin, J.) MA PWA KIN v. K. P. S. A. R. P. FIRM. 43 I. C. 190 : 12 Bur. L. T. 36.

——S. 72 (c)—Expenses incurred in protecting mortgagor's title—Separate suit for, if lies.

A mortgagee is entitled to recover monies spent by him in protecting the mortgagor's title ; and this can be done either by separate suit or by adding the expenses incurred to the mortgage-money and to insist on those sums being paid before redemption. Quære.—Whether the mortgagee is justified in conducting an expensive criminal litigation ? (Seshagiri Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) VENKITASAMI NAIKER v. MUTHUSAMI PILLAI. 23 M. L. T. 280 : 45 I. C. 949 : 34 M. L. J. 177.

——S. 72 (d)—Mortgagor and mortgagee—Costs of litigation.

A mortgagee is entitled to add to his mortgage security the costs incurred by him in defending an unsuccessful suit for redemption by the mortgagor because payment of such expenses is regarded as an implied term of the mortgage (Bakewell, J.) VARADARAJULU CHETTY v. DHANALAKSHMI AMMAL. 26 I. C. 184 : 16 M L. T. 365.

——S. 73—Undivided share—Substituted security—Partition—Share allotted.

In a mortgage of a share of landed property a clause was inserted in the mortgage bond that after partition, the whole of the property allotted to the lady shall be substituted for the property mortgaged. The effect of this clause was to quadruple the amount of property mortgaged. Held, that the clause relating to the substitution of the whole of the lady's share for what had been originally mortgaged would be operative and would subject the whole of her share to the mortgage. (Lord Moulton.) LALA MAHABIR PRASAD v. MUSAMMAT TAJ BEGAM. 1 L. W. 959 : 19 C. W. N. 162 : (1915) M. W. N. 387 : 23 I. C. 642 : 27 M. L. J. 13. (P.C.)

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 73.

——S. 73—Sale proceeds of mortgaged property—Right of puisne mortgagee

Where a first mortgagee brings a suit on his mortgage impleading the second mortgagee as party and a decree for sale is passed and the surplus sale proceeds are withdrawn by the first mortgagee in execution of a decree on the third mortgage, the second mortgagee has a right to recover the money in satisfaction of his mortgage. The surplus sale proceeds represent the security. (Sir John Edge.) BARHAMDEO PRASAD v. TARACHAND. 41 Cal. 654 : 41 I. A. 45 : 15 M. L. T 62 : 12 A. L. J. 82 : 18 C. W. N. 345 : 19 C. L. J. 132 : 16 Bom. L. R. 89 : (1914) M. W. N. 38 : 21 I. C. 961 : 26 M. L. J. 243 (P.C.).

——S. 73—Sale of mortgaged property in execution of rent decree against mortgagor—Charge on surplus proceeds—Right of mortgagee against property.

If property subject to a mortgage is sold in execution of a rent-decree against the mortgagor, the mortgagee even though he has got a decree, has a charge under S. 73 of the T. P. Act upon the surplus sale-proceeds that remain in Court after satisfaction of the rent-decree. That charge continues to subsist notwithstanding that the amount is drawn out from Court by the judgment debtors and others. The mortgagee in the first instance must see how much he can recover from the judgment-debtor and others who have drawn out the surplus money, and to that extent there cannot be a charge on the mortgaged property. For any sum beyond that, the mortgage decree can be executed in the usual manner against the mortgaged property. (Fletcher and Cuming, JJ.) PARAMESHWAR DAW v. ANANTH BHANDU DAW. 51 I. C. 333.

——Ss. 73 and 100—Rent decree—Charge on holding—Successive decrees—Sale on last decree.

Where a patni tenure is sold in execution of the last of a series of rent decrees, the charge in respect of the prior rent-decree is transferred to the surplus sale proceeds on the principle embodied in S. 73 of the T. P. Act which is a principle of justice, equity and good conscience. The charge which the landlord has in respect of his rent is not one created by law under S. 100 of the T. P. Act. Such a charge is not an encumbrance within the meaning of S. 161 of the B. T. Act. (N. R. Chatterjee and Smither, JJ.) SATYA SHANKAR GHOSHAL v. MON MOHAN GUHA. 43 I. C. 996 : 22 C. W. N. 131.

——S. 73—Rent sale—Proceeds—Mortgage—Charge.

A mortgagee has a charge upon the surplus sale-proceeds where property has been sold in execution of a decree for arrears of rent notwithstanding that the mortgage-debt has been transferred into a judgment-debt. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) BASANT KUMAR BOSE v. KHULNA LOAN COMPANY. 20 C. L. J. 1 : 26 I. C. 197 : 19 C. W. N. 1001.

——S.73—Substituted security—Sale proceeds—Surplus—Right of puisne mortgagee.

Where a fourth mortgagee in satisfaction of his decree withdraws the surplus sale-proceeds deposited in Court after discharging the second mortgage, the third mortgagee cannot sue for the money as his own but might in equity regard it as part of the security and follow it in the hands of the fourth mortgagee. (Harrington and Carnduff, JJ.) NATHANSAO v. MRS. ANNIE BESANT. 19 I. C. 226 : 19 C. W. N. 535.

——S. 73—Scope of.

S. 73 only gives a right to the mortgagee, over the surplus sale-proceeds and refers to cases where the law otherwise provides that the effect of the sale would be to nullify a mortgage. It is not intended to enlarge the interest of the purchaser at a sale for arrears of revenue or rent. 24 C. 746. Foll. (Chatterjee, J.) CHHATARDHARI LAL v. BIRANCHI LAL. 9 I. C. 248.

——S. 73—Principle of— Applicability to Court sales.

The principle of the substitution of properties and securities in favour of persons who through no fault of their own are deprived of the original rights and securities, applies to a case where an auction-purchaser of lands is deprived of the crops on it by a lessee pendente lite. The auction-purchaser can claim the rent due from the lessee to the judgment-debtor. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) PENMUETSA SUBBARAJU v VEEGISSENA SEETHARAMA RAJU. 17 M. L T. 57 : 28 I. C. 232 : (1915) M. W. N. 174 : 39 Mad. 283.

——S. 73—Land acquisition—No new cause of action.

A new cause of action does not arise, where S.73 of the T.P. Act comes into operation but the charge of the mortgage is merely transferred from one item of property to another. (Drake-Brockman, J. C.) VISHWANATH v. SHANKARLAL. 34 I. C. 704 : 12 N. L. R. 20.

——S. 73—Land acquisition proceedings—Substituted security.

Where mortgaged property has been acquired under the Land Acquisition Act the mortgage could not be redeemed as the mortgaged property had been destroyed and had ceased to exist. But the mortgagee can sue for the proceeds 20. O. C. 256 Foll. (Stuart, J. C.) LADLI PRASAD v. NIZAM UD-DIN KHAN. 22 O. C. 342 : 54 I. C. 535 : 2 U. P. L. R. (J. C.) 25.

——S. 73—Land Acquisition—Mortgagor in possession—Right of mortgagee to compensation awarded.

Where during the pendency of a mortgagee's suit for sale a part of the mortgaged property is compulsorily acquired under the Land Acquisition Act, the mortgagee is entitled to an injunction restraining the mortgagor from taking the purchase-money out of the hands of the Land Acquistion Deputy Collector. 16 All. 78, Diss. 6 Mad. 344; 6 C. L. J. 745; 10 C. L. J. 150, Foll. (Coutts and Sultan Ahmad, JJ.) ASHUTOSH RAI v. BADU LAL JHUNGAR. 5 Pat. L. J. 650 : 59 I. C. 513 : 2 Pat. L. T. 110.

——Ss. 74 and 75.

See also (1) C. P. C., O. 34, R. 1.
(2) MORTGAGE—PRACTICE.

——Ss. 74, 75 and 98—Rights of puisne mortgagee—Anomalous mortgage—Right of puisne incumbrancer to redeem prior mortgage.

In the case of an anomalous mortgage the intention of the parties has to be gathered from the terms of the mortgage. If they show that the parties had no thought of sale, the mortgagee has no right to enforce a judicial sale. A puisne incumbrancer can always pay off a prior incumbrance, and the mortgagor who created both has neither interest nor right to object. (Lord Phillimore.) MADHO RAO v. GULAM MOHIUDDIN. 56 I. C. 717 : 15 N. L. R. 134.

——S. 74—Suit on prior mortgage—Puisne mortgage—Rights of.

Where a suit on a prior mortgage is brought without impleading the puisne mortgagee and decree and sale follow, the puisne mortgagee's rights to redeem, etc., remain unaffected. (Sir John Edge.) MAHOMMED IBRAHIM HOSSEIN KHAN v. AMBIKA PERSHAD SINGH. 39 Cal. 527 : 39 I. A. 68 : 11 M. L.T. 265. (1912) M. W. N. 367 : 9 A. L. J. 332 : 14 Bom. L. R. 280 : 16 C. W. N. 505 : 15 C. L. J. 411 : 14 I. C. 496 : 22 M. L. J. 468 (P. C.).

——S. 74—Prior mortgagee purchasing property—Suit for sale by subsequent mortgagee—Rights of parties—Form of decree.

Where a prior mortgagee has brought the properties to sale under his decree and purchased them himself he is entitled to hold up his mortgage as a shield against any attempt made by the subsequent mortgagee to deprive him of his rights. In a suit by the latter the form of decree should be that unless within the date fixed he pays in the amount due under the earlier mortgage the prior mortgagee would be entitled to ask for a dismissal of the suit. (Ryves and Daniels, JJ.) PHUL CHAND v. MT. SURJI. 1923 All. 457.

——Ss. 74 and 75—C. P. C O 34, Rr. 11 and 12—Suit on puisne mortgage—Prior mortgagee not impleaded—Equities in a suit for establishing priority of claim between purchasers at execution sales.

Prior and puisne incumbrancers and all necessary parties should be included in a suit to enforce a mortgage, but when the prior and puisne incumbrancers bring separate suits without impleading each other and property is bought by different persons at execution sales, it is incumbent on the Court in a suit for establishing a priority of claim as between the purchasers, impleading judgment-debtors and decree-holders, to grant relief according to the equities on the basis of the exact positions of the parties. (Piggott and Lindsay, JJ.) BABU LAL v. JALAKIA.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), Ss. 74 and 75.

37 I. C. 343 : 14 A. L. J. 1146.

——— S. 74—Mortgage—Prior and subsequent.

Suit by prior mortgagee suing the mortgagor without impleading puisne mortgagee and obtaining decree for foreclosure is not debarred of his right to redeem puisne mortgagee. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) PARASRAM SINGH v. PANDOHI. L. R. 3 A. 217.

——— Ss. 74 and 75—Rights of prior and subsequent mortgagees—Suit by prior mortgagees without impleading puisne mortgagors—Rights of purchaser—Improvemem—Subsequent suit by puisne mortgagee.

Where a prior mortgagee brought a suit for sale without impleading the puisne mortgagee and as a result of the decree the properties were sold and purchased, the rights of the puisne mortgagee are not affected. If the puisne mortgagee want to sell the property in a suit on his own mortgage the decree must direct redemption by the second mortgagee of the first mortgage or a sale if the purchaser of the property in execution of the decree on the prior mortgage does not wish to redeem the puisne mortgagee. 31 M. 425 Ref. There is no distinction in such cases between purchasers at court auction and those by private treaty. The auction-purchaser has no right to claim to be paid the value of his improvements before the puisne mortgagee could bring the property to sale. 31 M. 425 Ref. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) BUDHI LAL v. THE ADMINISTRATOR GENERAL OF MADRAS.
20 A. L. J. 216 : L. R. 3 A. 160 : 44 All. 418 : 1922 All 104.

——— S. 74—Subrogation—Two mortgages in favour of the same person —Third mortgagee paying off first mortgage—Effect.

The plaintiff held two mortgages in respect of the same property. The defendant a subsequent mortgagee of the same property satisfied the first mortgage in favour of the plaintiff. The plaintiff then brought a suit for sale of the mortgage property wherein the defendant claimed priority to the extent of the mortgage he had satisfied. Held the Transfer of Property Act does not purport to consolidate the law relating to mortgages in India but only defines and amends certain parts of the law. On principle there is difference between the case where a purchaser pays of a prior mortgage in favour of a third person and the case where he pays off a prior mortgage against the same creditor against whom he claims the right of subrogation. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) MOHAN LAL v. PREMRAJ.
L. R. 3 A. 145 : 4 U. P. L. R. (A.) 78 : 1922 All. 59.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), Ss. 74 and 75.

——— Ss. 74 and 95—Puisne mortgagee discharging prior mortgage--Right to reimbursement —Limitation—Contract Act, S. 69.

A puisne mortgagee discharging the prior mortgage acquire a charge on the property on the date of the payment of the prior mortgage and his right to reimbursement accrues to him on the date on which he pays off the amount of the decree and relieves the mortgagor of the obligation which, under the decree exists on them. (Banerji and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) BARA SHIB LAL v. MUNNI LAL.
3 U. P. L. R. (A.) 193 : 63 I. C. 604 : 19 A. L. J. 840 :

——— S. 74—Simple mortgagee paying off a prior mortgage—Mortgagor in possession—Effect.

Where on a simple mortgagee paying off a prior mortgagee of a portion of the property, the mortgagor and not the mortgagee took possession of the portion, the intention of the latter was not to keep alive the prior mortgage for his benefit. (Richards, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) HAR NARAIN v. HAR PRASAD. 23 I. C. 827: 12 A. L. J. 470.

——— Ss. 74 and 75—Suit on puisne mortgage —Rights of purchaser.

The purchaser of the equity of redmption who pays the decretal amount to save the mortgaged property from sale to the first mortgagee who was to be paid by the second mortgagee under an agreement with the mortgagor out of the consideration for his mortgage, can sue the second mortgagee for the amount and time begins from the date of payment by the purchaser. (Griffin and Ryves, JJ.) HAKIM ALI KHAN v. DALIP SINGH
19 I. C. 676 : 11 A. L. J. 478.

——— Ss. 74 and 101—Subrogation— Puisne mortgagee paying off prior mortgage—Prior mortgage whether kept alive—Presumption.

A puisne mortgagee paying off a prior mortgage is presumed to keep it alive for his benefit. (Knox and Karamat Husain, JJ.) SUNDAR LAL v. AMANATULLA. 11 I. C. 469.

——— S. 74—Subsequent mortgagee paying prior mortgage without receipt or assignment does not affect the extinguishment of the prior mortgage.

If the second mortgagee pays a prior mortgage but does not get it assigned nor does he get a receipt for the amount paid but only gets hold of the mortgage deed it cannot be said that the first mortgage is not extinguished and that the second mortgagee has no right to sue for the amount due on the first mortgage.(Macleod, C.J. and Shah, J.) NARAYAN BUDHAJI v. POSHA JAMA.
46 Bom. 1112 : 62 I. C. 477 : 23 Bom. L. R. 466.

——— S. 74—Suit on prior mortgage—Parties —Puisne mortgagees.

Where there is more than one mortgage upon a property the rule is redeem up, foreclose down, which means that the first mortgagee suing for foreclosure must make all subsequent mortgagees parties and afford them a chance of redemption. The first mortgagee can neither foreclose nor be redeemed by the original mortgagor without taking into account intermediate encumbrances. The intermediate mortgagees must be dealt with before the first mortgagee can come in touch with the mortgagor. (Beaman, J.) HOPE-MILLS, LTD. v. SIR COWASJEE J READY MONEY. 10 I. C. 748 : 13 Bom. L. R. 162.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), Ss. 74 and 75.

——S. 74—Applicability of—Decree on prior mortgage.

S. 74 applies even after a decree has been obtained on a prior mortgage. 27 A. 325, Rel. on. (Jenkins, C. J and Stephen, J.) BRAHAM DEO v. SUKUWAR DUBE. 24 I. C. 734.

——S. 74—Suit on prior mortgage—Second mortgagee previously in possession—Purchaser—Right of.

A first mortgagee having bought the property in a suit on his mortgage to which the second mortgagee was not a party is, if he purchases in execution, entitled to possession as against the latter even though he had previously obtained possession thereof by a sale under his own mortgage. 21 M. L. J. 213 Not Foll. (Coxe and Imam, JJ.) CHATTURDHARY CHOWDHURY v. GAYA PRASAD SINGH, 23 I. C. 791, ——Ss. 74 and 101—Discharge of prior mortgagee by puisne mortgagee—Right to sue on prior mortgage—Defence.

A puisne mortgagee who had discharged two prior mortgages sued to enforce all the three mortgages and the defence was that he had done so in pursuance of a contract for the purchase of the property itself. Held that assuming the contract to be true the plaintiff was entitled under the specific terms of S. 74 of the Contract Act to enforce the prior mortgages. 4 A. L. J. 349 : 6 A. L. J. 549. Dist. In cases where S. 74 of the T. P. Act applies, no question arises as to whether the payment was for the benefit of the mortgagor or the mortgagee. It is enough if the person claiming the benefit of the payment was a mortgagee at the time of the payment. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) GUJULUVA NAGAYYAR v. THUDUKUCHI GOVINDAYYAR.
17 L. W. 14 : 1923 Mad. 349.

——S. 74—Subrogation— Prior mortgage dischagred by subsequent mortgage—Partial discharge is not enough.

In order to sustain a claim for priority under S. 74 of the T. P. Act there must be a complete discharge of the prior mortgage and a partial discharge of the prior mortgage by the puisne mortgagee does not entitle him to subrogation. 35 M. 183 foll. : 38 A. 502 Dist. 41 M.L.J. 399 ; 36 C. 193 ; 48 I. C. 779 Ref, (Spencer and Odgers, JJ.) BRAHMANONDAM VENKATA LAXMINARAYANA RAO v. ALLAMNENI VENKAYYA.
31 M. L. T. 170 (H. C.) : 16 L. W. 216 : 43 M L. J. 284 : 1922 Mad. 441.

——S. 74—Redemption by subsequent mortgagee—Landlord's rights over the tenants of the prior mortgagee do not pass.

S. 74 gives the redeeming second mortgagee only the rights and powers of the redeemed mortgagee as such and does not pass any of his rights as a landlord. Subsidiary rights, such as lease hold rights created by the prior mortgagee come to an end ipso facto and any tenant continuing in possession must be treated as a trespasser. (Krishnan and Odgers, JJ.) ALAGIRISAMI v. AKKULU. 14 L. W. 399 : (1921) M. W. N. 752 : 69 I. C. 651 : 41 M. L. J. 462.

——Ss. 74 and 75—C.P.C. (1908), O. 34, R. 1—Rights of puisne mortgage.

Per Srinivasa Aiyangar, J :—A puisne mortgagee who is not made a party to a suit for sale of a prior encumbrance is entitled to insist on a decree for sale subject to the previous mortgage. Per Coutts Trotter, J.—Of any number of mortgagees, the later can always redeem the earlier, but cannot be compelled to do so and the earlier cannot reedeem the later save by consent. What is transferred to a mortgagee is a right to sell the mortgagor's interest as it stood at the date of the mortgage, subject only to this that in his suit he must make all subsequent mortgagees parties, if he wishes the sale to be free of their encumbrances. (Coutts Trotter and Srinivasa Aiyangar, JJ.) CHINNU PILLAI v. VENKATASAMI CHETTIAR. 40 Mad. 77 : (1916) 1 M. W. N. 245 : 19 M. L. T. 217 : 34 I. C. 507 : 30 M. L. J. 347.

——Ss. 74 and 91—Subrogation— Sub-mortgagee—Right to redeem prior mortgage—Suit to recover amount paid to discharge.

A sub-mortgagee of a second mortgagee's right is entitled to redeem the first mortgage and on redemption becomes entitled to his right by subrogation and to recover the amount due on the first mortgage also. S. 74 of the T. P. Act does not prevent the redemption of the kind mentioned herein. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) VENKATANARAYANASWAMI REDDY v. KANNI AMMAL. 14 M. L. T. 390 : 21 I. C. 560 : (1913) M. W. N. 903.

——S. 74—Subrogation—Prior mortgage—Decree—Payment by puisne mortgagee—Right of latter—Suit or execution.

A puisne mortgagee paying off a decree on a prior mortgage is only entitled to proceed by way of suit on the prior mortgage and not by execution of the decree. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) SUNDARA REDDIAR v. SUBBAIYA KOUNDAN. 13 M. L. T. 266 : (1913) M. W. N. 369 : 18 I. C. 610 : 24 M. L. J. 28.

——S. 74—Subrogation—Right to—Payment of portion by stranger.

A person who advances money to pay off a part of the first mortgage cannot have priority over the second mortgagee without being either a purchaser or a mortgagee. (Abdur Rahim and Spencer, JJ.) HANUMANTHAYAN AIYAR v. MEENAKSHI NAIDU. 35 Mad. 183 : 10 M. L. T. 380 : (1912) M. W. N. 158 : 12 I. C. 412 ; 22 M. L. J. 12.

——S. 74—Suit on prior mortgage—Puisne mortgage—Rights of—Sale by the former.

Where there are two mortgages to two different persons neither being usufructuary, and the first mortgagee makes the sale and purchases it himself, his possession cannot be disturbed by the second mortgagee. His right is not lost even if he is joined as a defendant to the suit by the second mortgagee who, however, has a right to redeem the prior mortgagee. The prior mortgagee (purchaser) can redeem the puisne mortgagee and if he fails to do so, property could be sold and balance can be paid to the purchaser. The puisne mortgagee's right to sell the property can be exercised even after the sale by the first mortgagee. But he must first redeem the prior mortgagee who can enforce his right of being redeemed or making sale even when he is a defendant. (Munro and Sankaran Nair, JJ.) VENKATAGIRI AIYAR v. SADAGOPACHARIAR.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), Ss. 74 and 75.

10 I. C. 83.

——S. 74—Subrogation—Subsequent mortgagee discharging prior mortgage.

A subsequent mortgagee discharging a prior mortgage is not entitled to stand in the shoes of the prior mortgage. If the prior mortgage had been executed by an additional party who was not concerned with the subsequent mortgage and there is no express intention to keep alive the first discharged mortgage and there is no intermediate mortgage from which benefit may be presumed, and the rate of interest is different, there is no presumption of keeping alive. 9 C. 961 ; 2 C. L. J. 288 ; 6 C. L. J. 134 and 20 M. L. T. 380 Foll. (Krishnaswamy Aiyar and Ayling, JJ.) SUNDARAMAYYA v. MUMMAREDI YANADAMMA.

9 M. L. T. 258 : 9 I. C. 139 : 21 M. L. J. 180.

——S. 74—Suit by prior mortgagee—Effect of not impleading latter—Rights of party.

Although in a suit for sale by a prior mortgagee, the puisne mortgagee is not impleaded and a sale takes place, the estate becomes vested in the purchaser, subject to redemption by the puisne mortgagee. His only remedy, however, is to redeem. (Hallifax, A. J. C) LAXMI CHAND v. NARAYAN. 6 N. L. J. 237 : 1923 Nag. 225.

——S. 74—Decree on prior mortgage—Payment by puisne mortgagee—Right to interest is also included.

Where a puisne mortgagee pays off the money due on a prior mortgage decree, he gets the rights of the prior mortgagee including the right to get the interest. The puisne mortgagee is not debarred by the rule of damdupat from getting interest at the rates prescribed by the mortgage decree. (Kotval, A. J. C.) NARAYAN v. NATHMAL.

17 N. L. R. 200 : 1922 Nag. 155.

——S. 74—Suit on puisne mortgage—First mortgagee (purchaser).

In a suit by puisne mortgagee to which the purchaser in execution of a decree on prior mortgage is party, the puisne mortgagee can only sell the property subject to prior mortgage. (Drake-Brockman, J. C.) GANGADAS v. BHIKAJI.

58 I. C. 295 : 16 N. L. R. 215.

——S. 74——Suit on prior mortgage—Foreclosure decree—Second mortgagee made party to suit—Form of decree—Lim. Act, Art. 132—Suit by puisne mortgagee paying off decretal amount and redeeming mortgage—Limitation—Commencement of.

Where a preliminary decree for foreclosure is passed in a case in which a puisne mortgagee is also joined as a party, the proper form of decree is that provided in form No. 6 of the Appendix D to the 1st Sch. of C. P. Code. By paying off the prior mortgagee, the puisne mortgagee becomes subrogated to the prior mortgagee's rights and under Art. 132 of the Lim. Act, time begins to run from the date of the prior mortgage and not from the date of payment. (Mitra, A.J.C.) NATHURAM v. SHEOLAL.

42 I. C. 796 : 13 N. L. R. 217.

——S. 74—Subrogation — Redemption of prior mortgage by puisne mortgagee.

Where a prior mortgage is redeemed by a subsequent mortgagee the latter acquires all the rights and powers of the prior mortgagee. (Stuart, J. C.) JAGMOHAN SING v. RAGHO RAM.

55 I. C. 638 : 7 O.L.J. 304.

——S. 74—Puisne mortgagee—Payment of prior simple mortgage—Rights.

A party who is in the position of a defendant may often rely on rights he might have been unable to enforce as plaintiff. A usufructuary mortgagee can use a simple mortgage redeemed by him as a shield against a person seeking redemption though on that date, a suit on the simple mortgage would be barred. He is also entitled to the interest accrued due since the date of payment of the money paid by him. (Daniels, A. J. C.) GAYA PRASAD v. GUR DAYAL. 6 O. L. J. 270 : 51 I. C. 549 : 22 O. C. 32.

——Ss. 74 and 95—Subrogation—What is equitable and statutory.

Subrogation is a substitution by operation of law to the rights and interests of the mortgagee by virtue of redemption and may be as of right, such as is referred to in Ss. 74 and 95 of the T.P. Act, or equitable or conventional, such as where a payment is made by a surety of a debtor, or is made by another under an agreement, express or implied, with the debtor or creditor or to protect a subsisting interest which could not otherwise be protected. 36 C 193, App. (Piggott, J. C. and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) SOHAN LAL v. JOT SINGH. 20 I. C. 458 : 16 O. C. 148.

——S. 74—Rights of prior mortgagee—Possession—Possessory right unaffected by subsequent mortgage—Usufructuary mortgagee, right to resist a suit for possession by a prior mortgagee—Accrual of right to take possession—Priority.

Where certain property was first mortgaged to the defendant under a simple mortgage and then mortgaged to the plaintiff under a covenant giving him possession in certain events and the plaintiff got a right to possession under the terms of his mortgage, but before he could obtain actual possession, the defendant took a subsequent usufructuary mortgage of the same property in lieu of the money due under his previous simple mortgage. Held, in a suit by plaintiff to recover possession under the terms of his mortgage, that the defendant though he held a prior simple mortgage would not be entitled to resist the plaintiff's suit for possession; the mere execution of a subsequent usufructuary mortgage would not take away from the plaintiff his right to take possession, which had already accrued to him prior to the execution of the usufructuary mortgage to the defendant. (Piggott, J. C.) JANGU SINGH v. GANESH RAM.

14 I. C. 735.

——— S. 74—Subrogation—Right when can be claimed.

The right of subrogation can be claimed only by a person who, though not primarily liable to discharge a debt, discharges it for his own protection or at the request of the party ultimately bound, and that right cannot be claimed by the mortgagor or by any person who has assumed the payment of the mortgage debt without having any interest to protect. A purchaser of the mortgaged premises, not under a covenant to pay, who pays off incumbrances on the property, is also entitled to the benefit of the securities though the purchase may be afterwards set aside.(Coutts and Das, JJ.) SIBANAND v. BABU JAGMOHAN LAL.
3 P.L.T. 533 : 1 P. 780: 1922 Pat. 331 : 1922 P. 499.

——— S. 74—Subrogation—Creditor advancing money to pay off prior mortgage decree—Rights of as against mesne encumbrancers.

Where in a suit by a prior mortgagee for sale impleading the mortgagor as well as the puisne mortgagee as parties, a decree for sale is passed and the puisne mortgagee fails to redeem with the result that the properties are brought to sale in execution, it is open to a third person under an agreement with the mortgagor to pay off the decree amount due to the prior mortgagee and get himself subrogated to his rights. It is immaterial that the puisne mortgagee is not given notice of the payment to the judgment-creditor. (Das and Bucknill, JJ.) MOULVI MAHOMED MUSA v. EDUL SINGH. 3 Pat. L T. 232 : 1922 P. 92.

——— S. 74—Right of puisne mortgagee—Redemption.

A puisne mortgagee has a right to redeem the prior mortgagee. The prior mortgagee obtained symbolical possession in execution of his decree. The puisne mortgagee was not a party to it. Held the prior mortgagee cannot eject him if he is ready to redeem him. (Mullick, J.) BISWAMBAR LAL v. JHULAN RAM TEWARI. 35 I. C. 87.

——— Ss. 74 and 75—Puisne mortgagee—Rights—Second mortgage after decree on the first mortgage.

Where a second mortgage was executed after the decree for sale on the first mortgage the second mortgagee has no rights other than those of his mortgagor and as the latter's right of redemption of the first mortgage was determined by the decree for sale the second mortgagee has no remedy against the land but is only entitled to a personal decree against the mortgagor. What was sold at the sale in execution of the decree on the first mortgage was the right, title and interest of the mortgagor at the time of the first mortgage. (Pratt, J. C. and Crouch, A. J. C.) KANAYRAM v. TIRITH SINGH. 31 I. C. 37 : 9 S. L. R. 86.

——— Ss. 74 and 75—Rights of puisne mortgagee—Interest.

A puisne mortgagee suing to redeem a prior mortgage is not entitled to get the benefit of a reduction in the contract rate of interest allowed in the prior mortgagee's decree to which he was not a party, 18 C. 164 P. C.; 31 M. 258 Foll. 11 C. W. N. 403, Dist. (Pratt, J. C. and Fawcett, A. J. C.) AWAKMALL v. GOKAL SINGH.
19 I. C. 614 : 6 S. L. R. 227.

——— S. 75—Suit for sale by puisne mortgagee—Prior mortgagee in possession under decree for foreclosure.

Where a puisne mortgagee sued for sale against the defendants who were in possession under a decree for foreclosure on foot of their prior mortgage. Held, that the defendants could hold up their prior mortgage as a shield, and the plaintiff was entitled to redeem by reason of not having been impleaded in the suit on the prior mortgage. There is no difference between the case of property which has been transferred by sale under a simple mortgage and property which has been transferred under a decree for foreclosure. In neither is the old mortgage sought to be enforced; it is held up as a shield only. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) GULAM SUKHDAR KHAN v. SUKHI.
38 I. C. 573 : 15 A. L. J. 190.

——— S. 75—Prior and subsequent mortgages—Decrees separately obtained on—Sale in execution of both decrees—Conflict of titles—Determination of.

Where A, the prior mortgagee, sued in 1910 and B, the subsequent mortgagee sued in 1911 on their respective mortgages each without impleading the other as party to his suit and in the Court sales that followed, the plaintiff and one C became the respective purchasers, but C obtained actual possession and the plaintiff obtained only formal possession of the mortgaged property whereupon the plaintiff sued C and B for the amount due on his mortgage. Held, (1) that C must either surrender possession to the plaintiff or pay up the mortgage amount; (2) that as the right of sale of the mortgagees had been exhausted by their having brought the properties to sale already, the only question to be determined was the respective rights of the rival auction-purchasers and (3) that limitation for the suit begins to run only from the date of the plaintiff's purchase. 5 C. 265 : 5 C. 269, Dist. (Piggott and Lindsday, J.) BABULAL v. JALAKIA. 37 I. C. 343 : 14 A. L. J. 1146.

——— S. 75—Prior and subsequent mortgagees—Decree not providing for redemption—Failure to redeem prior and subsequent mortgagee—Right to bring suit.

Where a mortgage decree provides for redemption by subsequent mortgagees but no priod is fixed for the redemption of each other, any subsequent mortgagee who pays off the decretals amount may stand on foot of the mortgage paid off as a shield against the other puisne mortgagees. 10 C. 1035. Foll. (Karamat Hussain and Chamier, JJ.) KANHAI LAL v. HULAS SINGH.
13 I. C. 939 : 9 A. L. J. 29.

——— S. 75—Property—Extent of.

Where four adult brothers mortgaged the family properties on behalf of themselves and as guardian of their minor brothers and subsequently the four brothers mortgaged it to another person. Held, that the first mortgagee had a priority to the extent of his mortgage over the subsequent encumbrancer and that the first mortgagee was entitled to be paid the full amount of his mortgage out of the sale-proceeds of the properties. (Teunon and Newbould, JJ.) GOPI NATH MONDAL v. ASHUTOSH GHOSH. 44 I. C. 1003.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 75.

——S. 75—Prior and subsequent mortgages—Puisne mortgagee also a prior mortgagee—Whether should set up and plead his prior mortgage also when added as pro forma defendant.

Where a puisne mortgagee who has also a prior mortgage is added as a party to a mortgage suit he must set up both the mortgages. But if he is only a prior mortgagee and not a subsequent mortgagee he need not appear and defend his rights under his prior mortgage. 39 C. 527 Dist. (Holmwood and Carnduff, JJ.) KISHEN DAYAL GIR v. MAHOMED AMIRUL HUSEIN.
26 I. C. 673 : 19 C. W. N. 942.

——S.75—Subsequent charges—Suit on mortgage—Decree for possession fixing charges—Subsequent suit for redemption—Amount due—Whether res judicata—Mortgagor whether liable to redeem subsequent charges.

A property was mortgaged for Rs. 500 in 1891, and further charges were created on it by three deeds for Rs. 90, 98 and 76 respectively. The plaintiff who purchased the equity of redemption from the sons of the mortgagor sued for redemption. The mortgagee had previously brought a suit upon the mortgage of 1891 and obtained a decree for possession, the charge on the land being fixed at Rs. 700. Held, the question of the amount due on the mortgage of 1891 was res judicata and that mortgagee's heirs could not claim interest for the period during which they were out of possession. 101 P. R. 1891; 66 P. R. 1912, Dist. The subsequent deeds which created charges on the same land did not confer on the mortgagee any right to possession but simply a right to recover the principal and interest due and, therefore, the mortgagor could not be compelled at the time of redemption to pay off the amounts due under those deeds. 25 M. 108; 21 M. L. J. 562, Dist. (Scott-Smith and Broadway, JJ.) PHULA SINGH v. BUR CHAND. 39 I. C. 250: 60 P. W. R. 1917.

——Ss. 75 and 101—Mortgage—Subrogation—Puisne mortgagee paying prior mortgagee for protection of his interest—Rights of.

The puisne mortgagee is on payment of a sum subrogated to the rights of the prior mortgagee if his interest cannot be adequately protected except by payment of the sum to a prior mortgagee. 46 C. 193 (221), Foll. (Scott-Smith and Broadway, JJ.) AMIR BEG v. GHULAM NABI. 38 I. C. 893: 1 P. R. 1917.

——S. 75—Suit on prior mortgage—Decree without making a subsequent usufructnary mortgagee a party—Purchase by him—Subsequent mortgagee renewing his mortgage after decree—Effect—Suit for possession by first mortgagee.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 75.

When there is competition for possession between a first mortgagee auction-purchaser and the puisne usufructuary mortgagee who renewed his mortgage after decree in the first mortgagee's suit and was not a party to it, then in the absence of proof of an intention on the part of the usufructuary mortgagee to give up his security under the first deed, he must be presumed to have intended to keep it alive unless there is clear and cogent evidence that the mortgagee intended to extinguish his previous mortgage which is always a question of fact. The principle by which persons renewing prior incumbrances are protected against intervening incumbrances applies also to intervening decrees under which property has been sold. (Abdur Rahim, Offg. C.J. and Krishnan, J.) SREE MAHANT PRAYAG DOSS JEE VARU v. RAVUR CHENGAMMA NAIDU.
20 M. L. T. 295: (1916) 2 M.W.N. 288: 37 I. C. 456: 4 L. W. 477.

——S. 75—Prior and subsequent mortgages—Decree and sale by both mortgagees—Rights and liabilities of mortgagees—Priority—Res-judicata—Lis pendens.

Where the first mortgagee sues on his mortgage without impleading the subsequent mortgagee, obtains a decree and himself purchases the property in Court auction, and the second mortgagee afterwards brings the same property to sale in execution of a decree on his mortgage subject to the first mortgagee's rights (the first mortgagee being a party to the suit). Held, that the purchaser in the second sale takes no interest as against the first purchaser, as once the property is sold at the instance of one mortgagee, there is no further saleable interest left in the judgment-debtor to be sold again. 32 M. 485 Foll, If in such a case the first mortgagee is disturbed in his possession by the second mortgagee and the former brings a suit for confirmation of his possession such a suit will not be res judicata by reason of the second mortgagee's suit as the decree in that suit expressly preserved*A's* right; nor will the first mortgagee's purchase be affected by the doctrine of Lis pendens. 32 M. 485, Foll. The proper course for the non-impleaded second mortgagee is to redeem the first and then the purchaser in execution of the decree on the first mortgage can redeem the two mortgages vested in the second mortgagee. And if the purchaser does not redeem the puisne mortgagee who has obtained by redemption the right of the first mortgagee, the properties may be sold, the mortgagees paid and the balance paid to the purchaser as the representative of the motrgagor. The prior mortgagee cannot be deprived of his rights to require the puisne mortgagee to redeem him and in default to enforce his right by sale or foreclosure and there is no reason why he should not be allowed to do this even as a defendant in a mortgage suit. 21 M. L. J. 213, Doubt. 32 M. 485, Foll. (Munro and Sankaran Nair, JJ.) VENKATAGIRI AIYAR v. SADAGOPACHARIAR. 14 I. C. 449: 22 M. L. J. 129.

——S. 75—Subrogation—Mortgagee compounding with creditor.

Where by a mortgage-deed, the mortgagee undertook to discharge a debt due to a creditor from the mortgagor and in consequence thereof compound with the creditor for a sum less by Rs. 200 than the sum actually due, held, that in the absence of a contract to the contrary the mortgagor was not entitled to the benefit of the remission even though such a remission was made at the instance of the creditor. (White, C J. and Munro, J.) BACHU CHENCHURAMAYYA v. AKKARAJU SUBBARAMAYYA. 9 I. C. 208 : 9 M. L. T. 79.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 74 and 75.

——— S. 75—Prior and subsequent mortgagees —Suit for foreclosure by subsequent mortgagee—Purchase of equity of redemption by prior mortgagee—Effect of.

Where during the pendency of a suit for foreclosure by a puisne mortgagee, the prior mortgagee obtains a conveyance of the equity of redemption, the puisne mortgagee as representative of the mortgagor had a better equity to redeem the prior mortgagee. (Mittra, A.J.C.) KARNIRAM NATHURAM v. HARDEO JAGANNATH. 51 I. C. 374.

——— S. 75 — Puisne mortgagee—Right to redeem—Mesne inoumbrancer.

A puisne mortgagee has power to redeem a prior one, even where there is a mesne incumbrance. (Dalal and Simpson, A. J. C.) DUBER v. RAM SAHAI. 10 O. L. J. 305 : 1924 Oudh 56.

——— S. 75—Sub-mortgage—Subsequent mortgage with knowledge—Right of puisne mortgagee.

Where a prior sub-mortgagee under an unregistered deed is in possession of the mortgaged property, which is known to the subsequent mortgagee, the former is entitled to obtain redemption before the latter can take possession of the mortgaged property. (Stuart, J. C.) BISHAL v. PANCHAM. 38 I. C. 465: 3 O. L. J. 699.

——— S. 75—Mortgage—Decree for sale obtained by a prior mortgagee without impleading the puisne mortgagee—Latter in his subsequent suit for redemption impeaching the accounts contained in the previous decree—Proper procedure.

In cases where the correctness of the account contained in a previous decree to which the person seeking redemption was not a party is impugned, the proper course is to proceed on the basis of the mortgage to find out whether the amount then declared to be due to the mortgagee was excessive and if it was, to re-adjust the account as if no such decree had been obtained. (Kanhaiya Lal, A.J.C.) GOURI SHANKAR SINGH v. BAJRANG BAHADUR SINGH. 35 I.C. 434 : 19 O.C. 39.

——— S. 75—Rights of puisne mortgagee—Sale of property.

Puisne mortgagee can sell the equity of redemption subject to the prior mortgagee's rights though a decree for sale is passed in favour of the prior mortgagee to which the puisne mortgagee is not a party. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) KUNDAN LAL v. WAJIR HUSAIN. 32 I. C. 359: 2 O. L. J. 480.

——— S. 75—Prior and subsequent mortgages —Suit and sale on prior mortgage—Rights of subsequent mortgagee.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 74 and 75.

Where a prior mortgagee brought a suit on his mortgage and got a decree for sale of the mortgaged properties without impleading the subsequent mortgagee and in execution sale he purchased some of the properties mortgaged to him and thereafter the subsequent mortgagee brought a suit for sale of the properties included in his mortgage making the prior mortgagee a party to the suit. Held, that the subsequent mortgagee was entitled to a sale of the properties mortgaged to him some of which had been purchased at the prior sale, conditionally on his redeeming the property purchased by the prior mortgagee at the execution sale by paying off the proportionate amount due to him as calculated by their respective values. Case-law considered. (Chamier, J C. and Evans, A. J. C.) SURAJ KISHAN v. AJUDHYA PRASAD SINGH. 27 I. C. 960 : 2 O. L. J. 73.

——— S. 75—Prior and subsequent mortgages —Mortgage of property not in the possession of mortgagor—Redemption by assignee of mortgage not allowed in suit for possession by mortgagee —Mortgagee bound to pay money paid for redemption of prior-mortgage—Suit for possession a suit for specific performance.

One K mortgaged in 1886 a share in village with possession to one J. Subsequently, in 1898, the same share was mortgaged with possession to the plaintiff for a term of 80 years, it being expressly stipulated that the mortgagor shall not redeem until the expiry of the said period. In 1905 K sold the property to the defendant who then paid off J's mortgage of 1886 and took possession of the property mortgaged. Plaintiff now brought a suit for possession on the basis of the mortgage of 1898. Held, that although the property was not in the possession of the mortgagor in 1898, when he mortgaged it to the plaintiff, yet that circumstance could not prevent the plaintiff from recovering possession of the property mortgaged to him. Held, further that the suit for possession could not be treated as a suit for the specific performance of the contract, and that the defendant could not be allowed to redeem as he had not offered to redeem the plaintiff's mortgage nor paid the Court-fee payable for a prayer for redemption of the mortgage. Held also, that it was premature to consider whether the provision that the mortgage shall not be redeemed for 80 years should be enforced or not, as the question of redemption could arise only after the plaintiff's taking possession. Held, lastly, that the plaintiff before obtaining possession of the property mortgaged, must pay to the defendants the amount of money paid by them to the mortgagee of 1886. (Chamier, J. C.) KANCHAN SINGH v. JAFRI BEGAM. 10 I. C. 190.

——— S. 75—Prior and subsequent mortgagees —Puisne mortgagee—Rights of.

If the prior mortgagee is in possession as lessee subsequent to the puisne mortgage and if the property is sold for default of payment of revenue and he then purchases it, he does so subject to the burden of the puisne mortgage. (Das and Adami, JJ.) KISHUNDAYAL BHAGAT v. MAHABIR BHAGAT. 5 Pat. L. J. 492 : 58 I. C. 291 : 1 P. L. T. 711 : 1920 Pat. 277 : 8 U. P. L. R. (Pat.) 208.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 76.

——— S. 76.

S. 76 [Miscellaneous.]
S. 76 (a) [Management of Property.]
S. 76 (b) [Collection of Rents.]
S. 76 (c) [Payment of Government Revenue.]
S. 76 (d) [Repairs and Improvements.]
S. 76 (f) [Policy of Insurance.]
S. 76 (g) [Account of sums-spent.]
S. 76 (h) [Occupation Rent.]
S. 76 (i) [Accounts of sums received.]

S. 76 [Miscellaneous.]

———S. 76—Possession taken with consent of mortgagor—Liability.

Where a mortgagee takes possession of mortgaged property with consent of mortgagor according to agreement between the parties the mortgage does not become a usufructuary mortgage but the mortgagee's liability arises under S. 76. (Mookerjee and Cuming, JJ.) AFSAR SHEIK v. SAURAVA SUNDARI DASI. 40 I. C. 371 : 25 C. L. J. 560.

———Ss. 76 and 68—Accounts—Redemption—Mortgagee unable to give possession—Recovery of debt.

If the mortgagee cannot for any reason restore to the mortgagor possesssion of the whole of the mortgaged property, it does not follow that he cannot recover the mortgage debt. The proper course in such a case is to debit the mortgagee with the value of the land not restored, in taking accounts under S. 76, T. P. Act. (Wallis, C. J. and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) KOTTAYAT GOPALA MENON v. KOLAT NARAYANA KURUP. 5 L. W. 339 : 40 I. C. 70 : (1917) M. W. N. 289.

———S. 76—Mortgagee in possession—Denial of mortgagor's title—Estoppel.

There is no room for controversy that a mortgagee cannot be permitted to resist a claim for redemption on the ground that that the mortgagor had no title to the property included in the mortgage. As between a mortgagor and a mortgagee the attornment by the latter to the superior landlord cannot in any way prejudice the rights of the former. (Mookerjee and Richardson, JJ.) ABHURAM SIL v. HARACHAND DAS. 29 I.C. 746.

———S. 76—Mortgagee holding under prior lease—Redemption—Position of mortgagee.

The possession of a usufructuary mortgagee who after the mortgage-money has been paid off continues in possession under a lease previously given him by the mortgagor is that of a tenant and not that of a mortgagee. (Abdur Rahim and Napier, JJ.) DUDDAMPUDI VENKATRAYUDU v. BIKKINA SUBBARAYUDU. 24 M. L. T. 376 : (1918) M. W. N. 643 : 49 I. C. 179 . 8 L. W. 599.

———S. 76—Lease given by mortgagee binding on mortgagor after redemption — Mortgagor's position after redemption.

A lease given by the mortgagee in possession as being incidental to the management of the mortgaged property is binding on the mortgagor even after redemption unless he brings the tenancy to a close by a regular suit. The lessees would continue as tenants from year to year under the mortgagor and liable to be evicted by him if the deed of redemption assures the mortgagor of the extinguishment of all the mortgagee's rights and transfers the rights to rent from the mortgagee to the mortgagor. 25 M 507 ; 8 A. L. J. 802, Foll. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) CHINAPPA THEVAN v. PAZHANIAPPA PILLAI, 18 M. L. T. 492 : 31 I. C. 630 : 2 L. W. 1132.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 76 (a)—Management of Property.

———S. 76—Usufructuary mortgage—Lease by mortgagor—Effect.

A mortgagor taking a lease from the usufructuary mortgagee is in the position of a tenant and the nature of the possession is not changed till the mortgage is redeemed. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) SUBRAYA KINI v. RAMAPPA ADIGE. 17 I. C. 265 : (1912) M. W. N. 907.

———S. 76—Mortgagee entering into possession of mortgaged proterty—Possession if adverse.

Where mortgagee takes possession of the property mortgaged, with or without the consent of the mortgagor, his possession is only that of a mortgagee and cannot be adverse to that of the mortgagor. 28 A. 496 P. C. ; 34 A. 213 P. C. ; 32 C. 296 P. C., Foll. (Stanyon, A.J.C.) AWADH SINGH v. NANHAI. 46 I. C. 872.

———S. 76—Mortgagor put in possession as tenant—Arrears of rent— Maintainability of suit.

A suit by the mortgagee for arrears of rent from the mortgagor is maintainable separately without being included in a suit on the mortgage (Stuart, J. C.) MAHADEO v. BHIKHAN. 17 I. C. 424 : 15 O. C. 291.

———Ss. 76 and 101—Applicability of—Extinguishment of mortgage.

S. 76 of the T. P. Act does not apply to a case where the mortgage has in fact become extinct. (Roe and Coutts, JJ.) BASAWAN SINGH v. GANGAPHAL RAI. 47 I. C. 224.

S. 76 (a) [Management of Property.]

——— S. 76 (a)—Tenancy created by usufructuary mortgagee whether binds mortgagor after description—Remedy of mortgagor — Tenancy created by usufructuary.

Lease by mortgagee in possession is binding on the mortgagor after redemption so far as the relationship of landlord and tenant continues ; the mortgagor can put an end to such a tenancy only by a regular suit under the Tenancy Act The mortgagor is not bound to recognise the lease for any period after redemption. (Piggott, J.) COLLECTOR OF BASTI v. SARMAN GHARAK. 11 I. C. 817 : A. L. J. 802.

———S. 76 (a) and (h)—Mortgagee, in possession—Duties of—Principles.

The intention of parties in a case where the mortgagee is put in possession is merely that the land shall be properly cultivated and that the mortgagee in possession of the land shall put it to the best use so that a fair amount of profits may be realised and credited towards interest on the principal mortgage-debts. Where the mortgagee is in possession of land, it is his duty to keep accounts. If he has neglected to cultivate the land it is his fault. The intention in such a case is that profits should go towards interest, by the land being put to the best use. (Chevis, J.) ZORA v. CHANDU. 1923 Lah. 71 (2).

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 76 (a)—Management of Property.

——S. 76 (a)—Lease created by mortgagee—Termination of—Redemption by the mortgagor—Obiter.

A lease created by a mortgagee determines ipso facto on redemption by the mortgagor or on the purchase of the equity of redemption. The position, is, however, different where the mortgage is only assigned. (Spencer, Krishnan and Srinivasa Aiyangar, JJ.) GOVINDASWAMI PILLAI v. PETHAPERUMAL CHETTY. 44 I.C. 839.

——S. 76 (a)—Profits from land — Income from Sindi trees—When to be taken in account.

It cannot be said as a rule that Tadi from Sindi trees is ordinarily a source of income and that the mortgagor of land on which there are Tadi trees can claim any profits on account of Tadi which it is possible to tap from the trees, though he can claim the lease money if it is proved that the trees were actually leased in any year. (Kotwal, A.J.C.) SHAM RAO v. PANDURANG.
6 N.L.J. 93 : 1923 Nag. 137 (2).

——S. 76 (a) and (b)—Rights of mortgagee.

A usufructuary mortgage-deed provided that after payment of revenue and other village expenses, the collections made by the mortgagee should be appropriated towards the interest on the mortgage-money ; that if the balance of the collections was insufficient, he should prepare an account every year and the mortgagor should either pay the difference or execute a separate bond for the difference at the same rate of interest as the mortgage deed and that if the profits were more than the interest, the excess should be paid to the mortgagor. No accounts were taken in any year between the mortgagor and the mortgagee. In a suit for redemption. Held, that the mortgagee was responsible, not for the total rental but only for so much as he had actually collected and what he might have failed to collect through his negligence and that the mortgagee was not entitled to compound interest on the amount which had remained unpaid after deducting the profits for each year. (Mohammad, A. J. C.) GAURI NATH v. FATEH SINGH.
38 I. C. 537 : 3 O. L. J. 689.

——S. 76 (a)—Mortgage in possession—Power of, to grant leases—Raiyati land—Status of tenant.

A person in possession, as usufructuary mortgagee of the Zamindari right in certain lands, has the power in law to induct a tenant into the tenanted land subject to such a mortgage when the whole or part of such tenanted land became unlet or vacant and without a tenant. Such tenant when inducted by the mortgagees acquires non-occupancy rights in the tenanted land subject to such mortgage. (Atkinson, J.) SHEO BARAT SINGH v. PADARATH MAHTON. 52 I. C. 473.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 76 (c)—Payment of Government Revenue.

S. 76 (b) [Collections of Rents.]

——S. 76 (b)—Accounts—Possession of mortgagee under invalid agreement.

Where a mortgagee has obtained possession under an invalid agreement for sale his possession may be deemed to be that of a mortgagee when it is established that the agreement was inoperative in law and he may be called upon to account for the rents and profits as if he were the mortgagee in possession. 1 Giff 421 Ref. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) BAMA CHARAN CHAKRABARTI v. KISHORE MOHAN ROY.
35 C.L.J. 58 : 1922 Cal. 114.

S. 76 (c) [Payment of Government Revenue.]

——S. 76 (c)—Enhancement of Government Revenue.

A mortgagee in possession was to pay Government revenue and a malikana and in case of enhancement of Government revenue to deduct the enhancement from the malikana. The Government revenue was enhanced to such an extent that the enhancement exceeded the malikana. Held the mortgagees were entitled to deduct the enhancement from the malikana allowance. But if the enhancement exceeded the malikana the mortgagee was not entitled to add the excess to the mortgage amount. Enhancement of revenue necessarily implies enhancement of rents and the mortgagee is not liable to account for such enhancement of rent. (Richards, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) MAHARAJ SINGH v. LALTA PRASAD.
57 I.C. 774 : 17 A.L.J. 93.

——S. 76 (c)—Landlord and tenant — Landlord ejecting on a decree for arrears of rent—Effect on mortgage.

Where a Zemindar has obtained a decree for arrears of rent and has in execution obtained ejectment of the mortgagor tenant in the Revenue Court and subsequently the mortgagee becomes a tenant under an ordinary patta in a suit by mortgagor for redemption, the contention of the mortgagee was that the mortgagee ceased to exist and no suit for redemption lies. It was held that the mortgagors were entitled to set up the plea of invalidity of the sale without taking formal steps to get rid of the Revenue Court proceedings which were actually found to be collusive and fraudulent and as such had no legal validity. (Walsh, J.) BENI MADHO v. BASANTO KUNBI.
35 I. C. 252.

——S. 76 (c)—Rent — Mortgagee escaping payment of rent—Accounts.

A mortgagee who was in possession and who was to take the profits after paying rent by way of interest, escaped from the payments for certain years. Held, that the mortgagor could not deduct that amount from the money due. (Griffin, J.) FAKIR MUHAMMAD v. ALI SHER KHAN.
10 I. C. 113.

——S. 76 (c)—'Charge of a public nature'—Tagavi advance.

A Tagavi advance granted to the mortgagor by the Government is a 'charge of a public nature' within the meaning of S. 76 (c) of the Act. (Scott, C. J. and Heaton, J.) CHITTA BHULLA v. BAI JAMNI. 40 Bom. 483 : 37 I. C. 295 : 18 Bom. L. R. 438.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 76 (c)—Payment of Government Revenue.

——S. 76 (c)—Duty to pay arrears of rent —Rent sale.

Under S. 76 (c) of the T. P. Act, the mortgagees were responsible for the sale of the properties in execution of decrees for arrears of rent, even though they were for a period prior to the execution of the kobala, and that, therefore plaintiffs (mortgagors) were entitled to recover those plots. 11 Mad. 254, Rel. (Chaudhuri and Cuming, JJ.) KSHETRA NATH ADHIKARI v. DURGAPADA MANDAL. 52 I. C. 902.

——S. 76 (c)—Mortgagee in possession—Liability to pay enhanced Government revenue.

It is the mortgagee in possession and not the mortgagor that is liable to pay the enhanced Government revenue. 25 I. C. 641, Foll. (Spencer and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) NANU NAIR v. KANTAN ASHTA MOORTHI. 29 M. L. J. 772 : 29 I. C. 386 : 2 L. W. 509.

——S. 76 (c)—Sale of property—Default of payment on revenue, when liable to be set aside

S. 76 (c) does not apply where the mortgage provides for payment of the Government revenue by the mortgagor. Where a mortgage, expressly provided that the Government revenue need not be paid by the mortgagee the property was put up to sale for arrears of revenue and purchased by the mortgagee in a suit for redemption by the assignee or the mortgagor. Held, that as the mortgagee was not bound by law to pay the revenue, the purchaser was not guilty of any fraud and the sale could not be set aside. (Sankaran Nair and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) OOPPATH NARAMPARAMBATH KUTTAN v. KOYAKUTTY. 29 I.C. 344.

——S. 76 (c)—Government revenue for other lands— Time of redemption.

Government revenue due upon other lands contained in the same patta issued in the mortgagor's name is revenue due on the mortgaged land also and therefore a mortgagee paying such revenue under S. 76 (c), T. P. Act is entitled to the amount on redemption. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) GUNNAM DORAYYA v. VADAPALLI AYYAMACHARYALU. 16 M. L. T. 226 : (1914) M. W. N. 648 : 25 I. C. 797 : 27 M L. J. 295.

——S. 76 (c)—Government revenue—Contract to the contrary.

Where out of the amounts and profits due to the mortgagor by a mortgagee in possession under a deed of mortgage a fixed amount was allowed for Government revenue and this was subsequently enhanced by Government. Held, that this constituted a contract to the contrary under S. 76 (c) and the mortgagee was not bound to pay the amount of enhancement. 14 I. C. 590; 18 M. L. J. 31 Dist. ; 17 M. L. J. 517, Foll. (Oldfield, J.) PANAMBATTA KALATHIL KUNCHU MENON v. KALATHINPADIKIL NARAYANAN EZHUTESSAN. 25 I. C. 641 : 16 M. L. T. 317.

——S. 76 (c)—Government revenue—Kanom —Stipulation for payment by kanomdar—Enhancement of Government revenue—Liability of kanomdar—Improvements—Reclamation.

Where the kanom tenant is liable to pay the actual Government revenue during the period of his holding, he is liable to pay the enhanced assessment. Every document must be construed in the light of the surrounding circumstances which would include the usage with regard to the relation between the parties to the document. 17 M. L J. 517 ; 18 M. L, J. 31, Ref. and Rel. Quaere. Whether S. 76 of the T. P. Act applies to the determination of the liability of a kanom tenant in Malabar. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) THIRUMATHUR v. SWAMINATHA PATTAR KRUAKAR. 16 I. C. 184.

——S. 76 (c)—Revenue—Liability of usufructuary mortgages.

In the absence of a contract to the contrary an usufructuary mortgagee must pay enhanced Government revenue even if it was not contemplated at the date of the mortgage. 18 M. L. J. 31, Foll ; 14 M. L. J. 488 ; 17 M. L. J. 517 Diss. (Ayling and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) KOLLI VALAPPIL v. NATUWATHPAPU. 14 I. C. 590.

——S. 76 (c)—Enhanced revenue—Incidence.

The burden of enhanced revenue of the mortgaged property falls on the mortgagee unless a distinct contract to the contrary is proved. (Abdur Rahim, J.) NATHUVATHA PAPPU v. KARNAVAN RAVUNNI NAIR. (1911, 2 M. W. N. 236 : 10 M. L. T. 571 : 12 I. C. 140 : 22 M. L. J. 151.

——S. 76 (c)—Government revenue — Payment provided for on redemption—Charge.

Where the mortgage deed provided that if revenue should be assessed in future, the mortgagor would pay it and would not be entitled to redeem without paying it, held, the intention of the parties was to make it a charge. Under S. 76 (c) the mortgagee in possession is primarily responsible for payment of the revenue (Daniels and Lyle, J. C.) MUHAMMAD HADI v. PARBATI. 25 O. C. 2 : 9 O. L. J. 312 : 1922 Oudh 91.

——S. 76 (c)—Enhanced land revenue—Usufructuary mortgagee—Redemption.

Where by a usufructuary mortgage the mortgagee was to retain the profits after paying the land revenue in lieu of interest and the land revenue is subsequently enhanced, he is entitled on redemption to claim the difference between the original and the enhanced land revenue if the amount of the profits had been reduced thereby. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs.) CHARU CHANDRA BISWAS v. LALLAN SINGH. 40 I. C. 42 : 4 O. L. J. 148.

——S. 76 (c)—Enhanced Government revenue —Usufructuary mortgage—Portion retained by mortgagor for rent — Enhancement of land revenue—Right of parties.

Where a mortgagor takes back the property usufructuarily mortgaged on a lease undertaking to pay rent but makes default therein, the mortgagee is entitled to claim payment of their amount as a condition precedent to redemption. Where in such a case the usufructuary mortgagee undertakes to pay the land revenue himself and the revenue was enhanced which possibility was well within the knowledge of the parties at the time they entered into the transaction, the mortgagee is liable to pay the enhanced rate and is not entitled at time of redemption to claim the difference between the original and the enhanced rate which he had to pay. 14 I. C. 590, R. 22 B. 440 Dist. (Stuart, J.C.) AKHAR KHAN v. KALE KHAN. 39 I. C. 437 : 4 O. L. J. 118.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 76 (d)—Repairs and Improvements.

S. 76 (d) [Repairs and Improvements.]

——S. 76 (d)—Improvement made by a mortgagee in possession—Mortgagee can recover costs of improvements from the mortgagor.

A mortgagee in possession is entitled to recover from his mortgagor reasonable costs incurred in making improvements, though the T. P. Act is silent on the subject. Per Martin, J.—The Court in allowing costs of improvements must naturally be on its guard against extravagant or unfounded claims. It shall enquire strictly into the bona fides and fairness of the claim in each particular case. 19 Mad. 327. Foll. (Batchelor, A. C.J. and Martin, J.) NIJALINGAPPA v. CHANBASAWA. 43 Bom. 69 : 47 I. C. 751 : 20 Bom. L. R. 895.

——S. 76 (d)—Repairs—Failure of mortgagee to keep accounts.

The failure of the mortgagee to keep accounts of the money spent for additions and repairs is not fatal to the claim for compensation otherwise proved though it may give rise to presumptions in favour of the mortgagor. (Shadilal and Rossignol, JJ.) THAKUR DAS v. RADHA KISHAN. 37 I. C. 125 : 99 P. R. 1916.

——S. 76 (d)—Improvements by mortgagee.

Where under the terms of a mortgage-deed the mortgaged house is re-built, the price of old, materials should be deducted from the costs of improvements allowed to the mortgagee. (Shah Din, J.) THAKAR DAS v. NANDI BAI. 105 P. L. R. 1915 : 28 I. C 375: 39 P. W. R. 1915.

——S. 76 (d)—Improvements—Mortgagee in possession—Building of a granary—Payment of increased water tax—Introduction of water pipes—Mortgagee if entitled to compensation.

A usufructuary mortgagee who claimed compensation in respect of improvements effected by him such as building of a granary, payment of increased water tax and introduction of water pipes, is not entitled to the same as (1) the granary being a moveable structure can be removed by him, (2) the increased water tax paid would fetch an increased rent and (3) the introduction of water pipes is not a 'substantial repair' within the meaning of S. 76, clause (d), so as to make the mortgagor liable for the same. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Tyabji, JJ.) KUTHUVA NARAYANASWAMI AIYAR v. SORNAMMAL. 22 I. C. 635 : 15 M. L. T. 374.

S. 76 (f). [Policy of Insurance.]

——S. 76 (f)—Agreement to keep mortgaged premises insured—Failure—Insurance effect by receiver in mortgage suit—Money received under Insurance Policy—Application of.

The money received by the receiver of mortgaged properties during suit on the mortgage under a policy of insurance effected by him is not subject to the terms of the mortgage-deed inasmuch as the insurance was kept on foot by the Court through the receiver as a matter of protection for the benefit of all persons who were parties to the mortgage suit, and not by the mortgagor or the mortgagee in accordance with their contract in the mortgage-deed. The Court can direct in what manner the money so received, should be laid out notwithstanding any terms in the mortgage-deed to the contrary. (Fletcher and Smither, JJ.) SETH DOOLY CHAND v. RAMESHWAR SINGH. 40 I. C. 623.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 76 (g)—Account of sums spent.

S. 76 (g) [Account of Sums spent.]

——S. 76 (g)—Duty to keep accounts cannot be contracted against.

Under S. 76 (g), T. P. Act a mortgagee cannot contract himself out of the statutory liability to keep accounts. It is only under the circumstances mentioned in S. 77 that the duty can be dispensed with. (Simpson and Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) LAL BAHADUR v. MURLI DHAR. 1923 A. 175.

——S. 76 (g)—Collection of cesses—Accountability.

Certain usufructuary mortgagees, who had as such got into possession and who were entitled under the mortgage to collect rents, took advantage of their position to collect other sums, e.g., cesses from the tenants payable by the latter in their character as tenants of the mortgagor. The mortgagees were held liable to account for the profits received. (Mookerjee and Carnduff, JJ.) RAM AWATWAR v. TULSI PRASAD SINGH. 16 C. W. N. 137 : 11 I. C. 713 : 14 C. L. J. 507.

——S. 76 (g)—Mortgage—Accounts—Duty of mortgagee.

In a leka mukhi mortgage it is the duty of the mortgagee to keep full and clear accounts of the income and expenditure of the mortgaged lands and if he fails to keep or produce such accounts every presumption will be made against him. (Shah Din and Scott-Smith, JJ.) ALLAH YAR v. THAKAR DAS. 46 P. W. R. 1918 : 44 I. C. 9 : 24 P. L. R. 1918.

——S. 76 (g) and (h) — Accounts suit—By holder of equity of redemption.

The purchaser of the equity of redemption is entitled to sue the mortgagee for accounts and the mortgagee's claim in a suit for accounts against the mortgagor is alike enforceable against a subsequent purchaser of the property from the mortgagor. Referring 41 Ch D 126 (1889). (Sheppard and Subramaniah, JJ.) VEPA KAMESAM v. VARIGONDA NARASIMHAN. 34 I. C. 701.

——S. 76 (g)—Omission to keep accounts—Presumption.

If on taking the accounts of a usufructuary mortgage, it appears that the mortgagee has kept no regular accounts, every reasonable presumption should be made against him. (Batten and Mitra, A. J. C.) MUKUND RAM SUKUL v. SHEO NARAIN. 47 I. C. 21.

——S. 76 (g)—Accounts—Stipulation not to claim—Mortgagee not discharging debts undertaken to be paid off.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 76 (h)—Occupation Rent.

Notwithstanding a stipulation in the usufructuary mortgage that the mortgagee was not liable to account to the mortgagor, accounts should be taken at the time of redemption of the realizations made by the mortgagee. Such account should not be adjusted on the footing of the consideration actually advanced by the mortgagee but the mortgagee is entitled to set off for the amount paid by him in satisfaction of a prior encumbrance undertaken to be discharged by the mortgagee. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs.) PRAG v. MOHAN LAL.
47 I. C. 161 : 5 O. L. J. 263.

[S. 76 (h) Occupation Rent].

——S. 76 (h)—Liability of mortgagee in possession.

Mortgagee in possession as manager or receiver is not a trustee of the mortgagor, but he has to prove that the accounts are proper and the debts are not satisfied. (Sir John Edge.) B. L. RAI v. BHAIYA LAL. 16 N. L R. 94 : 24 C. W. N. 769 : 28 M. L. T. 345 : 58 I. C. 13 : (1920) M. W. N. 685.

——S. 76 (b)—Mortgage in possession—Accounts—Mode of taking.

Where the mortgagee in possession has kept no accounts it is open to the owner of an interest in the equity of redemption to redeem on the footing of paying the balance left of the mortgage-debt after debiting the mortgagee with a fair occupation rent during his possession and crediting the mortgagee with simple interest on the mortgage-debt. (Viscount Haldane.) MIRZA YADALI BEG v. TUKARAM. 48 Cal. 22 : 39 M. L. J. 147 : 28 M. L. T. 95 : (1920) M. W. N. 369 : 12 L. W. 503 : 2 U. P. L. R. (P. C.) 123 : 16 N. L. R. 154 : 22 Bom. L R. 1315 : 47 I A. 207 : 57 I. C. 535 : 25 C. W. N. 241.

——S. 76 (h)—Mortgagee in possession—Account—Personal remuneration.

Nothing is better established than that mortgagee in possession cannot, in the absence of an agreement or stipulation, charge the mortgagor for his personal service. (Beaman, J.) HOPE MILLS, LTD. v. SIR KOVAJI, J. READYMONEY.
10 I. C. 748 : 13 Bom. L. R. 161.

——S. 76 (h)—Usufructuary mortgagee—Accounts—Liability to render.

Where a usufructuary mortgagee was placed in possession of property the income and the are of which were fluctuating and the deed provided that the net profit of the property would be Rs. 110 out of which Rs. 80 would be set off against interest and the balance against the principal Held, the parties did not intend to have their rights fixed on the basis of the figures mentioned in the mortgage-deed. The mortgagee was liable to render the usual accounts. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) SURENDRA NATH v. KSHITINDRA MOHUN MITRA. 53 I. C. 59 : 29 C. L. J. 434.

——S. 76 (h)—Accounts—Settlement between mortgagor and mortgagee—Mortgagee in possession.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 76 (h)—Occupation Rent.

Where in a mortgage deed there was an agreement that the principal would be paid in a lump sum after the expiry of the term of the mortgage and the possessor was to pay a certain sum of money presumably to the mortgagor, but the mortgagee never paid so, the effect of keeping back suit monies by the mortgagee was that that money must go in an adjustment of accounts between the parties to discharge the principal due at the time. (Woodroffe and Chaudhury, JJ.) BRIJKUMAR LAL v. MAJTES SAHAI.
34 I. C. 899.

——S. 76 (h) — Mortgage—Lease — Same transaction—Suit for rent—Subsequent suit on mortgage.

A mortgagee must sue for both principal and interest due ; otherwise he cannot sue subsequently for the other. Where a mortgage deed and a lease form one transaction (the latter merely providing a mode for realising interest) a suit for rent instituted after the mortgage debt had become due, bars a subsequent suit for recovery of principal and interest due on the mortgage. (Shah Din and Wilberforce, JJ.) NATHA SINGH v. CHUNI LAL. 69 P. R. 1918 : 112 P. W. R. 1918 : 47 I. C. 364 : 117 P. L. R. 1918.

——S. 76 (h)—Accounts—Limitation.

No question of limitation arises as between the mortgagors and mortgagees when accounts are taken at the time of redemption. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Hannay, JJ.) THEKKEMAUNENGATH RAMAN v. KAKKESSERI PAZHIYOT MANAKKAL.
28 M. L. J. 184 : 27 I. C. 989 : 2 L. W. 433.

——S. 76 (h)—Accounts—Agreement—Usufructuary mortgagee.

Where there is an agreement between the parties the mortgagee is not bound to render account of the profits. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) PARASURAMA PATTAR v. VENKATACHALAM PATTAR. 25 M. L. J. 561 : 21 I. C. 701 : (1914) M. W. N. 198.

——S. 76 (h) and (i)—Redemption—Claim to possession after discharge of usufructuary mortgage—Money found due to mortgagee—Form of decree—Accounts—Mesne profits—Costs of litigation—Interest.

A mortgagor alleged that the debt due on a usufructuary mortgage has been repaid out of the usufruct, and sought to recover the property mortgaged. Held, the suit was in one for redemption. If, on accounts being taken, it is found that the whole of the debt has not been paid, the decree ought to be conditional on payment of whatever might be found due to the mortgagee. Even if such a suit is regarded as one in ejectment, the Courts have a discretion to allow redemption to the plff. The proper course to follow in such a case is for the Court to direct that account be taken of the amount due to the mortgagee and of any amount for which the mortgagee might be accountable to the mortgagor on account of the profits of the mortgaged property received by him and then pass a final decree for redemption. Where a mortgage-deed stipulates for the appropriation of profits towards interest without specifying the rate of interest, and a portion of the principal amount is received by the mortgagee, the Court in its decree should direct the appropriation of a portion of the rent proportionate to the balance of principal remaining unpaid toward interest and to hold the mortgagee accountable for the balance. If no portion of the amount paid would be debitable towards the principal, there is no question of accountability for profits. Where a mortgagee defended a prior suit brought by a third party he must be reimbursed to the extent of the amounts expended by him and to interest at 9 per cent. per annum. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) RANGANATHA v. PARIPPURANAM. 16 I. C. 217.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 76 (h)—Occupation Rent.

——S. 76 (h)—Interest—Surplus profits.

A mortgagee in possession ought to be charged with interest when he received surplus profits after the payment of his debt. (Drake-Brockman, J. C.) BHAYALAL v. MOHAMAD HOKIM MIRZA. 57 I. C. 294.

——S. 76 (h)—Accounts to be ordered only in suit on mortgage.

Apart from any special statutory provisions accounts cannot be adjudicated upon by a Court where no relief can be granted. Ordinarily a suit for accounts upon a mortgage cannot be maintained by the mortgagor unless he asks for redemption. (Batten and Mittra, A. J. Cs.) MUKUND RAM SUKUL v. SHEO NARAIN. 47 I. C. 21.

——S. 76 (h)—Interest—Profits—Rights of mortgagee.

Where under a mortgage the rate of interest on the mortgage money is fixed and certain, the mortgagee is not entitled to any portion of the usufruct which might be in excess of that rate and the mortgagor can sue for accounts of the profits realized by the mortgagee from the mortgaged property. It would require very clear words to induce a Court to put upon a mortgage deed a construction to the contrary. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) LALA NARAIN DAS v. BAIJ NATH SAHAI. 56 I. C. 692 : 7 O. L. J. 231.

——Ss. 76 (h) and 60—Suit for account—Mortgage—Redemption—Limitation.

An usufructuary mortgage provided that the mortgagee should, after deducting the stipulated interest from the collections pay out of the balance annually to the mortgagors, the property being redeemable on the payment of the principal money at the end of seven years. A suit by a mortgagor after redemption for the recovery for surplus collections made by the mortgagee during their possession as mortgagee, having been brought within three years from the date of the restoration of possession to the mortgagor, was governed by Art. 105, Limitation Act, and was within time. (Kendal and Daniels, A. J. Cs.) BIKRAMJIT SINGH v. RAJ RAGHU BAR SINGH. 38 I. C. 610 : 20 O. C. 25.

——S. 76 (h)—Mortgagee must be in possession as such.

S. 76 (h) applies only to the case of a mortgagee being in possession qua mortgagee.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 76 (i)—Accounts of sums received.

(Stuart, J.C.) MUHAMMAD HUSAIN v. MUHAMMAD ASGHAR. 19 O. C. 328 : 37 I. C. 23 : 3 O. L. J. 462.

——S. 76 (h)—Mortgagee in possession as lessee—Obligations of—Puisne mortgagees.

The case of a mortgagee who enters into possession of the mortgaged property by virtue of a lease under which a rent is payable to the lessor and the case of the mortgagee who enters into possession of the mortgaged property by virtue of a lease under which the rent is appropriated by the lessee towards the reduction of the mortgage debt are different. In the former case he is not chargeable as a lessee in possession under S. 76 of the T. P. Act and in the latter case he is so chargeable. (Das and Adami, JJ.) KISHANDAYAL BHAGAT v. MAHABIR BHAGAT. 5 Pat. L. J. 492 : 1920 Pat. 277 : 1 Pat.L. T. 711 : 58 I. C. 291 : 2 U. P. L. R. (Pat.) 208.

[S. 76 (i) Accounts of sums received].

——S. 76 (i)—Mortgage in possession—Failure to keep accounts.

The rule applicable to the taking of accounts in a case where the mortgagee is in possession of the mortgaged property is that the gross receipts therefrom are ascertained at the end of each year and after deducting the necessary outlay on account of Revenue collection expenses, and preservation of the estate, the balance goes to reduce the interest and if there is surplus, to reduce the principal the account being closed at the end of each year. If the mortgagee refuses or neglects to deliver the accounts the Court must take the best evidence available and decide upon it. The presumption will, no doubt, be against the mortgagee but this would not justify the Court in accepting without any examination any evidence which may be offered by the mortgagor. (Abdul Raoof and Moti Sagar, JJ.) MUHAMMAD v. UTTAM CHAND. 63 I. C. 598.

——S. 76 (i)—Liability of mortgagee for delivering possession — Mortgagee in possession after valid deposit—Gross receipts, meaning of.

It cannot be laid down that if the mortgagees do not deliver possession even after legal tender, they are not entitled to credit for amounts which they paid after the tender, to meet the revenue demands on the mortgaged property, and for necessary repairs and collection charges. Such a rule would involve a great hardship to a mortgagee who refused to accept the tender under a bona fide claim of right. In fact it would put him in a worse position than a trespasser, and there seems no need for so stringment a rule. Gross receipts in the Act do not include interest upon the amounts collected. (Krisnnan and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) TADEPALLI SUBBA RAO v. SRI BALUSU BUCHI SARVARAYUDU. 18 L. W. 61 ; (1923) M. W. N. 533 : 44 M. L. J. 534 : 1923 M. 533.

——Ss. 76 (i) and 83—Applicability of—Malabar mortgage.

S. 76 of the T. P. Act has no application to money due on improvements to a mortgagee in Malabar because the value of the improvement effected by such mortgagee cannot be brought under the expression "amount due on the mortgage" in S. 83 of the T.P. Act. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) MOORIATH VARIATH v. MELEDATH K. KUNJI NANGAYAR AMMA.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 76 (i)—Accounts of sums received.

10 L. W. 300 : 26 M. L. T. 329 : 52 I. C 834 : 37 M. L. J. 206.

——Ss. 76 (i) and 83—Tender—Cessation of interest.

The provision for cessation of interest from the date of tender of the mortgage money does not in terms refer to a case when the mortgagor claims to split up the mortgage amount on the ground that the mortgagee has become the owner of a part of the equity of redemption or when there are disputes as to the extent of the subsisting interest of the mortgagor in the equity of redemption so as to force on the mortgagee the talk of deciding the disputes rightly at the risk of losing the interest on money due to him and becoming responsible for mesne profits. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) VENKATARAMA AIYAR v. RANGASAWMI AIYENGAR.
17 I. C. 368 : (1912) M. W. N. 1175.

——S. 77—Provision for payment of portion of income to mortgagor.

A contract that a definite portion of the income of properties usufructuarily mortgaged shall be paid annually to the mortgagor may legally find a place in the mortgage or in an agreement for that purpose, (Abdur Rahim and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) MEENAKSHISUNDARAM MUDALIAR v. RATHANASAMI PILLAI.
41 Mad. 959 : 24 M. L. T. 315 : (1918) M. W. N. 811 : 8 L. W. 438 : 49 I. C. 291 : 35 M. L. J. 489.

——S. 77—Usufructuary mortgage—Mortgagee to pay land revenue whether profit or loss—Contract.

In a usufructuary mortgage, where the net profits after payment of land revenue were agreed to be taken in lieu of the annual interest, the mortgagee must, by the terms of the contract, pay land revenue, whether there was profit or loss and an inquiry whether the land remained fallow through his negligence or not is excluded by the very terms of the contract. Whether mortgagee must bear enhancement of revenue at periodical resettlement is question of fact depending on intention of parties to contract. (Mittra, O. A. J. C.) HARI v. SHRIDHAR.
23 I. C. 131 : 10 N. L. R. 9.

——S. 78—Priority—Waiver of—Conduct.

The first mortgagees of two villages did not contest by appeal a decree which erroneously subordinated their rights against one of the villages to those of the second mortgagee of that village. The first mortgagees subsequently sued to enforce their entire mortgage against the other village in the hands of auction purchasers from the mortgagors. Held, that the first mortgagees were not precluded from fully enforcing their security against the auction purchasers. (Sir John Edge.) PADRATH HALWAI v. RAM NARAIN UPADHIA.
37 All. 474 : 42 I. A. 163: 13 A. L. J. 809 : 19 C. W. N. 991 : 17 Bom. L. R. 617 : 18 M. L. T. 85 : 2 L. W. 639: 22 C. L. J. 165: 30 I. C. 366 : (1915) M. W. N. 709 : 29 M. L. J. 159.

——S. 78—Mortgage—Priority.

When the first mortgagee helped the mortgagor to induce the second mortgagee to advance money by declaring that the property was free from encumbrances, he cannot then turn round and claim priority over that mortgage in his own favour. (Sir Arthur Wilson.) RAMAN CHETTY v. STEEL BROTHERS & CO., LTD.
15 C. W. N. 813 : 13 Bom. L. R. 542 : 14 C. L. J. 79 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 413 : 4 Bur. L. T. 225 : 10 M. L. T. 239 : 11 I. C. 503 : 6 L. B. R. 21 : 21 M. L. J. 936.

——S. 78—Misdescription of property—Transferee of mortgaged property.

In 1876, one B purported to hypothecate four plots of land in Mouza N. As a matter of fact, the name of N. was inserted in the mortgage-deed by mistake, the property being situated in Mouza A. The heirs of B. sold their proprietary right in Mouza A to one K in 1910, free of all charges. In a suit brought on the basis of the mortgage of 1876, held, that K was not bound by that mortgage. 18 Cal. 556 ; 18 Mad. 364 ; 29 Cal. 654, Ref. (Piggott, J.) KINLOCK v. TOTA RAM.
15 I. C. 335.

——S. 78—Priority—Defence.

By a mortgage of 1889 sufficient money to discharge the two prior mortgages of 1886 and 1887 respectively was left in the hand of the mortgagee G to discharge the two mortgages. G paid off the mortgages. There was one more mortgage of 1888 in respect of the same property. G sued on his mortgage making the mortgagees of 1888 parties to the suit for priority over the mortgage of 1888 for the money he had to pay to discharge the mortgages of 1886 and 1887. It was for the benefit of G that the mortgages of 1886 and 1887 should remain alive and therefore, he was entitled to the priority claimed. A plff. can put forward, in a suit by himself, the priority which he could claim by way of defence, if the suit had been instituted against him. (Richards, C.J. and Benerjee, J.) GUR NARAIN v. SHADI LAL.
34 All. 102 : 12 I. C. 607 : 8 A. L. J. 1289.

——Ss. 78 and 79—Priority—Mortgage in satisfaction of prior mortgage decree.

A mortgage executed in satisfaction of a prior mortgage decree has priority over a mesne incumbrance. 7 A. L. J. 984 : 28 All. 778 Foll. (Richards and Tudball, JJ.) RAHIM-UN-NISSA v. BADRADAS.
33 All. 368 : 9 I. C. 205 : 8 A. L. J. 112.
[See also 7 I. C. 468 : 7 A. L. J. 984.]

——S. 78—Fraud—Gross negligence.

Fraud is not necessary to bring a case under S. 78. The words fraud, misrepresentation and gross negligence are quite disjunctive. It is gross negligence when vendor having full notice that the vendee is impecunious allows the vendee to retain the title deeds and thereby enables him to effect a second mortgage on the same property. (Holmwood and Imam, JJ.) NAND LAL ROY v. ABDUL AZIZ. 34 I. C. 115 : 43 Cal. 1052.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 78.

——— S. 78—Priority—Estoppel—Mortgagee of non-transferable occupancy holding.

Where a landlord mortgagee of the holding sues as mortgagee, he is estopped from questioning the validity of a prior mortgage of the holding on the ground of its non-transferability and that it was effected without his consent. (Woodroffe and Choudhuri, JJ.) NATABAR SARKAR v. NATABAR MANDAL. 33 I. C. 112.

——— Ss. 78 and 80—Priority, right of—Limitation for enforcement of—Limitation Act, Art. 132.

Where a puisne mortgagee paying off the amount due under a decree for sale by a prior mortgagee claimed priority against intermediate mortgagees, the suit in respect of the priority is governed by Art. 132 of the Lim. Act., just as if it were a suit by the prior mortgagee. (Lindsay, J. C.) DEPUTY COMMISSIONER OF LUCKNOW v. SUKHNANDAN. 23 I. C. 448 : 17 O. C. 38.

——— S. 78—Priority — Earlier registered mortgage — Title-deeds left with mortgagor—Subsequent mortgage.

A subsequent mortgagee who has wilfully abstained from the obvious course of searching in the registration office, cannot obtain priority over an earlier registered mortgage, merely on the ground that the latter did not call for the title deeds and retain them in his control. (Twomey, C. J. and Maung Kin, J.) THE BANK OF BENGAL, AKYAB v. AUNG THA HLA. 47 I. C. 774.

——— S. 79—Partition deed — Family debts distributed among members to be discharged—maximum specified — Each member's properties liable for such debts and for losses to the family in case the debts are not paid—Charge.

Where in a partition deed the common family debts allotted to each sharer were agreed to be discharged by the sharer to whom they fell and in case of failure to discharge them, his properties were to be liable for such debts and for the losses that might happen to the family, held in a suit on a mortgage executed by a member subsequent to the partition, that the partition deed created a prior charge in favour of the other members over the properties of the alienating mortgagor to the extent of the maximum specified in the schedule to the partition, that the property can be sold only subject to the above charge, that the charge becomes operative and the amount of the same becomes ascertained when the payment comes to be actually made on behalf of the alienating member and that the other members of the family are entitled to a declaration of their right to such a charge though they have not actually made the payments at the date of the suit. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) SESHA AIYAR v. SRINIVASA AIYAR. 14 L. W. 559 : (1921) M. W. N. 680 : 70 I. C. 362 : 30 M. L. T. 43 : 41 M. L. J. 282.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 80.

——— S. 79—Mortgage—Redemption—Deed of further charge—Right to redeem.

Where the purchasers of one of the mortgaged properties desired to redeem the property on payment of the whole debt and mortgagees set up a deed of further charge, which was found to be a simple money bond, Held, the plffs. had a right to redeem without paying the amount of the bond. (Stuart, J. C.) PURAN SINGH v. BHIKHAM SINGH. 36 I. C. 709 : 3 O. L. J. 402.

——— S. 79—Mortgage—Consolidation — Undertaking to pay money advanced on later security along with that due on earlier.

A mere undertaking by the mortgagor to pay money advanced on a later security between the same parties along with the former is not a consolidation of the debts. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) GAYA DIN SINGH v. HAR KHAN SINGH. 22 I. C. 132 : 16 O. C. 267.

——— Ss. 79 and 80—Priority—Rule—Exception.

The general rule as contained in S. 80 of the Act is that a mortgagee making a subsequent advance to the mortgagor does not acquire any priority in respect of his security for such subsequent advance as against an intermediate mortgagee. S.79 engrafts an exception on that general rule and provides that the intermediate mortgagee who has notice of the prior mortgage is postponed in respect of all advances subsequently made on the security of the mortgage, provided it expresses the maximum to be secured thereby and that the maximum is not exceeded. (Coutts and Das, JJ.) BAIJ NATH GOENKA v. DALEEP NARAIN SINGH. 1 Pat. L. T. 582 : 1920 Pat. 261 : 58 I. C. 489.

[See also 17 I. C. 927 : 16 C. L. J. 394.]

——— Ss. 80 and 79—"In the case mentioned in S. 79" and "subsequent"—Interpretation.

The words of S. 80 "in the case mentioned in S. 79" do not really mean mortgages to secure future advances or the balance of a running account. But the words of S. 79 mean that the mortgages there referred to must express a maximum. The words "to secure future advances, etc," denominate the different classes of mortgages, but to bring them under S. 79 they must have the common feature of a maximum expressed. The word 'subsequent' from the content must mean subsequent to the intermediate mortgage, and if that is so, then in the sense of section an advance when made after another mortgage is granted becomes a subsequent advance. (Lord Dunedin.) THE IMPERIAL BANK OF INDIA v. U. RAI GYAW THU & CO., LTD. 1 Rang. 637 : 45 M. L. J. 505 : 21 A. L. J. 784 : 25 Bom. L. R. 1279 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 937 : 33 M. L. T. 395 (P. C.) : 2 Bur. L. J. 254 : 50 I. A. 283 : (1923) M. W. N. 609 : 51 Cal. 86 : 39 C. L. J. 186 : 28 C. W. N. 470 : 1923 P. C. 211.

——— S. 80—Fresh advance—Undertaking by mortgagor to pay—Rights and liabilities of purchaser.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 81.

An undertaking by a mortgagor who takes a fresh advance that he will not redeem the mortgage until he has repaid the advance is legal and enforceable, against himself, but it is not a charge on the land and it is not enforceable against a purchaser of the land. 17 O. C. 203 : 9 B. 233 : 9 B. 236 Ref. (Simpson, A. J. C.) GAYA PRASAD v. RACHPAL. 9 O. L. J. 484 : 4 U. P. L. R. (O. C.) 110 : 1923 O. 24.

——S. 81—Marshalling—Right to.

Properties A. and B were mortgaged to plff. then B. was mortgaged to deft. who had no notice of the plff 's mortgage and again A. and B. together with property C. were mortgaged to plff. partly in discharge of the first mortgage and then again B. was mortgaged to deft. Held, plff. should get a decree on the first mortgage for the remainder due but deft. can under S. 81 ask the plff. to sell A first and if the deft. would fail to redeem B. within a certain time fixed by Court the properties would he sold as follows : A first, B. next and then C, if necessary. (Chatterjee and Newbould, JJ.) JAMINI MOHAN GUPTA v. RAM NARAYAN PAREY. 38 I. C. 542.

——S. 81—Marshalling—Subsequent mortgagee with notice.

The doctrine of marshalling cannot be availed of by a subsequent mortgagee who has notice of the prior mortgage. (Shadi Lal and Jones, JJ.) KISHEN CHAND v. RAMSUKH DAS. 81 P. W. R. 1916 : 33 I. C. 815 : 86 P. R. 1916.

——S. 81—Marshalling—Applicability of—Notice of prior mortgage.

The right to marshall arises only when the contending creditors are creditors of one and the same person and they claim against the same property. Where the defendant had notice of the plaintiff's mortgage when he obtained his security, it is sufficient to exclude his claim under S. 81 of the T. P. Act. (Per Abdur Rahim.) S. 81 of the T. P. Act does not avail the mortgagees of a purchaser, as their right to marshall is in the right of their assignor, the vendee of the original mortgagor. 31 Mad. 419 Foll. The right to marshall is a discretion vested in the Court, which however is not a right of particular party, to direct the sale of any particular item if that would be sufficient to pay off the mortgage debt. This discretion the Court is entitled to exercise at the time when final execution is ordered. It is doubtful whether the Full Bench decision in 31 Mad. 419 applies also to a mortgagee from the purchaser. (Abdur Rahim and Srinivasa Aiyangar, JJ.) MADURA MILLS CO, LTD. v. RAMASWAMY CHETTY. 34 I. C. 338 : (1916) 1 M. W. N. 265.

——S. 81—Marshalling—Puisne and prior mortgagees—Estoppel

A prior incumbrancer cannot, on the principle of marshalling be compelled by a puisne mortgagee to proceed against properties not mortgaged to the puisne when the prior could not include it in the suit and obtain a decree against those items owing to the conduct of puisne incumbrancer himself. (Oldfield and Tyabji, JJ.) MULLA VEETTIL SEETHIKUTTI v. KUNHI KOYAMUTTI NAHA 28 I. C. 386.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 82.

——S. 81—Marshalling—When available.

Where a mortgage decree has been obtained in respect of three properties, and subsequently one of them is subjected to a second mortgage. the second mortgagee cannot claim marshalling, if the other two properties had been sold in execution of the mortgage decree, and the property subject to the second mortgage is sought to be proceeded against. 22 A 284 not app. 28 A. 700 Foll. (Hayward, J C. and Leggatt, A. J. C.) GUL MAHOMED v. LOTO MAL. 9 I. C. 725 : 4 S. L. R. 224.

——S. 82—Equity of redemption vesting partly in prior mortgagee and partly in subsequent mortgagee.

Where a mortgage is split up and the rights of the mortgagor vest partly in a prior mortgage and partly in a subsequent the former cannot be compelled to redeem the whole nor the latter to give up his interest in the share of the mortgage. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) AMBA PRASAD v. WAHID ULLAH. 20 A. L. J. 583 : 44 A. 708 : 1922 A. 405.

——S. 82—Auction sale of portions of mortgaged property—Rights of purchasers inter se.

An auction-purchaser in execution of a decree obtained upon a mortgage purchased the rights of the mortgagor and the mortgagee at the date on which the mortgage was made, any subsequent equities or liabilities which arose in respect of the mortgaged property could not attach to them inasmuch as they acquired the property free from any such liabilities or equities. 23 A. 355 ; 19 A. 545 Dist. (Mears, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) KARAMAT ALI v. THE GORAKHPUR BANK. LTD. 20 A. L. J. 337 : 44 A. 488 : L. R. 3 A. 369 : 4 U. P. L. R. (A) 150 : 1922 All. 495.

——S. 82—Contribution between several properties subject to same mortgage.

Where property belongs to different owners and is subject to a common mortgage, the liability of each of the properties subject to the mortgage, is proportionate to its value as compared with the value of all the properties mortgaged and a suit for contribution by one owner who has been made to pay the whole would lie. (Mears, C. J, and Banerjee, J.) RAMASHANKAR PRASAD v. GHULAM HUSAIN. 43 All. 589 : 19 A. L. J. 584 : 63 I. C. 209 : 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 88.

——S. 82—Contribution—Puisne mortgage.

Properties sold in execution of decree on a prior mortgage, are not liable for contribution towards a puisne mortgage. The fact that the auction-purchaser at a sale is the decree-holder and the owner of the puisne mortgage and obtained the property at low price, does not affect the case in any way. (Tudball and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) BHAGWATI PRASAD v. SHAFAT MUHAMMAD CHAUDHRI. 43 All. 42 : 58 I. C. 414 : 18 A. L. J. 860.

——S. 82—Rateable liability.

Properties T. and A. were mortgaged to the predecessor in title of plaintiff who has also a prior mortgagor of T. Plaintiff sued on the prior deed and in execution of his decree purchased T.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 82.

He then sued on the subsequent mortgage for the sale of A. Held, that the liability of A was to be ascertained by finding the value of A and the value of T, but the amount of the liability of T. under the earlier mortgage should be deducted from the value of T, and that A, would then be liable rateably for the second mortgage having regard to its own value and the value of T, after deduction. (Richards, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) GOPAL DAS v. DURGA SINGH. 38 I. C. 649.

——— S. 82—Contribution—Extent of—Valuation for ascertaining liability to contribution.

In a suit for contribution under S. 82 all the persons in whom the mortgaged property is vested should be made parties ; when such persons are properly before the Court a proper decree finally setting all disputes can be made and unless they are before the Court the value of the different items of the property cannot be ascertained satisfactorily. In estimating the valuation of the different items it ought to be as at the date of the mortgage. Where a purchaser produced evidence to show the valuation at the date of his purchase, the other party must show that the valuation at the date of the mortgage was different. (Richards, C. J. and Rafique, J.) SHANKAR LAL v. LATAFAT ALI. 35 I. C. 600 : 14 A. L. J. 713.

——— S. 82—Several properties under the same mortgage—Mortgage discharged by one—Rateable contribution by others.

Where the owner of one of several properties under the same mortgage discharges the mortgage, the owners of the others are bound to contribute rateably their quota of liability for the mortgage debt Principle by which Court should arrive at the individual share of contribution explained. (Richards, C. J, and Banerjee, J.) BHAGWAN SINGH v. MUHAMMAD MAZZAR ALI KHAN. 36 All. 272 : 23 I. C. 339 : 12 A. L. J. 394.

——— S. 82—Mortgagee releasing part of the mortgaged property for less than its value—Suit for recovery of entire balance from residue.

A first mortgagee cannot release part of the mortgaged property for less than its due proportion of the mortgage money of the whole of the balance of the mortgage money out of the remainder of the property. 15 C. W. N. 800 : 30 Cal. 755 ; 31 Mad. 333 Ref. 28 All. 174 ; 25 All 79 ; 28 A. 19 ; 29 A 369 Dist. (Chamier and Piggott, JJ.) JUGAL KISHORE SAHU v. KEDDAR NATH. 34 All. 606 : 16 I. C. 401 : 10 A. L. J. 211.

——— Ss. 82, 100 and 73—Mortgage-decree against two properties—Rateable contribution—One property contributing more—If entitled to a charge on the other—Lien on surplus sale proceeds—Personal decree—Limitation—Lim. Act, Arts. 62 and 132.

Where in execution of a mortgage decree against two parties both are sold the owner of property which has contributed more than its rateable share has a charge against the property which has borne less ; he has also a right to a personal decree against the owner of the latter property to the extent of the surplus sale proceeds received by him. The suit for the latter relief is governed by Art. 62 of the Lim. Act. (Richards, C. J. Banerjee and Chamier, JJ.) BHAGWAN DAS v. KARAM HUSSAIN. 33 All. 708 : 11 I. C. 145 : 8 A. L. J. 854.

——— S. 82—Purchase by mortgagee—Discharge of debt.

The mortgagee purchased at an auction sale half of the mortgaged property belonging to one of two mortgagors; then he brought a suit for the remaining half claim against the other property, It being contended that the whole debt was satisfied ; held, that only half the debt was extinguished. 22 A, 284 Foll. (Richards, J) JAGANATH PRASAD v MIHIN. 10 I. C. 235.

——— S. 82—Contribution—Right when arises.

Where the amount due under the first mortgage exceeds the value of the property comprised therein the whole of the burden of the second mortgage falls on the other property comprised therein. Where before the properties comprised in a mortgage decree were brought to sale, a subsequent mortgage was effected over a portion of the parties and the subsequent mortgagee paid the entire decretal amount he is entitled to contribution for saving the property excluded from his mortgage from sale, the amount of the money under the second mortgage being left out of consideration. (Stanley, C. J, and Banerji, JJ.) GHULAM HAZRAT v. GOBARDHAN DAS. 33 All. 387 : 9 I. C. 933 : 8 A. L. J. 195.

——— S. 82—Equity of redemption—Splitting up after mortgage—Suit—Proportionate liability—Mortgagee's rights barred against some.

It is contrary to the principles of equity that the plaintiff mortgagee who by his own negligence had lost his remedy against the owner of half the equity of redemption should seek to throw the whole burden of the mortgage on the owner of the other half. 33 Cal. 613, 621 Foll. (Macleod, C. J. and Heaton, J.) BUDHAMAL KEVALCHAND v. RAMA YESU. 44 Bom. 223 : 55 I. C. 327 : 22 Bom. L. R. 68.

——— S. 82—Mortgage not affected.

S. 82 of the T. P. Act defines the relation of the mortgagors inter se ; a mortgagee is under no obligation to distribute his debt in a certain manner or enforce it against each and every part of the property mortgaged. Each item can be sold for the whole debt. (Batchelor, C. J. and Shah, J.) TIMAJI KRISHNA POTDAR v. RAMA PIRAJI BHAT KHANDE; 45 I. C. 862 : 20 Bom. L. R. 175.

——— S. 82—Contribution—Right of— Mortgagee—Distribution.

The mortgagee's rights to proceed against any one of several mortgaged properties for the entire debt is not affected by the principle of contribution among the several mortgagors or their representatives. If the mortgagee releases one or more of jointly mortgaged properties from liability under the mortgage with knowledge that the properties have changed hands, the other properties are liable to the extent of their proportionate share of the debt only. 33 Cal. 613 Rel. (Teunon and Greaves, JJ.) MIDANPUR ZAMINDARI CO., LTD. v. ABINASH CHANDRA. 23 C. W. N. 308 : 50 I. C. 790 : 29 C. L. J. 297.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 82.

——— Ss. 82, 95 and 100—Contribution—Apportionment of liability—Life tenant and remainder man.

A reversioner mortgaging the properties jointly with the widow can, on redeeming the mortgage claim a rateable contribution of the mortgage debt from the purchaser of the life interest of the widow in one of those properties and has a charge upon that interest in respect of his claim for contribution, which can be enforced under S. 100, 28 A. 482 Ref. The principle for apportioning liability between a tenant for life and a remainder man or reversioner discussed. (Chatterjee and Richardson, JJ.) TARAK NATH ROY CHOUDHURY v. SYAMA CHARAN CHOUDHURY. 36 I. C. 292.

——— S. 82—Mortgagee's right to enforce—Security—Estoppel.

Where property over which the plaintiffs held two mortgages was sold and purchased by them in execution of a decree on the 2nd mortgage and subsequently plffs. allowed the sale to be set aside by being present at and ratifying a sale of a portion of the property to third parties and by receiving consideration therefor, it is not open to the plffs. to proceed in their suit on the first mortgage against that portion of the property in the hands of the third parties. (Holmwood and Chapman, JJ.) ATAB PRAMANICK v. MEHRULLAH SARDAR. 23 I. C. 426 : 19 C. L. J. 590.

——— S 82—Mortgagee if affected—Release of one mortgagor.

A mortgagee must not release the properties of one of the mortgagors to the detriment of the others. If the mortgagee relinquishes a valuable property for an inadequate consideration, he would not be allowed to throw the burden of the balance upon the other properties. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) DALAP NARAIN SINGH v. CHAITNARAIN SINGH. 17 I. C. 931 : 16 C. L. J. 401.

——— S. 82—Acquisition of share of equity of redemption by mortgagee—Debt if extinguished.

When a mortgagee buys at an auction the equity of redemption in a part of the mortgaged property, such purchase, in the absence of fraud, has not the effect of discharging or extinguishing the mortgage debt though the value of the property purchased be equal to the amount due on the mortgage. The mortgagee will have to forego a proportionate part of the debt but might enforce for the residue. (Wallis, C. J., Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) PONNAMBALA PILLAI v. ANNAMALAI CHETTIAR. 43 Mad. 372 : 38 M. L. J. 239 : (1920) M. W. N. 235 : 55 I. C. 666 : 11 L. W. 429 (F. B.).
[Overruling (1911) 2 M. W. N. 342 : 12 I. C. 130 : 10 M. L. T. 240.]

——— Ss. 82 and 60—Release of items by mortgage—Effect of—Right to sue for whole debt.

A mortgagee voluntarily releasing a portion of the mortgaged property is not bound to abate a proportionate part of the debt but the action of the mortgagee in so releasing does not affect the right of the part owners of the equity of redemption to contribution. 20 Mad. 217 ; 31 M. 333 ; 30 C. 755 Diss. 1 C. L. J. 337, Diss. (Wallis, C. J., Oldfiled and Kumarasami Sastri, JJ.) PERUMAL PILLAI v. RAMAN CHETTY. 40 Mad. 968 : 33 M. L. J. 211 : 6 L. W. 450 : 42 I. C. 352 : (1917) M. W. N. 752 (F. B.).

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 82.

——— S. 82—Contribution—Mortgage—'Contract to the contrary.'

Ss. 69 and 70 of the Contract Act do not apply to claims for contribution under S. 82 of the T. P. Act. The "contract to the contrary" mentioned in S. 82, second clause must be between the parties who are liable to contribute. A contract between mortgagor and one of the purchasers of the equity of redemption is not a contract between the purchasers inter se. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) KUNCHITHAPATHAM PILLAI v. PALAMALAI PILLAI. (1917) M.W.N. 166 : 39 I.C. 405 : 32 M. L. J. 347.

——— Ss. 82 and 101—Contribution—Usufructuary and simple mortgage in favour of same person—Purchase by mortgagee of some mortgaged lands—Suit on simple mortgage.

First deft. and another mortgaged certain lands usufructuarily to the plff. Later on, first deft. and his brother the second deft. executed a simple mortgage in respect of the same land as well as the house and a vacant site in favour of the plff. The plff. then purchased the lands, the sale deed containing a recital that the simple mortgage debt should be unaffected by the sale. In a suit, by plff. to enforce the mortgage security under the second mortgage impleading the subsequent purchaser of the house and vacant site. Held, that the plff. took the lands under his purchase subject to all the incidental liabilities attaching to them by reason of their previous inclusion in the simple mortgage and therefore liable to contribute proportionately towards the simple mortgage debt and that the liability to contribute on the part of the plff. arose not by reason of his position as usufructuary mortgagee but by his purchase of the mortgagors' equity of redemption. (Spencer and Napier, JJ.) ARUNAGIRI v. KUPPUSWAMY. 29 I. C. 124.

——— Ss. 82 and 60—Mortgagee—Not bound to distribute debt.

It is open to a mortgagee to release one of the items of the mortgaged property on receipt of less than the proportionate share of the debt and to proceed for the rest of the mortgage amounts against the residue. The mortgagee is not bound to distribute his debt equally among the several items mortgaged. (Spencer and Napier, JJ.) THUVOOR VENKATASUBBA REDDI v. BAGIAMMAL. 39 Mad. 419 : 2 L. W. 469 : (1915) M. W. N. 339 : 17 M. L. T. 411 : 29 I. C. 113 : 29 M. L. J. 319.

——— S. 82—Contribution—Purchaser of equity—Redemption of one of the mortgagors by mortgagee.

Where A purchased a mortgage-decree against the interests of two persons, B and C, and subsequently purchased the equity of redemption in the interest of B and then claimed half the decree amount from the interest of C. Held, he was entitled to do so. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) ADERSUMALLI SURYANARAYANA v. VALLURAPALLI SHRIRAMULU.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 82.

20 I. C. 825 : 25 M. L J. 16.

——Ss. 82 83 and 100—Several lands burdened with payment of revenue—Nature of decree—Right to a charge.

Where several lands are liable under a common burden for payment of a definite amount of Govt. Revenue and the whole burden has been discharged by the owner of one of such lands, the latter is entitled, in a suit for contribution, to a charge on the land of each of the others for the proportionate fraction of the amount payable by each and not to a personal decree. 26 Mad. 68 ; 28 Mad. 493 ; 14 C. W. N. 361 Ref. (Miller and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) PUTHEN PURAYIL AMMAN PARUYKYI v. MANGALASERI PULLIKANDI PAKRAM HAJI.
36 Mad. 493 : 15 I. C. 262 : 24 M. L. J 548.

——S. 82—Execution sale in another decree—Purchase by mortgagee of part of mortgaged property whether extinguishes mortgage.

Where property subject to a mortgage is sold in execution of a decree other than one on the mortgage, and portions of the mortgaged property are purchased by the mortgagee the sale operates as a full discharge of the mortgage if the value of the encumbrance is fully paid therewith. Ayling and Spencer, JJ.) SWAMI ROWAPPA v. KUPPUSAWMY IYENGAR.
10 M. L. T. 240 : (1911) 2 M.W. N . 342 : : 12 I. C. 130. [Overruled 43 Mad. 372 : 55 I. C. 666 : 38 M. L. J. 239.]

——S. 82—Contribution — Mortgagee not affected.

The right for contribution under S. 82 is available only as between the representatives of the mortgagor or between co-mortgagors themselves except in cases of merger of the interests of the mortgagor and mortgagee. A part owner of the equity of redemption can redeem only on payment of the whole mortgage money. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) BASANT SINGH v. RAMESHAR BAKSH SINGH.
20 I. C. 765 : 16 O. C. 199.

——S. 82—Contribution claim against mortgagor—Failure of mortgagee to redeem prior mortgage—Integrity if broken.

Two properties were mortgaged to same deft. A prior mortgagee of one of the properties brought a suit on his mortgage impleading the subsequent mortgagee had it sold. Held the failure of the subsequent mortgagee to redeem did not split up the mortgage and when he recovered the whole of the mortgage amount from the other mortgagor, the latter was entitled to claim contribution against his co-mortgagee. (Das and Macpherson, JJ.) SANT LAL SINGH v. NANKU LAL SINGH.
1923 Pat. 369 : 1924 P. 174.

——S. 82—Contribution—Right to—Decision.

The question of contribution between several subsequent mortgagees can be decided only in a properly framed suit for contribution. (Das and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) JAI PRAGASH SINGH v RUP MANJARI.
4 Pat. L. T. 91 : 1923 P. 199.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 83.

——S. 82—Decree on mortgage satisfied on sale of some items—Liability of the remaining properties.

In a suit on a mortgage comprising several items the Court directed that the properties should be sold in a certain order. Held that in the event of the decretal amount being satisfied by the sale of only one property, it did not follow that the remaining mortgagors were released from all liability to contribute to the mortgagor whose property alone has been sold. There must at least be in the previous proceedings an indication of an intention in the mind of the Court to release them such liability. (Roe and Coutts, JJ.) BABU BHEKDHARI SINGH v. BAIJNATH GOENKA.
51 I. C. 49.

——S. 82—Decree on first mortgage—Sale in execution—Whether property purchased if enures towards the second mortgage.

The sale in execution of a decree on the basis of a prior mortgage destroys the right, title and interest of the mortgagor in the property and extinguishes all incumbrances subsequent to the mortgage. The owner of two villages of A. and B mortgaged A. and subsequently mortgaged A. and B, to the same person. The mortgagee purchased A, in execution of his decree on the second mortgage. Held, that the effect of the sale of A. in execution of the decree on first mortgage was to estinguish the right, title and interest of the mortgagor in it and to extinguish all incumbrances subsequent to the first mortgage so that it was open to the mortgagee to enforce the whole of the debt upon the remaining security. (Roe and Jwala Prasad, JJ.) DAND BAHADUR SINGH v. DEONANDAN PRASAD SINGH.
4 Pat. L. W. 108 : 43 I.C. 915 : (1918) Pat. 69.

——S. 82—Mortgage—Subsequent sale of part of the mortgaged property—Purchaser's liability—Contribution.

Certain properties including a house were mortgaged. Subsequently the deft. purchased half of the house from the mortgagor who then sold the equity of redemption in respect of all the mortgaged properties, to the mortgagee. In a suit by the latter to enforce his mortgage by sale of mortgaged properties, held that having regard to the terms of S. 82 the property cannot be sold without fixing the proportion of the mortgaged debt chargeable on the house purchased by the deft. 6 C. L. J. 612, Ref. (Mullick and Kingsford, JJ.) MAHARAJA RAM NARAIN SINGH v. RAM KUMAR LAL BHAGAT.
1 Pat. L. J. 228 : 36 I. C. 208 : 3 Pat. L. W. 101.

——S. 82—Co-mortgagors—Contribution.

Mortgagors are jointly and severally liable to mortgagee for the debt and have a right to contribution as among themselves. (Atkinson, J.) RAJA RAM LAL v. HANUMAN UPADHYA.
35 I. C. 43.

——S. 83—Tender of mortgage money—Offer and refusal—If necessary—Propriety of tender—Test of.

It is not the practice of the Court to require a party to make a formal tender where from the facts stated in the plaint or from the evidence it appears that the tender would have been a mere form and that the party to whom it was made would have refused to accept the money. At the same time there must be a clear release to the mortgagor of his obligation to tender the money to justify the latter in not having presented the money to the mortgagee In considering the question of tender it is not necessary for the Court to speculate as to whether the mortgagor had the money or the control of the money that would have enabled him to meet the large amount that was due on the mortgage. It is very difficult indeed to say whether or not a man will be able to have control of money at a future date. (Lord Buckmaster J.) CHELIKANI VENKATARAYANIM GARU v. SREE RAJAH VATSAVAYA VENKATA SUBADRYAMMA. 44 M. L. J. 631 : 46 Mad. 108 : 25 Bom. L. R. 541 : 38 C. L. J. 34 : 28 C. W. N. 25 : 50 I. A. 41 : 32 M. L. T. (P. C.) 70 : 17 L. W. 383 : 1923 P. C. 26.

——Ss. 83 and 84 — Redemption decree — Deposit in court pending appeal by mortgagee— Lapse of deposit to Government—Liability of mortgagee.

Where in execution of a redemption decree the mortgagor deposits in Court an amount sufficient to satisfy the decree and the mortgagor is let into possession, although an appeal against the decree by the mortgagee is pending, held that the mortgagee ought to take the amount deposited out of Court without prejudice to his pending appeal either by arrangement or with the sanction of the Court which would be given as a matter of course, and that if he fails to do so and the amount lapses to the Government, the mortgagee must bear the loss. (Lord Macnaghten.) CHAMPAT SINGH v. ANGU SINGH. 16 C W. N. 793 : 12 M. L. T. 482 : 10 A. L. J. 379 : (1912) M. W. N. 1150 : 14 Bom. L. R. 1223 : 16 I. C. 830 : 17 C. L. J. 14 : 23 M. L. J. 738 (P. C.)

——S. 83 —Deposit—Non-acceptance by mortgagee—Effect of—Mortgage if subsists.

The making of a deposit under S. 83 of the T. P. Act by the mortgagor does not ipso facto extinquish the mortgage when the mortgagee has refused to accept the deposit. The parties remain in the relationship to one another of mortgagor and mortgagee. It is for the mortgagor dissatisfied with the action of the mortgagee in refusing to accept the money deposited to bring a suit for the enforcement of his legal rights. Unless and until he does so successfully the mortgage still subsists. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) AHMADULLAH v. ABDUR RAHIM. 45 A. 592 : 21 A. L. J. 545 : 1924 A. 26.

——Ss. 83 and 84 —Minor mortgagee—Appointment of guardian to draw out money—Duty of mortgagor—Interest when ceases to run.

Where a mortgagor deposits the money due in court, but the mortgagee happens to be a minor, it is the duty of the former to see that a proper guardian is appointed for the purpose. The mere fact of making an application will not enable any one to withdraw amount unless a person is appointed by court, and until that is done, interest will not cease to run. (Mears, C, J. and Banerjee J.) KHUNNU MAL v. INDARPAL SINGH. 21 A. L. J. 39 : L. R. 4 A. 331 : 45 A. 273 : 1923 A. 183.

[On appeal from 64 I. C. 907.]

——Ss. 83 and 84—Deposit by mortgagor—Refusal by mortgagee to accept—Subsequent withdrawal of deposit—Interest ceases to run.

Where deposit has been made under S. 83 of the Transfer of Property Act of the full amount due under the mortgage and due notice given and the mortgagee appeared in court but definitely refuses to accept the money, and subsequently the mortgagor withdrew it from court. Held, that interest ceased to run from the date of deposit. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) HUKAM SINGH v. BABU LAL. 44 A. 198 : 20 A. L. J. 7 : L. R. 3 A. 573 : 1922 All. 181.

——Ss. 83 and 84—Minor mortgagee--Deposit —Duty of mortgagor—Interest, when ceases to run.

While making a deposit of the mortgage money, it is the duty of a mortgagor when dealing with a minor mortgagee, to take all steps which are necessary to procure an appointment of a guardian ad litem. He must apply to the Court and must bring before it some person who is willing to act as a guardian, or failing that, he must satisfy the Court in whatever way he can, that there is no person to his knowledge who is willing to accept the duty of a guardian. In that case he can ask the court to take action under O. 22, R. 4, Until the appointment of the guardian ad litem. he has not done all that has to be done by him to enable the mortgagee to take money out of Court, and so in that case interest will continue to run even after the date of the deposit. Per Stuart, J.—All that a mortgagor making a deposit of the mortgage money has to do is to present a duly verified petition and to state best to his knowledge and ability the correct address of the mortgagee and if he be a minor to propose a person suitable to act as his guardian ad litem. If he does this honestly and to the best of his ability he will not be liable to pay subsequent interest, even if the person proposed to act as guardian does not accept that office. Each case should be looked at upon its merits. (Lindsay and Stuart, JJ.) KANNO MAL v. INDERPAL SINGH 64 I. C. 907 : 19 A. L. J. 893.

——S. 83—Mortgagee a minor—Deposit in Court—Guardian-ad-litem not appointed—Interest does not cease to run.

Where a mortgage is in favour of a minor, and the mortgagor deposited the money in Court under S. 83 of the Act without taking steps to have a guardian-ad-litem appointed, held that the deposit was invalid and interest would not cease to run. (Lindsay nnd Stuart, JJ.) SHEO SARAN v. RAM LAGAN. 64 I. C. 413 : 19 A. L. J. 852.

——S. 83—Deposit of mortgage money.

Suit by prior mortgagee for foreclosure without impleading puisne mortgagee ending in a final decree for foreclosure does not put an end to the right of prior mortgagee to deposit money due on puisne mortgage. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) PARASRAM SINGH v. PANDOHI.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 83.

L. R 3 A. 217.

——Ss. 83 and 84—Deposit insufficient — Interest does not cease to run.

If the amount deposited is insufficient by however trifling a sum, the mortgagor is not entitled to the benefit of S. 84 of the Act and to claim cessation of interest. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) DEBI PRASAD v. KADAR SINGH.

19 A. L. J. 582 : 63 I. C. 563 : 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 93.

——S. 83—Covenant to redeem in Jeth—Deposit in Jeth—Notice of tender could not be served in Jeth.

A usufructuary mortgage was to be redeemed in the Jeth of any year. The mortgagor deposited the money due into Court on the last day of Jeth of 1910 A. D.; but the notice of tender could not be served on the mortgagee in that month. The money therefore remained in Court as the mortgagee did not appear. Five years after, the mortgagor sued for redemption and damages for three years preceding the suit. Held the tender was valid and the suit was wrongly dismissed by the Lower Court. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) AHMAD BEG v. DHORMUN RAI.

43 All. 424 : 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 45 : 60 I. C. 760 : 19 A. L. J. 259

——S. 83—Deposit—Mortgagor to redeem on the last day of Jeth—Notice.

Under a usufructuary mortgage, the mortgagor was to redeem the mortgage on the last day of Jeth of the year 1917 fasli, corresponding with the 22nd June of 1910. On the 17th of June 1910 the full amount of the mortgage money was deposited by the mortgagor under S. 83 of the T. P. Act. But the Court could not issue the notice of deposit before the 27th of June 1910. Held, that the mortgagee was entitled to a notice of the deposit either on or before the 22nd of June 1910. Under the circumstances he was entitled to maintain his possession and cultivate the land for two more harvests and was not liable to damages. (Piggott, J.) DWARKA PERSHAD v. SHEO AMBAR KOERI.

15 I. C. 592.

——S. 83—Deposit by mortgagor—Notice to mortgagee—Duty of Court.

After the mortgagor deposits the money in the Court, the Court must, under 2nd paragraph of the section, see that notice of the deposit is served on the mortgagee. The mortgagor is not bound to see that the notice is so served. (Mukerjee, A.C.J. and Fletcher, J.) NIBARAN CHANDRA v. PARBATI CHARAN NASKEI.

60 I. C. 454.

——S. 83—Tender of greater sum than is due if valid.

A tender of the greater includes the smaller, Dean v. James, 4 B. and Ad 546, Rel. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) RAJA BAIKUNTH NATH v. BENODE BEHARE.

51 I. C. 13 : 29 C. L J. 256.

——S. 83—Full deposit— Mortgagee part owner of the mortgaged property.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 83.

The plaintiff mortgagor is entitled to make a deposit of the whole mortgage debt notwithstanding that the mortgagees have become the owners of part of the mortgaged property (6 M. 61 Doubted); and on the principle of the greater including the less, omne majus continet in se minus, the tender would be good even if the plaintiff is entitled to tender a lesser sum, but the plaintiff is not so entitled to tender lesser sum, as the amount of the proportionate reduction in the mortgage debt had not been ascertained either by agreement or by the Court, and in these circumstances it cannot be said that there was any lesser sum which the plaintiff was entitled to tender or the mortgagees were bound to accept. Even where the mortgagee has become owner of a part of the mortgaged property, the deposit must be of the whole amount where the amount of proportionate reduction of the mortgage debt has not been ascertained. An assignee of the share of the mortgagor's interest can also deposit the amount. After a valid deposit, the mortgagee in possession will become liable not only for actual collections but also for the amount left uncollected by him on account of his failure to make his best endeavours to collect them. (Krishnan and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) TADEPALLI SUBBA RAO v. SRI BALUSU BUCHI SARVARAYADU.

18 L. W. 61 : 1923 M. W. N. 533 : 44 M. L. J. 534 : 1923 M. 533.

——S. 83—Deposit in Court — Interest — Mesne profits.

Where the mortgagor deposited the sum due in court and did all he could to enable the mortgagee to draw the amount, and the same was not done because of the disputes among the mortgagee's heirs interest ceases to run from the date of deposit, and the mortgagor is entitled to mesne profits. (Phillips and Devadoss, JJ.) NAGATHAL v. ARUMUGAM PILLAI.

32 M. L. T. (H. C.) 371 : 44 M. L. J. 362 : 17 L. W. 154 : 1923 Mad 354 (1)

——Ss. 83 and 84— Deposit after suit— Interest.

A deposit under S. 83 of the T. P. Act is invalid if made after institution of the suit by the mortgagee. If the deposit was made before the mortgagor received notice of the institution of the suit, it must include the costs incurred by the mortgagee. (Phillips and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) THIAGARAJA AIYAR v. RAMASWAMI AIYAR.

48 I. C. 693 : 35 M. L. J. 605.

——S. 83—Tender—More amount than is due—Validity of.

Per Seshagiri Aiyar J.—A tender of a sum larger than the amount due on a mortgage from which the mortgagee is asked to take whatever is due to him is valid and interests ceases to run from the date of such deposit. The rule as to tender is part of the law laid down in S. 38 of the Contract Act and if there is a bona fide attempt, the rights of the parties ought not to be defeated by technicalities. Per Napier, J.—If a tender under S. 83 of the T. P. Act is accompanied by a prayer for costs and the Court refuses to take action, the tender is bad. The tender is equally bad, if in making the deposit, the mortgagor requires the Court to ascertain the amount due on the mortgage (Seshagiri Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) SUBRAMANIA AIYAR v. NARAYANASWAMI VANDYAR.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 83.

7 L. W. 537 : 45 I. C. 638 : 34 M. L. J. 439.

——Ss. 83 and 84—Deposit into Court to mortgagee—Tender—Interest.

A mortgagor deposited the amount due into Court and notice was sent to the mortgagee through the Court. The mortgagee refused to accept the money and the money remained in deposit in Court. Held, that there was a valid tender within S. 84 of the T. P. Act, and the fact that notice was through Court could not make it any the less a valid tender. 40 M 804, Ref. 85 M. 44 not Foll. (Abdur Rahim and Phillips, JJ.) GOVINDAN NAIR v. CHERUYANNA.
(1917) M. W. N. 853 : 7 L. W. 81 : 43 I. C. 126 : 35 M. L. J. 313.

——Ss. 83 and 84—Tender—Essentials of.

A tender is valid when made to party direct and the payment need not be made into Court. If it is refused, interest will cease to run. An offer to pay may be made to party direct and money need not be paid into Court and on refusal to receive, interest will cease to run. (Ayling and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) BEDURUKOTA PEDDA VEERANNA v. GOMDIMALLA VEERANNA.
(1917) M. W. N. 308 : 38 I. C. 295 : 5 L. W. 718.

——Ss. 83 and 84—Deposit in Court—Conditions thereof—Tender and deposit, distinguished.

In order that a deposit under S. 83 of the Act may be effective it must be allowed to remain in Court until the mortgagee or his successor can draw it out of Court. A motgagor who makes a deposit in Court and withdraws it before the heirs of a mortgagee, who is dead, are ascertained, cannot claim cessation of interest, and in the case of the mortgagor again depositing the amount after the institution of mortgagee's suit in calculating interest from that date the amount deposited should be deducted from the principal, and interest should be allowed only for the balance. Per Seshagiri Aiyar, J.—Tender and deposit are not analogous. In the case of the former, the debtor takes the risk of deciding who is the proper person to be paid, but in the latter the debtor leaves the decision to the Court. Per Phillips, J., Obiter :—On the refusal of the mortgagee to accept the deposit, notice of which is sent through Court, interest ceases as in the case of the mortgagee's refusal to accept tender out of Court. The cessation of interest being a penalty, there can be no remission of it by the mortgagee changing his mind after his refusal and the withdrawal by the mortgagor of the money paid into Court. (Abdur Rahim, C.J., Seshagiri Aiyar and Phillips, JJ.) THEVARAYA REDDY v. VENKATACHALA PANDITHAN. 40 Mad. 804 : 31 M. L. T. 548 : (1916) 2 M. W. N. 321 : 4 L. W. 433 : 37 I. C. 444 : 20 M. L. J. 403.

——Ss. 83 and 84—Tender—Small deficiency—Running of interest—When stops.

If a mortgagor pays the exact amount due on his mortgage into Court and causes notice to be issued to the proper address of the mortgagee paying batta therefor he has done all that is required of him under Ss. 83 and 84 of the T. P. Act to prevent the running of interest. 35 M. 44 Foll. Where the amount deposited by the mortgagor falls short of what is due by even a few annas, owing to a bona fide mistake in calculation it is not a sufficient tender to the mortgagee within the meaning of the section and the mortgagor is not entitled to mesne profits on the mortgagee's refusal to accept it. 16 B. 141 Disapp. 8 A. 502 Ref. to. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Moore, JJ.) SUBBAI GOUNDAN v. PALANI GOUNDAN.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 83.

34 I. C. 825 : 30 M. L. J. 607.

——Ss. 83 and 84—Tender and notice to parties—Withdrawal of petition—Effect.

The mortgagor paid the money into Court and issued notices to the four sons of the mortgagee and before all of them could be served, he requested the Court to dismiss the petition. Held, that there was no proper tender and interest did not cease to run. Per Ayling, J.—The dismissal of the petition was tantamount to withdrawal of money. 35 M. 44 Foll. Per Tyabji, J.—The mortgagors had not done all that had to be done to enable the mortgagees to take the amount. Tender through Court consists at leaat of deposit and notice to the parties. (Ayling and Tyabji, JJ.) VENKATESWARUDU v. BALA TIRUPURA SUNDARI. 30 I. C. 769 : (1915) M. W. N. 763.

——S. 83—Deposit— Penalty— Compound interest at an enhanced rate—Penal interest not deposited—Amount tendered subsequently accepted by Court as sufficient—Tender, valid.

The words "amount remaining due on the mortgage" in S. 83 of the T. P. Act mean the amount which a Court finds as due, and not the whole amount stipulated for payment under the mortgage deed. A mortgagor is not bound to deposit the full amount including the penal rate of interest, and the Court having found that the amount tendered was sufficient, the tender was valid and interest ceased to run from the date of tender and the mortgagor was entitled to mesne profits from that date. (Coutts-Trotter and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) AYYAKUTTI MANKONDAN v. PERIYA SWAMI KAVANDAN. 39 Mad. 579 : 18 M. L. T. 161 : 30 I. C. 497 : 2 L. W. 585.

——S. 83—Conditional deposit—Validity.

If a condition requiring a return of certain documents to which the mortgagor is not entitled, is attached to a deposit under S. 83, the tendor is invalid. 17 M. 267 Dist. (Sadasiva Aiyar, J.) In re ACHATH SANKARAN NAIR. 29 I. C. 586.

——Ss. 83 and 84—Deposit—Essentials of.

It is only the actual payment of the full mortgage amount into court that makes interest on the mortgage amount cease to run under S. 84 and not a mere presentation of a petition for that purpose under S. 83. (Ayling and Tyabji, JJ.) MUSALIUM VEETIL THEYATHIL MAHAMMADUNNI v. KUDUMPALATH PADINHARA PARAMBIL BAVA.
29 I. C. 145 : 2 L. W. 408.

——S. 83—Deposit—Effect of.

Where deposit of the amount due under a lease of mortgage does not put an end to the relationship between the parties. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) BALASIDHANTAM v. PERUMAL CHETTI. 1 L. W. 641 : 27 I. C. 162 : 27 M. L. J. 475.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 83.

——Ss. 83 and 84—Right to tender—Equity—Redemption—Contract for purchase of.

A tender by a person entering into a contract for purchasing the equity of redemption is not valid if it is made conditional on the endorsement cancellation and delivery to him of the mortgage deed. (Bakewell, J.) VARADARAJULU CHETTY v. DHANALAKSHMI AMMAL.

26 I. C. 184 : 16 M. L. T. 365.

——S. 83—Deposit—Mortgagee drawing money—If mortgagor can object.

A mortgagor cannot object to the mortgagee drawing the money deposited by mortgagor under S. 83. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) KOTAVENGATTIL v. KEZATATH KRISHNA MENON.

25 I. C. 369.

——Ss. 83 and 84—Deposit—Interest—Before and after action.

'Deposited in Court' in S. 84, T. P. Act, contemplates a case of continuing deposit and interest does not cease to run if the mortgagor subsequently withdraws it and tender the same in Court before suit. 35 M. 44 Foll (Ayling and Tyabji, JJ.) THEVARAYA REDDY v. VENKATACHALA PANDITHAN. 16 M. L. T. 131 : 25 I. C. 96 : 1 L. W. 595.

——S. 83—Condition for depositing money.

S. 83 presupposes that the mortgagor has a valid right to redeem and that he is not attempting to exercise that right contrary to provisions of the contract between them. A mortgagor cannot deposit money under S. 83 unless he puts the mortgagee in possession if required by their contract. S. 83 should be read with Ss. 67 and 86. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) BAYYA DAS v. NARASINGA MAHAPATRAO. 35 Mad. 209 : 10 M. L. T. 37 : 10 I. C. 393 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 126.

——S. 83—C. P. C. O. 24, R. 1—Deposit—Tender after suit.

After one Court has taken cognizance of a suit by a mortgagee for the enforcement of his mortgages the mortgagor cannot deposit the mortgage amount in another Court under S. 83 When once a suit has been instituted payment into Court is regulated by O. 24, R. 1 and not by S. 83 of the T. P. Act. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) BAYYA DAS v. NARSINGA MAHAPAT RAO. 35 Mad. 209 : 10 M. L. T. 37 : 10 I C. 393 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 126.

——S. 83—Deposit of mortgage money—Sufficiency of—Penal provision for interest.

Where a mortgagor deposits the amount due on a mortgage disregarding a penal provision for payment of enhanced interest in the mortgage deed forthe court finds that the amount deposited covers the principal and reasonable interest thereon, then the deposit is a valid deposit under S. 83 of the T. P. Act. (Kotval, A. J. C.) TARA CHAND DIP CHAND v. NARAYAN. 18 N. L. R. 47 : 1922 Nag. 199.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 83.

——S. 83—Tender by deposit in Court—When sufficient.

In a suit for redemption of a mortgage which provided that redemption shall take place in the fallow season but did not mention any specific months, the mortgagor made a deposit in court on 14 h May 1919 but the mortgagee was actually served with notice after the crops were sown. Held that the deposit must be regarded as sufficient since the mortgagor was not responsible for the delay. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) SANT RAM v. JARBHANDAN. 1922 Oudh 17.

——S. 83—Interest — Deposit —Duties of person—Entitled to the money—Effect.

A mortgagor is not liable to pay interest after he has made a deposit according to the terms of S 83. If through the fault of the person or persons entitled to the money it is not clear exactly to whom the money is to be paid the mortgagor is not deprived of the right conferred on him by S. 83 on account of the omissions and errors of such persons. (Stuart, J. C.) HARIHAR BAKSH SINGH v. SHEO SINGH. 36 I. C. 814 : 19 O. C. 145.

——S. 83—Tender—Valid—Requisites of.

The tender must be full in order to stop the interest ; if the tender is inadequate the mortgagee can ignore it altogether and recover the interest at contract rate till date of redemption. There is no via media in the matter. (Lindsay, J. C.) GAURISHANKER v. ABAI JAFAR KHAN.

34 I. C. 690 : 3 O. L. J. 204.

——Ss. 83 and 103—Minor deft.—C. P. C., O. 32, R. 3—Guardian-at-litem—Appointment of, in deposit proceedings—Duty of Court.

Whenever a mortgagee is a minor, a guardian ad-litem should be appointed by Court as a preliminary to proceedings under S. 83 of the T. P. Act ; this function rested with the Court itself under S. 443 of the C. P. C. (Sabonadiere, A. J. C.) SHIVANATH SINGH v. MANOHAR LAL.

22 I. C. 245 : 16 O. C. 261.

——S. 83—Deposit by mortgagor—Refusal to accept deposit—Subsequent application by mortgagee to withdraw deposit—Legality of.

Where the deposit by the mortgagor is refused by the mortgagee and the petition is disposed of, the mortgagee cannot come in later and ask to be given the deposit. After the disposal of the case there is no other tender, and the money was the mortgagor's money and the mortgagor was entitled to withdraw it at her own pleasure. Being therefore of opinion that there was no tender outstanding the order directing the money to be paid to the mortgagees seems to have been made without jurisdiction. It is also not clear how a security bond was taken for S. 83 of the Transfer of Property Act does not authorize the Court to take any security bond from any party. (Mullick and Bucknill, JJ.) MT. RATNA KOER v. MT. NANHAKI

4 Pat. L. T. 720 : 1923 Pat. 256 : 1924 P. 41.

——S. 83—Tender—Continued readiness to pay—Proof of.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S.84.

It is necessary that a mortgagor should after tender keep the money ready for payment. To establish that the amount tendered had always been kept available for payment involves consideration of evidence and should not be allowed to be raised for the first time in second appeal. (Coutts and Ross, JJ.) JAG SAHU v. RAM SAKHI KUER. (1922) Pat. 58 : 3 Pat. L. T. 332 : 1 Pat. 350 : 1922 P. 167.

——S. 84—Cessation of interest—'All that has to be done.'

Where the mortgagor did apply for issue of notice to the mortgagee and gave the correct address, though as a matter of fact notice was not actually served on the mortgagee till after a long time the duty of getting service effected on the mortgagee was no part of the duty of the mortgagor. The mortgagor therefore had done all that had to be done by him to enable the mortgagee to take the money out of Court and hence interest ceased to run from that date. (Stuart and Sulaiman, JJ.) PANDIT JIVA RAM v. THAKURAIN KHEM KOER. 1923 A. 24.

——Ss. 84 and 103—Deposit of mortgage money—Minor mortgagee—Steps—Cessation of interest.

It is not enough for a person making a deposit, in cases of a minor mortgagee to apply to the Court for the appointment of a guardian-ad-litem for the minor, but he must procure the appointment of such a guardian and it is not until the Court finally appointed such a guardian that he could be deemed to have done all that he has to do under S. 84 of the Act and interest does not cease until that date. (Lindsay and Stuart, JJ., Stuart, J., Dissenting.) Per Stuart, J—When the depositor has honestly done his best to inform the Court as to who is a suitable person to be appointed guardian-ad-litem of the minor mortgagee, his duty ends there and it does not extend to his seeing that the guardian is actually appointed and interest will cease to run from the date of deposit. (Lindsay and Stuart, JJ.) KANNO MAL v. INDRAPAL. 64 I. C. 907 : 19 A. L. J. 893.

——S. 84—Tender—Mere offer by notice.

An offer by notice of the amount due under a mortgage without production of the money is not a good tender under S 84 of the T. P. Act. (Mears, C. J and Rafique, J.) MUHAMMAD MUSHTAQ ALI v. BANKEY LAL. 55 I. C. 991 : 18 A. L. J. 440.

——S. 84—Tender—Meaning of—An offer by letter, if good tender.

Under S 84, an order by letter is not a good tender. Money must have been actually produced unless it can be shown that the person entitled to receive the money waived this condition. (Richards, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) CHETAN DAS v. GOVIND SARAN. 36 All. 139 : 22 I C. 659 : 12 A. L. J. 111.

——S. 84—Tender— Person denying— If can question validity.

A person denying a tender cannot question its sufficiency or validity. (Holmwood and Chapman, JJ.) MAHOMED MOZAFFAR ALI v. ASRAF ALI. 25 I. C. 93.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 84.

——S. 84—Tender—Partial-Payment after demand of whole amount.

An offer of a part-payment after demand for payment of the full amount due under the mortgage is not a valid tender so as to stop the running of interest. (Scott-Smith and Le Rossignol, JJ.) SALIG RAM v. SABGHAT ULLA. 83 P. W. R. 1918 : 45 I. C. 175 : 81 P. L. R. 1918.

——S. 84—Tender—When proper.

The mortgagor gave the defendants mortgagees a notice to redeem. To that notice the defendants replied that the deed was really one of sale and not of mortgage, but at the same time they set forth the sum which they claimed. The mortgagors never asked for further details of the defendant's claim and made no counter. They sued nearly two years later, they did not offer any specified sum in the plaint or pay anything into Court, held, that they made no legal tender within S. 84 36 All. 139 ; 42 All. 420 Ref. (Scott Smith and Fforde, JJ.) BUDHU RAM v. NIAMAT RAI. 4 Lah. 406 : 1923 Lah. 632.

——S. 84—Tender — What is—Mortgagor asking mortgagee for an account of what is due with an expression of willingness to pay—Mortgagee setting up absolute title in himself but mentioning amount due—Mortgagor not ready to pay amount—Tender if valid.

Where a mortgagor wrote to the usufructuary mortgagee asking for an account of what was due on the mortgage and expressing his willingness to pay and the mortgagee stated he had an absolute title to the property, but at the same time mentioned the amount due and the mortgagor had not given the money to pay the amount, interest on the mortgage will not cease to run from the date of the mortgagee's reply. Mere expression of willingness on the part of the mortgagor to pay the amount due on a mortgage is not a tender. Nor does the assertion of an absolute title by the mortgagee coupled with a statement of the amount due by the mortgagee to a dispensation with tender. (Abdur Rahim and Olafield, JJ.) CHALIKANI VENKATARAYANIM GARU v. VATSAVYA VENKATA SUBHADRYAMMA. (1918) M. W. N. 371 : 24 M. L. T. 56 : 45 I. C. 437 : 8 L. W 416 : 34 M. L. J. 488.

——S.84—Deposit—Interest—Computation of.

In calculating the interest due on a mortgage amount for making a deposit under S. 84 of the Transfer of Property Act, interest accruing due for the day of deposit should be included. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Moore, JJ.) SUBHAI GOUNDAN v. PALANI GOUNDAN. 34 I. C. 825 : 30 M. L. J. 607.

——S. 84—Interest—No tender of mortgage money.

If there is no tender of the mortgage amount interest can rightly be charged. (Ayling and Phillips, JJ.) KRISHNA BATTA v. SRINIVASA SHAMBAGU. 32 I. C. 97.

——S. 84—Tender—What is—Mere willingness to pay, if sufficient.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 84.

A mere readiness and willingness to pay not communicated to the creditor, without the debtor being in position to pay immediately, if the offer is, accepted does not amount to a valid tender. 30 C. 865, Dist. (Kotval, Offg. A. J. C.) SHEORATAN v. BEHARILAL SOERAM MARWADI. 45 I. C. 106.

——S. 84—Tender--Due date.

A tender of the mortgage amount before it becomes payable is of no effect. 2 B. 231. Rel; U.B.R. (1907—1909) II Mortgage. (McColl, J. C.) GUO PO NYUM v. MI YIN. 2 U. B. R. (1916) 141: 39 I. C. 377: 11 Bur. L. T. 36.

——S. 84—Tender—Production of money—When unnecessary—Waiver.

Production of money is not in all cases necessary to constitute a valid tender; it may be waived by the creditor and offer of payment is enough where it is shown that money would not have been accepted even if produced. (Maung Kin, J.) MAUNG PO TUN v. MAUNG E KHA.
9 Bur. L. T. 117: 33 I. C. 735: 9 L. B. R. 18.

——S. 85.

See also C. P. CODE, O. 34, R. 1.

——S. 85—Parties to suit.

Only persons interested in the mortgage are necessary parties in a suit under S. 85 before the Code. So a creditor of the mortgagor who attached the mortgaged property is not a necessary party. (Holmwood and Chapman, JJ.) SHAUNDA CHANDRA PAUL v. SREE NATH ROY CHOUDHURY. 17 I C. 432: 17 C. W. N. 871.

——Ss. 86 to 90.

See also C. P. CODE, O. 34, RR. 2—12.

——Ss. 87 and 88—Mortgage suit—Scope of.

The scope of a mortgage suit is to cut off the equity of redemption and to bar of the rights of the mortgagor and all persons claiming under him. (Sanderson, C. J. and Mookerjee, J.) PRIYA SAKHI DEBI v. BIRESHWAR SAMANT.
21 C W. N. 177: 44 Cal. 425: 37 I. C. 277: 27 C. L. J. 212.

——Ss. 88 and 89—Attachment of property—Mortgage pending attachment—Decree for sale on mortgage—Purchase by money decree-holder—Order of—Exemption from sale under mortgage decree—Rights of mortgagee.

Certain properties were attached in execution of a money decree and during the attachment the judgment-debtor mortgaged the properties. The mortgagee sued to enforce the mortgage and obtained a decree for sale. On the objection of the attaching decree-holder the properties attached by him were exempted from sale under the mortgage. The money decree-holder purchased the property in execution and obtained possession. In a suit by the mortgagee decree-holder for possession of the properties. Held that the order exempting the properties from sale under the mortgage decree had become final and that in the absence of an order absolute, the mortgagee was in the possession of a money decree-holder. Consequently the mortgage decree-holder's suit was not maintainable. (Sir John Edge.) SARJU PRASAD MISSIR v. MADHUSUDAN CHOWDHURY.
21 A. L. J. 195: (1922) M. W N. 793: 31 M. L. T. 219: 27 C. W. N. 279: 1922 P. C. 341 (P. C.).

——S. 88—Decree under Old act—Repeal by C. P. Code—Effect of.

A person obtaining a decree under S. 88 of the Act, before the passing of the C. P. Code of 1908, has a right to execute the decree under S. 88 of the T. P. Act and the subsequent repeal of that section by the C. P. Code of 1908 does not deprive him of that right. (Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) VISWANATHA SASTRI v. SITALAKSHMIAMMAL. (1921) M. W. N. 181: 61 I. C. 979: 13 L. W. 37.

——S. 89—Mortgage—Decree for sale—Effect of.

Where a decree for sale is passed rights under the decree are substituted for those under the mortgage, a first mortgagee suing on his mortgage without impleading the puisne mortgagee obtains a decree. The puisne mortgagee suing on his mortgage will have to pay only the amount of the decree on first mortgage and not the amount due under the mortgage deed, with interest at the contract rate. (Sir John Edge.) MATHU MAL v. DURGA KUNWAR. 11 L. W. 529: 22 Bom. L. R. 553: (1920) M. W. N. 338: 18 A. L. J. 396: 2 U. P. L. R. (P. C.) 75: 32 C. L. J. 121: 55 I. C. 969: 38 M. L. J. 419 (P. C.)
[Also 40 All. 407: 45 I. C. 798: 45 I. A. 130 (P.C.)]

——S. 89—Order absolute—Application for—Limitation.

Limitation Act (1877) Art. 179 is applicable to an application for an order absolute under S. 89 of the T. P. Act as it is an application for execution. (Lord Mersey.) ASHFAQ HUSAIN v. GAURI SAHAI. 33 All. 264: 38 I. A. 37: 15 C. W. N. 370: 8 A. L. J. 332: 13 C. L. J. 351: 9 M. L. T. 380: 13 Bom. L. R. 367: 4 Bur. L.T. 121: 9 I. C. 975: (1911) 2 M. W. N. 177: 21 M. L. J. 1140 (P. C.).

——S. 89—Order absolute for sale—Effect of—Advance to pay off the mortgage—No revival of mortgage.

An order absolute under S. 89 of the T. P. Act has the effect of extinguishing both the security and the rights of redemption in the entire mortgage. Consequently the mortgage cannot be revived by an advance of money for the payment of decree. (Rafique and Stuart, JJ.) JAGANNATH PRASAD v. MT. CHATUR KUER. L. R. 3 A. 619: 45 All. 149: 1923 All. 171.

——S. 90—Mortgage—Decree for sale—Composite decree—Personal decree for unrealised balance.

Under S. 90 of the T. P. Act (O. 34, R. 6 of the C. P. Code) it is not a condition precedent to the making of a personal decree for the balance of the mortgage money, that the mortgaged properties should have been sold and the proceeds found insufficient to satisfy the debt. It is open to the Court to provide in a decree for sale, that if the proceeds of sale are not sufficient to cover the amount of the mortgage debt together with interest, the deft. shall pay the balance personally. (Lord Buckmaster.) JEUNA BAHU v. PARMESHWAR NARAYAN MAHTHA. 17 A. L. J. 207 : 23 C. W. N. 490 : 25 M. L. T. 278: 29 C. L. J. 443: 21 Bom. L. R. 589: 10 L. W. 26: (1919) M. W. N. 347: 12 Bur. L. T. 80: 49 I. C. 620 : 36 M. L. J. 215 (P. C.).

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 90.

——— S. 90—Co-mortgagees—Rights of.

A co-mortgagee brought a suit on the mortgage and joined the other mortgagees as pro forma defts. and obtained a decree in his own name. The property was sold in execution of the decree and was purchased by the decree-holder alone. Held, that the equitable right of the other mortgagees attached to the purchase money and not the property purchased. (Richards, C. J. and Rafique, J.) GANESH LAL v. JAGAN NATH. 32 I. C. 171.

——— S. 90—Lease obtained in representative capacity—Advantage.

Where a lease is given to and accepted by a person in his representative capacity and as such gains an advantage for himself he must under S. 90 of the Trusts Act hold the advantage as trustee for the benefit of all. (Mittra and Prideaux, A.J.Cs.) FAGWA v. BUDHRAM. 24 I. C. 855 : 10 N. L. R. 64.

——— S. 91—

See also C. P. C., O. 34, R. 1.

——— S. 91—Redemption—Right to—Usufructuary mortgage of Sir lands prior to Agra Tenancy Act—Sale of mortgagor's proprietary right after Tenancy Act—Mortgagor ex-proprietary tenant—Right to redemption.

Where after creating a usufructuary mortgage of certain sir plots, the mortgagor sells his proprietary rights to a third person who later on acquires the mortgagee's right also, the mortgagor continuing an ex-proprietary tenant has, as such, an interest in the property within S. 91 of the T. P. Act, which would enable him to redeem the usufructuary mortgage. (Richards, C. J. and Tudball, J.) MUHAMMAD HUSSAIN v. HANUMAN. 47 I. C. 861: 16 A. L. J. 796.

——— S. 91—Execution purchaser--Redemption.

A purchaser of mortgaged property in execution of a money decree, who is not impleaded as a party to the suit on the mortgage, in which the mortgaged property is sold, is entitled to redeem the purchase in execution of the mortgage decree even though he was not the purchaser before the date of the suit on the mortgage since he claimed under the money decree-holder who had already attached the mortgaged property. Quaere.—Whether attachment has the effect of conferring an estate? (Richardson, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) LAKHPAT RAI v. ESAKARUDDIN.. 39 All. 536 : 41 I. C. 190: 15 A. L. J. 471.

——— S. 91—Suit—Parties—Execution purchaser—Suit by, for possession—Interested person not impleaded—If suit lies.

A suit by an execution purchaser under a mortgage decree for possession from a person interested but who is excluded from the mortgage suit is maintainable subject to that person's right to redeem. (Carnduff, J.) SALI MUDDI v. UZIR MAHOMED. 13 I. C. 299.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 91.

——— S. 91—Right to redeem—Grand-daughter—Collaterals.

A Mahomedan lady mortgaged her property to defendant and assigned her mortgagor's right to her daughter after whose death the names of her daughter (plaintiff) and son were entered in the revenue papers. After her brother's death, plaintiff sued for redemption. Held, the defendant was certainly entitled to object to redemption being claimed by any one except the original person. The plaintiff without showing that she had a right of succession against the collaterals was not entitled to a decree, and the question as to whether plaintiff had preferential right of succession must be tried in the suit for redemption. (Abdul Raoof, J.) MAHAMMADA v. MUSSAMMAT AJJAN. 1923 Lah. 222.

——— S. 91—Joint estate—Mortgage by all the joint-holders severally—Redemption by joint-holder of all the lands mortgaged by all the joint owners severally—Objection by one joint owner's widow—Priority of rights of redemption.

Where in a joint holding though technically each has an interest in every inch of the joint estate its joint character may be regarded as in a state of suspension till the respective mortgages are redeemed. The interest contemplated by S. 91 of the T. P. Act, is an interest derived directly or indirectly from the mortgagor since making the mortgage. A mortgagor or his heir in possession has the preferential right to redeem the mortgage over the other joint owners of the estate, who are merely reversioners. (Shahdin and Le Rossignol, JJ.) GEEVAN SINGH v. ACHHAR SINGH. 56 P. L. R. 1916: 30 I. C. 389 : 92 P. W. R. 1915.

——— S. 91—Hindu reversioner--One reversioner purchasing the mortgagee's rights—Vendee o share of one reversioner, if competent to redeem.

Where one of the reversioners of a Hindu widow purchases the mortgagee's right in part of the estate and on partition among them his share of the mortgage money due is assigned over to a stranger the assignee has a right of redemption and in a suit for the same the assignor and the alienees are necessary parties. (Kensington, J.) JAGAT SINGH v. BUTA. 98 P. W. R. 1911 : 11 I. C. 512 : 189 P. L. R. 1911

——— S. 91—Attaching creditor—Rights of.

An attaching creditor cannot acquire any interest in the equity of redemption in a mortgaged property under S. 91, T. P. Act and O. 34, R. 1. C. P. Code, gives him merely a right to redeem which is not an interest but a right to be impleaded in the mortgage proceedings. Without these provisions and as an attaching creditor he obtains neither an interest in it nor any equity founded on their infringement. (Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiayr, JJ.) VEYNDRAMUTHU PILLAI v. MAYA NADAN. 43 Mad. 696 : (1920) M.W.N. 299 : 58 I. C. 501 : 28 M. L. T. 312 : 39 M. L. J. 456.

——— S. 91—Co-trustees—Mortgage by some—Redemption.

Where a mortgage of temple properties was made by some of the temple trustees, without consulting the co-trustees, some of the trustees cannot apply to redeem under S. 91 of the T. P.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 91.

Act when the question whether such redemption was in the interest of the temple was not considered by all the trustees as a body. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) ISTOOF v. AYAPPAN. 16 I. C. 435.

——— S. 91— Parties — Attaching money decree-holder—Sale.

Where after certain property had been attached by a money decree-holder, a mortgagee of that property brought a suit on the mortgage, without impleading the attaching decree-holder as a party, obtained a decree for sale, and himself bought the property in execution of his decree. Held, that the order for sale, and the sale held thereunder, were not binding on the attaching decree-holder and that the latter was entitled to bring the properties to sale under his attachment. An attaching decree-holder has, under S. 91, T. P. Act, an interest in the mortgaged property entitling him to redeem the mortgage, and is a necessary party in a suit on the mortgage. 23 A. 167, Ref. (Sundara Aiyar and Ayling, JJ.) VENKATA SEETHARAMAYYA v. VENKATARAMAYYA. 15 I. C. 334 : 37 Mad. 418.

——— S. 91—Hindu— Reversioner — Right to redeem.

A reversioner has no such interest as to entitle him voluntarily to redeem a mortgage made by the last male holder or to institute a suit for that purpose. But if a suit is instituted by the mortgagee for sale, a reversioner has sufficient interest in the property to give him a right to discharge the mortgage to prevent the loss of the property to which he would be entitled to succeed on the death of the widow. (Sundara Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) NARAYANA KUTTI GOUNDAN v. PACHIAMMAL. 35 Mad. 426 : 15 I. C. 206 : 11 M. L. T. 174 : (1912) M. W. N. 353 : 22 M. L. J. 364.

——— S. 91—'Interest in property'—Permanent lessee—Nature and scope.

A person cannot be said to have any interest in property unless he can be prejudiced by a foreclosure or a sale in pursuance of the mortgage. A lessee in perpetuity has an interest in property, subject to mortgage executed before the date of his lease, as the mortgage would not be affected by his lease and any foreclosure or sale would affect his permanent lease. He can therefore redeem the mortgage. (Mittra, O. A. J. C.) SHANKAR SINGH v. HUKUMCHAND. 47 I. C. 99 : 14 N. L. R. 117.

——— S. 91—Parties—Dismissal of a deft. to suit on ground of his paramount title—Subsequent redemption.

A party to a mortgage suit who claims to be dismissed from the suit on the ground of paramount title, cannot afterwards claim to redeem the mortgage in any subsequent suit. His dismissal on his own showing, amounts to an adjudication disentitling him to redeem the mortgage. (Mittra, A. J. C.) RAGHUNATH v. SHEOLAL. 39 I C. 849 : 13 N. L. R. 69.

——— S. 91—Hindu reversioner—Redemption.

During the life time of a limited owner a Hindu reversioner has only a spes successionis and cannot sue to redeem a mortgage by the limited owner. (Daniels and Lyle, A.J Cs.) BASANT SINGH v. RAMPAT SINGH. 6 O. L. J. 248 : 51 I. C. 985 : 1 U. P. L. R. (J. C.) 45.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 91 (f).

——— S. 91—Compromise by some mortgagors.

Compromise of the mortgagors is invalid and the others have a right to redeem the whole. (Coutts and Adami, JJ.) RAM NARAIN LAL v. MURLIDHAR. 5 Pat. L. J. 644 : 58 I. C 129 : 1 P. L T. 616.

——— S. 91—Right to redeem — How extinguished.

The right to redeem can be extinguished only by an order of Court or the act of the parties subsequent to the mortgage. (McColl, J. C.) NGA PO NYUM v. MI YIN. 2 U. B R (1916) 141 : 39 I. C. 377 : 11 Bur. L T. 36.

——— S. 91 (b)—Suit for redemption by second mortgage—Mortgage impugned by first mortgagee—Right to redeem— Effect on.

A mortgage impugned as invalid is valid until questioned by the mortgagor and set aside and a second mortgagee who claims to redeem the first mortgage and is met with the defence that his mortgage is invalid is entitled to redeem under S. 91 (b). (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) CHAKKANGAL GOVINDA MENON v. CHAKKANGAL CHATTU MENON. 22 I. C. 907.

——— S. 91 (b)—Assignee of mortgagor's interest.

An assignee of the mortgagor's interest in a mortgage suit after the passing of the decree conditional for foreclosure but before final decree is not entitled to redeem under S. 91 (b). (Drake-Brockman, J. C.) DIGAMBER v. GANPAT. 33 I. C. 496 : 12 N. L. R. 50.

——— S. 91 (f)—Right to redeem—Attaching creditor.

The conflict on the question whether an attaching creditor who is given a right to redeem by clause (f) of S. 91 of T. P. Act, has any interest in the mortgaged property and is thereby entitled under S. 85 of the T. P. Act to be joined as a defendant in a suit on the mortgage, appears to have been completely set at rest by the amendment of S. 85 of T. P. Act by the substitution for it of R. 1 of O 34 of the C. P. Code whereby the interest of those to be joined in a mortgage suit is no longer restricted to an interest in the property but is stated to be "an interest either in the mortgage security or in the right of redemption. These words cannot possibly exclude any person of any of the classes mentioned in S. 91 of the Transfer of Property Act whether the words of S. 85 of the T. P. Act did so or not and therefore every attaching creditor under a money decree against mortgagor is entitled to redeem the mortgage (Hallifax, A. J. C.) MEGHRAI MARWASI v. KESHO GOPAL BUTI. 6 N L J. 181 : 1923 Nag. 311.

——— S. 91 (f)—Suit for redemption—Right of attaching creditor.

Under S. 91 (f) of the Transfer of Property Act an attaching creditor is entitled to redeem the attached property, but he had no lien or charge on the property under attachment, as against a purchaser of the property at a sale under a mortgage decree to which he was not a party. (Maung Kin, J.) HAN SU v. A. T. K. B. L. M. CHETTY.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 92.

64 I. C. 525 : 13 Bur. L. T. 221.

——Ss. 92 to 99.

See also C. P. CODE, O. 34, RR. 1—14.

——S. 95—Redemption by one co-mortgagor —Right of other co-mortgagors.

Where one of several mortgagors redeems a mortgage, the other mortgagors can bring a suit for redemption against the redeeming mortgagor. Limitation Act Art. 148 is applicable. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) SURAT SINGH v. UMRAO SINGH. 20 A. L. J. 611 : 1922 A. 410.

——S. 95—Co-owners—Payment of debt by one—Effect.

If one member of a joint family (not the manager) mortgages the family property to pay off a prior mortgage-debt due thereon from the family, the first mortgage must be considered to have been redeemed by a person interested in the mortgaged property and not kept alive under any colour of subrogation. When a co-owner redeems a mortgage subsisting on the common undivided property belonging to him and others as co-owners, he does not step into the shoes of the mortgagee but he acquires a charge on the remaining co-owner's share of the debt. (Tudball and Piggott, JJ.) JAI, KRISHNA v. BUDHANAND.
38 All. 138 : 34 I. C. 244 : 14 A. L. J. 41.

——S. 95—Contribution — Co-mortgagors—relieving his co-mortgagor of a burden.

A mortgagor relieving his co-mortgagors of a burden, whether under compulsion of law or as a private transaction can claim that his co-mortgagors should pay him, what he has paid for their benefit and he need not be put in possession of the property of the co-mortgagors. 26 A. 22; 1 A. 533, Foll. (Banerjee and Walsh, JJ.) ABID ALI v. IMAM ALI.
38 All. 92 : 32 I. C. 177 : 14 A. L. J. 18.

——S. 95—Redemption in part—Integrity if broken—Co-heir in redeeming mortgage—Charge.

Where the mortgage deed provides that the mortgagor might redeem any portion of the property by the mortgagors upon payment of a proportionate part, and some of the mortgagors so redeem their share, the integrity of the mortgage is not broken up. One of the co-heirs of a mortgagor being interested in the property if he pays off the debt and redeems the property, is entitled to possession of the property and other co-heirs cannot defeat the charge he acquires under S. 95 by keeping him out of possession. (Chamier, J.) SHAFEAT ULLAH v. IZIZULLAH.
28 I. C. 677 : 13 A. L J. 372.

——S. 95—Redemption—Adverse possession.

In the absence of an open disclaimer of the hostile title by a co-sharer against the others he cannot get adverse possession of the joint property that is in his possession. Two persons mortgaged their property to a third person. After some time one of them redeemed the whole without the others' knowledge, and remortgaged it to a fourth person, who leased to the heirs of the first mortgagee. There was no knowledge to the other of exclusion and adverse possession by the redeemer He brought a redemption suit afterwards. Held, as the first redeemer asserted no title against the other, challenging his right to redeem his interest from the first redeemer, his and his mortgagee's possession is not adverse though a limited title under Art. 134 of Limitation Act may be set up by the mortgagee. (Scott, C. J., Beaman and Hayward, JJ.) BHAIJI SHAMRAO v. HAJIMIYA MAHANAD.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 95.

15 I. C. 500 : 14 Bom. L. R. 314.

——S. 95—Contribution—Nature of the right.

Whether the party seeking contribution has voluntarily made payment or he is compelled to pay the money by coercive process, e. g., execution of decree, the right to contribution arises when the person has paid in excess of his share for joint liability of all. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) GOTI NATH MUNSI v. CHANDRA NATH MUNSHI.
57 I. C. 884.

——S. 95—Redemption by co-mortgagor—Rights of—Suit for contribution—Limitation.

A co-mortgagor redeeming a mortgage becomes assignee of the original security and therefore the limitation for his suit for contribution is the same as that for a suit by mortgagee in the mortgage. Art. 132 of the Lim. Act governs the suit. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) RAJ KAMINI DEBI v. MUKUNDA LAL BANDHOPADHYA. 25 C. W. N. 283: 57 I. C. 868.
[But. see contra 45 Cal. 111 : 45 I. C. 783.]

——S. 95—Redemption—Charge in favour of co-mortgagor—Limitation.

Art. 148 of the Limitation Act, is not applicable to a suit for redemption of a charge which one of several mortgagors redeeming the mortgaged property has under S. 95 of the T. P. Act on the shares of the other co-mortgagors. Art. 144 is applicable. (Richardson and Walmsley, JJ.) PURNA CHANDRA PAL v. BARADA PURNA BHATTACHARJEE. 46 Cal. 111 : 45 I. C. 783 : 22 C W.N. 637.
[But see contra 57 I. C. 868].

——S. 95—Co-mortgagors—Redemption by one—Contribution.

When one of the several mortgagors redeems the whole mortgage he acquires a charge on the share of his co-mortgagors for his proportion of the expenses properly incurred in redeeming the property. The purchaser of a portion of the mortgaged property is in the same position. The right to claim contribution is the same whether the mortgage is redeemed in the usual way or whether the debt is realized by a forced sale of the property of one of several owners of the equity of redemption. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) DHAKESHWAR PROSAD SINGH v. HARIHAR PROSAD NARAIN SINGH.
27 I. C. 780 : 21 C. L. J. 104.

——S. 95—Co-mortgagors—Redemption by one—His rights.

A mortgagor who redeems the whole property is entitled to a rateable contribution from the other mortgagors and as a security for which he is entitled to hold the entire property in charge until he is in turn redeemed by his co-sharers on payment of their share of the debt. He has only an equitable charge and it cannot be said that the shares of the co-mortgagors are mortgaged to him who has redeemed the whole mortgage. Once one of the mortgagors has redeemed the whole mortgage, the whole mortgage comes to an end and the redeeming mortgagor is not a mortgagee within the meaning of S. 58 of the Transfer of Property Act but merely has an equitable charge against his co-mortgagors on the security of their share. 27 C. L. J. 110 referred to. (Scott Smith, and Brasher, JJ.) ALI AKBAR v. SULTAN-UL-MULK. 1923 Lah. 129.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 95.

——S. 95—Redemption by co-mortgagor—Position of charge.

A co-mortgagor redeeming the whole of the mortgage does not become a mortgagee of the portion belonging to the other co-owners. He simply gets a charge. (Wilberforce, J.) BASANTA v. DHANNA SINGH. 55 I. C. 450.

——S. 95—Mortgagee becoming a part owner.

The principle in S. 95 is equally applicable to a case where part of the mortgaged property has been purchased by the mortgagee. In such a case the mortgagee's right to possession as mortgagee is equally determined by the tender or deposit and transferred to the redeeming mortgagor. (Krishnan and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) TADEPALLI SUBBA RAO GARU v. SRI BALUSU BUCHI SARVARAYADU. 44 M. L. J. 534 : 18 L. W. 61 : 1923 M. W. N. 533 : 1923 M. 533.

——S. 95—Usufructuary mortgage—Redemption of whole property by one of two co-mortgagors.

Where one of two mortgagors redeems a usufructuary mortgage completely he is not entitled to the rights of the mortgagee but only to a charge for the excess sum he paid. 2 M. 223; 2 M. 18, Dist (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) IYATHURAI AIYAR v. KUPPAMUTHU PADAYACHI. (1919) M. W. N. 467 : 49 I. C. 416 : 9 L. W. 120.

——S. 95—Co-mortgagors—Redemption by one—Rights of person redeeming—Mere charge-holder—Possession adverse.

A Hindu father and his son mortgaged the joint property in 1892. Then the father sold the whole of the equity of redemption to the third deft. who paid off the mortgage and obtained possession in 1898. After the father's death, the son transferred his share to plff. who brought this suit in 1912 to redeem and obtain possession of the son's share. Held, that the suit is barred by Art. 126 of the Lim. Act, Art. 148 will not apply to a suit for possession by one co-owner of mortgaged property redeemed by another co-owner and transferred by the latter. 26 Bom. 500 Foll. Per Sadasiva Aiyar, J.—Art, 126 applies also to a suit in which possession is decreed and does not contemplate only a mere declaratory suit. (Oldfield and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) MURAJALLI MUNIA GOUNDAN v. RAMASWAMI CHETTY. 41 Mad. 650 : 34 M. L. J. 528 : (1918) M. W. N. 448 : 24 M. L. T. 22 : 45 I. C. 867 : 8 L. W. 28.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 95.

——S. 95—Interest—Redemption by one mortgagor with borrowed money at high rate of interest—Co-mortgagor's liability.

The fact that a co-mortgagor redeems mortgage with money borrowed at a high rate of interest is not a ground for charging a high rate of interest to his co-mortgagors in a suit under S. 95 of the T. P. Act. (Batton, A. J. C.) JAGO v. ARJUN. 49 I. C. 230.

——S. 95—Payment by one co-mortgagor out of court—Right to a charge—Requirements.

One of several co-mortgagors should redeem the mortgaged property in order to obtain a charge on the share of the other co-mortgagors; the redemption need not take place in Court. If the decree-holder accepts payment made out of court and certifies the same, the provisions of the section are complied with. (Mittra, A. J. C.) TUKARAM v. ARJUNA. 45 I. C. 904.

——S. 95—Co-mortgagors—Redemption by one—Rights of persons redeeming.

Where one of several mortgagors has redeemed a mortgage under which all were liable he is entitled to be treated as an assignee of the security which he pays off and his remedy would be to enforce that security in the usual way by a suit for sale. (Dalal and Simpson, A. J. Cs.) LUTAR RAM v. LAL RANJIT SINGH. 9 O. & A. L. R. 677 : 1924 Oudh 185.

——S. 95 — Co-mortgagors—One mortgagee paying the amount—Charge.

Where a sale in execution of a mortgage-decree is set aside on paying the decretal amount by one of the mortgagors, he cannot be said to have a charge on the property as by so paying he cannot be said to have redeemed the mortgage, which is already extinguished by the decree. (Lindsay, J. C.) RAB NATH BAKSH v. GANESH PRASAD. 60 I. C. 213 : 23 O. C. 334.

——S. 95—Execution of mortgage decree—Payment by co-mortgagor of, is not one by way of redemption.

Where after a sale in execution of a mortgage decree a payment is made by one of the mortgagors, it cannot be said to be a payment by way of redemption within S. 95 and there is no charge created in favour of the person who makes the payment. As soon as a decree is passed there is an end of the mortgage. (Lindsay, J. C.) RAB-NATH BAKSH v. GANESH PRASAD. 60 I. C. 213: 23 O. C. 334.

——S. 95—Co-mortgagors—Redemption by one—Rights against others.

One of several mortgagors redeeming a mortgage can where the question of contribution by another co-mortgagor arises take advantage of a decree in favour of the mortgagee affirming the validity of the mortgage. A redeeming mortgagor is the representative in interest of the mortgagee in respect of the share for which contribution is claimed to be due. (Ashworth, A. J. C.) LACHMI NARAYAN v. RAJ NARAYAN. 54 I. C 269; 22 O. C. 278.

——S. 95—Co-mortgagors— Covenants between mortgagor and mortgagee, if applicable.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 95.

Persons occupying the position of co-mortgagors are entitled to a charge as against the other mortgagors but they are not entitled to set up in defence a covenant which was only enforceable as between such other mortgagors and the mortgagee. (T. P. Act S. 106) (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) NAROTAM PRASAD v. SHANKAR SINGH.
52 I. C. 91 : 22 O. C. 112.

——— S. 95—Usufructuary mortgage — Co-mortgagor redeeming—Necessity of taking possession—Transferee's rights—Time for exercise of option.

Where one of several mortgagors redeems a usufructuary mortgage, it is essential that he should obtain possession of the property before he can claim the benefit of S. 95. 4 O. C. 273; 26 A. 227; 28 A. 462 Foll. (Stuart, A. J. C.) JAG MOHAN SINGH v. SITA RAM SINGH.
39 I. C. 186 : 20 O. C. 72.

———S. 95—Redemption of mortgage by one of several representatives of mortgagor—Charge on shares of others for proportionate expenses.

One of several representatives of a mortgagor redeeming the mortgage is entitled to a charge on the shares of the other representatives in the property, for the proportionate expenses incurred by him in redeeming the mortgage. Such a charge includes, in the case of a usufructuary mortgage a right to retain possession of the shares of others till payment. A co-mortgagor redeeming a usufructuary mortgage and obtaining possession cannot be given a decree for sale in his favour on the ground of his so redeeming. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J C.) MEMOLA v KEDAR NATH. 22 I C. 918.

———S. 95—Scope of—Property not in the hands of mortgagee.

S. 95. of the Transfer of Property Act applies also to a case where property is not in the hands of the mortgagee and so is incapable of being transferred to the person releasing the security. (Roe and Coutts, JJ.) HIRE KOER v. PALKA SINGH. 3 Pat. L. J. 490 : 5 Pat. L. W. 144 : 46 I. C. 479 : 1918 Pat. 274.

———S. 95—Discharge of mortgage by one co-mortgagor — Right to a charge — Nature — Redemption.

Where one of several mortgagors paid off the mortgage debt and remained in possession with the consent of the other heirs, and his creditors obtained a decree against him and attached his property and sold it in execution, held that the transaction between the deft. and his co-mortgagors amounted to a joint charge given by the latter to the former on their joint undivided share of the property in respect of the amount of their share in the debt. The charge was not an interest in that land, and therefore, all that the auction-purchaser obtained by his purchase was the share of the deft. in the mortgaged property. (Twomey, C. J., and Ormond, J.) KYA ZAN v. TUNGYAW. 12 Bur. L. T. 19 : 47 I. C. 121 9 L. B. R. 169.

———Ss. 98 and 60—Anomalous mortgage—Clog on redemption is invalid.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 98.

The rights and liabilities of the parties to a mortgage transaction must depend on the terms of the instrument as controlled by the T. P. Act. An anomalous mortgage enabling a mortgagee after a lapse of time and in the absence of redemption to enter and take the rents of the property in satisfaction of interest, will be valid if it does not also hinder an existing right to redeem. A hindering of such right existing in the mortgagor will be invalid and ineffectual. (Sir Lawrence Jenkins,) MOHAMMED SHER KHAN v. RAJA SETH SWAMI DAYAL. 44 A. 185 : 42 M. L. J. 584 : 30 M. L. T. 220 : 49 I. A. 60 : 9 O L. J 81 : 20 A. L. J. 476 : 25 O. C. 8 : 24 Bom. L. R. 695. 35 C. L. J. 468 : 4 U. P. L. R. (P C.) 50 : L. R. 3 P C. 119 : (1922) M. W N. 378 : 1922 P. C. 17 (P. C.).

———S. 98—Right of sale—Sale mortgagee whether titled to.

In considering an anomalous mortgage the intention of the parties must be seen If the intention appears that sale was not contemplated, the mortgagee has no right to a judicial sale. (Lord Phillimore.) MADHEORAO v. GULAM MOHIDDIN. 56 I. C. 717: 15 N. L. R. 134 (P.C.).

———S. 98—Kanom is an anomalous mortgage.

A kanom is similar to a usufructuary mortgage and a lease, and is an anomalous mortgage however small the amount may be. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) KANDIYIL PARKUR v. THOTTOLI KOTTARATHIL. 44 Mad. 344 : 40 M. L. J. 282 : (1921) M W. N. 229 : 62 I. C. 386 : 14 L. W. 69.

———S. 98—Anomalous mortgage—Swadina—Tanaka—Meddatu Sharatu Patram—Period fixed for redemption—Agreement to relinquish the land in default—No clog—Equity

Where a document of 1894 described as a swadina tanaka meddatu sharatu patram ran as follows :—"Having paid interest, these ten rupees, within the end of a year from the said date we shall take possession of our house and site. If we do not act according to the said condition we shall quit the land and house as if this is a sale." Held, in a suit for redemption several years after the time fixed had expired, that the document was an anomalous mortgage falling under S. 98 of the T. P. Act. The parties must be strictly bound by the terms of their contract and neither the conditions of S. 60 as to the survival of the rights of redemption nor the English principles of Equity could be applied. 37 M. 545; 1 M. 1; 4 M. 179, 29 M. 531 Dist. 27 B. 297 : 11 M. 403, 26 M. L. J. 47; 30 M. 61, 2 B. 231 Ref. (Spencer and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) HAKEEM PATTI MUHA ED. v. SHEIK DAVOOD 39 Mad. 1010 : 29 M. L. J. 525 : 18 M. L. T. 209 : 30 I. C. 569 : (1915) M. W. N, 852.

———S. 98—Anomalous mortgage — Period fixed—Redemption.

A mortgage for a fixed term without any provision for accounting is in the nature of an anomalous mortgage and it automatically redeems itself at the end of the fixed period. (Batten, J. C.) BHICKA v. SHAIKH AMIR. 19 N. L. R 1 : 1923 Nag. 60.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 98.

——S. 98—Intention of parties—Simple and usufructuary.

A simple mortgage which was to be converted into usufructuary after some period, continues to be simple, until the mortgagee expressly or impliedly signifies his intention to convert to the mortgagor. (Stuart, J. C.) RAM DAYAL v. ARJUN SINGH. 50 I. C. 332.

——Ss. 98 and 68—Covenant to pay—Money-decree.

An anomalous mortgage did not contain an independent covenant to pay except the usual stipulation for repayment after the fixed term. Held, there was a covenant to pay if the property proved insufficient and not otherwise. (Daniels, A. J. C.) KALKA v. MATHURA DAS. 50 I. C. 220 : 21 O. C 341

——S. 98—Mortgage — Construction — Interest—Post diem.

A mortgage deed provided that it was made for three years with interest at two per cent. per-mensem payable for every six months. In default compound interest was to be charged to be realised by way of suit or in any other way ; the mortgagor would redeem by payment of the total amount due ; on failure of redemption the mortgagees were to be placed in possession for four years and the mesne profits to be taken in lieu of interest ; the mortgagor could redeem during the four years and on failure of redemption, the mortgagees should become proprietors of the land. Held, the document was an anomalous mortgage being a combination of a simple mortgage, a usufructuary mortgage and a mortgage by conditional sale. Interest would not run after the period of four years as the mortgage deed was silent about interest. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs.) SUNDER DEI v. BALDEO BAKSH SINGH. 2. O. L. J. 165 : 28 I. C. 161 . 18 O. C. 10.

——S. 98—Simple and usufructuary mortgage—Remedies.

Where a mortgage deed provided that the mortgage money with interest would be paid in two instalments and in case of non payment of the first instalment the mortgagee would be entitled to be put in possession of the mortgaged property taking profits in lieu of interest, in case of failure to deliver possession, the mortgagee could take possession through court, the mortgage was a combination of simple and usufructuary mortgage to which S. 98 of the Transfer of Property Act would not apply. If the mortgagors did not deliver possession, the mortgage continued to be a simple mortgage and a decree for sale was permissible. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) LALTA PRASAD v. HON LAL. 19 I. C. 748 : 16 O. C. 90.

——S. 98—Simple mortgage — Convertible into usufructuary—Condition—Waiver.

Where a mortgage was simple in its inception but convertible into a usufructuary mortgage under certain conditions, and in breach thereof the mortgagee took possession of a portion of the mortgaged property without claiming the deficiency within the limitation period, held, that he could not sue for the mortgage money on the original covenant which had been superseded ss he cannot condone the breach and at the same time claim benefit under the breach. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) HAR KISHAN v. MAHABIR. 18 I. C. 286.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 99.

——S. 98—Rights of mortgagee — Power given to foreclose and to sell—Decree if can restrict the power—C. P. C., O. 34. R. 4.

In a suit for foreclosure on an anomalous mortgage providing both for foreclosure or for sale at the option of the mortgagee, the mortgagor cannot compel the mortgagee to accept a decree for sale unless it is satisfactorily proved that the remedy sought by the mortgagee is manifestly injurious to the mortgagor's interest and that some advantage would accrue to him if the discretion is exercised in his favour. There is nothing in O. 34, R. 4, Cl. 2, C. P. C. to override the provisions of S. 98, T. P. Act. (Piggott, J. C. and Stuart, A. J. C.) BAQUAR HUSSAIN v. BALAK RAM. 18 I. C. 24.

——S 98—Clog on equity of redemption—how far enforceable.

Clogs on equity should not be enforced in places where T. P. Act has not been extended. (Robinson, C. J and May Oung, J.) MA MIN BYU v. MAUNG CHIT PE. 1 Rang. 419 : 1924 Rang. 83.

——Ss. 99 and 100—Mortgage—Invalid.

A mortgage deed attested by only one witness is neither a mortgage nor a charge, 35 M. 607, Foll. (Richards, Banerjee and Tudball, JJ.) COLLECTOR OF MIRZAPUR v. BHAGAWAN PRASHAD. 35 All. 164 : 18 I. C. 311 : 11 A. L. J. 141.

——S. 99—Applicability—Punjab—C. P. C., O. 34, R. 14.

The principle of S. 99 of the T. P. Act can no longer be applied to the Punjab, the legislature having repealed that section and substituted therefor O. 34, R. 14 of the C. P. Code which is expressly inapplicable to this province. (Chevis and Broadway, JJ.) KISHEN NARAIN v. PALA MAL. 88 P. R. 1918 : 102 P. L. R. 1918 : 47 I. C. 937 : 167 P. W. R. 1918.

——S. 99—Applicability—Punjab.

S. 99 has not been applied to the Punjab. The section was disapproved of as a legislative mistake by the select committee appointed to consider the amendment of the C. P. C. Where a mortgagee with possession had obtained a decree for arrears of rent against the mortgagor who was occupying the house as his tenant and in execution thereof brought the property to sale, and purchased it himself, it was held that as the mortgage deed itself contained a provision for the recovery of the interest from the mortgaged and other property of the mortgagor the sale was really of the nature described in T. P. Act S. 67 and S. 99 had no application. 12 I. C. 265 : 2 P. R. 1907; 3 S. L. R. 17 ; 10 C. L. J. 91 ; 32 C. 296 : 3561 : 23 B. 119 : 22 B. 624 : 22 M. 372 : 30 M.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 99.

362 ; 13 A. 432 Ref. (Reid, C. J.) MOTI RAM v. HAR BHAGWAN DAS. 30 P. L. R. 1911 : 15 P. R. 1911 ; 9 I. C. 549 : 109 P. W. R. 1911.

——S. 99—Sale in contravention—Suit for redemption.

If the persons claiming to redeem through the judgment-debtor take no objection before confirmation of the sale, they cannot bring a suit for redemption against the purchaser in execution whether he is a decree-holder or a stranger. 37 A 165 Foll. (Ayling and Napier, JJ.) ARJUNA REDDI v. VENKATACHALA ASARI.

19 M. L. T. 121 : 5 L. W. 242 : 32 I. C. 611 : 32 M. L. J. 525.

——S. 100—Charge — Creation of —Village granted by talukdar for maintenance of junior member, liability to pay Government revenue.

It was arranged between a talukdar and a junior member of the family that the junior member should get 11 villages in lieu of maintenance for his branch, the talukdar himself having undertaken to pay the Government Revenue on the 11 villages. Held, that the obligation undertaken by the talukdar to pay the Government revenue was personal and no charge was created on the estate. Where there is no allegation that the talukdar had not ample property to carry out his undertaking or that any contingency had arisen which actually jeopardised the possession of the villages by the junior member, the latter cannot maintain a suit for a declaration that the revenue payable in respect of the villages is a charge upon the talukdar's estate. (Mr. Ameer Ali.) SUNDAR LAL v. RAMJI LAL 28 M. L. T. 319 : 24 C. W. N. 929 : 16 N. L. R. 114 : 47 I. A. 149 : (1920) M. W. N. 447. (P. C.)

——S. 100—Moveable property— Breach of contract to supply future goods—Money advanced if can be a charge on those future goods.

A charge on moveable property not in existence at the time of the contract is valid and the claim is enforceable against the transferee of the property with notice of the equitable interest. (38 Mad. 500. Ref.) 5 All. 238 Ref. (Sulaiman, J.) JUGAL KISHORE v. RAM NARAIN.

1923 All. 199.

——S. 100—Charge—Simple mortgage—Makbuza—Effect of using the word.

Where a document ran thus: " We agree that we shall pay annually the interest and in default of payment of interest for 2 years the creditors shall have the right, without waiting for the expiry of the time fixed, to file a suit and to recover their dues from the property mortgaged (Makbuza) and if the creditors make delay in realising the principal and interest, then the aforesaid creditors shall not be entitled to recover their dues under the deed from any other property of myself excepting the property mortgaged. (Makbuza). Held, Richards, C. J. dubitante that the document did not purport to create a mortgage. (Richards, C. J. and Tudball, JJ.) KHURSHED ALI v. ABDUL MAJID. 38 All. 361 : 35 I. C. 210 : 14 A. L. J. 441.

——Ss. 100 and 130—Assignment — Agreement between debtor and creditor for the debt being paid out of a specific fund—Whether valid.

An agreement between a debtor and a creditor that the debt shall be paid out of a specific fund coming to the debtor is a good assignment. (1905) A.C. 454, Foll. Hence a person can assign his fixed deposit with a Bank to another either absolutely or by way of charge. (Chamier and Rafique, JJ.) GURPRASAD v. GORAKHPUR BANK, LTD. 36 All. 507 : 24 I. C. 385 : 12 A. L. J. 886.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 100.

——S. 100—Mortgage or charge—Simple bond—Limitation.

A executed a usufructuary mortgage in favour of B in 1864 and four days later, he executed another document in favour of the mortgagee in which he promised to pay Rs. 500 with interest before he redeemed the mortgage. The document was described as a Tamasuk. Held, that the document amounted to neither a mortgage nor a charge. It was merely a money bond and the suit on it in 1910 was either barred by limitation or was premature. 26 A. 559, Rel. (Chamier and Rafique, JJ.) RAMPRASAD RAI v. NAWAB CHOWDHURY. 16 I. C. 222.

——S. 100—Charge—Creation of.

A subsequent mortgage of different property to the same mortgagee provided : " first I shall pay this money and then the money borrowed previously on the security of the fields". Held, this did not create a charge in respect of the property compromised in the first mortgage. (Johnstone, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) GAGA RAM v. KIRTARTH RAI. 33 All. 393 : 9 I. C. 319 : 8 A. L. J. 158.

——S. 100—Charge—Creation of.

It was held that annuity was payable out of estate of grantor and also it created a charge on the estate for that amount. (Teunon and Newbould, JJ.) RAJENDRA MOHAN v. UPENDRA NATH. 64 I C 518.

——S. 100—Charge—Essentials.

Where under a document executed by a person in whose favour a lady released her claim to certain property the lady was to get an annuity from the said property to be recovered by suit if necessary, held that the annuity was made a charge on the share even though there was no specification of the property in the schedule attached to the document as the property was easily ascertainable without such schedule. The question whether a charge is or is not created upon a property is one of intention. (Chatterjee and Newbould, JJ.) SYAM PEARY DASSYA v. EASTERN MORTGAGE AND AGENCY CO., LTD. 40 I. C 865.

——S. 100—Charge and mortgage—Distinction.

Charge only secures payment out of the property lent; mortgage creates an interest in the property. A charge holder cannot follow the bona fide purchaser for value without notice but a mortgagee can. The burden of proving want of notice lies on the purchaser before he can succeed as against the charge holder, even if he has notice; provided he claims through one who had notice he will succeed. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) AKSHOY KUMAR v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA. 42 Cal. 625 : 19 C. W. N. 37 : 27 I. C. 261 : 21 C. L. J. 177.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 100.

——S. 100—Operation of law—Payment of Government revenue by grantor—Suit against grantee.

There is no equity giving a charge to any person having an interest in an estate who makes a payment of revenue to save the estate. A condition in babuana grant of properties that the grantee should pay his share of the Government revenue to the grantor is not enough to create a charge in favour of grantor on the property, in case he pays the revenue. (Beachcroft and Newbould, JJ.) MAHARAJAH SIR RAMESHWAR SINGH v. SRIMATI JANESHWARI BABOOSHIN AND EKRADESHWAR SINGH. 18 C. W. N. 129 : 21 I. C. 397 : 19 C. L. J. 19.

——S. 100—Charge — Creation of—Implication.

A charge in the nature of a mortgage cannot be created by implication. (Holmwood and Chapman, JJ.) MAKBUL ALI v. ALI AHMAD. 18 I. C. 80 : 40 Cal. 514.

——S. 100—Charge—Maintenance—Compromise—Widow—Reversioner.

A compromise between the widow and the reversioners by which the widow was to receive a certain sum annually as maintenance from the income of the estate, the estate was to vest in the reversion but the reversioners were not to alienate the properties during the lifetime of the widow, makes the maintenance a charge on the estate and a subsequent alienee from the reversioners takes only subject to such charge. (Mookerjee and Carnduff, JJ.) CHAMARU SHAHA v. SONA KOER. 16 C. W. N. 99 : 11 I. C. 301 : 14 C. L. J. 303.

——S. 100—What is charge.

At the foot of a hundi a note was added in the following words:— "Hamari Delhi wa Ludhiana ik jaidad is qarze ki zimmewar hogi" ; held these words do not create a charge. (Abdul Raoof, J.) PURANCHAND v. PURAN CHAND. 1923 Lah. 652 (2).

——S. 100—Charge—Creation of—Right in future—Distinction.

For a document to create a charge on immoveable property under S. 100, T. P. Act, it must create such charge immediately on its execution, and not one that merely creates a charge that operates at some future time. (Scott Smith and Harrison, JJ.) ABDUL SAMAD v. MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, DELHI. 67 I. C. 939.

——S. 100—Charge—Special provisions regarding attestation—Applicability — Evidence Act, Ss. 69 to 71.

The special provisions of the T. P. Act relating to attestation of mortgages and of the Evidence Act relating to the method of proof of mortgages are not applicable to the deeds creating charges. (Wallis C.J. and Oldfield, J.) RAMASAMI IYENGAR v. KUPPUSAMI AIYAR. (1921) M. W. N. 472 : 66 I. C. 554 : 14 L. W. 99.

——S. 100—Improper alienation—Proceeds, if can be followed in the hands of third parties.

Persons attacking improper alienations of limited owners cannot follow the proceeds in whatever form they might assume in the shape of property in the possession of third parties or claim any charge therein. (Wallis and Oldfield, JJ.) RAMAYYAR v. MAHALAKSHMI (1921) M. W. N. 434 : 64 I. C. 481 : 14 L. W. 38.

——S. 100—Future property—Charge on—Repudiation of contract before property comes into existence.

Where loans advanced with the object of financing a litigation are charged on an amount which may be secured by a compromise in the suit to be effected in a particular manner, and the compromise is effected in a different manner, the lien will not attach itself to the substituted property, especially where the parties put an end to the contract of loan before the compromise. (Ayling and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) PUSAPATI VENKATAPATHIRAJU v. VENKATA SUBHADRAYAMMA. 47 I. C. 563.

——S. 100—"Tanaka"—Charge.

Use of the word 'Tanaka' in a document clearly creates security and not merely an assignment of revenue. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) RAJA KUMARA VENKATA PERUMAL v. UDDAGIRI PAPA. 41 I. C. 208 : 21 M. L. T. 351.

——S. 100—Future debt—Contingent debt—Charge of.

A charge to secure a liability not in existence but contingent and liable to arise in future is valid under S. 100, T. P. Act. Where in a partition deed, the properties and debts of the family were allocated to the co-parceners in specified shares and in default in payment of his debt by any of the co-parceners, any other member paying it was authorised to recoup himself out of the properties of the defaulter, held, that the deed created a charge within S. 100, T. P. Act. (Coutts-Trotter and Srinivasa Aiyangar, JJ.) IMULUCHI v. ACHAMPAT AVUKOYA HAJI. 6 L. W. 115 : (1917) M. W. N. 533 : 39 I. C. 867 : 33 M. L. J. 58.

——Ss. 100 and 59—Charge—Invalid mortgage.

An instrument invalid under S. 59 of the T. P. Act as a mortgage cannot create a charge under S. 100. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Moore, JJ.) ANANTARAMA AIYAR v. YUSSUFJI OOMER SAHIB. (1916) 2 M. W. N. 236 : 36 I. C. 903 : 31 M. L. J. 133.

——S. 100—Charge — Mortgage — Covenant not to alienate property.

A mere covenant not to alienate property is insufficient to create a charge. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) SIVANNA v. VENKATAKRISHNA MURTHY. (1913) M. W. N. 337 : 19 I. C. 478 : 24 M. L. J. 474.

——S. 100—Charge—Contingent charge.

Charge may be created on the happening of a condition where the condition itself is first stipulated and the condition happens afterwards. (White, C.J., and Krishnaswami Aiyar, J.) BALASUBRAMANIA NADAR v. SIVAGURU ASARI. 11 I. C. 629 : 21 M. L. J. 562.

——S. 100—Charge—Invalid—Mortgage.

Where a document of mortgage is not completed by attestation or other formality prescribed by law, it cannot be used to establish a charge. But when the parties are under an erroneous belief that they have created a simple mortgage in a case where the instrument merely creates a charge, the act or contract of parties cannot change the nature of the transaction and failure to effect attestation would not stand in the way of enforcing a charge. (Stanyon, A. J. C.) KHEM CHAND v. MALLOO. 26 I. C. 601 : 10 N. L. R. 81.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 100.

——S 100—Dahyak or Daswant—Nature of—Charge.

Dhayak or Daswant is closely analogous to nanker and is a charge on the property. A cash allowance in perpetuity awarded by an order of the Settlement Officer and amounting to a tenth of the assumed rental is technically known as Dahyak or Daswant. (Daniels, A. J. C.) PREM KUNWAR v. SHANKAR BAKSH SINGH. 21 O. C. 327 : 49 I. C. 509 : 6 O. L. J. 152.

——S. 100—Charge—Creation of.

Where if the intention of parties to a transaction as gathered from the document as a whole is to create a charge, absence of description of the mortgaged property because the money advanced is tacked on to a previous mortgage does not affect the validity of that charge. (Karhaiya Lal, A.J.C.) CHAUHARAJA BAKSH v. RAM HARAKH. 32 I. C. 740 ; 2 O. L J. 601.

——S. 100—Charge—Mortgage—Distinction,

A charge does not transfer to the charge-holder any interest in specific immoveable property as a mortgage does. (Lindsay, J. C.) PARBHU DAYAL v. BABBAN LAL. 23 I. C. 867 : 1 O. L.J. 43.

——S. 100—Lease—Security of property for rent—If creates a mortgage or charge—Distinction.

In cases of lease, the moveables and immoveables shall ever be regarded as a security for the payment of the rent. If it creates a mortgage or a charge the difference is very little. (Das and Adami, JJ.) RAJA SHIVA PRASAD v. BENI MADHAV. 1 P. 387 : 4 P. L. T. 6 : 1922 P. 529.

——S. 100—Further debt— Property subject to charge—Liability of purchaser.

Where the landlord has a charge for rent on the crops, a person removing the crops with notice of the charge is liable for the difference between the amount of the rent due and the quantity of the crops removed and not for the whole of the crops removed. (Parlett, J.) MAUNG HTAT v. MAUNG SANDUN. 44 I. C. 109.

——S. 100—Charge—Operation of law—Invalid sale.

A purchaser of immoveable property worth more than Rs. 100, without a registered deed but in possession gets a charge on immoveable property but he cannot set aside an attachment of the property. He can claim however that the property be sold subject to his charge. (Young, J.) MAUNG PE GYI v. VELLIAN CHETTY. 33 I. C, 610 : 8 Bur. L. T. 268.

——S. 100—Charge—Security, when amount to charge.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 101—Extinction of mortgage.

S. 100 does not enable a mortgage to be converted into a charge if it cannot operate as a mortgage by reason of non-compliance with the formalities prescribed by the law, such as registration prescribed by S. 59 of the T. P. Act. If the relation of mortgagor and mortgagee does not exist between the parties S. 100 might come into play. (Maung Kin, J.) MA BON LAN v. MAUNG PO LU. 9 Bur. L. T. 64 : 32 I. C. 595 : 8 L. B. R. 553.

——Ss. 100 and 54—Charge — Operation of law—Invalid conveyance.

A conveyance which is invalid for want of registration does not give the purchaser a charge on the property for his purchase-money. S. 100 of the Act is not intended for the protection of those who take conveyances in violation of express provisions of law. (Parlett, J.) MA LONNA v. MG SHWE BYA. 10 I C. 919 : 4 Bur. L. T. 115.

——S. 101.

Doctrine of merger.
Extinction of mortgage.
Keeping alive.
Payment by stranger.
Subrogation.
Miscellaneous.

Doctrine of merger.

——S. 101—Doctrine of merger—Application—Intention.

In applying the doctrine of merger, the dominating principle guiding the Court is intention, express or implied, in absence whereof, the Court should look to the benefit of him in whom the two estates have become vested. (Imam and Chapman, JJ.) GOPAL LAL ROY v. SHAILENDRABASINI CHOUDHURANI. 23 I. C. 393

——S 101—Doctrine of merger—Mortgage.—Suit on—Defence of fictitious nature of mortgage.

Where the deft. in a suit on mortgage combine in himself a two-fold character being the holder of the equity of redemption as also a prior incumbrancer, the defence is available to him that the mortgage in suit is fictitious, There is no merber of the two interests in the same deft. 10 C. 1035 (P. C.) Ref. to. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) SHIB NARAIN MANDAL v. BAI KUNTH NATH SANTRA. 20 I. C. 864 : 19 C. L. J. 200.

——S. 101——Doctrine of merger—Widow—Keeping alive debt—Possession of—Assets of husband.

The widow's stridhanam not being at law a charge or incumbrance within S. 101, there is no merger of her debt by reason of her possession of her husband's assets because in the case of a limited owner the presumption is against merger. (Spencer, J.) CHIDAMBARAM v. MEENAKSHI AMMAL. 52 I. C. 842.

Extinction of mortgage.

——S. 101—Extinction of mortgage—Mortgage decree—Sale—Purchase by mortgagee.

Where a mortgagee obtained a decree on his mortgage and in execution thereof purchased the property in Court-auction himself he becomes the owner of the property from the date of the purchase and he cannot maintain as against himself or third parties unconnected with the mortgage transaction on the property, the position that his mortgage remained an incumbrance thereon after that date. (Lord Shaw.) BHAWANI KUMAR v. MATHURA PRASAD SINGH.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 101—Extinction of mortgage.

40 Cal. 89 : 39 I. A. 228 : 16 C. W. N. 985 : 12 M. L. T. 352 : (1912) M. W. N. 244 : 14 Bom L. R. 1046 : 16 C. L. J. 606 : 16 I. C. 210 : 23 M. L. J. 311. (P. C.).

[See also 31 I. C. 891].

[Also 59 P. R. 1909 : 86 P. L. R. 1909 : 2 I. C. 949 : 94 P. W. R. 1909.]

——S. 101—Extinction of mortgage—Subsequent sale to mortgagee, providing for discharge of mortgage.

After a mortgage was executed, the properties were purchased by the mortgagee and a portion of the consideration for the sale was retained for the discharge of the mortgage-debt. Subsequently it turned out the sale was partly invalid and on a suit being brought on the mortgage deed, held the suit was not maintainable as the mortgage had been extinguished at the time of the sale. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) LACHMAN PRASAD v. LACHMESWAR PRASAD. 20 A. L. J. 151 : 1922 All. 76.

——S. 101—Extinction of mortgage—Purchase by mortgagee of mortgaged property.

Where a usufructuary mortgagee purchases the property in execution of his own decree on the basis of a simple mortgage, he becomes the absolute owner and the mortgagee right ceases to exist by the virtue of the law of merger. (Richards, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) JAWAHIR MAL v. UDAI RAM. 31 I. C. 891.

——S. 101—Extinction of mortgage—Mortgagee purchasing equity of redemption—Effect.

The second part of S. 101, T. P. Act does not apply where no intervening encumbrances exist and in such a case where the mortgagee purchases the equity of redemption, the mortgage is extinguished. (Broadway and Zafar Ali, JJ.) GOBIND SARUP v. KULDIP SINGH. 1924 Lah. 377.

——S. 101—Extinction of mortgage—Decree-holder taking fresh mortgage—Prior mortgage paid off.

Where a mortgage is merged in a decree in favour of the mortgagee, his remedy is no longer that of a mortgagee, but that of a decree-holder who is entitled to bring certain property to sale. If he wishes to retain this position he should execute the decree and not take a fresh mortgage the consideration for which is the decree. Where a prior mortgagee who obtains a decree upon his mortgage and after that decree is made absolute takes a fresh mortgage in lieu of it he cannot claim priority over intermediate mortgagees. Where a decree is obtained upon a mortgage the decree upon the making of an order absolute extinguishes the mortgage security as well as the deft.'s right to redeem, by substituting for that security a right to sell conferred by the decree, and thenceforward the mortgagee's remedy is under the decree. 40

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 101—Extinction of mortgage.

A. 407 (P. C.) Foll. (Richards, C. J., Rafique and Lindsay, JJ.) CHHOGGAN LAL v. MUHAMAD HUSSAIN KHAN. 41 All. 456 : 17 A. L. J. 741 : 51 I. C. 133 : 1 U. P. L. R. (R.C.) 71 (F. B.).

——S. 101—Extinction of mortgage—Purchase of part by mortgage.

Purchase by mortgage of a part of the mortgaged property does not extinguish the debt pro tanto. (Piggott and Lindsay, JJ.) JAMANADIE v. KALABAM. 39 All. 74 : 37 I. C. 4 : 14 A. L. J. 1025.

——S. 101—Extinction of mortgage—Mortgagee purchasing mortgagor's right at auction-sale.

Where the mortgagee purchased the right of the mortgagor in Court auction and sued for possession as full owner, which suit was dismissed for default, held, that a second suit on the mortgage will not lie as the mortgage security has been extinguished by the auction purchase and that the intention to keep it alive was negatived by the institution of the previous suit for possession. (Tudball, J.) BALDEO PRASAD v. MAHABIR PRASAD. 18 I. C. 99.

——S. 101—Extinction of mortgage—The mortgages over the same property by the same person—Property purchased in execution of decree on first mortgage—Second mortgage if extinguished.

Where a mortgagee holding two different mortgages over the same property sues and obtains a decree on the first and purchases the property himself "subject to his second mortgage" this second mortgage was held extinguished. (Beaman and Macleod, JJ.) LAXMAN v. MATHURABAI. 38 Bom. 369 : 23 I. C. 121 : 16 Bom. L. R. 26.

——S. 101—Extinction of mortgage.

A mortgage debt is not extinguished by a fraudulent revenue sale. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) SATISH KANTAH v. SAHISH CHANDRA 24 C. W. N. 662 : 55 I. C. 689 : 30 C.L.J. 475.

——S. 101—Extinction of mortgage—Mortgagee becoming absolute owner of equity of redemption.

"The equitable estate merges in the legal, when the mortgagee becomes also absolute owner of the equity of redemption unless there are any puisne or mesne encumbrances against which the equity of redemption is required to be kept alive. Per Sadasiva Aiyar.—The Courts can consider whether under O. 21, R. 66 (a), C. P. Code, they ought not to notify in the same proclamation that the attached property is a right which had ceased to exist long ago, though they are bound to bring non-existent equity of redemption to sale at the instance of a decree-holder and are not entitled under S. 151, C. P. C. to stop the sale altogether on account of its non-existence. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Moore, JJ.) RAJAH OF KALAHASTI v. PRAYAG DOSSJEE VARU. 30 M. L. J. 391 : 35 I. C 224 : (1916) 2 M. W. N. 92.

——S. 101—Extinction of mortgage—Mortgagee purchasing equity of redemption—Effect—Intention—Proof.

A purchase by the mortgagee of the equity of redemption extinguishes the mortgage, unless circumstances exist at the time of the purchase which show an intention to prevent the merger. A mortgagee purchaser of the equity of redemption of his mortgage can use his prior mortgage only as a shield if there are mesne encumbrances and only in respect of the properties which are covered by such incumbrances, but he is not entitled to sue upon his mortgage. (40 C. 89, P. C.) ; 38 B. 369, F.) Per Wallis, C. J.—The word "absolutely" in S. 101 cannot mean that there are no mesne encumbrances. Per Seshagiri Aiyar, J.—S. 101 leaves untouched the general rule of law that when a mortgagee purchases the equity of redemption the incumbrance is extinguished. It only enacts that where there are other mortgages on the property, an intention will be imputed to the mortgagee-purchaser that he intended to keep alive his own mortgage against subsequent claimants. (Wallis, C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) ARUMUGASUNDARAM v. NARASIMHA. (1915) M. W. N. 397 : 2 L. W. 542 : 18 M. L. T. 110 : 29 I. C. 916 : 29 M. L. J. 583.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 101—Extinction of mortgage.

——S. 101—Extinction of mortgage.

Under S. 101, T. P. Act, the charge will not be extinguished if the owner of the charge declares by express words or necessary implication that it should continue to subsist or such continuance would be for his benefit. (Kulwant Sahay and Foster, JJ.) MAHARAJA BAHADUR KESHO PRASAD SINGH v. LAKHU RAI. 1923 Pat. 258 : 4 Pat. L. T. 525 : 1923 P. 581.

——S. 101—Extinction of mortgage—Equity of redemption—Purchase by mortgagee—Validity.

Right of the mortgagor ends, when equity of redemption is purchased by mortgagee. (Miller and Adami, JJ.) BALDEO SINGH v. MEGHU SINGH. 1919 Pat. 336.

Keeping alive.

——S. 101—Keeping alive—Suit—Prior mortgage without impleading puisne mortgagee—Decree—Suit on puisne mortgage—Prior mortgagee, if can keep alive prior mortgage right.

A mortgagee who has obtained a decree on his mortgage without impleading the mortgagee as a party to the suit is entitled, when afterwards sued by the puisne mortgagee on his mortgage to use his prior mortgage as a shield in all cases in which he could have done so before the Act of 1882, T. P. Act, S. 89 compared with O. 34, R. 1 of the C. P. Code. (Lord Dunedin.) SUKHI v. GHULAM SAFDAR KHAN. 43 All. 469 : 48 I. A. 465 : (1921) M. W. N. 445 : 42 M.L.J. 15 . 65 I. C. 151 : 14 L. W. 162 (P. C.).

——S. 101—Keeping alive—New invalid mortgage.

Where a new mortgage taken in supersession of the old mortgage proves invalid, the mortgagee has a right to fall back on the old mortgage. (Lord Parker.) HARCHANDI LAL v. SHEORAJ SINGH. 39 All. 178 : 44 I. A. 60 : 15 A.L.J. 223: 1 Pat. L. W. 330: 5 L. W. 502 : (1917) M. W. N. 290 : 25 C. L. J. 316 : 21 M. L. T. 292 : 21 C. W. N. 765 : 39 I. C. 343 : 19 Bom. L. R. 444 : 32 M. L. J. 241 (P. C.).

——S. 101—Keeping alive—Intention—Mortgage by testator—Renewal by legatee—Legatee found to have no interest—Rights of creditor.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 101—Keeping alive.

In renewal of mortgages granted by a testator one of his legatees believing that he had an absolute interest in the property granted a fresh mortgage. It was subsequently found that the legatee had no more than a mere life interest in the properties. A question arising as to the rights of the mortgagee on the death of the legatee, Held, that the mortgages granted by the testator were kept alive for the benefit of the creditors and that the renewals of the mortgages by the legatee were not intended to and did not operate as discharge of the mortgages created by the testator. (Lord Shaw.) RICHARD ROSS SKINNER v. KUNWAR NAUNIHAL SINGH. 35 All. 211 : 40 I. A. 105 : (1913) M. W. N. 500 : 13 M. L. T. 488 : 11 A. L. J 494 . 17 C. L. J. 555 : 15 Bom. L. R. 502 ; 19 I. C. 267 : 17 C. W. N. 853. 25 M.L J. 111 (P. C.).

——S. 101—Keeping alive—Extinguishment of mortgage—Intention of parties.

The question whether a mortgage which is paid off is extinguished or kept alive depends upon the intention of the parties ; and a man having a right to act in either of two ways will be presumed to have acted according to his interests. (Sir John Edge, J.) MAHOMED IBRAHIM v. AMBIKA PERSHAD. 39 Cal. 527 : 39 I. A. 68 : 11 M. L. T. 265 : (1912) M. W. N. 367 : 9 A.L.J. 332 : 14 Bom. L. R. 280 : 16 C. W. N. 505 : 15 C. L. J. 411 : 14 I.C. 496 : 22 M. L. J. 468 (P.C.).

[See also (1920) Pat. 261 : 58 I. C. 489 : 1 Pat. L. T. 582]

[Also 34 All. 268 : 13 I. C. 619 : 9 A. L. J. 226]

——S. 101—Keeping alive—Decree on prior mortgage—Subsequent suit by puisne mortgagee.

Where the prior mortgagee of a property purchases it and thus satisfies his mortgage and the subsequent mortgagee of the same property brings it to sale after impleading the prior mortgagee as defendant, it is settled law that the prior mortgagee is entitled to hold up the earlier mortgages. The plaintiff subsequent mortgagee cannot insist that the decree should direct the property to be sold. (Ryves and Daniels, JJ.) PHUL CHAND v. MT. SURJI. 1923 All. 457.

——Ss. 101 and 74—Keeping alive—Acquisition of the rights of prior mortgagee—Difference.

A suit was brought by a subsequent mortgagee for the recovery of the money due to him on simple mortgages the claim was resisted by a prior mortgagee who had purchased the mortgaged property in execution of simple money decree; held that the presumption is that the defendant intended to keep alive the prior mortgage. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) RAM SARUP v. SETH RAM LAL. 20 A. L. J. 596 : 44 A. 659 : 1922 All. 394.

——S. 101—Keeping alive—Equity of redemption—Purchaser of—Decree on mortgage paid off by purchaser—Decree on subsequent mortgage made absolute—Position of purchaser.

The father of the defts. in 1903 purchased an eight-anna share of a village which was comprised in three mortgages to plff. A decree was passed on the mortgage of 1874 in 1895 and it was made absolute in 1896. The defts. in 1906 paid off the amount due under the decree. In 1906 plff. obtained a decree for the mortgages of 1886 and 1888 in a suit to which the father of the defts. was a party. The decree was made absolute in 1907 and in execution thereof the plffs in 1911 purchased a portion of the mortgaged property. In 1909 the defts. (their father having died) applied to have the decree of 1895 made absolute but they did not implead the plff's. Held, that the payments made by the defts. in 1906 discharged the decree of 1895 and it could not be made absolute in favour of the defts. Consequently the property in the possession of the plffs. could be sold in execution thereof. The decree having been satisfied the plffs. could assert their rights by a separate suit and not in execution proceedings. (Richards, C. J. and Banerji, J.) GOBARDHAN DAS v. ANMOLE SINGH. 49 I. C. 803 : 17 A. L. J. 219.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 101—Keeping alive.

——— S. 101—Keeping alive—Acquisition by mortgagor of prior mortgage by inheritance—Right of puisne mortgagee.

Two mortgages were created on the same property. A decree was obtained by the puisne mortgagee for sale subject to the prior mortgage. The mortgagor subsequently inherited the rights of the prior mortgagee. Held that the puisne mortgagee was entitled to sell the property free of prior mortgage, as it would be inequitable to allow the mortgagor to set up a mortgage created by himself against a subsequent mortgagee, whom he had undertaken personally to discharge. 5 C. L.J. 95 Foll.; 9 C. 961 (P.C.); 10 C. 1035 Ref. (Chamier and Piggott, JJ.) BADAN v. MURARI LAL. 37 All. 309 : 28 I. C. 973 : 13 A. L. J. 397.

——— S. 101—Keeping alive—Partial discharge.

Where a mortgage is executed in partial discharge of a prior mortgage, unless there are circumstances from which an intention to abandon the prior mortgage can be gathered, it must be presumed that the mortgagee did not abandon the prior mortgage but kept it subsisting. (Banerjee and Tudball, JJ.) RAM KRISHAN DAS v. FAKIR CHAND. 19 I. C. 18 : 11 A. L. J. 386.

——— S. 101—Keeping alive—Intention should be considered—Intention to keep alive a mortgage.

When deciding whether an incumbrance is to be regarded as kept alive or extinguished as for the benefit of the person acquiring a property the circumstances and intention appearing from such circumstances at the date of the acquisition of the property should be taken into consideration. If at the date of acquisition, the parties intended to keep it alive it must be regarded as one continuing to subsist. (Karamat Husain and Chamier, JJ.) JOGAL KISHORE v. RAM NARAIN. 9 A. L. J. 226 : 13 I. C. 619 : 34 A. 268.

——— S. 101—Keeping alive—Acquisition of equity of redemption by mortgagee—Effect of—Presumption.

The last clause of S. 101 of the T. P. Act (i.e.) the words "continuance would be for his benefit" are merely a guide to the intention of the owner, and it seems to be clear that the question of benefit must be decided in view of the circumstances existing at the time of the transaction. Otherwise the nature of the title might be in suspense for an indefinite time. Where there is no mesne incumbrance outstanding at the time of the sale, the conclusion is inevitable that the mortgage has been extinguished, 18 Bom. 86 ; 26 B. 88 Ref. In any case, the terms of the section throw the onus on the owner to prove circumstances from which it can be inferred that it was to his interest to keep the charge alive so that at the time of the transaction that was his intention. (Pratt and Fawcett, JJ.) BAI REVA v. VALIMAHOMED MYAMAHOMED. 24 Bom. L. R. 720 : 46 B. 1009 : 1922 Bom. 211.

——— S. 101—Keeping alive — Purchase in execution of puisne mortgage degree—Effect of.

Where a puisne mortgagee obtains a decree for sale without impleading the prior mortgagee and purchases the property in execution with leave of the Court, the incumbrance is not extinguished, for it is to his benefit to keep it alive. The leave of the court puts an end to the disability of the mortgagee and makes him an independent purchaser. (Batchelor and Shah, JJ.) SHANKAR VENKATESA KARGUPPI v. SADASHIV MAHADJI KULKARNI. 38 Bom. 24 : 21 I. C. 39 : 15 Bom. L. R. 817.

——— S. 101—Keeping alive — Payment of mortgage decree—Benefit.

There is a presumption that a person intends to keep alive a security when it is for his benefit to do so. But the Court cannot act upon that when no question was raised on the point in the Court of first instance and the other side had no opportunity of meeting such a case or the presumption. (N. R. Chatterjea and Pearson, JJ.) ALI MAHOMED KHAN v. SHEIKH MAHARAJ BEPARI. 64 I. C. 266 : 36 C. L. J. 186.

——— S. 101—Keeping alive—Purchase—Payment of mortgages.

Subrogation does not apply where there is a duty to pay. This doctrine does not apply where a person fulfils or discharges a duty under a covenant, hence a purchaser who retains a portion of the purchase money to discharge two mortgages on the property, and pays off the prior one cannot use it as a shield against the subsequent mortgagee whom he is bound to satisfy except when the latter enables the mortgagor to commit a fraud upon the purchaser. So a purchaser who is aware of only two of the three mortgages on the property and retains a portion of the purchase-money for paying the two, cannot on discovery of the third satisfy the third and use the third as a shield against the other of the two mortgages which he is bound to satisfy except when fraud was committed upon the purchaser by the mortgagee's conduct. (Mukerji and Richards, JJ.) HAR SHYAM v. SHYAMLAL SAHU. 43 Cal. 69 : 22 C. L. J. 227 : 20 C. W. N. 601 : 31 I. C. 22 : [See also 23 M. L. T. 106 : (1918) M. W. N. 251 : 7 L. W. 420 : 44 I. C. 753]. [Also 32 I. C. 729 : 2 O. L. J. 620.]

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 101—Keeping alive.

——S. 101—Keeping alive—Mortgage—Conversion of usufructuary into simple—Charge.

Land given in possession under a usufructuary mortgage is security for both principal and interest. The conversion of a usufructuary into a simple mortgage merely indicates a charge in the form of security. The fact of a charge being paid off by the execution of a second bond does not extinguish it. After execution of the second bond no lien can be claimed in the property for the interest due under the former bond. (Chatterjee, J.) KUMAR KULNAND SINGH v. MOHAN MANDAR. 25 I. C. 500.

——S. 101—Keeping alive--Purchaser—Prior mortgage paid by—Purchaser of equity of redemption—Priority.

The original owners of certain property effected three mortgages on the same property and then sold the property to the deft., who retained a portion of the purchase-money for the payment to the encumbrances. It was established that the deft. paid off the two first mortgages. Held, that the deft. had priority in respect of the two sums paid by him. When a mortgage is paid off, whether it is extinguished or kept alive, is a question of intention of the parties, but in the absence of an express intention to the contrary it must be presumed, that when a person claiming to be absolute owner of an estate, borrows money to pay off a mortgage, he intends to extinguish it if there is no intermediate incumbrance. 9 C. 961 (P. C.) Foll. On paying off prior mortgages, the purchaser of an equity of redemption is subrogated to the rights of the mortgagees paid off, the mortgage paid being considered as part of the purchaser's title to the premises. (Mookerjee and Carnduff, JJ.) SAT NARAIN v. SHEOBARAN SINGH. 11 I. C. 649: 14 C. L. J. 500.

——S. 101—Keeping alive —Vendee paying off prior mortgage.

A vendee who has paid off prior mortgages in the Punjab is presumed to intend, to keep alive the mortgages, for his own benefit. (Wilberforce and Abdul Quadir, JJ.) BUR SINGH v. HAZARA SINGH. 63 I. C. 760.

——S. 101—Keeping alive—Decree on prior mortgage.

Where an intermediate mortgagee discharged a prior and puisne mortgage on which a decree had been passed in a suit to which the intermediate mortgagee was a party. Held, that the intermediate mortgagee must be deemed to have kept alive the two mortgages for his own benefit. (Oldfield and Ramesam, JJ.) GUJULUVA NAGAYYAR v. THUDUKUCHI GOVINDAYYAR. 17 L. W. 14: 1923 Mad. 349.

——S. 101—Keeping alive—Subrogation—Subsequent encumbrancer paying off prior mortgagee out of consideration money.

A subsequent encumbrancer paying off a prior encumbrance with the consideration money of his encumbrance, in pursuance of a stipulation in the mortgage bond that he and not the mortgagor shall pay off the prior encumbrance, can, in the absence of any indication to the contrary, be presumed to have wished to make that payment by his own hand with a view to keep the prior encumbrance alive for his own benefit. 9 Cal. 961, expl.; 10 Cal. 1035, appl. (Ayling and Coutts Trotter, JJ.) CHIDAMBARA NADAN v. MUNI NAGENDRAYYAN. (1920) M. W. N. 534: 28 M. L. T. 300: 39 M. L. J. 445: 58 I. C. 813: 12 L. W. 393.

——S. 101—Keeping alive—Intention of parties.

A Hindu widow alienated her husband's properties directing the alienee to discharge a mortgage binding on the estate. During the pendency of a suit for declaration that the alienation was bad, the alienee mortgaged the properties to pay off the existing encumbrance. The mortgagee brought a suit on his mortgage and purchased the properties in execution. Held, that it was for the mortgagee's benefit to keep alive the mortgage both when he advanced the money and when he purchased the properties in execution of the mortgage decree. It was equally for the defendant's benefit to keep the original mortgage alive under S. 101 of the T. P. Act. (Wallis, C. J. and Ayling, J.) SUPPU SOKKAYYA BHATTAR v. SUPPU BHATTAR. 7 L. W. 30: 43 I. C. 714: (1918) M. W N. 41.

——S. 101—Keeping alive—Purchase of property under attachment.

A mortgagee bought the mortgaged property which was under attachment in execution of a money decree against the mortgagor at the time of sale. The sale was held to be void. Held, that the mortgagee could not have intended to forego his mortgage though the sale was held to be bad. (Abdur Rahim and Srinivasa Iyengar, JJ.) LINGHAM KRISHNA BHUPATHI DEO GARU v. KOVVURI BASIVI REDDI GARU. 38 I. C. 468.

——S. 101—Keeping alive—Renewal of first mortgage—Intention to keep alive—Right of second mortgagee—Priority.

A third mortgage was executed to the first mortgage mortgaging the same and other properties to secure the same debt and an endorsement was made on the first mortgage cancelling it. The second mortgagee claimed priority over the first mortgage on the ground that it was extinguished. A new change in the form of indebtedness, in the mode or form of payment, a variation in the rate of interest or the giving of additional security will not raise the presumption of the extinction of security if it is to the interest of the mortgagee not to do so. The third mortgage is a renewal of the first mortgage and will not be postponed to the second, the right to enforce the first is barred under Art. 132, Limitation Act, at the time when a suit is brought on the third mortgage. 39 C. 527, P. C. Dist. (Ayling and Srinivasa Aiyangar, JJ.) KAVANOOR VELAYUDA REDDI v. REDDY VARI NARASIMHA REDDI. 5 L. W. 111: 21 M. L. T. 105: 38 I. C. 240: 32 M. L. J. 263.

——S. 101—Keeping alive—Vendee discharging mortgage.

Where a vendee discharges certain mortgages on properties purchased by him in the belief of his full title to them, an intention to keep alive the mortgage must be imputed to him. In imputing the intention the courts must look to the real state of facts and not to the facts as understood by the person paying off the mortgages at the time. 35 M. 642 ; 10 C. 1035, Foll., 30 M. 67 : 34 M. 119, Dist. (Ayling and Oldfield, JJ.) SUBRAMANIA PILLAI v. PALANIAPPA MUDALI. 14 M L. T. 585 : 26 M. L. J. 94 : 21 I. C. 978.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 101—Keeping alive.

——S. 101—Keeping alive—Sale of equity of redemption to prior mortgage after creation of a puisne mortgage—Prior mortgagee's rights.

A prior mortgagee to whom the mortgagor sells the equity of redemption often creating a puisne encumbrance is entitled to keep his mortgage alive against the puisne encumbrancer though not against the mortgagor, under S. 101, T. P. Act. He will not be entitled to get interest after the date of sale. Nor can he be reimbursed for payment which the mortgagor covenanted to-day, as Ss. 72, 65 (c) and 76 (c) do not warrant such payment. He may, however, be entitled to get costs of necessary repairs. 9 Cal. 961 and 21 Mad. 143, Dist. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) IBRAHIM SAHIB v. ARMUGATHAYEE. 38 Mad. 18 : 16 I. C. 877.

——S. 101—Keeping alive— Discharge of mortgage debt by subsequent mortgagee—Priority.

It is a question of intention whether a mortgage which has been satisfied is kept alive for the benefit of the person making the payment ; in the absence of anything to the contrary the law presumes an intention to keep it alive. 20 M. 486; 16 C. 523, Ref. (White, C.J. and Munro, J.) YELLAPADDI MAHALAKSHMI AMMAL v. MADHVA SIDDHANTA OONAHINI NIDHI. 35 Mad. 642 : 10 M. L. T. 169 : (1912) M. W. N. 24 : 11 I. C. 865 : 21 M. L. J. 811.

——S. 101—Keeping alive— Presumption—Intention of mortgagee.

In cases where the ownership of the property itself has come into the hands of the mortgagee and the mortgagee wishes to hold up his mortgage as a shield against some person, who is entitled to a decree for possession of the property the question is whether the mortgagee kept the mortgage alive at the time he came into possession of the equity of redemption or whether he allowed it to become extinguished. In England where the rules of the conveyancing are very strict, it is the invariable practice to have the mortgage assigned to trustees for the express purpose of keeping it alive. This is never done in India and the Courts have usually looked to see whether it was to the interest of the mortgagee to keep his mortgage alive, and if they found it to be this interest, they have assumed that he did intend to keep it alive. (Dalal and Simpsons, A. J. Cs) BALDEO SINGH v. THE DEPUTY COMMISSIONER, KHERI. 10 O. L. J. 112 : 1924 Oudh 1

——S. 101—Keeping alive—Mortgagee purchasing equity of redemption.

Where a mortgagee purchases the interest of a mortgagor, the presumption is that the lien would continue to subsist for his benefit. (Atkinson and Jwala Prasad, JJ.) SIVA NARAYAN RAM MARWARI v. HARI NARAYAN. 51 I. C 758 : See also 32 All. 1 : 6 A. L. J. 987 : 4 I. C. 810.

——S. 101—Keeping alive — Intention of parties.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 101—Payment by stranger.

If the owner of an estate pays off charges on it, though he is personally not liable to pay, it is a question of intention whether these charges are to be considered as extinguished or kept alive for his benefit, and it is to be ascertained from the circumstances attending the transaction or may be presumed from a consideration of the fact whether it is or is not for his benefit that the charge should be kept on foot, the intention that is to be established is the intention of the parties, i.e. of the mortgagor and mortgagee. (Mullick and Jwala Prasad, JJ.) MAHABIR PRASAD v. BIBI NAGIN. 1 Pat. L. W. 466 : 39 I. C. 500.

——S. 101—Keeping alive—Mortgage—Subrogation—Prior mortgage paid off—Intention.

Where a third mortgagee pays off a first mortgage without notice of a second mortgage, the mortgage paid off would be kept alive if it is for his benefit to do so. In such cases the real test is that he must be presumed to have intended to do if he had known all the facts. (Fox and Hartnoll, JJ.) NACHIAPPA CHETTY v. PERIACUPPAN CHETTY. 5 Bur. L. T. 285 : 18 I. C. 487 : [See also 5 L. B. R. 138 : 4 I. C. 1032.]

——S. 101—Keeping alive—Purchaser at first mortgagee's sale.

The purchaser at the first mortgagee's sale can always use the mortgage as a shield against a puisne mortgagee. There can be no merger of rights unless the holder of the incumbrance becomes absolutely entitled. (Pratt, J. C and Couch, A. J. C.) CHANDAR BAI v. BASARMAL. 28 I. C. 67 : 8 S. L. R. 264.

Payment by Stranger.

——S. 101—Payment by stranger—Presumption.

If a purchaser pays off a charge on the property purchased, which he was personally under no obligations to pay, the question whether such charges are kept alive or extinguished will depend on the intention of the purchaser and it may be proved from the surrounding circumstances. There is a presumption that the purchaser intended that which is for his benefit but this presumption can be rebutted by means of an evidence showing a contrary intention on his part.

When a person buys a property while it is under attachment and redeems the mortgagee the presumption is that he intended to keep the incumbrance alive for his advantage. (Sir Henry Griffin, and Chamier, JJ.) JAMILUNNISSA v. PITAMBAR DAS. 18 I. C. 704 : 11 A. L. J. 127.

——S. 101—Payment of mortgage by a stranger.

A stranger who pays off the mortgage stands in the shoes of mortgagee and can enforce sale of the property. The presumption is that he intends to keep alive the mortgage for his benefit. (Batchelor and Shah, JJ.) TANGYA FALA v. TRIMBAK DAGA. 40 Bom 646 : 36 I. C. 794 : 18 Bom. L. R. 700.

——S. 101—Payment by stranger—Subrogation— Doctrine —Applicability to stranger or volunteer—Collusive transferee.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 101—Payment by stranger.

A collusive transferee without consideration is not entitled to a lien on the mortgaged property for the sum paid off by him. Per Ayling, J. The doctrine of subrogation, is not applied, for the benefit of the mere stranger who has paid the debt of another without any assignment or agreement for subrogation. In the absence of such assignment or agreement there must at least be an obligation to make the payment or the person paying must be compelled to do so for the preservation of any rights or properties of his own (Ayling and Tyabji, JJ.) KARUPPAN AMBALAGARAN v. MUHAMMAD SAKUTH.

14 M. L. T. 478 : (1914) M. W. N. 131 : 22 I. C. 253 : 26 M. L. J. 74.

——S. 101—Payment by stranger—Mortgage—Subrogation—Stranger paying off debt on estate.

A person who pays off a mortgage debt on the properties of a deceased male owner cannot claim to be subrogated to the rights either of the daughter or of the original mortgagee whose debt he discharges. The scope of the rule of subrogation is much narrower in India than in England (1910) 2 Ch. 277 Diss. 33 C. 133. Not foll. Mere payment of a mortgage debt by a stranger would not entitle him to the mortgagee's right by subrogation. Subrogation will arise only in those cases where the party claiming it advanced the money to pay a debt which, in the event of default by the debtor, he would be bound to pay or where he had some interest to protect or where he advanced money under an express agreement. 2 I. A. 131. Ref. (Sundara Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) NARAYANA KUTTI GOUNDAR v. PACHIAMMAL.

36 Mad. 426 : 11 M. L. T. 174 : (1912) M. W. N. 353 : 15 I. C. 206 : 22 M. L. J. 364.

——S. 101—Payment by stranger—Compensation—Maxim "He who seeks equity must do equity."

Though a person who under a bona fide mistake incurs expenditure upon the property of another has no equity against the real owner who is ignorant of and does not encourage him in such expenditure, yet if the true owner is to proceed in equity he must first do equity and make compensation for the expenditure so far as it is necessary and permanently beneficial. Where a person bona fide thinking he is the heir of a deceased person, spends money in freeing the estate from debts which if he were the real heir he would be bound to pay, he is entitled to a relief and the person subsequently found entitled to the estate must pay the amount before he can get possession. (Lindsay, J. C.) SITTA BAKSH SINGH v. SAMI-UD-DIN-HYDER.

42 I. C. 428 : 4 O. L. J. 514.

——S. 101—Payment by stranger.

Where a first mortgagee's decree is satisfied out of advance by stranger the latter is entitled to priority over puisne mortgagees. (Das and Adami, JJ.) RAM NARAYAN LAL v. SAHADEO SINGH.

1 P. 332 : 3 P. L. T. 261 : 1922 Pat. 174 : 1922 P. 181.

——S. 101—Payment by stranger—Keeping alive.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 101—Subrogation.

Irrespective of a clause in a document definitely keeping alive the mortgage, the payment of a mortgage debt by a third party with the consent of the mortgagee (who had a second mortgage) for the payment of his mortgage, is in itself sufficient to warrant the presumption that the prior mortgage would be kept alive as against the second mortgage. 10 C. 1035 (P. C.) Foll. (Sharfuddin and Roe, JJ.) RAI BENODE HEHARY BOSE v. HIRA SINGH.

44 I. C. 726 : 1918 Pat. 76.

——S. 101—Payment by stranger—Equitable transferee.

Where a third party pays off the mortgage-debt to the mortgagee, with the knowledge of the mortgagor without a valid assignment of the mortgage, he becomes in effect an equitable transferee of the mortgage and can look to the mortgaged property for his money. In a suit for redemption of the mortgage, the money should be paid not to the original mortgagee, but to the equitable transferee. (Parlett, J.) MAUNG PAW v. MAUNG SAN U.

12 I. C. 805 : 4 Bur. L. T. 127.

Subrogation.

——S. 101—Subrogation—Mortgage money applied to discharge a prior mortgage—Intention to keep prior charge alive—Suit to enforce prior mortgage—Limitation Act, Art. 132—Starting point.

Where the money raised on a third mortgage is applied by agreement of the parties to discharge first mortgage over the same properties for the same amount, and the first mortgage deed is handed over to the third mortgagee, though no formal assignment thereof was made, Held, that the first mortgage was kept alive for the benefit of the third mortgagee, who thereby obtained priority over the second mortgagee. 10 I A. 62; 11 I. A 126; 29 I A. 9, Ref. The claim to enforce that priority, in a suit brought more than 12 years after the expiry of the term of the first mortgage is barred by Art. 132 of the Lim. Act. (Sir John Edge.) MAHOMED IBRAHIM HUSSAIN KHAN v. AMBIKA PERSAD SINGH.

39 Cal. 527 : 39 I. A. 68 : 11 M. L T. 265 : (1912) M. W. N. 367 : 9 A L. J. 332 : 14 Bom. L. R. 280 : 16 C. W. N. 505 : 15 C. L. J. 411 : 14 I. C. 496 : 22 M. L. J 468.

——S. 101—Subrogation—Sale to discharge mortgages—Vendee paying off all mortgages but one—Vendee not entitled to interest on sums paid by him as against mortgagee not paid off.

Where in a suit by a mortgagee against the vendee of a property in possession and enjoyment of it, the latter claims the amounts he has paid to prior mortgagees, he is not entitled to any interest on those sums. (Tudball and Sulaiman, JJ.) ANANDI PRASAD v. KRISHNA CHANDRA.

19 A. L. J. 792 : 63 I. C. 738 : 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 152.

——S. 101—Subrogation— Money spent in paying prior incumbrance.

The mere fact that money borrowed is spent in paying a previous charge, does not entitle the lender to the benefit of the discharge security. There must be agreement between the lender and borrower to the effect. The agreement may be presumed from circumstances of the transaction. (Rafique and Lindsay, JJ.) GULZARI LAL v AZIZ-FATIMA. 41 All. 372 : 50 I. C. 375 : 17 A.L.J. 357.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 101—Subrogation.

[See also 14 A. L. J. 953 : 35 I. C. 647 and 36 I. C. 992 : 10 Bur. L. T. 232]

——S. 101 —Subrogation — Purchaser of equity of redemption

A purchaser of an equity of redemption is entitled to stand in the shoes of the incumbrancer even when he has with his consent partially discharged the liability. (Richards, C J. and Rafique, J.) UDIT NARAYAN MISER v. ASHRAFI.
38 All. 502 : 35 I. C. 732 : 14 A. L. J. 662.

——S. 101—Subrogation—Doctrine of.

Subrogation is the right of one creditor to stand in the shoes of another and to avail himself of the latter's security, it necessarily follows that before the right can arise in favour of the subsequent creditor, there must have been an earlier creditor whose rights devolve upon the later creditor after the latter's debt has been discharged. (Piggott and Lindsay, JJ.) UMRAI LAL v. RUKMIN KUAR.
35 I. C. 647 : 14 A. L. J. 953.

——S. 101—Subrogation—Prior mortgages—Paid by purchaser—Right to interest against puisne mortgagee.

A purchaser of a property paying off a prior usufructuary, and prior simple mortgage can claim as against the puisne mortgagee, the principal money under the former and the principal and the interest on the latter. (Griffin and Chamier, JJ.) LAJJA RAM v. GUR BAKHSH.
18 I. C. 946 : 11 A. L. J. 345.

——S. 101—Subrogation--Discharge in bona fide belief.

A discharge of mortgage by an auction purchaser under the belief that he had a title while really the judgment-debtor had already sold his property, entitles the auction-purchaser to stand in the shoes of the mortgagee. (Karamat Hussain and Chamier, JJ.) KESARI LAL v. MUBARAK HUSAIN, 10 I. C. 556 : 8 A. L. J. 663.

——S. 101—Subrogation—Fraud.

A person purchased property subject to two mortgages to his knowledge. He retained a part of consideration to pay off the mortgages but paid only one of the two. He cannot treat the paid off mortgage as a shield against the unpaid mortgage. The doctrine of subrogation cannot be used to defeat the ends of justice. (Mookerjee and Richardson, JJ.) HAR SHYAM CHOWDHURY v. SHYAM LAL SAHU. 43 Cal. 69 : 22 C. L. J. 227 : 31 I. C. 22 : 20 C. W. N. 601.

——S. 101—Subrogation—Prior mortgagee purchasing property—Agreement to pay subsequent mortgage—Priority if can be pleaded in suit by latter.

The prior mortgagee of the suit property purchased the property and as part of the consideration agreed to redeem the subsequent mortgagee. Held, in a suit by the puisne encumbrancer on his mortgage, the former cannot set up his own priority as a shield, his own charge shall be extinguished. (Krishnan and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) GARUDAPPA v. JANAKI.
45 M. L. J. 693 : 18 L. W. 530 : 1924 M. 103.

——S. 101 — Subrogation — Purchaser in execution of prior mortgage—Can hold prior charge as shield against subsequent mortgagee not impleaded in suit on prior mortgage.

Where in execution of decree on a prior mortgage some of the mortgaged properties were sold and the prior mortgage amount to a certain extent discharged, the purchaser and his representatives in interest can, in a suit against him by a puisne mortgagee not impleaded in the prior suit, maintain his right to a prior charge in respect of the moneys paid by him towards the decree on the prior mortgage. This right of the purchaser is not affected by the Law of Limitation. The purchaser, however, has not a general right of subrogation by reason of his having paid off the prior mortgage decree. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) VENKATARAMANA REDDI v. RANGAIAH CHETTY. 41 M. L. J. 399 : 1922 M. W. N. 15 : 1922 M. 249.

——S. 101—Subrogation—Purchase payment of mortgage.

A purchaser of equity of redemption discharging an encumbrance on the property should obtain subrogation. Where a person bought a property charged with three successive incumbrances, and paid off the puisne incumbrance, he was subrogated to the rights of the puisne incumbrancer and was entitled to the benefits accrued against the third mortgage and to interest against the second mortgage amount. (Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) MATI REDDI AIYYA REDDI v. ADUSUMALLI GOPALA KRISHNAYYA.
58 I. C. 493 : 12 L W. 101.

——S. 101—Subrogation— Direct payment if necessary—Partial payment.

A mortgagee who pays off an earlier mortgage is entitled to be subrogated not only to the rights of that mortgagee, but also to the rights of the mortgagee who was paid off by that (intermediate) mortgage amount. In determining whether the right of subrogation exists or not what must be taken into account is not the hand that pays the money but the intention of the parties, viz. whether by paying the money the earlier mortgage was intended to be kept alive. The right to subrogation might be full or partial according to circumstances. 36 M. 426: 35 M. 642, Dist. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Moore, JJ.) GHUNDAN V. P. O. ABARTHORAMAN KUTTI v. ITTIKAPARAM BILATHAN. 11 L. W. 215 : 27 M. L. T. 92 : 55 I. C. 658 : (1920) M. W. N. 143.

——S. 101—Subrogation—Purchaser under void sale—Paying off martgages.

Where a person buys property in good faith and for the purpose of clearing a mortgage binding on that property and pays money to the vendor to be so applied, the vendee becomes an equitable assignee of the mortgage if it subsequently turns out that the vendor had no right to convey. He cannot, however, claim to be reimbursed in respect of the simple money debts of the vendor paid of by him out off the sale consideration. 21 M. 143 ; 31 M. 439, Ref. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) AMMANI AMMAL v. RAMASWAMI NAIDU. 37 M. L. J. 113 : 10 L. W. 75 : 51 I. C. 57 : (1919) M. W. N. 866.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 101—Subrogation.

——— S. 101—Subrogation—Equitable right—Fraudulent purchaser.

Where a person purchases joint family property under a collusive decree obtained against some of the co-parceners, the purchaser cannot claim, against the co-parceners who are not parties, an equitable remedy by subrogation even though they have discharged certain family debts. (Spencer and Krishnan, JJ.) NADHAMUNI AIYAR v. APPU ODHAYAN. 48 I. C. 799.

——— S. 101—Subrogation—Right of prior mortgagee if can be enforced by suit—Keeping alive.

The right of a prior mortgagee obtained by subrogation by a puisne mortgagee paying him off can be enforced by suit. The right of subrogation is an equitable right. To recognise an equitable right and then to refuse the means of enforcing it, would in effect result in refusing the equity. 34 All. 102, Foll. (Phillips and Krishnan, JJ.) A. RAMA RAO v. MANDACHALUGAI. 35 M. L. J. 467 : (1918) M W. N. 505 : 8 L. W. 175 : 47 I. C. 882 : 24 M. L. T. 133.

——— S. 101—Subrogation—Mortgage.

Properties subject to two mortgages were sold by the mortgagor. The purchaser subsequently paid the first mortgage, got an assignment of it in favour of a third party, and then sold the property and part of the consideration was applied towards the discharge of the first mortgage. Held, that the second vendee was subrogated to the rights of the first mortgagee and his right was upheld, in a suit by the second mortgagee and the purchaser in execution sale could not question vendee's rights. (Oldfield and Phillips, JJ.) KUPPUSWAMI AIYANGAR v NARASIMHA IYER. (1917) M. W. N. 333 : 21 M. L. T. 382 : 38 I. C. 715: 5 L. W. 360.

——— S. 101—Subrogation—Partial payment.

In the absence of any conflicting equities the mere fact that the whole of the previous mortgage has not been wiped off, is not a ground for depriving the purchaser of the right of subrogation to the extent he has actually paid off the mortgage. 35 M. 183, Dist.; 36 M. 29, Foll. (Oldfield and Tyabji, JJ.) UMMACHAKUTTI v. UMMERKUTI HAJI. 29 I. C. 583 : [Contra 29 I C. 511.]

——— S. 101—Subrogation—Partial discharge of prior mortgage—Priority.

A mortgagee advancing money towards the charge in part of a first mortgage on the property is entitled to priority over an intermediate mortgagee to the extent of the debt discharged. 11 M. 345, Foll.; 35 M. 183, Ref. (Sankaran Nair and Oldfield, JJ.) SAMINATHA PILLAI v. KRISHNA IYER. 38 Mad. 548 : 28 I. C. 966: 28 M. L. J. 484.

——— S. 101—Subrogation—Right to—When arises.

Subrogation will arise only in those cases where the party claiming to advance the money to pay a debt which, in the event of default by the debtor, he would be bound to pay or where he had some interest to protect or where he advanced the money under an agreement, express or implied, made either with the debtor or creditor, that he would be subrogated to the rights and remedies of the creditor. In India the scope of the rule is narrower still. A mere agreement, either with the creditor holding a mortgage or with the debtor owning it, cannot give a person lending money to discharge a mortgage, a lien over the property. (Sundara Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) NARAYANA KUTTI GOUNDAN v. PACHIAMMAL. 35 Mad. 426 : 22 M. L. J. 364 : 11 M. L. T. 174 : 15 I. C. 206 : (1912) M. W. N. 353.

——— S. 101—Subrogation, principle of.

The purchaser cannot, under a purchase accompanied with possession which cannot be legally recognised, claim the right of apportionment of a prior mortgage on it. The equity to subrogation rests on the payment of prior encumbrance coupled with justification for such payment derived from a conveyance, notwithstanding its imperfection. (Sundara Aiyar. J.) PASUPULETTI VENKAMMA v. SHAIK HAMID. 14 I. C. 741 : 11 M. L. T. 424.

——— S 101—Subrogation — Invalid sale—Purchser paying off incumbrance.

A purchser of land who, while in possession pays off an incumbrance is entitled when the purchase is found to be invalid to stand in the shoes of the mortgagee paid off. 21 M. 143 ; 31 M. 439, F. (Wallis and Sankaran Nair, JJ.) BALASUBRAMANIAN v. RAMASAWMY CHETTIAR. (1911) 1 M. W. N. 197 : 9 I. C. 789 : 9 M. L. T. 358.

——— S. 101—Subrogation — Assignment of security if necessary.

A claim to subrogation can be sustained where there is an agreement with the debtor that the lender shall be subrogated to the rights of the mortgagees. Such an agreement may be express or may be presumed from the circumstances of the case. The qustion to ask will be, whether the new lender was lending money on the personal security of the borrower or on the understanding that he would be substituted in place of the former mortgagee. (Dalal and Simpson, A. J. Cs.) LAL RANJIT SINGH v. LUTAR RAM. 9 O. & A. L. R. 677 : 1924 Oudh 85.

——— S. 101— Subrogation— Redemption of mortgage by mortgagor.

The question of subrogation arises only when a puisne mortgagee redeems a prior mortgage. The doctrine of subrogation cannot apply where the mortgagor himself or his successor in interest redeems it. (Daniel, A. J. C.) MOHAMMAD MOHSIN v. MOHAMMAD ABID. 52 I. C. 159 : 22 C C. 72.

——— S. 101—Subrogation—Mortgage —Mortgagor—Paying off prior mortgage with borrowed money—Right of creditor.

The mere fact that money borrowed by a debtor is used to pay off a prior mortgage does not entitle the lender to the benefit of the discharged security. (Fox, C. J. and Twomey, J.) MA PYU v V. R. N. E. CHETTI FIRM.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 101—Miscellaneous.

36 I. C. 092 : 10 Bur. L. T. 232.

Miscellaneous.

——— S. 101—Mortgage—Annuity reserved for mortgagor—Equity of redemption acquired by mortgagee—Liability.

An annuity reserved to be payable to a mortgagor under a mortgage is payable though the equity of redemption was finally acquired by the mortgagee. (Piggott and Ryves, JJ.) LACHMI NARAIN v. SAJJADDI BEGAM.
39 All. 700 : 41 I. C. 839 : 15 A. L. J. 671.

——— S. 101—Priority—Mortgage—Discharge of previous mortgage.

A co mortgagor discharging a prior mortgage has a prior charge against those who discharge a subsequent mortgage. 31 A. 166, Applied. (Richards, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) KASHI RAM v. HET SINGH. 37 All. 101 : 26 I. C. 417 : 13 A. L. J. 34.

——— S. 101—Mortgage—Substituted security—Suit on prior—Security when maintainable.

Where a mortgage is executed for amount due on a previous mortgage, the latter cannot be sued on when the debt is not wholly realised by suing on the former. (Richards, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) SHEORAJ SINGH v. HARCHANDILAL.
19 I C. 127 : 11 A. L. J. 365.

——— S. 101—Mortgage decree—Paid off by transferee of property—Rights of transferee.

A transferee of property, paying off a mortgage decree thereon, is entitled to claim the amount due under the mortgage on which the decree was obtained and not merely the sum paid for the decree, 21 C. 366 ; 19 A. 527, Rel on. (Karamat Hussain and Chamier, JJ.) KANHAI LAL v. HULAS SINGH. 13 I. C. 939 : 9 A. L. J. 29.

——— S. 101—Charge—Payment of prior mortgage by purchaser from a limited owner.

Where reversioners bring a suit for a declaration that an alienation by a limited owner is not binding on the reversion, the vendee cannot claim that he having paid off a prior mortgage, can retain possession during the life of the alienor and can stand in the shoes of the prior mortgagee redeemed by him. (Rattigan, J.) PARTAPA v. ATTAR SINGH. 262 P.L.R. 1913 : 20 I.C. 289 : 37 P.R. 1913.

——— S. 101—Revival of prior mortgage—Proprietary rights acquired by mortgagee—Loss of such rights—Revival of mortgage.

Proprietary rights acquired by a mortgagee at an auction sale in execution of decree obtained by a subsequent mortgagee, were subsequently lost on account of certain proceedings. Held, that the mortgage revived as soon as the proprietary rights acquired by the mortgagee were wiped out. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs.) JAI KISHORI v. AFZAL KHANAM. 22 O. C. 349 : 54 I.C. 544 : 2 U.P.L.R. (O.C.) 17.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 105.

——— S. 101—Mortgagees—Purchase of equity of redemption.

A mortgagee can purchase the equity of redemption at an auction sale in execution of a money decree, obtained by a third person, and he is not a trustee for the mortgagor in respect of such purchase. (Roe and Jwala Prasad, JJ.) TIKAIT DAL NARAYAN v. CHRISTIAN. 50 I. C. 472 : 1919 Pat. 92.

——— S. 103—Scope of—Minor mortgagee—Deposit—Appointment of guardian ad litem.

S. 103, T. P. Act, was intended to provide for preliminary proceedings to be adopted by a mortgagor before making a tender or deposit and it could not have been the intention that the mere making of an application for appointing a guardian would be sufficient to prevent interest running against a minor mortgagee, There should be a person appointed by a court to whom a tender could be made or by whom a deposit could be taken out of court. (Mears, C.J. and Banerjea, J.) KHUNNU MAL v. INDAR PAL SINGH.
21 A. L. J. 39 : L. R. 4 A. 331 : 45 A. 273 : 1923 A. 183.

——— S. 105—Kabuliyat without lease—Value thereof.

The existence of the Kabuliyat without the lease will not enable the executant of the former to use the contents thereof to the prejudice of the landlord and for his own benefit. The landlord, however, can rely on the Kabuliyat to prove the undertaking of the executant. 26 A. 368; 27 A. 136; 27 A. 462; 27 A. 190, Foll. 31 A. 276 (F.B.) ; Ref. to. (Knox, J.) BEJAI NARAIN SINGH v. PARBHU NARAIN SINGH. 15 A.L.J. 317 : 37 I.C. 395 : But see 35 Mad. 95 (F.B.).

——— S. 105—Lease—License — Distinction—Exclusive right of occupation.

In the case of a license there is no transfer of interest in land, whereas in the case of a lease there is a transfer of such interest. 35 C. 82, Rel. If an instrument taken as a whole has the effect of giving the holder an exclusive right to occupation of land, though subject to certain reservation or to a restriction of the purpose for which it may be used, it is in law a demise of the land itself. (1904) A. C. 405, Rel. To give exclusive possession express words to that effect are unnecessary ; it is sufficient if the acts to be done by the grantee require that he should have exclusive possession. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) MAHIPAL SINGH v. LALJI SINGH.
16 I. C 705 : 17 C. W. N. 166.

——— S 105—Lease—Commencement of lease postponed to future date—Effect.

A completed contract of lease is an executed contract although the commencement of the lease has been postponed to a future date and a suit for specific performance is not necessary to such a lease. (Shah Din and Chevis, JJ.) MIHAN KHAN v. MUHAMMAD BAKHSH.
66 P. W. R. 1913 : 18 I. C. 496 : 97 P. L. R. 1913.

——— Ss. 105, 108 (b) and (c)—Lease—Premium not paid—Right to possession of lessee—Implied covenant.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 105—Lease.

A lessee under a registered sale-deed is entitled to the possession of the lands demised and the non-payment of the premium was no answer to his suit for possession. A lease is a transfer of a right to enjoy property, and the right of the lessee to be put into possession arises from the words of demise which imply that the right to possession is granted to the lessee and the lessor is not entitled to refuse to give up possession to the lessee unless the document provides that the latter is not to have possession until the fulfilment of a certain condition. 34 All. 659, Not foll. 34 Mad. 543 ; 30 Mad. 524, Appl. (Abdur Rahim, Oldfield and Coutts-Trotter, JJ.) KANDASAMY PILLAI v. RAMASWAMI MANNADI. 42 Mad. 203 : (1919) M.W.N. 194 : 51 I. C. 507 : 36 M. L. J. 313.

——S. 105—Lease— Agreement to lease—Distinction.

A lease which is to operate from a future date is distinguished from an agreement to lease, in that the former creates an interest in the land and the latter does not. (Mittra, A. J. C.) VITHU JAIRAM v. AKARAM. 42 I. C. 372.

——Ss. 105 and 107—Lease — Registration —Agreement among co-sharers for distribution or profits.

One of the essential conditions of a lease is that there should be a consideration to be rendered periodically or on special occasions to the lessor. Where there is nothing but an agreement between the co-sharers as to the method of distribution of profits and they agree that, instead of dividing the profits each year, that each party should take the profits for years in turn, the agreement does not require to be embodied in a registered instrument. (Lyle, A. J. C.) SITA RAM v. SARJU PRASAD. 25 O. C. 39 : 9 O. L. J. 184 : 1922 Oudh 201.

——S. 106.

Applicability.
Covenant for renewal.
Holding over.
Nature of tenancy.
Notice to quit
Permanent tenancy.
Miscellaneous.

Applicability.

——Ss. 106 and 108 (c)—Applicability—Destruction by fire—Notice by lessee.

A notice by the lessee under S. 108 (c) avoiding the lease on the ground of destruction by fire takes effect immediately S. 106 of the Act has no application to such a notice. (Fletcher and Teunon, JJ.) DAMODA COAL CO., LTD. v. HURMOOK MARWARI. 31 I. C. 697 : 19 C. W. N. 1019.

——S. 106—Applicability--Applies to Punjab.

S. 106 merely lays down in a codified form what in fact has always been understood to be the general law on the subject. A condition in the lease that the landlord would give one month's notice if he wanted to have the premises vacated, does not mean that notice could be given at any time and that it was not to expire with the end of the month of tenancy as required by S. 106. (Moti Sagar, J.) CHUNI LAL v. CHUNI LAL. 1923 Lah. 659.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S 106—Holding over.

——S 106 — Applicability — Agricultural lease.

S. 106 of T. P. Act is not applicable to agricultural leases. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) VENKATACHALA GOUNDAN v. RANGARATNAM. 13 M. L. T. 450 : (1913) M. W. N. 434 : 20 I. C. 374 : 24 M. L. J. 571.

——S. 106—Applicability—Service tenure—Refusal to perform service—Notice to quit, if necessary.

A service tenure holder is not entitled to a notice to quit before ejectment it be fails to fulfil the condition on which he held land in which case he becomes a mere trespasser. (Jwala Prasad, J.) WAZIR NONIAN v. RAM PRASAD LAL. 59 I. C. 893.

Covenant for renewal.

——S. 106—Covenant for renewal—Undefined terms—Option for renewal when unenforceable.

An option to the tenant of renewal on the expiry of a lease according to the terms on which the lessor will wish to lease out in future cannot be enforced as the terms are undefined and depend upon the will of the lessor. (Chatterjee and Richardson, JJ.) RAJANI KANTA v. YOUSUF ALI. 34 I. C. 92 : 21 C. W. N. 188.

——S. 106—Covenant for renewal—Construction.

Covenants for renewal should as far as possible be interpreted so as to make them operative and not futile. Where a covenant for renewal does not state the terms of the renewal the new term will be for the same period and on the same terms as the original lease in respect of all the essential conditions except as to the covenant for renewal itself. 33 I. C. 450 Foll. (Mookerjee and Chatterjee, JJ.) LANI MIA v. MUHAMMED EASIN MIA. 33 I. C. 448 : 20 C. W. N. 948.

Holding over.

——S. 106—Holding over—Tenant from year to year.

When a tenancy is from year to year, and for a fixed term and the tenant holds over after the expiry of the term, the tenancy continues as a yearly tenancy and is determinable by six months' notice terminating with the year of the tenancy. (Piggott, J.) CHATTAR SINGH v. NAND KISHORE. 26 I. C. 107 : 12 A. L. J. 1139.

——Ss. 106 and 116—Holding over—Invalid permanent lease by head of religious endowment —Position of lessee.

Where a tenant took a lease for 10 years from the mutwalli of a mosque with a covenant for renewal and it was found that the covenant for renewal was beyond the jurisdiction of the trustee, the lessee holding over must be deemed to be holding on a monthly tenancy. 32 C. 123 Rel. (Mookerjee and Cumming, JJ.) GAJENDRA NATH DEY v MOULVI ASHRAF HOSSAIN. 27 C. W. N. 159 : 36 C. L. J. 48 : 1923 Cal. 130

——S 106—Holding over—Notice to quit homestead land—Lease for ten years—Holding over

A tenant of homestead land within a town holding over on the terms of an expired ten years'

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 106—Holding over.

lease is not entitled to a six-months' notice ending with the end of a year of the tenancy. (Fletcher and Walmsley, JJ.) MONMATHA NATH SANTRA v. PEARY MOHAN MUKERJEE.
52 I. C. 180 : 23 C. W. N. 596.

——— S. 106—Holding over—Tenancy by sufference.

There is no such thing as tenancy at sufference in agricultural leases not governed by the T. P. Act. (Miller and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) GANAPATHI MUDALI v. VENKATALAKSHMINARASAYYA. 25 I. C. 109 : (1914) M. W. N. 728.

——— Ss. 106 and 117—Holding over—Consent of lessor—Notice to quit.

A lessee, who after the expiry of the term of his lease, holds over with the consent of the lessor, he occupies the same character as he did under the expired lease, and has no right to set up any title adverse to that of the lessor and in derogation of the rights of the latter. The mere consent of a landlord to a tenant retaining in possession after the expiry of the term of his lease during the pendency of his negotiations for a fresh lease, does not create a contract of tenancy. (Jwala Prasad and Foster, JJ.) MOORE v. MAKHAN SINGH. 53 I. C. 180.

Nature of Tenancy.

——— Ss. 106 and 116—Nature of tenancy—Holding over—Lease for one year—Rent payable by instalments—Presumption—Notice to quit—Period of—Leases before Transfer of Property Act.

A lease reserved a yearly rent and the rent was payable according to monthly instalments. The tenant held over for a considerable number of years after the expiry of the lease. Held, that the tenancy could be presumed to be a yearly tenancy. 20 C. W. N. 1005, Foll. The agreement of yearly tenancy, which was implied from a yearly rent having been reserved by the lease, was a valid agreement. 32 Cal. 123, Dist. A provision for enhanced rent in a lease after the expiry of the term does not take away the right of the landlord to eject the tenant after service of notice to quit according to law, if the landlord did not choose to exercise the right to call upon the tenant to pay additional rent. (Chatterjee and Newbould, JJ.) SUNISSA BIBI v. SATYA SEBAK GHOSAL.
23 C. W. N. 641 : 51 I. C. 415 : 29 C. L. J. 394.

——— S. 106—Nature of tenancy—Rent payable annually—Dwelling house on land.

The mere fact that rent is expressed in a lease at so much a year does not make the lease of land on which a dwelling-house had been built a yearly one. (Walmsley, J.) BISESWAR RAY v. PITAMBAR NATH. 51 I. C. 44.

——— S. 106—Nature of tenancy from year to year—Tenancy—Annual rent.

The fact that the rent is to be paid once a year does not by itself make the tenancy one from year to year. 11 C. W. N. 1124, Ref. (Fletcher and Beachcroft, JJ.) MOHENDRA NATH MOZUMDAR v. NAGENDRA NARAIN ROY.
50 I. C. 918.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 106—Nature of tenancy.

——— Ss. 106 and 107—Nature of tenancy—Annual rent reserved—Not registered.

A lease of immoveable property reserving an annual rent will be deemed to be a lease from month to month under S. 106 when the contract has not been put into writing and registered under S. 107. (Sanderson, C. J. and Mookerjee, J.) AKLU v. EMMAN. 44 Cal. 408.
38 I. C. 899 : 20 C. W. N. 1005.

——— Ss. 106 and 107—Nature of tenancy.

Where certain premises were rented on an unregistered lease and a yearly rental was fixed but the period was not mentioned and the tenant continued for several years paying rent. Held, that the tenancy was for a year only and the effect of holdidg over was to make it a monthly tenancy terminable by 15 days' notice. The presumption of a yearly taking does not always arise from the rent being payable yearly. (Mookerjee and Walmsley, JJ.) GOBINDA CHANDRA SHAH v. DWARKA NATH PALATA. 20 C. L. J. 455 : 26 I. C. 962 : 19 C. W. N. 489.

——— S. 106—Nature of tenancy—Presumption.

The mode in which the rent is expressed to be reserved raises a presumption that the tenancy is of a character corresponding thereto and therefore where rent is claimed annually the presumption is that the tenancy is from year to year which rule however is not of universal application. Wilkinson v. Hall 43 P. R. 728; Atherstone v. Bostock 134 Eng. Rep. 850; Wilson v. Abbot, 107 Eng. Rep. 667, Rel. on. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) DURGI NIKARINI v. GOBERDHAN BOSE. 20 C. L. J. 443 : 24 I. C. 183 : 19 C. W. N. 525.

——— S. 106—Nature of tenancy—Renting house at a fixed rate, if creates a tenancy.

A renting by the lessee for twenty years of shops at a fixed rent as long as the sub-lessee kept them and paid monthly rents, creates a monthly lease. Where neither party proves the tenancy alleged, Court must presume the tenancy and not dismiss the suit for ejectment. (Shah Din and Scott-Smith, JJ.) JAMSETJI BOJA v. DUNI CHAND.
180 P. L. R. 1913 : 19 I. C. 493: 120 P. W. R. 1913.

——— S. 106—Nature of tenancy—Presumption—Monthly tenancy—Inference of.

Where a tenant who originally came into possession of the demised land under an unregistered deed and therefore invalid lease for 10 years and continued in possession with the consent of the lessor paying rent at a monthly rate, the presumption is that a monthly tenancy was created between the parties by oral agreement, accompanied by possession. (Spencer and Krishnan, JJ.) MANICKAM PILLAI v. RATNASAMI NADAR.
(1917) M. W. N. 837 : 43 I. C. 210 : 6 L. W. 689 : 33 M. L. J. 684.

——— S. 106—Nature of tenancy from year to year—Possession for a long period.

To determine whether a tenancy is from year to year in any particular case the length of possession of the tenant, the presence or absence of variation in the state of the rent, the manner in which the tenant has been dealing with the same and the other circumstances in the case have to be considered. (Abdur Rahim and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) PERIA KARUPPAN v. ANNASAMY AIYAR. 10 M. L. T. 185 : (1911) 2 M.W. N. 162 : 12 I.C.1 : 21 M. L. J. 845.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 106—Nature of tenancy.

———S. 106—Nature of tenancy — Lease of house.

The tenancy of a house is presumed to be monthly in the absence of a written and registered lease, and is subject to S. 106 of the Act. The mere payment of an annual rent, does not make it an annual tenancy. (Jwala Prasad and Ross, JJ.) SUNKER RAM v. TULSHI BHAGAT. 61 I. C. 976 : 2 Pat. L. T. 178.

———S. 106—Nature of tenancy—No period specified—Whether from year to year.

Where no term is mentioned in a lease it must be regarded as a lease from year to year terminable upon notice by either side according to law. (Roe and Jwala Prasad, JJ.) KAILASPATI CHAUDHURY v. MUNESHWAR CHAUDHURY. 3 Pat. L. J. 576 : 43 I. C. 965 : 4 Pat. L. W. 109.

———S. 106—Nature of tenancy — Presumption.

The presumption under S. 106 does not arise if there is a contract to the contrary. (Robinson, J.) PAZUNDAUNG BAZAAR CO., LTD. v. GWAN CHWAN. 9 Bur. L. T. 80 : 32 I. C. 692 : 8 L. B. R. 351.

Notice to quit.

———S. 106—Notice to quit—Service of—Joint tenants—Notice sent by post—Presumption.

In the case of joint tenants service of a notice to quit upon one is prima facie evidence that it has reached the others 5 Esp. 196; 7 East 551, 6 Ir. C. L. P. 367. A notice proved to have been properly directed and posted is to be presumed to have reached the person to whom it is directed in the ordinary course of postal business until the contrary is proved. That presumption would apply with greater force to registered letters. The fact that the receipt for a registered letter is signed on behalf of the addressee by a person who is not proved to have been authorised in this respect, is no evidence that the letter did not reach the addressee. L.R. 5 H.L 561; (1870) W.N. 119 Rel. (Lord Atkinson.) HARIHAR BANERJI v. RAMSASHI ROY. 46 Cal 458 : 45 I. A 222 : 23 C. W. N. 77 : 16 A. L J. 969 : 29 C. L. J. 117 : 9 L. W. 148 : 25 M. L. T. 159 : 21 Bom L. R. 522 : (1919) M. W. N. 471 : 48 I. C. 277 : 1 U. P. L. R. (P. C.) 56 : 35 M. L. J. 707 (P. C.).

———S. 106—Notice to quit—Covenant to pay at an enhanced rate if the premises are not vacated by a certain date.

A notice by the landlord to vacate the premises by a certain date and in case of failure to pay rent at an enhanced rate is a valid notice and if there is no proof that the tenant agreed to pay at the increased rate, tenancy would be deemed as determined. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) SHANKAR LAL v. BABU RAM. 43 All. 330 : 19 A. L. J. 92 : 60 I. C. 842 : 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 414.

———S. 106—Notice to quit—Period—Monthly tenancy.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 106—Notice to quit.

In the case of monthly tenancy ending on the fifteenth day of each month a notice served at the end of the month to vacate at the beginning of the next month is not a valid notice, as a notice to be valid should be of a period terminating with the end of the month of tenancy. (Tudball and Sulaiman, JJ.) SEOTI BIBI v. JAGANNATH PRASAD. 18 A. L. J. 854 : 57 I. C. 593 : 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 271.

———S. 106—Notice to quit—Sub-lessee—Surrender of lease.

When a lessee sublet it to another and then surrendered his lease to the lessor, the sub-lessee is not entitled to a notice to quit before ejectment under S. 106 of the Act. (Tudball, J.) SHYAM LAL v. BACHCHU LAL. 20 I. C. 11 : 11 A. L. J. 951.

———S. 106—Notice to quit—Conditional notice.

A notice to a tenant that he must within fifteen days either execute an agreement to pay enhanced rent or must vacate the house is valid (Lyle, J.) JUGLA v. HAR NARAIN SINGH. 19 I. C. 758.

———S. 106—Notice to quit—Delivery--Wrong place and wrong person—Validity of lessee holding over, if enabled to notice to quit.

A notice to quit delivered at a place where the lessee did not reside and to a person who was not the lessee is not a good notice within the meaning of S. 106. A lessee holding over in defiance of his lessor is not entitled to notice to quit (Chamier, J.) GOKUL CHAND v. SHIB CHARAN. 13 I. C. 59 : 9 A. L. J. 574.

———S. 106—Notice to quit—Service of notice—Joint tenants.

Where in a case of joint tenants, there is a tender or delivery of the notice to quit to the heads of their respective families, the service is sufficient notwithstanding that there is no proof of prior tender or delivery to each of them personally. The word "or" in S. 106, T. P. Act, is used in an alternative sense. The expression "if such tender or delivery is not practicable" is used with reference to the contingency, i.e., when service is effected by fixing the notice to a conspicuous part of the property. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) KEDAR NATH SADHUKHAN v. MADHU SUDAN DAS. 37 C L. J. 478 : 1923 Cal. 682.

———S. 106—Notice to quit—Cases not within the Act.

In cases not governed by the T. P. Act there is no fixed period of notice and the question has to be decided according to the rules of justice, equity and good conscience A reasonable notice is enough. (Chatterjee and Newbould, JJ.) SHAMSOONNESSA BIBI v. SATYA SEBAK GHOSAL. 23 C. W. N. 641 : 51 I. C. 415 : 29 C. L. J. 394.

[See also 42 I. C. 375.

———S. 106—Notice to quit—Service of.

A notice to quit served on Bhadon 6th requiring the tenant to quit the land in the following month of Aswin is sufficient. A Civil Court peon who went to serve a notice upon two tenants, one of whom was a pardanashin lady and the other a minor boy, beat a drum, read the notice aloud and affixed a copy of the notice to the wall of the house. There were servants present. Held, that the service of the notice was bad, the affixing of the notice to the wall being of no avail unless tender or delivery was not practicable. (Walmsley, J.) BISESWAR ROY v. PITAMBER NATH. 51 I. C. 44.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 106—Notice to quit.

——— S. 106—Notice to quit—Contract to the contrary—Provision in lease for re-entry.

If a lease itself provides that the landlord may at any moment resume possession of the land on payment of compensation to the lessee for buildings he may have erected thereon, a notice to quit under S. 106 of the T. P. Act need not be given in order to get back Khas possession of the land (Fletcher and Huda, JJ.) MONDIRA NATH CHOUDHURI v. RADHA PROSONNO GON. 47 I. C. 19.

——— S. 106—Notice to quit—Contract as to.

When a lessor has undertaken to determine the lease on breach of the condition against transfer of the tenancy only after giving him notice in accordance with law, the lease does not determine on transfer of the tenancy by the lessee in the absence of a notice under S 106 of the T. P. Act. A covenant in a lease forbidding transfer by the lessee is not the less enforcible, because the lessee has not transferred the whole holding but has resumed to himself a fraction. (Chatterjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) UMESH CHANDRA GHOSE v. KALA CHANDRA GUHA. 34 I. C. 516.

——— S. 106—Notice to quit—Joint landlords.

Notice by some of the owners determining the lease is sufficient if other co-owners have assented by conduct (Sharfuddin and Chapman, JJ.) KARAMAT ALI v. HANUMAN DAS MARWARI. 34 I. C. 56

——— S 106—Notice to quit—Notice ending with Bengali year—Bengali calendar— Local usage.

Where a lease created after the passing of the T. P. Act showed that the tenancy was one from year to year according to the Bengali calendar, a six-months' notice terminating with the Bengali year of the tenancy is in compliance with S. 106 of the T. P. Act. If there is a tenancy from year to year according to the Bengali calendar a month of that year should be calculated according to that calendar 22 C. L. J. 74 ; 22 C. L. J. 75 ; 11 C. W. N. 1124, Dist. (Mookerjee and Roe, JJ.) RAJ BEHARI NATH v. KAILAS CHANDRA DUTT. 30 I. C. 887 : 22 C. L. J. 78.

——— S. 106—Notice to quit—Cases not within the Act—Bengali year.

S. 106 of the T. P. Act is not applicable to a tenancy which commenced prior to the Act. Where the tenancy is regulated by the Bengali year six months' notice according to the Bengali year is enough. (Mittra, J.) GOPINATH CHONGDAR v. ABDUL GAFAR. 30 I. C. 886 : 22 C. L. J. 74.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 106—Notice to quit.

——— S. 106—Notice to quit—Signature—Signed by Am-Mukhtear—Reckoning of time.

A notice is valid if signed by the Am-Mukhtear of the landlord. In reckoning the 15 days' time the day on which the notice is served is excluded and the day on which it expires is included. The notice must expire with the end of the month of the tenancy. (Mookerjee and Walmsley, JJ.) GOBINDACHANDRA SHA v. DWARKA NATH PATTA. 20 C. L. J. 455 : 26 I. C. 962 : 19 C. W. N. 489.

——— S. 106—Notice to quit—Lease before the Act.

S 106 of the T.P. Act does not apply to a lease created before the Act. In the case of such a lease the notice to quit must be a reasonable one. 36 C. 927; 26 C. 761 Foll. (Richardson and Newbould, JJ.) DURGA NATH v. RAJENDRA NATH. 20 I. C. 363 : 17 C. W. N. 1073.

——— S. 106—Notice to quit—Service of—Tender by post-peon—Non-acceptance.

A notice may be delivered at the residence to one of the family of the person intended to be bound by it or to his servants. Where notices were sent by post and the post peon went to the family dwelling-house of the tenants with notices for all the tenants and several of the latter who were present saw the covers but refused to accept them. Held, that the requirements of S. 106 had been fulfilled (Sharfuddin and Coxe, JJ.) MOHIN CHANDRA v. RUP MANJARI DASI. 16 I. C. 213.

——— S. 106—Notice to quit—Joint landlords.

Notice to quit given by some of several joint landlords is bad. The rule is different in the case of trespassers and tenants when khas possession is not sought for. (Casperse and Chatterjee, JJ.) SURENDRA NATH ROY v. KRISHNA SAKHI DASI. 15 C. W. N. 239: 9 I. C. 110 : 13 C. L. J. 228.

——— S. 106—Notice to quit—Contract to the contrary.

Where it was clearly stated that, after the expiry of the time of lease, the lessor, if he wanted the lessee to quit, was to give him a week's notice and if the lessee quitted the premises in accordance with the notice well and good ; otherwise he would be liable to pay rent at the enhanced rate entered in the notice. Held, ten days notice was sufficient and as lessee did not quit he was liable to pay rent for that month at the enhanced rate if it is reasonable. (Scott-Smith, J.) SAHIB DAYAL v. DHANPAT RAI. 1923 Lah. 281 (2).

——— S. 106—Notice to quit—Denial of landlord's title—Attornment and payment of rent by lessee to lessor's assignee.

Payment of rent by a lessee to the lessor's assignee and attornment to him do not amount to the denial of the title of a purchaser of the property at Court sale. Held, after the date of the said assignment, notice to quit prior to and action in ejectment by the said purchaser to the lessee is essential. (Benson and Sankaran Nair, JJ.) MANIYAM PATTAR v. LAKSHMANA NATTAMAKARAN. 15 I. C. 52.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 106—Notice to quit.

——S 106—Notice to quit—Tenancy from year to year.

A tenancy from year to year is terminated by a notice to quit. (Mittra, A. J. C.) MUNUALD v. SHEIKLAL. 57 I. C. 311.

——Ss. 106 and 111—Notice to quit—Contract to the contrary—Lease terminable by default of payment of rent—Notice to quit.

Where the lease is terminable upon the happening of an event as, e.g., a default in the payment of rent, it cannot, in the absence of such event happening, be terminated by the lessee. A notice sent by tenant terminating the lease is therefore of no value in such a case. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) BISHESHWAR v. CHHEDI LAL. 53 I. C. 109.

——S. 106—Notice to quit—Tenancy from year to year—Holding over.

Where a tenant of agricultural lands continues to be in possession after the expiry of his lease with knowledge and consent of his landlord, then there is, by operation of law a new tenancy from year to year in favour of the tenant determinable only by a notice under S. 106 of the T. P. Act. (Das and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) STONEWIGG v. KAMESHWAR NARAYAN SINGH. 1923 Pat. 122 : 1923 P. 340.

——S. 106—Notice to quit—Tenancy by holding over.

A tenant who continues to hold over after the expiration of the term of lease, in defiance of the authority of the lessor, is not entitled to a notice to quit under S. 106 of the T. P. Act. (Jwala Prasad and Foster, JJ.) MOORE v. MAKHAN SINGH. 53 I. C. 180.

——S. 106—Notice to quit—Alternative to pay enhanced rent—Notice invalid—Effect.

Where a landlord gives notice to quit or in the alternative asks for enhanced rent, and the notice is found to be invalid for want of proper period, the tenancy continues and the landlord can neither sue in ejectment, nor ask for enhanced rent. (Jwala Prasad, J.) FARZAND ALI v. MOTILAL CHOUDHRY. 62 I. C. 421 : 2 P. L. T. 282.

——S. 106—Notice to quit—Period—Yearly tenancy.

Where no specified time is fixed for the service of notice to quit, six months' notice should be given according to English Law where the contract is on yearly tenure at yearly rent. (Atkinson and Manuk, JJ.) GANGA SINGH v. CHAIRMAN OF THE DISTRICT BOARD, PATNA. 50 I. C. 8 : 1919 Pat 285.

——S. 106—Notice to quit—Objection of legality of not to be raised on appeal for the first time.

Where there is an allegation in the plaint as to the service of a due and proper notice to quit which is not denied in the written statement and no issue is raised as to the sufficiency of the notice, the deft. must be held to have waived any objection to the adequacy of the notice. The objection cannot be permitted for the first time on appeal. (Robinson, C. J. and Macgregor, J.) THE PUNJAB MOTOR CO. v. SHEIKH JUMAN. 1923 Rang. 13.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 106—Miscellaneous.

Permanent tenancy.

——S. 106—Permanent tenancy—Transferable under.

A permanent tenancy created before the passing of the Act to which if created after its passing its provisions would apply is transferable. (Teunon and Newbould, JJ.) MADHU MATI DEBI v. HARENDRA LAL ROY. 33 I. C. 502.

——S. 106—Permanent tenancy—Partition—Joint lessee for a term—Objection by.

When permanent lessees in joint possession with other lessees sue for partition of their share, the latter, i.e., their joint lessees, cannot object to the partition on the ground that the permanent leases were granted by the lessor in excess of his powers and are therefore liable to be set aside by the lessor's reversioner. (Chatterjee and Richardson, JJ.) SALIMULLAH BAHADUR v. PROVAT CHANDRA. 43 Cal 1118 : 33 I. C. 129 : 24 C. L. J. 26.

——Ss. 106 and 108—Permanent tenancy—Burden of proof—Plea of permanent tenancy—Structures—Compensation—Estoppel.

Where in a suit for eviction a landlord set up a specific tenancy which is not proved but the defts. admitting that they are tenants set up a permanent tenancy, the burden is on the tenants to prove the permanent character of the tenancy. In the absence of such proof, the tenancy must be deemed to be a monthly one and if the necessary notice under S. 108 of the T. P Act, has been given, the plff. must succeed. In the absence of a contract, a tenant is not entitled to compensation to permanent structures erected on the land unless the landlord encouraged the tenant to erect them. (Wallis, C.J. Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) THAVASI AMMAL v. SALAI AMMAL. 22 M. L. T. 530 : (1918) M. W. N. 46 : 7 L. W. 178 : 43 I. C. 643 : 35 M. L. J. 281 :

Miscellaneous.

——S. 106—Waiver of forfeiture.

Acceptance of rent subsequent to forfeiture of a lease by an act done in contravention of the terms thereof will amount to a waiver. (Piggott, J.) CHATTER SINGH v. NAND KISHORE. 26 I. C. 107 : 12 A. L. J. 1139.

——Ss. 106, 111 and 116—Position of tenant after determination of tenancy—Damages if liable for.

The position of a tenant after determination of the tenancy is the same as that of a trespasser and he is bound to pay any rent at a fair rate by way of damages, not at the rate contracted for during the subsistence of the tenancy. (Banerjee, J.) MUNNA LAL v. BUCHU LAL. 22 I. C. 7.

——S. 106—Lease created before T. P. Act—Law applicable to the transfer of.

In a suit for possession by the landlord against the transferee of tenancy created before T. P. Act, and not created for purposes of residence the deft. must prove that the lease was transferable by the law as it then stood. The fact that it was heritable does not make it transferable in absence of express contract to that effect. (Mookerjee, A. C. J. and Fletcher, J.) SULIN MOHAN BANNERJEE v. RAJ KRISHNA GHOSH. 25 C. W. N. 420 : 60 I. C. 826 : 38 C. L. J. 193.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 106—Miscellaneous.

——— S. 106—Lease—Construction—Absence of fraud or common mistake.

In the absence of fraud or common mistakes a lessee is entitled to the possession of a plot of land described in the lease of boundaries. (Jenkins, C. J. and Chatterjee, J.) SOMARUDDI MOLLAH v. PORT CANNING AND LAND IMPROVEMENT CO., LTD. 13 I. C. 481 : 16 C. W. N. 225.

——— Ss. 107 and 105—Lease or license.

Permission to build a market place on the land of defendant for rent without a lease-deed amounts only to a license and not to a lease and hence no suit for possession or injunction can lie against the defendant and the remedy of plaintiff, if any, is a suit for damages for wrongful revocation of license. (Tudball and Walsh, JJ.) BASDEO RAI v. DWARKA RAM. 38 All. 178 : 32 I. C. 346 : 14 A. L. J. 137.

——— S 107—Term of a lease—How computed for purposes of registration.

For purposes of registration the "term" of a lease means the length of time for which the lessee is entitled to undisturbed possession provided he himself fulfils all the stipulated conditions. (Ryves and Piggott, JJ.) MUNSHI LAL v. GOPI BALLABHE. 36 All. 176 : 22 I. C. 933 : 12 A. L. J. 219.

——— S. 107—Lease for more than a year—Unregistered—Oral evidence—Admission of relationship—Estoppel—Compensation.

A's interest in certain saltpans was leased to B. for three years at Rs. 500 a year during A's minority by her guardian and co-sharer, who owned the remaining two-third share. On attaining majority A. leased her share for two years more to B. on a rental of Rs. 1,000 a year. A. sued B, to recover the rent of the last two years at the rate of Rs. 1,000 a year and Rs. 653 as rent due on the previous lease. The rent deed was not registered but B. admittled A's ownership of the saltpans and also his tenancy under her and her co-sharer. Held, that A. could not be allowed to rely on the lease set up by her, as it was unregistered; nor could she be allowed to give oral evidence of that lease. 33 B. 610. As B. admitted A's ownership and that he was her tenant, proof of the relation of landlord and tenant became unnecessary, the admission of B. acting as an estoppel to the production of any evidence contradicting the admission. 5 B. 143 Foll. A. could only recover the money as for use and occupation for the two years of the tenancy and as the amount claimed by her was not shown to be excessive. she was entitled to it. The lease of a saltpan is not illegal merely because the sanction of the Collector of Salt Revenue has not been obtained thereto. Per Batchelor, J.—Receipts for rent granted by a landlord are admissible in evidence, not as proving the terms of the contract of letting but as proving from the conduct of the parties what would be a fair rent for the admitted tenancy. (Chandavarkar and Batchelor, JJ.) RAMCHANDRA v. TAMA. 36 Bom. 500 : 15 I. C 830 : 14 Bom. L. R. 390.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 107.

——— S. 107—Transfer of property—Agreement for—Delivery of possession—Effect of.

Where in pursuance of an agreement to transfer property the intended transferee has taken possession though the requisite legal documents have not been executed and registered, the position is the same as if the documents had been executed, subject to the proviso that specific performance can be obtained between parties to the agreement in the same Court and at the same time as the subsequent legal question falls to be determined. 21 Ch. D 9; (1892) 2 Q B. 255, 31 C. L. J. 75 Rel. (Mookerjee and Cumming, JJ.) GAJENDRA NATH DEY v. MOULVI ASHRAF HOSSAIN. 36 C. L. J. 48 : 27 C. W. N. 159 : 1923 Cal. 130.

——— S. 107—Registration—Yearly tenancy.

After the passing of the Act, there can be no tenancy reserving a yearly rent without a registered instrument. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) SARI SARADAMAYI DEVI v. SAILABALA DASI. 59 I. C. 788.

——— S. 107—Verbal creation of tenancy at will—Evidence leases other than those coming under 1st para. of S. 107 of T. P. Act.

There can be a verbal creation of a tenancy at will, and oral evidence is admissible in proof of leases other than those coming under the first paragraph of S. 107, T. P. Act. S. 107 merely lays down that a lease of the moveable property in the specified lease mentioned in the section can be made only by a registered instrument not that a lease of immoveable property can be made only by a registered instrument. The fact that the rent is reserved at a certain amount a year does not by itself conclusively show that the tenancy is one from year to year, 20 C. L. J 448 ; 20 C. L. J. 455 Foll. (Sanderson, C. J. and Mookerjee, J.) SARAT CHANDRA DUTTA v. DADAB CHANDRA GOSWAMI. 44 Cal. 314 : 21 C. W. N. 206 : 37 I.C. 956 : 27 C. L. J. 198.

——— S. 107—Lease registered—Non-payment of consideration—Effect of.

Where it is found that though a lease deed was executed, there was no payment of consideration no delivery of possession and no delivery of the lease deed itself, the transaction of lease is not complete and no title passes. (D. Chatterjee and Mullick, JJ.) NILMONI BEHARA v. RUKUNA BEWA. 30 I. C. 210.

——— S. 107—Tenancy for one year coupled with covenant to renew.

A tenancy for one year coupled with an agreement to renew it from year to year cannot be created except by a registered instrument. (Mookerjee and Walmsley, JJ.) GOBINDA CHANDRA v. DWARKA NATH. 20 C L. J. 455 : 26 I. C. 962 : 19 C. W. N. 489.

——— Ss. 107 and 116—Oral lease for one year followed by successive leases for one year each.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 107.

Successive leases for one year each to a person already in possession under an oral lease for one year are quite different from leases from year to year, as the former are terminable without notice and are not registrable, while the latter are terminable only by 6 months' notice and are registrable. (Coxe and Chatterjee, JJ.) FAKIRA MATHON v. LIAKUT HUSSAIN.
23 I.C. 318 : 18 C. W. N. 858.

——— S. 107—Verbal lease for one year—Relationship of landlord and tenant.

S. 107 of the Act does not prevent the creation of a verbal lease for one year by the lessor giving possession to, and accepting rent from the lessee for that year. A verbal lease for more than one year is valid for one year if it is accompanied by delivery of possession. (Chatterjee and Walmsley, JJ.) MOHAMMED MOSSA v. JAGNANDA SINGH.
20 I. C. 715.

——— Ss. 107, 110 and 116—Lessee under unregistered lease for 15 years—Payment of rent—Effect of.

The position of a lessee, under an unregistered lease for 15 years, who continued in occupation upon payment of rent, is not higher than that of a lessee for one year who held over at the end of the year. "An agreement to the contrary" within S. 110 is an agreement referring to the terms of the tenancy. It may be expressed or implied. An agreement to hold over from year to year is an agreement to lease from year to year and must be created by a registered instrument. Acceptance of rent for a quarter, does not imply a promise to allow the tenant to stay for the whole year. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) MATILAL v. DARJEELING MUNICIPALITY. 18 I. C. 844 : 17 C. L. J. 167.

——— S. 107—Registration Act, I of 1877, S. 3—Registered Kabuliyat—Lease—Mistake—Apportionment.

A registered Kabuliyat executed by the lessee and accepted by the lessor operates as a lease under S. 107 and the fact of the inclusion of lands not belonging to their lessor would not make it void if there was no fraud or misrepresentation. There could be an apportionment of rent for the remaining lands. 8 I. C. 668 Foll. ; 2 I. C. 994, Dist. (D. Chatterjee and N. Chatterjee, JJ.) RAI MONI DASI v. MATHURA MOHAN.
16 C. W. N. 606 : 15 C. L. J. 665 : 14 I. C. 540 : 39 Cal. 1016.

——— S. 107—Permanent lease prior to the Act.

Before the T. P. Act, for the execution of a permanent lease, the execution of a patta was not necessary and the acceptance of a Kabuliyat was sufficient. (Mookerjee and Coxe, JJ.) AKRAM ALI v. DURGA PRASANNA ROY.
10 I. C. 489 : 14 C L. J. 614.

——— S. 107—Unregistered lease — Cannot be used for proving nature of tenancy.

An unregistered deed of lease compulsorily registrable is not admissible in evidence nor can it be admitted in evidence to prove the nature and character of the possession held by the defendant or that the property to which it relates was let for a term of years. Any attempt to prove the terms of the lease by oral evidence would be excluded. 63 I C. 90 followed. (Broadway and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) LALA MOTI SAGAR v. DHANNA MAL. 29 P. W. R 1922 : 1922 Lah. 329.

——— S. 107—Registration — Lease for an indefinite period.

Only a lease for more than a year or from year to year in express terms is compulsorily registrable. A lease for an indefinite period which could be terminated by either party at the end of any month need not be registered. (Johnstone and Le Rossignol, JJ.) UMAR BAKSH v BALDEO SINGH. 97 P. R. 1915 : 32 I. C. 35 : 193 P. W. R. 1915.

——— S. 107—Unregistered lease, if admissible to prove character of possession.

An unregistered lease for less than a year can be admitted in evidence for proving that the occupation of the leased premises was permissive and not adverse. S. 4 of the T. P. Act would not make S. 107 part of S. 17 of the Registration Act so as to make a lease for less than one year compulsorily registrable if it is to be used as evidence of the permissive character of the lessee's possession. (Wallis, C. J., Ayling and Krishnan, JJ.) RAMA SAHU v. GOWRO RATHO.
29 M. L. T. 10 : 12 L W. 649 : (1920) M. W. N. 711 : 59 I. C. 350 : 44 M. 55 : 39 M. L. J. 639 (F. B.).

——— S. 107—Lease for planting casuarina trees—Registration.

A lease for planting casuarina trees is not one for an agricultural purpose and must be in writing and registered. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) DEVAROYA NAICKEN v. AMMANI AMMAL. 34 I. C. 539 : 3 L. W. 319.

——— S. 107—Applicability—Mulgeni lease—Assertion of rights—Registration.

Where deft. has been asserting mulgeni rights for 40 years as against the mulgar, the proper inference is that he has such rights. The Act is inapplicable to mulguni leases and registration is unnecessary. (Ayling and Tyabji, JJ.) RAGHAVACHARULU v. SECRETARY OF STATE.
28 I. C. 599 : (1915) M. W. N. 271.

——— S. 107—Instrument signed by the lessee alone—Sufficient to show the relation of lessee and lessor—Suit after expiry of lease term.

An instrument in favour of the lessor and signed by the lessee, is sufficient to constitute a relation of lessee and lessor and a registered deed signed by the lessor not necessary. A suit for possession by lessee is maintainable even after the term of lease has expired. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) KANTIPUDI SOMAYYA v. KHATYA BEGAM SAHEBA. 24 I.C. 784 (1) : 1 L.W. 236.

——— S. 107—Lease for life—Registration.

A lease for life can only be by a registered instrument. (Jwala Prasad, J.) WAZIR NONIAN v. RAM PRASAD LAL. 59 I. C 893.

——— S. 107—Court has no power to reduce rate of interest under a lease.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 107.

It is not within the jurisdiction of a Court to reduce the stipulate rate of interest payable on non-payment of rent under a lease governed by the Transfer of Property Act. (Das, J.) SYED SAHID HUSSAIN v BABU JAG MOHAN LAL.
2 Pat. L. T. 276.

——Ss. 107 and 106—Unregistered—Specific performance--Agreement to lease.

Though an agreement to lease for 3 years which ought to be registered is not registered, a suit for specific performance is maintainable. (Robinson, J.) PAZANDAUNG BAZAR CO., LTD. v. GWAN CHAVAN. 9 Bur. L. T. 80 : 32 I. C. 692 : 8 L. B. R. 351.

——S. 107—Lease from month to month—Registration.

Since the passing of the Act VI of 1904, a lease of immoveable property from month to month is invalid unless it is registered. (Twomey, J.) T. E. O'LEARY v. MAUNG ON GAING. 11 I.C. 863: 4 Bur. L. T. 197.

——S. 107—Oral lease of house—Possession not delivered.

An oral lease of a house not accompanied by delivery of possession is invalid. (Twomey, J.) KARAM CHAND v. HURDIAL. 11 I. C 849: 4 Bur. L. T. 181.

——S. 108.

Accession.
Applicability.
Covenant for quiet enjoyment.
Disclosure of defect.
Duty to give possession to lease.
Duty to surrender possession to lessor.
Payment of rent.
Property rendered unfit.
Removal of superstructure.
Removal of trees.
Repairs.
Transfer of interest.
Waste.
Miscellaneous.

Accession.

——S. 108 (d)—Accession—Encroachment by lessee—Enures for lessor.

The benefit of an encroachment by a lessee on a neighbour's land enures for the benefit of the lessor. The principle of S. 108 (d) of the T. P. Act is applicable to cases not coming within the Act. (Hartnoll and Ormond, JJ.) SIT YIN v. THA SHIN. 29 I. C. 872: 8 L. B. R. 71.

Applicability.

——S. 108 (j)—Applicability—Tenancy created before the passing of that Act.

S. 108 (j) does not apply to a tenancy created before the passing of that Act. (Holmwood and Sharfuddin, JJ.) UMAKANTA v. KASHIRAM.
23 I. C. 246.

——S. 108 (j)—Applicability—Assignee of lease—Liability.

S. 108 (j) does not touch the case of the assignee of the lesee, 37 C 683, Ref. (Stephen and Richardson, JJ.) RAM DHAN v. SHARUP CHENDRA. 18 I. C. 479: 17 C. W. N. 313.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 108—Covenant for quiet enjoyment.

——S 108 (b)—Applicability—Crown grants.

Though T. P. Act does not apply to Crown grants, the principles laid down in S. 108 (b) may be referred to for construing them regarding the nature of the ordinary covenants by which the lessors and the lessees are bound. (Coutts Trotter and Srinivasa Aiyangar, JJ.) SECY. OF STATE v. PAMMARAYA VENKAYYA 40 Mad. 910: 19 M. L. T. 318: 3 L. W. 443: (1916) 1 M. W. N. 342: 35 I. C, 254: 30 M. L. J. 575.

——S. 108 (c)—Applicability—Agricultural leases.

S. 108, T. P. Act, can be applied to agricultural leases as embodying the principles of justice, equity and good conscience. 25 B 269. Foll. (Wallis, O.C.J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) SRINIVASA AIYENGAR v. RANGASAMI. 25 I. C, 812: 1 L. W. 858. See also 40 I. C. 590. Also (1914) M. W. N. 160 : 26 M. L. J. 160 : 22 I. C. 515 : 15 M. L. T. 160. Also 38 Bom. 716: 16 Bom. L. R. 595 : 28 I. C. 140 : Also 14 N. L. R. 188: 42 I. C 970. Also 33 Mad. 253: 5 I. C. 437 : 7 M. L. T. 231. Also 33 Mad. 499: 7 M. L. T. 119 : 5 I. C. 489: (1910) M. W. N. 221 and 280.

Covenant for quiet enjoyment.

——S. 108 (c)—Covenant for quiet enjoyment—Extent of lessor's liability—Persons claiming under lessor—Meaning of—Interruption by trespasser.

S. 108, cl. (c) of the T. P. Act secures for the lessee the benefit of an unqualified covenant for quiet enjoyment. A qualified covenant for quiet enjoyment protects the lessee against interruption by the lessor, his heirs and assigns, or any other person claiming by or under him. them or any of them, whereas an unqualified covenant protects the lessee against interruption by the lessor, his heirs and assigns or by any other person or persons whomsoever. The covenant, in the unqualified form covers the case of interruption by the superior landlord or other person claiming title paramount, exercising a power of re-entry, or otherwise dispossessing the lessee. But even such a covenant does not include a case of disturbance by persons having no lawful title or right of re-entry; for against them the lessee has his proper remedy and does not require a covenant nor can he on account of being evicted by such person, be relieved of his liability to pay rent. Like the express covenant the implied covenant protects the lessee against all disturbance by the lessor whether lawful or not, save under a right of re-entry, but, as against other persons, it protects the lessee only against lawful disturbance. For the purposes of this rule the expression "person claiming under the lessor" means a person claiming under him the right to do the act complained of, so that if a lessor parts with the property or any adjoining property to a third person, and that person is in a position to rightfully claim under his title from the lessor, that he is authorised to do those acts, the lessor will be responsible. (1906) 1 K. B. 155 Rel. If this interpretation were not adopted, the lessor would be responsible for all interruptions by any person claiming title through him, whether assignee or under-tenant, however wilful or negligent the interruption. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) NOWRANG SINGH v. JANARDAN KISHOR LAL SINGH DEO. 50 C. 68: 36 C. L. J. 28: 27 C. W. N. 71 : 1923 C. 41.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 108—Covenant for quiet enjoyment.

——S. 108—Covenant for quiet enjoyment.

Where the defendants in a suit for rent are estopped from denying the plff.'s right to lease the land to them by reason of the fact that the latter had let them into possession, the latter, in his turn is bound to secure to the defendant quiet enjoyment of the demised property. The relationship of landlord and tenant implies such an undertaking which would include also the protection of the tenant from disturbance by strangers claiming by paramount title. Where such stranger sues the defendant for a declaration of his title to the property, and the plaintiff sues the defendants for rent, the defendants are entitled to refuse to pay rent unless the plff proves his ability to secure quiet enjoyment to the defendants of the demised property. (Sanderson, C. J. and Richardson, J.) RAM CHANDRA CHATTERJE v. PRAMATHA NATH. 63 I. C. 754.

——S. 108 (c)—Covenant for quiet enjoyment—"Interruption", meaning of.

The word "interruption" in S. 108 (c) includes disturbance of possession by a person with a paramount title. The clause protects the lessee from any interruption and when it is caused by the paramount owner, the lessor is bound to remove the interruption or otherwise indemnify the lessees. A widow took possession of her husband's estate and granted a lease to plff. on receipt of salam. The plff. was dispossessed by her husband's brother as the rightful owner. Held, that the widow was liable for damages under cl. (6) of S. 108. (Chatterjee and Walmsley, JJ.) MAKTAR AHMAD v. SUNDAR KOER. 19 I. C. 815: 17 C. W. N. 960

——S. 108 (c)—Covenant for quiet enjoyment—Interruption caused by lessor.

If a lessee is interrupted in his enjoyment by the paramount owner himself, he must either remove the obstruction or indemnify the lessee. Deft., owner of bungas round the Golden Temple at Tern Taran leased one bunga to a Halwai who was obstructed from using it by manager of the Temple. Held, the deft. must indemnify the Halwai. (Scott-Smith, J.) DHARMA NARAIN v. LABH SINGH. 60 I. C. 477.

——S. 103 (c)—Covenant for quiet enjoyment—Disturbance by trespasser.

A covenant for quiet enjoyment as between the lessor and the lessee does not extend to a disturbance by a trespasser. But where the trespasser has trespassed under the instructions of the lessors themselves it will be a breach of the covenant. (Wallis, C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) SRINIVASA AIYANGAR v. RANGASWAMI AIYANGAR. 25 I. C. 812: 1 L. W. 858

——S. 108 (c)—Covenant for quiet enjoyment not conditional on payment of rent.

T. P. Act, S. 108 (c), does not make actual payment of rent a condition for the right to enjoy the holding without interruption. The tenant after paying rent may claim damages for breach of covenant for quiet enjoyment. In cases of constructive eviction, the tenant enjoys immunity from the payment of rent until the landlord again permits him to have quiet enjoyment. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) MEENAKSHI SUNDARA NACHIAR v. CHIDAMBARAM CHETTIAR. 12 M. L. T. 124: 15 I. C. 711: (1912) M. W. N. 813 : 23 M. L. J. 119.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 108—Duty to surrender possession to lessor.

Disclosure of Defect.

——S. 108 (a)—Disclosure of defect—Defect in title.

The words "material defect in the property with reference to its intended use" in clause (a) have reference to the nature and condition of the property demised and a defect in the lessor's title does not fall within the meaning of the words. (Chatterjee and Walmsley, JJ.) MAKTAR AHMED v. SUNDAR KOER. 19 I. C. 815 : 17 C. W. N. 960.

Duty to give possession to lessee.

——S. 108 (1)—Duty to give possession to lessee—Possession by lessee before execution of deed.

When in pursuance of an agreement for a lease the intended lessee takes possession before the execution of the lease deed the position is the same as if the deed had been executed provided specific performance can be obtained between the same parties in the same Court at the same time as the subsequent legal position fails to be determined. (Mookerjee and Teunon, JJ.) BEPIN BEHARI v. TINKOWARI. 13 C. L. J 271 : 9 I. C. 374 : 15 C. W. N. 976.

——S. 108 (b)—Duty to give possession to lessee—Notice to tenants if sufficient.

A lessor is bound to put the lessee in possession of the property leased, notice to tenants would amount to delivery of possession only when the transferor himself is in possession and has possession to give and not when he is himself out of possession. (Scott-Smith, J.) ABDUR KARIM v. UPPER INDIA BANK. 96 P. W. R. 1917 : 110 P. L. R. 1917 : 40 I. C. 684 : 19 P. R. 1918.

——S. 108 (c)—Duty to give possession to lessee—Breach of—Remedy of lessee—Prior lease.

When a prior lessee is in possession and refuses to vacate the premises, a subsequent lessee cannot sue him in ejectment. He ought to sue the lessor and get back his money together with reasonable interest. (Lyle, A. J. C.) IBAD ULLAH KHAN v. RAM CHARAN SAH. 53 I. C. 140 : 6 O. L. J. 378.

——S. 108 (b)—Duty to give possession to lessee.

Delivery of possession by the lessor is a condition necessary for a suit for rent. (Jwala Prasad and Adami, JJ.) UDHAB CHANDRA SINGH v. NARAIN. 58 I.C. 186.

Duty to surrender possession to lessor.

——S. 108—Duty to surrender possession to lessor—Damages for holding over.

The landlord can claim special damages where a tenant holds over, either for breach of contract to yield possession or for possession. English Law considered. (Page, J.) SUNDERMULL v. LADHURAM KALURAM. 50 Cal. 667 : 1924 C. 240.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 108—Duty to surrender possession to lessor.

———S. 108, cl. (q)—Duty to surrender possession to lessor—Lessor's right foreclosed—Mortgagee not bound to surrender possession.

A lessor whose right have been foreclosed, has, on the expiry of the lease, no right to eject or redeem the lessee who has redeemed the mortgagee from the lessor for his own benefit. (Mittra, A. J. C.) GULAM NABI v. KANHAI SINGH. 59 I. C. 511 : 16 N. L R. 180.

Payment of rent.

———S. 108 (j)—Payment of rent—Co-sharer tenants—Liability to pay entire rent—Burden of proof—Agricultural leases if covered.

The principle of S. 108, cl. (j), applies to agricultural leases. The liability of co-sharer tenants in a holding to pay rent to the landlord is joint and several and the burden of proving that the landlord, by his conduct, treated each fractional sharer as liable only for a proportionate share of the rent lies on the party pleading it. The release of one or more joint obligee of his or their liability in one year cannot affect their joint and several liability for the rents of the subsequent years unless there has been a contract to that effect. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Burn, JJ.) PENUMETSA BAPIRAJU v GOPISETTI NARAYANASWAMI NAIDU. 40 I. C. 590.

———S. 108 (l)—Payment of rent—Tenant holding over—Liability of.

A tenant holding over is liable to pay for use and occupation. Tenancy from year to year can be inferred from fact of payment of rent by the tenant and its receipt by landlord, the annual rent being ascertained from the amount paid and received. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Moore, JJ.) GOVINDASWAMY v. RAMASWAMY AIYAR 3 L. W. 408 : 30 M. L. J. 492 34 I. C. 6 : (1916) 2 M. W. N. 79.

———S. 108—Payment of rent—Possession to lessee.

The right of the lessor to claim premium from the lessee does not depend upon the former's delivery of possession to the latter, but the Court should pass a conditional decree, the payment of premium and possession of land depending upon each other. 27 M. 28 ; 21 M. L. J. 236, Foll. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) RAMANATHAN v. VIRRA NAGAPPA. (1911) 1 M. W. N. 325 : 10 I. C. 392 : 9 M. L. T. 510.

———S. 108—Payment of rent—Mortgagee of stock in a shop—Liability to pay rent—Privity of contract.

The mortgagee of the stock in trade of a shop took possession of the stock, received the incomings and paid outgoings of the business carried on by the mortgagors. Held, he cannot be held liable for any rent of the premises since there was no contract between the landlord and the mortgagee regarding payment of rent and since the mortgage being only of goods and not of the lease of the rooms, the mortgagee did not acquire any interest in the rooms. (Fox, C. J.) BANSILAL v. MAHOMED EBRAHIM. 8 Bur. L. T. 163 : 30 I. C. 675 : 8 L. B. R. 164.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 108—Removal of superstructure.

Property rendered unfit.

———Ss. 108 and 106—Property rendered unfit by fire—Notice avoids the lease.

Notice under S. 106 has nothing to do with a notice under S. 108 which does not require any length of time for its operation ; hence where the leasehold property was destroyed by fire and the lessee avoided the lease by notice under S. 108 the lease became void ipso facto on serving of notice. (Fletcher and Teunon, JJ.) DAVUDA COAL CO. v. HURMOOK MARWARI. 31 I. C. 697 : 19 C. W. N. 1019.

———Ss. 108 (e), and 117—Property rendered unfit—Flood—Abatement of rent — Agricultural holding flooded by sea-water.

In the case of agricultural tenancies the tenant is entitled to proportionate abatement of rent where a portion of the land demised is inundated by sea water and consequently becomes unfit for cultivation. 22 C. L. J. 569, Foll. ; 35 Bom 333 ; 23 Bom. 15, Not foll. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Burn, JJ.) SUBRAMANIA PATTAHAN v. KATTAMBATH RAMA. 43 Mad. 132 : 37 M. L. J. 654 : 26 M. L. T. 266 : (1920) M. W. N. 153 : 58 I. C. 397 : 10 L. W. 367.

Removal of superstructure.

———S. 108 (h)—Removal of superstructure—Court's power to grant time.

Where the terms of a tenancy expressly exclude compensation on eviction the Court can, apart from S. 108 (h), on equitable grounds allow a reasonable time for the removal of the buildings constructed by the tenant. (Phillips and Odgers, JJ.) TIRUMALPAD RAJAH v. NOOR MAHOMED 14 L W 308 : 41 M. L J 265 : 66 I. C. 48 : (1921) M. W. N. 677.

———S. 108 (h)—Removal of superstructure—Lease invalid—Fraud.

A lessee is not entitled to any compensation for any improvements made by him when the lease is found to be invalid except in the case of fraud ; but he is entitled to remove any superstructure erected by him (Trotter and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) GOVINDASWAMY v. ETHIRAJAMMAL. 34 I. C. 1 : (1916) 1 M. W. N. 180.

———S. 108 (h)—Removal of superstructure—Compensation—Right of tenant to remove

Per White, C.J. and Miller, J. (Sankaran Nair, J. contra). Under the common law of India, on the determination of a lease, the option is with the lessor either to take the building erected by the tenant on paying compensation or if he is unwilling to do so to allow the tenant to remove them. Apart from estoppel or contract the tenant has no right to demand compensation for buildings erected by him. Nor can he remove the buildings left by him on the premises when he quits them whether these buildings were erected with the landlord's consent or not (White, C. J., Miller and Sankaran Nair, JJ.) ANGAMMAL v. MALIK MAHAMED. 38 Mad. 710 : 14 M. L. T. 418 : (1913) M. W. N. 974 : 21 I. C. 583 : 25 M L. J. 625.

[On appeal from 11 I. C. 745: 21 M. L. J. 891].

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 108 (h)—Removal of superstructure.

——— S. 108 (h)—Removal of superstructure.

Per White, C. J.—Under both the common law of the land and S. 108 (h) of the T. P. Act, which contains the same provisions as the old law, on the point, a lessee is not entitled to remove or claim compensation for a structure raised by him during the time of the lease, unless the lessor is estopped from contesting such right. Per Sankaran Nair, J.—S. 108 (h) of the T. P. Act is only an enabling provision. A tenant had under the law previous to the passing of the Act, a right to remove and claim compensation for an erection during a lease and this rule remains untouched by S. 108 (h) of the T. P. Act, which gives a tenant right to remove or claim compensation for an erection during a lease unless there is local usage or contract to the contrary, which special facts must be proved by the lessor. (White, C. J. and Sankaran Nair, J.) ANGAMMAL v. MALIK MAHOMED SAEED ASLAMIS SAHIB.
10 M. L. T. 193 : 11 I. C. 745 (2) : 21 M. L. J. 891.

Removal of trees.

——— S. 108 (h) and (i)—Removal of trees—Permanent tenancy.

A permanent tenant who has planted trees on his land has the right of cutting down and making use of them. The principle has found legislative sanction in S. 108, cl. (h) of the T. P. Act. (Beaman and Hayward, JJ.) SITABAI v. SAMBHU.
38 Bom. 716 : 28 I. C. 140 : 16 Bom. L. R. 595.

——— S. 108 (h)—Removal of trees—Lessees, whether can cut trees.

Though a mulgeni tenant in South Canara cannot cut trees existing at the date of the grant, a lessee can remove trees planted by him after the commencement of the lease and trees and plants of spontaneous growth, provided he restores the land in status quo ante at the end of his lease. 24 M. 47 (F. B.), Ref. (Spencer and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) KRISHNACHARYA v. AUTHAKKI. 18 M. L. T. 218 : (1915) M. W. N. 726 : 31 I. C. 12 : 29 M. L. J. 314.

——— S. 108 (h) with S. 117—Removal of trees—Rights of tenant—English law.

Though S. 108 (h) of the T. P. Act does not by reason of S. 117 of the same Act apply to an agricultural lease, it lays down a principle which does apply in the absence of any special custom to the contrary. The English law of fixture has no application to this country. It is wrong to hold that apart from special custom the tenant has no right to cut trees planted by him on his holding. (Daniels, A. J. C.) CHATUR v. RUKMANGAD SINGH.
1922 Oudh 249 (1).

——— S. 108 (h)—Removal of trees—Compensation—Mango trees planted by the tenant.

A tenant should be awarded compensation under S. 108 (h) for the trees planted by him during the tenancy with the landlord's knowledge. (Shaw, J.) MI HMAT TOK v. NGA KYWE HLA.
24 I. C 708 : U. B. R. (1914) II, 11.

Repairs.

——— S. 108—Repairs—Duty of lessor to effect—Neglect—Effect.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 108—Transfer of Interest.

None of the clauses of S. 108, T. P. Act, entitles lessee to call upon the lessor to repair the property. In fact unless there is a contract to the contrary the lessor is not necessarily bound to make any repairs whatever. Even if the lessor was under an obligation to effect the repairs and failed to comply with the request of the lessee the lessee is not entitled to terminate the tenancy. Under S. 108 he could remedy the breach himself after giving a reasonable notice to the lessor and to recover the amount expended by him together with interest either by deducing it from the rent or otherwise. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) BIJOI CHANDRA SINGH v. HOWRAH AMTA LIGHT RAILWAY CO., LTD.
38 C. L. J. 177 : 1923 Cal. 524.

Transfer of Interest.

——— S. 108 (j)—Transfer of interest—Occupier of a house in abadi qussaban.

The rights of an occupier of a house in Abadi qussaban in Mohalla Atala are those of a lessee holding under a building lease, and in the absence of evidence to the contrary are transferable. (Chamier and Piggott, JJ.) ABDUL HAQ v. DATTI LAL. 37 All. 144 : 26 I. C. 446 : 13 A. L. J. 168.

——— S. 108 (1)—Transfer of interest—Liability to pay rent.

A lessee who transfers his interest in a portion of the property leased does not thereby escape liability to pay rent to the landlord under the term and covenant contained in the lease. 22 C. 494, ; 22 C. 494, Ref. (Ghose, J.) MANMATHANATH CHUKERBUTTY v. BALAICHANDRA BAG.
1924 Cal. 359.

——— S. 108 (j)—Transfer of interest—Usage against — Noakali Dt.—Lease for erection of houses.

In the District of Noakali and its neighbourhood there is no local usage or custom prohibiting the transfer of an Osat raiyati holding granted for the purpose of erecting houses without the landlord's consent. (Fletcher and Cuming, JJ.) SRIMATI HEMAPROVA MOZUMDAR v. DEBENDRANATH.
51 I. C. 953.

——— S. 108 (j)—Transfer of interest—Liability of original lessee for rent.

Under S. 108, cl. (j) of the Act, the liability of a lessee to pay rent continues even after he has parted with his interest in the lease, and it is no answer to a suit for rent that a transferee from the lease is willing to pay the rent. (Fletcher and Huda, JJ.) AKRUMANI v. MADHAB CHANDRA.
47 I. C. 800.

——— S. 108 (j)—Transfer of interest—Homestead, if transferable.

The interest of a lessee of a homestead is transferable under the Act. But it will not be so transferable if it was not in existence prior to the coming into operation of the Act. (Fletcher and Smither, JJ.) MOHENDRA LAL v. KRISHNA KUMARI DEBI.
46 I. C. 656.

——— S. 108—Transfer of interest—Lessee—Under-lessee—Liability of, to lessor.

There is neither privity of contract nor privity of estate between the head lessor and the under-

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 108—Transfer of interest.

lessee, and hence the under-lessee is not personally liable for the rent reserved by, nor on the covenants contained in, the head lease (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) AKSHOY KUMAR v. AKMAN MOLLA.
20 C. L. J. 551 : 27 I. C. 397 : 19 C. W. N. 1197.

——— S. 108 (j)—Transfer of interest—Lease for general purposes—Heritable and transferable.

A lease for a definite term for general purposes is heritable, and when the conduct of the parties, shows it to be transferable, it must be treated as such. 6 W. R. 48 (P. C.) Ref. to (Jenkins, C J. and Mookerjee, J.) KHITISH CHANDRA ROY v. BHIKAN MAMU PRAMANIK.
25 I. C. 530 : 19 C L. J. 448.

——— S. 108 (j) — Transfer of interest—Sub-lease

In the absence of a covenant to the contrary a tenant has power to sub-let. (Reid, C. J.) ALLAH DITTA v. FARZ BIBI.
33 P. R. 1914 : 35 P W. R. 1914 : 23 I. C. 395 : 106 P. L R. 1914.

——— S. 108—Transfer of interest—Notice to quit—Assignee of reversion.

Where there was an outstanding monthly tenancy at the time of the grant of a lease for 20 years in favour of the plff., the plff. is entitled to give a valid notice to quit to the monthly tenant of the premises and to eject the latter on the expiry of the period prescribed by such notice. The provisions of the T. P. Act are the same as the English Law on the matter. (Spencer and Krishnan, JJ.) MANICKAM v. RATNASWAMI.
(1917) M. W. N. 837 : 6 L W 689 : 43 I. C. 210 : 33 M. L. J. 684.

——— S. 108 (j)—Transfer of interest—Mortgage with possession from lessee—Liability for rent.

A mortgagee with possession from a lessee is not liable to the lessor for rent, there being neither privity of estate nor privity of contract between the parties. Even after the assignment by the lessee he is liable for rent unless the lessor accepts rent from transferee who is liable on and by reason of the transfer even if he has not taken possession. (Wallis, C. J. and Spencer, J.) NOCHULLIYIL EAZHUVAN THITHUS SON v. ERALPOD RAJAH.
40 Mad. 1111 : 21 M. L. T. 401 : 40 I. C. 841 : 32 M. L. J. 442

——— S. 108—Transfer of interest—Sub-lessee—Termination of lease.

When a lease is validly determined, a sub-lessee becomes liable to pay mesne profits to the lessor as he is in illegal occupation (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) SHIVARAMA v. ALAGAPPAH.
2 L W. 946 : 31 I. C. 211 : (1915) M.W. N. 845.

——— S. 108 (j)—Transfer of interest—Assignee of lessee.

The assignee of a tenant is not bound by proceedings taken against the original tenant even in the absence of notice to or knowledge of the landlord of the assignment. (Sankaran Nair and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) KESAVASAMI IYER v. NARAYANA CHETTY.
(1913) M. W. N. 93 : 18 I. C. 632 : 13 M. L. T. 95 : 24 M. L. J. 228.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 108—Waste.

——— S. 108 (j)—Transfer of interest—Sub-lease — Rent — Breach of covenant—Right of lessor against sub-lessee.

Where a lessee grants a sub-lease in contravention of the terms of his lease, the lessor has no cause of action against the sub-lessee either for rent or for damages, but he can recover damages for breach of covenant from the lessee. (Mittra, J.) SITARAM MAHARAJ v. NARAYAN.
56 I. C. 268.
[See also 1 Pat. L. J. 1 : 33 I. C. 408: 3 Pat. L. W. 80.]

——— S. 108 (j)—Transfer of interest—Sub-lease—Covenants.

A person who acquires a leasehold interest is bound to investigate the title of his lessor and is affected with constructive notice of any covenant contained in the documents forming part of the claim of title of his lessor. All under-lessees have constructive notice of the covenants of the head lease when the under-lessor on the face of the under-lease appears himself to be holding under a lease. (Das and Foster, JJ.) THE LODNA COLLIERY CO., LTD. v. BEPIN BEHARI.
55 I. C. 113 : 1 Pat. L. T. 84.

Waste.

——— S. 108 (n) and (o)—Waste—Lease of godown—Damage to neighbouring godown by falling of premises—Liability of tenant.

In a suit for damages against a landlord and tenant for injury done to a neighbouring godown by the crash of its walls. Held, that the landlord was not liable because when the godown was let, it was in a fit and proper condition and he had only contracted to make minor repairs, but the tenant was liable as tenant to make good the damage sustained by the plff. (Beaman, J.) BAI MONGHIBAI v. DOONGERSEY LAKSHMIDAS.
43 I. C. 273 : 19 Bom. L. R. 887.

——— S. 108 (m) and (o)— Waste — Permissive and voluntary—Liability of tenant.

The doctrine of permissive waste states that a tenant is bound to take reasonable care of the property entrusted to him and see that through no neglect of his own it is irreparably damaged. There is no implied warrants to repair in a contract of lease. To prove voluntary waste by the tenant the landlord must show that the tenant has not used the demised premises in a fair, reasonable and tenantable way. (Beaman, J.) DEONGERSEY v. KESHAVJI MEGHJI & CO.
43 I C. 258 : 19 Bom. L. R. 878.

——— S 108 (c) and (m)—Waste—Negligence—Fire in premises—Repair to building—Notice.

"Fire" is covered by the words "irresistible force" in S. 108 (m) of the T. P. Act and a tenant isnot in the position of an insurer of the landlord's premises against fire and he is not liable for loss caused by accidental fire Where the lessee of certain premises stored cotton bales therein and left them in charge of a watchman who left a lighted kerosene oil lamp in close proximity to the bales and the lamp burst causing considerable damage to the cotton and the premises. Held, (1) that the watchman was negligent, (2) that the lessee was liable for the damage caused, and (3) that the action of the lessee in disclaiming all liability and determining the tenancy amounted to waiver of notice. (Wallis, C. J. and Krishnan, J.) GIRDARIDOSS v. PONNU PILLAI. 39 M. L. J. 233 : 12 L. W. 19 : 59 I. C. 252 : 28 M. L. T. 464.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 108—Miscellaneous.

Miscellaneous.

——S. 108—Lease drawn up so as to the collateral security for a mortgage also—Effect.

The appellant was the lessee under a lease granted to him on the 12th September 1912. The lease in question affected a joint family estate that was held by the lessor and his infant son the first respondent. Contemporaneously with the lease two other documents were executed ; one was a sale of a part of the family property and the other a mortgage both in favour of the present appellant. The lease was an unusual document which contrived to secure that the lease should at the same time serve the purpose of a lease and a collateral security for the mortgage-debt for, the terms provided, that out of the rent payable by the lessee under its terms, the interest that was due to him upon his mortgage debt should be deducted, the result being that after all the different payments had been made as the lease provided, the gross amount of Rs. 16,765 rent was reduced to Rs. 3,804 per annum. Held, it must be regarded as it was drawn and so regarding it is impossible successfully to contend that the lease is of such a character that it would justify the manager of a joint family estate binding the joint family property by means of its terms. (Lord Buckmaster) NARAIN DAS v. ABINASH CHANDER. L. R. 3 P. C. 129 : 27 C. W. N. 299 : 31 M. L. T. (P.C.) 217 : 21 A. L. J. 201 : 16 L. W. 780 : (1922) M. W. N. 791 : 37 C. L. J. 457 : 4 U. P. L. R. (P. C.) 111 : 44 M. L. J. 728 : 1922 P. C. 347 (P. C.).

——S. 108—Lease by usufructuary mortgagee how far binding on mortgagor.

On general principle a lease granted by a mortgagee in possession cannot endure beyond the duration of the mortgage and will be binding on the mortgagor only so far. A person so taking a lease from such a mortgagee is presumed to know the limitation on his lessor's rights. (Piggott, J.) THE COLLECTOR OF BASTI v. SARMAN GHARAK. 11 I. C. 817 : 8 A. L. J. 802.

——S. 108 (h)—Lessees from mortgagor declared subsequent incumbrancers and allowed to redeem—Failure to redeem—Estoppel.

Where in a mortgage suit, the tenants of the mortgagor were declared to be subsequent incumbrancers and not tenants under a permanent tenure created prior to the mortgage and were allowed to redeem, but failed to redeem and the property was sold, the tenants were estopped from saying subsequently that their tenancy was prior to the interest of the auction-purchaser. (Fletcher and Chatterjee, JJ.) KANAI LAL JALAM v. RASIK LAL SADHU KHAN. 23 I. C. 762 : 19 C. W. N. 361.

——S. 108 (i)—"Lease of uncertain duration"—Redemption of a kanom mortgage.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 109.

Where in a redemption suit of a kanom mortgage the decree allows the mortgagor to deposit the decree amount within six months from the decree, the kanom mortgagee sought to be redeemed is deemed to hold the mortgaged property under a "lease of uncertain duration" (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) NARAYANAN NAMBUDRIPAD v. KRISHNA PATTER. (1914) M. W. N. 160 : 15 M. L. T. 160 : 22 I. C. 515 : 26 M. L. J. 348.

——S. 108—Lessor and lessee—Rights and liabilities of—Person let into possession after decree.

A lessor cannot exercise any dominion over the demised portion during the pendency of the lease. He is not justified in letting the land to any tenant without the assent of the lessee. The position of the person so let into possession by the lessor will, during the pendency of the lease, be that of a trespasser. (Mullick and Atkinson, JJ.) KADIR BAKSH v. SHEO PRASAD MISSER. 3 Pat. L. W 195 and 277 : 42 I. C. 111 : 2 Pat. L. J. 713.

——Ss. 109 and 111 (g)—Lease—Transfer of reversion—Forfeiture incurred before breach.

A transfer of the reversion of a lease carries with it the right to enforce forfeiture of the lease for breach of a condition even where the breach has occurred prior to the transfer. (Beaman and Heaton, JJ.) VIGHNESHWAR v. MAHABLESHWAR. 43 Bom 28 : 47 I. C. 198 : 20 Bom. L. R. 767.

——S. 109—Transfer of lease-hold interest—Absence of notice to lessee—Suit for rent—Dismissal not proper.

Where the lower Court dismissed a suit for rent on the ground that the defendant was not a tenant of the plaintiff for the reason that the transfer of the property by defendant's lessor to the plaintiff was not notified to the defendant held, that S. 109 of the T. P. Act provided no penalty for want of notice except the loss of rent paid by the lessee to the original lessor and that the dismissal of the suit in toto was improper, (Le Rossignol, J.) BHOLA NATH v. SUPPER. 1922 Lah. 318 (1).

——S. 109—Assignee of reversion from lessor—Notice to quit.

The words "transferee of any interest" in S. 109 include lessee. The English rule that the person entitled to the immediate reversion of the demised premises is the proper person to give notice to quit applies to India. 33 M. L. J 684, Foll. (Martineau, J.) PARBHU RAM v. TEK CHAND. 53 I. C. 865.

——S. 109—Assignee of reversion in portion of demised property—Right to eject lessee for due cause from that part.

A lessor is not entitled to eject the lessee from a part only of the holding, but an assignee of the reversion in part of the demised premises is entitled to eject the lessee for due cause from such part on payment of the value of the improvements on that part. This rule applies to tenancies in Malabar also. (Wallis, C. J., Oldfield, Sadasiva Aiyar, Coutts Trotter and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) PUTHIAPURAYIL KANNYAN BADUVAN v. CHENNYANTEKATH. 42 Mad. 603 : (1919) M. W. N. 401 : 10 L. W. 95 : 51 I.C. 286 : 37 M. L. J. 47. (F. B.).

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 109.

——S. 109 — Lessee claiming under foreclosure decree-purchaser.

A lease was granted after a mortgage. The lessee purchased rights under a foreclosure decree The lessor instituted the present suit after the expiry of the lease.

Held, when the lease as terminated it is open to the man in possession to dispute the lessor's title to the land on the ground that ownership of it had passed either by a transfer or operation of law, to another. (Prideaux, A. J. C.) DAULAT v. SARDAR SINGH. 1923 Nag. 91 (2).

——S. 109—Tenancy—Transferability—Presumption—Long continued possession.

When a landlord sues a person as a trespasser and that person sets up a transfer from a tenant, the latter must prove the tenancy and, also the validity of the transfer. With regard to the tenancy of the homestead land created before T. P. Act, the tendency of recent decisions has been to establish that these tenancies are in general non-transferable 12 W. R 495, Ref. The only exception to the above rule is when there has been an erection of a pucca building or an acquiescence on the part of the landlord while the tenant spends a large sum upon the land, 32 Cal 1023 : 25 Cal. 896 Rel. Mere long continued possession does not raise a presumption of transferability (Mullick and Kingsford, JJ.) AMBICA PRASAD SINGH v. BALDEO LAL. 1 Pat. L. J. 253 : 20 C. W. N. 1113 : 36 I. C. 126 : 2 Pat. L. W. 417.

——S. 109—Assignment of liability under contract—Other party.

The benefit of a contract can be assigned by one party without the consent of the other but the liability cannot be so assigned. (Parlett, J.) DEIKMANN BROTHERS & CO. v. SULAIMAN HAJEE BROTHERS & CO. 7 L. B. R. 95 : 22 I. C 940 : 7 Bur. L. T. 51.

——S. 110—Time of commencement.

Unless otherwise stipulated. a lease takes effect from the execution of the instrument under S. 110 of the Act. (Mookerjee and Roe, JJ.) KAILAS CHANDRA BHANMICK v. BEJOYCANT LAHIRI. 50 I. C. 177 : 22 C. W. N. 190.

——S. 111.

Forfeiture.
Merger.
Notice to quit.
Surrender.
Miscellaneous.

Forfeiture.

Breach of Condition.
Co-lessor.
Denial of title.
Non-payment of rent.
Overt Act.
Miscellaneous.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S 111—Forfeiture—Breach of condition.

Forfeiture—Breach of Condition.

——S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Breach of condition—Ejectment suit—Overt act necessary.

A lease subject to S. 111 (g) is not determined immediately on the breach of covenant : the breach must be followed by some overt act on the part of the lessor. Mere institution of ejectment suit by the lessor, is not such an overt act as the forfeiture must be complete and lease determined before the action is brought. (Mookerjee, A. C J. and Fletcher, J.) MOTILAL PAL CHOWDHARY v. CHANDRA KUMAR SEN. 60 I. C. 312 : 24 C. W. N. 1064.

——S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Breach of condition—Permanent lease.

A lease in perpetuity is liable to be forfeited for breach of a covenant notwithstanding that it is permanent. Mookerjee, J.—A covenant for ferfeiture of a lease upon an involuntary sale is valid both under the English and Indian Law though S. 12 of the T. P. Act expressly mentions the case of forfeiture for bankruptcy and does not specifically refer to cases of forfeiture for involuntary sales. A covenant for forfeiture of a lease by voluntary alienation does not include by implication a covenant for forfeiture for involuntary alienation, though in one sense the latter may be attributed to a remote act of the party. (Sanderson, C. J. and Mookerjee, J.) DWARKA NATH ROY v. MATHURA NATH ROY. 24 C. L. J. 40 : 34 I. C. 833 : 21 C. W. N. 117.

——S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Breach of condition.

Where in a lease there was a condition that the lessee should dwell on the land but there was no provision that on breach thereof the lessor might re-enter or that the lease shall become void. Held, that on the lessee ceasing to dwell on the land after he had entered into possession, no forfeiture could take place and that the lessee could not be ejected. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) NABAKUMAR DATTA v. TRILOKYA NATH BOSE. 24 I. C. 354.

——S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Breach of condition.

Unless the lease expressly provides to the contrary, a breach of a condition of a lease does not effect its forfeiture. (Reid, C. J.) ALLAH DITTA v. FARAZ BIBI. 35 P.W.R. 1914: 106 P. L. R. 1914 : 23 I. C. 395 : 33 P. R. 1914.

——S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Breach of condition—Covenant against alienation—Re-entry.

Per Seshagiri Aiyar, J.—A provision in a mining lease restraining the lessee from assigning and empowering the lessor to re-enter in the event of assignment is not enforceable where the lessee mortgages his rights, unless the whole of his interest is transferred by mortgage. (Wallis, C.J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) ANSUR SUBHA NAIDU v. SECRETARY OF STATE. 41 I. C. 770 : (1917) M. W. N. 794.

——S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Breach of condition—Covenant against alienation.

Where a lessee under a lease containing a provision against alienation and a clause for re-entry, created a usufructuary mortgage on it but remained himself in possession, the lease is not forfeited (Spencer and Tyabji, JJ.) MOIDEEN v. GOPALA KUDWA. 31 I. C. 454.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 111—Forfeiture—Breach of Condition.

——— S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Breach of condition—Agricultural lease.

In the case of an agricultural lease not governed by the T. P. Act, where there has been a breach of condition involving forfeiture, the cause of action to the landlord to determine the tenancy arises immediately on the breach and no overt act on the landlord's part is necessary to determine the tenancy. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Tyabji, JJ.) VIDYAPURNA THIRTHA SWAMIAR v. RANGA SIPAYYA, 14 M. L. T. 344 : 25 M.L.J. 486 : 21 I. C. 405 : (1913) M. W. N. 901.

——— S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Breach of condition—Lease for building purposes—Presumption.

Where there is an instrument defining the terms of the tenancy other circumstances need not be considered in determining the nature of the tenancy. There is no presumption of a permanent tenancy where land is let for building purposes and the tenant is not entitled to the value of the buildings on ejectment. The clause containing permissible conditions should not be entirely disregarded but should be given effect to as far as possible. (White, C. J., Sankaran Nair and Tyabji, JJ.) SIVATHA MUTHU ASARI v. REV, J. H. MASQUITA. (1913) M. W. N. 480 : 13 M. L. T. 513. 19 I. C. 824 : 24 M. L. J. 642.

[Affirming on appeal 13 M L. T. 506 : 19 I. C. 721 : (1914) M. W. N. 67.

——— S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Breach of condition—Penal clause, relief against.

A stipulation in a patta that the tenant should relinquish the right of cultivation, if he cultivated dry lands with wet crops without the landlord's consent, is penal and cannot be enforced since there is no consideration. (Sankaran Nair and Ayling, JJ.) MALLAKARJUNA PRASADA NAIDU v. VEMULA PALLI SUBBAYA. 36 Mad. 4 : 9 M L. T. 443 : 10 I. C. 68 : (1911) 1 M.W.N. 315.

Forfeiture—Co-lessor.

——— S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Co-lessor.

A co-lessor cannot determine the lease. (Piggott, J.) PRAYAG SONAR v. MOTAR SINGH, 24 I C, 624.

——— Ss. 111 and 112—Forfeiture—Co-lessor—Waiver by.

Where a lease-deed recited " If I fail to conduct accordingly, I shall at once give up the said land " Held, that it was not confined to a covenant to pay rent but extended to all other covenants Alienation was held not to include usufructuary mortgage without possession under the lease-deed in this case. Acceptance of rent by any one of the lessors might operate as a waiver of forfeiture for breach, committed during the period, when he had the landlord's interest in the land. The law leans against forfeiture. (Spencer and Tyabji, JJ.) MOIDEEN SAIBA v. GOPALA KUDWA. 31 I. C. 454.

——— S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Co-lessor—Enforcement of clause by.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 111—Forfeiture—Denial of title.

Where two joint lessors have, subsequent to the lease, become divided, one of them may enforce the forfeiture clause in the lease notwithstanding that the other has waived his right to enforce the same. 29 Mad. 29, Foll; 35 Cal. 807, Diss. from. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Tyabji, JJ.) KORAPALA v. NARAYAN. 38 Mad. 445 : (1913) M.W.N. 655 : 20 I. C. 930 : 25 M. L. J.315.

——— S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Co-lessor—Determination of tenancy.

To maintain a suit for ejectment of a tenant, by a co-sharer landlord to the extent of his share proof is necessary of the determination by all the landlords of the tenancy by an overt act. (Chatterjee, J.) ATUL CHANDRA MAJUMDAR v. BEJOYA DHUPI. 11 I. C. 695.

Forfeiture—Denial of title.

——— S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Denial of title.

A denial of title to work a forfeiture must be before suit and by matter of record. The principle of the section is applicable to cases not governed by the T. P. Act. (Lord Phillimore.) MAHARAJA OF JEYPORE v RUKHIMI PATTA-MAHADEVI. 42 Mad. 589 : 36 M. L. J. 543 : 7 A. L. J. 552 : 29 C. L. J. 528. 21 Bom. L. R. 655 : (1919) M. W. N. 271 : 23 C. W. N. 889 : 26 M. L. T. 16 : 10 L. W. 381 : 50 I. C. 631 (P. C.)

[Affirming with a slight variation 2 L W. 483 : 29 I. C. 365 : (1915) M. W. N. 346.]

——— S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Denial of title—License.

A licensee in possession unlike a tenant, by denying the title of the grantor of the license, does not lose the license nor becomes liable to immediate ejectment. (1901) A. W. N. 157, Foll. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) AKBAR ALI KHAN v. SHAH MUHAMMUD. 39 All. 621 : 40 I. C. 443 : 15 A. L. J. 592.

——— S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Denial of title—Filing of suit—Non-payment of rent.

In order to work a forfeiture the denial of landlord's title must be unequivocal and unambiguous, and the mere non-payment of rent or the mere mortgaging by the tenant in more or less ambiguous terms is not sufficient work for forfeiture of his interest.

The mere filing of a suit against a tenant does not amount to an act showing the intention of the landlord to determine the lease within S. 111 (g). (Richards and Banerjee, JJ.) PRAGNARAIN v. KADAR BAKSH. 35 All. 145 : 11 A L. J. 115 : 18 I. C. 728.

[See also 13 N. L. R. 11 : 39 I. C. 15 : Also 6 I. C. 927 : 6 N. L. R. 83.]

——— S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Denial of title—Change in nature of tenancy.

An assertion by an annual tenant that he is a permanent tenant is not a denial of the landlord's title Such a tenant is therefore entitled to notice before he can be evicted. (Heaton, J.) GOL DAJI HATHI v. DOD LAXMAN KURSAN. 58 I. C. 226 : 22 Bom. L. R. 648.

——— S. 111—Forfeiture—Denial of title—Assertion of denial in plaint.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 111—Forfeiture—Denial of title.

Where a landlord sues for ejectment of a tenant the mere institution of the suit and the assertion in the plaint as to the repudiation of the landlords's title constitutes a sufficient manifestation, of the landlord's intention to determine the lease for the purposes of clause (g) of S. 111. (Scott, C.J and Batchelor, J.) ISABALI v. MAHADU.
42 Bom. 195 : 43 I. C. 851 : 20 Bom. L. R. 29.

——— S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Denial of title—Permanent lease.

A permanent tenure is liable to forfeiture on the ground of disclaimer of the landlord's title to constitute a disclaimer it must be the renunciation by a party of his character as tenant by setting up a title in a third person or by claiming title in himself. (Chatterjee and Smither, JJ.) ANANDA CHARAN DATTA v. MOHINCHANDRA GUHA. 42 I. C 673 : 26 C. L. J. 261

——— S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Denial of title—Plea of—Jus tertii.

Where a tenant does not deny the whole title of his landlord but sets up a right of a third party as co-sharer, there can be no forfeiture. 9 C.W.N 928. Foll. (Chapman and Mullick, JJ.) NEAMATULLA v. BAIJIULLAH. 26 I. C. 619.

——— S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Denial of title—Payment of rent to third person.

Payment of rent by a tenant to a third person would not amount to a denial of the landlord's title or to adverse possession against him unless it can show that such possession was in denial of the title of the real owner to his knowledge. (Chatterjee and Teunon, JJ.) SHYMA CHARAN PAHARY v. RAM PROSAD DAS. 22 I. C. 796.

——— S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Denial of title to be made to his knowledge prior to suit.

To work a forfeiture, the denial of the landlord's title must be made to the knowledge of the landlord prior to suit and it must be unequivocal and clear. 41 M. 629, Foll. (Napier and Odgers, JJ.) SREEDHARAM VALIA RAJAH v. NARAYANA NAMBUDRIPAD. (1921) M. W. N. 639 : 71 I. C. 270 : 41 M. L. J. 525.

——— S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Denial of title—Perpetual lease.

To forfeit a tenancy a denial of the landlord's title by a tenant must be clear and unequivocal and must be brought to the knowledge of the landlord. If a tenant impeaches a title of the landlord on the ground that the property has vested in him (tenant) by adverse possession it amounts to denial of title. The acceptance by the tenant of a deed which described him as the absolute owner of the property does not operate as denial of title. A perpetual lease becomes forfeited on the denial of title. (Oldfield and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) KOLENGERETH RAMAN NAIR v. MARIYAMMA. 43 Mad. 480 : (1920) M.W. N 332 : 56 I. C. 13 : 11 L. W. 513.

——— S. 111—Forfeiture—Denial of title—Permanent tenancy—Bona fides—Notice if necessary before ejecting.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 111—Forfeiture—Denial of title.

Even a permanent and beritable tenancy, can be forfeited by a denial of the landlord's title. A denial of the derivative title of a person who has acquired the landlord's title works a forfeiture as much as the denial of the original landlord's title. If a tenant honestly doubtful and not intending to identify himself with a third party who sets up a title in himself against the real landlord, merely puts his alleged derivative landlord to the proof of the latter's title before the tenant could recognize him as such, such conduct may not constitute such a disclaimer of the title of the landlord as would work a forfeiture. (Sadasiva Aiyer and Spencer, JJ.) VENKATACHARIAR v. RANGASAMI.
25 M. L. T. 223 : 9 L. W. 282 : (1919) M. W. N. 336 : 51 I. C. 709: 36 M. L. J. 532.

——— S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Denial of title—Applicability to agricultural lease.

The principle of S. 111 (g), T. P. Act applies to agricultural leases. A denial of the landlord's title will work forfeiture of the lease even though it be for a long term or the life of the lessee or a permanent lease. A mere assertion of title not communicated to the landlord is not enough to work a forfeiture. In order to relieve against forfeiture the tenant must prove that the disclaimer was due to fraud, mistake or accident of the landlord and that he was not careless or negligent. In other cases there is no power to relieve against forfeiture for denial of title. A mere recital in a deed of assignment by the tenant of his own lands that the lease lands were also his own, does not amount to a disclaimer in the absence of its having been addressed to the landlord or followed by a transfer. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) KOMULUKUTTI v. PULIKALAKATH MUHAMMAD.
41 Mad. 629 : 1918 M. W. N. 200 : 23 M. L. T 178 : 7 L. W. 291 : 45 I. C. 743 : 34 M. L. J. 170.

——— S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Denial of title—Repudiation—Disclaimer of title of landlord.

Direct repudiation of relationship or distinct claim to hold possession of a land wholly at variance with that relation, is a disclaimer of landlord's title. (Ayling and Tyabji, JJ.) KILATH CHOZHAN v. KERTHWA.
31 I. C. 220 : (1916) 1 M. W. N. 11.

——— S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Denial of title.

A person having substantial rights in a land does not deny the landlord's title of an attenuated character if he asserts a title as owner. 25 I. C. 944 Foll. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Phillips, JJ.) KOLAGORATH RAMAN NAYAR v. KAMOTH
(1915) M. W. N. 793 : 31 I. C. 184 : 2 L. W. 941.

——— S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Denial of title.

A lessee describing his holding as independent and permanent at fixed rent incurs no forfeiture. (Sankaran Nair and Oldfield, JJ.) MAHARAJA OF JEYPORE v. RUKMINI PATTAMHADEVI.
(1915) M. W. N. 346 : 29 I. C. 365 : 2 L. W. 483.

[Affirmed with slight variation by 50 I. C, 631 : 42 Mad. 589 (P.C.)]

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 111—Forfeiture—Denial of title.

——S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Denial of landlord's title—Setting up jus tertii.

A right of forfeiture should not be extended in this country beyond what the landlord has become entitled to by long established precedents. 17 Cal. 196 ; 20 Cal. 101 ; 2 C. L. J. 389, Foll. A setting up of jus tertii in a suit in which the landlord is not a party, and a disputing by the tenant of the extent of the landlord's interest are not such denials of title as to entail forfeiture. 20 M. L. J. 315 ; 2 C. L. J. 389, Foll. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) ABBAKKA SHETHI v. SESHAMMA. (1914) M. W. N. 915 : 25 I. C. 944 : 16 M.L.T. 442.

——S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Denial of title in the course of pleading.

It is the settled law that a deft.'s denial of the plff.'s title in the course of the pleading cannot furnish a cause of action. 20 B. 759 Ref. Mere non-payment of rent or even mortgaging the premises as belonging to the tenant does not necessarily constitute a denial of title. A denial to work a forfeiture must be an unequivocal and unambiguous one. 35 A 145, Ref (Mittra, Offg. A.J.C.) BHIVAJI v. TUKARAM. 39 I. C. 15 : 13 N. L. R. 11.

——S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Denial of title—Overt act.

A denial of the landlord's title causes a forfeiture of the tenancy enabling the landlord to eject the tenant as a trespasser. Notice of the determination of tenancy is not necessary in such a case. It is enough if the landlord does something to show his intention to terminate. (Jwala Prasad, J.) MUHAMED ABDUL LATIF v. HABIBUR RAHMAN. 45 I. C. 642.

——S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Denial of title—Permanent lease.

A permanent tenancy governed by the T. P. Act is determined if the tenant denies landlord's title. 24 C. 440, Foll. (Mullick, J.) BIDYA NATH v. KHIKHINDA KOER. 35 I. C. 544 : 1 Pat. L. J. 157.

Forfeiture—Non-payment of rent.

——S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Non-payment of rent—Execution proceedings.

The rule that the Courts of Equity will not forego their power to grant relief against forfeiture in the case of non-payment of rent, where the relations are those of tenant and landlord applies to a suit to enforce a decree embodying the agreement and to a proceeding in execution. (Scott, C J. and Batchelor, J.) BALAMBHAT RANJI BHAT v. VINAYAK GANAPAT RAO. 35 Bom. 239 : 10 I. C. 746 : 13 Bom L. R. 154.

——Ss. 111 (g) and 114—Forfeiture—Non-payment of rents—Covenant for re-entry—Relief against.

Where the landlord had taken a large sum by way of premium under a registered lease for ten years and the rent was payable on the first of every lunar month failing which the lease was to stand cancelled held that it was against equity and good conscience to allow the landlord to cancel the lease after having taken such a large sum as premium simply on account of a few days delay in payment of rent especially as the lessee had not even then taken possession of the premises. (Broadway and Abdul Qadir, JJ.) KALIAN v. JAWAHAR SINGH. 5 Lah. L J 99 : 1924 Lah. 49.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 111—Forfeiture—Overt Act.

——S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Non-payment of rent.

The Court has discretion to relieve against forfeiture of tenancy even though the days of grace are allowed. 29 M. L. J. 381, Foll. (Napier and Srinivasa Aiyangar, JJ.) NARAYAN v. KASHAPPAYA. 32 I. C. 525.

——S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Non-payment of rent—Money not paid by lessee or by Insolvency Court.

A lease cannot be forfeited in the absence of an express covenant to that effect in the lease-deed, merely because the money is not paid by the lessee or on his insolvency by the Insolvency Court. (Dhobley, A.J.C.) MAHADEO v. JAINARAYAN. 62 I. C. 850 : 4 N. L. J. 61 and 207.

Forfeiture—Overt Act.

——S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Overt act—Breach of condition—Institution of suit.

Under Cl. (g) of S. 111 of the T. P. Act it is necessary for the plff. to establish that the lessor had, prior to the institution of the suit, done some act showing an intention to determine the lease. Where the rights and obligations of the parties are regulated by S. 111 of the T. P. Act, there is no determination of a lease by forfeiture immediately on the breach of a covenant but such breach must be followed by an overt act on the part of the lessor before the institution of the suit for ejectment. The institution of the suit cannot be rightly regarded as the requisite act because the forfeiture must be completed and the lease determined before the commencement of the action. 45 Cal 469, Foll. A suit for ejectment does not lie in respect of a portion of the lands of a tenancy which has been forfeited or a condition whereof has been broken. (Mookerjee, C. J., and Fletcher, J.) MOTILAL PAL CHOWDHURY v. CHANDRA KUMAR SEN. 60 I. C. 312 : 24 C. W. N. 1064.

[See also 14 I. C. 747 : 9 A. L. J. 794.]

——S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Overt act—Ejectment—Cause of action.

There can be no forfeiture on breach of a covenant under S. 111 unless the lessor does some overt act showing his intention to determine. It need not be a formal notice to quit. The institution of a suit for ejectment cannot be regarded as the overt act Case-law discussed (Mookerjee and Walmsley, JJ.) NAURANG SINGH v. JANARDHAN KISHORE LAL SINGH. 45 Cal. 469 : 22 C. W. N. 312 : 41 I. C. 952 : 27 C. L J 277.

——S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Overt act.

Where S. 111 dose not apply it is not necessary for a landlord prior to the institution of a suit for ejectment of the tenant to exhibit his intention to avail himself of the forfeiture, as the forfeiture is complete as soon as the breach occurs. (Sanderson, C. J. and Mookerjee, J.) DWARKA NATH ROY v. MATHURA NATH ROY. 24 C. L. J. 40 : 34 I. C. 833 : 21 C. W. N. 117.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 111—Forfeiture—Overt Act.

——S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Overt act—Necessity for, prior to suit.

Denial of a landlord's title by a tenant to work a forfeiture of the teancy must be in clear and unmistakeable terms and must be before the suit Denial in the written statement in the suit is not sufficient. Where a person has substantial rights in the land, his assertion of a title as owner does not amount to a denial of the landlord's title and does not involve a forfeiture. Though the T. P. Act does not, proprio vigore apply to the Punjab still the principles embodied therein may be applied as being principles of equity, justice and good conscience. 32 M. 589 Rel. (Broadway, J.) CHIRAGH DIN v. MAHOMED USMAN KHAN. 1924 Lah. 281.

——S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Overt act.

In the case of leases not governed by the T. P. Act where there is a forfeiture by a denial of title no separate preliminary act on the part of the landlord is necessary to enable him to maintain a suit in ejectment. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) VENCATACHARIAR v. RANGASWAMY. 25 M. L. T. 223 : 9 L. W. 282 : (1919) M. W. N. 336 : 51 I. C. 709 : 36 M. L. J. 532.

——Ss. 111 (g) and 117—Forfeiture—Overt act—Agricultural lease before the T. P. Act.

A denial of the title of the assignee of the landlord in cases of agricultural leases before the Transfer of Property Act works a forfeiture and no overt act is necessary for determination of the lease. (Abdur Rahim and Oldfield, JJ.) RAMA IYENGAR v. ANGA GURUSWAMY. 8 L. W. 109 : 46 I. C. 62 : 35 M. L. J. 129.

——S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Overt act—When necessary—Cases not governed by the Act.

The necessity for a further act besides the breach of the covenant in the forfeiture clause is a relic of the old English Common Law and is not necessary in the case of leases not governed by the T. P. Act. 34 M. 161; 23 M.L.J. 715 Foll. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Tyabji, JJ.) KORAPALU v. NARAYAN. 38 Mad. 445: (1913) M. W. N. 655 : 20 I. C. 930 : 25 M. L. J. 315.

——S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Overt act—Necessity of.

It is not clear whether the landlord should do some act indicating his intention to avail himself of the forfeiture before instituting a suit. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) YUNGAMMA SHETTITI v. KOKATI SHETTITI. 16 I. C. 803 : (1912) M. W. N. 1135.

Forfeiture—Miscellaneous.

——S. 111—Forfeiture—Notice to quit unnecessary.

S. 111 (g) of the T. P. Act does not make it obligatory upon the lessor to serve a notice to quit upon the lessee who has forfeited his tenancy; even a demand for possession is sufficient. 33 Cal. 339 ; 34 Cal. 57. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) RAMNATH SIL v. SIBA SUNDARI DEBYAI. 40 I. C. 348 : 25 C. L. J. 332.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 111—Merger.

——S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Under lease.

Where a lease is forfeited an under-lease or any other interest created by the lessee is extinguished but not so when the lessee surrenders. (Sanderson, C. J. and Mookerjee, J.) DWARKA NATH ROY v. MATHURA NATH ROY. 24 C. L. J. 40 : 34 I. C. 833 : 21 C. W. N. 117.

——Ss. 111 and 105—Forfeiture—Permanent lease.

S. 111 read with S. 105 applies to permanent leases and the principles of the section govern leases before the passing of the Act. (Abdur Rahim and Oldfield, JJ.) RAMA IYENGAR v. ANGA GURUSWAMY CHETTI. 8 L. W. 109 : 46 I. C. 62 : 35 M. L. J. 129.

——Ss. 111, 112 and 116—Forfeiture—Waiver of.

Parties are not allowed to revive an old lease once determined under the election of the lessor for forfeiture under the terms of a lease So also the election to waive the forfeiture is irrevocable. The lessees are to pay compensation for use and occupation, when they are re-admitted after forfeiture as the old tenancy is not revived. (White, C. J., Benson and Wallis, JJ.) CHENGIAH v. DAMARA KUMARA THIMMA. 15 I. C. 445 : 24 M. L. J. 263.

——Ss. 111 and 114—Forfeiture—Nullity—Distinction between—English law and Indian law.

English law undoubtedly did recognize a distinction between a condition of forfeiture and a clause of nullity, but whether it does still maintain that distinction is open to some doubt. The distinction has not been recognised in the Transfer of Property Act which is supposed to have given effect to the existing law in the country. (Das and Adami, JJ.) HIRANANDAN OJHA v. RAMDHAR SINGH. 4 P. L. T. 292 : 1 P. 363 : 1923 P. 528.

Merger.

——S. 111 (b)—Merger—Proprietary rights—Tenure holder—Merger, when takes place.

Apart from statute a tenure does not necessarily merge in the proprietary rights upon the union of the two interests, 18 C. W.N. 860 ; 29 C. L. J. 427 Ref. Under S. 111, cl. (d) of the T. P. Act, there must be a union of the entire interest of the lessor and the lessee to constitute merger. Where a proprietor purchases the interest of a tenure-holder, there would be no merger unless the two interests are co extensive. (Chatterjee and Newbould, JJ.) MONMOTHA PAUL CHOUDHURY v. MOHENDRA NATH BOSE. 1922 Cal. 284.

——S. 111 (d) and (b)—Merger—Applicability of doctrine—Equity.

Where two leases in favour of the same person for the same land are not conterminous, the lessors of the two leases having different rights and the leases have different lives though some part of their existence might be co-existent, the different interests do not merge either under the T.P. Act or under the general law of merger. The English doctrine of merger does not apply in its entirety to land tenures in India. The intention of the parties must be looked to, in deciding whether there is a merger in equity and if that is not expressed the Court will look to the benefit of the person in whom the interests coalesce. (Chatterjee and Walmsley, JJ.) AMATOO v. SHEIKH MUKSAD ALI. 28 I. C. 314 : 19 C. W. N. 435.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 111—Merger.

——S. 111 (d)—Merger—Applicability of doctrine—Leases created prior to Act.

S. 111 (d) of the Act applies to leases created prior to passing of the Act, when the superior and lease hold interests vest in the same person subsequent to the Act. Obiter.—Prior to T. P. Act, the doctrine of merger did not apply to property in the mofussal. (Teunon, J.) ABDUL KARIM v. AHMAD ALI. 23 I C 612.

——S. 111 (d)—Merger.

On one and the same day A took lease of certain khudkast fields in a proprietary share of which he subsequently took a mortgage. Held, that lease is not permanently affected by the mortgage but that the tenant right remains in abeyance during the mortgage term. On the mortgage being set aside by redemption or otherwise the lease revives. In such case there is no merger. (Drake-Brockman, J. C.) KASHI v. DURGA. 12 I. C. 734 : 7 N. L. R. 154.

——S. 111 (d) and (e)—Merger—When takes place.

The entire interest of the lessee and the entire interest of the lessor must vest in the same person in the same right before it can be said that a lease of immoveable property has been determined by merger. (Coutts and Das, JJ.) LALA NATHUNI PRASAD v. SYED ANWAR KARIM. 53 I. C. 16.

Notice to quit.

——S. 111 (b) and (g)—Notice to quit—Service tenure—Forfeiture of ejectment.

Where a service tenure was created before the passing of the Act, on forfeiture landlord can re-enter without suit. If the tenancy was created after the passing of the Act, the position of the parties is to be determined with reference to either Cl. (b) or Cl. (g) of S. 111 of that Act. A service tenant holds the land on condition that if he refuses to render service the lease shall be put an end to and the lessor be entitled to re-enter ; if the tenant renounces his character as service tenant the lease to him determines and no notice is necessary to eject him. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) RAMNATH SIL v. SIBA SUNDARI DEBYA. 40 I. C. 348 : 25 C. L. J. 332.

——S. 111 (h)—Notice to quit—Landlord—Joint receivers.

A tenancy under joint receivers can be determined by a notice given by them jointly. (Sanderson, C. J., Woodroffe and Mookerjee, JJ.) CASIMA AHAMAD MOOLA v. ESUF HAJI AJAM. 34 I. C. 221 : 23 C. L. J. 453.

——S. 111 (h)—Notice to quit—Lease before Act—Bengali calendar.

In connection with notice to quit tenancy created before T. P. Act, the time of 6 months should be calculated according to Bengali calendar. (Mittra, J.) GOPINATH v. ABDUL GAFFUR. 30 I. C. 886 : 22 C. L. J. 74.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 111—Notice to quit.

——S. 111 (h)—Notice to quit—Time for removing buildings.

Where a lease was not determined by a notice to quit, a tenant, who took his right under the decree, was given by the High Court 3 months' time to remove the buildings erected by him thereon. (Fletcher and Chatterjee, JJ.) KANAILAL JALAN v. RASIK LAL SADHU KHAN. 23 I. C. 762 : 19 C. W. N. 361.

——Ss. 111 and 106—Notice to quit—Intention to determine—Inadequate notice.

A notice by the landlord unequivocally expressing his intention to determine the lease on the ground of forfeiture determines the tenancy under S. 111 though it may not be an adequate notice under S. 106. (Phillips and Odgers, JJ.) TIRUMALPAD RAJAH v. NOOR MAHOMED. 14 L. W. 308 : (1921) M. W. N. 677 : 66 I. C. 48 : 41 M. L. J. 265.

——S. 111, Cl. (h)—Notice to quit—Lawyer's notice.

"Some act showing" lessors "intention to determine the lease" does not include only an attempt at re-entry or the filing of a suit for ejectment under S. 111, Cl. (g), but the lessor's lawyer's notice unequivocally terminating the lease is sufficient. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) SIVARAM v. ALAGAPPA. 2 L. W. 946: 31 I. C. 211 : (1915) M. W. N. 845.

——S. 111 (h)—Notice to quit—Landlord and tenant—Purakudi service lands—Determination of tenancy.

The section has no application to lands held on Purakudi service. It is the refusal or neglect to perform such service that determines the tenancy and the tenants render themselves liable to be evicted without any notice. A fifteen days' notice given after the harvest is completed, is not an improper notice and cannot be objected to on the ground that it was given in the middle of the harvest season. (Ayling and Tyabji, JJ.) RAMASWAMI KATHAN v. AMBALAGARAM. 28 I. C. 915.

——S. 111 (h)—Notice to quit.

A denial of the landlord's title in a previous suit disentitles the occupant from a notice to quit. (Tyabji and Spencer, JJ.) ABDUL VENKATASWAMY v. NALLURI KRISHTNAMMA. 24 I. C. 803.

——S. 111 (h)—Notice to quit—Conditions of a valid notice.

Where a lease is for a fixed term and the tenancy is terminable on notice thereafter, the notice cannot be given until after the expiry of the fixed term. 2 Camp. 573. Dist. (Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) RAMASWAMI NAIDU v. VENKATARAMANJULU NAIDU (1914) M. W. N. 368 : 23 I C. 572 : 26 M. L. J. 467.

——S. 111 (h)—Notice to quit.

The mere fact that a low rent is paid by accident does not deprive the landholder of his right to eject by notice. (Baillie, J.) RAM ADHIN v. BHAGWATI PRASAD SINGH. 33 I. C. 141 : 2 O. L. J. 707.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 111—Surrender.

Surrender.

——Ss. 111 (e) and (f)—Surrender—Writing not necessary.

No writing is necessary in this country for surrendering a tenancy. But if the original lease is registered, the surrender can only be by a registered instrument (Chatterjee and Newbould, JJ.) GOPAL CHANDRA v. HARENDRA NATH. 63 I. C. 483.

——S. 111 (e)—Surrender—Registration.

In execution of a rent decree the tenant surrendered the tenancy to the landlord and the latter agreed to forego the claims for rent due. Held, that the surrender though for consideration was operative. The provisions of the T. P. Act did not require a registered instrument to evidence the surrender. (Walmsley and Huda, JJ.) ABDUL MAJID v. HARI CHARAN HALDAR. 53 I. C. 17.

——S. 111 (e) and (f)—Surrender.

When a lessee surrenders the lease to his landlord, under-leases or other interests created by the lessee are not extinguished as is the case when his lease is forfeited. (Sanderson, C. J. and Mookerjee, J.) DWARKA NATH ROY v. MATHURA NATH ROY. 24 C. L. J. 40 : 34 I. C. 833 : 21 C. W. N. 117.

——S. 111 (f)—Surrender—Abandonment.

Abandonment is not a kind of implied surrender as the latter act must be mutual between the parties. (Newbould, J.) SAKAYAT MOLLAH v. ALAM MOLLAH. 33 I. C. 98.

Miscellaneous.

——S. 111—Ejectment—Owner of undivided share.

An owner of an undivided share in a house cannot alone evict a tenant of the house. (Piggott, J.) PRAYAG SONAR v. MOTAR SINGH. 24 I C. 624.

——S. 111—Forfeiture—Meaning of.

The word forfeiture must mean a complete forfeiture and not merely that a tenant has incurred a liability to have his lease forfeited. A cause of action must be complete at the date of institution of a suit and cannot be completed either by the plaint or by written statement or any other pleading in the suit. (Chamier, J.) QADIR BAKHSH v. PRAG NARAIN. 14 I. C. 747 : 9 A. L. J. 794

——S. 111 (g)—Forfeiture—Waiver of forfeiture—Suit for rent.

A landlord suing his tenant for rent, cannot deny the validity or subsistency of the lease for the period for which he claims rent. He will be deemed to have waived any cause of forfeiture up to that time. (Ayling and Coutts-Trotter, JJ.) RAMAPPA v. ABDULLA BEHARI. 69 I. C. 282 : 41 M. L. J. 127

——Ss. 111 and 116—Lease by co-owner of undivided moiety—Expiry — Whether holding over.

When a purchaser of an undivided moiety of a house, takes the lease of the remaining moiety for a term and then continues occupying the whole house without paying any rent and without an assent on the part of the co-owner lessor such purchaser's possession cannot be regarded as that of a tenant holding over under Ss. 111 and 116, T.P. Act, or of a tenant by sufferance but must be referred to his rights or co-owners. (Ayling and Hanney, JJ.) MADAR SAHIB v. KADAR MOIEDEEN SAHIB. 33 I. C. 705 : 39 Mad. 54.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 112.

——Ss. 111 and 116—Application to Malabar—Malabar Act I of 1900.

The Act does not apply to agricultural leases in Malabar. Kuzhikanam lease is a lease of waste lands for 12 years on condition of making improvements and being paid for them at the time of ejectment. The tenant can retain possession till he is paid for them and till then there can be no adverse possession. (Benson and Bakewell, JJ.) KUMMATHA VITTIL KUNHI KUTHALI HAJI v. ANTONI GOVEAS. (1913) M. W. N. 339 : 13 M. L. T. 350 : 19 I. C. 563 : 24 M. L. J. 472.

——Ss. 111 and 117—Agricultural lease by mortgagee in possession—Determination, effect.

An agricultural lease granted by a mortgagee in possession does not terminate as soon as redemption by the mortgagor takes place. (Evans, J. C. and Lindsay, A. J. C.) GOBRE SINGH v. JWALA PRASAD. 11 I C. 924 : 14 O. C. 204.

——S. 112—Rent accepted under protest.

The acceptance of rent due after forfeiture from the lessee, and this notwithstanding the protest of the lessor that such acceptance is without prejudice to his right to insist upon his forfeiture operates, as a waiver of a notice. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) BENGAL-NAGPUR RY. CO. v. FIRM OF BAL MUKUNDA BISSESWAR LALL. 1923 Cal. 663.

——S. 112—Waiver of forfeiture—Receipt of rent—Lease of fisheries.

Where a condition against transfer in a fishery lease was broken by the lessee, but the lessor continued to receive rents for periods subsequent to the breach of the condition, held that the lessor has waived his right of forfeiture, and that the lessee was entitled to a declaration of his continuing right under the lease. (N. R. Chatterjee and Newbould, JJ.) BASANTA KUMAR CHOWDHURI v. SECRETARY OF STATE. 59 I. C. 273.

——S. 112—Non-payment of rent—Suit for ejectment—Claim for rent subsequent to default—Forfeiture—Waiver.

Where the plff. claims rent for periods subsequent to the default in payment of rent which gave him the cause of action for ejectment, he must be taken to have waived the forfeiture under S. 112 of the T. P Act, and his suit for ejectment must fail. (Chatterjee and Richardson, JJ.) ABDUL RASHID KHAN v. SAFAR ALI. 42 I. C. 614.

——S. 112—Tenant—Waiver of forfeiture—Distress—Acceptance of rent.

The mere description of tenant as his tenant by the landlord in his receipt acknowledging payment of rent accrued due before the date of forfeiture of the tenancy cannot be construed as a waiver of the forfeiture. Acceptance of rent accrued due before forfeiture is not an act of waiver of the forfeiture Quaere.—Whether in India waiver by receipt of rent and waiver by distress are on the same level. (Mookerjee and Roe, JJ) RAJ MOHAN DE v. MATILAL SHAH.

33 I. C. 331 : 22 C. L. J. 546.

——S. 112—Waiver of forfeiture—Acceptance of overdue instalment.

The question whether acceptance of an overdue instalment amounts to waiver of the delay in payment, is to be determined on the circumstances of each case (Carnduff and Richardson, JJ.) PITAMBAR SAHA v. KRISHNA MOHAN DAS.
23 I. C. 391.

——S. 114—Forfeiture of lease—Sub-lessee's position.

A sub-lessee is as much entitled to be relieved against the forfeiture, under S. 114 as the lessee in whose shoes he stands for the purpose of making payment of rent. (Sunder Lal, J.) AHMAD HASSAIN v. RIAZ AHMAD.
25 I. C. 186 : 12 A. L. J. 1085.

——S. 114—Forfeiture for non-payment of rent—Discretion of Court—Provision against transfer of holding—Transfer by co-lessee—Effect on others.

Where non-payment of rent involves a forfeiture of the lease the Court has, at the hearing of the suit, a discretion not to eject the tenant if he pays the arrears of rent with the costs of the suit. Where a lease provided that if the lessees would transfer the building or the land, they would be liable to be ejected, and one of the lessees transferred his share, held that the right of other lessees to continue in possession was unaffected. (Banerjee, J.) KUNDAN LAL v. KALLU.
24 I. C. 79 : 12 A. L. J. 650.

——S 114—Forfeiture—Relief against when Court will give.

In equity the Court will relieve against a forfeiture clause in a lease unless lessee has done something not to deserve any consideration in equity. (Macleod, C.J and Fawcett, J.) KRISHNAJI GOVIND v. SITARAM HANMANT.
45 Bom. 300 : 59 I. C. 769 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1439.

——S. 114—Is not abrogated by Calcutta Rent Act.

The Rent Act does not expressly exclude the operation of S. 114 of the T. P. Act and it cannot abrogate the provisions of the section. (Greaves, J.) AHINDRA v. TWISS. 42 C. 150 : 1922 Cal. 394.

——S. 114—Partition—Restraint of—Void

It is not competent to a testator to restrain partition of a house bequeathed by him and thus create a perpetuity. (Chaudhuri and Newbould, JJ.) KALI CHARAN SHINGHA v. KIRAN BALA DEBI.
51 I. C. 948 : 29 C. L. J. 494.

——Ss. 114, 116 and 117—Forfeiture—Covenant against alienation—Breach—Agricultural lease.

The provisions of Ss. 105 to 116 of the Act may be applied to agricultural leases in the absence of special reasons for not so doing. A Court has no power to relieve against a forfeiture for breach of a covenant against alienation. Such a covenant is not a penalty under S. 74 of the Contract Act. 33 M. 375 Ref. (Wallis, C. J., Napier and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) KRISHNA SHETTI v. GILBERT PINTO. 42 Mad 654 : 9 L. W. 431 : 50 I. C. 898 : 36 M L. J. 367.

——S. 114—Forfeiture—Non-payment of rent—Permanent lease—Days of grace—Relief.

Courts have power to relieve against forfeiture even when there is a period of grace allowed in the lease-deed. Case-law reviewed. Per Napier, J. (Seshagiri Aiyar, J. contra)—It is not permissible to look to the provisions of the T P. Act for guidance in this matter as they are expressly made inapplicable to agricultural leases (Seshagiri Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) APPAYYA CHETTY v. MAHAMMAD BAHARI. 39 Mad. 834 : 29 M L. J. 381 : 30 I. C. 596 : 18 M. L. T. 336 : (1915) M. W. N. 857.

——S. 114—Relief against forfeiture—Non-payment of rent even within the period of grace.

If on account of non-payment of rent within the period of grace, allowed by the landlord, the tenancy is forfeited, such forfeiture will not be relieved against. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) TUNGAMMA SHETTITI v. KORATTIE SHETTITI. 16 I. C. 803 : (1912) M. W. N 1135. (But see Contra : 59 I. C. 769 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1439 and 30 I. C. 596 : 39 Mad. 834.]

——S. 114—Forfeiture—Power to relieve against—Period of grace—Provision in deed—Effect of.

It cannot be laid down broadly that if a lease provided for a period of grace the Court has no power to relieve against forfeiture for default in payment of rent. The law treats the condition of forfeiture as a penalty intended to enforce the payment of rent and liable to be relieved against by the Court. The discretion in granting relief against forfeiture for default in payment of the rent should as a rule be exercised in favour of the lessee, unless sufficient reasons for refusing it are shown. Where however the tenant pleaded discharge which was found against, the Court refused to relieve against forfeiture having regard to the failure of the tenant to pay the arrears during the hearing in the Lower Courts and having regard to the fact that a sufficiently long period of grace given by the lease was allowed to pass without payment. (Kotwal, A, J. C.) AKJUN v. NARAYAN 19 N. L. R. 50 : 1923 Nag. 193.

——S. 114—Condition of forfeiture and clause of nullity—Distinction between—Relief against—English and Indian law.

Under English law the condition of forfeiture is distinct from a clause of nullity. In T. P. Act this distinction is not recognised and this has given effect to the existing law in the country. Still courts have power to relieve against forfeiture. (Das and Adami, JJ.) HARINUNDAN v. RAMDHAR SINGH. 1 P. 363 : 4 P. L J. 292 : 1922 P. 528.

——Ss. 115 and 111 (g) Assignment of lease—Denial of title by original lessee.

A mere repudiation of the lessor's title by the lessee will not work a forfeiture against the assignee of the lessee's interest. (Beaman and Heaton, JJ.) SHIRGAONKER v. PAI.

42 Bom. 734 : 47 I. C. 635 : 20 Bom. L. R. 830.

——— S. 115—Surrender implied—Nature of.

An implied surrender is more analogous to the case of a forfeiture than to the case of a surrender under S.115 of the Act and therefore extinguishes the rights of persons deriving the title through the tenants. (Mittra, A. J. C.) SARJERAO v. TUKARAM.
46 I. C. 244 : 14 N. L. R. 107.

——— S. 116—Holding over—Rights of tenant

A tenant holding over has a right to retain possession of the premises he occupied even against the landlord until ejected in due course of law (Heaton and Hayward, JJ.) GHULAM MAHOMED v. EMPEROR.
43 Bom. 531 : 21 Bom. L. R. 261 : 51 I. C. 193 : 20 Cr. L. J 417.

——— S. 116—Holding over—Notice to quit.

Where a tenant holds over after the expiry of the lease on payment of rent to the landlord, he must be deemed to be a tenant from year to year or from month to month according to the object for which the property was leased having regard to the provisions of S. 106 of the Act. A notice of determination of monthly tenancy must expire with the end of the month and a notice of more than 15 days expiring in the middle of a month is imperative to terminate the tenancy. (Mookerjee and Cholmer, JJ.) BIJOICHANDRA SINAH v. HOWRAH AMTA LIGHT RAILWAY CO., LTD.
38 C. L. J. 177 : 1923 Cal. 524.

——— Ss. 116 and 117—Non-agricultural tenancy created before the Act—Holding over—Effect of.

Where a tenancy for a term of years was created in favour of A before the Act, and after his death his heirs remained in possession and paid rent down to 1914, held that the legal relation between the landlord and the heirs of A must be deemed to have come into operation after the passing of the Act and as the tenancy was not an agricultural one within S. 117 of the Act, Chap. V, was applicable and therefore on the expiry of the term the heirs of A had a yearly tenancy which was capable of transfer and notice was necessary to terminate the tenancy. (Greaves and Newbould, JJ.) MUHOMED AYEJUDDIN MIA v. PRODYOT KUMAR TAGORE.
48 Cal. 359 : 61 I. C. 503 : 25 C. W. N. 13.

——— Ss. 116 and 106—Holding over—Terms of—Implied term, where rent is not payable monthly.

S. 116 of the T. P. Act is self-contained. What one has to see in a case where there has been holding over is whether there has been an agreement about the terms of the holding over. In the absence of such agreement, no matter what the terms were, which governed the original lease, it must be regarded as renewed from year to year or from month to month according to the purpose for which the property is leased. Where the lease is for agricultural or manufacturing purposes it is to be regarded as renewed from year to year, and in the case of a lease for other purposes it is to be regarded as renewed from month to month. It ought not to be supposed from the fact that the rent was not payable monthly that there was an implied agreement for the holding over or that the lease would be anything but a lease from month to month. (Beachcroft, J.) RAM PROSAD PANDEY v. DEBI PROSAD.

49 I. C. 974.

——— S. 116—"Agreement to the contrary," meaning of.

An agreement to the contrary within S. 116 of the Act means an agreement as to the terms of the holding over. (Mookerjee and Walmsley, JJ.) GOBINDA CHANDRA SHAH v. DWARKA NATH PATTA.
20 C. L. J. 455 : 26 I. C. 962 : 19 C. W. N. 489.

——— S. 116—Effect of section—Legal representative"—Intermediate lessee.

The effect of the section is that the acceptance of rent causes a renewal of the lease from year to year or from month to month according to the purpose of the lease, and where the tenancy is for residential purposes the lease must be deemed to have been one from month to month. The words "legal representative" in S. 116 imply a person occupying the same position as the lessor and do not include an intermediate lessee. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) DURGI NIKARINI v. GOBERDHAN BOSE.
20 C. L. J. 448 : 24 I. C 183 : 19 C. W. N. 525.

——— S. 116—Successive leases for one year each—Lessee already in possession under a prior valid lease—Rent suits against raiyats.

Where the successive leases for one year each were given to a lessee who is already in possession under a prior valid lease, in view of the lessee continuing in possession with the lessor's assent, they became lessees from year to year under S. 116 of the Act and a suit against raiyats for rents is maintainable. (Coxe and Chatterjee, JJ.) FAKIRA MAHTAN v. LARKAT HUSSAIN.
23 I. C. 318 : 18 C. W. N. 858.

——— S. 116—Tenancy by sufference.

It is doubtful whether in this Court the fiction of tenancy by sufferance should be kept up after the T. P. Act (Ayling and Hannay, JJ.) MADAR SAHIB v. KADAR MOIDEEN SAHIB.
33 I. C. 705 : 39 Mad. 54.

——— S. 116—Lessee under expired lease—Right to eject a trespasser.

A lessee holding under a time expired lease has a right to eject a mere trespasser, as an expiry of a lease does not determine the right of the lessee to possession. (Abdur Rahim and Spencer, JJ.) BHOGAVALLI VENKAYYA v. KUDAPA SETTYA.
22 I. C. 789 : 37 Mad. 281.

——— S. 116—Holding over—Payment of rent—Effect of.

The effect of holding over upon payment of rent to the landlord is this that defendants come within the provisions of section 116 of T. P. Act. They must be regarded as tenants from year to year. (Das and Bucknill, JJ.) RAM LOCHAN BAID v. KAMAKHYA NARAIN SINGH.
1923 Pat. 54 : 4 P. L. T. 123 : 1923 P. 201.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 116.

——S. 116—Holding over—Dispossession by claiming under landlord—Suit for possession.

A lessee holding over after the expiry of his term without the express or implied consent of the landlord is only a trespasser and in the event of dispossession by a person claiming under the landlord, he cannot maintain a suit for possession or declaration of title on the basis of his previous possession. (Jwala Prasad, A. C. J and Ross, J.) MATHURA PRASAD v. NAJU KHAN.
4 Pat. L. T. 696

——S. 117—Agricultural lease—Oral lease valid.

The letting out of agricultural land need not be by a document only ; it may be by oral agreement or even by conduct of parties. (Suhrawardy and Cuming, JJ.) ALAM MULLA v. SURENDRA KUMAR KARFORMA. 1923 C. 433.

——S. 117—Leases not within Act—Law applicable to—English Law.

The general rights between the lessor and the lessee as laid down in the English Law would govern cases not within the Act unless the B. T. Act contains anything to the contrary. (Newbould, J.) BROJABASHI RUDRA PAL v. SARAT CHANDRA RUDRA PAL. 53 I. C. 545.

——S. 117—Agriculture—Casuarina cultivation.

A lease of lands for growing casuarina trees to be used as fuel is a lease for agricultural purposes within the meaning of S. 117 of the T. P. Act. 8 L. W. 485 : 38 M. 738 not followed. 24 M 421 : 13 C. L. J. 318 Ref. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) PAVADAI PATHAN v. RAMASWAMI CHETTI.
45 Mad. 710 : 31 M. L. T. 76 (H. C) : (1922) M W. N. 384 : 16 L. W. 264 : 43 M. L. J. 191 : 1922 Mad. 351.

——S. 117—Agricultural lease—Provisions of T. P. Act not applicable.

Per Napier, J (Seshagiri Aiyar, J. contra.) It is not permissible to look to the provisions of the T. P. Act for guidance in the matter of agricultural leases as they are expressly exempted from the operation of the Act. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) APPAYA SHETTY v. MAHAMMAD BEARI.
39 M. 834 : 18 M. L. T. 336 : (1915) M. W. N. 857 : 30 I. C. 596 : 29 M. L. J. 381.

——S. 117—Lease for reclamation—Agricultural lease.

The lease of a village or of a share therein for bringing it under cultivation is an agricultural lease and Ch. V of the Transfer of Property Act does not apply to it. (Batten, Offg. J. C.) BANMALI v. NIHAL SINGH. 48 I. C. 354.

——Ss. 117 and 106—Agricultural lease—S. 106 not applicable.

Generally S. 106 of the T. P. Act does not apply to agricultural leases. But so much of it as is specially directed by the LocalGovernment applies to such leases. (Jwala Prosad and Foster, JJ.) MOORE v. MAKHAN SINGH. 53 I. C. 180.

——Ss. 118 and 119—Exchange—Land not got in return—Suit for possession.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 118.

Where a plff. has parted with possession of land on the representation of the deft. that he could give other land in exchange but the plff. has actually received no land in exchange or consideration he is entitled to sue for a declaration of his title and possession. His remedy is not by suit to enforce specific performance of the alleged agreement. (Mookerjee and Newbould, JJ.) JAHARADDI MANDAL v DEBNATH.
33 I. C. 762 : 20 C. W. N. 657.

——S. 118—Exchange—Part cash payment.

A transaction by which one person gives his property in exchange for a property of another and a sum of money, is an exchange and not a sale. (Broadway, J.) PRABHUDIAL v. SHADI RAM.
50 I. C. 288.

——S. 118—Exchange—Payment of money—Effect of.

The mere fact that one of the parties to an exchange has, in addition, paid a small sum of money by way of adjusting the values, cannot alter its nature. (Rattigan, J.) QUZA v. SHARFA.
100 P. W. R. 1913 : 19 I. C. 301 : 199 P. L. R. 1913.

——S. 118—Title by estoppel—Unregistered sale or exchange—Part performance—Erection of buildings.

Relying on an unregistered deed of exchange deft. began to build costly buildings on the plot exchanged, plff. kept quiet and even received additional sum as compensation, in a suit for ejectment. Held, per Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ. (Abdur Rahim, J. dissenting) that the plffs. were entitled to a decree for ejectment subject to the liability to pay compensation for improvements to the defts. There was no estoppel by acquiescence in the case as when the erection of the building was going on, plffs. were not aware of their subsisting right but had acted in the full belief that plffs. had no longer any title to the land they had parted with. Per Abdur Rahim, J.—Under the circumstances the equities in favour of the defts were a sufficient answer to the plff.'s suit for ejectment : what are the circumstances which should be sufficient to raise an equity that would be an answer to a suit for possession by a person who purported to convey the property by an unregistered instrument must depend on the facts of the particular case ; but they must be such as should have altered though not irretrievably, the position of the deft. acting on the faith of the bargain sought to be resiled from. (Abdur Rahim, Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) RAMANATHAN CHETTY v. RANGANATHAN CHETTY.
40 Mad. 1134 : 6 L. W. 300 : 22 M. L. T. 173 : (1917) M. W. N. 757 : 43 I. C. 138 : 33 M. L. J. 252.
[On appeal from 32 I. C. 5 : 30 M. L. J. 1.]

——Ss. 118 and 119—Exchange of properties of over Rs. 100 in value—Oral transfer—Possession given—No estoppel—Charge.

An exchange of property of over Rs 100 in value can be made only by a registered instrument. A mere oral transfer and delivery of possession cannot effect a transfer of title. No estoppel can be pleaded against the provisions of a statute and therefore the fact that the other party to the exchange had sold away the property got in exchange cannot affect the title to the property in dispute. A charge on the property cannot be given simply because the transaction is not valid in law under Ss. 120 and 55 (6) of the T. P. Act. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) CHIDAMBARA CHETTIAR v. VAIDYA LINGA PADAYACHI.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 118.

30 I. C. 408 : 38 Mad. 519.

——S. 118—Exchange—Meaning.

A mutual transfer of immoveable property between two persons, amounts to an exchange and each party aquires, on execution of the deed of transfer in his favour, a good title to the property. (Syed Wazir Hassan, A J. C.) RIAZAT HUSSAIN v. ALI BANDI. 60 I. C. 725 : 7 O. L. J 699.

——Ss. 118 and 54—Exchange—Pre-emption—Equity of redemption if a "thing"—"Price."

Where a person assigned his equity of redemption in consideration of the assignee transferring to him proprietary rights over certain other lands the transaction is an exchange and no right of pre-emption could be exercised with respect to it. An equity of redemption would fall within the definition of the word "thing" in S. 118 of the T. P. Act. Neither the equity of redemption nor the rights in lands which formed the subject of exchange could be treated as "price" within S. 54 of the Act. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A.J. Cs.) LACHMAN PRASAD v. MIR FIDA HUSSEIN.
18 O. C. 109 : 30 I. C. 232 : 2. O. L. J. 220.

——Ss. 119 and 43—Operation of the sections.

The special provisions as to exchange contained in S. 119, do not exclude the operation of S. 43, and hence for purposes of S. 43 an exchange stands on the same footing as a sale. (Mukerji, A. C. J. and Fletcher, JJ.) BHAIRAL CHANDRA MONDAL v. JIBAN KRISHNA MONDAL
60. I. C. 819 : 33 C. L. J 184

——S. 119—Exchange—Warranty of title—Suit to recover equivalent portion—Agreement to the contrary.

Parties making an exchange are deemed to covenant for title in the absence of a contract to the contrary, and if in consequence of defective title, either party is deprived of the whole or part of the property exchanged, he can cancel the bargain and get back his own property or obtain compensation for loss, but cannot recover an equivalent portion of the land given by him in exchange. A clause in the deed of exchange to the effect that neither party would have any claim against the other, does not amount to an agreement excluding the implied warranty of title. (Scott-Smith and Shadi Lal, JJ.) SALABAT v. ABDUL RAHMAN. 51 P. R. 1917 : 41 I C. 248 : 114 P. W. R. 1917.

——S. 119—Exchange—Covenant for return of property—Suit on covenant—Position of vendee.

Where the parties to an exchange covenant that in the event of obstruction to enjoyment of the properties exchanged, each should return to the other what is taken, the covenant is in the nature of a condition subsequent, the enforcement of which is governed by Art 146. The deft. cannot plead a bona fide purchase without notice for he cannot take a better title than his transferor. (Bakewell and Phillips, JJ.) SRINIVASA AYYANGAR v. KOTTAPPAK GHONSA ROWATHAR.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 122.

51 I. C. 939 : 42 M. 690.

——S. 119—Exchange of lands before the passing of T. P. Act.

The law applicable to exchanges of immoveable property prior to the passing of the T. P. Act is the Common Law of England and not the Real Property Act An exchange of property effected prior to 1882 implied a warranty of title, a condition for re-entry on the land given in exchange and also the right to certain compensation for breach of the warranty. S. 119 of the Act preserved to the parties in India the English Common Law right as to warranty. Per Bakewell, J.—S. 119 of the Act embodies rules of "justice, equity and good conscience" which under Cl. 21 of the Letters Patent the High Court may apply to exchanges effected prior to the Act. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Bakewell, JJ.) BALUSU VEERARAGHAVALU v. BOPPANA MANIKYAM.
31 M. L. J. 380 : 35 I. C. 92 : 20 M. L. T. 329.

——Ss. 120, 118 and 119—Exchange and sale are on same footing.

The provisions of sections 118, 119 and 120 show that the Legislature has put an exchange on the same footing with a sale in almost every respect. For example, a transfer of property in completion of an exchange can be made only in manner provided for the transfer of such property by sale. According to S. 120, each party has the rights and is subject to the liabilities of a seller as to that which he gives, and has the rights and is subject to the liabilities of a buyer as to that which he takes. (Abdul Raoof, J.) KUNDAN LAL v. ANUND SARUP. 1923 Lah. 456.

——S. 122—Transfer of shares in company—No entry made in Company's books—Effect.

Where the owner of shares in a company executed a deed purporting to transfer the same to his wife, with the intention of making her owner from that time, Held, (1) the gift having been intended to take effect by way of transfer, cannot operate by way of trust; (2) as the shares could be legally transferred only by entry in the books of the company, which was not done, the disposition failed. (Rankin, J.) AMARENDRA KRISHNA DUTT v. MONIMUNJARY DEBI.
66 I. C. 586 : 48 Cal. 986.

——Ss. 122 and 123—Gift—Donor in pecuniary embarrassment—Possession with donor.

A gift of immoveable property in favour of a wife was secretly executed at a time when the failure of the firm of which the donor (husband) was a partner, was in sight, if not actually imminent The gift was kept secret till the firm had been declared insolvent, the lady never obtained possession of the properties and no convincing explanation was attempted to justify the transaction. Held, that the title did not pass from the donor to the donee. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF THE CALCUTTA HIGH COURT v. BIDYASUNDARI DASI.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 122.

24 C. W. N. 145 : 54 I. C. 700 : 30 C L. J. 428.

——Ss. 122 and 123—Gift deed—Donor adopting after handing over deed to donee but before registration—Gift is valid.

A Hindu made a gift of his immoveable properties, but between the date of handing over the deed to the donee and the registration thereof, adopted a son to himself. Held, the deed was irrevocable and the adopted son could not question the same. (Schwabe, C. J., Coutts Trotter and Kumaraswamy Sastri, JJ.) KALIYANASUNDARAM PILLAI v. KARUPPA MUPPANAR. 17 L. W. 232 : 1923 Mad. 282.
[On appeal from 62 I. C. 280.]

——Ss. 122 and 127—Gift to minor—Acceptance by minor, if valid.

A minor donee can, under S. 122 of the Act, accept a gift personally without the intervention of a guardian, 33 Mad. 312 at 314, Ref. (Stanyon, A J. C.) FIRM OF GANESH DAS v. SURYA BHAN.
39 I. C. 46 : 13 N. L. R. 18.

——S. 122—Gift of mere proprietary rights—Restrictions regarding alienation valid.

Where a deed transferring certain lands for maintenance authorised the grantee to cultivate them and granted to them the usufruct thereof but they were not to transfer the lands to any one but the grantor and his descendents, to whom the lands were to go also if the donee at any time died childless. Held, that (i) full proprietary rights were not granted by the deed but only usufruct and therefore restrictions regarding alienation were valid ; (ii) that on execution sale for satisfying the claim of a mortgagee of such lands was not a sale 'in invitum' and could not override the provisions and conditions of the grant. Such a sale arises out of voluntary transfer and the decree and sale are the necessary consequences of the same. (Lindsay, J. C. and Stuart, A. J. C.) JAGDEO BAKHSH SINGH v. JWALA PRASAD.
15 I. C. 244 : 15 O. C. 345.

——Ss. 122 and 123—Gift— Essentials of—Intention to give—Acceptance—Gift of moveables.

In order that a transaction may operate as a gift there must first be a transfer of the property which in the case of moveable property may be effected either by a registered instrument or by delivery, and secondly, there must be acceptance by or on behalf of the donee. Under S. 123 of the T. P. Act a gift of moveables may be made by doing anything which has the effect of putting them in the possession of the donee or of any person authorised to hold them on his behalf. (Das and Adami, JJ.) RAMESHWAR NARAIN SINGH v. RIKNATH KOER. 1923 P. 165.

——S. 122—Interest in land — Delivery of possession.

Where the gift is of an interest in land, the donor is not required to transfer the corpus of the property but only possession of that interest. If the donor has done all that lies in his power to transfer that interest, then the omission to deliver the corpus is immaterial (Mullick J.) BASIRUL HAQ v. MOHAMMED AJIMUDDIN.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 123.

43 I. C 857 : 3 Pat. L. W. 213.

——Ss. 122 and 123—Burmese Buddhist gifts—Registration.

A Burmese Buddhist religious gift is not valid anless registered. (Ormond, J.) UZAYANTA v. U NAGA. 11 Bur. L. T. 259 : 45 I. C. 926 : 9 L. B. R. 258.

——S. 123.

See also (1) ATTESTATION.
(2) EVIDENCE.
(3) T. P. ACT, S. 59.

——S. 123—Hindu Law—Gift—Delivery of possession—Necessity for.

A Hindu lady who is the full proprietor of immoveable property can by a registered instrument, duly signed and attested, validly make an immediate gift of it, although she reserves to herself the enjoyment of the usufruct or profits of a part of the property for her life-time and without detaining any power of alienation over it. Delivery of possession is not essential to the validity of the gift. 14 C. 446; 34 C. 853; 24 M. 513; 34 B. 287; 4 A 40; 16 A. 185. (Mears, C. J, Piggott Gokul Prasad, Kanhaiya Lal and Sulaiman, JJ.) LALLU SINGH v. GUR. NARAIN. 20 A. L. J. 744 : L. R. 3 A. 437 : 1922 All. 467 (F. B.).

——S. 123—Gift—Delivery of possession—Hindu Law.

Under the Hindu Law, delivery of possession is not essential to the validity of a gift. 27 A. 169, 25 A. 353 foll. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) DEBI SINGH v. BANSIDHAR. 1922 All. 44.

——S. 123—Gift—Donee unregistered body—Validity—Societies Registration Act (XXI of 1860.)

A gift of immoveable property to an unregistered body of persons is void, as such a body has no legal existence and is incapable of holding property. It is otherwise if the body is registered under the Act. (Richards, C. J. and Rafique, J.) MATHURA KUER v. DHARAM SAMAJ.
38 I, C. 183: 14 A. L. J. 1038.

——Ss. 123 and 129—Religious gift—Registration.

S. 123 applies to religious gifts and therefore a registered deed of gift to a Thakur is necessary to validate the dedication. (Richards, C. J. and Rafique, J.) MANNU LAL v. RADHA KISHENJI.
36 I. C. 989.

——S. 123—Gift under Muhammadan Law.

Gifts under Mahomedan Law are not governed by S. 123, T. P. Act. (Richards, C. J. and Rafique, J.) KARAM ILAHI v. SHARFUDDIN.
38 All. 212: 35 I. C. 14: 14 A. L. J. 119.

——S. 123—Attestation—Proof.

Where the witnesses attesting a deed never saw the executant actually sign the deed but merely heard her acknowledge the execution, the deed cannot be said to have been attested according to the interpretation put on the word by the

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 123.

Privy Council, (Lyle, J.) SUBHEDA KOERI v. RAGA RAM. 21 I. C. 83: 11 A. L. J. 757.

——S. 123—Gift—Registration—Consent of donor.

If a document creating a gift is registered in accordance with the Registration Act, it is a registered instrument making a valid and complete gift. It is not at all necessary that it must be registered at the owner's instance or with his consent (Richards, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) PARBATI v. BAIJ NATH PATAK. 10 A. L. J. 300: 35 All. 3: 16 I. C. 406.

——S. 123—Gift—Registration without consent of donor—Validity.

A gift registered without the consent or against the will of the donor does not thereby become invalid, 33 Cal. 584, Foll. (Per Karamat Husain, J., dissenting.)—A gift deed registered without the consent of the donor is invalid. 19 All 392, Dist. (Karamat Husain and Chamier, JJ.) PARBATI v. BAIJNATH PATHAK. 14 I. C. 61: 9 A. L. J. 300.

——S. 123—Incomplete gift—Rights of donor and donee—Relationship of trustee.

The defendent was the employee of a Railway company and on his retirement the company sanctioned a retiring gratuity of Rs. 7,700. On defendant's request that the payment should be made in London, the company remitted the amount to their bankers at Bombay for being forwarded to the Secretary of the G. I. P. Ry. in London. The plaintiff in execution of a money decree against the defendant attached the sum in question before the remittance of the money: Held that at the date of the attachment there was no completed gift of the amount or any part thereof to the defendant and that the attachment was therefore inoperative. The retiring gratuity being in the nature of a gift it should be completed either by a registered document or by actual payment. A transfer intended to operate as a gift but invalid as such will not constitute the donor a trustee of the property for the intended donee; in other words, an imperfect gift will not be construed as a declaration of trust. (Mulla, J.) NATHA GULAB & Co. v. W. C. SHELLER. 26 Bom. L.R. 599: 1924 Bom. 88.

——S. 123—Oral gift—Invalid—Actions of parties—Estoppel.

As there was no registered deed of gift, as required by S. 123 of the Act, the gift was not complete in law and the title to the land was still vested in the plff. donor. The mere consent of the plff's father to make a gift of the land was not sufficient to vest the land in the Municipality and inasmuch as the deft. had occupied the land and constructed a part, at any rate, of the road before the plff.'s father was induced to make an oral gift of the land, the plff. was not estopped, from denying the validity of the gift. (Shah and Hayward, JJ.) KUVERJEE KAVASJI v. THE MUNICIPALITY OF LONAVLA. 58 I. C. 403: 45 Bom. 164: 22 Bom. L. R. 654.

——S. 123—'Attested'—Meaning of.

The word 'attested' in Sec. 123 means the witnessing of the actual execution of the document by the person purporting to execute it. (Macleod, C.J. and Heaton, J.) AMARAPPA SANALASAPPA GUMALPUR v. RACHAVA SUGAPPA. 22 Bom. L. R. 86: 55 I. C. 355: 44 B. 231.

——S. 123—Delivery of possession—Mahommedan law.

The registration of a deed of gift in accordance with S. 123 of the Act cannot make up for the want of delivery of possession required by the rule of Mahomedan Law. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) RAHIM BAKHSH MANDAL v. SAJJAD AHMAD CHOWDHARY. 26 I. C. 466: 19 C. W. N. 1311.

——S. 123—Gift—Delivery of possession—Endorsement on registration deed.

Where there is a deed of gift and before its registration an endorsement is made therein that possession is delivered to the donee and the deed is subsequently registered, the burden of proving that possession was not given and therefore the gift is invalid is on those asserting its invalidity. Where there are tenants on the property, their attornment to the donee is sufficient delivery of possession. (Schwabe, C. J. and Wallace, J.) FATIMA BIBI v. KHAIRUM BIBI. 16 L. W. 894: 1923 Mad 52.

——S 123—Donor adopting son after execution and before registration of a deed of gift—Effect.

A executed a deed of gift in favour of charitable and religious purposes; he then adopted B as his son and a few days later registered the deed. Held per Ayling, J., the gift was complete by the execution of the document though the registration took place later. Per Hughes, J.—That the gift was not complete before adoption and after the adoption. A could not give away any property by completing the gift. (Ayling and Hughes, JJ.) KALIANASUNDARAM PILLAI v. KRISHNASWAMI AIYAR. 62 I. C 280: 13 L. W. 187: (1921) M.W. N 141.

——S. 123—Gift of mortgage can be only by a registered document.

The transfer of a mortgage by way of gift must be made only by a registered instrument whether the mortgage is for less than Rs. 100 or not, as S. 123 of the Act contains no exception in favour of gifts of small value. (Wallis, C. J. and Hughes, J.) PERUMAL AMMAL v. PERUMAL NAIKER. 44 Mad. 196 : 13 L. W. 69 : 61 I. C. 461 : (1921) M. W N. 5 : 40 M. L. J. 25.

——S. 123—Gift—Dedication—Writing and registration.

Property may be dedicated to a temple in one of three modes (1) by making a gift of the property to trustees on behalf of the idol, (2) by a dedication to the idol it elf, and (3) generally on occasions of death or marriage by taking a leaf of the tulsi plant in hand and with water offering the property in the presence of the persons assembled. Of these modes, (1) must comply with the provisions of S. 123 of the T. P. Act. In mode (2) if the dedication is in writing, it must be registered. In mode (3) the gift is not within the provisions of the T. P. Act, although the intention may be that the embodiment of the universal soul worshipped in the particular temple should have the benefit of the dedication. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Phillips, JJ.) RAMALINGA CHETTY v. SIVACHIDAMBARA CHETTY, 42 Mad. 440: 36 M. L. J. 575: (1919) M. W. N. 426: 25 M. L. T. 253; 49 I. C. 742. 9 L. W. 224.

——S. 123—Registration of gift after donor's death.

A deed of gift registered by the donee after the donor's death without the consent of his legal representatives is valid. 19 Mad 433, Overruled. Once an instrument is duly executed, it can be registered in spite of the donor's wishes. Per Seshagiri Iyer, J :—Compulsory registration is not avoided either by this Act or by the Registration Act. (Abdur Rahim, O. C. J., Seshagiri Iyer and Phillips, JJ.) VENKATI RAMA REDDI v. PILLATI RAMA REDDI. 40 Mad. 204: 31 M. L. J. 690: 20 M. L. T. 450: (1917) M. W. N. 112: 38 I. C. 707: 4 L. W. 465.

——Ss. 123, 128 and 129—Insurance Policy assignment—No delivery—Validity.

An assignment of a policy of insurance unaccompanied by delivery of documents is valid under the law. The execution of deed of assignment and getting the assignee's name registered in the Company's register, are enough. This being a transfer of an actionable claim nothing more in the way of delivery, etc., is necessary. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) YACOOB SAHIB v. PACHA BIBI. 38 I. C. 248 : 4 L. W 339.

——S. 123—Gift—Compulsory registration—Subsequent deed registered by donor.

Where a deed of gift was not registered by the donee after the death of the donor, who had executed and registered another deed of gift before her death, the prior deed registered against the donor's wishes would not convey any title. (Sankara Nair and Ayling, JJ.) DASISWARANAM v. DEIVANAYAGAM PILLAI. 28 M.L.J. 378 : 28 I. C. 271 : 2 L. W. 269.

——S. 123—Gift—Mahomedan Law.

Under the Mahomedan Law a valid transfer by gift can be effected by delivery of possession to the donee with the intention of passing the property to him. The T. P. Act has no application to such a transfer. (Lindsay, J. C.) ALI BAKSH v. GHURAI. 18 O. C. 122 : 28 I. C. 180 : 2 O. L. J. 97

——S. 123—Gift—Formalities—Attestation—Proof of—Waiver of formal proof—Effect of—Acknowledgment of execution.

The attestation of a witness on the acknowledgment or admission of the executant of the document without witnessing the actual execution of the document is insufficient to create a valid gift (35 M. 607; 45 C. 748; 35 C. L. J. 473 Ref.) Though proof of the document might be waived, this does not affect the legal character of the document or its invalidity as a gift. An attestation of a deed of gift by a person without seeing the actual execution of the document but merely on the executant's acknowledgment or admission of its execution is insufficient. Where there was no issue in the court below as to whether the deed of gift relied on by the plaintiff was validly attested but it was clear from the document itself that the witnesses who purported to attest had not been present at the time of the execution of the deed, the High Court refused to frame an additional issue on the point and to send it down to the lower Court for decision and declared the invalidity of the gift. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) BAIJNATH SING v. MT. BIRAJ KUER. 2 Pat 52 : 4 P. L. T. 239 : 1922 P. 514.

——S. 123—Gift—Delivery of possession—Acceptance by donee—Hindu Law.

Among Hindus gifts made subsequent to the Act do not require delivery of possession if there is registration. Acceptance by the donee is essential under Hindu Law. It may be implied and may be presumed until dissent is signified. (Mullick, J.) MUHAMMAD ABDUL NAYEEM v. JHONTI MAHTON. 41 I. C. 389

——S 123—Gift—No registered deed—Once in possession—Estoppel—Equitable relief.

Where there is a gift of lands in favour of a minor under which the donors divested themselves of the ownership of these lands and the minor has alone been in possession since the date of the gift. Held, in a suit by the donors or any person claiming through them, the minor can resist the claim on the ground of estoppel even though there was no registered deed of gift. The Transfer of Property Act was enacted in order to prevent fraud and deception and it is founded on the highest principles of justice, equity and good conscience. (May Oung, J.) M. P. L. M. P. CHETTY v. MA NGWE SIN. 1 Rang. 665: 1924 R. 200.

——S. 123— Gift — Attestation— Proof—Denial of attestation by attestor.

In spite of the denial of one of the attestors of having attested the execution of a deed of gift, it is open to the Court to conclude from other evidence that he had in fact so attested (Duckworth, J.) AUNG DHI v. MA HUNG KEWA PREK. 1 R 557 : 1924 R. 139.

——S. 123—Gift unregistered—Actions of parties—Possession given—Estoppel.

Where a donor made a gift of immoveable property and transferred possession of the land without any registered deed and on the death of the donor the donee submitted a report to the revenue surveyor for mutation of names in the official record the heirs of the donor attesting the report and being present when it was made. Held. that the heirs of the donor were estopped from impeaching the gift thereafter. (Heald, J.) MA SHIN v. MAUNG HMAN. 1 Rang. 651 : 1924 Rang. 102.

——S. 123—Gift—Partition— Distinction—Registration—Necessity for.

A division of property by a father in his lifetime to his children except in the case of an erasa is not a partition but in reality a gift. Therefore it is invalid in the absence of a registered deed. (Maung Kin, J.) PO MAUNG v. AUNG DIN. 1 Bur. L. J. 26.

——S. 123—Burmese gift.

Burmese-Buddhist religious gifts are not exempted from the operation of this section. (Heald, A. J C.) U NO MEIN v. ME HMIN ON. 57 I. C. 809 : (1920) 3 U. B. R 207.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 123.

——S. 123—Buddhist Law—Gift—Delivery of possession—Last illness.

Buddhist Law cannot be applied to the case of a gift unless a question of marriage, inheritance succession, or religious usage is involved in it. A gift made during the donor's last illness is not valid without delivery of possession. (Maung Kin, J.) MAUNG BA MAUNG v. MAUNG PYU.
40 I. C. 854.

——S. 123—Attestation—Scribe.

An attesting witness need not add the word "witness" after his signature. The writer of a deed is not necessarily an attesting witness. But if there is sufficient evidence to show that the writer signed, not as a writer, but as an attesting witness after the execution of the document he may be considered as one of the attesting witnesses. (Ormond, J.) MA KIN v MAUNG KYA WIN.
36 I. C. 275 : 10 Bur. L. T. 106.

——S. 123—Burmese Law—Kanwin gift—Registration.

A Kanwin gift i. e., a gift by the bridegroom to the bride at the time of marriage for the joint purpose of the married pair, must be in writing and registered as required by S. 123 of the Act, otherwise if there is mutual divorce, the property will revert to the husband as being only payin. property. (Maung Kin, J.) MAUNG SHWE KHO v. MA MYA. 33 I. C. 129 : 9 Bur. L. T. 87.

——S. 123—Partition—Registration.

The provisions of the T. P. Act do not apply to a partition of joint family property by private arrangement without an instrument in writing. (Twomey, J.) MA SEIN NYUN v. MAUNG U.
25 I. C. 498.

——S. 123—Burmese Law—Transfer of joint property of husband and first wife to daughter—Effect.

A transfer by a Burmese Buddhist of joint property of himself and his first wife to their daughters with the intention of keeping the land out of the hands of the second wife, amounts to a partition of inheritance and not a gift. (Twomey, J.) MAUNG HMVE v. MA LUN AUNG.
11 I. C. 855: 4 Bur. L. T. 186.

——S. 126—Gift—Condition—Revocation.

A voluntary deed of gift is not voidable by the donor merely because it does not contain a power of revocation. The absence of the power of revocation in a deed of gift is one of the circumstances to be taken into consideration when the Court has to consider whether a deed of gift shall stand or be set aside. The donor and the donee may agree that on the happening of a specified event which does not depend on the will of a donor, a gift shall be suspended or revoked but a gift which the parties agree shall be revocable wholly or in part at the mere will of the donor, is void wholly or in part as the case may be. (Davar, J.) RAJA RAM v. KHANDU BALU.
15 I. C. 529 : 14 Bom. L. R. 340.

——S. 126—Gift—Rescission of—Relief when granted.

While in contracts for sale, mortgage, lease or exchange there is pecuniary consideration, there is no such consideration in a gift; but the right of rescission in the case of a gift on the part of the grantor, is limited by the same set of circumstances such as fraud, mistake, coercion, undue influence, misrepresentation or the like as would operate to invalidate a contract. (Mookerjee and Walmsley, JJ.) BEHARI LAL GHOSE v. SINDHU BALA DASI. 45 Cal. 434: 22 C. W. N. 210: 41 I. C. 878 : 27 C. L. J. 497.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 130.

——S. 126—Voidable gift—Right to avoid is personal to donor.

The right of a person to avoid a voidable gift is one personal to himself and cannot be transferred. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) BAIJNATH SINGH v. MT. BIRAJ KUER. 2 P. 52: 4 P. L. T. 239 : 1922 P. 514.

——Ss. 129, 122 and 123—Mahomedan Law—Gift—Execution and registration of deed.

Under the Mahomedan Law the mere execution and registration of a deed does not operate as a valid gift. Transfer of possession is essential. The T. P. Act does not overrule Mahomedan Law. (Lord Atkinson,) SADIK HUSAIN KHAN v. HASSIM ALI KHAN. 38 All. 627 : 43 I. A. 212 : 14 A. L. J. 1248: 19 O. C. 192: 18 Bom. L. R. 1037: 21 C.W.N. 130: (1916) 2 M.W.N. 577: 21 M.L.T. 40. 1 Pat. L. W. 157 : 4 O. L. J. 22: 25 C. L. J. 363 : 6 L. W. 378: 10 Bur. L T. 140: 36 I C. 104: 31 M. L. J. 607 (P. C.)

——Ss. 129 and 130—Gift of actionable claim.

A gift of an actionable claim is not governed by Chapter VII of the Act, and S. 129 does not therefore apply to a transfer by way of gift governed by S. 130 of the Act. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) SYED YAKOOB SAHIB v. PACHA BIBI. 38 I. C. 248: 4 L. W. 339.

——Ss. 129 and 54—Mahomedan Law—Transfer in lieu of dower—Sale—Registration.

A transfer of immoveable property in lieu of dower amounts to a sale and can only be effected by a registered document as required by S. 54 of the T. P. Act. When a party desires to get out of the application of a general rule like S. 54 by virtue of the exception created by S. 129, he must allege and prove clearly that the transaction was intended and purported to be under the Mahomedan Law. (Kotwal, A. J. C.) FAHMIDUNNISA v. HIRALA. 64 I. C. 126 : 17 N. L. R 103.

——S. 130—Deposit receipt—Transfer of—Rights of transferee—Resulting trust.

A deposit receipt is not a negotiable instrument which passes either by delivery or by endorsement but where the money mentioned in the receipt is immediately payable and the receipt is presented duly endorsed together with an order to pay a given individual, that individual becomes the owner of the money upon payment by the banker or his promise to hold it at the disposal of the payee. When a person holding a fixed deposit receipt endorses it and guides it to the bank on the date of maturity, and asks the bank to pay the amount to his nephew, who drew interest and a portion of the principal and deposited the balance in his own name, the heirs of the original depositor have no claim to it. Before the heirs can file a suit they should have obtained Letters of Administration and the plaint filed without it should have been returned on presentation. (Scott, C. J. and Batchelor, J.) SETHNA v. GRACE EDITH HEMMINGWAY.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 130.

38 Bom. 618 : 28 I. C. 114 : 16 Bom. L. R. 534.

——Ss. 130 and 131—Contract for supply of goods—Assignment—Notice of address of Solicitor of assignee—Not a sufficient compliance.

To attract the operation of the Exception in S. 130 of the T.P. Act, there must be a strict compliance with the requirements of S. 131 of that Act. Where therefore a notice of assignment of a contract for sale of goods did not state the address of the assignee but only his Solicitor's address, Held, that the notice was defective and did not prevent the vendor from dealing direct with the vendee, 9 Bom. L. R. 838; 8 Bur. L. T. 266, Rel. on. Per Rankin. J. In construing Ss. 130 and 131 of the T. P. Act it must be remembered that they contain a very special scheme which must be regarded as a whole in itself. At Common law a chose in action was not assignable, in equity it was freely assignable upon certain principles as to notice. The Indian Legislature has composed a new scheme which has some of the features of both and the law, while regarding the transfer of an actionable claim as valid if effected in a certain manner, will not undertake to enforce against a debtor the assignment except upon the terms that the debtor may arrange with the original creditor unless and until he has received in writing a particular kind of notice. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) MRS. SADASOOK RAMPROTAP v. HOARE MILLER AND CO.

27 C. W. N. 733 : 1923 Cal. 719.

——S. 130—Assignment—Release.

A mere release of his rights by a partner to his fellow partners would enable the latter to sue on a debt due to the firm. An assignment or transfer is necessary. 33 Cal. 967, Foll. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) DHANAMCHAND BOID v. MORIJI SAHU.

16 I. C. 440: 16 C. L. J. 436.

——S. 130—Deposit of title deeds—Endorsement of negotiable instrument without transfer of equitable mortgage by a registered instrument—Endorsee cannot enforce the mortgage.

The endorsee for value of a negotiable instrument the amount of which had been secured by mortgage of deposit of title-deeds, is not entitled to enforce the mortgage where there is no registered instrument conveying the mortgage right to him. (Napier and Krishnan, JJ.) ELUMALAI CHETTY v. BALAKRISHNA MUDALIAR.

44 Mad. 965: (1921) M. W. N. 704 : 14 L. W. 379 : 66 I. C. 168 : 41 M. L. J. 297.

——S. 130—Transfer of actionable claim—Words of transfer essential.

A mere written acknowledgment of the receipt of money, due under a pro-note signed by the payee, does not, by itself amount to a transfer of an actionable claim, without words of assignment (Spencer and Odgers, JJ.) CHANDU v. RAMUNNI.

(1920) M. W. N. 600 : 59 I. C. 943 : 13 L. W. 183 : 38 M. L. T. 262 : 39 M. L. J. 273.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 130.

——S. 130—Actionable claim—Assignment of—Form of—Consent of debtor—Consent of debtor if necessary to validate transfer.

The words "instrument in writing" in S. 130 of the T.P. Act, do not mean a document couched in a technical language in a particular form. What is intended is that the transfer should be made and in writing and it is sufficient if the intention of creditor to transfer the debt due to him to the transferee, can be gathered from writing. An assignment made in a statement of accounts by way of an entry is an assignment within the meaning of the section. After the date of the transfer, the transferee is the only person entitled to sue for the debt. An assignment does not become invalid for want of consent of the original debtor or by reason of the absence of a novation of the contract (Abdur Rahim and Napier, JJ.) SEETHARAMA IYER v. NARAYANASWAMY PILLAY.

47 I. C. 749.

——S. 130—Chose in action—Partial assignment of, if valid—Judicature Act, S. 25.

Quære :—Can a part assignment of a chose in action be regarded as valid in India with due regard to the absence of the word 'absolute' from S. 130 as compared with S. 25 of the Judicature Act. (Abdur Rahim and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) SABJAN SAHIB v. ABDUL AZEEZ SAHIB.

42 I. C. 684.

——S. 130—Hypothecation of pro-note by deed—Transfer of actionable claim.

Hypothecation of a promissory note as security for money owing is a transfer of an actionable claim under S. 130 of the T. P. Act. The transferee is entitled to recover the debt and if he allows it to become barred he is liable to the pledger. (White, C. J., Miller and Oldfield, JJ.) MUTHUKRISHNA AIYAR v. VEERARAGHAVA AIYAR.

38 Mad. 297 : (1913 M. W. N. 839 : 14 M. L. T. 411 : 21 I. C. 316 : 25 M. L. J. 356.

——S. 130—Endorsement of pro-note.

The mere endorsement of a pro-note is not an assignment of an actionable claim. So the endorsee of a pro-note executed by the managing member cannot sue the other members (Benson, O. C. J. and Sankaran Nair, J.) SEETHARAMA CHETTY v. SESHIAH CHETTY.

17 I. C. 417 : (1912) M. W. N. 1011.

——S. 130—Assignment—Instalment bond—Letter to assignee accompanied by delivery of bond.

An assignment of the right under an instalment bond, by the person in whose favour it was executed, made by means of a letter of assignment, accompanied by delivery of the bond to the assignee, is valid as an assignment of debt under S. 130 of the T. P. Act. 30 Mad. 75, Ref. (Benson, Offg C. J. and Napier, J.) KONJETTI VEERASAMI v. VARADA VEERASAMI.

16 I. C. 708 (1) : 18 M. L. T. 77.

——Ss. 130 and 137—Promissory note—Assignment—Writing.

A promissory note, if not transferred under the Negotiable Instrument Act, must be transferred according to S. 130 of the T. P. Act. S. 137 of that Act does not render oral assignments valid, 17 M. L. J. 393, Foll. (Wallis. J) RAMAN CHETTY v. NAGARATHANA NAICKER.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 130.

15 I. C. 380 : 11 M. L. T. 246.

——S. 130—Assignment—Authorisation to collect amount.

A document authorising a person to recover the amount of a promissory note from a person with whom it was deposited by the owner operates as an assignment of the promissory note and an attachment of it after assignment is void as against the assignee. (Abdur Rahim and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) KATTICK RAMUNNI v. UDAYAMAGALATH MITHALE. 14 I.C 279 : (1912) M. W. N. 524.

——S. 130 — Transfer — Instrument in writing.

The transfer of an actionable claim within S. 130 can only be made by an instrument in writing (White, C. J. and Abdur Rahim, J.) VELAYUTHA CHETTIAR v. PILLAIYAR CHETTY.
9 I. C. 287 : 9 M. L. T. 102.

——S. 130—Actionable claim—Right to recover goods lent or to claim damages is not an.

A right to recover goods lent or damages for breach of contract on failure to return them is not an actionable claim. It is a right to sue with S. 6 (e) and is not transferable. (Batten, A. J.C.) MT. NAKHOLA v KOHAYA. 1923 Nag. 61.

——S. 130—Assignment of decree—Validity—Notice.

An assignment of a decree debt is not valid as against the debtor until the debtor has in fact notice of the assignment and any payment to the original decree-holder is valid, against the assignee if made before notice of the assignment. (Miller, C. J. and Kulwant Sahay, J.) TATA IRON AND STEEL CO. LTD v. BAIDYANATH LAIK.
2 Pat. 754 : 1924 P. 118.

——S. 130—Arrears of rent due—Assignment—Writing necessary.

The transfer of a right to arrears of rent and current dues can only be made by an instrument in writing under S. 130 of the T. P. Act. (Das and Adami, JJ.) RAMESHWAR NARAIN SINGH v. RIKNATH KOERI. 1923 P. 165.

——S 130—Promissory note—Assignment by separate writing—Rights of transferee.

A promissory note can be transferred by an assignment in writing even in places to which the T. P. Act has not been extended but of course it would not render the transferee a 'holder in due course'. (Duckworth, J.) PALWAN v. KANU.
66 I. C. 501 : 11 L. B. R. 174.

——S. 130—Insurance policy—Deposit as security—Effect of.

Where an insurance policy was deposited with the payee of a pro-note by way of collateral security, such deposit is neither a transfer nor an assignment of the policy. It creates no security in favour of the payee. (Fox, C. J. and Hartnoll, J.) OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE v. T. M. T. THOMPSON. 30 I. C. 602 : 8 Bur. L. T. 157.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 132.

——Ss. 130 and 131—Actionable claim—Transfer of—Notice.

A person who is bound to pay the debt, is not bound by the transfer of an actionable claim unless he receives an express notice in writing under S. 131 of the T. P. Act from the transferor or from the transferee stating the name and address of the latter. The notice must be given only to the person concerned or his authorised agent (Fox, C. J.) BASANT SINGH v. BURMA RAILWAYS CO. 8 L. B. R. 288 : 30 I. C. 278 : 8 Bur. L. T. 266.

——S. 130—Morigage—Assignment—Notice to mortgagor.

The transfer by a mortgagee of his rights under a mortgage deed is valid even without notice of transfer to the mortgagors. (Hartnoll and Parlett, JJ.) MAUNG KYAW YWE v. A. L. V. RANGANATHAM CHETTY. 11 I. C. 778 : 4 Bur. L. T. 160.

——S. 130 (1)—Insurance policy—Moneys due under—Assignment of, by way of charge—Writing essential.

S. 130 of the T. P. Act applies not only to absolute assignments but also to assignments by way of charge, and a mere deposit of a life insurance policy by way of security for a loan, without an instrument in writing, does not create any equitable charge. The positive language of S. 130 of the T. P. Act precludes the application of any analogies of the English Law. (Lord Moulton) MULRAJ KHATAN v. VISHWANATH 37 Bom 198 : 40 I. A. 24 : (1912) M. W. N. 1247 : 12 M. L. T. 652 : 11 A. L. J. 7 : 17 C. W. N. 209 : 15 Bom. L. R. 9 : 17 C. L. J. 162 : 17 I C. 627 : 24 M. L. J. 60 (P. C.).

——S. 131 and 130—Operation of.

The validity of an assignment must be tested with reference to the law as it stood at the time when it was made. The provisions of S. 131 as it originally stood did not invalidate an assignment for want of a notice to the debtor, but it only suspended the operation of the assignment until notice was given. (Mookerjee and Casperse, JJ.) ISMAIL MOLLA v. JADO NATH. 10 I.C. 510 : 13 C. L. J. 641.

——S. 132—Purchase of debt—Rights of purchaser—Equities.

Where a decree-holder purchases a debt due to his judgment-debtor from a third person he takes the debt as it stands at the time of sale subject to the equities and liabilities to which the judgment-debtor was subject at the time of the sale. Consequently the debtor of the judgment-debtor could set off against the debt any amounts due to him from the judgment-debtor. (Martineau and Harrison, JJ.) RAM BHAJ DATTA v. RAM DAS. 3 Lah. 414 : 69 I. C. 720 : 1923 Lah. 261.

——S. 132—Transfer of mortgage—Application of English Law.

Even under English Law the principles applicable to the assignments of choses-in-action do not apply to transfers of mortgages. A mortgage is not an actionable claim within S. 132 and therefore assignment of mortgage is not covered by the same rules that govern assignment other choses-in-action. (Ayling and Napier, JJ.) SUBRAMANIA IYER v. SUBRAMANIA PATTAR, 40 Mad. 683 : (1916) 1 M. W. N. 351 : 34 I. C. 859 : 30 M. L. J. 615.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 132.

——S. 132—Assignment of debt—Debtor assenting to assignment—If can afterwards assert any claim against the assignee—Assignment subject to equities.

Where on an assignment of a money debt the debtor assents to deliver the moneys to the assignee according to the terms of the assignment he cannot afterwards assert, as against the assignee any claim in his own right of which the assignee has no notice. Quaere:—Whether the obligation is based on contract, estoppel or waiver ? The assignee of an actionable claim primâ facie takes it subject to all existing equities and it is his duty to ascertain their extent. (Spencer, Trotter and Napier, JJ.) VENKATA SUBBIAH v. SUBBA NAIDU.
2 L. W. 977 : 18 M. L. T. 533 : 31 I. C. 152 : (1915) M. W. N. 822.

——S. 132—Set-off—Assignee—Chit Fund.

Under Sec. 132 a set-off can be claimed by a debtor against the creditor's assignee and can be enforced, though the plaintiff is a purchaser of an actionable claim in a Court auction. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) SUBRAMANIAN PATTAR v. KIRADADASAN.
16 I. C. 686 : (1912) M. W. N. 1235.

——S. 134—Chose-in-action — Mortgage of —Right to sue for debt—Limitation—Starting point.

A suit by a mortgagee from the subscriber to a chit fund of the amount that will thereafter become payable to such subscriber from the Karaswan for the recovery of the debt given to him as security is maintainable and he is the only person that can sue for recovering that amount ; for such suit against the Karaswan the date when the chit money became payable and not the date of mortgage is the starting point of limitation. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Moore, JJ.) ARUNACHELLAM CHETTIAR v. MADUSWAMI,
56 I. C. 146 : 11 L. W. 238.

——S. 134 — Hypothecation of pro-note—Transferee allowing pro-note to become time-barred.

Where a promissory note has been hypothecated the transferee bought to recover the pro-note debt failing which he is liable to be debited with the amount if the note is allowed to become time-barred. (White, C. J., Miller and Oldfield, JJ.) MUTHUKRISHNA AIYAR v. VEERARAGHAVA AIYAR.
38 Mad. 297 : (1913) M. W. N. 839 : 14 M. L. T 411 : 21 I. C. 316 : 25 M. L. J. 356.

——Ss. 134 and 138—Negotiable instrument —Hypothecation—Effect.

The hypothecation of pro-note or chose-in-action by debtor to a creditor amounts to an assignment especially when possession is transferred. Per Sundara Aiyar, J.--Such hypothecation does not amount to assignment, unless the transfer is made with express words to that effect. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) MUTHU KRISHNIEN v. VIRARAGHAVA IYER.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 137.

12 M. L. T. 15 : (1912) M. W. N. 919 : 16 I C 601 : 23 M. L. J. 430.

——S. 135—Sales in execution.

S. 135 has no application to sales in execution by virtue of S. 2 (d) of Act. (Benson and Krishnaswami Aiyar, JJ.) PALANIAPPA TEVAN v. SHADAGOPPA.
(1911) 1 M. W. N. 183 : 9 I. C. 729 : 9 M. L. T. 319.

——S. 136 — Right to arrears of rent—Actionable claim—Not enforceable.

The right to arrears of rent in respect of property purchased by a pleader along with the property is an actionable claim and cannot be enforceable. (Jenkins, C. J. Harrington, Stephen, Mookerjee and Holmwood, JJ.) HARI LAL SINHA v. TRIPURA CHARAN ROY.
40 Cal. 650 : 17 C. W. N. 679 : 19 I. C. 129 : 17 C. L. J. 438.

——S. 136—Decree is not actionable claim.

A decree is not an actionable claim and hence the transfer of it in favour of a pleader is not invalid. (Abdur Rahim and Odgers, JJ.) GOVINDARAJULU NAIDU v. RANGA RAO.
13 L. W. 97 : (1921) M. W. N. 98 : 29 M. L. T. 99 : 62 I. C. 255 : 40 M. L. J. 124.

——S. 136—Unprofessional conduct.

A pleader is guilty of unprofessional conduct by a purchase of an actionable claim prohibited by S. 136 ; especially if the purchase be speculative as when the claim is ripe for judgment and the seller is his own client unable to judge the result of the suit. A claim is still an actionable claim though the suit might have been instituted thereon. (Benson, O. C. J., Sankaran Nair and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) MUNI REDDI v. K. VENKAT RAO.
37 Mad. 238 : . T. 615 : (1912) M. W. N. 1029 : 13 Cr. L. J. 800 : 17 I. C. 544 : 23 M. L. J. 447.

——S. 136—Pleader advancing money to client towards redemption decree in client's favour.

Where a pleader advances money on a mortgage to a client for the purpose of payment towards a redemption decree passed in the client's favour, the transaction does not amount to a transfer of an actionable claim within the purview of S. 136 of the Act. (Lindsay, J.C.) SAHIBUNNISSA v. ABDUL GHAFFUR.
3 O. L. J. 140 : 34 I. C. 360 : 19 O. C. 60.

——S. 137—Mate's receipts—Shipping carriage by inland waters—Negotiable Instrument—Document of title—Strangers—Obligation.

The duty of a Shipping Company, whose vessels ply in inland waters, arising from a document which charges the Company with receipt of certain goods from a shipper under a bargain to convey them by its ship to a certain place for a stipulated freight on certain conditions, is to deliver the goods to the shipper or to his nominee at the place of the delivery, and although such a document is called a Mate's receipt to which certain terms which are more suitable to Bills of Lading are appended, it is a simple ordinary receipt for goods, and not a negotiable instrument within S. 137 of the Transfer of Property Act ; nor is it a document of title and the goods do not pass upon the transfer of it. A clause in a circular issued by a Shipping Company in the course of its business intimating that the company shall not part with the goods shipped unless receipts thereof (which were called Mate's receipts) are given up or otherwise unless a guarantee obtained, does not constitute an obligation upon which a person (who is neither the shipper nor his nominee) as an outside party is entitled to found an action against the Company. (Lord Shaw.) NATCHEAPPA CHETTY v. IRAWADDY FLOTILLA CO 41 Cal. 670: (1914) M W. N. 163 : 18 C W. N. 457: 12 A. L. J. 211 : 15 M. L. T. 193 : 7 Bur L. T 40 : 19 C. L. J. 265 : 22 I. C. 311 : 16 Bom. L. R. 298 (P.C.) : [On appeal from 9 I. C. 465 : 4 Bur. L. T. 21.]

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882), S. 137.

——— S. 137—Delivery order—Contract Act, S. 108,

Under the Contract Act, S. 108 and T. P. Act S. 137 there is now a statutory recognition of a delivery order as a document of title and under it the transferee acquires a title to the goods. (Jenkins, C. J. and Woodroffe, J.) ANGLO-INDIA JUTE MILLS CO v. OMADIMULL. 10 I. C. 859 : 38 Cal. 127.

——— S. 137—Promissory note—Sale of—Duty of buyer.

A person buying a promissory note must know that he is buying a mere claim and must make enquiries before buying. It is a case of caveat emptor. (Johnstone, J.) KISHEN SARUP v. TARA CHAND. 150 P. L. R. 1915 : 29 I. C. 887 : 76 P. W. R. 1915.

——— S. 137 —Railway receipt —Assignment when passes title.

Assignment of Railway receipts passes title to goods only when they are proved to be negotiable. (Robinson and Macgregor, JJ.) ARUNACHALLAM CHETTY v. KO PO YAN. 1 Bur. L J. 90 : 11 L. B. R. 341 : 1923 Rang. 1.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY (VALIDATING) ACT (XXVI OF 1917).

——— S. 3, (Proviso 3)—Former Court—Restoration of appeal—Finding of trial Court.

An Appellate Court acting under S. 3 of Act, (XXVI of 1917) restored an appeal which had been dismissed. Held, that the appeal became once more a pending appeal and the Appellate Court which is "the former Court" within the proviso (3) to S. 3 is not bound by the finding of fact of the Original Court. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) KAMPA DEVI v. KESHORI LAL. 55 I. C. 981 : 18 A. L J. 447.

TREASURE TROVE ACT (VI OF 1878).

——— Ss. 4 and 20—'Finder', meaning of,

Where petitioners discovered treasure while cutting a tree under the orders and in the presence of the employer who at once assume control over it, Held, that the petitioners were nevertheless 'finders' under S. 4 of the Act. (Sadasiva Aiyar, J.) MALA NAICKEN, In re. 15 Cr. L. J. 632 : 25 I. C 640 : 27 M. L. J. 477.

——— Ss. 20 and 21—Forbidding a person not a finder, to give notice—Charge—Usufructuary mortgagee whether owner.

A usufuctuary mortgagee is owner ; the forbidding of a person who was not the finder or a person employed or instructed by the under to give notice on his behalf is no offence. (Walsh, J.) SITAL v. EMPEROR. 15 A. L. J. 796 : 42 I. C. 995 : 19 Cr. L. J. 35.

TREATIES.

See ACT OF STATE.

TREES.

See (1) GENERAL CLAUSES ACT, S. 3 (25).
(2) LANDLORD AND TENANT.
(3) REGN. ACT, S. 2, CL. (6).
(4) TENANCY ACTS (LOCAL).
(5) T. P. ACT, S. 3.

TRESPASS.

See ADVERSE POSSESSION.

TRUSTEE.

See (1) TRUSTS.
(2) TRUSTS ACT.

TRUSTEE ACT (XXVII OF 1866).

——— Ss. 8, 20 and 32—High Court—Vesting order—Power to make.

Under the Indian Trustees Act by virtue of S. 8 the High Court may make a vesting order having the effect of a conveyance with regard to properties held, by a minor trustee or mortgagee and Ss. 20 and 32 may be used in the same way as similar sections in the English Act. (Chaudhury, J.) BASIR ALI v. HAFIZ NAZEF ALI. 43 Cal. 124 : 30 I. C. 406 : 19 C. W. N. 817.

TRUSTS.

Co-trustees.
Creation of.
Intention of the author.
Reimbursement.
Removal of trustee.
Transfer of office of trustee.
Transfer of trust property.
Miscellaneous.

Co-trustees.

——— Co-trustees—Administrator de bonis non—Suit by, against heirs of deceased administrator.

A testator appointed two executors of the property bequeathed to an idol. One of the executors died and the testator's daughter who had obtained grant of administration de bonis non sued is TRUSTS—Co-trustees.

heirs for account and delivery of moveable property. Held, that the heirs were under no obligation to render account to the administrator de bonis non. (Walmsley and Greaves, JJ.) GOURCHANDRA DAS v. MON MOHINI DASI.
62 I. C. 476. : 25 C. W. N. 332

———Co-trustees—Right of suit—Joint action essential.

Ordinarily all the trustees should be co-plffs. and only such of them should be made defts. as are unwilling to be joined as co-plffs. or have done some act precluding them from being joined as plffs. Where the administration of a trust is vested in several trustees, they all should be considered as forming one collective trustee, and they must exercise the powers of their office in their joint capacity. (Mookerjee and Walmsley, JJ.) NORENDRA NATH KUMAR v. ATUL CHANDRA BANDOPADHYA.
41 I. C. 837 : 27 C. L J. 605.

———Co-trustees—Joint possession—Right to.

Where a plff. and deft. are mujawars of a shrine and plff claims joint possession with the deit, in respect of a baithak and certain shops belonging to the shrine, a decree for joint possession could be granted and it does not involve the eviction of the defendant, 27 All. 153; 26 Cal. 553 , 43 P. R. 1906 Foll. (Rattigan and Jones, JJ.) MUHAMMAD HAYAT v. MUHAMMAD ALI.
94 P. R. 1915 : 31 I. C. 489 : 210 P. W. R. 1915.

———Co-trustees—Suit in ejectment—Omission to implead some of the trustees as parties—Effect of.

The general rule is that if several persons have a joint right of action all must join in suing. If any of them will not come in as plaintiffs they must be added as defendants. Co-trustees are subject to the above rule. 5 C. L. J. 527 ; 34 M. 406; 8 Cal. 42, 39 Mad. 456: Ref. Co-trustees form as it were one collective trustee and must exercise the powers of their office in their joint capacity and cannot act separately. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) THINA SHANMUGA MOOPANAR v. SUBBAYYA MOOPANAR.
42 M. L. J. 133 : (1922) M. W. N. 106 : 15 L. W. : 283 : 31 M. L. T. 266 : 1922 Mad. 317 (H. C.).

———Co-trustees—Hereditary trustees—Delegation of power to one.

Several hereditary truestees of a charitable trust may appoint one of them as a managing trustee for some purposes, though in the case of suits, etc., all should join as parties and should act after consulting each other. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) ANGAMUTHU v. RAMALINGA PILLAI.
60 I. C. 766 : 39 M L. J. 685.

———Co-trusees—Acts of majority—Two trustees—Charge.

The grant of Kanom by one of two trustees, without the other's consent is inoperative. 24 Mad. 296, Appl. The Kanomdar has a charge on the trust property if the Kanom amount has been applied to discharge a liability on the trust property. (Abdur Rahim and Napier, JJ.) KOVITTAL PARAMBIL PARUKAM v. ATTIMANA ILLETH NARAYANAN.
42 Mad. 335 : 9 L. W. 413 : 25 M. L. T. 272 : (1919) M. W. N. 247 : 50 I. C 371 : 36 M. L. J 295.

TRUSTS—Creation of.

———Co-trustees—Pro-note by one, with consent of others—Personal liability.

When any one of the trustees of a temple borrows money and executes a promissory note for the loan, he renders himself personally liable for the loan even though he uses the money for the benefit of the temple, if he takes the loan without the consent of his co-trustees. (Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) THIRUVENGADASWAMI IYENGAR v. VEERA PILLAI.
30 I C 778.

———Co-trustees—Power of majority of.

The whole body of a charitable trust can legally be bound by the majority. A few only of the trustees without any authority from the entire body cannot discharge third parties from payment of their dues to the trust. (Spencer and Coutts-Trotter, JJ.) NATRI MENON v GOPALAN NAIR.
39 Mad. 597 : (1915) M W. N. 586 : 2 L. W. 714 : 18 M. L. T. 220 : 30 I. C. 713 : 29 M L. J. 291.

———Co-trustees— Ejectment suit against tenant by one—Effect of.

A suit by one trustee against a tenant in ejectment even without consulting the co-trustees before suit but impleading them aa defendants after giving notice to them to join him in the suit, is maintainable. 20 M. L J. 951, Ref : 14 Mad. 489 : 23 Mad. 82, Dist. (Ayling and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) CHERUKAT MADTHIL EDAKRAMANCHERI v. MANGATHAYA DAMODARAM NAMBUDRI.
(1914) M. W. N. 834 : 26 I. C. 207 : 16 M. L. T. 250.

———Co-trustees—One trustee suing another in ejectment, if lies.

A single trustee cannot recover possession of the trust properties from another by evicting him though such a suit may lie against a stranger on behalf of the trust. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) AMBALAM PAKKIYA UDAYAN v. BATHE.
36 Mad. 418 : (1912) M. W. N. 152 : 13 I. C. 599 : 24 M. L J. 630.

———Co-trustees—Suit for rent—If maintainable by one alone.

A member of charity trust and religious trust can alone sue to recover rent and yet not implead the rest. (Po Hun, J.) MA SE v. U LUN.
2 Bur. L. J. 266.

Creation of.

———Creation of—Power of settlors to change the character of proprietary and contractual rights.

It is plain that, however clear the principle which governs the character of the proprietary and contractual rights, it is always open to the testator or settlor, with full power of disposition, to exclude its practical consequences. He has only to say that if, for example it is his intention that the person entitled to the fixed sum, payable only after the determination of the intermediate title should account to those in whom the intermediate title was vested or their representatives Such an expression of intention has, at least, the effect of creating a trust in equity and might in certain cases, be operative at law by giving a special character to the title of the periodical payments It has the effect of making the question in most instances one merely of construction of the instrument. (Viscount Haldane.) PHIROZSHAW BOMANJEE PETIT v. BAI GOOLBAI.

TRUSTS—Creation of.

47 Bom. 790 : 18 L. W. 940 : 26 Bom. L. R 76 : 33 M. L. T. 372 : 50 I. A. 276 : (1923) M. W. N. 616 : 1923 P. C. 171. (P C.).

——Creation of—Uncertainty of subject-matter.

No trust is created if the subject matter is too uncertain to enable the Court to administer it. (Lord Buckmaster.) BHAIDAS SHIVADAS v. BAI GULAB. 42 M. L. J. 385 (P. C.) : 46 Bom 153 : 24 Bom. L. R 551 : 26 C. W. N. 129 : 20 A. L. J. 289 : 35 C. L. J. 314 : 15 L. W. 412 : 30 M. L. T. 149 : 49 I. A. 1 : 1922 P. C. 193.

——Creation of—Presumption of advancement—Law in England and in India.

The general rule in principle of the Indian Law as to result in trust but little from the general rule of English Law upon the same subject. The decisions have established that Hindus or Mahomedans make transfers or grants for no apparent reason or purpose. Consequently the presumption of the resulting trust in favour of the person providing the purchase-money arises in India, and there is no presumption of an intended advancement in favour of the benamidar as there is in England. Where a transaction takes place between persons born in India of British parents and who have resided practically all their life in India the principles and the rules of the law are those of the Court of Chancery in England that will apply to them. Which rules of law will apply to any given case in India will not wholly depend on race, place of birth domicile or residence. But the widespread and persistent usages and practices of the native inhabitants are more important. The mere statement by the husband or the father that he did not intend to confer any beneficial interest on the donee or transferee is of little avail unless he proves that he had other different motives for the action he took Their Lordships held on the evidence that the presumption was an advancement to the wife was intended was rebutted (Lord Atkinson.) KERWICK v. KERWICK.

48 Cal. 260 : 47 I. A 275 : (1920) M. W. N. 738 : 13 L. W 455 : 28 M L. T. 194 : 57 I. C 834 : 32 C L. J. 490 : 2 U. P. L. R (P.C.) 153 : 23 Bom. L. R 730 : 39 M. L. J. 296. (P.C.) [On Appeal from 47 I. C. 376.]

——Creation of—Purchase in the name of wife or child—British descent—Presumption.

The law relating to resulting trusts is the same in England and India. But the doctrine of the Courts of Chancery that where a husband or a father pays the money and the purchase is taken in the name of a wife or child there is a presumption of advancement does not apply in this country except in the case of persons born in India of British parents and living in British India. (Lord Atkinson.) KERWICK v. KERWICK.

(1920) M. W. N. 738 : 8 M. L. T. 194 : 32 C. L. J. 490 : 57 I. C. 834 : 47 I. A. 275 (P.C.) : 39 M L. J. 296. 48 Cal. 260 : 23 Bom. L. R. 730 : 13 L. W. 455 : 2 U. P. L. R. (P.C.) 153 [On Appeal from 47 I. C. 376.]

——Creation of—Public purpose of charitable or religious nature.

A charitable trust might be created by a grant for the express purpose or a grant having been made in favour of an individual or class of individuals that individual or class might after obtaining the grant create a charitable trust. (Richards, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) PURAN ATAL v. BARSHAN DAS. 9 A L. J. 709 : 14 I C. 698 : 34 A. 468.

——Creation of—Essentials.

One essential of trust is that it should be imperative. If a man can perform or carry out the alleged trust just as he likes, then it is no trust. In other words if he is entitled to put the money into his own pocket, he is not a trustee known to the law. (Marten, J.) THE ADVOCATE GENERAL OF BOMBAY v. YASUFALLI EBRAHIM. 24 Bom. L. R. 1060.

——Creation of—Deed void—Position of trustees—Express and resultant trusts—Adverse possession by trustees—Right of cestui que trust.

Where what purports to be a trust-deed turns out to be void and therefore not to have passed the legal estate, the position of those who took possession, believing themselves to be trustees, necessarily assumes the character of possession by trespass and is therefore from the inception in law adverse against all the world. But where the trust-deed in itself is good and valid to the extent of passing the legal estate but the trusts declared are in themselves wholly or partially bad, then there is a resultant trust over to the author of the trust and the possession of the trustees, whatever they may think of it and however they may intend to use it for the purposes of carrying out the bad trusts, could not in law be adverse to the cestui que trust, that is to say the grantor so long as a trustee occupies the position of a trustee as soon as the declared trusts failed and there is a resultant trust in favour of the settlor, the trustee's possession is essentially that of his cestui que trust and can only be changed into adverse possession by a conscious and deliberate act; that is to say he must repudiate all intention of holding for the result in cestui que trust and he must assert his intention of continuing to apply the trust fund to uses which the Court had declared or which are known to him, to have failed. No act performed by a person taking as trustee under his own trust settlement, purporting to be in his capacity as a donor can have any bearing at all upon the character of his possession as a trustee. In case of an express trust a cestui que trust can recover the trust property from the trustee even after 12 years, though during the 12 years, he had taken no steps to recover the same. But if the trust is an implied trust then he must sue to recover the property within 12 years from the date of assumption of an adverse title by the trustee. There can be no adverse possession of the resultant trustee until there has been some material change in the character of the trustee referable to his knowledge of his changed relation and unmistakably adverse to his true cestui que trust. Where the ultimate resultant trust which is to spring back to the settlor is consistent with the discharge of the declared trust, then it may by loose use of language be said to be express on the face of the deed but where the extinction or failure of all the intended trusts is a condition precedent to the resultant trusts,coming into being then the latter is clearly a true resultant trust and is not express and never can be expressed on the face of the deed. There can be no question of limitation at all until the court has pronounced some at any rate of the declared trusts to be bad. Until the question whether the trusts are good or bad, is decided limitation does not begin to run against a resultant trustee. When the relation between the trustee and cestui que trust is established it would of necessity go back to the moment when any or all of these declared trusts failed. (Beaman, J.) PEER BHAY v. EBRAHIM.

TRUSTS—Creation of.

13 Bom. L. R. 717 : 12 I. C 225 : 36 B. 214.

———Creation of—Deed construction.

Where a partition deed recited that the son was to make over a certain quantity of rice and cocoanuts for the performance of divine service to the father during his lifetime and afterwards was to take over these profits himself and perform the said divine services, and it was also provided that the son should not mortgage or sell the lands, held, that there was no complete dedication of property to a religious trust but merely a gift subject to an obligation to perform certain services. (Batchelor and Roe, JJ.) DASSA RAMACHANDRA v. NARASINHA DAMODHAR,
35 Bom. 156 : 9 I. C. 768 : 13 Bom. L. R. 101.

———Creation of—Conditional trust—Gift to charity—Condition not fulfilled.

A Zamindar provided by a trust deed for the maintenance of himself and his family and 'after the liquidation and payment of debts to spend Rs. 500 for medical and educational charity within the Zamindari, as shall appear just to the trustees with his approval'. The trustees paid off the debts with a substantial balance in hand. The Zamindar dying in the meantime, his widow initiated proceedings to obtain direction from the Court whether the provision for charity was operative. Held, that the provision for charity was invalid. (Mookerjee, A. C. J. and Fletcher, J.) SANTONA ROY v. ADVOCATE-GENERAL OF BENGAL.
48 Cal. 124. 32 C. L. J. 453 : 62 I. C. 193 : 25 C. W. N. 343.

———Creation of—Charitable trust.

Although no formalaties are required to be observed in case of charitable trust, yet where the trust is created with reference to particular parties, the language should be clear enough to show that definite intention. (Oldfield and Krishnan, JJ.) VENKATACHALAPATHI v. CHAKRAPANI AIYAR.
42 M. L. J. 258 : 15 M. L. W. 279 : (1922) M. W. N. 123 : 1922 M. 83 (2).

TRUSTS—Intention of the author.

———Creation of—Absolute estate—Intention of the testator—No power of alienation.

Though the trust property is inalienable the testator is not precluded from creating an absolute estate in the trust property, and the trust property would descend to the heirs of the donee according to ordinary law. (Wallis, C. J. and Ramesam, J.) GURUVAJ AMMAH v. RANGASWAMI MUDALIAR.
62 I. C. 745 : 13 L. W. 513.

———Creation of—Private or public trust—Evidence—Power of family to pull an end to private endowment — Alienation of property to family temple.

Clear and strong proof of dedication to the public is necessary for the dedication to public of a temple which once admittedly belonged to a family. The member of a family may unanimously put an end to a private endowment such as a family temple. Property attached to a private temple belonging to a family cannot be sold in execution of a decree against the family. (Muthuswami Aiyar and Best, JJ.) APPU PATTAR v KURUMBA BHAGWATI.
11 I. C. 633 : 21 M. L. J. 588.

———Creation of—Registration of trust-deed.

Registration of a deed of trust passes title to the trustee in the absence of an intention to the contrary. (White, C. J. and Abdur Rahim, J.) PULLAYA CHETTY v. VEDACHELLA PILLAI.
(1911) 2 M. W. N. 376 : 11 I. C. 24 : 10 M. L. T. 44.

———Creation of—Declaration.

Where a person was entrusted with certain money and he was directed to defray the expenses of family ceremonials with the interest on the money there is a sufficient declaration of trust. (Batten, J. C.) KASHIPRASHAD v. MOHAN LAL.
1924 N. 63

———Creation of—Contract.

In a deed of sale, A the vendor left some money with the vendee B, for paying it to a third person and A also wrote a letter to B, to pay the amount to the third person. There was however no undertaking by B to pay to the third person, held, that there was no declaration of trust in favour of the third person who could not therefore recover the money from B. (Ross, J.) BHAGWAT NARAIN v. GANGA PRASAD.
62 I. C. 617.

———Creation of— Disposition contrary to personal law.

A man cannot by the interposition of a trustee make a disposition of property which under his personal law he cannot make by means of direct gift. (Twomey, C. J. and Maung Kin, J.) MA YU v. PO THAUNG.
50 I. C. 522 : 11 Bur. L. T. 234.

Intention of the author.

———Intention of author of trust—Conduct of trustees after execution of.

The misconduct of trustees or the neglect by them of their duties after the execution of the trust is no ground for determining the intention of the author of the trust when he executed the deed of trust. (Evans, J. C. and Lindsay, A. J. C.) HASHIM ALI KHAN v. SADIQ HUSAIN KHAN.

13 I C. 882 : 14 O. C. 356.

Reimbursement.

——— Reimbursement — Personal liability of the trustee.

A trustee is personally liable for the price of articles supplied to him for the use and benefit of the temple and no charge is made on the temple property for the price (Odgers, J.) PONNUSAMI CHETTAR v. PICHU SASTRIGAL, 62 I. C. 423 : 13 L. W. 323.

——— Reimbursement — Debt contracted on personal security—Trust purposes—Remedy of creditors

A creditor lending money to a trustee on his personal credit though for purposes of the trust cannot get a decree against the trust property but can get a personal decree against the trustee. The money may have been spent for the purposes of the trust. 26 Ch. D. 245; (1880) 15 Ch 548; 28 Cal. 574, Foll.; 31 Mad. 47. Expl. (Abdur Rahim and Spencer, JJ.) SWAMINATHA AIYAR v. SRINIVASA AIYAR, 21 M. L. T. 91 . (1917) M. W. N 278 : 5 L. W. 323 : 38 I. C. 172 : 32 M L. J. 259

——— Reimbursement—Right of—Money borrowed for temple.

A trustee of a temple borrows money for the temple. He must be indemnified from the trust estate for the debt (if he) pays it though the case is not covered by Ss. 69 and 70 of the Contract Act. (Abdur Rahim and Phillips, JJ.) SEETHARAMA IYER v. MURUGAYYA. 12 I. C. 335.

Removal of Trustee.

——— Removal of trustee—Rules as to--shebait —English law.

If a shebait in the exercise of his duties puts himself in such a position as would prevent him from well discharging his duties, he is liable to be removed. The grounds for removing a trustee from Office in England, are not the same as in India. (Lord Buckmaster.) PEARY MOHAN MUKERJI v. MONOHAR MUKERJI.
48 I. A. 258 : 19 A. L. J. 773 : 23 Bom. L. R. 913: 34 C. L. J 86 : (1921) M. W. N. 554 : 12 L. W. 104 : 26 C. W N 133 : 62 I. C. 76 : 2 Pat. L. T. 725 : 41 M L. J. 68 (P.C.)
[On Appeal see 54 I. C. 6.]

——— Removal of trustee—Trustees denying public character of trust.

Where the trustees appointed by the founder's heir, persistently contend that it is not a public trust but a private property, and participated in violations of the trust, it is a fit case for their removal by the Court. (Abdur Rahim and Burn, JJ.) VAITHINATHA AIYAR v. TYAGARAYA AIYAR. 68 I. C. 631 : 41 M. L. J. 20.

——— Removal of trustee—Failure to keep accounts.

The removal and appointment of a temple trustee can only be made by a majority of the Temple Committee. The trusteeship is in the nature of a freehold office under a corporation. In a suit by a newly appointed trustee to recover the office and properties attached thereto from the dismissed trustee, the latter can question the validity of his own dismissal and also the regularity of the appointment of his successor. A failure by a trustee to keep and to submit accounts are sufficient in law to justify his removal from the office of trustee. Quaere : Whether the Courts are competent to review findings of fact by a Temple Committee. (Wallis, C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) SUNDARESA GURUKKAL v. KUTTIAM SUBRAMANIAM MUDALI.

61 I. C. 741 : 13 L. W. 212.

——— Removal of trustee—Breach of trust—person entitled to become trustee in futuro—Remedy.

A person entitled to the office of trustee in futuro cannot sue for possession of the trust properties in presenti and the proper remedy is a suit for their removal from office and appointment of a receiver pending appointment of new trustees (Wallis, Offg. C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) ETTISHERI EDATHIL v. FOTHERA KALOOR.
26 I. C. 946 : 2 L W. 61.

——— Removal of trustee—Trustee obtaining interest in trust property.

Any transaction by which a trustee obtains an interest in trust property is to be deprecated. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) NEELAKANDAN NAMBHUDRI v. NARAYAN NAMBHUDRI.
17 I. C. 128.

——— Removal of trustee—Suit against trustees —No prayer for removal—If plffs. can be allowed to amend plaint asking for removal of the trustees.

Though there is no specific prayer for removal of the trustees yet the Court can decree the removal after allowing an amendment of the plaint. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) AMBALAM PAKKIYA WDAYAU v. BUTHE. 36 Mad 418 : (1912) M. W. N. 152 : 13 I C. 599 : 24 M. L. J. 630.

Transfer of Office of Trustee.

——— Transfer of office of trustee—Power to appoint a successor.

A trusteeship with power to appoint a successor is well known to and recognized by law. (Mookerjee, A J. C. and Fletcher, J.) KASSIM HASAN v. HAZRA BEGUM. 60 I. C. 165 . 32 C. L. J. 151.

——— Transfer of office of trustee—No right to associate stranger in management.

It is not competent to the author of a religious endowment to introduce a stranger into the trusteeship and to join him in dealing with trust property. (Spencer and Krishnan, JJ.) KOTASSERI E. V. SANKARAN NAMBI v. KANHOLI I. D. ANTHARJEMAM. 43 M. L. J 572 : (1922) M. W. N. 428 : 16 L W. 26 : 1922 Mad. 259.

——— Transfer of office of trustee—Whether a trustee can dispose of his office by will.

TRUSTS—Transfer of Office of Trustee.

A trustee acts illegally in disposing of his office by ill. He has no right to affect the succsssion which must be governed by the usage of the trust or the law of the land (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) RAJA RAM AIYAR v RAMASAMI AIYAR.
24 M. L J. 476 : 19 I. C. 660 : (1913) M. W. N. 557.

——Transfer of Office of trustee—Agreement vesting the office in one—Whether deprives the others of their office

An agreement among the trustees by which the management of the trustees vests in one, does not deprive the others of their office of trustee. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar JJ.) MALAPPURATH PARAMADHATHIL v. CHANNAZHI KRISHNAN.
13 I. C. 234 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 537.

Transfer of Trust Property.

——Transfer of trust property—Charge, creation of—Consent of settlor.

Where trustees created a charge in favour of the settlor for his consent to a mortgage of the trust property while his consent was unnecessary and where the creditor would not have refused the loan without such consent, neither the charge nor the mortgage can affect the trust estate. (Lord Parmoor.) SUBRAMANIAN v. RAJA RAJESWARA DORAI.
39 Mad. 115 : 29 M. L. J. 856 : 19 M. L. T 150 : (1916) 1 M. W. N. 100 : 3 L. W 149 : 20 C. W. N. 201 : 23 C. L. J. 337 : 14 A. L. J. 153 : 32 I. C 258 : 18 Bom. L. R. 360 (P.C.).

——Transfer of trust property—Permanent lease—Right of lessee to eject trespasser.

A permanent lease of trust property in excess of the trustee's powers is not void but only voidable. It is competent to the lessee to sue for the ejectment of the trespasser from the land, 40 Mad. 212, 36 Cal 1003 and 40 Mad. 709, Ref. (Spencer and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) KADIR MASTHAN ROWTHER v. SENGAMMAL.
43 Mad. 433 : 38 M. L. J. 198 : (1920) M. W. N. 185 : 55 I. C. 655 . 11 L. W. 197.

——Transfer of trust property—Charity and private trust—Distinction.

So far as alienation of trust property is concerned, there is no distinction between a private trust and a charity. A charity is and can be barred only when its trustee or manager is barred as the charity can only sue through natural person. 37 Cal. 885 (P. C.) Fol. (Ayling and Srinivasa Aiyangar, JJ.) SUBBAYA PANDARAM v. MAHOMED MUSTAFA 32 M. L.J. 85 : 21 M. L. T. 62 : 40 I.C. 50 : 5 L. W. 690.

Miscellaneous.

——Trustee de son tort—Accounts—Liability—Wilful default.

Where on the death of a shebait his son though not legally entitled to succeed took up the management he is liable as a trustee de son tort and cannot set up his want of title as a defence. To get a decree on the footing of wilful default, the cestui qui trust must allege and prove at least one instance of wilful default. He must prove some portions of the trust fund which were not received ought to have been collected. The liability in such a case is much higher. English Law on the subject reviewed (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) RAJA PEARY MOHAN MOOKERJI v. MANOHAR MOOKERJI.

TRUSTS—Miscellaneous.

27 C.W.N. 989 : 38 C. L. J. 255 : 1924 A. 161.

——Author of trust—Position of—Revocation.

A person who creates a trust and appoints himself as the first manager is only a manager and he cannot subsequently revoke or alter it or appoint new managers. (Banerjee and Ryves, JJ.) SIDDHAN LAL v. GAURI SHANKER.
40 I. C. 165.

——Whole income dedicated to charity—Absolute right—Meaning of.

Where a document gave the whole of the income of certain property of trustees "with absolute rights" held, that the property is dedicated completely to the trusts (2) that no one else should have any right of interference with that trustee's management and (3) that the provision did not give the trustee the power to appiont a trustee by testament. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) RAJA RAMA AIYAR v. RAMASWAMI AIYAR.
24 M. L. J. 476 : 19 I. C. 660 : (1913) M.W.N. 557.

——Roman Catholic Church—Question regarding temporal rights—Trustees seceding from Roman Catholic religion—Right to recover properties.

The Canon Law should be invoked to decide questions of temporal rights in Roman Catholic Churches. The right to the properties of the trust goes along with the right to the office of the trustee. 23 Mad. 271 (P.C); 17 Cal 3 (P. C.), Ref to. Where property dedicated to the Roman Catholic Church was in the possession of the defts who were formerly Roman Catholics. Held, that when the latter had seceded, the plffs. who were the managers were entitled to recover the properties and that the defts. had no right to have the trusts altered to suit the new religion which they had embraced. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) AMBALAM PAKYIA UDAYAN v. BATHE.
38 Mad. 418 : (1912) M. W. N. 152 : 13 I. C. 599 ; 24 M.L J. 630.

——Money-lending by trustee—Capital partly his and partly of estate—Profits, how shared.

In case of the money-lending business of the trustee partly from his own capital and partly from that of the wards estates, the profits of the business can be only proportionately claimed by the estate. (White, C. J. and Abdur Rahim, J.) RANVHODE DAS v. KRISHNA DAS.
10 M. L. T. 272 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 271 : 12 I. C. 253 : 21 M. L. J. 1096.

——Validity—Recognition by Courts.

In India Courts only recognise the validity of trusts which they can themselves execute or can control when in process of being executed by trustees. (Batten and Stanyon, A. J. Cs.) MRS. ELKINS v. REV, DR. CULLEM.
40 I. C. 791 : 13 N. L. R. 51.

——Trust property—Tirumaligais.

Tirumaligais are private properties and not trust properties. (Stuart, A. J. C.) BISHESHAR SINGH v. TIRBHAWAN BAHADUR SINGH.
34 I. C. 768 : 3 O. L. J. 222.

TRUSTS—Miscellaneous.

———Trustee—De son tort—Position of volunteer managing another's property.

The payment of salary is no criterion of the liability of a trustee, and a volunteer managing another's property without salary is a constructive trustee bound to account for the due management of the property. (Mullick and Atkinson, JJ.) DILTOR KOER v. HARKHOO SINGH.

37 I. C. 367.

———Trustee appointed to realise assets of insolvent—Negligence of trustee—Rights of creditor against insolvent while arrangement in force.

Negligence on the part of the trustee appointed under an award to realise the assets of the insolvent will not entitle plaintiff, a creditor, to recover his debt from the insolvent as long as the arrangement under the arbitration, to which he (the creditor) was a party or which he had subsequently accepted, is in force nor has he any redress against another creditor who has assigned the debt due to him from the insolvent, with an indemnity bond, to the plaintiff until it is known whether or not the liquidation proceedings will result in the payment of insolvent's debt in full. It is impossible to allow one creditor who is a party to a settlement to proceed against a trustee in respect of one debt alone. If he wishes to proceed at all on the basis of the settlement he must sue to enforce the settlement as a whole. (Kennedy, J. C. and Madgavkar, A. J. C.) DOWLAT RAM v. RUPSI MADHOWJI.

1923 Sindh 33.

———Trustee de son tort—Heirs of deceased trustee.

The sons of a deceased trustee are not trustees de son tort and no suit by the surviving trustee lies against them to recover a debt due to him by the trust as the suit is not one to recover the trust funds for the trust. It is doubtful whether an ordinary creditor can follow trust funds in the hands of persons who are not trustees de son tort. (Kennedy, J. C. and Kemp, A. J. C.) RAMUMAL v. BHAGWAN DAS.

62 I. C. 982 : 15 S. L. R. 98.

TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1882).

———Applicability of—Public trusts—Formalities necessary for dedication—Intention—Executory trust—Enforceability of.

The Trusts Act does not apply to public trusts and consequently no formalities are required by law to create them—Yet, there must be a definite and imperative declaration of trust by the donor who must also have parted with his rights in the property for the benefit of the beneficiaries. A mere intention to dedicate in future does not constitute a public trust. The law relating to the enforceability of executory trusts has no application to charitable trusts where the beneficiaries are were volunteers (Oldfield and Krishnan, JJ.) VENKATACHALAPATHI AIYAR v. CHAKRAPANI AIYAR.

15 L. W. 279 : (1922) M. W. N. 123 : 42 M. L. J. 258 : 1922 Mad. 83.

———Applicability —Bihar.

Although the IndianTrusts Act does not in terms apply to Bihar, the principles contained therein will apply being rules of justice, equity and good conscience. (Jwala Prasad and Fester, JJ.) GOBIND SINGH v. MAHARAJA KUMAR GOPAL SARAN NARAIN SINGH. 4 Pat. L. T. 731 : 2 Pat L. R 27 : 1924 P. 343.

TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1882), S. 5.

———Chap. IX—Relationship of bailor and bailee, does not fall within Chap. IX.

A bailee of goods is not an express trustee and relationship between him and the bailor does not fall within the classes of case specified in Chap. IX of the Act. (Ayling, O. C. J. and Odgers, J.). KATTA RAMASAMI v. KAMALAMMAL.

14 L. W. 599 : (1921) M. W. N. 801 : 30 M. L. T. 156 :45 M. 173 : 42 M. L. J. 32 : 1922 M. 44.

———Ss 3 and 6—Creation of trust.

Where a person executed an agreement by which he appointed N manager and receiver of all his property moveable and immoveable for 10 years and put N in possession under that agreement on the understanding that N was to keep accounts and explain them to D in July of each year and was to receive certain remuneration for his work. Held, the agreement did not constitute N a trustee. (Sir John Edge.) B. L. RAI v. BHAIYALAL.

24 C. W. N. 769 : 16 N. L. R. 94 : 28 M. L. T 345 : 58 I. C. 13 : (1920) M. W. N. 685. (P. C.)

———S. 4—Discharge of dower debt and preventing disputes if unlawful.

Under S. 4 of the Trusts Act the discharge of a dower debt due from the settlor to his wife and the prevention of future disputes between the members are not unlawful. (Evans, J. C. and Lindsay, A. J C.) MAHOMED HASHIM ALIKHAN v. SADIQ HUSSAIN KHAN.

13 I. C. 882 : 14 O. C. 356.

———S. 5—Creation of trust.

A, a Jain widow who held a share in the Bank of Bombay transferred it to B, to secure a debt. After discharging the debt she desired to transfer the share to her minor nephews. Accordingly she presented the transfer signed by B but the Bank refused to effect the transfer as the transferees were minors. A then directed the transfer to her brothers as trustees for the minors and the transfer was lodged on 15th Dec. Meanwhile A died on the 14th. The heirs of A, contended that neither gift nor trust was created. Held, (1) A, had an equitable interest in the share while the legal holder was the registered proprietor, B ; (2) after the discharge of B's debt he held the legal title as trustee for A ; (3) A, disposed of her interest in the share and had before her death, done everything necesssary to divest herself of her equitable interest in favour of her nephews; (4) as the share had passed out of A's control before death and the legal holder B, having notice and having signed a transfer on the 1st Dec. in favour of the minors, could convey only for their benefit, the gift and trust in respect of the share where complete and (5) the trust in favour of the minors was complete, although there was no written and signed declaration of trust by A, as the property already vested in a trustee B., who had notice of the trust in favour of the minors and could in equity be compelled to perform the trust duty. (Scott, C. J. and Batchelor, J.) MADANJI DEVCHAND v. TRIBHOWAN VIRCHAND. 36 Bom. 396 : 12 I. C. 892 : 13 Bom. L. R. 1121.

——— Ss. 5 and 6—Author of trust himself trustee—Transfer if necessary.

As a general rule, a transfer of property to the trustee is one of the conditions necessary for a valid trust ; but where the trust is declared by will, or the author of the trust is himself to be the trustee no such transfer is necessary. (Chandavarkar and Heaton, JJ.) RAI MAHARORE v. BAI MANGLA. 35 Bom. 403 : 11 I C. 564 : 13 Bom. L. R. 564.

——— S. 5—Revocable trust—How far valid.

A revocable trust is valid and the acts of the trustee up to the date of the revocation will be binding on the author of the trust. (Johnstone and Rattigan, JJ.) SHIB NATH v. ALLIANCE BANK OF SIMLA, LTD., LAHORE. 8 P. R. 1915 : 110 P. W. R, 1914: 25 I. C. 480: 215 P. L. R. 1914.

——— Ss. 5 and 6—Minor — Incapacity to be the author of a trust.

To create a valid trust of immoveable property in favour of a private individual the provisions of Ss. 5 and 6 of the Trusts Act must be strictly complied with. A minor cannot create a valid trust. (Krishnan and Odgers, JJ.) KRISHNA PATTAR v. LAKSHMI. 45 Mad. 415 : 42 M. L. J. 119 : (1922) M W. N. 117: 30 M. L. T. 238 : 16 L. W. 886 : 1922 Mad. 57.

——— Ss. 5 and 6—Creation of trust—Direction for sale.

There must be words of transfer in a document and it must vest the property in the trustee as the legal owner, if it is to be a deed of trust, although no particular form of the expression is necessary. Mere intention to create a trust, however, is not sufficient. A document described as a trust deed was executed in favour of a person empowering him to sell all moveable and immoveable properties of the executant and to recover the outstandings and distribute the assets rateably among the creditors, but the deed contained no words of transfer. Held, that the document did not create a trust under Ss. 5 and 6 of the Act. As the document was one and indivisible, it did not create any rights of trusteeship even in respect of moveable property. No security or charge was created in respect of the moveable property in favour of the trustee. (Abdur Rahim and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) ALAGAPPA CHETTIAR v. LAKSHMANAN CHETTIAR. 51 I. C. 253 : 24 M L. T. 267.

——— S. 5—Trust—Creation of—Benami purchaser at Court-sale.

A valid trust in respect of immoveable property can only be created by a writing signed by the author of the trust and registered in the case of a non-testamentary instrument. When it is alleged that the auction purchaser was put in possession of the properties as a trustee but no valid trust deed was produced the suit is barred by S. 66, C. P. C. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Tyabji, JJ.) KAMURUDEEN v. NOOR MAHOMED. (1915) M. W. N. 204 : 17 M. L T. 158 : 28 I. C. 205 : 28 M. L J. 251.

——— S. 6—Declaration of trust.

There is a sufficient declaration of trust, within S. 6, and there is no need of transferring possession where the property, the intended beneficiaries and the purposes of the trust were specified. (Beaman, J.) LADAKA BAI v. NAVIVAHU: 31 I. C. 708: 17 Bom. L. R. 783.

——— S. 6—Trust— Creation of—Vesting of property.

A document not vesting any interest in the properties covered by it in the so called trustees is not strictly a deed of trust. (Asutosh Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) SIDHUSAHU v. GOPICHARAN DAS. 18 I. C. 969 : 17 C. L. J. 233.

——— S. 6—Trust—Creation of—Fund in the hands of trustee—Acts necessary to create trust.

To constitute himself a trustee the owner must either expressly declare himself a trustee or must use language which, taken in connection with his acts, show a clear intention on his part to divest himself of beneficial interest in it and to exercise dominion and control over it exclusively in the character of a trustee. (Abdur Rahim and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) SABJAN SAHIB v. ABDUL AZEEZ SAHIB. 42 I. C. 664.

——— S. 6—Creation of trust—Third party to contract—Right to sue for benefit conferred by contract—Rule—Exception—Circumstances indicating trust—Contract Act, S. 25.

Where A contracts with B, to pay money to C, C cannot merely on the basis of such a contract sue A Empress Engineering Co. In re: (1880) 16 Ch. D. 126, Ref In order to enable C to sue as a cestui qui trust the contract must be intended to secure a benefit to him. Gandy v. Gandy, (1884) 30 Ch. D. 69, 70, 74, Ref. The plff. sued the deft, the widow of the Zemindar of Kirlampudi, for the recovery of the arrears of salary agreed to be given to him by the Zemindar The grounds of the deft.'s liability were stated in the plaint to be that in consideration of great services rendered by the plff. and his father to the Zemindar, the latter agreed to give the plff. a salary of Rs. 20 a month during the plff's. life time and that in the deed of mortgage with possession executed by the Zemindar in favour of the deft. there was stipulation that the defendant should pay the allowances to the plff. Held, that plff. could not recover on the strength of the direction to pay contained in the mortgage deed unless the deft. could be held to have been constituted a trustee for the plff. Circumstances from which a trust could be inferred considered. (Tyabji and Phillips, JJ.) KASTURAMMA v VENKATASURAYYA GARU. 2 L. W. 920 : 18 M. L. T 353 : 30 I. C. 878 : (1915) M. W. N. 947: 29 M. L. J. 539.

——— S 6—Physical delivery in addition to registered instrument if necessary to effect valid trust.

TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1882), S. 10.

The physical delivery of property in addition to execution of a registered instrument of transfer is not necessary for the creation of a valid trust (Evans, J. C. and Lindsay, A. J. C.) MOHAMAD HASHIM ALIKHAN v. SADEQ HASAN KHAN.
13 I. C 882 : 14 O. C. 356.

——— S. 10—Alien can be trustee.

The appointment by a Hindu of a trustee to take over the estates collect profits, pay debts, etc., is not unlawful because the trustee is of alien race of religion. (Johnstone and Rattigan, JJ.) SHIB NATH v. ALLIANCE BANK OF SIMLA, LTD., LAHORE. 3 P. R. 1915 : 110 P W. R. 1914 : 25 I. C. 480 : 215 P. L. R. 1914.

———Ss. 15 and 20—Trustee—Duty of—Investment of funds

A trustee of a religious or charitable institution may invest the proceeds in a bank possessing a good reputation and renew the deposits from year to year, so that they may be available for the probable expenditure. A direction to invest in Govt. securities in not disbeyed where the trustee put in a fixed deposit in a Bank renewing the deposit from year to year, so as to be available to him even before. (Abdur Rahim and Phillips, JJ.) SUBRAMANIA IYER v. PRAYAG DOSEE VARU. 33 I C. 677.

———S. 15—Care required from trustee.

The measure of prudence required of a trustee by S. 15 must be regulated by any specific provision applicable to special matters found in the other sections of the Act. S 15 does not apply where the trustee has committed a breach of trust as by acting contrary to S. 20 The broad terms of S. 23 are not controlled by S. 15. The Indian Courts have not been given the powers conferred on English Courts by successive English statutes of relieving honest trustees from their liability for breach of trust. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) TIRUPATIRAYUDU NAIDU v. LAKSHMI NARASAMMA. 38 Mad. 71 : 23 M. L J. 599 : 12 M. L. T. 530 : 17 I. C. 597 : (1912 M W N. 1237.

———S. 19—Accounts by trustee

A trustee must keep clear and accurate accounts of the trust property keeping it apart from his private property. The Court should scrutinize the accounts before passing it. (White, C, J, and Spencer, J,) NEELAYATHAKSHI AMMAL v. THE TALUK BOARD OF MAYAVARAM.
10 M. L. T. 353 : 12 I. C. 440 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 350.

———S. 19—Accounts—Liability for—Dealing on his account with rents of leasehold property—Extent of liability.

Where a trustee is sued by the beneficiary for the recovery of possession of certain leasehold property and its profits appropriated by the trustee, the value of the produce rents at the time and place of the receipt is the measure of the liability and not the price fetched by sales at a later date The fluctuations of the market are ordinarily matters too remote to be taken into consideration in estimating liability in such cases If the person liable to account for the produce rent to his employer should, without fraud, convert it to his own use, his liability cannot be measured by the price at which the produce was subsequently sold. If the market should fall it would not deminish his liability. If it should rise, there is no reason why his liability should be increased. The rise and fall of the market are circumstances too remote to be taken into consideration. (Miller, C. J. and Mullick, J.) RAI BAHADUR HARIHAR PRASAD SINGH v. MAHARAJA KESHO PRASAD SINGH.
3 Pat. L T. 638 : 1922 P 598.

———S. 19—Suppression of accounts by trustee—Presumption.

Where a trustee or agent by his tortious acts make it impossible for the other party to discover the state of property every presumption consistent with established facts ought to be made. (Das and Ross, JJ.) GOBIND DUBEY v. PARMESHWAR DUBEY. 62 I. C. 83 : 2 Pat. L, T. 365.

———Ss. 20, 36 and 40—Power to sell land—Emergency power of Court to sanction under its extra ordinary jurisdiction,

In cases of emergency not provided for by the trust instrument and not within the contemplation of the author of the trust, the Court has power under its extraordinary jurisdiction to sanction the trustees doing acts which are necessary for the protection of the trust estate although not expressly authorised by the trust instrument. But the jurisdiction is of an extremely delicate character and must be exercised with the greatest caution. Where house property was subject to a large set back under the Municipal Regulations and was in urgent need of sanitary and other heavy repairs, the Court sanctioned the sale of the property by the trustees, although the trust settlement contained no power of sale. In re New, (1901 2 Ch, 534 Foll. In re Tollemashe (1903) 1 Ch 457, 955 Ref. Semble.—In cases where there is no express or implied power of sale of immoveable property in the trust instrument itself, Ss. 40 and 36 of the Trusts Act do not enable the property to be sold by the trustees. (Martin, J.) SHIRINBAI MARWANJI DALAL, In re.
43 Bom. 519 : 49 I. C. 882 : 21 Bom.L. R. 41.

———S. 20—Does not apply to (religious or) charitable trusts.

The forms of instrument mentioned in S. 20 of the Indian Trusts Act are restricted only to private trusts and do not necessarily exhaust the modes of investment permissible in the case of charitable trusts. (Abdur Rahim and Phillips JJ.) SUBRAMANIA AIYAR v. PRAYAG DOSSJEE VARU.
33 I. C. 677.

———Ss. 20 and 23—Lessee agreeing to deposit a year's lease amount with lessor—Deposit with lessor in Bank at lessee's request—Failure of Bank—Lessor, if liable.

A lessee deposited the amount of a year's rent with his lessor till the expiry of the lease or its cancellation and at his request the lessor deposited the money in a certain bank, and paid its interest to the lessee. The bank failed Held, that even if the lessor be assumed to be in the position of a trustee, he was not liable for the loss of the money and the lessor's assignee was entitled to sue for rent. (Wallis, C. J. and Hannay, J.) RAJARAM ROY v. VENKATACHALA CHETTIAR. 29 I. C. 997.

TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1882), S. 20.

——Ss. 20 and 15 —Construction—Trust in favour of minor,

S 20 which regulates the mode in which a trustee is to make investments is not controlled by S. 15. Trust monies payable to a minor cannot be applied for the trust at an early date as the trustees could not pay the money, until the minor becomes sui juris. And even as regards money capable of being so applied at an early date, if the trustee takes the responsibility of keeping the money in investment for a long time, he must make the investment according to his obligation as trustee. (Sundara Iyer and Sadasiva Iyer, JJ.) TIRUPATIRAYUDU NAIDU v. LAKSHMI NARASAMMA 38 Mad. 71 : 23 M. L J. 599 : 12 M. L. T. 530. 17 I. C. 597 : (1912) M. W. N. 1237

——S. 23—Guardian and ward—Moneys of ward employed in business.

If the ward's money are used by the guardian in his business the latter would be bound to account for the profits he had made out of the use of that money or could have made but for his gross or wilful default. Every plain neglect of duty by a guardian amounts to a breach of trust and he must compensate his ward for any loss occasioned thereby. (Broadway and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) LABHU RAM v. BHAG MAL. 54 I. C. 926 : 157 P. R. 1919.

——S. 23—Defaulting trustee—Public trust

S. 23. Cl. (e) of the Trusts Act which makes a defaulting trustee liable to account for compound interest with half-yearly rests applies to private trusts ; and to cases of public trusts, a rule of that nature can only be adopted with such modifications as the circumstances of such case require. (Abdul Rahim and Burn, JJ.) RAJAH OF KALAHASTI v. GANAPATHI IYER. 48 I. C. 897 · (1918) M W. N. 555.

——S. 23—Trustee for payment to creditors —Negligence—Effect.

A trustee for payment to creditors if he fails to exercise due diligence in his duties must be debited with the loss caused by his laches and should not be allowed costs of suit instituted by him after limitation He is bound to pay interest on the money he may retain after paying debts only when he is guilty of a breach of trust but when there has been negligence in the trustee and contributory negligence in the debtor which caused the loss, the trustee should not be charged with interest. (Ayling and Srinivasa Iyengar, JJ.) GOLLA NAGAYA v. KUNNUGUNTAL VENKATA SUBBARAYADU. 40 I. C. 779.

——Ss. 23, 51—Breach of trust—Liability.

If the person liable to account for produce rent to his employer should without fraud convert it to his own use, his liability cannot be measured by the price at which the produce was subsequently sold (Miller, C. J and Mullick, J.) HARIHAR PRASAD SINGH v. MAHARAJAH KESHO PRASAD SINGH. 3 P. L. T. 638 : 1922 P. 598.

TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1882), S. 35.

——S. 23 (e)—Unauthorised investment.

If a trustee invests money in unauthorised security it must be treated as tantamount to failure to invest under Cl (e) of S. 23 and he is liable for interest on the money lost. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) TIRUPATIRAYUDU NAIDU v. LAKSHMI NARASAMMA. 38 Mad. 71 : 23 M. L. J. 599 : 12 M. L T. 530 : 17 I C. 597 : (1912) M. W. N. 1237.

——S 23 (f)—Rate of interest.

Under S. 23 (f) a trustee charged with employing trust monies in his own private trade or business cannot be directed to pay interest exceeding 6 per annum though he admits to pay higher rate. (Wallis, C. J. and Phillips, J.) VISHVANATHAM v. BRAMANANDAN. 34 I. C 900.

——S. 27—Applicability of to religious trusts —Breach of trust—Unnecessary expenditure—Right of contribution.

A member of a Temple Committee who pays the whole sum of money which has been declared to be unnecessary is entitled to contribution from the others though some of them are not formally impleaded as parties because the liability depends upon the question whether all of them are guilty of the technical breach of trust. The Committee members exercising complete control over the manager become trustees de son tort and as such are liable to the cestui que trust for trust money spent unnecessarily. 12 Mad. 366 ; 21 Mad. 179 and 15 M. L. J. 185, Ref. to. (Benson and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) RAMANATHAN CHETTIAR v. SWAMINATHA AIYAR. 12 M. L. T. 155 : 14 I. C. 520 : 23 M. L J. 278.

——S. 32—Principle of—Applies to public trusts.

The trustees of a public charity have no larger rights against the trust property in respect of out of pocket expenses than are recognised in S. 32 (Wallis, C.J., and Coutts Trotter, J.) NARAYANAN CHETTIAR v. LAKSHMANAN CHETTIAR. 39 Mad. 456 : 29 I C 1. : 28 M. L. J. 571.

——S. 32—Trustee spending money in bona fide litigation—Person not entitled to office cannot be reimbursed,

A trustee is entitled to be reimbursed the moneys spent by him on a bona fide litgation believed to be in the interest of the cestui que trust but a person not really entitled to the office cannot so claim. (Benson and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) SUBRAMANIA AIYAR v. SUBBA NAIDU. 25 M. L. J. 452 : 21 I. C. 421 : 14 M. L. T. 437.

——S. 35—Appointment of new trustee—Charity—Application in Chambers.

Under S. 35 of the Trustees Act a new trustee of a Hindu charity property may be appointed in place of one who is mentally infirm. An application for the appointment of a new trustee should normally be made by petition or summons to be heard in Chambers. Preferably the application should specify the provision of law under which the appointment is sought. (Martin, J.) BASIL LANG v. MOOLJI AND BHAGWAN. 54 I. C. 455 : 21 Bom. L. R. 1111.

TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1882), S. 36.

——S. 36—Trust—Charge, creation of—Consent of settlor—Payment for—Validity of—Charge in pursuance, if supportable on other ground

The appellant was one of the creditors of the Rajah of Ramnad who made a voluntary settlement of his zamindari subject to payment of debts and certain allowances to himself. To pay off the debts binding on the zemindari the trustees had to borrow money on a first mortgage from certain English financiers who required the conjunction of the Rajah of Ramnad to the deed and an agreement by him to postpone his right to the allowance to the mortgage. The trustee promised to give the Rajah a mortgage for 4 lakhs as consideration for his consent. The charge thus promised to the Rajah was used to create the suit mortgage in favour of the appellant in pursuance of the compromise in the suit brought by him for the recovery of the amount due to him. Held, that in the absence of evidence that the English financiers would have refused to lend without the conjunction of the Rajah even if the true legal position (as to his consent being unnecessary) were explained to them or that the Rajah would have refused to join unless he was given the promised charge, the charge in his favour could not be supported. The mortgage in favour of the appellant being only the utilisation of the charge in favour of the Rajah must fall with it, in the absence of evidence that the trustees had any intention apart from the agreement with the Rajah, to create an additional charge in favour of the appellant. (Lord Parmoor.) SUBRAMANIYAM CHETTIAR v. RAJA RAJESWARA DORAI. 39 Mad. 115 : 20 C. W. N. 201 : 19 M. L. T. 150 : (1916) 1 M. W. N 100 : 3 L. W. 149 : 23 C. L. J. 337 : 14 A. L. J. 153 : 32 I C. 258 : 18 Bom. L. R. 360 : 29 M. L. J. 856 (P. C).

[Affirming 2 I. C. 963 : 32 Mad. 490.]

——S. 36—Temple property—Lease by trustee—Permanent tenancy—Onus of proof.

Where temple properties are leased out by the trustees of a temple, the presumption is against the existence of a permanent tenancy and the onus of proof is on those who allege its existence. (Wallis, C. J and Krishnan, J.) CHINNAMMAL v RATNASABAPATHY CHETTIAR. 12 L. W. 191 : 59 I. C. 241 : (1920) M. W. N. 532.

——S. 41—Application of property of minor for their education—Power of Court.

The court cannot permit the administrator to apply the property of the minor to their maintenance and education since a minor cannot be said to have a trustee in an administrator of his estate. (Maung Kin, J.) THE ESTATE OF A. H. COTTON, In re. 49 I. C. 277 : 11 Bur. L. T. 149.

——S. 43—'Sole acting trustee' can compromise doubtful claim.

Where a trust deed authorizes a sole trustee to execute the trusts and powers thereof he is a sole acting trustee within S. 43 and a compromise by him of a doubtful claim is within his powers. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) RAJARAJESWARA SETHUPATHI v. KUPPUSAMI IYER. (1921) M. W. N. 722: 68 I. C. 352 : 41 M. L. J. 474

TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1882), S. 44.

——S. 43—Religious trust—Duty of Court to scrutinise compromises by trustees.

Per Sadasiva Aiyar, J.—Though S. 43 of the Act does not apply to public or private religious trusts, it regulates the powers of a trustee of a religious trust. Courts in India should scrutinize with great care alienations by compromise and awards out of Court made in reference to properties belonging to a charity. (Oldfield and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) RAVI VARMA RAJAH v. RAMA SUBRAMANIA PATTAR. 31 M. L J. 733 : (1916) 2 M. W. N. 312 : 37 I. C. 692 : 4 L. W. 576.

——Ss 43 and 42—Majority—Execution of document by—Whether operative— Intention — Payment to one of several trustees.

The whole body of a charitable trust can legally be bound by the majority. Where there are several trustees payment to one of them who has no authority either actual or by estoppel to receive and give discharge, is not a valid payment. "Any trustee or trustees" in S. 42 of the Trusts Act mean the trustee where there is only one and all the trustees where there are more. 1 Bom. L. B. 667, Diss. (Spencer and Coutts-Trotter, JJ.) NETHIRI MENON v. MULLAPULLI GOPALAN NAIR. 39 Mad. 597 : 29 M. L. J. 291 : 18 M L. T. 220 : 2 L. W. 714 : 30 I. C. 713 : (1915) M. W. N. 586.

——S. 43 (c)—Public trust—Compromise in respect of—Validity.

A compromise relating to an office of public trust is not necessarily opposed to public policy but must be scrutinized by the Court to see whether it is in violation of the trusts of the institution or affects adversely the interests to religious public. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) VENKATACHALLAM v. RAMANATHAN CHETTIAR. (1921) M. W. N. 423 : 15 L W. 111 : 31 M. L. T. 52 : 1922 Mad. 429.

——S. 43 (c)—Powers of trustees — Compromise effected by.

A compromise by trustee in good faith is lawful and the Court will not enquire whether it is beneficial to the trust. (Abdur Rahim and Oldfield, JJ.) PAMBAYAM CHETTY v. KANDASAMI IYER. 60 I. C. 22 : 12 L. W. 562.

——Ss. 44, 45, 71 and 76—Trustees of temple—Resignation of one—Suit by others — Death of one, pending suit—Suit whether can be continued by the rest.

A deed of trust vesting the management of a temple in five trustees provided that they should jointly sue on behalf of the temple and laid down the procedure for filling vacancies caused by the death or resignation of any trustee. One of the trustees resigned the other four brought a suit on behalf of the temple and pending the appeal to the High Court one other trustee died. Held. (1) that the resignation operated as a valid discharge of the trustee from his duties, and the trust property passed to the others : (2) that the suit instituted by the remaining four trustees was maintainable and (3) that on the death of one of the trustees in the course of the appeal, it could be validly continued by the other three. 34 Mad. 1 Dist. (Ayling and Phillips, JJ.) KRISHNA BATTA v. SRINIVASA SHAMBAGU. 32 I. C. 97.

TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1882), S. 47.

———S. 47—Trustees cannot delegate functions.

"Fiduciary duties cannot be made the subject of delegation," so that where property was in the hands of a person charged with expenses necessary for certain religious and charitable purposes, and his son purporting to act as his attorney executed a morasi mokurari pattah of the lands. Held, that the pattah was ultra vires and conveyed no title, for even if the father was not in the strictest sense a trustee, his position was none the less a representative one. (Lord Buckmaster.) K. S BONNERJI v. SITANATH DAS.

26 C. W. N. 286 : (1922) M. W N. 98 : L. R. 3. P. C. 34 : 30 M L. T. 182 : 20 A. L. J. 294 : 15 L W. 452 : 35 C. L. J. 320 : 24 Bom. L. R. 565 : 49 I A. 46 : 42 M. L. J. 403 : 1922 P. C. 209 (P. C.).

———S. 47—Delegation of powers to agent—Temple servants—Discretion.

A trustee cannot appoint an agent to do acts in which judicial discretion was intended to be exercised by himself. The power of appointment and dismissal of hereditary temple servants is not one of the powers which is capable of being delegated to an agent. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) PARASURAMA UDAYAR v. THIRUMAL RAO.

44 Mad 636 : 14 L. W. 159 : (1921) M. W. N. 533 : 63 I. C. 364 : 41 M. L. J. 17.

———S 48—Co-trustees—Suit by some—Religious endowment.

Two out of five trustees of temple properties, can sue tenants of the property for rent ; the suit is not bad for misjoinder. One out of many trustees can give a valid discharge, if he is authorised by his co-trustees to do so. (Wallis, C. J. and Phillips, J.) PONNAMBALA PILLAI v. MUTHU CHETTIAR.

(1916) 1 M. W. N. 181 : 33 I. C. 52 : 30 M. L. J. 619.

———S. 48—Temple property—Co-trustees—Rent suit—Parties.

A trustee of temple properties cannot sue singly for rent without making other co-trustees parties. (Wallis and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) VAVUTTU NAIKEN v. VENKATA SESHA.

24 I. C. 806.

———S. 52—Purchase by trustes from major beneficiaries—Validity.

If a trustee is not a trustee for sale he may purchase a property from the beneficiaries if they are major but he must disclose to them all facts within his knowledge concerning the property. Though a trustee is otherwise entitled to purchase yet if he purchases secretly in another person's name the purchase is invalid. (Lord Buckmaster) PEARY MOHAN MUKHERJI v. MONOHAR MUKERJI.

48 I. A. 258 : 19 A. L. J. 773 : 23 Bom. L. R. 913 : 34 C. L. J. 86 : 14 L. W. 104 : (1921) M. W. N. 554 : 2 Pat. L. T. 725 : 26 C. W N. 133 : 62 I. C. 76 : 41 M. L. J. 68 (P. C.).

[On Appeal see 54 I.C. 6]

———S. 53—Trustee—Incapacity to sell to himself.

TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1882), S. 63.

When any one is in fiduciary position he cannot sell to himself. Thus an ordinary trustee cannot buy trust property nor can an official appointed to conduct a sale for creditors be himself the purchaser. But where a seller sold not on behalf of the debenture holder alone but on behalf of the Company and it was his duty and interest to secure as high a price as possible so that the balance—after meeting secured debts—should go to the Company, the fact that the buyer is himself a holder of the debentures becomes irrelevant. There is no merging of the two positions which is what is prohibited—namely, that the interest of the seller, to get the highest price, and of the buyer to get the lowest price, is centred in the same person. (Lord Dunedin.) KANHAYA LAL v. NATIONAL BANK OF INDIA, LTD

45 M.L.J. 497 : 33 M L. T. (P. C.) 349 : 25 Bom. L. R. 1248 : 4 Lah. 284 : 50 I. A. 162 : 1923 P. C. 114 (P.C.).

———Ss. 53 and 88—Executor de son tort—Trustee acquiring a permanent tenancy in the estate—Purchase for benefit of the estate.

A person appointed as manager by an executor of an estate should be regarded as an executor de son tort and therefore a trustee by purchasing a tenancy within the estate, comes within the principle of Ss. 53 and 88 of the Act. Therefore the purchase by him must be taken to have been made for the benefit of the estate. (Beaman, J.) GOKULDAS v. VALIBAI.

19 I. C. 844 : 15 Bom. L. R. 343.

———S. 59—Scope.

Where the settlor and the transferee of the share held by the settlor are residing abroad but the trust is set up in a British Indian Court, S. of the Trust Act applies. (Scott, C. J. and Batchelor, J.) MADANJI v. TRIBHURAN.

36 Bom. 396 : 12 I. C. 892 : 13 Bom. L. R. 1121.

———S. 63—Guardian and ward—Purchase of property by guardian—Trust.

A decree was passed in favour of a minor and her guardian obtained a transfer of certain lands in his own name in lieu of the decree amount. Held, that the guardian held the property as trustee for the minor to the extent of the minor's share in the decree. There is no question of limitation as between the minor and the guardian. (Richards, C. J. and Bannerjee, J.) MUNNA KUNWAR v. VINAIK RAM.

28 I. C. 861.

———S. 63—Following trust property—Liability of third person.

Trust property may be followed into the hands of any one in whose hands it can be identified. The only person who can escape liability for trust property in his possession is a bona fide transferee for value without notice of the trust, or a transferee from him. (Kensington and Rattigan, J.) GHULAM ALI v. SHIV NATH.

101 P. R. 1912 : 153 P. W. R. 1912 : 15 I. C. 845 : 189 P. L. R. 1912.

———Ss. 63, and 64—Knowledge of nature of money—Effect.

S. 63 of the Trusts Act applies to a case where Tarwad money is unlawfully used in purchasing property for the Karnavan's daughter. To such a case the last clause of S. 64 does not apply which means and includes the passing of money in the ordinary course of business. (Oldfield and Devadoss, JJ.) MEENAKSHI NETHIAR AMMA v. PARVATI NETHIAR. (1923) M.W N. 657: 1924 Mad. 174

TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1882), S. 63.

——S. 63—Dealing with trust property by trustee—Right of beneficiary.

Where a trustee deals with the trust property entrusted to him in violation of the trust the beneficiary is entitled to sue for possession of the property. (Wallis, C J. and Seshagiri Aiyar. J.) RAJA OF RAMNAD v. RAJAGOPAL IYER
7 L. W. 28: 43 I. C. 164 :
(1917) M. W. N. 906.

——S. 63—Limitation Act, S. 10—Right of beneficiary.

S. 63 of the Trusts Act read along with S. 10 of the Limitation Act show that whenever trust property is gone into the hands of a stranger, the beneficiary can take all the necessary steps to place it in the hands of a person who can legally administer the trust even though the trustee may be stopped from suing (Wallis and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) CHIDAMBARANATHA THAMBIRAN v NALLASIVA MUDALIAR. 41 Mad. 124 :
22 M. L. T. 218 : 6 L. W. 666 : 42 I. C. 366 :
33 M. L. J. 357.

——S. 64—Bona fide transferee for value.

Trust property in the hands of a transferee in good faith for consideration without notice of the trust cannot be followed by the beneficiary It can be so followed only when the transfer is not bona fide and not for valuable consideration. (Tyabji and Spencer, JJ.) PRASANNA VENKATACHALLA v. COLLECTOR OF TRICHINOPOLY.
33 I. C. 45 : 38 Mad. 1064.

——S. 64—Applicability—Transferee from religious endowment.

A transferee from a religious endowment is not protected by S. 64 of the Trusts Act as the Trusts Act does not apply to public or private religious endowments and also because the manager is not a trustee. 38 Mad. 1064 dissented from. (Pipon, J. C.) GHULAM HAIDAR v. MANAGER, COMMITTEE SAMADH BABA PHULA SINGH. 73 I. C. 711.

——S. 66—Trustee mingling trust property with his own—Burden of proof.

The established doctrine is that if a trustee or agent mixes or confuses his ward's property with his own, the onus lies heavily on him to prove the extent of his property. If he fails to do so and the properties cannot be distinguished with accuracy the whole must be considered as belonging to the other party. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) BURUGAPALLI SHRIRAMULU v. NANDIGAM SUBBARAYADU
10 I. C. 57 : 10 M. L. T. 313.

——S. 71—Removal of trustee—Power of Court.

A removal of a trustee of a private trust is within the sound judicial discretion of the Court The Court is guided by considerations of the welfare of the beneficiaries and of the trust estate and there must be a clear necessity for interference to save trust property. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) MANOHAR MOOKERJEE v. RAJA PEARY MOHAN. 54 I. C. 6 : 30 C. L. J 177.

TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1882), S. 78.

——S. 71—Removal of—Hereditary trustee—Minority.

A removal of the present trustee does not entail forfeiture of the hereditary office which descends to the next heir. In case of minority another trustee is appointed until the minor attains majority. (Wallis and Sankaran Noir, JJ.) MUTHUKUMARA MUDALIAR v. PALANIAPPA CHETTIAR.
(1911) 1 M. W. N. 303 :
10 I. C. 300 : 9 M. L. T. 495.

——Ss. 71, 77, 83, 94 — Trust becoming defunct—Effect.

On a trust becoming defunct, the trustee becomes thereafter a simple trustee for the real owner of the properties. (Jwala Prasad and Foster, JJ.) GOBIND SINGH v. MAHARAJA KUMAR GOPAL SARAN NARAIN SINGH.
4 Pat. L T. 731 : 2 Pat. L. R. 27 :
1924 P. 343.

——S 71—Discharge of trustee—Modes of.

The only modes in which a trustee can divest his office are by the universal consent of all interested parties or by retiring by virtue of a special power confirmed by the trust deed or by application to Court. (Fox, C. J. and Hartnoll, J.) S. K. SUBRAMANIAM PILLAI v. GOVINDASWAMI PILLAI.
6 Bur. L. T. 180 :
21 I. C 232 : 7 L. B. R. 39.

——Ss. 73 and 74—New trustee.

Where a waqf was created, before the Waqf Validating Act. in favour of the grantor's family and descendants without ultimate dedication to charity and the District Judge removed the mutvali and appointed one of the beneficiaries in his place. Held, that the order was bad as not only the waqf was invalid but also a trust in favour of unborn persons from generation to generation is not supportable under Muhammadan Law. (Tennon and Newbould, JJ) ABDUL FOATIM MOHAMMAD v. IJJATANESSA KHATUN,
57 I. C. 782.

——S. 77 (c)—Public trust—Failure of trust—Rights of donor and his heirs to get back the property.

The land in suit having been given for the purpose of being used as a road to connect the main road with a public garden was held by the District Board as a trustee for the public, and when the land on which the gardens were planted was sold to a private individual and the gardens ceased to exist, the fulfilment of the purpose for which the land in suit had been given became impossible. The trust was then extinguished under S. 77 (c) of the Trusts Act and the donor of the property was entitled to recover the land given. 7 A 362 Ref. (Martineau, J.) GELA RAM v. DT. BOARD, MUZAFFARGARH.
4 U. P. L. R. (Lah) 79 : 1923 Lah. 93.

——S. 78—Trust—Revocation.

When once a valid trust is created it cannot be revoked by the author by any subsequent act. 12 Mad. 387 ; 15 All. 321 ; 2 N.W.P.H.C.R. 420 ;

TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1882), S. 78.

10 M. L. T. 44 : 12 I. C. 546 ; 14 I. C. 988, Foll. (Seshagiri Iyer and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) KRISHNASWAMY PILLAI v. KOTHANDARAMA NAICKEN. 16 M. L. T. 513 : (1914) M. W. N. 703: 25 I. C. 428 : 27 M. L. J. 582.

——S. 78—Hukdar appointed—Irrevocability of.

A, by a registered deed settled certain property for charitable trusts and appointed himself as Hukdar for life and after him his grandson B. It was held that A had no power to revoke the appointment of B who obtained a vested right to property on A's death, as the deed was not a will. (Benson and Wallis, JJ.) MAHADEVA IYER v. SANKARA SUBRAMANIA IYER. 12 I. C. 546 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 382.

—— Ss. 80 to 96—Scope of—Duty of Courts.

Ch. 9 gives the principles that should govern Courts in ascertaining the rights and obligations of parties in certain cases and does not relieve a party from any obligation to take the necessary steps needed by the substantive or adjective law for creating a valid trust. The object of S. 96 was to provide, consistently with the law in force for certain cases in which English Courts of equity fastened a constructive or resulting trust upon holders of property and for which there was no statutory provision till then Ownership must not be confounded with obligation in applying this rule. (Miller and Sadasiva Iyer, JJ.) RAJA RAJESHWAR DORAI v. ARUNACHALLAM CHETTIAR. 38 Mad. 321 : 13 M. L. T 469 : (1913) M. W. N. 453 : 19 I. C. 596 : 24 M. L. J. 592.

—— —S. 81—Construction of a will—Intention—Burden of proof.

The intention referred to in S. 81 of the Trusts Act is the intention of the testator at the time of making the will and the burden of proving a different intention is upon those who set up the same. (White, C J., Munro and Sankaran Nair, JJ.) RICHARD TAYLOR v. COLLECTOR OF GANJAM. 11 I. C. 5 : 10 M. L. T. 42.

——Ss. 81 and 82—Purchase by husband in the name of his wife—Advancement.

The rule of English Law, that when a husband buys property in the name of his wife he should be presumed to have done so for the benefit of the wife, applies to persons of the British nationality resident in India. The mere fact that after the purchase the husband continues to manage the property and collect rent is not sufficient to rebut the presumption. (Maung Kin and Rig, JJ.) KERWICK v. KERWICK. 11 Bur. L. T. 215 : 47 I. C 376 : 9 L B. R 212.

——Ss. 82 and 83—Resulting trust—Indian and English Law—Presumption of advancement—British parents domiciled in India.

The Indian Law as to resulting trusts does not differ much from English Law on that subject. It has been established by decisions that owing to the widespread and persistent practice prevailing in India of owners of property making grant and transfers benami for no obvious reason, without any intention of vesting in the donee any beneficial interest in the property granted or transferred, as well as the usages which the natives have adopted and which have been protected by statute, no exception has ever been engrafted on the general law of India, negativing the presumption of the resulting trust in favour of the person providing the purchase money, such as has, by the Courts of Chancery in the exercise of their equitable jurisdiction been engrafted on the corresponding law in England in those cases where a husband or father pays the money and the purchase is taken in the name of the wife or child In such a case there is, under the general law in India, no presumption of advancement as there is in England. When such a transaction takes place between two persons, born in India of British parents and who have resided practically all there lives in India, the principles and rules of law which would apply, if the case were tried in one of the Courts of Chancery in England, do apply to it when tried in India, The question as to which rule of law is, in any given case, to apply in India, does not entirely depend on race, place of birth, domicile or residence; the usages and practices of the native inhabitants are more important. Though husband or a father has made an apparent advancement in favour of a wife or child be cannot be said to have intended to confer any beneficial interest in the thing given on the donee or transferee if he establishes at the same time with reasonable clearness that he had other and different motives for the action he took. (Lord Atkinson.) KERWICK v. KERWICK, 48 Cal. 260 : 39 M. L. J 296 : 13 L. W. 455 : (1920) M. W. N. 738 : 32 C. L. J 490 : 2 U. P. L. R (P. C) 153 : 47 I. A. 275 : 28 M. L. T. 194 : 23 Bom. L. R. 730 : 57 I. C. 834 (P.C.).

TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1882), S 82.

[On Appeal from 47 I. C. 379.]

——S. 82—Applicability of—Sale by mortgagor of equity of redemption— Pre-emption—Vendee not in possession—Rights of pre-emptor—Redemption of mortgage by vendee—Right to possession.

The defendants purchased the equity of redemption in certain property in the possession of a mortgagee and the vendor left with the defendants a sum of money to pay off the mortgage. The plaintiffs sued for pre-emption and obtained a decree and paid the entire consideration in Court which was withdrawn by the defendants. As the defendants were not in actual possession, the plaintiffs could not apply for actual possession. Subsequently the defendants paid off the amount of the mortgage and the plaintiffs sued for possession. Held, that the title of the plaintiffs to possession became complete only on the date of the redemption of the mortgage, that no application for possession could have been made in execution of the pre-emption decree inasmuch as the defendants had not been entitled to actual possession and that the present suit was not barred by limitation. (Lindsay and Daniels, JJ.) RAGHUBIR SINGH v. JODHA SINGH. 45 A. 482 : 21 A. L. J. 417 : L. R. 4 A. 223 : 1923 All. 507.

TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1882), S. 82.

——Ss. 82 and 94—Resulting trust—Purchase in name of creditor—Rights of real purchaser.

Held, on the facts that Defts. No. 1 and 2 were in the position of creditors in possession that there was a resulting trust so far as these properties were concerned and that the plff. was entitled to get back the properties upon the payment of the amount due to the defts. (Chaudhuri and Cuming, JJ.) KSHETRA NATH ADHIKARI v. DURGAPADA MANDAL,

52 I. C. 902.

——S. 82—Purchase in the name of another—Presumption if any English Law of advancement compared.

The presumption of advancement of English Law when a person purchases property in the name of another in whom he is interested, does not arise in India. Here the question in such a case is if the purchase was for the benefit of the person in whose name it was made; one test being the source of the purchase-money. (Ayling and Napier, JJ.) RAHIMAN BEEBI v. KHATHOON BEE.

35 I. C. 569 : 4 L. W. 193.

——S. 83—Legal representative.

"Legal representative" in S. 83 includes person or persons beneficially entitled to represent the interests of the deceased by virtue of inheritance, in cases of deceased person for whose property no administration has been granted. The law decides the representative of the deceased at the moment of death of the deceased. So on a trust created by a woman, which failed, after her death a resulting trust was created in favour of settlor and it descended to her heirs at the time of her death. (Scott, C. J. and Davar, J.) DWARKA DAS DAMODAR v. DWARKA DAS SHAMJI.

40 Bom. 341 : 31 I. C. 441 : 17 Bom. L. R. 938.

——S. 83—Resulting trust—Debtor and creditor—Composition deed—Surplus.

Certain debtors entered into a composition deed with the creditors under which they transfered absolutely all the properties to certain trustees for the benefit of the creditors and with a view to obtain a full discharge from all liability. Held, that no resulting trust was created in favour of the debtors and that they had no cause of action to sue for surplus moneys, (Crouch, A.J.C.) LEKHRAJ VISUMAR v. ASSALMAL TARUMAL

27 I. C. 332 : 8 S. L. R. 132.

——S. 84—Benami transfer—Fraud not carried out.

Where a mortgage was taken benami with having a tainted origin in the name of a person, for the plaintiff's benefit, but the fraud was not effected, it is competent for the plaintiff to sue on the mortgage. Feret v. Hill, 15. C.B. 207 (1815) Dist. (Wallis, C. J. and Oldfield, J.) RAJAGOPALACHAR v. SUNDARAM CHETTY.

45 I. C. 333 : 33 M. L. J. 696.

——S. 84—Fraudulent transfer.

The transferor is disentitled to set aside the transfer when it is for a fraudulent purpose and when the creditor is delayed. 29 Mad. 72 ; 18 Mad 378 Foll. (Fawcett, A. J. C.) HIRJI v. GOVERDHAN DAS. 32 I. C. 530 : 9 S. L. R. 108.

TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1882), S. 88.

——S. 88—Adverse title of a trustee.

A trustee acquiring property as such is not allowed to assert adverse title on his own behalf until he obtains a proper discharge from the entrusted trust. (Lord Machnaghten.) SHRINIVASA MOORTHY v. VENKATAVARADA IYENGAR.

34 Mad. 257 : 15 C. W. N. 741 : 8 A. L. J. 774 : 13 Bom. L. R 520 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 375 : 14 C. L. J. 64 : 10 M. L. T. 263 : 11 I C. 447 : 21 M. L. J. 669 (P. C.)

——S. 88——Mortgagor and mortgagee—Position of—Sale by mortgagee.

A mortgagee is not a trustee of the power of sale. It is a power given to him for his own benefit, to enable him the better to realize his mortgage debt. If he exercises it bona fide for that purpose, without corruption or collusion with the purchaser, the Court will not interfere, even though the sale be very disadvantageous ; unless indeed, the price is so low as in itself to be evidence of fraud. (Lord De Villiers.) HADDINGTON ISLAND QUARRY CO. LTD. v. ALDEN WESLEY. 13 I. C. 261 : 10 M. L. T. 554 (P. C.).

——S. 88—Purchase by trustee—Rights of.

Where a trustee purchased a mortgage bond which contained a part of the trust property when the other trustees failed to arrive at a conclusion on the date of sale, held, that the purchase by the trustee was for the benefit of the trust and that he could charge the trust with that amount. (Richards, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) GOPI NARAIN v. KUNJ BEHARI LAL. 34 All. 306 : 13 I. C. 625 : 9 A. L. J. 311.

——S. 88—Advantage by fiduciary—Undue influence—Contract Act, Ss. 19, 19-A and 64.

Plff, and her sister sold their land for an inadequate price to their uncle, the deft. with whom they were living after the death of their parents. The plff. after the death of her sister sued to have the sale deed cancelled as having been executed through undue influence and to recover possession of the lands. Held, that the case fell within the scope of S. 88 of the Act and that the sale deed was void as regards the plff.'s share and that of her deceased sister. (Scott, C. J. and Hayward, J.) GOVIND v. SAVITRI.

43 Bom. 173 : 47 I. C. 883 : 20 Bom. L. R. 911.

——S. 88—Execution sale of trust property—Purchase by trustee.

A trustee for sale is entirely disabled from purchasing the trust property directly or indirectly. A trustee for purposes other than for sale cannot purchase the property where the purchase would conflict with his duty respecting it or his position in regard to it. Where a decree has been obtained against a shebait as a representative of the debutter estate, he is not competent, without leave of Court, to purchase the debutter property in his personal capacity. Where there is no misconduct on the part of the execution creditor the property reverts to the debutter estate, in case of purchase by the shebait without such leave, and the surplus sale proceeds should be returned to the shebait. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) MANOHAR MUKHERJEE v. PEARY MOHAN MUKHERJEE.

TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1882), S. 88.

54 I. C. 6 : 30 C. L. J. 177.

——S. 88—Breach of trust—Resumption of grant—Regrant by Government to trustee.

The resumption of an inam and the levy of full assessment on the trustee for failure to fulfil the condition of the trust does not amount to a regrant to the trustee, or put an end to the trust originally created. The advantage gained by the trustee enures for the benefit of the trust. (Ayling and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) MUHAMMAD ESUF SAHIB v. ABDUL SATHAR SAHIB.

42 Mad. 161 : 25 M L. T. 141 : (1919) M. W. N. 228 : 49 I. C. 821 : 36 M. L. J. 262.

——S. 88—Principal entitled to advantage received by agent.

A principal is entitled under S. 83 of Act to the pecuniary advantage reaped by the agent having adverse interests to those of the principal in purchasing property. (Wallis, C. J. and Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) RAMASWAMI CHETTY v. KARUPPAN CHETTY. 31 I. C. 216 : 29 M. L. J. 551.

——Ss. 88 and 89—Omission by mortagagor to pay public revenue—Sale—Purchase—Rights of mortgagee.

Where a mortgagor neglects to pay the public revenue as required by S. 65 (c) of the T. P. Act and the land is sold or resumed but subsequently re-acquired by the mortgagor, the original mortgage revives. (Pratt, J.) PO DWE v. K. M. T. T S. CHETTY. 51 I. C. 574 : 12 Bur. L. T. 41.

——S. 88, Ill. (f)—Scope of

The illustration goes further than the operative portion of the section itself and does not enunciate good law. (Abdur Rahim, Offg. C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) HAJEE SIDDICK HAJEE v. MAHOMED HUSHUM SAIT.

(1916) 2 M. W. N. 341 : 37 I. C. 728 : 4 L. W. 521.

——Ss. 89 and 96—Advantage out of compromise.

When a compromise is entered into as between persons one of whom could not have in good faith believed in the claim put forward by him and the latter secures an undue advantage. In derogation of the interests of another, such advantage must be deemed to be held in trust for the benefit of the person prejudiced or his representative and should be restored to the latter. 45 Cal. 17 Foll. An alienee in good faith and for consideration from the party who has secured such advantage is not, however, affected by the infirmities affecting his alienor's title. (Wallis, C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) OVULA KONDAMA NAICKEN AIYAN v. APARANJI AMMAL.

52 I. C. 1003 : 10 L. W. 544.

——Ss. 89 and 90—Not applicable when there is no fiduciary relationship.

The true owner cannot claim the restitution of a fraudulent advantage gained by a person in adverse possession because the person in such possession is not "under a duty to speak" as

TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1882), S. 90.

Ss. 89 and 90 contemplate only perons under some fiduciary relationship to the true owner. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) PUNUGU SUBBIAH v. NAKALAPATI RAMI REDDI.

39 Mad 959 : 19 M. L. T. 210 : (1916) 1 M. W. N. 239 : 33 I. C. 326 : 30 M. L. J. 331.

——S. 90—Co-sharers—Sale for arrears of revenue—Purchase by mortgagee of share—Intentional default—Form of the decree.

A minor was the mortgagee of a separately owned share of the mortgaged property. The agents of the mortgagee intentionally made default in paying the revenue for which he was responsible with a view to have the whole property sold up for arrears of revenue and purchased for the mortgagee. The whole property was in fact so sold and purchased for the minor mortgagee. The co-sharers with the mortgagor never knew of the default or the consequent sale. Held, that the purchaser was a trustee for all the co-sharers. The proper decree to be passed was to declare that the property was held for the benefit of all the co-sharers and the mortgagee, according to their several interests at the date of sale, subject to re-payment to the mortgagee of the expense properly incurred in the purchase together with interest thereon. The relative position of co-sharers in respect of the payment of revenue demands from each, such measure of candid dealing and good faith as will ensure that a sharer is not tempted to make a deliberate default with a view to ousting his co-sharers and appropriating to himself their common property. 16 Cal. 194, Disappr ; 17 C. W. N. 1233, Appr (Sir Lawrence Jenkins) DEONANDAN PRASAD v JANKI SINGH.

44 Cal. 573 : 44 I. A. 30 : 15 A. L. J. 154 : 21 M. W. N. 473 : 1 Pat. L. W. 294 : (1917) M. W. N. 254 : 25 C. L. J. 259 : 21 M. L. T. 240 : 5 L. W. 526 : 19 Bom. L R. 410 : 39 I. C. 346 : 32 M. L. J. 206 (P. C.).

——S. 90—No applicability to property acquired by a widow.

S 90 of the Trusts Act has no application to a Hindu reversioner as to the case of an acquisition of property by a Hindu widow. (Bannerjee, Tudball and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) SRI RAM JANKIJI v. JAGDAMBA PRASAD.

43 All. 374 : 19 A. L. J. 129 : 61 I. C. 3 : 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 33 (F.B.).

——S. 90—Revenue sale of equity of redemption—Purchase by mortgagee—Effect.

The equity of redemption in certain properties were sold in a revenue sale and were purchased by the mortgagee. There was nothing to show that the mortgagee had in any way contributed to the sale ; held that the revenue sale was valid and binding on the mortgagor and that the mortgagee beame the full owner. (Krishnan and Venkatasubbarao, JJ.) TADEPALLI SUBBARAO v. SRI BALSU BUCHI SARVARAYUDU. 18 L. W. 61 : (1923) M. W. N. 533 : 44 M. L. J. 534 : 1923 M. 533.

——S 90—Quasi—Contract—Money deposited in Court in usum jus habentis—Withdrawal by person not entitled.

TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1882), S. 90.

Money deposited in Court, in usum jus habentis and withdrawn by a person having no right to it may properly be held to be received for the plaintiff. (Stanley, C. J. and Griffin, J.) MAHDI HUSSAIN v. SUKH CHAND. 33 All. 450 : 10 I. C. 730 : 8 A. L. J. 230.

———S. 90—Mortgagee purchasing equity of redemption in execution.

A mortgagee who purchases the equity of redemption in execution of a simple money decree against the mortgagor cannot be deemed to be a person who avails himself of his position to gain an undue advantage of the mortgagor. 22 Bom. 624 ; 5 B. L. R. 450, Dist. (Scott, C. J. and Heaton, J.) GANESH NARAIN KHARE v. GOPAL VISHNU APTE. 41 Bom. 357 : 39 I. C. 3 : 19 Bom L R. 75.

———S. 90—Mortgagee availing himself of his position to gain an advantage—Liability of.

A mortgagee in possession who allows the mortgaged property to be sold in consequence of his own wilful default and who purchases the property at such sale benami in the name of another cannot resist redemption by the mortgagor on the ground of extinction of his position as mortgagee by reason of such sale. (Scott, C. J. and Heaton, J.) CHOTTA BHULA v. BAI JAMANI. 40 Bom. 483 : 37 I. C. 295 : 18 Bom. L. R. 438.

———S. 90—Mortgagor and mortgagee—Non-payment of assessment—Re-grant to old holder under new tenure—Bombay Land Revenue Code (Act V of 1879) as amended by (Act VI of 1901), S. 56.

S. 90 of the Trusts Act has no application to a re-grant on a new tenure of property forfeited for non-payment of assessment under S, 56 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code. A clear provision of a special statute overrides S. 90 of the Trusts Act. (Batchelor and Shah, JJ.) VEDU SHIVLAL v. KALU UKHARDU. 37 Bom. 692 : 21 I. C. 310 : 15 Bom. L. R. 827.

———S. 90—Co-sharer—Revenue sale—Fraud of co-sharer—Purchase by benamidar—Rights of other co-sharers.

Due regard must be had to the relative position of co sharers in respect of the payment of revenue and to the need of demanding from each such measure of candid dealing and good faith as will ensure that a co-sharer is not tempted to make a deliberate default with a view to ousting his co-sharers and appropriating to himself their common property ; where a revenue sale was collusive in the sense that the purchase was prearranged, and the parties decided to utilize the stringent provisions of the revenue laws for the accomplishment of their private fraudulent object, and put the machinery of the state in operation to cause injury to the proprietor and selected in advance the purchaser who was to hold the property for the benefit of himself and of his participators in the fraud ; held, that the Court would strip off all disguise from a case of fraud and look at the transaction as it really was. 10 M. I. A. 540, Ref. The sale has no higher effect than a private alienation and the purchaser who had taken with due notice of or was implicated with the fraud must be compelled to reconvey the property to the rightful owners. Fraud is an extrinsic collateral act which vitiates the most solemn proceedings of Courts of Justice, and avoids all judicial acts, ecclesiastical or temporal. No party to a fraudulent transaction can be allowed to derive any benefit from it ; and the Court is always reluctant to condone the fraud and to permit the participant therein to retain the advantage. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) KUMAR SATISH KANTHA v. SATIS CHANDRA CHATTERJEE. 30 C L. J. 475 : 55 I. C. 689 : 24 C. W. N. 662.

———S. 90—Advantage by co-sharers—Revenue sale—Unfair conduct.

The mere fact that the purchaser of an estate at a revenue sale is one of the co-sharers who did not pay his share of the revenue, is not in itself a ground to give the other co-sharer an equity to obtain a re-conveyance of their shares from their purchaser on their paying to him of their proportion of the expenses which he had incurred To support a claim to this equity, something unfair, something amounting at least to sharp practice in the conduct of the purchaser is necessary. (Richardson and Huda, JJ.) KURSHED ALI v. DINANATH SARMA. 49 I. C. 802 ; 29 C. L J. 492.

———S. 90—Default in payment of revenue—Mortgage with possession—Collusive revenue sale.

A collusive transaction by which the mortgagee who is bound to pay revenue wilfully allows the lands to be sold for arrears of revenue and immediately after purchases it from the purchaser in revenue sale, does not affect the mortgagor's right to redeem. (Richardson and Beachcroft, JJ.) JAMILA KHATUM v. MAHOMED KHATUM. 45 I. C. 735.

———S. 90—Co-sharers—Default in revenue—Sale—Purchase—Fraud.

Evidence to prove concealment of notice of sale for arrears of revenue is relevant to support allegation of fraud. It is not correct to say that as between co sharers, a relation of fiduciary character does not exist, and if any co sharer has acted fraudulently in allowing a default in the payment of revenue and purchasing the properties himself at the revenue sale the other co-sharers are entitled to a reconveyance on paying to him a share of the purchase money proportionate to their share. (Brett and Mookerjee, JJ.) CHOWDHURY RAM PROSAD SINGH v. CHOWDHURY PAWAN SINGH. 21 I. C. 354 : 18 C. L. J. 97.

———S 90—Advantage by co-sharer—Revenue sale.

There may be circumstances in which public policy would demand that a co-owner should hold an advantage obtained by him in derogation of the rights of the others, for their benefit as well as his own, as for instance where a revenue sale is caused by the default of a co-owner, and the property is purchased at the sale by the very co-owner. 16 Cal 194, Not foll. (Jenkins, C.J. and Mookerjee, J.) FAIZAR RAHMAN v. MAIMUNA KHATUN. 18 C. L. J. 111 : 20 I. C. 510 : 17 C. W. N. 1233.

TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1882), S. 90.

——S. 90—Co-sharers—Revenue sale—No misleading or keeping out facts from knowledge of opposite party.

A co-sharer who deliberately makes default in paying his share of Government Revenue with a view to purchase the estate himself when brought to sale for the arrears cannot be held to have practised fraud upon the other co-sharers when he has done nothing to mislead the latter or to keep from their knowledge the fact, that the estate was to be sold. 16 Cal. 194, Foll. 15 C. W. N. 776, Dist. (Richardson and Newbould, JJ.) RASH BEHARY MITTER v. JOTINDRA MOHAN DATTA. 20 I. C. 317.

——S. 90—Advantage by co-sharers—Negotiations for putni lease—Default by defendant—Sale under Act (XI of 1859)—Suit by plaintiff.

During negotiation between plaintiff and defendant co-sharers for execution of a putni lease by defendant the latter committed default and the land being sold under Act (XI of 1859) was purchased by the defendant benami for another. Held, that the conduct of the defendant was fraudulent and a suit by the plaintiff for damages representing the interest paid on the purchase money with a view to set aside the sale was claimable from the defendant. (Mookerjee and Carnduff, JJ.) HARENDRA LAL ROY v. PURNA CHANDRA CHATTERJEE. 14 I. C. 368 : 15 C. L. J. 132.

——S. 90—Mortgagor and mortgagee—Assignment to mortgagor on dharkast by the Government—Effect of.

Where after a mortgage of certain wargland and the Kumaki land adjoining it the Government assigns the Kumaki lands on Dharkhast to the wargdar the mortgagee does not get the benefit of the assignment as the mortgagor did not obtain the kumaki land on Dharkhast as representing all persons interested in the wargland. (Oldfield and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) KADI SANKARA BHATTA v. MOIDIN. 8 L. W. 100 : 49 I. C. 147 : 35 M. L. J. 120

——S. 90—Applicability—Renewal of leave.

Where the principal lessee obtains a renewal of the lease from the lessor without representing the sub-lessees at a time when the rights both on lease and the sub-lease are determined the sub-lessees are not entitled to the benefit of the renewed lease. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) SWAMINATHA MUDALI v. SARAVANA MUDALI. 40 I. C. 581 : 33 M. L. J. 370.

——S. 90—Mortgage—Revenue sale of mortgaged property—Mortgagor purchasing it benami —Subsequent mortgage sale—Validity—Right of bona fide lessee.

A, the plaintiff-mortgagee, brought a suit on mortgage which was dismissed. Pending appeal by him, mortgagor B let the revenue fall into arrears and purchased it in the revenue sale benami in the name of 2nd defendant C. A succeeded in appeal and he got the property sold but failed to get actual physical possession. 1st defendant was in possession as lessee from the judgment debtor B. In A's suit for possession and crops on the land, held, that sale under mortgage-decree was valid and conveyed full title to the plaintiff, as C was only benamidar of B in the revenue sale. That the 1st defendant who was a bona fide lessee from C was entitled to the crops raised during the continuance of the lease. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) NUKALAPATI RAMI REDDI v. VAVILLA VENKATESAM. 27 I. C. 274 : (1914) M. W. N. 916.

TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1882), S. 91.

——S. 90—Advantage by co-owner.

One of two co-owners of a debt obtaining a document in his own name in derogation of the rights of the other holds it for the benefit of the other also under S. 90 of the Trusts Act and the latter is entitled to a declaration to that effect. (Ayling and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) ALAVALA BALAYYA v. ALAVALA GURUVAYYA. 26 I. C. 55 : 1 L. W. 874.

——S. 90—Three mortgages on the same property—Suit upon last mortgagee—Sale with prior mortgages as encumbrances—Mortgagee whether trustee.

Where a mortgagee had their mortgages on the same property and brought a suit upon the last mortgagee alone and purchased the property in court auction subject to his prior mortgage, he cannot by his failure to sue on all the mortgages be said to have gained an advantage within the meaning of S. 90 so as to hold the equity of redemption in trust for the mortgagor's sons. 2 M. L. J. 188 ; 31 Mad. 530, and 24 Mad. 96 Foll. (Miller and Tyabji, JJ.) GANAPATHI MUDALIAR v. KRISHNAMACHARIAR. 24 I. C. 187 : 27 M. L. J. 218.

——S. 90—Scope of—Purchase by mortgagee—In contravention of O. 34, R. 14, C. P. C.

S. 90 of the Indian Trusts Act only applies to a case where the mortgagee or other qualified owner of any property has availed himself of his position and has thereby gained an advantage in derogation of the rights of other persons, and does not invalidate a purchase by the mortgagee in contravention of O. 34, R. 14, C. P. C. (Benson and Abdur Rahim, JJ.) RAMKRISHNA CHATRIAVA DEO v. PUSHOPATI VIJAYARAMA. 15 I. C. 589.

——S. 90—What is resulting trust.

A resulting trust takes place, where several persons jointly furnish the purchase money and the purchase is made in the name of one of them. (Mittra, A. J. C.) NARHAR v. NARAIN. 56 I. C. 386.

——S. 91—'Acquire'—Meaning of.

The word "acquire" in S. 91 of the Trusts Act is quite in accordance with the English Rule that the purchase should be complete both by payment and conveyance before notice in order to defeat the claims of a person having a prior existing equity. (Scott, C. J. and Russell, J.) HIMATLAL v. VASUDEO GANESH. 36 Bom. 446: 16 I. C. 680 : 14 Bom. L. R. 634.

——S. 91—Possession under registered sale—Purchaser's position.

A vendee of immoveable property in possession under a registered sale-deed can resist a suit for possession by a prior registered transferee if the former conveyance was made in pursuance of a contract to sell by the vendor of which the first transferee holds the property to the benefit of the subsequent transferee under S. 91 of the Trusts Act. 29 Mad 336, Expl. and Dist. (Wallis, C. J. and Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) THIRUVENKATA CHARIAR v. SESHADRI IYENGAR.

TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1882), S. 91.

3 L. W. 457 : 19 M. L. T. 369 : 34 I. C. 488 : 30 M. L. J. 559.

——S. 91—Possession under oral agreement to lease—Rights of purchaser with notice.

It is open to defendant (a tenant in possession) to resist a suit in ejectment if he can prove that there was an oral contract to lease for a fixed term that he was in possession in pursuance of that contract and the plaintiff or his predecessor-in-title accepted rent from him on such footing. 11 C. L. J. 543; 21 Mad 291; 2 C L J. 343. Foll. (Kumaraswami Sastri, J.) G. CUNNIAH CHETTY v. ELAMANDA CHETTY. 27 I. C 877 : 2 L. W. 152.

——S. 95—Land purchased by one with money belonging to another Constructive trust.

Where lands are purchased with plaintiff's money in the name of the defendant with a recital in the sale deed that the purchase was on behalf of the plaintiff, the defendant is only a constructive trustee for plff. and his liability arises under S. 95 of the Trusts Act. (Krishnan and Odgers, JJ.) KRISHNA PATTAR v LAKSHMI AMMAL. 45 Mad. 415 : (1922) M. W. N 117 : 16 L. W. 886 : 30 M. L. T. 238 : (H C.) 42 M. L. J. 119 : (1922) Mad. 57

——S. 95 — Money retained wrongfully — Liability to pay interest.

When by the wrongful act of the defendant, the plaintiff has been deprived of money which was actually making interest, the court of equity would be clearly entitled to give interest. (Krishnan, and Oldfield, JJ.) ARUNACHALAM CHETTIAR v. RAJESHWAR SETUPATI. 42 M. L J 74 : 30 M L. T. 184 : 16 L. W. 63 : (1921) M. W. N. 873 : 1922 M. 55.

ULTRA VIRES.

See also (1) DECREE.
(2) INTERPRETATION OF STATUTES.
(3) JUDICIAL ORDER.
(4) JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS.

——Powers of Indian Legislature are limited by Acts of Parliament.

The Indian Legislature has powers expressly limited by the Acts of the Imperial Parliament which created it and it can do nothing beyond the limits which circumscribe those powers. But when acting within those limits it is not in any sense an agent or delegate of the Imperial Parliament, but has and was intended to have plenary powers of legislation as large, and of the same nature as those of Parliament itself. The established Courts of Justice, when a question arises whether the prescribed limits have been exceeded must of necessity determine that question; and the only way in which they can properly do so, is by looking to the terms of that instrument by which, affirmatively, the legislative powers were created, and by which negatively, they are restricted. If what has been done is legislation within the scope of the affirmative words which give the power, and if it violates no express condition or restriction by which that power is limited, it is not for any Court of Justice to enquire further, or to enlarge constructively those conditions and restrictions. The British Parliament intended to give the widest powers to the Indian Legislature, and that though relying on the latter's good sense not to abuse those powers, it yet retained practical checks in case of necessity. (Macleod, C. J., Marten and Crump, JJ.) ALFRED WILKINSON v. WILKINSON.
47 Bom. 843 : 25 Bom. L. R. 945 : 1923 Bom. 321.

UMPIRE.

See (1) ARBITRATION.
(2) ARBITRATION ACT.
(3) AWARD.
(4) C. P. CODE, SCH. II.

UNCERTIFIED PAYMENT.

See C. P. CODE, O. 21, R. 2.

UNCHASTITY.

See HINDU LAW—
(a) SUCCESSION.
(b) WIDOW.

UNCONSCIONABLE BARGAIN.

See CONTRACT ACT, SS. 16 AND 74.

UNDERGROUND RIGHTS.

See MINES AND MINERALS.

UNDER-PROPRIETOR.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT.

UNDER-PROPRIETARY RIGHT.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT.

UNDER-RAIYATI HOLDINGS.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT.

UNDER-RYOT.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT.

UNDER-TENURE.

See (1) LANDLORD AND TENANT.
(2) LAND TENURES.

UNDISCLOSED PRINCIPAL.

See (1) PRINCIPAL AND AGENT.
(2) CONTRACT ACT.

UNDUE-INFLUENCE.

See (1) CONTRACT ACT, S. 16.
(2) PARDANASHIN LADY.

UNDUE PREFERENCE.

See (1) PROV. INS. ACT (V OF 1920).
(2) T. P. ACT, S. 53.

UNFAIR PREFERENCE.

See RY. ACT, S 109.

UNFAIR TRANSACTION.

See CONTRACT ACT, S. 16.

UNINCORPORATED SOCIETY.

See CORPORATION.

U. P. COURT OF WARDS ACT (III of 1899).

———Personal decree against a ward is a nullity.

Law does not at all recoginise a ward as legal personality for the purposes of suits, and so a decree against him personally is void. A Collector cannot be substituted for him, for executing such a decree. (Lindsay, J. C.) SANKATA PARSHAD v DEPUTY COMMISSONER OF KHERI 30 I. C. 768 : 18 O. C. 145.

———Rules under—District Officer and Special Manager, powers of.

Neither the Act nor the Rules thereunder empower District Officer or a special manager to make a grant of land out of an estate under the management of the Court of Wards, for a 100 years for the planting of a grove. (Kendall, A.J.C.) RAM NATH v. BINDESHURI PRASAD SINGH. 25 I. C. 599 : 17 O. C. 291.

——— S. 15—Jurisdiction of Court of Wards.

The Court of Wards in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh can deal with the property of a disqualified proprietor under its charge though situated outside the limits of the territories subject to the Lieutenant-Governor of those provinces. S. 15 makes no distinction between moveables and immoveables Therefore properties both within the limits of U. P. as well as outside thereof, are subject to the administration set up by the Act if a person comes under the terms of the Act. (Fletcher and Teunon, JJ) GADADHAR BHATA v. SARAT CHANDRA MUKERJEE. 35 I. C. 634.

——— Ss. 16 and 18 – Mortgage suit on—Interest not allowed if mortgage not notified.

A mortgagee, who did not notify his claim under S. 16 of the Act is entitled to sue on his mortgage and his mortgage is admissible in evidence but he will not be allowed interest under S. 18 of the Act. (Richards, C. J., Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) ASHARAFALI v KALYAN. DAS. 37 All. 585 : 30 I. C. 945 : 13 A. L. J. 796.

——— Ss. 16, 18 and 20—Duty of creditors—Notification—Interest—Admission of deeds not produced before Collector.

As soon as the notice required under S. 16 is duly published by the collector the creditors must not only notify their claimsbut must produce before the Collector every document in proof of such claim. There being no general or special order of the Board of Revenue under S. 16 (2), the Collector is not bound to do anything more than get the notice published in English and Vernacular in the Provincial Gazette. The proviso to S. 17 does not apply to Ss. 18 and 20. The obligation to produce documents is laid on all creditors. The Court has still a discretion to admit documents though not produced before the Collector. The provisions of S. 18 as regards stoppage of interest on non-notification of claim are mandatory. (Chamier and Piggott, JJ.) COLLECTOR OF GHAZIPUR v. BAL-BHADDAR SINGH. 17 I. C. 25 : 10 A. L. J. 234.

——— S. 34—Pious obligation of ward to pay his father's debts.

U. P. COURT OF WARDS ACT (IV OF 1912), S. 2.

A son is under no pious obligation to discharge debts contracted by his father when his estate Was under the management of the Court of wards. (Rafique and Lindsay, JJ.) BALDEO v. BINDESHRI PRASAD. 20 A. L. J 241: 44 All. 388 : 1922 All. 215.

——— Ss. 35 and 9—Powers of Court—Death of ward.

S. 35 gives general power to the Court of Wards to sell or mortgage any part of any property under its superintendence subject to the restrictions in regard to property under its charge by the Court under S. 9. After the death of a ward,who was a disqualified proprietor, the Court of Wards may retain charge of his property till the debts and liabilities of the ward are satisfied. (Fletcher and Teunon, JJ.) GADADHAR BHATA v. SARAT CHANDRA MUKERJEE. 35 I. C. 634.

——— S. 48—Notice—Amendment of plaint—No change in cause of action, notice if necessary.

In a suit against a ward of a Court an amendment of plaint should not be allowed if it introduces a new cause of action which was not stated in the notice given to Collector under S. 48, but if so stated in the notice, amendment should be allowed. The object of S. 48 is to give the Collector time to consider the claim and if necessary to settle it without litigation costs. (Richards, C. J. and Tudball, J.) BALDEO PRASAD v. COLLECTOR OF PHILIBHIT. 37 All. 13 : 26 I. C. 91 : 12 A. L. J. 1119.

——— S. 48—Execution proceedings—Notice to Court.

In execution of a decree the Court of Wards attached a certain property. The judgment-debtor objected to the attachment and filed a suit for a declaration of their right without giving notice to the Court of Wards under S. 48. Notice was not necessary as the suit did not relate to the person of property of the ward. (Richards, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) LAL SINGH v. COLLECTOR OF ETAH. 36 All. 331 : 25 I. C. 398 : 12 A. L. J. 485.

——— S. 49—Proceedings against person under Court of Wards—Collector a necessary party—Duty of Court.

The Collector is a necessary party to a proceeding against a ward of Court and it is the duty of the Court on its own motion to make the Collector in such cases a necessary party and wait for any defence he may put forward. (Knox and Karamat Hussain, JJ.) MEAZZAMALI SHAH v. CHUNNI LAL. 33 All. 791 : 11 I. C. 269 : 8 A. L. J. 935.

——— (IV OF 1912.)

——— S. 2 (2)—Disqualified proprietor—If can make a will under the old act.

A person when declared a "disqualified proprietor" on his own application, was not allowed to manage his estate and was unable, to make a will without the permission of the Court of Wards but the repeal of these provisions relating to Court of Wards Act (1899) have left the right of testamentary disposition unimpaired and no permission of Court of Wards is now required to make a valid will. (Mears, C. J. and Banerji, J.) MAHAMMED ISMAIL v. HAMIDAH KHATOON.

U. P. COURT OF WARDS ACT (IV OF 1912), S. 3.

42 All. 509 : 61 I. C. 910 : 18 A. L. J. 581.

——Ss. 3 (3) and 55—Disability, proprietor 'ward' explained.

The disability mentioned in S. 55 refers not only to the property managed by the Court of Wards but also to all possible causes of action cognisable by a Civil Court. The word 'proprietor' in S. 3 (3) means the proprietor who has actually applied under S. 10 of the Act. Therefore a member of a joint Hindu family who has neither been declared disqualified proprietor nor has joint in the application by other members of the family under S. 10 of the Act is not a 'ward' under the Act and the disability under S. 55 does not affect him and he can institute a pre emption suit notwithstanding the fact that his interest in the joint family property is under the management of the Court of Wards. 40 Cal. 784 (P.C.). Dist (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs.) LALTA SINGH v. CHHATTAR SINGH.
3 O. L. J. 552 : 37 I. C. 188 : 19 O. C. 306.

——Ss. 8 and 11—Decree against estate—Effect of.

A decree against the Court of Wards is effective against the person or property of the ward to whom it relates after the property is released. The discretion of the Local Government to take property of disqualified persons under direct supervisions, cannot be questioned by Civil Courts. (Stuart, J C. and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C) NARENDRA BAHADUR SINGH v. OUDH COMMERCIAL BANK, LTD. 50 I. C. 887 :
6 O. L. J. 126.

——Ss. 8 and 11—Disqualified proprietor—Mortgage-decree against Court of Wards—validity.

Where a mortgagor has been declared a disqualified proprietor under the Act and a final mortgage decree is made against the Court of Wards, during its superintendence of the estate the decree is binding on the mortgagor, even after the Court of Wards is discharged from its superintendence in the absence of proof that the proceedings of the Court of Wards is a nullity. (Lord Haldane.) NARINDRA BAHADUR v. OUDH COMMERCIAL BANK, LTD. 43 All. 478 :
48 I. A. 494 : 24 O. C. 183 : 8 O. L. J. 387 :
(1922) M W. N 61 :
42 M L. J. 58 : 26 C. W N. 326 :
L. R. 3 P.C. 25: 1922 P.C. 1 (P.C.)

——Ss. 17 and 18—Scope.

The Ss. 17 and 18 protect the Court of Wards from the dishonest claims rushed on them later on ; but do not bar persons preferring late claims resulting out of honest mistakes. S. 18 means that Collector is to ask the claimants the cause of preferring his claim late. If he fails to satisfy him (the Collector), then only the claim is extinguished. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs.) KETKI v. MANAGER, NAN PARA ESTATE.
7 O. L. J. 589: 58 I C. 945 :
2 U.P.L. R. (J C.) 178.

U. P. COURT OF WARDS ACT (IV OF 1912), S. 54.

——Ss. 37 and 45—Successor to estate of ward—Liabilities incurred by enforceability.

S. 37 does not disqualify a successor to the property of a person under Court of Wards from incurring any liability which might affect the property after the debts and liabilities have been discharged. Where the defendant successor of the ward was never so declared, and he made no application under S. 10 and the property inherited by the defendant was under the superintendence of the Court of Wards, but only for a specific purpose, namely for the discharge of the debt and liabilities which were due to the ward at the time when the estate was taken over under its superintendence by the Court of Wards: Held, after these debts were discharged and the estate was released, any liability incurred by the successors of the lady who was the ward might be enforceable, except in so far as that liability created a charge on the property which was under the superintendence of the Court of Wards while such debts and liabilities had remained undischarged. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) DALEEP SINGH v. KUR SHED HUSAIN.
20 A. L. J. 715 : L. R. 3 A. 462 .
4 U. P. L. R. (A). 216 : 44 A. 706:
1922 All. 459.

——S. 54—Notice—Transferee does not get the benefit of.

A notice given to the Court of Wards does not enure to the benefit of the transferee. (Ryves and Deniels, JJ.) MUHAMMAD SIDDIQ ALI KHAN v. ANWAR-UL-HASAIN. 45 A. 563 :
L. R. 4 A. 263 : 21 A. L. J. 521 :
1924 All. 98.

——S. 54—Notice delivered to Special Manager of Estate is proper.

A notice under S 54 of the Act was left at the office of the Special Manager of an estate under the charge of the Collector, as the Court of Wards held that the notice was proper and sufficient. (Piggott and Ryves, JJ.) LACHMI NARAIN v. DURG BIJAI. 65 I. C. 365 :
19 A. L. J. 32.

——S. 54—Order by Collector to file suit in Civil Court within three months—Notice to Collector—Suit before two months.

There is no reason for dispensing with the express provisions of S. 54 where it was in no way impossible for the appellant to have complied with that section and yet have brought his suit within the time allowed by the Assistant Collector. (Daniels and Lyle, A. J. Cs.) RAMDEO SINGH v. DEPUTY COMMISSIONER OF SULTANPUR, MANAGER, COURT OF WARDS, DERA ESTATE.
22 O. C. 147 : 52 I. C. 643 :
1 U. P. L. R. (J.C.) 66.

——S. 54—Title of ward—Defeasible.

S. 54 covers all suits relating to the property of any ward, i.e., any property belonging to him, though his title thereto may be defeasible by reason of claim for pre-emption which may be maintainable in regard to the same. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) INAU NEHAL SINGH v. DEPUTY COMMISSIONER, UNAO. 47 I. C 894 :
5 O. L. J. 546.

U. P. COURT OF WARDS ACT (IV OF 1912), S. 55.

——S. 55—Disqualified proprietor being a trustee of endowment—Suit in his own name is maintainable.

S. 55 of the U. P. Court of Wards Act has no application to cases where a disqualified proprietor has no personal interest in the property by virtue of which a right to sue is claimed. His disability extends to the property he owns and not to that which he holds as trustee. He cannot be regarded as a disqualified proprietor in regard to the property which he so holds as manager, and the idol in whom the endowed property is supposed to be vested, cannot be treated as a ward within the meaning of S 55 of the Act. Consequently the disqualified proprietor can sue as manager of the idol. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) SRI THAKURJI v. HIRA LAL.
20 A. L. J. 609 : L. R 3 A. 581 : 44 A 634 : 1922 All. 408.

——S. 55—Son can obtain relief though father cannot.

The disability of the father to sue for pre-emption in the personal capacity under S. 55 of the Act does not prevent the son from obtaining relief where the father and the son constitute a joint Hindu family. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs) LALTA SINGH v. CHHATTAR SINGH.
3 O. L. J. 552 : 37 I. C. 188 : 19 O. C. 306.

——S. 55—Execution against ward.

An application for execution of a decree against the person of a ward of Court, after the Act came into force is barred by S. 55 of the Act. (Lindsay, J. C.) SANKATHA PRASAD v. RAJA-KRISHNA DAT SINGH. 25 I. C. 668.

——S. 61—Sale by Court of Wards—Breach of warranty—Personal liability of ward.

The breach of a warranty implied by law in respect of a sale effected by the Court of Wards cannot result in a personal liability of the ward. Though under the general law a guardian cannot covenant to improve personal liabilities on the ward, under S. 61, U. P. Court of Wards Act, if a specific covenant is entered into by the court of wards, he is personally liable on it. (Wazir Hassan, A. J. C.) PIRTHI PAL SINGH v. RAJA MUHAMMAD EJAZ RASUL KHAN. 1924 Oudh 99.

U. P. ELECTORAL RULES.

——R. 11 (2)—Declaration when invalid—Election petition when maintainable—Costs.

When a declaration is filed, the presumption is that the candidate asserts that the signature is his own until some person makes an objection. An election petition is maintainable against the order of a returning officer declaring a nomination invalid. Where a nomination is held to be valid, the objector is liable for costs. (Sherring, Bajpai and Kendall, A. J. Cs.) SHAKER ALI v. ABDUL HAKEIN. 59 I. C. 846.

U. P. GOVERNMENT RULES.

——R. 32 (3)—Execution proceedings—Suit to set aside—Legality.

A decree-holder purchased properties attached and sold at auction in execution proceedings transferred to a Collector under S. 68, C. P. C. After confirmation of sale, the judgment-debtor applied to the Collector to set aside sale for various grounds one of them being the fraud of the creditor in keeping the judgment-debtor in ignorance of execution proceedings. When it was dismissed instead of filing an appeal to the commissioner under R. 45 of the Rules of the Local Government, he filed a civil suit to recover the property. Held, (a) the suit was barred by O 21, R. 92 (3) or under the corresponding R. 32 (3) of the Local Government Rules, (b) the suit could not be treated as an application under S. 47 C. P. Code as the Court executing the decree was not the same as that in which the suit was instituted at the time of transfer of decree to the Collector. (Piggott and Lindsay, JJ.) NAZIR HUSSAIN v. KANHAIYA. 35 I. C. 478.

U. P. LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901).

——Provisions under Ch. VII—Division of houses—Jurisdiction of Revenue Court.

A Revenue Court making a partition under the provisions of Ch. VII of the Land Revenue Act has no jurisdiction to make a division of a house. The law with regard to buildings is definitely settled and the plaintiffs, who founded their case upon the partition in order to put forward the title which they wished to vindicate, are out of court. The order of the Revenue Court cannot give them a title to the premises in dispute. 23 All, 191 distinguished. (Lindsay, J.) GOVIND PERSHAD v. KALIAN. 1922 All. 216.

——Suit by rent-free tenant—Jurisdiction, Civil Court.

A Civil Court can try a suit by a rent-free grantee against the Zemindar for the possession of his land from which he has been ejected (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) GOBIND RAI v. BANWARI LAL.
42 All. 412: 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 93: 58 I C. 594 : 18 A. L. J. 388.

——Lambardar—Right to pay revenue out of collections.

A lambardar is authorised to pay revenue out of the collections realised but cannot charge whole of the revenue against the profits of his co sharer who may be allowed in an account suit his dues from the excess collected either by the lambardar or any co-sharer. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) RAMSARUP v. WAHAJUDDIN. 58 I. C. 546.

——S. 4—Grove land—Whether can be sir.

A sir land is one cultivated by the proprietor and so grove land cannot become sir, and on its sale the proprietor cannot acquire ex-proprietary rights. (Banerjee and Rafique, JJ.) BHAGWAN DIN v. PEARE LAL. 42 All. 483 : 58 I. C. 620: 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 148 : 18 A. L. J. 570.

——S. 4—Mahal—Waste land—Jurisdiction of Revenue Court—Partition.

Within the boundaries of a mahal there may be many plots of land such as roadways, waste lands, and even abadi sites, not assessed to 'revenue' in the sense that there is no income derived from them which may be taken into account at the time of assessment of revenue on the mahal. But all areas within the mahal are primarily responsible for the revenue of the mahal, and are part and parcel of it. That is equally so in the case of a khata which is a sub-division of a mahal. The site of a parao (encamping ground) situate in Meerut and included in a particular khata of a mahal and bearing a particular khasra number, forms part of the mahal and its partition could only be effected by the Revenue Court. (Tudball and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) MAHOMED JAHAN BEGAM v. GOVIND RAM 43 A. 45: 59 I. C. 4: 18 A. L. J. 783.

U. P. LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901), S. 4.

——— S. 4—Ex-proprietary tenant—Relinquishment by—Effect.

An ex-proprietary tenant of some land in a village sold by him to some different persons becomes tenant of all the co-sharers and his relinquishment of the same in favour of one enures for the benefit of all co sharers and none of them can claim exclusive possession of the same Joint possession is obtained according to the circumstances of each case but the relief of joint possession in favour of the co-sharer obtaining the relinquishment cannot be refused even if he be not in the possession of the land. (Chamier, J.) MUHAMMAD IBRAHIM v. RAMAKRISHNA RAI. 61 I. C. 487: 10 A. L. J. 95.

——— S. 32 (d)—Land held revenue free—If part of mahal.

Lands held revenue free may form part of a mahal. (Ryves and Piggott, JJ.) ABDUL RAHIM KHAN v AHMAD KHAN. 36 All. 231: 25 I. C. 162: 12 A. L. J 305.

——— S. 34, Sub-S. (5)—Succession report—Necessity for—Patwari's report is not substitute for succession report.

The language of S. 34 Sub S. 5 of the U. P. Land Revenue Act is perfectly general and it is impossible to regard that section as being applicable only to cases under the Land Revenue Act. A report made by the patwari is not a substitute for the report which the Act itself requires to be made by the proprietor. A report by the proprietor is a pre-requisite to the institution of a suit for profits by a person other than the recorded proprietor. Until the report required by the section has been made the court is debarred from entertaining the suit. (Daniels, A. J. C.) MT. RUQAIYA BEGAM v. IMDAD ALI. 9 O. L. J. 590: 9 O. & A. L. R. 81: 1923 Oudh 117.

——— S. 34—Mutation of names—Possession.

In mutation cases the question of possession does not arise unless there is evidence of succession. (Tweedy, J.) SHIAM BIHARI v. BHAGWATI SINGH. 25 I. C. 758: 1 O. L. J. 440.

——— S. 36—Mortgage of sir—Stipulation to pay interest of possession not given to mortgagee.

Where a proprietor usufructuarily mortgages his sir land and also stipulates that, if he does not give possession of the land to the mortgagee he would re-pay the mortgage money with interest at a fixed rate and does not give possession he cannot redeem the mortgage without paying interest. (Ryves, J.) JANKI RAM v. MISRI LAL. 1923 All. 377.

——— S. 36—No assessment of rent on ex-proprietary tenant.

U. P. LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901), S. 40.

Co-sharers and the lambardars equally share the responsibility by virtue of S. 46 of the Land Revenue Act in a case where rent had not been assessed on an expropretary tenant (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) KUBI BEHARI LAL v. ABDUL HADI. L. R. 3 A. 260 (Rev): 4 U. P. L. R. (B. R.) 200.

——— S. 36—Suit for rent—Defendant accepting agreed rent—Order passed fixing rent—Effect of.

The deft. mortgaged his zemindari to the plff. and took lease of the lands for cultivation at a certain rent. In a suit for a recovery of rent the deft expressed his willingness to pay the said rent; the Court, however, passed an order fixing the rent under S. 36. There was no appeal against this order. Held, that the tenant could not challenge the correctness of the order in a subsequent suit for rent, except on the ground of jurisdiction or fraud. (Tudball and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) HAR PRASAD v. KHAZAN. 2 U. P. L. R. All 281: 57 I. C. 441: 18 A. L. J. 684.

——— S. 36—Usufructuary mortgage—Lease to mortgagor—Sale of equity of redemption—Liability to rent.

Where under a usufructuary mortgage of a zemindari the mortgagor gives a lease of the landlord to the mortgagor on a certain rent, files a suit for arrears of rent and gets the equity of redemption sold to a stranger in execution of the decree in the suit, but subsequently files a suit for further arrears of rent from the date of sale it is open to the mortgagor lessee to contend that since the usufructuary mortgage is not subsisting, the lease also is at an end but if he fails to do so he will be liable for rent even from the date of the Court sale. (Tudball and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) MITHAN LAL v. CHHAJJU SINGH. 40 All. 429 : 45 I. C. 529: 16 A. L. J. 384.

——— S. 36, Sub-S. (2)—Scope of—Agra Tenancy Act, S. 41 (b).

S. 36, Sub- S. (2) should be read with S. 41 (b) of the Agra Tenancy Act which says such enhancement or otherwise can take place at any time by registered agreement or by order of a Revenue Court. 10 I. C. 465. Foll.; 36 All. 155 Dist. (Walsh, J.) BHAIRON PRASAD v. SOMARPURI. 34 I. C. 441.

——— S. 40—Mutation of names—Civil Court can question.

Under S. 40 of the Act a question of title can be contested in a civil suit although the Revenue Court has ordered the entry of a particular name in regard to the property. (Banerji and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) DALIP SINGH v. MANKUAR. 43 All. 389: 61 I. C 156 : 19 A. L. J. 156.

——— S. 40—Right to possession—Enquiry into.

The questions of title to possession and of an absolute title are quite different and the fact that the decision as to possession is based merely on a summary enquiry as to the perso best entitled to the property cannot be used as an argument that the Court is not competent to decide the question of title to possession when the section requires a Court to put the person into possession. (Ashworth, J. C.) SURENDRA BIKRAM SINGH v. EMPEROR. 24 Cr. L. J. 537 : 1922 Oudh 300.

U. P. LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901), S. 41.

——— Ss. 41 and 233—Partition—Demarcation—Arbitration—Award—Civil Court.

A Civil Court can accept the award passed on a reference to arbitration by the parties in a dispute as to demarcation by boundaries under S.41. Once a partition is over, the parties may make such modifications as they wish regarding the shares allotted to them. (Stuart, J. C.) JHURI SINGH v. DWARKA SINGH. 50 I. C. 193 : 6 O. L. J. 84

——— S. 56—Customary payment by occupancy tenants not recorded—Suit to recover.

Where according to a custom in a wajib ul-arz of a village, the occupancy tenants had to make a payment to the Zemindar besides the rent of a head load of Bhusa and a bundle of fodder every year, and in a suit by Zemindar to recover money value of such payments, it was found that no record was made of those payments by the Recording Officer at the last settlement, held, that these payments were a cess within S. 56 and hence not recoverable. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) CHAND BEHARI v. NANNUA. 63 I. C. 222.

——— Ss. 56 and 86—Applicability—Permanently settled village with no record of rights.

The sections do not apply to permanently settled village, for which no record of rights or settlement records have been prepared. "Gaon Kharch", though recorded in Patwari's papers against each field along with rent and paid by residents for over 40 years, is no part of the contract of rent and so is not recoverable as rent in the Revenue Court. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ) RADHO MODAO LALJI v RAM SEWAK. 43 All. 422 : 62 I. C. 739 : 19 A. L. J. 238.

——— Ss. 56 and 86—Rasum Zemindari.

Where the defts. had agreed to pay rent both in cash and in kind, for the zemindari property let to them by usufructuary mortgage and the words used in the Kabuliat were. 'Rasum Zemindari' Held, on the construction of the Kabuliyat, in a suit for rent that the defts. were held to have agreed to deliver the produce part of the rent. 35 All. 19. Dist (Richards, C. J., Knox and Tudball, JJ.) RANGI LAL v. JASSA. 38 All. 286 : 35. I. C. 208 : 14 A. L. J. 393 (F. B.).

——— Ss. 56 and 86—Rasum zemindari.

A tenant agreed to pay to his Zemindars certain 'Rasum Zamindari' dues, over and above his usual rent. Held, that the contract was against public policy and unenforceable as its intention was to defeat the object of Ss. 56 and 86 of the Act and that the dues were not rent. (Rafique and Piggott, JJ.) SISRAM v ASGHAR ALI. 35 All. 19 : 16 I. C. 422 (2) : 10 A. L. J. 416.

——— S. 56—Cess—Test of.

In order to show that a certain payment is of the nature of a cess and should not be recognised, it must be proved that the nature of payment had not been recognised by the Settlement Officer and falls within the definition of a cess. (Griffin, J.) BHOLA v. MAHOMED HABIBULL RAHMAN KHAN. 10 I. C. 465.

U. P. LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901), S. 106.

——— S. 74—Settlement with new proprietor—Payment of malikana to excluded proprietor—Estoppel.

Where under successive settlements with the actual cultivators of the land in supersession of the old proprietors the former agreed to pay a malikhana of 12 per cent. to the latter, they are estopped from disputing their liability subsequently. (Walsh and Piggott, JJ.) NATHU v. GHANSHAM SINGH 41 All. 259 : 49 I C. 737 : 17 A. L. J. 177.

——— S. 79—Under-proprietary holding.

An under-proprietary holding is not capable of resumption. If rent free, the superior proprietor can get it assessed under S. 79, U. P Land Revenue Act. If it is assessed to rent, which is not paid the superior proprietor can only put it to auction in execution of a decree for arrears. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs.) SHANKAR SAHAI v. GAJADHAR PRASAD. 20 O. C 171 : 40 I. C. 200 : 4 O. L J. 409.

——— S. 86—'Cess'—Meaning of—Customary dues payable to the Zemindar.

The word "cess" is used secondarily to denote demand for contributions in cash or kind to be devoted to the benefit of the village as a whole and when used in that sense the word almost means a rate. Another sense in which the word is used is a demand by the zemindar for provision of certain articles or the doing of certain services for his own personal benefit. When the word is used in this sense it is better to refer to the demand as a demand for dues and in these cases the dues demanded are customary dues A cess levied in accordance with village custom can only be recoverable if recorded by the Settlement Officer and generally or specially sanctioned by the local Government. Mere payment of these dues for 20 or 30 years is insufficient to establish a custom to pay the cesses. (Stuart, J.) MAHOMED ASGHAR ALI KHAN v. RAMMON. 1923 All 378.

——— S. 106, 111 and 112—Scope of—Imperfect partition—Proprietary title—Civil Court.

Ss. 110, 111 and 112 of the Land Revenue Act apply also to imperfect partitions. The rule that a party to a partition proceeding who had an opportunity of pleading a question of title and has not availed himself of that opportunity, cannot maintain a suit in the Civil Court for the relief applies also to proceedings taken for imperfect partition. 29 All 604, Foll (Chamier, J.) RAGHUBIR v. TULSIRAM. 29 I. C. 222 : 13 A. L. J. 548.

——— Ss. 106, 111 and 118—Jurisdiction—Revenue Courts—Partition of house.

Revenue Courts making a partition, have no jurisdiction to make the actual division of a house or building or the materials thereof. 22 All. 329, Foll. S. 111 of the U. P. Land Revenue Act deals with an objection which raise a question of title and says nothing at all about objections taken to the jurisdiction of Revenue Courts. (Lindsay, J. C.) IQBAL NARAIN v SURAJ NARAIN.

2 O. L. J. 51 : 27 I. C. 543 : 18 O. C. 80.

——S. 107—Partition—Right of co-sharer—Rights of Hindu daughter—Life-interest under father's will

Under S. 107 of the U. P. Land Revenue Act a recorded co-sharer is entitled, to apply forpartition, The expression co-sharer has not been defined anywhere by the Act, but reading S. 107 with 32 and S. 111, there can be no doubt that the co-sharer who is entitled to apply for partition, must be a recorded co-sharer of some kind of proprietary interest in the mahal and not a person entitled merely to collect rents or realise a share of the profits on behalf of a proprietor, such as a mortgagee, lessee, or the kadar or an assignee of the rents. A Hindu widow in possession of an estate which has devolved on her by inheritance from her husband, represents the estate and combines in herself for certain purposes the interests of herself and the reversionary body whom she represents. The interest which a Hindu daughter receives under a devise from her father though limited in character is similarly such as will entitled her to claim a partition, because she represents herself as much as those who are likely to succeed to her on her death. She is not a mere assignee of the profits. She is the proprietor for the time being though of limited interest. She can manage the property in the way she likes and let it out to any person whom she chooses and short of making a transfer, she possesses all proprietary rights including a right to hold the property in severalty or enjoy it jointly with her co-sharers, as may suit her interests. 3 A. 400 : 9 C. 53 : 3 A. L. J. 481 ; 12 A. 51; 31 Bom. 560 : 33 A. 443 Ref (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) BAHADUR SINGH v. MUSSAMMAT MOHINI KOER.
20 A. L. J. 780 : 4 U. P. L R. (A.) 204 . 1922 All. 483.

——S. 107—Question of proprietary title—Partition—Appeal.

If in a suit for partition the objectors admit the proprietary title of the applicant but deny the right to demand a partition a question of proprietary title is raised an appeal lies to the District Court from the decision of the Revenue Court. 28 A. 185 Ref. (Stuart, J.) MUSTAJAB KHAN v THAKUR SRI LAXMI NARAIN. 1922 All. 26.

——S. 107—Right to claim partition—Hindu widow—Recorded co-sharer, meaning of.

A Hindu widow in possession of a share zemindari for property for maintenance is not entitled to partitions under S. 107, as she is not a co-sharer though she might have been recorded as such. (Ryves and Piggott, JJ.) NEMAN v. JAS KUNWAR. 35 All. 527 : 21 I. C. 449 : 11 A. L. J. 833.

——Ss. 110, 111 and 112—Hindu widow in possession of property in lieu of maintenance—Claim for partition.

A Hindu widow in possession of property in lieu of maintenance is not entitled to claim partition though she is recorded as a co-sharer in respect of that property. An application to join in a pending application for partition, amounts to a fresh application. (Richards, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) KAILASHI KUNWAR v. BADRI PRASHAD.
35 All. 548 : 21 I. C. 49 : 11 A. L. J. 849.

——Ss. 110 and 111—Partition proceedings—Civil Court—Jurisdiction.

Where a partition of a village was applied for, notices of the application were served on the parties under S. 110 and ample opportunity of raising a claim to the land under S. 111 was given but the parties failed to do so, and no reference was made to the Civil Court for having the question of title determined, nor did the partition Court decide any such question. Held, the Civil Court cannot entertain a suit for a declaration of ownership of a particular plot of land in the village. (Lindsay, J.C.) MUSSAMMAT RATIPALLI v. BHAGWANDIN. 7 O. L. J. 279 : 56 I. C. 755 : 2 U. P. L. R. (J. C.) 102.

——S. 110—Time for filing objections—Extension of—Revenue Court directing party to get his title declared in Civil Court.

The date originally fixed for filing objections under S. 110 of the U. P. Land Revenue Act may from time to time be extended either on account of non-service of the notice or at the request of any of the parties. The jurisdiction of the Revenue Court to direct a party to get his title determined by the Civil Court within a certain period is not ousted so long as an objection is filed within such extended period and no order is passed by the partition officer determining the shares of the parties and directing the method in which the partition to be effected. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.C.) BHAGWAN BAKSH v. SANT PRASAD.
6 O. L. J. 523 : 54 I. C 317 : 22 O. C. 369.

——S. 110—Partition—"Issue of proclamation"—Objection beyond time.

Where there is a direction to fix the date as a matter of procedure a Court can after expiration of that date entertain an objection and do justice between the parties if sufficient reason is shown for delay. The date of "Issue" of a proclamation under S. 110 of Act is the day on which it is published in such a manner that the persons likely to be affected thereby can, with the exercise of reasonable prudence, obtain knowledge of its contents. If it assumes the shape of a notice to be served personally on the co-sharer, the date on which personal service is effected is the date of "Issue" of the proclamation. (Sanders and Greaves, A. J. Cs.) SHEO RATAN SINGH v. ROHAN SINGH. 54 I. C. 258 : 1 U.P.L.R. (O C.) 62.

——S. 110 (1)—Date of issue of proclamation is date of service—Objection when to be filed—Drawing of decrees, if necessary.

Proclamation issued under S. 110 (1) of the Act should be understood to have been served on the date of issue on the co-sharer and he should file the objections within 33 days from the date of service. (Stuart, J. C.) MAHESHAR v. BRIJ MOHAN. 39 I. C. 719 : 4 O. L. J. 113.

U. P. LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901), S. 110.

——S. 110 (2) — Application under — By one co-sharer — Fresh proclamation, whether necessary.

On an application under S 110 (2) of the Land Revenue Act (III of 1901) by one co-sharer, made within the period prescribed by a prior proclamation, no fresh proclamation to the other co-sharers is necessary. (Piggott, J.) SHIB CHARAN v. HIRA LAL. 11 I. C. 9.

——S. 111—Question of title referred to Civil suit—Suit brought three months after order, is barred.

Where a question of title raised in partition proceedings is referred to a Civil Court, a suit brought for that purpose more than three months after the order of Revenue Court would be barred under S. 111 of the Act. (Tudball and Lindsay, JJ.) RAGHUBAR SINGH v. LAKHAN. 61 I. C. 885.

——Ss. 111, 112 and 133—Suit for partition—Objection by unrecorded co sharers — Appeal—Forum.

In a partition of certain land, trees and wells, the defendants objected on the ground that when their ancestors sold the village, they reserved to themselves and their heirs, the said land, etc. The Assistant Collector decided in favour of the objectors. Held, that the defendants not being recorded co-sharers, Ss. 111 and 112 of the U. P. Land Revenue Act had no application to the case and that the appeal, therefore, lay not to the District Judge but to the Collector or Commissioner. (Rafique, J.) LABHU v. RADHA CHARAN. 45 I. C. 544.

——Ss. 111 and 112—Decision of Revenue Court—Res judicata.

Only when an objection is made by a recorded co-sharer involving a question of proprietary title which the Collector determines to decide himself, the decision of the Revenue Court can operate as res judicata. (Richards, C. J., Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) KALKA PRASAD v. MANMOHAN LAL. 38 All. 302 : 33 I C. 86 : 14 A. L. J. 373. (F B.)

——S. 111—Order of the Collector under, whether appealable.

No appeal lies against an order of the Collector under Cls. (a) and (b) of S. 111 (1). (Richards, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) HAR PRASAD v. MUKAND LAL. 38 All. 70 : 31 I. C. 882 : 13 A.L.J. 1107.

——Ss. 111 and 112—Order of Asst. Collector referring parties to Civil Court—If amounts to decree—Appeal.

An order of an Asst. Collector referring parties to the Civil Court does not constitute a decree within S. 111 (3) of the Act, and hence no appeal lies therefrom to the District Judge. (Rafique and Piggott, JJ.) BABU RAM BUBE v. RAMJAS DUBE. 23 I. C. 656.

——Ss. 111 and 114—Partition proceeding—Objection relating to title—Order upholding objection—Appeal against, where lies.

An appeal against an order of an Assistant Collector in a partition proceeding upholding an objection relating to a question of title under

U. P. LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901), S. 111.

S. 111, lies to the Collector and not to the District Judge, the question being one appertaining to the preparation of a partition proceeding. A mere claim to hold certain lands in a mahal in severalty is not such an objection as raises a question of title as may be dealt with under S. 111. (Ryves and Piggott, JJ.) NAND RAM v. BRAHM KHAYAL. 22 I. C. 949.

——S. 111—Direction of Revenue Court to file civil suit—Suit filed but subsequently withdrawn—Second suit, if maintainable.

Where a Revenue Court directed a person to file a civil suit within three months which was withdrawn with leave for some technical reason and then a fresh suit was instituted, the second suit was practically a continuation of the first and as such not barred by time-limit. (Richards, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) RAUDHIR SINGH v. BHAGWAN DAS. 35 All. 541 : 21 I. C. 654 : 11 A L. J. 746.

——S. 111—Suit for declaration of possession—Jurisdiction of Civil Court.

A suit for a declaration that the plff. is in possession of a property which is the subject-matter of a partition, does not come under the provisions of S. 111 of the Act (Griffin and Ryves, JJ.) RAM CHARAN v. HUB BAHADUR SINGH. 19 I. C. 397 : 11 A. L. J. 429.

——Ss. 111 and 112—Recorded co-sharer—Proprietary question—Objection—Appeal.

Where in partition proceedings a question of proprietary title is raised by a recorded co-sharer and his objection is disallowed, an appeal lies to the District Judge. (Griffin, J.) JADUNANDAN LAL v. DAULAT RAI. 18 I. C. 640 : 11 A.L.J. 96.

——S 111—Decision on question of title—appeal.

When an objection touching to the proprietary title of a person declared by a Civil Court long before the partition proceedings are instituted in a Revenue Court, and acquired by adverse possession, is determined by an Assistant Collector, an appeal therefrom lies to the District Judge because the objection raised the titled question. (Banerjee, J.) BABU RAM DUBE v. RANEJAS DUBE. 16 I.C. 396.

——Ss. 111 and 233 (k)—Partition—Proprietary title—Res judicata—Person not recorded as co-sharer.

Out of the three heirs of a deceased Mahomedan only one was recorded in the revenue papers as heir subsequently in a partition proceeding, in which B raised certain objections as to proprietary title which were overruled by the partition officer. Held, that in a subsequent civil suit, C and D, whose names had not been recorded, were also prohibited from raising any question as to the proprietary title. 28 All 432, Dist. (Chamier, J.) TARIFAN v. FATEH DIN. 15 I. C. 685.

——Ss. 111 and 112—Partition—Proprietary title—Res judicata—Jurisdiction.

A party to a civil suit cannot raise a question of proprietary title which he ought to and might have raised in partition proceedings under the

U. P. LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901), S. 111.

Land Revenue Act. (Richards, C. J and Banerji, J.) MAHADEO RAI v. RAGHU NAIK RAI.
15 I. C. 817.

——— S. 111—Mutation proceedings—Revenue Court, if competent to determine proprietary title.

An order of a Revenue Court in mutation proceedings is not an order of a Court of competent jurisdiction determining a question of proprietary title within the meaning of S. 111. (Piggott, J.) SHIB CHARAN v. HIRA LAL. 11 I. C. 9

———S. 111—Partition proceedings—Party in, cannot agitate in Civil Court except with permission of the Revenue Court.

A party to a partition suit may not while the partition suit is pending, bring a suit against another party in the civil Court to clear his title otherwise than under the direction of the Court hearing the partition suit. The basis of this proposition is that the partition suit is given jurisdiction in respect of title and this impliedly makes the question of title an essential part of the partition proceeding so that a Civil Court is debarred from entertaining questions of title except in a suit instituted by direction of the partition Court It does not follow from this that a party not directed to bring a title suit cannot j in a party directed to do so in bringing of one. A direction by a Revenue Court in the process of a partition suit under S. 111 (b) to one party to bring a title suit in a Civil Court implies the right of joinder in the suit of any person as plaintiff in whom a joint right of relief exists. The direction to bring a suit to any person must mean that he is to bring it according to, and is permitted by, the law of procedure, O. 1, R. 1, Code of Civil Procedure allows such joinder. (Ashworth, A. J. C.) MT. KUSAM DEI v. HAR DUTT.
26 O. C. 98 : 1924 Oudh 129.

———Ss. 111 and 233 (k) —Partition—Question of title—Jurisdiction of Civil Court.

Civil Courts have only a limited jurisdiction in regard to questions of proprietary title raised in partition proceedings. Where such questions are raised the competence of the Civil Court depends upon the choice exercised by the Revenue Court in acting under Cls. (a), (b) or (c) of S. 111. If, and only if it acts under Cl. (a) or (b), and an order to that effect is made then the Civil Court can try the question of title If it acts under Cl. (c) the Civil Court's jurisdiction is wholly ousted. The fact that the Revenue Court violates the law would not invest the Civil Court with jurisdiction to try the question of title. (Lindsay, J. C) RAM LAKHAN SINGH v. RAMPAL SINGH.
63 I. C 272 : 24 O. C. 143.

———S. 111—Refusal of partition by Revenue Court—No order under S. 111—Suit not filed within six years in Civil Court.

Where the Revenue Court without making an order under S. 111 declined to make a partition unless the rights of the parties were settled by a Civil Court the order did not deprive the co-sharers of their right to have their shares divided off at any time. (Daniels, A. J. C.) SAKHAWAT ALI v. ABU SAID. 52 I. C. 73 : 22 O. C. 100.

U. P. LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901), S. 111.

——— S. 111—Partition—Question of title—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts.

A Civil Court has no jurisdiction to determine a question of title with regard to a property under partition before a Revenue Court, unless the latter Court refers the question for decision by an order under S 111. (Lindsay, J, C. and Daniels, A. J. C.) CHAUBAR SINGH v. BAKHATWAR SINGH. 47 I. C. 897 : 5 O. L J. 486.

——— S. 111—Partition proceedings—Revenue Court—Question of title—Civil Court—Jurisdiction.

In a partition case filed in a Revenue Court, before any notices were issued to the recorded co-sharers or objections filed by them the applicants themselves asked the Court to postpone the case pending decision of the question of title by a Civil Court. The Revenue Court granted the required postponement and the applicants instituted the proposed suit in the Civil Court, Held, that the Civil Court had jurisdiction to entertain the suit. (Lindsay, J. C.) DEOKI NANDAN v. KALI SHANKAR. 45 I. C. 873 : 5 O. L. J. 116.

——— S. 111—Revenue Court, order by, to file suit in Civil Court within a fixed time—Civil Courts, jurisdiction of.

Where an Assistant Collector under S. 111 ordered plff. to file a suit in Civil Court within three months to establish their right, the suit must be filed in Civil Court within three months from the order of the Assistant Collector. (Lindsay, J. C.) DHANESH PRASAD v. GAYA PRASAD.
33 I. C. 365 : 18 O. C. 343.

———S. 111—Revenue Court—Jurisdiction to decide title—Decision whether bar in a civil suit —Mere irregularity in procedure by Revenue Court—Effect.

A Revenue Court is competent under S. 111 of the Act to decide a question of title in partition proceedings and when such decision is given it operates as a bar to the re-opening the same matter in Civil Courts and a mere irregularity in the procedure of the Revenue Court does not affect its validity. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) KALI PERSHAD v. TUAKUR DEI. 23 I. C. 965 : 1 O. L. J. 81.

——— Ss. 111 (1) (b) and 233 (k)—Suit instituted after time allowed—Whether maintainable.

The jurisdiction of Civil Court is barred under S. 233 (k) to entertain a suit instituted after the time allowed by S. 111 (1) (b) and no extension can be granted. (Rafique and Piggo't, JJ.) TAIMUR ALI SHAH v. SHAH MAHOMED KHAN.
41 All. 211 : 17 A. L. J. 83 : 57 I. C. 846 : 2 U. P. L. R. (A) 326.

———S. 111 (1), Cl. (b)—Civil Court—Suit instituted in Courts not having jurisdiction.

The words "Civil Court" in S. 111 (1) (b) of the Act mean a Civil Court of competent jurisdiction. A suit instituted in pursuance of an order under S. 111 (1) (b) of the Act in a Court having no jurisdiction and presented in the proper Court beyond the time specified in the order cannot be entertained. (Stuart, A. J. C.) NURUL HASAN v. SARJU PRASAD. 43 I. C. 473 : 4 O. L. J. 553.

U. P. LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901), S. 111.

——— S. 111 (3)—Decree—Formal or actual.

In partition cases before the Revenue Courts no actual or formal decrees are required to be drawn up under S. 111 (3) of the Act. (Stuart, J. C.) MAHESHAR v. BRIJ MOHAN.

39 I. C. 719 : 4 O. L. J. 113.

——— S. 112—Jurisdiction—Civil and Revenue Courts—Partition proceedings.

If a partition in a Revenue Court is objected to, on the ground of an existing private partition, the Revenue Court may allow the parties to have their rights settled in Civil Courts. (Banerjee and Walsh, JJ.) RAMANARAYAN v. JAGGANNATH PRASAD. 38 All. 115 : 32 I C. 184 : 14 A. L. J. 23.

——— S. 114—Objection filed beyond time—Jurisdiction of Revenue Court to entertain.

Under S. 114 of the Act a Revenue Court is not precluded from dealing with an objection filed beyond the time fixed by it if no action, has been taken until then under the section. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) KALI PRASAD v. THAKUR DEI.

23 I. C. 965 : 1 O. L. J. 81.

——— S. 118—Partition—House—Jurisdiction of Revenue Court.

A Revenue Court making a partition under the provisions of Ch. VII of the Land Rev. Act has no jurisdiction to make a division of houses. Consequently plaintiffs who founded their case upon the partition in order to put forward the title which they wish to vindicate are out of Court. (Lindsay, J.) GOVIND PERSHAD v. KALIAN.

1922 All. 216.

——— S. 118—Rights of parties to partition where a plot of land with cattle trough and heap manure is allotted to one of them—Cattle trough and heap of manure whether dwelling-house.

A heap of manure or cattle trough not being a dwelling-house, a co-sharar to whom a plot of land with heap of manure or cattle trough of another co-sharer is allotted is entitled to actual possession thereof. (Richards, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) RAM KISHORE MISRA v. KALKA DICHHIT.

39 I. C. 575.

——— S. 118—Partition—Site of house belonging to one given to another co-sharer—Effect of.

Where the site of the house belonging to one co-sharer was given to another at the time of partition and no steps were taken under the action for the occupier to pay rent and retain possession, the co-sharer to whom the share has been allotted in partition can recover possession of the site by removal of the materials of the house. (Rafique, J.) RAMJAN MAL v. ZAHARYA SINGH.

28 I. C. 358

——— S. 118—Co-sharers—Partition—Site of building of one co-sharer allotted to another.

In a partition proceeding before a Revenue Officer a site of a building occupied by one co-sharer was allotted to another. The co-sharer in possession of the building did not show to the Revenue Authorities that there was a building and did not ask for an order fixing a ground rent under S. 118 Held, that the other co-owner was entitled to possession under the partition decree and only an opportunity of removing the building could be given to the former. (Piggott, J.) BHURE LAL v. JAGANATH.

26 I. C. 933.

U. P. LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901), S. 143.

——— S. 118—Civil and Revenue Court—If Civil Court is bound to wait for decision of Revenue Court.

A Civil Court is not bound to await the result of an application to a Revenue Court or to dismiss the suit. (1906) A. W. N. 194, Dist. (Rafique, J.) SAGWA v. RAM SARAN. 25 I. C. 197.

——— Ss. 122 to 127—Ex-proprietary tenancy.

Ss. 122 to 127 describe fully how ex-proprietary tenancy is created, except some references made in S. 127 to Agra Tenancy Act and Oudh Rent Act. (Piggott, J.) SARANAM SINGH v. BISRAM SINGH. 16 I. C. 81 : 9 A. L. J. 701.

——— S. 126—Applicability of—Hindu joint family—Partition of sir and khudkasht.

Where in a partition of the sir and khudkasht lands of joint family, each member agrees to take his share unencumbered by any ex-proprietary ights on the part of others, no ex-proprietary tenancy arises. The case does not fall under Sec. 126. (Griffin and Chamier, JJ.) SARNAM SINGH v. BISRAM SINCH. 18 I. C. 723.

——— Ss. 133 and 212—Partition case—Orders passed on disputes after confirmation of partition—Second Appeal.

Orders passed in respect of disputes arising between the parties to a partition case after the partition has been confirmed, are subject to second appeal. (Holms and Campbell, JJ.) KANDHAIYA LAL v. NARAIN DAS.

33 I. C. 262 : 2 O. L. J. 742.

——— S. 138, Sub. Ss. (3) and (4)—Scope of—Responsibility for rent payable to Talukdar.

In S. 138, Sub Ss. (3) and (4) provision is made for the limitation of the joint responsibility of the co-sharers in any newly constituted mahal to the rent due in respect of that mahal only. It is also provided that all objections to distribution of the lands of a mahal into new mahals at the time of partition shall be decided by the Collector. There can be no doubt that the responsibility of the co-sharers mentioned in these provisions would support the contention. S. 138 merely refers to the responsibility for revenue to Government inter se of the owners of talukdari mahal which was partitioned and does not refer to the responsibility inter se of the lessees for rent to the Talukdar in the various lessee mahals. (Ashworth, J. C.) JUGNU KHAN v. RUDRA PARTAB SINGH. 26 O. C. 118 : 1923 Oudh 216.

——— S. 138, Chap. VII—Joinder of parties—Splitting up of liabilities.

In a partition suit between lessees of Mahal the rent of which is fixed by Settlement Officer, the superior proprietor need not be joined. The Chap. VII nowhere states that Revenue Court can split up joint and several liabilities of lessees without superior proprietor's consent. (Lindsay, J. C.) RUDRA PARTAB SINGH v. SIKANDARKHAN.

39 I. C. 598 : 20 O C. 104

——— S. 143—Interest on arrears of revenue if can be recovered by assignee of Government Revenue.

U. P. LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901), S. 144.

An assignee of Government Revenue cannot recover interest on arrears of revenue. (Tudball, J.) NAUBAT SINGH v. WAHIDUDDIN.

11 I. C. 44

——S. 144—Lambardar—Suit for—Recovery of revenue paid.

Some lands in a village once held revenue free by defts. were assessed to Government Revenue. The plff., the lambardar of the village, had to pay the revenue and sued the defts. for its recovery on the ground that they were liable to pay it. Held, assuming that the liability for the land revenue of these plots of land lies on the defendants; they were jointly and severally responsible for the revenue of the Mahal and the payment of the revenue assessed upon these plots would be rightly made on behalf of the defendants by the lambardar. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) MURLI DHAR v. BABU RAM.

42 All. 311 : 18 A. L. J. 121 : 55 I. C. 74 : 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 41

——S. 144—Lambardar—Negligence to collect rents.

A lambardar deliberately neglecting to collect rent of a share and allowing the tenants to cultivate without paying rents is guilty of gross negligence and he must pay the co-sharer his share of profits. (Stuart, A. J. C.) BAIJNATH v. SHEO GOBINDA.

30 I. C. 203 : 2 O. L. J. 206.

——S. 144—Profits, suit for—Lambardar's rights—Onus of proving collections.

A lambardar can claim collection expenses in addition to his fee under S. 144 of the U. P. Land Revenue Act. A lambardar, failing to produce his account books cannot claim a reduction in the gross rental. The onus of proving the actual collection lies on him. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) UBAID ULLAH KHAN v. NAZIR HUSSAIN KHAN.

24 I. C. 15 : 1 O. L. J. 184.

——Ss. 146 and 148—Proprietor—Revenue sale—Muafidar.

The word 'proprietor' in Ss. 146 and 148 refers only to those who in the wajib-ul-arz are set out as being the person on whom the revenue had been, at the time of settlement, assessed jointly or severally. Muafidars are not such persons and their rights is not extinguished by a sale for arrears of revenue of a Mahal. (Knox and Rafique, JJ.) KUARSEN v. JWALAPRASAD.

35 All. 190 : 19 I. C. 79 : 11 A. L. J. 217.

——Ss. 160, 161 and 162—Taquair is revenue—Land sold for arrears of revenue—Incumbrance—Benefit to property.

Taquair is revenue and for arrears of taquair land should be sold free of all incumbrances. Where the sale certificate shows that the land was sold under the provisions of Ss. 160 and 161 of the U. P. Land Rev. Act and purchased free of all incumbrances, the Court may presume that the proceedings were lawfully taken and that the taquair had been granted for the benefit of the property sold. (Lyle, A. J. C.) BABU RAM v. BABU RAM.

66 I. C. 620 : 8 O. L. J. 343.

U. P. LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901), S. 233.

——S. 167—Mortgage of Nankar—Revenue sale.

A mortgage created by Nankar holders does not become extinct by the subsequent sale of the nankar property for arrears of revenue and can be enforced against the purchasers at the revenue sale. (Knox and Rafique, JJ.) KUNWAR SEN v. JWALA PRASAD.

35 All. 190 : 19 I. C. 79 : 11 A. L. J. 217.

——S. 188—Partition—Land occupied by house.

Where the site of the house of one co sharer has been allotted to another, the presumption under S. 118 of the Act is that the owner of the house is to retain possession of the house; and the mere fact that the ground rent is not assessed cannot deprive the owner of the house, of his right to it. (Knox, C. J., Banerji and Tudball, JJ.) SORUP LAL v. LALA.

39 All. 707 : 42 I. C. 589 : 15 A. L. J. 757 (F. B.).

——S. 207—Effect.

The effect of S. 207 is to bar the institution of a suit to set aside an award acted upon by a Revenue Court. It does not bar a suit based upon title, independently of the decision of the Revenue Court, 14 A. L. J. 95. Foll. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) SAPU SINGH v. HARDEO SINGH.

39 All. 711 : 42 I. C. 681 : 15 A. L. J. 773.

——S. 207 (2)—Mutation proceedings—Arbitration award, does not bar suit in Civil Court.

Where an award under an arbitration is made regarding entries made in Revenue Papers, S. 207 (2) of the Act does not bar a suit for possession in a Civil Court. (Banerji and Gokul Prasad, JJ.) DHALIP SINGH v. MANKUAR.

43 All. 389 : 61 I. C. 156 : 19 A. L. J. 156.

——Ss. 211 and 233 (k)—Objection in partition proceeding rejected as time-barred—Civil suit barred.

An objection as to proprietary title was disallowed by the partition officer as made out of time. A civil suit in respect of the same subject-matter is barred under S. 233 (k) of the Act. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) BHAGWAT PRASAD v. LACHMI NARAIN.

19 I. C. 978 : 11 A. L. J. 621.

——S. 233—Partition suit—Rev. Court deciding question of Proprietary title—Power of Civil Court.

Where in partition proceedings a question of proprietary title is raised before the Revenue Court and the Revenue Court has refused impliedly to permit its decision by the Civil Court and has proceeded to determine the question itself its decision is final. (Stuart, J.) DEOKI DUBE v. UMA DAT.

1923 All. 369

——S. 233—Partition—Mistake.

Where there has been a mistake in distributing the lands of a mahal between the co-sharers in a partition, the proper remedy for correction is to apply to the Revenue Court. (Piggott, J.) DALGIT SINGH v. SHAMBU SINGH.

30 I. C. 189 : 13 A. L. J. 779.

U. P. LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901), S. 233.

——S. 233—Can a partition by Revenue court be re-opened—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts.

Where in a partition effected by Revenue Courts, it appears subsequently that certain property was under a mortgage though supposed all along of a proprietary right, the loss is to be borne by all the parties equally. A suit for a declaration of a right to re-open a partition on this ground is not maintainable Subsequent titles may be defined by Civil Courts but the partition according to the decree must be made by Revenue Courts which however will not be considered as repartition. (Kanhaiya Lal and Kendall, A J.Cs.) SHEO SINGH v. LAKHA SINGH. 39 I. C. 392 : 20 O. C. 79.

——S. 233 (1)—Declaration suit—Cause for.

An order of a Revenue Court against the landlord declaring A to be an under-proprietor gives sufficient cause for him to bring a declaration suit in a Civil Court that A has no proprietary rights. Under the section a Civil Court is not competent to decide a question as to the nature of tenancy or the question of estoppel. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs.) HIRDE v. MUHAMMAD ABDUL HASAN KHAN. 30 I. C. 207 : 2 O. L. J. 335.

——S. 233 (k)—Application for perfect partition—Objection by part proprietors—Completion of partition—Suit after seven years is barred.

One of the proprietors of a Mahal applied for perfect partition under the U. P. Land Revenue Act and another proprietor objected claiming that he was also part proprietor. The objector was directed by the Revenue authorities to establish his claim in the Civil Court and he brought a suit and obtained a decree declaring his rights. The Revenue Court was not informed of this fact at all and the partition proceedings were completed seven years later he sued for recovery of possession of his share in the Mahal, Held that the suit was barred under S. 233 (k) of the Land Revenue Act (Ryves and Daniels, JJ.) RAM CHARITRA v. MOHAN DEI. 45 A 309 : 21 A. L. J. 159 L.R. 4 A. 82 (Rev.) : 1923 All. 210.

——S. 233 (k)—Question of title raised in partition Court—Suit in Civil Court is barred.

Pending partition proceedings in the Revenue Court a party sued another party in the Civil Court involving the same question of title which was the subject-matter of partition. held, that the suit was barred under S. 233 (k) of the Act. (Lindsay and Stuart, JJ.) RAM SUHBAG SINGH v. DIP NARAIN. 64 I. C. 489 : 19 A L. J. 865.

——S. 233 (k)—No applicability to partition of land in village Abadi.

S. 233 (k) does not apply to a suit for partition of a plot of land in village Abadi, the parties to which are not co-sharers in the Mahal. The suit is cognizable by a Civil Court. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) RAHTU MAL v. BALDEO SAHAI. 19 A. L. J. 307: 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 4 : 62 I. C. 420 : 43 All. 454.

——S 233 (k)—Objection to application not entertained—Suit not barred.

U. P. LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901), S. 233.

A partition suit is not barred by S. 233 (k) when in the partition proceedings one of the co-sharers claimed certain property as his own and sought partition and the other co-sharer was not given any opportunity of raising an objection thereto. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) SHEIKH HASAN ALI v. MOHUBULLAH. 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 1.

——S. 233 (k)—Imperfect partition—Plaintiff party to partition proceedings—Pltff.'s land allotted to deft.—Declaration.

Where the property in dispute was sold by the predecessor-in-interest of the defendants and was pre-empted by the plaintiff in 1897 who remained in possession ever since and mutation of names was never effected in his favour and the property continued in the name of the vendor and in 1913 the defendants applied for an imperfect partition of their share as recorded in the khevat which included the aforesaid property; and the plaintiff also made a similar application in respect of his recorded share which did not include the said property, according to which partition was effected and the property in dispute was allotted to the defendants but after the partition had been confirmed the plaintiff sued in Civil Court for a declaration that the said property which stood in the defendant's name and had been allotted to them at the partition belonged to him. Held, that S. 233 (k) barred the suit. (Tudball and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) BHUPAL SINGH v. UJAGAR SINGH. 43 All. 88 : 18 A. L J. 928 : 58 I. C. 122 : 2 U. P. L. R. (A) 306.

——S. 233 (k)—Partition—Unrecorded proprietor—Suit to recover property.

A partition conducted in the absence of a person at a time when he has only recently acquired proprietary rights in the Mahal and has not succeeded in obtaining formal delivery of possession over the property so acquired, does not bind him and not being a recorded co-sharer he would be under no obligation to appear before the partition Court, to protect his own rights. A suit by such a person, therefore, to recover his own property from certain persons to whom it has been assigned by the partition officer, is not contrary to S. 233 (k). (Piggott and Kanhaiya Lal JJ.) ZAHURUL HAQ v. NABI BAKSH 57 I. C. 478 : 2 U. P. L. R (All.) 221.

——S. 233 (k)—Partition—Revenue Court—Jurisdiction—Civil Court.

After a partition has been effected the question whether or not an actual distribution of lands between the co-sharers necessitated by the formation of a new mahal, is one to be decided exclusively by the Court conducting the partition and Civil Court cannot disturb the distribution of land within the limits of the mahal effected at the time of partition nor can it impeach the jurisdiction of the Revenue Courts when conducting the partition. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) FAYAZ ALI v. MUSHARRAF ALI. 57 I. C. 72 : 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 161.

——S. 233 (k)—Scope of—Declaration of possession.

S. 233 (k) does not bar a suit for declaration that the pltff. is entitled exclusively to the mahal formed on partition between him and deft. (Knox and Banerjee, JJ.) LAL BEHARI v. PARKALI KOER. 42 All. 309 : 18 A. L. J. 110 : 55 I. C. 22 : 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 50.

——— S. 233 (k)—Suit to set aside order of Revenue Court—Fraud.

An action can be brought in the Civil Court to provide a remedy where a person's rights have been infringed by some fraudulent act of the deft. even though the fraud was practised on the Revenue Court and would affect the result of partition proceedings in the Revenue Court. 25 All. 19; 23 All. 291 ; 49 I. C. 306, Foll. (Walsh and Stuart, A J. Cs.) JHUMAK RAI v. BINDESHRI RAI. 41 All. 626: 17 A. L. J 797: 51 I. C. 125: 1 U. P. L. R. (H.C.) 62.

——— Ss. 233 (k), 107 and 110—Partition—Jurisdiction of Civil Court—Partition and Union of mahals, meaning of.

Where the RevenueCourt drew up proceedings under S. 114 putting down plff.'s share as that given in the application by plff. and deft. a suit by plff. more than a year after this for recovery of possession of the share allotted to defts. was barred under S. 233 (k). 38 All. 243, Dist. Per Banerji, J.—In determining whether S. 233 (k) applies the Court must look to the substance of the claim and not to the form in which it is dressed up. Per Richards, C. J.—The word "petition" and the wo ds "union of mahals" in S. 233 (k) refer to "units" of area which the Revenue Authorities create in the course of partition proceedings. (Richards, C. J., Banerjee and Tudball, JJ.) BIJAI MISIR v. KALI PRASAD. 39 All. 469: 41 I. C. 912 : 15 A. L. J. 496 (F.B.).

——— S. 233 (k)—Plea of bar—Where applicable

Plea of bar for a suit for possession can be raised only against a party to the partition proceedings. (Knox, J.) LAKHPAT THAKURAI v. GURSARAN THAKURAI. 36 I. C. 273.

——— S. 233 (k)—Partition.

A person entitled to more than one share in a mahal is not bound to include all that he is entitled to in his application for partition. Obiter:—The Revenue Authorities might u der circumstances refuse to make partition unless the applicant was prepared to have partition of all he is entitled to. (Richards, C. J., Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) KALKA PRASAD v. MANMOHAN LAL. 38 All. 302: 33 I. C. 86 : 14 A. L J. 373 (F. B.).

——— S. 233 (k)—Imperfect partition—Suit in Civil Court—Whether res judicata.

Where on an application for imperfect partition an erroneous inclusion is made, a suit for declaration of title and for possession by the lawful owner is not barred by S. 233 (k) (Richards, C.J., Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) SHAMBU SINGH v. DALGIT SINGH. 38 All. 243: 33 I. C. 19 : 14 A. L. J. 293.

——— S. 233 (k)—Partition—Subsequent suit claiming a share.

A suit by plff claiming to have become entitled by inheritance as reversionary heirs to a share dealt with in a particular way at a partition, is not barred by the section. (Chamier and Piggott, JJ.) MANORATH CHOUBE v. SUMERA. 28 I. C. 454.

——— Ss. 233 (k), 110 and 111—Suit for declaration by tenant of his record rights.

S. 233 (k) applies only to persons who were parties to the partition proceedings or who should have been made parties thereto and whose claims could have been heard under Ss. 111 and 112. Plaintiffs were recorded as tenants of some plots in a village which was the subject of partition and they were not made parties to the partition proceedings. Their plots were allotted to one co-sharer and in a suit in ejectment plaintiffs set up their right and were referred to Civil Courts. Held, in a suit for declaration that S. 233 (k) did not bar the suits. 28 All. 432; 4 A L. J. 662, Ref. (Sunderlal, J.) SHAMBHU v. CHETRAM. 26 I. C. 119: 12 A. L. J. 1017.

——— S. 233 (k)—Partition of separate Mahals.

The Revenue Courts are given exclusive jurisdiction to partition a Mahal. A separate proceeding for partition has to be instituted for each Mahal and it is not necessary to bring all the Mahals in which a party is a co-sharer, into Court for partition (Sunder Lal, J.) DHARAM SINGH v. RAMDIAL SINGH FULLAR. 25 I. C. 177: 12 A. L. J. 1126.

——— S. 233 (k)—Partition—Forum.

Where after an application by a co-sharer to a Revenue Court for partition, the plff. co sharer instituted a suit for joint possession in a Civil Court. Held, that the suit is barred by S. 233 (k) of the Act. (Piggott, J.) GANESH TEWARI v. SALIK PANDE. 25 I. C. 32: 12 A. L. J. 949.

——— S. 233 (k)—Partition proceedings—Agra Tenancy Act (II of 1901), S. 199 (1) (a)—Question of title—Decision res judicata.

S. 233 (k) does not prohibit a Revenue Court from acting under S. 199 (1) (a) of the Agra Tenancy Act if the result of the suit might even indirectly affect the share of a co-sharer on partition. (Ryves, J.) RESAL v. MAHA RAM. 21 I. C. 229 : 11 A. L. J. 686.

——— S. 233 (k)—Declaration, suit for.

A suit for a declaration that the plff. is in possession of property, which is subject-ma ter of partition, is barred by S. 233 (k) of the Act. (Griffin and Ryves, JJ.) RAM CHARAN v. HUB BAHADUR SINGH. 19 I. C. 397 : 11 A. L J. 429.

——— Ss. 233 (k), 110 and 112—Suit against Benamidar.

Though a real owner did not take objection to the title of a benamidar, in the perfect partition of a Mahal in which he was also a co-sharer, he did not lose his right of suit for declaration of his title under S. 233 (k) of the Act. (Banerjee, J.) BHAIA SHEORAJ SINGH v. SAMPAT SINGH. 15 I. C. 339.

U. P. LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901), S. 233.

——S 233 (k)—Application.

If the mortgagees of certain property apply to Revenue Court for a partition of the property and the mortgagor does not object to the application, the right of redemption is not affected by such partition, even under S. 233 (k). (Richards, C. J. and Banerji, J.) BALBHADAR RAI v. BIRJ RAJ RAI. 10 I. C. 630.

——S. 233 (k)—Partition—Mistake of Amin in preparing map—Civil or Revenue Court—Jurisdiction.

The Amin in preparing the map in a partition proceeding by mistake coloured a plot which belonged to the plaintiff with the colour of the defendants plot: Held, that the ratification of the mistake was entirely within the jurisdiction of the Revenue Court as S. 233 (k) barred any suit or proceeding regarding it in a Civil Court. A. W. N. (1900) 11, Dist. (Knox and Banerji, JJ.) TIRBENI SAHAI v. GOKAL PRASAD. 33 All. 440 : 9 I. C. 475: 8 A. L. J. 244.

——S. 233 (k)—Partition of abadi land—Civil Courts, jurisdiction of—Mahal, suits for partition of part of.

Held, that the jurisdiction of a Civil Court is barred under the provisions of S. 233 (k) of the United Provinces Land Revenue Act as regards the division of abadi land on which no revenue is assessed. Held further, that the word mahal in S. 233 (k) of the United Provinces Land Revenue Act also includes part of a mahal and that prohibition of the institution of a suit in the Civil Court contained in that section applies to a suit for the partition of a part of the mahal also. Held also, that where the site has passed out of the possession of the zemindar of the mahal and is therefore not a mahal the partition of the building site would fall within the jurisdiction of the Civil Court. (Dalal and Wazir Hasan, A. J. Cs.) SHIAM KUNWAR v. FATEH SINGH. 64 I. C. 295 : 24 O. C. 268

——S. 233 (k)—Mortgage by conditional sale—Redemption—Partition proceedings.

In a suit for redemption of a mortgage by conditional sale, the defendant pleaded that by reason of a partition which took place in the village in which the mortgaged property was situated they had acquired a title as owners and therefore were not liable to redemption. Held, that S. 233 (k) does not bar a suit in cases where the plff. had no opportunity of raising an objection on a question of proprietary title in Revenue Court in which the partition was effected. (Lindsay, J. C.) MAHBUL ALI v. MOHAMMAD HUSSAIN. 23 O. C. 125 : 57 I. C. 497: 7 O. L. J. 319.

——S. 233 (k)—Partition—Subsequent suit for possession.

If the plffs. were parties to a partition proceeding and were properly represented, S 233 (k) of the Land Revenue Act bars a subsequent suit for possession of the same land. (Daniels, A. J. C.) ZAIBUNNISSA v. HASARATUNNISSA. 1 U. P. L. R. (J.C.) 1 : 52 I. C. 162: 22 O. C. 124.

U. P. LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901), S. 233.

——S. 233 (k)—Partition proceedings—C. P. Code, O. 32—Applicability of—Representation of minor.

Where in imperfect partition proceedings under the U. P. Land Revenue Act a minor is represented by a guardian and no question of title is raised on his behalf, it is not open to him to challenge those proceedings subsequently by suit. The provisions of O. 32, C. P. C. do not apply to partition proceedings under the U. P. Land Revenue Act. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) PATESHWAR v. AJODHIA. 52 I. C. 123: 1 U. P. L. R. (J. C.) 9.

——S. 233 (k)—Partition—Co-sharer claiming exclusive title to several plots—Jurisdiction.

A co-sharer claimed exclusive title in several plots of land in a village partitioned by the Revenue Court. He was a party to the partition proceeding, but failed to apply to the Court either to exclude those plots from partition or to allot them to his Mahal of another co-sharer. Held, that the suit was barred by S. 233 (k). (Kanhaiya Lal and Daniels, A. J. Cs.) BADAL SINGH v. MAHABIR SINGH. 51 I. C. 554 : 22 O. C. 54.

——S. 233 (k)—Suit for partition — Jurisdiction.

A sharer in a mahal though not a recorded co-sharer can sue for partition in the Civil Court. (Stuart, J. C.) GOPAL v. RAM HARAKH TIWARI. 50 I. C. 923.

——S. 233 (k)—Partition.

Once a partition is over, parties to a partition may afterwards deal with their shares as they like except obligation to pay revenue and cesses. (Stuart, J. C.) JHURI SINGH v DWARKA SINGH 50 I. C. 193 : 6 O. L. J 84.

——S. 233 (k)—Jurisdiction of Civil Court.

S. 238 (k) of the Act does not bar a suit by a person who had no locus standi to appear in and was no party to partition proceedings 38 All. 302, 28 A. L. J. 432 : Foll. 14 I. C. 685, Dist. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) BHAGWAN DEI v. ARJUN SINGH. 4 O. L. J. 479 : 42 I. C. 8 : 20 O. C. 241.

——S. 233 (k)—Jurisdiction of Civil and Revenue Courts—Question of.

Civil Court cannot enter into a question of title adjudicated upon by a Revenue Court in the course of partition proceedings. (Stuart, A. J. C.) SILVANTA SHUKUL v. MAHBIR SHUKUL. 41 I. C. 88 : 4 O. L. J. 363.

——S. 233 (k)—Jurisdiction of Revenue and Civil Courts in regard to partition of grove land and claim for possession of a Bazaar.

Civil Court has no jurisdiction to disturb a partition of grove land made by Revenue Courts. But a Civil Court can entertain a claim to possession of a Bazar as distinct from a proprietary right in the land of the Bazar notwithstanding a previous decision in partition proceedings. Revenue Court's power of partition being restricted to land cannot be stretched to apply to incomes arising out of it such as income from market and fair. (Daniels, A. J. C.) NAIPAT v. GUR PRASAD

U. P. LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901), S. 233

39 I. C. 400 : 20 O. C. 92

——— Ss. 233 (k), 107 and 111—Entry in partition papers regarding certain lands subject to mortgage whether bars a suit for declaration that the property is not so subject — Jurisdiction of Civil Court.

Civil Courts are not barred from entertaining a suit for declaration that certain lands are not subject to mortgage even if there is an entry made in Revenue Records in partition proceedings to that effect. A mortgagee for fiscal purposes of Revenue Law may be regarded as proprietor but the question of mortgagee-rights is not a question of proprietary title. (Lindsay, J. C.) BALVANT SINGH v. SARDAR SINGH. 39 I. C. 613 : 20 O. C. 115.

——— S. 233 (k) — Partition proceedings — Wrongful allotment of lands—Suit for possession —Jurisdiction.

Under S. 233 (k) of the Act a suit for possession of lands wrongfully allotted to defts. in a partition by the Revenue Court does not lie in a Civil Court. When an objection was raised in a partition proceeding, the Revenue Court referred the objector to Civil Court for relief, it cannot be said that partition was made subject to decision of Civil Court. 1 I. C. 166 (P. C.) Dist. (Lindsay, J. C.) SANWAL SINGH v. BHIKHARI.
23 I. C. 860 : 1 O. L. J. 38.

——— S. 233 (k)—Jurisdiction—Civil and Revenue Court—Partition.

A suit for a declaration that certain lands held in severalty by the plff. had been wrongly included in the shares allotted by the Revenue Courts is barred by reason of S. 233 (k) of the Act. All objections to the mode of partition by the Revenue Courts are exclusively cognisable by those Courts 10 O. C 363. Expl. (Piggott, J. C.) RAGHURAR DAYAL SUKHA v. MITHAN KUNWAR.
20 I. C. 145.

——— S. 233 (k)—Jurisdiction—Civil and Revenue Courts—Partition.

Civil Courts have no jurisdiction to question the action of the Revenue Courts in matters relating to partition which is entirely and exclusively cognizable by the latter. (Piggott, J. C.) BACHCHA SINGH v. PIRTHI SINGH. 20 I. C. 56.

——— S. 233 (k)—Civil and Revenue Courts—Jurisdiction—Suit for possession of abadi land partitioned by Revenue Courts.

Where abadi lands had been partitioned by the Revenue Courts and plff was in possession of his share for a long time before he was dispossessed by the defendant, held, that S. 233 (k) does not debar a Civil Court from entertaining a suit for possession against the defendant and from enforcing the plff's. title both under the partition proceedings themselves and in virtue of their undisturbed possession for a long time. (Piggott, J. C.) DEBI SINGH v. BALDEO SINGH. 20 I. C. 46.

U. P. LOCAL RATES ACT (I OF 1914), S. 14.

——— S. 233 (k)—Suit for possession against alienee from co-sharer.

A suit by a co-sharer for possession of a portion of land transferred by a co-sharer lies in a Civil Court as the third person cannot be joined in the partition proceedings, and the relief claimed in the suit cannot possibly be detained by a partition proceeding in the Revenue Court. S. 233 (k) is no bar to such suit. (Lindsay, J. C. and Stuart, A. J. C.) RAMRATTAN v. MUMTAZ AHMAD.
16 I. C. 876 : 15 O. C. 301.

——— S. 233 (k)—Decision as to title.

Where a question of proprietary title was raised and declared against the appellant in a partition proceeding, the Civil Court cannot entertain a fresh suit regarding the same question. 23 All. 291, Ref. (Evans, A.J.C.) AZIZUNNISSA v. RASUL BANDI. 9 I. C. 59.

——— S. 233 (m)—Claim arising out of recovery of money realisable as revenue.

A claim arising out of the collection of a sum of money which is under S. 5 of the Agriculturists Loans Act realisable as Revenue, is not cognizable by Civil Court by virtue of S. 233 (m). (Tudball, J.) NIHAL CHAND v. KANHAI.
19 A. L. J. 360 : 62 I. C. 544 : 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 66.

——— S. 234—Powers of Revenue Board.

The Revenue Board can frame rules under S. 234 laying down method of determining rent but it cannot exclude under-proprietor from the operation of S. 79. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J.Cs.) SHANKAR SAHAI v. GUJADHAR PRASAD.
20 O. C. 171 : 40 I. C. 200 : 4 O. L. J 409.

——— S. 234—Suit against Municipal contractor for damages by lessee of Mandi—Maintainability.

A suit by the lessee of a Mandi against a Municipal contractor for damages caused by unlawfully stacking materials on the land of the Mandi is maintainable. To such a suit S. 234 does not apply. (Tudball, Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) MOHAMED GHAZANFAR ULLAH v. BABU LAL.
43 All 614 : 19 A. L. J. 521 : 1922 All. 477 (F. B.).

——— Sch. IV, R (d), Serial Nos. 47 and 48—Continuation of proceedings.

When proceedings for execution are initiated within time as is required, they can then go on for a considerable time. (Walsh and Sundar Lal, JJ.) BIRJ BHUKHAN v. MAHADEO PERSHAD.
35 I. C. 205.

U. P. LOCAL RATES ACT (I of 1914),

——— S. 14—"Contract"—Meaning of.

"Contract" as used in S. 14 of the U. P. Local Rates Act must mean a contract between the landlord and the under-proprietor or permanent lessee, in addition to being a contract in its legal sense. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) SHEIKH ALI ABBAS v. RAJA KUNWAR SHER BAHADUR SINGH. 75 I. C. 267 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 815.

U. P. MUNICIPALITIES ACT (I OF 1900), S. 8.

U. P. MUNICIPALITIES ACT (I OF 1900).

——— S. 17—Powers of Municipal Board.

The Municipalities Act of 1916 has not altered the powers of Municipal bodies of suing and being sued in the name of Corporation, and hence a Municipal Board can grant sanction for prosecution for an offence committed under Act of 1900. (Knox, J.) BACHA LAL v. EMPEROR. 40 I. C. 700 : 18 Cr. L. J. 700 : 15 A. L. J. 530.

——— Ss. 19, 20 and 25—Election—Petition to unseat several successful candidates.

An unsuccessful candidate can join in a single petition a claim against all the successful candidates praying that all or anyone of them be declared not duly elected. (Walsh and Stuart, JJ.) MOHAMMAD ABDUL BAQUI KHAN v. SIRAJ-UL-HASAN. 41 All. 696 : 52 I. C. 67 : 17 A. L. J. 844.

——— S. 49—Necessity of notice.

A deft. acting under S. 49 is entitled to a notice before a suit for damages for malicious prosecution. 26 All. 220, Dist. (Stanley and Banerji, JJ.) JUGUL KISHORE v. JUGAL KISHORE. 33 All. 540 : 10 I. C. 1 : 8 A. L. J 509.

——— Ss. 87 and 152—Permission for repair refused—Remedy.

The remedy against an order of the Municipal Board refusing to give leave to repair is an appeal under S 152 of the Act, and not a suit for perpetual injunction and damages. (Richards, C. J and Banerjee, J.) ABDUL SAMAD v. MUNICIPAL BOARD, MEERUT. 36 All. 329 : 25 I. C. 207 : 12 A. L. J. 445.

——— S. 87—Erecting a pump in public street.

Proceedings under S. 87 against a person erecting a pump in a public road are misconceived. But such a person is liable under S. 147 if his action contravenes any rule made by the Municipality under S. 128. Any member of the public prejudiced by such pump can sue for its removal in a Civil Court as his right of using the public way is obstructed. (Walsh, J.) JAGANNATH v. EMPEROR. 35 I. C. 526 : 17 Cr L. J. 350.

——— S. 87—Application—Building overhanging street.

The section does not apply to that part of the building which overhangs a public street as a building may adjoin a public street but may not overhang. Where a building with additions of sandas and chhajja is erected on old foundations without sanction from the Municipality a notice given by it to demolish the additions is considered to be under Ss. 87 and 88 of the Act and it is a valid notice and in such cases Civil Courts have no jurisdiction, the remedy of the aggrieved party being that laid down in S. 52 of the Act. (Rafique, J.) RAHAS BIHARI LAL v. MUNICIPAL BOARD, CAWNPORE. 35 I. C. 222.

——— Ss. 87, 88 and 147—Disobedience of notice.

U. P. MUNICIPALITIES ACT (I OF 1900), S. 91.

Prosecution under S. 87 is not legal when the Board issues notice under S. 88. A person applied to the Municipality for permission to build and as no notice was taken of the application, sent a written remainder and after 15 days of its receipt by the Board began to construct the building complained of. Held, the Board should be deemed to have sanctioned the construction and there can be no prosecution under S. 87. (Banerji, J.) RAMNATH v. MUNICIPAL BOARD OF MUTTRA. 26 I. C. 670 : 16 Cr. L. J. 78 : 12 A. L. J. 740.

——— S. 87—Re-erection without sanction—Whether an offence.

Where an accused without obtaining any sanction had dismantled an old balcony and had erected in its place a covered balcony, held that such an act certainly amounted to an alteration of a building but it was not a material alteration or enlargement of a building and so the penal sections would be inapplicable in such a case. (Knox, J.) SHIMLA v. EMPEROR. 14 I. C. 602 : 13 Cr. L. J. 250 : 9 A. L. J. 664.

——— S. 87—Refusal of permission to erect building—Grounds for—Height of proposed structure.

S. 87 of the U. P. Municipalities Act wants a Municipal Board simply to assign a cause for refusing permission to erect a building. A Municipal Board can refuse to sanction the erection or re-erection of a building on the ground that it will be of such a height as will render it an unsuitable building in the locality. (Stuart, A. J. C.) GANESH PERSHAD v. MUNICIPAL BOARD OF LUCKNOW. 49 I. C. 463 : 6 O. L. J. 33.

——— Ss. 87 (1) (a) and 168—'Erect or re erect—Grain pit, digging of.

The digging of a grain pit does not amount to an 'erection' or 're-erection' within S. 87 (1) (a) of the Act. (Ryves, J.) HAR SARAN DAS v. EMPEROR. 20 I. C. 611 : 14 Cr. L. J 451 : 11 A. L. J. 688.

——— S. 88—Removal of balcony— Notice—Scope of.

The Board can, under S. 88 of the Act require the removal of a balcony overhanging a public road, and it is not necessary that reasons for the notice should be given, or compensation tendered to the person who would be damaged by the removal (Tudball, J.) NAUNA MAL v. MUNICIPAL BOARD OF HATHRAS. 35 All. 375 : 20 I. C. 405 : 14 Cr. L. J. 421 : 11 A. L. J. 486.

——— S. 88—Daily fine—Legality.

A daily fine cannot be imposed for an offence under S. 88. (Banerjee, J.) RAMNATH v. MUNICIPAL BOARD OF MUTTRA. 26 I.C. 670 : 16 Cr. L. J. 78 : 12 A. L. J. 740.

——— S. 91—Powers of Municipal Board to close drain.

Although a person has obtained a decree declaring his right to pass water along a drain through his neighbours' house, the Municipal Board is entitled to close the drain if it is injurious to public health. (Chamier, J.) CHAULI v. THE MUNICIPAL BOARD OF MUZAFFARNAGER. 26 I. C. 781 (1) : 12 A. L. J. 1102.

U. P. MUNICIPALITIES ACT (I OF 1900), S. 91.

——S. 91—Re-construction of privy

S. 91 of the Act does not apply to a case of re-construction of a ruined and fallen down privy, without the permission of the Board. (Tudball, J.) NAUNA MAL v. MUNICIPAL BOARD OF HATHRAS. 11 A. L. J. 486 : 20 I. C. 405 : 14 Cr. L. J. 421 : 35 All. 375.

——S. 128 (a)—Rules—Charge of digging up road—Proof of—Right to dig up road or drain.

No one has any right to dig up any portion of a roadway or to dig up or alter any portion of a drain. Where the applicant was allowed to put a stone over a drain in front of his shop for use of himself and of persons visiting his shop and was charged for having dug up the road when in fact, expecting a visit from the Chairman of the Municipal Board he was getting the soil from underneath the projection removed Held, the applicant was not guilty of digging the road. (Walsh, J.) GULAB SINGH v. EMPEROR. 35 I. C. 964 : 17 Cr. L. J. 404.

——S. 128 (a) (1)—Peace of public entertainment and resort.

S. 128 (a) (1) does not empower a Municipality to charge the hawkers for sale of good articles on the public street or patri adjoining thereto, which are not included in the words 'place of public entertainment and resort' in that section; as words cannot be read distributively. (Knox, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) IMAMI v. EMPEROR. 10 A. L. J. 426 : 16 I. C. 833 : 13 Cr. L. J. 685 : 35 All. 24.

——S. 128, Cls (h) and (i)—Seller—Meaning.

A dandidar who simply weighs things brought to a market to be sold, is not a seller of these things. (Tudball, J.) JABBAR SINGH v. EMPEROR. 13 Cr. L. J. 797 : 17 I. C. 541 : 11 A. L. J. 39.

——S. 129—Standing orders—Building—Refusal of permission.

Where the Local Government extends S. 129 to a Municipality it has power to make standing orders with regard to the specification and design of any building constructed within its limits and if the specification of the building proposed to be constructed does not comply with the requirements laid down in standing orders, the proposal will be rejected automatically unless the Municipal Board directs otherwise. But, when the provisions of the section have not been applied by a Municipality, each case has to be taken on its merits and the propounder of a design is not under any obligation to see that it complies with any particular regulation. But the existence of that section does not prevent a Municipality from refusing permission to erect or re-erect building under the provisions of S. 87 on the points mentioned in S. 129. (Stuart, A. C. J.) GANESH PERSHAD v. MUNICIPAL BOARD OF LUCKNOW. 49 I.C. 463 : 6 O. L. J. 33.

——S. 130 (a) and (e)—Essentials for punishment under.

The render a person liable to punishment for committing breach of rules under (a) and (e) he must be served with a notice as provided by the section. (Banerjee, J.) JHAMMANATH v. EMPEROR. 38 All. 455 : 17 Cr. L. J. 269 : 34 I. C. 989 : 14 A. L. J. 604.

U. P. MUNICIPALITIES ACT (I OF 1900), S. 168.

——Ss 133 and 168—Resolution of Municipality—Not published nor sanctioned—Breach.

Where the resolution of a Municipality was neither published nor sanctioned as required by S. 133 of the Act the accused could not be convicted for its breach. (Ryves, J.) HAR SARAN DAS v. EMPEROR. 21 I.C. 176 : 14 Cr. J. 576.

——S. 147—Boards order disobeyed—Conviction — Persistent disobedience second trial—First conviction—Whether can be changed.

A person was ordered by the Municipal Board of Cawnpore to pull down a chhajja alleged to be in a ruinous condition. On his disobeying the order he was prosecuted and was fined rupees five. As he persisted in disobeying the Board's order he was prosecuted again. Before the institution of the second prosecution he challenged the correctness of the first conviction by means of applications to the District Magistrate and to the High Court but the applications were thrown out. At the second trial he wished to challenge the correctness of the first conviction. Held, that he was not entitled to challenge the correctness of the first conviction. (Chamier, J.) SITAL PARSHAD v. MUNICIPAL BOARD, CAWNPORE. 12 A. L. J. 595 : 25 I. C. 323 (2) : 15 Cr. L. J. 571 : 36 A. 430.

——S. 147—Masonry edging added to chabutra—Whether a material alteration—Conviction.

A mere addition of a masonry edging to a chabutra attached to a house is not a material alteration for which a conviction would lie. (Rafique, J.) RADHA BALLAPH v. EMPEROR. 23 I.C. 192 : 15 Cr. L. J. 240 : 12 A. L. J. 227.

——S. 147—Disobedience of a notice—Conviction—Where lies.

No conviction under S. 147 lies for disobedience of a notice unless the notice was lawfully issued by the Municipal Board. (Ryves and Piggott, JJ.) EMPEROR v. PIRARI LAL. 12 A. L. J. 254 : 23 I. C. 745 : 15 Cr. L. J. 377 : 36 All. 185.

——S. 147—Shop on land lawfully in the owner's possession.

The Municipal Board cannot require a person to give up his shop standing on land not belonging to Municipality but lawfully in his possession. (Knox, J.) JIWA v. EMPEROR. 17 I. C. 713 : 13 Cr. L. J. 841 : 10 A. L. J. 286.

——S. 152—Notice—Defence that the paper was not a notice at all.

An accused is not prevented by S. 152 from setting up a defence that the paper served on him was not a notice from the Board or a person in authority. In such a case, the Magistrate must inquire and get himself satisfied. (Piggott, J.) HAZARI LAL v. EMPEROR. 36 All. 327 : 25 I. C. 328 : 15 Cr. L. J. 574 : 12 A. L. J. 312.

——Ss 168 and 170—Unharnessing horse on road.

Where the accused unharnessed his horse on the road-side and then placed the horse in the stable and the coach in the coach-house, and the vehicle did not stand for a long time upon the public road, held, that no offence was committed either under S. 168 or under S. 170. The Municipal Board could not by its resolution extend the scope of S. 170 of the Act. A Nazul Daroga is not competent to file a complaint under S. 170 of the Act. (Tudball, J.) NALIA KUMAR v. EMPEROR. 20 I. C. 1003 : 14 Cr. L. J. 523 11 A. L. J. 721 :

U. P. MUNICIPALITIES ACT (I OF 1900). S. 187.

——S. 187—Election—Validity of—Question by suit.

The validity of a Municipal election cannot be questioned except by petition presented according to S. 187 of the Municipalities Act and a regular suit will not lie. (Richards, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) MUHAMMAD INAMUL HAQ v. MUHAMMAD AHSAN. 21 I. C. 655 : 12 A. L. J. 459

——S. 187—Rules under—Municipal election—Validity of—How impeached—Appeal to Civil Court.

The validity of a Municipal election cannot be questioned except by an election petition to one tribunal and its order is final and non appealable. 20 I. C. 497, Appr. (Richards, C. J. Banerjee and Tudball, JJ.) NAND RAM v. CHOTEY LAL. 35 All. 578 : 21 I. C. 575 : 11 A. L. J. 945.

——S. 187—Rules under Municipal Elections—Rules framed in 1910 in force—Direction by Government in 1884—Ultra vires.

A direction of the Government issued in 1884 contrary to the rules framed in 1910 under the Act of 1900 is ultra vires and an election in compliance with that direction is contrary to law. (Griffin and Chamier, JJ.) RAGHUNANDAN PRASAD v. SHEO PRASAD. 35 All. 308 : 20 I C. 490 : 11 A. L. J. 349.

——S. 187—Election—False personation—Specific instances—Evidence—Practice.

Where an elector on the roll of a Municipality files a petition under the rules framed by the Local Government against a successful candidate in a Municipal election alleging various instances of personation of voters for which the opposite party was stated to be legally responsible, it is competent to the Court to allow the petition to be amended by the addition of fresh instances of personation (Richards and Tudball, JJ.) NAWAB KHAN v MAHOMED ZAMIN. 34 All. 649 : 16 I. C. 191 : 10 A. L. J. 289.

——S 187 Government rules for Municipal elections—R. 42—'Competent Court'- Appeal.

The words 'Competent Court' in R 42, framed under S. 187 of the U. P. Municipal Act by the Government mean a Civil Court. An order under R. 42 by a Civil Court is not appealable. A Civil Court has no authority to set aside a Municipal election in the absence of a rule framed under S. 187 (b) of the Act. (Stuart, A. J. C.) SUNDAR LAL v. MUHAMMAD FAIQ. 18 I. C. 122 : 16 O. C. 36.

——S. 187 (h)—C. P. C., Ss. 2 and 96—Election petition—Appeal.

The order of a Civil Court on a Municipal election petition is not a decree under S. 2 of the

U. P. MUNICIPALITIES ACT (II OF 1916), S. 16.

C. P. C, and is therefore not appealable. 18 I. C. 122, Appr. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) KHUNNI LAL v. RAGHUNANDAN PERSHAD. 35 All. 450 : 20 I. C. 497 : 11 A. L. J. 659.

——S. 187, R. 42—Municipality—Power of Government to make rules regarding Municipal elections—"Competent Court"—Meaning of.

Where certain draft rules were published in the Local Government Gazette relating to Municipal elections and after considering the objections and criticisms, the rules were published in the Gazette as having been made under S. 187 of Act, (I of 1900). Held, that the publication was valid and the rules so published had the force of law though the rules as published differed in details from the draft rules. The expression "Competent Court" in Rule 42 means a Civil Court of competent jurisdiction with reference to the declaration fixed by the petitioner in his petition, (Karamat Hussain and Tudball, JJ.) GUR CHARAN DAS v. HAR SARUP. 34 All. 391 : 14 I. C. 191 : 9 A. L. J. 383.

U. P. MUNICIPALITIES ACT (II of 1916).

——Lane vests in Municipality—Right to complain for trespass.

Under the U. P. Municipalities Act land used as a public thoroughfare within the limits of the Municipality, vests in the Municipal Board. An act of trespass is an act of interference with the surface of the soil and with the use of the land as a public lane, and no one except the Municipal Board has a right to complain of such trespass. (Piggott, J.) MD. RAZI KHAN v. MD. ASKAR KHAN, 1922 All. 485.

——Ss. 2 and 116 (g)—Public street—Encroachment.

A land or street over which the public as such have no right to pass along, does not become "public" only because there is an underground sewer of old times within the meaning of S. 2 of the U P. Municipalities Act (II of 1916) and S. 116 (g) does not help the Municipal Board, as it deals with only public streets, payments, etc., which vest in the Municipality. (Gokul Prasad, J.) MUNICIPAL BOARD OF BENARES v. RAM KISHNA DAS. 1922 All. 386.

——S. 16 (3) (c)—"Place of profit"—Meaning of—Election—Municipal contractor.

The words "place of profit" have a definite historical association and when coupled with the word "office" are familiar. A contractor who receives remuneration for supply of articles to a municipality cannot in accordance with the ordinary meaning of the word "place" be said to hold a place of profit. The proper meaning which should be ascribed to the words "place of profits" in S. 16 (3) (c) is one which denotes position and employment in the sense of having a title attached to such employment and a definite standing and partaking of the nature and character of that of master and servant. That is, a position in relation to the Board in which the Board can require a person to obey its command and to do certain work or to render personal services in return for remuneration. Instances of this kind readily occur to one, e.g., a consulting Engineer who for a retaining fee holds himself at readiness to give expert opinions and furnishes reports ; a whole or part time medical officer with defined duties towards the Municipal Board ; and each and every Municipal servant of any grade. This rule is necessary because members of a Board should not be in the false position of being masters and servants at one and the same time. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) MAHOMED BAKSH v. MAHOMED ABDUL BAGI KHAN.

U. P. MUNICIPALITIES ACT (II OF 1916), S. 20.

45 A. 720 : 21 A. L. J. 661 : L. R. 4 A. 587 : 1924 A. 135.

——— Ss. 20 and 22—Petition need not be presented personally to collector—Practice.

Ss. 20 and 22 of the U. P. Municipalities Act need not be construed so strictly as to invalidate petitions not presented personally to the Collector. If it was the practice of the particular District that petitions to the collector or in his absence received by some other officer who would hand them over then presentation to that officer is sufficient. It must reach the collector well within the period of limitation. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) SURAJ NARAIN v. JANG BAHADUR.
45 A. 687 : 1924 All. 132.

——— S. 23 (c)—Election—Rival candidates—Withdrawal of one during polling leaving survivor sole candidate—Procedure.

The poll opened with two candidates for one vacancy in a Municipal Council and before the time came for the poll to close and votes to be counted and the Returning Officer to declare who was elected, before that time arrived there was only one candidate and that one candidate a candidate for the one vacancy. The Returning Officer thereupon closed the poll and declared the remaining member duly elected. Held that his action was legal. Rule 36 (1) of the Municipal Rules and Bye-Laws of the particular Municipality, provided that a poll should be taken on the day for the election when the number of duly nominated candidates who were entered in the schedule and who had not withdrawn their candidature before the time fixed for the poll exceeded that of the vacancies. When you have got duly nominated candidates in the excess of vacancies you have got to have an election, Rule 36 (2) provided, "If the number of such candidates is equal to the number of vacancies, all such candidates shall be deemed to be elected." Therefore if there are three candidates and three vacancies, all such candidates shall be deemed to be elected : similarly two, similarly one. Though in terms rule 36 (2) does not contemplate nor is there any where any provision which contemplates the withdrawal of a candidate during the few hours during which the polling is in progress, by analogy to the duties of the Returning Officer before the opening of the poll. It is the proper course for the Returning Officer to act in conformity with R. 36 (2) and if he finds only one candidate left for the one vacancy, to declare that man duly elected. (Mears, C. J. and Piggott, J.) SULTAN BAKSH v. ABDUL HAMID.
45 A. 685 L. R 4 A. 335 : 21 A. L. J. 639 : 1924 All. 134.

U. P. MUNICIPALITIES ACT (II OF 1916), S. 178.

——— S. 85—Strike by scavengers—Punishment.

The provisions of Sec. 85 of the U. P. Municipalities Act are rigorous and must be used with caution. The sweeper who is guilty of abandoning or resigning Municipal service and if by his doing so sanitation might not be impaired then a lighter punishment would do while the punishment is justified if there is danger to public health owing to a strike by scavengers. (Daniels, J.) ANGNOO v. EMPEROR.
L. R. 4 All. 202 (Cr.) : 21 A. L. J. 808 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 922 : 46 All. 41 : 1924 All. 188.

——— S. 116—Municipal rubbish and night-soil—Property in—Municipal servant selling night-soil and rubbish and appropriating proceeds—Breach of trust—Penal Code, S. 420.

S. 116 of the U. P. Municipal Act vests in the Municipality the care of night-soil deposits and also on rubbish and night-soil collected by the Municipality from houses. An arrangement by which the Municipality undertakes to collect all night-soil and refuse from private houses, through the instrumentality of customary sweepers for a reward arranged by contract between them from time to time does not affect the right of the Municipality to the rubbish and when collected. Where, therefore a Sanitary Inspector of the Municipality used his influence with the sweepers and had the night-soil sold privately and appropriated the proceeds. Held that he was guilty of an offence under S. 409 I. P. C. (Walsh, J.) HORI LAL v. EMPEROR.
45 A 281 : 21 A. L. J. 149 : L. R. 4 A. (Cr.) 62 : 1923 All. 480.

——— S. 128 (B)—Breach of sanction—Penalty.

Where persons are charged with erecting buildings contrary to approved plans, the object is to enable the public authority to control streets and buildings. Penalties are only intended in terrorem and should not be applied vindictively for technical offences. (Walsh, J.) NIHAL MUHAMMAD v. EMPEROR.
21 A L. J. 774: L. R. 4 A. 226 : 1924 All. 200 (Cr.).

——— S. 155—Octroi duty—Failure to pay—Offence.

The broker of a consignee taking delivery of the goods without paying octroi duty is guilty of an offence under S. 155 of the Act.(Bannerjee, J.) BABU RAM v. EMPEROR.
46 I. C. 848 : 19 Cr. L. J. 832 ; 16 A L. J. 632.

——— S. 155—Octroi duty—Omission to pay—bona fide mistake.

S. 155 of the U. P. Municipality Act does not apply to a case where there has been no attempt to defraud and octroi duty has not been paid on account of an absolutely honest mistake. (Stuart, J C.) MUNICIPAL BOARD, RAE BARELI v. MAHOMED MUQIM.
51 I. C. 477 : 20 Cr. L. J. 493 : 6 O. L. J. 174.

——— S. 178—Compound wall—Alteration in building abutting on public road.

A building the walls of which are 40 feet from the road cannot be said to be abutting on or adjacent to a public road or street. The mere fact that the proposed compound wall would if constructed abut on a public road does not require a notice under S. 178 of the Act to the Board (Lindsay, J. C.) MAHOMED RAZA v. EMPEROR.

U. P. MUNICIPALITIES ACT (II OF 1916), S. 185.

65 I. C. 767 : 23 Cr. L. J. 191 : 8 O. L. J. 603.

——S. 185—Act done before the passing of the Act.

An offence committed before the coming into force of the Act cannot be punished under the provisions of the Act, as the Act contains no saving clause. (Tudball, J.) AMIR HASAN KHAN v. EMPEROR. 38 I. C. 736 : 18 Cr. L J. 352 : 15 A. L. J. 159.

——S. 185—Material alteration—What is.

The raising of the plaint and the alterations made in the size, position or number of the doors or windows cannot be treated as material alteration within the meaning of S. 185. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) EMPEROR v. BABU RAM.
25 O C. 1 : 23 Cr. L. J. 476 : 1923 Oudh 35 (1).

——Ss. 185 and 186—Notice, necessity of.

Issue of notice under S. 185 is not necessary for prosecution under S. 186. Where a person after lapse of sanction to erect a building, erects one without fresh sanction, prosecution is the more appropriate remedy rather than demolition of the building. (Banerjee and Piggott, J.) EMPEROR v. HASHIM ALI. 39 All. 482 : 40 I. C. 307 : 18 Cr. L. J. 659 : 15 A L. J. 461.

——Ss. 209 and 210—Structure.

The word "structure" in S. 209 means one of a permanent character. 28 All. 199, Foll. (Banerji, J.) EMPEROR v. MUHAMMAD USUF.
39 All. 386 : 40 I. C. 317 : 18 Cr. L. J. 669: 15 A. L. J. 290.

——S. 247 (b)—Complaint—Evidence.

Before an order could be passed under S. 247 (b) it is necessary for the Magistrate to satisfy himself by evidence that the complainants were persons residing in the immediate vicinity of the house and the house was being used for the purposes mentioned in Cl. (a) to the annoyance of respectable persons. (Banerji, J.) IMAMAN v. EMPEROR. 18 A. L. J. 302 : 21 Cr. L. J. 370 : 55 I. C. 850 : 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 73.

——S. 265—Erection of scaffolding.

The prosecution in a case of erection of scaffolding in contravention of the provisions of S. 265 the Act need not be affirmatively prove the actual obstruction caused by an erection, except where such an inference can be drawn. (Piggott, J.) BHATIBY CHUNILAL v. EMPEROR.
58 I. C. 944 : 21 Cr. L J. 864

——S. 267—Removal of building—Prior grant of permission—Effect.

Even when the Municipality has sanctioned the construction of a building, there is nothing to prevent it the interests of public health from directing the removal or demolition of the same. (Daniels, J.) BABU LAL v. MUNICIPAL BOARD, FARRUKHABAD. 21 A. L J. 828 : L. R. 4 A. 567 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 1053 : 1924 A. 157.

——S. 267—Open cess-pool—Notice—Grounds for.

U. P. MUNICIPALITIES ACT (II OF 1916), S. 298.

The purpose of S. 267 of the U. P. Municipalities Act is to empower the Municipality to take steps to protect the public against insanitary conditions. It does not contemplate or deal with any objection not based upon sanitary grounds. A notice was issued by a Municipality under 267 in respect of an open cess-pool not because it was insanitary but because passersby were likely to fall into it at night. Held, that the notice was bad and the person to whom it was issued committed no offence in ignoring it. (Walsh, J.) MUNICIPAL BOARD, ETAWAH v. DEBI PRASAD. 42 All. 485 : 58 I. C. 146 : 21 Cr. L. J. 722 : 18 A. L. J. 572.

——Ss. 267 (b) and 318—Order, cannot be questioned on merits.

An order or direction of a Municipality cannot be questioned on the merits, if they are made within the powers conferred on the Municipality. But its legality can be questioned in any Court, if it is shown that it is an order or direction which the Municipality cannot make. (Walsh, J.) KASHMIRI LAL v. EMPEROR. 43 All 644 : 19 A. L. J. 541 : 22 Cr. L. J 650 : 63 I. C. 410 : 3 U. P L. R. (A.) 175.

——Ss. 271 and 307—Paving by Municipality of a certain enclosure after notices to owner—Suit by the owner against the Municipality for the restoration.

Where plaintiffs were found to have received the notices sent by the Municipal Board to pave the yard with brick so as to make it sanitary and thereafter the municipal board itself paved it with brick and sent the bill of costs to the plaintiffs, held that the action of the municipality was perfectly legal and within its powers and that no suit lies against it for this action. (Gokul Prasad, J.) MAHOMED QUASIM v. THE MUNICIPAL BOARD, SAHARANPUR.
1923 A. 371.

——S. 274 (2)—Occupier—Meaning.

A person responsible for the upkeep and cleanliness of temple and for all work of the temple is not its occupier within S. 274 (2). (Knox, J) PIARE LAL v. EMPEROR.
15 A. J. 187 : 38 I. C. 308 : 18 Cr. L. J. 277 : 39 All. 309.

——S. 295—Refusal to pay Municipal charge is not an offence—Obstruction.

A refusal to pay a Municipal charge is not an offence and an advice to a person not to pay a Municipal charge to a peon does not amount to an obstruction of a Municipal servant in the performance of his duties. (Stuart, J.) BALDEO PANDEY v. EMPEROR.
64 I. C. 130 : 22 Cr. L. J. 738 : 19 A. L. J. 914.

——Ss. 298 and 299—Refusal of a licence.

The applicant whose application for licence to store firewood is rejected has remedy of appeal. His persistence in storing firewood without licence after such rejection is an offence. (Piggott, J.) MANNU v. EMPEROR. 18 A. L. J. 187 : 58 I. C. 153 : 21 Cr. L. J. 729 : 42 All. 294.

——Ss. 298, 318 and 321—Licence—Refusal of—Arbitrary—Jurisdiction of Civil Court.

U. P. MUNICIPALITIES ACT (II OF 1916), S. 307.

Under the U. P Municipalities Act of 1916 the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts is limited by the provisions of Ss. 318 and 321 of the Act. Under these sections the only remedy of a person who considers himself aggrieved by a bye-law made under S. 298 (g) of the Act is by an appeal to the higher authority referred to in S. 318 of the Act. A suit would lie for an injunction to compel a Municipal Board to grant the plff. a license for carrying on a particular trade, provided always that the plff. was prepared to carry out the conditions prescribed by the bye-laws and could satisfy the Court that the Municipal Board has refused him the license for reasons wholly unconnected with the public health, safety or convenience. (Piggott, J.) MANNUA v. EMPEROR.

20 Cr L. J. 705 : 17 A. L. J. 976 : 52 I. C. 785 : 1 U. P. L. R. (H. C.) 126

——S. 307—Notice — Disobedience — Conviction.

For a conviction under S. 307 of the Municipalities Act for disobedience of a notice issued, it must be shown that the notice was issued by the Chairman of the Executive Officer under the authority of the Board. Where the notice was issued under the signature of the Secretary and served on a servant of the accused, held, the accused did not receive any notice and could not be prosecuted for disobedience. (Knox, J.) RAM PRATAB MARWARI v. EMPEROR. 18 A. L. J. 229 : 55 I. C. 302 : 21 Cr. L. J. 286 : 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 97.

——S. 307 (b)—Failure to comply with notice —Daily fine when to be imposed.

Where the accused was convicted under S. 307 (b) for failure to comply with a notice by the Municipal Board requiring him to construct a drain on a certain property and by the same order the accused was directed to pay a daily fine of Re. 1-0-0 till the notice is complied with, held, that latter part of the order was illegal. (Piggott, J.) AMIR HASAN KHAN v. EMPEROR.

40 All 569 : 19 Cr. L. J. 694 : 46 I. C. 150 : 16 A. L. J. 527.

——Ss. 314 and 333 and Cr. P. C., S. 537—Sanction—Prosecution—Irregularity.

S. 333 of the Act., does not authorise a Tahsildar to sanction a prosecution under the Act. The prosecution under S. 333, therefore without the proper sanction under S. 314 is illegal. An irregularity in the sanction cannot be cured by S. 537 of Cr. P. Code, which are not applicable to the sanction under S. 314. (Sulaiman, J.) JUGGAN v. EMPEROR.

65 I. C. 447 (2) : 19 A. L. J. 942.

——S. 314—Prosecution of an offence—Inspector of water-works.

Under S. 314 of the Act, the prosecution for an offence punishable under the Act can be started upon information received from, or complaint made by, a person generally or specially authorised. The Inspector of waterworks has no such authority (Knox, J.) PARSHOTAM DAS v. EMPEROR.

50 I. C. 494 : 20 Cr. L. J. 318 : 17 A. L. J. 354.

U. P. MUNICIPALITIES ACT (II OF 1916), S. 326.

——S. 318—License — Refusal—Criminal proceedings.

A Municipality claimed certain land in the possession of the applicant as theirs and prosecuted him for storing firewood on it. He applied for a license to store firewood but the Municipal Board refused to grant it to him without giving any reasons. The applicant stored firewood again without permission. Held, that the applicant having failed to seek his remedy by an appeal under S. 318 of the Municipal Act could not challenge the order of the Board in these proceedings and was rightly convicted. 17 Cal. 329; 20 Cal. 634, Ref. (Piggott, J.) MANNU v. EMPEROR.

42 All. 294 : 58 I. C. 153 : 21 Cr. L. J. 729 : 18 A. L. J. 187.

——S. 321 (1)—'Question'—Meaning of.

The word "question" in S. 321 (1) of the Act means called in question as regards its reasonableness or practicability and not 'challenging its legality.' (Walsh, J.) KASHMIRI LAL v. EMPEROR. 19 A. L. J. 641 : 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 175 : 63 I. C. 410 : 22 Cr. L. J. 650 : 43 All. 644.

——S. 326—Disallowance of bill of Contractor —Suit—Limitation.

Plff. contracted with a municipal council to build certain huts. On examining A's bills the Municipal Engineer reported that certain items could not be allowed. The Municipal Board thereupon withheld payment for those items In a suit by the plaintiff after the lapse of 4 years for recovery of the amount held that the suit was barred by the provisions of S. 326 of the Municipal Act inasmuch as the act was done by the Board in its official capacity. (Mears, C. J. and Banerjea, J.) ABDUL WAHID v. THE MUNICIPAL BOARD, ALLAHABAD. 21 A. L. J. 161 : L. R. 4 A. 479 : 1923 A. 267 (1) : 9 O. & A. L. R 327.

——S. 326—Right to collect carcases —Not immoveable property—Suit for Limitation.

A right to collect carcases of dead animals is not immoveable property. The period of 6 months allowed by S. 326 of the U. P. Municipalities Act applies to a suit for declaration of such a right against the Municipality. (Rafiq and Stuart, JJ) JHUNWA v. MUNICIPAL BOARD, DHAMPUR. 45 A. 267 : L R. 4 A. 363 : 21 A. L. J. 101 : 1923 A. 179.

——S. 326—Suit for declaration of title and injunction against Municipality—Notice.

In a suit for declaration that a certain projection was the ancestral property of the plff. and that a notice served on him by the deft. Municipality for its demolition is invalid and for an injunction, held, that the injunction not being the only relief claimed, service of the notice as provided for in S. 326 of the Act was necessary and the suit having been commenced before the expiration of two months of notice could not be maintained. (Richards, C. J. and Tudball, J.) THE MUNICIPAL BOARD OF BENARES v. GAJADHAR. 41 All. 162 : 47 I. C. 848 : 16 A. L. J. 793.

U. P. MUNICIPALITIES ACT (II OF 1916), S. 326.

——S. 326 (1) and (3)—Suit to recover compensation—Tort—Limitation.

Plff. exported some cloth from Municipal limits and claimed a refund of octroi duty under the rules. The Municipality refused to pay. Plff. sued for recovery more than six months after the refusal. Held. that the suit was for damages by way of reparation for the tortious act committed by the defts. having been brought more than six months after the accrual of the cause of action was barred. (Lindsay, J.) LALA MAKHANLAL v. THE MUNICIPAL BOARD OF AGRA.
18 A L J. 180 : 54 I. C. 459 : 1 U. P. L. R. (H. C.) 178.

U. P. REGISTRATION RULES.

——R 174—Waqf to Aligarh College.

Rule 174 does not make the registration of a deed of waqf to the Aligarh College, ineffective simply because the registering officer was a trustee of the College. The defect, if any, is one of procedure. (Banerjee and Tudball, JJ.) RUSTAM ALI KHAN v. MUSHTAQ HUSAIN.
35 I. C. 718 : 14 A. L. J. 554.

U. P. RENT ACT (XII OF 1881).

——S. 7—Usufructuary mortgage.

S. 7 does not cover a usufructuary mortgage and therefore a mortgagor does not become ex-proprietary tenant of his sir land. (Chamier, J.) DEBI CHAND v. BHARAT. 16 I. C. 44.

——S 9—Succession to occupancy tenure—Reversioners of widow.

Succession to occupancy tenure is governed by Agra Tenancy Act XII of 1881. Reversioners claiming after death of widow must have been joint cultivators. (Ryves and Gokul Prasad JJ.) BECHU SINGH v. BALDEO SINGH.
20 A. L. J. 165 : 44 A. 327 : 1922 All. 84.

——S. 9—Occupancy holding—Transfer by will—Validity.

Act, (XVIII of 1873) and Act (XII of 1881), render void the terms of any will in existence on the date on which they are passed, if those terms contravened the prohibition against transfer by will of occupancy rights enacted by it. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) MAHADEO MISIR v. DIRGPAL PANDE. 41 A. 356 : 51 I. C. 146 : 17 A. L. J. 381.

——S. 9—Mortgagee—Adverse possession—Illegal sale of occupancy rights.

The Zemindar could sue the vendee of a non-transferable occupancy holding in a Civil Court within 12 years. An occupancy tenant sold his occupancy rights to another in 1888 who held a mortgage order the entire mahal from the Zemindars. The plaintiff purchased in 1901 one half of the mortgaged mahal and redeemed the entire mahal. In a suit for possession, held, that the vendee's position was that of a trespasser, the sale being illegal. (Karamat Hussain, J.) GANDHRAP SINGH v. HARI KRISHNA.
10 I. C. 999 : 8 A. L. J. 458.

——S. 9—Auction sale of occupancy holding.

The purchaser in auction sale of an occupancy holding sold as fixed rate holding gets no title and the tenant can prove that it was really occupancy holding. (Richards, J.) PAL AHIR v. ASGAR HUSSAIN. 10 I. C. 145 : 8 A L. J. 404.

U. P. TOWN IMPROVEMENT ACT, S, 56.

——S. 9—Mortgage—Termination.

Mortgage of an occupancy holding valid under N. W. P. Rent Act terminates when the occupancy tenant comes to an end as by lapse to the Zamindar. 2 A. L. J 471 : 27 All. 372 ; 21 All. 204, Con. (Griffin, J.) SHEOBARAN v. BINALK DAT. 9 I. C. 51.

——S. 9—Occupancy holding—Hindu widow—Rights of.

Under S 9 of the U. P. Rent Act of 1881, an occupancy right devolves as if it were land and the interest of a Hindu widow succeeding to an occupancy holding is a mere life-interest. (Ferrard, S. M. and Hopkins, J. M.) MAHABIR LAL v. GIRJA PRASAD. 52 I. C. 438 : 1 U P. L. R. (B. R.) 21.

U. P. TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901).

See also AGRA TENANCY ACT.

——Ss. 10, 20 and 83—Policy of the Act—Sale of mahal—Sir lands—Agreement to relinquish, invalidity of—Damages.

The N.W.P. Ten. Act secures and preserves to a proprietor whose proprietary rights in a mahal are transferred otherwise than by gift or exchange between co-sharers in the mahal, a right of occupancy in his sir lands and in the lands which he has cultivated for 12 continuous years at the date of the transfer, notwithstanding any agreement to the contrary Where the proprietors of a mahal sold the mahal together with the sir lands in their occupation and agreed to execute a deed relinquishing the latter with a provision for damages on default, held, that the agreement was invalid as being contrary to the policy of the N. W. P. T. Act, (II of 1901) and damages could not be claimed for failure to give possession of the sir lands. (Sir John Edge,) MOTI CHAND v. IKRAM ULLAH KHAN.
39 All. 173 : 44 I. A. 54 : 15 A L. J. 150 : 5 L. W 388 : 21 M. L. T. 267 : 21 C W. N. 616 : 19 Bom. L R 433 : 26 C. L. J. 24 : (1917) M. W. N. 453 : 39 I. C. 454 : 32 M. L. J. 383. (P. C.)

——S. 57 (d)—Ejectment—Grove lands—U. P. Tenancy Act, S. 25.

A tenant grove holder is not liable to be ejected from a grove land on the ground of having sub let. 17 A. L. J. 971. Dist. (Stuart, J.) LALA SHEO PRASAD v. BABU RAM. 1923 All. 168.

——S. 158—Grant to idol—"Successors to the original grantee"—Priests in office are not.

Where a rent-free grant of land is made to an idol, successive priests in office cannot be deemed to be "successors to the original grantee" within the meaning of S. 158 of the Act. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ) MATHURA PRASAD v. RAMESHWAR.
65 I. C. 371 : 19 A L J. 964.

U.P. TOWN IMPROVEMENT ACT.

——Ss. 56 to 59—District Judge—No jurisdiction to entertain application of the acquisition officer.

A land acquisition officer referred a question arising under Improvement Trust Act to the UNIVERSITIES ACT (II OF 1857).

District Judge, although a question arising in respect of the acquisition of the same land by the Improvement Trust had already been before the Improvement Trust tribunal The District Judge without the slightest jurisdiction proceeded to consider whether he had jurisdiction or not, and decided that the tribunal constituted under the 1919 Act has ceased to exist. Held, that the Judge had no jurisdiction to consider whether it had or it had no jurisdiction and that his decision was in direct breach of the provisions of Ss. 56 to 59 of the Improvement Trust Act (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) M. T. SUKHRANI KUNWAR v. BHUKHAN SINGH. 21 A. L. J. 193 : L. R. 4 A. 141 : 1923 All. 286.

UNIVERSITIES ACT (II OF 1857).

——University Regulations. Ch. XI, Cl. 12 (G. and I. Act 2 and 3, Geo. V. Ch. 6)—Sp. Rel. Act, S. 45—Provision for appointing a place for lectures—Obligation to appoint within a definite time—Estoppel and part performance—Question between University and Governor-General-in-Council—Regulations, Cl. 11—Provision for post graduate studies.

Whether the sanction required under the University Regulations under Ch. XI, Cl. 12 is ultra vires or not having regard to 2 and 3 Geo. V, Ch. 6 cannot be tried in proceedings under S. 45 Sp. Rel. Act, where the Government concerned are not parties to the suit. The provision in the University Regulations that the Syndicate shall appoint a place for lectures in consultation with the Senate, imposes no obligation on the Syndicate to appoint one in any definite time; the Courts are unwilling to interfere in matters of internal arrangement. Though the doctrine of estoppel and part performance apply to Corporations yet no sort of part-performance or ratification can bind a Corportion to a transaction, which the Legislature has forbidden it to undertake. All persons dealing with a statutory body like the University are deemed to have notice of the limits, set to their authority and a Corporation will not be bound by anything done by its agent when the transaction is on the face of it in excess of the powers defined by the statute. Any question between the University and the Governor-General-in-Council can be decided only in a separate suit and not in summary proceedings under S. 45 of the Specific Relief Act. The provision for post graduate studies under S. 1, Ch. X1 of the University Regulations is not compulsory but only an enabling one. (Chaudhuri, J.) A RASUL, In the matter of, 41 Cal. 518 : 24 I. C. 404 : 18 C. W. N. 430.

——(VIII OF 1904)

——Object of—'Student', meaning of.

The object of Act is to extend the usefulness of the University. The term 'student' is not confined to students belonging to any University but also includes men who because of the exceptional gifts may well be requisitioned by the University to extend their knowledge To construe the term "students" to mean student of the University alone is to fall into a rigidity of interpretations not justified by the language or the purpose of the Act. (Imam and Greaves, JJ.) JITENDRANATH PALIT v. LOKENDRANATH PALIT. 34 I. C. 657 : 22 C. L. J. 593.

UNLIQUIDATED DAMAGES.

——S. 25—Rules under R. 5—Not ultra vires —Punjab University.

Rule 5 of the Regulations framed by the University for the conduct of examinations and providing for the disqualification of a candidate from passing an examination and appearing for the same, for two more years, if he is detected in giving or receiving help or using some unfair means, is not ultra vires (Jones and Moti Sagar, JJ.) TAJ AHMED v. UNIVERSITY OF THE PUNJAB, LAHORE. 62 I. C. 861 : 2 Lah. 197.

——S. 25—Issue of mandamus—Scheme of the Act—Regulations.

The Regulations framed under the Indian Universities Act must be read as supplementing the Act, being of the nature of delegated legislation and can be enforced by a writ of mandamus. Where a Corporation or public body has a statutory duty of a public nature towards another person, a mandamus can be issued to compel its performance at the suit of any person aggrieved by the refusal to perform the duty unless there is another remedy "equally convenient, speedy, beneficial and effectual" as the mandamus and by remedy is meant not a remedy by act of the party but a remidium juris or some specific legal remedy or a legal right. Though the grant of a writ of mandamus is at the discretion of the Court, the discretion is not arbitrary but guided by legal principles. Where a person has a legal right to the performance of a public duty and having no other effective means of enforcing that right comes to that Court bona fide within a reasonable time after the performance of the duty has been refused, the Court will issue a mandamus. Regulation 64 in so far as it purports to extend the rights of protest to a resolution other than a resolution under Section 25, or a resolution on any other matter requiring Government sanction is ultra vires of the Senate. The general scheme of the Act and the regulation framed thereunder is that the Senate should be the Legislature and the Syndicate the Executive Government of the University the powers of the Senate being subject in certain matters to the control of the Government. In some matter Regulations 95 and 96 confer exclusive powers on the Syndicate. In case of statutory bodies particular acts should be done in particular way prescribed. Regulation 64 gives an absolute rights to every fellow of the Senate to protect against any resolution passed by the Senate The Syndicate has to forward the protest to Government with the memorandum representing the opposite point of view. It has no right to dictate to any fellow what his protest should contain. (Coutts Trotter and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) G. A. NATESAN, In re. 40 Mad. 125 : 38 I.C. 847 : 31 M. L. J. 634.

UNLAWFUL CONSIDERATION.

See CONTRACT ACT, S. 23.

UNLIQUIDATED DAMAGES.

See (1) CONTRACT ACT, S. 74.
(2) DAMAGES.

UNPROFESSIONAL CONDUCT.

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT, S. 13.

UNRECORDED CO SHARER.

See CO SHARER.

UN-REGISTERED ASSOCIATION.

See (1) COMPANY.
(2) CORPORATION.

UNSEAWORTHINESS.

See INSURANCE—MARINE.

UNSIGNED DOCUMENTS.

See DEED—CONSTRUCTION.

UPPER BURMA CIVIL COURT REGULATIONS (1 OF 1896).

——S. 10 (d)—Divisional Courts—Appeal from decree of.

There is no provision for appeal from a decree or order of a Divisional Court in any original case, i.e. a petition under S. 10 of the Divorce Act. (Fox, C. J Hartnoll, Ormond and Twomey, JJ.) W. N. HARDINGE v. H. E. HARDINGE.
6 Bur. L. T. 10 : 19 I. C. 53 : 7 L. B. R. 8 (F.B.).

——S. 13—Jurisdiction of Civil Court—Maintenance order under S. 488, Cr. P. C.

The jurisdiction of Civil Courts to grant a declaratory decree cannot be affected by the provisions of the Criminal P C. relating to the maintenance of wives and children. The Civil Courts no doubt have no jurisdiction to cancel an order for maintenance or to grant an injunction against a criminal court, but there is no reason why a civil Court having issued a declaration, the party who has obtained it should not apply to the criminal Court, under the Provisions of section 489 of Cr. P. C. or otherwise for an order to stay the payment of maintenance (18 A. 29; 30 M. 400 and 14 C. 276. (Saunders, J. C.) MAUNG PO THE IN v. MA ME SAN. 1922 U. B. 20.

——S. 25—Recognised agent—Power to act for client.

Section 25 of the Upper Burma Civil Courts Regulation does forbid a recognised agent doing such acts as examining and cross—examining a witness or addressing the Court on behalf of his client. (Saunders, J C.) S. C. BANERJEE v. A. C. MUKERJEE. 49 I. C 44 : 3 U. B. R. (1918) 94.

——Ss. 25 and 26—Unqualified person—Advocate.

An unqualified person practically performing the functions of an Advocate under cover of special powers of attorney is liable to punishment under S. 26 of the Regulation. 14 Cal. 556 Foll. (Shaw, J. C.) NGA NYUN v. NGA PO O.
25 I. C. 163 : 7 Bur. L. T, 206

UPPER BURMA COURTS MANUAL.

——Para 295—Appearance by pleader.

Magistrate may permit a person, including a pleader not authorised to practice in his Court to appear for accused before the Court ; this discretion should be exercised judicially and permission should be given only when the Magistrate considers it necessary in the interest of the accused. (Saunders, J. C.) W. CALO-GREEDY In re.
(1916) 2 U B. R. 121 : 38 I. C. 729 : 18 Cr L. J. 345 : 10 Bur. L. T. 117.

UPPER BURMA LAND AND REVENUE REGULATIONS (III OF 1889), S. 53.

——Mere allotment—Rights under.

The mere "allotment" of State waste land without actual possession ten years ago gives no right which can be enforced in a civil court against the persons actually in possession. (Brown, A. J. C.) MA NGWE PYU AND THREE v MAUNG PON SAING. 4 U. B. R 128 : 1923 R. 117.

——S. 53—Oil well—Mortgage—Further advance—Redemption—Limitation.

Where in a suit instituted in 1908 for redemption of a mortgage of an oil well executed in 1875 it appeared that in 1879 the mortgagor received a further advance and executed a parabaik document to evidence the same, and the nature of the second transaction, viz, whether it was a sale or further charge was in dispute, held, that if the transaction amounted to a sale, the vendee was in adverse possession for over 12 years and that if it was a mortgage the right to redeem accrued more than 30 years before a suit and that in either view the suit was barred. (Lord Moulton.) NGA LU GALE v NGO PO THAN. 24 I. C. 310 : I L. W. 695 (P. C.).

——Ss. 53 (2) and 24 (2)—'Claim', meaning of.

The word 'claim' in S. 53 (2) of the Regulation means, claim as against the State and does not include disputes between private individuals and has the same meaning as 'claim' in S. 24 (2) and S. 53 (2) does not bar the jurisdiction of the ordinary Civil Courts over disputes between parties. (Heald, A. J. C.) BURMA OIL CO., LTD. v. BAIJNATH SINGH. 59 I. C. 960 ; (1920) 3 U. B. R. 212.

——S. 53 (2) (ii)—Jurisdiction of Civil Court in respect of State land, if barred.

The section neither bars nor purports to bar the jurisdiction of Civil Courts over claims over State lands except in matters allotted specially by Local Government to the Revenue officers to dispose of. (Saunders, C. J.) SONI LAL SHEOSHANKAR v. DELAWAR. (1916) 2 U. B R. 151 : 39 I. C. 367 : 11 Bur. L T. 42.

——S. 53 (2) (ii)—Ultra vires.

S 53 upper Burma Land and Revenue Regulation, debars a civil Court from trying any question as to the limits of any state land and therefore, from deciding whether any particular piece of land is State land or not. A suit for declaring that a house situate on Government land is not liable to be sold in execution is cognizable by a Civil Court. 40 Cal. 391 (P. C.) Foll. (Mc Coll, A. J. C.) MAHOMED AMIN v. NACHIAPPA CHETTY.
29 I.C. 736 : 8 Bur. L. T. 45.

UPPER BURMA LAND AND REVENUE REGULATIONS (III OF 1889), S. 53.

——S. 53 (2) (x)—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts —Whether barred.

Cl. (x) of Sub-section (2) of S. 53 when read with Sub section (1) of that section does not bar the jurisdiction of Civil Courts to all claims to a right to fish and rights connected therewith. But the claims which the Local Government or a Revenue Officer is empowered to dispose of by or under the regulation are barred. (Saunders, C. J.) MAUNG HWE v. MAUNG TUN HLA.

(1916) 2 U.B.R. 136 : 39 I. C. 408 : 11 Bur L. T. 87.

UPPER BURMA REGISTRATION REGULATION, (I OF 1897).

——Ss 4 and 6—Executed — Documents not signed—Registration.

Documents which are complete without signature according to Burmese custom, are 'executed' within S. 4 and must be registered if they fall within that section. Without registration they are not admissible in evidence according to S. 6. (Heald, A.J.C.) MA SAT PU v. MA SIN.

60 I. C. 16 : (1920) 3 U. B. R. 258.

URALAN.

See MALABAR LAW.

USAGE.

See CUSTOM.

USE AND OCCUPATION.

See (1) DAMAGES.
(2) LANDLORD AND TENANT.

USUFRUCTUARY MORTGAGE.

See (1) MORTGAGE.
(2) T. P Act, S. 58.

USURIOUS LOANS ACT (X OF 1918).

——Applicability of—Judgment on admissions in pleadings—Power of Court

The Usurious Loans Act can be applied in favour of a defendant who confesses judgment. (Robinson, C. J. and May Oung, J.) S. P. R. M. FIRM v. MAUNG PO KYA.

1 Rang. 580 : 1924 R. 144.

——S. 3 (1)—Unfair transaction— Re-opening.

A court is authorised to consider the merits of a transaction in a case of recovery on a bond in which the deft does not appear. If in such a suit, Court finds the payment of interest substantially unfair it is a fit case to re-open the transaction between the parties and to give relief in respect of the excessive interest. Where even after the progressive discharge of principal the fixed rate of interest continues on the whole sum borrowed, the provision as to interest is unconscionable and unfair and will not be enforced. (Pratt, J.) KERING RUPCHAND CO. v. BAYLEY.

44 Bom. 775 : 58 I C. 433 : 21 Bom. L.R. 1126.

USURY.

See USURIOUS LOANS ACT.

UTBUNDI TENURE.

See LAND TENURE.

VACANT SITE.

See ADVERSE POSSESSION.

VATAN ACT (III OF 1874), S. 64.

VACCINATION REGISTER

See EVIDENCE ACT, Ss., 35 and 74.

VAKIL VAKALATNAMA.

See (1) C. P CODE, O. 3.
(2) LEGAL PRACTITIONER.

VALUATION OF SUIT.

See (1) COURT FEES ACT.
(2) SUITS VALUATION ACT.

VARAM PATTA.

See (1) LANDLORD AND TENANT.
(2) LAND TENURES.
(3) MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT.

VARIANCE BETWEEN PLEADINGS AND PROOF.

See PRACTICE—PLEADINGS—VARIATION.

VATAN.

See also (1) BOMBAY VATAN ACT.
(2) GRANT.
(3) VATAN ACT.

——Sale of lands in execution against widow of vatandar—Validity.

A sale in execution of a money decree against vatandar after the death of the latter, being for legal necessity is valid. (Macleod, Kt C. J. and Shah, J.) GANESH RAMACHANDRA KULKARNI v. LAXMIBAI VENKATESHNARAYAN.

24 Bom. L. R. 249 : 46 B 726 : 1922 B. 96.

——Palkhi inam—Treating inam as vatan and issue of sanad — What passess with the grant.

Where the Mahomedan rulers granted a village as Palkhi Inam to certain persons who were Deshpande Vatandars and under the English settlements the same was classified as Deshpande Vatan, held that as the village was granted to the vatandars to pay their Palkhi expenses, it became an appanage of the vatan. The effect of the Privy Council decisions in Survanarayana v. Patanna (45 I. A. 209) and Venkata Sastrulu v. Sertharamadu (46 I A. 123) on the presumption as to inam grants considered (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) TUNGABAI GOPAL DESAI v. KRISHNAJI RAMACHANDRA DESHPANDE,

46 Bom. 741 : 24 Bom. L. R. 252 : 1922 Bom. 5.

VATAN ACT (III OF 1874).

——S. 10—Collector — If subordinate High Court's jurisdiction.

Where the Collector, before issuing his certificate under S. 10 of the Vatan Act was called upon to make some inquiry and, thus exercising a judicial function, he was subject to control by the High Court, should he make his authority a mere cloak for illegal and wholly unreasonable proceedings. 8 Bom. 264; 22 Bom. 802, Ref. (Scott, C. J and Batchelor, J.) LADHA IBRAHIM & CO. v. ASSISTANT COLLECTOR OF POONA.

35 Bom. 146 : 8 I. C. 166 : 12 Bom L. R. 839.

——S. 64—Vatan Register incorrect—Suit —Maintainability.

Where the order given by the Collector is not an order within the meaning of S. 4 (a) Para. 3, Revenue Jurisdiction Act, but, merely a direction to give effect to the Vatan Register as settled in 1895, a suit to declare that a Vatan Register was void and should not be given effect to would not lie. No action will be taken under S. 18 unless an application is made by an interested party. (Macleod, C. J. and Coyajee, J.) GOVIND BALAKRISHNA BAVE v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL. 1922 Bom. 155.

VENDOR AND PURCHASER.

VENDOR AND PURCHASER.
See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, Ss. 54—56.

VENUE OF SUIT.
See (1) C. P. C., Ss. 16—21.
(2) JURISDICTION.

VERIFICATION.
See C. P. C., O. 6, R. 15.

VESTED RIGHTS.
See (1) INTERPRETATION OF STATUTES.
(2) TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, S. 19.

VICINAGE.
See PRE-EMPTION.

VILLAGE ABADI.
See LANDLORD AND TENANT—ABADI.

VILLAGE CHOWKIDARI ACT (VI OF 1870).
——Ss. 50 and 51—Object and Scope of S. 51—Chowkidari Chakran lands, Zemindar's right to—Settlement prior to resumption.

Chowkidari Chakran lands form part of the estate, within whose limits they are situated, and the Zemindar has a qualified title therein. Such lands when vacated by the Chowkidar, pass into the possession of the Zemindar, before they are resumed and transferred by the Collector to the Zemindar under the Act. He does not become a trespasser and a settlement by him before the resumption proceedings is not invalid. The new estate is in continuation and confirmation of his pre-existing interest. The object of S. 51 is to maintain the validity of contracts made by the Zemindar in respect of Chowkidari Chakran lands and it is immaterial whether such contracts do or do not also include other lands which are in no way affected by the resumption proceedings. The section cannot be limited to cases where there has been a contract by the Zemindar in respect of lands other than Chowkidari Chakran lands. (Mookerjee and Walmsley, JJ.) SHIV CHANDRA BANERJEE v. SURENDRA CHANDRA.
45 Cal. 515 : 27 C. L. J. 560 : 41 I. C. 759 : 22 C. W. N. 997.

VILLAGE COMMUNITY.
See (1) CUSTOM (PUNJAB).
(2) ADVERSE POSSESSION.

VILLAGE SERVICE INAMS ACT (II OF 1894).
——Ss. 11 and 18 — Enfranchisement of Inams—Pattahs, to whom to be issued—Localization for quit rent.

The Village service inams are enfranchised and pattahs are issued for the benefit of Inamdars. If they do not accept the same the proper course is to resume those lands if they desire to do so. The Government cannot force the pattahs on the Zemindars, though the lands are in incapable of identification. In imposing quit rent, Government should localize lands and cannot rely on a presumption that Zemindars must have been in possession of the lands though they cannot be identified. (Sir John Edge.) CHIMAN LAL v. HARI SINGH CHAND. 40 Cal. 879 : 40 I. A. 157 : 102 P. R. (1913) : 17 C.W. N. 885 : 126 P. W. R. 1913 : 187 P. L. R. 1913 : (1913) M. W. N 509 : 18. C. L. J. 70 : 15 Bom. L. R. 646 : 19 I. C 669 : 14 M. L. T. 83 (P. C.).

WAIVER.

VILLAGE SITE.
See LANDLORD AND TENANT.

VIS MAJOR.
See TORT.

VIZAGAPATAM AGENCY RULES.
See AGENCY RULES (VIZAGAPATAM).

VOIDABLE ASSIGNMENT.
See ASSIGNMENT.

VOIDABLE SALE.
See (1) LIMITATION ACT, ARTS. 44 AND 97.
(2) T. P. ACT, S. 53.

VOID AGREEMENT.
See CONTRACT ACT, S. 23.

VOID OR VOIDABLE.
See WORDS.

VOLUNTARY PAYMENT.
See CONTRACT ACT, Ss. 69 AND 70.

VRITTIS.
See (1) C. P. C., S. 60.
(2) GRANT.
(3) HINDU LAW, RELIGIOUS OFFICE.

VYAVAHARA MAYUKHA.
See HINDU LAW TEXTS.

WAGER.
See also CONTRACT ACT, Ss. 23 AND 30.
——In Wagering contracts it is necessary for the defendant to prove that both parties agreed neither to ask for nor to give delivery. (Kincaid, J.) MANUBHAI PERMANAND v. KESHAVJI RAMDAS. 24 Bom. L. R. 60 : 1922 B. 66.

WAGERING CONTRACT.
See (1) CONTRACT ACT, Ss. 23 AND 30.
(2) WAGER.

WAGING WAR.
See (1) ALIEN ENEMY.

WAIVER.
See also (1) C. P. C., S. 100.
(2) LIM. ACT, ART. 74.

——Inference from conduct.
Waiver may be evidenced by conduct inconsistent with the continuance of the rights waived. (Prideaux, J.) KAWADJI v. GANGARAM. 64 I. C. 461.

——Plea of—Validity.
There may be circumstances under which a plea of waiver cannot be entertained by a Court of justice as being contrary to public policy. 6 C. L. J. 62 ; 6 C. L. J. 111 Rel on. (Mookerjee and Teunon, JJ.) BASANTA KUMARI v. RAMKANAI SEN. 9. I. C. 698 : 13 C. L. J. 192.

——Question of, is one of fact—Instalment bond—Acceptance of, part of overdue instalment—Waiver—A question of fact.

WAIVER.

It cannot be laid down as a general rule that where an instalment bond gives the creditor the right to sue for the whole amount due under the bond on default of payment of a single instalment. There is no waiver of that right by acceptance of part of an overdue instalment or by receipt of interest. The question of waiver is a question of fact to be determined according to the circumstances of each particular case. (Woodroffe and Carnduff, JJ.) OSMAN SHAHA v. MAHOMED AMAR SIRKAR. 9 I. C. 22 (2).

——Delay in filing a suit.

Delay in filing a suit till the period of limitation cannot constitute a waiver of the right. (Johnstone, C. J. and Shadi Lal, J.) NAIDHAN v. BUTA. 36. I. C. 700 : 107 P. R. 1916.

——Agreement to discharge debt in particular manner—Effect on other remedies of creditor.

An agreement that the debt may be discharged in a certain manner does not show that the creditor has waived all other remedies. (Sankaran-Nair and Spencer, JJ.) CHIDAMBARA CHETTI v. RAMASWAMI CHETTIAR. 26 I. C. 911 : 27 M L. J. 631.

WAJIB UL-ARZ.

See also PRE-EMPTION,
Alluvion and Diluvion.
Binding effect.
Construction of words in.
Custom of pre-emption.
Custom of resumption.
Evidentiary value.
Family custom.
Groves.
Miscellaneous.

Alluvion and Diluvion.

——Alluvion and diluvion.

Bare statement in wajib-ul-arz that alluvion and diluvion occur in a village does not imply the custom of dhardhura. (Mears, C. J. and Tudball, J.) SHOHRAT SINGH v GHULAM EZID. 55 I. C. 366 : 18 A. L. J. 195.

——Alluvion and diluvion—Adverse possession—Khewatdars.

The wajib-ul-arz provided that the land belonging to proprietors which became submerged and remained under water for more than 12 years was upon re-appearance to be treated as the shamilat of the whole village though it belonged to defts. before diluvion. The land in dispute emerged some time between 1856 and 1880 and was accordingly recorded as shamilat in Revenue papers and at the partition in 1904-1905 was treated as such and defts. were allotted shares. Held, that the plffs.' claim to exclusive ownership by reason of anterior title is invalid since by common consent the proprietors had decided that the right of the ownership in the submerged land belonging to a proprietor should on re appearance vest in all the proprietors in the village. The possession of the plff. is adverse to the defts. according to the entry in the wajib-ul arz. (Shadi Lal, J.) AHMAD v. JAM KHAN. 92 P. L. R. 1916 : 36 I. C. 200 : 183 P. W. R. 1916.

WAJIB-UL-ARZ—Construction of Words in,

Binding effect.

——Binding effect—Entries in—Non-proprietary residents of village.

Non-proprietary residents of the village were not bound by the provisions of the wajib-ul-arz in respect of an institution which they managed for themselves as regards their own cattle. (Kensington, J.) KANHIYA v. SEWA. 4 P. L. R. 1912 Sup. : 15. I. C. 108 : 226 P. W. R. 1912.

——Binding effect—Abadi.

In the Chhindwara wajib-ul-arz, house sites held by cultivators cannot ordinarily be transferred. The wajib ul-arz contemplates the existence of right over houses and house-sites and these rights are maintained but non-agriculturists will hold on such terms as they may agree upon with the malguzar. The site reverts to the malguzar when it is relinquished, and this only in the absence of a special agreement to the contrary. In the Nagpur, Nimar and Bandara the site belongs to the malguzar. (Mittra, A. J. C.) RAMRAO v. GOVINDRAO. 4 N. L. J. 65.

——Binding effect—Entry in — Value of—Custom.

A person wishing to avoid the binding effect of a custom recorded in a wajib-ul-arz must show that the custom has been modified by contract or otherwise. (Findlay, A. J. C.) AJODHYA PRASAD v. KARAN. 53. I. C. 550.

Construction of Words in.

——Construction of words in.

The Wajib-ul-arz provided the rule of inheritance and division (thereof) in this village is that on the death of a co-sharer his sons become owners of his share in equal shares and the daughter does not get any share by inheritance. If a co-sharer has several wives, of whom one has one son and the other several, then on the death of the co-sharer his share will be divided equally among his sons." Held, the only construction which can be put on the entry is that on the death of an owner of the village no daughter of his under any circumstances entitled to a share in the property by right of inheritance whether he had left sons or not. If a daughter had no right to inherit her issue could not inherit. The provision that on the death of a co-sharer his sons become owners of his share in equal shares was probably inserted to exclude any claim under a custom of primogeniture which is not an uncommon custom in Oudh. (Sir John Edge,) BALGOBIND v. BADRIPRASAD. 45 M. L. J. 289 : 26 O. C. 217 : 45 A. 413 : 38 C. L. J. 302 : 33 M. L. T. 317 : (1923) M. W. N. 799 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 581 : 10 O. L. J. 368 : 50 I.A. 196 : 21 A L. J. 578 : 1923 P. C. 70. (P. C.)

——Construction of words in—Record of agreement between parties.

A Wajib ul-arzz-prima facie, is to be construed as embodying a record of custom, but it is quite clear that this presumption must give way if the language of the documents itself indicates that the record is not one of custom, but of contract. While it may be the case that the word " iqrar "

WAJIB-UL-ARZ—Construction of Words in.

which is often interpreted "agreement" is an ambiguous word. The words "so long as this Settlement lasts the following conditions shall be binding on us" clearly indicate that whatever usages were recorded in this document were recorded as usages of contract and not of custom. (Rafique and Piggott, JJ.) HARI SINGH v HARBANS LAL. 1923 A. 488 (1).

——— Construction of words in—Ejectment—Right of Zamindar.

A Wajib ul-arz of a village provided that "If the proprietors turn out, or eject or put out any of the inhabitants, that inhabitant will have the right to remove the materials" held that it was not open to the Zamindar to turn out an inhabitant from his house on village abadi without assigning sufficient cause A Zamindar who claims to turn out his tenants arbitrarily must strictly make out that right. (Grimwood, C. J. and Banerji, J.) DINA SINGH v. LALA DEVICHAND. 1923 All 263 (2).

——— Construction of words in—Custom or contract—Record prepared under directions of the Board of Revenue.

A Wajib-ul arz prepared in 1868 in accordance with the directions of the Board of Revenue to prepare a record of "custom and usage prevalent in an estate" contained a paragraph headed Zikr-Haqi-Shufa. On a question arising as to the interpretation of the wajib-ul-arz in a pre-emption case. Held, that the wajib-ul-arz was only a record of custom and not of contract (Rafiq and Lindsay, JJ.) SITAL PRASAD v. MAHABIR SINGH, 20 A. L J. 954 : L. R. 4 All. (Civ) 17 : 1922 All. 537.

——— Construction of words in—Parjote—Liability to pay.

Where the wajib-ul-arz of a village recorded that every shopkeeper in the village was liable to pay Parjote at a certain rate, Held, that the entry in the wajib-ul-arz pointed to the fact that the payment was based not on custom but on agreement and that being rent payable in kind could not be recovered by suit. (Knox, Ag. C. J. Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) MUHAMMAD FAIYAZALI KHAN v. BEHARI. 40 All 56 : 45 I. C. 329 : 15 A. L. J. 873. (F.B.)

——— Construction of words in.

Court cannot give a strained meaning to an entry in clear words in a wajib-ul-arz. (Richards, C. J. and Rafique, J.) BRIJ NARAIN RAI v. RAM DHARI RAI. 40 I. C. 40.

——— Construction of words in—Intiqual.

Per Richards, J.—The word "intiqual" is a very general word and includes all classes of transfers and the decision should not depend upon the interpretation to be put upon particular words occuring in the wajib-ul-a z. (Richards, C. J and Tudball, J.) KHURSHED ALI v ABDUL MAJID 38 All. 361 : 35 I. C. 210 : 14 A. L. J. 441.

——— Construction of words in—'They.'

In the Parcha lasdig of 1881-82, there was an entry that the occupancy tenants who were real brothers had stated that they had occupied the land in 1860. Held, that the word 'they' does not necessarily include their father. (Chevis. J.) BAHADOOR v. RAM SINGH. 60 I. C. 456.

WAJIB-UL-ARZ—Construction of Words in.

——— *Construction of words in—*Nazdiki Bhai. etc., meaning of.

Nazdiki Bhai in the wajib-ul-arz of Mouza Bhawan, Tabsil Sirsa, Hissar District, taken in connection with succession to occupancy rights, should be taken to include only descendants of the first occupier of the land. (Johnstone J.) SAHIB DITTA v. KHANDA. 39 P. W. R. 1913 : 19 I. C. 243 : 70 P. L. R. 1913.

——— *Construction of words in—*Maveshi—Meaning of—Grazing rights over shamilat land.

Where a wajib-ul arz confers grazing rights on non-occupancy tenants and other non proprietary residents over shamilat land, held that the word 'Maveshi' means only cattle used for agricultural purposes and not sheep and goats kept for trading purposes. (Rattigan, J.) HANSRAJ v. NARAINCHAND. 86 P R. 1911 : 13 I. C. 716 : 229 P. W. R. 1911.

——— Construction of words in—Drug District.

Where the wajb-ul-arz of the Drug District did not mention the right over buildings existing prior to the grant of proprietary rights to the Malguzar in 1865 but before proprietary rights were granted to the Malguzar in Drug, there were valuable houses belonging to the non-agriculturists, whose rights over the sites on which these houses stood, bad never been questioned, held these rights were not in the nature of a mere license. (Mittra, A. J C) RARU PRASAD v. GAIN SINGH. 4 N. L J, 186.

——— Construction of words in—Rights of—Lambardar.

Where a wajib-ul-arz, while recognising the general power and responsibility of the Lambardar to create tenancies provided that in letting waste lands he should consult the wishes of his co-sharers ; Held, that this clause will not avail a co-sharer for the purpose of avoiding any lease of waste land which may have been created by his representative the lambardar, without consulting him. Held further that his remedy, if any, lies in action against the Lambardar for damages, for his removal from office or by claiming partition. (Stanyon, A. J. C.) POONAMCHAND v. NANDLAL. 48 I. C. 72.

——— Construction of words in—Qarib—Meaning of.

Where in the wajib-ul-arz the provision governing inheritance in a family contained the word 'qarib", Held in the absence of words of limitation, the term must be taken in its widest sense as meaning "nearest in degree," (Lyle, A. J C.) NIAMAT ALI v. ASHIQ ALI. 9 O. L. J 127 : 1922 Oudh 96.

——— Construction of wordsin—Oudh—Rae Bareli.

The statements in Cls. (1) and (9) of the wajib-ul-arz of Rae Bareli are nothing more than a description of the conditions and customs obtaining in the town prior to annexation. They cannot be treated as a declaration that the proprietary rights in the town area had been restored by the ———Construction of words in—Same words.

WAJIB-UL-ARZ—Construction of Words in.

British Government. (Lindsay, J. C, and Wazir, Hasan, A. J. C.) THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL v. MUHAMMAD QUASIM.
8 O. L. J. 160 : 24 O. C. 77 : 61 I. C. 871 : 3 U.P. L. R. (J.C.) 19.

Unless there are strong reasons to the contrary, if the same word is used in several places in a wajib-ul-arz it should be construed in the same sense. If the whole document is loosely and carelessly worded, it has to be interpreted by taking it as a whole and seen what on a natural construction it means to lay down. (Daniels and Lyle, A. J. Cs.) KESRI KUMAR v. RAM RANI.
53 I.C. 725 : 6 O. L. J. 431.

———Construction of words in — "Malik Kamila."

Where a Hindu widow without a son is said to be Malik Kamila, it means she is an "absolute owner." (Stuart, A, J. C.) THAKURDIN SINGH v. BHAGWANT KUAR.
32 I C. 784 : 2 O. L. J. 629.

———Construction of words in—'Farar' meaning of.

The word 'Farar' could not apply to a man who left the village openly, and not in a clandestine or irregular manner, in order to take up his residence in an adjoining village but it applies to an absconder or a deserter. 2 O C. 281 at p. 283 Ref. (Stuart, A. J. C.) GAURI SHANKAR SINGH v. BHAGWAN DIN.
32 I. C. 337 : 2 O. L. J. 485.

———Construction of words in—Viran.

The term "Viran" used in a wajib-ul-arz; means deserted or desolate and not dilapidated; and where a tenant dies without an heir, his house is "khali Shuda and Viran" within the meaning of the wajib-ul-arz and the talukdar would be entitled to take possession thereof (Evans, J. C.) NAROTAMDOSS v. RAJA MAHOMED.
12 I. C. 776: 14 O. C. 231.

Custom of Pre-emption.

———Custom of pre-emption — Evidentiary value.

A wajib-ul-arz containing statements as to pre-emption which are not in contravention of Hindu, Mahomedan or any other system of law, is a reliable evidence of a custom of pre-emption and the wajib-ul-arz need not be corroborated by other evidence of instances of that custom, though it is open to rebuttal by contrary evidence. (Sir John Edge.) DIGAMBAR SINGH v. AHMAD SAYED KHAN. 37 All. 129 : 42 I. A. 10 : 13 A L. J. 236 : 19 C. W. N. 393 : 17 M. L. T. 193 : 2 L. W. 303 : 21 C. L. J 237 : 17 Bom. L. R. 393 : (1915) M. W. N. 581 : 28 I. C. 34 : 28 M. L. J. 556 (P C.)

———Custom of pre-emption—Rebuttal.

There was an entry in the wajib-ul-arz of a village about the existence of a right of pre-emption; evidence was let in that 50 years previously there was only one proprietor in the village, Held this did not rebut the presumption of correctness, as the right of pre-emption might have grown up in the period of 50 years. (Lindsay and Sulaiman JJ.) RAM DAS RAI v. SHEIKH ABDUL GHAFOOR.

WAJIB-UL-ARZ—Custom of pre-emption.

1924 A. 146.

———Custom of pre-emption—Classes of pre-emptors.

Where the wajib-ul-arz of a village provided that in case of a transfer of property, the right to claim pre-emption would be "first to warisan ek jaddi qaribi, then to hissedar of the patti and then to co-sharers in the village," held, that the right of pre-emption arose only where there was sale to a stranger and that the clause does not apply to a sale between the classes inter se. (Tudball and Sulaiman, JJ.) MATHURA SINGH v. RAM LAL SINGH. 64 I. C. 486 : 19 A. L. J. 903.

———Custom of pre-emption.

Where a statement was made in the wajib-ul-arz that when a co-sharer wishes to sell or mortgage, he should first offer his share to his nearer co-sharer and in case of his refusal to any other co-sharer in the village and if they refuse then he may sell to a stranger. Held, that the subsequent statement that in case of a sale to a stranger a willing co-sharer may pre-empt does not affect the statement of the rights of the co-sharers inter se. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) JAIPAL RAI v. SAHDEO RAI. 55 I. C. 35 : 18 A. L. J. 99.

———Custom of pre-emption.

Where in the wajib-ul-arz a right of pre-emption is given to a co-sharer in the Zemindari in case of sale by another co-sharer of his right and there is a distinct statement that the owners of the miscellaneous plots have a right to sell their property without the permission of the Zamindar, held, such owners are not bound by the custom of pre emption. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) BISHAMBAR NATH SINGH v. BASANT LAL. 55 I. C. 31.

———Custom of pre-emption — Entry in—Custom, proof of.

Mere entry in the wajib-ul arz providing that every co-sharer must offer his property to other co-sharers if he would desire to sell, does not sufficiently establish acustom of pre-emption. (Richards, C.J. and Rafique, J.) SUNDER SINGH v. JAISIRI RAI. 50 I. C. 50.

———Custom of pre-emption.

An extract from wajib-ul-arz recording a custom of pre-emption is prima facie evidence of the existence of the custom and as pointed out by the Privy Council in 37 All. 129, it is unnecessary for the plff. to give instances in support of the entry. But the deft. in such a case is entitled to give evidence to show that no custom of pre-emption exists. (Richards, C.J. and Banerjee, J.) KALLU v. KALLU SINGH. 43 I. C. 854.

———Custom of pre-emption—Construction of.

The wajib-ul-arz ran as follows :—Whenever a co-sharer wishes to make an absolute sale of his share, or mortgage by conditional sale, he must offer it to the other co-sharers. In the circumstances, pre-emption did not apply to cases of exchange. (Richards, C. J. and Tudball, J.) BHAGWAN SINGH v. RAJWANTA KUMAR. 38 I. C. 157.

WAJIB-UL-ARZ—Custom of pre-emption.

——Custom of pre-emption — Evidentiary value of.

A wajib-ul-arz is merely evidence: it is not conclusive of a custom of pre-emption.(Richards, C.J. and Tudball, J.) BECHU SINGH v. LACHMI NARAYAN SINGH. 15 I. C. 54.

Custom of Resumption.

——Custom of resumption—Grove denuded of trees.

Where the terms of a wajib-ul-arz treated one grove on a different footing from others and laid down that when it would be denuded of trees the landlord should bring it under cultivation and that the tenant had no right to plant a grove or other scattered trees, held, the character of the land as grove was not lost by planting new trees. (Piggott and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) CHOKHEY LAL v. BEHARI LAL. 2 U.P.L.R. (All.) 292: 60 I. C. 115 : 18 A. L. J. 820.

——Custom of resumption—Entry, value of.

Where the wajib-ul-arz is not a wajib ul arz prepared to ascertain custom or practice after due enquiry and it was merely the statement of a landlord in his own favour as that of an interested party an entry in the wajib ul arz showing a muafi to be resumable is no proof of the fact that the muafi is resumable. (Baillie, S.M.) NISARUL RAHMAN v. TIKAM DAS. 26 I. C. 860 (1): 1 O. L. J. 680.

Evidentiary Value.

——Evidentiary value of—Not conclusive but important piece of evidence.

Entries in the khewat register of a village and the wajib-ul-arz are evidence of facts stated therein and their importance may vary with circumstances. They are not by themselves conclusive evidence of the facts recorded. It may turn out that they are in accord with the general bulk of the evidence in the case they may supply gaps in it; and they may, in short, form a not unimportant part of the testimony in the case. They should not however be given any greater weight. (Lord Shaw.) NAGESHAR v. GANESHA. 42 All. 368 : 7 O. L. J. 48 : 2 U. P. L. R. (P.C.) 37 : 23 O. C. 1 : 18 A. L. J. 532 : 22 Bom. L. R. 596 : 28 M L.T. 5 : 56 I. C 306 : 38 M. L. J. 521 (P.C).

——Evidentiary value of—Title—Presumption.

Though an entry as to title in a wajib-ul-arz or Record of Rights does not create a title, it gives rise to a presumption in its support, which prevails until the correctness is successfully impugned. (Jenkins, J.) DAKAS KHAN v. GHULAM KASIM KHAN. 45 Cal. 793 : 24 M. L. T. 271 : 28 C. L. J. 441 : 20 Bom. L. R. 1068 : 26 P. L. R. 1919 : 48 I. C. 473 : 9 L. W. 558 (P.C).

——Evidentiary value of—Record of tradition—Effect of.

A wajib-ul-arz is a village administration paper prepared by a village official, in which are recorded the statements of persons possessing interests in the village relative to the existing rights and customs. As such they are of considerable value in the determination of such rights and customs. But statements which merely narrate traditions and purport to give the history of devolution in certain families, not even of the narrators stand in no better position than any other tradition. (Mr. Ameer Ali.) MURTUZA HUSAIN KHAN v. MUHAMMAD YASIN KHAN. 38 All. 552 : 43 I. A. 269 : 20 M. L. T. 362 , 14 A. L. J. 1083 : 18 Bom. L R. 884 : (1916 2 M W. N. 555 : 25 C. L. J. 1 : 19 O. C. 290: 1 Pat. L. W. 122 : 21 C. W N. 410 : 4 O L. J. 8 : 4 L. W. 538 : 36 I. C. 299 : 31 M L.J. 804 (P.C.).

WAJIB-UL-ARZ—Evidentiary value of.

——Evidentiary value of—Proprietary right.

The wajib-ul-arz is cogent evidence of the right as they obtained when it was made, of those holding proprietary or other rights within the particular mauza. (Sir John Edge.)FATEH CHAND v. KISHAN KUNWAR. 34 All. 579 : 39 I. A, 247: 16 C. W. N. 1033 : 12 M. L. T. 413 : (1912) M. W. N. 1085: 10 A. L. J. 335 : 14 Bom. L. R. 1090 : 17 C. L. J. 1 : 16 I. C. 67 : 23 M.L.J. 330 (P.C.).

——Evidentiary value of—Rebuttal.

The wajib-ul arz is strong primafacie evidence of custom and in order to overturn the presumption in its favour, there must be strong evidence for satisfying the Court that in fact the wajib-ul-arz could not reasonably be treated as evidence of custom. (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) SHER MUHAMMAD KHAN v. PARBHU LAL. 21 A. L. J. 801 : 46 All. 47 : 1924 All. 274.

——Evidentiary value of.

An entry in a wajib-ul-arz is prima facie evidence of the existence of a custom unless there is anything in the wajib-ul-arz itself which contradicts the idea of such an existence or there is other evidence to the contrary or such custom is unreasonable or unenforceable, the presumption would be that such a custom exists. (Lindsay and Sulaiman, JJ.) GAYAN SINGH v. BABU LAL. 21 A L. J. 822 : L. R. 4 A. 557 : 9 O. & A. L. R. 1019 : 1924 All. 86.

——Evidentiary value of—Haq chaharun—Halat debi—Effect of.

The wajib-ul-arz of 1866 recorded a custom of a right to Haq chaharun or ¼ share of the sale proceeds of a house to the Zemindar. But a document called halat debi prepared in 1885 did not mention the existence or non-existence of the custom. Held, the latter did not abrogate the custom established in the wajib-ul arz (Lindsay and Kanhaiya Lal, JJ.) BECHAI v. BADRI NARAYAN. 63 I. C. 292 : 19 A. L. J. 719.

——Evidentiary value of—Parjote.

A statement in a wajib ul arz made by a Zemindar is not a statement narrating a tradition but it is a statement by a person possessing an interest and an existing right in a village, and is prima facie evidence that he is entitled to the right recorded therein. A wajib ul arz recorded that for every shop, the occupier would have to pay 12 maunds of cotton seed or their value and this payment was called parjote or ground rent. Held, that the payment was realizable as being rent payable in kind under the terms of the wajib ul arz. The use of the word parjote in the wajib-ul-arz showed that the payment contemplated was based upon an agreement and not upon custom. (Knox, C.J., Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) MUHAMMAD FAIYAZ ALI KHAN v. BEHARI. 40 A. 56 ; 45 I. C. 329 : 15 A.L.J. 873 (F.B.).

WAJIB-UL-ARZ—Evidentiary value of.

——Evidentiary value of—Custom—Whether custom—Ambiguous entry therein.

The record in wajib ul-arz is not custom, but a mere record of it: and if its language is ambiguous it may by itself not suffice to prove the custom or any particular incident thereof. (Richards, C. J. and Tudball, J.) JEHANGIR v. AMIR SINGH. 23 I. C. 245: 12 A. L. J. 19

——Evidentiary value of—Custom.

A wajib-ul-arz is only evidence of a custom and often varies in its weight as evidence (Richards, C.J. and Tudball, J.) AHMAD SAYED KHAN v. DIGAMBAR SINGH. 16 I C. 361

——Evidentiary value.

Wajib-ul-arz is only a piece of evidence to be considered while enquiring into a custom alleged (Richards, C.J. and Tudball, J.) MAWASI v. MUL CHAND. 34 A. 434 : 14 I. C. 278: 9 A. L. J. 670.

——Evidentiary value of.

The Court ought to hold that certain custom prevailed upon the unrebutted evidence of the wajib-ul-arz. (Richards, C. J. and Tudball, J.) HUKAM SINGH v. THAKUR DAS. 12 I. C. 738: 8 A. L. J. 1135

——Evidentiary value of—Riwaj-i-am.

A wajib-ul arz being part of a Revenue record is of greater authority than a riwaj-i-am which is of general application and is not drawn up in respect of individual villages. (Le Rossignol and Campbell, JJ.) GURBAKHSH SINGH v. MT PARTAPO. 2 Lah. 346: 1922 Lah. 234.

——Evidentiary value of— Entries—incorrectness.

There is a presumption as to the correctness of entries in a wajib ul arz but though such entries are evidence, the presumption as to their correctness is rebuttable. (Broadway and Bevan Petman, JJ.)GULAM MUHAMMAD v. GUAHAR BIBI 54 I. C. 419 : 18 P. W. R, 1920.

——Evidentiary value of — Entry — Presumption.

Entries in a wajib-ul-arz are presumed to be correct in the absence of any real proof to the contrary. (Scott-Smith and Jones, JJ.) SULTAN v GHULLA. 68 P. W. R. 1917 : 41 I. C. 283 : 139 P. L. R, 1917.

——Evidentiary Value of — Whether can override the provision of a statute.

An entry in a wajib-ul arz enumerating the persons who are to succeed, if it does not expressly exclude collaterals, cannot have the effect of excluding them because they are not mentioned therein. It cannot override the statutory law as to succession. (Shadi Lal, J.) WALAYAT BEGAM v. SHER ALI SHAH. 39 I. C 232 . 19 P, R. 1917.

——Evidentiary value of— Custom— Subsequent settlement.

A wajib-ul-arz holds good only for a particular settlement. A recital in an old wajib-ul-arz and unsupported by any instances carries little weight especially when it professes to apply to all people, e. g., Hindus, Muhammadans and Christians etc. a curious custom. (Kensington and Chevies, JJ.) MUHAMMAD ISLAM v HARI LAL. 7 P. W. R. 1914 : 21 I. C. 944: 16 P. L. R. 1914.

WAJIB-UL-ARZ—Evidentiary value of.

——Evidentiary value of— Conflicting entries —Presumption

Where there are conflicting entries in the wajib-ul-arz neither of which is based on known instances, the presumption is in favour of the entry which least conflicts with general custom. (Kensington and Beadon, JJ.) TAJ MAHOMED v. ISLAM. 95 P. R 1913: 343 P. L. R. 1913 : 21 I. C. 681: 230 P. W. R. 1913.

——Evidentiary value of.

A wajib-ul-arz is a mere record of custom and it does not create a right. (Mittra, A. J. C.) SITA-RAM v. RAKALU. 54 I. C. 177.

——Evidentiary value—Circumstances.

The weight due to a wajib-ul-arz may be very slight or may be considerable according to the circumstances of the case. (Simpson and Wazir Hassan, A.J.C.) BALBHADAR PRASAD v. NARAYAN. 9 O. L. J. 518 : 1923 Oudh 102.

——Evidentiary value of—Presumption — Record of custom.

The presumption in the case of wajib ul-arz is that the entries therein are a record of custom (Kanhaiya Lal and Daniels, A. J. Cs.) SITARAM v. BANYAD ALI KHAN. 63 I. C. 530 : 8 O. L. J. 331.

——Evidentiary value of—Custom of variance with law—Corroboration— Necessity for.

In a general wajib-ul-arz is admissible to prove a custom set out therein and suits based on custom may be decreed on the strength of the entries made therein ; where those entries indicate the existence of a well-established custom rather than connote the views of individuals as to the proposed practice. When the custom is startingly at variance with the law a Court can look for substantial corroboration. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) TIKA v. MUSSAMMAT RAM KUER. 7 O. L. J. 234 : 56 I. C, 696 : 23 O, C. 106.

——Evidentiary value of.

Athough a tenant may be bound by an entry in the wajib-ul-arz which was made in his absence such entry is not necessarily conclusive proof against the tenant. (Ashworth, A. J. C.) MUSAMMAT HAMID FATIMA v. BHOLA 52 I C. 869 : 6 O. L. J. 349.

——Evidentiary value of.

A wajib-ul-arz unsupported by other evidence may be sufficient to establish a family custom. If the lower Appellate Court has rejected a wajib-ul-arz under an erroneous view of the law, it is open to the High Court to interfere in second appeal. 4 O L. J 50 Cons. (Daniels, A. J. C.) BOHI RAM. v. MENDA. 21 O. C. 384 : 49 I. C. 514: 6 O L. J. 154.

——Evidentiary value of.

It is not correct to lay down that a wajib-ul arz contains exclusively statements relating to custom and it would not afford any evidence of a custom excluding pre-emption, except where there is clear entry therein to that effect. (Lindsay J C.) JASWANT SINGH v. RAJA SINGH. 20 O. C. 226 : 42 I. C. 21 : 4 O. L. J. 562 ——— Evidentiary value of—Entry attested only by Asamis—Not sufficient.

An entry in wajib-ul-arz that a land is held rent free by local custom, is not established if it is attested by the Asamis and not by Muafidars. (Holms, J. M.) GANESH PRASAD v. SHEO DAYAL. 30 I. C. 392 : 2 O. L. J. 370.

——— Evidentiary value of — Entries in — Landlord and Muafidar.

Where entries in a wajib-ul-arz have been attested by the landlord alone and not by the Muafidar they are irrel vant and therefore are not binding on the latter. (Tweedy, S. M. and Holms, J M.) RAUSHAN ZAMAN KHAN v. RAMA NANDMISRA. 28 I. C. 229 : 2 O. L. J. 121.

Family Custom.

——— Family custom — Mere opinions and wishes.

A Wajib-al-arz containing mere wishes and opinions of the parties does not establish a custom at variance with personal law of the parties. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A J. Cs.) MUHAMMAD ALI KHAN v. GAZANFAR ALI KHAN. 60 I. C. 147 : 7 O. L. J. 474.

——— Family custom—Construction.

A wajib-ul-arz regulated the succession of Hindu widows providing that if one only, of the widows has sons the others should be life-tenants only, without power of transfer and if all are sonless, all should take equal shares absolutely. Held, that it recorded a custom of life-estate for a sonless Hindu widow. (Lyle, A. J. C.) BANSI DHAR v. SITA RAM. 58 I. C. 307.

——— Family custom—Entry in unsupported, by actual instances—Value of.

Unless it can be proved that effect was given to a custom by which a childless widow used to get a full estate in the property of her husband, the record of the custom in a "wajib-ul-arz" will have no value. (Kanhaiya Lal, J C) KANCHAN v. SARABJIT. 53 I. C. 740 : 6 O. L. J. 517.

——— Family custom—Entries in—Value of.

The value of a wajib-ul-arz as evidence of a custom depends upon the circumstances under which the entry with regards to the custom came to be recorded in it. (Kanhaiya Lal and Daniels, A. J. Cs.) RAGHUBAR SINGH v. GUJRAJ SINGH. 47 I. C. 920 : 5 O L J. 508.

——— Family custom— Entry in weight of.

A family custom cannot be proved merely by the production of an entry in the wajib-ul-arz. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) BANDI BIBI v. MUSHARRAF. 42 I. C. 199 : 4 O. L. J. 509.

——— Family custom—Entry in—Value of.

An entry in a wajib ul-arz signed and verified by the parties to the effect that " a sonless widow succeeds to her husband's estate and has no power to alienate and on her death the share dissolves on husband's heirs " records and proves a family custom which while giving the widow only life-estate confers on her absolute power of alienation. The interpretation of one wajib-ul-arz does not govern another. (Stuart, A. J. C.) MUSAMMAT PUNNI v. CHET RAM. 24 I. C. 640 : 1 O. L. J. 319.

——— Family custom—Other villages than the one in dispute—'Family custom'— 'Family'—If includes clan.

The word ' family ' as used in the expression ' family custom ' is not wide enough to include a clan and the wajib-ul-arz of other villages than the one in dispute is inadmissible to prove the " family custom " set up, even though the owners of those villages belong to the same clan as the owner of the v llage in dispute. (Lindsay, A.J.C.) LALMAN v. NAND LAL. 20 I. C. 894 : 17 O. C 1

Groves.

——— Groves—Rights of proprietor.

A wajib-ul-arz provided that at the time of sale the proprietor of the land receives ¼ of the sale price in virtue of his proprietary rights and also that any grove holder in possession under this custom could fell any tree and appropriate the timber to his own use. Held where the grove holder did not fell the trees, remove the timber and sell the same for their own profit, but they sold the trees as they stood and the vendee cut them down, the proprietor was entitled to ¼ price. (Piggott, J.) KRISHNA DATT DUBE v. BRIJ LAL. 1923 All. 269.

——— Groves—Diluvion.

Where a wajib-ul-arz provided 'where a grove is denuded of trees the grove-holder will have preferential right to cultivate it. In future no person will be entitled to plant new trees without the permission of the pattidars. Held, that this clause was a general one and meant that if a grove holder wanted to plant new trees, he must get the permission of the Zeminder, even for replacing trees cut down. A wajib ul-arz is part of the Record of Rights and the entries in it must be deemed to be correct till the contrary is proved. (Banerjee, J.) ISHAR DIN v. MUMTAZ HUSSEIN KHAN. 39 I. C. 974.

——— Groves— Construction— Landlord and Tenant—"Malik"—Right to transfer.

A wajib-ul-arz provided that persons who plant a grove with the consent of the Zemindars of it, are to have the rights of a malik. Held, such persons have an interest in the grove which they are entitled to transfer. (Richards, C. J. and Tudball, J.) MUHAMMAD YASIN v. ILAHI BAKSH. 34 All. 545 : 16 I. C. 455 : 10 A. L. J. 73.

Miscellaneous.

——— Provision regarding refuse in the village.

As non-proprietors plff. dwell in the village on sufferance on sites which are the property of the proprietary body, the condition as to refuse in the wajib-ul-arz was binding on them and was not inequitable. Payment of Quota towards the upkeep of extra sweepers after the entries in the WAJIB-UL-ARZ—Miscellaneous.

wajib-ul-arz were made, does not affect the right of proprietors. (Shah Din and Le Rossignol, JJ) KARIM BAKSH v. ALTAF ALI. 88 P. R. 1915 : 31 I. C. 469 : 180 P. W. R 915.

——Suit for correction of —New wajib-ul-arz omitting right entered under the old one—Effect — Kotwar recorded as sub-tenant in Wajib-ul-arz—Claim for possession.

At the last settlement the settlement officer decided that one Kotwar sufficed for the village. Of the two Kotwars one was retained by lot and the other dismissed. The latter was however to retain possession of the field under his cultivation as sub-tenant of the retained Kotwar, paying him the assessed rental as embodied in the settlement record and wajib-ul-arz. At the current settlement the entire village service holding was recorded in the sole name of Kotwar's son and the new wajib-ul-arz omitted the clause as to the sub-tenancy. On ejectment the sub-tenant sued for reinstatement in possession and correction of the new wajib-ul-arz. Held, a right of sub-tenancy was created in favour of Kotwar whose services were dispensed with and he is entitled to remain in possession of the field in his cultivation and the new wajib-ul-arz should be modified by insertion of an entry that the sub-tenancy enjoyed by him until ejectment will enure for his lifetime only. (Drake Brockman, J. C.) JHIBLIA v. DAWLATIA. 1922 Nag. 158.

——Customary dues—Zemindar—Exclusion of right to, by contract.

A wajib-ul-arz prepared in respect of a Zemindari, recognised certain customary dues payable to the Zemindar. The Zemindar alienated a portion of the Zemindari agreeing to make no demand for anything but the assessed revenue and cesses payable to him as superior proprietor. Held, that he must be deemed to have given up his rights to receive the dues qua Zemindar and the wajib-ul-arz could not override his express contract. (Stanyon, A. J. C.) SAKHARAM v. SONA BAPU. 51 I. C. 8.

——Custom wider than, if can be proved.

A custom wider than what might be inferred from the terms of the Village wajib-ul-arz can be proved. (Piggott, J. C.) KUNJ BEHARI v. RAMESHWAR. 20 I. C. 40.

WAKF

See MAH. LAW—WAKF.

WANT OF JURISDICTION.

See JURISDICTION.

WAR.

See (1) ALIEN ENEMY.
(2) CONTRACT ACT, S. 56.

WARD.

See GUARDIAN AND WARD.

WARRANTY.

(1) CONTRACT ACT, S. 114.
(2) T. P ACT S. 55.

WASTE LAND RULES (1876).

——Prior unregistered mortgage— Second mortgage for the same sum khalsa subsequent mortgage—Priority.

WIDOW.

An unregistered mortgage was executed by Deft. No. 1 of a field for the premium for a perpetual lease of that field in favour of the plff. who was then the izaradar of the village. Later on, he executed a registered mortgage to secure the same amount. Owing to the expiry of the mortgagee izaradar's lease the village was made khalsa and the izaradar appointed its patel. So the mortgagor was recorded occupant of the land and he mortgaged it to Deft. No. 2. Held, that the mortgagor's tenancy created by the plff. did not determine on the expiry of izara, but continued on the village becoming khalsa, and so priority should be given to the plff.'s mortgage over that of Deft. No. 2. (Mittra, A. J. C) JAMAN DAS v. PAIKU. 26 I. C. 715 : 10 N. L. R. 170.

WASTE LANDS ACT (XXIII OF 1863).

——Ss 7 and 18—Scope of—Waste lands—Sale of, by Government—Insufficient and misleading notification—Suit to recover property—Limitation.

The procedure prescribed by the Waste Lands Act (1863), is not confined to waste lands held by the Government and applies to the sale of or dealing with lands to which the Government could not show any title. S. 18 which prescribes a special period of limitation for the making of claims is applicable only to proceedings before the special Court to be constituted under the Act. The Act in question makes a great invation on private rights and those pleading it in bar of a claim must bring the matter strictly within its provisions. An advertisement of a proposed sale incorrectly stating the name of the parganna in which the lands are situate is misleading and insufficient. A suit for recovery of possession of the property so sold might be brought in the ordinary Courts within the ordinary period of limitation. (Lord Dunedin.) SECRETARY OF STATE v. RADHA KISHORE MANIKYA. 44 Cal. 328 : 43 I. A 303 : (1917) M. W. N. 25 : 14 A. L. J. 1205 : 18 Bom. L. R. 1027 : 21 C. W. N 291 : 5 L. W. 570 : 38 I. C. 379 : 25 C. L. J. 425 (P. C.).

WATER.

See (1) EASEMENT,
(2) EASEMENTS ACT.
(3) FERRY.
(4) RIPARIAN RIGHTS.

WATER-COURSE.

See RIPARIAN RIGHTS.

WATER RATE OF CESS.

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT.

WAY.

See RIGHT OF WAY.

WELL.

See (1) CO-SHARER.
(2) HINDU LAW—PARTITION.

WIDOW.

See HINDU LAW—
(1) ALIENATION.
(2) REVERSIONER.
(3) SUCCESSION.
(4) WIDOW.

WIFE.

See (1) HUSBAND AND WIFE.
(2) RESTITUTION OF CONJUGAL RIGHTS.

WILD ANIMALS.

See ANIMALS.

WILL.

Accumulation.
Administrator.
Attestation.
Bequest.
Codicil
Construction.
Essentials.
Executor.
Formalities.
Legacy.
Oral will.
Power.
Probate.
Proof of.
Revocation.
Testamentary capacity.
Trust.
Validity of.

Accumulation.

———Accumulation—Religious dedication.

Where a Will stated that the revenues and rents of certain properties were to be applied in a certain manner, with a direction for accumulation of surplus income, and then continued that "out of the income of such funds" the shebait shall have power to celebrate religious ceremonies held that the words "such funds" included the added accumulations, that the accumulations became part of the corpus and were subject to the charitable trust created by the Will. (Lord Buckmaster.) GNANENDRANATH DAS v. SURENDRANATH DAS.
24 C. W. N. 1026 : (1920) M. W. N 550 : 61 I. C. 323 : 28 M. L. T. 453 (P. C.)

———Accumulation—Direction to pay to person named, if void

A direction that no payments are to be made except to the persons mentioned was not a direction to accumulate and so is void. (Chaudhury, J.) ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL OF BENGAL v. HUGHES. 21 I. C. 183 : 40 Cal. 192 ———Accumulation—Creation of fund.

A Will provided that the balance after making certain payments should be accumulated to form a 'fund' and on the fund reaching to Rs. 10,000, it should be utilized for some purposes and the balance to be added to the 'fund.' Held, that there was no intestacy as to the balance. (Wallis, C. J. and Ramesam, J.) SEERANGATHANNI v. VAITHILINGA MUDALIAR.
29 M. L. T. 281 : (1921) M W. N. 248 : 63 I. C. 104 : 13 L. W. 392 : 40 M. L. J. 532.

Administrator.

———Administrator—Title of—Grant of letters.

An administrator derives his title solely from the grant of letters and cannot sue as an administrator before he gets his grant. The case of an

WILL—Bequest.

executor is different as he gets his title from the will and probate is only evidence of the title. (Lord Parkar.) SOONA MAYNA KENA ROONA MEYAPPA CHETTY v. SOONA NAVENA SUPPRAMANIAM CHETTY. 43 I. A. 113 : 20 C. W. N. 833 : (1916) 1 M. W. N. 455 : 18 Bom. L. R. 642 : 35 I. C. 323 : 114 L. T. 1002 : 85 L. J. P. C. 179 : (1916) 1 A. C. 603 (P. C.)

Attestation.

———Attestation—Validity.

The requirements of law are satisfied if the Sub-Registrar and the person who identified the testator put their signatures after the execution of the bill but in the presence of the testator. (Das and Kulwant Sahay, JJ.) RAJENDRA LAL BHATTA CHARJI v. MENOKA DEBI.
1 Pat. L. R. 267.

Bequest.

———Bequest—General and specific—Devise of entire estate to one and devise of particular village to another.

When there is a devise by the testatrix of her whole estate to one person subject to conditions and a devise of a particular village to another to be "sole owner and possessor," the latter devise is an absolute one, and does not detract from the former devise with conditions, being only an exception to it. 18 M. L. J. 7 (P. C.) Foll. (Lord Shaw.) FATEH CHAND v. RUP CHAND.
38 All. 446 : 43 I. A. 183 : 18 Bom. L R. 900 : 21 C. W. N. 102 : 4 L. W. 597 : (1916) 2 M. W. N. 567 : 26 C. L. J. 182 : 37 I. C. 122 : 20 M. L. J. 481 (P. C.).

———Bequest to two persons—Joint tenancy or tenancy-in-common.

A bequest in a Will in favour of two persons without specifying their shares, creates a tenancy in common and not a joint tenancy. (Walsh and Lindsay, JJ.) RAMPIARI v. KRISHNA PIARI.
43 All. 600 : 63 I. C. 301 : 19 A. L. J. 60

———Bequest—Vested interest — Interest to take effect after death of testator and his wife—Legatee surviving testator but predeceasing his wife- Legatee, if has a vested interest.

Where a bequest is to take effect after the death of the testator and his wife, the legatee who survives the testator, though he predeceases the wife, has a vested interest transmitable to his heirs. (Stanley, C. J. and Banerji, J.) BILASO v. MUNNI LAL. 33 All. 558 : 11 I C. 516 : 8 A. L. J. 577.

———Bequest—Partly valid—Effect

Where immoveable property is given for fixed purposes, partly valid and partly invalid, the beneficial interest in the invalid portion passes to the heirs. (Stanley, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) MAZHAR HUSAIN KHAN v ABDUL HADI KHAN.
33 All. 400 : 9 I. C. 753 : 8 A. L. J. 162.

———Bequest—Construction—Charity—Alternate bequest to charity—Life-estate.

A will by a Hindu disposed of the tastator's house absolutely and his cash standing in his account books in the widow's name, household effects and the stridhan of his widow in favour of his widow. By a provision in the will he gave the widow a life estate in the house with power to dispose of for certain purposes in her lifetime and on her death to his daughter for life and on her death to her lineal male descendants, if any, and if not, to a certain charity called Ananthasrama Dharmada fund. The widow died and after her, the daughter died without issue. Deft. No. 2 the husband of the daughter claimed the house adversely to the trust which was represented by Deft. No. 1, the trustee of the above charity. Deft. No. 2, contended that as the gift over to the charity was contingent on the daughter dying childless it could not take effect until that event occurred before the period of distribution before the widow's death, in other words, the charity could only take if the daughter died sonless in the lifetime of the widow. Held that as a gift to the daughter was for life and not an absolute estate under S. 111 of the Succession Act the charity would be entitled to the house owing to the non-applicability of that section and that the bequest to the male issue was under the rule of the Tagore case void but it will not affect the other alternative bequest to the charity. As regards cash, if neither the widow nor the daughter exercises the power of disposal the property was to go to the charity according to the will. The widow by her will gave the cash and the household effects absolutely and her stridhan to her daughter absolutely with a condition that the same should not be sent to her heirs in the event of her dying issueless but should go to charity. Deft. No 2 contended that the condition was not operative and as the will was not governed by the Hindu Wills Act, S. 118 of the Succession Act did not apply. Held, that the condition which was attached to an absolute gift was not repugnant because a Hindu testator can provide for the defeasance of a prior absolute estate contingently on the happening of a future event; that the widow had no power to dispose of the cash by will and it therefore went to the charity and the charity was undoubtedly entitled to the household effects which could not be considered as cash and to her stridhan (Pratt, J.) THE ADVOCATE GENERAL OF BOMBAY v. VITHALDAS.

WILL—Bequest.

58 I. C 996 : 22 Bom. L. R. 1005.

——— Bequest—Vesting of—Time at which to take effect.

The testator's death is ordinarily the period of payment or distribution of the fund bequeathed (Batchelor and Rao, JJ.) JEHANGIR v. KAIKHUSRU.

9 I. C. 951 : 13 Bom. L. R. 141.

———Bequest—Condition precedent—Impossibility of performance—Effect.

The intentions of a testator cannot be ascertained or varied by events subsequent to the Will. It must be determined from the terms of the bequest, and where the performance of a condition appears to be the motive for a bequest, the impracticability of the performance will be a bar to the claim of the legatee. (Mookerjee and Buckland, JJ.) RAJENDRA LAL GHOSE v. RAKHAL.

64 I. C. 977 : 33 C. L. J. 418.

———Bequest—Absolute estate — Tenants-in-common.

WILL—Bequest.

Property was devised to trustees upon trust to pay the income to G and B in equal shares as tenants in common and to hold half of the corpus for such persons as G and B may respectively appoint by will and in default to appoint to the heir's executor and administrator. Held, that each of G and B took an absolute estate in a moiety of the property. (Chitty, J.) BALTHAZAR, G. C. v. SAMUEL BALTHAZAR

42 I. C. 285 : 21 C. W. N. 992.

———Bequest — Gift to uncertain person — Validity.

A gift by a testator to his grand daughter's husband, when the grand-daughter was not married at the testator's death is bad for uncertainty. (Chitty and Chatterjee, JJ.) SHYAMA CHARAN BHATTACHARYA v. NABA CHANDRA CHAKRAVARTHY.

11 I. C. 634.

——— Bequest—Restrictions on bequest.

A testator can give property whether by way of remainder or by way of executor bequest (to borrow terms from the law of England) upon an event which is to happen, if at all, immediately on the close of a life in being. A Hindu, who has a power to transfer his property, though not self-acquired can make a will with a gift over. (Abdul Raoof and Lunsden, JJ.) PREM SINGH v. HARDIT SINGH.

1923 Lah. 649.

———Bequest—Charity—Void.

A bequest or trust for dharmarth is void on account of its vagueness. The property designated for such purpose is undisposed of. 23 Bom. 725, Foll. (Robertson and Rattigan, JJ.) GURDIT SINGH v. SHER SINGH.

78 P. R. 1912 : 63 P. W. R. 1912: 14 I. C. 247 : 106 P. L. R. 1912.

———Bequest — Void for uncertainty—How construed.

Per Srinivasa Iyengar, J.—A will should be construed, if possible, to give effect to the legacy. The modern doctrine is not to hold a will void for uncertainty if it is possible to give a meaning to it. Per Wallis, C. J.—The rules of construction of wills in England are somewhat too artificial to apply to Hindu agriculturists' will. A legacy in a will which does not specify the lands bequeathed out of the properties of the deceased, is not void for uncertainty but should be given effect to by means of partition with regard to good and bad quality. (Wallis, C.J. and Srinivasa Aiyangar, J.) BARADWAJA MUDALIAR v. KOLANDAVELU MUDALIAR.

29 M. L. J. 717 : 31 I. C. 786 : 19 M. L. T. 141.

———Bequest—Charity—Cypres — Validity—English Law.

If a devise in a will can be construed to be a bequest to 'charity' as that word is understood in English Law, the disposition is valid but if it is a devise in the alternative for purposes which are not charitable, though benevolent or philanthropic then the bequest is void. Where the scope and terms of a will indicate an intention to benefit charities or a class of charities generally treating the particular named object of gift as instruments for carrying out such general intention, the general purpose of charity will be executed according to the doctrine of cypres. Where a testatrix devised her estate to a trustee that "he of his own judgment give as a donation or apply or invest the balance to or for any person for his use or benefit or to or for any charitable or religious institution or object as he may think proper" Held, that the bequest was void for uncertainty. (Batten and Stanyon, A. J. Cs.) MRS. ELKINS v. REV. DR CULLEN.

WILL—Codicil.

40 I. C. 791 : 13 N. L. R. 51.

Codicil.

——Codicil—Construction—Oudh talukdar's estate—Will binding on talukdari—Codicil not conforming to the law—Binding on the other than the talukdari property.

An Oudh talukdar executed a will charging a maintenance of Rs. 500 for his wife on the talukdari but before his death executed a codicil, which did not conform to the conditions which would make it binding on the talukdari estate, raising the maintenance allowance to Rs. 1,000 and the talukdar had other properties as well. Held, that the codicil could not be construed as merely textually altering the terms of the will by the substitution of Rs. 1,000 for Rs. 500. Even though the codicil stated "from this date to be given Rs 1,000" it should be construed as a wish that the allowance should begin to run at once after death, the idea that the donee was creating an annuity during his own life by inter vivos conveyance being opposed to the whole circumstances surrounding the execution of the document (Lord Dunedin.) DEPUTY COMMISSIONER OF KHERI v. BIJAI RAJ KORR. 20 O. C. 260

22 C W. N. 305 : 4 O. L. J. 739 : (1918) M. W. N. 324 : 43 I. C. 987 : 8 L. W. 1 (P. C.).

——Codicil—Revocation of will when operative as revocation of codicil.

Although a codicil is dependent upon a Will it cannot be deemed to be an integral component of it. The mere revocation of the Will will not operate to revoke the Codicil also. (Mookerji and Cuming, JJ.) SURENDRA NATH v. SHIADAS.

35 C. L. J. 488 : 1922 C. 182.

——Codicil—Construction.

A codicil unless it expressly revokes an earlier codicil or will does not prevent its operation. A codicil does not always operate as if the will was made simultaneously with the codicil. (Chaudhuri, J.) ADMINISTRATOR GENERAL OF BENGAL v. HUGHES. 21 I. C. 183 : 40 Cal. 192.

——Codicil—What is.

A document signed by the testator which came into the hands of the trustees at the same time and under the same circumstances as the will itself and which gave directions to the trustees is a codicil though there is no reference to the will itself. (Batten. O. J. C.) MT. RAMDULARI v. BISHWESHWAR DAYAL.

18 N. L. R. 143 : 1923 N. 105.

——Construction.

Absolute estate.
After-acquired property.

WILL—Construction—Absolute estate.

Deed Inter vivos.
Duty of Court
English Rules.
Gift over.
Intention of testator.
Joint power.
Life estate.
Meaning of words.
Personal designate.
Residuary clause.
Vested estate.
Miscellaneous.

Construction—Absolute estate.

——Construction—Absolute estate—Gift to wife—Sir land — Election — Person claiming under will cannot dispute other bequests

Where a testator bequeathed to his "wife for life 500 rupees per mensem besides siratmakbuza (Sir lands) in her possession". Held that the wife took an absolute estate in the sir lands Where a person claims property under a Will and has no title to it apart from the will, he cannot dispute the right of another legatee under the Will. (Sir John Edge.) RANI BIJAI RAJ KUNWAR v. THAKUR JAI INDRA BAHADUR SINGH.

44 A. 435 : 31 M. L. T. 69 : 9 O. L. J. 385 : 4 U. P. L. R (P. C.) 76 : 25 O. C. 260 : 36 C. L. J. 511 : 49 I. A. 262 : 1922 P. C. 317 (P. C.)

——Construction —Absolute estate — Devise by one as malik-o-quabiz.

In a devise by a testatrix as malik-o-quabiz the latter term would import full ownership. (Lord Shaw.) FATEH CHAND v. RUP CHAND.

38 All. 446 : 43 I. A. 183 : 18 Bom. L. R. 900 : 20 M. L. T. 481 : 21 C W. N. 102 : 4 L. W. 507 : (1916) 2 M. W. N. 567 : 37 I. C. 122 . 26 C. L. J. 182 (P. C.)

——Construction—Absolute estate — Grant of—Absence of words of restraint on alienation —Provision for successive life estates.

In the absence of words imposing an effective restriction on the estate bequeathed the donee takes an absolute estate, even though the testatrix attempted ineffectually to create a succession of life estates. (Mears, C. J. and Banerjea, J.) MARTIN v. HIRDEY RAM.

44 A. 397 : 20 A. L. J 266 : L. R. 3 A. 201 : 4 U. P. L. R. (All.) 175 : 1922 All. 120.

——Construction — Absolute estate—Occupancy rights are not affected by transfers of proprietary rights—Transfer by the heir of the property—Whether conveyed full title.

Where a legacy was sold by the legatee to the deft. who already had the occupancy right in the land, held that in a suit by the remainderman, the deft.s' occupancy right could not be disturbed; but that plff. could get only proprietary possession. Where a widow entitled to only a life-estate in a farming lease of waste land under the will of her husband received from Government full proprietary rights in the property, a transfer by her subsequently conveys full proprietary title to the vendee irrespective of the provisions of the will in favour of remaindermen. (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) RAJ KISHORE DAS v. JAINT SINGH. 36 All. 387 : 23 I. C. 364 : 12 A. L. J. 717.

——Construction — 'Absolute' estate — Defeasance clause.

A bequeathed property to her grandson B, and directed that delivery of possession should be postponed till B had a son or daughter twenty years old. If B would die without issue, there was to be a gift over of the property. Held, that the direction as to postponement of delivery is invalid and that the grandson got an absolute estate liable to be defeated on his dying issueless (Macleod. C. J. and Shah, J.) NAVALCHAND v. MANEK CHAND. 62 I. C. 98 : 23 Bom L. R. 450.

——Construction—Absolute estate.

A clause in a will that A and B were proprietors half and half of the whole estate means that A and B each took an absolute interest in half of the estate. 9 B. L. R. 377, Foll. (Batchelor and Rao, JJ.) JEHANGIR v. KAIKHUSRU. 9 I. C. 951 . 13 Bom L. R. 141 ——Construction—Absolute estate in earlier part of the will—Restrictions on power of alienation and mode of enjoyment—Effect of.

A Hindu testator provided in his will that after him his daughter should be malik with power to alienate and to enjoy the property down to her son, grandson, etc. The daughter was to live in the testator's ancestral bhita and perform the pujas inaugurated by him and it was provided that she should not otherwise transfer the property, except in the case of unavoidable necessity or for the education of her son, etc. On a question arising as to the nature of the estate taken by the daughter. Held, that though the earlier words in the will by themselves would create an absolute estate still considering all its terms it must be held that the earlier part was qualified by the provisions in the other parts of the will and that the daughter got only a limited estate. In constructing a will regard must be had to the central idea of the testator on the whole rather than to isolated expressions in the will. 24 C. 406 14 C.W. N. 458; 18 C. W N. 140; 40 C. 274, dist; 8 C. L. J. 20 ; 12 C. L. J. 391 ; 12 C. W. N. 412 ; 35 C. 896, foll. (Chatterjee and Cuming, JJ.) SUKENDRA NATH CHATTERJEE v. SAROJBANDU BHUTTACHARJEE. 26 C. W. N. 893.

——Construction—Absolute estate—Bequest by Hindu to his widow—'Malik'.

Where a Hindu left a will whereby his widow was to succeed to all his properties as 'malik' with powers of sale and gift and that if the widow found it necessary to sell it she could do so to a stranger if the testator's heirs and co-sharers refused to purchase it for adequate consideration. Held, that the word, 'malik,' imports full proprietary rights unless there is something in the contest to qualify it. The fact that donee is a Hindu widow is not sufficient for the purpose. The restraint on alienation in the Will was not sufficient to cut down the plain meaning of the words giving an absolute estate. It only gave the heirs a right of pre-emption. (Richardson and Chaudhuri, JJ.) SUDHAMONI DAS v. SARATLAL DAS. 66 I. C. 628 : 25 C. W. N. 527.

——Construction—Absolute estate.

Where the testator bestowed absolute estate upon his brother and daughter and a portion of the estate upon his widows and to propitiate his brother for this bestowal of absolute estate upon the widow bestowed upon him a greater portion of his estate upon which the brother consented to the will, held the estate upon the widow was absolute estate. (Martineau and Zafar Ali, JJ.) MT. SHERA KHATUN v. MAHOMED ALI SHAH. 1923 Lah. 559.

——Construction—Absolute estate—Gift to female—"Malik," meaning of.

Where a Hindu testator died leaving a Will stating that his wife would be malik of, and would have the interest of milkiat in his properties. Held, that she took an absolute estate of the property bequeathed. The expression malik is not a term of art and its meaning depends on the context. (Wazir Hasan, A J. C.) BIJAI BAHADUR SINGH v. MATHURA SINGH. 25 O. C 345 : 9 O. L. J. 327 : 4 U. P. L. R. (O. C.) 66 : 1922 Oudh 278.

——Construction —Absolute estate—Hindu widow's estate, will by the widow.

Cl. (1) of a will, gave the testator's wife the whole of the property moveable and immoveable left by him subject to the terms of the will. Cl. (2) provided that she would be the absolute owner of ilaqa in Hardoi, and proceeded "as regards the remaining property, namely, the ilaqa in district Kheri and Maqbuya in District Hardoi, she shall have the rights as sanctioned by the Shastras and shall be in proprietary possession of the same." Held, that it was only in respect of the ilaqa in district Kheri and Maqbuya in district Hardoi, that the legatee's estate had been limited to Hindu widow's estate. She was given a full estate in property in cl. 1 with power to dispose of it by will or otherwise. (Daniels and Lyle, A. J. Cs.) KUAR NAGESHAR SAHAI v. SHIAM BAHADUR. 1922 Oudh 231.

——Construction—Absolute estate—Restriction on alienation.

Where a testator in terms gives an absolute gift to a legatee and subsequently professes to impose restrictions on alienation by the legatee or his heirs, the restrictions as to alienation are invalid and a legatee will take an absolute estate under the will 18 W. R. 359; 4 Mad. 200. ref. (Dalal, A.J.C.) LALA MANNI LAL v. RAJA PARTAB BAHADUR SINGH. 9 O. L. J. 19 : 1922 Oudh 22.

——Construction —Absolute estate— Principles—Widow— Life estate or absolute estate.

Where the language in which a deed is written is not the language of a trained draftsman or a skilled conveyancer but of an amateur or layman, all that is necessary to interpret such a deed is to give the plain meaning to the words used, neglecting grammatical errors and remembering the limitations and deficiencies of the draftsman. A will executed by a Hindu gentleman in favour of his wife declared that he left his property to her absolutely and entirely and that if she wished to utilise the powers she possessed in order to make an endowment of a religious or a charitable nature such an object would meet with his approval, though if she did this he would be opposed to her giving the manager of the endowment too free a hand. Held, that under the above will the testator devised a full complete estate and not merely a life estate to his wife. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. Cs.) GANGA BAKSH SINGH v GOKUL PRASAD.

WILL—Construction—Absolute Estate.

44 I. C. 645 : 4 O. L. J. 744.

——Construction—Absolute estate—"Malik" and "Varis"—Estate conferred.

Where in a will executed by a Hindu in favour of his wife, the words "malik" and "varis" occur and there is nothing in the text or circumstances to indicate an intention to cut down the absolute estate clearly and unmistakeably, then an absolute estate must be deemed to have been be queathed. (Kennedy, J. C. and Kemp. A. J. C.) TIRATHMAL LOKOOMAL v. THAWARSINGH. 66 I C. 720 : 15 S. L. R. 202.

Construction—After-acquired Property.

——Construction—After-acquired property.

A mere use of the present tense as "properties I am in possession of" in the will does not stand in the way of the property passing under the will although the property may have been acquired between the date of the will and the testator's death. Courts will not, where the testator has purported to make a complete disposition of property decide in favour ofan intestacy as to a portion of that property unless there is absolutely no help. A will must be read as a whole and the intention of the testator should be gathered from it. The above rules apply even to wills made in places where the Hindu Wills Act is not law. (Chitty and Teunon, JJ.) JITENDRA KUMAR v. NRITYA GOPAL. 16 I. C. 831 : 18 C. W. N. 140.

——Construction—After-acquired property—Specific immoveables—Right to immoveable property subsequently acquired.

A Hindu testator executed a will in favour of his son-in-law. The immoveable properties devised were described item by item in the will; the moveables were also described with full details. The testator expressly bequeathed not only moveables then in extstence but such as he might acquire before his death. The properties left to the devisee were described "as moveable and immoveable properties left by the testator and described in the will" and in another place "as properties left." Held, that it was not the testator's intention to make a general gift of all the properties which he might die possessed of. His intention was to give only the specific properties mentioned in the will and the will did not vest in the devisee such immoveable properies. as the testator acquired by inheritance after the execution of the will. (Mookerji and Beachcroft, JJ.) BAIKUNTHA NATH v. KASHI NATH.
16 I. C. 553 (Cal.)

Construction—Deed inter vivos.

——Construction—Deed inter vivos—Registration.

Where in alleged will contains nothing more than a declaration of an intended adoption which was however never carried out and a statement of the wishes of the executant thereafter, and is in the nature of a transaction inter vivos and the document is not registered, it is not legally valid. Calling a document a will does not make it a will. (Lord Moulton.) TIRUGNANAPAL v. PONNAMMA NADATHI. 28 M. L. T. 190 : (1920 M. W. N. 559 : 12 L. W. 660 : 58 I. C. 228 : 25 C. W. N. 511 (P.C.).

WILL—Construction—Duty of Court.

——Construction—Deed inter vivos—Document styled a will but effecting a partition of properties in praesenti.

A document styled a will but effecting a partition in praesenti among all the members of the family, i.e., the sons of the executant was construed as effecting a family arrangement in spite of a clause as to revocation. (Lord Moulton.) BRIJRAJ SINGH v. SHEODAN SINGH.
35 All. 337 : 40 I. A. 161 : 17 C. W. N. 449 : 11 A. L. J. 698 : 14 M. L. T. 11 : 18 C. L. J. 57 : (1913) M. W. N. 515 : 19 I. C. 826 : 15 Bom. L. R. 652 : 25 M. L. J. 188 (P.C.)

——Construction — Deed inter vivos—Sale deed to come into effect only after death of executant—Effect.

Where a sale deed has been executed but it appeared that no title was intended to pass until the plff. vendor's death. Held, that the document was really intended to be a will and was revocable by plff. at any time (Ayling and Tyabji, JJ.) GOVINDASWAMY RAJA v. KUPPAMMAL.
31 I. C. 77.

Construction—Duty of Court.

——Construction—Duty of Court.

The construction of a will or for the matter of that of any document is the exclusive function of the Court. Omission to ask for a prayer for construction of a will where such construction is essential for the proper disposal of the suit, cannot in any way be fatal to the suit. (Karamat Hussain and Piggott, JJ.) RAJENDRA CHANDRA v. MANIK LAL. 11 I C. 235 : 8 A. L. J. 1063.

——Construction—Duty of Court.

Regard should be had not to what the testator meant but to the actual wording used. (Batchelor and Rao, JJ. JEHANGIR v. KAIKHUSRU.
9 I. C. 951 : 13 Bom. L. R. 141.

——Construction — Duty of Court—Terms clear.

In the absence of an ambiguity in the terms of a will, the rule that a will by a Hindu must be construed with regard to Hindu habits and notions, has no application. A clear right conferred by a will cannot be deprived by adding what the testator might have been presumed to have intended if certain future contingencies had been in the mind of the testator. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) BOMMAYA HEGADE v. SRINIVASA HEBBARA. 25 I. C. 900 : 27 M. L. J. 305.

——Construction—Duty of Court—Wishes of testator.

A will should be construed scrupulously regarding the wishes of the tastator. (Stuart, A. J. C.) INDERKUAR v. CHHEDA SINGH.
6 O. L. J. 88 : 50 I. C. 197 : 22 O. C. 7.

WILL—Construction—Duty of Court.

———Construction — Duty of Court—Hindu widow—Will by, legality of—Reversioner, affirmation by, when validates will

A Court is bound to give effect to every word of a will without change or rejection, provided effect can be given to it not inconsistent with the general intent of the whole will taken together, but if that cannot be done, the general intent has to be pursued, though it may involve the rejection or transposition of a superfluous or misplaced word. Held, that the words in the will "properties which are or may hereafter be in my possession" included properties which vested in the testator as reversioner after the will and before his death, though the properties were not reduced to possession. A will by a Hindu widow is void and no amount of affirmation by a reversioner can validate it. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C) DHAMSA BAKSH SINGH v JAGMOHAN SINGH.

32 I. C. 209 : 2 O. L. J. 491.

———Construction— Duty of Court—Propriety of disposition not for the Court.

If a will is properly proved to have been executed by the testator it is no business of the Court to enquire into the reasons for giving certain property to persons named in the will and not to others. (Jwala Prasad and Adami, JJ.) LAKHIAMAJIN v. LOKH NATH DASS.

1 Pat. L. T. 77 : 58 I. C. 437 : 5 Pat. L. J. 147.

Construction—English Rules.

———Construction—English rules—Parsi will—Heirs—Time of ascertainment of.

The rule of law in construing wills is to ascertain the intention of the testator as declared by him, and apparent in the words of his will and to give effect to this intention so far as, and, as nearly as may be, consistent with law. Rules of construction developed by the English courts are highly artificial and are inapplicable to the construction of wills in India. 38 I. A. 54 ; 23 I. A. 18, Ref. A Parsi testator died in 1905 leaving his widow D, his son J, J's wife, two daughters and four grandsons. By his will he directed that after the death of his widow his reversionary estate should be held in trust by his executors and that the income should be paid to J for life and on J's death to J's widow and children. There was a further provision that if J died without issue, the executors should pay a lump sum to J's widow and divide a moiety of the residue among the testator's heirs as if he died intestate excluding J's widow. J died without issue and his widow as his administratrix claimed a share of the residuary estate of the testator. Held, on the construction of the will, that the testator did not intend that his son J should take any interest under the will as an heir and consequently J's wife could not claim a share of the residue. (Lord Parmoor). DINBAI v. NUSSERWANJI RUSTOMJI.

31 M. L. T. 213 : 37 C L J. 420 : (1922) M. W. N. 787 : 4 U. P. L. R. (P.C.) 105 : 27 C. W. N. 199 : 49 I A. 323 : 49 C. 1005 : 17 L. W. 174 : 25 Bom. L. R 625 : 1922 P. C. 311 (P.C.).

———Construction—English rules.

English rules as regard the construction of wills are not applicable to India unless consonan

WILL—Construction—Gift over.

with justice, equity, etc. (Lord Macnaghten.) BHAGBATI BARMANYA v. KALI CHARAN SINGH.

38 Cal. 468 . 38 I. A. 54 : 15 C. W. N. 393 : 9 M. L. T. 411 : 13 C. L. J. 434 : 21 M. L. J. 387 : 8 A. L J. 433 : 13 Bom. L. R. 375 : 10 I. C. 641 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 295 (P.C.).

Construction—Gift over.

———Construction—Gift over—Validity of.

A gift over by a Hindu on indefinite failure of male issue in the line of donor is void. (Mr. Ameer Ali.) PURNA SASHI v KALIDHAN RAI.

38 Cal. 603 : 15 C. W. N 693 : 8 A. L. J. 681: 13 Bom. L. R. 451 : 14 C. L. J. 1 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 403 : 10 M. L. T. 361 : 11 I. C. 412 : 21 M. L. J. 1119 (P.C.).

———Construction—Gift over—Successive and substitutionary bequests—Absolute estate cut down to life estate—Succession Act, Ss. 82 and 111.

A testator made a bequest in the following terms :—"On my death my younger brother's widow B and on her death her daughter K that is my niece, will get one-fourth share, etc." Held, the testator did not make a substitutional gift to the niece in the event of her mother B predeceasing him, but that the gift which he made was a gift of successive interests, i.e., the interest was to go first to the brother's widow B, and then on her death the property was to go to her daughter K. Notwithstanding S. 82 of the Succession Act, the gift in favour of the brother's widow B was not a gift of an absolute interest, so that the gift over on her death to her daughter K, was not void as being repugnant to the form of the gift to the mother. The apparently absolute nature of the gift in favour of the mother B was cut down to a life-estate by the direction that on her death the property would go over to her daughter. (Fletcher and Huda, JJ.) HARENDRA CHANDRA LAHIRI v. BASANTA KUMAR MAITRA.

43 I. C. 991 : 22 C. W. N. 689.

———Construction—Gift over—Absolute estate.

If a devisee or legatee to whom an absolute interest is given does not dispose of his interest or dies intestate a gift over is void both as regards reality and personality. (Mookerjee and Roe, JJ.) SURES CHANDRA PALIT v. LALIT MOHAN DUTTA.

22 C. L. J. 316 : 31 I. C. 405 : 20 C. W. N. 463.

———Construction—Gift over—Absolute estate—Gift over on death.

If property is given to a person with power to sell, give away, etc., he takes an absolute interest therein. An absolute gift to a legatee with a gift over on a contingency of death, refers to death before the period of distribution. (Fletcher and Richardson, JJ.) NISTARINI DEBYA v. BEHARI LAL MOKHAPADYA.

27 I. C. 239 : 19 C. W N. 52

———Construction—Gift over—Adopted son.

Where a will authorised the testator's widow to adopt a son and provided that if she died without adopting a son or if the adopted son predeceased her without any male issue the estate after the death of the wife should passed to the testator's sister's son: held, that the widow and the adopted son took a qualified interest and on the death of the adopted son without issue and of the widow thereafter the estate will pass to the nephews. (Jenkins, C. J. and Woodroffe, J.) BHUPENDRA KUMAR GHOSE v. AMARENDRA NATH DEY. 41 Cal. 642 : 24 I. C. 458 : 18 C. W. N. 360.

WILL—Construction—Gift over.

———Construction—Gift over—Sale or gift—Sale for no consideration—Test to be applied—Intention of parties.

In the case of an ostensible sale for no consideration the test is was the transaction intended to transfer title. If intended to be operative mere postponement of payment does not matter; if however operation was intended to be postponed until payment of consideration, transfer becomes operative only on such payment. In any case, the test is the intention of the parties (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) KASHIDAS GOSAIN v. CHAITHRU PATRAS URAON. 23 I. C. 813 : 19 C. L. J. 239.

———Construction — Gift over— Transfer of house by legatee—Condition not impossible of performance—Ultimate gift in favour of agnate or Brahmin void for uncertainty.

A will of a Hindu provided "upon a son being adopted by my wife he shall, upon the death of the wife, be entitled to all my properties. If an adopted son be not procurable then my daughter's son N should he live in my dewelling-house, will, with his sons, son's sons and other heirs in succession, be entitled to my properties, but if N. or his sons or son's sons, etc., fail to live in my house then my grand-daughter's husband or his son shall upon living in my house be entitled to my properties." There were other limitations over, each being conditioned on residence in the testator's house first to the husband of the testator's daughter's daughter, and then to "any of my agnates or any other Brahmin who may be brought in and settled in my dwelling-house at first by my wife and upon her death by my daughter-in-law" Finally, 'should all these fail, then on the death of my wife and daughter-in-law at first any one of my agnates, then on their failure, any Brahmin who should with his family live in my dwelling house shall be entitled to my properties." Held, that N got merely a contingent interest during the widow's life-time the contingency being the death of the widow without adopting, that the residence required was residence after the interest conferred became an estate in possession, and the condition as to residence could not be satisfied if N lived for some time in the house with the widow as he never did in the house after her death and he had put it out of his power to do so by joining with the widow in conveying the house to a stranger and that N was deprived of the interest given him by the will. Held also, that the ultimate gift over in favour of an agnate or a Brahmin was void for uncertainty. (Stephen and Richardson, JJ.) SHYAMA CHARAN BHATTACHARYA v. NABA CHANDRA CHAKRAVARTI. 14 I. C. 708: 17 C. W. N. 39.

———Construction—Gift over—Joint tenancy.

Where a bequest made to two persons, directs that each shall divide it and take it in equal

WILL—Construction—Intention of testator.

shares, there is no gift in joint tenancy. (Sankaran Nair and Bakewell, JJ.) ISSAKI AMMAL v. MUTHUSAWMY PILLAI.
20 I. C. 632 : (1913) M W. N. 604.

———Construction — Gift over — Grant to widows and to daughter on their death.

Where land is granted by a will to two widows and on their death to the daughter, the land given to each widow would on her death devolve upon the daughter. (Abdur Rahim and Spencer, JJ.) GOVIND PILLAY v. MEENATCHI ACHI.
10 M. L. T. 493: (1911) 2 M W. N. 563: 13 I. C 152: 22 M. L. J. 204.

———Construction—Gift over.

Where an absolute estate is granted in a will, a gift over, is void. (Daniels and Dalal, A. J. Cs.) RAJESHURI v. MATHURA SINGH. 24 O. C. 187: 63 I. C. 348 : 3 U. P. L. R. (J. C.) 59.

Construction—Intention of Testator.

———Construction—Intention of testator.

A will provided :—"I alone am the owner of the properties acquired by * * * * If a male issue be born to me, then he shall remain the owner. Should perchance a son be not born to me, then my heir is Chiranjiv Keshari Singh. Should a heir (i.e.) a son be born to Chiranjiv Keshar Singh, then he shall be the heir in the future. Should perchance no son be born to Chiranjiv Keshar Singh and should it be necessary to bring (a son) from (some) other place, then during the lifetime of my wife (a son) from our Gotra shall be brought (adopted) with the consent of my wife. Held the words of the will, "Should perchance a son be not born to me, then in that case my heir is Chiranjiv Keshar Singh," and the subsequent words, "I appoint Chiranjiv Keshar Singh (be) my heir" are sufficient words to pass the property from the date of the death of the testator, and although the subsequent terms of the will as to the adoption of a son with the consent of the testator's wife in the event of no son being bornto the respondent, and other expressions used, may appear to give an unusual authority to the wife, there is nothing in them to cut down the express terms of the will appointing defendant to be the testator's heir. An intention to leave the wife in the same position as if he had died intestate cannot be implied in a case where the testator has made a will in which he has deliberately made no express provision with reference to the plaintiff. (Lord Carson) FOOL COOVERBAI v. RAI SAHEB KESHRI SINGH RAJMAL. 45 M. L. J. 249: 25 Bom. L R. 621: 18 L.W 153: (1923) M.W.N. 578: 33 M. L. T. 214 (P. C.) L. R. 4 P. C. 151: 9 O. & A. L. R. 799 : 1923 P. C. 112 (P. C.).

———Construction — Intention of testator — Direction to make a Will.

A testator appointed his wife executrix, gave her full powers of management, and an estate for life and directed her to make another Will of her own according to his oral instructions. He also made a gift over, in case his wife would die intestate Held the wife got a general power of management uncontrolled by the oral instructions and the power was not void for uncertainty. (Viscount Cave.) BAI SHRINIBAI v. RATANBAI.

WILL—Construction—Intention of testator.

45 Bom. 711 : 48 I. A. 69 : (1921) M W. N 165 : 19 A. L. J. 215 : 23 Bom. L. R. 618 : 25 C. W. N 890: 33 C. L. J. 271 : 29 M L T 236 : 14 L. W. 183: 60 I. C. 222: 40 M. L. J 277 (P. C) : [On appeal from 43 Bom. 845 : 51 I. C. 209 : 21 Bom. L. R. 384.]

——Construction of — Intention of—testator.

In confirming a will the court's first duty in all cases is to ascertain from the language of the testator what his intentions were. But in doing this, the Court should take into consideration other matters such as the surrounding circumstances, the testator's race, religion, aims, etc. In the case of Indians, the Court should bear in mind the probable ignorance of the testator of the correct legal forms to express his intentions and of the procedure by which his intentions are to be carried out. The court should carry out the testator's intention gathered in this manner and should not add anything not seen to be intended by the testator If a testamentary disposition is against law, it should fail. Where any eventuality has not been provided for, on the happening of the contingency, the ordinary law of succession would supersede the testament. (Lord Moulton.) VENKATANARASIMHA APPA RAO v. PARTHASARATHY APPA ROW 37 Mad 199 : 41 I A. 51 : (1914) M. W. N. 299 : 12 A. L. J. 315 : 18 C. W. N 554 : 26 M. L J. 411 : 15 M.L.T. 285 : 23 I. C. 166 : 16 Bom. L. R. 328 (P. C.).

——Construction — Intention of testator—Form of expression.

In construing wills of Indian people Courts should not regard the form of expression but should regard their intention to be gathered from words used. A will creating absolute interest in its first part and limited interest in favour of the same legatee in the latter part, must be construed as a whole. Only limited interest is created in cases like the above. (Batchelor, A. C. J. and Shah, J.) D'SOUZA v SERPES.
41 Bom. 70 : 38 I. C. 9 : 18 Bom. L. R. 943.

——Construction—Intention of testator.

A will purported to confer an absolute estate in one portion while other clauses indicated a contrary intention, held the heir cannot be regarded as given an absolute estate with absolute power of alienation merely upon what is stated in the earlier part of the will entirely ignoring the other provisions of the will, on the ground that an absolute estate having been conferred the other provisions being repugnant to the nature of the estate must be rejected. Importance ought not to be attached to isolated expressions but the court must look to all the clauses of the will and giving effect to all the clauses ignoring none as contradictory or redundant. (Chatterjee and Cuming, JJ.) SURENDRA NATH CHATTERJEE v. SAROJ BHANDU BHATTACHARJEE.
70 I. C. 923 : 26 C. W. N. 893.

WILL—Construction—Intention of testator.

——Construction—Intention of testator—Legacy on a condition precedent if takes effect when the condition by reason of subsequent events becomes impossible of performance.

A testator bequeathed a sum of money to some of his relatives asking them to re-excavate a tank with the money and take the surplus. But the testator himself re-excavated the tank before his death : Held, that the re-excavation of the tank was a condition precedent, i. e., there was no gift intended unless the condition was fulfilled. The ascertainment of the testators intention shown by the will cannot be varied by events which occur afterwards. That intention must be determined from the terms of the bequest, and where the performance of the condition appears to be the motive of the bequest the impracticability of the performance will be a bar to the claims of the legatee. In such a case the bequest does not take effect, discharged of the condition. (Mookerjee and Buckland, JJ.) RAJENDRA LAL GHOSE v. SRIMATI MRINALINI DASI. 26 C W. N. 378 : 1922 Cal. 116.

——Construction — Intention of testator—Absolute debuttar.

A will provided "The sheba established by my ancestors is performed at my house. It is necessary to make some arrangements for their performance Gokul, my brother's son will attend upon me during my life-time and after my death will perform the acts mentioned in the Will. He (Gokul) shall take on my death all my moveable and immoveable property absolutely. If Gokul does not perform the sheba and directs one of my jnati who will perform it shall take the property absolutely and Gokul shall not object to it." Held the Will gave estate to Gokul subject to the charge of sheba and that there was no absolute debuttar and the property was liable to attachment and sale in execution of a decree against Gokul. (N. R. Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) MAKHAN LAL SARKAR v. GOKUL CHANDRA CHAKRAVARTHI. 62 I. C. 882.

——Construction — Intention of testator—Perpetual annuity.

A will provided for the payment of annuity to the legatee, his sons, grandsons and so on in the order of succession, held, the Will created a perpetual annuity and the annuity was a charge upon the property. (Teunon and Newbould, JJ.) SOBHA KANTA MISRA v. KARIMAN HALVAL.
60 I. C. 750.

——Construction —Intention of testator — Life interest, forfeiture of.

A Will provided "The...homestead...will remain in possession of my mother but she will not have power to sell it. On her death my heirs will get it. If, in the mean ime she goes elsewhere by leaving my homestead she will not get my property". The mother sold the property in 1867 and left the house. In a suit by heir of the testator for possession from the alienee from the mother held, that the intention of the testator was that the interest of the mother should cease in the event of her leaving the house, that there was a forfeiture of the estate in 1867 and that the suit brought more than 12 years thereafter is barred. (N R. Chatterjee and Duval, JJ) KALI KANTA CHAKRABUTTI v. RAJANI KANTA CHAKRAVARTY.

WILL—Construction—Intention of testator.

59 I. C. 308.

———Construction—Intention of testator.

A father provided in his Will that the share which each son would get on attaining his 26th year "by virtue of partition wilfully belong to him in title after vesting absolutely in his sons and grandsons, etc. and from that time the right of inheritance will vest in his heirs." Held, the testator intended each of his sons to take his share as ancestral property. (Richardson and Huda, JJ.) MUKTI PROKASH NANDE v. ISWARI DEI DEBI. 57 I. C. 858 : 24 C. W. N. 938.

——— Construction—Intention of testator—Intestacy or testacy as to a portion.

When the dispositions in the will taken as a whole, lead to the inference that the intention of the testator was to dispose of all the properties. then if there is any doubt, the will ought, if possible, to be so read as to lead to testacy. (Sanderson, C. J., Woodroffe and Mookerjee, JJ.) SAROJINI DASI v. GNANENDRA NATH DAS.
33 I C. 102 : 23 C. L. J. 241.

———Construction—Intention of testator—Bequest to charity — Vagueness — Uncertainty — Cypres.

In construing a will bequeathing properties to a charity the primary rule is to ascertain whether the object aimed at by the testator could be carried out without making a new will for him. Although there may be vagueness in the selection of the places or in the allocation of the funds, so long as it is ascertainable that the testator had a particular object in view and that he intended the funds left by him should be appropriated to that object courts are bound to see that the persons appointed by the testator do not misappropriate the funds. If the Court can ascertain that there was a general charitable intention the fact that the particular object for which the charity was intended did not exist or that the fund intended for that charity could not exhaust the whole income will not be any reason for holding that the bequest failed either wholly or in part. The doctrine of cypres should receive as extended an application as possible so as to give effect to the true intent and aim of the donor. His lapses, his ignorance and his failure to understand the situation should not fetter the Courts so long as the purposes specified by him are not vitiated If a testator has legally the power to dispose of his property by will his wishes should be given effect to if they are expressed in language which makes it clear what they are and how they should be carried out. When a testator creates a trust it must be for a definite and lawful object. 23 B. 725 ; 31 B. 583 : 31 C. 895 : 37 M. L J. 489, Rel. (Abdul Raoof and Campbell, JJ.) SUNDAR LAL v. KULLU RAM. 65 I. C. 820.

———Construction — Intention of testator—Intention from the document.

The Court must interpret a will according to the intention which can be gathered from all the clauses in the will. (Shadi Lal, J.) NEK MAHOMED v. MAYARAM. 32 I. C. 605 : 35 P. W. R. 1916.

WILL—Construction—Intention of testator.

———Construction—Intention of testator--Self acquired property of a Hindu left by him to one daughter and on her death to another —Absolute estate to survivor.

A Hindu willed away his self-acquired property on the terms that it should go to his widowed daughter A, but on her death it was to go to his married daughter B. A predeceased B. It was held that the intention was to make the provision for A for her life if she predeceased B but if A survived B, she was to have absolute estate. A will should not be construed with literal strictness. The Courts should look to the provisions of it with a view to find out the intention of the testator which is to be gathered from the general tenure of the document. (Johnstone and Rattigan, JJ.) RAMACHAND v. DEVANCHAND.
65 P. R. 1912 : 99 P. L. R. 1912 : 13 I. C. 571 : 209 P. W. R. 1912.

———Construction—Intention of testator — Hindu testator.

The Wills of Hindu testators should be construed with reference to their ordinary notions of Hindu Law in the absence of reasons for supposing that he clearly intended to depart from them. Where a Hindu testator provided by his Will that his two wives ought to take the properties in parts without alienation, and after their death his daughter should take the entire properties, held, that on the death of one of the widows, the other took thewhole estate for life-time andonly after her death, the daughter gets the entire estate. (Wallis, C. J. and Krishnan, J) ACHAMMAL v. NARAYANASAMI NAICKEN. 14 L. W 532 : 69 I. C. 5 : (1921) M. W. N. 695 : 41 M. L. J. 329.

———Construction--Intention of testator—Two testamentary papers inconsitent— Construction.

Where a testator left two inconsistent testamentary papers but the one did not expressly revoke the other ; held that the two documents should be read together and the intention of the testator gathered therefrom. If, judged by that test, the two legacies are inconsistent and could not have been intended to be cumulative the intention must be taken to be that the earlier Will should be revoked. (Ayling, O. C. J. and Odgers, J.) CHINNAPPA v. KAILASAM.
41 M. L. J. 661 : 14 L W. 570 : 68 I. C. 11 : 1921 M. W. N. 812.

———Construction — Intention of testator—Testator having limited interest in property.

The intention of a testator having a limited interest in property and purports to dispose of the property itself can be gathered only to the extent of his limited interest : and if it is sought to carry the disposition further, it must be shown that he intended to dispose of more than his interest. Regard may be had to the context of the will and the inaptitude of the testamentary limitations if applied to the testator's actual interest. (Ashworth, A. J. C.) MAHESA v. RAMESHWAR.
26 O. C. 329 : 10 O. L. J. 24 : 1923 Oudh 173.

———Construction—Intention of testator.

In all cases the primary duty of a court is to ascertain the true intention of the testator from an examination of the entire will. The court is in fact entitled to put itself into the testator's

WILL—Construction—Joint power.

chair and say having regard to the language used in the different clauses, when read together what the testator's intention was. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C. and Lyle, A. J. C.) MOHAMAD YAKUB KHAN v. MAHAMAD SHAHID ALI KHAN.

25 O. C. 21 : 9 O. L. J. 160 : 1922 Oudh 87.

Construction—Joint power.

——— Construction—Joint power to personae designatae—Death of one.

If two personae designatae are to do an act if and when they think fit and one of them dies the power is incapable of being exercised by a survivor. Obiter :—Where the power is vested in the occupants of an office. (Lord Parker.) VENKATA NARASIMHA APPA ROW v. PARTHASARATHY APPA ROW.

41 I. A. 51 : 17 C. W. N. 1221 : 14 M. L. T. 259 : 18 C. L. J. 393
21 I. C. 339 : (1913) M. W. N. 791 : 15 Bom. L. R. 1010 : 25 M. L. J. 386.

——— Construction—Joint power—Administration—Panchas.

Where the will directed six persons to be Panchas of whom one was to supervise the work of administration and Panchas were given power to appoint other Panchas. Held, that power could only be exercised by the whole body of Panchas. Evidently the testator had never intended that Panchas should have the power to appoint other Panchas by will because it was intended by the testator that they should exercise that power as a body. That would exclude any power to appoint by will. At the most one pancha would be a person who might apply for letters of administration de bonis non. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) SHANKER GANPAT v. DAMODAR. 1923 Bom. 216 (1).

——— Construction—Joint power — Right of survivorship.

An annuity to two persons means that on the death of one of them the other should get a proportionate amount. But where there is a contrary intention the gift is a joint gift with right of survivorship inter se. (N. R. Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) HEMANTU KUMAR v. SUDHANGSU GOBIND. 62 I. C. 436 : 25 C. W. N 262

Construction—Life estate.

——— Construction—Life-estate— Reversionary trust to a particular legatee—Estate, when becomes vested.

Where there is a gift after prior interests to persons living, the word "then" refers most naturally to the last antecedent. A Parsi testator by his will devised a house to his wife for her life and directed that after her decease his executors should hold the house in trust for his son J for life and in the event of J's death in trust for J's widow and for J's issue and in default of such issue, the testator's son K "if then living". J died unmarried in the lifetime of the testator's widow, and of K. Held, that upon the death of J the house vested absolutely in K, subject the life interest of the testator's widow. Archer v. Jegon. 8 Sim. 446. Milne, In re, 57 L. T. 828. Rel. on. (Lord Phillimore.) KAIKHUSHRU BEZONJI NANABHOY CAPADIA v. SHRINIBAI BEZONJI CAPADIA 43 Bom. 88 : 21 Bom. L. R 130 : 23 C.W.N. 419 : 51 I. C. 481 : 9 L. W. 485. (P. C.).

WILL—Construction—Life-estate.

——— Construction—Life-estate— Gift over — Rules of construction—Justice, equity and good conscience—English law.

An Englishman domiciled in India died in November 1864 leaving a will made in October whereby he bequeathed his Zemindari to his eldest illegitimate son and to his lawful male children, "and in the event of my eldest son dying without lawful male children the above mentioned Zemindari shall descend to my next male heir and should all my sons die without lawful male children to my female children. . . . . ." "The eldest male son, who was 14 years of age in 1864 died in 1900 without male issue. Held, on a construction of the will that the testator's intention was not to confer an absolute estate on his eldest son but merely to constitute him a tenant for life. The will to which the provisions of Succession Act did not apply, must be construed not according to the artificial rules of construction adopted by the English Courts of Equity but according to justice, equity and good conscience. (Lord Shaw) RICHARD ROSS SKINNER v. KUNWAR NAUNIHAL SINGH. 35 All. 211 : 40 I. A. 105 : 25 M. L. J. 111 : 1913 M. W. N. 500 : 13 M. L T. 488 : 11 A. L. J 494 : 17 C. L. J. 555 : 15 Bom. L. R 502 : 19 I. C. 267 : 17 C. W. N. 853. (P. C.).

——— Construction — Life-estate — Power to dispose of residue—Power in the nature of trust.

A testator by his will appointed his wife sole executrix and gave her his property for life and empowered her to dispose of his estate" as I have directed her orally and according to the times, i.e., as circumstances demand." Held, that the widow took only a life estate that the words 'as have directed her orally and according to the times, i.e., as circumstances demand" indicated the existence of special directions as to the objects in whose favour the power was to be exercised and did not confer a testamentary power. On the death of the testator's widow there was an intestacy as regards the property of the testator in her hands and undisposed of at her death. (Scott, C. J. and Macleod, J.) SHRINBAI v. RATANBAI.

43 Bom. 845 : 51 I. C. 209 : 21 Bom. L. R. 384.

——— Construction—Life estsate—Gift over to daughters—Surviving daughter—Vested remainder—After-acquired property.

A Hindu testator in disposing of his self acquired property by will, excluded his son and bequeathed it to his son's wife as follows :—" If I die, my son's wife Bai Ganga is the owner of the above-mentioned immoveable and moveable properties. The said Ganga shall during her lifetime spend and use and enjoy out of my property and as to whatever property may have remained over after her decease, her two daughters are the owners thereof." At the date of the will, Ganga had two daughters but one of them died and a third daughter was born to her before the death of testator. Held, that the property acquired subsequent to the will was not intended to be disposed of, that Ganga took under the will an estate for life with power of disposal in her lifetime that the daughter who was the survivor of the two named in the will took a vested interest in the whole

WILL—Construction—Life estate.

residue which was both heritable and transferable. (Scott, C. J. and Batchelor, J.) MAFATLAL v. KANNAYA LAL. 30 I.C. 915 : 17 Bom. L. R. 705

———Construction—Life estate— Reservation of—Instrument reserving life-estate to maker not a will.

Any instrument which confers or reserves a life-estate to the maker can hardly in strictness be called a will. (Beaman, J.) PIRSAB v. GURAPPA. 38 Bom. 227 : 24 I. C. 716 : 16 Bom. L. R. 111.

———Construction — Life estate— Limited estate—Disposition to Hindu wife—Estate taken by her.

Where a will recited "my wife should be heir to everything and she and M should live amicably as of one family and if they cannot then M should be paid Rs. 4,000 and my wife should enjoy all the remaining properties, etc." Held, that the use of the words "should be heir" and which remain in the testamentary disposition cannot confer a larger estate on the wife than she will take under the Hindu Law and that she took only a limited estate. (Ayling and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) RATNA CHETTIAR v. NARAYANASWAMI CHETTIAR. 24 I. C. 796 : 26 M. L. J. 616.

———Construction—Life estate--Creation of —Remainder, vesting of.

Whenever a life estate is created by will the remainder cannot remain in suspense but must vest in some one. (Daniels and Lyle, A. J. Cs) KUAR NAGESHAR SAHAI v. KUAR MATA PRASAD 25 O. C, 189 : 9 O. L. J. 235 : 1922 Oudh 236.

Construction—Meaning of words.

———Construction — Meaning of words — Analogy.

It is always dangerous to construe the words of one will by the construction of more or less similar words in a different will. (Sir John Edge.) SASIMAN CHOWDHURAIN v. SHIB NARAYAN. 3 Pat. L. T. 133 ; 26 C. W. N. 425 : 1 P. 305 : 15 L. W. 434 : 42 M L. J. 492 : 24 Bom. L. R 576 : 35 C. L. J. 427 : 20 A.L.J. 362 : (1922) M. W N. : 368 : 30 M. L. T. 242 : 49 I. A. 25 : 1922 P. C. 63 (P.C).

———Construction — Meaning of words "Family"—Cash "— Interpretation of words— Decisions on.

The word "family" is elastic and capable of different interpretations, but there was no reason in the particular case for extending it to include people other than those existing when the testator died. Where the will clearly stated that there-venues and rents of stated properties are to be applied in a particular manner with a direction for accumulation of surpluse income, and then continued with a provision that out of the income of such fund the shebait should have power to celebrate religious ceremonies, the word "such fund" included the added accumulations and was not confined to the original debutter fund. The decisions which assign a particular meaning to any word in a will, only assign that meaning in connection with the terms of the will and that meaning is always capable of modification and alteration if it be seen that the limited meaning was not intended. "Cash" may have a wider meaning than coin or money on hand. (Lord Buckmaster.) GNANENDRA NATH DAS v. SUNDRA NATH DAS. 24 C. W. N. 1026 : (1920) M W. N. 550 (P.C.).

WILL—Construction—Meaning of words.

———Construction — Meaning of words— 'Aulad' — 'Khandan' — Illegitimate sons if legatees—Bequest to illegitimate children treated as Hindu, but of Mahomedan birth.

A Hindu testator of the Kshatriya caste had an illegitimate son J by a Mahomedan mistress whom he brought up as a Hindu, got him married to Kshatriya ladies one after another, treated these marriages as lawful marriages and the offspring of the union as legitimate, and was anxious that others should treat J as a Hindu, his marriages with Kshatriya ladies as proper, and the offspring as legitimate. The testator made a will to the effect that the income from certain properties should go for the maintenance of J and his "aulad" from generation to generation as long as his Khandan (family) was in existence. J died leaving a son born of the Kshatriya lady and several others born by Mahomedan concubines. Held, on a construction of the will the son of J by his Khastraya wife took the estate and the illegitimate sons of J by the Mahomedan concubine were not intended to be included in the term "aulad" and could not take under the will. Whether the son of J by his Kshatriya wife was in law a legitimate son or not, he was so considered by the testator. The word "aulad" should be given its prima facie significance of a "legitimate issue." Nor was there any reason for extending the meaning of "khandan" which normally refers to the group of descendants who constitute the family of the progenitor so as to include illegitmate offspring. Where a gift is made by will of the corpus of a fund or of a life interest in the fund to the children of the testator or of another as a class, there may be good reason in such cases for holding that in India, the word children includes illegitimate children. (Lord Atkinson.) SHER BAHADUR v. GANGA BAKHSH SINGH. 36 All. 101 : 41 I A 1 : 17 O. C. 68 : 18 C. W N. 401 : 15 M. L T. 169 : (1914) M. W. N. 184 : 12 A. L. J 188 : 19 C. L. J. 277 : 1 O. L. J. 109 : 22 I. C. 293 : 16 Bom. L. R. 306 : 26 M. L. J. 291 (P. C.).

———Construction—Meaning of words—Doubtful.

Where the meaning of the words of defeasance in a Will is doubtful, a construciton most favourable to the heir will be adopted. (Macleod, C. J. and Shah, J.) NAVALCHAND v. MANEKCHAND. 62. I. C. 98 : 23 Bom. L. R. 450.

———Construction — Meaning of words— "Will shall not have any effect"—Codicil.

Held that the word the "will shall not have any effect" in a codicil meant only that the payment directed was not to be made to the persons mentioned till 2 years after the death of the testator but they did not prevent the accrual of the right of the legatees. (Chaudhury, J.) ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL OF BENGAL v. HUGHES. 21 I. C. 183 : 40 Cal. 192.

WILL—Construction—Meaning of words.

—— ——Construction — Meaning of words— 'Malik'.

'Malik' implies absolute ownership unless there is anything in the context or the surrounding circumstances to qualify such meaning and the word cannot be said to be so qualified by the mere fact that the donee is a widow (Broadway and Abdul Raoof, JJ.) MOHAN LAL v. NIRANJAN DAS. 60 I. C. 619

——Construction — Meaning of words 'Malik'.

The words 'shall be malik' in a Hindu will import the bequest of a heritable and alienable estate, unless the context indicates a different intention and clear and ambiguous dispositive words are not to be controlled or qualified by any general expression of intention. A will gave certain property to X and Y in equal shares and recited that they shall be maliks and kabil thereof and went on to say and that share of Y shall be entrusted to X as Y is subject to fits of epilepsy. In case he dies on account of the said disease his wife shall be entitled to maintenance and all the brothers shall be owners of the property in equal shares. The words "in case he dies" must be construed as meaning" in case he dies without issue before me" and that Y's son was entitled to succeed to his father's share under the will. (Johnstone, C. J. and Shadi Lal, J.) UDHORAM v. MEHR CHAND. 38 I. C. 652 : 114 P. R. 1916.

——Construction—Meaning of words in.

Per Ramesam, J.:—The words "my landed property" in a Will, mean all the immoveable property of the testator at his death. (Wallis, C. J. and Ramesam, J.) SEERANGATHANNI v VAITHILINGA MUDALIAR. (1921) M W. N. 248 : 29 M. L. T. 281 : 13 L. W. 392 : 63 I. C. 104 : 40 M. L. J. 532.

—— ——Construction--Meaning of words—Devise of land—Mortgage interest, if passes.

A Hindu devised to his wife his one-fourth share in a mitta in the belief that he was absolutely entitled thereto. On the testator's death it appeared that he had only a mortgagee's interest in the mitta along with other equal shares. Held that the testator's intention was to dispose of whatever interest he had in the mitta in favour of his widow and that his mortgage interest passed to her. In India, there is no distinction between reality and personality as to descent and the question of ascertaining the testator's intention from the terms of the will is less complicated than in England (Wallis, C. J. and Spencer, J.) SUBBARAYA GOUNDAN v. MUTHAYAMMAL. 49 I. C. 260 : 35 M. L. J. 684.

——Construction—Meaning of words—Representatives.

A bequest to two persons, their heirs, executors, administrators upon trust that they and the survivor of them ; her heirs, executors and administrators shall receive the rents and profits and pay an allowance to the testator's adopted son and the balance to his wife during her life and after her death to his daughter-in-law. A during her life and after death to his heirs, executors, administrators and representatives with an injunction against alienation. Held, the words 'heirs, executors, administrators and representatives," are words of purchase and not of limitations. The words 'after daughter in-law's death' have direct reference to death of R and indicate the beneficiaries are to be determined on her death. The word "representatives" includes all persons who would take the estate upon her death testate or intestate whether they are appointed by will or by Court. The intention of the testator was to tie up his property and create a perpetual trust and so it is void. 11 Cal. 684, (P. C.) Foll. (Bakewell, J.) KRISHNAMMA BOYEE v. GOPAL RAO 24. I. C. 485; 15 M. L. T. 405.

WILL—Construction—Persona designata.

——Construction — Meaning of words — General intent—Particular words.

A Court is bound to give effect to every word of a will without change or rejection if effect can be given to it not inconsistent with the general intent of the whole will taken together. If that cannot be done the general intent has to be pursued though it may involve the rejection or transposition of a particular superfluous or misplaced word. Property "moveable and immoveable before mentioned which is or may hereafter be in my possession" includes a reversionary interest on the date of the bequest although the testator in his lifetime did not take any steps to acquire its possession. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) UHAMSA BAXSH SINGH v JAGMOHAN SINGH. 32 I. C 209 : 2 O. L. J. 491.

——Construction—Meaning of words.

When a Hindu uses about himself or his property terms which have a special meaning in Hindu Law he must unless the contrary be established be held to use them in their special meaning (Leggatt, A. J. C.) GOKAL DAS v. CHANDA BAI. 10. I. C. 967 : 4 S. L. R. 225.

Construction—Persona designata.

——Construction — Persona designata—Adopted son—Adoption not proved.

The wife's brother's son of the testator lived with him for many years. The testator adopted him as his son and made a gift of the bulk of the property to him in 1891 and put him in possession. Years later he executed a will in his favour describing him as an adopted son. Held, that having regard to the circumstances it was not the intention of the testator in bequeathing the property to the deft. to give him only in the capacity of an adopted son, and that the bequest was to a person designated. (Walsh and Ryves, JJ.) KHUB SINGH v. RANJI LAL. 41 All. 666 : 52 I. C. 311 : 17 A. L. J. 853.

——Construction—Persona designata—Naikin—Adoption of daughters.

A, a Naikin made a will in favour of B, a daughter of her near relative, stating that she had adopted B, and that her property was to go to her. Held, B was not to take the property as the adopted daughter but that B was the special object of A's bounty, B took as persona designata though the adoption was invalid in law. (Batchelor and Rao, JJ.) HIRA NAIKIN v. RADHA NAIKIN. 37 Bom. 116 : 17. I. C. 834 : 14 Bom L. R. 1129.

WILL—Construction—Persona designata.

——Construction—Persona designata.

A provision making all the provisions in the will applicable to the Palak son is too vague to be susceptible of the interpretations that there was a gift to the Palak son, even as a persona designata (Batchelor and Rao, JJ.) JEHANGIR v. KAIKHUSRU. 9 I. C. 951 : 13 Bom. L. R. 141.

——Construction — Persona designata — Gift to adopted son—Adoption invalid—Effect.

Where a testamentary disposition contains a gift to an adopted son, but the adoption fails courts have to consider whether under the circumstances of the particular case whether the adoption was the reason or motive for the gift or whether the mention of the donee adopted son was merely description, in which latter case he would still take. (Shadi Lal C.J and Lumsden, J.) ISHER SINGH v SURAT SINGH.

4 Lah. 356 : 1924 Lah. 103.

Construction—Residuary clause.

——Construction—Residuary clause.

Testator appointed his wife the only executrix and entrusted all his property to her with instructions in giving his sons and daughters their shares as directed below. After termination of twelve months from her death the property left by her as residue was to be devided equally between his soos and daughters. Clause (12) of the will provided :—"After payment of all the (above mentioned) sums and legacies shall have been made as to whatever (property) there my remain over all that belongs to my wife Bai Manekbai and (I hereby) give (the same) to her". A question having arisen where she was the residuary legatee under the will by virtue of the said clause Held, that she was the testator's residuary legatee under his will within Ss. 196 and 197 of the Succession Act. Cl.(12) of the will guarded against contingencies such as lapsed shares and the residue under the gifts went to the testator's son and daughter. What the testator proposed was that on his wife's death the property which she had not disposed of in her lifetime by any act inter vivos was to go substantially to his children ; and as all the sons and daughters lived after the testator or left issue who survived him, they took vested interests and were the parties to take under the testator's will on the death of the widow. (Marten, J.) RUSTOMJI FRAMJI LENTIN, In re.

22 Bom. L R. 355.

——Construction—Residuary clause—Fund in existence unknowns-to testator.

Where the testator apecified the property and there was a residuary clause, the clause does not apply to the property unknown to the testator and it goes to the heirs as on an intestacy, Obiter The residuary clause in the form in which it appears in English wills, is practically unknown to the ordinary testator in Madras, and the rules of construction laid down by English Courts are not applicable. (Bakewell, J.) KUNTHALAMAL v. SURYAPRAKASAROYA MUDALIAR.

38 Mad. 1096 : 31 I. C. 494 : 29 M L. J. 682.

Construction—Vested estate.

——Construction—Vested estate.

A will provided maintenance for the daughters in the following terms :—" When they will be married and if they desire to live in separate houses the person in whose management the property is, will make a separate houses for them. For their maintenance I fix an allowance of Rs. 600". Held, on the construction of the will the payment of the maintenance is not contingent on the marriage of the ladies and that they would be entitled to maintenance even though they were not named, in the lifetime of the testator. S. 11, of the Succession Act having no application. (Lord Mersey) CHANDRA KISHORE ROY v. PRASENNA KUMARI DASI.

WILL—Construction—Miscellaneous.

38 Cal. 327 : 15 C. W. N. 121 : 38 I. A. 7 : 9 M L.T. 71 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 30 : 13 C. L J. 58 : 8 A. L. J. 96 ; 13 Bom. L. R. 67 : 4 Bur. L. T. 65 : 9 I. C 122 : 21 M. L. J. 116 (P. C.)

——Construction—Vested estate—Bequest of profits in perpetuity—Grant of corpus.

When the words in the will do not indicate that the legatees are specifically debarred from claiming proprietary interest. a bequest of the profit of property in perpetuity vests the property itself in the legatees. (Dalal, J C. and Neave, A. J, C.) MAHOMED AHSAN ALI v. MASUD ALI.

10 O.L.J. 339 : 1924 Oudh 149.

Construction—Miscellaneous.

——Construction—Bequest to two brothers.

A devise of property by a maternal grand father in favour of two grandsons, without specifying what share each was to take, creates only a tenancy in common and not a joint tenancy. (Walsh and Lindsay, JJ.) RAM PIARI v. KRISHNA PIARI. 43 All. 600: 63 I. C. 301: 19 A. L. J. 608.

——Construction—Postobit bond--Revocation.

The deceased, a few years before his death, executed a document which contained the following terms: "Owing to my health becoming weak day by day I give this paper in writing of my free-will that you will kindly accept Rs. 10,000 for the fee for the nursing which you have done for me and my family for 10 to 12 years and Rs. 10,000 a present from me in all Rs. 20,000 to be paid after my death out of my estate." In a suit by the plaintiff for recovery of the said sum of Rs.20,000 as being due to her under the will of the deceased, the defendants, executors, contended that the plaintiff attended only once on the deceased as a nurse for which she had been paid, that the relations between the plaintiff and the deceased were of an immoral character and that the document which was of a testamentary character had been revoked by the last will of the deceased. The document was held by the court as not being a postobit bond but one of a testamentary character and that the testator had by a later will effectively revoked the provision of this document and viewed as a bond. it was not enforceable because the consideration was immoral and illegal.(Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) HUSSEINALI CASAM MAHOMED v. DINBAI ——Construction —Technicalities — Reference to other wills.

25 Bom. L R. 252: 1924 Bom. 135.

A will made in India by a native of India should not be construed very strictly or technically.

WILL—Construction—Miscellaneous.

The true intention of the testator has to be ascertained from the whole clause To construe one will with reference to expressions of more or less doubtful import in other wills in reported cases is unprofitable. (Davar, J.) SARDAR NAVROJI v. PULBI BAI. 37 Bom. 644: 19 I. C. 832: 15 Bom. L. R. 352.

——Construction— Guardian, appointment of, by implication.

The words of the will in this case were held sufficient to constitute the executor the guardian of the persons and properties of the minor sons of the testator. (Fletcher and Newbould, JJ.) DHANONJOY BUNJA v. NINAI CHAND DAS. 42 I. C. 574: 21 C W. N. 1134 ——Construction—Conditional gift—Condition impossible of fulfilment—Effect.

A testator granted an annuity to his wife by a clause in the will that on her living permanently in his house or family dwelling house she would get for maintenance Rs. 50 per month out of the estate up to the end of her life but she would forfeit the gift by residing in her father's house or any where except his house. The will further provided that he had then no family dwelling house but he or his executors should build one: No house was built by the testator or by the executors. Held, the widow should get the annuity if she lived elsewhere than her father's house, though not in the abode of the testator. (Fletcher and Richardson, JJ.) SATISH CHANDRA NEOGI v SARAT SUNDARI DEBYA. 38 I. C. 103.

——Construction—Intestacy.

A bequest of the absolute estate to the widow who was pregnant at the execution of the will providing that in the event of a son being born, he would take his father's place as owner provides only for an absolute estate to the widow on condition of a son not being born, and so in case a son had been born and died during the testator's lifetime there was an intestacy. 31 Mad. 310; 33 Cal. 947; Dist., 16 Cal 283. Con. (Reid, C. J.) PREM KUAR v. JAGAT SINGH. 15 P. W R. 1911: 9 I. C. 742: 175 P L. R. 1911.

——Construction— Power to sell includes power to mortgage.

Where power of sale is given by a will to a person he has implied power to mortgage. (Schewabe, C. J. and Wallace, J.) PARTHASARATHI NAIDU v. MUKUNDAMMAL. 43 M. L. J. 551: 45 M. 867: 16 L. W 670: (1922) M. W N 729: (1923) M. W. N. 14: 1923 M 84.

——Construction—Ratification—Partition.

Where a testator by his will declared that the share given to him in a partition deed between the co-parceners in his Tarwad was to be taken by his heirs on his death if he died not question the partition in his lifetime and died without questioning. Held, that silence on the part of the testator amounted to ratification of the partition and that as a conditional ratification of the partition it was valid. (Wallis, C. J and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) KALLIANI AMMAL v. NARAYANA MENON. 45 I. C. 758: (1918) M W. N. 38

——Construction—Authority to adopt—Implied authority.

WILL—Construction—Miscellaneous.

The prohibition to adopt may be express or implied. A provision in a will by a testator that 'if by divine favour I happen to have a child of the male sex" means only a natural son and does not confer an authority to adopt even by necessary implication. (Abdur Rahim, Offg. C. J. and Phillips, J.) SHIYALI SUBBAYA CHETTY v. CALVE SUBRAYA CHETTIAR. 21 M. L. T. 315: 37 I. C. 404: 5 L. W 740 ——Construction — Tenants-in-common—Survivorship.

Where the legatees of a will took as tenants-in-common the survivor of them cannot retain the whole merely because he happened to be the Karanavan of the Tarwad. (Trotter and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) PARAKKAL ARIPPAYIL KADER v. PARAKKAL ARIPPAYIL PAKKEARMMAR. 33 I. C. 988: (1916) 1 M. W. N. 190.

——Construction—Lagacy—Charge on moveable property.

A will provided that a certain stipend was to be paid to a person out of the testatrix's allowance from Wasika and notes, etc., and that the whole of her landed property was to be divided among relations. Held, that the stipendiary must look for payments only to the fund consisting of the notes and the testatrix's moveable property and not to the immoveable property. (Lindsay, J. C.) AMIR MIRZA v. HAIDER MIRZA. 28 I. C. 217: 2 O. L. J. 113.

——Construction—Property bequeathed for performance of ceremonies—Stranger—Rights of.

The testator by his will directed that defts. 1 and 2 who had lived with him as his own children should get the residence of his estate, namely, 1 bigga and 5 Kathas of land and that they should sell the property and perform his shradhs with the proceeds. The children were minors and the shradh ceremonies were validly performed by a volunteer: Held, that defts. 1 and 2 nevertheless took the property freed from the burden and there was no intestacy as regards that property. (Ross, J.) MOTI LAL v. RAM KHELAWAN DAS. 1924 P. 171.

——Construction—Gift—Transfer of property in presenti.

In dealing with the internal evidence of a document upon its own character, neither the reservation of property to the testator nor the alleged delivery of possession to the legatees are in themselves sufficient to destroy the character of the document which purports to be a will. Nor is there any authority for the proposition that actual delivery of possession to beneficiaries is fatal to a testamentary bequest It is no doubt evidence against the disposition being testamentary but it is not a fact that per se annuls its testamentary character. As evidence, it can be rebutted by other evidence. It is a natural and intelligible position that a testator may wish to put his legatees in immediate possession to test the success of the disposition, to avoid disputes as to the interpretation of the Will and to familiarise the beneficiaries with their eventual properties. Courts must necessarily recognise such temporary possession as not incompatible with a will, provided that the disposition to which possession was given effect to is unmistakeably revocable and that possession is not intended to confer a permanent interest during the testator's lifetime. The essential of a gift is that the donor should intend immediately to divest himself of the property. In the present case the executant specifically reserved to himself in the deed the right of modification and did not so divest himself. Held, the document was a will and the contention that it was not acted upon as such because possession was given under it, cannot be maintained. (Pipon, J. C.) YUSAF KHAN v MISAL KHAN. 73 I. C. 99.

WILL—Construction—Miscellaneous.

——— Construction—Rules.

In construing wills the test is what did the testator mean having regard to the words used. One of the cardinal rules in construing a will is to avoid an intestacy whether wholly or partially. (Raymond and Madgaskar, A. J. Cs) NARAINDAS v. TEK CHAND. 1923 Sind 42 ——— Construction—Period of vesting—Exclusion from inheritance.

Held, on a construction of the will that the testator intended that his son's widow should be entirely excluded from any share in the distribution whether as heir of the son or otherwise. It is open to the testator to direct the class of heirs or next of kin to be ascertained at any time and in any manner he chooses. (Fawcett, A.J.C.) DINBAI v. NUSSERWANJI MEHTA. 28 I. C. 481.

Essentials.

——— Essentials of—Testamentary instrument—Disposition of property

Where a Hindu by an instrument styled a will, appoints executors gives his wife authority to adopt and makes certain dispositions of property over which he had disposing power on that date, the document is a will. (Lord Wrenbury.) VENKATANARAYANA PILLAI v SUBBAMMAL.

39 Mad. 107: 43 I. A. 20: 20 C. W. N. 234 : 3 L. W. 177: 19 M. L. T. 147: 14 A. L. J. 178 : (1916) 1 M. W. N. 97 : 23 C. L. J. 366 : 18 Bom. L. R. 372 : 32 I. C. 373 : 29 M. L. J. 851 (P. C.).

——— Essentials of—Testamentary disposition—What constitutes.

A talukdar in 1862 in compliance with the directions issued by the Government, declared that "I wish and file this application, that after my death Umrao, the eldest son (sic) (shall succeed.) My estate should continue in my family undisposed in accordance with the custom of rajgaddi and that the younger brothers should be entitled to maintenance from gaddi nashin". Held, that there was a valid testamentary disposition by the talukdar of his estate in favour of his eldest son. (Lord Macnaghten.) UMRAO SINGH v. LACHMAN SINGH.

33 All. 344 : 38 I. A. 104 : 14 O. C. 133 : 15 C. W. N 497 : 8 A. L. J. 465 : 13 C. L. J. 519 : 9 M. L. T. 507 : 13 Bom. L. R. 404 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 242 : 10 I. C. 285 : 21 M. L. J. 637 (P. C.).

——— Essentials of—Instructions as to disposal of property—Document written by Cutchi Memon.

WILL—Executor.

A document written by a Cutchi Memon in the nature of instruction to be given to his legal adviser for disposition of his property among his relatives, may operate as a will. (Marten, J.) SARABAI v MAHOMED CASIUM.

43 Bom. 641 : 49 I. C. 637 : 21 Bom. L. R. 49.

——— Essentials of—Nomination of successor by mahant.

Document by mahant appointing his successor is not a will. (Chitty and Teunon, JJ.) MADHUSUDHAN DAS v JAGADINDRA NATH ROY.

27 I. C. 24 : 20 C. L. J. 307.

——— Essentials of—Answers to interrogatories.

The rule of English Law that even answers to interrogatories may be regarded either as a codicil or will, may not apply to testamentary dispositions in India. Under the Hindu Wills Act, and the Indian Succession Act it is doubtful whether such informal declarations could be regarded as a testamentary. (Abdur Rohim and Seshagiri Ayyar, JJ.) MUTHUKRISHNA NAICKEN v. RAMACHANDRA NAICKEN.

47 I. C. 611 : 37 M. L. J. 489.

——— Essentials of—Letter—'Dispositions'

A portion of a letter containing dispositions of property after the writer's death operates as a will notwithstanding that the remainder of the letter effects an immediate settlement and contemplates the execution of a more formal document. (Oldfield and Tyabji, JJ.) SOMANCHI VENKATASUBBARAYADU v. SOMANCHI PULLAMMA.

26 I. C. 363.

——— Essentials of—Draft undated and unsigned.

A draft will unsigned and undated may be legally a will if it contains the last wishes of the testator. (Batten, A. J. C.) RAMACHANDRA v. DATTAYA. 48 I. C. 742.

Executor.

——— Executor—Delay in filing accounts—Effect of—Duties and liabilities of.

Mere delay in filing accounts does not destroy any right of indemnity that may exist but in any case for such right to exist the executors must show that they are not indebted to the estate. If one of the assets consists of a family banking business carried on as opposed to the terms of the will and without permission or direction obtained from the Court, the executors would be personally liable for any money borrowed for that business and not the estate. (Greaves, J.) SUDHIR CHANDRA DAS v RASSESWARI CHAUDHURI.

69 I. C. 796 : 35 C. L. J. 46.

——— Executor—Doubt as to continuance of office.

When by construction of the will, continuance of executorship is doubtful, mortgages bona fide executed by the executor and assented to by legatees bind the estate. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) RADHA LAKSHIMI DELUJA v. JOGESH CHANDRA ROY. 50 I. C. 479.

——— Executor—Power of sale—Mortgage—Suit to enforce mortgage.

An executor under a will with express power to sell has power to mortgage except in cases where a prohibition against mortgage can be inferred from the terms of the will. In a suit upon a mortgage made by an executor under a will with express power of sale the onus is not on the mortgagee to prove as part of his case that the executor was acting properly in effecting the mortgage (Schwabe, C. J. and Wallace, J.) PARTHASARATHI NAIDU v. MUKUNDAMMAL.

WILL—Executor.

16 L. W. 670 : (1922) M. W. N. 729 : 45 M. 867 : 43 M. L. J. 551 : 1923 M. 84

———Executor— Legatee creating mortgage pending administration —Decree on mortgage — Executor if entitled to declaration of invalidity of decree.

Pending the complete administration of the estate of the deceased, one of the legatees mortgaged his interest and upon that a decree was obtained. In a suit by the executor for a declaration that the properties were not saleable and for an injunction preventing such sale. Held, as the defendant had done nothing to prejudice the title of the executor the suit was not maintainable. Accepting the legatee's interest as security did not amount to throwing a cloud on the title. (Spencer and Ramesam, JJ.) SOUNDARATHAMMAL v. NARAYANASWAMI AIYAR.

15 L. W. 639 : 31 M. L. T. 50 (H. C.) : 42 M. L. J. 567 : 1922 Mad. 306.

———Executor—Liability of heir of.

The heir of a deceased executor is not personally liable for any breach of obligation of executor. (Jenkins, C. J. and Mookerjee, J.) KHETRAMANI DASEE v. DHIRANDRA NATH ROY.

25 I. C. 370 : 41 Cal. 271.

———Executor—Debtor of the testator appointed as executor—Suit by legatee against the representatives of the executor—Nature of—Limitation—Right to claim interest against representatives of executor.

If a person appointed as an executor renounces the office or dies without having acted or without obtaining probate, he will be in the position of a stranger debtor and an action to recover the debt will be barred unless brought within the time limited for an action to recover a debt If the executor fails to do his duty and refuses or neglects to sue, a legatee may sue the executor in due course of administration and may join the debtor or his representatives as parties and claim payment of the debt due to the estate. If the debtor himself is one of the executors, the debt payable by him is deemed to have been paid by him to himself and becomes part of the assets of the deceased testator in his hands, on which interest at 6 per cent. per annum is charged if the amount is not invested, whether the executor proved the will or not, provided he acted as executor. A legatee does not represent the estate and has no direct claim against any debtor to the estate. His only right is to recover as legatee his share of the residue which was bequeathed to him from the executors and if the executors had died possessed of property belonging to the testator, he can recover the same from their representatives. One executor is as much entitled to be in possession of the assets of the testator and expend it in due course of administration as his co-executor, and there can ordinarily be no suit against him by the co-executor to pay over the assets to him. A suit by the legatee falls under Art. 123. A creditor or a legatee may bring a suit for administration to recover the debt or legacy, to which persons beneficially interested may not be necessary parties but the decree would be for an account of the property in the hands of the executor, where when the plff. legatee is not entitled to payment of the legacy on the date of the decree, the Court should order the executors to pay it into Court and to direct its investment. (Ayling and Srinivasa Aiyangar, JJ.) CHINNA v. VENKATASUBBA ROW.

WILL—Legacy.

6. L. W. 85 : 41 I. C. 605 : 33 M. L. J. 195.

———Executor—Keeping monies in unauthorised securities.

Where a testator directed (under his will) that a certain sum of money was to be kept in a particular bank for a period of 3 years and that after that date X and Y will be entitled to principal and interest and the executors never took out the money and the bank failed afterwads. Held, it was not obligatory on the executors to take out monies after the 3rd year and pay off the beneficiaries or to keep in monies in approved securities. (Coutts-Trotter and Srinivasa Aiyangar, JJ.) DHUPATI SRINIVASACHARLU v. INDOOR PERINDAVAMMA.

33 I. C. 604.

Formalities.

———Formalities of— Execution without attestation—Attestation before Sub-Registrar whether valid.

A will executed without attesting witnesses and deposited in the Registrar's office but taken out at the Registrar's office 10 years afterwards in the presence of witnesses who signed the same in the proper places, sufficiently satisfies the provisions of S 50 of the Indian Succession Act and must be taken as having been executed and registered on the same day. (Piggott, J. C. and Lindsay, A. J. C.) MIR SYED HASAN v. TAIYABA BEGAM.

26 I. C. 547 : 1 O. L. J. 581.

Legacy.

———Legacy - Debt due from legatee—Effect.

A legatee could not claim payment of his legacy from the estate until he pays even unascertained debt due to the estate on the general principle that on a distribution of a fund a party cannot lay claim to a share in the distribution till he brings into hatchpot the money due from him to the fund that is being distributed (Scott, C. J. and Davar, J.) HALAI v. CHATURBHUJ GOPALJI.

31 I. C. 500: 17 Bom. L. R. 985.

———Legacy—Suit for—Limitation—Suit by legatee against executor de son tort.

Legacies could not be sued for until the termination of the litigation and therefore time under the Statutes of Limitation does not begin to run until there are available assets. The argument that an executor de son tort could not be sued by a legatee, at any rate, in the absence of the legal personal representative, applies only where there is any legal representative. But when a representative of the deceased or a person in possession of he estate is proved to have received enough to pay all demands against the estate in full no such rule can apply. Per Kumaraswami Sastri, J.—When the same heirs are brought on record in a suit covering both the personal properties of the widow and the properties in which she has a limited estate, the legal representatives should be said to be on record as her own legal representatives. It seems that in order to apply the doctrine that a person claiming under colour of a hostile title cannot be made executor of his own wrong, a claim must be made bona fide. Coote v. Whittingdon, (1873) 16 L. R. Eq, 534 Ref. (Schwabe, C. J., Coutts-Trotter and Kumaraswami Sastri, JJ.) ZAMINDAR OF BHADRACHALAM v. SRI RAJA VENKATADRI APPA RAO.

43 M. L. J 486 : 16 L. W. 369 : (1922) M W. N 532 : 31 M. L. T. 221 (H C.) : 46 M. 190 : 1922 Mad. 457.

———Legacy attacked on the ground of undue influence—Onus of proof.

Where a lagacy under a will is sought to be set aside on the ground of undue influence it must be proved not only that the legatee was in a position to exercise influence but that the influence was unduly exercised, the burden of proving both being on the party a tacking the legacy. Courts do not look with favour on attempts to attack bequest on the ground of undue influence (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) RAJARAJESWARA SETHUPATHI v. KUPAUSAMI AIYAR.

41 M. L. J. 474 : 68 I. C. 352 : (1921) M. W. N. 722.

———Legacy—Release of right to unknown legacy.

A release by the natural heir of all his claims against the estate before the property was known to and disposed by the testator could not affect his rights to the money discovered to belong to the testator after his death (Bakewell, J.) KUNTHALAMMAL v. SURYAPRAKASAROYA MUDALIAR.

38 Mad. 1096 : 31 I. C 494 : 29 M. L. J. 682.

———Legacy—Validity of—Bequest to relative's prospective wife.

There is nothing in Hindu Law to invalidate a legacy to the prospective wife of a relation, if she was in existence at the time of the testator's death. (Batten, O. J. C.) RAMDULARI v. BISHESHWAH DAYAL.

18 N. L. R. 143 : 1923 Nag. 105.

Oral will.

———Oral will—Proof of — Trial Judge's opinion—Weight due to.

When a zemindar died leaving behind him a widow and a daughter, he disposed of his property by will and expressly excluded his nephew from participation in the ceremonies etc. The widow some years afterwards adopted the same nephew's son alleging verbal authority to do so. The trial Judge found for the authority though there were discrepancies in the evidence. Held, that opinion of the trial Judge was entitled to weight and the balance of testimony was in favour of his conclusion. That such discrepancies as there were, might well be accounted for by the fact that the conversation which the witnesses described had taken place some 13 years previously. (Viscount Haldane.) ADWAITYA PRASAD v. BALDEO DAS.

(1916) 1 M. W. N. 377 : 4 L. W. 587 : 33 I. C 852 : 20 C. W. N. 650 (P. C.).

———Oral will—Proof of.

The evidence in proof of an oral will must be precise and explicit. The statements of witnesses who are at variance as to the time, place and the words used by the deceased are worthless. (Rafique and Lindsay, JJ.) BALBHADDAR PRASAD v PRAG DATT.

41 All. 492 : 50 I. C. 938 : 17 A. L. J. 765.

———Oral will—Soldiers' will—Requisites of.

Entries in the kindred roll and names of heirs made about a soldier by the military authorities are not tentamount to the soldier's will. (Macleod, C J. and Crump, J.) BHAGHUBAI TUKARAN v. APPAJI SITARAM.

47 Bom 552 : 25 Bom. L. R. 157 : 1923 Bom. 260.

———Oral will—Proof—Recital in an unregistered deed.

The fact of the oral will can be proved by the admission of the plaintiff, although it is found in a recital in a deed which, to take effect as a deed of gift, would require registration. If the recital is required to be used to prove an oral will, then it can be proved, and any question of registration is irrelevant (Macleod. C. J and Shah, J.) BAI SITA v. BHEGI LAL AMRITLAL.

46 B. 56 : 1922 Bom. 149.

———Oral will—Proof of.

Where a person bases his title on an oral will the onus of proving the precise words spoken on which he relies, lies heavily on him. (Scott-Smith and Shadi Lal, JJ.) NARAIN v. GAINDO

85 P. W. R. 1918 : 45 I. C. 183 : 83 P. L. R. 1918.

———Oral will—Proof of.

In a nuncupative will, he who rests his title on the spoken words of a man since deceased must prove with utmost precision the words on which he relies with every circumstance of time and space. (Robertson, J.) TOLAK NATH v. JAGANATH.

240 P. L. R. 1911 : 12 I. C 51 : 117 P. W. R. 1911.

———Oral will—Proof.

The person setting up a nuncupative will must allege and prove with the utmost precision the words of the deceased he relies upon with every circumstance of time and place. (Wallis, Offg. C. J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) KUMARASWAMI PILLAI v. VAIRAVANATHA PILLAI.

26 I. C. 14.

———Oral will - Strict proof—Discrepancy in—Statements of witnesses—Finding of fact.

Courts must insist on precise proof of the terms of a nuncupative will but this does not mean that an oral will cannot be proved unless all the witnesses give precisely the same words in telling what the testator said. It is only to be expected that the recollection of the witness should use slightly different terms of expression but if the effect of the language is the same it does not matter. The question whether the will has been proved is one of fact and the findings of the lower

WILL—Power.

Appellate Court will be binding on second appeal. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) BHAWANIRAM v. DAMMAR SINGH. 5 N. L. J. 188 : 1922 Nag. 46

Power.

——Power—Appointment—Exercise of the power in donee's lifetime

Where by a will the legatee was not at liberty to sell or mortgage the house and after the decease of the legatee the house was to go to persons appointed by the legatee by will or deed, held, that the legatee could convey the absolute estate in a property willed in his favour. (Macleod, C. J.) BAPUJI v. HAJI ESMAIL. 64 I. C. 644 : 23 Bom. L. R. 1259.

——Power—Appointment—Execution—Validity of—Onus.

Per Scott, C. J—A Court will not try to compel the execution of a trust where the terms of trust are not ascertained or ascertainable. Where a power in the nature of a trust has been executed in the professed compliance with the authority given, the burden of proving that the execution was a fraud on the power lies on those who seek by challenging the execution to get possession of the property in the hands of those benefiting by the act of the donee of the power. (Scott, C. J. and Macleod, J.) SHRINBAI v RATNABAI. 43 Bom. 845 : 51 I. C. 209 : 21 Bom. L. R. 384.

Probate.

——Probate—Grant of, when testator domiciled abroad

The will of a testator domiciled abroad although not proved in the place of the testator's domicile, is capable of probate in British India if it is valid according to the law of the testator's place of domicile and if there are assets of the testator in India. (Lord Parker.) SOONA MAYNA KENA ROONA MEYAPPA CHETTY v. SOONA NAVENA SUBRAMANIAN CHETTY 43 I. A. 113 : 20 C. W. N 833 : (1916) 1 M. W. N. 455 : 18 Bom. L. R. 642 35 I. C 323 : 85 L. J. (P. C.) 179 : (1916) 1 A. C. 603 : 114 L. T. 1002 (P. C.).

——Probate—Refusal of executor—Effect.

If an executor called upon by citation refuses to take probate within the limited time, any competent applicant may be granted a copy of will and Letters of Administration. (Beaman and Heaton JJ.) KAVASJI SORABJI AIBADA v. BAI DINBAI. 40 Bom. 666 : 36 I. C. 373 : 18 Bom. L. R. 766.

——Probate—Grant of—Unattested alteration in will—Presumption.

Where unattested alterations occur in a will, the presumption of law is that such alterations were made after the execution of the will and in the absence of rebutting evidence. Probate will be granted in the original state omitting the alteration. (Mookerjee, C. J. and Fletcher, J.) SURENDRA KRISHNA MONDAL v. RANI DASEI. 47 Cal. 1043 : 33 C. L. J. 34 : 59 I. C. 814 : 24 C. W. N. 860.

——Probate—Refusal of—Will is inefficacious—Improper.

WILL—Proof of.

Probate of a will cannot be refused on the ground simply that it is what lawyers in ancient time called "inefficacious." That doctrine does not apply to India. (Fletcher and N. R. Chatterjee, JJ.) RAMMAL DASS KOCH v. KAKAL KOLI KOCHINI. 43 I. C. 208 : 22 C. W. N. 315.

——Probate—Not taken out—Effect of—Duty of Judge.

When a will is set up the Judge is bound to consider it though probate has not been granted. (Jenkins, C J and Woodroffe, J.) AKHOY KUMARI DEBI In the matter of. 42 Cal. 953 : 28 I. C. 972 : 19 C. W. N. 513.

——Probate—Revocation after many years—Onus on petitioner to offer reasonable explanation of delay.

Where the petitioner comes to Court after considerable delay and knowledge of and acquiescence in, the grant of probate on his part are shown, the Court will not allow him to reopen the probate unless he offers some reasonable and true explanation of the delay. (Holmwood and Chapman, JJ.) MANORAMA CHOWDRANI v. SHIVA SUNDARI MAJUMDAR 42 Cal. 480. 28 I. C. 886 : 19 C. W. N. 366.

——Probate—Letters of Administration—Distinction

No distinction between a grant of probate and a grant of Letters of Administration can be drawn so far as the proof of the genuineness and validity of the will is concerned. Both are conclusive evidence of the factum and validity of the will. Wicker Hume, 7 H L.C. 124, Foll (Abdur Rahim, Offg. C.J. and Krishnan, J.) KALA BANDI VENKATRATNAM v. RALA BANDI RAJA RAM MOHANA RAO. 4 L. W. 248 : 35 I. C. 854 : 31 M. L. J. 277.

——Probate proceedings—Title to properties and determination of adoption questions—Jurisdiction

The title of a testator to the properties covered by his will or the question whether or not a person was adopted by a testator, are not matters which could be decided in probate proceedings. 20 Bom. 210 Dist. (Atkin on and Kingsford, JJ.) MAHASUNDER KUER v. RAM RATAN PRASAD. 35 I. C. 416 : 1 Pat. L. W. 370.

——Probate—Burden of proof—Suspicious circumstances.

Where there are suspicious circumstances about a will it is for those who propound the will to prove affirmatively that the testator knew and approved of the contents thereof and it is only if this is down that the onus is thrown on those who oppose the will to prove fraud or undue influence to displace the case made for proving the will. (Rigg, J.) PAUL G. H. V. v. T. THOMPSON. 59 I. C. 535 : 13 Bur L. T. 80.

Proof of.

Attestation.
Disposing state of mind.
Evidence
Non-registration.
Onus of Proof.
Signature.
Miscellaneous.

Proof of—Attestation.

———Proof of—Attestation — Attesting witnesses not of superior position—Mention of adoption—Whether can be questioned.

Where the terms of a will are natural enough and where the testator had suddenly become ill and got such persons as were available at the spot to attest the will. The contention that the will should not be accepted as genuine because the witnesses to its execution were not of a superior position in the absence of any evidence of perjury or forgery, is not sound. Something more than mere suspicion is necessary in such a case to make convincing an argument made on the social position of the witnesses. 22 I.A. 12 and 41 I.A. 80 Foll. The Court may also consider the question of adoption with reference to genuineness of the will only and not as a substantial question. (Sir John Edge.) DULHIN GENDA KUNWAR v. HARNANDAN SINGH.

20 C. W. N 617 : (1916) 1 M. W. N. 358 : 4 L. W. 214 : 33 I. C. 790 : 30 M. L. J. 624 (P C.)

———Proof of—Attestation by servants and dependants—Natural and reasonable dispositions—Presumption.

Where a will is reasonable, natural and proper in its terms and in accord with the feelings and tenor of life of the testator, and its execution is proved by anything like reasonable evidence, the fact that the attesting witnesses are servants or dependents of the testator is not an element to be taken into account in considering whether it was validly executed. Blank forms and sheets signed by people other than the testator are not relevant to prove that the attestator was also in the habit of signing similar blank paper and that the will might have been written on some such paper after his death. (Lord Shaw.) MUSAMMAT JAGRANI KOER v. KUARDURGA PARSHAD. 36 All. 93 : 1 O. L. J. 57 : 41 I. A 76 : 16 O. C. 386 . 12 A. L J. 125 : 15 M L. T. 125 : (1914) M. W. N. 137 : 19 C. L J. 165 : 18 C. W. N. 521 : 16 Bom L R 141 : 22 I. C. 103 : 26 M. L. J. 153 (P.C.).

———Proof of—Attestation—Execution—Common law of Scotland—No witness—Validity.

According to the Common Law of Scotland a paper which is in the handwriting of a deceased constitutes a valid will though there are no witnesses. (Richards, C J. and Bannerjee, J.) D. MACINTYRE, In the goods of.

41 All. 248 : 56 I. C. 683 : 17 A. L. J. 247

———Proof of—Attestation—Proof.

Where a will was registered in 1873 and all the attesting witnesses thereto were dead, the production of a registration copy thereof and the evidence of a person who swore that he was an identifying witness before the Registrar, were held, under the circumstances of the case, to be sufficient proof of the attestation. (Woodroffe and Walmsley, JJ.) KHAGESWAR SARMA BHATTACHARYA v. SOMESWAR BHATTACHARYA.

63 I. C. 518 : 33 C. L. J. 382.

———Proof of—Attestation—Execution.

For proving due execution and attestation it is enough to establish from the circumstances that the relative position of the executant and the attesting witnesses was such, that they might have seen the execution and attestation respectively and it is not necessary that affirmative evidence should be forthcoming that the executant did as a matter of fact see the attesting witnesses put their signatures or that the attesting witnesses did actually see the executant sign the document. Every presumption will be made in favour of due execution and attestation when a will is regular on the face of it and is apparently duly executed. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) BRAMHADATT TIWARI v. CHANDAN BIBI.

34 I. C 686 : 20 C. W. N. 192 :

———Proof of—Attestation—Onus.

The burden of proving a will rests on the party propounding it. (Krishnaswami Aivar and Ayling, JJ.) KANNAPPAREDDI v. KANNAPPAREDDI.

(1911) 1 M. W. N. 131 : 9 I C. 727 : 9 M. L. T. 338.

Proof of—Disposing state of mind.

———Proof of—Disposing state of mind—Perfect in form—Court not to recreate the will that the testator ought to have made.

When a will has once been made and is apparently in perfect form and the evidence of the attesting witness is to be trusted, few things can be more dangerous than to attempt to re-create the kind of will that the man ought, in the opinion of the Court, have made. Once the man's mind is free and clear and is capable of disposing his property, the way in which it is to be disposed of rests with him and it is not for any Court to try and discover whether a will could not have been more consonant either with reason or with justice. (Lord Chancellor) ARUNACHALLAM CHETTY v. RAMASWAMI CHETTY.

20 C. W N. 673 : 3 L W. 508 : (1916) 1 M W. N. 399 : 18 Bom. L. R. 408 : 23 C L.J. 632 : 20 M. L. T. 50 : 35 I. C. 1 : 30 M. L. J. 555 (P C.).

———Proof of—Disposing state of mind.

The onus of proving testamentary capacity lies on those propounding the will. But this is sufficiently discharged by proof of sober and disposing mind notwithstanding illness at the time of execution. (Lord Robertson.) BUR SINGH v. UTTAM SINGH.

38 Cal. 355 : 38 I. A. 13 : 21 P. L. R. 1911 : 1 P. W. R 1911 : 15 C. W.N 177 : 13 C. L. J. 72 : 13 Bom. L. R 59 : 9 M. L T. 115 : (1911) 1 M. W. N 86 : 8 A. L. J. 123 : 4 Bur. L. T. 35 : 9 I C. 33 : 21 M. L. J. 100 (P.C.).

———Proof of—Disposing state of mind.

In order that a will may be found good by a Court it need not proved that a testator was in a perfect state of health, or that his mind was so clear as to enable him to give complicated instructions. It is sufficient if it is proved that he was able to give the outlines of the manner in which his estate was to be disposed of and was able, when the result of the lawyer's effects was read out to him, to understand that his instructions in the main had been complied with (Macleod, C.J. and Shah, J.) GORDHAN DAS NATHALAL PATEL v. BAI SURAJ.

64 I. C. 257 : 23 Bom L. R. 1068.

———Proof of—Disposing state of mind—Loss of original.

WILL—Proof of—Disposing state of mind.

Where an application for Letters of Administration the caveators admitted the testatrix had a disposing mind on the date on which the will was alleged to have been executed and it was proved by expert evidence that the impression on the will was the thumb mark of the testatrix. The will was supported by the scribe and the three attesting witnesses. Held, that it was not proved that the original will was lost and the theory of a dishonest conspiracy to forge a will could not be sustained in view of the positive evidence produced in support of the will. (Leslie Jones, J.) BHAGIRATHI v. GHISA SINGH. 47 I. C. 174.

——Proof of—Disposing state of mind—Execution—Burden of proof.

The burden of proving that a document in dispute is the last will of a free and capable testator lies on the propounder. He has therefore to allege and prove a sound disposing mind on the part of the testator. It is not sufficient in all cases to prove execution and rely upon the presumption of capacity. This may be so in a non-contentious case. (Kotwal, A.J.C.) MUKTABAI v. WAMAN. 1923 Nag. 63.

Proof of—Evidence.

——Proof of—Evidence—Quantum necessary—Similarity of signatures—Value of—Appreciation of evidence by trial judge.

A will is one of the most solemn documents known to law. By it a dead man entrusts to the living the carrying out of his wishes, and as it is impossible that he can be called either to deny his signature or to explain the circumstances in which it was attached, it is essential that trustworthy and effective evidence should be given to establish compliance with the necessary forms of law. Where no formalities are prescribed by law, proof of the testator's signature is all that is needed; but, in cases of doubt or dispute, justice requires that the best evidence procurable of that signature should be furnished, and an attempt to support the signature by anything that falls short of this standard is a matter which, though it may not be fatal, is a serious defect. Mere resemblance in signature is of no value where witnesses are available to prove the execution of the will and they are not called or are not believed. Where no evidence was forthcoming to show when the alleged will was found or why it was kept back until a claim based on intestacy was put forward, and no other details of the history of the will were placed before the court and the attesting witnesses had not been called, the conclusion is irresistable that the will is not genuine. (Lord Buckmaster) RAM GOPAL LAL v. AIPNA KUNWAR. 31 M. L. T 277 (P. C.) : 49 I. A 413 : 44 All. 495. 21 A. L. J. 402 : 27 C. W. N. 485 : 1922 P. C. 366 (P.C.)

——Proof of—Evidence.

A suspicion, that a will does not express the mind of the testator, must be one inherent in the will itself and not the doubt that may arise from a conflict of testimony regarding the will. In order to prevail against positive evidence, in support of a will, the improbability must be clear and cogent and must approach very nearly to, if not altogether constitute, an impossibility. In the case of a will, reasonable, natural and proper in its terms, it is not in accordance with sound principles of construction that it should be looked with a rigorous scrutiny (Mookerjee and Buckland, JJ.) SARAGINI DASSI v. HARI DAS. 34 C. L. J 373: 66 I. C. 774 : 26 C. W. N. 113.

——Proof of—Evidence—Internal evidence—Value of.

To conclude whether a will is genuine internal evidence is of value, but an improbability to prevail against direct evidence of disinterested wtinesses, must be clear and cogent. (Shadi Lal, J.) MAYA RAM v. MALAN DEVI. 145 P. L. R. 1915 : 29 I. C. 687 : 66 P W. R. 1915.

——Proof of—Evidence.

Evidence as regards events that happen between first inception of the idea of making a will and the final drafting is of great importance in enabling the Court to come to a conclusion as to the genuineness of the will. (Krishnaswami Aiyar and Ayling, JJ) KANNAPPA REDDI v KANNAPPA REDDI. (1911) 1 M W. N. 131 : 9 I. C. 727 : 9 M. L. T 338.

Proof of—Non-registration.

——Proof of non-registration—Unregistered will—Mutation—Reversioner, when can object.

A Hindu by an unregistered will authorised his widow to adopt a son to perpetuate the name of his family. On his death his widow applied for mutation of her name mentioning the will. The reversioners did not object to the valid execution of the will. In a suit to set aside the adoption by the widow of her brother's son on the strength of the will, questioning the genuineness of the will, held, that the will was proved as validly executed that in adopting to her husband she was acting contrary to her own interests as the adoption deprived her of her control over the property. (Lord Shaw.) BHAGWATI PRASAD SINGH v. NAND PRASAD SINGH. 33 I. C. 596.

——Proof of—Non-registration— Presumption against its genuineness.

When a will is alleged to be false the circumstances which throw suspicion on its genuineness are (1) the smallness of the properties bequeathed to wife and daughter compared with that bequeathed to an apopted son: (2) non-registration of the will though the testator lived for a period of six months after the date of its execution: (3 attestation of the will by only one witness besides its writer. If in addition to the above it is proved that the person setting up the will is a man of unscrupulous character and that he gave contradictory accounts in regard to its execution at different times, considerable doubt arises as to its genuineness and the will should not be upheld. (Benson and Sundara Aiyar, JJ.) GAJAGOPALA v. MANGALATHAMMAL. 11 I. C. 739 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 42.

——Proof of—Non-registration—Sound disposing state of mind—Presumption.

The person who sets up a title under a will must satisfy the Court that the will was "duly executed" that is to say he must furnish proofs of execution which carries with it a conviction that the testator knew and approved of the contents of the instrument. This involves the proposition that he was a free and capable testator The ordinary rule is that the execution of a will by a competent testator raises a presumption that he knew and approved of the contents of the will; and ordinarily the competency of the testator is presumed if nothing appears to rebut the ordinary presumption. But where the mental capacity of the testator is challenged by the evidence, it is the duty of the Court to find whether upon the evidence it is established that the testator was of sound disposing mind and did know and approve of the contents of the will. In order to constitute what is known in law as a sound disposing mind it must be shown that the testator was able to understand his position, able to appreciate his property and able to form a judgment with respect to the parties whom he chose to benefit. 21 Cal. 279 Foll. (Lindsay, J. C. and Daniels, A. J. C.) RAJ BACHAN SINGH v. SHATRANJO

47 I. C. 963 : 5 O. L. J. 519

Proof of—Onus of proof.

——Proof of—Onus of proof—Reversionary heirs excluded—Suit to declare forgery.

In a suit by the reversionary heirs of the deceased for a declaration that a will alleged to have been executed by him is a forgery the onus of proving that the will propounded is the will of the deceased, is in the defendant. (Mr. Ameer Ali.) BINDESHRI PRASAD v. BAISAKHA BIBI.
61 I. C. 431 : 24 C. W. N. 674 (P. C.).

——Proof of—Onus of proof—Provision prima facie reasonable—Position of witnesses—Suspicion—Attestors.

Where the provisions of a will are prima facie reasonable and natural they do not excite suspicion as to the genuineness of the disposition. 36 All. 93 Ref. It is not enough to suggest doubts as to the veracity of a witness without producing the means of contradiction available to a party. In every case the onus probandi lies on the person propounding a will of satisfy the Court that the instrument propounded is the last will of a free and capable testator. Though it is desirable that all the attesting witnesses capable of being called should be examined to remove all suspicion of fraud, it is not absolutely necessary that, where there are many attesting witnesses, the absence of every one not called, should be specifically explained. 47 Cal 1043, Ref. (Mookerjee and Buckland, JJ.) PRASANNAMAYI DEBI v. BAIKUNTHA NATH CHATTERJEE. 25 C. W. N. 779 : 66 I. C. 782 : 34 C. L. J. 384.

——Proof of—Onus—Sound disposing—State of mind—What is.

The propounders of a will must show that the testator had testamentary capacity, i. e., capacity to comprehend the nature and effect of his act. It must be shown that he was able to dispose of his property with understanding and reason, to realise his position, to appreciate his property and to form a judgment with respect to the parties whom he decided to benefit. Mere ability to sign one's name does not imply possession of full mental powers. But where the terms of the will are unusual and the evidence of testamentary capacity doubtful, the Court will require to be satisfied beyond all reasonable doubts that the testator was fully cognizant of its contents and in a condition to exercise and did exercise thought, judgment and reflection respecting the act he was doing. When a testator is of sound mind when giving instructions for a will but at the time of signature accepts the instruments drawn in pursuance thereof, even though not able to follow its provisions then, he must be deemed to be of sound mind when it is executed (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) SUSIL KUMAR BANERJEE v. APSARI DEBI. 20 C. L. J. 501 : 27 I. C. 276 : 19 C. W N. 826.

——Proof of—Onus of proof.

The propounder of a will should prove beyond all doubt that it was executed in accordance with law and that the testator at the time of the execution was in a state of mind and body to be able to execute it (Chitty and Chatterjee, JJ.) PADAMAPRIYA DEBIA v DHARMA DAS. 10 I C. 965. 15 C. W. N. 728 :

——Proof of—Onus.

The burden of proving the soundness of testtator's mind at the execution of the will lies on those who propound the will which is discharged by proving that the testator was of sound mind at the time of execution. (Reid, C. J. and Johnstone, J.) MURAD BIBI v. KHADIM HUSSAIN.
12 I. C. 49 : 114 P. W R. 1911.

——Proof of—Onus.

Persons who propound the will must prove affirmatively that the testator knew and approved of the contents of the document and then the onus of proof is shifted on the other side to prove fraud or undue influence. (White, C. J. and Spencer, J.) MARMAVULU v. ANNAPURNI.
10 M. L. T 304 : 12 I. C. 393 : (1911) 2 M. W. N. 330.

——Proof of—Onus.

The burden of proving a will rests on the party propounding it. (Krishnaswami Aiyar and Ayling, JJ.) KANNAPPAREDDI v. KANNAPPAREDDI.
9 M. L T. 338 : 9 I. C. 727 : (1911) 1 M. W. N. 131.

——Proof of—Onus.

The burden is upon the propounder of a will to prove that the testator not only did make the will but that he possessed sound testamentary mind at the time of making the will, and made it out of his own accord and not on account of any importunity or coercion. Advice or even persuasion is not prohibited by law unless it deprives the testator of the freedom of the will and amounts to coercion nor does illness invalidate the will unless it deprives the executant of the power of understanding the consequences of making the will. (Chapman and Jwala Prasad, JJ.) NARAIN DEO v. KUSUM KUMARI. 40 I. C. 597.

——Proof of—Onus.

The burden of proving that a will is binding on the heirs of the testator rests on the person propounding it. (Hayward and Waley Cohen, A. J. Cs.) GHULAM KADIR v. SARDOZI.
9 I. C. 721 : 4 S. L. R. 261.

Proof of—Signature.

———Proof of—Signature—Absence of—Probabilities.

The fact that the alleged testator did not sign the will, the absence of her relations, the proponent's conduct, and delay in putting forth the will, the absence of some of the attesting witnesses from the witness box, were held to be sufficient circumstances to justify the finding that the will was not proved in view of the trial court's finding that it did not believe the proponent's witnesses. (Sir Lawrence Jenkins.) BAIKUNTHA NATH CHATTERJEE v. PRASANNAMOYI DEBEYA.

27 C. W. N 797 : 44 M. L. J. 699 : 1922 P. C 409 (P. C.).

———Proof of—Signatures—Shaky signature.

The fact that the signature is shaky but not uncharacteristic is almost in favour of the will being genuine, because, if a man sets himself to commit a forgery, he would naturally try to make the signature as exactly like the genuine signature as he could, and certainly would not introduce shakiness into the signature. (Lord Dunedin.) PALCHUR SANKARAREDDI v. PALCHUR MAHALAKSHMAMMA.

17 L. W 1 : 27 C. W. N. 414 : 31 M L T. 307 : 1922 P. C. 315 (P. C.).

———Proof of signature—Execution—Comparison of signatures—Dangerous method.

Proceeding on a comparison of a signature in a will with that of other signature written seven or eight days before, and reversing the finding of fact by the trial judge on that ground, is dangerous in regard to the execution of a will. (Jenkins, C. J., Mookerjee and Holmwood, JJ.) PANCHUMONI DASSI v. CHANDRA KUMAR GHOSH.

31 I. C. 319 : 22 C. L. J. 298.

Proof of—Miscellaneous.

———Proof of—Suspicious circumstances.

Held, that the suspicion which attached to the evidence as to the preparation of the draft of the will (i. e.), that it had not been prepared beforehand but had been made from the will itself did not destroy the evidence as to the execution of the will. The Court did not consider the non-examination of all the attesting witnesses as destructive of the case of the propounder of the will, most of them having been present to give their evidence on one or more of the dates fixed for the recording of evidence but were not examined owing to pressure of work in the Court, the rest appearing to be persons living near the Court and there being nothing to indicate that any of them were intentionally kept out of the witness box by the propounder. (Sir John Edge.) BANKIM BIHARI MAITI v. SRIMATI MATANGINI DASI.

24 C. W. N. 626 (P. C.)

———Proof of—Legacy in favour of spiritual adviser of testator—Burden of proof.

In case of a will of a deceased person made a day before his death in which the testator's spiritual guide is named as the universal legatee, it ought to see that the spiritual influence was not exercised improperly by terrifying the dying man or by holding out hopes of benefiting his soul (Fletcher and Cuming, JJ.) SRIMATI BASINI DASI v. KRISHNALAL CHATTERJEE.

51 I. C. 1007.

———Proof of—Person admitting existence but denying validity—Denial on mistaken ground—Effect of.

Where a person admits the existence of a will but denies its validity, the fact that the denial is mistaken cannot alter the scope of the admission or affect his other objections. (White, C. J and Oldfield, J.) LAKSHMAMMA v. RATNAMMA.

38 Mad. 474 : 21 I C. 698 : 25 M L. J. 556.

———Proof of—Contents of will—Suppression of—Presumption.

Where a will is suppressed by person in a position to produce it, it may be presumed that the will, if produced, would be unfavourable to that person, but nothing can be presumed as to the actual contents of the will or as to the legacies. Persons claiming the benefit of its provisions must prove it in the usual way. 25 Mad. 367, Rel. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) PECHETI SWAMIGADU v YERAPRAGADA AIYAPPARASU.

16 I C. 815.

———Proof of—Prior will only a few days ago.

On 1st August 1904 the testator executed a will and two days later another will was set up, as having been executed by him under circumstances which made it highly improbable that he had executed it. Held, that the latter will was not genuine. (Benson and Munro, JJ.) CHINNA BASAVAYYA v. ELAMANCHILI BAPAMMAL.

10 I C. 420 : 9 M. L. T 354.

———Proof of—Production of document insufficient.

In a suit based upon the will, the mere production of the will proves nothing. It must be proved that the will has been acted upon. (Stuart, J. C.) PARAGI v GOURI SHANKER.

51 I. C. 86 : 6 O. L. J. 157.

Revocation.

———Revocation—Right to—Devise with reservation of powers.

When a testatrix as sole owner and possessor makes a devise of her entire estate reserving to her possession with full powers of alienation, such a reservation is only a surplusage and neither strengthens nor detracts from her complete ownership and possession. (Lord Shaw.) FATEH CHAND v. RUP CHAND.

38 All. 446 : 43 I. A. 183 : 18 Bom. L. R. 900 : 20 M. L T. 481 : 21 C. W. N. 102 : 4 L. W. 597 : 26 C. L. J. 182 : 37 I. C. 122 : (1916) 2 M W. N, 567 (P. C.).

———Revocation—Dependent relative revocation—Authority to adopt—Later invalid will—Effect of.

The application of the doctrine of dependent relative revocation is a question of intention which has to be ascertained from the language of the testator as found in his testamentary documents. An alternative inconsistent disposition which is not valid or effectual in itself does not revoke an earlier disposition of the same property. Alexander v. Kirkpatrik, L. R. 2 H.L. Sc. 397 ;

WILL—Revocation.

Appr.; Tupper v. Tupper. 1 K. and J 665; Quinn v. Butler, L. R 6 Eq. 225, Dist. Held, that a later invalid will of a Hindu testator which does not expressly revoke the earlier Will, but contained inconsistent dispositions of property, had not the effect of revoking a authority to adopt given to his wife by the earlier Will. (Lord Wrenbury.) VENCATANARAYANA PILLAI v. SUBBAMMAL. 39 Mad 107 : 43 I. A 20 : 20 C. W. N. 234 : 3 L. W. 177 : 19 M L T. 147 : 14 A. L J 178 : (1916) 1 M W N. 97 : 23 C. L. J 366 : 18 Bom. L. R. 372 : 32 I. C 3.3 : 29 M. L. J. 851. (P. C.)

[On appeal from 4 I. C 1046 : 6 M. L T. 116.]

———Revocation—Presumption.

The presumption that a Will which was in the possession of the deceased, when he died and which was not produced by the legatees must have been destroyed, must be cautiously applied in India in view of the habits and condition of the people where the will is either lost or stolen from the possession by the opponents. Registration office copy is admissible. (Mr. Ameer Ali.) PADMAN v. HANWANTA. 93 P. R. 1915 : 18 M. L. T. 54 : 19 C. W. N. 929 : 13 A L. J. 801 : 17 Bom. L. R. 609 : 2 L. W. 645 : (1915) M W. N. 500 ; 22 C. L. J 72 : 110 P. W. R. 1915 : 29 M. L. J. 307 : 29 I. C. 807 : 11 P. L. R. 1915. (P.C.).

———Revocation—Destruction—Presumption

Where a will is not forthcoming, the presumption is that the testator destroyed it with a view of revoking it. (Stanley, C. J. and Banerjee, J.) SOHAN BIBI v. HIRAN BIBI. 10 I. C. 230.

———Revocation—Presumption—Lost will.

Where a Will last seen in the testator's possession is not forthcoming on his death, the presumption is that it was destroyed by himself. To rebut it there must be sufficient evidence that it was not destroyed by the testator animo revocandi (Macleod, C. J and Fawcett, J.) ADITRAM GIRDHAR v. BAPU LAL. 45 Bom. 906 : 61 I C. 455 : 23 Bom. L R. 276.

——Revocation—Proof of—Will not forthcoming—Presumption—Succession Act (X of 1865) S. 57.

When a will shown to have been in the testator's custody is not proved at the death, the presumption is that it has been destroyed for revocation. If this is an issue in the suit the presumption may be rebutted. When the due execution of a will is legally proved the objector should plead and prove revocation. If revocation is not pleaded the Court will not presume the revocation from the fact that a registered will is not forthcoming. (Cox and Kay, JJ.) SARAT CHANDRA BYSAC v. GOLAP SUNDARI DASI. 21 I C. 121 : 18 C. W. N. 587.

———Revocation—What amounts to.

A will is an ambulatory document and can operate only upon the property which exists at the time of the testator's death. The mere fact that a testator during his lifetime disposed of part of the property specified in the will cannot be regarded as an act revoking the will particularly when the testament contains an express provision (which under the law is unnecessary) that the testator can dispose of his property during his lifetime as he pleases and that the devisees would get only the property remaining undisposed of at the time of his death. (Shadi Lal and Wilberforce, JJ.) ASA NAND v. ROSHNI BAI. 68 I. C 92 : 2 Lah. L. J. 178.

WILL—Revocation.

——Revocation—Codicil — Modification by subsequent testamentary declaration.

A person seeking to establish a modification in the terms of a will by a subsequent testamentary declaration, must prove an actual intention to revoke clauses which he seeks to avoid. The testator's expressions declaratory only of a future design will not be sufficient. A will containing a clear and unambiguous disposition of property, real or personal, cannot be revoked by a codicil except by the use of words equally clear and distinct. Kellet v. Kellet 3 H. L. 160, Ref. (Shadi Lal and Le Rosignol, JJ.) NARINJAN DASS v. DEVI DASS. 112 P. W. R. 1916 : 35 I. C. 899 : 41 P. L. R. 1917.

——Revocation—Mode of—When actual destruction of formal revocation in writing unnecessary.

Actual destruction of a formal revocation in writing is not essential to revoke a will not governed by the Succession Act, English Law or any other statute specifying a particular mode of revocation 25 Mad. 678 (P. C.) 3 Cal. 326 (P. C.) Ref. (Rattigan and Shadi Lal, JJ.) MIRAN BAKSH v. MAHIR BIBI. 6 P. W. R. 1916 : 31 I C. 693 : 41 P. L. R. 1916.

———Revocation—Presumption.

Where the testator made his will When he was a batchelor but subsequently married and had a son, who would have been left destitute if the will was given effect to, and the will itself is not to be found after the testator's death a presumption of revocation of the Will arises. (Rattigan and Beadon, JJ.) UTTAM DAS v. CHANAN DAS. 51 P R 1913 : 283 P. L. R. 1913 : 20 I. C. 462 : 200 P. W. R. 1913.

——Revocation—Extraneous evidence—Evidence Act, S. 94.

Where several wills are executed on different dates by a person if the subsequent instrument does not profess to be a codicil and is adequate to the disposition of the entire property there is no such a priori improbability that it was intended wholly to cancel the prior instrument. When there is something on the face of the instrument raising doubt or ambiguity as to whether it was intended by the testator to be in substitution for or addition to a previous suit will, the Court is justified in having recourse to external evidence to ascertain the testator's intentions The fact that the testator's properties were situated in different jurisdictions did not affect the question of the disposition of all his properties. (Oldfield, Sadasiva Aiyar and Seshagiri Aiyar, JJ.) PANAKAL IYYAPPAN v. ELACHAR CHAKKUNNI. 41 I. C. 556. : (1917) M. W. N. 645.

——Revocation — Right to—Will—Speaks from the death of testator.

WILL—Revocation.

A will speaks only from the death of the testator and can be revoked previously. 19 M.L.J 106; 7 M L.T. 296 Foll. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Natier, JJ.) AIYASAMI UDAYAN v. APPASWAMI UDAYAN.
1 L. W. 983 : (1914) M. W. N. 889 26 I. C. 249. 28 M L J 542.

———Revocation— Change of circumstances.

The statutory law of wills in this country has not adopted the principal that a will shall be deemed to be revoked in consequence of a change in the circumstances of the testator or change with respect to his right to dispose the property 30 Mad. 369 Ref. A will has the same effect as if it were executed at the date of the testator's death. Property which a person does not possess at the time of the will may be bequeathed. The same principle appears with respect to property which he owns as absolute property both at the time of the bequest and at the time of his death but with respect to which he loses his right of testamentary disposition during sometime between the two dates (Benson and Sundara Aivar, JJ.) BODI alias LAKSHMAKKA v. VENKATASWAMI NAIDU.
38 Mad. 369 : 14 M. L T 181 : 25 M L J. 363 : 21 I. C. 73 : (1913) M.W.N. 779.

———Revocation—Later will silent as to earlier will—Doctrine of dependant -- Relative revocation.

The Court can discover an intention to revoke only in the altered disposition which is attempted to be made by the second instrument, and if that disposition fails then also the court must fail to perceive an indication of an intention to revoke the first, the court not being able to find that there is in truth any inconsistent disposition at all in consequence of that which was intended to be such having wholly failed to take effect. (White, C J. and Sankaran Nair, J.) PILLAI v. SUBBAMMAH (1912) M. W. N 519: 11 M. L. T. 307 : 14 I. C. 209 : 22 M. L. J. 395.

———Revocation—Allegation as to execution of subsequent will.

A will duly executed is not to be treated as revoked, either wholly or partially, by a will which is not forthcoming unless it is proved by clear and satisfactory evidence that the later disposition is so inconsistent with the dispositions of the earlier will that the two cannot stand together. It is not enough to show that the will which is not forthcoming differed from the earliar will if it cannot be shown what the difference consisted in (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A.J.Cs.) LALA TRIBHAWAN NATH SINGH v. DEPUTY COMMISSIONER OF FYZABAD. 47 I. C. 225 : 5 O L. J. 294.

———Revocation —Implied— Adoption of son by testator.

The adoption of a son does not in itself operate to nullify or revoke a will by the adoptive father in favour of his wife any more than the birth of a natural son does. (Piggott, J.C. and Lindsay, A. J.C.) MIR SYED HASAN v. TAIYABI BEGAM.
26 I. C. 547 : 1 O. L. J. 591

———Revocation—Revival on failure of subsequent one.

The mere revocation of a will coupled with a disposition subsequently found to be ineffectual will not revive the original one unless the two acts are so connected that the revocation was conditional on the substitution of an effectual disposition. (Chamier, J. C.) MUHAMMAD ADIL KHAN v. BLUL BIBI. 9 I. C. 748 : 14 O. C. 49.

WILL—Testamentary capacity.

Testamentary capacity.

———Testamentary capacity—Draft of will is material evidence.

The draft of a will is material evidence if the question was whether the testator understood an instrument admitted or proved to have been executed by her, or if her mental capacity had been questioned. (Sir Lawrence Jenkins) BAIKUNTHA NATH CHATTORAJ v. PRASANNAMOYI DEBYA 44 M. L. J. 699 : 27 C W. N 797 : 1922 P. C. 409.

———Testamentary capacity—Proof of—Undue influence—Coercion—Illness Effect of.

The onus of proving that a will was duly executed by the testator in his proper senses is on those propounding the will. Held, that a strong prima facie case in favour of the will in question had been made out and that it was not displaced by mere proof of serious illness or antecedent intemperance, or by evidence that there was motive and opportunity for the defendants to exercise undue influence and that some of them actually benefited by the will to the exclusion of other near relations. Circumstances of that character might suggest suspicion and would lead the Court to scrutinise with special care the evidence of those propounding the will. But, in order to set it aside, there must be clear evidence that the undue influence was actually exercised or that the illness of the testator so affected his mental faculties as to make him unequal to the task of disposing of his property. (Lord Robson,) BUR SINGH. v UTTAM SINGH. 38 Cal. 356 : 38 I. A. 18 : 21 P. R 1911 : 1 P. W. R 1911 : 15 C. W. N. 177 : 13 C. L J. 72 : 21 P. L. R. 1911 : 13 Bom. L. R.59 : 9 M. L. T. 115 : (1911) 1 M. W N. 86 : 8 A. L. J. 123 : 4 Bur. L T. 35 : 9 I. C. 33 : 21 M L J. 100 (P.C.).

———Testamentary capacity—Requisites of.

The mere fact that the testator had sense or consciousness or that he was able to answer a question or two put by a doctor about his illness is not sufficient to prove testamentary capacity. (Chatterjee and Pearson, JJ.) JOGESH CHANDRA SHAHA v. BHIKU SAN PARAMANIK. 1924 C. 512.

———Testamentary capacity — Condition of testator.

Testamentary capacity is not a relative thing; it is to be considered with reference to the particular will, the question being, not whether the testator had capacity for will making, but whether he had capacity to make the disputed will. He may have had capacity to make that will in the circumstances and yet not have had the capacity to make a more complex will or he may not have had the capacity to make the will in suit and yet have had capacity to make a less complex or different one; whether he understood the particular thing he was doing is the vital question. Where a testator has given instructions for the will while in health and executes the document prepared in accordance therewith while in illness slight proof of knowledge and

WILL—Testamentary capacity.

approval will suffice, and the will may be held valid, though at the time of execution the testator merely recollects that he has given those instructions but believes that the will which he is executing is in accordance with them. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) SARADINDU NATH RAI CHAUDHURI v. SUDHIR CHANDRA DAS 50 Cal. 100 : 35 C. L. J. 569 : 1923 Cal. 116.

———Testamentary capacity—Onus probandi.
The onus probandi lies in every case upon the party propounding a Will and he must satisfy the Court that the will so propounded is the last will of a free and capable testator. This burden is generally discharged by proof of capacity and the fact of execution but mere ability to sign one's name does not necessarily imply the possession of the full mental powers requisite for a valid disposition of the property. (Mookerjee and Fletcher, JJ.) SURENDRA KRISHNA MONDAL v. RANEE DASI. 47 Cal. 1043 : 33 C. L. J. 34 : 59 I. C. 814 : 24 C. W. N. 860.

———Testamentary capacity—Presumption of due execution -Sound disposing state of mind—Physical weakness.
There is a presumption in favour of the due execution and attestation of the will which is apparently duly executed. A will is not revoked by the subsequent insanity of the testator. Where a testator has given instructions for a will when he is of sound mind but is not in a normal state of mind at the time of the execution of the deed drawn up in accordance with those instructions he must be deemed to be of sound mind when it is executed. Physical weakness is not incompatible with a disposing state of mind. (Scott-Smith and Wilberforce, JJ.) WOOLMER v. DATY.
55 I. C. 798 : 1 Lah. 173

———Testamentary capacity—Gift inter vivos.
When the power of gift inter vivos exists, the power to transfer by will is to be presumed until the contrary is proved 48 P. R. 1903, Foll. (Kensington and Johnstone, JJ.) KARAM BAKSH v. CHIRAGH DIN. 66 P. R. 1911 : 104 P. L. R. 1912 : 12 I. C. 862 : 190 P. W. R. 1911.

———Testamentary capacity--Disposing mind.
"Disposing mind" requires among other things knowledge of extent and nature of property as also claims of her sons excluded. (Rattigan, J.) INDAR NARAIN v. ONKAR LAL. 20 P. R. 1912 : 141 P. L. R. 1911 : 10 I C. 130 : 233 P W. R. 1911.

———Testamentary capacity—Sound disposing mind
If the testator approved of the terms embodied by his legal adviser in the final will it is not necessary that it should be read out to him when he affixes his signature to it. 23 M. L. J. 4, Foll. It is necessary for the validity of a will that the testator should have a sound disposing mind i.e., sufficient capacity to deal with and appreciate the various dispositions of property to which he is about to affix his signature. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) NAMBERUMAL CHETTY v. PASUMARTY KANNIAH CHETTY. 28 I. C. 959.

WILL—Validity of.

———Testamentary capacity—Instructions—Preparation Validity.
A will prepared on the instructions given by the testator is good as if executed by him if he is able to judge that it was so prepared. (White, C. J. and Sadasiva Aiyar, J.) VENKATARAGAVALU REDDIAR v. BAGGIAMMAL. 14 I. C. 550 : 23 M L. J. 54.

———Testamentary capacity—Registration—Effect.
The registration of a Will is a conclusive evidence that at least at the time of registration the testator was on his senses and fully competent to make the will, and that he consented to the contents being his intentions. (Hallifax and Prideaux, A. J. Cs.) MURLIDAS v. HARIDAS.
62 I. C. 246.

———Testamentary capacity — Burden of proof—Undue influence—Nature of proof.
The burden of proving that a will has been executed under undue influence is not discharged by merely showing that the beneficiary had the power unduly to overbear the will of the testator ; it must be proved that in the particular case the power was so exercised and the execution of the Will obtained thereby. (Lindsay, J. C. and Daniels, A. J. C.) AHMAD KHAN v. HURMAUZI KHAJAM. 61 I. C. 177 : 8 O. L. J. 27.

Trust.

———Trust—Creation of.
A Hindu father by will left a house to his two nephews making them executors to discharge duties of a religious trust and to take the income after such discharge. No transfer of the house was allowed. Held, the will created a trust and conferred no absolute interest upon the nephews. (Richards, C. J. and Rafique, J.) MURLIDHAR v. DEWAN CHAND. 38 All. 214 : 32 I. C. 945 : 14 A. L. J. 249.

———Trust — Benami transaction—Will by lady—Description of devisee as grand-daughter's husband—Devise, whether benami for grand-daughter.
The mere description of the devisee as the husband of her grand-daughter in certain wills by a Hindu lady does not show that the transactions was benami for grand-daughter. (White, C. J. and Oldfield, J.) MEENAKCHI AMMAL v. MANICKA CHETTY. 24 I C. 918 : 1 L. W. 360.

Validity of.

———Validity of—Joint will.
A joint will can validly be made by two persons. (Macleod, C J. and Fawcett, J.) JETHABHAI GOKULDAS v. PARSHOTTAM. 45 Bom 987 : 61 I. C. 400 : 23 Bom. L. R. 393.

———Validity of—Clause uncertain and repugnant to gift made—Operativeness.
A clause in a will to the effect that division of the testator's estate will not be made till his sons come of age and earn their livlihood and all his daughters are married, is ineffective both on the ground of repugnancy to a gift made and on the ground of uncertainty, because the events mentioned above might either not take place or be indefinitely postponed. (Woodroffe and Cuming, JJ.) J. N. GHOSE v. B. B. DASI. 1922 Cal. 302.

WILL—Validity of.

———Validity of—Succession—Exclusion of legal heirs.

Per Mookerjee, J.—Mere expressions in a will that the heir-at-law shall not inherit any part of the estate is insufficient to disinherit him unless there is a valid disposition of the estate to some one else. 4 Bean. 318, Foll. (Sanderson C. J., Woodroffe and Mookerjee, JJ.) SAROJINI DASSI v. GNANENDRA NATH DAS. 33 I. C. 102 : 23 C. L. J. 241.

——Validity of—Rule of succession not to be altered—Disinherison of heirs.

A testator cannot create a new rule of succession unknown to Hindu law. A document executed by a Hindu before his death recited that from the date of its execution the executant ceased to have any connection with his first son, that the latter was to have no concern with any of the former's property and that after the death of the executant and his wife the first son was to have no rights as a son and the other sons should perform all the funeral ceremonies. Held, that the meaning of the document was that the first son was to lose all his rights in his father's property from the date of the execution of the document, and that the recital that he would not have the rights of a son after the death of the executant, referred to rights of a religious character and not to rights in the property. The document was not a will and was inadmissible in evidence for want of registration. It was also ineffectual for another reason, viz., that while it contained no mention of a gift of the property being made to any person it purported to alter the rule of the Hindu law regarding succession. Such an attempt to alter the mode of succession is void, 38 C. 603 Ref (Broadway and Martineau, JJ.) MADAN LAL v. LABHU RAM. 1922 Lah. 421.

———Validity—Suspicious circumstances.

Where under a will which is sought to be propounded the testator's wife and children are not mentioned at all, for 20 years after the death it had not been probated, and in prior proceeding regarding the estate, the testator had been treated by all as having died intestate it is to be held that thewill is not genuine. (Spencer and Venkatasubba Rao, JJ.) ROSA MARIA v JACOB SUZA (1923) M. W. N. 647 : 18 L. W. 588 : 1924 Mad. 161.

———Validity of—Absence of attestation.

A made a deposit in a Nidhi and nominated B as the person entitled to receive the money after his death in accordance with the articles of association. In a suit for recovery of the money. Held, that the nomination could not be enforced as a will as it was not attested by two witnesses and therefore B had no interest in the property. (John Wallis, C. J. and Krishnan, J.) NANA TAUKER v. BHAVANI BOYEE 43 Mad. 728 : 39 M. L. J. 391 ; 60 I. C 239 : (1921) M. W. N. 70.

———Validity of—Partial intestacy—Effect of.

Wherever there is partial intestacy either because no person is alive to claim under the will, or the bequest is void and ineffectual, there is a resulting trust in favour of the heir-at law, in spite of the wishes of the testator to the contrary. The failure takes effect from the death of the testator and there cannot be a divesting of the estate once vested. (Kanhaiya Lal and Daniels, A. J. Cs.) BRIJ RAJ KUAR v. MAHADEO. 21 O. C. 374 : 50 I. C. 249 : 6 O. L. J. 101

WINDING UP.

See (1) COMPANY.
(2) COMPANIES ACT,

WITHDRAWAL OF SUIT.

See C. P. CODE, O. 23, R. 1.

WITNESS.

See EVIDENCE ACT, S. 118.

WORDS AND PHRASES.

———'Abwab'—Meaning of.

Abwab means an arbitrary and indefinite imposition levied by the landlord on their tenants. An item which forms part of the consideration for which the lease is granted is not an Abwab. (Jenkins, C. J. and Chatterjee, J.) KALI KUMAR ROY v. KAILASHNATH ROY. 27 I. C. 470.

——Adhiar—Position.

An adhiar generally means a tenant. (Woodroffe and Newbould JJ.) DEB NATH DAS v. RAM SUNDAR BARMAN. 31 I. C 579 : 19 C. W. N. 1205.

———"Adhin" —Meaning of.

"Adhin" means "appertaining to" and not "subordinate" to howla (Chatterjee, J.) MADAN MOHAN v. SASHI BHUSAN. 31 I. C. 549 : 19 C. W. N. 1211.

———"Adverse possession"—Meaning of—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), S. 167.

An adverse possession is one which can be annulled by a purchaser at an execution sale of a decree. (Beachcroft, J.) EASIN v. INTIGERENESSA. 58 I. C. 745 : 24 C. W. N. 659.

———Agachh trees, meaning of.

"Agachh trees" means trees are valueless for fruit bearing or timber purposes. (Bucknill and Das, JJ.) NATHUNI RAI v MAHARAJADHIRAJ SIR RAMESHWAR SINGH BAHADUR 1 Pat. L. R 289 : 1924 P. 147.

———"Agricultural cattle"—Meaning of.

The term "agricultural cattle" means and includes animals employed in agriculture and in purposes subservient to agriculture, including the domestic requirements of the tenant but not animals kept as stock of a dairy farm or for sale or other commercial purposes. (Stanyon, A. J. C.) NANHU v. NARBADA PRASAD. 34 I. C. 695 : 12 N. L. R. 83.

———Ainthugai account.

Among the Nattukottai Chetties an Ainthugai account is an account of the properties in the possession of a person and it may include properties held by him on trust. (Wallis C J. and Seshagiri Aiyar, J.) RAMANATHAN CHETTY v. MURUGAPPA CHETTY. 3 L. W. 210 : 33 I. C. 969 : (1916) 1 M. W N. 208.

———Alien enemy—British subject.

Under the terms alien enemy' are comprised (1) subjects of a country at war with Great

WORDS AND PHRASES.

Britain, (2) British subjects voluntarily residing in hostile country, and (3) subjects of a natural state voluntarily residing in hostile country and under British subject are comprised all persons born within the dominions subject to the Crown irrespective of the nationality of one or both parents but the term does not include (1) child of a foreign sovereign, ambassador or diplomatic agent, (2) child born of alien parents in British Territory occupied by a foreign army at the time of birth. Keyzinger v. Samule. (1915) 31 T. R. 162. Foll. (Fox, C J.) GREENBERG v A. S. PINTO. 37 I. C. 88 : 9 Bur. L. T. 176.

———Ante-ezara tenant.

The claim to hold as ante-ezara tenant means that the landlord has no right to enhance the rent (Mittra, Offg. A.J C.) BHIVAJI v. TUKARAM. 39 I C. 15 : 13 N. L. R. 11.

———Arh—Rehen — Mustagharaq-power of sale.

The three words are themselves sufficient to convey power of sale. (Lindsay, J. C.) GAUHAR KHAN v. AJUDHIA SINGH. 20 I.C. 870 ——— Arrears of rent—Meaning.

Arrears of rent continue to be arrears though suits have been instituted and decrees passed in respect of those arrears. (Chatterjee and Panton, JJ.) ANANDA MOHAN ROY v. PROMOTHANATH GANGULI. 57 I C. 874 : 25 C. W. N. 863.

———Assets.

Realisable property possessed by insolvent at the material moment is 'assets' which however does not include future earnings as they cannot be sold. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) DEBI PRASAD v. ALLEN GRANT. 39 I. C. 916 ——— Asthan—Sanyashi, meaning of—Alienation by Mohunt—Capacity to hold property.

Asthan is mainly an institution of ascetics and sanyashis having no wordly connections of wealth or family and the mohunt is presumed to have no property other than that of the institution and the offerings made to him. But he may hold private property, the character of which he must prove as such. In absence of such proof an alienation by a mohunt is ultra vires. The fact of many alienations by successive mohunts means so many breaches of trust. (Daniels and Wazir Hasan, A. J Cs.) RAM PAT v. DURGA BHARTI 7 O. L. J. 547 : 60 I. C. 440 : 23 O. C. 303

———"Aulad"—Khandan.

Illegitimate descendants are not contemplated by these words. (Lord Atkinson.) SHER BAHADUR v. GANGA BAKSH SINGH 36 All 101 : 41 I. A. 1 : 18 C. W. N. 401 : 15 M. L. T. 169 : (1914) M. W. N. 184 : 12 A. L. J 188 : 19 C I. J. 277 : 1 O L. J. 109 (2) : 22 I. C. 293 (2 P. C.) : 17 O C 68 : 16 Bom. L R. 306 : 26 M. L. J. 291.

———"Aulad".

The word 'aulad" is used in its generic sense and includes male and female children. (Le Rossignol and Abdul Quadir, JJ.) SAIDAN v FAZAL. 1922 Lah. 215.

WORDS AND PHRASES.

———"Aulad"—Meaning of — Female and male.

The word "Aulad" ordinarily includes all descendants male and female. 89 P. R. 1892, Dist. (Reid and Clarke, JJ.) KALLUMAL v. CHAHINDI. 36 I. C. 222 : 97 P. L. R 1916.

———"Aulad"—Females as heirs recognised -Meaning of.

In a tribe which recognises females as heirs the word "aulad" used in regard to succession must be taken to include female as well as male heirs. (Rattigan and Shah Din, JJ.) SULTAN v. ALI MUHAMMAD. 23 I. C. 535 : 56 P. L. R. 1914.

———"Auladdar aulad" Meaning of.

The words 'auladdar aulad' include descendants whether male or female except descendants through females. (Macleod, C. J. and Crump, J.) SYED MIRA SAHIB v. BAI CHHOTI BEGAM. 1924 B 281.

———"Aun santhathi."

Unless excluded by force of the context an adopted son is included in the expression of "aun santhathi" (male descendant.) (Sankaran Nair and Spencer, JJ.) BALA SUBRAMANIA PILLAI v. PITCHAI PILLAI. 33 I. C. 552 : (1916) 1 M. W. N 306.

———Aurasa Putra Poutradhik—Babuana—Grant.

The words as used in these grants or sanads are not words of general inheritance but are words of limitation consistent with custom. (Sir John Edge.) EKARADESHWAR SINGH v. JANESHWARI BAUSAIN. 42 Cal. 582 : 41 I.A. 275 : 18 C. W N. 1249 : 16 M. L. T. 382 : 1 L W. 863 : (1914) M. W. N 8 7 : 12 A. L. J 1217 : 21 C. L. J 9 : 17 Bom. L. R 18 : 25 I. C 417 : 27 M. L. J. 375. (P. C.), ———"Bahamah wajah".

The words "Bhamah wajah" mean "with all rights". (Rafique and Lindsay, JJ.) RAM CHANDRA SARUP v. KIRPA DEVI. 1923 All. 216.

———"Bemiade Patta"—Mearing

Bemiade Patta means a lease without a term. The more mention of the rights of the lessee and his heirs to the minerals in the leased property do not make it permanent. It is only a lease from year to year with the incidents attached to such a lease. (Chapman and Roe, JJ.) PERSHAN KUER v. TULSI KUER. 2 Pat. L. J. 180 : 1 Pat. L. W. 447 : 39 I. C. 658 : 1918 Pat. 11.

———"Besides Poramboke" —Meaning of—Inam grant.

The words exclude burning and burial grounds and other portions required for communal purposes, which are vested in the Government as trustees for the public. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) VENKATARAM SIVAN v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA. 9 L. W. 381 : 25 M. L T. 232 : (1919) 1 M W. N. 191 : 50 I. C. 360 : 36 M. L. J. 208.

———Bhai and Beradarzadah—Include distant relations.

WORDS AND PHRASES.

The words Bhai and Beradarzadah are not limited in urdu language to brother and his son but extend to more distant relations. (Rafique and Lindsay, JJ.) SYED FAZAL HAQ v. AZIZ HASAN. L.R. 4 All 23 : 1923 A. 163.

——Bhai Bhatija Hakiki.

A sister is included in the term 'Bhai Bhatija Hakiki', i. e., own brothers and nephews. (Richards, C. J. and Tudball, J.) NIAZ FATIMA v. TAMIZ BEGAM. 15 I. C. 175

—Bhai Hakiki—Meaning of.

The word Bhai Hakiki includes a sister also. (Richards, C. J. and Tudball, J.) MUSSAMMAT NAJIBAR v. NIHAL SINGH. 19 I. C. 647.

——'Bhaiya' 'Walda'—

The words—Walda' 'Bhaiva' are applied out of love and affection as mother and brother and they cannot be taken literally. (Daniel J C. and Dalal, A J. C.) MUMTAZ-UN-NISSA BEGAM v. WAZIRALI. 65 I. C. 308 : 8 O. L. J. 569

——Bhatija.

"Bhatija" has a far wider meaning than 'brother' or "nephew" in English (Tudball and Rafique, JJ.) SAMHER SINGH v. SHER SINGH. 18 A. L J 454 : 56 I. C: 183 : 2 U. P L. R. (All.) 158.

——'Biswi'.

Where land held by a tenant is mortgaged by the proprietor with the tenant such a mortgage is called 'Biswi' in eastern Oudh. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) SAT DEO v. JAI NATH. 9 O. L. J. 141 : 1922 Oudh 75.

——'Borokta' does not imply—Fixity of rent.

'Borokta' in a Kabuliat means in due and proper time and does not imply fixity of rent (Chatterjee and Newbould, JJ.) BISESWAR ROY v. BROJO KANTA ROY. 62 I. C. 49 : 33 C L J. 296.

——British India—Wadhwan Civil station.

Wadhwan Civil Station is not a part of British India 9 Bom 244, Overruled. (Batchelor and Heaton, JJ) EMPEROR v. CHIMANLAL JAGJIWAN. 37 Bom 152 : 14 Bom L R 876 : 17 I. C. 534 : 13 Cr. L. J. 790.

——'Cash'—Meaning

Ordinarily 'cash' has a narrower meaning than money. (Sanderson, C.J., Woodroffe and Mookerjee. JJ.) SAROJINI DASI v. GNANENDRA NATH DAS. 33 I. C. 102 : 23 C. L. J. 241.

——'Cause of action' See also C.P. Code, O. 2, R. 2.

The "cause of action" for a suit is the sum total of the facts and circumstances which the plff. has to prove in order to entitle him to the relief claimed. (Piggott and Walsh, JJ.) RAM HARAKH v. RAM LAL. 38 All. 217 : 33 I. C. 124 ; 14 A L. J. 257.

——Common carrier—Definitions of.

A "common carrier" is one who offers to carry goods for any person between certain termini and on a certain route. He is bound to carry for all who tender to him goods and the price of carriage and insures the goods against all loss but that arising from the act of God or the public enemy and has a lien on the goods for the price of carriage. A common carrier is entitled to demand and to be paid the full price of carriage and if this is not paid he may lawfully refuse to carry at all But the price demanded must be reasonable. It is also essential to the character of a common carrier that he his bound to carry the goods of all persons applying to him. (Macleod, J.) BOGGIANO & CO. v. ARAB STEAMERS, LTD. 40 Bom. 529 : 33 I. C. 586 : 18 Bom. L. R. 126.

——Composition deed—Meaning of.

A composition deed does not mean a deed, composing differences but means a deed by which a debtor compounds with his creditors. (Fletcher and Shamsul Huda, JJ.) GOSTA BEHARI DE v. GOSTA BEHARI LUMANTA. 46 I. C. 243.

——'Default'—Meaning.

'Default' means omission to do something which the person concerned is legally bound to do (Lindsay, J. C.) NARINDRA BAHADUR v. GANGA SAGAR. 7 O. L. J. 337 : 57 I. C 509 : 23 O. C. 166.

——'Dhardhura'—Meaning of.

Dhardhura is not a term of art, signifying necessarily always and under all conditions that the deep stream continues to be a permanent boundary between two estates on the opposite banks of a river. There are many variations in the sense of the word. (Simpson and Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) BALBHADDAR PRASAD v. NARAYAN DAS. 9 O L. J. 518 : 1923 Oudh 102.

——E. and O. E.—Receipt.

The letters E and O. E commonly put in India under a bill have no effect whatever on its finality. (Macleod, J.) ALIMAHOMED RAHMITULLAH v. PANDURANG LAXMAN. 33 I. C. 701 : 18 Bom L R. 156.

——'Farokha,' meaning of.

Where the co-sharers in a zamindari claimed a customary right to pre mortgage on the strength of a clause in the wazib ul-arz which ran as follows :—

"In case none of the co sharers is prepared to purchase or to accept a mortgage or lease, then the co sharer in question may sell to a stranger" held that the word "Farokha" cannot be held to mean "transfer" as it is inconsistent with the ordinary meaning of the word. (Rafique and Piggott, JJ.) SURAJ NARAYAN PRASAD PANDE v. RAM GHULAM SHUKUL. 45 A 321 : 1923 A. 361 (2).

——'Farzandan'—Means offspring.

The term Farzandan means offspring or lineal descendants and includes daughters and daughter's sons. (Dhobley, J. C.) SHAIKH CHOTU v. MIR AKABAR ALI. 1923 N. 170.

——Fazendari—Meaning.

Fazendari, though indicates nature of rent does not necessarily decide the nature of tenure which depends upon the agreement between the parties. (Scott and Davar, JJ.) YESHWANT VISHNU NENE v. KESHAV RAO BHAIJI. 27 I. C 523 : 16 Bom. L. R. 720.

——— 'Good-will'—Definition.

The term "good-will" is defined in the case quoting from the case of Trego v. Hunt as follows :—" Every positive advantage as contrasted with the negative advantage of the late partner not carrying on the business himself that has been acquired by the old firm in carrying on the business whether connected with the premises in which the business was previously carried on or with the name of the late firm or with any other matter, carrying with it the benefit of the business. It is the connection thus formed together with the circumstances whether of habit or otherwise which tend to make it permanent that constitute the good will of a business. (Chatterjee and Walmsley, JJ.) PARASULLA MULLICK v. CHAMBA KANTA DASS. 39 I. C. 177 : 21 C. W. N. 979.

——— Good will—Meaning—In India the law of trade marks is not governed by statute.

There is no statutory system of registration, the rights and liabilities in connection with trade-marks are determined by reference to the principles of the Common Law of England 38 Cal. 110 Ref. It is inherent in nature of a trade mark that it cannot be assigned or descend in gross for it is a mode of representing the origin of goods to which it is attached or their Trade Association. The representation of a trade mark may perhaps be true only of its originator but usage has sanctioned a more liberal treatment based in the principle of identification by succession and therefore successors in business have been allowed to use their predecessor's trade-marks where the representation still continues to be substantially true. An originator of a trade-mark of natural product who certifies to their good quality is entitled to it and has a right to alienate it. A trade-mark can be assigned together with the good will of the business to which it relates. (Jenkins. C. J. and Stephen, J.) G. S. HANNAH v. JAGANATH & Co 27 I. C. 483 : 19 C. W. N. 1

——— Haqa chaharum—Meaning of.

Haqa chaharum is a right of the Zamindar to take ¼ share of the sale proceeds from the tenants. This right is based on a custom. (Stuart and Sulaiman, JJ.) KEDAR NATH v. DATTA PRAKASH. 20 A. L. J. 646 : 44 A. 739 : 1922 A. 370.

——— Haqiyat—Meaning of.

Haqiyat means rights in immoveable property and though it is usually used in connection with landed property it may as well be applied to house property. (Chevis, J.) BAWA SINGH v. LACHMAN SINGH. 24 P. R. 1911 : 186 P. L. R. 1911 : 10 I. C. 850 : 56 P. W. R. 1911.

——— Hasilat—Meaning.

The word 'Hasilat' does not mean land revenue but the produce of the land (Robertson and Shadin, JJ.) SANTA v. MUSSAMMAT DAROPTI. 47 P. W. R. 1913 19 I. C. 612 : 191 P. L. R. 1913.

——— "Hearing"—Meaning.

The word 'Hearing' is not defined in the C. P. Code and is used in different rules with a view to state the different purposes for which a date for hearing is fixed. (Jwala Prasad, A.C.J. and Das, J.) ABDUL RAHAMAN v. SHIB LAL SAHU. 63 I. C. 570 : 2 Pat. L. T. 572.

——— "Hissadar karibi" Meaning of.

Hissadar Karibi is an ambiguous expression and may mean a co-sharer nearer in space or nearer in blood relationship. (Lindsay and Sulaiman, JJ.) BHOLAI PANDEY v. KHHIALI PANDEY. L. R. 4 All. 550 : 1924 All. 456.

——— 'Ijmal'—Behar.

Per Chapman, J. –The word 'Ijmal' in Bihar means a residuary share. Per Mullick, J.—It means simply 'joint'. (Chapman, Mullick and Atkinson, JJ.) DAYAL GIR v. ABDUL GAFFUR. 2 Pat. L. J. 402 : 40 I. C. 13 : 2 Pat. L. W. 229.

——— 'Importation'.

Importation does not mean only importation from outside the territory but it also means from any district of the said territory into another district of the same. (Martineau, J.) SITA RAM v. EMPEROR. 23 Cr. L. J. 732 : 1924 L. 160.

——— "Incumbrance" — Right of passage included in.

A right of passage is included in the term "incumbrance" in S 16 of the Land Acquisition Act. (Viscount Haldane.) MUNICIPAL CORPORATION OF BOMBAY v. GREAT INDIAN PENINSULAR RY. CO. 41 Bom. 291 : 43 I. A. 310 : 21 M. L. T. 1 : 19 Bom. L. R. 48 : 15 A. L. J. 63 : (1917) M. W. N. 83 : 21 C. W. N. 447 : 38 I. C. 923 : 25 C. L. J. 209 (P. C.).

——— "Instroke"—"Upstroke"—Meaning.

Meaning of the words "instroke" and "upstroke" with reference to mining law explained. (Asutosh Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) RAMA PRASAD ROY v. ANUKUL CHANDRA. 27 I. C. 444 : 20 C. L. J. 512.

——— Intention.

Intention is the result of working of the brain, and can be gathered from judging the act itself and the circumstances under which it was done. (Fox, C.J.) EMPEROR v. ALI COSSIM ARIFF. 10 I. C. 929 : 12 Cr. L J. 329 : 4 Bur. L. T, 97.

——— "Irrigation by percolation"—Meaning of.

The words "irrigation by percolation" cover cases where subsoil water derived by percolation from a river or channel belonging to Government is taken by percolation to the roots of trees. 34 Mad. 21 : 35 Mad. 197; 34 Mad. 366 Ref. (Abdur Rahim, Offg. C. J. Seshagiri Aiyar and Phillips, JJ) SECRETARY OF STATE v MAHADEO SASTRIGAL. 40 Mad. 58 . 32 M. L J. 411 : (1917) M. W. N. 376 : 21 M. L. T. 337 : 39 I. C. 193 : 5 L. W. 817. (F.B.).

——— "Jadd" does not include entering into family by marriage.

The word "Jadd" literally means grandfather, and "ashkhas jaddi" means persons descended from a common ancestor and cannot include a woman who is not descended from such common ancestor but enters into the family by marriage. (Tudball and Sulaiman, JJ.) RAM PAL v. MT. BATASHIA. 19 A. L. J. 820 : 1922 Lah. 300.

——— 'Jagir'—'Saranjam'—Meaning.

Saranjam is the Marathi equivalent of Jagir. The terms Saranjam and Inam are not mutually exclusive. The latter is more general term and applies to Government grant as a whole. (Lord Shaw.) RAGHOJI RAO SAHEB v. LAKSHMAN RAO SAHEB.
36 Bom 639 : 39 I. A. 202 : 16 C. W. N. 1058 : 12 M. L T. 472 : (1912) M. W. N. 1140 : 14 Bom. L. R. 1226 : 17 C. L. J. 17 : 16 I. C. 239 : 23 M. L J. 383 (P. C)

——— 'Jagir'—Punjab.

In the unjab, the term Jagir is ordinarily restricted as meaning an assignment of land revenue only. Jagir is ordinarily not land. (Kensington and Rattigan, JJ.) MAYA DAS v. GURUDIT SINGH.
146 P W. R. 1912 : 16 I. C. 855 : 167 P. L. R. 1912.

——— "Jis Serazi ho" meaning of.

"Jis se razi ho" means that the person who wishes to sell has some right of selecting the person to whom he will make the offer. (Rafique and Lindsay, JJ.) PANDIT NATHU RAM v. GHANSHYAM.
1923 All. 519.

——— 'Jote' does not always mean 'ryoti.'

The expression "Jote" in a deed does not mean that the tenancy is a ryoti holding The expression "Jote" is a general term and does not necessarily mean a 'Ryoti" "Jote." (Chatterjea and Pearson. JJ.) KRISHNENDRA NATH SARKAR v. RANI KUSUM KAMANI DEBI.
1923 Cal. 351.

——— Judicial proceeding.

An application to leave to sue is a stage in a judicial proceeding. (Chaudhuri, J.) BUDHU v. CHOTU.
25 C. L. J. 401 : 18 Cr. L. J. 793 : 41 I. C. 313 : 21 C. W. N. 654.

——— Kabizdarmiani—Meaning of.

The words "Kabizdarmiani" can only be interpreted to mean "under proprietor" in the sense in which that word is used in the Oudh Rent Acts (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) LAL SRIPAT SINGH v. LAL BASANT SINGH.
25 I. C. 743 : 1 O. L. J. 421.

——— 'Kar'—Includes "cess."

The word 'kar' is wide enough in its ordinary meaning to include the word 'cess.' (Newbould and Cuming, JJ.) ANNADA CHAKAN v. HABIBULLA.
1923 Cal. 283.

——— 'Kasht—Bakasht.'

Kasht and Bakasht are the words of art in Revenue Records they apply to cultivation of lands by proprietors and tenants. (Jwala Prasad and Das, JJ.) NANDKISHORE SINGH v MATHURA SAHU.
3 P. L. T 13 : 1922 P. 193.

——— "Korfa" Tenant—Meaning of.

A Korfa tenant does not necessarily mean an under-raiyat. A korfa tenant is a sub-lessee whether of a taluqdar or of a raiyat. (Tennon and Chaudhuri JJ.) SECRETARY OF STATE v. JADAV CHANDRA MISRA.
39 I. C. 409 : 21 C. W. N. 452.

——— Kudivaram—Melwaram.

The word Kudivaram is a Tamil word and literally signifies the cultivator's share of the produce of land held by him as distinguished from the landlord's share of the produce which is called Melvaram. "Kudivaram" is also used to denote a permanent right of occupancy. (Sir John Edge.) SURYANARAYAN v PATANNA.
41 Mad. 1012 : 45 I A. 209 : (1918) M. W. N. 859 : 23 C W. N. 273 : 9 L. W. 126 : 29 C. L . 153 : 1 U. P. L. R. (P C.) 11 : 21 Bom. L. R. 547 : 48 I C 689 : 25 M. L. J. 30 : (1919) M. W. N. 463 : 36 M. L. J. 585 (P. C.).

——— Kudivaram.

Kudivaram literally means the share of the cultivator in the produce raised, in this sense Kudivaram belongs to the cultivating tenant whether he has permanent occupancy rights or is a mere lessee from year to year or even a tenant-at-will. Kudivaram also means the rights of such a tenant so long as he is in possession of the land. The word also means the right of a tenant having permanent occupancy rights In the last sense it is also called Mirasidari right or Kudimiras right. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) NAINA PILLAI v. RAMANATHAN CHETTIAR.
41 I. C. 788 : 33 M L J. 84.

——— 'Kul' irrigated means 'capable of being irrigated by kul'

Description of lands in Jamabandi was 'Kul irrigated,' held this does not mean that they were as a matter of fact irrigated from a particular Kul. The description only means that the lands were capable of being irrigated from a Kul. (Moti Sagar, J.) MANSA RAM v. KALU RAM.
1923 Lah. 605.

——— Lunatic—Person of weak memory or weak mental strength.

A man of weak memory or of even more weak mental strength cannot be called an idiot or a man of unsound mind. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) PACHI v CHARNI.
26 I. C. 344 : 16 M. L. T. 529.

——— Mafrur—Meaning of.

A person who has totally abandoned his place of residence and rights over the grove, is a mafrur or farar ho Jawe (Piggott, A. J. C.) PARTAB SINGH v. CHANDRA BHUKAN.
12 I. C. 409.

——— Mahasil—Meaning of.

"Mahasil" when used in connection with cultivation means the produce of land. (Sultan Ahmad, J.) CHANDRA KISHORE JOTSHI v. SUDAMA RAI.
57 I. C. 756.

——— Makan Champal—Meaning.

Makan champal being a covered building is a Makan. (Chamier, J. C.) BIKRAMAJIT SINGH v. SAKNAM.
10 I. C. 186.

——— Malaranai.

In the District of Madura and Tinnevelly the word "Malaranai" is used in a very loose manner to indicate not only transaction wholly colourable but also transactions intended to have some other legal effect than the one which the language of the document imports. (Ayling and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) VENKATASUBBA SASTRIAL v. SUBRAMANIA AIYAR.
6 L. W. 703 : 42 I. C. 827 : (1917) M. W. N. 674.

WORDS AND PHRASES.

——"Malguzari"—Meaning of.

The word "Malguzari" although usually meaning an amount paid to the Crown is capable of meaning the amount due from under-proprietors to the superior proprietor. (Stuart and Kanhaiya Lal, A.J.Cs.) CHARU CHANDRA BISWAS v. LALLAN SINGH. 40 I. C. 42 : 4 O. L. J. 148.

——"Malik"—Import of—Absolute interest in the property.

The word "malik" as used in a will, in itself has considerable force, as indicating that the person in reference to whom it is used should take absolute interest in the properties conferred. (Lord Atkinson.) SUDHAMANI DAS v. SURAT LAL DAS. 18 L. W. 86 : 45 M. L. J. 247 : (1923) M. W. N. 601 : 38 C. L. J. 253 : 1923 P. C. 65 (P. C.)

——'Malik'.

The word 'malik' ordinarily means an owner possessed of full proprietary rights, (Sir John Edge.) SASIMAN CHOWDHURAIN v. SHIB NARAYAN. 42 M. L. J. 492 : 3 Pat. L. T. 133 : 26 C. W. N. 425 : 1 Pat. 305 : 15 L. W. 434 : 24 B. L. R. 576 : 35 C. L. J. 427 : 20 A. L. J. 362 : (1922) M. W. N. 368 : 30 M. L. T. 242 : 49 I. A. 25 : 1922 P. C. 63 (P. C.).

——"Malik"—Absolute owner—Context qualifying absolute estate

The word 'malik' confers on the donee a heritable and alienable estate but the context may qualify or cut down the absolute rights implied by the word. (Mookerjee and Panton, JJ.) SULOCHANA DEBI v. JAGATTARINI DEBI. 53 I. C. 602: 30 C. L. J. 51.

——'Malik.'

Ordinarily the word 'malik' means absolute owner. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) SUNDRA BAI v. JAGANNATH. 1923 Nag. 56.

——"Malik."

The word 'Malik' indicates the conveyance of an absolute estate. (Syed Wazir Hasan, J.) BIJAI BAHADUR SINGH v. MATHURA SINGH. 9 O. L. J. 327 : 1922 Oudh 278.

——'Malik' implies full ownership.

"Malik" does not necessarily define quality of the estate but exclusive ownership. "Malik" imports exclusive and free enjoyment of property and free power of disposition (Coutts and Ross, JJ.) ASHURFI SINGH v. BISESWAR PRATAP NARAIN SAHI. 1 P. 295 : 3 P. L. T. 273 : 1922 Pat. 70 : 1922 P. 362.

——Malik—Milkiat or Malikiat.

The word "Malik" means literally one who holds 'Mulk' or land. Milkiat or Malikiat implies something appertaining to a Malik. Per Chapman, J.—The word "Malik" a word which is in common every day use in the country, cannot be converted by judicial decisions into a technical term of conveyancing. (Chapman and Roe, JJ.) SASIMAN v. SIBNARAIN. 39 I. C. 755 : 1 Pat. L. W. 375.

——'Malik'—Meaning of.

In absence of facts showing contrary intention, the words 'Malik' and 'Waris' indicate absolute estate. (Kennedy, J. C. and Kemp, A. J. C.) TIRATHMAL LOKOOMAL v. THANWARSINGH. 66 I. C. 720 : 15 S. L. R. 202.

——"Malikana"—What is—Portion of holder.

Malikana is a right to a portion of the benefits of an estate in consideration of rights which are proprietary. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) SOUDAMINI DASSYA v. SECRETARY OF STATE. 50 Cal. 822 : 1924 Cal. 197.

——"Malik Mustakil kamil"—Do not necessarily confer absolute estate.

'Malik Mustakil Kamil' means permanent and full ownership. This right confers only a life estate and not absolute estate upon a widow. (Coutts and Ross, JJ.) SORABJIT PANDE v. RAI KUMAR PANDE. 1922 Pat. 74 : 1923 P. 87.

——'Malik wari'—Absolute estate.

The use of the words "malikwa waris" confers absolute estate on female donee. (Hallifax, A. J. C.) MANGALJI v. RAMBHACO. 1922 Nag. 73.

——"Marfat."

The use of the word 'Marfat' cannot be used to resist the claim of purchaser to take objection under S. 47. (Newbould and Cuming, JJ.) GAGAN CHANDRA v. NAFAR CHANDRA. 64 I. C. 124.

——'Marhi' means a mutt.

The word 'marhi' only means a mutt or temple and a person does not divest himself all authority over his house, merely by calling it a 'marhi.' (Kincaid, J. C. and Raymond, A. J. C.) GOVERDHANGIR v. VISHINGIR. 63 I. C. 370 : 15 S. L. R. 38.

——"Mera Shufa."

The words "Mera Shufa" are words denoting a pre-emption demand on a particular property but they do not, when repeated twice, by themselves constitute a valid tulab-i-mawasibat under the Muhammadan Law. A.W.N. (1897) 93, Dist. (Karamat Husain, J.) MAKDIN BAKSH v. MUHAMMAD NAZIR KHAN. 10 I. C. 143.

——Merchant—Karachi usage.

According to Karachi mercantile usage 'merchant' means a member of merchant class of Karachi and includes a broker and also a person actually dealing in sale and purchase of goods. (Fawcett, J. C. and Kincaid, A. J. C.) ABDUL HAROON v. E. D. SASSOON & CO. 56 I. C. 76 : 13 S. L. R. 201.

——Minerals—Meaning of.

Minerals include granite, clay, limestone, free stone and the stone used. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Spencer, JJ.) SECRETARY OF STATE v. SHRINIVASA CHARRIAR. 23 I. C. 144 : 15 M. L. T. 277.

——Miras—Meaning of.

The word Mireshorotto is a misspelling. The use of the words "Mireshorotto Jansudiya" implies heritability from generation to generation. (Walmsley and Suhrawardy, JJ.) AJIMANNESSA BIBI v. PANNA LAL SIL. 27 C. W. N. 1037 : 1923 C. 705.

——'Mireshorotto Jansudiya' means heritable tenancy.

WORDS AND PHRASES.

The words 'Mireshorotto Jansudiya' show that the tenancy is heritable and is to be enjoyed by the grantee from generation to generation. (Walmsley and Suhrawardy, JJ.) AJIMANNESSA BIBI v. PANNALAL SIL.

27 C. W. N. 1037 : 1923 Cal. 705.

———Mistress—Meaning of.

The Buddhist Law speaks of wives and concubines. The mistress of Western Europe is not the concubine of the Bhammatalas. So application of the term to a wife or a lawful concubine is against the cause of religious virtue as well as the Buddhist Law. (Shaw, J. C.) MI SHWE MA v. MI ME. 12 I. C. 191 : 4 Bur. L. T. 235.

———Mokarari—Meaning of words.

Maurasi Mokarari patta implies grant at fixed rent. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) BHAIRAB CHANDRA DAS v. MIDNAPORE ZAMINDARI CO., LTD. 38 C. L. J. 372 : 1924 C. 513.

———Mouth—Makurari Puttah with all rights—Mai hak—Hakuk—Meaning of.

The words "with all rights" in a patta do not increase the actual corpus of the subject affected by it. The phrase means that the corpus being once ascertained, all the rights appurtenant thereto will pass with it. Held, on the facts that mineral rights were not included in the patta, which gave the Mokuraridar only surface rights, the mineral rights remaining in the Zamindar grantor. (Lord Shaw.) GIRDHARI SINGH v. MEGHULAL PANDEY. 45 Cal. 87 : 44 I. A. 246 : 15 A. L. J. 851 : 3 Pat. L. W. 169 : 26 C. L. J. 584 : (1917) M. W. N. 232 : 22 C. W. N. 201 : 7 L. W. 90 : 20 Bom. L. R. 64 : 42 I. C. 657 : 22 M. L. T. 358: 33 M. L. J. 687 (P.C.). [On appeal from 74 Cal. 355 : 34 Cal. 358].

———Moveable property—House and materials—Cutcha buildings.

It is a question of fact whether a particular house and its materials are moveable or immoveable property. (Mears, C. J. and Bannerjee, J.) JITAN TAMBALI v. NANKO. L. R 3 A. 128 : 1922 A. 45.

———'Muafi Khairati'—Interpretation of.

The word 'Muafi-Khairati' does not in itself imply that the muafi has an effect only during the pleasure of the grantor. (Baillie, S. M.) NISARUL RAHMAN v. TIKAM DAS.

1 O. L. J. 680 : 26 I. C. 860 (9).

———Municipal Ferry—Ferry Boat.

The word 'Ferry,' in Municipal Ferry must mean the starting place of boats on the banks of river and the right of ferry is the right to carry passengers from that place. Ferry boat is a boat used for carrying passengers from one side of river to another from any place on the bank. (Chatterjee and Richardson, JJ.) KASIM ALI v. CHAIRMAN OF MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS, CHITTAGONG.

21 C. W. N. 601: 35 I. C. 782 : 25 C. L. J. 639.

———Naslan bad naslan.

The use of the words Naslan bad Naslan shows an intention to convey an absolute interest. (Wazir Hasan, A. J. C.) LACHHMAN DAS v. BHAGWANT RAM. 65 I. C. 707.

WORDS AND PHRASES.

———'Occupation' Transval—Statute—Prohibition of Asiatic occupation.

The word "occupy" is a word of uncertain meaning. Sometimes it indicates legal possession in the technical sense, as when occupation is made the test of rateability ; and it is in this sense that it is said that the occupation of premises by a servant if such occupation is subservient and necessary to the service, is the occupation of the master. At other times occupation denotes nothing more than physical presence in a place for a substantial period of time. Held, that the expression was used in the latter sense in S. 4 (b) of Vrededorp Stands Act, 1907 (South Africa) prohibiting Asiatic occupation of the stand. (Viscount Cave.) THE MADRASSA ANJUMAN ISLAMIA v. THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL OF JOHANNESSBURG.

31 M. L. T. 114 : 4 U. P. L. R. (P.C.) 97 (P.C.).

———'On behalf of'—Meaning.

The expression 'on behalf of' connotes some benefit to the person on whose behalf another person acts. (Caspersz and Sharfuddin, JJ.) ULTAN CHAND v. EMPEROR.

16 C. W. N. 551 : 15 C. L. J. 401 : 15 I. C. 1007 : 13 Cr. L. J. 591 : 39 Cal. 344.

———'On demand'.

Except in case of negotiable instruments the words 'on demand' require an actual demand before a right to the money arises. (Seshagiri Aiyar J.) SEETHARAMA AIYAR v MUNISAWMI MUDALIAR.

(1919) M. W. N. 185 : 9 L. W. 427 : 50 I. C. 87 : 37 M. L. J. 613.

———Open mines.

A mine is open when it is devoted by its owner to make a profit by working and selling the minerals therein. (Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) CHRISTIAN v. TEKAITINI NARBADA KOERR.

19 C. W. N. 796 : 27 I. C. 471 : 20 C.L. J. 527.

———Ownership and possession—Distinction.

Ownership and possession are two distinct juristic conceptions and in every transfer of ownership from one person to another by the act of the party, a transfer of possession is not necessary. (Karamat Hussain and Chamier, JJ.) MUHAMMAD TALIB HUSSAIN v INAYATJAN.

33 All. 683 : 11 I C. 762 : 8 A. L. J. 746.

———Pakka adatia—Meaning.

A pakka adatia is a delcredere agent in Bombay who can allocate his principal's contracts to himself. (Beaman, J.) BHAGVANDAS PARASHRAM v. BURJORJI RUTTONJI.

19 I. C. 29 : 15 Bom. L. R. 85.

———Paramsana—Meaning of.

When a tenant appropriates a portion of the rent due from him to the proprietor by way of interest due to him for loan advanced to the latter and pays the balance over to the landlord, such balance is called 'paramasana'. (Kanhaiya Lal, J. C.) SAT DEA v. JAINATH.

9 O. L. J. 141 : 1922 Oudh 75.

———"Pending proceeding"—Meaning of.

A legal proceeding is said to be pending as soon as it is commenced and until it is concluded, that is, so long as the Court having cognizance of it can make an order on the matters in issue which are to be dealt with therein. 30 I. C. 37, Not. foll. (Pratt, J. C. and Crouch, A. J. C.) JEWANJEE v. GULAM HUSSAIN.

47 I. C. 771 : 12 S. L. R. 20.

———Praja—Meaning.

In Cuttack and Cooch Behar praja may mean a cultivator. Elsewhere it means a tenant. A lease created by a Prajagiri Patta does not mean that the interest granted by the lease is that of a cultivator. (Fletcher and Teunon, JJ.) SECRETARY OF STATE v. GOBIND PRASAD.
39 I. C. 934 : 21 C. W. N. 505.

———Profit aprendre in gross.

The right to hunt in a jungle and to appropriate the game is a right known in English Law as a right to a profit aprendre in gross. (Mullick and Jwala Prasad, JJ.) MAHARAJ BAHADUR SINGH v. GANDAURI SINGH. 2 Pat. L. J. 323 : 39 I. C. 868 : 2 Pat. L. W. 282.

———Property—Money, if.

Money is also property. (Saunders, J. C.) MANIKCHAND v. GIRIDHARI LAL.
46 I. C. 342 : (1918) 3 U. B. R. 69.

———'Public place.'

Where the public have access to a place without their access being refused or interfered with, that place is a public place. (Stuart, J.) SUKHNANDAN SINGH v. EMPEROR.
20 A. L. J. 80 : 1922 A. 542.

———Public right.

A right of way common to several persons is not necessarily a public right. (Das, J.) RAMMANOHAR SAHI v. MITHILA PRASAD SAHI.
57 I. C. 151.

———" Putrapoutradi " — Lineal heirs only Chota Nagpur custom.

In spite of the words " putrapoutradi " in the grant of a jagir, the estate reverts to the donor on failure of lineal male heirs under the custom of Chota Nagpur. (Sir John Edge.) RAM NARAIN SINGH v. RAM SARAN LAL.
46 Cal. 683: 29 C. L. J. 332 : 17 A. L. J. 398 : 21 Bom. L. R. 597 : 23 C. W. N. 866 : 50 I.C. 1 : (1919) M.W.N. 518: 36 M.L.J. 344 (P.C.).

———'Putrapautradi krame.'

The expression "Putrapautradi krame" denotes perpetual and heritable estate. (Teunon and Newbould, JJ.) RAJENDRA MOHAN v. UPENDRA NATH. 64 I. C. 518.

———Putrapoutrade Krame—Meaning of.

The words imply perpetuity and transferability. (Mookerjee and Rankin, JJ.) TARAKASWAR PAL v. SHISH CHANDRA GHOSH MANDAL.
27 C. W. N. 964 : 1924 Cal. 236.

———Putrapoutradi Krame — Absolute and heritable estate.

When a grant of a Jagir is made accompanied by words putrapoutradi krame the grantee takes an absolute and heritable estate and as passing an estate of inheritance. (Stephen and Mullick, JJ.) RAMSHARAN LAL v. RAM NARAYAN SINGH.
28 I. C. 610 : 19 C. W. N. 466.

———'Putra Poutradi Krame.'

The use of the words " Putrapautradi Krame " indicates that it is intended to be a perpetual estate. (Mookerjee and Chotzner, JJ.) GHULAM RAHAMAN MISTRI v. GURDAS KUNDU CHOUDRI.
1923 Cal. 505 : 38 C. L. J. 350.

———"Putrapoutradi Santati."

The words " Putrapoutradi Santati " convey absolute estate of inheritance. No matter whether found in a will or lease. (Macleod, Kt. C. J. and Shah, J.) CHANDMAL KASHARMAL v. VISHVANATH BALWANT SOHANI. 24 Bom. L R. 300 : 46 B. 816 : 1922 Bom. 45.

———Qarib.

The word 'qarib' when it stands alone means 'near in degree. (Lyle, J. C.) NIANATALI v. ASHIQ ALI. 9 O. L. J. 127 : 1922 Oudh 96.

———'Quabiz.'

The use of the word 'quabiz' does not necessarily mean that a limited estate is conveyed. (Broadway and Qadir, JJ.) GOPIRAM v. ACHHRU RAM. 65 I. C. 462.

———'Raiyat'.

The word 'Raiyat' is often used in judgments in the sense of tenants of various classes. (Teunon and Chaudhuri, JJ.) SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. JODHY CHANDRA MISRAS.
39 I. C. 409 : 21 C. W. N. 452.

———Restraint of Princes—Contract of shipping, how affected by—Reasonable apprehension —Test.

A ship owner may refuse to ship goods on a reasonable apprehension of restraints of princes in spite of there being no restraint actually in existence at the time of the refusal and events occurring after such refusal may be taken as a test to show the true state of affairs at the time of the refusal. Obiter : An apprehension though unfounded may yet be reasonable. (Pratt, J. C.) SANDAY PATRICK & CO. v. BRITISH INDIA NAVIGATION COMPANY 37 I. C. 285 : 10 S. L. R.100.

———'Santan' in Bengali—Meaning of.

The word 'Santan' as used in Bengali documents at the end of the 19th and the beginning of the 26th century means "issue" generally and not necessarily male descendants. (Fletcher and Newbould, JJ.) KUMAD KRISHNA MANDAL v. JOGENDRA NATH. 21 C. W. N. 854 : 41 I. C. 511 : 26 C. L. J. 250.

———" Santhathi " is wider than Puthra Pouthra.

The word 'Santhathi' is wider than Puthra Pouthra or 'from son to grandson.' (Wallis, C. J. and Ramesam, J.) GURUVAJAMMAH v. RUNGASWAMI MUDALIAR. 62 I. C. 745 : 13 L. W. 513.

———Santhathi paramparayamai—Maintenance grant.

The use of the words 'santhathi paramparaya-

WORDS AND PHRASES.

mai" in a grant for maintenance does not exclude the right of collateral heirs to inherit. (Lord Phillimore.) RAJA RAJESHWAR v. SUNDAR PANDIYASAWMI.

42 Mad. 581 : 17 A. L. J. 153 : 23 C. W. N. 549 : 29 C. L. J. 551 : 25 M. L. T. 400 : 21 Bom. L. R. 885 : (1919) M. W. N. 511 : 10 L. W. 322 : 49 I. C. 704 : 36 M. L. J. 164 (P. C.).

[On Appeal from 27 I. C. 283 : 27 M. L. J. 694.]

———"Saranjam"—Meaning of.

The word "saranjam" is a Marathi term and is equivalent to a Jagir. The terms "Saranjam" and "Jagir" are not mutually exclusive. (Lord Shaw.) RAGPOJI RAO SAHEB v. LAKSHMAN RAO SAHEB.

36 Bom. 639 : 39 I. A. 202 : 16 C. W. N. 1058 : 12 M. L. T. 472 : (1912) M. W. N. 1140 : 14 Bom. L. R. 1226 : 17 C. L. J. 17 : 16 I. C. 239 : 23 M. L. J. 383 (P. C.).

———'Saranjami' means collection charges.

The word 'Saranjami' ordinarily signifies collection charges. (Mookerjee, C. J. and Fletcher, J.) BHABANI NATH ROY v. PURNA CHANDRA SARKAR.

25 C. W. N. 308 : 61 I. C. 818 : 33 C. L. J. 332

———' Settled for periods'.

The words "settled for periods" are not an admission that the settlement was de jure. (Lord Phillimore.) KUMAR NARESH NARAYAN ROY v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA.

50 Cal. 446 : (1923) M W. N. 511 : 50 I. A. 121 : 32 M. L. T. (P. C.) 162 : L. R. 4 (P. C.) 50 : 28 C. W. N. 453: 1923 P. C. 1 : 45 M. L. J. 444 (P.C.).

———'Shade Right'—Incidents of

A 'Shade-right' is the customary right of the owner or occupier of the land to compensation for the damage done to his crops by the shade of adjacent trees. It is a covenant running with the land, and cannot be transferred independently. (Skinner, A. J. C.) APPAJI v. KHUSHAL.

10 I. C. 689 : 7 N. L. R. 1.

———Shahjog Hundi.

A shahjog is not a bill of exchange nor a promissory note. It is payable to the holder only and does not mean a hundi payable to bearer. (Mookerjee and Roe, JJ.) KESHARI CHAND v. ASHARAM MAHATO. 22 C. L. J. 209 : 33 I. C 250 : 19 C. W N. 1326

———'Shawls'—Railwaye Act, S. 72.

The term 'shawls' refers to Indian Shawls of special value and not to articles of inferior value. (Macleod, Kt. C.J. and Shah, J.) EAST INDIAN RAILWAY CO., v. DAYABHI VANMALIDAS

24 Bom. L R. 416 : 47 B. 18 : 1922 B. 416.

———" Shipment "—Meaning of.

The term " shipment " includes not merely the loading of goods on board the ship but also the starting of the ship. (Asutosh Mookerjee and Beachcroft, JJ.) KALI KANTA SAHA v. ISMAIL.

20 C. L. J. 133 : 27 I. C. 7 : 20 C. W. N. 159

WORDS AND PHRASES.

———' Shop '—Building mainly used as residence.

The word " shop" denotes a building primarily used for the retail sale of goods. Where a building was mainly used as a residence the mere fact that a part of it is used as a tailor's workshop does not convert the whole of it into a shop. (Scott-Smith, J.) SANT SINGH v. GOBIND RAM.

1923 Lah. 209.

———' Shop '—Residential place with an oven for making rotis, is not a shop.

The word " shop" in its ordinary meaning denotes a building or an apartment which is primarily used by buying and selling goods. Where a place was used as a residential place. Held, that it was not a shop though there was in it an oven for cooking rotis for any one who brought his own flour for the purpose and paid in cash or kind. (Shadilal and Le Rossignol, JJ.) BHAMBA RAM v. ALLAH BAKHSH.

69 P. R. 1915 : 31 I C. 191 : 156 P. W. R. 1915.

———"Sicca Rupee"—Meaning of—History and origin.

The Calcutta Sicca Rupee though coined by the company is never known as company's Sicca Rupee. (Teunon and Richardson, JJ.) MAHARAJ BAHADUR SINGH v. JADAB CHANDRA GHOSE.

46 Cal. 347 : 47 I. C. 109 : 30 C. L. J. 246.

———Sons includes grandsons.

'Sons' in Mitaksbara Chap II, 6 (1) includes 'grandson.' (Sir John Edge.) ADIT NARAYAN SINGH v. MAHABIR PRASAD TIWARI.

(1921) M. W. N. 153 : 48 I. A. 86 : 19 A. L. J. 208 : 2 Pat. L. T. 97 : 33 C. L. T. 263 : 29 M. L. T. 240 : 6 Pat. L. J. 140 : 23 Bom. L. R. 692 : 25 C. W N. 842 : 14 L. W. 20 : 60 I. C. 251 : 40 M. L. J. 270 (P. C.).

[On Appeal from 35 I. C. 687.]

———" Sudda Inam ".

"Sudda" Inam does not show that the inam consisted merely of the melvaram. It only means that there is nothing payable in consideration of the inamdar's possession of the land. (Sundara Aiyar and Sadasiva Aiyar, JJ.) TIRUMALAI v. AMBADAM.

17 I. C. 481.

———"Surpanch."

'Surpanch' might indicate either an umpire in case of difference of opinion or a Chief arbitrator. Where matter was referred to arbitration to three persons, two of whom were described as panches and the third as Surpanch it was held that this did not mean that the two panches alone were to act and the surpanch was only to be approached in case of difference of opinion. (Kanhaiya Lal, A. J. C.) LALA v. ABDUS SAMED.

16 O. C. 84 : 17 I. C. 320.

———'Swamibhogam' implies ownership in soil.

The word Swamibhogam usually implies that the ownership of the soil does vest in the person who is entitled to Swamibhogam. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Napier, JJ.) SUBRAMANYA KARIYALOM v. SIVASUBRAMANYA PILLAI.

62 I. C. 750 : 14 L.W. 40: 41 M. L. J. 175.

WORDS AND PHRASES.

——"Tanaka"—Mortgage.

The word "tanaka" occurring in a document evidencing a loan means a mortgage and not merely an assignment of land revenue. 39 Mad 1010, Foll. (Sadasiva Aiyar and Phillips, JJ.) ZAMINDAR OF KARVETINAGAR v. SUBBARAYA PILLAI. (1918) M. W. N. 146 : 43 I. C. 871 : 7 L. W. 36.

——"Teji mandi"—Wager.

Teji-mandi contracts are not wagering contracts if giving or taking of delivery is purported. Teji means brightness and mandi means dullness. (Kincaid, J.) MANUBHAI PERMANUND v. KESHAVJI RAMDAS. 1922 B. 66.

——'Thika and mokra'—Meaning of.

Thika indicates creation of tenancy and mokra means perpetual rent. (Mukerjee and Panton, JJ.) RAJA KESHEE CASE LAW v. SATISH CHANDRA PAUL. 35 C. L. J. 90 : 1922 C. 123.

——'Timber' includes Bamboo trees.

'Timber' means such trees only as are used for building or repairing houses therefore bamboo trees are timber. (Das and Ross, JJ.) RAMESHWAR SINGH v. BARDEO SINGH. 60 I. C. 521: 6 Pat. L. J. 127.

——'Vamshasthas'—Means descendants.

The word 'Vamshasthas' means descendants in the ordinary course of law. (Seshagiri Aiyar and Moore, JJ.) VITTAPPA KUDVA v. DURGAMMA. 11 L. W. 116 : 55 I. C. 781 : (1920) M. W. N. 188 : 38 M. L. J. 190.

——'Veetukutti'—Who is.

Veetukutti is the son of a sambhandham wife and is not brought to her husband's wife and he is not entitled to share in his father's property. (Schwabe, J.) KUNHI KUTTY v. RAMAN. 44 M. L. J. 274 : (1923) M. W. N 173 : 46 M. 597 : 18 L. W. 525 : 1923 M. 452.

——'Waris'—Meaning of.

In absence of facts showing contrary intention, the words 'Malik' and 'Waris' indicate absolute estate. (Kennedy, J. C. and Kemp, A. J. C.) TIRATHMAL LOKOOMAL v. THANWAR SINGH. 66 I. C. 720 : 15 S. L. R. 202.

——"Waris".

The word 'waris' is not always intended to be an expression of limitation. (Broadway and Quadir, JJ.) GOPIRAM v. ACHHRU RAM. 65 I. C. 462.

——"Week" Meaning of—Court allowing Court-fee to be paid "in a week"—If includes the day on which the order was made.

Where the Court ordered plff. to file deficit Court-fee "in a week" it was held that that construction should be given which is favourable to the plff. and that the plff. should be given full seven days. (Mookerjee and Carnduff, JJ.) GOPAL LAL v. BAHORNI. 13 I. C. 900 : 15 C. L. J.120.

——'Wilful neglect'—Meaning of.

A person is said to be guilty of wilful neglect when he intentionally, and of set purpose, does something which ought either to be done in a different manner or not at all or omits to do something which ought to be done. A loss is said to be due to wilful neglect when such neglect is the sole effective cause of loss or so connected with it as to be materially contributing to it. (Pratt, J. C. and Crouch, A. J. C.) FIRM OF DOULAT v. SECRETARY OF STATE. 32 I. C. 551 (2) : 9 S. L. R. 177.

——"Without prejudice."

Words "without prejudice" in private documents have not the same meaning as they have when used in connection with an actual or impending litigation (Spencer, Coutts-Trotter and Napier, JJ.) VENKATA SUBBIAH CHETTY v. SUBBA NAIDU. 2 L. W. 977 : 18 M. L. T. 533 : 31 I. C. 152 : (1915) M. W. N. 822.

——'Yati'—Chela—Satsishya—Meaning.

Satsishya is one who is assiduous in the study of theology in retaining the holy science and in practising its ordinances. Chela is a personal attendant who may be raised to the rank of sishya. Yati is a Bhiksha an ascetic or anchorite and in order that a person may fall under this category there must be absolute abandonment of all secular property and a complete and final withdrawal from earthly affairs. (Chauduri, J.) GAURI SHANKAR BYAS v. NIADAR SINGH. 23 I. C. 287 · 18 C. W. N. 59.

WORKMEN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT (XIII OF 1859).

——Artificer—Contractor to carry stones is not.

A contract by a person to carry stones on his camels is not the contract of an artificer or workman or labourer within S. 1 of the Workmen's Breach of Contract Act. (Shadi Lal, C.J.) JAFAR v. EMPEROR. 3 Lah. 371 : 1922 L. 443.

——Bandsman—If workman.

A Musician in a band is not an artificer or labourer and is not a workman within the meaning of the Act XIII of 1859. (Miller, J.) ROSARIO QUADROS, In re. 16 Cr. L. J. 629 : 38 M. 551.

——Wilful refusal—Physical fitness.

In a prosecution under the Act, if it is proved that the workman has refused to work and that there is a finding that he is physically fit for the same he must be held to have refused "wilfully and without lawful or reasonable excuse". (Macgregor, J.) HEETH LAL KADRIA v. MOOKSUD ALLY. 1 Bur. L. J. 109: 1923 R. 79 (2).

——S. 1—Contract entered into where Act not in force is not enforceable, contract with minor or for more than one year is void.

A contract entered into under the Act at a place where it is not in force is not enforceable and the contracting workman is not liable for any breach thereof. A contract under the same Act for a period exceeding one year or with a minor is void. (Gokul Prasad, J.) MAZHAR HUSSAIN v. EMPEROR. 22 Cr. L. J. 50 : 59 I. C. 194.

——Ss. 1 and 2—Breach of contract—Refusal to work—Act to be strictly enforced.

The provisions of the Act are not confined only to fraudulent breaches of contract as stated in the preamble. An application to the Magistrate asking him to enforce the provisions of Ss. 1 and 2 of the Act should be disposed of on evidence and not dismissed summarily. 16 A.L.J. 164, Foll. (Knox, A. C. J.) AZIZ-UR-RAHMAN v. HANSA.

WORKMEN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT (XIII OF 1859), S. 1.

16 A. L. J. 715 : 47 I. C. 441 : 19 Cr. L. J. 925 : 40 All. 670.

——S. 1—Workman—Dealer in stones—Liability of.

A dealer in stones agreeing to supply stones under the terms of a contract is not an artificer, workman or labourer under S. 1 of the Act. (Banerjee, J.) BHAGWAN DIN v. MAHAMAD ALI.
19 Cr. L. J. 598 : 45 I. C. 502 : 16 A. L. J. 407.

——Ss. 1 and 2—Labourer.

A workman laying and burning bricks is a labourer and the fact that the period of time within which the contract was to be performed has elapsed, cannot prevent the Magistrate from passing an order for refund of advance. (Tudball, J.) BHAROSA v. EMPEROR.
15 Cr. L. J. 599 : 25 I. C. 351 : 12 A. L. J. 490.

——Ss. 1 and 2—Agreement by workman to work for 50 months in lieu of advance made to him whether enforceable under the Act.

An agreement by a workman to work for 50 months in lieu of advance to him made by his employer is enforceable under the Act (XIII of 1859). (Knox and Karamat Husain, JJ.) LUCAS, C. J. v. RAMAI SINGH.
15 Cr. L. J. 233 : 23 I. C. 185 : 12 A. L J. 152.

——S. 1—Loan after termination of work.

The Act does not apply to loans made at a time when the work had been finished and nothing of it remained to be done. (Rafique, J.) GIGA v. MUHAMMAD AMIN. 35 All. 61 :
17 I. C. 799 : 13 Cr. L. J. 863 : 10 A. L. J. 468.

——Ss. 1 and 2—Advance to be paid off by wages.

The Act has no application to a contract of service for a term of years accompanied with an advance of money which might be paid off from the wages earned by the workman. Such a contract is not made on account of the work contracted to be performed. (Heaton and Shah, JJ.) RAMAKRISHNA v. EMPEROR.
20 Cr. L. J. 701 : 52 I. C. 669 : 21 Bom. L. R. 753.

——Ss. 1 and 2—Contract of service—Revision—High Court.

Contract to cart logs of wood from forest to a forest depot is not a contract of an artificer, workman or labourer within the Act. The High Court can revise an order under the first part of S. 2 of the Act. The power of revision extends to proceedings of all inferior criminal Courts. (Heaton and Pratt, JJ.) DEVAPPA v. EMPEROR 21 Bom. L. R. 277 :
50 I. C. 492 : 20 Cr. L. J. 316 : 43 Bom. 607.

——S. 1—Employer—Strict interpretation.

A person supplying labour to the employer or master, cannot proceed as an employer against a workman under the Act. (Batchelor and Roe, JJ.) EMPEROR v. NAGA TIMA.
13 Cr. L. J. 853 :
17 I. C. 789 :14 Bom. L. R. 956.

WORKMEN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT (XIII OF 1859), S. 1.

——S. 1—Applicability—Advance in nature of debt—Conditions inequitable.

The Act does not apply where an advance is practically in the nature of a debt or if not in the nature of a debt the conditions are inequitable ; neither does the Act apply where the advance is made repayable not from out of work done but from the wages of the workman. (Chandavarkar and Hayward, JJ.) ABDUL RASUL ISMALJI, In re.
12 Cr. L. J. 402 :
11 I. C. 586 : 13 Bom. L. R. 548.

——Ss. 1 and 2—Loan disguised as advance—Breach of contract—Workman, whether liable.

The Act does not apply to a case where it is sought to disguise the fact that an advance is really a loan. Where a workman receiving an advance of some rupees agreed to work in the factory on condition that two rupees be deducted from his monthly wages per mensem to satisfy the advance and he failed to fulfil the agreement. Held, he could not be prosecuted under the Act as the advance was really aloan. (Broadway, J.) SANDHI v. KHEMCHAND.
56 I. C. 850:
21 Cr. L. J. 546.

——S. 1—Labourer—Cartman.

A cartman is not a labourer to whom the provisions of the Act apply. (Scott-Smith, J.) EMPEROR v. GURDUTTA.
33 P. R. 1917 Cr. : 18 Cr. L. J. 891 :
41 I. C. 1003 : 39 P. W. R. 1917 (Cr.).

——S. 1—Applicability of—Complaint after work has been completed—Offence.

To apply the provisions of the Act there must first of all be a finding as to whether the petitioner was a workman or a sub-contractor. Further the Act cannot be applied to a case in which the work stipulated to be done has been completed. 28 Mad. 37, Rel. (Scott-Smith, J.) EMPEROR v. AMAR SINGH.
18 Cr. L. J. 488 : 39 I.C. 328 : 8 P.R. 1917 (Cr.)

——Ss. 1 and 2—Labourer—Agreement to deliver ballast.

An agreement to deliver ballast for the advanced money does not create the relationship of a labourer or workman and the Act does not apply. (Shadi Lal, J.) FAZAL ILLAHI v. EMPEROR.
3 P. W. R. 1916 Cr. :
32 I.C. 678 : 17 Cr. L. J. 86 : 2 P.R. 1916 (Cr).

——S. 1—Scope of—Contracts to perform agricultural service—Provision of penalty for breach.

The Act was not intended to apply to a contract to perform agricultural service ; where a contract prescribed a penalty for its breach, the remedy under the Act cannot be availed of. (Shadi Lal, J.) EMPEROR v. KHUDA BAKHSH.
38 P. R. 1914 Cr. : 16 Cr. L. J. 229 :
27 I. C. 901 : 207 P. L. R. 1915.

——S. 1—Advances.

S. 2 does not apply to advances which are not in money. (Shadi Lal, J.) EMPEROR v. CHIRAGHA.
23 P. R. 1914 : 15 Cr. L. J. 603 :
25 I. C. 515 : 278 P. L. R. 1914.

——S. 1—Contract for service — Specific Relief Act, S. 21 (g).

A contract binding the debtor to work for the creditor for more than 3 years and for no other person cannot be enforced under Act (XIII of 1859) by reason of S. 21 (g) of the Specific Relief Act. 22 I. C. 742, Foll. (Chevis, J.) EMPEROR v. AMIR BAKHSH. 22 P. W. R. 1914 : 24 I. C. 159 : 15 Cr. L. J. 423 : 61 P. L. R. 1914.

——S. 1—Contract of service—For more than three years—If enforceable.

A contract of service for a period more than three years, cannot be enforced under Act (XIII of 1859) even for a limited period. A contract by which a workman agrees to repay an initial advance taken by him from the employer, is not affected by Act (XIII of 1859). The Act does not apply to the case of a contract which provides a definite penalty for breach. (Kensington, J.) EMPEROR v. MAHOMED DIN. 96 P. L. R. 1914 : 22 I. C. 742 : 15 Cr. L. J. 166 : 23 P. R. 1913 Cr.

——Ss. 1 and 2—Proceedings under--Whether criminal—Order of acquittal—Criminal Procedure Code, S. 247, review.

The proceedings under the Workmen's Breach of Contract Act up to the stage of passing an order by the Magistrate, for repayment or performance under S. 2 are not criminal proceedings at all. An inquiry directed by S. 1 of the Workmen's Breach of Contract Act cannot be held to be one under Chap. XX, Cr. P. C., and an order acquitting the accused, because the complainant did not appear on the date of hearing though purporting to be made under S. 247, Cr. P. C., is in effect not passed under that section but is merely a dismissal of the complaint and there is nothing to prevent a Magistrate from reviewing the same, if he sees cause to do so. (Ayling and Odgers, JJ.) N. RAMANNA v. M. GURUNATHAM. 32 M. L. T. 347 : (1923) M. W. N. 402 : 45 M. L. J. 36 : 18 L. W. 111 : 24 Cr. L. J. 465 : 1923 M. 719.

——S. 1—Proceedings under—Not criminal.

Proceedings under Workmen's Breach of Contract Act are not criminal. (Ayling and Odgers, JJ.) RAMANNA v. GURUNATHAM. 32 M. L. T. 347 : 1923 M. 719 (H. C.).

——S. 1—Contract with two workmen or artificers—Elements of offence.

Notwithstanding the language of S. 1 of the Workmen's Breach of Contract Act, it is open to an employer to start proceedings under the Act in respect of a contract entered into with two artificers jointly. In a case under the Act, the court has to find on the evidence whether the artificers have received an advance of money. (Oldfield and Devadoss, JJ.) KANDASWAMI MUDALI v. GURUSWAMI PILLAY. 44 M. L. J. 53 : 24 Cr. L. J. 13 : 31 M. L. T. 475 : 16 L. W. 883 : 1923 Mad. 184.

——S. 1—Workman or artificer—Compositor is a.

A compositor is not a workman is at least an artificer, and is governed by the Act. Where the agreement was that the advance received by an employee was to be repaid by periodical deductions from the amount of wages earned by the employee the relationship created is not of creditor and debtor alone. (Oldfield and Hughes, JJ.) BHOGIRAVATHU SOMMANNA v. KANDIVADA CHELAPATHI RAO. 12 L. W. 631 : 60 I. C. 52 : 29 M. L. T. 4: 339 M. L. J. 710.

——S. 1—'Criminal proceeding'—Complaint under S. 1—Withdrawal of.

A complaint under S. 1 of Act which is withdrawn before any order is made by the Magistrate under S. 2 of the Act either for a refund of the advance paid or for specific performance of the contract, is not a criminal proceeding within S. 211, I. P. C. 28 M. 37, Ref. (Ayling and Coutts Trotter, JJ.) HUSSAINA BEARI v EMPEROR. 22 Cr. L. J. 13 : 59 I. C. 45 : 43 Mad. 443.

——Ss. 1 and 2—Workman — Supervisor of coolies—Onus of proof.

"Workman" in S. 1 of the Act means a manual labourer of some kind skilled or unskilled. A person doing work of an intellectual nature in connection with a contract involving manual labour does not come within the section. A supervisor of coolies who has contracted to get work done by them is not within the Act. The onus of proving that the accused is a workman, labourer or artificer is on the complainant. (Ayling, J.) NATUTHODI KUNCHI MOIDIN v. CHAMU NAIR. 41 Mad. 182 : 22 M. L. T. 435 : 19 Cr. L. J. 211 : 43 I. C. 787 : 6 L. W. 745 : (1917) M.W.N. 825 : 33 M. L. J. 607.

——S. 1—Scope of—Payment of advance to be deducted from wages.

A case in which a contract is that the workman shall work for wages deducting from his wages a certain sum periodically to make good an advance is within the scope of the Act. (Miller, J.) JELAGAN SUBRAMANIYA NAIDU v. K. SINGARA MUDALI. 16 Cr. L. J. 112 : 27 I. C. 160 : 27 M. L. J. 616.

——S 1—Scope of.

Where a person agreed to convey clay to the complainant's factory by means of his own labour and another person hired by him and afterwards neglected the work, held, he came within S. 1 of the Act nothwithstanding his employing another person under him. 13 Mad. 351, Dist. (Ayling and Tyabji, JJ.) MAMO BEARI, In re. (1914) M. W. N. 651 : 16 M. L. T. 235 : 1 L. W. 657 : 15 Cr. L. J. 651 : 25 I. C. 979 : 27 M. L. J. 392.

——S. 1—Loan—Advance.

Where an advance made to a workman is merely a loan the Act has no application. A contract to work 8 hours for 12 years and for wages not above market rate and to live in any house provided, is a form of slavery and to be prohibited as illegal. (Sankaran Nair, J.) AMBU, In re. 23 I. C. 752 : 15 Cr. L. J. 384.

——S. 1—Advance—To be reimbursed from monthly wages—Applicability of Act.

An advance of money paid to a workman on condition of its being reimbursed by monthly deductions from his wages is " an advance of money on account of any work which he shall have contracted to perform " within the Act. 23 Mad. 203 : 7 Mad. 131, Foll. (Benson and Tyabji, JJ.) GOVINDA CHETTY v. MUNNOANY NAIK. 20 I. C. 224 : 14 Cr.L. J. 400.

WORKMEN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT (XIII OF 1859), S. 1.

——S. 1—Contract to be performed outside British India.

A contract which is to be performed outside British India does not come within the purview of this Act. 10 Mad. 21, Foll. (Pratt, J.) S. PO THIT v. MA SAW SHIN. 20 Cr. L. J. 576 : 12 Bur. L. T. 223 : 52 I. C. 64 : 10 L. B. R 53.

——S. 1—Proceedings under criminal—Person undertaking to supply coolies and work with them.

Proceedings under the Act are judicial proceedings the workman being in the position of an accused and he cannot therefore be compelled to make a thumb impression in Court for the purpose of identifying his thumb impression. A person who undertakes to supply coolies and to work along with them is a " workman" within the meaning of S. 1 of the Workmen's Breach of Contract Act. (Twomey, C. J.) RAMNATH PANDARAM v. KARUPPANA THEVAR. 19 Cr. L. J. 175 : 43 I. C. 591 : 11 Bur. L. T. 207.

——Ss. 1 and 2—Artificer, labourer or workman—Contractor.

The Act applies only to " artificer, labourer or workman " as defined by the Act. To make the Act applicable, the relation between the parties to the contract must be that of labourer and employer of labour. A contractor is not ordinarily an artificer, labourer or workman, and the Act would apply to a contract of labour or an agent for the supply of goods if the contractor has contracted to supply his personal labour but not otherwise. (U. Kin, J.) BABA KHAN v. MAUNG NAING. 9 L. B. R. 21 : 35 I. C. 830 : 17 Cr. L. J. 398 : 9 Bur. L. T. 108.

——S. 1— " Workman " — " Artificer " — Whether includes head artificer or supervisor.

" Artificer " in S. 1 of the Act covers a head artificer or supervisor who without working with his own hands gets work done by others. (Twomey, J.) SEIN YIN v. AH MOON SHOKE. 15 Cr. L J. 235 : 23 I C. 187 : 7 L. B. R. 82.

——S. 1—Object of—Application—Dismissal for default—Effect—Cr. P. C., Ss. 247 and 403.

The offence created by the Act is not the neglect or refusal to perform the contract but the failure by the workman to comply with the order of the Magistrate under the Act. Therefore where an application under the Act is dismissed for default, Chap. XX and S. 403 of the Code do not apply and the proceedings might be re-opened again. 24 Mad. 660, Appr. Although one object of the Act may have been to provide a speedy remedy for employers against the workmen the main object is to provide for the punishment of the workmen who have taken advances and have fraudulently broken their contracts to work. (Hartnoll, Offg. C. J.) KRISHNA PERDAN v. PASAND. 6 Bur. L. T. 108 : 14 Cr. L. J. 404 : 20 I. C. 228 : 9 L. B. R. 35.

WORKMEN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT (XIII OF 1859), S. 2.

——S. 1—Magistrate of Police—Who is.

A Magistrate of Police is a Magistrate within whose jurisdiction the employer resides or carries on his business. A Magistrate within whose jurisdiction a contract was made or advance received, has no special jurisdiction under S. 1 of the Act. No Court can try an offence unless it is expressly authorised by the statute. (Crouch and Hayward, A. J. Cs.) SOBRAJ DWARKADAS v EMPEROR. 19 Cr. L. J. 591 : 45 I. C. 399 : 11 S. L. R. 128.

——S. 1—Contract—Meaning of.

An agreement to render services higher than those of manual labour as for, e. g., to serve at a butcher's shop and to keep and render accounts does not come within the Act. (Pratt, J. C. and Kemp, A. J. C.) RAMZAN v. NUR MUHAMMAD YAKUB. 15 Cr. L. J. 383 : 23 I C. 751 : 7 S. L. R. 100.

——S. 2—Order to perform service—Contract to repay money—Order to pay compensation—Cr. P. Code, S. 250.

An order by a Magistrate dismissing a complaint under S. 1 requiring the complainant to pay compensation is illegal. (Lindsay, J.) JAMIL AHMAD v. MUHAMMAD ISHAQ. 41 All. 322 : 52 I. C. 58 : 20 Cr. L. J. 570 : 17 A. L. J. 165.

——(XIII of 1859 amended XII of 1920), S. 2—One year does not mean working at odd intervals for 365 days.

An agreement that the accused should work every day should not be transformed by the Court into an agreement to work for 365 days at odd intervals, if the complainant so chose, when the accused should fail to work one day after the other. (Ryves, J.) ASGAR ALI v. EMPEROR. 1923 A. 609 (2).

——S. 2—Applicability — Provision for damages—Contract to supply real metal.

An employer of labour is not precluded from availing himself of the provisions of the Act merely because, in the contract of service between himself and his workmen, there is a stipulated penalty capable of enforcement by a civil suit, in the event of breach of the contract on the part of the workmen, which penalty has admittedly not been enforced, nor payment of the same tendered on the part of the workmen. (Piggott, J.) RAM LAL v. EMPEROR. 41 All. 390 : 51 I. C. 205 : 20 Cr. L J. 429 : 17 A. L. J. 386.

——S. 2—Refusal to perform contract—Smallness of advance.

The smallness of the advance is not a reasonable excuse for refusing to perform the contract within the meaning of S. 2 of the Act. 23 I. C. 185. Ref. When a man enters into a contract he must carry out the terms of the contract into which he has entered, unless he can show some reasonable excuse. One of the terms of the very same contract can hardly be afterwards held up as a reasonable excuse for non-performance. (Knox, J.) BAKHTAWAR v. EMPEROR. 16 A. L. J. 164 : 43 I. C. 832 : 19 Cr. L. J. 240 : 40 All. 282.

WORKMAN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT (XIII OF 1859), S. 2.

——S. 2—Order for working.

When a Magistrate orders a workman, under the Act, to work for the period of contract and the order is disobeyed, the Magistrate can only sentence the workman for imprisonment and not add to it an order that he should work for some more period and also repay the advance. (Banerjee and Chamier, JJ.) TIRKHA v. ITWARI.

15 Cr. L. J. 592: 25 I. C. 344: 12 A. L J. 678.

——S. 2—Scope of—Magistrate's power.

The Act can be put in motion only by that employer. A Magistrate cannot act under the Act if the case before him is one under the Penal Code. (Tudball, J.) CHEDI v. MOHAMMAD ALI.

11 A. L. J. 117: 18 I. C. 885: 14 Cr. L. J. 133 : 34 All. 143.

——S. 2—Order of imprisonment—When to be passed—Order under S. 2—Appeal.

An order of imprisonment cannot be passed under S. 2 unless there is a non-compliance with the order of repayment or carrying out of the contract. S. 2 of the Act does not come under S. 408 of the Cr. P. Code and hence no appeal lies to a Sessions Judge. (Imam and Chapman, JJ.) ANNUKUL CHANDRA ROY v. KAMARAL SARDAR.

15 Cr. L. J. 697 : 26 I, C. 145: 18 C. W. N. 1271.

——Ss. 2 and 3—Advance—Meaning—Marriage expenses.

Under the Act, an advance for marriage expenses of the workman, is a loan but not an advance, which, under the Act, must be repaid, in the form of work which the workman has contracted to perform, and not in the form of money instalments. (Scott-Smith and Leslie Jones, JJ.) BHOLANATH v. MUNSHI.

22 Cr. L. J. 288 : 60 I. C. 688 : 3 U. P. L. R. (Lah.) 28.

——S. 2—Option to claim money or work.

The option of claiming repayment of money or performance of work is in the complainant and a Magistrate cannot give this option to the debtor and pass an alteration order. (Chevis, J.) EMPEROR v. AMIR BAKHSH.

22 P. W. R. 1914 (Cr.) : 24 I, C. 159 : 15 Cr. L. J. 423 : 61 P. L. R. 1914.

——Ss. 2 and 3—Summary trial—Not allowed—Order for imprisonment, when to be made.

A case under the Act is not triable summarily. 33 Bom. 22, Foll. Order for imprisonment in default can only be made after the labourer has failed to comply with the order calling on him to refund the money or get the work performed as the case may be. (Chevis, J.) EMPEROR v. HARLAL.

27 P. W. R. 1912 (Cr.) : 14 I. C. 194 : 13 Cr. L. J. 194 : 5 P. R. 1912 (Cr.).

——S. 2—Slavery—Agreement for service when amounts to—Applicability.

For a sum of Rs. 160 due by the accused, father and son to the complainant they entered into an agreement with him whereby they undertook to work in his (Complainant's) cocoanut tope for a period of one year and subsequently to repay any money that might be found still due by them to him at the end of the year. They were to be paid Rs. 6 per month out of which Rs. [illegible] month were to be taken towards the debt Rs. [illegible] being paid in cash. This working in the tope was to continue for only a year, and there was no obligation under the agreement to work in the tope thereafter and the bond then converted itself into a simple money debt bond Held, that there was nothing unfair in the arrangement, and nothing which would amount to slavery. Where the second class magistrate directed the two accused to work for a period of 6 months the balance of the period of one year stipulated for in the agreement, held, that his order was right and that the case was not one for the application of S. 2 of the Workman's Breach of Contract Act. (Krishnan, J.) ELIAN, In re.

45 M. L. J. 842: (1924) M. W. N. 41: 25 Cr. L. J. 209 (1): 1924 Mad. 351.

——S. 2 — Enforcement after stipulated period.

A Court cannot enforce a contract entered into under the Act after the expiry of the stipulated period and order to work out the balance due from the workmen. (Ayling and Coutts Trotter, JJ.) CHINNIAH CHETTY v. ABDUL KAREEM.

21 Cr. L. J. 827 : 58 I. C. 827 : 12 L. W. 43.

——S. 2—Contract to be performed in foreign country—It can be enforced under the Act.

A contract the performance of which is to take place in a foreign country cannot be enforced under the Act. 10 Mad. 21, Foll. (Oldfield, J.) SINNA KARUPPAN, In re.

16 Cr. L. J. 61 : 26 I. C. 653 : 16 M. L. T. 303.

——S. 2—Artificer—Meaning of — Musician if within the Act—Discretion of Court.

A person who plays a musical instrument in a band is not an artificer, workman or labourer within the meaning of S. 1 of the Workman's Breach of Contract Act. S. 2 of the Workman's Breach of Contract Act as amended by Act XII of 1920 gives a Magistrate complete discretion to order either the re-payment of the advance or the performance of the work. (Saunders, J. C.) NGA THA GYAN v. NGA BA E.

23 Cr. L. J. 2 : 4 U. B. R. (1921) 7 : 1922 U. B. 9.

——S. 2 (Proviso (a) to Cl. (1)—Scope of.

S. 2 (1) (a) proviso of the Act merely provides that an order directing repayment of the advance or performance of the contract shall not be made unless the employer moves the Court within 3 months of the breach of the contract. It does not apply where the complainant has already obtained an order under S. 2 (1) and is applying for an order of imprisonment under S. 2 for failure to obey the order under sub-S. (1) (Robinson, J.) JESMUDIN v. ISADALLY.

22 Cr. L. J. 149 : 59 I. C. 853 : 10 L. B. R. 240.

——S. 2—Order imprisonment along with order for payment.

Order for imprisonment passed simultaneously with one for payment is not legal. The Act does not apply to one who is not himself an artificer, workman or labourer. (Parlett, J.) MAUNG THEIN LO v. MESSRS. STEEL BROTHERS & CO.

18 Cr. L. J. 984 : 42 I. C. 600 : 11 Bur. L. T. 203.

WORKMAN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT (XIII OF 1859), S. 2.

——— S. 2—Scope of.

Under first part of section, a Magistrate should order accused to repay advance within time to be fixed in the order. In default of payment only, can the Magistrate proceed to pass sentence. (Parlett, J.) CHINTAPILI v. EMPEROR.

18 Cr. L. J. 281 : 38 I. C. 313 : 10 Bur. L. T. 251.

——— S. 2—Settlement with workman — Failure of the latter to pay according to it—Liability.

A settlement with a workman for repayment of the balance due and for stopping work, takes the case out of the Act and the liability, if any, is purely a civil one, and failure to act on the settlement will not bring back the case under the Act. 4 L. B. R. 365. Dist. (Shaw, J. C.) JUGARAM v. NGA TUN BAW. 15 Cr. L. J. 662 : 25 I. C. 990 : (1914) 2 U. B. R. 18.

——— S. 2—Jurisdiction—Expiration of term of contract or completion of work—Object of the Act.

In a case under the Act, where either the work has been completed or the term of the contract has expired, a Magistrate has jurisdiction to entertain a complaint under S. 1 and to order repayment of the advance under S. 2 of that Act. 28 Mad. 37. Dist. One object, of the Act may have been to provide against workman a speedy remedy for employers who have made advances on account of work; but the main object as the preamble shows, is to provide for the punishment of workman who have taken advances and have frandulently broken their contract to work. The impossibility of a master being able to exercise the option of demanding an order from a Magistrate ordering a workman to perform the work does not affect his right to ask for an order for the repayment of the advance and subsequently for an order for the workman's punishment by imprisonment if he fails to comply with the order. (Fox, C. J., Hartnoll, Atkinson, Parlett and Young, JJ.) GURUDEEN TAILY v. S. MUTTU SERVAI.

6 L B. R. 89 : 15 I. C 996 : 13 Cr. L. J. 580 : 5 Bur. L T. 133 (F. B.).

——— Ss. 2 and 5—Jurisdiction.

Under the Act, which was passed for the relief of the employer, the jurisdiction of the Court is determined by the place of residence or business of the employer but not by the place where the advance was made, where the work was to be performed, where the breach occurred or where the employee resided, 25 Cal. 637, Ref. (Pratt, J. C. and Crouch, A. J. C.) ALI MAHOMED v. EMPEROR. 17 Cr. L. J. 308 : 35 I. C. 484 : 10 S. L. R. 56.

——— S. 2—Failure to comply with order of repayment of advance—Sentence—Appeal.

A person sentenced under the Act for imprisonment for failing to comply with an order of repayment of advance has no right to appeal; but his remedy is by way of application in revision. (Pratt, J. C.) THAIRIO v. EMPEROR.

15 Cr. L. J. 372 : 23 I. C. 740 : 7 S.L. R. 80.

——— S. 2—Summary procedure.

The proceedings of a Magistrate up to the order under S. 2 of the Act do not constitute a trial for any offence and therefore the procedure under S 260, Cr. P. C. is not applicable. (Pratt, J. C. and Hayward, A. J. C.) EMPEROR v. SOHRAB.

14 Cr. L. J. 256 : 19 I. C. 512 : 6 S. L. R. 165.

——— S. 2 (b)—Order to show cause not issued—Award of compensation illegal.

Where the Magistrate omitted before ordering the complainant to pay compensation under S. 2 (b) of the Act, to call on him to show cause. Held that his order was illegal. (Daniels, J.) ABDUL SAMAD KHAN v. EMPEROR.

45 A. 616 : 1923 A. 599.

——— S. 4—Contract—Meaning of.

The meaning of 'contract' as defined in S. 4 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, is applicable to all contracts. But the exception lies in the case where its performance is to take place after the lapse of one year. When a 'novatio' is formed which superseded the old contract it is valid under the Act. (Kanhaiya Lal, J.) ABDUL RASHID KHAN v. HAJI NISOR MAHOMED KHAN.

45 A. 691 : 21 A. L. J. 622 L R. 4 A. 137 (Cr.) : 1924 All. 143.

——— S. 5—Notification—Government—Delegation of judicial function—Right to resume.

The notification of the 7th September, 1917 under S 5 of the Act, directing that the powers conferred on all Magistrates shall be exercised only in cases in which the advance was made and the work was to be performed within the local limits of their ordinary jurisdiction, is not ultra vires. Per Pratt, J. C.—S. 5 confers a power to appoint several officers to exercise powers in local areas, and this implies a power to distribute the business in that area between such officers. (Pratt, J. C. and Fawcett, A. J. C.) RAM RATAN CHAND v. PERU KHAN MAHOMED.

20 Cr. L. J. 731 : 52 I. C. 891 : 13 S. L. R. 93.

WORLDLY AFFAIRS, ABANDONMENT OF.

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION.

WORSHIPPER.

See (1) C. P. CODE, S. 92.
(2) HINDU LAW—RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT.
(3) MAHOMEDAN LAW—RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT.

WORSHIP, RIGHT OF.

See HINDU LAW—REL. ENDOWMENT.

WRITTEN STATEMENT.

See C. P. C., O. 8.

WRONGFUL ATTACHMENT.

See TORT.

ZAILDAR.

See also LAND TENURE.

——— Appointment of pleader—Validity.

Irrespective of the pleader's unfitness for Zaildarship, having regard to the exceptional services rendered by the pleader during the war his appointment was upheld. (Maynard, F. C.) HARBANS SINGH v. SARDAR GAJJAN SINGH.

3 Lah. L. J. 718.

ZAILDAR.

———Zaildar—Qualifications — Acquisition of lambardari by arrangement—Appeal in zaildari cases.

Resort to special arrangements to qualify oneself for zaildarship is unobjectionable. The Deputy Commissioner's recommendation for the candidature of an Inamdar in preference to a lambardari cannot be rejected in appeal without very strong grounds. Nor should appeals in zaildari cases be encouraged. In making an appointment, previous good public services of the candidate and fact of his discharging his duties satisfactorily when acting as Sarbarah of the late zaildar should be given due weight. (Fenton, F. C.) ATAR SINGH v. GANGA SINGH.
1 P. W. R. 1913 (Rev.) : 1 P. R. 1913 (Rev.) : 18 I. C. 594 : 148 P. L. R. 1913.

ZAMINDAR.

See also (1) BENGAL PERMANENT SETTLEMENT REGULATION.
(2) LANDLORD AND TENANT.
(3) LAND TENURES.
(4) MADRAS PERMANENT SETTLEMENT REGULATION.

———Haq-i-chaharum—Right of Zamindar—Liability of purchaser of house property.

ZUR-I-PESHGI LEASE.

The Zamindar's right is to a share of the purchase money and therefore it is incumbent on the purchaser to see that the zemindar is satisfied in respect of his due and he cannot discharge himself by a payment to the vendor. (Stuart and Sulaiman, JJ.) KEDAR NATH v. DATTUPRAKASH.
20 A. L J. 646 : 44 A. 739 : 1922 A. 370.

———Village sites—User of land by tenants—Adverse possession.

In ordinary agricultural villages, Zamindars are owners of the entire village land. The mere fact that a village has become big enough to be called a town does not by itself affect or alter the Zamindar's rights, but it is by the process of transfer, grant or adverse possession which however, is not presumed from mere acts of favour of Zamindars that the various owners acquire proprietary rights. 16 Bom. 338, Foll. (Walsh and Sunder Lal, JJ.) PUTTA MAL v. BHARAT INDU.
41 I. C. 613.

ZOROASTRAIN RELIGION.

See PARSIS.

ZUR-I-PESHGI LEASE.

See (1) LEASE.
(2) T. P. ACT, SS. 58 AND 107.

DEPARTMENT OF LAW LIBRARY
UNIVERSITY OF KASHMIR
DATE
2486 9.3.2001

THE MADRAS LAW JOURNAL PRESS, MYLAPORE, MADRAS.

THE JAMMU & KASHMIR UNIVERSITY LIBRARY.

DATE LOAND

Class No. _____ Book No _____

Vol. _____ Copy _____

Accession No. _____

THE JAMMU & KASHMIR UNIVERSITY LIBRARY.

DATE LOAND

Class No. _____ Book No _____

Vol. _____ Copy _____

Accession No. _____

THE JAMMU & KASHMIR UNIVERSITY LIBRARY.

DATE LOAND

Class No. _____ Book No _____

Vol. _____ Copy _____

Accession No. _____

THE JAMMU & KASHMIR UNIVERSITY LIBRARY.

DATE LOAND

Class No. _____ Book No _____

Vol. _____ Copy _____

Accession No. _____